'BIG NAVY' MEN ROUT ENEMIES IN HOUSE FIGHT

Increase of 10,000 Enlisted Men Provided

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—With nearly fifty votes to spare, "big navy" men put through the House today by a vote of 177 to 130, an amendment to the 1923 naval bill increasing the listed force from 67,000 to 86,000.

Shot at from all sides, the bill as framed by the appropriation committee and opposed by President Harding, wabbled at times like a frail craft—then went down by the head. There are other sections, of course, to be taken up next week, but the big fight was on the enlisted provision.

The vote today was in committee of the whole. When the measure reaches the House proper a demand will be in order for a record vote, but the wide margin by which the amendment won means, according to most leaders, that the result will stand.

Some administration leaders asserted tonight that the letter presented yesterday from the president urging that the force not be reduced below 86,000 swung the tide in favor of the amendment which was offered jointly by Representative McArthur, Oregon, and Representative Vare, Pennsylvania, both republicans.

After adopting the amendment the House, without division, adopted another increasing from $93,000,000 to $107,000,000 the amount carried for pay of officers and enlisted men in the next fiscal year.

NEFF CANCELS 15 PARDONS-PAROLES

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, April 15.—Governor Neff has within the past two weeks cancelled fifteen conditional pardons and parole and ordered the fifteen persons returned to the penitentiary, it was learned today at his office.

Part of these cancelled paroles and pardons were granted by Governor Neff and part by Governor Hobby. They were cancelled following information reaching the governor that the holders were not conducting themselves as good citizens and had violated some of the provisions under which they were granted.

MYSTERIOUS BLAST INJURES WORKMEN

By Associated Press.

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., April 15.—Five members of a work train crew on the Santa Fe railroad were injured in a mysterious explosion on the right of way north of here today.

The crew prepared to throw rock off a flat car into a hole caused by recent floods. The first rock rolled over the embankment caused the explosion immediately after it hit the ground.

Railmen here believe a can containing nitro glycerine or some other explosive had been washed into the place and that the rock struck the can.

"Mr. McCormack has been resting comfortably since 1 p. m. today, when anti-toxin was administered," the bulletin said.

"He has been able during this period to take a little nourishment for the first time in several days."

Mellon's Backbone—Jump In, Kirby—Ferguson's Fight—

By H. N. F.

ANDREW W. MELLON ISN'T a spineless human atom. His backbone is of the cast iron variety. Politicians were interfering with the personnel of his department. They demanded that Democrats should be thrown out and Republicans thrown in. Mellon is for efficiency regardless of politics. He runs his banks on efficiency lines; he runs all his great industrial corporations on efficiency lines. He demands service and he never asks the creed, the complexion or the political principles of his employes. There had to be a show down in the treasury department. Mellon invited it. He is said to have told President Harding that he would run his own department, select his own men or he would resign and go back to Pittsburgh. President Harding saw the point. He did not pass the buck. He sided with Mellon. Now why should Democratic or Republican politicians arrogate to themselves the right to pick the paid servants of the American people? Why shouldn't qualification rule? Why shouldn't merit rule? Why shouldn't efficiency rule?

ROSE COGHLAN WAS THE queen of the English speaking stage for almost fifty years. Her triumphs could not be counted. Her successes were innumerable. Her earnings must have been tremendous. Now she is down and out. A broken old woman without a dollar and without a home she prayed for death as the only way out. Her abject poverty became known to the public through the publication of her sad story of poverty added to old age. She was the idol of London theatre goers almost fifty years ago; forty years ago she swept tht playgoers of New York off their feet. She was idolized, she was petted, she was pampered, and the gifts of the gods of gold were hers. George M. Cohan was right: "Life is a queer proposition after all."

GENERAL CHARLES G. Dawes installed a federal government budget system which it is claimed has effected a direct saving of $32,000,000 and an indirect saving of $104,000,000. A government bookkeeper in Canada installed a budget system which effected direct saving of $138,000,000. Canada has a population of less than 9 million. General Dawes should go to Canada and take lessons. This isn't a reflection on his work; it is a hint to copy the Canadian system.

WILLIAMS AND MORGAN GO ON TOUR TOGETHER

Candidates to Speak From Platform on Same Day

Voters of the thirteenth congressional district will be given a treat during the coming week which harks back to the heydey of American politics—two candidates for congress agreeing to make the same towns and speak from the same platform during the coming week. They are Judge S. A. L. Morgan of this city and Guinn Williams of Decatur.

Although this practice has been somewhat regularly adhered to by county and legislative candidates during the past few years, it is some time since candidates for position of the grade of congressmen have agreed to make points at the same time.

The candidates will not enter Wichita county until Saturday, when they will speak at Burkburnett, Electra and Iowa Park.

An open air rally will be held in the interest of Judge Morgan's candidacy by friends here some day during the coming week—the date not having been fixed yet. It is not expected that Mr. Morgan will be here, friends planning this affair by his "home folks" while he is campaigning elsewhere in the district.

The itinerary for next week is: Monday—Montague, 10 a. m.; St. Jo, 3:30 p. m.; Bowie, 7:30 p. m.

Tuesday—Bellevue, 10 a. m.; Newport, 3:30 p. m.; Jacksboro, 7:30 p. m.

Wednesday—Bryson, 10 a. m.; Jermyn, 2:30 p. m.; Olney, 7:30 p. m.

Thursday—Newcastle, 10 a. m.; Woodson, 3:30 p. m.; Throckmorton, 7:30 p. m.

Friday—Elbert, 10 a. m.; Megargle 3:30 p. m.; Archer City, 7:30 p. m.

Saturday—Burkburnett, 10 a. m.; Electra, 2 p. m.; Iowa Park 7:30 p. m.

MEN SUE OVER MUTUAL WIFE

And Woman Lives With Neither

By Associated Press.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 15—William J. Lester, Seattle theater manager, is suing George T. Williams, Wall street steamship operator for $100,000, and Williams is suing Lester for $150,000, all over the affections Mrs. Amanda Lester, who in her time has been the wife of both men.

And now, according to the two men, she is living with neither of them.

Williams married her in 1900 at Camden, N. J., and they lived happily until 1914, when, according to his complaint today, Lester came along and alienated her affections. Then Williams got a divorce and Lester married her.

Lester's suit filed two weeks ago, alleges that in 1920 Williams went out to Seattle with a second wife, dropped her there, and, again wooing his first spouse, took her away from Lester, and brought her back east. Lester charged that Williams and Mrs. Lester were now living together in New York.

Acquittal of Charge and Jury's Report "Merely Whitewash"

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Will H. Hays, director of the National Association of Motion Picture Producers and Distributors, was called upon to prevent exhibition of motion pictures featuring Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle by the Lord's Day Alliance of New York in a letter made public today.

Calling Arbuckle's acquittal of a charge of manslaughter and the jury's statement in his behalf a "white wash" the letter addressed to Mr. Hays said: "We appeal to you. We are not informed as to the exact bounds of your authority in the motion picture industry. But heretofore, you have granted interviews and authorized public statements containing sentiments which your fellow citizens interested in the moral well being of the nation have gratefully welcomed.

"The request therefore which we respectfully urge upon you is that you use your authority to intervene and prevent the outrage to the moral sensibilities of the citizens of this country threatened in the proposal to again exhibit any Arbuckle film.

"In case it should be that the exercise of such authority is not within the bounds of your power as director of the motion picture industry, we then urge that you use your great personal influence for the accomplishment of this end."

At the offices of Mr. Hays today it was said that he had gone to Sullivan, Ind., to spend Easter and would reply to the letter when he returned next week.

VESSEL RACES GIGANTIC WATER SPOUT AT SEA

Awe-Stricken People Make Ready to Meet Death

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 15—The story of a gigantic water spout which chased the Cunard liner Carmania half an hour and then suddenly subsided when it was almost upon the hard driven ship, was told by officers and passengers when she arrived today after a round trip to the Near East.

The liner was about 800 miles out of New York when the spout was sighted. At first, passengers said, it appeared as a slight disturbance of water about eight miles south of her stern. Then the waves were twisted and churned and hurled skyward with terrific force in an ever increasing volume, while myriad colors played through the angry mass of water.

For a time, they said, it stood still while Captain G. W. Metson, after pronouncing it a big waterspout, ordered the liner ahead at full speed. At almost the same moment, the spout seemed to take wings, and rush after the big ship.

Passengers crowded aft. Smoke belched from the ship's funnels while the Carmania strained every atom of her strength to escape. As the spout traveled it grew larger. It widened rapidly and towered high in the air, throwing off tons of spray.

Suddenly Vanished

The spout continued to gain until it was almost on the ship. The passengers huddled, awe-tricken along the decks watching the on-coming mass of water. It had only to reach out for the ship—and it subsided as suddenly as it had risen. Five minutes later there was nothing to show there had been any disturbance of the placid ocean.

Frederick Pratt, Standard Oil company official, said it was the most terrific, but at the same time the most wonderful sight he had ever seen. Captain Melson smiled when he was asked about it. "I'll never tell what would have happened if it had caught us," he said. "In fact I never could have told. We would have been listed as missing on the marine register."

JUDGE UPHOLDS MEASURES LAW

Millers Expect to Appeal Case

By Associated Press.

SWEETWATER, Texas, April 15.—Judge W. P. Leslie has just heard and passed on a habeas corpus case involving the validity of the weights and measures act passed by the Texas legislature in March, 1919, it was reported today.

Recently quite a number of cases have been filed in the justice court of this precinct, charging violation of this law on the part of a number of milling companies over the state in shipping out flour mill products containing less than the required weights of products.

After a full hearing, Judge Leslie indicated some doubt as to the validity of the law, but he resolved in favor of its validity.

Notice of appeal was given and the case will be taken to the court of criminal appeals as the millers propose making a test case of it. A number of representative mill men were present during the hearing.

STATE COMMISSION INVESTIGATES FIRES

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, April 15.—The State Fire insurance commission is being called on at present to investigate a great many fires where the origin is undetermined, State Fire Marshal George W. Tilley said today. He has just returned from Floyd county, where he investigated the origin of several recent fires. In one case an indictment for arson was returned, he said.

SEVENTEEN INJURED WHEN TRUCK HITS DANCE CROWDS' CAR

By Associated Press.

MEXIA, Texas, April 15.—L. B. Cox had an arm broken, his wife was injured, Miss L. Yates received a broken collar bone, Mrs. R. Luney suffered three broken ribs and 13 others were injured more or less seriously when a truck load of young people collided with an oil truck on the Teague pike near here last night. The oil truck was said to have been burning only one light and the other driver was unable to tell on which side to pass. The young people were returning from a dance at Teague.

HERE SHE IS! NAME HER!

Identity of Miss Mystery the girl who is to furnish a few of the thrills of the American Legion aviation meet to be held at Call Field, April 29 and 30 remains unsolved.

During the past week, according to information obtained by the committee in charge, several local youths have made desperate efforts to secure the honor of unraveling the secret which surrounds the girl.

So confident is she that her name cannot be learned that she has consented to allow the picture of herself masked to be shown and it is given above. The management shares the confidence of the Miss and they are offering to give a season ticket to the two performances or a free airplane ride to the person who ascertains her identity before the meet is held.

THERE IS A HELL * * * * * * * * * AND IT'S BLISTERING * * * * * * * * * PLACE SAYS PASTOR

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., April 15.—"Is There a Hell?" was the subject of a remarkable sermon by the Rev. W. B. Higgins, at the First Christian church when the pastor expressed himself and quoted scripture to the effect that there was a literal hell, burning, fuming and blistering, where damned souls were committed to suffer untold agony forever. The sermon was both remarkable and impressive.

"If the Bible does not teach any punishment, it does not teach any bliss," he declared. "If I didn't believe what God says, I wouldn't preach another word."

ARCHER COUNTY GETS WILD CAT

Well Completed on Crawford Ranch

Archer county had a new wildcat completion this past week, a 15 barrel pumper at 1,000 feet, brought in by Dycus, Looney, Lofton et al, of Archer City, on the Crawford ranch, about four miles north of Archer City, and three miles east of the Wichita Falls-Archer City road.

The Johnston & Markley No. 3 Luke Wilson, about three miles to the west of the new well on Crawford, is drilling around 1480 feet, according to Saturday reports. This test did not stop test the shallow showing reported last week.

Three new wells, which were started last week, are now drilling on the Luke Wilson ranch. The Burton & Ruff No. 1 in the town of Geraldine is drilling around 1100 feet, the Texas and Pacific No. 1 is drilling raound 1,000 feet, and the new test of Gowlke and Bean is also down about 1,000 feet.

FREIGHT SLASH TO SELL CROPS MAYFIELD'S AIM

Candidate Says K. K. Fight Is Dallas Trap

Special to the Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, April 15.—"I decline to be led into a controversy concerning an issue over which the United States Senate has no jurisdiction, and which designing politicians have raised for the sole purpose of beclouding the real issue in the senatorial contest," Sarle B. Mayfield, senatorial candidate, declared Saturday as the statement of his position on the Ku Klux Klan issue.

"The paramount issue in the senatorial contest," he said, "is whether the people of Texas will send someone to the Senate who will make a fight for the repeal of the new transportation act and for the restoration of the rate-making powers of the state commissions.

"The recent agitation about the Ku Klux Klan is confined largely to Dallas," Mr. Mayfield said, "and is nothing more nor less than a political fracas raised by Dallas politicians for the purpose of boosting the candidacy of a certain candidate for the Senate. I refuse to walk into their trap."

Mr. Mayfield said: "For 15 years one state has been torn from center to circumference by bitter, personal, mud-slinging campaigns, and the sensible sober-minder people of Texas think we have had enough of that kind of politics.

Passes Klan Issue

'My candidacy for the exalted office of Senator has been pitched upon a platform of principles which affect the interest and welfare of out people, and there it will remain. My course has been mapped out and I do not propose to deviate from it.

"I announced as a candidate for the expressed purpose of undertaking to preserve the life of our state railroad commission so that it could give the people of Texas relief from the excessive freight rates and passenger fares placed upon the commerce of our state by the interstate commerce commission at Washington.

Freight Cut Needed

"Never before in the history of our country have questions of such far-reaching importance confronted the people. On account of exorbitant freight rates and low prices, the farmers' wheat, kaffir corn and milo maize have rotted on the plains of the Panhandle; the truck growers' fruit and vegetables have decayed in the fields of South Texas all the way from Laredo to Brownsville; peaches and watermelons have been fed to the hogs throughout East Texas; the ranchman drives his cattle from one ranch to another rather than ship them by rail; and in some parts of Texas farmers have burned corn for fuel during the past winter months.

"The backs of the people are bending and breaking beneath the burden of federal taxation. Five and three-quarters million men and women in our country are out of employment, and millions of immigrants are knocking at our gates of America for admission. The deflation policy of the Federal Reserve System needs correction. Cooperative marketing and intermediate credits and adequate financing of our farmers and live-stock men call for congressional action, while a war-ridden and bankrupt world is crying for permanent peace."

ALLIES DEMAND RUSSIA'S REPLY

French Statement Pessimistic

By Associated Press.

GENOA, April 15.—The Russian delegates were told today to answer definitely yes or no as to whether they will put into practice the conditions of the Cannes resolution and the guarantees contained in the London experts' report, according to a French communique issued tonight subsequent to the adjournment of a lengthy meeting between the allied leaders and the Russians.

It seemed impossible, said the French statement, to get anything tangible from the soviet delegates, who astonished the allied representatives by demanding 50,000,000,000 gold rubles as the amount due Russia because of foreign intervention. This is two and a half times greater than the amount the allies claim from Russia.

Italy Hopeful

An Italian statement regarding the meeting was more optimistic. It points out that the subjects discussed are vaster in scope than was dreamed of when the Genoa conference originated.

"This," says the statement, "is an attempt to bring about the co-existence in the world of finance, economy and commerce of two opposite regimes—capitalism and communism. This morning the experts were struggling in a kingdom of figures and in the afternoon the allied leaders took the discussion back into the kingdom of principles."

The bolshevik delegates have been asked to expedite the discussion as much as possible, and the conversation will be resumed as soon as possible.

Facts Interest the Public

"April" advertising may win year-round friends, but one, two or three ads a week can't possibly carry all the news of any live store.

Advertising in newspapers drives home to many readers every day the realization of some need, and no business concern can expect any great portion of the buying public to patronize it without an invitation.

Advertising pays the reader big returns on the attention given it. It pays the advertiser only because it does this.

Trade can be increased through advertising. And the world has precious little need for the men who won't try.

Judge Wilson Called on to Make Known His Stand on Ku Klux Klan By Henrietta Independent Editor

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Texas, April 15.—The current issue of the Henrietta Independent carries the following editorial:

"A Ku Klux lecturer down at Wichita Falls last Sunday declared that they had 1,000 members in that city and that their roll included bank presidents, prominent business men, ministers, lawyers and district judges.

"Judge P. A. Martin has heretofore declared that he is not a member, so that the other two judges, one of which is Judge Wilson of the 30th district, by remaining silent, will admit the truth of the statement. It is up to them to speak out and deny the truth of the lecturer's statement. He used the word Judges in the plural, and must have meant to include Judge Wilson.

"District court convenes in Henrietta on April 24, and no doubt the people of Clay county will be interested to know whether or not the man who is presiding over their district court is a Ku Klux. They may think it is all right, or they may think it is all wrong, we have not had much discussion of the Ku Klux in this county, and we are sure there is no Ku Klux organization here, though there may be some people who hold membership elsewhere.

"It is barely possible that some Clay county people belong to the Wichita Falls Ku Klux."

"He Shot at Me Six Times During Seven Months We Were Married," Wife Testifies and Wins Divorce

Pleas of ill-treatment and abuse were grounds on which Judge P. A. Martin, in the 30th district court, granted Alice Davis a divorce from Ruel Davis Saturday afternoon. The woman claimed that Davis shot at her and that he had been cruel in many other ways.

"He shot at me six times when we had been married only seven months," the woman said, and when Judge Martin asked her if he did that for amusement or if he meant to end her life, she replied:

'I don't know, but he shot at me just the same."

The couple had lived together in Bridgetown.

KLAN SHOULD QUIT, HE SAYS

Cochran Calls on Citizens to Act

Special to The Record News.

HOUSTON, Texas, April 15.—"If the Ku Klux Klan had a reason which justified its organization, the situation which brought about that reason has entirely passed; the klan should disband."

This advice was given by Sam P. Cochran of Dallas, sovereign grand inspector general of Scottish Rite Masons in Texas and a regent of the state university.

"My advice to the Ku Klux Klan is to make good on its repeated proclamation as an institution devoted to the maintenance of law and order, and in proof of its sincerity in this declaration, disband," Mr. Cochran said.

"Members of the klan should be giving their open and active support to the lawfully constituted authorities of the cities, countries and state.

"The condition now existing in Texas calls for all good citizens to unite in doing away with the present unrest and strained relationship between our people. We should again become a united citizenship, determined to enforce the laws and give peace and protection to those who believe in legally constituted government."

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

not guide the plow very long. He received a college education. He became a lawyer. He selected Houston as his home. He became a lumberman as well as a lawyer. Fortune smiled upon him. Now he is not only the lumber king of the South but an oil king as well. Democracy was his birthright. He was a dollar a year man for a time during the war. He split with Woodrow Wilson for the reason that the Wilson's policies were too idealistic. Two years ago he became a Republican. Then he launched the Southern tariff congress. He is its president and guiding spirit—its angel as it were. He has appeared in the city of Washington many times since the Republicans returned to the control of the government as a champion of high protective tariffs and a most vigorous critic of the Democratic free trade policy and free trade apostles high in the councils of the Democracy. Louis J. Wortham of the Fort Worth Star Telegram has even been a follower of Colonel Kirby and an advocate of the Kirby policies. Now the Fort Worth man has introduced the Texas Colonel as suitable material to become a nonpartisan and independent candidate for the United States senate and those who are in the close organization ready to back the Texas Colonel believe that all independents and all Republicans could be prevailed upon to support the candidacy of the Southern lumber king and petroleum magnate. They would expect to lose at the start the organized labor vote of Texas and the votes of the members of the farmers organizations. Kirby has his millions; he has a wide acquaintance; he has powerful supporters; he is interested in two or three political newspapers and should he yield to the importunities of the select circle the politicians would have something to talk about under Lone Star skies. Judge George W. Armstrong of Fort Worth, rocked in a Democratic cradle, danced the last set with the Republicans and it is said that he is willing to dance the next set with the Kirby non-partisan and non-political Republican-Independent combination. Kirby should jump in; the water is fine; there are 1,200,000 qualified voters in Texas; there are dead issues of the sixteenth century vintage on tap and live issues which concern the welfare and the prosperity of every living American relegated to the cellar. It is the duty of an ambitious man to contribute to the gaity of nations. Now is the time to be a contributor.

FORMER GOVERNOR JAMES E. Ferguson is on the road pushing his candidacy for the United States senate. He is for light wines and beer in Texas as well as the nation. As a matter of fact a man can get as drunk on light wine or light beer as he can on barrel house whiskey or Jersey lightning. He drinks it for the kick and there isn't as much kick to wine or beer as there is to Bourbon or rye. It is a question of quantity; that's all. It is the privilege of every free born American to advocate the repeal of a law or laws that happen to be distasteful to him, Ferguson is for light wines and beer. He never did believe in sumptary laws; he never was a whiskey drinker and he touched most sparingly wine and beer. Ferguson never was a jagster. This reminds the writer that two Illinois Republicans who gave valiant support to the Volstead law have been retired by their constituents. Congressman Ira C. Copley of the Eleventh District and Clifford Ireland of the Sixteenth District, very pronounced drys, went down in defeat in the primary election before two very pronounced wet Republicans. It was a straight fight between the Republican drys and the Republican wets and the drys lost. Just the other day in a rural district in the state of New York, in a district good for 30,000 Republican majority a Republican dry and a Democratic wet fought it out on the wet and the dry lines. The Democratic wet was defeated but he reduced the 30,000 majority to 2,300. There are some funny things happening in the primary contests the country over.

JAILS POPULAR WITH WEALTHY

MRS. MAYME THORNE WATLING

Jail cells seem to be becoming popular with the wealthy these days. First John D. Dodge, Detroit, went to the workhouse. Then Lewis F. Swift spent some little time in jail. Now Mrs. Mayme Thorne Watling, widow of Raymond C. Thorne, son of the late vice-president of Montgomery Ward & Company, and her husband, Frank Watling, are the latest. Mrs. Thorne with a million in her own name, and her husband spent 12 hours in a Chicago cell after they had been arrested at 2:30 a. m., when police saw Watling fall from her auto near Lincoln park.

'PAY AS YOU LEAVE' THEATER SUCCESSFUL

(By International News Service)

SEASIDE, Ore., April 15.—A motion picture theater without a box office is more than an innovation here; it is a big success, after a trial of three months.

B. J. Callahan, the movie house owner, remodeled his front, tore out the ticket seller's cage and installed a glass box between the entrance and the exit, so that patrons could drop into it whatever money they thought the picture was worth on their way out.

Callahan had strong faith in human nature, and his three-month experience proved it was justified and convinced him that if old Diogenes should visit the local movie house he'd walk on down to the ocean beach after the show and heave his lantern into the sea.

"My plan has been a success from the very first day," said Callahan. "I thought the novelty might wear off, but it doesn't.

"Why did I start? Because I had a decided slump in business last Fall. I was losing money by keeping open after the summer tourist season slowed down. I hated to close for the winter. I liked the people and had confidence in them. They needed entertainment. I was satisfied if I could just break even.

"But let me tell the world something. I am making more money than I did with a regular admission charge. The people pay for what they get. When we show a poor picture the receipts fall down. When a good picture is shown the receipts double.

"I know now that people are on the square."

BURK MAN HELD ON STATUTORY CHARGE

H. H. Austin of Burkburnett, charged with a statutory offense, was brought here Saturday evening by Deputy Sheriff Bryan and lodged in the county pail. Austin, who is about 45 years old, was arrested at Burkburnett Friday. According to officers the complaining witness is Fannie Turner, 14-year-old girl living in that city.

FORDS OFFER GIVEN SOUTH'S APPROVAL

(By International News Service.)

ATLANTA, Ga., April 15.—If anyone north of the Mason and Dixon line is of the opinion that anyone but Henry Ford would be welcome at Muscle Shoals, Ala., as operator and lessee of the government's huge waterpower and nitrate plants there it would not require more than fifteen minutes in any Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia, Mississippi or Florida community to convince him that he was wrong. So far wrong, in fact, that he probably would wonder how he ever got that way.

The crystallization of sentiment for the Detroit manufacturer has taken place, it is asserted by those most interested in the Herculean efforts being put forth in his face for several reasons, among which are:

Ford's known ability to get the utmost from a working man and pay him exceptionally good wages, and

Ford's known inclination to sell his products at a low market price.

Farmers, business men, and just ordinary citizens believe that unless Ford gets the nitrate plant and electric plant on the Tennessee River the South is going to lose the greatest opportunity for advancement it ever has seen. They believe that if anyone else gets the plant possible failure faces the enterprise and also, the exploitation of the South's producers.

81-YEAR-OLD YANK SEEKS WIFE ABROAD

(By International News Service.)

ALDERSHOT, April 15.—"Yours merrily," John R. Rogers, American citizen, aged eighty-one, has come to England in search of a wife.

Shoals of replies have reached him in reply to his advertisement in the newspapers setting out the qualifications of the lady whom he would like to honor. The ages of their writers vary from nineteen to ninety.

The wife of Rogers must not be too young, but she must be fair, good looking and good tempered. Above all, he says, "she must be a woman of intelligence who will be willing to share my wandering life."

This veteran's stage career extends over sixty years and he is hale and hearty still. Born in Cincinnati in 1840, he first came to London in 1870 to play at the Adelphi theater with J. B. Emmett. Six years later he brought Hawle and Binsley, the trapezists, to show at the Crystal Palace. They performed on a trapeze suspended from the car of a captive balloon in mid air. John R. Rogers sat in the car scattering handbills upon the crowd.

ELECTRA HEADS TO BE NAMED

Water Customers to Pay by Meter

Special to the Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, April 15.—The newly elected city commissioners met last Thursday night and immediately took up many affairs that have been hanging fire for several months. All the commissioners were present with the exception of J. A. Brannen, who was attending the lumberman's convention in Dallas. City Secretary John Houser was appointed to serve another term, but appointment of a city attorney, city marshall and city health officer was postponed until the next meeting. Several complaints were heard from some of the citizens. It was decided to start metering the city's water customers at once, the belief being expressed that this would curtail to consumption one-third and avoid useless waste of water. The commissioners felt that there is now enough in the city lake to last through the summer. R. B. Magee was elected mayor pro tem to serve in case of absence of Mayor Calvert.

Y. M. B. L. Holds Meet

The Young Men's Business League held its first official meeting Thursday night at the Jefferson hotel and it was largely attended by the younger business and oil men of the city. M. D. A committee was appointed to draft by-laws as follows: Neal T. Scott, chairman, J. J. Breen, W. E. Walsh, W. B. Babcock and John Brownlee. A committee on membership was appointed as follows: Jimmie Gookin, chairman, J. G. Green and C. W. Schurer. A committee to arrange a banquet was appointed as follows: C. H. McGann, chairman, A. L. Chamber of Commerce News

L. A. McCulien, state bank examiner, was a guest of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce Tuesday at the luncheon meeting and spoke on the brightening conditions of the finances of the thirteenth federal reserve district, of which this section is a portion. He stated that the district was able to meet its own financial problems and was out of debt, which was considered a very promising indication that financial matters were again becoming stabilized. J. A. Brannen, who has been vice president of the board of directors and a member of the permanent roads committee tendered his resignation stating that as he had assumed the duties of city commissioner that he felt that he would not be able to devote sufficient time to the chamber of commerce affairs.

Mr. Harris of the Nash Hardware company, was the principal speaker at the mercantile bureau meeting Thursday at which plans were discussed for the May trades day. Mr. Harris' talk was directed toward trade extension lines and he complimented the chamber on the progress that is being made along these lines. H. A. Stroud spoke on fake advertising, stating that enough money was spent on fake advertising schemes in this city to pay for the advertising of the monthly trades days. Ruford O. Brown followed up the talk with another on co-operative and consistent advertising methods. He said that advertising was an announcement, to create demand, to keep up demand or divert demand. A general discussion was then held on routine matters of the trades day, which has been set for May 6.

Tuesday, April 18, the citizens will vote on an issue of $100,000 worth of bonds to be used in increasing the efficiency of the water works, making extensions and the taking care of the sewerage system. Practically all the leading business men are supporting the measure. The Young Men's Business league has already started working for the bond issue and it is believed that the measure will carry without very much opposition.

NOCONA, Texas, April 15.—State Senator Guinn Williams opened his campaign for the congressional short term at this place this afternoon. He was accompanied to Nocona by a large number of his home people from Decatur and other places in Wise county. In his speech he declared that a tariff has always been to the detriment of the common people and to the interest of the favored few; that the flood gates of immigration should be closed to all except the honest, intelligent and industrious, that the powers which the state railroad commission aforetime had should be fully and completely restored; that the tax laws should be revised so that the burden may be placed where it justly belongs; that a change should be made in the federal reserve banking law so that it would not discriminate against the farmer and cattlemen; that the issuance of tax free securities is a serious handicap and lastly that consideration should be given any memorial that may be presented to the national congress by the American Legion.

K. K. Club Holds Social Session At Burkburnett

Special to the Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, April 15.—The social meeting of the K. K. Klub was held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of the Misses Winnie and Clemmie Waldroup and was a most enjoyable affair. The entertainment took the form of a real little kid party, half of the girls being attired as little boys, and cute looking little boys they made, too.

"All-day suckers" were the first favors that put every little one in a happy, good humor. Kid games were played; speeches, song and bright stories furnished an impromptu program of merriment which was concluded with a treat of post-toasties with whipped cream.

Two visitors, Mrs. Estes and her house-guest, Miss Charlie Woodward, were entertained on this occasion with the following members: Misses Bessie Brown, Geneva elty, F Welthin McClain, Marvel Smith, Claudia Propes, Grace Walling, Blanche Hughes, Clemmie Waldroup, Ruth Kenner, Lethia Moore, Florence Brown, Mae Briggs, Lottie Sanders, Ercy Cannon, Ruth Rader, Ruth Sanders, Gladys Gibbons, Winnie Waldroup and Bernice Barrett.

The next meeting will be a business session held in the home of Mrs. Grace Walling and Miss Ercy Cannon, 410 East Second street.

The K. K. Klub was entertained at the home of Miss Bess Brown on East Second street Wednesday evening where a pleasant social session followed a business hour. During the former, Miss Gladys Gibbons was elected treasurer, and a ruling was made by vote of the body whereby an absentee is charged one dollar fee if the cause of said absence be "a date."

Owing to the fact that a number of the members are attending the night business college Wednesday evenings, it was decided to change the time of meeting from Wednesday to Tuesday evening, the next meeting to be held with the Misses Waldroup on East Fourth street at 7:30 p. m.

At the close of the social hour, the hostess, Miss Brown, assisted by her mother, served a delicious fruit salad course with cake.

Among other interesting items in connection with the K. K. Klub is the enrollment of the following members as students of the Burkburnett Business College meeting at the Y. M. C. A.: Misses Bess Brown, Vera Braden, Bessie Kimbel, Maude Hannegar, Susie White and Lethia Moore.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held their regular weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. R. E. Fisher with Mrs. Woods as joint hostess of the occasion. The program was given over to the mission study under the direction of Rev. C. D. Montgomery and is reported to have been interesting and instructive. There were 16 ladies in attendance. The social hour was concluded with a dainty refreshment course.

The Kroweldeen Club met in regular session Wednesday with Mrs. E. L. Blum. The hour was given over to dainty needlework and cheery conversation as only good neighbors and friends can enjoy. The refreshment favor was an Easter treat, each plate service being decorated with a tiny rabbit. The members present on this ocasion were: Mesdames W. R. Thomas, Bob Robinson, Blaine Robinson, Rex Smith, R. H. Henry, W. R. Hill, J. M. Pogue, J. W. Williams, R. A. Favor, W. D. Utts, Joe H. Davis, F. U. McCutcheon, W. T. Spicer, and E. L. Blum. Two honor guests were entertained, Mrs. Norris and Mrs. Delbert Lewis of Wichita Falls. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. R. H. Henry.

The last meeting of the Wednesday Needle club was held in the home of Mrs. R. E. Fisher and owing to the busy activities of the Easter sale under the auspices of the Methodist church ladies this week, there was a small attendance. However, a pleasant session was enjoyed which was concluded with a dainty refreshment course.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT BRAINY AS BABE RUTH NEEDED, SAYS SPEAKER

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 15.—A university president as brainy as Babe Ruth is the need of America, Dr. A. E. Winship, editor of the Journal of Education, Boston, declared before the Kentucky Educational association here today.

"Babe Ruth has a larger salary than any five university presidents," said Dr. Winship, "any ten state commissioners of education, or any eight city school superintendents.

He remuneration is not the result of trick work, is not made at the disadvantage of anybody, not due to striking oil, and not due to politics nor business combination. It is pure intensified brain power such as no American equals.

"Ruth's mind accurately estimates when and where the ball that is coming like lightning will cross the plate. At the same time he has decided just where to have his bat send the ball.

"America is waiting for an equally brainy university president to estimate what is best to equip students in college to give the best service in life."

Cletter Hickey, negress, arrested Friday in connection with the killing of another negro woman, and who is also alleged to have shot her husband, was held under $2,500 bond Saturday by Justice of the Peace Gwinn after she had waived preliminary hearings on charges of murder and assault with intent to murder. It is expected that the case will be brought to the attention of the special grand jury of the 78th district court when it convenes Monday.

THEY CAN MEASURE SEA BY NEW DEVICE

WASHINGTON, April 15.—A new device just developed by the navy department and which makes possible the accurate measurement of any depth of the ocean, possibly will result, hydrographers said today, in the chartering of spots in the sea which have never been measured because their depth was too great for the old methods of sea-sounding work.

The new device was said to employ sound apparatus similar to that used during the war for detection of submarines. The principle of its use is that of creating a sound on the ship and listening for the echo of this sound from the bottom of the ocean, measuring the time between the creation of the sound and the return of the echo.

SOLON ATTACKS TAX "DODGERS"

$15,000,000,000 of Exemptions Out

(By International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—It is estimated that approximately $15,000,000,000 worth of tax exempt securities have already been issued by the federal government and the States and cities as well as other political subdivisions of the country.

In the judgment of Representative Louis T. McFadden of Pennsylvania, chairman of the house banking and currency committee, it is high time to call a halt. The flood of tax free securities he considers a "gross violation of social justice" in permitting the evasion of taxation by wealthy tax dodgers.

"It is estimated," said McFadden, "that more than $1,000,000,000 of state and municipal tax free securities were issued in 1920 alone. In that year, if these securities were held by the wealthy whose federal income tax was 73 per cent of their total income, the loss to the government was over $35,000,000 if the interest rate on these securities averaged 5 per cent."

McFadden, who was formerly president of the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association and who is recognized as one of the foremost financial experts in Congress, is seeking to have the constitution amended so that Congress would have the power to tax the income from securities issued by the states and their political subdivisions, and the states would in turn be permitted to tax securities issued by the federal government.

Proposes Referendum.

He has a joint resolution pending in Congress to provide for a nation-wide referendum on his proposed amendment, which would have to be ratified by three-quarters or thirty-six of the states, for tax free securities to be made taxable.

TANKS DAMAGED SAYS MAN ASKING $225

Alleging that the defendant damaged two of his tanks to the extent of $225 when he placed them on the grounds where they were to be used, John O'Neil has filed suit in the county court-at-law against J. L. Jackson, trucker, for settlement.

The plaintiff claims that Jackson agreed to haul two 250-barrel tanks to their destination, but that in loading and unloading them the defendant was "careless and negligent," hurling the tanks to the ground with such force, he claims, that both have been useless due to resulting leakages.

MAN WHO ENDORSES NOTE HELD NOT LIABLE

Judgment for the plaintiff was rendered by Judge P. A. Martin in the 30th district court Saturday in the case of Johnson Brothers Banking company vs the Supreme Oil company et al, a suit on notes for $9,000.

Judge Martin held that George A. Smoot Jr., local attorney, who had endorsed one of the notes at issue, was not liable for the $7,500 value of the instrument.

In the case of Jewell S. Barkman vs T. E. Hill, suit on notes amounting to $280 and for foreclosure on land in lot 12, block 111, Floral Heights, Judge Martin rendered a decision for the plaintiff.

TUCKER AND EDWARDS UNDER $5,000 BONDS

Judge E. W. Napier of the 78th district court Saturday set bonds at $5,000 in the cases of Mike Tucker, charged by indictment with a statutory offense, and R. T. Edwards of Burkburnett, charged by complaint with the same offense. The two men brought habeas corpus proceedings Thursday to secure their release from the county jail. Spudders Play Leading Role in Base Hit Tragedy and Win

SALM'S STARS RUN UP 18 ON GIANTS

Jakie Miller Crashes Pill for Four Base Walk

By "SPIKE" COOPER

The Spudder-Giant duel was a regular hit and run, holler and laugh affair yesterday afternoon in which everybody got plenty of hitting practice, much exercise, and left a new season's record for scored runs, 27 all told, from the 18-9 win chalked up by Walter Salm's hit mill.

Presenting the boss with a batch of runs numbering from one to seven in every inning except the fifth and seventh, the home nine showed the fans that run-getting is one of the most gracious arts they possess. Summa counted oftener than any of the rest, making four complete trips around the world, once for each journey he started.

Lex Sorey ran the runometer up to three and every other Spudder left his signature a couple of times, except Ray O'Brien, "Old Folks" Kitchens, and the Wichita Bambino.

Biff! Bang! Boom!

Babe Ruth was also the only gent to face a Giant hurler who did not present his compliments with at least one smack. Base hits were sowed in every corner of the lot, and one was salted away in the northeast corner pocket of an unofficial knot-holer who grabbed the apple when Jakie Miller crashed it over the garden fence for the first "all-the-way" knock of the Texas league season in Athletic park.

James Galloway, swatsmith from Sawnie Aldrege's cross-roads, proceeded to demonstrate his timely admonitions to the hirelings he is piloting cellarward at a rapid pace. A quartette of healthy blows were his quota for the melee, turned in from as many official trips to the service station of Knadler's and Ruth's offerings. Ray Falk, everywhere man of the nine, also had a perfect day with the club, overpowering three likeable slants and taking a couple of strolls for the five times he was called to present arms.

Pity the Outfielders

Extra base wallops came in profusion, Knadler, O'Brien, Donohue, Miller and Galloway all connected for two-ply rosies, "Shortie" Adams and "Tex" McDonald hammered out three base clouts and Jake Miller poled one over the left field boundary. Jack Reid, the youngster imported from Ike Soblosky's health center at the close of last season, circled the bags when the center field fly-hawk let a stinging single trickle through his fingers and to the nether corner of the pasture. The bags were occupied by Falk and Stow at the time of the Summa's fly in the third when he dropped it almost to his shoe-tops after racing almost to the fence for the catch. He also turned in a nice grab of a smash to the palings by McDonald in the sixth.

What's a "Merry-Go-Round?"

The third fusillade of the Spudders did the most damage to the visitor's chances, when, of the 13 clubwielders who drove Harper from the firing line and greeted Jack Reid with a volley of tally-producing jolts, seven were mustered out by "Umps" Brashear as he indicated their touching-up of the dust-covered slab over which the Giant heavers were attempting to curve the turnip (and turnip it looked too, after several of the flattening thumps it received, in fact it is reported that the one Jake Miller "blunted" over the fence could have been sailed back like a saucer). The bloody frame wound up when Knadler whiffed, refusing to add to the already overtaxed chagrin of the Giant clan which was beginning to resemble a "Lilliputian horde."

Giants Get Four.

A ray of hope was extended "Bad News" Jim in the seventh at the expense of Ray O'Brien when he played "Hare and Hound" with Reid's knock which got through his hands and headed for the "back patch." One run had already come in on Wheat's infield out with the bags loaded, but the Giant hurler got Ruth out of the hole by leaving them cleaned. This brought their total up to nine, an even half way toward a tie and one-half run short of half a win.

The Gang Was There.

Nor was the effort of the spudding machine unappreciated, for the knot-hole gang voiced their opinions in profusion and begged for a hundred runs. That gang is about the best thing that ever happened here. It is the making of the future fans. The youngsters will no longer have to dig out the game for themselves o the open lot, but can qualify as members of the organization and see the things daily which would be hard for them to figure out. Seeing these things regularly, they will understand and appreciate the intricate plays which often stop the casual observer and are appreciated only by the student of the fine points of the game.

Fans are beginning to warm up the fact that the season is under way and expressed their dissatisfaction at various decisions of the officials, and it sounded almost like July when they disagreed with O'Hearn as he called Jake Miller out on his slide into the middle bag in the second round. Nor did they all agree with Roy Brashear on balls and strikes.

crash and the Giant total was enhanced by three tallies.

Giants Couldn't Hold 'Em

Bobby Stow was accused of everything from "bush-leaguing to big-army" by fans who accept him as one of the greatest fielding shortstops in the game, when he booted two chances and did a toe-dance under McDonald's tall fly and watched it fall safe for a hit in the first round. It was an unusual day for the old boy but the scorer had to put it down, and thus will it ever remain.

A total of seven miscues by the Giants materially enhanced the number of chalk marks cut on the notch-stick, some of which were possibly excusable, and some of which were flagrant violations of the "yea and thou shalt" of the game. Nor was the Spudder error column unspotted, for three P's were marked down there, but the game was on ice and none fared the worse for offenses.

Summa Got in Game

Mister Summa, if you please, handled six chances in right field, getting four killings, and raised the axe for two others with his shot-gun throws, one to the plate and one to second, which pulled him out of the error row. After he muffed Reid's high fly to right, he recovered the ball and forced Shandling at second. Summa is rapidly justifying the prediction that he will be among the leading outfielders in the loop this season.

Watch "Get Two" Adams

"Shorty" Adams cocked 'em back again, much to the approval of the Spudder supporters. An unassisted double play and the first killing of another which ended with Fred Beck, demonstrated his speed on the diamond. Both were beautifully executed, as was his play on Donohue's slow roller in the sixth round. Adams also broke into the hitters ranks with a triple down the right field foul line, which sent Kitchens and Knadler in to tramp the counting cushion.

WALLACE REID WILL PILOT CAR NUMBER 13 IN INDIANAPOLIS RACES

By Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 15.—Wallace Reid, moving picture actor, who recently filed his entry in the annual 500-mile automobile race to be held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, May 30, will drive No. 13, it was said here today.

Twelve drivers entered the race ahead of Reid and as has been done for several years, T. E. Myers, manager of the speedway, planned to eliminate the number 13. Reid, however, insisted that he be given the number and the speedway official consented. Mr. Myers said a car bearing No. 13 had not started in the contest since 1913.

The executive of a motion picture concern for which Reid has been acting has declared, it is said, that he to have asserted he intends to go through with his plans.

FACTS ON YANK'S

The pennant won by the Yankees in 1921 was their first since the American league was started in 1900.

Unlike their townsmen in the National league, no one manager has stayed with the team for any length of time, as has McGraw of the Giants.

Not once has the champion batsman of the American league been a member of the New York team.

The Yankees, however, boast of the greatest home run hitter of all time, George Herman (Babe) Ruth. In 1920 Ruth established a record of fifty-four home runs. In 1921 he hung up a new mark with a total of fifty-nine circuit clouts. Thirty-one of his homes last year were made at the Polo grounds. None of the fifty-nine was accomplished with the bases full, but on eleven occasions there were two men on at the time.

400,000 BOY SCOUTS

By Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 15.—There are 400,000 Boy Scouts in America, according to James West, national scout executive, who visited San Antonio recently. This is more than the total number of scouts in other countries, he said. There was over 100 per cent increase in the membership last year, he said.

SPORT LOVERS MOURN LOSS OF ANSON

Last Tribute Will Be Paid Game's Hero Today

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 15.—Chicago tomorrow will pay its final tribute to Adrian C. Anson, revered hero of baseball for half a century, when public funeral services will be held at a downtown funeral chapel with the most prominent men of the city, the Chicago and Detroit American league baseball teams and various leaders in the sport world, attending.

Players To Attend

Arrangements were completed today by Kenesaw M. Landis, baseball commissioner and members of the family of the famous old baseball player who died in St. Luke's hospital yesterday after a week's illness, for the public services. It had been planned to hold the services at 3 o'clock, but they were put forward to 2 o'clock to give the Detroit and Chicago ball players an opportunity to attend. The game between the White Sox and Detroit was postponed to 3:30 p. m.

The services tomorrow be to permit the public to pay its final respects to the man who holds a place in the heart of every sports lover. Burial will be private in Oakwoods cemetery Monday, which would have been Mr. Anson's seventieth birthday, had he lived.

Many Condolences

Today thousands of telegrams, letters and telephone messages were received by members of Mr. Anson's family expressing their sympathy. They came from all parts of the country and from men in every stage of life. For some time scores of telegrams piled up in telegraph offices because Mr. Anson's home address was not known or listed in any record books. He resided with his three married daughters here, going from one home to another for short visits and the messages finally were delivered in great batches at each of the homes.

"Pop" Untroubled

Mr. Anson's family today asked that it be made known that he had been in the best of spirits and health previous to the illness which proved fatal. The old timer's activities in promoting a golf club, said by some to have worried him so much that his health failed, were not a worry but were an actual comfort, his daughters said. They said these golf activities had brought him the greatest pleasure in his life and served to take his mind away from any worries he might have had.

Refused Benefit

Mr. Anson's own opinion of his health was expressed when some one suggested a benefit game for him.

"What the dickens do I want with a benefit?" he said in declining. "I'm young and healthy, get plenty to eat and have at least 20 years of life ahead of me."

The Rev. R. T. Moran, an old friend of Mr. Anson's, will preach the funeral sermon.

Wichita Falls High Takes Championship of District

ELECTRA WINS RUNNER-UP PLACE

Title in Class B Goes to Iowa Park

The points that the Wichita Falls High school appropriated by winning four places in the literary events and three places in tennis, plus 37 points scored in track gave her the district championship in the Class A branch, held at Iowa Park yesterday. Electra, as the dope had her figured, by finishing nine entries for first honor ribbons, made a clean sweep in the track and field events, running up 79 1-2 points in those events alone, but could not overcome the lead that the Red and Black speakers won. Nocona, Henrietta, and Burkburnett made good showings in a few of the events and by winning their places, kept the Electra lead down.

Athletes Off Form.

The Red and Black athletes, with the exception of Baldwin who scored 15 of Wichita's 37 points in the track events and who was in the best of form, were in very poor condition and made a decided decline from the marks that they set at the city meet last week. Three of Wichita's men were sick and one was declared ineligible, which was one reason for the poor showing, perhaps. The Electra entrants all showed the results of hard, consistent work, and the school represented by several men who were honor men at the state meet last year. These included Thomas, a winner of three first places and other minor ones and was the highest individual scorer with a sum of 16 1-2 tallies, with Stanford following him by a narrow margin of one-half point. The winners of the first ribbons will have the opportunity of going to Austin to represent their county and district in the state meet to be held the latter part of the month.

"B" Shows Class.

The essay writing and spelling results have been sent to Austin to be graded and it may be that some of the other schools will secure enough points from these contests to change winners up to date.

The Class B school high honors were won by Iowa Park of Wichita county with Megargle and Jacksboro runners-up. Petrolia was also one of the high scorers of the B schools. In a few of the events, the Class B athletes showed higher class and made better records than the Class A schools.

There were some 4,000 spectators present from the nine counties that compose this district, all rooting their loudest for their candidate to win first honors. The meet was carried on in an excellent manner, under the management of Superintendent Bradford of the Iowa Park schools.

The points earned by Class A schools: Wichita Falls 102, Electra 84 1-2, Nocona 18 1-2, Henrietta 14, Burkburnett 14 and Graham 12.

RICE TRACKMEN BOW TO ILLINOIS

Single First Place Denied Owls

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, April 15.—The Rice Institute track team went down to defeat before the Illinois university aggregation Saturday afternoon in the dual track meet held at the institute, by a score of 113½ o 17½.

Rice men failed to capture a single place.

Illinois romped ahead of the Owls in the first event, when two places weretaken by the visiting cinder path artists.

From then on the ultimate result of the meet was never in question. Before the first seven events had been run Illinois had secured all places in four events.

To the disappointment of Rice fans, who witnessed the meet, Lindsey of Rice failed to take first place in the 100-yard dash. Ayres bested the Rice star in the event. Lindsey had set a record of 9 4-5 seconds prior to this year, but he failed to come up to the mark Saturday. The time was slightly over his low mark, 10 seconds flat.

DEMPSEY CAN SMACK LEWIS AT EASE

Wrestler Would Be Dangerous in Rushes

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

While the proposed mixed battle between Jack Dempsey, king of the boxing game, and Strangler Lewis, champion wrestler, probably never will be pulled off, it is still causing more discussion than any other subject in sport right now.

And the ardent arguiers are about evenly divided as to who would win such a contest.

Lewis Would Rush Jack.

The gong would sound with the men in their corners. Lewis' move would be to rush at Dempsey low to grasp him about the body or legs to engage Dempsey before he could get home his piledriver blows to the head and body. Failing to close with Dempsey in the first rush Lewis would be at a tremendous disadvantage. A slower man than Dempsey, he would have to back away and prepare for another rush—and take Dempsey's blows while doing so. No man yet has weathered those wallops long.

And so the start would be Dempsey's great chance. Being faster than Lewis, he would simply have to avoid that first rush to a bear-hug, sidestep the stocky Lewis and hammer the wrestling champ from every angle—batter him down. There is the question, of course, whether Dempsey could get in his most effective work against a man of Lewis' style and with Lewis scrambling about the floor or rushing low at him.

Should Lewis obtain a body or leg hold in that first rush, Dempsey would face the task of eluding Lewis' man-chrushing holds or of beating Lewis into submission before the mat king's punishing grips rendered Dempsey weak and limp.

Should Dempsey fail in either attempt he would lose out.

Dempsey Couldn't Wrestle.

Dempsey could not hope to wrestle Lewis. The mitt wielder isn't built right. His leg and neck muscles never have been built up and hardened for that stuff. Lewis could not hope to hurt Dempsey by slugging with him. Lewis is slow—muscle bound—as are all wrestlers. He would be at Dempsey's mercy the minute he straightened up to swap punches.

The fight would be a gory one. Unless it ended shortly in Lewis' favor Dempsey would cut up the wrestler with his puches.

Plans and specifications for the new club house will be ready in a couple of weeks, W. M. McGregor, chairman of the building committee, reported.

Shares of the club will probably in the near future be advanced to $400, it was the sense of the meeting.

TEXAS GULF AND TEXHOMAS COME OUT AHEAD OF OPPONENTS IN SECOND OF TWILIGHTERS

The sextette of City league baseball nines opened their season yesterday afternoon. The games as a whole were all loosely played and marred by many errors on each aggregation. Pitchers did not show the class of twirling that was displayed by the Twilighters earlier in the week, Hart of the banks whiffing six and the high man of the day.

The Texas Co., last season's champions, upheld their record, while the Gulf nine cleaned the Presbyterians and the Texhomas took advantage of the Bankers' dozen errors and gave them a drubbing as a starter.

CLOSE ONE AT THAT—4 . . . .

The banks' team met the Texhoma nine at the refinery grounds of the latter, in a loose game, although hotly contested at all times, and was not decided until the last man was out. The banks' team collected six runs before Texhoma crossed the plate, but after getting started were hard to stop. Blanton of Texhoma wielded a wicked stick, getting two two base hits and a three bagger, which figured considerably in the run getting. Hart pitched his usual good game for the Banks with the exception of one or two bad innings, but the support rendered him in the critical moments lost the game for his team.

Conley, flinging for the Gulf, had a little trouble in locating the plate at times and issued six free passes to the initial sack while Weisindinger was hammered to every corner of the lot, including three doubles and a triple.

The Texas company nine hit Moore for 10 bingles, which coupled with four errors by the Railroaders enabled them to collect eight runs and win by a three-run margin, 8 to 5.

Six stolen bases added to the activities of the winners, and though they made eight miscues, the four hits allowed by Burnett were not enough to overcome the lead piled up by the Texas company.

NATIONAL LOOP LEADS 'RUTHLESS' AMERICANS IN CIRCUIT WALLOPS

CHICAGO, April 15.—The National league got the edge on the American league minus Babe Ruth, for home run honors since the season opened Wednesday. The players in President Heydler's circuit banged out an even dozen while the players of President Johnson's organization bagged only three. The National leaguers averaged three a day for the first four days of the season.

Emil Meusel of the New York Giants bagged one in each of the first two games, and Cy Williams, the fleet footed Philadelphia outfielder, slammed two in the game against Boston today. Boeckel of the Boston Braves bagged one today.

In the American league Bob Veach of Detroit bagged the first homer on the opening day, and no more were made until today, when Frank Ellerbe and Martin McManus of the St. Louis Browns knocked one each in the game against the Chicago White Sox, giving the league a total of three.

HUGGINS GETS IN DUTCH AT START

$200 Fine Against Pitcher Mays Stirs Row

Miller Huggins' troubles have started. His recent action in fining Carl Mays $200 for insubordination probably is the forerunner of more trouble.

Huggins' life as manager of the Yankees has been just one row after another. He has been sitting on a volcano from the opening day to the final game.

He seems unable to weed out the trouble-makers.

He could not handle Del Pratt and was glad to let him go.

Talk of Peckinpaugh succeeding Hug as manager of the team is said to have been one of the reasons why the Yank bosses were willing to part with Roger.

Now Mays, once the cause of a baseball war, has kicked over the traces.

Apparently Huggins faces another tough year.

Money due at time of service, but with usual fee return privilege next year for mares failing to get with foal this season.

Mares from a distance will be carefully unloaded and reloaded and cared for while here as owner directs at reasonable charges. Every possible precaution will be taken to prevent accidents or escapes, but we will not be responsible should any occur.

Our two fine Mammoth Black Jacks will also make the season at Speedway Farm at $15.00 for the season.

We usually have for sale useful business horses, classy pleasure horses, registered breeding stock and show horses that win. Let us supply your needs.

We do expert training and can sometimes train a few high-class horses for other owners. Our prices and terms are always reasonable.

TEA POT DOME TO BE DRILLED

Sec'y Fall Reverses Federal Decision

Oil operators, particularly those interested in the larger operating company, see a particular significance in the changed attitude of the United States government towards development of government oil lands as indicated in the contract just closed with the Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation for the development of the Tea Pot Dome, in Wyoming. The previous policy of the government to hold potential oil fields as reserves, with no active drilling program, will be entirely reversed, according to present indications.

Harry F. Sinclair, head of the Sinclair Consolidated, in a telegraphed interview Saturday, declared that in his opinion, "no more far-reaching step has ever been taken in the oil industry."

"Secretary Fall's efforts to protect the government reserves will undoubtedly result in saving for public use very large quantities of petroleum which might otherwise be drained by large wells on nearby properties. His plan in effect is to have these reserves recovered from the ground and moved to places where they can be kept indefinitely and used when needed."

Mr. Sinclair also stated that the signing of this contract to develop the Tea Pot Dome "is the most important event in the history of the Sinclair Consolidated."

CENSOR CUTS OUT HER NAME

Mrs. Evalyn Snow, Ohio censor, and portions of news reel which displeased her.

CINCINNATI, April 15.—A merry little war is on in Ohio between movie interests and the state movie censors headed by Mrs. Evalyn Snow.

The movie men say Mrs. Snow thinks her job depends on cutting so much from each film whether it needs it or not.

Then producers of a weekly newsreel launched what they believed would be a crushing offensive. They filmed Mrs. Snow in action with her shears. Then they adorned the film with the following remarks alleged to have been made by Mrs. Snow:

"Seventy-five per cent of the people never think at all."

"The people are not fit to judge for themselves."

But they reckoned not with the "enemy" and when the first waves of the assault reached her—in the form of a film to be censored—she stopped them with her trusty shears by clipping out the "impertinent" remarks and her picture.

Now the movie company is planning a second assault through the courts alleging that she overstepped her rights in censoring the news film.

Flying to Dallas, Taylor was carried down the main thoroughfares of the city in company with "Daredevil" Ed Lirrette, aviator in an automobile, the pair riding at a high rate of speed. Taylor claims that the "Daredevil" attempted to use many antics on the streets just as he does in the air.

He expresses his disapproval of an organization, "claiming perfection for its membership" which conceals its membership, and perhaps consequent imperfections.

Community Theater'll Have Vote At Drama League Convention Thru Action to Send Mrs. J. T. Montgomery

Mrs. J. T. Monthgomery, president of the executive board of the Wichita Falls Community theater, has been named to represent the local organization at the twelfth annual convention of the Drama League of America, to be held April 20 and 21 in Evanston, Ill. Mrs. J. A. Richolt was named alternate.

This week's meeting of the board reviewed the initial performance of the Community theater, with satisfiction expressed by the board members at the success which greeted the launching of the movement.

The charter of the Wichita Falls Community theater from the Drama League of America was formally received at this week's meeting, the Drama league officer again reminding the local center of the distinction Wichita Falls achieves in having the first charter issued to a Texas Community theater.

Plans were discussed briefly, to be taken more into detail at a later meeting, for the presentation of "Midsummer Night's Dream," which will be the final offering of the season, and the most ambitious undertaking yet attempted by local organizations and artists. Special orchestration, a full cast, with elaborate costuming and setting is planned.

BASEBALL DOPE BOOK

First signs of the arrival of the baseball season of 1922 were evident with the departure of the major league players for their training camps, but that the season has surely arrived is now certain with the appearance of the first schedule and record book. As usual it is The Dope Book, published by C. C. Spink & Son., St. Louis, Mo., publishers of "The Sporting News." A new feature of this book this year is the appearance of practically all the minor league schedules in connection with the major league dates given day by day. Special attention is also devoted to playing records established last year, considerable space being given to details covering the new home-run record of Babe Ruth. Among other features are a special section devoted to complete biographies of the stars of the major league teams, instructions on how to score, baseball abbreviations, how to compute averages, the names of parks at which major and minor league teams play, etc.

RABBIT BREEDERS ORGANIZE WEDNESDAY

Rabbit breeders of Wichita county will convene Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce building for the purpose of organizing, William L. Smith, acting president of the tentative organization, announced Saturday.

The rabbit breeders, it is said, plan to place the best of their animals in the poultry show which will be held here soon.

VETS TO GROUP FLYING MEETS

Legionnaires to See Tibbs and Haynes

Three legionnaires representing the Pat Carrigan post of the American Legion will meet with C. B. Tibbs and H. F. Haynes Monday in an effort to reach some agreement whereby the proposed American Legion aviation meet and recently announced meet on April 22 and 23, will be held at the same time and under the same auspices.

Although the chairman was empowered by a unanimous vote to name the comittee, he withheld such action and will probably designate the post's representatives before Monday noon.

It was brought out at the meeting that the Pat Carrigan post has prepared to hold a mammoth aviation carnival April 29 and 30, the post having planned to use Call Field. Later, other parties announced a similar meet to be held April 22 and 23.

J. Bonner, local attorney, who has Call Field under lease, appeared before the post last night with Mr. Tibbs, one of the men interested in the meet scheduled for April 22-23, both agreeing to discuss the matter further with the legion committee Monday.

Members of the post pointed out that the legionnaires have incurred considerable expense in preparing literature and other essentials to advertise the April 29-30 meet, and that the date cannot be changed due to the fact that consideration of special railway rates is being given the event by the tariff commission at the present time for a 200-mile limit.

Over twenty daredevil aviators will participate in the legion's meet, it is said.

MRS. FISCHER RETURNING.

Mrs. F. W. Fischer of 1648 Lucile, who underwent an operation recently at Rochester, Minn., is en route to Wichita Falls, according to word received by her friends here.

We desire to express our sincere gratitude and thanks to our friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the illness and death of our loved one, Mrs. Dorothea Skeen Chase, and for the many beautiful floral offerings received.

CALOMEL GOOD BUT NEXT DOSE MAY SALIVATE

It Is Mercury, Quicksilver, Shocks Liver and Attacks Your Bones

Calomel salivation is horrible. It swells the tongue, loosens the teeth and starts rheumatism. There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic—a perfect substitute for calomel. It is a pleasant vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Calomel is a dangerous drug, besides it may make you feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than treacherous calomel your money is waiting for you.—Adv.

STRIKE AFFECTS METAL MARKET

Shipments Confined To Old Orders

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The coal strike was the principal factor in the steel market this week, as the inroads made by the union in the non-union fields threatened to very seriously affect the supply of fuel. Consequently the entire market was very nervous and unsettled, although demand increased in volume and prices were firmer all around.

Producers are, however, backward about booking future order, on account of the situation, and some have withdrawn from this class of business entirely, and are confining shipments to the old orders only.

Copper was less active but firm. While the larger domestic consumers are believed to have bought very little, prices advanced above the 12.5-8 cents level for electrolitic, the market, has been very well maintained with producers showing no lack of confidence in the outlook.

Tin has shown further strength, following the sharp rise in London. Increased offerings were encountered at the higher levels, however, causing moderate setbacks.

Lead was marked up to 5c by the leading producer and was still high by some of the outside interests. Demand is broad with April well sold up and May bookings ahead of the previous month.

Zinc, while firm, and still quite active, with a fair foreign inquiry, showed some slowing down from the recent large business.

Antimony is firm, although consumers have apparently supplied their wants for the present.

Deep Test in Burkburnett District

Will Drill to 3500-foot Depth Provided Oil or Gas Is Not Found in Paying Quantities at a Lesser Depth

340-Acre Lease Surrounded by Production

The Burkburnett Deep Test Oil & Gas Co. have erected a 96-foot derrick on the Sullivan farm, 2½ miles west of Burkburnett, which is near the center of the 340-acre lease held by this Company, and expect to start drilling operations within a few days.

The officers and trustees of this company are Burkburnett business men and are promoting this company for the purpose of making a deep test in this field. This is no promotion scheme, only enough money being taken from the stock sales to pay overhead expenses, advertising, etc., and the balance to be used in the actual drilling of the well, which amount we expect to average at least 75 per cent.

The company is receiving the moral and financial support of Wichita County citizens and there is little doubt that enough stock will be sold within a surprisingly short time. Although the company is capitalized for $150,000, it is thought very likely that it will not require more than $75,000 to drill the well. When this amount of stock has been sold it will be taken off the market and in case no further capital is needed no more will be sold at any time. This applies to the officers and trustees of this company as well as the shareholders. In other words, the trustees pledge themselves to take no unfair advantage of the shareholders, and we will all share and share alike in case a producer is brought in. This means that it is very likely that we will be able to retain about $75,000 worth of certificates in the treasury and make the stock worth much more to every shareholder.

This is the first bona fide deep test ever drilled in this district and this company is being promoted in a fair, legitimate way and the investors' interests will be closely guarded. Our books will be open for inspection by shareholders.

SHRINERS PLAN PARADE HERE

Nobles to Wear Spike Tail Coats

Every Shriner in northwest Texas will have an opportunity to attend Maskat's ceremonial session on May 23, as it does not start until 8:30 p. m. Those residing in nearby towns can leave after business hours and reach the auditorium in time for the ceremonial.

Plans are being made to take care of the largest class and attendance since the institution ceremonial on Aug. 31, 1920.

The big public feature of the ceremonial will be the illuminated parade, which will traverse the business section just at dark. The nobles in the parade will all be dressed in their spike-tail clothes, which is the official uniform of a Shriner. The patrol and band will be in line in full strength, arrayed in their gorgeous uniforms.

SHORT SESSION IN STOCK MARKET SETS RECORD FOR ACTION

NEW YORK, April 15.—The year's record for a short day on the stock exchange was broken by today's wild session in which 500,000 shares of stock changed hands the first hour and 406,500 the second hour, a total of 906,500 shares.

That despite the fact that the session was sandwiched in between two market holidays and that many of the operators who were responsible for the large volume of trading earlier in the week were away for Easter.

The volume of business was so great that the ticker throughout the day was from 15 to 20 minutes behind in recording the transactions. Traders who bought or sold stocks in amounts of less than 100 shares found it practically impossible to obtain confirmation of their trades.

The announcement that the government had concluded an agreement with the Sinclair Oil company to develop the Wyoming oil fields resulted in wide speculation in this stock and issues of other oil companies, shared in the boom. Nearly every stock in the oil group reached a new high mark for 1922.

OPPOSING FORCES IN COAL MINE WAR EXPRESS OPTIMISM

By Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, April 15.—Leaders of the contending forces in the coal strike tonight summed up the results of the first two weeks of the struggle, agreement being reached on the general statement that the United Mine Workers had added largely to their forces by recruits from the non-union mines of the western Pennsylvania section.

In the Connelsville coke region, where the union is endeavoring to cripple supplies for the steel mills, the union claimed it had closed almost all the independent mines in the Brownsville district along the Monongahela river and made inroads into the working forces in other parts of Fayette county.

Operators conceded the claim, but held that some important mines of the Frick Coke company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, against which the union drive had been specially directed, were still operating with all the men they needed.

DRILL TEAM TRAVELS IN SPECIAL ON *20TH

A special car will take the drill team of Wichita Falls Commandry No. 50 to Fort Worth April 19, where they will enter the competitive drill at the grand commandry to be held there April 20 and 21.

From Fort Worth, the team will make a trip to New Orleans as a part of the 750 Texas Templars who will attend the grand encampment, Knights Templars of the United States to be held the following week.

Dr. C. R. Hartsook, past commander of Wichita Falls Commandry No. 50, and aide to the grand marshal of Texas division at New Orleans, accompanied by Mrs. Hartsook, will drive to Fort Worth and attend the grand commandry, and will go from there to New Orleans to attend the grand encampment.

BURK DEEP TEST STOCK ON SALE

Drilling of the Burkburnett deep test will start with the completion of the subscription of the $150,000 capital stock of the Burkburnett Deep Test Oil & Gas company, now offered to the public, according to an announcement. The test, the first deep test in the direction of the big production from Burkburnett, is the first to go down in this section.

It is located between the townsite and northwest extension pools, on the Sullivan farm in Block 42, Red River Valley lands.

The test is to be drilled to a depth of 3,500 feet.

Officers and trustees include: W. F. Billingsley, publisher Burkburnett Star, president; E. D. Heine, Burkburnett Pharmacy, vice president; F. Covington, Staley & Covington, merchants, second vice president; Sam B. Spence, manager Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce, secretary; R. D. GOVERNOR'S CLERK OUT OF RED TAPE

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, April 15.—Requisitions from governors of other states for persons arrested and held in Texas have been granted so profusely by Governor Neff in the last few weeks that Executive Clerk Eugene Sanders of the secretary of state's department has run out of the red ribbon which is attached to each paper. This ribbon is necessary to make the document official.

Requisitions poured into the governor's office last week. Two days in succession five were received. The cause of this sudden influx is unknown. It is just a "sitting streak," according to Secretary Walthall. A Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

SANTONE FARM REPORTS TESTS

Oats Profitable for Cattle in Winter

The San Antonio experiment farm, maintained by the office of western irrigation agriculture, United States department of agriculture, in cooperation with other offices of the bureau of plant industry, is devoted to experiments suited to the region in Texas, where it is located.

These are chiefly concerned with rotation and tillage pratcices with field corps; breeding, selection, and cultural experiments with cotton; variety and selection work with corn and grain sorghums; tests of various hay and pasture crops; and tests of newly introduced horticultural plants to determine their adaptability to local soil and climatic conditions and their economic value.

After discussing the climatic, crop, and economic conditions incident to the period covered in its report, the circular describes in detail the rotation and tillage experiments carried on, and the effect of different tillage practices. The use of field peas as a green manure crop is not advised from an economic standpoint, owing to the prevalent lack of moisture.

Flax Disappointments

Many special experiments were conducted with cotton and corn, with sorghums and small grains. The substitution of winter barley for oats as a winter pasture crop is recommended. Experiments with flax were disappointing, as were tests of Rhodes Grass for this locality, each varieties tested did not show any that could be relied upon to produce profitable yields year after year. The plum seemed more generally adapted to this locality than any other fruit tested. Apricots, persimmons, almonds, pecans, and lemons produced no worthwhile crops. The jujube, or Chinese date, showed considerable promise, and the Rusk citrange did well. Grapes were more successful in 1919 than in 1920.

Experiments in coop utilization by cattle indicated that in favorable winter seasons oats make a profitable pasture, and that from 3-4 to 1 acre will be sufficient for a two-year old steer. In average years from 1 1-2 to 2 acres of oat pasture will be required per animal. More satisfactory returns can be secured from Sudan grass by feeding the grass in the form of cured hay than by pasturing the steers on it.

GRAHAM, Texas, April 15.—Clarence Ousley will address the voters of this section at the court house next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

J. L. M'CLURE TO STICK AS CHIEF

New Administration Selects Him

First of the five city department chiefs unanimously ratified by the new city council for re-election for his old place was the veteran fire chief, J. L. McClure.

Chief McClure has literally grown up with the local fire department, being the first paid fireman ever employed by Wichita Falls, and being the whole professional force, back in 1907. As the fire department developed he was promoted—but his promotion was far from due to seniority. This is attested to by the record for efficiency and progressiveness of his department.

Always Efficient

It has always been one of the most efficient in Texas. It was probably the first in the state to be completely motorized, achieving that destruction in February, 1916. Its efficiency is attested by praise by insurance adjusters after each of the city's important fires. This fire department does not run to handling blazes in a manner so often seen, when there is $100 fire damage and $10,000 water damage.

"Chief McClure don't allow us to use water on fires, or chemicals, or axes on the buildings," complained one of his firemen after a recent fire. "I guess we will soon have to spit on them." The fire in question was stopped with practically no loss, and with the use of only spray nozzles, when water damage of several thousands might have resulted.

Free of Politics

The fire department is the one city department politics has never invaded. Chief McClure has a free hand in the running of his department, and has had under all the city administrations which have come and gone during his many years' service.

The fire department costs the city of Wichita Falls nothing. The insurance key rate is about half what it was when the fire department began building with an extra allowance coming to those buying insurance for the maintenance of a good fire record—the whole amounting to thousands of dollars per year, after deducting costs of maintaining the department, over what insurance would cost tax payers without efficient fire protection.

It may be surmised that Chief McClure is a busy man. He is. He holds two jobs. In addition to running the fire department, he occupies the position of fire marshal, and is responsible for the enforcement of fire prevention regulations, as well as for the voluminous reports that must be made to the state fire insurance commission by the fire marshal.

COMBAT SMOKE EVIL

(By International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The "smoke evil" in the manufacturing and business centres of the large cities of the country is a problem that is engaging the attention of the experts of the Federal Bureau of Mines, it was learned today.

"It is a problm that can not be easily solved" said bureau officials, following appeals from municipal authorities in Akron and Springfield, O., Salt Lake City, New Orleans and other large industrial towns for advice in fighting "smoke."

WINSTON BACK

W. O. Winston, proprietor of the Winston Department store, returned from Dallas Thursday where he had been to market, filling in his stock and keeping it up to standard. This was necessary due to the heavy business which he has enjoyed since opening up the store.

He expects to leave shortly for an extended trip through the East, where he will make an exhaustive search for all the newest, latest, and best styles in clothes, and the latest designs in materials.

He states that he expects to give Wichita Falls nothing but the best, and at prices within the reach of all.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle saw his first baseball game today at the Polo grounds as the guest of Charles A. Stoneham, one of the owners of the Giants.

He sat in a box near the Brooklyn dugout and when the Giant batsmen finally were retired after scoring 11 runs in the first inning, he heard a loud wail.

Always alert for anything supernatural, he turned to Mr. Stoneham and asked laughingly: "What was that, a ghost?"

"No," replied Mr. Stoneham, "a goat—Mr. Wilbert Robinson's goat. It just became lost and is trying to find itself."

"Extraordinary," observed Sir Arthur.

"Elementary, my dear Sir Arthur," replied Mr. Stoneham, "I can always deduce anything concerning goats."

BITTERS" SEIZED

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, April 15.—Federal prohibition agents and state rangers raided George Zerschausky's soft drink stand and delicatessen tonight and seized forty-one bottles of "bitters." The place was closed and Zerschausky placed under arrest. No charge had been filed against him late tonight.

Poor Little School Teacher Jolts County Treasurer When She Cashes Vouchers Worth Nearly a Thousand

The old story about the "poor school teacher" who spent his salary before receiving it, and who ended the school year poorer than when he started, is all wrong in at least one instance in Wichita county.

The county has a school teacher who not only went one month but seven before she cashed in her monthly vouchers, and said that she did it then "simply because she happened to think of it when coming here."

Miss Amelia Spencer, teacher in the Clara schools, north of Iowa Park, Saturday came close to causing Tom McHam, county treasurer, to fall off his chair, when she presented vouchers which required him to write her a check for $980.

Miss Spencer has been teaching school all year and had not cashed any of the seven vouchers of $140 each which she had received. She told Mr. McHam that she had not spent all of last year's pay as yet.

NEWBERRYISM CAMPAIGN CRY

Republicans Backing Up Democrat

DETROIT, April 15. — Although Truman H. Newberry has been absolved from charges of political corruption by the United States senate and still holds his seat in that body, "Newberryism" is to be the paramount issue at the republican senatorial primaries in Michigan this summer. Senator Charles E. Townsend, Newberry supporter and defender, must go before republican voters at the coming primaries and match his strength against that of a man who condemns Newberry and the methods that were employed to secure his election Congressman Practrick H. Kelley.

In the meantime Michigan democrats, hopeful of a rift in the republican ranks over the Newberry issue, are trying to induce Mayor James Couzens of this city to enter the race as their nominee. Couzens, who is reputed to be worth anywhere from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000, and whose municipal ownership program for Detroit has won him a national reputation, is not loath to enter the race, it is known.

G. O. P. Backs Kelley

Behind the candidacy of Congressman Kelley are several Michigan republicans of more than statewide prominence. Chief among these is former Governor Chase S. Osborne, who, in a letter to friends here, said:

"I shall not be a candidate for the United States senate this fall, although I have had enough legitimate urging to give me plenty of excuse if I needed any. I am for Patrick Henry Kelley. Charley Townsend is not a candidate. He is only a dummy for Newberry. That gang has done it to the United States senate and they think the slate will be clean if they can put Newberry across in the form of Townsend.

"I like Charle Townsend, and the sad thing to me is the conclusion I came to with many of his old friends that if he were well in mind and body he would not have fallen into the shallow Newberry ambush."

Ford Backs Kelley

Another republican who is said to be backing Kelley is Edsel Ford, who still remembers the defeat administered to his father by Senator Newberry at the last senatorial election in this state.

Mayor Couzens is regarded by democrats as the one likely man who can defeat Senator Townsend, should the latter receive republican endorsement at the primaries. Born a poor Canadian boy, the mayor came to Detroit and worked his way up from a bookkeeper in a coal dealer's office to part owner of the Ford Motor company, who was later bought out by Henry Ford for about $30,000,000, to mayor of the fourth city of the country.

CITY'S GROWTH JARS VISITOR

Reynolds Says Town Is Knockout

Harry A Reynolds, for 15 years connected with the engineering and street department of the city of Dallas is here putting in a large conduit for the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway company.

"This is a wonderful city with a wonderful future," he said to a Record News representative.

"I was prepared to be surprised at the growth of Wichita Falls but was not prepared for a knockout. My old chief, Hal Moseley, was offered $9,000 a year salary to come to Wichita Falls when the boom was on. He was street and bridge commissioner of Dallas. He wanted to come but the people of Dallas bucked, told him that they had elected him street and bridge commissioner and they wanted him to serve out his term. After surveying the city and taking a peep into the future I am convinced that Moseley made a mistake. He should have accepted the position tendered to him."

Over Six Miles Of Burk Paving Now Completed

A total of 3,300 lineal feet of concrete road was completed on the highway between this city and Burkburnett during the last week. The total was about equally divided between the two mixers working at the south and north end of the road. A total of 6 1-4 miles of paving has been completed on the road.

Monday the commissioners' court, through Potts & Prentice, general contractors, will let contracts for the construction of the concrete roads between this city and the Clay county line and another road five miles north of Electra, provided satisfactory bids are received.

In connection with the letting of the contracts H. S. McCall of the McCall Engineering company of Waco; Jake Block of the Tibbets Construction company of Fort Worth and C. J. Quirk of the T. P. McElwrath Construction company of Corsicana were here Saturday. Several other contractors are expected to submit bids.

The dance Thursday night, which is the first of the year to be given by the University club, will be followed with other regular entertainments throughout 1922.

BURNETT PAVING JOB TO BE COMPLETED

Paving work on Burnett street from Ninth to Tenth street is progressing rapidly and will probably be completed in that block by next Wednesday, according to F. M. Rugeley, city engineer, who said yesterday that the city is to receive reinforced concrete work between these two streets.

Contracts have already been let to construct pavement on eight and one-half blocks on Burnett from Tenth street to the Wichita Mill & Elevator company, seven and a half of which will be completed in bitulithic, and on nine blocks of work to be done on Eleventh street from Indiana to Grace street, five of which will be bitulithic. L. E. Whitham and company has the contract to construct the concrete pavement, while the West Texas Construction company will do the bitulithic work, Engineer Rugeley says.

Three blocks of bitulithic paving may be started on Indiana street from Tenth to Thirteenth streets some time this week. However, no definite date for the starting of any of this work has been agreed upon.

TITLES FAIL TO BRING HAPPINESS

Left, the former Consuelo Vanderbilt, whose happiness as the Duchess of Marlborough was short-lived. Right, Gladys M. Vanderbilt, whose married life with Count Szechenyi was anything but happy. Below, Anna Gould, who experimented with several titled husbands in her career, has divorced Prince di Sagan and Count de Castellane.

(By Central Press.)

BOSTON, April 15.—Whether hard times or the unhappy lots of past purchasers are to blame hasn't been decided, but for some reason there seems to be a dearth of purchasers in the market for title and incidentally the husbands that go with them.

For Mayor Curley recently inserted this ad in the papers of the country, "For sale to an American girl, one well educated English nobleman. Title guaranteed. Price $1,000,000."

And to date not a prospective purchaser has appeared.

According to Standish Wilcox, Mayor Curley's secretary, the mayor received a letter from a member of the English nobility who wishes to dispose of himself and his title to any American girl who wishes to become a baroness.

And though the crown market in general seems to be in a slump, the baron evidently believes that his title is 18 carat and copper-riveted for all that he asks for himself and it is one million cold American dollars.

After waiting vainly for several days for heiresses to swamp him with offers, Wilcox is now wondering whether the experiences of Anna Gould, and the Vanderbilts, Consuelo and Gladys, has deterred prospective title purchasers or whether the stringency in the money market is to blame.

The Gould millions made Anna a princess first. But the husband who went with the title, Prince di Sagan, wasn't satisfactory, so Anna decided to become a countess and married Boni de Castellane. Now she's a duchess.

The Vanderbilt millions purchased titles of duchess for Consuelo and countess for Gladys and though the titles were satisfactory the Duke of Marlborough and Count Szechenyi didn't make satisfactory husbands and were soon divorced.

GLENN HURLS HAT IN RING

Detective Comes Out For Sheriff

Announcement of his candidacy for sheriff at the coming democratic primaries was made Saturday by J. E. (Jim) Glenn, veteran officer of Wichita Falls.

In making this announcement, Mr. Glenn says that he is a candidate for the office wholly and solely on the record for capability and integrity that he has made during the past several years during which he has served both the people of Wichita Falls and of Wichita county as one of their officers.

City Detective

Mr. Glenn has been for the past several months one of the city detectives, in which office he has upheld the reputation for efficiency, honesty and activity that he had made in the various positions he has held in the eight years he has been a resident of the county. Prior to his rejoining the police force, Mr. Glenn had served as a police officer and a deputy sheriff. During this service, in addition to his capable handling of the usual duties attached to the various offices, he displayed a detective ability of a high order in brilliant handling of several "cases."

Promises Enforcement

If elected to the office for which he is a candidate, Mr. Glenn promises the voters of Wichita county a thorough, impartial and honest enforcement of all the laws of the county, as well as an efficient administration of the office affairs connected with the position.

Should he be elected, in addition, he promises the voters a careful selection of his assistants in office to the end that the program enunciated by him be thoroughly carried out, and carried out in a manner to reflect credit both on himself and the county.

FARMERS OF SCURRY JUBILANT, SO IS WICHITA RANCHER

John F. Joyce of 1918 Tenth street isn't pessimistic these days. He owns a ranch near Hermleigh, Scurry county, and petroleum hunters are busy in that section of West Texas. Mr. Joyce received a letter Saturday from a nephew, Herman Thrash, who announced that the Hermleigh Oil and Gas company had brought in a 50 barrel well at a depth of 900 feet. This well is just a mile from the Joyce ranch. Heavy rains have fallen in Scurry and adjoining counties and the farmers and stockmen are jubilant over the prospects for bumper crops.

Griswold Buys Walker Holdings in Kemp, Munger

The holdings of the Walker Consolidated Oil company in the Kemp, Munger, Allen field have been sold to Eugene Griswold for a consideration around $25,000 according to information that became known Saturday. The holdings consisted of several shallow wells in four tracts with a production of 35 barrels daily. The deal also included some drilling equipment.

Mr. Griswold, who is connected with the Griswold Oil company, will drill additional wells and increase the production of the wells which have already been completed.

SWINDLING CHARGE BROUGHT AGAINST MAN BY PREACHER

False representation of himself as a collector for the Peniel Orphans' home is the basis of charges of swindling brought against J. L. Manen yesterday. Manen, who was arrested late Friday night by the police, was turned over to the custody of the sheriff's department Saturday afternoon, and held in default of $500 bond on two counts.

Rev. J. L. McLendon, who brought the charges against Manen, declared yesterday that he is the authorized agent of the institution, and that Menen has been making collections in Wichita Falls "under false pretenses."

NEFF COMING SUNDAY WEEK

Governor Will Talk In Afternoon

Par M. Neff, governor of Texas, has accepted the invitation of the Wichita County Citizens' association to make a public address in Wichita Falls Sunday afternoon, April 23, at 3 o'clock.

The address to be delivered here Sunday afternoon will open Governor Neff's non-political speaking itinerary of the Panhandle. His second speech of a long series of similar addresses will be delivered at Vernon, Texas, the state executive departing from Wichita Falls overland.

Declares That the Soul of Child Is Cramped in Tiny Apartment

(By International News Service.)

CHICAGO, April 15.—Can the soul of a child properly develop in a tiny apartment of one room, one sun parlor and a bed? Mrs. Mary C. Robbins, divorced wife of Cutler H. Robbins, former vice-president of Armour & company., doesn't think so and has taken steps to stop it.

She has asked the courts for absolute custody of her infant son, because she believes such an environment harmful to him.

Baby Robbins, three, who bears the name of George B. Robbins, III, is now living, according to his mother's petition, in a single room "apartment" in a fashionable district of the Chicago North Side under the care of a nurse.

"That may be his father's idea of the proper home for a growing child," is the declaration of Mrs. Robbins; "but it isn't mine. Just because it happens to be the period of the year when he has custody I can do nothing to better things for my boy.

"Want Him Back."

"I want the courts to give him back to me entirely so that I can give him the best of care—the care that only a mother can give her child. In that one-room apartment he sees no one but his nurse, except for occasional visits from his father. It isn't right."

Charges, counter charges, extradition proceedings, warrants and subpoenas have fluttered about the head of the little millionaire baby in a storm of litigation since the divorce of his parents.

The most recent court action occurred in January, when Mrs. Robbins caused the arrest of Frances McLean, pretty divorcee, on a charge of kidnaping while she was taking the child to its father in California.

Nurse Is Arrested.

At Ogden, Utah, officers boarded the westbound train bearing Miss McLean and the baby and took them off, locking the woman in the Ogden jail over night.

In Chicago Mrs. Robbins made formal application for extradition papers that Miss McLean be tried in that city and the child brought back. On refusal of Illinois authorities to start proceedings the fair "abductor" was pleased in Utah.

Mrs. Robbins countered by attempting to have her husband committed for contempt of court, asserting he owed her two months' alimony and had violated the divorce decree by ordering the child taken from the state of Illinois on such a long journey.

When argument on this application was adjourned Mrs. Robbins decided to prepare the bill which she has just filed and which sets forth all her grievances.

CITY BUILDING CODE BROKEN SAYS CHARGE

Charges of violating the building laws were filed against Wiley Wyatt in the county court at law Saturday afternoon.

It is alleged that Mr. Wyatt had been permitting workmen to construct a roof on a building which he owns at the corner of Ohio and Seventh street, the carpenters having been at work without a floor beneath them, which, it is alleged, is essential.

Aggravated assault charges were filed in the county court at law against R. L. Hirsch.

KU KLUX PROBE RESUMES TOMORROW

100 Booze Cases Ready for Probe By Federal Jury

Bootlegging Business Limps Along Painfully After Uncle Sam's Sleuths, Sheriff's Men and Ranger Scours Through Counties

When the federal grand jury meets here sometime during May over 100 cases involving violation of the federal prohibition enforcement will be submitted for its consideration by officers connected with prohibition enforcement.

According to Archie Tyler, officer in charge of this district, charges have been filed against 90 men and women since the last session of the grand jury in December and it is expected that the number will be increased to well over a 100 before the grand jury convenes in May.

Cases Double

The number of cases is approximately twice that brought before the grand jury and the total then was a substantial increase over the previous term, the whole indicating either an increase in the sale of illicit liquor or greater activity on the part of officers in enforcing the prohibition laws.

Although there are 11 counties in the district of which Mr. Tyler is head his records for the last three months show that all violations of the federal prohibition enforcement act with three exceptions are in Young and Wichita counties. Young county the center of a large amount of oil activity, at the present time leads Wichita county having 50 of the 91 cases. This condition is in part accounted for by the fact that county and city officers in other counties usually file their liquor violation cases in state courts while in Young and Wichita counties the federal court is preferred.

16 Stills Captured

A number of the arrests in the two counties were made by officers from the sheriff's departments, local police officers and Ranger McCormick, according to Mr. Tyler. In the 91 cases, 16 stills were confiscated and mash was found in 9 other cases. 18 were arrested for selling liquor and the remainder of the cases are for possession.

With several liquor cases holding over from previous terms doubt is expressed by federal officials as to whether the next term of federal court will continue long enough to handle the cases in which indictments will be returned. There has been no definite information received as yet as to when the next term will convene.

Mr. Tyler is the oldest federal prohibition enforcement officer in the state of Texas, and one of the four oldest in six states, although one of the youngest in age. He has held his commission with the government since February 6, 1920. Numerous changes have been made during the last two years in the personnel of the prohibition department.

J. W. SAWYER SUES AFTER AUTO INJURY

S. W. Sawyer, proprietor of a cafe at the corner of Tenth and Ohio streets, Saturday brought suit in the 30th district court against J. W. and A. W. Taylor for $1,250 damages for injuries alleged to have been received when he was struck by an automobile owned by the defendants. The plaintiff alleges in his petition that he was walking across the street at the corner of Thirteenth street and Lamar avenue, when he was run down by a car owned by the defendants.

MISS BLANTON HERE THIS WEEK

Speaks Wednesday at Court House

Miss Anne Webb Blanton, state superintendent of schools and candidate for the unexpired term of the late Lucian W. Parrish, congressman from this district, will speak here Wednesday afternoon or evening in behalf of her candidacy, according to information received here Saturday. In her wire Miss Blanton said that she would arrive here Wednesday afternoon.

It is expected that she will speak Wednesday evening at one of the court rooms at the courthouse. Judge J. P. Jones of the county court said Saturday that the courthouse would be available at that time. If the meeting is held in the afternoon it will be necessary to hold it in some other place.

WILLIAMS TO SPEAK

BELLEVUE, Texas, April 15.—On next Tuesday, April 18th, at 10:00 o'clock a. m., Hon Guinn Williams of Decatur, candidate for Congress from the 13th Congressional district, will deliver an address in Bellevue in the interest of his campaign.

REAL FARMERS WILL BUILD UP LOCAL PROJECT

Irrigation'll Pay Big With Substantial Settlers

In connection with the construction of the irrigation project and before its completion demonstration stations should be established throughout the area to be irrigated according to Otto Stehlik, local real estate man, who as a member of the chamber of commerce has made an exhaustive study of the needs of ther irrigation projects in the United States.

In a report submitted to the Record News Mr. Stehlik finds that many irrigation projects have failed because there has been no accurate analysis of the soil.

He says that the soil in the local irrigation project will vary and recmmends that three stations for experimental work be established.

One of the stations he says should be located between this city and Iowa Park, one in the Denny neighborhood and one at Allendale. These stations would give out all information needed by farmers immediately surrounding them.

Mr. Stehlik says that credit, transportation, storage, marketing, soil analysis and the demonstration stations should receive immediate attention. He recommends that lands be sold on a basis of one-third cash, divided so that 10 per cent is for land and 40 per cent for stock and farm improvements.

Some variations in the plan would have to be made but in all cases longer time should be given for the payment of land than personal property.

Railways Essential.

The writer stresses the importance of fast freight transportation to Kansas City, St. Louis and other large distributing points. In this connection he calls attention to the importance of Frank Kell's promise to have trunk line service between here and St. Louis and Kansas City.

When the irrigation project is well under way there will be a large surplus of products Mr. Stehlik finds and says that large storage facilities are needed.

As To Pioneers.

Regarding the method of colonization, Mr. Stehlik says:

"Those of us who have lived in Wichita county for 15 years, or longer, can recall that such people as have been brought to this country through colonization companies and private speculating schemes, have been of very little benefit to the community, but those who came of their own accord have been the citizens who have been instrumental in building up our city and county to what it now is. However, several corps of prospectors were necessary befcre the neuclus of the present high class citizenship was obtained.

"The most successful irrigation projects so far known, are in California, among which is one known as the Durham Settlement Project, near Cisco, California, where the State of California subdivided about 5,000 acres into 100-acre tracts. These tracts were sold to peoule who, before buying, were required to fill out questionnaires giving information as to their experience in farming, their willingness to work, the

PAY ROLL CHANGES WOULDN'T SURPRISE

Suggested changes in appointive officers of the city, discussed in the meeting of last Wednesday, and possible changes on the city pay rolls, scheduled for disposition, at least in part, at Monday night's session of the city council will make that meeting one of the most interesting of the year.

While it is not believed that all contemplated changes will be made at this meeting, it is apparently generally understood by the councilmen that a part at least will receive action.

This business, with possibility of getting construction of the next annual budget under way, promise to make this session one of the busiest and most interesting of the year.

RAINS BIG AID TO IRRIGATION

Plenty of Water for Men on Project

"Rains helped more than they hurt," briefly declared E. S. Heyser, vice president and general manager of the W. E. Callahan Construction Co., general contractors, in announcing that irrigation work was up to schedule in spite of the loss of three or four days on portions of the work due to wet weather.

Rains helped in the construction of the big project chiefly through affording a supply of water for the several hundred men and beasts, which before the downpour had to be hauled from a distance of several miles.

Operations of the last week went steadily ahead on the line started several weeks ago, the only change being the putting of another grading outfit to work on the south side canal, approximately 20 miles of which are now under construction.

Principal interest for the general public lies in the construction of the hull for the floating dredge of the Puget Sound Dredging company on the bottom of what will be the storage reservoir. The hull is about four weeks from completion, when it will be launched in a launching pit now being excavated by one of the big power drag lines. It has been proposed that the boat be called the "good ship T. B. Noble" in recognition of the tireless work of the vice president of the irrigation board on all phases of the irrigation project.

Complete Conduits.

Excavation for the big conduits at the storage dam, under way for several weeks with a couple of "power" stam shovels, will be completed in a few days, allowing the start of concrete work by the Davis Bros. company, sub-contractors.

At the storage dam the pile driver which is sending the sheet steel piling below the level of the diversion dam embankment will probably get to work Monday after an idleness of several days through delayed shipments of materials.

The number employed on the project remains between six and seven hundred of "all ratings" and the teams at work around 300.

Wichita Dog Adds to Laurels When He Answers Telephone and Carries Out Order to Bring Back Package

Joe, Patrolman White's dog, which every member of the police force swears is the smartest canine outside of a three-ring circus has added to his many accomplishments.

Joe now uses the telephone in a nonchalant manner, which would make a telephone operator envious.

The other night while his master was carrying out his nightly duty of turning out all the lights in front of the downtown business houses, Joe stayed at a cafe, where he is well known. Going back to the police station Patrolman White called Joe on the phone, an employe at the cafe holding the receiver to his ear.

Following out instructions the dog appeared at the station a minute later with a box of matches which he was told to get.

Patrolman White, with this accomplishment perfected, now awaits a dog attachment for the radiophone.

WICHITA LILY'S EASTER DRESS DROPS—IN PRICE

Hose Easy to Look At and Not Hard To Purchase

"Isn't she dear!"

You exclaim at the feminine 1922 Easter lily, arrayed in fashion that would indeed put Solomon and all his glory to shame. And she is dear, But not so dear by about 33 1-3 per cent as she was on Easter, 1921.

As she stands today, ready for the Easter parade, from the tips of her smart vari-colored sport oxfords, to the top of her correctly netted wave and smart rolled-brimmed sport hat; or from her satin pump toes to the last flower on her posy-trimmed picture shape, if she lean to fluffiness instead of sportiveness, our Easter lily (not egg, as some rather lacking in elegance of nature and expression might term her) will stand good old Dad or Friend Hubby, footing the bills, enough less in cold cash for this season's outfit, to make it possible for the bill-footer to treat himself to some new Easter togs. For men's clothing this spring also show a reduction over the Easter prices one year ago.

Consider this Easter fashion show on a dollar and cents basis, as the parade goes past. Notice the Eater lily's hose, not a hard thing to do, these days, though the general public is now like the Lun'non cabby who urged a fare to "urry hup, han get hon. Legs harn't no treat to me, mum."

Those chiffon silk hose, notice them in all their lustre and sheen, cost today from $2.50 to $3.50, compared with $4.00 to 6.00 last year. Where last year $4 and $5 prices prevailed on hose that were most desirable in appearance, the average is now down until a $5 stocking is a luxury and not a necessity, at least with the majority.

And the days of $5 and $6 shoes, smart, snappy shoes at that, are once more with us, praise be! It doesn't require an extra effort to spend $10 for a pair of shoes, but it isn't at all necessary. Wichita Falls department stores and shoe stores are showing two-color sport shoes, satin pumps and patent combinations, everything new, anywhere from $5 to $7.50.

The Easter suit, particularly if it is one of the new tweeds in colors that the rainbow would be jealous of, only set dad, or hubby back from $35 to $50 and looks considerably more. A $50 suit this year is equal to a $75 or $80 suit in 1921. Hundred dollar suits are to be found, but they are not imperative, and they were almost so last year, if cut, material, and workmanship formed the considerations.

Hand made blouses at $4 and $5 are some of the other surprises that were awaiting Easter shoppers this year. This is almost a 50 per cent reduction from last year.

Silk dresses and wash dresses that are really desirable and of the sort deserving a place in the most exclusive Easter fashion circles, have receded considerably from around the century mark. Twenty dollars this spring has done the work of thirty in 1921, with about the same proportion observed in the higher price merchandise.

Along with five dollar shoes, five dollar hats, that are "sholy pursentable" to quote Aunt Alice, have once more come into being. Last Easter's $15 hat is costing $10 this year. Sailors and sport hats, of extra high class make, that set you back $17.50 in 1921, can be worn out of the shop on your promise to pay $12.50.

Plain, flowered, feathered or what not, Easter bonnets this year, while not being given away, are considerably cheaper, than those we went to church to see a year ago today.

And likewise through all the other articles of feminine apparel, to what Thackery called "unmentionables." Poor old Thack. Think what he didn't know. In these days of brief skirts, economy on elastic, and high winds, there ain't nothin' unmentionable.

Knickers and teddies, even, are somewhat less of an investment this season, regardless of the material, or the color.

Taking the costume all around, we should say again that Easter 1922 limited, is about 25 to 30 per cent off.

Here's the words. Write the music yourself.

EASTER MORN IN CLOISTER

Nun at Her Easter Prayer.

As Christ prayed in Gethsemane, so this nun in her bare cloister prays for the world's forgiveness as another Easter dawn upon the world bringing back memories of that first Easter 2,000 years ago.

All About Greatest of All Easter Stories and Cub Reporter Who Dug It Up Years After It Was Written

By H. N. F.

This is the festival of the resurrection. It has been said that Christianity is a world religion because it is the only religion fitted to meet the needs of the world; that it carries an universal message to all hearts regardless of color or creed; that the Bible alone of all the world's literature can be translated into any language, any dialect and its message loses nothing thereby.

"The Book of Books" is the Bible of the Christian and the Bible of the world as well. Its simplicity is one of its fascinating and holding charms. Its diction is the simple language of the people and all who read may understand. Its messages are as appealing and are irrestible today as in the dawn of the gospel era.

Master Pieces of Time

Its psalms are incomparable; its hymns are the masterpieces of the literature of all the ages; its narratives are unvarnished tales, yet epigramatic and dramatic with all the directness and beauty of prose poems; its chronicles are classics of their time; its short stories are models of brevity as well as classics of simplicity never approached by the writers throughout the ages since the gospel message awakened the dead frame of paganism to a higher life and planted the seed of the soul of immortality in its heart to live forever. And, yes, the most sublime stories ever told are Bible stories.

The Story of the Story

Years ago a cub reporter in the news room of a metropolitan newspaper was told by his city editor to go get a story of the resurrection morn.

The cub obeyed.

He hastened to the study of a white-haired priest of the church and made known his mission.

"Go to the Bible, my son. It is the book of books, the fountain head of information and the source of all human knowledge."

And the youthful reporter heeded the advice of the clerical. It was the story of the resurrection. It was given as it was written centuries and centuries agone.

That cub reporter became an editor. He traveled in many lands and he edited many newspapers and many times on Easter eve he told the tale of his early experience to cub reporters and they profited richly thereby. This morning the Record News carries as the foreword to the programs announced by the pastors of the churches of Wichita Falls the Bible narrative:

The Easter Story

And the women that were come with Him from Galilee, following after, saw the sepulchre, and how His body was laid. And returning, they prepared spices and ointments; and on the Sabbath day they rested, according to the commandment. And on the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came to the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared. And they found the stone rolled back from the sepulchre. And going in they found not the body of the Lord Jesus. And it came to pass, as they were astonished in their mind at this, behold two men stood by them, in shining apparel. And as they were afraid, and bowed their countenance towards the ground, they said unto them: Why seek you the living with the dead? He is not here, but is risen. Remember how He spoke to you, when He was yet in Galilee, saying: The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men and be crucified, and the third day rise again. And they remembered His words. And going back from the sepulchre, they told all these things to the eleven, and to all the rest. And it was Mary Magdalen, and Joanna, and Mary of James, and the other women that were with them, who told these things to the apostles.—St. Luke 23:55-56 24:1-10.

SCHENCK STEPS INTO COURT FOR HIS FIRST TIME

Interest Grows as Rumors Begin to Circulate

With District Attorney Schenck appearing for the first time, and several members of the jury asking to be excused from further service at their last session, reconvening of the special grand jury investigating the Ku Klux Klan will without doubt monopolize public interest Monday morning.

The element of interest in connection with the appearance of the district attorney comes as a result of rumors as to his attitude in connection with the apparent split between Judge Ed Napier, who summoned the grand jury, and of the district attorney's two assistants with the grand jury, County Attorney Fulton and Assistant District Attorney Holliday, and in connection with additional rumors as to his attitude toward a probe of klan affairs under the present circumstances in Wichita Falls.

Asked as to his attitude on the probe, and as to whether his visit had any connection with the differences believed to exist between judge and attorneys, Mr. Schenck had nothing to say last week beyond the fact that he would be present when the grand jury reconvened tomorrow.

Grand Jurors at Odds?

Request on the part of grand jurors to be excused from further service with the grand jury just before their adjournment last week leads to a prevailing belief that the grand jurors themselves are at odds over the probe, which had kept the grand jury in the public eye since its being called. The grand jury was inevitably cast for a place in the public eye since its very inception. Calling of a special grand jury in the 78th district court is of itself something of an event, for the statute provides for its being called only when the judge deems conditions at least unusual. The fact that Judge Napier called for a special grand jury.

ROADS'LL HAVE STONE SUPPORT

May Require Year to Build Shoulders

All the concrete roads in the county that have been completed or which are to be constructed under the present bond issues will have gravel or stone shoulders, County Engineer Isbell said Friday. Mr. Isbell says that he plans to have the shoulders built by the maintenance patrol which is now keeping the lake and Wichita-Wilbarger line road in repair.

He said that it might require over a year before all the shoulders could be graveled the maintenance patrol being only allowed to use their spare time in the work. The shoulders when completed, will be similar to those on the lake road built by Commissioner Jackson of Precinct 1.

Mr. Isbell said that he made arrangements to open a gravel pit on the Abernathy ranch two miles west of Iowa Park and that the material for the shoulders on the Wichita Falls-Wilbarger line road would be obtained there. The maintenance patrol has already completed about five miles of stone shoulders between Iowa Park and Electra. The stone was left when the central proportioning plant was removed following the completion of the road between those two towns.

The stone and gravel shoulders will increase the width and value of the concrete roads for traffic, Mr. Isbell said, and will also serve as a protection to the concrete surface.

In several places now the concrete surface is located on a fill with danger of washout unless the stone or gravel shoulders are constructed.

Prisoners Warned Not to Use Fruit For Dry Feeling

"You are welcome to the fruit, boys, but be darned sure that you cook it good and don't try any stewing which will lead to wildcat liquor," was the reply of Cass Tarver, jailer, when "state side" prisoners requested that he order them some fruit from the outside.

Investigation by Tarver following a free for all fight on the "state side" several weeks ago developed a unique and simple still in operation by the prisoners—the entire outfit representing an investment of no over 25 cents, and made almost entirely of seemingly useless articles which were obtained within the jail.

The general shake down which followed this discovery showed that the "county side" was not far behind—exhibiting the same ingenuity in the manufacture of choc beer under the supervision of certain inmates whose skill in that direction was largely responsible for their residence at the jail.

Rope 'Em Cowboy! Stars Rounded Up for Rodeo Here

At 2:30 on the afternoon of May 3rd, Fog Horn Clancy will take up a position in Athletic park about where the pitcher's box now is, and the voice that has announced special events from Mexico City to Calgary, Canada, from Sheepshead Bay Speedway, New York, to Ascot Park, Los Angeles, California, will declare the three-day round-up officially opened.

A blast from the traffic whistle, which Clancy always carries on such occasions, suspended from a silken cord around his neck and a long procession of trained cowponies, cowboys' favorite saddle mounts with a hundred or more mounted cowboys and cowgirls will wend their way in single file the entire length of the grand stand in the "grand entry." Men and women riders with a riot of bright colored silken shirts, broad brimmed sombreros, fancy big topped boots, clanking spurs and swirling lariats will compose this calvacade which will pass in review before the audience. Clancy will then introduce the three judges, who will have been selected to watch and record the work and trials of each of the one hundred or more contestants and upon whose shoulders will rest the responsibility of determining those winners who will draw down the $6,000.00 in cash prizes hung up for those who defeat all others in the many hazardous feats of horsemanship. He will then present the producer of the round-up, Tom L. Burnett, owner of the Tri-Angle ranch, where open house is always kept for any of the cowboy fraternity who happen along.

Tom L. Burnett is one of the keenest judges of horseflesh in the state, and as a stockman is known as a thorough business man, but he is wagering near twenty thousand dollars that the weather on May 3, 4 and 5 will be good and that the people will fill the grandstand and grounds to capacity, as that is what it will take to make Burnett break even on the venture. Up to the time Burnett is introduced everything will move as clockwork as a circus program in the middle of the season, but from there out while things will move fast enough, the famed Philadelphia lawyer would be at a loss to tell exactly just what thrills the program will hold or when they will occur.

Event No. 1—Fancy roping will be announced and the fireworks will be on; a dozen or more wielders of the Lariat will take up their position in the arena on horseback and while a score of riders dash by will cater the animals and riders in various difficult positions, never failing to cast a furtive glance at the three judges to see if these men are making the notes of their work which the roper hopes will draw down the big prize; they will then dismount, skip the loop and then throw the noose to catch the flying ponies, catching by one foot, by two feet, by all four feet, catching the horse with one rope and the rider with another at the same time; even catching a horse with a loop thrown deftly around the animal's tail as it speeds by.

Then will come the calf roping in which numerous expert lariat throwers, who have paid an entrance fee for a chance at matching their skill against the best ropers of the country in an effort to win one of the largest calf roping purses ever offered in the Southwest, will dash out upon their well trained rope horses

SPANISH TREND IN NEW FADS

By ELOISE.

If one has a fad or a unique style idea Palm Beach is a pretty good place to launch it, for costume accessories having won their popularity there will scatter broadcast at the end of the season and east, west and north will be wearing the thing on which the south set its seal of approval. According to the latest word from dances held at Palm Beach, the girdle and the scarf are the popular fads of the moment. The two black scarfs and the twisted girdle shown here are good proof of it.

Just when so many of the newer gowns are trying to hang straight from the shoulder without the sign of a waistline it seems strange that Palm Beach should fancy girdles. The novel one shown here is made of silver cloth twisted into a thick rope and showing the long straggling hairs of monkey fur here and there in strange contrast. In this instance the girdle is worn on an all-lace gown.

The two scarfs shown are decidedly Spanish. Heavy black silk fashions one and it is stenciled with silver and outlined with dull beads. The other is a black lace scarf embroidered in black sequins. Black is the most favored color for scarfs and the black scarf is worn with every kind of frock, even the frilly white ones. These black scarfs are particularly effective when worn on the new bright colored taffeta dance frocks of the spring season.

The attractive little theater at the library where the Players gave their performances assumed the appearance for the events of an Easter festivity with decorations consisting of baskets of Easter lillies on either side of the stage, and on the backs of each chair, a pretty Easter favor, a gay little nest filled with Easter bon bons, designed by Mrs. G. L. Shapard.

MAY M'AVOY AS BABY CUPID

"Virginia Courtship" At Empress

When we first saw lovely little May McAvoy on the screen we said to ourselves "Here is a great emotional actress." But with every new production, this gifted young artiste is proving not only a strong emotional actress, but a clever little ingenue and comedienne as well.

In "A Virginia Courtship" which opens at the Empress Monday, Miss McAvoy has opportunity to display her versatility, and she has not neglected it.

We first see Prue, the little heroine of this charming romance of Dixieland, in her flapper days, and a most unusual flapper she is, a kind of artless little white Topsy, running wild over a seedy Southern estate and driving her gentle guardians, bachelor Colonel Fairfax and his elderly sister, Miss Betty, almost to distraction.

Then the Colonel's nephew arrives on the scene, and the flapper's rebellious little heart is touched. She decides to grow up, even if it does mean putting on shoes and stockings in the most depressing adult fashion.

Mistress Prue decides to lend a hand to Fate or Cupid and consummate the thwarted love affairs of the Colonel, who had quarreled with his youthful sweetheart, and of Miss Betty who had sworn to stick by her brother until he married.

Of course, the amateur matchmaker has a few heart affairs of her own, and thrills are injected into the plot by the fact that one suitor for the girl's hand is a clever counterfeiter wanted by government agents.

A splendid company, headed by Casson Ferguson as leading man, supports the star in this delightful revival of a famous stage hit of two decades ago. Alec B. Francis makes the old Colonel a lovable figure, Jane Keckley plays his sister, and beautiful Kathlyn Williams is the sweetheart of the Colonel's. Richard Tucker, Guy Oliver and others complete the cast.

WES' REMINDS OF SCHOOL DAYS

Olympic Presents "Freckled Kid"

Did you ever play hookey from school?

Wesley Barry, the freckle-faced movie star, plays hookey more than once in the Gus Edwards' screen play, "School Days" which comes to the Olympic Theatre during the week of Thursday. And in playing hookey Wes' is said to lay the foundation for a story that will appeal to every human being who has experienced the thrills, the pranks and the many disappointments of boyhood.

For little Wesley, as the untamable and irresponsible Speck Brown, loves the old swimmin' hole and his dog, "Hippy" more than all the wealth and education in the world. But he chances to meet a wealthy uncle who induces him to pursue an education among the juvenile highbrows in the East. In his new surroundings he tries to be chummy. He also tries to put over an invention perfected by his old friend, Leff, called "You Can't Lose It Clothes-Pin." He finds himself duped by a pair of clever swindlers.

Disgusted with the artificial existence of his wealthy schoolmates, keenly disappointed by his failure to put over the invention, Wes' longs for the old swimmin' pool and his dog. In the wee small hours of the morning he runs away from his palatial residence, boards a freight train and finally arrives safely back in his old haunts. Once more he is happy, for he not only has his dog, but also his little sweetheart and he can roam at will through nature's playground.

Prominent members of the cast supporting Wes' include Francis X. Conlan, as old Leff, Arline Blackburn, as Wes' sweetheart, Margaret Seddon, as the teacher, George Lessey, as the stern guardian and J. H. Gilmore as the wealthy stranger. The picture was produced by Harry Rapf, and directed by William Nigh.

LYTELL SCORES GREAT TRIUMPH

Gem Will Present "The Man Who"

Those sunny thoroughfares of Jacksonville, Fla., felt very soothing to the bare feet of Bert Lytell after the cold of New York, when the star and his company in "The Man Who," a Maxwell Karger production for Metro showing at the Gem Theater Monday, went on location in the Southern city.

With the blizzard weather that hit New York, making it impossible to shoot a number of the exterior scnes for this screen version of the story of Lloyd Osborne, as published in the Saturday Evening Post, the company left for Jacksonville.

The advent of the Metro company aroused widespread intercst in the Southern city. So dense was the crowd of curious around the apartment houses in an exclusive residential section of the city where some pictures were taken that in spite of the early morning hour when the company went to work Director Karger had to enlist the aid of the police to make his shots.

SEAWAY FIGHT ON

Special to The Record News.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Opponents and proponents of the Great Lakes St. Lawrence seaway project have started firing their big guns in an effort to line up the country one way or the other.

Congressman S. Wallace Dempsey, house leader of the anti-seaway forces has made an excursion into New England, addressing the Massachusetts chamber of commerce at Boston against the proposal. Into the same territory within a couple of weeks will go Senator Irvene L. Lenroot of Wisconsin, leader of the pro-seaway forces.

BRILLIANT ARRAY OF STARS HAVE ROLES IN DRAMA 'FOREVER'

Embracing in its cast two notable screen stars like Elsie Ferguson and Wallace Reid, it is to be expected that "Forever," which comes to the Olympic Monday, a George Fitzmaurice Paramount picture, in which these artists are co-stars, shall score emphatically. The scenes of this meritorious production are laid in Europe and tell a dramatic story. "Forever" is one of the big pictures of the decade.

The work of Miss Ferguson and Mr. Reid is, as usual, artistic and praiseworthy. The two stars are capitally cast in the roles of the Duchess of Towers and Peter Ibbetson respectively, and they are competently supported by such players as George Fawcett, Elliott Dexter, Lontagu Love, Dolores Cassinelli, Paul McAllister and Barbara Dean. The production is massive and in every respect delightful.

WILSON'S LIFE RIVALS MOVIES

Many a Thrill in Electran's Career

"Reads like fiction" has come to be an exceedingly trite expression when applied to an unusual career, but Wichita county in the person of Justice Ed C. Wilson of Electra.

Of small stature and right on the eve of his 80th birthday this Electran whose career includes four years of distinguished service in the confederate army is active, alert, walks without a cane, and uses glasses only for reading purposes. He has served as justice of the peace at Electra since November, 1920. His efficiency is attested by the complimentary report rendered on his court by the special investigator who surveyed Wichita county courts for the Wichita County Citizens' association.

Born in New Orleans, July 10, 1842.

Graduated New Orleans high school at 13.

Entered Louisiana Military school at 14.

in pursuit of the wild and fleetfooted Baby Bovines, a swish of the lariat, the calf is caught, the roper dismounts and after a short but desperate struggle the roper ties the animal in jig time and returns to the corral with visions of honors and money, or he misses the throw and has nought to console him except the fact that he tried and lost. The stakes in this event are high and likewise the entrance fee. It will cost any roper a $30.00 entrance fee to try his skill at calf roping at the Round-Up. Tom Burnett does not keep the entrance fee; it is added to the already large purse, but he does not believe in boring his audiences with mediocre ropers and has arranged a condition that will attract only the best.

Next, the Cowgirl brone riding, in which a half dozen young women of the Range clan, will mount fiery mustangs; ride them out amid the applause of the multitudes or be thrown from mounts dashed to earth while the spectators hold their breath, and while the audience may offer sympathy to the fallen or maimed cowgirl, who is unable to retain her seat upon the bucking cayuse, the watchful eyes of the judges will see it only according to rules and while their own big hearts may go out in sympathy to the unlucky one, their pencils will mark "no score." Then perhaps, some special, or fill in feature like Red Sublett, riding a bucking horse backward, will take place, while Bryan Roach and Hugh Strickland, arena directors, with the many wranglers at their command, will coax or drive the Mexican Longhorns into their positions in the chutes where they can be quickly liberated for the bulldoggers.

No need for any seats in the grandstand during this event, Bulldogging always brings them to their feet to see a cowboy on a flying mount chase a wild and vicious Longhorn, make a flying leap from the saddle, do a spread agle and while in this position grasp the horns of the steer, bring him to a stop and barehanded wrestle the animal to earth, is a sight that will long live in the memory of those who witness it, and there will be dozens of those fearless bulldoggers, each striving with might and main to win the capital prize in this event.

Then the trick riding; there will be two classes, one for the cowgirls and one for the cowboys, but on account of the crowded program the two classes will be thrown together with only the judges separating them on their books. They will ride in all positions; vaulting from one side of the animal to the other, leaving the saddle and going around under the steed's neck, while the hoof beats of the animal make music for their maneuvers, even leaving the saddle, going down on one side of the horse, going underneath the animal's body, while the flying hoofs graze the body and regain the saddle from the other side, having encircled the animal's body without touching the ground.

Then will follow the championship bucking contest, where the pick of western bronco busters will attempt to ride the best of the large string of outlaw bucking demons that were used at the great Cheyenne (Wyo.) Frontier Days' Contest last year, and which are known as the greatest bucking horses in the world. These riders will ride under the strictest rules ever made up for a contest and will ride with a type of saddle similar to the old fashioned cowboy stock saddle; they will have no advantage over the buckers and it will be only the very best riders who will be able to go through the gruelling contest without being bucked off.

There will be other features and events galore, but the climax will be reached in the last stanza when Tom Burnett's vicious bucking Brahma steers are turned loose with riders upon their backs. It is impossible to describe the bucking prowess of these Brahmas, their viciousness, or their wildness. Mr. Burnett personally picked them from more than 1,000 head of the famous Boothe herd of wild Brahmas, and is sure that he has 40 head of the greatest bucking demons on earth; anyone who could conquer one of this herd should be able to make childs play of lion taming. It's sure to be a real old time western gathering, this roundup, May 3, 4, and 5—So "Let'er Buck."

amount of money could invest, etc. His project was handled by an advisory board consisting of five members, who passed on all applicati ns for land.

Pass On Applicants.

"Each applicant, before being passed on, was required to agree to work the land according to recommendations made by the State Engineer and such other state officials as were in authority. This method of irrigation was copied after the system which is used in European countries, such as Denmark and Holland, together with the Victorian government of Australia. Irrigation in these countries was a failure until the respective governments stepped in and conducted the work upon a scientific basis, selling lands at actual cost to the settlers.

"In a up state, possibly the S. A. & A. P. Ry. Co., is the only company which has interested itself in the real welfare of the incoming settlers by getting some of the large land holders along their lines to subdivide their lands. The plan is as follows:

"To subdivide the land into 80-acre tracts; if timbered, to grub 40 acres of it; to fence it and to build a four or five-room modern house, together with all necessary farm outbuildings, and to provide for water. The land is sold for about one-fifth cash, balance twenty years, giving the buyer the benefit of information on the following subjects:

"Better handling of soils. Better adaptation of crops to varying soils. Growing more soil enriching crops. Standardizing seeds. Better seed selection. Establishing permanent pastures. Growing more crops that do not require cultivation. Promoting co-operative and other marketing associations. Forming development associations to aid new farmers. Helping secure long time low rate loans.

"In a word, our policy is to do all possible to promote more and better farming, and to secure more and better farmers. It is a pleasure to acknowledge the kindly co-operation we have had from the A. & M. College, the A. & M. Extension Service, the State Department of Agriculture, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the Federal Land Bank, Newspapers, Farm Journals, County Agents, Banks, Land Owners and citizens generally in this work."

rather than for the grand jury which had been recently held in the 30th district court, and which had been attacked on the grounds of alleged domination by the Ku Klux Klan, lead at once to the opinion that one of its principal duties would be a klan probe. Instructions for the probe of the klan made up a considerable portion of the judge's charge to the jury.

The jury ground away for several days, and the public was about to lose sight of it in spite of the attention given to anything which affects the Ku Klux Klan in any way, when interest was re-aroused with a jerk, when it reported to the court that three witnesses had refused to answer questions in connection with the organization.

A sensational hearing on contempt proceedings followed on last Saturday morning, when attorneys for the three respondents to the contempt proceedings attacked the jury on the grounds that the sheriff had acted corruptly in summoning it, and with the introduction of testimony in which they attempted to show a political angle to the impanelling and selection of the grand jury. This testimony was featured by the testimony of Police Commissioner Fitts and Former Mayor Marlow and others, in which an effort was made to show that the former mayor had a hand in the selection of the grand jury and attempted to hold threatened action by that body over Fitts in a political connection.

The hearing was followed by the ruling by the court which sustained the legality of the grand jury and the ordering of the three respondents to jail until they would answer questions, in addition to a $100 fine for contempt. They were released a few hours later on $500 bonds following application for writs of habeus corpus before the court of criminal appeals at Austin.

Lecturer Adds Interest

In the same afternoon Police Commissioner Fitts was called back by the grand jury and asked concerning membership in the klan. It was later reported to the court that the city official had refused to answer questions as to former membership in the organization. The court reserved judgment on the point until Monday.

Sunday the interest in the affair was carried over by a lecure on the klan and its purposes by J. G. Camp, field lectures, who spoke to a theater full of people on the purposes of the klan. He was introduced by a Wichita county preacher, according to report.

Camp was summoned before the grand jury Monday, but was released after a session of about an hour.

Will Fitts Be Called?

Police Commissioner Fitts was told when he reported Monday that he would be sent for if wanted again, his case evidently being ruled as on a different status as that of the other three questioned.

The application of members of the grand jury to be relieved of further duty on the next afternoon followed, to be followed in turn by the adjurnment until Monday.

Wednesday and Thursday the appeal of the three respondents sentenced was argued before the court of criminal appeals. Judge Napier had previously appointed Judge John C. Kay and Tom F. Hunter, local attorneys, as special counsel to represent the state in the case, and Attorney Hunter appeared for the argument. The state's contentions followed those of the state in the famous Austin case, while the defendants plead that inasmuch as there was no crime alleged in Wichita county in connection with investigation of the klan, questions as to their membership were immaterial. These lewsy were also held by the states' attorneys who were with the grand jury, it was brought out at the preceding Saturday's hearing.

Two More Cylinders Make a World of Difference

You notice it when the Light-Six slows down to a snail's gait in traffic. You notice it when the open highway ahead invites the throttle. You notice it in the greater, responsiveness, the greater flexibility, the greater smoothness and in the absence of vibration.

If you have been accustomed to driving a "four" the responsiveness of the Light-Six will be a revelation. If you are now driving another six-cylinder car, the lack of vibration and perfect balance of this Light-Six will create new standards of riding comfort.

The SIGN OF A USED CARS OF KNOWN VALUE RELIABLE DEALER

What Is a Used Car?

EVERYBODY'S car is a USED car. Did you ever think of it in that way?

Most of the cars you have admired have been USED cars—those that have passed you in the streets and highways—those you have seen parked throughout the city—those you have ridden in with friends!

Many of them you would have liked to own. You would have been proud—satisfied—and confident of the service and value in these USED cars.

Did you ever stop to think that some reliable automobile dealer may have on his floor, waiting for you, the very car you have seen in service, and admired?

And at a remarkably low price?

That VERY car may be there ready for you. It is a USED car, of course, but it was a USED car when you first saw and liked it!

Why not look around through the salesrooms of the reliable automobile dealers, listed below, and know first-hand what remarkable values they are offering in USED cars?

When a car owner sells his automobile, he always sacrifices something beyond the actual material value of that car. The mere fact that a car has been in service discounts its sales value out of proportion to the actual depreciation in the car itself.

Merely because it HAS been used it sells for less than it is actually worth.

The tangible value is there just the same—but human nature expects and GETS a certain discount in price just because the car can not be said to be NEW.

Some of the greatest values in motor cars today exist in these USED cars.

But you can be sure of these values only by dealing with an established, reliable automobile dealer—and not merely a second-hand dealer or trader.

The established automobile dealer acquires USED cars as a part of his regular business of selling NEW cars. These USED cars are, therefore, not bought to be sold at a profit. They are cars of real merit, or these dealers would not have them.

The dealers listed below are established, reputable and reliable automobile dealers. The USED cars which they offer can be depended upon. The values are exceptional—and the prices are low.

These reliable dealers display the symbol shown at the top of this page—your assurance of "Used Cars of Known Value." Call on these dealers—see what they have to offer—and know their prices. You will be agreeably surprised.

Possibility of New Producing Area in Young Week's Feature

NEW WELL ON STEPHENS LINE

Gulf's First Real Deep Test in Co.

Possibilities of the development of a large producing area of the deep lime, as forecast in the Ralco's Roark well, of two weeks ago, and the Gulf Production's Carmack well, just now being completed, with a two and a half mile stretch of territory between, have been the outstanding feature of the week's events in the North Texas oil country. This newest deep producer in Young county is close to the Stephens county line, and is the Gulf Production's first really deep test in the county.

Saturday, after the well had been deepened only six inches, the flow was better than 400 barrels, with heavy gas pressure. Drilling was stopped Friday night, Saturday the plans were to drill deeper a few inches at a time.

Wildcat Testing Lime.

Another development of more than usual interest for the week was found in the Casey Mercier's No. 1 Jeffrey, four miles north of Graham, and twelve miles or more from any production. This test, which has been working on a lime around 4,000 feet for some time, is reported finally in a condition to test, with the best chances so far noticed for a producer. A producer, regardless of the size, in this, the wildest wildcat in Young county, would add materially to the prospects for a widespread drilling campaign for the deeper lime.

From a third deep test, also some distance from deep production, there are reports of interest, the Panhandle Refining Company's No. 4 McCluskey, deepened from a 2100 foot producer, is making seven million feet of gas, from a lime at 3,400 feet.

Still a fourth deep test, this one between the South Bend producers and the Bunger pool, is the Rhodes Drilling Company's No. 1 Rowe making better than a million feet of gas and spraying some oil at 3460 feet.

One Lime Producer.

The North American Oil and Refining Company's No. 1 Scott-Smith is the only real producer in the 3,500 foot lime, with it's flush production of better than 2,500 barrels, but it is interesting to note that there have been oil and gas showings encountered in every test drilled to 3,000 feet or below in this. These showings in the widely separated tests give rise to the belief that somewhere a real pool will be encountred, covering, in all probability, as is the usual nature of deep lime production a considerable area.

In the 1900 foot Bunger sand the Mutual Oil Operators No. 1 Whittenberg is a 125 barrel completion.

Another nice shallow completion, this one in the South Bend pool, is the North American Oil and Refining Company's No. 7 Scott, flowing better than 200 barrels, sand at 1850 feet.

The Eureka Producing Company's gas well, drilled in last week, slightly under 3,500 feet, is now shut down.

Bunger Drilling.

Several new locations have already been made around the Gulf's Carmack well, and between this and the Roark well. The MacKenzie Oil Company has made location for No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3 Greenwood. The Ralco company has three new locations on the Roark; the Texas Company's No. 1 Jake Jones is an offset to the Roark discovery well, the Union Oil Company and the Sun Company have made locations on the Whittenberg, and the Roxana Petroleum Company has already made two locations.

Back in the older part of the pool there is the usual activity. The Gulf Production Company's No. 3 Driver around 2,000 feet.

The No. 2 Lisle of the Gulf is drilling around 1780 feet, and the No. 5 Grimshaw is drilling around 2080 feet.

The No. 2 Whittenberg of Mann and Asheraft is drilling around 1800 feet and the No. 3 is spudded in.

The Union Oil Company's No. 1 Whittenberg is drilling around 1395 feet, the No. 1 Parsons drilling around 2390 feet and the No. 1 Lynn drilling around 740 feet.

The No. 1 Askew of the Monroe Production Company is drilling at 1475 feet an dthe No. 2 is a rig.

The No. 1 Parsons of the Humble Oil and Refining Company is drilling around 1475 feet.

The Detroit-Mexia No. 2 Lynn is drilling around 500 feet.

The Tyrell et al No. 1 Williams, on an offset lease to the Mahlstadt Mook 1700 foot producer, three miles east of Bunger, is drilling around 1770 feet.

The Fred B. Foster No. 1 Durham is reported drilling around 550 feet, and the No. 1 Mehaney is a rig.

The Harry Byrens No. 1 Mehaney is drilling around 2735 feet.

The Sun Company's No. 11 and 12 Owens are new rigs.

Burton et al No. 3 Whittenberg is drilling around 1475 feet.

The No. 5 Owens of the Pomona Mutual Oil Company is drilling at 1,000 feet.

Damage Done by Storm in Electra Field Delays Wells That Should Have Been Completions by Today

The greater part of the week in the Electra field has been spent in repairing damage to derricks and rigs, resulting from the cyclone of last Saturday and the high winds of the first of the week. On several leases this delay has held up wells that should have been completed this week.

Practically the only development outside proven pools came from the South Burkburnett shallow, where the Stumpf Oil Company got the 1300 foot sand in the No. 1 Fowler, northwest of the 1300 foot producers and southwest of the new Laning and Moninger pool, where the discovery well was in the 1200 foot sand.

The Stumpf well drilled the sand at 1347 feet, and is now preparing to complete, with the showing indicating nice production, according to reports from the field. It was about 2,000 feet west of this test that the No. 1 Fowler of Bissonet et al last year got fair showings, but failed to make a producer.

Testing New Shallow Sand.

On the southeast edge of the Texhoma shallow field, south of these new detelopments, the Dow No. 1 Horton is testing out a good looking 600 foot sand, according to reports from the field. The Horton test is a half mile from production at any depth.

The Hill and Jones on the Murdock and Haskell interests on the Fowler are new tests in the Laning and Moninger pool, recently started. The No. 3 Lease 1 Cropper of Laning and Moninger, has finished setting the 5 3-16, and is rigging up a star to drill in the 1200 foot sand. The No. 4 this lease is ready to start drilling.

The Laning and Moninger No. 1 Dodson (30 acres) is drilling around 1300 fet, in lime. The Conner and Markham test, east of the discovery well, is reported also drilling in the 1300 foot lime.

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company's No. 1 R. E. Moore, some distance east of the field, is reported drilling around 1700 feet. A dry sand was encountered here around 1650 feet.

Fowlkes Pool.

Four new wells for the Fowlkes pool should be brought in this week, according to present indications, the T. F. Hunter No. 1 lease 2, the Sooner and a couple of Magnolia Duke tests being reported in various stages of completion.

MRS. FAVER HOST TO LITTLE PEOPLE

Special to the Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, April 15.—On Saturday, April 8, Mrs. R. A. Faver entertained a merry crowd of little folks in honor of the eighth birthday of her little daughter, Nancy Elizabeth.

The little honoree welcomed her friends as they entered and each child presented her with a much appreciated gift. All the children got as much happiness over the opening of the gifts as did Nancy herself; and the house was filled with childish laughter. After the guests had assembled they first played singing games, accompanied by the Little Bubble records played on the Grafonola—such games as "Farmer in the Dell," "Lazy Mary," "Miss Jennie Jones," etc. After this, they trooped joyfully out of doors to swing, ride the tricycles, and kiddie kars, and to play other jolly out-door games of which "Fox and Geese" and "Bird Catcher" proved most popular.

The games came to an abrupt end when they espied Gerald Vinson coming from town carrying two paper buckets with the words "ice cream" on them. All the children were called in and each received a cone of ice cream which always makes a child happy.

The eight candles on the pink and white birthday cake were lit and blown out by the honoree, and each child was served a slice of cake. After this more games were played until time to go home. Each guest declared he had had a jolly good time, and each wished Nancy many happy birthdays.

Those present were: LaFrances Johnson, Christine Boase, Martha Jane McCutcheon, Velta Camp, Nedra Berry, Thelma Jean Armstrong, Ruby Lowrey, Nancy Faver, Ted Harwell, Billy and Fred Dixon, William Audrey Smith, George Davis, Thomas Lowery, Billy and Jack Faver, Mesdames F. M. McCutcheon, H. M. Armstrong and R. A. Faver.

Permit to Use Suction Pump Is Filed Here

The first request for a permit to use suction pumps in the operation of oil wells filed in the state since the amendment to rule 40, of the oil and gas division of the state railroad commission, several months ago, has been filed from this county, according to information received Saturday by T. L. Coplin in charge of the local commission office. The rule prohibits the use of suction pumps except in fields which are depleted.

The Developers Oil and Gas company of this city has filed the petition, according to information received here from the state commission. The company in its petition says that the Petrolia field is depleted and that further operation requires the use of suction pumps.

The Texas company, which has a lease offsetting the Developers company lease, has been notified of the request of the latter company but joins with it in asking that suction pumps be permitted. The railroad commission has set Wednesday, April 26, as the date for the hearing at Austin and requests operators in the Petrolia field to attend, as the order of the commission will affect the entire field.

The order of the commission announced several months ago forbids the use of vacuums in pools except when they become "depleted," and then only with the permission of the commission which would determine the amount of vacuum to be used.

Jerry on the Job

Does the "Waiting at the Church" Epidemic Mean that Love is Going Bankrupt?

Never Before Have Broken Engagements from "Nervous Prostration" Become as Common as Divorces, and Society and Science Seek to Discover Whether New Conditions Have Made Young Folk Too Advanced for the "Old-Fashioned" Betrothal and Marriage.

Mary Landon Baker of Chicago and Her Fiance, Allister McCormick, Who Actually Kept Guests Waiting at the Church. Report Now Says They'll Marry—in London!

By Betty Van Benthuysen

THERE is an awful lot of nervous prostrations in society nowadays, girls.

Honest, it is getting to be a problem!

Almost every day one picks up the current mail and finds therein a card saying that "Mr. and Mrs. Upperten regret to announce" that the wedding of their daughter, or son, is not going to take place on scheduled time.

Reason: Nervous prostration!

It used to be the case that "Waiting at the Church" was only the topic of an imaginative song. Now it is a reality.

Whereas one used to have to wait until they had been married at least a few years before the tidings of a rift arrived, nowadays the break has been advanced to the engagement period and broken engagements, or deferred marriages, have become almost as common as divorces.

What is wrong with the boys and girls of the new order?

Students of the race say that nothing is wrong; that they are merely getting right. The new freedom of women, the privilege of sharing sports with sweethearts and brothers, the mutual privilege of the cigarette age, and the fact that young folk know so much more about the personal habits and characters of one another are all charged with the flood of interrupted weddings.

Once upon a time a young woman was told that Jack was all right, and so far as she knew, he was all right. But now she goes to the same riding school, the same golf course and the same country club, and she gets a line on him from personal observation and conversation with their own sets that was not possible in the old, restricted days. And, by the same token, he knows about her in a way that never came over the spirit of the dreams of his father in his courting days.

"Mr. and Mrs. Noah C. Rogers regret that owing to the illness of Mr. Paul B. Tubby they have postponed the marriage of their daughter, Miss Grace B. Rogers, and have recalled invitations for Saturday, February 18."

That is the wording of a recent announcement.

Current announcement from the home of Mr. Tubby said that he was "suffering from nervous breakdown," and that the illness "was not serious." The perfunctory addition was made to the record that "no future date had been set for the ceremony."

That is but a sample.

A more notable instance came in the case of Miss Mary Millicent Rogers, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Henry H. Rogers, and favorite grand-daughter of the late H. H. Rogers of Standard Oil fame. The grandfather cherished the girl beyond words and left a trust fund said to be worth $20,000,000 to insure her welfare. The fund was left subject to the release of her own father, however, and she was not the mistress of her own destiny.

If she had been, maybe her engagement to James Thompson, a young New Yorker, would never have been broken. When Miss Mary came home with the announcement that she had accepted young Thompson, the idea did not make any particular hit with her family, and particularly with Mrs. Rogers.

Match Off by "Mutual Consent"

At first the mother seemed to fall in with the plan and insisted upon taking her daughter over to Paris to buy out the shops where they kept pretty things for pretty brides.

And so they went up and down the rue de la Paix. Then mother planned a trip to Egypt, and filled the hours of the daughter with so many pleasures that she had no trouble in persuading her that there was much to be seen and enjoyed outside of Long Island.

The result was the announcement that the match was off "by mutual consent."

Equally striking was the cancellation of the engagement of Whitney Warren, Jr., to Geraldine Graham. Young Warren belongs to an old New York family, as well known in France as it is in America. The father, an architect of great wealth, has been decorated by the Belgian government for his activities during the war. Among the social lights who make Paris their Mecca he is always prominent.

Miss Graham inherited great beauty. Her mother is Mrs. William Miller Graham. She was reared in a small Kentucky town and went to Philadelphia when a mere girl, where she met Graham, then a poor man with a dream. The dream was of oil. He moved to the far West and there the dream came true. With it came millions. The success of the dreamer brought along social prominence for his wife. She went abroad where the then Prince of Wales, later King Edward VII., pronounced her "the most beautiful American" of his time.

Mystery Never Solved

The present Prince of Wales, without knowing of the selection made by his grandfather, singled out Geraldine Graham when he visited California as a dancing partner, and insisted that she was "the most beautiful woman" in all America.

Young Warren was engaged to marry the beauty. Society expected that the wedding would take place on scheduled time. But something happened and the engagement was called off.

Society never discovered why the engagement was broken.

Consider, also, the case of young Allister McCormick, who belongs to the Chicago family whose ramifications have had so much place in the current news. He is young, rich and considered a desirable person. One fine afternoon in Chicago, his father and mother, to say nothing of the relatives and friends who had been invited, gathered in a church waiting for his marriage to Miss Mary Landon Baker.

In an ante-room the young man waited with his best man. The minister was on hand to tie the knot. License and ring were in their proper places. As the time drew near for the ceremony the young man and his best man began glancing nervously at their respective watches. The minutes ticked away rapidly. No sign of the bride.

An hour went by, and then the guests were informed that she was ill of nervous prostration and would not arrive. The wedding was postponed "indefinitely." Shortly thereafter, the young man went to New York and took passage for England. Since his sailing it has been announced that the marriage will take place in London, whither Miss Baker will soon go.

A much more pronounced case of nervous prostration came in the instance of John P. Cudahy, son of one of the most prominent of the early packers and bankers of the City by the Lake. Invitations had been sent to notables all over the country to his wedding at Los Angeles, Cal., to Miss Louise Chenier Francis. She is related to many of the elite of New England, and is a leader of her set at St. Louis.

The Eastern guests had already taken passage for the long journey out to the coast. The bride-to-be and her mother journeyed from St. Louis to Los Angeles and then went to Santa Monica, where the wedding was due to take place. When the day for the ceremony came the prospective husband was nowhere to be found.

They searched for him in every possible place without success. Messengers and telegrams were dispatched. They got no result. The young woman and her mother quietly packed the trousseau and went their way.

Days later friends reported that they had located Cudahy in a sanitarium where he had been operated on for appendicitis. But there was a report of an interview in which the question of finances was discussed between the father of Miss Francis and the prospective bridegroom.

And Anna Fitziu, American beauty and opera singer, furnishes another recent instance of broken engagement epidemic. She had been engaged for years to Andres de Segurola, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Friends were counting much on the event when the prospective bride naively announced that she wasn't going to get married after all. She hinted that differences of temperaments due to nationalities had something to do with it.

A hundred other instances have been chronicled in which young folk of this day and generation have found the pathway to the altar blocked, and it is becoming almost as great a question concerning the difficulty of staying engaged as that of staying married.

Science and society are both seeking the reason.

Up to this time they have been content, apparently, to permit Nervous Prostration to take the lion's share of the blame, and, with the full facts, so far as the public knows them, in hand, the friend of the young must needs caution engaged couples—

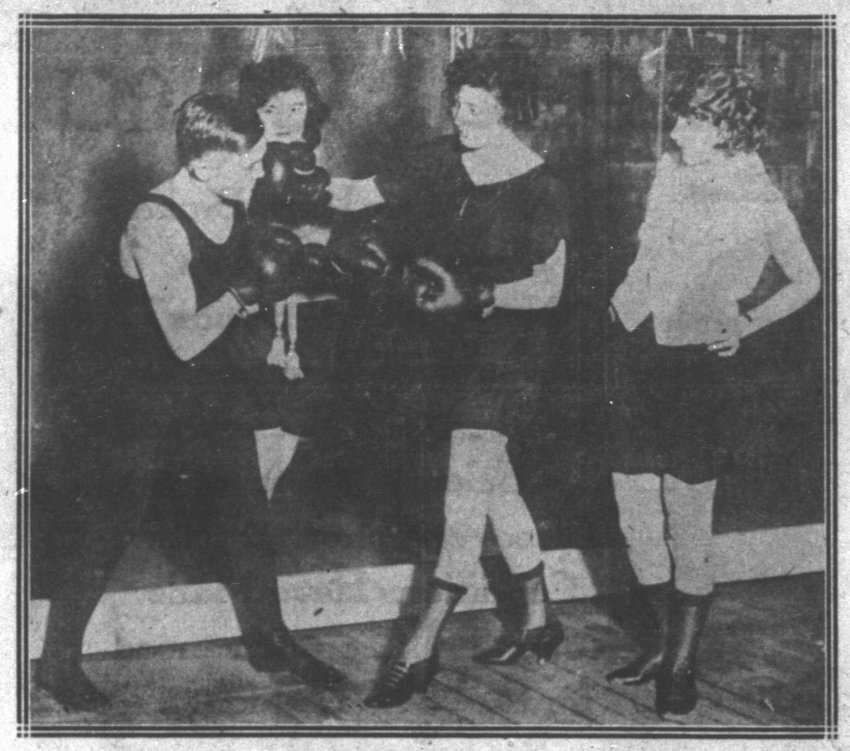

Have a care as to your nerves!

RAILWAYS AND THEIR EARNINGS.

Rail magnates should feel encouraged. During the month of February the railroads earned 4.57 per cent on their very high tentative valuations, the highest rate of return in more than 18 months. They showed a profit of $47,762,600 as compared with a deficit of more than five million in February, 1921. Roads in the Eastern district earned an average of 7.17 per cent. Why growl about a rotten business? Here is another straw. Car loadings for the week ended March 25 totaled 846,035 an increase of 22,666 and the increase in number laden compared with the total a year ago is 159,468. Wise men say that figures never lie. As a matter of fact the saying is bunk but the interstate commerce commission keeps tab on the number of busy cars and the number of idle cars and there is no reason why the figures given should not be accurate.

TEXAS CROP VALUES.

Texas crop values dropped half in value in 1921 but the state holds the lead. This is the showing made by E. M. Johnson in the Texas Commercial News, "The Texas has maintained its rank of first place among the states in the total production of all crops for 1921 it has nevertheless fallen in actual values to but 59.7 per cent of the valuation for 1920 or a decline of 40.3 per cent and a decline of 60.4 per cent as compared to valuation in 1919." The census value of all Texas crops for 1919 was $1,071,527,000; for 1920, $711,175,000; for 1921, $424,471,000. Texas leads in the production and valuation of cotton and grain sorghums, is the fourth state in acreage of corn and third in valuation.

MEN ARE DRIFTERS.

Governor Scott C. Bone of Alaska is a newspaper men. He visited the States recently and made the interesting announcement that the standard of law and order in Alaska is as high as elsewhere and that as a business proposition the people of Alaska have come to the conclusion that the toleration of gaming houses and brothels did not pay. Alaska made the discovery when the military dry law came in. They made it the second time when the Eighteenth Amendment became operative in all states and territories of the Federal Union and they knew it was a fact when violators of the Volstead act were haled into federal courts, convicted by juries and given the limit for their transgression. Drastic laws make many men decent. Without the law there are many human atoms who drift the easiest way.

WHY NOT MEXICO?

Mexico owes a foreign debt of $500,000,000. American Titans who play the petroleum game in Mexico have concessions covering millions of acres of undeveloped oil lands. Now why shouldn't these billionaires help Mexico to pay its foreign debt and why shouldn't Mexico establish a magnificent system of schools supported by the export taxes on the hundreds of millions of barrels of petroleum which are produced and shipped every year to American and European ports? Mexico is a weak nation and yet the undeveloped wealth of Mexico and its natural resources should place the Aztec Republic in the not distant future among the foremost of the smaller nations of the earth.

In March the Mexia peak production was 180,000 barrels; on April 3 the Mexia production was 129,033 barrels. Why the slump?

MELTING POT OF NATIONS.

Greater New York is a wonderful city. The leading foreign elements in 1920, according to census reports follow: Russia, 994,356, Italy, 802,893; Ireland, 637,544; Austria-Hungary, 603,167; Germany, 593,199. In the ten years the Spanish increased 180 per cent; the Greeks increased 200 per cent; the French increase was 40 per cent. Immigrants are not coming in great numbers from the British Isles, Holland or the Scandinavian countries. According to the government reports for 1921 prohibition and labor strikes and other causes led thousands of foreigners to return to their native lands. In fact the outgoing tide was almost as large as the inflow.

A SWIFT WORKER.

Colonel Carmi Thompson is slated as the Republican candidate for governor of Ohio. He is the friend of President Harding, a millionaire, a self-made man and has been prominent in the affairs of the Buckeye state for many years. He didn't begin at the top of the ladder. He began at the lowest rung. From a trapper boy in an Ohio coal mine to leadership in business and political affairs is the record he has made. His father was a coal miner and the son earned the money working in the mine to pay his way through college. He was a soldier in the Spanish-American war. He studied law and became a successful lawyer. He became a manufacturer and amassed a fortune. It is a long jump from a breaker boy in a coal mine to the top of the ladder but Carmi Thompson must be a fast worker. It is a cinch that he never kept his eye on the clock and if he had to work eighteen hours a day to get away with it, he worked.

WHY CRUSH INSECTS?

If the people of a district send a man of their choice to Austin or to Washington it is their fight as well as their funeral if he falls down on them. There should be no expulsion on the part of the colleagues of the offending member. Why crush insects with pile drivers? The district that elected him deserves him and should not be let off from its punishment. A lawmaker is just as strong or just as weak as the electorate responsible for him.

A GOLD SLUMP.

A decline of more than a million ounces in the world's production of gold in 1921 compared with the output in 1920 is indicated by estimates received by the Bankers Trust Company. This makes an opening for Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison to come again with their proposition for a money standard based on the wealth and the energy of the nation. They launched their financial scheme some months ago but the bankers and the college professors killed it almost before it had opened its eyes. A Wisconsin college professor declared that Edison was bordering on senility but he apologized later after his superiors had him on the carpet and reminded him that courtesy was an asset that a gentleman should not overlook.

LOANS NOT GIFTS.

Great Britain is ready to begin negotiations with the United States looking toward the refunding of the 11 billion dollars allied debt. Both governments will grant liberal terms to the lesser allies for payment but will not listen to any move of France toward cancellation. It pays to be merciful; it pays to be liberal but why should France ask cancellation? Why should the American people be taxed to pay for a loan? These loans were not gifts. They were advances made when the German Kaiser was in the saddle and his armies had the European world by the throat.

Texans are growling about the heat and the early coming of summer. Texas has nothing on New York. New York had the hottest April 10 in fity-one years when the official thermometer registered 82 degrees; Atlantic City registered 85 degrees; Cape May registered 90 degrees and Boston 85 degrees. They were wearing summer clothes and straw hats at these resorts while Omaha enjoyed a heavy snowfall; Western Nebraska was sleet covered and at Leadville, Colo., it was 8 above zero. Now why should a Texan growl?

PALESTINE "IS OURS."

"America first." The Standard Oil Company has received a grant of exploring rights in the Palestine oil fields. John Bull holds the mandate for that country. This grant has a direct bearing on the unsettled controversy between the governments of the United States and Great Britain over the effort to prevent American nationals from sharing in the development of Mesopotamian oil lands. "Lest we forget" it was held by Great Britain that only the nationals which were members of the League of Nations should participate in commercial advantages in Mesopotamia territory. Bainbridge Colby, while secretary of state, made the protest against this monopolistic declaration and now it is said that the Lloyd George government has shown recently a marked disposition to adopt an extremely friendly attitude toward the United States. Nationals of all countries are playing the oil game in the United States. Foreign capitalists are behind the nationals who are playing the game here. Palestine has been won. Now why not an even break for American nationals in Mesopotamia?

DAWN IS BREAKING.

Oklahoma directors of the American Cotton Growers Exchange are preparing for the orderly marketing of more than 3 million bales of cotton and the national federation hopes to be the controlling factor on the cotton market of the world. Going are "the good old days" when the cotton growers of the South lived from hand to mouth and were the pawns of the cotton gamblers of the world and the credit system which weighed down the producers of the fleecy staple. They furnished the land; they furnished the seed; they furnished the labor; they furnished the wheat. What did they get in return? The sword abolished the black chattel in the long ago and then white women and children stepped into the shoes of the emancipated slaves and produced cheap cotton for the nabobs of the three continents. These are facts. They cannot be controverted.

According to the New York Chamber of Commerce there are 917,000 employes on federal pay rolls. In Europe there is one public official for every 70 inhabitants; in America one to 120. Twenty years ago it was about 1 to 200 and salaries were fifty per cent less. Of course Jones has to hustle.

PRINCESS MARY TO HAVE SEAT WITH LORDS

By Edna Huber Church,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, April 15.—Though Princess Mary will never rule the British Empire, because of her marriage out of royalty, she may have a seat in the House of Lords.

The decision of the privileges committee of the House of Lords to grant a seat to Lady Rhondda has led to consideration of the possibility of Princess Mary ascending to a seat in that dignified legislative body.

King George is expected sooner or later to bestow a peerage upon Princess Mary in her own right, as he has given peerages to his sons. With such a peerage the Princess would be entitled to a seat in Lords. Whether she would care to occupy this seat is quite another matter. This English girl, who has been the toast of London for the past three months, is of a shy and retiring nature. Like her mother, the Queen, she cannot be described as a progressive in this day, when some of the women of England are affecting canes, monocles and cigarettes.

Lady Rhondda Takes Seat.

Lady Rhondda's accession to a seat in Lords has raised the hopes of advanced thinkers among Britain's womenkind. It has furnished material for a great deal of chatter in the feminist clubs of London. Lady Rhondda is a brilliant business woman. She may be expected to steer an advanced and dignified course in her legislative career, but what of the others who may follow her into the House of Lords?

It is general opinion among feminists that the advanced women of England can do their sex greater benefit by seeking seats in the House of Commons.

They are wondering now, these women who are admittedly feminists, whether there will ever be a woman as Lord Chancellor.

The success of Lady Rhondda has led to new desires, and it wouldn't be a surprise if the women of England even went so far as to hope that some day a woman might occupy the Premiership.

Lady Rhondda's victory comes as most encouraging at this time because there has been a desperate battle in progress whereby women sought admittance to the ranks of hierarchies, and they met defeat.

The women of Great Britain are alive to their opportunities, and they indicate that they intend to seize them.

BARBER OF LANDRU THINKS SELF "MADE"

By Associated Press.

PARIS, April 15. — M. Rapillon, the barber of Versailles prison, who trimmed the beard of Henri D. Landru, the "Bluebeard" convicted and executed for killing 10 women and a boy and cut the hair of the famous prisoner, has gone on a strike. He expects now that he is in business for himself, that many customers will seek him to obtain first-hand information of the celebrated murder.

HE IS RISEN.

OBREGON SMOOTHING OUT WRINKLES DESPITE TALES OF MEXICAN REVOLUTION

By HERBERT COREY.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 15.—Politics in Mexico is a good deal like a box of frozen dynamite. It may work all right when it is thawed out. It may, on the other hand, blow up the cook.

Therefore, there shall be no attempt at prophecy, in this article. Wise people down here do not phophesy, anyhow. They never say anything without a reservation attached. Mexico has been more or less free and independent for 112 years, most of which time she has been at war. One cannot say that the present state is precisely that of peace. But the average American who has had some experience in the country sizes up the situation in the following formulas:

"I do not think there is any immediate danger of an overturn of the government.

"The people, apart from the old military element, are thoroughly tired of disorder. They want peace."

Smoothing Out Wrinkles.

It seems that, little by little, President Obregon is smoothing out the wrinkles. The papers of the City of Mexico and elsewhere are continually filled with stories of the operations of this band of "rebels" and that. So far as the onlooker can discover, however, these so-called rebels are of two sorts. One is a sure enough rebel who wants to overturn the government. The other is a mere bandit, who calls himself a revolutionist because it sounds better. Now and then a bandit is caught and shot. The so-called "rebels"—if reading and listening go for anything—are treated with more consideration.

The fact is that military methods have been at the bottom of every change in the Mexican government. No one even pretends that any real election has ever been held in Mexico, as we consider elections in the States. No election could be. The vast majority of the inhabitants are Indians, few of whom can read and write and still fewer of whom care a brass button about politics. The indian is potentially a strong element in Mexico. He can work, if he will, and when he gets enough to eat, he is peaceful and kindly, with the exception of the Apache-blooded Yaquis in the north, and his real desire seems to be let alone in his little pueblos.

Easy to Raise an Army.

But he has been the skeleton of every governmental overturn in Mexico. Because of his ready obedience to authority it has in the past been comparatively easy for any white man or mestizo to commander an army of Indians. All he has needed is a horse, a few guns, and plenty of voice. An "army" may consist of a dozen men or of thousands. The white man—nowadays the mestizo, because there are few pure-blooded white men left in Mexico—may be animated by the purest and most patriotic motives. He may feel that the central government is outraging every right of man. In this case he thinks that there is but one way to obtain redress and that is by arms. On the other hand he may be a mere bandit. The means he will use are precisely the same.

There are sporadic little "rebellions"—political or bandit—scattered all over Mexico. Every morning brings its fresh crop. But none of them seems to amount to anything. One thing is very certain. No leader has yet been found around whom the scattered groups may concentrate. Until that leader is found there will be no overturn. Diaz was such a leader, Madero another, Carranza another, Obregon another. The so-called "generals" who have been fulminating on the other side of the border are without exception of small calibre. The Mexicans laugh at them. Nor does there seem to be a common cause, such as was to be found in the overturn of Diaz and later in the overturn of Carranza. There are plenty of complaints ,but they are largely individual and local.

Much Criticism of Obregon.

There is an immense amount of criticism being voiced of President Obregon. That he is very radical is certain, though not as radical as some of the members of his immediate entourage. His chief defect in the minds of his critics, however, has been that he is at once too lenient in repressing disorder and too good-natured in permitting the various members of his cabinet to have free hands in the conduct of their departmental affairs. As to the latter, it is to be remembered that his cabinet members probably think along the same lines that he does. In the repressing of disorder his task has been a more difficult one.

In the effort to rid the country of the immense standing army, which he frankly recognized at the beginning of his administration as a menace to the public safety, he permitted the enrolment of what might be termed "Home Guards." The Mexican term is Defensa Sociale. These bodies have been organized in the various political sub-divisions, even down to villages, their members have been permitted to possess arms, and they have been officered by local residents of some political experience. In the light of Mexico's past political history it should have been easy enough to see what would happen.

Hard Task for Federal Troops.

Some of the Defensa Sociales, officered by men of high character and genuine patriotism, have been useful in clearing the country of bandits and preserving order. Others have been more or less active nuisances. It has been necessary for the federal troops to suppress some of them. Others have formed the nucleus of the socalled "rebel" bands. Others are today preserving a menacing attitude in various parts of the republic. The situation is made the more difficult by the lack of transportation facilities. A "rebel," or a bandit, or a Defensa Sociale can break loose, murder, commit depredations, and either get back at home or into the mountains long before the federal troops can catch up with them.

Little by little it appears that the Defensa Sociales are being done away with. No attack has been made on the system, but as a detachment shows itself obnoxious it is disbanded by more or less peaceful means. Over in Sinaloa and Nayarit General Flores has absolutely restored order, although there is a section of the state of Durango, just outside his district, that is flooded with bandits.

As a broad, general proposition it is the belief here that any general who is sufficiently strong to compel the support of the general government can clean up any state to which he is assigned by using the Flores methods. They involve a certain use of gunpowder. But Flores has been strong enough to enforce the support of the government. Few others have been. It is true also that Flores is perhaps one of the few strong men outside the government who are trusted by the government.

Call U. S. Demands Unjust.

It is the fashion here to attribute all Mexico's ills to the refusal by the United States to grant recognition. There is no question that the sentiment here is very strong against assenting to the conditions laid down by the United States as a preliminary to recognition. There is the old feeling, which is alive in every Mexican heart from the president down, and there is a recognition of the fact that Mexico is so heavily in debt now that the effort required to pay off the Yankee claims would be a serious one. The extreme radicals, too, of whom General Calles and General Alvarado and Adolfo de la Huerto are the leaders, find it to their personal advantage to work upon the Mexican pride in resisting what they call the unjust demands of the United States.

Little by little, however, thanks to the efforts of a few broad-minded Mexican editors, the enlightened opinion of Mexico is coming to see that the republic cannot expect different treatment than is accorded to other civilized states by other civilized states. No one dares prophesy, but every one believes that ultimately a formula will be found on which recognition can be granted.

FOLKS BACK HOME

By ROBERT QUILLEN

THE GIRL ACROSS THE STREET

Desperate men do desperate deeds when thwarted, and when one is crossed in love he will find means to vent his wrath and ease the hurt to his pride. Yesterday afternoon one of those rattle-brained Kelly boys came by in a stripped-down Ford of brilliant hue and took a girl across the street for a ride. She came back with scarlet cheeks and flying hair, and the shrillness of her giggles confessed an excitement not wholly due to the exhilaration of speed. Obviously she felt a little wicked, as one should, no doubt, who philanders with strange gods.

By nightfall the matter came to the ears of the butcher boy, as all things come to the ears of everybody in a small town, and he found means to express his opnion of unfaithful women and give evidence of his stern pride in masculinity. He drank an entire bottle of Bevo, and, thus fortified, sat on the back of his neck behind the steering wheel of his ancient and asthmatic jitney and roared up and down our quiet street until long after 10 o'clock.

The windows of the girl's house were dark, but doubtless she heard and understood, and rejoiced in the knowledge that she had power to stir strong men to desperate action.

UNCLE GUS

"I'm a little puny this mornin'," confessed Uncle Gus, as I pulled off my gloves and drew a goods box nearer the stove. "I reckon maybe you might call me a casual; leastwise I been gassed, an' I ain't fit fo' duty. "Me an' Paul Knight an' five dawgs went a-huntin' fo' 'possum las' night an' didn't seem to have no luck until 'long about day, when the dawgs treed somethin' in a hole an' begin to dig 'em out. Me an' Paul was up wind, an' I didn't suspect nothin' till we was right on top o' the hole. 'Bout that time, the varmint come out o' the hole an' seed us an' begin to lay down what the boys in France called a barrage. Son, the' ain't no way to beat Natur'. Them Germans had some mighty annoyin' gases, like as not, but nary one of 'em could o' been mo' heart-rendin' than a skunk's offerin'. I don't mind confessin' that I retreated. I let that skunk to consolidate his position, an' fell back in search o' fresh air. When I found it I sure was relieved a heap, I'll tell you.

"I aint never heard of a skunk a'killin' nobody, but he can make you wish you was dead. An' the' ain't nothing' but a week o' prayer an' lye soap a-goin' to make me feel fit to associate with white folks ag'in."

THE PRETENDERS

"Honesty," we say with the immortal Printer of Philadelphia, "is the best policy." But in our hearts we place restrictions upon the definition of honesty, and so by means of dishonesty contrive to appear much more respectable than we are.

This desire to appear to be something we are not proves our undoing. The knave, we say with reason, is one who steals a purse, or cheats at cards, or gets a profit by means of trickery. Why, then, are we at pains to appear more worthy or more wealthy or more wise than we are in fact? Obviously, in the hope of getting a profit. And if we thus by trickery pursue a profit, how shall we deny kinship with the knave?

Why does this person wear an imitation stone? To give the impression that he can afford to wear genuine stones. His purpose is to deceive; his intention is dishonest. The motive that prompted purchase of the imitation confessed alike an unmanly shame in poverty and an unmanly willingness to be content with praises not earned.

To pretend is to invite contempt, and to earn it. To imitate is to confess inferiority. Only the little souls surround themselves with trinkets made to imitate the treasurers of the rich; only the shallow gush over books and plays and pictures that have no other merit than the dignity of antiquity or the approval of the critics; only the weak, and the simsoul to worship at their feet.

ple pretend to be other than they are.

The great souls dare to be themselves. In poverty they eat from a clean pine board, nor give a thought to the world's opinion; in afluence they have few treasures, but these or rare beauty. And since they will not ape the world, nor give heed to its opinions, it recognizes greatness in them and finds grace in its silly

OUR ANARCHIC WORLD

The nations of the world are anarchists. From the earliest dawn of civilization, they have been anarchic in spirit and in fact. Only now, driven by desperation, are they beginning to grope in the direction of a saner order.

Anarchy is no more than belief in the absolute liberty of the individual. Individual nations have claimed and stoutly maintained the right to go a way of their own choosing—unhindered save by their own weakness and the fighting strength of their neighbors. "Give us liberty!" the nations cried; and in the name of liberty established and maintained a condition of absolute anarchy.

In America, land of freedom, there is only comparative freedom. The members of a family are subject to the head of the household; the head of the household is subject to the ordinances of the municipality; the city is subject to the laws of the state; and the state is subject to the laws of the nation. This arrangement, based on the consent of the people, places sane restrictions upon each political division and keeps all in harmony. Each division bows to a superior power. Only the nation may run amuck without fear of chastisement.

Only nations are anarchists. Being anarchists, they resort to arms to settle a point of law and come frequently to disaster. They run amuck for want of a boss. By their follies and crimes they afford convincing proof that virtue will not long endure without benefit of a threatened club.

Call it a league, or an association, or a federation—no matter; a supreme authority and power there must be if nations are to be weaned from anarchy and taught to live in peace as states and cities and individuals live in peace.—(Copyright, 1922, Associated Editors.)

AUNT HET

"Sometimes I think Lot's wife was kind o' lucky, after all. Every time we have to pull up and pack up and move, I wish I could turn into somethin' that would stay put from now on."

WILLIE WILLIS

Tuesday morning the teacher asked the pupils of the third grade why they studied geography. The answer of Little Willie deserves honorable mention. "I study geography," said he, "to keep from staying in after school."

Ohio Has Nothing On Leavenworth as To Veteran Twins

LEAVENWORTH, April 14.—Friends of James and Joel Cheatwood, twins who celebrated their ninetieth birthday anniversary last October 11 on the farm of the former near here, are prone to dispute the claim of the Woodville, O., twins, William H. Sr., and Henry Bruns to the title of "oldest living twins in the United States," at the age of 88.

The recipe for long life of the Kansas twins is similar to that of the Ohioans—"work."
