SCHOOLS IN COUNTY ARE DEVELOPING

Buildings Improved, Consolidations In View; Teachers Named, and a Great Year Anticipated.

The time for transferring scholarship in Deaf Smith county's rural schools has been extended to September 10, said County Judge Wilcox, Wednesday, in order to accommodate parents. All children must be transferred by this date, according to the ruling. The trustees of each district are paying the tuition of tenth and eleventh grade pupils, where these pupils desire to attend an affiliated school. Some districts pay the tuition of any child in any of the high school grades, where the child desires to attend an affiliated school. In preparation for the coming school term the Dawn school is adopting transportation by bus. Children of the Askren and Rice schools are to be transported to Dawn. The Dawn school is working toward classification and affiliation. A general effort is being made everywhere to get children into better schools, where it can possibly be done.

Schools Improved.

An addition is being made to the Messenger school, making it a two-room frame stucco building, modern, and with two teachers. Dawn, formerly a two-room school, is doubling its capacity, making a four-room, frame, modern stucco, with four teachers. The Daniel school is being remodeled and stuccoed, and having two teachers. A new frame stuccoed building is being erected near the site of the old Bippus school. The Progressive school house is being stuccoed. There is a general movement in all districts for better buildings, better equipment, better classification, a higher plane in every respect.

Rural School Teachers from this County will attend Institute at Canyon, September 2-7. Schools will open in this county on September 10.

Teachers announced to date are: at Dawn, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Bond and Misses Annie Lora Lovelace and Carolyn Thomson; at Wyche, Miss Vera Hines; at Westway, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Keyes and Miss Thelma Myers; at Messenger, Miss Imogene Copeland; at Walcott, Miss Mattie Friday; at Sumnerfield, Mr. Sherman, Miss Lorraine Hayes and sister; at Bippus, Miss Vera Richardson; at Fairview, Misses Lucy Brunson and Kate Burris; at Union, Mrs. Chloe Grubbe; at Daniel, Mrs. Clyde L. Slaughter and Miss Florence Woodruff; at Progressive, Misses Lois and Gusta Samulson; at Higgins, Miss Nola May Brunley; at McCaskey, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Fly; at Sims, Mrs. J. E. Copeland.

Presbyterian Revival to Be Inaugurated Sunday

Beginning the coming Sunday evening a series of revival services will be held at the First Presbyterian Church, Rev. Jas. T. Ross, pastor. Miss Claire Baker of Leonard, Texas, an attractive choir director and an accomplished vocalist, will have charge of the musical features of the services. Miss Baker, now visiting with friends in Waukegan, will start from that place Friday morning for Hereford and will greet the audience at the initial service of the revival.

The usual two Sunday services will be held each Sunday of the revival. Services will be held each evening, beginning at 8:15. Morning services will be held at 10:15 each week-day morning except on Mondays and Saturdays.

The pastor, Rev. Ross, will bring the sermon message. Mr. Ross is an ardent believer in the redemptive and constructive virtue of Christianity. The messages will be shaped with that thought in view and will touch many practical phases of every day life.

Some of the topics for sermons are: "Christianity and the Home," "Christianity and the Community," "Christianity and Business," "Christianity and Social Pleasures," "Christianity and Fellow-Christians," "The Christian Soldier," "Miracles of Divine Grace," "Messages from Ajar," "The Independence of Christianity," and a collection of morning messages by the

Special Message Plan For Monday's Luncheon

President Seigler of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, announced this week that a special address by Rev. Jas. T. Ross is scheduled for the luncheon next Monday, the subject of the talk being "Showing Hereford." Mr. Seigler urged that a special effort be made to get out a good crowd to hear this message, which is being specially prepared for the occasion.

Took Fifteen Sizzling Rounds To Win Game

The Whitefaces traveled down to Dimmitt Sunday for a little setto with the Castro county champions. The Whitefaces won, 3 to 2, but it took them fifteen innings of terrific battling to do it.

That Dimmitt bunch was tough. They didn't know when they were licked, even though they were allowed the sum total of one hit in fifteen innings. Royal traveled seven innings and allowed the solitary Dimmitt blow. Carmichael succeeded Royal, walked the first two men who faced him, then whiffed three in a row. Not a hit did he yield for the rest of the game.

But Hereford did not have all the stars, by any manner of means. Spencer, centerfielder, and Harris, rightfielder for the home talent both made sensational snatches of hard fly balls, while Shortstop Gregory fairly sparkled between second and third bases. Ouisa Carroll of Hereford slugged out three singles and a double in four trips to the plate.

No box score of the game is available, which is to be regretted, as the game was a real classic. Batteries for Hereford were Royal, Carmichael and Galphath; for Dimmitt Hyatt and Cowser.

Mail Delivery Probably Will Start September 1

Postmaster Donner Monday sent in official notice to the Postoffice Department at Washington that all requirements for free mail delivery in Hereford had been met and asked for the date of the formal inauguration of free city mail delivery.

Mr. Donner believes that this service will be put into effect not later than September 1, and it is entirely possible that instructions may be received to begin it even earlier. This ends the long struggle to secure this modern service for Hereford and marks another forward step in the building of a city.

Baer Family Returns From Vacation Trip

Gaston Baer, wife, baby and father, B. Baer, returned Tuesday afternoon from a ten days' combined vacation and business trip. They first drove to Denver where Gaston Baer left the party and took the train for Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago, where he purchased his fall goods. He then returned to Denver, picked up his family and drove home via Tucuman, New Mexico, where he has friends and relatives.

The Baer family report a splendid time, no rain to bother them enroute, and an improvement in health and spirits from the trip.

SINGING CONVENTION

For Counties of Deaf Smith, Castro and Randall to Be Held at Progressive Sunday, August 19. Transferred There from Jumbo.

At least 500 singers from Deaf Smith, Castro and Randall counties are expected to attend a mammoth all-day singing convention to be held at the Progressive school house Sunday, August 19.

This convention was first announced for Jumbo, July 22, but on account of rain was postponed and has now been transferred to Progressive.

It is proposed to organize a three-county singing convention on this date and to elect officers to guide the new organization. The local committees are preparing to entertain a huge crowd and singers are invited from all surrounding counties to come and participate in this big event.

Singers are asked to bring their basket dinners as the meeting will begin at about ten o'clock a. m. and last all day. Besides singers from the three counties, many noted, handsome, singers will bring special numbers to the meeting.

A WRESTLING MATCH

Barnes, Washington State Champion, to Tangle Here Next Wednesday With Kall Pasha, or Some Tough Hombre. Match Promised.

The first wrestling match Hereford fans have witnessed in many months is in prospect for next Wednesday night, August 22, when George Barnes, Washington State light-heavy weight champion, who is now making Hereford headquarters, will tackle the best man that can be procured for the occasion. Barnes and Omer Baker, who is the wrestler's local Steering Committee, are trying to land Kall Pasha, the Turk; failing in this they will probably secure Bull Demetral or Young Sampson. Any one of the three will put up a dandy good scrap. Kall Pasha will be remembered as the man who went two hours with Thor Jensen here several years ago.

The match will be held in the States Pavilion and Barnes will do his training here. He hopes to make arrangements with the firemen to use their apparatus for this work. He issues a cordial invitation to all the busy young men of the community who are interested to visit his training quarters and help get him into condition.

Barnes seems to be a clean, straight young fellow who says his matches will always be high class in every particular, perfectly suitable for any lady to enjoy. He holds a gorgeous gold and purple championship belt, emblematic of the state championship of the State of Washington, light heavyweight division, presented to him by the fans of the state on January 21, 1926. Considerable local interest is being manifested by local wrestling enthusiasts over the prospects Barnes brings with him.

Love's Name On Ticket Although He Withdrew

Ballots for the second Democratic primary, to be held August 25, were printed Wednesday so that absentee voters could register their choice if absent from home on election day.

The ballots contain the names of Tom Connally and Earle B. Mayfield, for the United States Senate; Thos. B. Love and Barry Miller, for lieutenant governor; W. F. Garner and S. M. N. Marrs, for state superintendent of public instruction; J. T. Robison and Otis Terrell, for commissioner of the general land office, and John B. Miller and I. L. West for sheriff and tax collector.

The name of Thos. B. Love for lieutenant governor was printed on the ballot because Mr. Love's withdrawal from the race, as announced in the daily newspapers, did not reach the state executive committee in time to have the name dropped from the list.

Classified Ads Pay

Do little Brand Classified ads pay? If you doubt it, ask T. D. Moss, former secretary of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Moss, who now lives in Fort Worth, came here a few days ago to see about selling his home on 25-Mile Avenue. After canvassing the situation, he decided to invest in a Classified. Results: seven applicants as soon as the paper was circulated.

The home was sold to Dr. J. W. Hendrix, local chiropractor—and the expense to Mr. Moss was exactly fifty-eight cents!

PHILLIPS CO. NOW AT WORK ON BUILDING

Purchase Property and Announce Immediate Construction of a New Wholesale Oil Station.

Construction will start this week on the wholesale station of the Phillips Petroleum Company's Hereford distributing station. Officials of this company who were in the city this week announce the purchase of lots 23 and 24 in Block 23, which supplies railroad trackage necessary for this industry.

Two 12,000-gallon steel tanks will be erected for holding Phillips "66" gasoline, a widely advertised, high-powered gasoline which is being placed on the market by this company. Phillips "41-3" kerosene will also be handled, as well as a complete line of lubricants, greases, etc.

Officials of the company in locating this station at Hereford, stated that the unusual development in this section and the further heavy development expected on account of the large yield in farm products makes Hereford an ideal distributing center for their products.

Oscar Easley, local manager of the Marland Refining Company, moved his office Wednesday from the Buck Service Station to new headquarters in the Buckner-Lambert building, over the Sprawls-Cronin Company store.

IT SURE DID RAIN!

Regular Flood Fell Monday, Following Rain Sunday. Streets Flooded, Lake Overflows, Everything in Country Is Very Damp.

One of the hardest rains Hereford has experienced in years fell here Monday morning just before noon. The rain gauge at the First National Bank showed a total of two and four-tenths inches in this one downpour, lasting about forty-five minutes. Main Street was full from curb to curb and in many places the water came up over the sidewalks. The City Lake was a vast sea, backing up across the lower end of Mother's Park and the pavement. Roofs leaked all over town and country roads were quagmires for hours.

This heavy rain followed another one Sunday and Sunday night, totaling one and one-tenth inches, or a grand total of three and five-tenths inches in less than twenty-four hours. The country is wet to the bottom and a tremendous row crop is a certainty. Also the land will be in magnificent shape for fall wheat planting. If sunshine will prevail now and allow the farmers to get to work.

Amarillo reported even heavier rainfall that Hereford. The Amarillo News said concerning it:

"A twenty-two-year record was broken in Amarillo Sunday night and Monday morning when 4.16 inches of rain fell in 24 hours."

"The record made on August 7, 1906, was 4.02 inches."

"Within the past ten days practically every section of the Amarillo territory has received fine rains and there is a fine season in the ground everywhere."

"Amarillo and vicinity have already received 23.14 inches of rain this year as compared to an average yearly precipitation of 21.99 inches. The record is 39 inches, established in 1923 and 1928 has four more months in which to break that record."

A MUNICIPAL BAND

City Voters Carry Measure By Overwhelming Vote of 146 to 45. Voting Much Heavier Than Common. Good Band Now Assured.

Property tax paying voters of the city of Hereford last Saturday approved the proposed municipal tax for the support of a band by the decisive majority of 146 to 45. The voting was unusually heavy for such an election and surprised election officials.

The action of the voters means that hereafter there will be a Municipal Band in Hereford, under direction of a Commission to be appointed by the City Dads. As soon as necessary legal formalities are completed with the Commission will be appointed, a band director named, and the future of the band removed from the realm of speculation, so far as its financial support and direction are concerned.

Gas Company Opens Up Office; May Build Soon

W. F. Scovell, manager of the local gas company, was moving into his temporary quarters in the Moseley building, next door to the Stockman's Cafe, on Main Street, the first of the week. Mr. Scovell stated that his company in all probability would build their own business home eventually, after they find suitable property and make contracts that fit in with their plans. Mr. Scovell will open a retail department soon, where gas apparatus of all kinds will be offered for sale.

Luncheon Is Attended By Nice Turnout

At Monday's luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce at the Cordova Hotel, Hereford business men voted unanimously to pay the expenses of one of the city's bankers on a dairy tour through Mississippi and Tennessee, which is being arranged by M. B. Oates, agricultural agent of the Fort Worth & Denver railroad. Approximately twenty-five men from West Texas will make this trip, leaving Fort Worth August 20 and returning September 1. Departing from the usual custom of dairy tours, this one will be made looking wholly to the marketing end of the dairy business. Dried skimmed milk plants, creameries, condenseries, canned milk plants, cheese factories, etc., will be visited by this delegation and the financial returns to the various communities will be the chief topic of study.

Hereford and Deaf Smith county at this time with a growing dairy industry, realize the need of proper marketing facilities, and the matter has been referred to the dairy committee of the local chamber, who has been working on the matter. Many new dairy animals are being brought into this territory and Hereford is endeavoring to provide one of the best markets for dairy products on the South Plains.

A committee composed of bankers Geo. L. Muse, E. S. Ireland and G. A. F. Parker, representing the three banks, has been appointed to select Hereford's representative on this tour.

Immediately after the luncheon directors of the local organization ratified the action of the membership, and made the appropriation asked for in sending this representative. They also allowed a $50 appropriation on Deaf Smith county's dairy exhibit at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo. It is planned to take approximately fourteen head of the county's finest dairy animals to the exhibit, and dairy breeders anticipate carrying away a number of prizes in one of the Plain's big industries. Few counties have made more rapid strides in dairy herd development than Deaf Smith in the past three years, and in the three bull circles in this vicinity are some of the nation's leading dairy producers.

Calling attention to the fact that new directors are to be inaugurated on the first Monday in September, President Seigler appointed a nominating committee to select members to present to the body a ticket from which the new directors for the coming year will be chosen. This committee will make their report either next Monday or the Monday following in order that the election may be held prior to September first. This committee consists of J. E. Hill, Geo. L. Muse, Alvin C. Thompson, S. P. Rosson and C. H. Dillehay.

Secretary Arnold in a brief statement supplementing the Weekly Bulletin, which informs the luncheon members of the organization's activities, said that the membership committee was meeting with warm responses practically everywhere they called. An organization with the undivided support of all business interests, he pointed out, can accomplish any move undertaken at this time. With more co-operation and less individual effort, was pleaded for by the secretary in his bulletin.

All monthly bills were allowed at the directors' meeting and checks ordered issued for same.

FARM SALE DATES

DILLEHAY IN OUTLINE OF TERM WORK

Answers Questions As To Credits, Courses and Other Puzzles Pertaining to School Work.

(By Supt. C. H. Dillehay.)

As the time for the opening of school approaches, many high school students begin wondering what they should take. Such a question is difficult to answer as it depends largely upon the individual and the future that he has outlined for himself. The Hereford high school offers a reasonably wide range of choice of subjects in an effort to take care of the differences in the needs of individuals, but at the same time certain fundamental subjects are required to secure a well rounded course. A total of twenty-eight accredited units of work will be offered in addition to the half credit subjects offered for local credit only.

Eleven units of the seventeen required for graduation are prescribed as follows: Four in English, three in mathematics, two in history (Modern and American), two in science, including either chemistry or physics, with the provision that agriculture or home economics may be substituted for one unit of science below chemistry or physics. Foreign language is not required, though some colleges require two units for entrance. The student should be sure that the college of his choice has no such requirement before passing the opportunity to meet it while in high school.

Eighth grade students must take English and algebra and in addition two of the following: ancient history, Latin, agriculture, general science, cooking. Classes in physical training will be offered for eighth-grade boys and girls this year and will doubtless be required of all in that grade and will carry a half unit of credit. Mr. Humble will have charge of the classes for the boys and Miss Westbrook will conduct the classes for girls.

Ninth grade students must take English, algebra, modern history and one of the following subjects in addition: biology, Spanish, Latin I or II, agriculture, sewing.

Tenth grade students are English, American history, plane geometry required, with a choice of any one of the following: Spanish, chemistry, agriculture, public speaking.

Eleventh grade people must take English IV and any other required subjects in which they do not have credit and must take a sufficient number of the following subjects to make a total of four for the year: physics, civics (1/2), economics (1/2), commercial law (1/2), commercial geography (1/2), solid geometry (1/2), advanced arithmetic (1/2), public speaking.

No student will be allowed credit in a subject lower than one year below his regular classification. Four subjects are all that a student will be allowed to take unless he is repeating one or more subjects or made an average of B the preceding half year. This applies only to full time work and does not apply to Bible, glee club, band, orchestra and physical training which meet only twice each week and for which only half a credit is allowed for the year.

At the time of this writing two high school boys had been enrolled and arranged their program for the year. Others who desire to do likewise may do so by coming to the high school office any afternoon at three o'clock, beginning Monday, August 20.

Everybody Busy; Paving, New Buildings; Activity

Hereford is a busy town these days. The new paving and resurfacing has the streets torn up, new sewerage and water main construction is under way, the Baptist church, Beavers' Bros. garage and several new residences are rapidly going up, and the sound of the hammer and pick is abroad in the community.

The unusual spell of wet weather has delayed all this work to some extent, but Wednesday and Thursday, with clearing skies, the workmen were all hard at it.

Hereford is growing bigger and better, in every way, every day. And it's no boom—just a steady, normal expansion.

HOES SHARPENING TIME

Notification that judging in the City Beautification campaign between Hereford and Canyon would begin early in September and unusually heavy rains arrived at the same time. The rains insured an unusually heavy weed crop. Better sharpen up those hoes and get busy if we hope to win that contest.

MUNICIPAL BAND

Another municipal attraction for Hereford—a Municipal Band, supported by the tax payers. The principal of this is right, we believe. Heretofore a few have had to carry the burden of maintaining a band, needed for public occasions and for the musical training of the young people. Now the expense is borne by all alike. That's fair.

TRADES DAY

Our energetic secretary has inaugurated a Trades Day for Hereford. It was badly needed. Surrounding towns are doing it, and making it pay. The difference between a town that does not go after business and one that does is just the difference between a merchant who waits for business to come to his door and the one who advertises and goes after the business.

ROW CROPS

Every one who has been out in the country of late comments on the deep black-green color, thickness and thriftiness of the row crops. Unless an unforeseen catastrophe occurs the Plains will have the greatest row crop in its history. And, boy!—what a wheat crop will be planted this fall!

THE SENATOR'S RACE

It's Mayfield or Connally for the Senate. We voted for Connally in the first primary and intend to stick to him. We have nothing against Senator Mayfield, but do believe Tom Connally is the best fitted man of the two for that important post. We believe Mayfield pulled his full strength in the first primary and that Connally ought to win.

CONSOLIDATION

Two newspapers in the same town have consolidated—this time at Memphis, Texas. It was simply an economic necessity. The time when a man could rent a hole in the wall, purchase a handful of type and a second-hand press on time, and turn into a "moulder of public opinion" is past. It takes a lot of real money, a lot of real credit, training in the profession, ability to judge what the public wants, and business acumen to publish a paper and keep publishing it now-adays. The ones unprepared for this test are slowly going by the board—everywhere.

CARNIVALS

The City Commission the past week published an ordinance prohibiting the coming of carnivals inside the city limits of Hereford and declaring such "shows" public nuisances. We heartily agree with the Commission as to the undesirability of such class of attraction. They bring nothing elevating or lasting into the community, usually leave something that the town would be better off without, and carry off a lot of cash that could well be used at home. The action of the Commission is a distinct forward step, as we see it.

Wilson, which read: "Backward, turn backward, oh Time in your flight, make you a child again for Wednesday night; and come to my party at eight by the clock, and be sure to wear a small kiddie's frock." The lawn was lighted by numerous lanterns and children's games were played, pink lemonade and animal cookies were served, and all report a most enjoyable time.

DEAR FRIENDS:

We have put in new equipment that we are proud of and we feel just like the little boy who recites, when new company is coming. We're anxious to show you what we can do.

To us you are new company—a new audience before whom we are anxious to play.

We've been doing our stuff for years; playing return engagements everywhere. And while we haven't actually heard the applause of "all the crowned heads of Europe," we have had the approval of some mighty fine people all over the Hereford country.

Some say: "You are specialists in your line and know how to put it over."

Well, we do work hard to get it across and a growing clientele must mean something.

The state is set for our appearance with high class cleaning, and pressing. And we're here listening for the call to serve you.

Your first order is our cue to appear and do our turn.

After that, it's up to you to decide.

Yours truly,

THE TIGER TRAIL

by Edison Marshall

"It is an important fact, Ernest."
 "It certainly is. Police records show that in very few cases have crimes been committed by a criminal actually overtaking a fleeing victim when they were both on foot—the victim's fear makes him the fleetest, and the criminal has only the strength of his purpose to make him fleet. Yet Hayward was overtaken in ten yards."
 "Yes."
 "He probably ran screaming—a sound that could not be heard above the roar of the storm."
 "I agreed with this, too."
 "It's no ordinary case, Loug. The murderer had no ordinary motives. His passion, his blood madness, if I may use the word, have been just as terrific an emotion as Hayward's fear—an emotion that inspired him to run fast enough down that slope to overtake his prey within ten yards."
 "I don't believe I like the word 'prey' in this capacity, Ernest," I told him. "There's an inference in it that isn't soothing to the spirit. But there isn't any doubt about the fury and intensity of the slayer. There's another element that proves it even more clearly than the fact that he overtook Hayward within ten yards."
 "What is that?"
 "The terrible, rending violence of the blow. A cold-blooded murderer wouldn't have struck like this. The slayer would have waited in the darkness—struck from ambush with a billy or knife or pistol. Now, look at this."
 "I showed Ernest the imprint in the turf where the body had lain. It was singularly deep and distinct."
 "Does it mean anything to you?" I asked.
 "Do you mean that the blow was so violent that Hayward was simply knocked into the earth when he fell?"
 "Nothing else. It is likely that he never moved or cried out after that blow struck him down. He was hurled to the ground with such force that he left this imprint—as if a meteor had smote him. The neck was broken—a clean, violent break. I knew it when I examined the body."

 "We found one other clue that for a little while made us hopeful. It was one-half of a cuff-link, broken sharply off. It was a rich thing of gold and a single ruby. Then we walked back toward the house."
 "I suppose you'll know where suspicion will point?" Ernest said, just before we reached the steps. We stopped face to face.
 "Good heavens, man! Don't you think I have eyes? No one can help but see the way things point—and there's nothing left in this world to do but cover our eyes and yell coincidence! But the detective that comes in the boat today—he'll be fresh and have clear eyes. And they'll suspect Ahmad Das. He was the one man that went out on the hillside with Hayward at the moment of the murder."
 "Of course. Although it is true he started in another direction."
 "You remember that he took a long time to get down to the garage. He might have waited for Hayward on the trail—then circled back to the garage and only pretended to look for him. I don't say it's true, but that's what the coroner and the detectives will suggest."
 "But why didn't he strike him as he went past, instead of chasing the screaming man down the hill?"
 "Who knows? There might be such a thing as missing his first blow and knowing that only by silencing the man's lips could he be saved from an attempted murder charge. At least Ahmad Das will be suspected. And the crowning point is that he hated Hayward."
 "And Hayward hated him," I agreed.
 "Next after Ahmad the negroes will be suspected, charged with being in the pay of either my father or me, or possibly you."
 "Yes, all of them will be investigated."
 "Vilas won't be accused—very naturally—and of course my sister won't. It would take more than a woman's strength, or even the strength of any other than a large, powerful man to administer such a blow as killed Hayward."

 "We had now halted below the veranda."
 "There's one other thing to remember," I told him.
 "What is that?"
 "Another thing to wonder at. As you say, only a powerful man, or something very powerful, could have dealt this blow. A man could not have done it except with some great heavy weapon that by its own weight would gather tremendous momentum. It was dark and the two of them were in mad flight down the hill. Then think what wonderful accuracy, what perfect muscle control was necessary for the pursuer to swing his weapon and strike the fleeing figure in front of him in the darkness—a blow as accurate as that with which a butcher fells a steer. It doesn't seem hardly human."
 He started up the steps, and turned with a little laugh that was somehow very grim. "You might as well quit looking for things to be human—around this house," he told me. "Abandon such hope—ye who enter here."
 Just then we heard the voice of the watchman bellowing down the stairs. His glass had revealed the shadow of a boat upon the far reaches of the marsh.
 At first the boat was just a black speck so far distant that we could not tell whether it was some one escaping from the plateau or a boat from the mainland.
 "If it is the murderer and he's getting away, there's no chance to stop him," Southley said. "We can not get word to the other side in time."
 The speck was hard to follow. There were so many tree clumps and thickets that hit it. But slowly it became apparent that the boat was drawing nearer and that it had a smaller craft, evidently a large rowboat in tow. And within a half hour more we could distinguish its occupants.
 The large craft—a long, low, motor boat, contained five men. Of course one of them was a negro. I had sent, one was evidently the skipper or owner of the craft, and two of the others were the coroner and his assistant. My hope lay in the fifth. If my telegram had gone true to its destination, tonight there would be new forces to cope with this problem of Southley Downs.

 Most of the male occupants of the house were down at the edge of the water to greet the crafts. Their progress was slow. They constantly faced the danger of bad snags and submerged shrubbery that might wreck the motor boat. Ernest called to them and showed how they might make a landing in the deep water beside the isthmus.

 At first we couldn't see their faces. The glitter of the water prevented it. But when at last they drew close to us it was with the sense of deepest disappointment to me. I looked in vain for the face I had hoped to see.
 No one could mistake the coroner. He looked the part—somber clothes and all; he had the voice too, those unmistakable tones of a confirmed mourner who knows all flesh is dust. His assistant was a rather sprightly young man, with the gloom of his profession yet to come upon him. The man who steered the boat was a character not unfamiliar to those who know the waterways. He seemed to be a quaint, good-natured old chap with sparkling eyes and bushy beard, a man evidently sixty years of age and still sprightly as a chickadee.

Grandchildren of A. W. Gregg Win Essay Prizes

A. W. Gregg, Hereford's unofficial landscape gardener and horticultural expert, is very proud of the scholastic records recently made by two grand children, Elva and Jack Wright, whose parents are Judge and Mrs. C. D. Wright of Silverton, Texas. Judge Wright and family have just gone home after a visit with Mr. Gregg and his daughter, Miss Ina.

Miss Elva Wright, aged sixteen, has just been advised that she won first place in a recent essay contest for high school students conducted by the State of Texas. The theme was "Good Citizenship," and the financial reward amounted to $20.00. One unusual feature of this contest was that the winner's brother, Jack, fourteen years old, won second place in the same contest.

This was the second honor awarded Miss Wright this summer. A few weeks ago, in a nation-wide Art contest, sponsored by a western art school, she won second place and a cash prize of $50.00.

Mr. Gregg and members of his family are very proud of his grand children.

R. B. R. Employee Now at Work in Far North

The R. B. R. Implement Company of Hereford, Friona and Dimmitt have recently been signally honored by the parent company, and the compliment is highly appreciated by the local officials.

The International Harvester Company advised the R. B. R. Company that they had need of a first class machinery mechanic to help in their work in the Northwest country and if the R. B. R. people could spare one of their men he would be borrowed for a time on this special work and given a chance to see something of his own country and to gain new experience in other fields.

The choice fell upon Neise A. McRight, an employee of the R. B. R. Company for the past two years, and he left here about two weeks ago for Grand Forks, N. D., to service combines, tractors, etc. He has now been shifted to Alberta, Canada, in the same work, and writes that he is having the time of his life and greatly appreciates the opportunity he is enjoying. Mr. McRight will be away from his regular work for about two of three months.

Jas. H. Robinson, dairyman, who now lives on the old Wink Valentine place east of town on the Tierra Blanco, is an enthusiast on the subject of mechanical milkers for cows and, after months of experiment, has obtained the agency for a cheap but effective device which he is using in his business with flattering success.

The device he has milks two cows at once, and may be operated by gas engine or by motor. He invites anyone interested in this great labor-saving idea to visit his place and bring their cows with them, if they so desire, and he will demonstrate the difference between this new milker and the ancient custom of going at it with both hands.

Mr. Robinson states that he will have this machine on display at the county fair and perhaps before that in some down-town location.

The young couple left immediately afterwards for Vega, where they will make their home.

MRS. GUTHRIE ENTERTAINS.

Among the loveliest parties of the summer was that given Friday afternoon by Mrs. B. F. Guthrie at her attractive home on North Main Street.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with a variety of garden flowers from the hostess' own flower garden, which graced baskets, vases and bowls.

Bridge was the diversion of the afternoon, and five tables were placed for the players.

At the conclusion of the games Mrs. Guthrie, assisted by Mrs. Carl Cockrell, served a delicious salad course.

PURCELL-INGRAM WEDDING

Henry C. Ingram and Miss Wanda Purcell were quietly married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Purcell, in South Hereford, on Sunday afternoon at 2:30, Rev. V. M. Cloyd officiating.

ENGAGEMENT OF SMITH AND GOLDEN ANNOUNCED

Friends of Howard Golden, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Golden of Hereford will be interested in the following clipping from the Prairie, a W. T. S. T. C. publication:

"The engagement of Mary Spann Smith of Bronte and Howard Golden of Hereford was made known on Friday afternoon, August 9, at a pretty tea given by the home economics club in the department dining room honoring Mary Spann Smith. Bernice Kerlin and Elizabeth Hayes acted as hostesses.

"The dining room was tastefully decorated with cut flowers of pink and white and potted ferns. Just after the tea had been sipped, a tea wagon from which fluttered many pink and white streamers was wheeled in by Ethel Lyon Hays who announced that W. T. S. T. C. mail had arrived and asked that each hasten to get the news of the day. Each guest drew from the pink and white mail box, which was on a large wreath of greenery, a pink ribbon on which was tied a small white heart that carried the surprise that Mary Spann Smith and Howard Golden would be married August 22, 1928.

The honoree was presented with a spray of beautiful pink and white flowers.

After a lengthy discussion on this subject of so much interest, the large group of guests departed, wishing the bride-elect happiness and success.

Miss Smith was a member of the graduating class of 1928 of W. T. C. having received her degree with a major of home economics.

Literary Society and a member of the book store employees.

Mr. Golden was a member of the football team in W. T. C. in 1925. He was last enrolled in school here in the fall of '27 doing sophomore work."

BOWMAN-GEORGE WEDDING

Miss Marguerite Bowman and Harvey George, of Amarillo, were united in marriage Wednesday evening at eight-thirty o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bowman, 606 East Third Street, Rev. V. M. Cloyd, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating.

The lovely bride was attired in a navy and rose georgette. Flowers from the home garden added beauty and fragrance to the room.

Mrs. George is one of Hereford's popular young ladies and has been employed with the Harman Motor Company of Amarillo for the past year.

Mr. George is a successful young business man and is the proprietor of a barber shop in Amarillo.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. George will be at home in Amarillo at 318 West Ninth Street.

ANNOUNCEMENT BREAKFAST.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Beyer was the scene of a lovely three course breakfast on Tuesday morning, at which was announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Maurine, to William Harold Hicks, on Wednesday evening, August twenty-ninth.

Covers for twelve were laid at the beautifully appointed table, where the bluebird motif, the message of happiness was carried out. A "Bluebird Pie" which was substituted for the pie of "Four and twenty blackbirds" of ancient nursery rhyme, comprised the center piece for the table.

A miniature folder in the shape of bluebirds peeped forth from the pie, with pink ribbons tied to their wings, leading to the place card found at each place.

were directed to tug at the ribbons and thus capture a bluebird on which would be found a fragment of a secret to be revealed. Each guest read aloud her message in turn and the completed story gave the announcement.

A "Toast to the Bride-to-be" by Miss Edith Shields, a vocal solo by Miss Grace Ferguson and "A welcome from the bride-of-a-year" by Mrs. J. D. Raymond, comprised the short program given after the second course.

The bride-to-be was presented a lovely bride's book in which the following guests were registered: Misses Grace Ferguson, Eva Skelton, Frances Oberthier, Kathleen Hawkins, Edith Shields, of Vega, Gladys and Lucile Hicks; Mmes. Egbert Brady, J. D. Raymond, of Panhandle; V. M. Beyer, of Amarillo, and E. B. Hicks.

Campfire Girls Enjoy Their First Ceremony

The Weocantewate Camp Fire Girls held their first ceremonial meeting last Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock near the bridge at the foot of Main street. All of the girls present received honors and their membership rings. Miss Mary Elizabeth Stanford received the high honor. Members of the organization are Nora Alice Daniel, Katherine Miller, Betty Ruth Pickett, Estelle Gilliland, Mary Elizabeth Stanford, Virginia Barnett, Jimmy Clark, Wilma Joe Jones, Betty Jones, Florence Boardman, Patricia Weatherbrook, Thornton Shirley and Aloise Matthews.

The Camp Fire girls are deeply interested in the outcome of the competition between Hereford and Canyon for the cleanest and most beautiful city, and have put in writing their reasons for wanting their home town to win. These reasons follow:

"First, we want Hereford to beat Canyon in the two-town contest because we admire Canyon. We think of it always as beautiful, cultured and self-respecting community that brings credit to those who contest with it and win the contest. We are glad, therefore, that we are in this contest to beat Canyon.

"Second, we want to beat Canyon because Hereford is our home town. We like Hereford better than any other town because it is our own. It affords us a home; it gives us good neighbors; it provides a school for us, and it is doing its best to satisfy all our wants. We couldn't help liking it if we wanted to. Liking it as we do, we want it to win in this contest. Don't you?"

"Third, we want Hereford to beat Canyon because we think that nothing that is good enough for Canyon is too good for Hereford, and we fear that Hereford will not get all that is coming to it unless it beats Canyon.

International Sunday School Lesson for August 19.

PAUL CARRIES THE GOSPEL INTO EUROPE.
Acts 16:16-15.

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D., Associate General Secretary of the World's Sunday School Association.

With the very best intentions, it can be hard to know just what is right to do. This problem is intensified when one seeks to do only the will of God. Paul was eager to render service in Kingdom-building.

It was not long before Paul felt impelled to undertake another missionary journey and proposed the matter to Barnabas, who was eager to go forth again, but insisted that John Mark be taken along. Now this young man began the first journey with them, but became a quitter after leaving Cyprus, and Paul insisted that he was not dependable. Then a real argument arose between Paul and Barnabas. It was splendidly settled by both agreeing to disagree. Whereupon Paul took Silas as a team worker and Barnabas chose his nephew Tychicus for a return circuit through Cyprus. Mark made good and we have the evidence in the Gospel of Mark, that he wrote, as well as in the later commendation of Paul, who in II Timothy 4:11 asked that Mark come to him in Rome as he was needed there.

By a journey through the Cilician Gates, Paul and Silas visited some of the churches established on the first journey. Then it seemed wise to stop for a length of time in Phrygia and Galatia, but it was made clear by the Holy Spirit that there was greater need for work elsewhere. Meanwhile the journey was continued to Troas.

Recourse was constantly had to prayer for daily direction. "This is not the place to abide" seemed the repeated answer until Paul was on the very threshold of Europe. At Tarsus another major vision was given by way of definite instruction. A man from Macedonia was seen who besought Paul: "Come over into Macedonia and help us." At once Paul understood that he now had certain marching orders and forthwith took ship and soon reached Philippi in Europe. Dr. Luke was now with Paul, as can be noted from the "we" passages that began here. Luke is the historian of Acts as well as of the Gospel that bears his name.

It was always Paul's method, if conditions made it possible, to first seek the Jews in any new locality. They with him were equally strong in their belief in Jehovah. Then he would follow the well known law in pedagogy, after making his point of contact of proceeding from the known to the unknown. He found that there was a place of prayer by the river side and on the first Sabbath went there that he might meet those who would come together to worship God. It looks as if the group that day was made up of women only. One was a business woman of marked ability, Lydia of Thyatira, who was a seller of purple dyes. She was an eager listener as Paul enlarged on the truth that had come to him by revelations, which he had worked out experimentally in his own life and had seen multitudes of others accept and practice, too. Lydia believed that Jesus was the Messiah and sealed her new faith by baptism as a further act of obedience. Her household was equally impressed and declared their belief by accepting baptism. The grace of hospitality was exercised as Paul and his party of co-workers were invited to make her home their headquarters while in Philippi.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT—AUTHORIZING LEGISLATURE TO GRANT CONFEDERATE PENSIONERS REGARDLESS OF DATE PENSIONER CAME TO TEXAS OR WHEN WIDOW MARRIED PENSIONER OR WHEN SHE WAS BORN.

H. J. R. No. 15.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION.

Proposing an amendment to Section

51, Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, authorizing a tax levy for Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows, and providing for submission of same to the qualified electors of this State at any election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, and providing the necessary proclamation and appropriation to defray expenses of proclamation, publication and election.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 51, of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

"The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public moneys to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient, and to their widows in indigent circumstances under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; to indigent and disabled soldiers, who, under special laws of the State of Texas, during the war between the States, served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raids or Mexican marauders, and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia who were in active service during the war between the States, and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances, and who are or may be eligible to receive aid under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; and also grant for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy, under such regulations and limitation as may be provided for by law; provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a State ad valorem tax on property of seven (.07) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon, "For the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances and authorizing the tax levy therefor," and "Against the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances and authorizing tax levy therefor." Each voter shall scratch out one of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The sum of $5,000.00 or as much thereof as may be needed is hereby appropriated for the expense of publication of said Amendment.

adventures of Christianity in the world.

When interviewed regarding the services, Mr. Ross stated briefly: "The aim of these services will be the exaltation of Christ and of Christianity. Nothing else can be so exalted as the Christ; nothing else so needs exaltation today as Christianity and its Christ. Christianity is the great rock on which all things must build for security and happiness."

"We most cordially invite our neighbors to these services."

Housing Situation Is Being Studied Deeply

The Hereford Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of communications from the Kewaunee, Wisconsin, Chamber of Commerce, outlining that organization's activities along residence building in the Wisconsin city. That organization, according to the information received, has built sixteen houses, ranging in price from $3,800 to $4,800. Fourteen of these residences have already been sold, and the other two are contracted as soon as completed.

This information was sent in answer to queries mailed the northern city in an effort to learn of ways to relieve the acute housing shortage that exists in Hereford at this time.

With details of the plan gone more thoroughly into, it will be submitted to the civic committee of the local chamber, who is at this time giving the matter of housing facilities considerable study.

Normal Band Delights Local Lovers of Music

Citizens of Hereford Wednesday evening were honored by the appearance here of the famous West Texas Teachers College Band, of Canyon. The visiting delegation rendered a beautiful open air concert in Mother's Park, and local music lovers responded by packing the surrounding streets to the curbs with their cars.

The Normal Band is directed by Prof. C. E. Strain, and the high technique and tuneful accuracy of the members were a splendid tribute to his leadership. In addition to Prof. Strain and his band boys, other officials of the College present were: Professors R. P. Jarrett, S. H. Condra, Travis Shaw and Mrs. Shaw and L. S. Baker.

The concert was greatly enjoyed and the occasion was a splendid and appreciated gesture of neighborliness and good will.

Mrs. Pickett Has Dahlias of Huge Size and Beauty

The largest and most gorgeously-hued Dahlias the Brand force has been privileged to see and smell for many moons were brought in last week-end by Mrs. W. L. Pickett, wife of the manager of the Star Theatre. One, deep red in color, measured eight inches in diameter; another, orchid, had a spread of seven inches; and a deep bronze fellow, fairly glowing in changing color effects, was six inches across.

Lovers of the beautiful things in nature should not fail to peep into Mrs. Pickett's fence and view these marvellous flowers. Mrs. Pickett is very proud of them, and rightfully so.
