

VALIDATE ROAD BONDS FIRST ADMITS QUARTER MILLION FEE IN ALIEN PROPERTY CASE 350 PLAINS FARMERS ATTEND FIELD DAY HERE

SECOND ANNUAL MEETING IS CALLED DECIDED SUCCESS

PLAINS AGRICULTURISTS INSPECT EXPERIMENT STATION

JONES IS SPEAKER LEAF WORM DISCUSSED BY COTTON PLANTERS AT CONGRESS

Three hundred fifty farmers from Crosby, Hale, Dawson, Bailey, Floyd, Lubbock, Terry, Gaines, Hockley, Lynn, Garza, Lamb and Cochran counties gathered yesterday at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station three miles east of town and participated in the Second Annual Farmer's Field Day of this section. The meet, according to those who attended, was a decided success and plans will be laid by the officials for a much larger and better day next year.

Beginning with a thorough inspection of the rotation plots of the farm, the men made a tour of the station, going to the nursery, garden plots, various crops in the field and finally ending their jaunt on the lawn of the farm where an interesting two hour discussion was held. The men who conducted the tour were Superintendent D. L. Jones of the station, R. E. Karper, acting vice-director of the Texas Experiment station at College station and R. R. Repper, entomologist of the extension department of Texas A. & M. Pat Nix, Lubbock county farmer, and D. F. Eaton, Lubbock County Farm Agent.

The discussion of the afternoon, held on the lawn was conducted by D. L. Jones, superintendent of the farm who gave a complete resume of the records kept by the station during the past ten or more years on various crops. Planting, cultivation, experiment planting, spacings, varieties, seed beds, culture methods, preparation and care of the various crops were discussed in the meeting. Grain sorghums, corn, forage sorghums, and cotton were included in the crop discussion. In each of the crops Superintendent Jones had records which gave the various methods used and explained the good and bad points of each method.

The leaf worm also received his share in the discussions and various methods of preventing and killing them were presented. Opinions as to the damage done by the worms were offered and a damage of 20 to 40 per cent was estimated by various men present.

The farmers were served a lunch by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, at six o'clock with B. Sherrod, F. A. Norman, Emo Wall, and others in charge. The lunch was greatly appreciated by the management of the experiment station and all the farmers in attendance. Don L. Jones sat following the feed.

After the lunch, the farmers gathered for a speaking when the larger part of those in attendance remained despite a light rain which began falling about this time. Those who spoke are: O. L. Slaton, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; R. E. Karper, vice-director, Texas Experiment Station; Dean A. H. Leidigh, of the school of agriculture of the Texas Technological College; W. L. Stangel, of the animal husbandry department of the Texas Technological College; J. D. Tanley, Agricultural Agent of the Santa Fe Railway company, and D. F. Eaton, Lubbock Farm Agent.

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is interested in the farmers from a selfish standpoint because that organization realized that the farmers are the backbone of the nation's wealth. O. L. Slaton, stated in the welcome address.

"Any doubt would be dispelled from the minds of those who do not believe in the fertility of the soil and the adaptability of the climate of the South Plains of agricultural if they went over the experiment farm," Slaton said. "We have too much one crop and not enough of diversification. I have noticed that the man who has chickens, hogs, dairy cows and other stock has a better bank account. I also notice

Another Storm is Moving North

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—A tropical disturbance of hurricane violence southwest of Bermuda was moving slowly toward the South Carolina coast Monday night, according to advices to the weather bureau here.

Meanwhile the island of Cuba was in the grip of a violent storm early tonight, with gales tearing down upon the city of Cienfuegos. Storm warnings were ordered displayed along the gulf coast from New Orleans to Brownsville, Texas.

CROP LOSS HEAVY, DECLARES EATON

20 TO 60 PER CENT DAMAGE FROM PESTS IS HIS ESTIMATE

"From 20 to 60 per cent damage has resulted from the worm pest to the Lubbock county and South Plains cotton crops," stated D. F. Eaton, county farm agent yesterday when approached on the worm damage question. Eaton and R. E. Overstreet made a tour of the county yesterday and visited the spots where the worms had been reported. Where the poison had been applied, a damage was noticed which must have been done before the poison was applied. In late fields where the worms had just begun to work, a damage of over 20 per cent could easily be detected.

According to Eaton the worms are now webbing up, except in the early generations which are coming out for a second crop and will likely damage the top crop of the cotton. "To the casual driver through the county, the cotton crop looks brighter than in many years," stated Eaton "but get out into the fields and examine the cotton and the damage can be detected easily."

Nicaragua Rebels Surround City

BLUEFIELDS, Nicaragua, Sept. 13.—Revolutionists are reported to be receiving reinforcements and attempting to circle Bluefields bluff to cut off the food supply of government forces. All business has been suspended here though little fighting is reported. Three mahogany steamers and one frigate have been barred from the harbor. Two former German officers are reported among the revolutionists.

Spud in Bledsoe Well Wednesday

BLEDISOE, Sept. 12.—Practically all of the machinery for the Bledsoe No. 1 has been hauled on the grounds and workmen will complete their work some time today. The well will be spudded in Wednesday.

2,000 Millionaires to Dempsey Scrap

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—At least 2,000 millionaires will see the Dempsey-Tunney fight at the sesqui-centennial stadium September 23, Tex Rickard thinks, basing his estimate on the number of applicants he has received for seats. This figure represents almost one fifth of all the millionaires in this country.

CLIMBS POLE IN VAIN ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE FLOOD

MADISON, Kan., Sept. 13.—Overtaken by a moving wall of water in the Neosho river valley flood, Charles Wood abandoned his automobile and climbed a telephone pole. The onrush of water swept down the pole and Wood, unable to swim, was drowned.

DAUGHERTY - MILLER TRIAL BRINGS OUT FRESH SENSATION

GOT HUGE SUM TO REGAIN CONTROL AMERICAN METAL STOCK

DENIES BRIBERY

MERTON SAYS DIDN'T KNOW $400,000 FEE TO KING WAS ILLEGAL

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Richard E. Merton, the German industrialist, has admitted that he received $250,000 for the return of the American Metal company's $7,000,000 assets to the Societe Suisse, the foreign concern which his family controls. This was the sensational disclosure Monday in the trial of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, and Colonel Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, who are charged with fraudulent conspiracy in connection with that huge return.

His family's own company paid him the quarter of a million dollars for his services after he had returned to Europe with the $7,000,000, Merton testified. The defense scored heavily when Merton swore that he never believed the initial $50,000 fee which he paid to the late John T. King, Connecticut politician, and the subsequent payment of $391,000 in liberty bonds for the successful negotiations of the American Metal company claim, would ever be diverted as bribe money for United States government officials.

The industrialist asserted King had told him he would want $50,000 for his services to expedite the claim, and that the politician had made up the percentage provision of the agreement which allowed five per cent, and later 2 1/2 per cent if the deal were put through before the end of September, 1921.

Those who have followed the trial closely believe that the high spots have not yet been brought to the surface. The Pandora's box which the government's attorney, Emory R. Buckner, though he would pry open, still remains sealed. Merton leisurely explained to the United States district court his disposition of the $250,000. Between $70,000 and $80,000 he said, was used for the benefit of charities his father had supported, and which had suffered during the post war period when the Merton family fortunes were low, and for "sporting grounds" in Germany.

An additional $50,000 was lost by speculating in marks during the inflation period, he continued, and he still has approximately $125,000.

Are Farmers Too Indifferent?

(An Editorial by James L. Dow)

We have heard it intimated 'on the streets and in the offices by some men who are in a position to be pretty well informed on the subject, that many of the farmers are too indifferent regarding the leaf worm that has been operating in this section more or less for the past month. These men say that many of the crops are being very materially damaged by the worms, while the farmers look on with apparent unconcern. Many of them seem to be of the opinion that the damage being done is not of any consequence, and will not, or at least are not, taking any steps whatever to protect their cotton against the ravages of the pest.

We have been informed by the cotton experts, that all fields are not infested by these insects at all, others are only slightly infested, while other crops are being literally destroyed by the worms. Many farmers have poisoned the worms, and are looking well to their destruction, while others are taking very little notice of them, and still others are led to believe that the damage will not be great and some even go so far as to state that they believe the worms are a benefit rather than a detriment to the crops.

We are of the opinion that it will pay every farmer who has a cotton crop to spray his cotton with the poison that is being used very successfully in this and other sections by some farmers. It is inexpensive, but might possibly cost the price of one bale of cotton on a large farm of three hundred acres, but if it would save twenty-five per cent of the cotton, it would be a wonderful investment. And any farmer who has that much cotton in the field with the prospects in this section at this time can secure that much poison, and we believe they should take the situation more seriously.

We would suggest that every farmer give his cotton patch a thorough going-over and examine it closely to see if any damage is being done. The saving of fifteen thousand bales of cotton to this county would be a big item and we think the farmers as a whole are treating the situation a bit too lightly. Save the cotton. You need it. The business interests of the South Plains need it, and from what we can hear, the onslaught of the worms has not been more than merely checked. Examine your cotton patch today. See if it is wormy, and see if the worms are doing it damage. If so, destroy them, and save the earnings of a year's work, by the purchase of enough poison to do the work effectively.

Republicans Win in Maine Election

PORTLAND, Maine, Sept. 13.—A sweeping republican victory was assured in the Maine state election Monday as returns show Governor Ralph O. Brewster was re-elected by a comfortable margin along with his co-republicans on the ticket. There were four candidates for re-election to congress.

Another Kansas River is Rising

INDEPENDENCE, Kans., Sept. 13.—The effect of the heavy rainfall at Madison, Kans., began to be noticed here late this afternoon when the Verdigris river began rising at the rate of eight inches per hour. In spite of the rapid rise of the river, officials of the water department believe that there is no danger of a flood.

15 Crossing Crashes in Texas for June

AUSTIN, Sept. 13.—Fifteen railroad accidents at highway grade crossings were reported to the railroad commission in June, causing four deaths and eighteen injuries, a total of 22 casualties. Automobiles figured in 13 of the accidents, with three persons killed and seventeen others injured, a total of 20 killed and take others injured.

Thrown Clear in Car Wreck, Unhurt

Mrs. George Duval, 906 avenue G, was thrown clear of the car and escaped in jury when her Dodge touring car was struck and overturned at the corner of 7th and avenue G late yesterday afternoon by a woman driving a Chrysler sedan. Mrs. Duval was driving her car down 7th and the Chrysler struck the back fender turning the car completely over. An ambulance was called but Mrs. Duval's injuries were minor. The car was smashed, the axle bent and the body wrecked.

CAR HITS YOUTH

J. B. Wilson, 13, of 1938 Avenue G, was struck by an automobile as he was riding a bicycle home from school yesterday, and suffered a sprained ankle.

ENROLLMENT MORE THAN EXPECTED, DUNCAN DECLARES

Superintendent M. H. Duncan of the Lubbock schools, stated last night that the enrollment of the schools could not be estimated as yet, but was going to exceed all expectations. Each school was crowded with pupils seeking entrance on the opening day. Two additional schools have been erected since last school year and indications are that they will not take care of the enrollment. The largest corps of teachers ever employed in Lubbock schools will be in charge and more will be added if enrollment warrants the addition. There are already 119 teachers, supervisors and others employed. Assignment of teachers as given by Mr. Duncan is as follows:

Supervisors
Miss Louise Ockers, music; Miss Corine Nash, primary supervisor; Mrs. Eppie Sowder, visiting teacher.

High School
Mr. R. W. Mathew, principal; G. N. Atkinson, third year English; M. E. Witt, chemistry; Henry Frnka, mathematics and assistant in athletics; H. M. Niles, mathematics; J. W. Reid, history; A. V. Klansmen would Halt Immigration

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—A campaign for absolute abolition of foreign immigration was announced at the first session of the Ku Klux Klan convention here tonight, during which sharp attacks were made up Governor Al Smith of New York, the recent eucharistic congress, and the world court.

The Ku Klux Klan poured its hooded hosts in a great white stream down Pennsylvania avenue today from the capitol to the Washington monument, as a prelude to the third biennial convention of the order. Authorities place the total at 12,592 klansmen.

SIX MEXICANS KIDNAP AMERICAN

GOVERNMENT URGES RELEASE OF AGED CITIZEN HELD BY ROBBERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Urgent representations have been made to the Mexican government by American Charge d'Affairs Schoenfeld for action in the case of Jacob Rosenthal of New York, who was kidnapped by six masked bandits near Mexico City Sunday, the state department announced today. The bandits also robbed J. J. Ahler and his wife, and Joseph Raff, all Americans, who were riding in an automobile with Rosenthal. Only Rosenthal is held by the bandits. He is over 60 years old and is said to have been in ill health when seized.

Recover Five of 8 Who Drowned

MEDFORD, Ore., Sept. 13.—The bodies of five of the eight victims who were drowned in the Rogue river near Prospect Sunday, when the automobile in which they were riding went over a 20 foot precipice, have been recovered according to advices reaching here late Monday afternoon.

Adrift 2 days on Gulf; Crew Saved

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Sept. 13.—After being adrift on the gulf of Mexico two days without water, gasoline or food, the three members of the crew of the Water Moccasin, one of the small boats in the race from San Antonio to Corpus Christi, arrived here tonight in tow of three other race boats.

Fear was expressed that the missing boats might have met with an accident. The race ended Saturday. Planes from Kelly field at San Antonio went out to search for the boats this afternoon.

Chef Sues Theatre That Bounced Him

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—Theodore Mark, a hotel chef, has filed suit for $25,000 damages against the Akerman and Harris vaudeville circuit and innumerable John Does, whom he alleges failed to appreciate his explosive laughs at the antics of a comedian in a theater here. At his second mirthful outburst on the night of August 11, Mark averred two bouncers seized him and sent him hurtling into an alley, where he alighted on a broken bottle with great injury to his dignity.

FATHER HECKMAN OF WACO IS DEAD

WACO, Tex., Sept. 13.—The Reverend P. A. Heckman, 64, a priest for 42 years, was found dead in the rectory of the Church of the Assumption this afternoon. He was attended by a physician earlier in the day but his condition at that time was not considered serious.

LEGISLATURE WILL GIVE PRECEDENCE TO TEXAS' CREDIT

SPECIAL SESSION ADJOURNS TILL TUESDAY AFTER ORGANIZATION

MESSAGE IS READ

GOVERNOR FERGUSON TELLS WISHES TO LAWMAKERS

AUSTIN, Sept. 13.—With introduction of investigation resolutions both senate and house adjourned this afternoon until Tuesday at 10 a. m. and the first day of the special legislative session had passed with no irregular incidents. Adjournment was taken after reading of the governor's message. Speaker Lee Satterwhite, addressing the house, recommended that road bond validation bills be disposed of at the earliest possible time and any emergency bill submitted be passed and that the legislature then adjourn.

His remarks were loudly applauded. The senate and the house of representatives was called to order at noon by Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller and Speaker Lee Satterwhite, respectively. After organizations were completed, both sides adjourned until 2:30.

House leaders reached an agreement before the session convened that first attention would be given to validating the $100,000,000 road bonds and that a joint committee would be favored to investigate state departments and report to the next regular session of the legislature. No definite decision had been made in the senate. It is known that there are some senators who would have the special session make the investigations.

Plans were being made for the introduction of all 555 district validating bills. Senator John S. Bailey will introduce the general bill. Both branches had quorums, thirty of the thirty one senators answering roll call, and 135 responding in the house. Senator J. Roy Hardin of Kaufman was the only senate absentee. House absentees numbered fifteen.

The senate organized by the reelection of W. V. Howerton of Austin as secretary and the election of other officers as follows:

R. M. Gilmore, center, journal clerk; A. W. Holt, Austin, sergeant at arms; Mrs. Martha H. Bradford, Austin, calendar clerk; Mrs. W. L. Hall, Galveston, postmistress; Dr. Randolph C. Clarke, Stephenville, chaplain; C. K. Walters, Ranger, door keeper. Recommendations for officers were unanimously made at a caucus this morning, presided over by John H. Bailey of Cuero and attended by 30 senators.

All house officers are held over from the regular session, and there was no delay in organizing.

The senate, after a half hour's session, recessed until 2:30 p. m. Committees were appointed to notify the governor and house that the senate was ready to transact business. Senator Ed Westbrook, Grapeland county, who succeeds Senator W. S. Moore, resigned, was appointed to all committees of which Moore was a member, except one, that of committee on governor's nominations. Senator H. L. Lewis, Navasota, was named to fill the vacancy of that committee.

Thirteen new members of the house were sworn in. The house finished its organization program at 12:45 p. m. and recessed until 2:30 p. m.

Announcement of appointment of Miss Oveta Culp of Temple as parliamentary to the speaker occasioned loud applause and Miss Culp

Professor Mitchie Attends Meeting of Mathematical Society at Columbus, O., Visits Universities Ky., Ohio and Texas

Professor J. N. Mitchie has returned home from an extended visit in Virginia, where he has been teaching mathematics in the University of Virginia, the past three months.

On Prof. Mitchie's return trip he visited the Universities of Kentucky, Ohio and Texas. While in Columbus, Ohio, he attended a meeting of the Mathematical Society of America. Prof. Mitchie is a member of this society and is head of the department of Mathematics for the Tech.

Miss Elizabeth Thatcher Stafford, Adjunct Professor of Mathematics, who has been spending her vacation with relatives in Rhode Island, returned yesterday. She also attended the meeting of the Mathematical Society of America.

Other members of the Mathematical Department of the Tech. who have already arrived are Professor George Lyle, who has been teaching at Lehigh University for the past five years, Professor Paul K. Rees, who comes from Austin, Professor Albert Wait, comes from the University of Wisconsin where he received the M. A. degree this summer. Professor L. V. Robinson comes from Oklahoma City University and is to arrive today.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB MET FRIDAY EVENING

The Southwest Ward Home Demonstration Club met Friday evening, August 10th with Mrs. Frank Lovelace. Everyone seemed to be very enthusiastic; most all members have returned from their vacations and are ready to start work anew.

We had fourteen members present and two visitors, Mrs. R. H. Pendly of Houston and Mrs. Earl Lovelace, president of the Carlisle Club. We heartily invite Mrs. Lovelace back again as we had such a lengthy lesson on "Materials" cotton, silk and wool (with demonstrations) that she failed to have time to tell us about her trip to A. and M. or of any of the many things she learned while there. We were glad to have our demonstration agent, Miss Hazel Hammer, with us. She gave us an outline of some interesting work to be done in the future.

The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. H. L. McCray on Friday, September 24th. We urge every member and others to be present as they will not want to miss this important lesson "A Model Home Kitchen" nor a chance to enter the State Kitchen Contest. Come!

FADS OF THE FAMOUS

CLARENCE DARROW
Clarence Darrow, criminal lawyer, man of letters, and America's foremost "reformer against reform" cracked another idol when speaking of his favorite hobby. He said he did not have one and hoped that he never would have such a thing.

And as for playing golf or tennis, Mr. Darrow lit a cigarette and smiled contemptuously. He avowed that he could see no real reason for any man admittedly young no longer tiring himself out on a golf course when he had a good light, and easy chair, and an interesting book on science available.

Darrow added that he had never taken a great deal of exercise, but had retained his health in spite of "because of it."

Mrs. Geo. Turnbo New President Business Women's Club

The Business and Professional Women's Club met Friday, at the home of Misses Margaret and Anna Mallard, with Mrs. E. M. McElroy and Mrs. J. J. Smelser as joint hostesses.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. George Turnbo, president; Miss Margaret Mallard, first vice president; Miss Mattie Randall, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. J. Smelser, reporter.

The club members set aside one hundred dollars for a student loan fund. This fund will be in charge of a committee comprising Misses Lulu B. Rushing and Mae Murfee, Dr. P. W. Horn and Mr. E. L. Dohoney, who will loan the funds to some girl to attend Tech.

Refreshments were served the members during the social hour and plans were laid for a successful club year. Next meeting will be held at The Lubbock Hotel, September 24th at 8 p. m.

The executive board of Church Women's federation met yesterday afternoon at the Baptist church, with Mrs. Studeman in the chair.

It was decided to have a reception in honor of the Tech faculty and teachers of the Lubbock schools Friday, October 8 at 8 p. m.

The following committees were appointed: Decorations, Presbyterian women; refreshments, Methodist women; publicity, Episcopal and Christian women.

JOLLY DOZEN CLUB WILL NOT

It was announced yesterday that the Jolly Dozen club would not meet today, but would meet Friday at the home of Mrs. A. H. Travis at 3 p. m.

French is the most popular language studied in senior high schools in New York City. Of 107,460 students enrolled in language classes last spring, 38,653 were studying French, and 32,415 Spanish. German was studied by 6,255 and Italian by 1,434 pupils. The classics are not so generally studied as modern languages; 28,521 were taking the Latin course and only 182 were studying Greek.

FASHIONS

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Small hats with high crushable crowns in felt, velvet or velours are considered the smartest headgear for the advancing season. Occasionally we see the wide brimmed velvet model but these do not seem consistent with call for the sleek boyish head which is decreed by Dame Fashion.

Colors in millinery, like colors in costumes, run to black, browns, Chanel read, jungle green, Valencia blue and orangish nasturtium shades. Trimming is the one thing which distinguishes the new bonnet from those we have been wearing. Where the simple ribbon crown band was formerly used we now find bands of leather and fur trimming most of the smart shapes.

The fur or leather crown band merely replaces the ribbon band. Bands of Pony and short-clipped calf fur often finished with straps and buckles of leather are used, in single or narrow double band effect. The Russian inspiration is found on some turbans where fur forms a wide front band which comes to a high peak in front.

Changeable velour is a new millinery idea which was recently brought out in Paris. The blending of two colors gives a two tone effect that permits the hat to blend with different costumes. Many different color combinations are to be found in the millinery shops. The ribbon trimming these two tones felts is also changeable.

Satin and felt is a millinery combination often used this year. Perforated felt posed over satin foundations is among the novelties. Crowns of most hats drape higher at the rear than at the sides or front and when the brims are worn they are narrow, short and flexible.

Rubber flowers are a new millinery idea that is carried out on the hat for rainy days. We also notice that many smart women choose these rubber flowers as boutonniere. One finds these flowers at the counters where bathing accessories are carried and they sell from 75 cents to $1. Dallas, daisies and gardenias in various sizes and in clusters are worn on the lapels and look extremely smart on rainy days.

Carl Patton of the firm of Hogan and Patton of Lubbock and Spur returned yesterday from Chicago and other eastern markets. He was accompanied by his partner, Ned Hogan, of Spur.

T. L. Fry of Post visited in the office of Louie Moore yesterday. He is the district attorney elect from the 106th district.

The case of Maple Wilson versus Drennan Rector et al is being tried in the district court. It will probably be finished this afternoon according to the lawyers.

B. O. McWhorter left yesterday for Lovington, Tatum and other points in New Mexico where he will attend to business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. O'Neal and family and Miss Grace Jennings returned yesterday from an extended trip in the eastern part of the United States. They have been gone something over three weeks and visited many interesting sights including the sesqui-centennial at Philadelphia.

FAIR DATES WILL BE HERE SHORTLY

MATTER OF DAYS NOW TILL GATES SWING OPEN FOR EXHIBITS

It was months and then weeks but now it's days until the Panhandle South Plains Fair, which will be held this year, September 29, 30, October 1 and 2 according to Walter A. Myrick Jr., president of the fair board who stated: Monday that much is yet to be done before the fair gates swing back for the big crowds that are certain to come here for the fair this year.

One of the big things yet to be done by Lubbock business men is the staging of four big trade and good will trips advertising the fair. The committee composed of S. E. Cone, chairman, Norton Baker, and Spencer Wells will meet today to set the dates for the trips and to make other arrangements for staging them. Only two weeks will be available to make these trips and the success of the trips and the resulting value to the fair from the travel excursions will rest entirely upon the co-operation of each individual merchant, Myrick stated.

County and Community reservations are coming in now at a rapid rate and the list already received includes, Terry, Lynn, Hockley, Crosby, Hale, Lamb, Dawson, and Garza, in the county exhibit and Woodrow, Carlisle, Slaton, Wolffarth, New Hope and others in the community exhibit. Other counties and communities have stated that they are sending an exhibit but have not sent in their reservation to date. These are expected in the next few days.

Individual exhibitors of live stock, swine, poultry, agriculture and other departments are sending in their entries blank each day and the biggest fair in the history of the Plains is assured.

The citizenship of the entire Plains section are actively interested in the fair and are boosting it in every way. Big attractions will be seen at the fair including football games, free acrobatic stunts, fireworks, and others.

M. Collazo, a Frenchman, again broke the world's altitude record by reaching a height of 12,000 meters, exceeding his former record height of 11,066 meters.

PAPERS INDICATE M'PHERSON HOAX

OFFICERS SEIZE DOCUMENTS OF WOMAN WHO SAYS WAS BRIBED BY EVANGEL

By United News
LOS ANGELES Sept. 13.—A number of telegrams and statements seized by authorities from a safety deposit box are purported to further strengthen the charges that Alcee Simple McPherson, famous evangelist, planned the "Miss X" hoax to protect herself from public scandal.

The documents were the property of Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman Sellaiff, who in a sensational confession charges that on a promise from Mrs. McPherson that she would receive $5,000, she posed as Kenneth G. Ormiston's companion at the Carnal "love cottage."

A letter received by Mrs. McPherson from Edward H. S. Martin, Chicago attorney, in which she was notified that Ormiston had made an affidavit was among the documents found.

A penciled foot note on the letter reads: "This will introduce Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman. Any information helping us to get a message to Mr. E. G. Ormiston in the interests of justice to Mrs. McPherson will be deeply appreciated. Thank you. (Signature) Mrs. Kennedy, mother."

Smartly Meets Fashion's Demands

Originally, Youthfully Expressed. Typical of the clever things the Paris designers do with youthful models is this dress in plaid voile. It is of a type that may be easily copied in the materials which are very fashionable.

Here is an exquisite little frock, finished with such simple trimmings as tucks, buttons and hand-stitching. The front is in panel effect, the fullness at the sides being held in place with twin bands of plain material to correspond with the collar and cuffs.

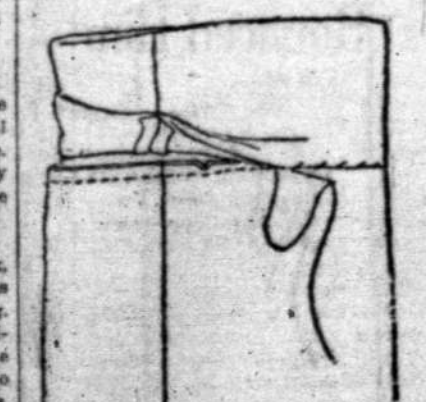

The cuffs are added to the sleeve in double effect, because they both wear better and achieve a better line. The material for the cuffs must be cut really four times as the cuff to be when finished, for it must have to be doubled to be applied to the sleeve, then doubled again when finished. After cutting the band, fold then sew the right side of the cuff to the right side of the sleeve. Make a seam about three-eighths of an inch wide.

Now turn to the wrong side, and sew the edge of the cuff over the seam formed by joining cuff and sleeve. The careful sewer will not have to loose the cuff to position first, but, unless one is certain, this little precaution is worth taking. Unless the folds and seams are even, frequently the cuff wrinkles.

The front panel is put on with a fold, and when this is stitched with darning or other simple embroidery stitches, becomes quite a decorative feature of the dress. Buttons held in place the ends of the bands at the sides. These may be tied at the back or continued around the figure in plain effect.

Fancy stitches added to the edges of the cuffs and collar give them the appearance of hemstitched. Care should be taken not to let the stitches extend through to the wrong side of Sewing Double Cuff Onto Sleeve. Either cuffs or collar, otherwise the neat effect of the work will be spoiled.

"LONG LIVE DEATH," MOTTO TATTOED ON MAN WHO HURLED AT MUSSOLINI BOMB HOARDED FROM GREAT WAR

BY FRANCISCO REA

United News Staff Correspondent
ROME, Sept. 13.—A bomb taken from a world war battle front and preserved in an iron box by a man who made murder his watchword was used in the attempted assassination of Premier Mussolini Saturday.

"Long live death," is the message tattooed on the breast of Geno Lucetti, the youth who hurled his missile at the Italian premier and who today told police that he regretted he had been cheated from an assassination by the fraction of an inch. Stripped in his cell, Lucetti made no effort to cover the tattoo marks which told investigators of his dedication to a life of anarchy. Cynical, blatant in his comment on the crime, Lucetti admitted that he had become an anarchist immediately after his return as an ex artilleryman from the world war.

Before leaving the battle fields where he had served Italy as a soldier, Lucetti gathered up a number of bombs and settled down near Marcellines. Once established as a quiet citizen of the place, he procured an iron box and buried his missiles of death against the day when he could find a fit object of assassination. For six years the bombs were hoarded and then he chose Mussolini, dictator of the Italians, as the man he would kill. The day he left France to make an illegal entry into his native land he unearthed the bombs.

that the best fields of grain were planted from pure seed that originally came from the local experiment station. This station is provided by the state for a school for the farmers to experiment and all farmers of the South Plains should use it.

R. E. Karper who was superintendent of the local experiment station until last year when he was promoted as vice-director of the entire system told of his work with all the sub-stations over the state. The Texas Experiment Station is covering a large state and are confronted with many regional problems at the fifteen sub-stations over the state, Karper stated.

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce has always co-operated with the experiment station officials and the farmers of the South Plains are learning more and more each year how to use the station to an advantage, Karper stated.

Dean A. H. Leidigh, spoke about the Rural schools of Texas, stating the schools are behind the city schools in progress and advocated the direct employment of county superintendents rather than the election of the superintendents by county voters. Leidigh pointed to the Tech Agricultural students of last year who came mostly from the rural schools, a large per cent of which were struggling with lack of proper preparation he said. He urged the farmers to demand better qualifications for their teachers and to pay them more to justify this demand. He urged them to use the school more for a meeting place and to be interested in it.

W. J. Stangel spoke on the feeding of grain sorghum and urged the farmers of the Plains to stock their farms with sheep, beef, cattle, dairy cattle, and hogs to consume the feed raised in this section.

D. F. Eaton and J. D. Tinsley also spoke and a good crowd remained through out the speaking despite a light rain which fell throughout.

County agricultural Agents who attended the Farmer's Congress at the Experiment Station yesterday are: Paul Huey, Hale county; Knowlton, Garza county; D. F. Eaton, Lubbock county; and C. B. Martin, Dawson county. These agents remained in town last night and will inspect several farms of pure seed over the county today and will visit and inspect the Texas Technological College under the supervision of Dean A. H. Leidigh, of the School of Agriculture and W. J. Stangel, of the Animal Husbandry Department.

The funeral of Mildred Tiner, 13, gunshot accident victim of Sunday afternoon was held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tiner, eight miles south of town. Rev. C. A. Norcross, pastor of the First Baptist church of Woodrow conducted the services.

In the case of Bowden Lacy's death, Coroner Johnson rendered a verdict of suicide and the evidence left was turned over to the Grand Jury for further investigation.

KNIGHTS OF GRIP HERE SATURDAY

FAST

The most unique parade that has marched over the streets of Lubbock in some time will witness Saturday afternoon when the Knights of the Grip flock in here from every corner of the Southwest to attend the Fifth Annual Peddler's Jubilee, according to Bill Lyle, dean of the salesmen.

"Howdy pardner! Are you going to meet me at Lubbock?" is the usual greeting between salesmen of the Southwest at this time, Lyle stated recently and the biggest attendance that has ever been recorded is expected.

The same hospitable spirit will be displayed by Lubbock citizens and no stone will be left unturned until everything is done for the complete entertainment of the visitors, B. Sherrod, chairman of the committee from the Chamber of Commerce says.

The Peddler's committee has been busy framing up the latest initiation work for the novices for the R. O. E. E. organization and the old members will be advanced a few degrees during the meeting, according to Lyle.

Emmett Adair has traveled over the entire nation in search for the best Peddler's baseball team available to put on the diamond in opposition to the champion Rotarians. Adair claims his stars will take much of cockiness out of the Rotarians when they come to bat Saturday. Nine of the heaviest sluggers that ever faced a pitcher at Merrill park will be in the Peddler's dugout Saturday, Adair stated Sunday afternoon and although he is not under estimating the strength of the Rotarians club, he is confident of a victory with ease. His team will practice Wednesday and Friday afternoons at five o'clock at the Merrill park.

Wholesale houses over the South west are, writing stating they are sending their Peddlers. The Knights of the Grip are writing to "save a bean for me," and the leading hotels are writing that posters advertising the Jubilee have been posted and that the Salesmen have noticed them with interest and that a big attendance is certain.

LEGISLATURE

responded to invitation to make a speech.

Judge Norman G. Kittrell of Houston, veteran house member is among those legislators who are opposed to any interference by investigations in the special session to road validation legislation. Judge Kittrell said today that the special session was called primarily for the purpose of validating the road bonds and he would insist that this work be accomplished before any other matters are considered.

Judge Kittrell announced that he would at the regular session of the fortieth legislature next January introduce a bill to repeal the primary election law. He considers it unconstitutional. At the proper time he said he would make public his reason for asking for the repeal in this law.

The special session which convened today is the first called session of a Texas legislature since June 1923. It was called by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson primarily for the purpose of validating $100,000,000 of road district bonds which were held invalid by the United States supreme court in the Archer county case.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

By United Press
AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 13.—Road Bond Validation; legislation and investigation were the only subjects emphasized by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson in her message to the legislature today. She said that she is inclined not to submit any additional subjects, "until the matter of bond validation and investigation of the departments shall have had ample opportunity for discussion." Bond validation and investigation were the only subjects contained in the Governor's proclamation calling the important session.

The Governor emphasized that whatever bond validation legislation may be passed, "it must be such legislation as will meet the objections raised by the supreme court of the United States in said case." The Governor said that any law of violation that does not meet the requirements of the decision will be of no avail and will not be of any benefit to the credit of the state.

In urging departmental investigations the Governor said: "Recently grave charges have been made of the irregularities of certain departments of the government that border on malfeasance and corruption by state officials."

If the legislature is of the opinion that such irregularities existed or still exist, the governor asks for "a fully and fair investigation while the legislature is in support, and I pledge my full personal and official cooperation to that end and purpose."

"In view of the partisan discussion that has recently taken place, I trust that the legislature will take such action as will be in keeping with the best interests of the state. If there has been any official misconduct or corruption, the people have the right to know it. If there has not been any official misconduct or corruption, then the state ought not to bear an unfounded suspicion."

The legislature was notified that deficiency appropriations amounting to $1,536,066 had been granted by the governor.

Eighty per cent of the members of the legislature have pledged themselves to vote for the road bond validating bills, R. N. Hubbard, chairman of the validating committee of the Texas highway association, announced upon his arrival in Austin from New Boston, today.

"The bills have been prepared and will be introduced at the very earliest moment," Mr. Hubbard said. "I do not see why there should be any objections to these bills, and their consideration should be well under way during the first week of the session."

When the King resolution for investigation of state departments is offered in the house, representative George Purl of Dallas will offer a substitute to confine the probe to the highway department and the text book commission covering the last two years.

The King resolution asks for investigation of all state departments and does not specify any particular period.

The first bill to be introduced in the senate will provide for an appropriation of $13,000 to defray expenses of the special session including mileage and per diem for members, contingent expenses and a few items unpaid at the regular session.

Senator John Davis of Dallas, chairman of the finance committee, will introduce the bill. This will be the first time that all expense items have been consolidated in one bill.

To discover artistic talent, a survey of junior high schools of Baltimore has recently been made by the division of art education of the city school system in order that adequate provision may be made for training the talented pupils.

THE BASIS OF OUR NATIONAL PROSPERITY

As a national election approaches there are many theories advanced as to the probability of a financial depression. Some argue on the line of over-speculation and too much expansion of credit. Others argue that the people are buying too many motor cars. Out of 20,000,000 automobiles in use in the world, 17,000,000 are said to be owned in this country. Then there is talk, mainly for political effect, that while there has been a general improvement in farm market conditions, a great many farmers are still on the verge of bankruptcy. As a matter of fact, there never has been a time when there were not some weak places in the financial, industrial or agricultural structure of a great nation, which could be magnified out of all proportion in creating campaign issues. Let us consider five of the primary sources of new wealth, nationally speaking, of this great country of ours, that are constantly offsetting any possible collapse in the soundness and stability of national business affairs. The first source of new wealth is farm crops, soil products; everything included in the term agriculture. Indications are that this year will surpass all other years in sum total of the golden stream that agriculture pours forth. The second great national asset of new creative wealth is mining, mineral and metal products, including the oil industry. Reports show that they are on a prosperous basis of production. The third source of wealth production is manufacturing in the first stage from raw materials—the factory output for 1926 will surpass all previous years. A fourth great primary wealth retractor is lumbering, logging, paper mill products, and all associated industries connected with products of the forest. Heaped upon this great mountain of new wealth created annually, we must not overlook the salt and fresh water fisheries. The hundreds of millions taken out of this element are next to meats and gains the greatest item of food value. If the hundreds of millions and billions of dollars of new wealth brought into existence annually and added to the existing wealth could be stacked up before the people, together with the increasing accumulation in all banks, the question of the future financial stability of our country would be better understood. We would realize that the prosperity of this nation rests on the rock foundation of primary industries which create new wealth annually by supplying the wants of mankind with essential products necessary to maintain life. Our country has the greatest real basis of security, stability, and continuous prosperity of all the countries in the civilized world. The statistics supplied by the federal Bureau of Labor show unusual prosperity of wage earners for the past three years. The years 1923, 1924 and 1925 have been comparatively quiet and free from strikes and industrial troubles over wages. During 1922 there were 1,612,562 employees engaged in strikes. For the following three years the record was: 1923 had 1,199 labor disputes with 756,084 employees involved; 1924 had 898 strikes with 564,641 employees involved; in 1925 only 428,218 persons participated in labor disputes. Since 1923 there have been more wage increases than decreases—positive proof that the period since 1922 has been uniformly prosperous—and that means a broader distribution of wealth and a greater prosperity for a larger number. It is essential that every citizen in our country should understand some of the primary sources of wealth which make possible steady employment good wages, and short hours in this nation. Any political party, political group or individual, instrumental in disturbing or crippling productive enterprise destroys employment and steady wages. If the people understand these simple facts the way of the agitator in this country will be more difficult and the road to steady employment and good wages will become constantly smoother. The future is in our own hands.

SUNLIGHT

The sunshine gospel—which is a scientific gospel—continues to spread. At a gathering of sanitary inspectors in Brantford, Ont., the chief health inspector of Winnipeg spoke forcibly on "Light and Health" emphasizing the need of "natural light" in living and working quarters. "The four chief needs for the health of the community," he declared, are these: A clean atmosphere in cities and towns; the admission of direct sunlight to all working and living quarters, particularly in homes where there are growing children; the perfection of a window glass to admit ultra-violet rays—the part of sunlight especially promoting health and growth; the inculcation in the minds of the people of the absolute need of direct sunlight in winter as well as summer, for the maintenance of health. It would be well if health officers everywhere were harping on this subject. It has taken the human race a good many thousand years to learn how sunshine affects life, and to start making intelligent use of it and, where it is lacking, to begin providing the best substitutes possible.

TURKEY AND THE LEAGUE

The "Sick Man of Europe," as has been remarked more than once, is doing better since he left Europe to recuperate in his native Asia. The latest sign of Turkish convalescence is the application for membership in the League of Nations. Her admittance would shrink the list of important non-members to America and Russia. Reports from Geneva say that the Turkish government, which means Mustapha Kemal, is ready to join the League if the member nations will give that country a seat on the Council. This is an ambitious request, which would have been rejected with scorn a few years ago. But the Turks have made much progress politically and economically, and they insist that they merit the honor of sitting with the big powers of Geneva because they would be "the representative of Islam." There is still magic in that word, despite the disintegration of the old Islamic empire built up by the Turks. The religion of Mohammed has about 220,000,000 followers, about 40 per cent as many as all the Christians in the world and more than any other non-Christian sect except possibly the Confucianists. Mohammedanism, needless to say, is more dynamic than Confucianism. It would be embarrassing to give Turkey a permanent seat in the League Council after denying it to Spain. Yet Turkey has a pretty good claim to a non-permanent seat, because of the influence she can exert in Asia and Africa, and she may obtain it.

TOO MUCH SALT

The salt-cellar may be worse than the wine-cellar, even when the latter is filled with bootlegged goods, if Dr. Jean Bouchon, an eminent French surgeon, knows what he is talking about. In a magazine article Dr. Bouchon condemns salt as the worst of modern poisons. He declares that it dries up and hardens muscular tissue, leads to liver and kidney troubles, gastric ulcers and appendicitis and has as bad an effect on intelligence as it has on physical health. Some salt is necessary for human beings, as it is for many animals. But there is little question that modern civilized man, and perhaps the American especially, uses too much salt. From the action of this chemical when used in the preservation of meat, it might be expected to have some such effects on the living tissue as the French scientist describes. Fortunately hygienic education in this country is already doing much to stop the practice of deluging everything with salt. Modern improvements in food-preserving methods, too, are making it less necessary for people to take so much salt into their systems as they did when living so largely on salt meat and fish. Physicians are emphasizing the matter more and more, and are having notable success with some diseases in prescribing an almost "salt-free" diet. Any such change in diet habits seems at first a serious privation. Most persons, however, can soon adapt themselves to using, say, half as much as they have been accustomed to. They may find ample compensation, aside from improved health, in their more delicate appreciation of natural food flavors.

FUTILE PRIDE

Spain, refused a permanent seat on the Council of the League of Nations, withdraws from the League because her feeling are hurt. Here is old-fashioned "Castilian pride" still alive and still operating, as it has done for centuries, to Spain's own disadvantage. As matters stand, Spain's retirement hurts Spain more than it does the League. The latter gains prestige by keeping faith with Germany and refusing to be bulldozed into changing its policies by a member with whom there are really a good deal of sympathy. The welfare of the League was placed above favoritism and threats. What it amounts to is that Spain has not "fired" the League, but the League has, however regretfully fired Spain. So Spain is left with her pride, and little else. And pride, in a man or a nation, is of little use when it is not accompanied by substantial strength or achievement. It was really absurd that a nation which has lost the vast empire which was once Spain's and dwindled in power until it was beaten to a sandhill by a handful of Moroccans, should presume to dictate to a majority of the powers of the earth. The Castilian nobleman, dwelling ragged in a tumble-down castle, and starving because he is too proud to work for a living, is still a symbol of Spain. That is why Spain fails to prosper and why, in spite of her great past, she fails to exert power in international councils, and even her Spanish-American offsprings fail to support her.

CHANNEL SWIMMERS

This was a good season for those with ambitions to swim the English Channel, three of whom were successful, two of them being American women. Several others missed victory only by short distances. All three of this year's successful aspirants swam the Channel in less time than had been taken by either of the five who had accomplished the feat in former years. These are their records: Miss Gertrude Ederle, of New York, the first woman to conquer the Channel, crossed in 14 hours, 31 minutes. Mrs. Clemington Corson, Danish-American swimmer of New York, other of two children, made the time of about 15 hours. Ernest Vierkotter, a German baker, broke all records by accomplishing the feat in 12 hours, 42 minutes. Among those who attempted the Channel swim this year was Miss Clara Belle Barrett of New Rochelle, N. Y., whose brave though unsuccessful effort won universal admiration. She battled wind and tide for 22 hours before she was forced to give up after almost reaching her goal, a victim of sheer hard luck. She had perhaps expended far greater strength than those who were fortunate enough to meet success. Swimming the Channel is more a matter of luck than of skill and endurance, owing to the prevalence of sudden squalls and treacherous currents which can not be guarded against. There are probably a hundred swimmers in the world today who could make the swim under the most favorable conditions, yet only eight persons have accomplished it: Webb in 1875, Burgess in 1911, Sullivan, Tiraboschi and Toth in 1923, Ederle, Corson and Vierkotter in 1926.

THEY NEVER DO THIS BUT ONCE

So Think We

We think that when our uncle Samule has noting else to worry about, he can always bring up the tax question and get plenty of kick out of it.

We think that people, as well as nations, get along splendidly as long as they have the laugh on the other. The United States and England, for instance.

We think that most any car is a lifetime car—if you buy it on installments.

We think the old guy who grouches around about men not doing anything for their wives after marriage, must have one. We know that we could not do enough for her before we married, and by heck, we find it impossible yet.

We think we have thought of the very idea. A lot of folks have been complaining about not knowing how to spell Sesqui-Centennial. We would suggest that they just say One Hundred and Fiftieth anniversary.

We think the fellows who are most responsible for conditions very often howl the loudest about them.

We think the best way to treat some of the things that arise in the community is to forget them.

We think the way to build communities and towns is to stick together. Two factions, pulling in opposite directions and they always do, will never build a community.

We think in the long run it is possibly best to walk.

We think there are very few people who ever get on by simply trying to get by.

We think a dun is one thing that never gets to the dead letter office. We receive all of them that are intended for us, and those intended for our customers all come back.

We think there is one thing about it. When there is an automobile accident the back seat driver never gets the blame for it.

It Is Reported

That a smart guy has asked the question that if a man talks to himself, does he believe everything he hears.

That the Lubbock schools started on schedule time yesterday and with record breaking attendance.

That the Fort Worth Cats are going to come out to Lubbock and jump on the Lubbock Hubbers with both feet. They may get bumped off too. They did not miss it far last year when they tried it.

That Lubbock has the largest school enrollment of any city in this part of the state.

That there will be several thousand acres of wheat planted in this section of the country this fall than last year. We believe this will be a mighty wise thing to do.

That many people are looking toward the South Plains for future homes. They have heard of this great country and are anxious to try it out.

That the county that beats Lamb county in the far mexhibility at the South Plains fair is going to have to be up in snuff.

That there is a fine wheat planting season in the ground.

That Muleshoe is going to have a fine fair.

That there is a school in Bailey county that has three teachers and about sixteen pupils. A community divided against itself, etc.

That the Texas Legislature is in session. Now gentlemen, is the time to save your state.

That Dan Moody is coming to the South Plains fair. We believe the South Plains people will appreciate his visit.

That Dan is being swamped with applications for positions at "his right hand."

That cotton is beginning to open rapidly and cotton pickers will be in great demand.

That Sled Allen is calling in the Hubbers and they will be in good trim for the game with the Fort Worth Cats.

That the people of Lamesa are making preparations for a big crowd to see the Lobos wallop the Fort Worth Cats when they play there the eighteenth and nineteenth.

That the fans of Lubbock say the Hubbers are going to give the Fort Worth Cats a genuine licking for coming out here Friday.

That several wild cat oil wells will be drilled soon in this part of the country.

That Germany is now trying to fall out with the Dawes plan because it makes paying of reparations too easy.

That Mussolini has started an anti-profanity movement intally. He is a wise old duck, for there is n cting when some of them are going to tear loose and swear at him, and we presume he is hedging against a possibility.

By the Health Department of the state of Texas that some of the healthiest communities in the state do most howling about the weather. That may be accounted for by the fellows living in those communities having a lot of pep so they just simply take more interest in life, and notice the weather more.

That one Lubbock woman broke her husband from kissing the cook by doing the cooking herself.

That there will be work for every man in the city this fall, and in fact, there is now, and those who are loafing on the streets are doing so by choice rather than by necessity.

WET AND DRY

"It is more mockery to ask us to put down drunkenness by moral and religious means when the Legislature facilitates the multiplication of the incitements to intemperance on every hand. You might as well call on me, an captain of a sinking ship, and say, 'Why don't you pump the water out?' when you are scuttling the ship in every direction."—Cardinal Manning of the Catholic Church.

We are told that we should save the drunkard by moral suasion and let the drink traffic alone. When Chicago had seven thousand saloons, only 120,746 of its 370,000 children of school age attended Sunday school. While the Sunday schools were saving 120,000 from drunkenness, 250,000 were being constantly tempted by a licensed trade.

More than 1,000 places in the Chicago prohibition district were padlocked for one year during the period September 1, 1925, and July 1, 1926. In the same period permits of 1,008 doctors to write prescriptions were revoked, and 421 druggists' permits to sell upon presentation of liquor prescriptions were revoked.

It has been well pointed out that "the crowd" does not mean "the people." "We, the people" founded this country, established its customs, wrote its Constitution, and side by its laws and regulations. Too often it is "the crowd" that attacks the country, its customs and the Constitution.

"The permanence of the Eighteenth Amendment is past discussion. Under no circumstances which we can imagine will it be repealed. The main purpose, that of breaking up the liquor traffic in America, will in time be achieved."—David Starr Jordan.

Challenging the statement that "Prohibition has bred cowards," the Central Christian Advocate says: "Prohibition tends to make cowards? Yes, it sfts the souls of men, whether theirs is to be martyrdom or playing safe in the presence of a known wrong."

According to the head of the government's narcotic division there has been, during the past year, a decrease in the number of drug addicts in this country. It is said that dope smuggling centers in New York City.

In Cleveland, in 1917, there was a total of 41,150 prosecutions and re-fences on account of drunkenness, while in 1925, after prohibition, the total was 23,393.

In Chicago the volume of business done by restaurants, caterers, sandwich shops, lunchrooms and grills has increased tremendously since the passing of the saloon. In a survey made by the Christian Science Monitor recently in the Loop district it was found that 56 of these places are doing business where saloons were formerly located. The report states that Mr. Mark Levy, of Mary Levy & Brothers, realtors, say that soda fountain, candy and lunch stores are paying, in many cases, twice as much rent as saloons did in the same locations. The old aggregate rental of about one million dollars from saloon property in the Loop district in 1915, has increased to twice, and three times that amount of rental received now from other lines of business.

Jefferson said, "Absolute acquiescence in the decisions of the majority is the vital principle of republics."

The Cleveland News, according to the American Issue, takes issue with those who charge that all the cost of dry law enforcement is paid by the taxpayers, and points out that in the northern district of Ohio nearly $240,000 in fines was collected for the fiscal year just ended.

THOUGHT FOR A SECOND JOURNEY

If I could live my life again
 And twice come down to earth
 I think I'd have the self-same pain
 To know the self-same mirth.
 But I should want the self-same friends,
 The self-same girls and boys,
 For I have found on them depends
 My memory of joys.
 I should not wish to come anew

To brave this world alone
 And search again for friendship true,
 I'd want the ones I've known.
 I'd want the same good kindly Dad,
 The same sweet mother, too,
 They made the happiness I've had
 This present journey through.
 I should not care to come alone
 Adventuring loss and gain,
 But to relive the joys I've known
 I'd gladly brave the pain.

HIGH POWERED LAMESA LOBOES BATTLE FORT WORTH "CATS" LAST OF THIS WEEK 2 GAMES

LOBOS HAVE JUST RETURNED FROM DENVER, COLO., WHERE THEY WON SECOND PLACE IN HARD FOUGHT POST TOURNAMENT

Baseball fans of West Texas will have the biggest series of the year offered them at Lamesa Saturday and Sunday of this week as the closing time for the baseball season approaches.

The hard-hitting, colorful Lamesa Lobos, under the leadership of J. H. (Hosea) Lee, who has been a sensation in independent baseball circles of the southwest this season, will play a two game series with the Fort Worth Panthers of the Texas League.

The Lamesa club has just returned from Denver, Colo., where they won second place in the Post Tournament in which there were fifteen clubs entered from seven different states. The Lobos went into the finals of the tournament with a record of five wins and no losses and lost out to Tony La Salle's team from Phoenix, Arizona, which was made up of many classes of ball players.

The Fort Worth team has won third place this year in the Texas league. This is the first time in six years that the Panthers have failed to cop first in Texas league battles.

Manager Lee of the Lamesa club says his boys were against just as strong competition at Denver as the "Cats" will offer them and is expecting to show the fans of this section some real games.

Arrangements are being made to care for the largest crowd ever present at any baseball game in West Texas. Lamesa hotels are adequate to care for out of town visitors who desire to come for both games.

A & M Squad Swings into Line For Hard Schedule

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Sept. 13.—When D. X. Bible's squad swings into action on the practice grid this week, it is with an eye on keeping intact something of a remarkable record. For the first big game towards which the Farmers will be pitted will be the third tilt of this year's schedule, the first inter-sectional battle billed in the state this year, the meeting of the Sewanee Tigers at Fair park stadium in Dallas, October 9.

The shoe is on the other foot this year. For two seasons Bible has gone into the Sewanee game with a fairly veteran team against an uncertain one. The first year, Sewanee had a new coach, the second a largely new squad. This year the Tigers have a veteran nucleus while the Southwestern Conference champions must be rebuilt almost from the ground up.

Viewed softly from the game the Aggies have shown against Sewanee so far, this would supply cause for serious apprehension for Aggie supporters. In the past two years, this team which the Farmers meet at the stadium on the 9th has played them for 100 minutes in 120, but has encountered so stubborn a defensive combination that the net result of two years' play has been one Aggie victory and one tie. But the experience of the past has been that even if Bible cannot have developed his new combination to its highest point by so early a game, as that with Sewanee, so that Dr. Mike Bennett's formidable offensive combination will have its work cut out for it.

The 1925 Sewanee team made friends for itself in Texas. It flashed the most astonishing open offense seen all year on Southwestern grid irons. It shows a running passing attack dared by few teams. It was a dazzling combination of speed and the pass, and should be even better this year than last.

Sewanee's return to a headline position in the grid world has been a source of gratification to the many hundred Mountain alumni in Texas who make the annual Dallas game a Sewanee homecoming.

The Fair park game this year will put the finishing touches on A. and M.'s preparation for one of the hardest conference schedules of the year.

Plainview Grid Prospects Bright

PLAINVIEW, Sept. 13.—Football prospects at Plainview High School are looking brighter with every day of practice and while the Bulldogs will have a light team yet it is believed that they will astound the Panhandle with their speed, punch, and the greatest fighting spirit that can be found in any bunch of boys. Prospects especially brightened when Norman Magill, flashy back and past captain, and Woodson Brown, an unexcelled receiver of passes at end, were seen on the field of practice after the first several days of work-outs had passed. If it is possible for them to continue to school, the Bulldogs will then have eleven letter men on which to build a team.

Coaches Guy Allen and T. P. Hayes are giving fast and snappy workouts every day to over thirty boys and are getting them into good shape for the football season which opens September 24th in a game with Floydada high school at Floydada. The speed and pep with which the boys practice is really surprising. Each day the boys go through strenuous practice on the dummy and hucking board, and many other maneuvers. Football fans that have watched the Bulldogs practice are exceptionally optimistic for their success in the coming season and believe that there is not a high school team in the Panhandle or South Plains that can defeat them. Following the first game of the season with Floydada, the Bulldogs will meet Slaton at the Panhandle South Plains fair in Lubbock. A complete schedule has not yet been arranged but games have already been matched with many of the strongest teams of the Panhandle.

Jackrabbits Open Season Sept. 24.

PLAINVIEW, Sept. 13.—The Wayland College Jackrabbits will open their football season in Plainview September 24th when they meet the Panhandle A. & M. Junior College of Goodwell, Okla. Other games included in the schedule arranged at present are: West Texas Teachers of Canyon at Plainview, Oct. 2; New Mexico Military Institute of Roswell, at Plainview, Oct. 16; Montezuma College at Las Vegas, N. M., Oct. 23; Clarendon College at Plainview, Nov. 11; and Clarendon College at Clarendon, Thanksgiving. The Jackrabbits have three open dates for games that have not yet been filled.

Coach E. F. Anderson, all Southwestern tackle with Baylor in '22 and '23, is giving strenuous workouts from three to six o'clock to two full teams and those in training camp are rapidly rounding into form. Four letter men from last year and several boys with high school experience have reported to practice, however most of the material is inexperienced. Letter men from last year are: Captain Wise, halfback of Quitaque; Wilbanks, end of O'Donnell; Cummings, end of Wellington; and Gunn, guard of Plainview. Candidates for the team represent twelve cities including: Wellington, Quitaque, O'Donnell, Plainview, Littlefield, Center Plains, Olton, Lorenzo, McLean, Dumont, Tahoka and Durant, Oklahoma. Coach Anderson states that the Jackrabbits will have a considerably stronger team than they had last year.

Razorback Squad Goes to Training

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 13.—The "Razorbacks" of Arkansas University opened fall training here Sept. 10 preparation for a football schedule that includes games with Missouri Valley teams, Southern conference teams, at southwestern and four games with representative college teams of the middle west and the state.

On one day in August there were 1,000,000 bags of coffee in storage at Santos, Brazil.

Saxon Back With Longhorn Gridsters

AUSTIN, Sept. 13.—With more than 50 candidates, who reported for fall training last Friday, Coach Doc Stewart is putting them through the early paces in preparations for the strenuous campaign they doubtfully will have in the Southwestern football conference this year.

Among the prominent and notable players from last year who are here now are Captain Mack Saxon of Temple, all conference half last season, who played baseball this season and has not broken training; Aubrey "Tiney" Gooch of Ennis, 210 pound tackle who has been wrestling with blocks of ice during the summer to keep from expanding and John Estes of Dallas, who will make a determined fight for a regular berth in the backfield, a job which he occasionally held down last year with a great deal of success.

Joe King of Dallas, who was looked forward to in the regular lineup this year at the quarter job gave his followers a jolt when he underwent an operation for tonsillitis and removal of a bone in his nose. This is expected to keep him out of active training for a period.

Let us do your Job Printing.

"CHUCK WAGON" AT CROSBY FAIR

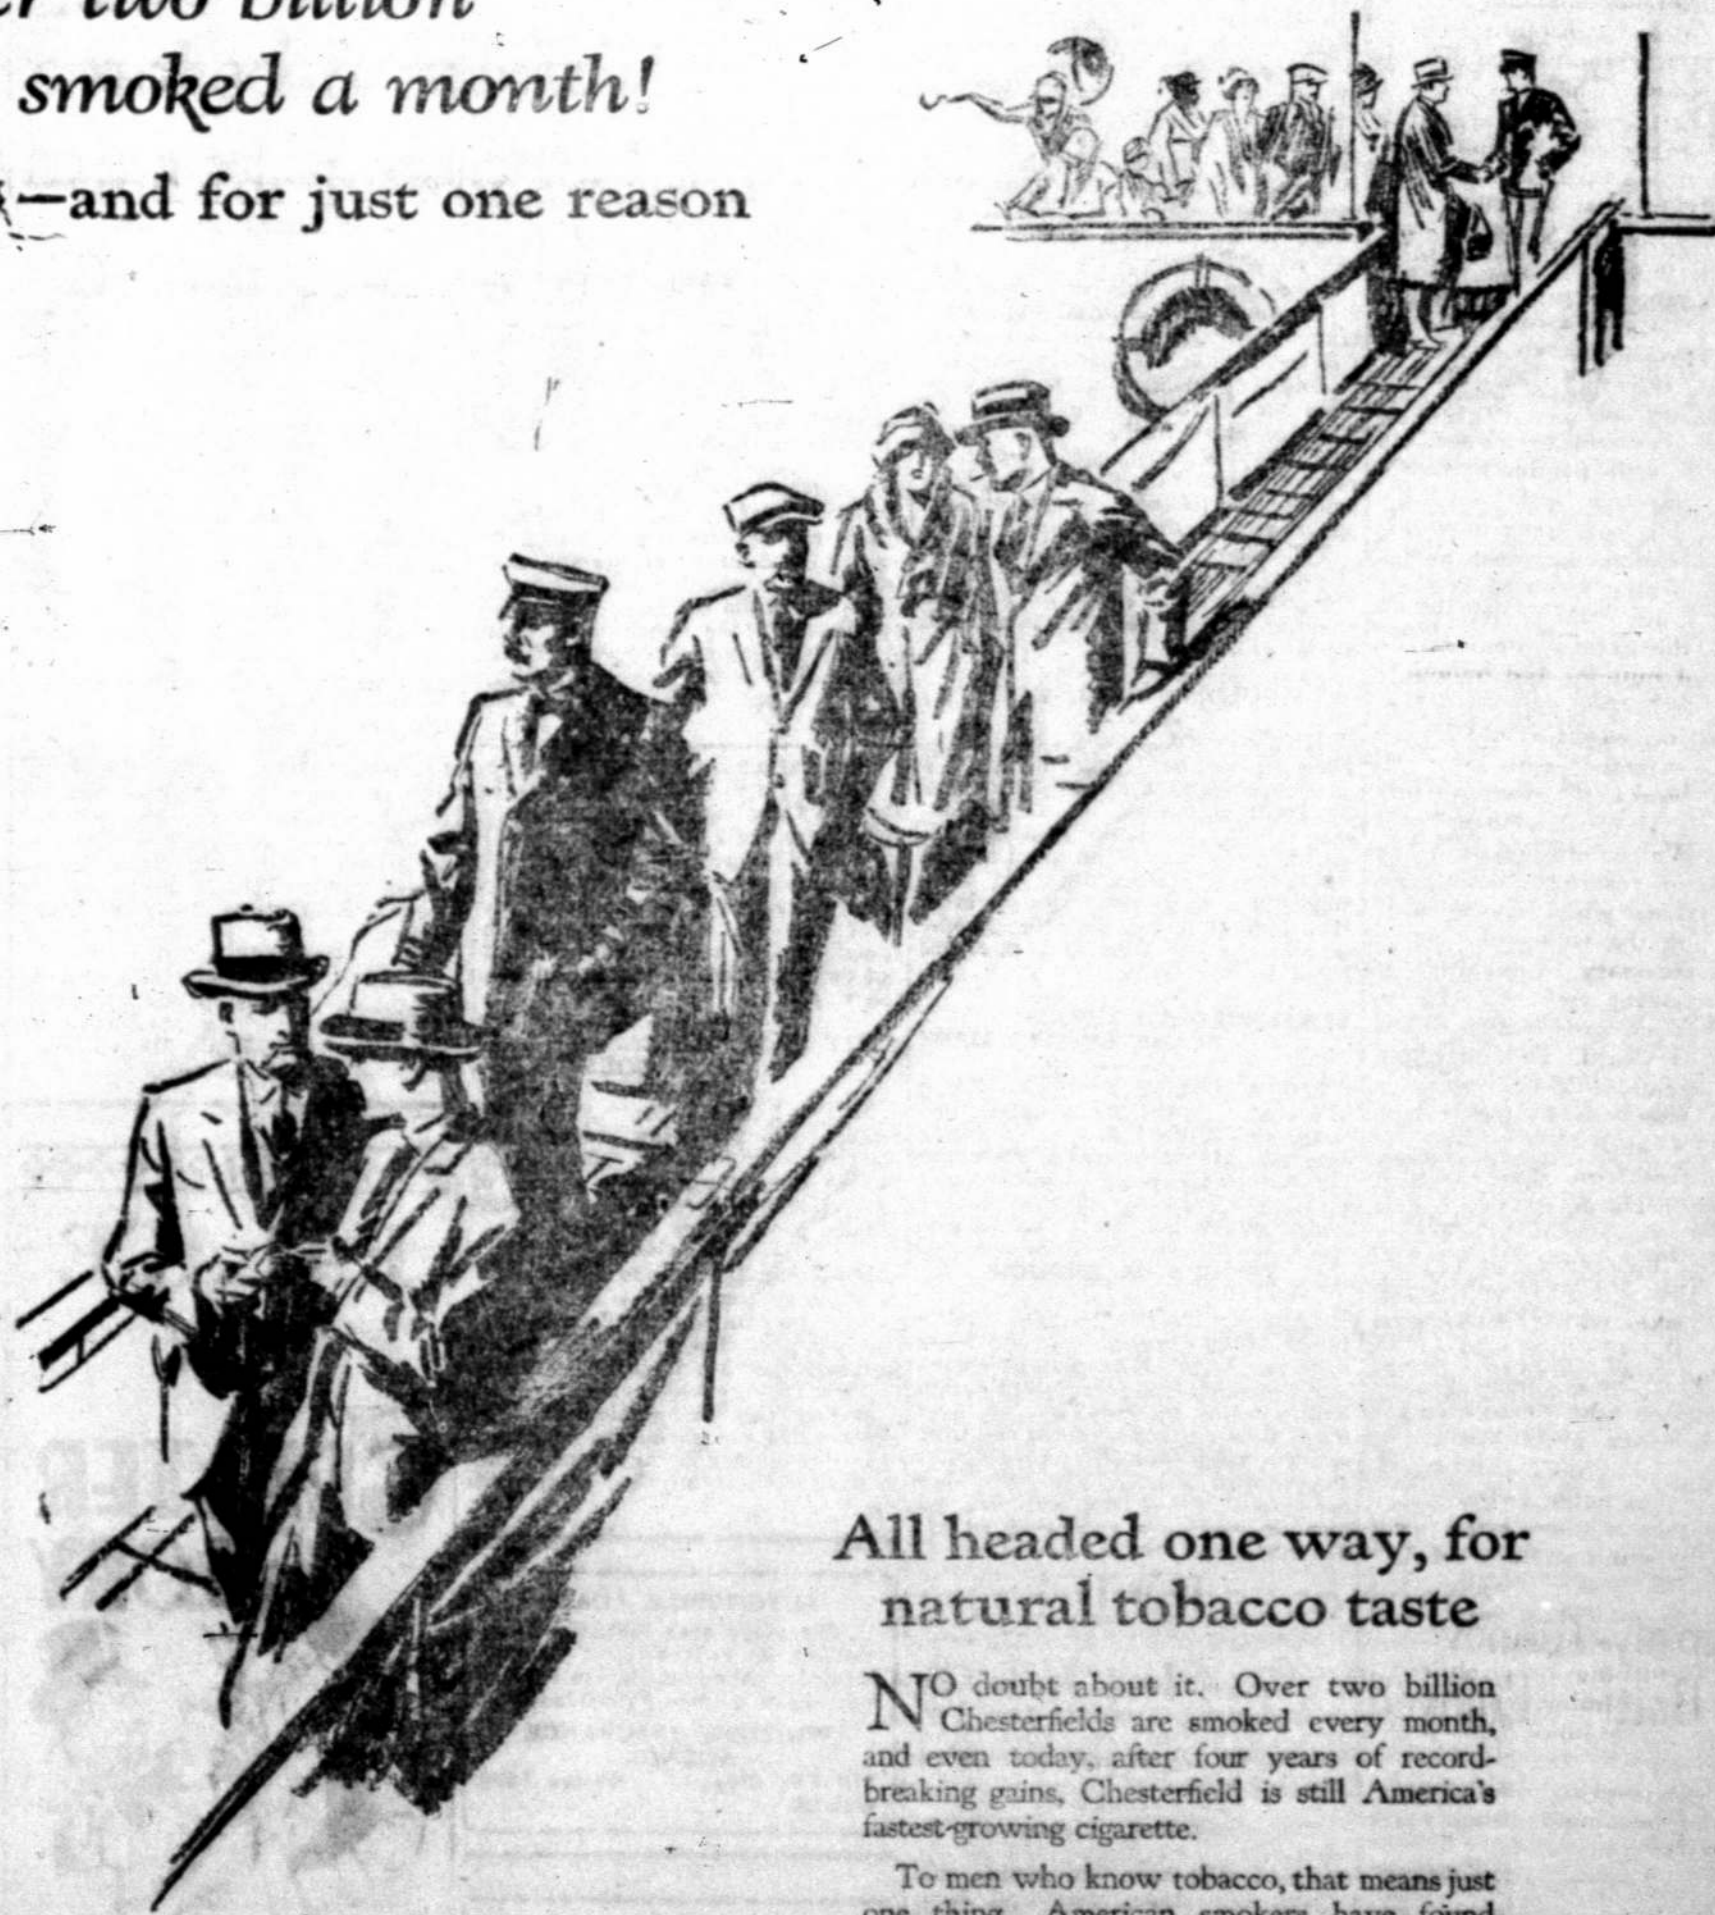

OLD SETTLERS DAY WILL BE FEATURED ON SEPT. 17

Special to The Avalanche
CROSBYTON, Sept. 13.—Follow the "Chuck Wagon" "Back Home" will be one of the special features of the old settlers day of the Crosby county fair on Sept. 17th. The old timers will form parade and march on to the fair grounds where they will served from the old chuck wagon as in days gone by. John Parker of East Plains who did cooking for the cowboys twenty five years ago, is the chief cook.

Pink L. Parrish, Lubbock's "Big" Mayor will deliver the principal address. He is an old timer of Crosby county and did much toward the development of this territory and of the plains.

"Trojan Amazons," an organization of sophomore and junior women students of the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, has as its purpose the welcoming of incoming Freshmen and preservation of the best traditions of the campus. Ten "activity points" are necessary for eligibility to membership in the organization.

NO doubt about it. Over two billion Chesterfields are smoked every month, and even today, after four years of record-breaking gains, Chesterfield is still America's fastest-growing cigarette.

To men who know tobacco, that means just one thing. American smokers have found what they wanted—natural tobacco taste and character. They've found it in Chesterfields only—and the shift to Chesterfield is on!

PROPERTY DAMAGE IN KANSAS FLOOD REACHES SIX MILLIONS; DEATH TOLL UNCERTAIN; THREE LIVES KNOWN LOST

By United News
IOLA, Kans., Sept. 13.—With the death toll uncertain, and property damage upwards of six million dollars the treacherous Neosho river, which flooded more than half a dozen towns in four counties in Kansas to night was at a level of 22.6 feet. Low hanging clouds and weather reports from other points indicate that more rain can be expected at any moment.

Burlington, the town flooded by the Rock creek, tributary of the Neosho river, today began work of rehabilitation. Three lives were lost during the flood and the damage in the business district is at least $750,000 while the residence part of the town has suffered to the extent of $250,000.

The city of Burlington itself has not suffered as much as it did in the flood of 1922. However, the damage in the rural districts has mounted to much higher figures. $5,000,000 is a conservative estimate of the loss.

No loss of life has, as yet been reported in Iowa. Members of the Robert Lee, Robert Mitchell, and Mrs. Mary Stubby families have not been located and it is feared that they may have perished in the flood water. Even the chimneys of their houses are not visible above the water.

Emporia and Chanute, Kans., are preparing for the flood crest which is expected some time tonight. In the south part of Emporia it was necessary to use boats this morning in order to reach the street.

Bobby Jones Sets Pace at Tourney

By FRANK GETTY
United News Staff Correspondent
BALTSOL COUNTRY CLUB, SHORT HILLS, N. J., Sept. 13.—A champion sets the pace and Bobby Jones is every inch a champion.

On a day when barely more than a dozen of the country's greatest amateur golfers could break 80, Bobby reeled off one of the best rounds of his career and turned in a card of 70, two strokes better than par.

The young Atlantan, who is defending his championship against a field of 140, showed the way on the first day of play, and none of those who came in quest of his crown played closer to him than four strokes.

The beautiful Baltusol fairways smiled in the warm September sunshine, and the terrible Baltusol trapped landed in the face of many an aspiring golfer Monday.

One famous star after another went to pieces and lost out in an effort to break 80. Bobby Jones, in fact, was the only contender to break par. The nearest to him was George Dawson of Chicago, who came in with a 74.

Then followed Lauren Upson of New York and Paul Haviland of Bridgeport, each with 76. Upson, formerly of California, was among the qualifiers at Oakmont while Haviland was runner up in the intercollegiate golf championship this year.

Others who broke 80 were: Dexter Cummings, Chicago, 77; Earl Augustus, Cleveland, 77; Rudy Knepner, Sioux City, 77; Jack Westland, Portland, 78; M. J. Mashinill, Fort Worth, 78; J. Wood Platt, Philadelphia, 78; Roy M. Moe, Portland, 79; F. J. Wright, Boston, 79; Eugene Homan, Englewood, N. J., 79; Charles Evans, Chicago, 79; W. H. Gardner, Buffalo, 79.

Frank, Dolph, former western champion, was disqualified when he played the ball out of bounds on the second hole and counted only one stroke.

This starts out to be an extraordinary championship and it seems probable that 155 or better will qualify.

Dempsey-Tunney Battle Enjoyed

By United News
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 13.—An injunction restraining Jack Dempsey from meeting Gene Tunney in defense of his heavyweight championship, until he first meets Harry Wills, the negro challenger, was granted in superior court here late tonight by Judge Clinton Given.

"FIGHT ANY HOW"—RICKARD

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—"They'll have to post $3,000,000 bond, twice the amount of the gate here, in order to stop the fight," Tex Rickard, boxing promoter, told the United News when informed that an injunction had been granted restraining Jack Dempsey from meeting Gene Tunney at Philadelphia September 23.

"The fight's going on," he said. "They'll never post that amount."

FIGHTS BIG WILL

By United News
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 13.—Charging that his grandfather, Colonel Jacob J. Janeway, was of unsound mind when he made his will, Jacob Janeway, 11, has begun action to set aside the will which divided a $1,500,000 estate.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The northern portion of New York state will get its first frost Tuesday, the weather bureau predicts.

CINNAMON BEAR INVADES CAL'S QUARTERS

PAUL SMITH'S N. Y., Sept. 13.—A cinnamon bear cub brought here a few days ago as a pet, broke loose today and climbed a tall pine tree about fifty yards from the cottage which President Coolidge uses as an office. The president droyed up at the office while hotel boarders were attempting to bring the bear down. Clarence Jackson, a news photographer, borrowing a pair of linemen's spurs from the executive office skinned up the tree with a jar of raspberry jam and induced the cub to descend.

Reed Boom is Fast Shaping Up

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 13.—Which way the wind blows in Missouri regarding the possible presidential candidacy in 1928 of Senator James A. Reed, may be indicated Tuesday, when the Democrats of the state assemble in Jefferson City to write the party's platform.

The fact that Senator Reed, once an outcast from the party, has been invited to speak, is, to many political observers, ample proof that the convention will resolve itself into a real state "boom" for Reed for president, and that a resolution of endorsement to this effect will be adopted.

Certain it is, that the Democratic party of Missouri has undergone a change if not a complete reversal of attitude toward Senator Reed and the party is expected to oppose the world court in the platform. It is predicted by the party leaders in Kansas City that they expect not only an anti-league plank to be adopted, but a "wet" one as well.

Successive Republican victories in Missouri have injured the democratic organization, once all-powerful in the state, and, apparently feeling that they were willing to even yield on the league in a desire to win the state back. It all means that Senator Reed, after being an orphan from the party, has been called back in the interests of harmony and possible victory.

Following the state convention, Missouri democrats are planning a big party rally Friday in St. Joseph, at which Senator Reed will again speak.

COULDN'T HEAL SELF

MORRIS, Ills., Sept. 13.—After devoting the best years of his life to campaigning against the menace of grade crossings, A. C. Parker, secretary of numerous Illinois automobile clubs, was killed when a Rock Island train crashed into his automobile at a grade crossing near here. Miss Irene B. Long, his fiancée, who was in the car with him, also was killed by the crash.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—Peggy Miller laughed long and heartily when Alfred Ellis crushed chocolate drop into her jar of cold cream with a potato masher. But the next time Ellis felt the humorous urge coming upon him he rushed as Peggy with a razor and slit her dress to shreds. This time she has him arrested on a charge of malicious mischief.

MODESTY?

LONDON, Sept. 13.—Returning feminine modesty is starting at the top. Smart women this fall will wear demure concerning poke bonnets, sufficient to hide their blushes, if any, at their short skirts and low necks.

Ten educational institutions in nine states were represented by the 18 men who were graduated this spring from the Institute of Meat Packing of Chicago University. This is the first group to complete the full time college course in meat packing subjects conducted by the university in cooperation with the Institute of American Meat Packers.

Littlefield Watches Lubbock Fair

Littlefield citizens are as interested in the Panhandle-South Plains Fair as Lubbock or any other city on the Plains. Roy G. Barnard, real estate dealer at Littlefield, stated Monday morning when he dropped in the office of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce to get an automobile banner advertising the fair which he had on the back of his car before taking a trip which will carry him to Wichita Falls and then to Rule in Haskell county.

The Panhandle-South Plains Fair is for the entire Plains section and the citizens of Littlefield are anxious to see the fair grow and develop with the section, Barnard stated.

Investigate New Hall-Wills Angle

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Sept. 13.—Four years ago Tuesday, the Reverend Edward Wheeler Hall, pastor of a fashionable church, and Mrs. Elmer Mills, his choir singer, were found murdered under a gnarled crabapple tree on the Phillips farm. Since the crime was committed, are being developed seriously for the first time.

Investigators are trying to elicit from Ralph V. Gossline, a vestryman in Dr. Hall's church, and Mrs. Catherine Rastall, singer in the same choir as Mrs. Mills, statements which might indicate who they say on the night of the murders when they were in Dr. Hall's lane. The investigators are also trying to learn how Gossline's car was burned a few days later and why a mattress in the Phillips barn was missing, as the original investigators learned shortly afterward when the bodies of Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were discovered.

Almost four years elapsed before an arrest was made. About two months ago Mrs. Frances Stephens Hall, widow of the slain pastor, was arrested, accused of both murders. Subsequently, "Willie" Stevens, her eccentric brother, and Henry De la Bruyere Carpenter, a wealthy relative were also accused of the double murder and are now in Somerset county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury which meets within a week.

HERO IS BIGAMIST

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Joseph Sobel, who received a gold medal for rescuing a comrade at sea and frustrating an attempt of bandits to rob a laundry in the Bronx has surrendered himself to the police, and pleaded guilty to bigamy to escape his two wives. Sobel said life in the penitentiary was preferable to double matrimony.

94. SHES LOVES DANCE

JERSEY CITY, Sept. 13.—Rachel Dwogra Gaberswitz, 94, who has arrived here from Kovno, Lithuania, to visit her daughter hopes that her stay will be more pleasant than her trip from Europe on the Baltic. Her chief pleasure is dancing, but she complains that on the Baltic, "I did not dance a step. I was sea sick all the way."

FIRST CASE, DEFENDS SELF, GOES TO PEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Bert Luckenbach, 24, a law student, lost his first case in court when he defended himself against a charge of petty larceny, received an indeterminate penitentiary sentence.

More than 300 women of Paterson, N. J., have completed a safety first course for automobile drivers, and are now receiving instruction in the prevention of accidents in the home.

During the last session of Congress, 1,231 women postmasters were appointed; this being nearly one-fifth of the total number of appointees.

MATADOR CLUB MEETS WEDNESDAY

BUSINESS MEN TO BOOST TECHNOLOGICAL ATHLETICS

The Matador Club, organization of Lubbock business men who are anxious to see the athletics at the Texas Technological grow and prosper in proportion with other departments of the college, will meet for the first time since last year, at the Chamber of Commerce offices Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, September 15, according to Walter A. Myrick, Jr., president of the club. The Matador club was organized last year about this time with Walter Myrick, Jr., Ernest Conley, J. A. Raley, W. E. Davis and a number of other athletic fans present as charter members. Myrick has served as president and a number of other members have been added to the club. The club is open to any person wishing to see Tech athletics rank with athletics in other schools in Texas. No membership fees, or dues, charged.

The principal object of the meeting Wednesday night is to get the members back together and to lay plans for work of the club for the coming year. The Matadors have arrived in camp and are working out daily getting in shape for the heavy schedule this year. Many good athletes are hoping to find work before school opens, otherwise they will be forced to return home or to some other school where they can find work to pay part of their expenses. Many of these boys are showing good football ability, according to Coach Eskeland and Higginbotham. The Matador club will discuss some plan for assisting these boys to secure employment, and will assist in keeping these boys here for Tech, Walter Myrick stated Monday afternoon.

Everyone interested in Tech athletics is urged to attend the meeting Wednesday night, Myrick stated.

Canada Millions Go to Polls Today

By United News
OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 13.—Party lines, will be loosened considerably as Canada's three million voters go to the polls tomorrow to elect the second government within a year.

The time-honored party policies on the tariff issue, while still regarded as the bulwark of the liberals and conservatives, will be relegated to second place as the populace returns its verdict.

The conservatives hope to ride into office on the strength of discharges they aired in the house of commons regarding smuggling along the Canadian-American border.

Robert Rolling of New Philadelphia, O., appears to have some old-fashioned notions concerning a husband's authority. When his wife persisted in strolling about town in a bathing suit, in spite of his orders to desist, he sued for divorce.

Mrs. Jordan Baker of Worcester, Mass., acted as her own lawyer in defeating her husband's divorce suit. When a witness was reluctant to testify, Mrs. Baker said: "Remember I'm not myself, I'm my attorney."

Queen Marie of Rumania, accompanied by her daughter, Princess Elena, will tour the United States and Canada this fall. She is well known to the American public through her syndicated articles for various leading newspapers.

Miss Irene Large, 20 year old Indian maiden, is teaching a school composed of white children in a remote settlement, 50 miles north of Green River, Wyo. Her great-grandmother served as a guide for the Lewis and Clark expedition. An electric refrigerator has been installed in the White House kitchen.

Captain W. S. Cochrane commanded the Bear on her last voyage.

San Francisco, Sept. 13.—The revenue cutter, Bear, veteran of half a century of service in the arctic ice packs, has returned from her final "cruise of mercy."

Sensing the drama in the Bear's return from her last voyage to the Northern outposts of American civilization, skippers of harbor vessels sent up a shrill welcome of whistles and sirens as the staunch old craft crept in through the Golden Gate at sunset Monday.

Launched as a whaling ship in Scotland 52 years ago, the Bear has made 41 trips into the Arctic as a United States revenue cutter, taking mail, medical supplies and jurisprudence to ice-bound settlements of Alaska. She has participated in a score of heroic rescues in addition to her routine duties.

A new cutter to replace the Bear, is nearing completion and is expected to replace the veteran ship next spring. The Bear is now considered too slow for the work. She can only make seven or eight knots with the power of the barkentine rigged sails added to her drive.

Texamah, Neb., Sept. 13.—Opponents of the bread and water sentence in Nebraska have made their first official move in a campaign to have it stricken from the statute books.

Attorneys for Ray Carson and Thomas Nelson, who are serving a 30 day jail term on a diet of bread and water following their conviction of a prohibition law violation, filed a suit in court here Monday seeking to enjoin the sheriff and other county authorities from enforcing the restricted diet.

SACCO-VANZETTI DEFENSE UNDER WAY

By United News
DEDHAM, Mass., Sept. 13.—The foundation on which the Sacco-Vanzetti defense will build its legal structure in the event a new trial is granted was revealed here Monday through reading of most of the 61 affidavits filed in support of the claim that the convicted slayers are innocent.

Texas State Board of Health

Get Your Child Ready for School.

AUSTIN, Sept. 13.—That physical fitness of children has much to do with their school progress as well as their ultimate success in life, is the opinion of Dr. H. O. Sappington, state health officer, who urges parents to see that their children are in good physical condition before their entrance into school.

"Ray eyesight, adenoids, diseased tonsils, decayed teeth and other remedial physical defects should be corrected, as they are handicaps that prevent a child from keeping pace with other children who are free of such defects, imposing a hardship on the child as well as a tax on the community."

"Many hundreds of children in Texas fail each year to make their grades through no fault of their own, but because of some physical handicap. This entails a heavy economic loss, as it is estimated that it costs the state approximately $50 for each child that repeats a grade. For the sake of all concerned, take your child to your family physician for a physical examination before the opening of school."

Vaccination. "Not only should physical defects in your child be corrected, but he should also have his health safeguarded against such preventable diseases as smallpox, diphtheria, and typhoid fever. The use of vaccination against smallpox as a prevention of this disease has long been generally known, but there are still many who do not know that diphtheria and typhoid fever can also be prevented by immunization."

"In the registration area of the United States, the death rate from diphtheria in 1900 was 43.3 per 100,000 population. Through the use of antitoxin and toxin-antitoxin, the rate had dropped in 1923 to 12.1 per 100,000."

"Many schools require vaccination against smallpox as a requisite to school entrance. Parents should realize that this is a necessary health protection that every child should have. Also have him given immunization against diphtheria, which is a highly communicable disease to which it is possible that he may be exposed during the school term." Attention is Called to Coffee Adulteration.

Attention is called by Dr. E. H. Golar, director of the pure food and drug division of the state board of health, to the necessity of buyers of coffee demanding that it be sold in labeled bags or other containers that they may be certain that the product is not adulterated.

According to Dr. Golar, the high price of coffee affords an opportunity for unscrupulous dealers to place on the market, coffee which has been adulterated with ground cereals, chicory or other substitutes, and which is sold to the unsuspecting public in unlabeled containers. Several complaints as to substitutes flooding the market in different sections of the state have recently been received by the state board of health.

Pure Food and Drug Law Prevents Misbranding.

"The pure food and drug laws of Texas do not say that substitutes cannot be sold, but they do say that adulterated products must be so labeled in order that the buyer may know the grade of goods he is purchasing. The sale of coffee in unlabeled packages is unlawful and purchasers should demand labeled goods."

"The health of the people," stated

Dr. Golar, "is not affected by the sale of these substitutes, but their pocketbooks are, as the adulterated products are sold practically at the same price as high grade coffee. Chicory is a cheap product that is mixed with the ground cereals to add the dark color to which coffee drinkers are accustomed. Corn, rye, cheap wheat and other grains are roasted, ground, and then mixed with chicory, and added to coffee, making a mixture having the appearance and odor of ordinary coffee and which may be sold as such. In a few instances, it has been found that ground pecan shells have been used as an adulterating medium."

"The sale of substitute coffee at regular coffee prices is a great injustice to honest dealers, as they can not meet such unfair competition, and causes them a subsequent financial loss. Protect your pocketbook and protect your honest dealer by demanding labeled bags or other containers when purchasing coffee."

Mlle. Suzanne Devoyed, popular actress of the famed Comedie Francaise of Paris, has been made a member of the French Legion of Honor in recognition of her work in protecting French children of the stage from exploitation.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 13.—An official holiday has been proclaimed in Nueces county by Judge Jesse Wright on the 14th and 15th of this month in order to celebrate the opening of the Port of Corpus Christi. Speakers' Voices are Amplified in Dallas Auditorium

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 13.—With the opening performance of "Princess Flavia," in Fair Park Auditorium for the 1926 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 9, and for every offering therein after that time, every person in the audience will be able to hear perfectly the lowest-toned word spoken on the stage.

It is announced that the very latest development in an electrical "public address system" is to be installed immediately, to be in full working order by opening day of the fortieth annual State Fair.

There will be five highly sensitive microphones, placed on the apron of the stage, which will pick up every spoken word. There will be a central "projector" with five great horns through which members of the audience will hear, amplified to whatever degree it may be desired, all dialogues of the actors.

It is announced by President A. A. Jackson of the Fair Association, that the system will be similar to that in use in the St. Louis open-air municipal theatre.

It is pointed out that the system is not particularly necessary for big musical productions, such as are given during the Fair season, but that it will prove of greatest value when smaller dramatic productions are offered in the auditorium during the remainder of the season there.

Such offerings as "Is Zat So?" Michael Arlen, "Green Hat"; the monologue of Will Rogers and other programs of that nature, where perfect audibility is demanded by the patrons will, according to State Fair officials, prove one hundred per cent enjoyable through the working of the new installation.

EURLAND FOUND IN BED BY HUSBAND AND WIFE

LONDON, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Amelia Lyons, wife of a transport worker at Hull declares that three persons in one bed is one too many—especially when the third person was a burglar.

Mrs. Lyons awoke the other night to find a third person in the bed she and her husband were occupying. She gave one wild whoop and the stranger and her husband bounded out of bed simultaneously. The stranger reached the door first. Shortly afterward the police arrested Frederick Pougher, a peddler who was subsequently sentenced to three months hard labor for being "found on enclosed premises."

MILAN PLANS CELEBRATE CENTENARY OF VOLTA

MILAN, Sept. 13.—The first centenary of the death of Alexander Volta the Italian physicist and inventor of the electric battery, occurs next year, and his native city of Como proposes to honor the event with an international exhibition of electrical means of communication as well as a national exhibition of hydro electric plants.

A historic villa on the shores of Lake Como will be used as the site of the exhibition, and the various nations of the world have been officially invited to send representative exhibits.

During the exhibition various conferences of a scientific nature will be held.

RADIO NEWS

By WILLIAM J. FAGAN.
(United Press Radio Editor.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Ridiculous statements by publicity men will always be with radio broadcasting, just as they form a part of the press agency of any other industry.

A recent gem, for which a metropolitan press representative was responsible, was that the volume of applause mail credited to a feature should be apportioned among the number of artists participating in the program. This gentleman's contention is that a forty or fifty piece orchestra "naturally" draws more applause than a soloists or a pair of duetists. Hence, he reasons, if a ten piece orchestra draws 100 letters of comment and a trio pulls 45, the trio, man for man, is a better attraction by 15 to 10.

This is just an example of the amazing brainstorms which regularly afflict otherwise personable and efficient young men who endeavor to keep the newspaper reading public informed of what's what in the realm of broadcasting.

Quality, not the number of people participating in a program, decides in the mind of the average b. c. l. the popularity of a feature. Taking into account some really reliable figures furnished by WEAF on its net work mail clearance, and selecting a month at random, one finds that a two man act drew over 5,000 applause cards and letters. Another nationally known program, broadcast over virtually the same hook-up and which employed and orchestra and vocal groups, drew less than 1,500.

These figures effectively spike the idea that it is necessary to recruit an army of entertainers to attract radio popularity. Another comparison, between a morning physical culture broadcast, operated as a one man stunt, credited with 546, while a saxophone act has 550 letters in a month, can by no stretch of the imagination be taken to mean that the gymnast is eight times as popular as the sax blowers.

SCHOOL DAYS

It may be appropriate to usher in the school year with a school poem written by a schoolboy. Here goes:

I like to see the school doors open on a bright and sunny day,
In the month of cool September, with the children on their way
To the place of education
For the progress of the nation.
There they get their preparation
For the works that ne'er decay.

I like to see the pupils working in an eager, earnest way
As if the task was playing on a pleasant summer day,
With a ready willingness
And a steady cheerfulness
That nothing can dismay.

After which we seem to hear a nation-wide roar from about ten million kids: "Aw, bunk! We gotta go, ain't we? Cut out the poe-try."

KEISER STEERS TOP KANSAS CITY MARKET FOR YEAR AT $11.00

Special to The Avalanche

CANYON, Sept. 13.—Randall county steers again established another record on the Kansas City market Thursday when the top price of the year was reached at $11 per hundred by a shipment of 24 senior yearling steers from the herd of C. O. Keiser at Canyon. The steers averaged 1,001 pounds. These steers were the product of Panhandle Herefords, bred in Randall county and finished for the market largely on Panhandle feeds. No particular effort had been made by Mr. Keiser to establish a record with this shipment. The sale of this bunch of steers at the record price was made against the shipments from some of the noted herds and finishing sections of the Mississippi valley.

The record of $11 is the top on yearlings for this year, not only in Kansas City, but also on the Chicago market, bringing further credit to Panhandle steers. Mr. Keiser states that the steers were the culls from his herd of registered Herefords. He has advocated among the Hereford breeders that the use of registered bulls will improve the breed production of the southwest and this is a fine example from his own herd. Word from Kansas City states that this shipment of steers dressed unusually high.

This record was given more publicity by Kansas City newspapers than any shipment of the year. This record has broken several records with his Herefords during the past few years. On August 11 he topped the market at $10.40 with a shipment of steers which averaged 941 pounds. He is firmly convinced that the cattle business is coming back strong, which will mean much to the breeders of the panhandle and the southwest. He has a herd of about 200 cows on his ranches in Randall county, practically all of them registered and pure bred Herefords. He uses only registered and pure bred bulls and the record of his steers on the market shows the full effects of this breeding to the best of his ability.

K. C. GRAND JURY VENIRE DRAWN

THEY WILL PROBE CHARGES OF CORRUPTION IN CITY AFFAIRS

By United News

KANSAS CITY, Kans., Sept. 13.—Veniremen for the second grand jury in the history of Wyandotte county were drawn today. Composed of fifteen men they will be subpoenaed next Monday to appear for investigation Monday morning, by Judge Fisher.

According to reports received from Topeka, Governor Ben S. Paulsen is not intending to appoint a special assistant attorney general and that he has not been asked to do so. It is expected that some of the governor's friends will ask him to name L. S. Harkey, an attorney from Kansas City, Kans., to work with the jury in the investigation. Harkey is, perhaps, better qualified to do this than anyone else, because he made a special investigation of city and county officials and is familiar with the situation.

Two carloads of long yearling steers are being prepared for the American Royal show this fall and are expected to add another record to the Keiser Hereford herd.

SCOUTS TO SHOW HOW CASH WENT

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS TO BE MAILED OUT TO THE CONTRIBUTORS

Statements of the financial condition of the South Plains Scouts Fund are being compiled and will be mailed out to the contributors to the fund sometime this week, according to H. B. Palmer, scout executive.

The statements will contain the exact amount contributed by each town of the South Plains, an itemized account of every cent spent in the improvement of the camp and how the money was spent. Correct books of all the scout fund accounts was kept by the council.

The statements will also show the amount of the council debt which is $1403.71. An effort will be made by the financial committee to clear this debt in the next weeks. The contributors will be asked to pay in as much of their pledge in the next payment in order to clear the debt. Palmer stated yesterday that he was well pleased with the scout activities and interest shown on the South Plains.

He will have a good report to make in the executives' conference which will be held in Hot Springs, Arkansas, the latter part of this month.

TECH ACTIVITIES BEGIN WEDNESDAY

FACULTY MEETING WILL BE FIRST MOVE OF COLLEGE

Activities of the Tech faculty began Wednesday at 4 o'clock when the first faculty meeting of the year will be held. At that time the matters pertaining to classes, courses of study, schedules, and other work of the faculty will be given a complete discussion. The new schedule of classes will be announced and various committees of the year appointed.

Many of the Tech faculty are already here and the others will arrive during the next day or two. Those who arrived the first of this week are: Prof. C. H. Michie, Miss Elizabeth Stafford, P. K. Reese, C. A. Lyle of the mathematics department; Miss Dorothy McFarlane of the home economics school, W. M. Craig of the chemistry department, and E. L. Reid of the physics department. Wednesday evening at the home of the president at 8 o'clock, Dr. and Mrs. Horn will entertain the faculty members and their wives in a reception. New members will be introduced and a get-together meeting enjoyed.

Arrangements are already being made for the opening union services which will be held by all the churches of the city at the Tech pavilion, September 26. Bishop Moore will preach the sermon and a good attendance is expected.

HOME EDUCATION

RULE THE TONGUE

(Jack Wooten)

As Sammie White passed the Reed home there came from his mouth phrases that would make even the most persistent sweeper flinch. And Sammie was only twelve years old.

His mother, together with Mrs. Turner, was visiting Mrs. Reed. They had called to knit and talk the summer afternoon away. The "damns" and their even stronger accompaniments which Sammie threw to the wind were blown discordantly to the front porch so that the three women could plainly hear. Mrs. White hung her head, but said nothing. The others were silent, too. They continued knitting.

Sammie, passed on down the street, tugging and cursing the old brindled cow that was his charge twice daily. His mother slumped down in her chair, her eyes fastened upon her needles. Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Turner were both conscious of the fact that the mother was condemning herself for the unbecoming outburst of her boy.

As the silence hovered about the front porch, Jimmie, Mrs. Reed's four-year-old son, romped out on the portico. Behind him came Don, an old collie dog.

Tired of playing with the four-year-old, the collie, dropped his heavy tail, spoke to the visitors with a slight switching of the same flexible appendage, and then flopped down by the side of Mrs. Reed's chair.

Jimmie called to the animal to "come on out in the front yard and play," but Don lay still. The boy gave a grunt of disgust and presently had the dog by the collar. "Come on, Don," he entreated, but Don refused to budge. "Come on, Don," Jimmie tugged at the animal's neckpiece, but to no avail. "Darn old fool!" cried the child. "Come on!"

"Jimmie!" Mrs. Reed's clear voice temporarily startled the boy, but not for long. Insistently he reached down again and caught Don by the collar. "Darn old fool!" he shouted. "Come on out and play!"

Mrs. Turner stopped her knitting and smiled intentionally. Mrs. White kept her eyes on her needles. Mrs. Reed was looking meaningfully at her son.

"Darn old fool, come on!" Mrs. Reed excused herself and taking her little son by the hand led him into the house. Mrs. White and Mrs. Turner listened intently but after the fading footsteps no sound was heard from them for fully five minutes. Then the mother and child returned calm and serene.

Mrs. Reed began to talk about the Chautauqua, and Jimmie after gazing thoughtfully at Don said, "Want to play now, Don?"

Don winked without interest. Jimmie gazed at him a moment longer and then said, "I'll play by myself then." He gave Don a parting pat and went out into the yard. After a minute, Don got up and followed him.

The visitors were interested. "How did you do it?" asked Mrs. Turner. Mrs. White looked more than ever self-condemned.

"I had a little quiet talk with him," answered the mother. "He is very fond of automobiles and he saw what happened once when a man tried to run a machine before he knew how. I showed him that it was quite as necessary to be able to rule the tongue. He said, 'If you don't, does it make you bump into things?'"

"I proved to him that it did," Mrs. Turner was voluminous in her commendations. Mrs. White said nothing but in her heart was a ray of hope. "I could do something like that," she thought.

Fred Clevenger of Rahville, Ind., appeared to have solved the problem of getting into business without capital. He is said to have stolen lumber for a house, chicken coops and hog pens, which he built with stolen tools, stocked with stolen chickens and pigs, which he fed with stolen corn. Neighbors became suspicious and had him arrested when he sold $300 worth of chickens in a single week. It is sometimes unwise to be too ambitious.

Antiquated methods of transportation, are unsuited to modern commercial activities. If one may judge from the experience of Denzil Smith of Clarksburg, Va., He attempted to deliver liquor on horseback when he was arrested and his horse confiscated.

DAILY MARKETS

New York Finance

By WALTER E. MOCKLER

Written for the United News
NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Today's stock market never got very far away from the original although this was not due to lack of effort on the part of the professional element. This group has seemingly abandoned the long side for the time being and is concentrating its efforts to locate "air pockets."

When the easier market was re-acted in General Motors, selling throughout the motor division became much brisker.

The turnover for the day in the entire market fell below 1,500,000 shares indicating the lack of real interest in trading. General Motors sold ex-dividend the fifty per cent stock dividend which brought the stock down to 142 at which level it showed an actual fractional recession for the day.

Rails were really weaker than indicated by the last week's trading. Many leaders are still up considerably from the previous trading levels and the attempt to liquidate lines is not being accomplished without considerable opposition.

During the first stages of the rail advance it was pointed out that the speculative possibilities of the group were restricted to a much greater extent than were the industrials. Apparently this consideration is weighing against the absorptive power of the market.

Call money continued firm, which was one more argument against the market, though firm money right now is somewhat complicated by the government financing which is due on Wednesday. It has been felt in the district for the past several days that there was little prospect of any easing in the money rate until after this period has passed.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK—FORT WORTH, Sept. 13.—Cattle, hogs, sheep, $5.00@7.75; stockers $5.00@7.75; cows $4.25@5.75; cutters $3.75@4.25; canners $3.00@3.50; heifers and yearlings $5.50@9; calves $5.50@9.25; bulls $4.50@5.50.

Hogs, medium $14.50@14.75; heavy $13.25@14.4; light $14.75@15; mixed $14.25@14.50; common $12.25@12.50; packing $10.75@11.25; pig $13@14.25.

Sheep, spring lambs $12@13; feeder lambs $8.75@9.75; yearlings $10@11; wethers $7.50@8; ewes $6.50@7.50; culls $1@2; stocker sheep $5@6; goats $2@3.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK—KANSAS CITY, Sept. 13.—Cattle supplies here today were only moderate; a large number being held back by the flood waters. On good killfully steady. Most of the steers sold around $8.00 to $10 while yearlings brought $11. Cows were plentiful and trade was slow with prices steady.

Hog receipts at the five western points were good. Prices were generally higher and demand was improving. The market here was up $5 to 25 cents. Top fat hogs brought $14.10 while the bulk of the sales ranged from $12.75@13.

Hog receipts, 8,000; market uneven to steady. 25c higher; 250 to 350 pounds $11.85@13.50; 200 to 250 pounds $13.10@14.10; 150 to 200 pounds $13.15@14.10; 130 to 160 pounds $13.10@13.85; 90 to 130 pounds $13.00@13.75; packing sows $9.50@11.25.

Cattle receipts 30,000; market steady to 15c lower; beef steers 6.25@10; beef cows $4.50@5.75; low cutter and culler cows $3.00@4.25; vealers $8.50@18; heavy calves $6@8; bulk stock and feeder steers $6.50@8.25.

Sheep receipts 20,000; market lambs 25@50c lower; top fat lambs $14.25; bulk fat lambs $13@14.20; bulk fat ewes $6@6.50; bulk feeding lambs $13@13.50.

JAPANESE PLAN FAIR TO CELEBRATE PEACE—OSAKA, Japan, Sept. 13.—Plans are being drawn upon for the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the restoration of world peace through an exposition here to which the world will be invited.

The promoters, including the mayor, the governor and the president of the chamber of commerce, estimate that the exposition will cost $15,000,000 in gold, towards which the national government will be asked to appropriate $3,000,000, the city of Osaka underwriting the rest.

800 YEAR OLD GATE RESTORED TO OXFORD—OXFORD, Eng., Sept. 13.—An ancient gate of oak, which was set up nearly 800 years ago and swung for 500 years at the entrance to Balliol college before it changed its location has been found and returned to its old place.

The gate was made and hung in 1288 and it was already a venerable antique when in 1555, Ridley and Lamer were burned at the stake only a few yards in front of it, after they had been convicted as Protestant heretics. Towards the end of the 18th-century when the front quadrangle of the college was demolished and rebuilt, the gate was taken down. Dr. Hardinger Newman, fellow of Mabbulene college, Oxford, acquired it and hung it at the entrance of his private garden at Nemes, in Essex. Ivy grew over it and after Dr. Newman's death the gate was forgotten.

But 18 months ago J. Rochelle Thomas of the Georgian gallery, St. James, London, discovered the ancient gate and purchased it. More than 100 coats of paint were scraped away and the old oak planks and struts found in a perfect state of preservation.

Mrs. Sarah Cory Meneses, assistant United States district attorney at Fort Worth, Texas, has handled 57 cases, out of which she secured 51 convictions. Four cases were continued, one resulted in a huge jury and there was only one acquittal.

Mrs. Bertha K. Landes, mayor of Seattle, recently explored the bottom of Puget Sound on board the United States submarine S-24.

Cotton Market

New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The cotton market opened easy at a decline of 3 to 22 points under renewed liquidation, southern and local selling. Active months showed net losses of 14 to 25 points during the first few minutes.

October sold off to 16.70, on reports that consigned cotton was arriving here from the south, presumably for delivery next month and January declined to 17.60, but there was considerable trade buying at these prices, leading to rallies of five or ten points from the lowest by the end of the first hour.

Covering was promoted by reports of another tropical storm in the Yucatan channel, which some thought might develop unfavorably within the next few days.

The rally extended to 17.11 for December or within three points of Saturday's closing quotation, but the volume of business tapered off on the recovery and trading was comparatively quiet at midday. The bulges seemed to meet some further selling of liquidation and were not fully maintained, December ruling around 17.07 at mid-day, when the general list was about 5 to 10 points net lower.

Except for realizing and southern selling offerings were restricted by the tropical storm uncertainty, but immediate, weather conditions in the south were considered favorable and the madday bulge of 17.12 for December was followed by set backs. That delivery was selling around 17.07 at 2 o'clock with the general market 5 to 7 points net lower.

WEST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WOULD DISPLAY PICTURES OF FINE HEREFORD CATTLE AT PHILADELPHIA

STAMFORD, Sept. 13.—Wanted—Some god pictures of purebred Hereford cattle and some large pictures of ranch scenes in West Texas to be displayed at the Sesqui-Centennial exposition in Philadelphia, and to be returned as soon as the exposition is over. This SOS has been received at the general offices of the West Texas chamber of commerce from John Whiteker, who is in charge of the big exhibit that the West Texas chamber of commerce is maintaining at the Sesqui-Centennial exposition in Philadelphia.

Whiteker also asks that West Texas who have good samples from the present year send in some specimens for the display. A large oil exhibit from Graham has just gone on display and is attracting much attention. Fredericksburg has sent in an exhibit of their beautiful red granite similar to the granite used on the state capitol at Austin. The Texas sheep and goat raisers' association has sent in an attractive exhibit of wool and mohair, and some mounted specimens of the sheep and goats raised in West Texas. This exhibit has proved one of the most interesting of the entire exposition and letters have literally poured in from persons all over the world seeking information on this West Texas industry. Eastland has attracted attention with their advertising matter on the "Egg basket of Texas." Geo. W. Briggs, secretary of the Eastland chamber of commerce has made a great hit with his literature and post cards of poultry scenes at Eastland, and Whiteker has had to request an additional supply of literature from the Eastland chamber of Commerce. The record breaking wheat crop of the Panhandle has been reflected in the large displays of high grade wheat sent in from Sparman, Amarillo, Happy and Wellington. The West Texas booth at the big exposition is attracting great general attention, according to Whiteker. He has received hundreds of requests for West Texas literature he sends in to the general offices weekly. The chamber of commerce then sees to it that the inquirers secure the information they seek. The cities of West Texas have taken to the Sesqui exhibit with great enthusiasm during the past two weeks, and are securing great benefits in advertising. Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas organization, has addressed a letter to all secretaries of chambers of commerce affiliated with the West Texas chamber of commerce urging them to participate in the exhibit. There is no expense on the local chambers of commerce. They merely express their exhibit material or mail their literature "The West Texas exhibit, building number 2, Sesqui-Centennial exposition, Philadelphia." Whiteker receives the material and makes proper disposition of it.

CARPET WORTH $500,000 DISPLAYED IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Sept. 13.—James F. Ballard, an American who has made a hobby of Persian carpets, has found the finest carpet in existence, it is said. It is as recently on display in a shop in London on High Holborn.

The carpet is nearly four centuries old and is valued at more than half a million dollars. It is the work of one man, who labored at it for twenty years and completed his task in Spain in 1550. He made the carpet for the Shah Safi.

Safi presented it to Czar Peter the Great of Russia, and later it was a present from the Russian ruler to Leopold I, the Emperor of Austria. For years it was hung on the staircase of the royal palace at Schönbrunn, near Vienna. It is said that it has never been walked on.

The carpet is of magnificent colors in patterns of ruby red, gleaming opalescent green, deep blues and amber, woven into an intricate design. Like many of the masterpieces of craftsmanship in the early ages, the name of its maker is not known.

FISHING COAL IN CANAL DRAWS WINE IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Sept. 13.—One of the innumerable things which you can not do in England is to fish coal out of the bottom of a canal.

Two workmen tried it the other day, in bathing suits and equipped with grimy bags for their treasure. The constable "ran them in" just on general principles, and the bench of magistrates decided after some hesitation that "it was not done."

The defendants were fined $5 apiece.

Mrs. Moody "Born Governor's Wife"

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 13.—"A born governor's wife" is the tribute being paid to Mrs. Dan Moody, formerly Mildred Paxton of Abilene, who on January 18th will become "first lady of the land" in Texas with the inauguration of her husband, Dan Moody as Governor of Texas.

Mrs. Moody was formerly a newspaper woman and according to close observers of the political campaign in which her husband won the democratic nomination she has the indefinable "political intuition."

It is believed that she will be the youngest woman to ever preside in the gubernatorial mansion although there are no official statistics on the matter. Anyway she and "Dan" will be the newlyweds of the State capital. They will have been married eight months when Moody is inaugurated.

MEN OUTNUMBER WOMEN BY 41,000 IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, Sept. 13.—One reason Irish girls smile is that they are in great demand, for the current census shows that there are 41,000 more men than women in the Irish Free State.

This proportion of girls to men is the lowest of any European country. In Northern Ireland, the situation is reversed, with 40,000 more girls than men. In Great Britain there are 1,000,000 more girls and women than there are men; in France the excess of women over men is 2,000,000.

PASSPORTS DEMANDED OF PLANE CRASH VICTIMS

LONDON, Sept. 13.—The English immigration law is rigid and formidable and the men who enforce it make no exceptions.

When a cross channel airplane crashed into a haystack near Dymchurch not long ago, killing three of its passengers and injuring twelve, immigration officials from Folkestone were quickly on the spot and the passports and baggage of all the unfortunate passengers were carefully examined. None of the injured were allowed to leave until these formalities had been completed.

PIONEER OF SOUTH PLAINS IN CROSBYTON

CROSBYTON, Sept. 13.—J. W. Allen, more familiarly known as Uncle John, who lives at Petersburg, was in Crosbyton Tuesday.

Mr. Allen is an interesting talker of pioneer days and enjoys telling about them. He moved to Crosby county in 1883, near old Emma, forty three years ago, and was among the first settlers of the county. He hauled all the post for the Z-L ranch back in 1883 the first year he moved to the plains. He also hauled the lumber that was used for building houses from Colorado City, the nearest railroad point at that time. Also dug the first well on the plains where S. E. Stockton now lives.

Uncle Hank Smith's family at the Rock House and the Quaker settlement at Estacado were the only people on the plains before him.

STANGEL WILL JUDGE LIVESTOCK AT HALE FAIR

PLAINVIEW, Sept. 13.—W. L. Stangel, head of the department of animal husbandry of the Texas Technological college will judge the classes of beef cattle, sheep and hogs at the farmers free fair, October 1 and 2. The judging will take place during the afternoon of October 1. Lectures on the types of various classes will be given by Mr. Stangel.

The fair officials feel fortunate in securing outstanding judges for every department of the fair. Mr. Stangel was for a number of years professor of animal husbandry at the Texas A. and M. college where he won nationwide fame as coach of college judging team. Teams trained by Mr. Stangel won first prize two years in the international livestock judging contest at Chicago.

Charitably inclined persons would do well to scrutinize crippled beggars before contributing to their relief, if a report from New York may be credited. It is said that the metropolis now has a flourishing "cripple factory," where people who prefer begging to working are made to appear deformed or crippled through a skillful use of padding and anaesthetics. A "one-armed" beggar recently arrested was found to have two perfectly good arms, but one of them was strapped to his body underneath his shirt.

Crosby County Fair Opens Sept. 15.

CROSBYTON, Sept. 13.—The Eighth Annual Crosby County fair will open on next Wednesday, Sept. 15th and continue four four days, closing Saturday, September 18th.

The fair committees say that everything seems to be in fine shape for the best fair the county has ever had.

A greater number of general exhibits will be in evidence this year at the fair grounds.

An important feature of the four day's fair will be the amusement program. This will be complete in as much as a big amusement company has been secured for the four days attraction.

The exhibits will be open to all and farmers of Crosby county are urged to bring in something to exhibit that will make the fair a bigger and better fair.

W. M. Romance, president of the fair; W. T. Dunn, Secretary, Com. and, well we just can't name all of them for the whole bunch is working like trojans and are putting it over in good shape.

Crosby county is a great agricultural county together with our products, poultry displays, much better results will be obtained in the future. The fair primarily is an educational institution and together with the wholesome amusement, it will be worth all the money and energy spent in this behalf.

This exhibit will be of great value to the county in demonstrating to the prospective settlers what can and is being grown in Crosby county to get the full benefit from this, every section of the county should have the very best display possible.

T. J. Tidwell Shows, the big amusement company to be here, has a world of amusement for both old and young.

In recent dispatches covering their death, Rudolph Valentino was given columns of space to inches devoted to Dr. Charles W. Eliot. Valentino died at 31 after five or six years as a movie star. Dr. Eliot died at 92, after an unprecedented career as scientist, educator, author and publicist, which included forty years as active president of Harvard. Such is fame.
