The National Federation of Independent Business, Inc., one of the more conservative organizations in the country, has found surprising sentiment among its members in favor of the federal administration's Welfare Program, including the basic minimum family income provision of $1,600 per year for a family of four.

However, there is a qualification to this endorsement. Among those favoring the program, virtually all suggested that persons receiving the welfare funds be required to perform some type of work for their community. In fact, they envisioned the program as one which could aid the fight against pollution.

An example of comments on the subject: "I feel that any person on welfare should have to work for what they get if they are not disabled. It seems to me that the state or federal government could make projects where this could be handled and at the same time improve the appearance of the country. If he or she would not work on these projects, then they should be cut off from all funds with the exception of a little food."

Another suggested: "Instead of just sitting on their porches waiting for their welfare check, they should be required to clean up a park area, or at least in front of their own dwellings."

Still another felt that welfare recipients should work in proportion tho their physical ability for any payments they received. It was suggested that they could help in hospitals, libraries, school cafeterias, parks and other places.

Speaking of organizations, the apple people have one that is increasingly active, and its handiwork shows up in a new-type diet offered for those who wish to drop a few pounds here and there. The main thing is to eat five fresh apples each day, and with them you can eat bacon, ham or cheese, and you may drink all the water, unsweetened tea and unsweetened black coffee you want. Follow such a diet two or three days each week and they say the pounds will melt. Once you are down to the weight you want, the apple bit once a week will keep you there—so they say.

Nixon To Address Nation Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon said today he will deliver a major address to the nation on Vietnam Wednesday night and will have a U.S. negotiating proposal presented at the Paris peace talks Thursday.

Nixon gave no advance hint as to what the new U.S. peace talks offer might be.

Speaking to newsmen at a brief, unscheduled appearance, the President said he will address the nation at 9 p.m. Wednesday EDT in a nationally televised and broadcast appearance.

He added:

"For the past several weeks within the administration we have been having discussions of our negotiating position.

"This will be the most comprehensive statement ever made on this subject since the beginning of this difficult war."

The report to the nation will follow completion of a nine-day European tour.

The report probably will include the prospect of further troop withdrawals from Vietnam, one source said, and could come as early as next week. But the Nixon administration is not hiding its desire to get such a report on the record before the Nov. 3 elections.

President and Mrs. Nixon were given a red-carpet welcome on their arrival at nearby Andrews Air Force Base Monday night.

Nixon repeated at the airport that his tour had been aimed at "strengthening the structure of peace in the Mediterranean and in the world. I think we made progress in strengthening that structure," he said.

The Nixons were greeted by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, congressional and administration leaders and members of the diplomatic corps.

Nixon said he had found in Europe a greater understanding of U.S. policy in Vietnam than on his previous tour last year. He said "events in the future will demonstrate" that the United States is making progress toward achieving its goals in Vietnam.

He reported a favorable sentiment for the U.S. attempt to win peace in the Middle East, and said the countries he visited consider it essential that the United States maintain its strength in the Mediterranean and in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

On the final stop of the tour, Ireland, Nixon conferred with U.S. negotiators at the Paris peace talks.

3 Killed In Shawnee Tornado

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — A sudden autumn tornado which hopscotched across this central Oklahoma town of 25,000 has killed three persons and injured more than 40.

Mayor Pierre Taron estimated damage Monday, mainly in the business center, at $3.5 million to $4 million.

A twister, possibly the same one, killed one person in Prague, population 1,500 about 15 miles northeast of Shawnee.

In Shawnee, the storm cut a four-mile diagonal path across the city from southwest to northeast.

Ralph Coats and Roy Lee Coats, not related, died when the tornado ripped through a car agency where both worked. The third victim, Mrs. Allen Roberts, 25, lived in a trailer court which was smashed by the big wind.

Instances of looting were reported and 50 highway patrol troopers, 42 National Guardsmen and police and other helpers from a score of nearby communities were called in for rescue and guard duty.

Explosion Hits KPFT

HOUSTON (AP) — An early morning explosion caved in the roof of the building housing the transmitter of Pacifica radio station KPFT today, knocking it off the air.

Extent of the damage was not immediately known but some of the electronic equipment was damaged, a station spokesman said.

The Harris County Sheriff's Department is investigating.

The same building, near Stafford, was rocked by a similar explosion last May, causing $25,000 damage. The station was off the air for three weeks.

Pentagon Money Bill Slashed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Slashing $2 billion from the Pentagon's annual money bill, the House Appropriations Committee approved $66.7 billion today and told the Defense Department it wants better management and "more defense for the dollar."

Criticising the department's procurement practices for the second year in a row, the committee said increased Soviet competition and other military demands require the Pentagon to streamline its methods and not simply ask for more money. Such a request, the committee said, only aggravates inefficiency and mismanagement.

"There is no room for American bungling in the field of defense," the report said. "...the country has every right to expect that the appropriation of more than $66 billion will provide for minimal military forces."

The committee said "the tense situation in the Middle East is a matter of grave concern" but revised language suggesting there might be a need for military forces there sometime before next June.

Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., said the initial language referred only to improvement of the U.S. 6th fleet in the Mediterranean and was not meant to suggest a new commitment of U.S. ground troops in that troubled area.

Some $1.5 billion of the cuts from President Nixon's $68.7 billion defense request for the fiscal year starting last July 1 is in weapons development and purchase money.

The House is expected to vote on the bill Thursday or Friday, which could put the House in a position to recess this week until after the Nov. 3 elections.

The committee knocked out all funds for the Army generals' helicopter training program under which Army Chief of Staff William C. Westmoreland has just won his wings—and urged the Navy to collect another $196,008 for the filming of "Tora! Tora! Tora!"

Goal — Adverse — Neutral

President Of Bolivia Quits

By HAROLD OLMOS
Associated Press Writer

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Gen. Alfredo Ovano Candia resigned as president today and two generals put in claims to succeed him.

Gen. Rogelio Miranda, army chief of staff who launched the revolt Sunday, announced that he was assuming the presidency of a military junta. He did not name other members.

Shortly thereafter, a group of officers of the air force who had remained loyal to Ovando reported Gen. Juan Jose Torres, retired commander of the armed forces, was declared "president of the revolutionary government."

Torres was quoted as saying he would be provisional president and would try to avoid "the consumation of the rightist coup, whose leader is Miranda."

In an attempt to avoid bloodshed, Ovando had asked military forces still loyal to him not to oppose Miranda's conservative rebellion.

Miranda said he formed the junta "to direct the destiny of the fatherland with justice."

Ovando celebrated his first anniversary as president just a week ago.

A statement by Ovando issued by Information Minister Carlos Carrasco said he decided to resign because "the confrontation within the armed forces, aside from dividing them and causing victims within their ranks, would also have resulted in bloodshed in the civil population."

Later Ovando emerged from his home with his wife and two children, Teresa and Alfredo, said "I hope there will be no bloodshed," and left for an unknown destination.

The president gave up after a meeting of army officers by a vote of 317-40 Monday called on both him and Miranda to resign.

Ovando, who seized the presidency in a military coup, at first was defiant and said: "The destiny of the country is not decided by officials but by the people who ought to express their opinions at elections." But during the night he changed his mind.

Ovando on Monday still had the support of two important regiments and the air force. Maj. Ruben Sanchez, commander of the Colorado Regiment guarding the presidential palace, termed the officers' vote a "fraud."

Miranda, a conservative, demanded the leftist president's resignation Sunday while Ovando was out of the capital. He said a junta should take over and arrange elections to be held by August 1972.

The president hurried back to La Paz, rallied the forces loyal to him, said Miranda was fired and announced he would hold elections "shortly." But Miranda refused to surrender.

So far no violence has been reported.

Miranda's revolt is the result of dissatisfaction among conservative officers with such leftist measures as expropriation of the U.S. Gulf Oil Co.'s properties.

A military coup ousted President Luis Adolfo Siles Salinas Sept. 26, 1969. The armed forces issued a "revolutionary mandate" outlining government goals and naming Ovando as president. Ironically, the mandate was signed by Miranda.

Ovando named a Cabinet of leftist civilians and conservative army officers and one of the government's first acts was to expropriate the $150 million holdings of the Gulf Oil Co. on Oct. 17.

This raised dissatisfaction among conservatives, especially since the act shut off all oil exports and deprived the government of badly needed revenue.

Leftist worker and student groups began putting pressure on Ovando last August to relieve Miranda and to fire some of the other military members of the Cabinet. But Ovando maintained such action would "fracture the unity of the armed forces."

Snyder Chamber of Commerce directors this morning authorized Manager Mickey Nunley to work toward coordinating a "Goals for Snyder" campaign.

The campaign is due to involve a number of local citizens in efforts to identify community needs and to establish priorities in development.

In other business at their regular meeting, the Chamber Directors received reports on trade promotion activities. These events are staged by the chamber's trade promotion committee, headed by Loren Sullivan, who presented the report to the board.

It was announced that a community brochure, which is being developed by the Chamber of Commerce, city, the Scurry County Industrial Foundation and the Scurry County Coliseum staff, will be ready for distribution soon.

Also, it was announced that the Chamber of Commerce, beginning Oct. 15, will furnish polyethelene bags for convention packets to be distributed by local business firms to persons attending conventions here.

Sadat Named Egypt Chief

By C. C. MINICLIER
Associated Press Writer

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's only political party named Anwar Sadat Monday night to succeed the late President Gamal Abdel Nasser, assuring his election by the National Assembly Wednesday.

Meeting shortly before midnight, the 150-member central committee of the Arab Socialist Union unanimously approved the nomination of Sadat by the party's executive committee. Sadat, 52, has been serving as provisional president since Nasser died Sept. 28.

The executive committee recommended that the assembly meet Wednesday to endorse Sadat, that his election be confirmed by a nationwide referendum Oct. 5, and that the president be inaugurated two days later.

Named vice president by Nasser in 1969, Sadat was considered by most observers to be the least controversial of several potential contenders for the presidency. One of the others, Lt. Gen. Mohamed Fawzi, commander-in-chief of Egypt's armed forces, assured the central committee of the military's full support for Sadat.

The executive committee made a plea for solidarity in the face of "the designs of hostile forces who desire to sow discord in our ranks." It moved quickly to replace Nasser, it said, to discount "reports spread by the imperialist press of the existence of a so-called vacuum in Egypt."

"Nasser's death places a great burden on the ASU and its various organs to work closely with the new president to further Nasser's ideas," the statement said.

It also said Egypt's alliance with the Soviet Union is "a permanent factor, not a temporary convenience," and warned that Israel might decide to renew "military aggression" because of the present situation in Egypt.

2 Zoning Changes Get Council Okay

Snyder City Council last night approved two zoning change requests and conferred with Southwest Planning representatives on the general plan now being prepared for Snyder.

The zoning changes, which had been recommended by the Planning and Zoning Board after the required hearings, involved the south 90 feet of lots 1-2-3 of the north 140 feet of Block 7, Wilmeth Addition, from R-2 to C-2 zone, as requested by Billy C. Dennis; and blocks 4-5-6, Ridgecrest Addition, from R-2 to C-2, as requested by Mrs. W. T. Murphree. Both requests were approved on first reading. An R-2 zone permits construction of two-family residences, while C-2 is commercial zone.

The council also approved on second and final reading an ordinance closing an alley in blocks 3 and 7, Ridgecrest Addition, but delayed action on a request to close other alleys in that addition. The requests for the Ridgecrest Addition changes were made by Attorney Renal B. Rosson in behalf of Mrs. Murphree and her daughters, Mrs. Rosson and Mrs. Bill Tippen. Rosson said plans are to promote industrial development throughout Ridgecrest Addition.

Second and final reading of an ordinance to close a portion Avenue D south of Twenty-sixth Street and north of U. S. 180 was approved. This action had been requested by the Texas Highway Dept.

The bid of Clowe and Cowan of Amarillo was accepted for furnishing a number of supplies for the water and sewer department. The bid of $4,160.53 was the lowest of five proposals received.

Erection of four-way stop signs at Thirteenth Street and Avenue I, near Northeast Elementary School, was approved, and Fire Chief Alfred Kohl was authorized to proceed with plans to demolish some substandard buildings.

It was announced that Mayor Bobby McCormick will be the city's official representative on the governing body of the West Texas Council of Governments, which Snyder joined recently.

Following last night's discussion on the general plan, it was announced that the planners will present a proposal designating certain areas where mobile homes may be located. This is one of the first areas claiming attention in the study of city needs.

NY Jail Riot Ends

By SAM MAULL
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's five-day jail revolt ended early today when the 41 holdout prisoners at the Long Island City jail in Queens gave up and descended a Fire Department tower ladder.

The holdouts said they were afraid they would be beaten, and denanded that they make their exit from the sixth floor of the jail in full public view.

On Monday, when the institution's other inmates surrendered, newsmen watching from a vantage point said they saw inmates beaten and kicked by guards. One guard claimed that fighting had been started by some of the prisoners.

The Long Island City prisoners were the first in five city jails to seize hostages and take control of their institution, and the last to surrender. They were protesting high bail, long court delays, overcrowding and alleged guard brutality.

The disturbances ended after negotiations between prisoners and city officials, headed by Mayor John V. Lindsay, followed by a Lindsay ultimatum threatening to send in riot-equipped police.

Spokesmen for the Long Island City prisoners, including lawyers for three Black Panthers among them, reached an agreement with city officials under which the tower ladder was provided.

Crash Is Probed

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal investigators say they have uncovered what appear to be a number of violations in the wake of a plane crash in the Colorado Rockies which resulted in the death of 30 persons bound for a football game last Friday.

"We'll hold a formal hearing and that's an indication it's a very serious case," said Edward E. Slattery Jr., information chief for the National Transportation Safety Board.

Two Martin 404 aircraft were ferrying the Wichita State University football team to Logan, Utah, for a game. One plane crashed and burned 52 miles west of Denver. The other landed safely at Logan.

The victims included 13 Wichita players, the head coach, athletic director and team boosters.

James R. Greenwood, chief of public affairs for the Federal Aviation Administration, said Monday Golden Eagle Aviation of Oklahoma City, which contracted to transport the football team this season, did not have FAA certification to operate the 45,000-pound Martin 404s.

"They were certified to operate aircraft in a smaller weight category and up to 12,500 pounds," Greenwood said. "In other words, they were an air taxi operator."

However, Jack Richards, owner of Jack Richards Aircraft Co., Inc., which owned the planes, said, "I leased the airplane to the university and the university supplied its own crews."

The FAA seized the second plane at Logan, sealed its doors with tape and removed the door handles.

The seizure order said the 20-year-old plane "has been involved in various violations of the federal aviation regulations." Greenwood said the violations were "in the area of mechanical deficiencies."

Richards said of the second plane: "It's always been in excellent condition."

Greenwood said the pilot of the undamaged plane, identified as Leland T. Everette, was more than a month overdue for validating his medical certificate to fly.

However, the FAA official said the crew of the plane that crashed appeared to have had up-to-date medical certificates and commercial licenses to fly the Martin 404.

Liz's Son Is Wed

LONDON (AP) — Michael Wilding, the son of actress Elizabeth Taylor, was married to the daughter of an American oceanographer today. Mama stole the show.

Wilding, 18, married Beth Clutter, 19, the daughter of Robert Clutter of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Lee Breitling of Portland, Ore.

The one with the flowing, shoulder-length locks was the groom. The new Mrs. Wilding had her short hair done up in ringlets, a la Little Orphan Annie.

Wilding wore a maroon velvet kaftan and matching trousers, set off with a medallion pendant and a pair of sandals. The bride wore a more traditional white satin wedding chemise with wide sleeves that flared at the elbows. She wore a garland of lillies-of-the-valley in her hair.

Most of the crowd of 500 that gathered outside the Caxton Hall Register Office wasn't much interested in the wedding.

"It's Liz we want to see," said one woman. "She is still the best-looking woman in the world." The crowd cheered when the 38-year-old actress appeared with actor Richard Burton, her fifth husband.

Young Wilding is Miss Taylor's son by her second husband, actor Michael Wilding.

Burton, conventionally dressed in a gray suit and striped shirt, was best man. Miss Taylor wore a white wool trouser suit with a maxilength cardigan and a pearl necklace.

The bride's parents were unable to attend the ceremony.

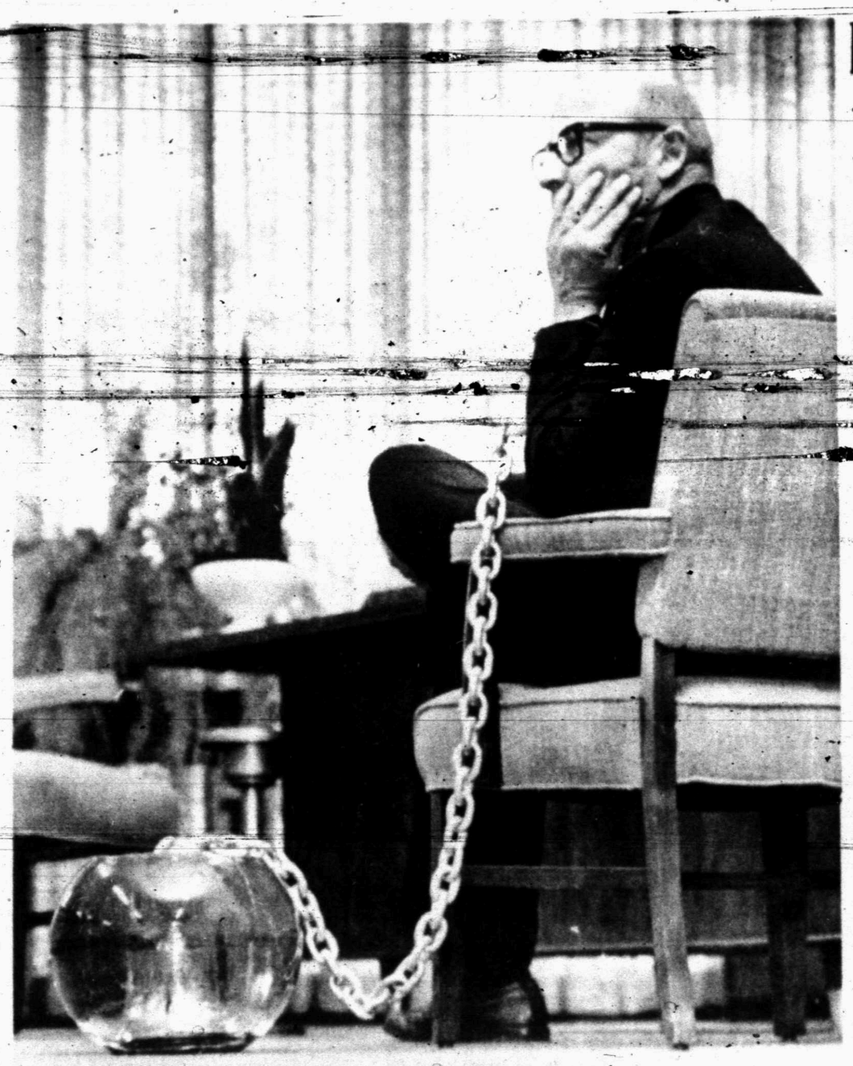

The Wildings will live in an apartment given to them as a wedding present by Miss Taylor. Burton gave them a sports car.

A spokesman for Miss Taylor said Wilding is studying for final secondary school examinations and plans to go on to college. He said there would be no wedding reception or honeymoon.

"These are a couple of mod kids," the spokesman said. "A big party and a honeymoon? That's too old-fashioned."

Verbal Duels Spice Warming Campaigns

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Democrat Lloyd Bentsen chided "ultra-liberal muckrakers" and Rep. George Bush Talked about "machine politicians" Monday in their warming campaign for U.S. senator.

There also were stirrings in the races for governor and lieutenant governor to win votes in the Nov. 3 general election.

Bentsen, the Houston insurance executive who is a former congressman from the Lower Rio Grande Valley, told newsmen at Palestine that Bush should disavow the backing of a group called the Democratic Rebuilding Committee.

This committee, with headquarters in Austin, has been appealing for Democrats to vote against Bentsen and Gov. Preston Smith, the party's nominee for another term. It says in the long run, such a course will benefit the Democrats and create a real two-part state.

Bentsen declared, "It degrades his (Bush's) whole operation for this little pack of jackals to be barking round the edges of the campaign ....This would be a remarkably clean campaign were it not for a few ultra - liberal muckrakers and scandal mongers who have been given Republican aid, comfort and money ....

"If George Bush means what he says about running a clean campaign based on issues, he should repudiate the tactics of the Rebuilding campaign and run his own campaign."

Bush, in a talk to Pan American University students at Edinburg, asserted, "It's tough to be up against the machine politicians, but I'm more convinced than ever that we can beat them."

The Houston congressman went on to say, in this connection, that he preferred to be vying for the Senate seat with Bentsen than with Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex. Bentsen unseated Yarborough in their party's May 2 primary.

"Everywhere in Texas there are deep divisions in the Democratic party," Bush said. "All over the state people are expressing independence — looking at the man rather than the label.

"In the final analysis, I think the people will elect the man who speaks out more positively on the issues. This is what I have done — and will continue to do for the duration of this campaign."

Bentsen, swinging across East Texas, moved on today to Texarkana, where he referred to recent reports that Bush has received twice as much in national campaign funds as some other GOP candidates.

"Washington has been shoveling so much money into the George Bush campaign," Bentsen said, "that now other Republicans around the country are demanding an accounting... While Bush has been poormouthing his campaign (Texas Republican Sen. John) Tower has been turning on the faucet."

Gov. Smith addressed the Texas Public Employes Association at its Austin convention Monday and appeared at receptions in Sherman, Gainesville and Stephenville.

The governor expressed a hope that state legislator "will be sensitive to the effects inflation and continued increases in the cost of living have had on salary schedules of public employes."

Paul Eggers, the Republican opposing Smith, disappeared from public view Monday for what he said probably would be his last day of rest before the November election. He planned to visit San Angelo today.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes had some things to say about pollution and his GOP rival, Byron Fullerton, spoke out against the record of Barnes.

Speaking to the U.S. Civil Defense Council in Fort Worth, Barnes said, "The major responsibility for defense against the dangers of pollution lies with the state. The state can best adopt and enforce regulations against pollution ...."

Fullerton said at Longview said that what Barnes has called voter apathy in the campaign "is more like voter's colic—they are just fed up with the kind of programs and taxes Barnes has been pushing at them the past 10 years."

Texas Gets More Rain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Still more rain drenched much of Texas and occasional threats of turbulence again cropped up Monday evening.

Shower activity hung on this morning through the coastal plains and a drizzle extended as far inland as San Antonio and Austin. Skies stayed overcast across the eastern half of the state while clearing in the west.

In the usually dry Big Bend country of far West Texas high water tumbled down the Rio Grande. The level topped 15 feet, or more than two feet above flood stage, at Presidio, where an inch of rain fell Monday, but was expected to cause no serious trouble.

Rainfall amounts ran as high as 1.69 inches at Austin.

Measurements were generally less than one-half inch elsewhere as Alpine measured .45, Abilene .38, Brownsville 27, Corpus Christi and San Angelo .22, San Antonio .20 and Galveston and Lufkin .14.

Sighting of a tornado in the air 3 miles north of Rio Hondo caused a tornado warning for the second straight day in Cameron County, at the lower tip of the Rio Grande Valley.

A few hours earlier a severe thunderstorm watch was posted for 21 counties in the Texas Panhandle.

Forecasters cancelled both alerts, however, without any damage being reported.

Arrival of a new cold front was expected to lower temperatures in parts of the Texas Panhandle tonight but continued warm weather was promised other sections at least through Wednesday.

County Court Pleas Heard

Two pleas of innocence were entered in county court yesterday.

Concepcion Melendrez pleaded innocent to a charge of aggravated assault on a female. He was remanded to county jail in lieu of $1,000 bond. The offense allegedly occurred last Saturday, and he was arrested by City Police.

J. Rayburn White pleaded innocent to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was released on $500 personal bond. The offense allegedly occurred last Saturday, and he was arrested by City Police.

Final sentence, providing for $200 fine and 90 days jail on each of six liquor law violations, was entered against Mozelle King after she pleaded guilty. A guilty plea to one other liquor law violation brought a sentence of $100 fine plus court costs and a 60-day jail term.

BishopMedeiros Leaves Valley

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — An estimated 1,500 persons jammed the Harlingen Airport terminal area early today as Bishop Humberto S. Medeiros departed to become archbishop of Boston.

It was an emotional scene as the elderly and the rich alike, tears gaming down their faces, crowded around to kiss the bishop's ring and shake his hand.

A Mexican mariachi band played "La Golondrina," a traditional Mexican song of farewell as the bishop worked his way through the throng to the airliner ramp where he paused to bless the crowd.

The crowd was a cross-section of the area, ranging from executives and congressmen to farm workers, They came in automobiles, chartered buses and packed in the back of small trucks to watch the bishop's departure.

The crowd, which had crossed the fence and crowded around the airliner, was moved back by Harlingen police to allow the takeoff.

Bishop Medeiros, accompanied by about 40 priests and laymen from the Lower Rio Grande Valley, was scheduled to arrive in Boston at 2:38 p.m. EDT. He is to be installed as archbishop of Boston at 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Bishop Medeiros was selected to replace Richard Cardinal Cushing who resigned because of ill health. The popular bishop's replacement has not been named.

He had served the predominantly Mexican-American Diocese of Brownsville for four years and three months.

U.S. Rep. Eligio "Kiki" de la Garza of Mission and state Rep. Menton Murray of Harlingen were on hand at the airport.

As the bishop worked his way through the crowd, shaking hands with everyone who could reach him, a group of nuns began singing "A Colores," a Catholic anthem, in Spanish.

The Rev. Sam Fore of McAllen, district superintendent of the United Methodist Church, accompanied the bishop to represent the domination at the installation ceremony.

The bishop departed the Valley on his 55th birthday.

The mariachi band was selected because that is one of the bishop's favorite kinds of music.

The huge crowd pressed against the fence, waving as the airliner taxied down the runway. The crowed was still waving as the plane arched into the sky just as the sun began peeking through the palm trees on the horizon.

Meet The Diamond: From Carbon To A Unique Jewel

By AP NEWSFEATURES

NEW YORK (AP) — The diamond and the rainbow are both unique products of nature—you can't buy a rainbow, but you can buy a diamond!

For millions of years, the diamond remained deep in the earth until it was mined, cut, polished and set in a ring.

The diamond is simply carbon, like graphite or sugar, but tremendous heat and pressure deep in the earth trapped carbon atoms together in crystallized forms. These particles then were forced to burst through the earth's crust in a molten lava.

The word, diamond, comes from the Greek word, "adamas," meaning unconquerable or invincible. The glow of the diamond was likened to mysterious and ever-burning love—"a flame that burns without consuming."

When diamonds first were discovered in the fifth or sixth century B. C., they symbolized wealth and power and were used mainly in royal and religious regalia.

This continued until a gal named Agnes Sorel came along. Agnes, a favorite of the French court during the fifteenth century reign of Charles VII, borrowed diamonds from the royal regalia and wore them at a grand soiree. She became the number-one glamor girl.

There's not as much royalty around today as there used to be, but there are more diamonds than ever, because now they are being bought by the average citizen. The diamond's matchless beauty and brilliance makes it a prized possession of women the world over.

The first recorded diamond engagement ring was given to Mary of Burgundy on her engagement to Maximilian of Austria, on August 17, 1477. When the marriage was being arranged, Max received a note from his advisor: "At the betrothal Your Grace must have a ring set with a diamond and also a gold ring."

Today, four out of five brides-to-be receive diamond betrothal rings.

The diamond is still rare and precious, so it's good to learn all you can about the diamond you buy.

Although many people think the prices of diamonds are set at the whim of the jeweler, their cost factors are specific.

Carat weight, clarity, color and cut, factors known as the Four C's, determine the price.

A Carat is the unit of weight for diamonds. The stones are so precious that they are weighed on scales delicate enough for even a breath to tip the balance.

In early times, the seeds of the carob tree were used to balance the gem scales; "carat" comes from the Greek word for these seeds. A carat is equal to 200 milligrams, and there are 142 carats in the avoirdupois ounce. The carat is further divided into 100 "points." One point is equal to the weight of three ordinary breadcrumbs.

CLARITY refers to the diamond's carbon spots, inclusions or other natural imperfections. A diamond is rated flawless if it shows no imperfections to an expert using ten-power magnification. (But very few are completely flawless.) No two patterns of inclusions are alike.

COLOR of a diamond may be any color of the spectrum, and all colors are beautiful. Pure white diamonds are extremely rare, and are priced accordingly. You can judge the color of a diamond by looking at it sideways; through the thickest part of the stone, as you hold it up to north light on a clear day.

CUT refers to the shape of the diamond and to the arrangement of the facet—the 58 tiny planes that trap the light and make the stone sparkle.

The beauty of a diamond depends on the way it handles light. The diamond cutter shapes the stone so that the maximum amount of light is admitted through the top of the stone, bounces around inside, and comes back out the top.

Diamonds are cut in a variety of shapes. The round (or "brilliant" cut) is the most popular for engagement rings. The oval is an elongated round. The marquise is an oval with points at both ends, and the pearshape is round at one end and pointed at the other. The heart-shape is a pear-shape with a notch in the round end. The emerald-cut is rectangular, with facets on the sides and ends and across the corners.

Diamonds may last forever, but they need care to stay at their brilliant best. They must be kept clean, and must be put away carefully while not being worn. And they must be packed carefully when they travel.

Diamonds do get smudged, soiled and dusty. Lotions, powders, soaps, even the natural skin oils put a film on diamonds and dim their brilliance.

Clean diamonds "glow" because the maximum amount of light can then enter and return in a fiery brilliance. It takes just a little care to keep them that way.

One of the easiest methods of giving your diamond a "facial" is to buy one of the brand-name liquid jewelry cleaners, with its kit, and follow its instructions. Some of the preparations cannot be used on certain materials. Read the label on the jar and chose the kind most useful to you.

When you're not wearing diamonds they should be kept in a fabric-lined jewel case, or a box with compartments or dividers. Don't jumble your diamond pieces in a drawer or jewelry case, because diamonds can scratch other jewelry, or even each other.

The packing of diamonds for travel should be given care. There are many kinds of carryalls, especially designed for jewelry travel. Most have special compartments for bracelets and necklaces; velvet pads to attach pins and earrings.

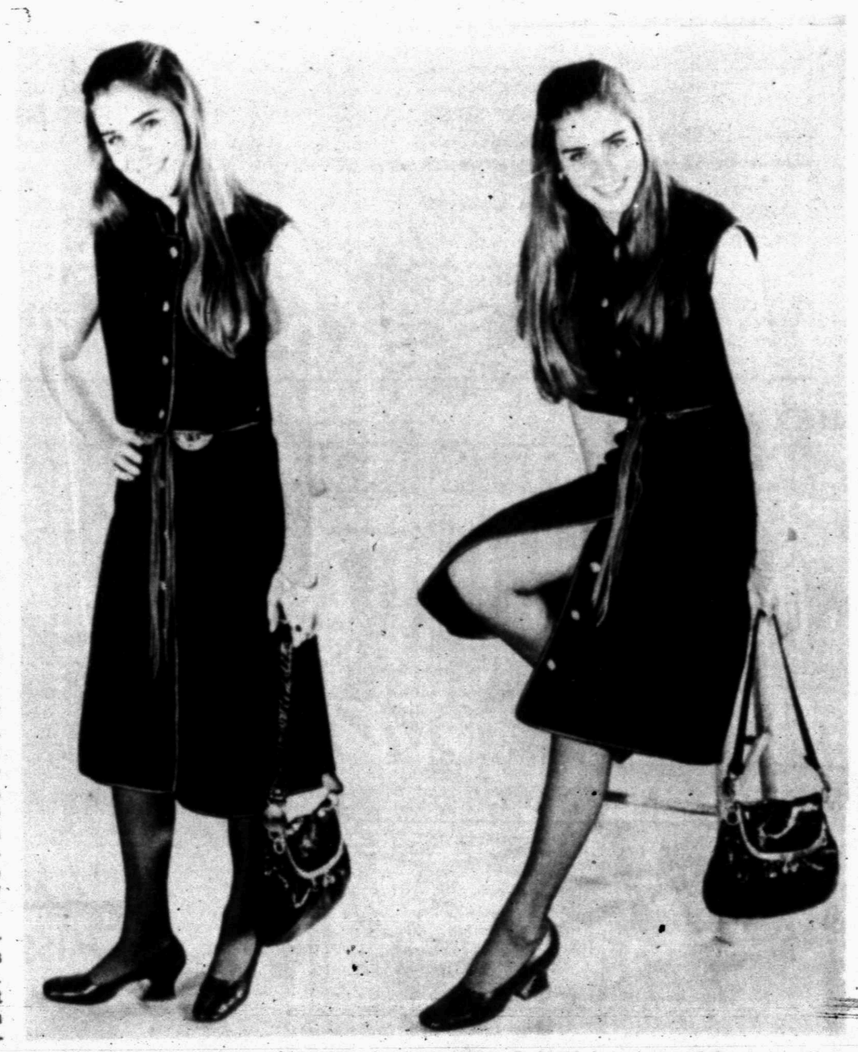

Enjoy your diamonds. Wear them with pleasure and pride—which will be all the greater if you take care of them.

Each diamond, even the smallest of stones, is a miniature work of art, and each diamond has a personality of its own.

Nothing can begin to rival the diamond—Nature's "limited edition."

Garnish green cabbage slaw with fresh orange sections. Looks pretty and and tastes good!

A TOUGH RHAPSODY!

Economists Suspicious Of Old Reliable Gauge

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Notes on any economy in transition:

While the Republican administration has managed to force the economy to submit to direction, it still hasn't mastered the problem of discipline.

The administration thought its policies would have corrected excesses much earlier this year and that the recovery would be more advanced by now. Instead, it must face elections with joblessness at its worst in years.

The inflation rate also proved a bit more of a problem than expected. For months there was almost no response at all. Now there are indications that the drop in prices will be sharper than expected.

Some economists are becoming increasingly suspicious of old, reliable statistical measures of economic activity. The Gross National Product, one of the most popular gauges, is coming in for unusual criticism.

The chief contention is that the GNP is misleads in that it really doesn't measure all the output of goods and services but only those that pass through the marketplace and for which a price is paid.

It ignores the efforts of students, housewives, volunteer workers and others. Neither does it include productive work that a person does for himself or his family, such as painting or sculpting or building a lawn.

The most incongruous part of it, however, is that it fails to count negative aspects of economic activity, such as pollution or impairment of health.

Curiously, some obviously destructive processes lead to advances in GNP. A war, for example, can spur the hiring of workers and turn leisure time activities, which are not measured, into overtime work, which is measured.

Derail a train and there will follow an immediate spurt of economic activity involving doctors, hospitals, repair crews, lawyers and so on, all of which must be paid for and therefore contribute to the GNP.

The stock market slump, worst since the Great Depression of the 1930s, has left many discouraged investors seeking new outlets for their funds, such as in oil and gas drilling, real estate, art and commodities.

Among the more popular outlets that seem to be developing is cattle feeding, which may be engaged in from Wall Street or like streets in many other cities hundreds of miles from the ranges.

The investment mechanism is similar to that of a mutual fund or a limited partnership. The profits, if they are to be made, come from the increase in value of a herd through the addition of pounds.

However, a perusal of prospect uses suggests there are as many hazards in this market as in any other. Among them: cattle rustling, predators, accidental drowning and, as you might expect, price fluctuations for beef.

Weisenberger Financial Services quotes one cattle fund executive as saying a return of 38 per cent to 47 per cent before taxes is possible, but adds that it would be more realistic to consider a 20 per cent return.

Junior Editors Quiz on SKINKS

QUESTION: Where do skinks live, how do they look, what is their food?

* * *

ANSWER: This writer was once a reptile-boy, and now is a reptile-man. He has had many a reptile zoo, so you can take it that he understands the problems of capturing these slippery little creatures from experience. Skinks are true lizards which look more like snakes than some others. Their legs are quite short and their scales smooth and very shining, which makes them rather attractive to look at. Another thing: the kind of skink we find most commonly in the East, the five-lined skink, has a vivid blue tail when young. The older males of the greater western skink, have brilliant red heads. Like other lizards, skinks are Southern in habitat, but can be found over a greater range to the North than most of the others. Skinks like to eat insects, spiders and worms. In captivity, feed them meal worms which you can buy in pet shops. Fix up a terrarium with glass sides and a screen top, including some rocks and plants to make them feel at home. The brown skink is another pretty little party which likes woodsy places. Have plenty of leaves in his cage.

Things That Make One Yawn

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A list of things which may not bore you to sleep—but at least make you yawn:

Pet owners who think it is cute to make an elderly dog sit up and beg for a cookie.

Reading jokes the fourth time someone who insists on showing you exactly what they mean—but is both lost and fumbling to what the dentist is going to do to his next.

All Wagnerian operas.

A lecture on Gertrude Stein and why she was a, why she was a, why she was an important literary figure.

Playing charades at a cocktail party with a group of trapped strangers who don't really like to play any game—not even kneesies under the table.

Collections of the wit and humor of U.S. presidents who were never really witty and funny only unconsciously.

Anything sealed in plastic so strong that even Dracula couldn't open it with his teeth.

Canned spinach, frozen spinach, fresh spinach, wet spinach, dry spinach, hot spinach, lukewarm spinach, wide spinach, narrow spinach, tall spinach, short spinach, imitation spinach, and spinach souffle.

The now it can be revealed memoirs of aging movie stars who can't act written by ghost writers who can't write.

Good advice.

Naughty films neutered for television presentation.

Guys who want to show off their strength at Indian hand wrestling after only two drinks.

Ringlets and forehead curls on any woman over 29.

Muttonchip whiskers on any man under 59.

Arguments over who was the greatest baseball player or heavyweight boxer of all time.

Neighbors' wives who like to flirt in order to make their husbands jealous.

Neighbors' wives who aren't flirting—but really mean it.

Suburbanites who regard their long battles against crabgrass as annual Armageddons.

Lush poetry which reads as if it had been turned out by a woman travel folder writer, and poetry so obscure it sounds like a code produced by an Armenian cryptographer.

Odd-shaped sunglasses worn by secretaries in the hope that this will make them mysterious and alluring.

Commercials about new deodorants, new toothpastes, new mouth washes, new shave lotions, or new dandruff cures which supposedly will turn a wallflower into a femme fatale or a homely truckdriver into an irresistable Romeo.

The use by teen-agers of the word "stupid," as applied to their parents or anything else they don't understand or appreciate.

Farley Speaks To Postmasters

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former Postmaster General James A. Farley says the outcome of the 1972 presidential election will depend on two things—"The first is the economy of the country at that time and the second is the way Nixon will handle foreign affairs."

Farley, 82, spoke Sunday at the 66th annual convention of the National Association of Postmasters.

Farley said the postal workers strike last winter was regrettable but declared:

"They had been promised and promised and promised more money for months and there was no doubt that the administration was holding them off."

Demonstrations To Be Limited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Demonstrations in front of the White House will be limited to 100 persons beginning Oct. 31 to protect the prisident, the Interior Department has announced.

"After all, the White House is only 200 feet from the sidewalk and there's always the possibility for violence," a spokesman said Sunday.

Rallies across the street in Lafayette Park will be limited to 500 persons and, in each case, groups must give 48 hours notice.

Fire Damages Junior College

FORT WORTH (AP) — Fire dealt extensive damage early today to the interior of the student union center at the Northeast Tarrant County Junior College.

Most of the furnishings were destroyed along with the book store and the cafeteria.

Officials said, however, that a number of stone walls in the building may have prevented serious structural damage.

The building was one of the first completed in an $11 million complex on the junior college campus, which is eight miles northeast of Fort Worth.

About 100 firemen from Fort Worth and neighboring towns battled the blaze. It broke out about 1 a.m. and was controlled within an hour.

Cincinnati Celebrates

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI (AP) — Not too many years ago Sparky Anderson was screwing legs into tables in a furniture factory, his baseball career apparently over.

Now he's the manager of the National League champion Cincinnati Reds preparing for Saturday's opening of the World Series against American League champion Baltimore.

Anderson recalled those lean days Monday as he stood dripping with champagne in the Cincinnati dressing room after his Reds had defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates for a three-game sweep of the National League playoffs.

The Reds took the payoff game on a play that characterizes their manager's philosophy of the game—aggressiveness and the willingness to gamble.

The score was tied 2-2 in the eighth at Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium. Ty Cline was on second and Pete Rose at first. Bobby Tolan lashed a single to left and Cline rounded third just beating Willie Stargell's throw to the plate with what turned out to be the winning run in a 3-2 game.

"We try to play aggressive baseball," said Anderson. "Sure we've had guys thrown out at the plate, but that's the chance you take," observed the guy who six years ago was fired by Toronto in the International League and turned to work in the furniture factory.

The 36-year-old Anderson, youngest manager in the major leagues, took a moment from explaining his strategy in the deciding game against Eastern Division champion Pittsburgh to announce Gary Nolan as the Reds' first-game pitcher against Baltimore Saturday in the World Series.

Nolan won 18 games during the regular season and the first of the playoff. He'll probably be opposed by Orioles' Jim Palmer.

Cline, whose pinch triple started the Reds' winning three-run rally in the 10th inning of the playoff opener, was called upon in the eighth inning Monday with two out and the bases empty.

He walked and moved to second on Rose's single.

Cline said he made up his mind to try for home as soon as he saw Tolan's hit to left.

"As I rounded third I slipped and lost my balance completely," he related. "I lost Alex completely," he said, referring to third base coach Alex Grammas, who was waving and shouting for Cline to keep going to the plate.

"I didn't hear him either," Cline said, "but I knew he would want me to try and score."

Cline said that as he neared the plate he saw Pirates' catcher Manny Sanguillen go toward first. "I tried for the third base edge of the plate," he went on.

Stargell said Tolan's single wasn't as hard as he thought it was. "If it had been hit sharper I wouldn't have had to hurry," said the Pittsburgh left fielder, who has a good throwing arm.

Sanguillen had to go to his right to get the throw and then dive back to his left. He just missed the tag and it meant Cincinnati's first National League pennant since 1961.

There were a number of dramatic moments in the hard-fought third and final game of the playoff. Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh had a tough decision when he lifted right-hander Bob Moose in favor of reliever Joe Gibbon with left-hand hitting Tolan coming up in the critical eighth.

"I knew that Tolan hit well against left-handers," said Murtaugh. Tolan hit .335 against southpaws during the regular season.

"I went to the percentages," said Murtaugh, explaining why he decided to go to the left-handed Gibbon. "Tolan is a good hitter against right-handers too. Tolan hit the ball on the ground," added Murtaugh, "but it went in the hole."

Murtaugh summed up his team's quick exit from the playoffs this way:

"It was just like our final games against the (New York) Mets that gave us the division. We got the big baseball breaks then. The Reds got the big baseball plays when they needed them in this series."

Moose was philosophical about his heart-breaking defeat. The right-hander gave up only four hits in the 7 2-3 innings he worked. Unfortunately for him, two of the hits were consecutive home runs in the first inning by Tony Perez and Johnny Bench.

"They were bad pitches," said Moose, who felt no pain in the tender elbow of his pitching arm which had threatened to keep him out of the playoff. "You make a bad pitch and what can you do?"

The 5-foot-9 Anderson, a slim appearing 170 pounds, already is thinking about the Baltimore Orioles, who won the American League pennant in a three-game sweep over Minnesota.

"Our scouting report is that Baltimore is the best defensive club in baseball, has the best front-line pitching in the game and is the third or fourth best offensive team," he said.

The Reds, however, don't appear awed. Scout Ray Shore winked at a guy in the dressing room Monday as he observed: "Two of the Orioles' three top starters are left-handed."

A look at the record shows that Cincinnati posted a 33-8 record against southpaws in the regular season with only five going the route against the Big Red Machine. And they beat two left-handers in the playoff.

Are you listening, Earl Weaver?

Umpires Seek More Money

CINCINNATI (AP) — Major league unpires, who worked baseball's playoffs under temporary settlement of their contract dispute with management, will try to hammer out a final agreement Wednesday in New York.

Umpire Harry Wendelstedt said Monday umpire representatives will meet in Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's office to clear up the contract prior to the World Series, which starts here Saturday.

Under terms of the temporary settlement, the umpires will receive $3,000 for working the National and American League playoff games and $7,000 for the series. Umpires have asked for $5,000 and $10,000.

"We didn't want to be brutal," said Wendelstedt, explaining why the umpires called off their strike and agreed to work the AL games between Baltimore and Minnesota and the NL playoffs between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

Joe Pepitone Named In Suit

HACKENBUSH, N.J. (AP) — Joe Pepitone, first baseman-outfielder of the Chicago Cubs, has been named defendant in a separate maintenance suit by his wife, Diane.

Mrs. Pepitone, 27, said she and the baseball player were married in February 1966 and that he left her in November 1968. Her petition said he had since paid $100 a week for her and their daughter, Lisa, 3, to live on.

The petition said Pepitone could afford to pay more because he gets about $40,000 a year for playing baseball plus income from two men's boutiques in New York.

Orioles Complete Sweep

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — The biggest machine in Cincinnati this weekend won't necessarily be red.

The peaking Baltimore Orioles qualified Monday as a formidable World Series match for Cincinnati's slugging Reds by thrashing Minnesota 6-1 to complete a methodical three-game sweep of the American League championship playoffs.

"We want the choice cut this year," said Orioles sparkplug Frank Robinson, for whom the series, opening Saturday at Cincinnati's new Riverfront Stadium, will mark a second homecoming of sorts. The former Red star was dealt to the Orioles five years ago.

"I was back there for the All-Star game this summer and it was a lot of fun," he recalled. "Now, it's for real. And we're ready."

Robinson spoke of the Orioles' readiness after they proved it convincingly at Memorial Stadium behind the 12-strikeout pitching of right-hander Jim Palmer, one of their trio of 20-game winning aces.

Palmer, who also won the finale of last year's three-game Twin killing in the first playoff of AL division champs, scattered seven hits and possibly earned a series-opening start against the National League champion Reds.

Cincinnati capped a three-game sweep of the NL playoffs Monday with a 3-2 victory over Pittsburgh.

While the Reds were taking their league apart from the outset, the Orioles shook off the humiliating series setback at the hands of the New York Mets and rolled to 108 victories—tops in the majors.

They won their last 11 regular season games, then smacked the Twins 10-6 and 11-3 at Minnesota last weekend before closing out the set at home.

Manager Earl Weaver shrugged off the winning streak, however, while discussing his outlook on the upcoming confrontation.

"Sure, we've won 14 in a row," he said. "But they don't count now. It's not the winning streak I like, it's the type of people we have on this ball club. If we had lost 14 in a row I'd still think this team can beat Cincinnati."

"Cincinnati probably is the best hitting team in baseball, but I think our pitching and defense is better," said Brooks Robinson, who duplicated his 1969 playoff spree against the Twins by cracking seven hits in the series.

Baltimore's pitching and defense certainly was too much for Minnesota. The Twins committed two errors in each game while the Orioles played errorless ball all the way. And Minnesota pitchers were raked for 36 hits and six home runs, two of them by Dave Johnson, in the one-sided series.

"I don't think we played as well as we are capable of against them," understated Bill Rigney, the Twins' first-year manager. "We gave them too much in this series, something we didn't do during the regular season."

While Rigney and the Twins headed homeward with thoughts of what might have been, the Orioles set their sights on the Big Red Machine.

"I think we're going into the series better prepared this year," Frank Robinson said. "It wasn't that we weren't up for the Mets a year ago. We just weren't ready for them.

"Some of us took three or four days off in a row after we clinched our division. It affected our timing. But we profitted by it, and this year we've been working right along to be ready. The regulars wanted to keep playing, and asked to play, because we want to be sharp."

"All last winter," Palmer added, "people kept telling me about how we lost to the Mets in the series. Now we're all looking forward to being back in it ... and facing the best."

Hermleigh Jr. Hi Wallops Highland

HERMLEIGH — The Hermleigh Junior High Football team won its third victory in a row last night when it downed Highland Junior High, 58-25.

The Hermleigh juniors are undefeated in their loop play.

Robert Luna paced the Hermleigh team's offensive effort Monday night, rushing for 70 yards and scoring three touchdowns. Donnie Roemisch passed for a total of 93 yards, including two that went for touchdowns. The other Hermleigh touchdowns were scored byy Tony Sosa, Adolof Luna, Alex del Toro and Steve Mason.

Buckeyes Widen Lead

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State is No. 1 and Texas is No. 2, so what's new?

What's new is Penn State, which is nowhere at the moment.

"We're just not a very good football team right now," says Coach Joe Paterno, whose Nittany Lions dropped out of the Associated Press rankings—and out of sight—after losing their second straight game last week.

Penn State's 29-16 defeat by Wisconsin came a week after its 41-13 humiliation by Colorado and shattered a myth of invincibility built on 31 games without a loss.

Penn State dipped from No. 4 in the nation to No. 16 after the Colorado belting. Now they aren't even listed in Honorable Mention after the sandbagging by Wisconsin.

The Buckeyes widened their lead over the Longhorns after shellacking Duke 34-10. Ohio State received 27 of 38 first-place votes from sports writers and broadcasters around the country for 713 points to 610 for Texas, an uneasy 20-17 conqueror of UCLA.

Stanford plunged from third to 12th after dropping a 26-14 game to Purdue, enabling Notre Dame and Southern California to jump one place each to third and fourth, respectively. Notre Dame ambushed Michigan State 29-0 and Southern Cal walloped Oregon State 45-13.

Mississippi slammed Alabama 48-23 and went from seventh to fifth; Nebraska stayed No. 6 after beating Minnesota 35-10; Michigan went two places to seventh by defeating Texas A&M 14-10 and Air Force climbed two spots to No. 8 after bombing Colorado State 37-22.

Auburn smashed Kentucky 33-15 and climbed from 12th to No. 9 and Arkansas climbed from 11th to 10th after taking Texas Christian 49-14.

Penn State may be in for a rare losing season—and that worries Paterno more than the rankings.

"I've never been concerned with the rankings," he says, "I think they're bad for football. They create interest, I know, but it's not right for teams to run up scores for the rankings. You should play to win in football, not to embarass the opposition."

The last time Penn State lost more than it won was 1938, when the Nittany Lions' record was 3-4-1. They rank fourth among major schools in the last 25 years—171 victories and 65 losses for a .725 mark. They once had 26 straight winning campaigns—1939 through 1964.

The Top Twenty teams, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points. Points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-etc.:

BEATING INSIDE PRISON WALLS — A helmeted prison guard hits a prisoner with a nightstick Monday while two others try to grab him in the courtyard of the Long Island City Jail in Queens as prison authorities tried to regain control of the institution. Newsmen were barred from the prison and photograph was made from the top of an adjacent warehouse. Witnesses said 200 to 300 prisoners were ordered to sit in the courtyard while guards dragged others from seized buildings. (AP Wirephoto)

Senate Shelves Direct Election Amendment

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — After nearly a month of wrangling, the Senate has shelved a constitutional amendment to abolish the electoral college and provide for the direct election of the president.

The move came abruptly Monday after the collapse of efforts to find a compromise.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chief Senate sponsor of the proposed amendment, said he hopes it will be given another chance if Congress holds a post-election session in November.

The House approved the amendment last year by a 339-70 vote and President Nixon subsequently endorsed it. But in the Senate it ran into delaying tactics by opponents and all efforts to bring it to a vote proved futile.

Not until Sept. 8, nearly a year after the House approved it, was the amendment brought up in the Senate. Two attempts to shut off debate fell short of the required two-thirds majority.

A third attempt had been scheduled for today's session, but it was washed out when Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., obtained unanimous consent to shelve the whole issue.

Bayh had conceded another cloture vote would have been fruitless.

He repeatedly said he thought the proposed amendment could muster the two-thirds majority required for approval if only it could be brought to a vote, but other senators disputed this.

Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., who had offered a compromise, said it was apparent there was no electoral reform proposal on which two-thirds of the Senate could agree.

Many different proposals were advanced during the course of the debate, but none of them ever came to a vote.

The unanimous-consent agreement obtained by Mansfield provides the issue cannot be brought up in the Senate again before Nov. 16.

There is no guarantee a lame-duck session will be held in November, but if there is, Bayh said, he and other supporters of the direct-election amendment hope to persuade Mansfield "to let us have another crack at it."

If it can't win approval, he said, he will try some other plan that would be an improvement over the electoral college system.

Soviets Launch Rocket

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government launched a high-altitude rocket Saturday with an astrophysical observatory for closer observation of the sun, Tass reported today.

The rocket reached a height of nearly 310 miles, the Soviet news agency said. After completing its program of research, Tass continued, the container with the observatory was parachuted to earth.

Instruments to measure solar emission in ultraviolet and X-Ray bands were mounted on a stabilized platform in the container at the top of the rocket. The results of the test are being processed and will be published in the scientific press, the announcement said.

Shah Warns Oil Companies

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The Shah of Iran warned today that Western oil companies in Iran must increase their output or face new legislation to protect Iran's interests.

Opening a new session of the Iranian parliament, the monarch did not say what retaliatory measures would be taken. But informed sources said the legislation would provide for seizure of some of the concession area of the consortium of British, French, Dutch and American companies which operates the Iranian industry.

Last year Iran received $1 billion in revenue from the consortium.

The Shah also forecast extension to 15 years of the present five-year, billion-dollar trade and technical treaties with the Soviet Union.

In a thinly veiled warning to neighboring Iraq, he said Iran enjoyed friendly relations with all its neighbors except one, and he warned this neighbor that "Iran will not accept any foreign power rule in the Persian Gulf when the British leave this region in 1971."

GSA Is Given Job Of Finding Federal Art

By JOY ELLIOTT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government probably owns more 20th Century art than Washington's National Gallery and New York's Whitney Museum combined, says the General Services Administration. All it has to do is find it.

The job of locating and cataloguing the works has fallen to the GSA.

The art collection accrued to the government through New Deal-sponsored projects that kept artists on federal payrolls from 1933 to 1943 and brought the United States to the forefront of contemporary international art.

As many as 100,000 pieces of art were created during those years but GSA expects to find only a fraction of them.

GSA starts its inventory in mid-October in Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona, the five states that form Region 8 of GSA's 10 regions.

In a two-month project directed by Robert E. Waggoner, GSA regional administrator, Denver artist Marion Iserman will take a detailed inventory of federal art in the five states.

"It all started when Frank Mechau's widow started campaigning to have his mural restored," Iserman said. "Mechau's canvas ... was dirty and frayed, with foot-long slashes and punched holes. Restoring made such a difference to that painting that GSA asked me to do another and then another."

Iserman himself was a Works Project Administration artist for three months during the Depression.

"I was trying to work my way from my hometown, Topeka, Kan., to Chicago where I lived for 13 years," he said. "For small paintings I earned $24 a week and bought my own materials. For murals, the government usually paid one per cent of the total cost of the building, about $350 or $400. That was a year's salary for some of us."

But as the artists became nationally and internationally famous, the market value of their works has gone up.

For example, a canvas mural in the Walsenburg, Colo., post office may now be worth $35,000, Iserman said. It was painted by Oscar Blumensheim who founded the international art colony in Taos, N.M.

Snyderite Wins Honors

LUBBOCK—William Ray Hibbs II, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hibbs of 2810 42nd St. Snyder, was designated Distinguished Military Student for the fall semester in the Army ROTC program at Texas Tech University.

To be named Distinguished Military Students, cadets must be in the upper 50 percent of their academic class and in the upper 10 percent of their military class. The cadets must have "performed outstandingly" at ROTC summer camp and must be active in campus affairs.

Hibbs will receive a certificate and a badge. He will also have the option of accepting a commission with the regular army or with the army reserve upon graduation.

Hibbs, a senior, was selected for the honor by his academic dean and by the Department of Military Science.

Third Party Candidate To Be Heard

HOUSTON (AP) — A three-judge federal court will hear Friday the complaints of a third party candidate seeking to get on the Texas ballot for the U.S. Senate, the candidate's lawyer said Monday.

David Berg of Houston made the announcement at a news conference. He spoke at the headquarters of the New Party, a group formed in Texas after the defeat of liberal Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough by conservative Lloyd Bentsen Jr. in the May Democratic primary.

At the conference were Ben Russell, 40, of Houston, the party senatorial candidate and author Gore Vidal, co-founder of the national New Party.

Russell filed for his candidacy about three weeks ago. The Texas Election Code stipulates that all candidates must file before February of the election year and must hold precinct and county conventions to show popular support.

Berg said the provision protects the established parties because it does not allow new parties formed between February and November to get on the ballot. He said he will ask the court to hold the election code unconstitutional.

Russell said that Mexican-Americans in South Texas have filed for candidacies in local offices through La Raza Unida party and have held precinct conventions but the Texas courts have not approved a place for them on the November ballot. They too are seeking federal court intervention.

Berg said if the court here rules in favor of Russell's candidacy it would also apply to La Raza Unida.

Fire Bomb Explodes In Italy

MILAN, Italy (AP) — A gasoline fire bomb exploded in front of the U.S. Information Service office in Milan early today, blackening the front door. Police said it was thrown from a passing car.

It was the 12th explosion in Italy's chief industrial center in less than two months. Police blamed the attacks on anarchists.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

• • •

Q — What tax records do you need to file a return? I just started work and will be paying tax for the first time next year.

A — You will need records to show your income and expenses for the year. If taxes are withheld by your employer, he will give you a statement of wages paid and taxes withheld at the end of the year. One copy of this should be filed with your return.

If you are not subject to withholding be sure to keep a record of your earnings. You may have to make estimated tax payments during the year to keep you on the same pay-as-you-go basis as those subject to withholding. Forms and instructions for making estimated payments are available at your local IRS office.

You should also keep a record of all expenses that are deductible for federal income tax purposes. This would include medical expenses, charitable contributions, interest expenses and the like. Receipts, cancelled checks and similar evidence on these expenses should be kept in a file folder or special envelope so that they will be readily available when you start working on your tax return next year.

Q — Can the fellow who made out my return handle my tax appeal? He knows more about it than I do.

A — It depends on his qualifications. If the tax adviser is a certified public accountant, a lawyer or has passed a special examination given by the Treasury Department, then he can represent you. A tax return preparer without these qualifications can only assist the taxpayer during the examination of the return and not thereafter.

Q — Is it too late to make a change in the return I filed for 1969? I think I'm entitled to a deduction for moving expenses.

A — You may still claim this expense by filing Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return. As a general rule, you have three years from the date your return was due to claim items you forgot. Copies of the form and instructions for completing it may be obtained by writing to your District Director.

Q — Is money given a maid for carfare subject to Social Security tax?

A — Yes, the Social Security tax applies to the total cash paid a household employee, even though some is paid for transportation.

Tax payments for the July, August, September, quarter are due November 2. Any person who has paid $50 or more cash wages in a quarter to an employee for household services (cleaning, gardening, etc.) must file a return using Form 942, Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees.

Q — My ex-wife has always claimed our son as her dependent but this year I've been paying his college costs. Can I count this as a contribution to his support?

A — Yes, education is one of the items included in the support test. If you can establish that you provided more than half your son's support for the year, then you may be entitled to claim his exemption. Normally, the parent with custody for the greater part of the year is entitled to claim the exemption.

Military Newspaper Arrangements Probed

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. comptroller general is probing arrangements under which hundreds of military newspapers are published for private profit with all editorial work done by servicemen.

The investigation was launched after disclosure there —Airmen at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., were ordered this summer to clip out a picture of a general from 10,000 copies of the base newspaper, the Talespinner. The clip job was ordered because of complaints about the cropping of the general's picture.

—10,000 copies of a Newport, R.I., Navy base magazine worth $1 a copy were dumped into the trash because a picture of a ship had been misidentified.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., urged the investigation by the comptroller general who heads the General Accounting Office. He said the Talespinner case raises the question: "Does the government lose revenue to which it is entitled because of arrangements under which private businessmen publish unofficial newspapers with the labor of military personnel?"

In recent correspondence with Pentagon officials Proxmire indicated he believes the answer is "yes."

Proxmire said the four airmen who do the editorial work on the Lackland Talespinner are paid a total of $189.98 weekly. He asked whether any other civilian publisher would be able to hire four editors and reporters at that pay to put out a similar publication.

"What is more," he said, "the publisher profits, by not having to pay for photographic and other supplies, office space, and the work of three airmen who distribute the paper."

"The publisher gains all of the profit from the advertising, yet his profit is enhanced because he pays less in overhead than if he were producing the entire newspaper," Proxmire said.

Proxmire said he has been told such situations are commonplace in the Air Force and said he wants to know whether other branches of the armed forces employ similar arrangements.

"At least," Proxmire told a newsman, "the Air Force did not stop distribution of the Talespinner at Lackland and the loss in time did not come close to equaling the $10,000 thrown to the sharks in Newport."

The Providence Journal said it had learned monthly overprintings of the Cruiser-Destroyerman, the official organ of the Atlantic fleet cruiser-destroyer force, have cost taxpayers as much as $25,000 within the last year.

A Navy spokesman at Newport said the $10,000 figure was "way out of line." He estimated the cost of the junked issue at $850 and said the entire issue was reprinted in August with the ship identified properly.

The spokesman said the cost of monthly overprintings of Cruiser-Destroyerman is about $10 for each 1,000 issues—the cost of the paper used.

Agnew Likes Buckley

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Agnew has made it clear—without precisely saying so—that he'd like James L. Buckley, the Conservative party candidate for senator from New York, to win in November.

According to guests, Agnew told a private luncheon of Republicans supporting Nixon administration policies Monday:

"I do not support Mr. Ottinger and I do not support Mr. Goodell."

By ruling out the Democrat, Rep. Richard L. Ottinger, and the Republican, incumbent Sen. Charles E. Goodell, Agnew avoided openly endorsing an opponent of a Republican candidate.

"Who else is there?" one guest asked after the vice president's declaration. "Mr. Buckley," the guest answered himself.

Agnew's unhappiness over Goodell's disagreement with the Nixon administration on Vietnam and other issues was expressed last week when he labeled the senator a "radical liberal" who "has left his party."

Presbyterians Urged To Support Busing

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Presbyterian Church in the United States, in an official message to its 955,000 members, calls for support for efforts to desegregate and upgrade public schools.

The statement issued Monday by the general council of the predominantly Southern denomination warned against "the dangers of undermining public education systems by establishing, supporting or patronizing private schools or academies whose deliberate purpose or practical effect is to maintain racial isolation."

The appeal was from the Council on Church and Society of the denomination in Richmond, Va., and Dr. William A. Benfield Jr., moderator of the Church's General Assembly.

Some Presbyterians are among those resisting racial balancing of school systems, the statement said, and "for many people, busing has become a smoke screen hiding more central issues."

It invoked the support that the Presbyterian Church traditionally has expressed for public education and called on Presbyterians to keep their children in public schools "even when they are in a racial minority, black or white, or must be bused."

Thomas Home To Be Cultural Center

LONDON (AP) — The home of the late Welsh poet Dylan Thomas apparently is about to pass into American hands, but it will be preserved as a cultural center.

Author John Summers, who recently published a biography of Thomas, said Richard Baron, founder of the New York Dial Press, had met the asking price of $24,000.

The home, known as The Boathouse, at Laugharne, Wales, is owned by the poet's widow, Caitlin.

Summers said Baron and his wife Virginia, who is of Welsh descent, planned to turn the home into "a mecca for the English language and particularly writers."

SINGING SUPERSTAR FOUND DEAD — In July of this year 27-year-old singing superstar Janis Joplin enjoyed a drink in her Larkspur, Calif., home. Sunday she was found dead in a Los Angeles motel room. Janis, from Port Arthur, Tex., was Ameica's number one female rock singer. (AP Wirephoto)

Joplin's Life To Be Studied

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Behavioral scientists will investigate the short, frenzied life of Janis Joplin to try to determine whether the drug overdose that killed the blues-shouting star was accidental or deliberate.

The coroner's office said Monday an autopsy showed the 27-year-old singer died from an overdose, but that further tests would be needed to identify the drug.

Police called to Miss Joplin's apartment after she was found dead Sunday said they found small amounts of heroin and marijuana. Her left arm bore fresh needle marks, Coroner Thomas Noguchi said.

Noguchi said he had assigned scientists to conduct the "psychological autopsy" to "determine the mode of death more specifically."

Miss Joplin often told interviewers during her three years of international fame that she never expected a long life.

She said once: "Man, I'd rather have 10 years of superhypermost than live to be 70 sitting in some goddam chair watching TV. Right now is where you are. How can you wait?"

Her nothing-held-back, wailing, writhing singing style—and her prodigious bourbon drinking offstage and on—alarmed some rock music devotees who feared she would burn her voice out early.

To them she once replied: "People say I'm ruining it. Maybe it's getting rough, but I still could reach all the notes I ever could. I don't know how long it will last. As long as I do, probably."

Of her career, Miss Joplin said once: "The worst thing is the loneliness. Somehow you lose all the old friends ... When we're not on stage, we rehearse, lay around in bed, check in and out of motels, watch television ... I live for that one hour on stage. It's full of feeling ... It's a rush, honey."

Her press agent, Myra Friedman, told newsmen Miss Joplin, who had been recording here for several days, was "very happy with her voice, very happy with her group," but added, "I certainly would not say she was a happy person."

Long Hairs Ban From South Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government decreed today that long-haired foreign males will not be allowed to enter South Vietnam and "be a bad example for our boys."

A spokesman said the order went into effect immediately. All airlines were instructed to advise long-haired passengers bound for Saigon to get their locks shorn or stay away.

"Those who are already here will soon receive advice not to be such an example to our younger boys," the spokesman told newsmen. He inplied the government would expel foreigners who refuse to comply with the order.

The spokesman declined to say what the government considered an acceptable hair length, but he said the order applied to "hippie looks" that "are against our Vietnamese social customs." Asked if the order would affect the Hoa Hao, a religious sect whose men wear their hair long, he angrily said Hoa Hao traditions were not in conflict with the country's social customs.

Judge Orders Picketing At Mobil Stopped

BEAUMONT (AP) — Striking pipefitters have been ordered to stop picketing the construction workers' entrance at the Mobil Oil Corp. refinery.

U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Fisher issued a temporary restraining order Monday against Pipefitters Local 195.

Mobil and three construction firms making emergency repairs at the refinery sought the order. Fire caused heavy damage at the plant Sept. 17 and killed three persons.

The three construction firms said they had an agreement with the union before the pipefitters struck last week.

Meanwhile, charges have been dropped against three of four men in a shooting at the refinery last Friday.

Still charged with assault with a deadly weapon was Jull Carrier, 58. Police said Carrier was the driver of a pickup truck from which a shot was fired, wounding a picket in the leg.

Her love triangle includes his daughter

By Abigail Van Buren

(c) 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged widow in love with a divorced man, but I feel like "the other" woman in an impossible triangle. Not the usual triangle of husband, wife and other woman, but that of daughter, father and other woman.

Kenneth's daugher is 26 and unmarried, and I doubt if she will ever marry. Her father is her whole life. She doesn't work, and seems content to stay at home with him. She doesn't date. They go everywhere together — theater, concerts, vacation trips. Daughter suffered a nervous breakdown a few years ago, but seems all right now, but she still leans on "Daddy" for everything.

Kenneth wants me to marry him. He has assured me his daughter will not live with us, but I'm afraid if he leaves her she will go to pieces again. I would love to marry this man, but I have so many fears and doubts. Should I try to find happiness with someone else, or should I marry him anyway? THE OTHER WOMAN

DEAR OTHER: Even tho Kenneth probably meant well, by allowing his daughter to stay at home and play the "wife" role, instead of encouraging her to make a social life of her own, he's partly responsible for her unhealthy dependence on him. Obviously since he was able to fall in love with you and "assures" you that if you marry him he will leave his daughter, he apparently isn't as "sick" as she is. But he should consider how this will affect his daughter — whose stability is probably marginal to begin with. She will need psychotherapy to help her adjust to "losing" her whole life. Kenneth is entitled to a life of his own. So are you. And so is the daughter. The best advice I can offer you is to hold off marrying him until all your fears and doubts are resolved, which could take longer than you care to wait.

DEAR ABBY: If your husband couldn't hardly wait for the hunting season to open, and then he took off in the middle of the night for a five-day hunting trip and forgot to take his rifle, what would you think? HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I would think that he did not intend to shoot whatever it was that he set out to hunt.

DEAR ABBY: Last January, my fiance and I decided on November 21 for our wedding date. I told my best girl friend and asked her to be my maid of honor. She accepted. A few months later, I asked her to go shopping with me to price wedding gowns and she said she "thought" she could spare "a few hours" as she had other things to do. She went with me and didn't say much.

A few weeks later this girl friend told me that she was going to announce HER wedding plans—to take place two weeks before MINE! She also told me she wouldn't be able to be my maid of honor because she'd be on HER honeymoon.

We had known each other for many years and we were close as sisters. We have the same circle of friends, which will make it hard on them with wedding showers, bridesmaids dresses and all. Tell me, honestly, am I out of line for being— DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Disgusted? Yes. Disappointed? No. Your friend obviously had some unhatched plans of her own going for her when you told her about your wedding plans. But you can't blame her for not disclosing her plans until she was sure they would materialize. For you to have expected your friend to have put off her wedding until after yours would, I think, have been expecting too much. It's not as tho she waited until the last moment to tell you.

DEAR ABBY: Your suggestion to discourage those who are constantly mooching cigarets—"offer to sell him a pack" was fine, but I have a better idea:

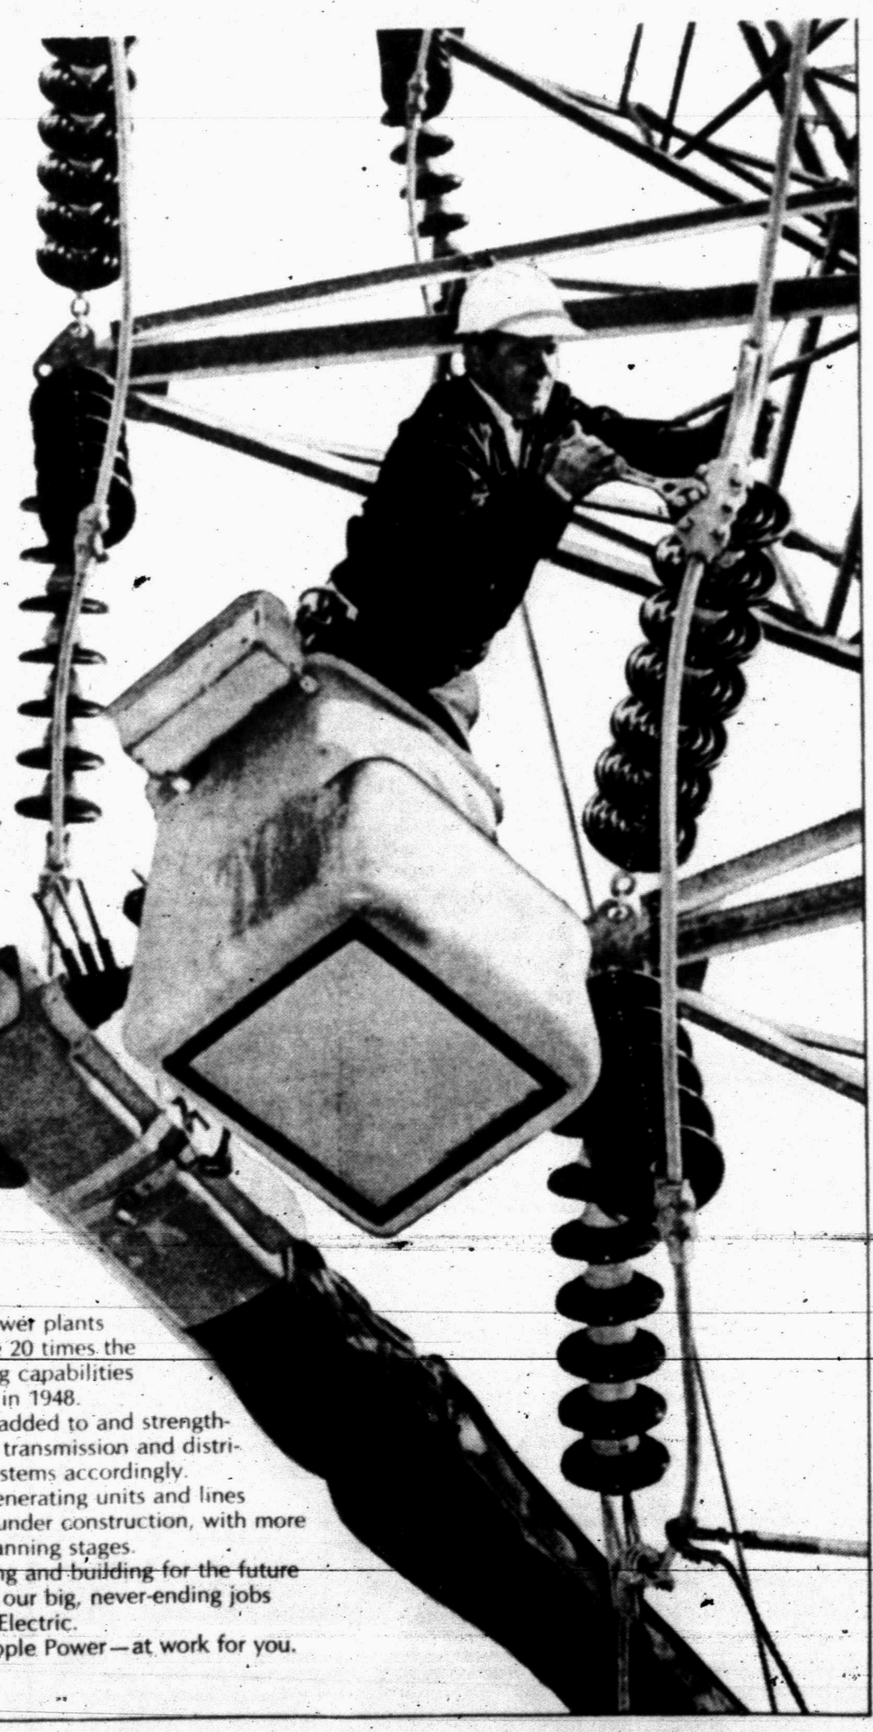

In addition to your regular brand, carry a pack of cheap ones that have been made from floor sweepings. They should be hot and strong and certain to irritate the bronchial tubes, lungs, esophagus and everything else in that area. The second time the moocher sees that pack come out of your pocket, he will quit smoking. W. P., ALEXANDRIA, VA.
