

National Guard Battery Leaves for Camp Sat.

Twenty-seven men and three officers of Battery A, 2nd Battalion, 131st Artillery, 49th Armored Division will leave during the week end for two weeks summer camp at Fort Hood.

Capt. James Chappell, commanding officer, said an advance detachment which includes Supply Sgt. Troy Marsh, Sgt. Jerry Settle and Sgt. J. C. Campsey of Childress will leave Thursday with equipment.

The remainder of the battery will leave the National Guard Armory at 1 p.m. Saturday.

This year's camp will be similar to those of other years, with the men undergoing training under simulated combat conditions.

Two officers from outside the Wellington area have been assigned to assist Capt. Chappell. They are Lt. George Robb of Marietta, Okla., executive officer, and Lt. Bob Burrows of Wichita Falls, assistant executive officer.

All men of the battery will attend the summer camp except a few who have returned from six months' active duty since May 1 and others who will return during camp, Capt. Chappell said.

Infestation Mounts

Meeting Called for Grasshopper Control

A meeting to set up machinery for combating the heavy grasshopper infestation that is likely this year has been called for Thursday, June 8 at 8 a.m. in the Farm Bureau building, County Agent Sammy Helmers has announced.

The grasshopper counts in Collingsworth County are already extremely high in three areas, Forest Preston of the USDA Plant Pest Control Division told Helmers during a visit Tuesday. He named these areas as an area all the way across the west side of the county extending as far east as Quail; another critical spot in the northeast corner of the county and a third in the southeast.

Mr. Preston and one other person from his office will be here for the June 8 meeting. They will explain the grasshopper situation in this county and discuss the organization of the state-farmer grasshopper control program.

Farmers and ranchers from Wheeler, Gray, Donley, Hall and Childress counties will be invited to attend.

The county agent reminded that grasshopper infestation was heavy last year, but work toward the cooperative control program was started too late and hoppers were beyond the control stage before anything could be done.

Working with Mr. Helmers in the grasshopper control work is Jack Moreman, manager of the Doneghy Ranches.

"Mr. Preston said the grasshopper count is high, but not as high as it was before the cold snap we had earlier this month," said the county agent.

"There is another hatch under way now and numbers are increasing again. The rain may set the build-up back, but we need a county organization so that if the need arises, like it did last year, we can step into a USDA Cooperative Grasshopper Control Program before it is too late.

Cotton Farmers Nix Transfer of Acreage

Collingsworth County cotton farmers disapprove the transferring of 1963 cotton allotments out of the county by sale or lease by a 73 percent margin, as shown in the recent referendum held for deciding this question, Millard Brown of the ASCS has announced.

There were 144 producers who voted for the transfer privilege and 385 voted against it.

However, farmers will still be permitted to transfer cotton allotments by sale or lease within the county as has been done during the past two years.

Also, producers who own land in two or more counties may transfer their allotment from one county to the other to their own farm, within the state.

"This cost-share program for grasshopper control will be explained at this meeting and a committee with officers will be organized to handle the program."

Mr. Helmers said that a grasshopper count of 15 to 25 young hoppers per square yard

Youthful Rodeo Performers Are Due from Over Panhandle

With flags flying and some of the best cowhorses of the areas pulling at the bit, the grand entry at 7 p.m. Friday, June 2, will mark the opening of Wellington's first big 4-H Club Junior Rodeo.

There will be two performances, Friday, and again at 7 p.m. Saturday, and the Rodeo will be held at the VFW Rodeo grounds in northeast Wellington.

But before the Rodeo, there will be a big parade in downtown Wellington at 4 p.m. Friday, Sammy Helmers, county agent, said.

The Wellington 4-H Riding Club, sponsor of the event, will lead the parade. Other riding clubs from this area who have been invited are the Hollis, Granite, Duke, Memphis, Clarendon and Wheeler riding clubs, the Elk City Roundup, Altus Roundup, and Shamrock Sheriff's posse.

The parade will form behind the high school, then travel to the square, and circling it before disbanding.

The two rodeo sessions are set to begin at 7 p.m. due to the number of events—18 altogether—and the number of entries expected.

Due to be in Wellington for the event is Jo Poarch of Hereford, who is recognized by the American Junior Rodeo Association as the world champion pole bender, barrel racer and all around cowgirl. Eighteen years old and just graduated from high school, she is a friend of Mrs. Bill Lowe, one of the sponsors and instructors in the 4-H Riding Club here.

Advance tickets are now on sale and may be had from any member of the Wellington 4-H

E. G. Pierce Longtime Quail Resident, Dies

Ernest G. Pierce, 75, a prominent retired farmer of the Quail and Marella area, died in an Amarillo nursing home Wednesday, May 24, at 2:55 a.m.

He had been in failing health for a number of months. Three months ago he went to Amarillo to be near his only child, Mrs. W. L. DePauw.

Mr. Pierce had been a part of Collingsworth County for 65 years.

Born in Benton County, Tenn. April 12, 1892, he was a 10-year-old boy when he came with his parents to Collingsworth County. They farmed three miles south of Wellington until 1903, then at Lillie in 1904-05. At that time the family moved to Marella where Mr. Pierce also began farming upon reaching adulthood.

He was married to Miss Lu Maude Melton, member of another family who settled early in the Quail area, on Dec. 22, 1912, at Quail.

Throughout many years that followed, Mr. Pierce was active in the affairs of the Quail and Marella areas encouraging much that went into the progress of those communities.

He had been a member of the Methodist Church 40 years, first at Quail, and in later years a member of First Methodist in Wellington.

Funeral services for Mr. Pierce were conducted Friday at 2:30 p.m. in First Metho-

John Jackson Delivers First Wheat on May 25

The 1967 wheat harvest opened in Wellington Wednesday, May 25, with the delivery of the first load by John Jackson, who farms in the Fresno community.

A few other loads were delivered in the county before rain began Sunday night, May 22, to delay the harvest.

Jackson's wheat was delivered to Warrick Feed Store on Wednesday afternoon. He had 97 bushels and said he stopped the combine because he felt the wheat was too green.

This wheat is of the Early Triumph variety and was not on irrigated land. He estimated that he will make around 21 bushels per acre.

Velman Warrick, owner of Warrick Feed Store, said a premium of 25 cents per bushel will be paid on this first load when Jackson sells his wheat.

The second load was delivered in Wellington Thursday evening and was grown on land owned by James Doneghy in the Rolla community. Jones Singley of Singley Mill and Elevator where the 90 bushel load was delivered, said it was cut along terraces and in high spots so it was difficult to determine the yield. Combining also was stopped because the wheat was green.

Dodson got its first wheat Monday, May 29. This was delivered by H. P. Scott, who grew it at his home farm southeast of Dodson. No attempt was made to estimate how much this was yielding per acre.

This wheat was well matured and tested only 13 percent moisture. It graded No. 1 with a test of 60.

The wheat was delivered to the Farmers Co-op Enterprises, and Weldon Sexton reported that harvest in the Dodson area will get under way as soon as the weather permits.

Baseball Meeting and Barbecue Set Friday

Boys who will play youth baseball, their parents, and the men who will work with the teams will attend a hot dog barbecue Friday night, June 2, at Ellison Park, Billy Moseley reminded. They will eat from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. and then the coaches will be assigned and the boys divided into teams.

"We'll see who we have to work with and the teams will be divided," Moseley said.

In case of rain, the barbecue and meeting will be held in the National Guard Armory at the same hour.

Approximately 100 boys are due to take part in the program, Moseley said.

There will be Pee-wee teams for the little boys, youth teams and Pony League.

The teams will play by Little League rules although they will not be under the Little League organization or use the name this year, it was explained.

County Not Affected by Redistricting

Collingsworth County will retain its representative in the state legislature, but the makeup of the 5th Legislative District was changed in the redistricting bill approved by the legislators Thursday, May 25.

Rep. J. M. (Red) Simpson of Amarillo surrendered Carson County and picked up Briscoe and Wheeler Counties. The 75th Legislative District will be composed of Armstrong, Briscoe, Collingsworth, Randall, Donley and Wheeler Counties.

Rep. Malouf Abraham of Canadian, the lone Republican House member from the Panhandle, picked up Carson County, while surrendering Wheeler County to the 75th District.

All Panhandle Plains legislators voted for the redistricting bill, according to reports out of Austin.

Rev. Herndon Now at Panfork

Rev. and Mrs. J. I. Herndon have returned here after being away for several years and he has accepted the place of caretaker for Panfork Baptist Encampment. He succeeds D. R. McKinney who has returned to work at the OK Tire Shop.

Meeting Set Sunday

Cliff Hartman Named CAP Commander

Cliff Hartman, former Air Force pilot, has been selected wing commander of the Civil Air Patrol in Wellington.

A wing meeting has been slated for Sunday, June 4 and the public is invited to attend and learn more about the organization. It will begin at 2:30 p.m. and will be held in the Farm Bureau building.

The speaker will be Col. Pete Minden, commander of the Amarillo CAP Squadron and district organization chairman.

The purpose of the meeting and the goal of those working with the movement here is the organization of a squadron in Wellington.

It is not necessary that a member be a pilot to fly, it was pointed out. There are other facets of the organization, which include communications, clerical work, observation and other ground duties.

The CAP is open to both men and women, and the only requirement is that they be more than 18 years of age.

Murder Charge Filed Following Death of Man

William Bowen, Jr., 25-year-old Negro, died at 12:15 a.m. Sunday, May 28, in St. Joseph's Hospital of stab wounds received half an hour earlier, Sheriff John Rainey reported.

Arrested following the incident was Bowen's wife, Bernice Jefferson Bowen, 36.

She was arraigned Sunday before County Judge Zook Thomas on a charge of murder with malice aforethought by stabbing with an unknown instrument, Sheriff Rainey said. The woman waived an examining trial and her bond was set at $2,500. She made bond and was released from county jail.

Sheriff Rainey said the stabbing took place at her home in the Flats. The couple was separated and Bowen had been living away from here about two months, he continued. The instrument with which Bowen was stabbed has not been found, Sheriff Rainey said.

Those who know Bowen reported that he was a professional boxer when he was younger.

Assisting in the investigation were Deputy Sheriff George Hooten and Police Chief Donald Nunnolley.

Hail Not Damaging

Rain Up to 3.70 Inches Falls Over Area Monday, Tuesday

Rain which was general over most of the county, but which varied in amount, fell through the week end, giving some areas as much as two and a half inches. Other sections had as little as one-half inch.

The wheat harvest, just ready to open in the Dodson area, was delayed, but cotton farmers who have planted found the moisture just right.

Small amounts of hail were reported at scattered points over the county, but it was not in damaging amounts, according to reports received by The Wellington Leader Wednesday morning.

Wellington received 1.51 inches of moisture since Sunday night. This included 1.06 inches which fell at that time and .54 which came Tuesday afternoon.

Moisture has been heaviest in the Dodson area where a total of 2.5 inches was reported. Approximately .75 of this came Tuesday afternoon.

Lighter amounts were reported south of Dodson, below the county line.

Granvel Clark, who lives in that area, reported an inch and a half of rain and some hail.

Around Loco, Mrs. R. B. Young received 2.4 inches of rain along with some hail.

A few miles south, however, Cliff Campbell reported only one-half inch Monday, but one and one-half inches had fallen in that area Sunday night.

In the Kelley community, Bill Hughes of the Mill Iron Ranch reported two inches had fallen there before the rains Tuesday.

Carthel Lewis, also in the Kelley community, reported an inch of rain Monday, with enough small hail to almost cover the ground.

The Fresno area also had received approximately two inches before Tuesday, when another good rain was received. Tommy Lewis told The Well-

Indoor Landscaping

Interest in indoor landscaping and gardening and trend toward apartment living has revived the use of arrangements of living plants in small decorative containers for interior decoration.

Originally, and traditionally, the term "dish garden" referred to a recreation of scaled model-sized garden or outdoor scene. These miniature gardens in containers loosely copied nature to scale with miniature plants representing trees, shrubs, grass and flowers. Also included were architectural features such as miniature pools, bridges, fences, rocks, figurines and other landscape details. The charm of these model landscapes developed a particular theme, with all elements in harmony and intricate detail. As a collection of compatible plants, growing in a small container, which can withstand the atmospheric conditions in modern buildings. If you would like to learn more about dish gardens, contact your local Home Demonstration Agent. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has just printed a new bulletin entitled "Indoor Landscaping with Live Foliage Plants." It discusses the dish gardens.

Home Economics Briefs

• The use of plastics in furniture is increasing as a result of wood shortages and the high cost of carving wood. Plastics are being used as finishes, veneers, laminated and molding. Molded plastics are replacing wood in traditional furniture styles with intricate patterns and carving effects. New methods for finishing and varnishing synthetic woods have resulted in products that look so much like natural woods that most consumers can't tell the difference.

• Serve a soft custard that's smooth-as-satin over warmed, canned apple slices. You might heat them with a few drops of maraschino cherry liquid.

• Be choosy in paying off loans. If you can carry a present loan at a low interest, you may reserve your cash for a possible need. Paying ahead on a mortgage makes sense, but paying off an entire low interest bearing mortgage in advance right now probably doesn't.

Chapel Ceremony Saturday Unites Janice Philley, James E. Henard

The chapel of First Methodist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Janice Lynn Philley and James Edward Henard at eight o'clock Saturday evening, May 27. The Rev. Ellis Todd performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Edward Philley of Hollis, formerly of Wellington. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Edward Henard are the parents of the bridegroom.

Chapel decorations were an arch of foliage and white gladioli, with spiral candelabras holding white tapers at each side. Arrangements of white ruffled petunias and phlox with green foliage completed the arrangements.

Mrs. L. E. Ward, pianist, played traditional wedding selections.

Mr. Philley gave his daughter in marriage.

Her wedding dress of white lace was of street-length A-line design, enhanced by a rounded neckline and wide three-quarter sleeves. Her headpiece was a tracery of seed pearls and a large peau de soie rose, to which her full shoulder length veil was attached. She carried a bouquet of white and blue pom-pom chrysanthemums surrounding a white orchid, tied with pale blue satin streamers.

The maid of honor was Miss Marilyn Philley of Canyon, sister of the bride. She wore a blue crepe street length dress of A-line design, with a sleeveless bodice and high rolled collar. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Larry LeRoy Oswalt, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was the best man.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Philley honored the couple at a reception in the church parlour.

The bride's table was laid with a white net cloth over satin. The centerpiece was a white lace fan, used with white phlox and blue cornflowers. Appointments were crystal and silver. Miss Cheryl Needham served the wedding cake and Miss Kathy Tyler poured. Assisting at the reception were Miss Susan Oney, Mrs. Jimmie Strickland, Mrs. Wayne Cudd, and Miss Jan Cudd.

Mrs. Larry LeRoy Oswalt, sister of the bridegroom, registered the guests.

Upon returning from a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home at Wellington.

Both the bride and bridegroom are students in Wellington High School and will continue their studies there.

Among the bride's activities were membership in Ko Shari, and St. Joseph's Junior Hospital Auxiliary. The bridegroom was vice president of his class and was named the outstanding livestock-farming student in the Future Farmers of America Chapter.

BRUSH ERADICATION RESULTS

This pasture has been sprayed and deferred during 3 of the last 4 years. It was used for a winter steer operation after each growing season deferment. Pasture now has an excellent stand of bluestem, indiangrass and switchgrass. Note plane in the background spraying on a neighboring ranch.

SALT FORK SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

BRUSH CONTROL AND RANGE DEFERMENTS

Over 10,000 acres of brush has been treated in the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District during the past year. A large percentage of this has been spraying of sand shinnery.

Shinnery is considered to be one of the hardest brushes to eradicate. It has a very extensive root system which competes very heavily with grass for soil moisture. The only way shinnery spraying can be effective is when a grass deferment is provided following spraying. A deferment gives the grass roots time to develop and compete with the shinnery roots while they are in a low state of vigor.

There are cases where shinnery has been completely eliminated by two or three successive years of spraying, followed by growing season deferments. A pasture which is sprayed and deferred for the entire growing season is in excellent condition for winter use.

Deferments are important to a lesser degree on any type of brush control. The fundamentals involved are the same on all grasslands.

There is no chemical which will eradicate brush; it only stuns it for a short time. Only grass can eradicate brush.

Crusade for Children Set by City Church

A Children's Crusade will be held at the Assembly of God from Monday, June 5, through Friday, June 9, the Rev. James Jackson, pastor, has announced.

These sessions are held each evening, beginning at 7:30 p.m. and include Bible study and evangelistic services, with a break for refreshments during the evening.

In charge of the crusade is Miss Telia Jo Moore of Royce City.

Miss Moore attended Southwestern Assemblies of God College and was graduated from East Texas State University. During the school year, she is a member of the faculty at Blue Ridge, and during the summer months, she conducts children's crusades for her church.

All children of the town are invited, the pastor said.

according to the engineer. That is because electric motors require a surge of current to get started. The time-delay fuse handles the starting current of motors, but will blow if a circuit is overloaded for a period of time.

Two kinds of time-delay fuses are on the market. One fits a standard fuse socket and the other is called the Type S fuse. The Type S fuse has an adapter that fits a standard fuse socket. A sharp barb projects from the outside of the adapter and when the adapter is screwed into the fuse socket it cannot be removed.

"The threads on the inside of the adapters are different for various sizes of Type S fuses. You can't use a 2-ampere adapter because the threads won't match. That's a desirable safety feature since it prevents the dangers of over-fusing." The Type S fuse is tamper-proof," says Allen.

Open Meetings of Governing Bodies, Boards, now Mandatory

Open meeting of all governing bodies from the state level down to the smallest subdivision are now required under a bill which the Governor signed into law last week. No longer can a city alderman, a county commissioner or a member of a school board make a motion for an "executive session" to transact more or less routine business, which is something that has been done right here in Wellington in times past.

Grand juries are excepted from the provisions of the bill and so are meetings of school boards, city councils etc. when the meeting is called to consider the appointment employment or dismissal of a public officer or employee or to hear complaints or charges brought against such persons unless the individual concerned requests a public hearing.

The law also applies to all state agencies, boards & commissions. At the bill signing Gov. Connally said: "Senate Bill 94, commonly known as the open meetings bill, provides basically that all meetings of boards agencies and commissions shall be open meetings, open to the press. This is something that the working press in the capitol and the press throughout the state have been interested in for a long, long time. I think it's an historic and significant bill and a significant day."

"Certainly there's never been any desire, as far as I know, on the part of anyone who serves on a board or an agency or commission to transact its business under the cloak of secrecy. But, nevertheless, the meetings have, from time to time, been closed."

Connally added: "This bill will now end that and provide that all meetings shall be open to the press. It's a great step forward in trying to provide a means where the public can be more informed with respect to governmental affairs and public affairs."

"Beyond any question, one of the weaknesses of a democratic society is that it's always difficult to try to articulate and to inform the public of the problems that surround the administration of government. I personally feel that if the public is informed, if it has the knowledge, people themselves will always make the right decisions. And this is going to be a step in providing the means where people can be better informed on the workings of their government."

Whatever other indignities teachers are required to endure because of their chosen profession, they should not have to offer themselves as punching bags for hooligan students.

Assaults by students on teachers are becoming more frequent. The irony is that corporal punishment has been outlawed in most places, thus protecting children from beatings by teachers. The same protection from the savage children apparently hasn't been afforded to all teachers, however.

Two-thirds of the faculty in a junior high school in New York City went out on strike the other day because so many students insisted upon using teachers as sparring partners. If there's anything a teacher doesn't need, it's three quick rounds with bare fists between class bells.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN. — State legislators wound up their 60th session here on schedule, despite a hectic flurry of last-minute assignments, and left behind a far-reaching record of achievement in many areas.

No one can deny that there were some notable failures. But the accomplishments were impressive.

Here is a random look at some of the session's highlights.

—BUDGET. The lawmakers agreed on $2,400,000,000 spending ($446,800,000 from general revenue) for 1968, without passing a tax bill. They will come back next year to budget for 1969. Funds provide for substantial increases in all areas of state government, including education, health, general administration and welfare.

—SCHOOL TEACHERS. After requesting a $68,000,000 salary increase program and being offered $55,500,000 by the Senate, teachers finally wound up with $51,000,000.

—EMPLOYEES OF THE STATE. These workers came up with their most substantial salary benefits in history. The raises averaged about 14 percent and ranged up to 30 percent or more in some salaries.

—MEDICAID.—Title 19 hospitalization and medical aid to the needy — most dramatic step in public welfare since the launching of social security — was implemented for Texas by passage of a special act and appropriation of nearly $25,000,000.

—EDUCATION. Money was made available for 2,300,000 public school pupils and a 26 percent increase in higher education spending. Junior college appropriations were increased from $13,600,000 to $24,000,000.

—CITY SALES TAX. Cities got the authority they sought to supplement their property tax income by levying one percent sales taxes on vote of their citizens after next August.

—LABOR. Although defeated on minimum wage legislation and workmen's compensation law revision, labor came to terms with management on a compromise industrial safety act and an increase in unemployment compensation benefits from a maximum of $37 to $45 a week.

—CONSUMER CREDIT. The state's first consumer credit code regulates lending at all levels. Rates of up to 240 percent on very small loans stirred controversy, but the bill passed by big margins.

—TRAFFIC SAFETY. Major part of Gov. John Connally's recommended highway safety program was approved. It included a new drivers' license act, an auto inspection bill and establishment of a traffic program to be administered by the Governor.

—OPEN MEETING. Another Texas legislative first, an act to require open meetings of governmental agencies at all levels was signed into law by the Governor who terms it "a great step forward to provide a means whereby the public can be more informed on governmental and public affairs."

—REAPPORTIONMENT. The Legislature agreed on both congressional and state House of Representatives redistricting. However, they could not get together on judicial reapportionment.

—WATER. Texas Water Development Board received $1,200,000 more for its operations and completion of a statewide master plan. Texas Water Rights Commission got a boost of $484,422 to aid in administering the new water rights adjudication act which also is a product of the 60th session.

—POLLUTION. Strengthened Water Pollution Control Board got $13,100,000 for its 1968 operations. An air pollution control measure also became law.

—SUNDAY CLOSING. Lawmakers tightened the Sunday closing laws by repealing the "emergency purchase" provisions of the old law.

Key recommendations of the Governor which failed to clear the Legislature were proposals for sweeping revision of the state constitution by a 450-member convention and legalization of liquor by the drink.

Bill to legalize parimutuel wagering on horse races never came to a showdown vote, but a referendum on the issue was approved for inclusion on next May's Democratic and Republican primary election ballots.

—CONNALLY VETOES

Most of the bills passed by the Legislature are signed into law. But once in a while the governor vetoes a measure. One he vetoed would have allowed cigarette distributors to make payment for cigarette stamps purchased from the state within 15 days after the purchase rather than when the purchase is made.

Connally vetoed the bill be-

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

V. Pres. Humphrey is going around lately, inciting employers to put youths on their payrolls this summer, to keep them happy and out of devilment.

Meanwhile, back at the people-control center, more edicts are being got up to make it unlawful for early-teens to work on a job that is any more physically hazardous than, say, pool hall inhabiting.

But my petty thinker neighbor says this is not inconsistent in a real Great Society. Mr. Humphrey didn't say kids had ought to be put to work; he just wants them put on payrolls, which is not necessarily the same thing.

A Dr. Joe Fletcher is preaching the doctrine that the Ten Commandments and other such rigid, archaic rules and codes are as out-dated as button shoes.

He says that society has now progressed to where every man must decide for himself what is the right things for him to do.

Apparently the Dr. hasn't noticed that people have lived by this principle for a long time. Like in the early West a man's conscience often told him it was right to steal a horse, and the posse's collective conscience then told them the right thing to do was to hang him.

Deal is being worked out in Congress to distribute $75,000,000 to try to pacify those big city types who shoot at policemen and burn and loot when the weather gets real hot in the summer.

It used to be that money which was paid to people to not attack you was called tribute or extortion, but nowadays it's called poverty funds.

My mini-sinner neighbor says cash prizes to folks for being good is a swell idea, and he reckons that sooner or later this program will also include paying people for not running red lights.

Big operator in the columning business, obviously young in heart if not in joints, wants it made illegal for Congressmen to work at their trade after 65.

This proposal to do away with experience and seasoned judgment is probably based on the doctrine, which has been re-discovered by each generation, that only youth is wise.

And Progress is being made. Some day, everybody will retire at 21, and some future President's biggest problems will be how to keep his pimples from showing on color TV, and how to sound leader-like while he's still a soprano.

VA Has New Program of Outpatient Care

A new program to reduce costs and improve service in outpatient care is being inaugurated by the Veterans Administration following a successful test program in three states.

Since World War II, the Veterans Administration has authorized outpatient care by private doctors, at government expense, for certain qualified veterans. Most of these patients have service-connected disabilities. Hometown medical care is authorized in such cases where treatment at a VA medical facility would involve a long trip or other hardship. Under the old rules, VA estimated how much care such veteran would need during the coming year and issued an authorization to a specific doctor to give treatment at government expense.

Under the new program, VA will issue an identification card to veterans who require this type of treatment, and each patient will be permitted to select a doctor of his choice for treatment of the medical condition stated on his card.

Tests of the new system—conducted in Indiana, Colorado and Alabama—demonstrated that administrative costs of providing this treatment were reduced significantly.

Both the patient and the doctor also benefit by the new plan. The patient can visit the doctor of his choice as often as his doctor considers necessary. The doctor is relieved of much of the paperwork associated with the old system.

Instead of preparing a medical report and a claim form, he merely files an itemized bill on his own letterhead just as he does for his other patients. Medical reports to the VA are filed by the doctor only when there is a significant change in the veteran's service-connected condition.

In the three-state test program conducted by VA before the system was adopted nationwide, both veterans and doctors cooperated with the program. Doctors provided care consistent with sound judgment and ethical medical practice, and there was no evidence that veterans abused the greater freedom of choice and the reduced controls. In fact, there was a slight decrease in the average number of visits per veteran. Additional details on the program which might be needed by doctors, veterans and veterans organizations can be obtained from directors of VA clinics.

HERBICIDE COMBINATION HELPS MESQUITE CONTROL

COLLEGE STATION. — A relatively new hormone-type herbicide, picloram, in combination with the well known 2, 4, 5-T has shown superior results in mesquite control on West Texas ranges.

Aerial application tests begun in 1964 boosted mesquite root kills from two to five times that obtained with 2, 4, 5-T alone.

Picloram, however, is not yet U.S. Department of Agriculture approved for rangeland use. Further testing is necessary.

The trials have been supervised by E. D. Robison, brush control specialist at the Rolling Plains Livestock Research Center at Spur. The center is a unit of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Tests involved 70 mesquite plots, each about six acres in size, at 13 locations ranging from Vernon to Henrietta on the north and east to Mertzon and Midland on the south and west.

Robison used the picloram-2, 4, 5-T combinations in diesel oil-water emulsions at 4 gallons total volume per acre. The mixture was continually agitated during application.

Overall 1964 results averaged 11.7 percent mesquite kill with 2, 4, 5-T alone compared to a 50 percent kill with the mixture.

Results were much the same in 1965. The kill was increased from an average of 13.3 percent for 2, 4, 5-T alone to 33.8 percent with the mixture. The highest kill was 77.5 percent for the combination on old-field mesquite averaging 5 to 8 feet in height. The kill with 2, 4, 5-T alone under the same conditions was 40.8 percent.

Robison found that the best dosages in both years varied from a half-pound of 2, 4, 5-T plus a quarter pound of picloram per acre to a quarter-pound of 2, 4, 5-T plus a quarter-pound of picloram to the acre.

Mesquite kills for the 1966 tests are incomplete and still being studied.

People Buy More During The Summer Months Than Most Other Seasons

Many of us are accustomed to speaking of the dull summer months which may have been partially true in another day and a different economy; but the actual facts happen to be the opposite.

Year after year, figures released by the United States Department of Commerce show that people buy more during the summer months than almost any other season of the year.

They are buying clothes for travel, luggage for travel and hundreds of other items connected with vacations and summer; but they are also buying items for recreation at home during the long interesting days of summer.

They are buying air conditioners, refrigerators, cook out appliances, lawn and garden supplies and hundreds of other items that are a part of home living during the summer months.

In fact if it were not for the tremendous sales that start in late November and continue through December, the summer months would exceed any other season.

Knowing these facts, forward looking merchants plan their sales promotion in advance and on a stepped up scale at the very beginning of summer. Let us help you in building advertisement that will increase your summer sales.

EDITOR CHALLENGES FOREIGN POLICY

One of the most knowledgeable newspaper editors in America says that our nation's destiny is being shaped disastrously today by two false propositions concerning Communism. The editor is M. Stanton Evans of the Indianapolis News. The propositions, he says, constitute the basis of our present official Government policy toward World Communism and internal Communist subversion.

Mr. Evans, author of the shocking documentary on foreign policy, "The Politics of Surrender," addressed the National Education Program's Freedom Forum XXVII.

The two propositions. "The Communists, if they once were hostile to us, which is open to question, are no longer hostile and have abandoned their old aggressive intentions."

"They are entering a new era of affluence and peaceful intentions and are willing to join with us in creating a new society in which we will be friends; therefore, we must be friendly to them."

"2. The Communists in America — Communist Party USA — are a rather harmless group, perhaps eccentric but not particularly dangerous."

"They are a small group incapable of doing any harm; and even if their ideas are unpopular, and even if they are saying things which we find offensive, they are, after all, exercising a privileged right of dissent against the existing system and this right of dissent should be protected."

"Both of these propositions are not only false, but scandalously false and extremely dangerous — if acted upon, as they are being acted upon, as official policy of the US Government," says Mr. Evans.

"When I look at this total picture simply as a concerned citizen," he continued, "I often wonder what ultimately is going to become of us. I think that we have entered a realm — I say this with some careful deliberation over my choice of words — which could be compared to the medical phenomenon known as clinical insanity (in which) fantasies take the place of reality."

The young editor documented his challenge to the two propositions governing our nation's foreign policy, citing each historic appeasement of the Communist juggernaut beginning President Roosevelt's formal diplomatic recognition of Stalin's U.S.S.R. in 1933 (on the assurance that the Soviets would abandon their objective of world conquest) and running through 25 major U.S. foreign policy actions in the subsequent 33 years, each aiding the growth of World Communism . . . in Poland, Eastern Europe, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, China, Laos, Cuba, Rhodesia, Vietnam, the Congo, and so forth.

The Communists aided by "confused" thinking within America's highest foreign policy councils, are successfully pushing the "psychological disarmament" of the West "to get us to stop resisting while they continue attacking," Mr. Evans said.

But the most acutely alarming Communist offensive is toward our military disarmament. The idea being accepted in high Governmental circles, he noted, is that "because the Communists are mellowing, because they have changed, because they want peace, we can afford to engage in a program of unilateral disarmament of the United States and this program is going on at this time."

"You probably have seen some of the headlines about the anti-missile defense (which would save 70-to-90 million American lives in event of a nuclear attack," Mr. Evans observed.

"That defense is not being produced; it's being slowed down. The (real) reason is that the Soviet Union would not like it if we undertook to defend our country from their strategic attack — the would offend the Soviet Union!"

"This, I think is the ultimate pitch in the world of fantasy." "All the fact," said the extraordinarily well-informed editor, "show a continued forward thrust of the Communist empire towards the destruction of the free world!"

To the extent that the crisis pictured by Mr. Evans "stems from internal confusion within the United States, it is," he said, "susceptible to correction —to the extent that we continue to inform ourselves of what is happening and then go out into the community to work in behalf of the American ideals of freedom and against the tremendous threat of Communism."

How Safe Is Your Home?

COLLEGE STATION.—"Safe at home" means a baseball player can relax for a while—but American homeowners who take safety for granted are "out in left field."

Leota C. Lane, Extension family life specialist at Texas A&M University, reports that 28,000 persons are killed in home accidents each year.

About 25 million home accidents occur which cause injuries requiring medical attention. These statistics indicate that one's home can be a down right dangerous place.

American Medical Association records indicate that falls are the second most common cause of accidental death, next to highway accidents. Falls in and around the home each year cause injuries to nearly seven million people and 12,000 deaths.

Falls account for more than half of the fatal accidents for people over 65 years old, and about 75 percent of these falls occur at home. Falls on stairs cause nearly 2,000 fatal injuries each year. Proper lighting and sturdy handrails on stairs are important factors in home safety for adults and children alike.

A light switch near the door of each room is an invaluable safety measure. Loose rugs, scattered toys, and extension cords are safety hazards in any home. Spilled water or grease on floors are additional causes of falls and are particularly dangerous for older people.

Safe equipment should be provided for reaching high places, emphasizes Miss Lane. Never use boxes, chairs, or other home furnishings for climbing to get things from hard-to-

Pappy Gar Towed to Caddo Harbor

MARSHALL.—How big is big, says game warden Ray Earl of Marshall, has been decided from an angling standpoint by the huge alligator gar caught from the upper end of Caddo Lake. It weighed 256 pounds.

The fisherman, Jerry Allison of Marshall, found the 7-foot 2-inch monster too large for convenience in the boat, so he towed it ashore, then took it to a truck weighing station to get accurate weight and length.

The world's rod and reel record on this species was taken by Bill Valverde from the Rio Grande River in 1951. It weighed 279 pounds.

Larger Turkeys Due in Future

The head of Texas A&M University's Poultry Science Department, Dr. John H. Quisenberry, told the annual Turkey Industry Day conference that during the next 10 years the rate of gain should rise three or more pounds body weight on hens at market age and five pounds on toms. Breeders should and are striving to develop a smaller, smoother, faster growing, higher producing hen and a large, sturdy, fast growing, reasonably balanced vigorous, high sperm-producing tom, he said.

Wives Earn One Fourth of Income

COLLEGE STATION.—One in three, or about 15 million wives earn a paycheck, according to Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist with Texas A&M University.

Half of all working wives earn about a quarter of their family's total income. About 40 percent of total consumer spending is estimated to come from homes where the wife is employed. Nearly half of the employed wives are in clerical jobs or work in factories. Over half are between 35 and 54 years of age.

Employed - wife households spend fractionally less for food and medical care, but more for dressing up, home furnishings and equipment, and for recreation than the household in which the husband only is employed.

These and other significant characteristics of the employed wife household are brought out in a recent study by the National Industrial Conference Board, says Mrs. Meyer.

We take pride in the boys and girls who will participate in the big 4-H Rodeo, Friday & Saturday, and especially of our own 4-H Riding Club that is sponsoring the event.

We commend the men and women who work with these youngsters. Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The furrow filling rains from Saturday through Tuesday brought sighs of relief to all farmers and ranchers and to thousands of other people as well. It was an equalizer. It added two to three inches on larger areas that received less than half an inch of rain in the previous rains and it moistened the west and southwest of us. The most important when the hot winds start to blow from the southwest. If those prevailing winds in June and July are moving over pastures green with grass and fields lush with vegetation it makes a tremendous difference to all of us who live on the rolling plains below the Caprock.

This is our major storm period when the rains come sometimes accompanied by hail and tornadoes. Like the old cowboy we thank God for the tornado season. Without it we would dry up and become a desert. We are too far inland to receive major rainfall from anything except the great highs and lows. The amount of moisture in all the rivers, inland lakes, underground and in the forests and fields is insignificant compared to the quantitative immensity of the water in the oceans. It is from the oceans and from the vast sweep of air currents that bring the oceanic moisture hundreds of miles inland we receive our major rains.

My late sister, Clay Sullivan Beam was of the opinion that the storm warnings on the radio and TV did more harm than good. She claimed that the warnings and forecasts caused more wrecked cars, injured bodies and other losses than the tornadoes themselves. There was some logic in her purely personal reasoning. She said she preferred to walk to the nearest safest building or shelter rather than buck traffic among frantic people. She had no fear of a tornado on the highway because she knew how to drive at right angles to the approaching storm. She did not think the information was worth the worry and wasteful effort.

Did you note the sharp crack of lightning that crackled and smelled and shook the houses southeast of the business district Sunday afternoon? That was the blast that shredded a five inch strip from the trunk of Cicero Gulley's sweet gum tree. Gary Mike had an extension cord with a light bulb at the top, dangling near the main trunk. The bark of the tree was ripped off from the end of the wire to the ground. Whatever became of the lightning rod salesman?

Drivers education courses such as the one being taught by Dick Hamilton at the present time will be a necessity for young people under 18 if they want a drivers license. The new law will permit them to receive a drivers license at the age of 16 if they have completed a drivers education course. In the past only 27 percent of high school students in Texas have been taking the course. There is a special provision for children in schools

NEW LOOK ON HIGHWAY 83

The new look on the skyline of Wellington along Highway 83 is the giant Conoco sign and new station of Langford Brothers, who will hold the Grand Opening of the station Saturday, June 3.

The sign, which reaches 65 feet into the air, is designed to withstand winds of 200 miles an hour. Langford Brothers is composed of Billy, Jimmy and Bobby Langford.

that do not offer the course, but the exception will lapse in two years.

It is not the early rising on these beautiful mornings that is disturbing people since daylight saving time went into effect. It is the long dull afternoons.

Larlou Hays has placed a copy of this column of last week in the minutes of The First Baptist Church. Thanks to all of you who came by to mention it. Some of you may not know it; but I attended a Baptist Sunday School class in that building for two years without missing a single Sunday. I liked the teacher and it was only half a block walk to get there.

Our family ate out the other morning. Noting that Goat Hopper had paid for his breakfast, we invited him over to our table for conversational purposes. He regaled us with tales of his activities when he operated Goat's Cafe on the south side of the square. One of his best stories concerned a meek looking man who asked if it was all right for him to use ketchup (Heinz is the only sort Goat served) on his hotcakes. Upon being informed that the practice would be o.k. the timid man used up half a bottle. That was in the early thirties when hotcakes and coffee cost 20¢ and cakes, bacon and coffee were listed at 30¢.

John Brown, the auto body specialist, is another man who discarded the cigarette habit over two years ago. He says his wife often urged him to resume the habit during the first six months. She thought she would rather put up with the smoking than his tantrums. Mrs. W. R. Crawley says that I should add the name of "Willie" to the list of men who have not smoked in over three years.

Langford Brothers Open Conoco Station

Langford Brothers, wholesale and retail Conoco dealers in the Wellington area, will hold the formal opening of their new station Saturday, June 3.

Langford Brothers is a partnership composed of Billy, Jimmy and Bobby Langford. Before becoming wholesale and retail dealers for Conoco they had operated Texaco stations on Highway 83 for the past 12 years, during which time they became recognized for the service they gave each customer.

The new station, located at the intersection of Highway 83 and the Dodson road, is the latest design of the stations handling the products of the Continental Oil Company, and is also the largest in wash and grease space and in approach space in Wellington.

On the occasion of their Grand Opening, the Langford Brothers will offer a number

Making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Olan Farris and Barry, Mr. and Mrs. Truitt Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Birchfield, W. H. Kutch, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hunt,

A Quail Graduate

Mother of Eight Gets Degree After 24 Years

Twenty-four years after she was graduated from Quail High School, a Dumas woman, now the mother of eight, received her degree from West Texas State University in the recent spring convocation.

She is Mrs. E. H. Feldschneider, but she will be remembered at Quail as Louise Moss, who attended school there from 1939 to 1943. She is the daughter of Mrs. Walter Moss, who still lives on the family farm near Hedley, and the late Mr. Moss.

In between, she attended Clarendon College and West Texas State University and taught at Lakeview and Claude.

She was a substitute teacher at Hedley and Clarendon. For the last two and a half years she has commuted to the WT campus each Tuesday and Thursday to get in 12 hours a semester.

When she received her degree, the other nine members of the Feldschneider family were there to see the event in which they have cooperated so heartily. They were Mr. Feldschneider, who operates a welding shop in Dumas, and the children: Mrs. Tim Crump, 19, a student in Amarillo College, and the children still at home, Lonnie Beavers, 13, Ted Beavers, 11, Debra Beavers, 9, and Cathy Feldschneider, 7.

The bachelor of science degree was in elementary education, with a minor in geography.

"Without them—the children and my husband—helping, I couldn't have completed my degree," says the 41-year-old Dumas woman.

"We have all worked hard and pushed to get this college degree. While I was studying or going to the school, the oldest children were baby sitting with the youngest, washing, ironing and doing other household chores," she says.

"I just wish every mother who hasn't finished college could go back and get her degree," Mrs. Feldschneider says. "This has brought our family closer together and has given me an insight into their problems, what they are learning and how they react to school," she declared.

Among the former pastors in the county, or men who have entered the ministry from Collingsworth, a number remain in the Northwest Texas Conference.

Rev. John W. Welborn is pastor of North Birdwell Church, Big Spring; Rev. James Futch, Plains, and Rev. Cecil Guthrie, Gruver. All were pastors of Trinity Church.

Among pastors who served First Methodist Church, the Rev. Hubert Thomson returned to First Methodist at Borger, and the Rev. Davis Edens was transferred from Denver City to Oakwood Methodist Church in Lubbock.

Rev. John Fitzgerald, former pastor of the Dodson Methodist Church, returned to Matador.

Rev. Lyman P. Wood, who lived here when his father was pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, returned as pastor of First Methodist at Shamrock.

Rev. Hugh Blaylock, pastor of the Aberdeen and Samnorwood Churches about 25 years ago, is pastor at Wesley Church in Borger.

Rev. James Glasscock, who entered the ministry from Wellington, is transferring to the Presbyterian Church and will become pastor of a church in Abilene, friends reported.

Rev. Kenneth Wyatt, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kiker, is taking a sabbatical leave from the conference this year to accept engagements as an after dinner speaker. He and his family will live in Tulsa.

The work of the committee to be set up June 8 will be to secure agreements from land owners and operators in order that everything will be ready should the need to spray arise.

Such a situation usually comes on fast and it is too late to begin organization when the hoppers are at the right stage for killing out, it was explained.

The count in the critical areas of Collingsworth is considerably over 15 per square yard, he added.

Control work would be through aerial spraying, Helmers explained. The farmer and the USDA share the cost. However, 10,000 acres must be blocked together before the program can be carried out.
