S. L. Forrest to Head Lumber Assn.' Program

Lamesa President Will Preside Over State Convention

S. L. Forrest, Lamesa lumberman, who is president of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas, is announcing plans for the annual convention to be held in Dallas on April 12-13-14, said.

"During the years preceding the development of the petroleum industry in Texas, lumber ruled the vast domain of competitive enterprise in which men have struggled for recognition and prominence, in which they have fashioned the instruments of their material progress, and in which, since time immemorial, they have exploited their talents in hope of attaining the condition of relative satisfaction in which their cherished personal ambitions approach realization. The motive and latent idealism of common men is vitalized by entrance to the tall, silent forest in whose depths mortals are reduced to proper significance while their souls are exalted by the splendor of the Temples of God.

Mr. Forrest will preside over the Association's fifty-second annual convention. It is reported that practically all of the Lamesa lumber yard managers and those interested in this enterprise will attend.

Lumbering gave the first million dollar industry to Texas, a state which excels in the raising of great herds of cattle and in the growing of cotton, as well as in the production and refining of oil and associated products. In the Lone Star State, nearly all work is done on a gigantic scale.

C. E. Locke, Beaumont, is the first vice-president and C. A. Pickett, Houston is secretary-manager.

Cotton Allotment Discussed At Club By Joe C. Williams

Business Men's Club To Aid County Agent In Survey

The luncheon program at the Business Men's club Tuesday was under direction of D. S. Day, who presented Joe C. Williams, county agent, as the main speaker. This organization has a committee that is working to determine if there is a possibility that the county cotton allotment of 114,175 acres, under the 1938 program, might be increased.

Mr. Williams explained in detail how the cotton allotments were made. He stated the law provides that each county be allotted sixty per cent of the 1937 acreage planted to cotton, plus the diverted land, and counties that received larger allotments had a larger per cent of their cultivated land planted to cotton and therefore received larger allotments. After a lengthy explanation on the various phases of the program covering questions on products other than cotton it was brought out that there is a good possibility that after the 1937 worksheets are carefully checked on all the local farms there will be evidence upon which to demand a hearing from the state department relative to obtaining an increase. It seems that one of the major delays at this time has been failure of a few to sign worksheets on their farms. As a suggestion members of the club expressed the willingness if necessary to supply transportation to those farmers who have failed to sign records in order to complete the survey before the planting season.

Fourteen members were present with two visitors including a new resident X. B. Cox, Jr., who is assistant county agent, transferred to this area from Cooke county last week.

Call For Twelve CCC Boys Received Here

Mrs. Charlotte Sharp district case supervisor for the Texas Relief Commission, reports that Dawson county's CCC quota will be filled on April 15, when local youths will have an opportunity to enroll in the Civilian Conservation Corps. It was stated the county's quota is only 12, but the possibility that other counties will not be able to fill their quotas lead to the belief that possibly six or eight boys may be accepted from this county.

At present there are some forty applications filed and the boys will be selected from this list. Mrs. Sharp advised that any boy desiring to enroll in the service should make application now however, as there is the possibility that they can be placed at a later date. The group will, in all probability be sent out of the state to camps in the western part of the country, or possibly to some of the Texas camps.

Boys who are interested should contact either Mrs. Sharp, the district supervisor, or Mrs. Nell Medlin at the relief office in the grand jury room.

Mike Barrett of Kermit spent the weekend here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Barrett.

John T. Sanders New Addition To City Commission

Much Interest Shown In City Contest Tuesday

Perhaps more interest was manifested in Tuesday's City election than any previous election of this nature in the history of Lamesa. Mayor W. L. Marr, was re-elected for a third term by a good majority. A. M. Bennett was re-elected City Commissioner and John T. Sanders, youthful candidate was unanimously elected the other City Commissioner to fill the vacancy that was left by W. B. McWhorter, who was a candidate for mayor.

A total of 1,081 votes were polled in the mayor election, while only 1,997 votes were polled in the two commissioner ballots. This indicated that a few failed to realize that two candidates were to be selected. The nominees will be sworn in at the next meeting of the City Commission, Tuesday afternoon, April 15.

A tabulation of the ballot is as follows:

Mayor
W. L. Marr	476
W. B. McWhorter	285

NEW FIRE TRUCK WILL ARRIVE IN LAMESA TODAY

The new fire truck, ordered a few months ago by the City Commission, is due to arrive in Lamesa Friday, according to Fire Chief James Sumpters who received the bill of lading Monday of this week, announcing that it was then in transit after leaving the factory at El Myra, New York, on April 1.

The American LaFrance Company, from whom the truck was purchased, will have their representative here to unload and uncrate it. He will also conduct the State Underwriter's test on both truck and the booster equipment before it is turned over to the city.

It had been hoped the truck would arrive earlier and would have been of considerable help in the fire Friday night when a loss estimated at $190,000 occurred.

Firemen plan to stage a demonstration and possibly practice runs Monday or Tuesday of the coming week if the truck passes the inspection and is turned over to the city as expected.

The tabulated report on surplus commodities distributed to relief clients during the period amounted to a total retail value of $15,937.36 and covered food and clothing that was supervised by local WPA projects.

4,340 Bales of Cotton Lost in Warehouse Fire

COLD WAVE HITS WITH DAMAGE TO EARLY CROPS

A cold wave that originated in the Rocky Mountain area early in the week descended on the Plains and surrounding areas early Wednesday, and temperatures tumbling to 23 degrees at eight o'clock Thursday morning, and had all Dawson county shivering and gathering around stoves to ward off the wintry blast. The temperature had dropped from a maximum of 77 degrees at eight o'clock Wednesday morning, according to Mrs. Jesse Paulk who is the official weather observer for the department of agriculture. For the most part Thursday the temperature hovered around 23 degrees, with prediction of a fresh assault in the offing.

The new wave, or a continuation of the present cold spell, is predicted to reach here early Friday morning, and will, in all probability send temperatures still lower.

According to reports on the streets from those familiar with conditions of crops, gardens and fruit, it was revealed that the damage to orchards has amounted to several hundred dollars as the fruit was killed, some damage was reported to early wheat crops and early vegetables as dust, torrential rains, sleet and snow rode the crest of the north winds that swept the Panhandle area and other parts of Texas and adjoining states.

Livestock warnings were posted in northern west Texas and Oklahoma, and below freezing temperatures were expected in the latter state and Arkansas. Amarillo, Borger, Abilene and Lubbock, reported dust which was said to have been the worst of the season for the South Plains. A cold wave was forecast for East Texas.

Government Loan Crop Loss Estimated At About $190,000

Fire of undetermined origin razed two buildings Friday night containing 4,340 bales of government loan cotton that was stored at the Dawson County Warehouse company, in the east edge of Lamesa. The cotton, which was valued at $40 per bale with buildings valued at $4,400 resulted in a loss of approximately $190,000 to the government. It was announced as the largest fire in the history of Dawson county, and would have been larger had firemen failed in their efforts to prevent the spread to a third building where 3,200 other bales were stored.

The fire was first discovered at 9:30 o'clock and was making good headway in the east end of the north building when firemen arrived. The blaze was aided with a strong east wind and it looked for a while that the sparks would set fire to a west building and while water was being applied to the building the fire broke out in the south building, about 100 feet south. The second building also caught in the east end and only 50 minutes from the time the fire department arrived at the scene.

Due to the amount of cotton together with the wooden frame work in the buildings the flames made short work with their destruction and by noon Saturday the sites were only a smoldering mass of ashes, bale tags and sheering, which was a surprise to many who had predicted the cotton would burn for days.

Insurance investigators arrived immediately and investigated the fire, but made no statement.

George D. Norman, Bill White, of Lamesa, Frank Bass, W. M. Ryan and Buck Harbinson of Lubbock, were co-owners of the warehouse.

Annual Dairy Show Set For Friday, April 15th

Dairy Experts Of State Department Will Be Present

Due to the fact that the cotton price prospects along with the limited amount of cotton to be allotted on the farms in the county it appears that the farmers in this county should be on the lookout for some other cash crop to take the place of cotton.

It appears that the marketing of dairy products and farm produce will fill the necessary gap and at the same time furnish a weekly income for those farmers who choose to go that route. The purpose of the Dairy Day is to show and give demonstrations and suggestions as to the things to look for in selecting the choice dairy cow for production and type that usually go together in the production of maximum amount of milk and butterfat.

Why not bring in to the program that good grade cow and let the judges compare her with the registered cows of the county? The cattle will be on the Fair Grounds in a building to be supplied for the occasion by the Fair Association for that purpose.

Lamesa and Dawson county will take the lead in fifteen dairy field days to be held throughout the state. The program will include Lynn, Terry Howard and Dawson counties, with farmers and dairymen from those counties eligible to bring in dairy cows for competition. The show will only be held one day and grade as well as registered dairy cattle will be classed according to the merits of the cows in (Continued From Page One)

Big Improvement Made At Theatres During Past Week

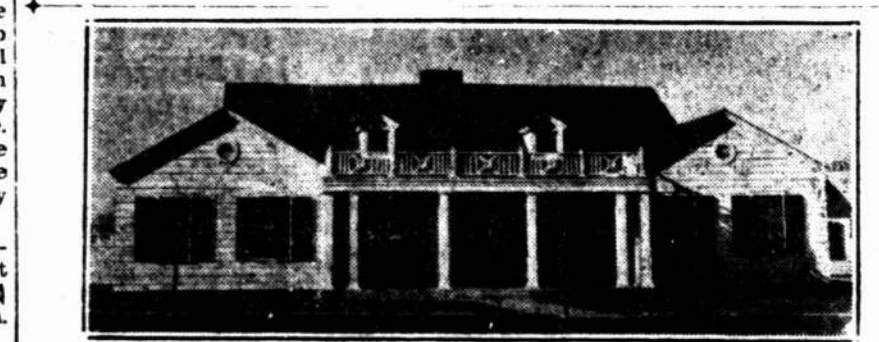

New Sound Equipment Has Been Installed At Palace

Audrey Cox, local theatre operator, has just completed extensive improvements on his two theatres, the Palace and Majestic. Mr. Cox now feels that he has two outstanding West Texas theatres that are considered among the best in this territory. He announces that the Palace will be fettered as the ace of the two shows, however, as it has larger seating capacity.

The new equipment is reported to be the very latest and most modern in theatre machinery and has outstanding sound effect. While Majestic patrons can feel assured of the same reception and screening that has been offered heretofore at the Palace. There is a possibility that it will be even better with the new attachments.

MRS. J. H. ADKINS PLANS VENTILATED FOOD STORAGE

Ventilation is the main factor in the preservation of food value in canned products. To solve this problem, Mrs. Adkins, kitchen demonstrator in the Central Home Demonstration club, plans as a part of her improvement, the building of a ventilated storage space for canned products and dried products also. This storage space will be placed as near the center of the house as is practical to do so. The shelves will not be made of solid pieces of lumber, but will be slatted and the air admitted through an opening in the floor, will be drawn through by an opening in the ceiling. Thus there will be good circulation at all times. The purpose of locating the pantry near the center of the house is to take advantage of the cool air in the warm weather and warm air during the cool weather.

KLONDIKE RESIDENTS PUT OUT WINDBREAK

A windbreak of Chinese Elm trees has been put out by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Duff in the Klondike community. The windbreak consists of 100 trees put out 10 feet apart in three rows on the north and west sides of the house. They have also started planting the foundation bed around the house. Both evergreen and deciduous shrubs have been used. To eliminate as much cost as possible, Mrs. Duff has a cutting bed in which limbs of several varieties of shrubs are being rooted. Next year these rooted cuttings will be transplanted to a permanent place in the yard.

Miss Enid Avriett of Big Spring spent the weekend here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Avriett.

What Is Meant By Allotments?
Allotments mean that certain acreage that is allotted to each farm for each crop. All farms in the county will be given an acreage allotment that is established by the State and Washington offices for such farms as well as the county committee. These acreage allotments for each crop will be mailed to each operator as shown on work sheets as filed in the county agents office. An example, cotton, feed crops and retired or soil conserving acres.

How are county allotments made and why did other counties get a larger acreage than Dawson or larger per cent of the cultivated land? The law states that each county will receive sixty per cent of the 1937 acreage planted to cotton plus the diverted land as a county allotment. Counties that received larger allotments had a larger per cent of the cultivated land planted to cotton in 1937 therefore received larger allotments.

Will all farms have the same per cent allotments to cotton acreage in proportion to the cultivated land? All farms will have the same percentage of cultivated land allotted to cotton provided that one year out of the last three years had more cotton than the percentage figures allow on the place. If the farm had less acreage in cotton plus the diverted acreage than the percentage figures allow then the most cotton that the farm had on it in either of the last three years will be the acreage that will be allotted to that farm.

What will the different percentages of each crop that will be allotted to each farm?

Cotton approximately 30 per cent feed approximately 40 per cent, and soil conserving crops approximately 30 per cent of the entire cultivated acre in the farm.

Will cooperators be permitted to plant two rows of feed and two fallow or two of peas and two feed?

The answer is no.

Will I be permitted to plant peas and feed crops in combination? Yes provided that there is at least four rows of peas in each strip.

Will I be permitted to graze or harvest cane and sudan for hay or pasture? Yes, either or both.

Will I be permitted to sell seed of cane or sudan? No. For that will violate the program and such practice will void your agreement.

Is it compulsory that I stay within my allotted acres? In case you received a cotton loan you agreed to cooperate in the 1938 program regardless of what it turned out to be. You accepted the loan on your cotton on condition that you would comply with the 1938 program, if you do not comply with the program in 1938 you will violate your agreement with the government. Should you violate your agreement you lose the subsidy payment, pay a ten dollar per bale tax on all above your pounds allotted that is sold, as well as pay the difference or loss that the government incurs on the cotton you put into the loan and get sixty per cent as much loan value per bale as do those who do stay within the acreage allotment, and of course, no payment will be made under the program.

How will the government collect from me in case I do not comply as I have agreed to do? You will be replaced on the debtor list and in case you ever in the future should be entitled to receive any government money from any source the amount that you owe will have to be deducted from such amount due you or you will not be paid any money at all, until the obligation to the government is paid in full.

Cosden Oil Dealers Hear Sales Talk On Higher Octane Gas

Dawson county distributors and officials of the sales department and four technicians of the Cosden Oil Corporation, in Big Spring, held a sales meeting in the Williams hotel here Monday night. The meeting was called primarily to acquaint local distributors with features of higher octane gasoline being refined from the Howard county crude.

The session was presided over by W. E. Gibson, of Abilene, who explained in detail the quality of their product. Mr. Gibson reported that improvements that will represent an expenditure of $800,000, will be completed by June 1. At present they refine a 70-72 octane, it was explained the type of crude is especially adaptable for making a good grade gas and is 60 octane when it comes out of the ground, with out adding anything.

Wm. M. Nash, of the Fort Worth sales department office, who was one of the main speakers, announced he and C. G. Pomeroy, of Abilene, Matt Harrington, Big Spring, and R. A. Stone also of Fort Worth, would spend about a week in this territory working with the local distributors.

It was explained the officials know they have the product and need the station operators help to sell it to the public. Many pointers on sales promotion were given.

T. B. Fulkerson, Dawson and Gaines county wholesale dealer and the following distributors were present: Lloyd Thompson, L. C. White, B. A. Farmer, W. B. Burleson, Riley Smith, T. C. Drennan, P. C. Lott. Those from out of town in addition to the officials mentioned were L. C. Martin, R. B. Lambright and E. J. Newman, all of Big Spring.

Texas' Leading 4-H Club Members Have Been Chosen

College Station, April 4.—Selection of Cletis Clinton, 17, Minden, Rusk county as the recipient of the Texas Home Demonstration Association's college scholarship award and of Elizabeth Harrison, 16, Alvarado, Johnson county; Pauline Miller, 17, Crescent, Wharton county; Ellis Britton, 18, Snyder, Hale county; and J. D. Jordan, 17, Art, Washington, D. C. for the National 4-H club Encampment in June have been announced by Miss Onah Jacks and L. L. Johnson, state girls' and boys' club agents of the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College.

Each of the girls have featured home improvement work and each has served as president and demonstrator of her 4-H club. Miss Clinton's work, which has transformed her family's home, is featured by a ventilated pantry which is filled with 2,358 containers of canned foods, buckets of syrup, sacks of peanuts, popcorn, and potatoes, big crocks of lard and cured meats, and jars of dried beans and peas.

From a bedroom improvement demonstration, Miss Harrison's work has resulted in remodeling the entire house. The family fruit orchard is of her own planning, and from her garden she has realized a net profit of almost four hundred dollars, yet this work is only incidental to her major work in home improvement.

Miss Miller is the winner of the state clothing contest for girls, and has helped 349 women and girls in their clothing work. She entered Texas State College for Women last fall, and made most of her clothes for college at a cost of $46.39. She also features home improvement work and a garden, and for several years had a poultry flock.

J. D. Jordan, during his seven years in club work, has fed out 48 beef calves, exhibited at 25 livestock shows, and won 23 first places, of which 11 were in national competition. One of his calves was grand champion at the 1937 Kansas City Royal in competition with professional feeders. His calves have returned a net profit of $6,412, of which $1,841 was prize money.

The president of the Dawson County Singers' Association, "Head" Bolden has announced the semi-annual singing convention will convene at Wilson Baptist church Saturday night, April 16, when a two-day convention will be started. An all-day program will be rendered on the following day, which will be Easter Sunday, and arrangements are being made to have some outstanding singers from various parts of the state here on this occasion.

The convention will open with their business session and election of new officers on the opening night. A huge dinner Sunday will be one of the features of the day and everyone is urged to bring baskets of food.

It was reported that invitations had been extended to members of the V. O. Stamps quartet to attend. Singers from all parts of this territory will be there. It was stated that C. R. "Red" McCright, of Homer, Texas, who is well-known to local singers will be among those from distant points.

Lamesa Branch Line Freight Rate Lower

Frank Barkhurst, local agent for the Santa Fe branch that serves Dawson with the only rail facilities, announces this area now has a freight rate equal with towns in common point territory since the new rate will go into effect for a period extending from April 9 through December 31, 1939. This will mean considerable saving to the community as compared with other towns in this territory.

Mr. Barkhurst states it has been tried frequently in the past to get our differential reduced on this line, however, with no success, but we now have a rate equal to common point unless cancelled. It is not considered likely that it will be cancelled or extended.

Cotton Long Way From Parity Price

College Station, April 4.—"When a Texas farmer spent the money he received for a bale of cotton sold during February of this year, he came out of the store with just half the goods he would have gotten back in February 1909-1914 from the sale of a like bale."

Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, pointed out in the course of a recent session of the committee at Texas A. and M. College.

"If cotton were selling at 16.2 cents a pound now, a bale of cotton would buy just about what it would have back in 1909-1914," Slaughter said. "This is what is meant by parity price. The spot price of cotton in February was around 8.1 cents a pound."

Parity cotton payments, or cotton price adjustment payments of 3 cents a pound, which farmers who cooperate with the AAA program will receive on their 1937 crop, will narrow the spread between the price they actually sold their cotton for and the parity price of 16.2 cents.

In February of 1937, the money for a bale of cotton bought three-fourths the amount of goods from a store that a like bale sold in 1909 to 1914 bought. The huge cotton crop of 1937 quickly reduced the things that a bale of cotton would buy at the present price level.

The new farm act continues the provision for parity payments to narrow the gap between what a farmer should be able to buy when he sells a bale of cotton and what he can buy. Slaughter said. That provision, however, depends upon the funds to be provided by Congress. Whether this money will be provided through processing taxes on manufactured cotton goods or otherwise is being discussed at present by congressional committees.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanley will leave the latter part of this week for Montgomery, Ala., where they will visit relatives.

Surplus Products Of Texas Farms Bought By FSSC

College Station, April 4—"More than 98 million pounds of food products purchased in Texas and removed from overburdened agricultural markets during 1937, by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation in cooperating with the Triple A," according to E. N. Holmgren, administrative office of the Texas AAA office at Texas A. and M. College.

Garden Exhibits On Display At Sanders Grocery April 11-16

The Farm Security Administration is sponsoring a garden exhibit in the City Grocery during the week of April 11-16. The vegetables requirements for a family of five will be the scheme around which the display is built.

The garden for every family should be carefully designed to amply supply the family's vegetable needs during the spring, summer and fall and also for canning and storing, to use next winter.

FSA cooperators who made the greatest strides in their rehabilitation program the past year, were, with few exceptions, those who had grown a garden and decreased their food bills by filling their pantries with many staple and delectable garden products.

Many home gardeners working with Miss Wright, home supervisor for FSA in Dawson county, have planted tomato, cabbage and pepper seeds in window boxes or cold frames so they will have plants ready to transplant to the gardens as soon as the danger of frost has passed. Because from 75 to 90 per cent of the family's supply can be provided directly from the farm, because the production of these foods cut family living costs, and because farm goods, including fruits and vegetables, are so necessary to health, the Farm Security Administration encourages its borrowers to do all within their power to grow adequate home gardens. Both the farm and home plans for each family place emphasis on this phase of the year's work.

Brunk's Tent Show To Open Week's Engagement Here

The Henry L. Brunk's Comedians are scheduled to be in Lamesa next week. The company has had its equipment stored in Rotan all winter and the show has been playing the larger and better theatres through Kansas and Oklahoma, and the company will open in the big tent here Monday night. The opening play will be one written by the late Charles F. Morrison and is called "The Woman Tamer." This fine play was used by Brunk's on the theatre circuit. It is strictly a comedy drama and the principal comedy part is ably handled by Walter Pruitt, a new addition to Brunk's show since they were here last year.

Other plays to be presented here are "Misleading Ladies," and "City Wives," "My Teddy" and others. Brunk's Comedians will present their first performance Monday night and the big tent will be located three blocks south of the City Hall.

Woman's Club House Has Been Repainted

Citizens and passers-by are to be greeted by a more attractive landmark that is known as Lamesa's Woman's Club House. This building has been the scene of many parties and educational gatherings; but has been in a minor state of delapidation for months.

The two clubs, Lamesa Delphian club and Lamesa Study club decided to pave and otherwise improve the grounds and the building itself.

Mrs. R. E. Simpson and Mrs. L. M. Pratt from the Delphian club, solicited paint for building. Forrest Lumber Co. Higginbotham yard, Randle Lumber Co., Cleo Smith, Woodridge and Freddy-Davis all contributed paint which is being applied this week.

Junior clubs are to help with landscaping the ground.

The clubs wish to take this method of thanking the lumber yards for their contributions and expressing our appreciation to the city, Mr. Thomson, who is in charge of the paving, Sam Richardson, for his generous contribution, Mr. Kelly, for cash donation, both, First National and Lamesa National Banks, in their hearty cooperation for pavement project.

Rotary Luncheon Friday Was First In Final Quarter

Twelve Rotarians Have Perfect Attendance Records

A good attendance record was maintained for the Rotary club last Friday when only three absentees were reported. The program was the first of the new quarter and was presented by Holland Harp, program chairman for the current month. Others assisting with the programs include Joe H. Pierce, Swanson Hurt, Clyde Branon and Dr. J. C. Loveless.

Those having parts on last Friday's program in addition to the chairman included Messrs. Pierce, Hurt and Branon. The latter was the main speaker. His humorous remarks and comments were very appropriate following an "April Fool" trick that was revealed by the preceding speaker, Swanson Hurt.

Mrs. Branon gave a reading that was followed by an anecdote, both of which were unusually good.

President W. D. Arnett, who presided introduced a distinguished Rotarian, Paul Weiss, who is a native of Switzerland, has resided in Denver, Colorado, since 1890. Mr. Weiss in response to an invitation from the president made a brief talk in which he related he has been a member of the Denver club since 1912. In relating that he has visited all the foreign Internationals during the past twenty-five years except one. He pointed out that he had always been accorded the best hospitality in all the foreign countries bring-

Tarrant County Man Who Died In Lamesa Was Buried At Trent

Sam Leal, Sr., 59, died at the home of his son, Sam, Jr., on South Second Street Thursday morning, March 31, and was buried at Trent, Texas Sunday afternoon following services at Trent.

Deceased came to this county only three weeks ago, when his son started work on the Sparenberg farm to market road, south of Lamesa. He and Mrs. Leal were residing with another son, Alvin, at the construction camp. He was apparently in the best of health until a few hours before his death. He became critically ill and was rushed here for medical treatment. His death was attributed to an attack of hardening of the arteries.

He was a native resident of Brownwood and has spent a great many years in West Texas while employed on various construction work as a highway contractor. Surviving in addition to Mrs. Leal and their two sons is one daughter, Mrs. Tillia Durant, El Paso, he also leaves two sisters.

Farmers Advised Against Excessive Grazing Practices

Technicians Point To Damages That May Happen

Concrete examples of the damage that may result from grazing of stubble and stalk fields are being brought to the attention of farmers of the wind erosion region as the normal high winds of this season sweep loose soil across country in the form of dust storms. Technicians of the Lamesa Soil Conservation Service report.

Farmers who have not permitted grazing during the fall and winter, or who have not allowed enough grazing to expose the soil to blowing, now are observing that their fields are not being damaged by wind erosion.

Those who have permitted excessive grazing of their stalk and stubble fields now are seeing rich topsoil being swept away by the high winds and in some instances hummocks or drifts being formed in their land.

Technicians point out that grazing of stubble which would furnish protection for the soil during the blowing season, and that the trampling by livestock pulverizes the soil and leaves it in a powdery form readily subject to wind erosion.

When such a condition is brought about, the field not only is in danger of losing much valuable topsoil, but also may become hummocked or cluttered with drifts, which often means an additional expense for leveling preparatory to planting crops.

The maintenance of sufficient crop

NEW ASSISTANT FARM AGENT ASSUMES DUTIES IN LAMESA

X. B. Cox, Jr., the new assistant agricultural conservation agent, who was transferred to Dawson county to fill the vacancy recently left by Joe Matthews, has arrived in Lamesa and assumed his duties as assistant to Joe C. Williams, agent. Mr. Cox is originally a resident of San Angelo, Texas, and has been with the department at Robert Lee, Coke county. Mr. Matthews was promoted to county agent and was given the position at Pecos.

Barrett Grocery Was Broken Into Saturday Night

Thieves were active in Lamesa during the past weekend. The major crime reported was the robbery of the Earnest Barrett Grocery & Service Station, which is located on South First and Bryan. The store was broken into some time during the time between midnight Saturday and 6:30 Sunday morning, when $25 in cash was reported taken together with a small amount of merchandise.

The robbery was discovered by Jimmie Biggs, when he came down to open for the day. He found the front door open and an investigation was started.

Mr. Barrett, owner, stated a small money sack that was hid in the store at closing time Saturday night had been taken.

He had placed the money in a small paper sack and hid it under the counter, this was his habit for the past two years, thereby giving his assistant some cash to operate on when the latter opens for business the following day. He expressed the opinion that at some time or other in the past the thief, who entered the store on this occasion, had been in his place at closing time and knew where his money was kept.

It was revealed that several clues were being investigated and officers who are working with the station owner think there will be an early arrest growing out of the robbery. There is also a possibility that other crimes including the recent robbery of Gus Ragsdale's station and grocery may be solved in the event the suspects are arrested.

Reports were also current early in the week to the effect that batteries were stolen from three local automobile on Sunday night. Those were taken from cars parked in the business area early during the night.

Sparenberg Farm To Market Road Nearly Finished

Caliche Base Being Put In Condition For Topping

Construction was started about March 15, on the Sparenberg farm-to-market road, a distance of 5.3 miles from the intersection with Highway 9, approximately 7.2 miles southeast of Lamesa. All the caliche base has been applied on the road and is being rolled prior to placing the asphalt topping over it.

Contract was awarded to Sam Leal, Jr., on February 21, by the State Highway Department, for a total sum of $12,519.37. The entire project was due to be finished within 60 days from the time construction begun. As it looks at present the road will be completed within 30 days or less time.

A local highway office has been opened in the First National Bank building here. J. C. Kerr, Lubbock, is the resident engineer, but the Lamesa office is in charge of an assistant, R. W. Tucker, who recently came to this city from Plainview. Mr. Kerr will make frequent trips to the local office and supervise the activities of the office.

County Judge W. M. Yates reports there is no new development on the Brownfield-Lamesa route.

Miss Mary Cooper of Lubbock spent the weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cooper.

Mrs. Joe Bailey Masters and daughter, Jan of Crane visited Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Ragsdale here this past week.

Brought to Light . . .

By HARVEY SMITH

Only a few weeks ago in this column a lengthy article appeared concerning local amateur radio operators, who it was stated are fraternally known throughout the United States and foreign countries as "ham" operators. Since that time we have been advised there has been a great deal of new interest that has developed lately—but last Sunday one of the most interesting programs yet reported was staged at Hubert Nelson's station, on Roosevelt Street. Eighteen local residents gathered there after a scheduled look-up had been made with a Los Angeles, Calif., operator, where former Lamesans had assembled for a conversation with their parents and other relatives here. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Echols talked with their daughter, Mrs. Della Shipp, and her husband, Jeff, while Mrs. J. W. Howell, Sr., talked with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Townsend, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barkhurst talked with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Barkhurst, and several others participated in the conversations.

It was a happy occasion for all. The usefulness of the stations were demonstrated beyond measure. Naturally those stations are purely hobbies to those who have experimented and developed into "ham" operators, but they afford means of communication often times to others, as was the case on Sunday morning.

Buster Herndon, tax assessor-collector, brought his hobby into valuable service last Friday night when he caught some remarkable "shots" of the largest fire in the history of the county that destroyed more than 4,000 bales of cotton. Buster's pictures were very much in demand to inspectors, cotton owners and hundreds of others, and according to one professional photographer, the pictures were good enough for any of the leading nationally famous magazines.

Among other pleasant past-times for local people is that of hunting rattlesnakes down on the breaks, east and south of Lamesa. From all accounts the rattlers are found in their dens and at this time of the year, they are crawling out on the cap rock for a little sunshine.

To those who are less impressed with the rattler's pursuit it is reported that the recreation, open air and sights there are uncommon. There are perhaps many who will doubt the report there are a few red foxes in that vicinity, but one was seen leaping over the cap rock last Sunday after a group from this city walked to within a short distance of it. Residents of that area report there are a few still existing and every precaution should be exercised to conserve them, as there are only a few left in scattered parts of West Texas area. Evidence of the damage being done to the sheep of that section by rattlers was noticeable when the decayed body of one was discovered near a snake den.

There is quite a bit of evidence and reports of the West Texas and South Plains hospitality. A demonstration of this was manifested only a few days ago when friends and neighbors gathered at Earnest Carr's farm and plowed his 320 acres, while Mr. Carr was in Lamesa with members of his family, who were confined in a local hospital. Mr. Carr resides about ten miles southwest of town, and a few words could not express the appreciation for the acts of his neighbors. Their many friends throughout the county will also be glad to know that their family is reported on the road to recovery.

Lamesans will have to go a long way to find a public servant with a better personality than our own Blaine Wiggins, city secretary, who appears to have the unusual gift of the perpetual smile that portrays a feeling of good will for everyone.

Today we extend congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pierce who operate the Pierce Toggery, on the west side of the square. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce were among the pioneers who came west in a covered wagon. They have helped to develop Lamesa working in business circles, religious and civic affairs. Today they open their 19th anniversary in business here. They have shared in the joys as well as sorrows of their friends and customers and make them feel at home. Like other leading business institutions here they have experienced the lean years as well as the good ones.

Despite the fact that April 3, through 10 (this week) was designated Clean-Up and Paint-Up Week in Texas, we haven't heard a great deal about it. Generally speaking it seems that build up has been more popular in Lamesa . . . yet those who were seen working around the clock only the other night, might well boast they have experienced a little cleaning up too.

The Federated club women's cottage on North Houston appeared to have applied the clean up slogan in this city almost exclusively. Their small cottage, which was badly in need of a coat of paint, was painted white and is now has an attractive appearance that makes it a credit to the city. For the most part citizens were busy. Early Easter shoppers were making their final preparations for dress materials, shoes, frocks, hats etc. Lumbermen were equally as busy handling the rush orders for building material as a half dozen various projects were underway in the business section and residential development continued at about the same pace.

Likewise, the Interscholastic League events brought bi-county contestants to Lamesa, school trustee elections were reported to have created considerable excitement and interest in some of the school districts in spite of the fact there was no unusual interest shown in the city. Candidates in the city contests saw their election through and the anxiety and strain of a political campaign was a relief to some. The county's largest fire, which incidentally will boost the fire insurance rate, created too much excitement, worry and strain, but was a part of one of the busiest weeks of the entire year as the quarter came to a close.

Lamesa and Dawson county citizens who enjoy the past time of good literature are very fortunate in having access to two outstanding local libraries. Mrs. Nellie Carter, librarian for the Lamesa Public Library, informed this department that during the past year $169.23 had been taken in on rentals, 200 new books were purchased through this means of support and were placed on the shelves. The library is not supported by taxes and rentals and occasional contributions are the only methods whereby popular fiction books can be purchased. The library is located in the City Hall, on the third floor, and from the amount of interest shown the patrons have very little trouble finding it despite the fact there are no signs to advise the general public where it is located.

The other library is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Townsend and has a variety of good literature including three popular and helpful books to those in public service, with the three following outstanding books available: "Salesmanship Applied," "Seven Keys to Retail Profits" and last but not least Dale Carnegie's popular seller, "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

LANDSCAPE SPECIALIST MEET CLUB WOMEN

Miss Sadie Hatfield, landscape specialist, from A. and M. College will be in Lamesa, April 12 to confer with Miss Mattie Phenix the home demonstration agent. While in the county Miss Hatfield will also meet with the Shumake club, which meets Tuesday, April 12, in the home of Mrs. L. B. Stuart, the yard demonstrator of the Shumake club.

Other yard demonstrators and club members are invited to visit the Shumake club on that date and meet

WILSON BAPTIST CHURCH

Our attendance is still increasing and a fine Christian fellowship prevails in our church and Sunday school work. We had six additions by letter last Sunday. It makes us happy to see God's people take their places in the church. The interest in our mid-week prayer service is splendid, had forty-nine last Wednesday evening, and a good discussion on the work of the Holy Spirit. Bring your Bible Wednesday evening at eight o'clock and we will have a good hour of study together.

If you are not going to church and Sunday school elsewhere and live in Wilson community, we urge you to come and be with us. You will find a class for every age.

Mrs. Fred Norris underwent a major operation last Wednesday at Big Spring hospital, and we are happy to report that she is doing nicely, and will probably be home the latter part of this week.

Our Sparenberg church will omit the regular preaching service next Sunday and after Sunday school will go to the Methodist revival which is in progress at that place. Let us make Sunday a day of worship of Our Lord.

"The Church With a Friendly Welcome."—Ernest Phillips, pastor.

That last one is all filled in for you because the only answer on OIL-PLATING your engine is Your Mileage Merchant. Or when your car hustles, how can implanted OIL-PLATING keep flying off to get burned right up? There's where OIL-PLATING gives you a sane explanation of why you can count on more mileage. More than fifty thousand retail units in the nation have pledged themselves to feature and push cotton goods during the next few months, culminating in the observance of National Cotton Week May 30 to June 4.

In recent months farm organizations have joined with large store organizations and retail groups to increase the use of beef, poultry, oranges and other farm products. These efforts have been highly successful. It is believed that a similar coordinated effort behind increasing sales of cotton goods will serve to stimulate the purchase of finished goods. This in turn will ease buying from the mills in turn will come into the market for raw cotton which the farmer has to sell.

The Texas Cotton Growers Association and its personnel and membership totaling approximately 70,000, together with membership of thirteen other state and regional associations, totaling nearly 200,000 members in all, are backing up the drive in their own localities.

While the major emphasis is being placed on National Cotton Week, A. B. Lambert, general manager of the association, urges that farmers start now on the cotton consumption movement. "Every day our members buy feed, fertilizer, food products and many other items which are packaged in various types of containers. Urge that these products be wrapped in cotton bags," he says.

Keep it Quiet

Can folks sitting in your car hear your motor when it is idling? Yes? No good!

Chances are the noise means wear. Wear means that you haven't been getting all the lubrication you have been paying for. What every motor needs, right from its first day of operation, is quality oil. The word is over-worked, but quality is still the only single word to describe Phillips 66 Motor Oil, Phillips finest.

It is noted for its clean quality... for its minimum of carbon-forming residue... for its richer, long-lasting body with high-degree oiliness. So it keeps the innards of your motor much cleaner.

Next time, drain and refill with Phillips 66 Motor Oil, the economy champion. It's concentrated... This year's big value in car lubrication. Look for the Orange and Black 66 Shield.
