Huh Acting Korea Chief

By GENE KRAMER
SEOUL, Korea (AP)—South Korea's acting president, installed after civil rebellion toppled Syngman Rhee, pledged himself today to political reforms. He even aimed his new brow at what he called "waste and mismanagement" in the U.S. Korean-aid program.

Huh Chung, named foreign minister by Rhee as the regime started to buckle under revolutionary anger, took over the powers of the presidency early today. Huh and his Cabinet, which thus far has only two other members, will serve as a caretaker regime until a new president and vice president are elected. The Constitution requires this to be done within three months.

Mass Picketing Of Austin Lunch Counters Is Launched

By GARTH JONES
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Mass picketing of downtown lunch counters by white and Negro students demanding desegregation started today in Texas' capital city today. Placard carrying pickets marched on each side of Congress Ave. in the downtown street, from 4th St. to 11th St. They arranged the marching with drill-like precision, so that the constantly moving pickets crisscrossed on the sidewalks.

Contract On U.S. 84 Job Due In May Payola Survey Studied

A contract is due to be awarded in May for the first segment of vast improvements planned for U.S. Highway 84 in Scurry County. The Texas Highway Department is calling for bids to be opened May 18 on approximately eight miles of road construction extending northward from the Scurry-Mitchell county line to a point one mile south of Herculiah.

By JOHN H. AVERILL
WASHINGTON (AP)—House payola investigators summoned three statistical specialists today to report their own interpretation of an analytical study of Dick Clark's TV disc jockey show. The study made for Clark by a New York statistical firm reported that Clark could have had a personal financial interest in 27 per cent of the songs played on his matinee music show. By implication, it showed he had no personal interest in 73 per cent of the songs he used.

Hail, Wind Lash State

By The Associated Press
A scattered line of thunderstorms extended from Paris southward over Tyler to Lufkin early Wednesday morning. Scattered showers fell in the Amarillo area and just west of Waco. Patchy fog covered the Texas coast. Early morning temperatures ranged from 47 at Dalhart to 70 at Brownsville, Laredo and Corpus Christi.

The five-day forecast issued Wednesday called for temperatures near or a little above normal in Eastern and Central Texas with precipitation moderate to heavy in scattered mostly afternoon and evening thunderstorms. In western Texas the forecast calls for temperatures near normal with precipitation locally heavy in widely scattered thunderstorms.

The case was brought to the court by Mrs. Mona Nelson of Dallas and Mrs. Hazel Brothers of Richardson who sought to force a continued look into the death of their brother, Virgil V. Harmon, 56.

Threats By Krush Hit

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the United States had no part in inciting the riotous demonstrations that led to the resignation of Korean President Syngman Rhee. As for his own role, Eisenhower told a news conference, the only thing he did was to tell Rhee that apparently there had been irregularities in the Korean elections, and that the situation which led to this should be corrected.

Eisenhower said he deplored the resort to violence in Korea—violence which brought the Rhee administration to collapse. Eisenhower spoke of a great man, a tremendous patriot, and the father of his country. But as Rhee has grown older the President said, some mistakes have been made.

As for his announced intention to visit Korea next June, Eisenhower said he plans at this time to go ahead with the visit. At his first news conference in a month, Eisenhower dealt also with these other matters: SUMMIT—Eisenhower said he never will attend any summit conference under a threat or ultimatum by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev regarding the future of West Berlin. The President made that remark in commenting on Khrushchev's assertion earlier this week that the Western Allies will lose all rights of access to that divided city if the Soviet Union sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

Bridge Project Is Proposed Here

City councilmen heard a proposal for construction of a new bridge on Twenty-first street last night, but no action was taken because the city is short of funds. City Commissioner Bill Herring of Precinct 4 met with the council to discuss the proposal. Herring said he was interested in replacing the old bridge across Deep Creek on Twenty-first street, which serves a paved road from the west into town. Herring said his precinct could provide some of the funds, and he inquired into the possibility of the city sharing in the cost.

Judge Steps Out In Hoffa Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Letts today disqualified himself to hear a suit seeking the ouster of James B. Hoffa as president of the Teamsters Union.

The judge said he did so "with no thought or intention of admitting the truth of the affidavit or any part thereof."

All votes there were written. With 1,571 of 1,619 precincts counted, Kennedy had 89,687. Again Stevenson was a laggard second, at 4,711. Other Democrats in order were Humphrey, 903; Springfield, 401; Johnson, 274.

Nixon at that point had 51,972 to 4,066 for Rockefeller and 361 for Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

In the election of committee delegates, Kennedy won a solid 41-vote bloc. The Republican 26-vote delegation leans to Nixon.

Kennedy campaigning in West Virginia for the May 10 primary had little time to devote after spending a full day touring the state's southern coal fields.

He planned more campaigning today. His primary rival, Humphrey, left for Washington Tuesday night after two days of hunting votes across the state.

Meanwhile Springfield, who has not entered any primaries, continued his two-day vote hunt in Michigan, lashing out at the Eisenhower administration.

In a speech prepared for a luncheon at Grand Rapids today, he said the administration was using a "weary old argument" in saying a $1.5 an hour minimum wage would increase unemployment.

Truck Driver Blamed In Fatal Crash

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission Tuesday blamed a truck driver for a bus-truck collision near Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 29 that resulted in nine deaths.

The ICC said its investigation disclosed that the driver was operating recklessly and was under the influence of a drug.

The accident involved an eastbound Los Angeles-New Orleans Greyhound bus and a westbound truck owned by Frank McGraw of Del Rio, Tex. The truck was loaded with livestock.

Six bus passengers, the bus driver and two drivers on the truck were killed, and 31 bus passengers were injured.

The commission said the collision occurred with such force that some cattle were thrown into the passenger compartment of the bus. Property damage was estimated at $75,000.

The ICC said the truck was being driven by James Stewart, 32, a Del Rio trailer park operator who was employed part time by McGraw.

The report said the investigation disclosed violations of ICC safety regulations and that the findings will be turned over to the Justice Department.

At the time of the accident, the report said, the truck drivers had been traveling for more than 48 hours without opportunity for protracted rest. The truck was traveling above 40 miles an hour in a 30-mile-an-hour zone, and was in the wrong lane.

Nuclear Blasts May Form Harbors

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Nuclear tests in a remote coastal area of Alaska could lead to atomic created harbors and even a new Panama canal, says Dr. John W. Welford, Atomic Energy Commission scientist.

He made the prediction at a news conference on "Project Charlot."

Four nuclear devices equal to 250,000 tons of TNT would carve a key-shaped harbor near Point Hope on the Chukchi Sea—about 120 miles north of the Arctic Circle, Welford said Tuesday.

The devices—the largest equal to 200,000 tons of TNT and farthest inland—would be buried 400 to 700 feet deep.

The planned result of the simultaneous explosions a harbor 900 yards long, 200 to 300 yards wide and at least 60 feet deep. The kehole shape would allow ships to turn around.

If the test proved successful, the method might be used to create canals as well as harbors.

Welford said the blast would displace 50 million cubic yards of rock and soil. Atom-blasting would cost 8 cents a cubic yard, compared with $2.50 a yard for present day excavation, he estimated.

Welford, a biologist on leave from Ohio State University, said there would be very little fallout because in the underground explosion all but 99 percent of the radioactive material would be contained in the blast.

call for an increase in the Social Security tax.

Republican congressional leaders said Tuesday that the message would be an Eisenhower appeal for action on a good many phases of the Administration's program. They said it also will express opposition to what they called Democratic budget-busting proposals.

LABOR MANAGEMENT — Eisenhower was asked why the public would not be represented at a labor-management conference which is being arranged at his suggestion. It already has been announced that representatives of labor and business will sit in at the session.

Eisenhower said he believes the public will be represented. He added that he has asked three representatives of labor and three of management to determine who should be on the conference commission.

DISARMAMENT — An international agreement to disarm, Eisenhower said, is not likely to send the United States into an economic tailspin.

This country, he said, is faced with a great need for construction of schools, roads and for many other things.

ALGERIA — French President Charles De Gaulle told him: Eisenhower said that he stands by his pledge of last September that the people of Algeria will be given the right to determine their own form of government.

WHEAT — Eisenhower said he is firmly opposed to an increase in the support price for wheat. Such an increase, he added, would only aggravate the wheat surplus.

El Paso Natural Gas Company
1959 ANNUAL REPORT

MORE ENERGY...

for the rapidly expanding West

On the first day of 1960 El Paso Natural Gas Company merged into its system the facilities of Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corporation and began unified operations of the expanded system.

Gas reserves in Canada... in the Southwest... in the Rocky Mountain States... are now made available to meet the needs of the entire 11-state area in the most efficient and economical manner.

This and other steps to meet the West's mounting energy needs are detailed in El Paso's 1959 Annual Report, recently mailed to 58,753 shareholders.

In 1959, energy-use in the West continued to soar—and El Paso's gas deliveries reached an all-time peak of more than 1.1 trillion cubic feet, an increase of more than six times that delivered by the company a decade ago. At the same time, our owned and controlled gas reserves, essential to fill ever-increasing future requirements of our customers, rose by three trillion cubic feet to a record level of 40.5 trillion cubic feet.

The Annual Report summarizes other progress made during the year, including applications pending before the FPC for new pipe line facilities designed to maintain El Paso's record of leadership and service—in natural gas, in petroleum, in petrochemicals.

El Paso's broadened service area and plans for the future outlined in our 1959 Annual Report assure the dependable long-term gas supplies so necessary to sound and speedy economic growth in the West.

Jefferson Pilgrimage To Be Held April 30, May 1

Jefferson, on State Highway 49 and U. S. Highway 29, is designated as the holiday for hundreds of visitors Saturday and Sunday, April 30 and May 1, during the thirtieth Historical Pilgrimage.

Near Caddo Lake, the old town owes its fame to the steamboat era of its navigation days, when it was head of shipping on Big Cypress Bayou. This year visitors will be able to see "Lake O the Pines" with its vast recreational and industrial possibilities.

Again this year, downtown stores will portray the past, displaying costumes and furnishings from 1850's, the town's boom seventies, and on through the Gay Nineties. Early days of Jefferson will be depicted in a parade Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, sponsored by the Jefferson Sheriff's posse. The Jay Gould Private Railroad car will be open to visitors. There will be a stage presentation of "Diamond Bessie Murder Trail" April 28 and 29, and two performances on the 30th and a matinee on Sunday, Mrs. A. C. Ogburn, Jefferson, is in charge of ticket sales.

Eight homes, the Historical Museum and Jefferson Playhouse (formerly old Jewish Synagogue) will be shown during the pilgrimage. A pilgrimage feature this year, reminiscent of the days of the old public market, will be a treasures, trinkets and trivias sale on the museum lawn.

Memory Book Available To Students

The recent Memory Book compiled by the Snyder Junior High School Parent Teacher Association is a first of its kind to ever be published in this part of the country. It is a book that each student may purchase for 50c and keep for years to come.

Published in the form of an annual, complete with students' pictures and various activities of the school that will long be remembered. The division of the school into Travis Junior High School and Lamar Junior High School will mark the parting of the ways, that means a separating of friends, yet a combining of strength, competitive spirits, the year that has brought a coupling of activities—two instead of one.

For this memorable time, the book is dedicated to both schools, with the parting-quotes, "Together yet apart—Separate in work but joined in heart."

In the foreword of the book Mrs. Elton Wyatt, president of the P.T.A. gives this food for thought: "The tremendous amount of tedious work involved in the production of a volume like this requires loyalty, patience, and ability. Truly those who have worked on this 1959-1960 Memory Book have done so with the hope that though time will pass, and each of you will do your separate work, this book will be an unbreakable link in your chain of memories. We hope that you may look through these pages and relive those happy times that you have had in Junior High School this year. May each of you remember, 'Your mind is the Master Key to the good life'."

Sunshine Is Proving Itself Valuable Arizona Resource

By INEZ ROBB
TUCSON, Ariz. — What is it that babies cry for, adults sigh for and more and more adults in the U.S. vie for?

Sunshine. Right. Give the lady behind the typewriter two dollars. Yes, sir, and I will go for four dollars.

What is sunshine doing for Arizona?

Well, sir, it is making Arizona bust its branches, or maybe it should say its levs. It's bustin' out all over at the seams with people, people, people from all over trying to latch on to a share of this place in the sun.

In Tucson there are just two classes of persons—those who sell real estate and those who buy it. And both are working overtime. When my husband drove into a gas station yesterday morning, a nice young boy, before he even offered oil, gas, a $1-wash or made a coffee at the windshield, said:

"You fixin' to settle here, mister?"

And before the head of the clan could say "Filler up" or "Look at the oil" or even "We live in New York," the enterprising youth pulled a card out of his pocket and said:

"If you're looking for a place to buy mister, see my old man. Pop's in the real estate business and he's got some real buys he'd be glad to show you."

The young man pressed cards into Add's hands, and said: "Pop, a man you can trust. I can call him for you right this minute, and he'll be here in a jiffy."

"Have we got enough gas to make a getaway?" I whispered to my spouse.

"Timber!" cried Add, and away we sped.

But the man in the drug store, the girl in the supermarket and the waitress at the hamburger stand, trained instantly to recognize the sickly pallor of the Easterner, also have friends or relatives willing and eager to find the stranger a little gay home in the West.

On the other hand, the pallid visitor from north of the Mason-Dixon line is just as avid to buy. We are staying in the home of friends whose desert house is charming.

Two days ago when I was home alone, a gentleman and his wife from Milwaukee rang the bell. He sought me to show them the house and seemed willing to buy on the spot.

It was with some difficulty that I convinced the pair that the house was not for sale, and resisted the impulse to take their money and skip town.

Just a year ago I came here to see the desert in bloom. When I left, I felt fairly well oriented in Tucson. Twelve months later, I am hopelessly confused. The whole community has grown so rapidly in all directions in the interim that I have lost all my landmarks.

Housing developments are extending the city limits a la Los Angeles. In regions where even a year ago the majestic saguaro, the cholla cactus and palo verde, the little desert lizards and even rattlesnakes held sway, refugees from the frozen North now live in style, summing behind patio walls and patronizing the "newcomers."

Potentially, the richest man in the world will be he who learns to bottle sunshine. There can be little doubt that it is the fastest selling commodity in the United States today. We are rapidly becoming a nation of sun worshipers. The feller who can learn to bottle the stuff and distribute it in latitudes less blessed than this will

Retirement Should Be Well Planned

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Are you middle-aged?

Then now is the time to start planning for your retirement. Now is the time to get ready to spend those "golden years" on life's cut.

Just the other morning when I went in to wake up my daughter, who is nearly 7, she was murmuring worriedly in her sleep: "I do hope my dear father is planning a forward-looking retirement program fitted to his emotional and mental needs. It will come as a great shock to him when he suddenly has to quit work at 65."

It will like the devil. Having to go to work every day has been a great shock to me. Some days it has been more than I could bear. Quitting work should always be far less of a shock to a sensible man's nervous system than going to work. I took my first job at the age of 10—delivering newspapers—and there hasn't been a day since then that I haven't dreamed of retirement.

The great danger in retirement is the same you face on the daily job. Boredom, therefore it is wise to avoid it's menace in advance.

Here's my plan:

I intend to buy a small white house with a front and back porch. Instead of two cars, I will have me two rocking chairs. One will be an old-fashioned rocker. The other will be a new model, high-style platform rocker with a seat done in fine needlepoint.

In the morning I will sit in the front porch rocker smirking at the people walking to work and jeering at them under my breath: "On foolin' on!"

In the afternoon I will sit in the back porch rocker and doze and watch the songbirds dig for worms in the yard. Whenever I feel the need for exercise, I'll rise and stretch myself—and yawn.

Foreign Policy Undergoes Change

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Just a little over a year into this country's handling of foreign affairs began to undergo a profound change, at least outwardly, although there was no way of knowing it for a while.

The word outwardly was chosen carefully. There has been no basic change in American foreign policy which still remains a standoff with the Soviets. In this part year there has been no solution of any major East-West issue.

But at least the way of handling the standoff is different.

It began in April a year ago when Christian A. Herter was sworn in as secretary of state, succeeding John Foster Dulles who soon afterward died of cancer. The difference in handling foreign policy is rooted in the difference between them.

Dulles' dominant type was given to flamboyant, stalling, even provocative statements as part of his foreign affairs strategy to threaten an enemy or try to push him off balance.

Herter is a mild man who picked his foreign policy in a "safe" soft key. Dulles seemed to think nothing could be done unless he did it personally. Herter has more confidence in his subordinates.

Neither Dulles nor Herter has come up with an original basic policy. Both followed the Truman policy before them, stiff-arm the Soviets and the Red Chinese. But at least relations with the Soviets handled on a much milder plane than Dulles was capable of, seem to have improved.

In the long run this appearance may prove to be an optical illusion.

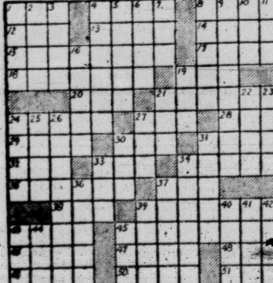

But the improvement in relations with the Soviet Union has its roots in factors which have nothing to do with Herter's manner. President Eisenhower has taken a more active part in foreign affairs, and the Soviets pushed Eisenhower into this, almost from the time Herter took over Eisenhower moved out of the Dulles shadow and began asserting himself, with the result that Herter is now pretty completely overshadowed by Eisenhower.

In the beginning because he didn't know Herter as well as Dulles, Eisenhower may have felt impelled to take charge.

Further, the humble Khrushchev had set an example for activity by a head of state by his own personal trips to countries and areas he wished to impress or influence.

13 Indicted In Highway Project Fraud

DALLAS (AP)—Authorities said Tuesday a $13,000 fraud involving a federal highway project in Hunt County led to indictment of 13 men last week.

A federal grand jury returned the indictment. It charges false representations on material and services in construction of U.S. Highway 67 from Greenville to the Hunt-Rockwall County line near Royse City in 1958.

Four of the men—Leif Kirl, Dwight Reeves, Lemuel Morgan and Jay Slate—have appeared before U.S. Commissioner Madden Hill and posted $500 bonds.

Eight others have been ordered to appear. They are Lee French Jr., Floyd French, Charles Kennington, Richard Snidee, Louis Vick, William S. Sharp, Wilson Strong and Odys Taylor.

The 13th man is out of the state and has not yet been notified.

Reeves, from Greenville, was described as the key man by Asst. U.S. Atty. Robert Ward, who gave these details:

Reeves was a checker on the construction project and issued checks to sub-contracting truck owners for sand and crushed rock delivered to the site.

After a truckload of materials was delivered, the driver was given a ticket which could be redeemed for money from the federal government.

Reeves is charged with selling the tickets to individual truck owners—the other 12 men indicted—as they brought up empty trucks. Truck owners and material haulers in turn redeemed the tickets for money.

The government did not lose the $13,000. A contractor, who had subcontracted the sand and crushed rock hauling agreements, reimbursed the government.

Reeves, before Hill Tuesday, looked at the indictment and said: "They left off several names. Only about half of those in it are on this thing."

Drug Maker Says Profits Are Modest

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The manufacturer of a new anti-diabetic drug taken by mouth testified today the profit on a month's supply of the medicine was 15 cents in 1959.

John E. McKee, president of Charles Pfizer & Co. of Brooklyn, New York, told Senate investigators the figure was out of about a half cent per pill, and he considered it modest. He said $4.50 was the average monthly cost to a patient.

McKee's testimony was prepared for the second day of hearings by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee on pricing and other practices by manufacturers of oral anti-diabetic drugs. It is part of the subcommittee's wide-scale investigation to determine whether big pharmaceutical houses engage in monopolistic practices and over charge the public for medicines.

The Pfizer anti-diabetic drug is chlorpropamide, sold under the trade name of Diabinese.

Dr. E. Gifford Upjohn, president of the Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich., a competing firm, Tuesday sternly rejected allegations by the subcommittee's chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) that his company charges too much for its oral anti-diabetic drug, tolbutamide, sold under the trade name Orinase. Upjohn also denied the company is involved in any improper monopolistic dealing.

Upjohn said the average cost to the patient for Orinase is 12½ cents a dose or 37½ cents a day, which he said is about the same as for insulin, taken by injection.

Plastic Balloon Bursts Over Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—A huge plastic balloon, estimated by police to have weighed from 1,500 to 3,000 pounds, exploded over Dallas Tuesday.

One piece of equipment, apparently a transmitter, fell so heavily it buried itself almost a foot. It barely missed hitting a workman.

Say Juvenile Gangs Roam San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The San Antonio News says a dozen heavily-armed juvenile gangs roam San Antonio streets nightly looking for trouble and usually find it.

The newspaper said "Gang members aren't adverse to busting the head of even a complete stranger—especially if he's alone and can't defend himself."

The News ran a full-page study of juvenile problems in San Antonio. The News outlined these items:

Police keep special files on gangs and many of their members, and Police Chief George Bichsel has 134 names of juveniles among the 350 names on his "hood list" of major troublemakers.

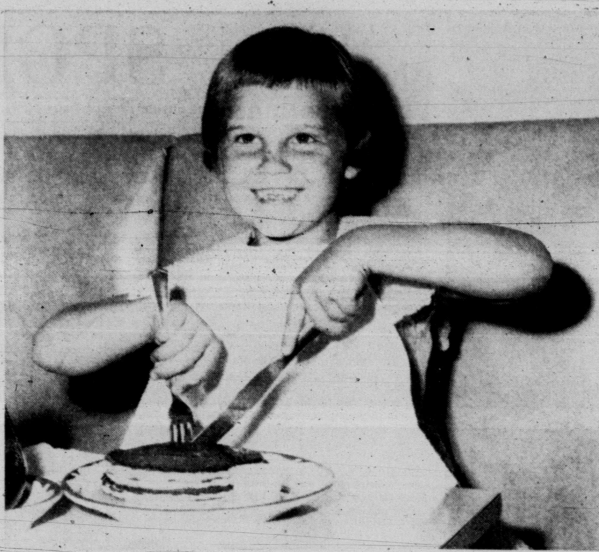

Weird nicknames are common among gang members. Bichsel's list notes such names as Tuffy, Big Ears, Heavy, Drunkard, Giant, Wyt, Earl, Sabu, Gorilla, Wolf, Little Joe, Elvis, Topper, Fats, Bird, El Joker and Toy.

Their memberships are among gangs with titles such as Ghost, Town, Lake, Flame, Dots, Chicago, Detroit and Tiger.

Gang members carry arms ranging from bicycle chains to sawed-off shotguns.

Adding to the police problem is the fact that violence can—and often does—break out at such innocent affairs as birthday parties and dances, as well as at known gang hangouts.

Gang activities center on the west side. The News noted, but juvenile delinquency erupts in every section of the city.

Ask Court To Take Fortune

NEW YORK (AP)—Children of a 68-year-old widow, now married to a 30-year-old ex-convict, want their mother declared incompetent.

They went into State Supreme Court Tuesday and said their mother already has bestowed about $400,000 on Salvatore L. Maucelli, to whom she was married last December. He had been sentenced to 10 years in prison in 1947 for a $123 holding.

Robbie L. Allen, Maucelli's inherited about two million dollars after the death of her first husband in 1953. The children, Frederick L. Allen Jr. and Elizabeth Love, said their mother has named Maucelli her chief heir. They asked the court to take the fortune out of her hands.

The mother, replying to the children's petition, said she was fully able to handle her own affairs.

TUMBLEWEED FESTIVAL STARS—Appearing in person for 3 performances of Colorado City's Tumbleweed Festival Thursday night, Friday afternoon and night will be Sons of The Pioneers, musical stars of more than 100 movies. From left to right, they are George Bamby, Karl Farr, Dolé Warren, Tommy Doss and Lloyd Perryman.

C-City Set For Tumbleweed Fete

COLORADO CITY—A pint-sized Yankee has knocked this West Texas town for a loop.

He's done it with a tumbleweed. The gent is Larry Snyder, floral manufacturer from Cincinnati, O. He's taken the Russian thistle—that's what the tumbleweed was when it invaded the U.S. in contaminated flax seed—treated it and turned it into floral and holiday decorations.

It is enough to far a cowboy right down to his boot heels. And come Thursday and Friday, Colorado City will salute this tumbleweed success story with the first Tumbleweed Festival. The salute will be for this new West Texas manufacturing business which is going into operation here in a 2-story downtown building.

Festival activities begin Thursday night, continue Friday noon, stretch into Friday afternoon and conclude Friday night with the crowning of Miss Tumbleweed.

Coming here to participate in the festival—and just as surprised about the whole thing as any cotton farmer—will be Governor Price Daniel, Attorney General Will Wilson, Secretary of State Zolle Seakley and Walter E. Dickerson, director of Texas Industrial Commission.

In the entertainment spotlight will be Sons of The Pioneers, Hollywood musical stars of 100 movies and the group who made the song, "Tumbling Tumbleweeds" popular. With them also will be Pat Brady, the funnyman sidekick of Roy Rogers on TV.

Sons of the Pioneers will be featured in the festival's Show of Stars in Colorado High Gym Thursday night, Friday matinee and night. Twenty-nine Mitchell County contestants will compete for the title of Miss Tumbleweed in beauty parades at each night performance of the Show of Stars.

Tumbleweed Festival parade is scheduled Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the most unique array of decorative floats—all made from tumbleweeds. Of course, there will be high school bands, West Texas riding clubs and posers, and other attractions in the parade.

Governor Daniel and the other capital dignitaries will lead the parade and also be guests of honor at a special community luncheon in Civic House Friday noon.

The festival has been in the making since March 1958, the date Snyder came to town to investigate the possibility of manufacturing decorative out of tumbleweeds. Floral decorations is his business in Cincinnati—and he became interested in Tumbleweeds when his wife asked about the possibility of "doing something" with that thing when she saw the thistle roll across a TV screen.

He liked what he saw here in Colorado City, leased a building for 3 years, set up 2 Texas companies to tie in with his Cincinnati firm and went to work.

He is even looking at the possibility of converting tumbleweeds into women's bonnets. And just to show he isn't kidding Jaycees—who have hauled in tumbleweeds from fields and pastures for the float decorations—will sell tumbleweed hats for festival souvenirs.

Moon Seen As Sweeper

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the moons of Mars might act as a radiation sweeper for the first space voyagers to the red planet.

A University of Maryland space scientist said today. The tiny Martian moon Phobos, circling only 3,400 miles above Mars, might sweep out a doughnut-shaped hole in the Van Allen-type radiation belt that may surround Mars just as it does the earth, said Dr. S. Fred Singer.

In a report prepared for the American Physical Society's annual meeting, Singer said an earth-launched spaceship might cruise in this safety zone while taking a long look at the planet below.

Better still, he said, spacecraft might land on Phobos itself. The Martian satellite could "act as an ideal observation platform from which to view the planet."

Mars has an outer satellite named Deimos. Neither moon is more than 16 miles in diameter.

FELINE MOTHER PROTECTS FAMILY DURING RAIN

A mother instinctively protects her children, and that characteristic extends to the feline world.

A mother cat that has been keeping her new family around the Grady Sellers home at the corner of Sunset and Thirty-seventh Street, suddenly disappeared, along with her kittens, Tuesday afternoon as clouds to the southwest began moving in.

A neighborhood search was launched. Finally the mother cat was discovered leaping from the parked car of the Jay Rogers family across the street.

The car was inspected, and the mother cat was transferred her kittens to the shelter of the automobile. Moreover, she protested vigorously when the kittens were removed to a box. In fact, she leaped into the box herself, grabbed a kitten by the nape of the neck and returned it to the car before she was convinced that human beings were going to help protect her family during the rain.

Zwicker complained of being verbally abused at closed hearings.

Methodist Quadrennial Parley Opens

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

DENVER AP—Methodists convened here today, worried lest they lose their common touch.

The occasion is the opening of their quadrennial general conference, supreme governing body of the nation's largest Protestant denomination. It faced some keen tensions. Specifically, the church's racial policies posed a major issue.

But generally, as the 800 voting delegates and an estimated 5,000 visitors assembled, the broader question was whether the church is developing class lines, apart from the humble and ordinary masses.

The Rev. Dr. Walter G. Muelder, dean of Boston University's School of Theology, has put the concern this way. "Because of its middle-class character as well as its racial ineptness, Methodism is losing proportionately among the working class."

This is an unusual problem for a church that originated as a movement to bring religion to the poor and to laborers.

However, it has been pointed out repeatedly lately by Methodist leaders and publications.

A survey has shown that the average present-day Methodist is middle-class, white, in the professional bracket, with income exceeding $5,329 annually, higher than half the wage-earners in the country.

The 10-million-member denomination also has become a financially imposing multimillion-dollar institution with 40,000 churches dotting the nation, many of them great, impressive structures.

As the 14-day policy-making conference launched its efforts to make the church more meaningful to more people, the most sharply defined issue was over the place of its Negro members.

Gen. Zwicker Gets Award

FT MEADE Md. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, best remembered for his part in the McCarthy hearings, has been given the nation's highest peace-time military award, the Distinguished Service Medal.

Army Secretary Wilber M. Bricker presented the award to the 57-year-old general, now commander of the XX Army Corps, in a ceremony here marking his retirement.

During Senate investigations of alleged communism in the Army, the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy accused Gen. Zwicker of approving an honorable discharge for a man McCarthy insisted was a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

Zwicker complained of being verbally abused at closed hearings.

New Method Launched To Curb Swindles

A new method for curbing the passing of "hot" checks is being utilized by the Scurry County Sheriff's department in an effort to cut down the number of check swindles in the county.

The sheriff's department is distributing information cards and hand bills to all businesses in Snyder to be filled out by any stranger asking to cash a check in these establishments.

The handbill will be posted to inform all potential check passers unless they are personally known in the store they will be asked to fill out cards with information relative to their employment, car license, business address, social security and driver's license number along with a complete self description.

Systems similar to this have greatly reduced the number of swindling cases in several counties in Texas and hopes are high that it will do the same for Scurry County.

However, the sheriff's office urges all merchants to make a close check to see positively that the information on the card checks with all identification carried by the person giving the check.

Nixon Set To Take Over

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon will sit in for President Eisenhower at the Paris summit meeting if the President is forced by "domestic requirements" to return before it ends.

The White House announced that Tuesday, saying Eisenhower could spend only a week in Paris for the East-West talks because of a scheduled visit to Portugal set for May 23. The summit meeting starts May 16.

Political observers saw in the announcement a potential boost for Nixon's prestige as a statesman. Such a move would bring the vice president prominently into the highest policy councils of the world just a few weeks before the Republican National Convention at which he expects to be named the GOP presidential candidate.

The announcement did not specify just what domestic requirements might make it necessary for Eisenhower to return to Washington.

It was Balzac's opinion that, "A woman must be a genius to create a good husband."

U. S. Role In Korean Riots Denied By Ike

Threats By Krush Hit

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the United States had no part in inciting the riotous demonstrations that led to the resignation of Korean President Syngman Rhee.

As for his own role, Eisenhower told a news conference the only thing he did was to tell Rhee that apparently there had been irregularities in the Korean elections and that the situation which led to this should be corrected.

Eisenhower said he deplores the resort to violence in Korea—violence which brought the Rhee administration to collapse.

Eisenhower spoke of the 85-year-old Korean leader as a great man, a tremendous patriot, and the father of his country.

But as Rhee has grown older, the President said, some mistakes have been made.

As for his announced intention to visit Korea next June, Eisenhower said he plans at this time to go ahead with the visit.

At his first news conference in a month, Eisenhower dealt also with these other matters:

RELIGION—Eisenhower was fully prepared for a request he got for comment on what a reporter called the injection of the religious issue into presidential primary campaigns.

The President whipped a sheet of paper from his pocket and said he wanted to quote from two sections of the Constitution.

He first read from Article VI specifying that there shall be no religious test as a qualification for office. Then he read from the Bill of Rights the part saying that Congress shall make no law prohibiting the exercise of religious freedom.

Eisenhower thus left no doubt that he feels a religious issue has no part in the campaign. But he said the Constitution puts it much better than he possibly could.

SPECIAL MESSAGE—Eisenhower said a special message he plans to send Congress is being delayed while the Administration attempts to reach agreement on a health insurance program for the aged.

As for the health insurance issue, Eisenhower said one thing he is absolutely sure about—he is utterly opposed to any form of a compulsory program which would

Huh Acting Korea Chief

By GENE KRAMER
SEOUL, Korea (AP)—South Korea's acting president, installed after a civil rebellion toppled Syngman Rhee, pledged himself today to political reforms. He even named his new broom at what he called "waste and mismanagement" in the U. S.-Korean-aid program.

Huh Chung, named foreign minister by Rhee as the regime started to buckle under revolutionary anger, took over the powers of the presidency early today. Huh and his Cabinet, which thus far has only two other members, will serve as a caretaker regime until a new president and vice president are elected. The Constitution requires this to be done within three months.

Huh, 64, an independent politician and former premier, called a news conference soon after Rhee, fulfilling a promise made when he had held over since South Korea became a republic 12 years ago.

He outlined this nation's most important problems to be dealt with after healing the wounds inflicted by more than a week of bloody civil uprisings. High on his list were the questions of relations with the United States and Japan.

"I plan to establish proper measures to improve these relations as soon as possible and make particular efforts to carry them out," he said.

"Frankly, I think there is need to improve understanding between the United States and Korea and bring about closer cooperation. There are certain areas in relations between the nations where things should have been handled more properly."

The unsatisfactory areas, Huh said, are economic and military aid.

Under the Rhee administration, Huh added, "I think there was waste and mismanagement." The incumbent vice president, John M. Chang, a member of the Democratic opposition, resigned in protest last week.

The vice president-elect, Lee Ki-poong, was in hiding to escape the wrath of demonstrators who claimed his election March 15 was rigged. A U. S. Army spokesman denied a report Lee had taken refuge at the U. S. base at Inchon.

Bridge Project Is Proposed Here

City councilmen heard a proposal for construction of a new bridge on Twenty-first street last night, but no action was taken, because the city is short of funds.

County Commissioner Bill Herring of Precinct 4 met with the council to discuss the proposal.

Herring said he was interested in replacing the old bridge across Deep Creek on Twenty-first street, which serves a paved road from his precinct, could provide some money for use in the future.

However, he expressed interest in the project and agreed to take the proposal under advisement for further study.

Mass Picketing Of Austin Lunch Counters Is Launched

By GARTH JONES
AUSTIN (AP)—Mass picketing of downtown lunch counters by white and Negro students demanding desegregated service began in Texas' capital city today.

Placard carrying pickets marched on each side of Congress Ave., the main downtown street, from 4th St. to 11th St. They arranged the marching with drill-like precision, so that the constantly moving pickets crisscrossed on the sidewalks.

There were two pickets to each block on both sides of the street. Crowd reaction during the get-to-work rush hour was quiet.

Some pickets said they had been addressed with "nasty remarks," especially from merchants whose stores have no lunch counters but whose establishments were affected.

The action followed a seven-day ultimatum laid down by students from various colleges here after an effort to win desegregation by negotiation failed last week.

One placard carried by a picketer said, "Sh-ins! It's up to you."

A white picketer said the question of whether efforts will be made to obtain service at lunch counters for both Negroes and whites "depends on the outcome of today's demonstration." She identified herself as Mrs. Anne Moore, originally of San Antonio and now a graduate student at the University of Texas.

At the Liberty Cafe, a man was stationed at the door. He held a chain that was fastened to one side of the door. When a white person sought to enter, the chain was lowered, then raised. No Negroes were seen seeking to enter the cafe.

The final decision to picket came at a meeting Tuesday night attended by about 150 white and

Contract On U.S. 84 Job Due In May

A contract is due to be awarded in May for the first segment of vast improvements planned for U. S. Highway 84 in Scurry County.

The Texas Highway Department is calling for bids to be opened May 18 on approximately eight miles of road construction extending northward from the Scurry-Mitchell County line to a point one mile south of Hermleigh.

Bids will be asked on grading, construction of structures, installation of flexible base and asphalt concrete pavement for two additional lanes on that portion of U. S. 84.

The overall project will improve U. S. 84 for its entire length in Scurry County, making it a four-lane divided highway. The county already has acquired right-of-way for the segment to be included in the May 18 bids, and right-of-way is now being purchased for the remainder of the project.

Haltones the size of baseballs smashed roofs and windows at San Angelo Tuesday night causing an estimated 2½ to 3 million dollars damages as tornadoes and thunderstorms battered the state.

A tornado demolished a farm home east of McCamey in West Texas, but neither caused death or injury.

The violent weather covered almost the entire state and included every form of severe spring weather.

Hail and strong winds hit the Lower Rio Grande Valley, West Texas and Far East Texas.

The damage estimate at San Angelo was made by an insurance adjuster who declined to be named. Thirty-five to 40 insurance adjusters were called in to check the area within a 50-mile radius. A responsible source said individual losses were heavier than the 2 million dollars in damages caused by a similar storm in 1954, when 100 claims were filed.

The large hail smashed nearly all windows in the 10-story McBurnett Building during its 15-minute duration. A sheriff's deputy counted 71 broken panes in the Tom Green County Courthouse.

Stained glass, a 14-ft. x 8-ft. in church were smashed. Cars were damaged, crops flattened, and telephone lines knocked down in parts of the city.

Thunderstorms, hail and high winds also hit the West Texas cities of Kermit, Andrews and Amarillo. In Kermit, Texas, a 30-inch diameter hail fell at least three times. Tornado funnels were sighted by McCamey residents but the only one known to have touched ground was the one between McCamey and Hazelton.

Two inches of hail pounded Big Spring causing flooding in some downtown streets. Hundreds of cars stalled in high water at low crossings.

A plate glass window in a Lubbock photography shop was smashed by winds which gusted at 40 m.p.h.

Lightning knocked a street light cable into an intersection in Lubbock and another bolt split a tree near a home at Levelland.

Heavy rains and hail caused widespread damage to crops.

Two inches of hail pounded Imperial 40 miles southwest of Midland in West Texas, golf-ball size hail hit portions of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, and the Marshall area, in East Texas, got an inch of hail on the ground.

Temperature Tuesday afternoon was in the 80s.

Two Die In Headon Crash

DEL RIO (AP)—A headon collision killed two persons and injured four others 70 miles north of here Tuesday.

They were Jerry G. Cooper, 19, stationed at Webb Air Force Base at Big Spring, and Evell George, 63, of Brownfield.

Highway Patrolman Clayton Oltersdorf said Cooper was driving one car and George was in the other.

Injured were Roy L. Brown, 19, also of Webb AFB, in a critical condition in an Ozona hospital with a fractured skull, broken jaw and broken ankle; Roy Golden of Brownfield, driver of one car, knee fracture and cuts; Mrs. Golden, broken leg and cuts; and Mrs. George, bruises and cuts.

Oltersdorf said Golden pulled out when he saw Cooper's car approaching in the center of the highway. But Cooper crossed the highway and struck the Golden's car.

Payola Survey Studied

By JOHN H. AVERILL
WASHINGTON (AP)—House payola investigators summoned three statistical specialists today to report their own interpretation of an analytical study of Dick Clark's TV disc jockey show.

The study, made for Clark by a New York statistical firm, reported that Clark could have had a personal financial interest in 27 per cent of the songs played on his matinee music show. By implication, it showed he had no personal interest in 73 per cent of the songs he used.

Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) promptly challenged the survey results, calling them misleading and incomplete.

"We have asked these three experts to analyze the study," Robert W. Lishman, chief counsel of the Legislative Oversight subcommittee, told a reporter.

"And they are going to tell us whether it has any validity or whether it doesn't."

Lishman implied Tuesday that Clark, the nation's best known disc jockey, has dished out payola to other disc jockeys to promote records in which he has a personal financial stake.

Lishman raised this point in asking Thomas Noonan, research director for Billboard magazine, what weight is given to Clark in compiling the trade publication's weekly listings of the top 100 hit tunes.

Do the ratings, Lishman asked, "take into account that he or his companies have paid payola to numerous disc jockeys throughout the country?"

Noonan replied that payola was considered but that it was impossible to gauge it with any accuracy.

Hail, Wind Lash State

By The Associated Press
A scattered line of thunderstorms extended from Paris southward over Tyler to Lufkin early Wednesday morning. Scattered showers fell in the Amarillo area and just west of Amarillo. Fatchy fog covered the Texas coast.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 47 at Dalhart to 70 at Brownsville, Laredo and Corpus Christi.

The five-day forecast issued Wednesday for Texas called for temperatures near or a little above normal in Eastern and Central Texas with precipitation moderate to heavy in scattered mostly afternoon and evening thunderstorms.

In western Texas the forecast calls for temperatures near normal with precipitation locally heavy in widely scattered thunderstorms.

Heavy hail fell along State Highway 71 west of Austin during the night. The Austin area storm extended west from upper Lake Travis to Georgetown. Many trees were stripped of leaves and some crops suffered but no other major damage occurred.

Death Probe Plea Denied

AUSTIN (AP)—The Supreme Court refused to reconsider today the request of two sisters for further investigation into the death of their brother.

The case was brought to the court by Mrs. Mona Nelson of Dallas and Mrs. Hazel Brothers of Richardson who sought to force a continued look into the death of their bachelor brother, Virgil Volney Harmon, 56.

Harmon was found dead Sept. 4 in his Midland home. He had a bullet hole in the head.

Statements Of Expenses Are Due

Statements of expenses of all candidates for the Democratic Primary May 7 are due within the next two days, Dan Cotton County Clerk announced today.

Any candidates who do not file their statements of expense will be disqualified and Cotton urges all candidates to do so at once.

Beneficial Showers Dot Snyder Area

Highly beneficial showers dotted the Scurry County area last night while the weather was cutting caps across the state.

Showers ranged from a mere sprinkle to an inch, with the heaviest fall in this area reported at Hazelton, the Krump community in Southwest Scurry County. Showers dumped about an inch of moisture on that area.

The official gauge at Snyder showed .28 of an inch.

Showers described as light fell at Fluvanna, while half an inch was reported at the Dan Gibson place about 15 miles north of Snyder.

Half an inch also was reported in the Loyd Mountain and Camp Springs communities, while showers ranging up to 6 of an inch were reported around Hermleigh.

The Snyder pump station at Lake J. B. Thomas logged half an inch. Driest spot in the county this morning was around Ira, where only a trace of moisture was received last night.

Forecasts called for partly cloudy weather, with scattered thunderstorms in the area this afternoon and tonight.

Texas Candidates Exchange Charges In Campaign Grind

By IRWIN FRANK
Associated Press Staff Writer
Charges about taxes, tidelands, loan sharks and many other items of interest to Texans were made Tuesday by candidates for high office in the May 7 Democratic Primary.

Gov. Bruce Daniel campaigned against Jack Cox in Corpus Christi where he criticized excessive imports of oil and shrimp.

He said a lack of curbs on imports of shrimp is seriously affecting condition that industry and a similar condition exists in the oil business.

Daniel said Cox had issued a "wild falsehood" in saying the governor favored a state income tax.

Cox touted the Saline area and said Daniel is not "telling the full tidelands story." The candidate said Daniel was the attorney general who lost the Texas tidelands case in the U. S. Supreme Court.

Daniel's headquarters issued a statement about his endorsement of the Dallas Morning News and The Houston Press while Cox said he was "deeply grateful" for his endorsement by The Fort Worth Star Telegram.

Aly G. Will Wilson campaigned in Dallas while his opponent, Speaker Waggoner Carr, spoke at Tyler.

Wilson warned his workers and friends of baseless, wild last-minute charges.

Primaries Boost Kennedy's Hopes

By The Associated Press
Primary results inflated the presidential hopes today of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Kennedy, who has several hard-campaigning rivals for the Democratic nomination, outpooled them all with overwhelming write-in totals Tuesday in the Pennsylvania and Massachusetts primaries.

Nixon, who has no announced rival for the Republican nomination, rolled up impressive totals that buried the hopes of those who wanted to see outposts of sentiment for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

In Pennsylvania, where Nixon's name was the only one on the presidential preference ballot, the count piled up above the 863,785 received by President Eisenhower in the 1952 primary, and approached the 951,932 Eisenhower received in 1956.

Of the two primaries, the one in Pennsylvania had the most significance.

In Pennsylvania, unofficial tabulations of Democratic write-ins from 7,778 of the state's 8,013 precincts gave Kennedy 150,412 votes.

Adlai E. Stevenson was a distant second with 22,229 votes. Other totals: Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota 10,389; Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, 5,151; and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas 2,149.

Nixon, the only name listed on the presidential preference ballot, had 864,129 votes with 8,225 precincts reporting. Rockefeller had 9,333 write-ins.

Nixon's total in this edge-over by President Eisenhower in the 1952 primary after a contest with Harold Stassen.

Kennedy's victory was not binding on the state's 81 delegate votes at the Democratic National Convention in July. Nixon's victory, however, apparently assured him of Pennsylvania's 70 votes at the Republican convention.

In Massachusetts, Kennedy's home state, nearly complete returns gave him an overwhelming majority over the total for all re-

Memory Book Available To Students

The recent Memory Book compiled by the Snyder Junior High School Parent Teacher Association is a first of its kind to ever be published in this part of the country. It is a book that each student may purchase for 30c and keep for years to come.

Published in the form of an annual, complete with students pictures and various activities of the school that will long be remembered. The division of the school into Travis Junior High School and Lamar Junior High School will mark the parting of the ways, yet a combining of strength competitive spirits, the year that has brought a coupling of activities—two instead of one.

For this memorable time the book is dedicated to both schools, with the parting quotes "Together yet apart—Separate in work but joined in heart."

In the foreword of the book, Mrs. Eilon Wyatt, president of the P-T-A gives this thought:
 "The tremendous amount of tedious work involved in the production of a volume like this requires loyalty, patience, and ability. Truly those who have worked on this 1959-1960 Memory Book have done so with the hope that though time will pass, and each of you will go your separate ways this book will be an unbreakable link in your chain of memories. We hope that you may look through these pages and relive those happy times that you have had in Junior High School this year. May each of you remember. Your mind is the Master Key to the good life."

Sunshine Is Proving Itself Valuable Arizona Resource

By INEZ ROBB
TUCSON, Ariz. — What is that babies cry for adults sign for and more and more adults in the U.S. vie for?

Sun shine. Right. Give the lady behind the typewriter two dollars. Yes, sir, and I will go for four dollars.

What is sunshine doing for Arizona? Well, sir, it is making Arizona busy, its beaches, or maybe I should say its 'beach' is 'bustling' all over at the seams with people.

In Tucson there are just two classes of persons—those who sell real estate and those who buy it. And both are working overtime.

When my husband drove into a gas station yesterday morning, a nice young boy, before he even offered oil, gas, a $1-wash or made a swipe at the windshield, said:

"You fixin' to settle here, mister?"

And before the head of the clan could say "Filler up" or "Look at the oil" or even "We live in New York," the enterprising youth pulled a card out of his pocket and said:

"If you're looking for a place to buy mister, see my old man. Pop's in the real estate business and he's got some real buys he'd sure be glad to show you."

The young man pressed cards into Add's hands, and said: "Pop's a man you can trust. I can call him for you right this minute and he'll be here in a jiffy."

"Have you got enough gas to make a getaway?" I whispered to my spouse.

"Timber!" cried Add, and away we sped.

But the man in the drug store, the girl in the supermarket and the waitress at the hamburger stand, trained instantly to recognize the sickly pallor of the Easterner, also have friends or relatives willing and eager to find the stranger a little gay home in the West.

On the other hand, the pallid visitor from north of the Mason-Dixon line is just as avid to buy. We are staying in the home of friends whose desert house is charming.

Two days ago, when I was home alone, a gentleman and his wife from Milwaukee rang the bell, brought me to show them the house and seemed willing to buy on the spot.

It was with some difficulty that I convinced the pair that the house was not for sale and requested the impulse to take their money and skip town.

Just a year ago I came here to see the desert in bloom. When I left, I felt fairly well oriented in Tucson. Twelve months later, I was hopelessly lost.

The whole community has grown so rapidly in all directions in the interim that I have lost all my landmarks.

Housing developments are extending the city limits a la Los Angeles. In regions where even a year ago the majestic saguaro, the cholla cactus and palo verde, the little desert lizards and even rattlesnakes held sway, refugees from the frozen North now live in style, sunning behind patio walls and patronizing the "newcomers."

The fellow who can learn to bottle the stuff and distribute it in latitudes less blessed than this will have it made in spades. Copyright, 1960, By United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Foreign Policy Undergoes Change

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON, AP—Just a little over a year ago this country's handling of foreign affairs began to undergo a profound change.

At least outwardly, although there was no way of knowing it for a while.

The word outwardly was chosen carefully. There has been no basic change in American foreign policy which still remains a standoff with the Soviets.

In this past year there has been no solution of any major East-West issue.

But at least the way of handling the standoff is different. It began in April a year ago when Christian A. Herter was sworn in as secretary of state.

Almost from the time Herter took over Eisenhower moved out of the Dulles shadow and began asserting himself with the result that Herter is now pretty completely overshadowed by Eisenhower.

In the beginning because he didn't know Herter as well as Dulles, Eisenhower may have felt impelled to take charge.

Further, the nimble Khrushchev had set an example for activity by a head of state by his own personal trips to countries and areas he wished to impress or influence.

Retirement Should Be Well Planned

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Are you middle-aged?

Then now is the time to start planning for your retirement. Now is the time to get ready to spend those "golden years" on life's

Just the other morning when I went in to wake up my daughter, who is nearly 7, she was murmuring worriedly in her sleep: "I do hope my dear father is planning a forward-looking retirement program fitted to his emotional and mental needs. It will come as a great shock to him when he suddenly has to quit work at 65."

It will like the devil. Having to go to work every day has been a great shock to me. Some days it has been more than I could bear.

Quitting work should always be far less of a shock to a sensible man's nervous system than going to work. I took my first job at the age of 10—delivering news papers—and there hasn't been a day since then that I haven't dreamed of retirement.

The great danger in retirement is the same you face on the daily job. Boredom, therefore it is wise to avoid it's menace in advance.

Here's my plan: I intend to buy a small white house with a front and back porch. Instead of two cars, I will have me two rocking chairs.

One will be an old-fashioned rocker. The other will be a new model, high-style platform rocker with a seat done in fine needle-point.

In the morning I will sit in the front porch rocker smirking at the people walking to work and leering at them under my breath: "On, fools, on!"

In the afternoon I will sit in the back porch rocker and doze and watch the neighborhood dig for worms in the yard. Whenever I feel the need for exercise, I'll rise and stretch myself—and yawn.

Cards Clout SF, Sad Sam

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals have at last caught up with old pal Sam Jones, flattening the big right-hander for the first time in six decisions when he tried to do them off for real.

Sad Sam, retaliating after teammate Jim Davenport had been plunked by the Cards' Larry Jackson, fired his first pitch behind Joe Cunningham. But after Umpire Shag Crawford served a lecture on dusters, Cunningham singled and the Cards were off on a four-run first inning for a 4-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants Tuesday night.

That tripped the Giants off a tie for the National League lead with the Pittsburgh Pirates, idled by rain at Philadelphia in the first postponement of the major league season. The Los Angeles Dodgers retained third place, beating the Chicago Cubs 8-1 as Don Drysdale put away his fourth straight complete game and third victory with a four-hitter. Milwaukee defeated Cincinnati 4-3 in 11 innings on Del Crandall's home run and a four-hitter by Warren Spahn, who won his first.

In the American League Cleveland razged the Detroit Tigers with their first defeat, 2-1 in 12 innings, and Boston beat second-place New York 7-1. Al Smith was 5-for-5 and Bob Shaw pitched the first complete game by Chicago's staff with a five-hitter for a 9-0 victory over Kansas City. Baltimore out-slugged Washington 11-10.

Jones (2-1) was rapped for six hits and lasted just two-thirds of an inning. He had been 8-0 against the Red Birds since they traded him to the Giants a year ago.

Bill White, who came to the Cards in that swap, started the scoring with a two-run triple. Then Stan Musial singled across the clincher. Rookie Georges Maranda, Bud Byerly and Billy O'Dell blanked St. Louis over the final 7 1-3 innings.

Davenport was struck on the right collarbone by Jackson in the first inning. X-rays failed to disclose a fracture, but the sophomore third baseman, sidelined by a knee injury during the Giants' losing run for the 1959 pennant, probably will miss a couple of games.

Drysdale (3-1) had a no-hitter until the fifth inning, when doubles by George Altman and Del Rice gave the Cubs their run. The side-arming right-hander struck out 10 for a league-leading total of 83.

The Dodgers, scoring five earned runs on four Cub errors, had 13 hits and piled up seven runs in three innings against loser Glen Hobbie (1-1).

Spahn, the NL's winningest left-hander of all time, collected his 258th victory on the third try.

Former Champions Swarming Classic

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Jack Burke Jr. is the nearest thing to an exception to the rule former champions of the $35,000 Houston Classic golf tournament have a tough time while trying to defend their titles.

Burke begins defense of his second Houston title Thursday with the opening round of 72 holes at the 7,122-yard, par 72 Memorial Park Course.

No one has ever won the tournament two years in a row. The six champions between Burke's two titles failed miserably in their bids to repeat. All six failed to qualify for the final 36 or 18 holes the year they returned to defend.

The six include some of the top names in golf—Cary Middlecoff, Dave Douglas, Mike Souchak, Ted Stroll, Arnold Palmer and Ed "Porky" Oliver.

All the former champions except Bobby Locke, Marty Furgol, Douglas and Souchak were among those taking final practice rounds today at the sprawling Municipal Country Club.

Bill Collins, Crystal River, Fla., and Ernie Vossler, Midland, Tex., had low individual medals Tuesday in a pair of $2,500 pro-amateur events at Brae Brun and Westwood Country Clubs.

Burke first won in 1952. He failed to repeat in 1953 but did complete the 72 holes with a 286 that collected $750. He won the 1959 tournament with a playoff 64 after he and Julius Boros tied with 275.

Oliver won in 1958 with a 281 but was eliminated last year after 54 holes with a seven-over-par 223.

Palmer, the Masters champion and strong pre-tournament favorite this week, had his troubles in 1958. A nine-under 279 had gained him $7,500 a year earlier but a 36-hole 73-79—152 sent him to the sidelines while trying to defend.

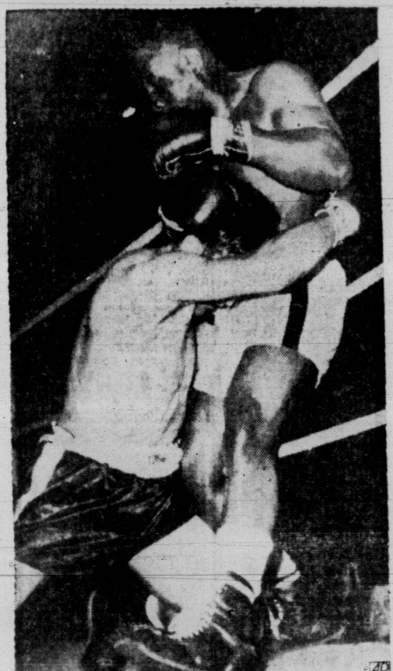

Kroll won with a 277 in 1956. He barely survived the cut after 36 holes in 1957 but did not start the third round.

A 273 was good for $2,000 for Souchak in 1955 but a 233 after 54 holes knocked him out the next year.

A 54-hole 217 eliminated Douglas when he defended the 1954 title he won with a 277.

Middlecoff won a unique five-day playoff in 1953 after a 73-hole 283 but departed after opening his defense with a 54-hole 80-72—152.

Burke and Middlecoff are the only two-time winners. Middlecoff waited two years for his second title. Burke waited six.

HARRIS HANGS ON—Roy Harris clings to Sonny Liston as they back into the ropes in the first round of their heavyweight bout at Houston, Texas. Liston, number 2 heavyweight challenger, scored a TKO in the first round after dropping Harris to the canvas three times. Referee Jimmy Webb stopped the fight after 2 minutes and 35 seconds. ## Herring Is Honored At NT Banquet

DENTON — David Clark, top pole vaulter in school history, was named the outstanding senior athlete at North Texas State Tuesday night.

Clark received the T.C. Smith award at the annual banquet of the athletic letterman's organization. The Grand Prairie senior has vaulted 14 feet 9 inches this spring, the best ever by a North Texas and second highest cleared by a Texas athlete. Clark is also president of the T.C. Club.

The other two awards went to football players Tackle George Herring of Snyder, a team captain, who was honored as most conscientious letterman. Don Harvey, a junior reserve halfback from San Angelo, received the award for the most conscientious non-letterman.

Ray Renfro, former NISU great and now a star with the Cleveland Browns, was guest speaker.

Sophomore Loop Set To Start

By The Associated Press

The bustling Sophomore League, where $100,000 bonus babies cavort, opens its second season Thursday night.

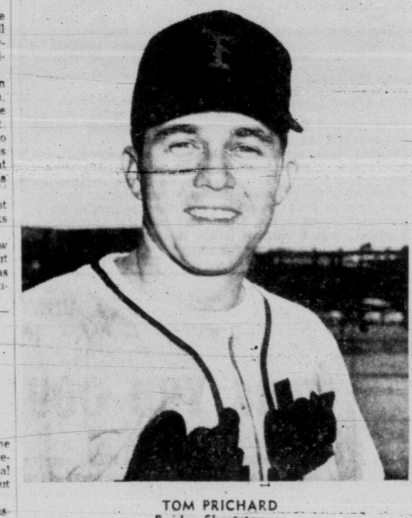

There are only six clubs this season but attendance is expected to be almost as high as last year when there were eight.

All of the league members are farm clubs of the majors and all use only rookies and players having less than three years experience.

Alpine, the Texas club that ran away with the pennant last season, opens the season at Odessa, the other Texas club in the circuit. Four members are in New Mexico — Albuquerque, Carlsbad, Hobbs and Artesia. Carlsbad will be at Hobbs and Albuquerque at Artesia for the opener.

Odessa expects an opening night crowd of 3,500 while Hobbs looks for 1,400 and Artesia 1,200.

Midland, Roswell and Plainview were in the league last season but Midland dropped out. Roswell was transferred to Hobbs and Albuquerque took Plainview's place.

PRICHARD, REAVES STAR Ex-Tigers Among Raider Leaders

LUBBOCK, Apr. 26—Three hitters sporting averages over .300 led Texas Tech's Red Raiders against Highlands University in Las Vegas, N.M., Saturday.

—Bruce Boyd, Abilene first base man, heads the trio with 18 hits in 46 times at bat for a .391 average. Trailing Boyd are center fielder George Gibson of Dallas with 17 for 46 and 370, and right fielder Bill Dean of Lubbock 12 for 36 and a .333 clip.

Gibson also is among the leaders in four other departments. He is tied with Ken Warren of Dallas for the most stolen bases, eight.

Savage, sophomore third baseman, leads in doubles with three. Shortstop Tom Prichard of Snyder and catcher Sam Gibson of Galveston each have two doubles to their credit. Boyd leads in three-base hits with two.

Prichard has the most errors with six. Reaves and Savage each have made five miscues. Only Raiders making it through the 13 games, without an error are Gibson and Dean.

Del Ray Mounts, Tech's leading basketball scorer, has the best earned run average among the pitchers. Mounts has allowed only six earned runs in 24 1/3 innings. The Perryton left-hander has a 2-1 record.

Senior Charles Flanagan of Dumas is the workhorse of the staff, having pitched 50 2/3 innings, giving up 26 earned runs and 48 hits in gaining his 3-3 record. Another senior, Zan Miles of Odessa, owns a 1-1 record while Roger Evans of Abilene is 1-0.

As a team Tech is batting .257 compared to .246 for the opponents. However, the Raiders trail their opponents 39 to 13 in total hits.

Tech, 7-6 for the year, has been on West Texas four times. Sheppard Air Force Base twice, and has one win over Highlands. Losses were to Texas A&M, Rice, Highlands, and three to Sul Ross.

Roberts To Ride Bench

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Manager Gene Mauch of the Philadelphia Phillies announced today veteran right-hander Robin Roberts will not pitch during his regular rotation this week.

He is being benched until next Monday when he is scheduled to start against Chicago.

Mauch did not state specifically why he was benching Roberts, the winningest pitcher in Phillies history with 223 victories, but it obviously was because he has been hit hard in his first three starts.

In three starts and one three-inning relief stint he has given up 30 hits and 21 earned runs. His record is 1-2 but he has failed to complete a game.

MAKES THIS STATEMENT

- The vote of the people will be strictly followed and controlling in any decision which I may make as a member of the Commissioner's Court.
- Whether or not the County should build a new courthouse at this time like anything else requiring the expenditure of a large sum of money, should be left to the voters and taxpayers for final decision.
- Our present Courthouse can be made more adequate by sensible rearrangement of County offices to create more space for the ones which are now crowded. This could be done without architectural expense.
- Available equipment and labor should be used on all roadwork and other County projects where at all practical.
- Where contracts for County work are necessary local people will have my vote when at all possible.
- Local purchase of all supplies and equipment bought by the County will be my consistent policy.
- County salaries are high enough and should not be raised under present conditions.
- The existing services of the County should be maintained at a high level, particularly our Hospital, roads and schools.
- I will co-operate fully with other County officials. I believe the Commissioners Court should follow a definite policy of long range planning of County business in order to achieve the best results.
- If I am elected Commissioner of Precinct 3, I will strive to perform the duties of the office in a manner which will be beneficial to the entire County. I will not be wondering how my decision will effect me in the next election. I will do my utmost to make every decision on the basis of fairness and impartiality to all.

West Coast, NBA Will Pledge Vows

NEW YORK (AP)—Only the formality of a league vote remained today and the National Basketball Assn. will reach out to the West Coast.

The last big barrier to the transfer of the Minneapolis franchise to Los Angeles was hurdled Tuesday night in Los Angeles when the Coliseum Commission agreed to lease the 14,000-seat sports arena to the NBA team.

That means owner Robert Short of the financially-insolvent Minneapolis Lakers will take his team west if the rest of the league agrees.

"All other things being equal," said NBA President Maurice Podoloff, "I can see no opposition."

Hillhouse Superb In Wolf Win

COLORADO CITY—Colorado City's Wolves, riding the good left arm of Steve Hillhouse, trounced the Lanieska Golden Tornadoes here yesterday 9-0, with Hillhouse hurling a brilliant no-hitter.

The sun put the Wolves in second place in the district 3AAA standings at 1-1, and dropped the Tors into the dungeon at 0-2. Snyder is the loop leader at 2-0.

In breezing to the victory, Hillhouse allowed only two base runners to reach first, both by virtue of walks.

Derby Dandies Set Prepper

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky Derby threats Tompion and Victoria Park, one-two finishers in a star-studded prep last week, may meet again in Thursday's $25,000-added Blue Grass Stakes at Kennelwood.

The probable field for the mile and an eighth race includes only four, with two others as possible starters.

C. V. Whitney's Tompion, derby winter hook favorite, and Victoria Park, owned by Windfields Farm, finished a length and a half apart last Friday when Tompion pulled out to win the Fore-runner Purse here.

Besides these two, expected starters are T. A. Grissom's Lullah and Revere Knoll Farms' Royal Revere. J. Graham Brown's Run For Nurse and LC McMahan's Hillvale also might go.

If six start, the race will gross $31,000 with the winner picking up $20,735.

The Blue Grass, nine days before the derby at Louisville, is considered a major prep for the Churchill Downs race.

At same point in Antares race the race is 14,000 feet high.

Natives Celebrate As Togo Becomes Newest Republic

By ROBERT N. LINDSAY

LOME, Togo AP—Thousands of natives danced in the brightly lit, palm-lined streets of Lome early today as the Republic of Togo became the newest member of Africa's fast-growing family of independent nations.

Independence for Togo's 1,800,000 people came at midnight, ending 70 years of foreign rule, under Germany, Britain briefly and finally France, as the United Nations Trust Territory of Togoland.

Gaily dressed Togolese and hundreds of foreign diplomats and officials flocked to this West African capital to take part in the independence festivities.

Representatives of more than 80 nations, including U.S. Attorney General William Rogers, watched the French tricolor flutter down. In its place the new republic's flag went up, a white star on a red field with green and yellow of Africa's fast-growing family of independent nations.

Lome, which had been building up to the climax for two days, exploded in wild celebration. Rousing national songs echoed as dancing crowds snaked along the sandy sidewalks behind strident bands.

Oil torches brandished overhead by most of Lome's 70,000 citizens lit the city up like daylight.

Most of the people spent Tuesday at the Fleysien market gorging themselves with food in preparation for the night-long celebration. Black mummies, the local name for women traders, toiled in the sweltering heat to make sure no one went hungry.

All religious denominations—principally Catholic, Protestant and Moslem—held services. The Protestants marched behind brass bands singing hymns.

Togo is spending about one million dollars of its $11,250,000 annual budget on the independence celebrations. It hopes to make up

13 Indicted In Highway Project Fraud

DALLAS (AP)—Authorities said Tuesday a $13,000 fraud involving a federal highway project in Hunt County led to indictment of 13 men last week.

A federal grand jury returned the indictment. It charges false representations on material and services in construction of U.S. Highway 67 from Greenville to the Hunt-Rockwall County line near Royse City in 1958.

Four of the men—Leif Kiril, Dwight Reeves, Lemuel Morgan and Jay Slate—have appeared before U.S. Commissioner Madden Hill and posted $500 bonds.

Eight others have been ordered to appear. They are Lee French Jr., Floyd French, Charles Kennington, Richard Smith, Louis Veeke, William Sharp, Wilson Strong and Odys Taylor.

The 13th man is out of the state and has not yet been notified.

Reeves, from Greenville, was described as the key man by Asst. U.S. Atty. Robert Ward, who gave these details.

Reeves was a checker on the construction project and issued checks to sub-contracting truck owners for sand and crushed rock delivered to the site.

After a truckload of materials was delivered, the driver was given a ticket which could be redeemed for money from the federal government.

Reeves is charged with selling the tickets to individual truck owners—the other 12 men indicted—whom they brought up empty trucks. Truck owners and material haulers in turn redeemed the tickets for money.

The government did not lose the $13,000. A contractor, who had sub-contracted the sand and crushed rock hauling agreements, reimbursed the government.

Reeves, before Hill Tuesday, looked at the indictment and said: "They left off several names. Only about half of those in it are on this list."

Proceeds from the supper will be used to benefit Scurry county youngsters.

Drug Maker Says Profits Are Modest

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The manufacturer of a new anti-diabetic drug taken by mouth testified today the profit on a month's supply of the medicine was 15 cents in 1959.

John E. McKewen, president of Charles Pfizer & Co. of Brooklyn, New York, told Senate investigators this figured out to about a half cent of profit per tablet, and he considered it modest. He said $450 was the average monthly cost to a patient.

McKewen's testimony was prepared for the second day of hearings by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee on pricing and other practices by manufacturers of oral anti-diabetic drugs. It is part of the subcommittee's wide-scale investigation to determine whether big pharmaceutical houses engage in monopolistic practices and overcharge the public for medicines.

The Pfizer anti-diabetic drug is chlorpropamide, sold under the trade name of Diabinese.

Dr. E. Gifford Upjohn, president of the Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich., a competing firm, Tuesday sternly rejected allegations by the subcommittee's chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) that his company charges too much for its oral anti-diabetic drug tolbutamide, sold under the trade name Orinase. Upjohn also denied the company is involved in any improper monopolistic dealing.

Upjohn said the average cost to the patient for the drug is 12 1/2 cents a dose or 37 1/2 cents a day, which he said is about the same as for insulin, taken by injection.

Ask Court To Take Fortune

NEW YORK (AP)—Children of a 48-year-old widow, now married to a 30-year-old ex-convict, want their mother declared incompetent.

They went into State Supreme Court Tuesday and said their mother already has bestowed about $400,000 on Salvatore L. Maucelli, to whom she was married last December. He had been sentenced to 10 years in prison in 1947 for a $123-holdup.

Rebie L. Allen Maucelli inherited about two million dollars after the death of her first husband in 1935. The children, Frederick L. Allen Jr. and Elizabeth Love, said their mother has named Maucelli her chief heir. They asked the court to take the fortune out of her hands.

The mother, replying to the children's petition, said she was fully able to handle her own affairs.

Say Juvenile Gangs Roam San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The San Antonio News says a dozen heavily-armed juvenile gangs roam San Antonio streets, usually "looking for trouble and usually find it."

The newspaper said "Gang members aren't adverse to busting the head of even a complete stranger—especially if he's alone and can't defend himself."

The News ran a full-page study of juvenile problems in San Antonio.

The News outlined these items: Police keep special files on gangs and many of their members, and Police Chief George Bichsel has 134 names of juveniles among the 350 names on his "hood list" of major troublemakers.

Word nicknames are common among gang members. Bichsel's list notes such names as Tuffy, Big Ears, Heavy, Drunkard, Giant, Wyatt Earp, Sabu, Gorilla, Wolf, Little Joe, Elvis Topper, Fats, Bird, El Joker and Toy.

Their memberships are among gangs with titles such as Ghost, Town, Lake, Flame, Dots, Chicago, Detroit and Tiger.

Gang members carry arms ranging from bicycle chains to sawed-off shotguns.

Adding to the police problem is the fact that violence can—and often does—break out at such innocent affairs as birthday parties and dances, as well as at known gang hangouts.

Gang activities center on the west side. The News noted, but juvenile delinquency erupts in every section of the city.

TUMBLEWEED FESTIVAL STARS—Appearing in person for 3 performances at Colorado City's Tumbleweed Festival Thursday night, Friday afternoon and night will be Sons of The Pioneers, musical stars of more than 100 movies. From left to right, they are George Bamby, Karl Farr, Dale Warren, Tommy Doss and Lloyd Perryman.

C-City Set For Tumbleweed Fete

COLORADO CITY — A pint-sized Yankee has knocked this West Texas town for a loop. He's done it with a tumbleweed. The gent is Larry Snyder, general manufacturer from Cincinnati, O. He's taken the Russian thistle—that's what the tumbleweed was when it invaded the U.S. in contaminated flax seed—treated it and turned it into floral and holiday decorations.

It is enough to jar a cowboy right down to his boot heels. And come Thursday and Friday, Colorado City will salute this tumbleweed success story with the first Tumbleweed Festival. The salute will be for this new West Texas manufacturing business which is going into operation here in a 2-story downtown building.

Festival activities begin Thursday night, continue Friday noon stretch into Friday afternoon and conclude Friday night with the crowning of Miss Tumbleweed. Coming here to participate in the festival—and just as surprised about the whole thing as any cotton farmer—will be Governor Price Daniel, Attorney General Will Wilson, Secretary of State Zollicoffer and Walter E. Dickerson, director of Texas Industrial Commission.

In the entertainment spotlight will be Sons of The Pioneers, Hollywood musical stars of 100 movies and the group who made the song "Tumbling Tumbleweed" popular. With them also will be Pat Brady, the funnyman sidekick of Roy Rogers on TV.

Moon Seen As Sweeper

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the moons of Mars might act as a radiation sweeper for the first space voyagers to the red planet, a University of Maryland space scientist said today.

The first Martian moon, Phobos, circling only 3,400 miles above Mars, might sweep out a doughnut-shaped hole in the Van Allen-type radiation belt that may surround Mars just as it does the earth, said Dr. S. Fred Singer.

Normal Weather Due For Next Five Days

DALLAS (AP) — The Weather Bureau issued today its 5-day forecast for April 27-May 1. Eastern and Central Texas: Temperatures near or a little above normal. No important temperature changes. Precipitation moderate to heavy in scattered thunderstorms, otherwise light or no rainfall.

Western Texas: Temperatures near normal. No important temperature changes. Precipitation locally heavy in widely scattered thunderstorms, otherwise light or no rainfall.

Methodist Quadrennial Parley Opens

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
DENVER (AP) — Methodists convened here today, worried lest they lose their common touch. The occasion is the opening of their quadrennial general conference, supreme governing body of the nation's largest Protestant denomination. It faced some keen tensions. Specifically, the church's racial policies posed a major issue.

But generally as the 500 voting delegates and an estimated 5,000 visitors assembled, the broader question was whether the church is developing class lines apart from the humble and ordinary masses. The Rev. Dr. Walter G. Mueller, dean of Boston University's School of Theology, has put the concern this way: "Because of its middle-class character as well as its racial ineptness, Methodism is losing proportionately among the working class."

FELINE MOTHER PROTECTS FAMILY DURING RAIN

A mother instinctively protects her children, and that characteristic extends to the feline world. A mother cat that has been keeping her new family around the Grady Sellers home at the five corners of Sunset and Thirty-seventh Street suddenly disappeared, along with her kittens, Tuesday afternoon as clouds to the southwest began moving in. A neighborhood search was launched. Finally, the mother cat was discovered leaping from the parked car of the Jay Rogers family across the street.

The car was inspected and sure enough, mother cat had transferred her kittens to the shelter of the automobile. Moreover, she protested vigorously when the kittens were removed to a box. In fact, she leaped into the box herself, grabbed a kitten by the nape of the neck and returned it to the car before she was convinced that human beings were going to help protect her family during the rain.

Swimming Lessons Sought For Seal

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Anyone know how to teach a seal to swim? The Marin County Humane Society wants to find out. It has a week-old female in a bathtub and no information about teaching procedures. The seal was found stranded on a reef by a fisherman last Monday.

Ira Game Night To Aid Cancer Drive

The Ira Community Center will be the scene of a game night to benefit the Cancer Society drive Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. Refreshments will be served, and the public is invited to attend.

Gen. Zwicker Gets Award

FT MEADE, Md. (AP) — Maj. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, best remembered for his part in the McCarthy hearings, has been given the nation's highest peacetime military award, the Distinguished Service Medal. Army Secretary Wilbur M. Brucker presented the award to the 57-year-old general, now commander of the XX Army Corps, in a ceremony here marking his retirement.

New Method Launched To Curb Swindles

A new method for curbing the passing of "hot" checks is being utilized by the Scurry County Sheriff's department in an effort to cut down the number of check swindles in the county. The sheriff's department is distributing information cards and hand bills to all businesses in Snyder to be filled out by any stranger asking to cash a check in these establishments.

The handbill will be posted to inform all potential check passers that unless they are personally known in the store they will be asked to fill out cards, with information relative to their employment, car license, business address, social security and driver's license number, along with a complete self description.

Song Writer Is Sued For Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wayne Shanklin, 43, who wrote the song "Chanson d'Amour," has been sued for divorce. Gloria Shanklin, 34, charged cruelty in the suit filed Tuesday. She asked custody of their four children. The Shanklins were married in 1942 and separated last February.

Nixon Set To Take Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon will sit in for President Eisenhower at the Paris summit meeting if the President is forced by "domestic requirements" to return before it ends. The White House announced that Tuesday, saying Eisenhower could spend only a week in Paris for the East-West talks because of a scheduled visit to Portugal set for May 23. The summit meeting starts May 16.

ments might make it necessary for Eisenhower to return to Washington. It was Balzac's opinion that "A woman must be a genius to create a good husband."
