Hershey Doubts Lottery Could Solve Draft Ills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey said today it is an illusion to believe that a lottery method could solve any problems of the system of drafting youths for military service.

He said the gravest weakness of such a system would be "the

FIRST WITNESS

Hershey was the first witness as the House Armed Services Committee opened hearings on how the Selective Service System is operating. Committee Chairman L. Mendell Rivers, D-

S.C., has described the Selective Service as an "unpleasant fact of life that can not be wished away."

Both Rivers and Hershey had prepared statements to read at the opening hearing which started before a standing-room only crowd liberally sprinkled with college students.

Rivers, in his opening remarks, raised the possibility of lowering the upper limit of direct draft liability from the present 26. Men who get deferments now remain liable for service up to 35 but few over 26 get called.

HISTORY

Hershey, who has headed the Selective Service for 25 years, traced the history of the draft and defended deferment policy powers granted to local boards.

"So long as we recognize the wisdom of allocating our manpower resources to support to the greatest—possible degree both our armed forces and our national economy, we should also recognize the wisdom of approaching this allocation problem with the best judgment we can muster rather than by chance," Hershey said.

The hearings follow recent calls by congressmen, educators and others for a review of draft methods.

Some have said the system discriminates against the poor who can not afford to go to college, by permitting deferments for students.

Hershey noted these complaints and said such criticisms are not new.

Allen Lamar, held in the Howard County jail on a charge of robbery with firearms, proved himself a good enough jail lawyer to get his bond reduced from $25,000 to $7,500 Tuesday afternoon.

His action also reduced the bond of his fellow defendant, Carlee Allen, charged in the same offense — the holdup on June 14 of the Ashley Grocery on East Third Street.

Lamar submitted a handwritten petition for a writ of habeas corpus to the 118th District Court. In this document, he charged he had been deprived of his rights by violation of the criminal code and by the employment of what he termed an illegal search warrant. He also claimed he had been deprived of his constitutional right to due process by law.

He likewise claimed he requested an attorney before he was questioned by city police and was refused one.

His petition named the chief of police, the Howard County sheriff's office and the Andrews County sheriff's department as defendants. The inclusion of the latter puzzled local authorities. The two men were arrested at a road block in Martin County, but Andrews County, insofar as officers here know, had no part in the case.

Soviet-French Views 'Alike' On Viet Nam

MOSCOW (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle discussed the war in Viet Nam with Communist chief Leonid I. Brezhnev today and French sources reported their views were similar.

The informants said De Gaulle was critical of U.S. policy on Viet Nam while Brezhnev accused the United States of savage aggression.

CONVERGENCE

The French sources said the two leaders "noted the convergence of their points of view on the Viet Nam situation."

They also reviewed Soviet-French relations in the economic, cultural and scientific fields, the sources said. This reportedly included reference to agreements on joint space ventures and technical cooperation which were worked out in advance of De Gaulle's visit.

He arrived here Monday and held formal conferences with Soviet leaders in the Kremlin Tuesday and today.

Earlier French sources said differing viewpoints had slowed up the opening round Tuesday. "When we talk about easing of tensions, they talk about security," one French informant complained.

De Gaulle sat down in the Kremlin today for another session before leaving on a week's tour of four Soviet cities. He will meet Soviet leaders for more formal talks after he returns to Moscow June 29.

The differences Tuesday apparently involved De Gaulle's suggestion that other West European states, notably West Germany, hold bilateral talks with the Russians to try to ease East-West tensions in Europe.

The talks are expected to continue informally on the road.

Fourth Baylor Dean Resigns

HOUSTON (AP) — Dr. Stanley W. Olson, fourth dean in the history of Baylor University College of Medicine, has resigned after 13 years of service.

Joe L. Allbritton, chairman of the board of trustees of the medical school, announced Tuesday that the board accepted Olson's resignation "with expressions of regret."

Olson, on a sabbatical leave for the past ninth months, had not yet returned to Houston late Tuesday and could not be reached for comment on his future plans.

Court Holds Gas Line To Serve All Producers

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court held today that the Railroad Commission has the authority to make a pipeline company take gas from all producers in the same field.

The judgment dissolved an injunction issued by Austin Dist. Judge Herman Jones blocking enforcement of the commission order.

TEST SUIT

The test suit on commission authority followed an order that Rio Grande Valley Gas Co. must extend its pipelines 3,610 feet to take gas from a well in the West Port Isabel Field, Cameron County, operated by Russell Maguire, Dallas.

Rio Grande Valley Gas contended that it was not obligated under the Texas Common Purchaser Act to make a connection with Maguire's well because the pipeline company was taking gas from some reservoirs of the multi-reservoir field but not from the reservoir serving Maguire's well.

"We hold that Maguire and Rio Grande are producers in the same field" despite the circumstance that their respective wells are producing from different vertically separated reservoirs and that accordingly, Maguire is entitled to the protection and benefits of the Common Purchaser Act," today's opinion said.

In the appeal Rio Grande attorney also argued that the commission order cannot be obeyed because it failed to inform Rio Grande the price or how much gas it must take.

"Whether further and additional orders may need to be entered remains to be seen," the opinion today said. "A failure to agree when there is a dispute concerning the legal rights of the parties does not necessarily mean that they will continue to disagree when such rights have been settled."

Threats Of Violence At Yazoo City

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — Highway patrolmen sealed off a small Negro neighborhood early today after Negroes and whites exchanged gunfire in Philadelphia. One white man was wounded late Tuesday night.

The gun battles erupted here as civil rights leaders 75 miles away debated the merits of violence and nonviolence when they returned to Philadelphia as part of the Mississippi march.

Philadelphia Police Chief Bruce Latimer said a white man whom he identified as Stanley Stuart, an employee of a glove factory, was wounded during an exchange of gunfire near the Freedom Democratic party headquarters.

Stuart was treated for buckshot wounds in the neck and shoulder at a hospital here and sent home.

SEALED OFF

The highway patrol moved in and blocked off a three or four block area.

"No one's going in or coming out until daylight," said Inspector Maynard King.

Latimer said Stuart's car was hit by both birdshot and buckshot. He said he thought Stuart was alone at the time.

Negroes inside the Freedom Democrat headquarters relayed a report to their offices that three carsloads of whites drove up and began firing at them. They said they returned the fire and thought they hit at least two cars.

Other staccato bursts of gunfire were heard in the area later.

At Yazoo City, Dr. Martin Luther King said he would lead the Mississippi civil rights marchers back to Philadelphia armed with "the ammunition of justice — the armor of righteousness." A King aide said they probably would return to Philadelphia Thursday.

HOSTILE CROWD

A hostile crowd of cursing whites hurled firecrackers and insults at King Tuesday when he stood on the Neshoba County Courthouse steps here and told a Negro group: "Today, we have seen men with hatred on their faces who want to turn this country backward."

It was to commemorate the second anniversary of the slayings of civil rights workers James Chaney, Andy Goodman and Mickey Schwerner that King came to Philadelphia Tuesday with a contingent from the group continuing the march through Mississippi begun by James H. Meredith.

Negroes Riot In Florida

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Hundreds of Negroes rioted early today, throwing rocks and bottles at police, stores and cars before riot police cleared the streets with billy clubs and the threat of tear gas.

Two cars were overturned, one was set fire, and three or four policemen hurt by flying glass, one officer said.

Debris littered the main street in the Negro district from sidewalk to sidewalk, but the overall damage apparently was light.

Display windows at two stores were smashed, and there were three reports of homes being looted.

Police arrested 24 Negroes.

The riot in this city of 16,000 about 25 miles north of Miami lasted less than an hour.

It apparently was the culmination of tension built up Tuesday when reports spread through the Negro district that a white store owner had slapped a 16-year-old Negro boy. The store owner, Arthur M. Marks, 42, was charged with assault and battery and released on $50 bond. The boy was unidentified.

Red Jet Downed In 8-Plane Fight

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Navy pilot flying a jet fighter crippled by enemy fire and running critically low on fuel shot down a Communist MIG17 jet over North Viet Nam Tuesday.

One other MIG was damaged and possibly destroyed as four Navy F8 Crusaders and four MIG17s tangled 65 miles north-east of Hanoi. But the MIGs shot down one Crusader, and ground fire brought down a north of Tuy Hoa, that the troops reported killing 265 of the enemy and capturing 10. The fighting went on into the night.

FIVE LOST

In all, five American planes were reported lost in the past 24 hours in Viet Nam. The others were an Air Force F105 Thunderchief shot down Tuesday 30 miles northeast of Hanoi, an Air Force F100 Supercobra hit by Viet Cong groundfire 75 miles southwest of Saigon today and a C123 transport downed on a defoliation mission over the South Tuesday.

The crews of both planes lost in South Viet Nam were rescued.

In the ground war, U.S. paratroopers and air cavalrymen battled a strong Communist detachment on the eastern flank of South Viet Nam's strategic central highlands for the third day. Associated Press correspondent Bob Poos reported from the battle area, 15 miles from the reservoir serving Maguire's well.

No major action was reported elsewhere in the South. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky eased his political war against his militant Buddhist opponents by briefly lifting the five-day blockade of Saigon's Buddhist Institute. During the hour's respite, 203 persons quit the encircled compound, but several hundred remained behind.

U.S. Generals See Tide Of War Turn

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. commanders are guardedly confident that the tide of war in Viet Nam is running in favor of the allies.

They feel they can smash a Communist monsoon offensive if there is one.

Their optimism stems largely from military successes of the past three months, a time when South Viet Nam was wracked with political turmoil and crack Vietnamese fighting units were pulled out of the line.

SOME DISAGREE

But some observers contend that American commanders are making the same mistake the French made before their defeat here in 1954. They say the French thought they could win if the Vietnams fought on French terms, but the Communists pursued their own form of guerrilla fighting in a war that was as much political as military.

The guarded U.S. optimism stems from these factors:

1. The United States and its allies have clearly seized the initiative and are seeking out the enemy in ever-increasing offensives. In one recent week allied operations reached a record high of 39 search-and-destroy sweeps by 1,000 troops or more. Of these, U.S. forces launched 25.

2. The massive buildup of allied forces continues. The United States has 270,000 troops here and expects to add 100,000 more before the end of the year. Nearly all of these will be combat forces rather than logistic or support troops.

SCIENCE EXPERTS PUT HEADS TOGETHER

Space-Age War On Crime Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Experts put their heads together today in search of space-age methods to combat the nation's swelling crime rate.

Some 600 educators, industry experts and law enforcement officials have been invited to a first-of-its-kind "national symposium on science and criminal justice."

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, cosponsor of the conference, said its purpose is "to give science a clear view of what new tools and techniques are needed in the national effort to improve the control of crime."

The ideas generated in the two-day assembly at the State Department probably will be scrutinized by the National Crime Commission, of which Katzenbach is chairman.

The commission, the Justice Department and the President's Office of Science and Technology are cosponsoring the conference in affiliation with the National Security Industrial Association.

The association is a nonprofit organization of more than 400 American firms that supply goods and services to the Defense Department and other government agencies. Designers of the conference hope it will produce the most up-to-date thinking yet achieved in the efforts against law breakers.

For instance, an official of the Department of Housing and Urban Development will discuss the possibilities of cutting down crime by the design and construction of city areas.

The delegates also will discuss the use of computers at all stages of law enforcement and the administration of justice; more effective and cheaper burglar alarms that might automatically trigger a radio announcement, and the use of the latest technological devices to improve prison security.

Such recent ideas as tranquilizer guns, with which policemen could immobilize attackers, will be considered, as will the identification of criminals through the recently developed voice prints and the latest laboratory techniques to develop usable evidence linking criminals to the scene of the crime.

Police communications will be analyzed in hopes of coming up with ideas to speed the response of police to emergencies and provide the latest information to officers in the field.

New Russian Revolution Coming

Take a good look at the Leningrad Prospect in Moscow with its limited vehicular traffic for the scene is going to change. From all indications the automobile civilization seems about to come to the Soviet Union and Com-

Motor Civilization About To Reach Soviet Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—The automobile civilization seems about to come to the Soviet Union.

Communism will never be the same again if it does. In its way, this is one of the most revolutionary developments in the country since the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917.

Until now, the Soviet Union has hardly seen what the automobile can do to life. It has been getting along on public transportation.

CHANGE DUE
Whereas there are 374 cars per 1,000 population in the United States and 176 in France, the Soviet Union has only 4 per 1,000.

But the new five-year plan indicates things are going to change. The new Soviet man will find himself confronted with the joys—and horrors—of the automobile era. If the plan in fact foreshadows the future.

During the next five years, auto production is to increase from 200,000 a year to 800,000. Two new plants are to be built. A new small model called the Zima is to be introduced. Cars already being manufactured are to be remodeled. Prices are to be reduced from their present astronomical levels — now about four times higher than in the West.

Back in the iron age of Joseph Stalin, the car — the private car, that is — had no place.

Nikita S. Khrushchev came along and started raising living standards, letting the people have more of the national product. Nevertheless, Khrushchev was strongly anti-automobile.

Khrushchev increased public transportation. He saw it not only avoiding the "waste" of private cars, but also the needs they bring with them — parking places, service stations, garages, highways. The whole complex.

AVOIDED WASTE
Khrushchev's successors, led by Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, in all probability agree with him about the uselessness of the private car, from the old standpoint.

But they are showing a new responsiveness to the wants of the people, who are no longer just the poor, simple masses. Education and prosperity have made for pressure from below. The leadership is so well-entrenched that it probably could resist this pressure altogether and survive. But Brezhnev, Kosygin & Co. apparently see no reason why they should.

There was a rumor that Cu-

More Athletes Desert Cuba

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP)—Two more Cuban athletes have defected to seek asylum in the United States as the end of the Central American and Caribbean games in San Juan draws near.

Francisco Marti Gonzales, 20, a swimmer, and Hector Rodriguez, a track man, left their team Tuesday, bringing to three the number of Cubans to defect since the games started 10 days ago. Marti said five or six others plan to defect.

SEEK ASYLUM
Juan Pablo Vega Romero, 18, a wrestler, sought asylum June 13.

The Cuban government sent a 357-member delegation to the event, which ends Saturday. About 10 Cubans defected during the last games in Jamaica in 1962, most of them in the final days.

There was a rumor that Cuban officials would order all athletes as they finish competing to return to the Cuban freighter Cerro Pelado which is waiting off San Juan to take the delegation back to Havana. But Jose Llanuza, Cuban education minister, the head of the Cuban delegation, has said repeatedly that his athletes are free to defect if they wish.

Marti competed in the 100- and 200-meter butterfly stroke but did not qualify for the finals. The swimming competition ended two days ago.

IN PROCESS
Both Marti and Rodriguez were taken to the U.S. Immigration offices by Cuban exiles. The man who aided Marti was his cousin.

Marti already has been granted asylum and U.S. officials began processing Rodriguez' application.

LBJ Inks Bill For Poor People's Bonds

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law today a bill which permits poor people awaiting trial in federal court to be released without bond. He said it will "eliminate needless, arbitrary cruelty."

At a signing ceremony in the East Room of the White House, Johnson said that with the reforms "we can begin to insure that defendants are considered as individuals and not as dollar signs."

Heretofore, he said, the scales of justice have been weighted not with fact nor law nor mercy but with money.

Because many defendants could not afford bail in the past, Johnson said they often languished in jail for "weeks and months and perhaps even years before trial," not because they were guilty or had been sentenced but because they were poor.

The President noted the new law does not require the release of every arrested person — nor does it restrict the power of the courts to "detain dangerous persons in capital cases." He added:

"What this measure does do is eliminate needless, arbitrary cruelty. What it does do, in my judgment, is greatly enlarge justice."

No-bail release in limited to noncapital cases in which the judge deems the defendant trustworthy.

Biologists Worry Over Bay System

LAPORTE, Tex. (AP)—Texas Parks and Wildlife Department marine biologists are concerned over flood waters and high tides in the Galveston Bay system.

Trinity Bay, roughly half the bay system, has become a "fresh water lake," the department said, and low salinities have existed well down into Galveston Bay this year.

Brown shrimp have been forced into saltier portions of major bays, where there is more competition for food. Oysters are threatened also, and will not spawn in low salinity conditions.

Show World's Tribute To Be Paid Ed Wynn

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—On Sunday morning, the gentle genius of comedy, Ed Wynn, reached the end of his years, which were a few months short of four-score.

Two generations of entertainers will pay tribute to "The Perfect Fool" Thursday at Forest Lawn, and their homage is well-placed. No American star sustained a longer career and succeeded in so many phases of show business. None was more universally liked by his fellow

Everyone has his own memories of Ed Wynn. I remember him first as radio's fire chief, his shrill voice spouting gems of comic near-hysteria. During the war I saw him in a vaudeville revue, "Big Time," and the rareness of his comic talent was more apparent.

He plodded about the stage in huge shoes and outsized costumes, pausing now and then to spout an inane invention as if it had just been revealed to him. He weaved through all the acts and ended the show with a charming bit he often used.

Wynn pedaled onstage with his own invention, a piano mounted on a bicycle. The chanteuse — I believe it was Jane Pickens — sat atop the piano and sang "Tea for Two" while Wynn glided the vehicle about the stage in rhythm to the song.

EARLY SHOWS

His early television shows brought all his comic talents into sharp focus. The gentleness of his humor was a welcome contrast to the hard-driving comics of early TV.

Heart Patient From France

HOUSTON (AP)—Jean Cangelosi, 39, of Cannes, France, arrived here Tuesday night to undergo a heart operation at the hands of famed surgeon Dr. Michael E. DeBakey.

Cangelosi, an upholstery worker, suffers from a tightened aorta and has been bedfast for the past six months.

Dr. DeBakey—who performed two history-making artificial heart pump operations earlier this year—will replace part of the troublesome artery with a plastic graft.

Cangelosi said he was urged to come to Houston by several former patients of Methodist Hospital, where Dr. DeBakey works. Cangelosi said one of his friends had undergone surgery here similar to that which he hopes will restore him to normal life.

Cangelosi said DeBakey has offered to perform the operation without charge.

With the aid of a parish priest, Cangelosi has raised about $2,000, to underwrite the trip and operation. He said he has been promised assistance by friends in Cannes in raising more funds.

CIA Shakeup Leaves Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The switch in the Central Intelligence Agency leadership was no covert skulduggery to try to head off a Senate clash over supervision of the spy agency, senators involved in the dispute said today.

William F. Raborn's resignation as CIA director did not change the picture nor was it an attempt to save any wounded Senate feelings, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said.

NO CONNECTION
"It had nothing to do with the hassle up here," Mansfield said in an interview.

"It was not involved," Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said. "The dispute is not over the CIA but over the Senate supervision of it."

Further, Mansfield said, Fulbright's Senate Foreign Relations Committee may introduce today its resolution to revamp the Senate supervision of the big intelligence agency.

This, he said, would set the stage for fireworks after the Senate's July 4 holiday week. The battle is over the Foreign Relations Committee's attempt to put three of its members on the exclusive seven-man CIA panel headed by Sen. Richard B. Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee. Russell has called it an attempt to muscle in.

Raborn's resignation was announced Saturday by President Johnson. The President nominated Richard M. Helms, the agency's No. 2 man, to succeed Raborn as director.

DISCLOSURE
Johnson's announcement came a day after disclosure of an exchange of letters between Raborn and Fulbright.

Fulbright had asked if the Foreign Relations Committee set up its own CIA subcommittee whether Raborn would give it the same treatment he gave Russell's subcommittee.

Fulbright reminded the CIA director that Raborn had refused to answer some of his questions at a briefing in February.

In his letter of reply, dated a week ago, Raborn said "The questions to which I stated, I was unable to respond were questions directed to the activities of the agency as to 'sources and methods' rather than to substantive intelligence information."

JFK Memorial Project Delayed

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Construction of the John F. Kennedy Memorial, covering a city block in downtown Dallas, is being delayed by county officials to consider adding an underground parking lot.

Work of clearing old buildings from the site, located about two blocks from the spot where President Kennedy was assassinated in November, 1963, was completed last week.

The county's architects were instructed by County Judge Lew Sterett Tuesday to meet with the designers of the memorial to work out a palatable design for the memorial and the underground garage.

Kresge, 98, Resigns Firm He Founded

DETROIT (AP)—Sebastian S. Kresge, 98, whose name appears in large letters on 673 variety stores across the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico, has resigned from his firm.

The farm boy who at 30 entered the dime-store business with $8,000 left it Tuesday with more than $200 million. The dime-store concept developed into general merchandising at varied prices.

SENDS LETTER

The founder of the Detroit-based S.S. Kresge Co. sent a letter to the board of directors announcing his resignation as chairman. The company said H. B. Cunningham would continue as president and chief executive officer, a post he has held since 1959.

Kresge also resigned as trustee of the Kresge Foundation, an educational philanthropic organization he established in 1922 with a gift of $1.5 million. The foundation now has a net worth of $175 million.

"Up until three months ago," Kresge said in his resignation letter, "I thought it would be possible for me to continue my advice and counsel for another year, but my health will not permit."

TOP TENURE

He was the oldest chairman and the one with the longest tenure, 53 years, of any corporation listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

A short, stocky man with a broad face reflecting his Pennsylvania Dutch ancestry, Kresge moved to Detroit in 1897, less than a year after investing his $8,000 to buy half ownership of a dime store with John G. McCrory in Memphis, Tenn.

Later he traded McCrory his half of the Memphis store and $3,000 for full ownership of a store in Detroit. McCrory went on to found a retail chain of his own, McCrory Corp.

First Major Farm Labor Pact Signed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Farm Workers Association has its first major contract—a giant stride in the union's drive to organize those who pluck and tend the nation's bountiful crops.

The union and Schenley Industries Inc. signed Tuesday a one-year agreement involving 450 men and women who pick and care for grapes on the company's 3,000-acre vineyard near Delano, in the central California Valley.

WAGE INCREASE

At the heart of the agreement is a 35-cent hourly wage increase, raising the Schenley minimum wage to $1.75 an hour. The company also agreed to a union shop and union hiring hall, making the union its prime labor source.

The agreement provides that the company must give the union 72 hours notice of a need for workers. The company is free to hire outsiders if the union fails to provide the workers in that time.

Settlement of fringe benefits was left for further discussion. Dues bookkeeping will be handled by the company if the workers authorize it.

Republicans Seek Unity For Election Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are trying hard to ignore individual differences over prime political issues in their effort to present a united front in the fall election campaign. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., demonstrated this kind of dexterity when he announced he is going to campaign for the Republican ticket in Illinois.

TOPS TICKET

Topping the ticket is Charles Percy, Chicago industrialist, as the party's senatorial nominee. Percy has given his support to an "open housing" provision of the Johnson's administration's civil rights bill. Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, contends that the provision, which would ban discrimination in the sale or rental of housing, is unconstitutional.

Percy and some other Republicans have been irked by Dirksen's failure to find a common ground with Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach for compromise language which would put the party behind the housing provision.

Dirksen told a news conference Tuesday that Katzenbach had failed to come up with a promised memorandum which the senator had agreed to present to the GOP Policy Committee.

EXPLAINS

In its absence, Dirksen explained his own no-compromise

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Wed., June 22, 1966 5-A

Dirksen supplies the GOP votes to cut off an expected Southern filibuster.

Asked about Republicans who are backing the housing provision, Dirksen said they are "misguided." But he amended that to say that "they haven't got complete information."

Queried about Percy's stand, Dirksen replied "I have no responsibility for it." He went on to say, however, that Percy is

Pirate Radio Station Operator Found Slain

Slain Radioman's Pirate Station Seized By Raiders

LONDON (AP) — The owner of one of Britain's pirate radio stations was found dead today while a mysterious pirate crew held his station off the southeast coast.

The dead man was Reg Calvert, 37, a promoter whose "Radio City" broadcasts pop music from an abandoned anti-aircraft fort at Shivering Sands, near the Kent town of Whitstable.

Police said Calvert was shot in the stomach in the home of Oliver Smedley, former vice president of the Liberal party executive, about 50 miles north-east of Whitstable.

Police said they were questioning a man and a woman. Smedley, 54, is chairman of Project Atlanta, an organization associated with the pirate radio stations which broadcast from just outside British waters to evade the government ban on commercial radio broadcasting.

A few hours before police announced Calvert's death, it was learned that a boarding party of 10 men and a girl had taken over his station Monday and were still holding it.

The raiders and the station's seven-man staff stood on the deck of the fort early today and talked to newsmen in a tug below.

Said one bearded raider: "We were hired to do a job and we are doing it. After that ask the bosses."

The raiders were believed to

Mediocrity In Education Said Insupportable

BEAUMONT (AP)—"There is no greater sin than to support mediocrity in education," Dr. Jack Kenny Williams, newly appointed Texas commissioner of higher education, said here.

Williams said he has been impressed by three things about Texas' education system: The magnitude of the job ahead; the obvious administrative excellence of college presidents, regents and other officials; and the determination of the Texas state government to attain excellence in higher education.

"The desire for excellence is exemplified in the tremendous ability of the citizens who make up the Texas College Coordinating Board," Williams said. "No state exceeds Texas in the high quality membership of its educational board."

He said he sees three functions of education:

"To educate our young men and women as professionals and good citizens; to engage in basic and applied research; and to engage in programs of public service."

School to shelter the 60 persons left homeless.

But there were no takers. The homeless were with relatives and neighbors.

The A4A Intruder jet collided high above Chesapeake Bay with a sister jet. The second craft plunged into the bay after its crew bailed out, unhurt. The other continued toward Buckroe Beach, a heavily populated section of Virginia's vast military complex, after its crew, too, bailed out over the bay.

The pilotless craft clipped the top half off a 50-foot oak behind a house owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gallant, hit the house on the left side and plowed a 25-by-8 foot crater in the earth between the two dwellings across the street.

Mrs. Gallant, 30, and her year-old son Donald were killed. Most of the injured suffered burns from the fire as the jet burst into flames. Only 10 of the 44 were kept overnight at Dixie Hospital.

Rows of one-story, shingled cottages were charred or ripped open by the blast or fire. Four automobiles were smashed or burned out. Ten homes were leveled and others were damaged.

Residents of the 12-acre area, their friends and relatives, and civilian and military officials turned to the task of digging out Tuesday.

Ladies On The Best-Dressed List

Some names on the best-dressed lists were less dressed than usual at a supper party by the Shakespeare Festival Committee in New York Monday night. From left, Linda (Mrs. Montague) Hackett wears silk harem pants and neckline plunging to her waistline. Gloria

Steinem comes through clearly between hands of chinchilla on her black sheer dress. Actress Pamela Tiffin's off-the-shoulder gown is actually off her hip. She wears a pink jeweled bra under the toga. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Girl-Watchers Revel At Summer Festival

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
NEW YORK (AP) — For girl-watchers the supper party held by the Shakespeare Festival Committee was a midsummer night's dream.

Although it was not quite summer, and really not that warm in the Plaza Hotel ballroom, rich and beautiful women usually on the best dressed lists were less dressed than usual Monday night.

The women on the mayor's committee for the festival, headed by Susan Stein, daughter of composer Jules Stein, and Amanda (Mrs. S. Carter) Burden Jr., decided to give femininity as much exposure as possible. See through costumes over flesh-colored tights, the ones everybody once swore nobody would dare to wear, were the fashion order of the evening.

The pink curves of beautiful Gloria Steinem were clearly visible between the bands of chinchilla on her black sheer dress. Gold lattice work cluttered the body view only slightly on Mimi Cushing's diaphanous tent dress. Silver embroidered lace was the eye-distractor for Baroness Von Meyern Hohenberg.

Topsy Taylor wore white lace pajamas over seemingly nothing.

Pink, Blue Shower Held In Sand Springs

COAHOMA (SC) — Mrs. Johnny Lindsey was honored Friday evening with a pink and blue shower at the Paul Hass home in Sand Springs. The 30 guests were served from a table covered with a pink cloth and white lace overlay, and the centerpiece was a white milk glass vase holding pink roses. Crystal and silver appointments were used. The gift table was covered with a blue cloth with white lace overlay. Hostesses were Sharon Lewis, Pat Hass, Carol Woods, Doris Tindol and Mrs. Ronnie Burgess. The hostess gift was a yellow blanket.

Shirlene Drewery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Drewery, is spending the summer at Port Isabel visiting with her brother and sister-in-law, the Dale Drewerys.

Returning from a vacation trip are Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Kintley and daughters. They visited at Dexter, Mo., with his parents, the A. A. Kintleys and in Fairborn, Ohio, with his brother and family, the W. C. Kintleys.

The Don Kennemers have returned from a vacation. They visited his brother and sister-in-law, the Max Kennemers, Farmington, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tindol, Monroeville, Ala., have returned to their home after visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Tindol and family. Visiting in Odessa Saturday with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Lilly, were Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Lilly.

The Gene Brady family of Middleville, Mich., left Sunday

ing, Linda (Mrs. Montague) Hackett posed for photographers in white silk harem pants with a plunging neckline that nearly severed the costume. With her was Italian designer Marquis Emilio Pucci. Since he also made the rock 'n' roll band's dazzling blue shirts, they serenaded him with "Pucci Girl," and Emilio gyrated to the noise.

Instead of wearing a teasing see-through, actress Pamela Tiffin bared some of herself with a pink jeweled bra and a one-shoulder crepe toga that draped low to naked hipbone.

Among the party's girl watchers were Henry Fonda with his pretty young wife at his side; Karim Kahn, the late Aga's brother; Sen. Jacob Javits, table-hopping; George Delacorte, who gave Central Park its theater for its Shakespearean productions; Larry Rivers, contemporary artist; Earl Blackwell, who made a career out of providing celebrities to glamorize occasions; and dozens of fashion designers.

Most of the stylists had created the socialites nude-like costumes to make $100 a person a reasonable price indeed for a few noodles, wine and music, considering the view. Character

MRS. J. P. POLLACK

Announce Marriage

The announcement is being made here of the wedding at 3 p.m. Saturday of Miss Donna Jean Boren and James Preston Pollack in Carlsbad, N. M.

The double ring service and reception were held in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Pollack, with Robert Wingfield, pastor of the Fox and Lake Church of Christ, officiating.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Boren of Carlsbad, formerly of Big Spring, and she attended local schools until 1963.

The bridegroom's father was best man, and attending the bride was her sister, Miss Judy Boren of Carlsbad.

The bride was attired in a gown fashioned with a white satin bodice, accented with lace at the V-neckline, and a white satin skirt overlaid with white chiffon. Her jeweled tiara held a veil of illusion.

Other traditional items were a white Bible, a blue garter and her grandmother's wedding ring.

The couple will reside at 2115 18th in Lubbock.

Lodge Sets 'Wedding'

Plans for a June 24 benefit were discussed during the Tuesday evening meeting of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153. The members met at the lodge hall with Mrs. Odell Buchanan presiding.

The benefit is to be a "womanless wedding" done by the lodge men. The public is invited to attend the mock wedding beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the lodge hall. Tickets will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Members were also reminded that the June 28 meeting will be the noble grand's farewell party.

Devotion Heard By Bethany's

The presence of personal conviction was the subject of a devotion given by Mrs. Brandon Curry at the Monday evening meeting of the Bethany Class of First Baptist Church. The invocation at Coker's Restaurant was given by the teacher, Mrs. George O'Brien.

Following the business session, a social hour was held with Mrs. A. C. Preston, Mrs. C. T. Clay and Mrs. George Melear as hostesses. Decorations were red gladioli, and place cards carried out the same color. Fourteen attended.

Party Series Continues For Mrs. E. V. Spence

Continuing this week is a series of farewell affairs complimenting Mrs. E. V. Spence who will leave June 29 for Corpus Christi where she will reside at 4600 Ocean Drive.

Mrs. Spence has long been active in church work and social affairs while she and her late husband, Col. E. V. Spence, Spence, made their home at 508 Dallas. They first came to Big Spring in 1931, remaining for ten years until he went into service. They returned in 1951.

One of the highlights of the Saturday morning coffee honoring Mrs. Spence, which was given by Mrs. Elmo Wasson, 508 Edwards Blvd., was the display of a 1951 newspaper account of the welcoming tea, also hosted by Mrs. Wasson, which was given for Mrs. Spence at that time. Many of the Saturday guests had attended the earlier tea.

Mrs. Wasson's refreshment table was centered with a white compote holding an arrangement of pink carnations and white daisies interspersed with greenery. Similar arrangements were in the entertaining area. A silver tea service was used with silver hors d'oeuvre trays.

Mrs. Spence was attired in an off-white crepe dress with which she wore white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Another of the parties honoring Mrs. Spence was a bridge luncheon Tuesday in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club which was hosted by Mrs. Lloyd Wasson and Mrs. W. J. Currie. A pink floral centerpiece was used with pink napkins, and 15 guests attended. The honoree received a farewell gift from the hostesses. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Whiptey were hosts for an informal Saturday evening dinner party honoring Mrs. Spence and Mr. and Mrs. Champ Rainwater, longtime local residents who will be moving soon to Lubbock. Dinner was served in the garden to 14 guests, and gifts were presented to the honorees.

Mrs. Spence's luncheon club honored her Monday when Mrs. John W. Hodges entertained the group in her home at 1401 E. 6th, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Williamson had Mrs. Spence and Mrs. Rainwater as bridge guests Wednesday at Big Spring Country Club.

Slated for Friday noon is a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Walter H. Ross south of the city.

Mrs. Spence's future plans include spending some time at the family ranch near Alice and joining her cousin, Miss Annie Clare Atkinson of Texarkana, for a spring cruise.

A Devotional For The Day

Let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith. (Hebrews 12:1-2)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we pray that as we go about our daily work, our heart and mind will be receptive to the impulses that draw us close to Thee. We thank Thee for the many unexpected blessings awaiting us whenever we pause to hear Thy still small voice. We pray in the name of Christ, our Savior. Amen.

Maybe They Guessed Too High

Auto makers and dealers are blaming a young lawyer, Ralph Nader, who wrote "Unsafe At Any Speed," for the reported slump in sales of new cars. The hitherto favorable image of the industry has been damaged by his criticism of the failure of the industry to concentrate on the safety of drivers and passengers, they say.

The picture of one man bringing down a multi-billion-dollar industry is overdrawn, just as Nader's criticism of some aspects of the automobile safety picture were somewhat overdrawn. The book did have a substantial impact, however. Yet neither the author nor his charges would have attracted any great audience if it had not been for two mistakes of the auto industry.

The first mistake was to assign detectives to shadow Nader and attempt to discover any derogatory information. The other, and earlier, mistake was to underestimate a U.S. senator from Connecticut, Abraham Ribicoff.

Last year the auto industry successfully lobbied against a mild auto safety measure introduced by Ribicoff. It was a mistake, for Ribicoff then became determined to commit himself all-out to a safety measure with teeth in it. Industry officials may have forgotten that Ribicoff, while governor of Connecticut, gained a reputation as the nemesis of the careless or drunken driver.

The paths of Ribicoff and Nader crossed when the latter was called as a witness before a subcommittee on auto safety headed by Ribicoff. His testimony included the charge that he had been placed under surveillance. The president of General Motors later conceded that Nader had been shadowed without his knowledge and apologized to Nader and the committee. The industry has been on the defensive ever since, although it is not without friends in powerful places in Congress.

Instead of blaming all their troubles on Nader, industry officials might re-examine their sales targets for 1966 models and concede that they may have been a bit too optimistic.

Mighty Heady Stuff

Around San Francisco, if you have a leaky faucet, you had better have at least $14. That's the minimum figure employers are posting for repair calls as a result of a new contract with the plumber's union.

Already among the highest paid craftsmen in the world, members of the local serving Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino counties in California, will by 1972 command $3 an hour more than they now make. Their pay will be $273 a week, in part and benefits, which figures out to $20,000 a year. Assuming that they might now work more than half the time, this means at least $10,000. The hourly range will be from $9.69 to $10.65 an hour.

Not bad for a plumber, not bad for most anyone. But not good for the poor consumer who, had no say at all in the agreement which was reached with selected employers. That figure of $14 an hour to get plumbing repaired is pretty heady stuff, but you can be sure it will rise each time another 50 cent increment of the $3 wage increase is passed on in each of the succeeding six years.

There may come a time when such figures are not unusual in light of new technology, new conditions, and even super-inflation. But right now, they are painfully ridiculous for those who must support them.

No Planning For Medicare

WASHINGTON—July first will be an eventful day in American history. It will be the beginning of a medical crisis affecting not merely persons 65 years of age and older but almost everybody else who needs a physician or hospital care.

THEORETICALLY, the best kind of medical care should be provided for every individual, old and young, those who can pay for it and those who are indigent. But unfortunately there has been relatively little planning done, and now 19,000,000 Americans who are 65 or over are to become eligible on the first of next month for free or almost-free hospital care. For years there has been a shortage of hospital facilities, but in an effort to get political rewards at the polls, members of Congress have put into effect a massive program of free medical care without doing the constructive planning necessary.

AN UNPRECEDENTED amount of congestion is anticipated, because the medical personnel and the hospitals today are inadequate to meet the needs that will arise.

Government officials are saying that the demand for hospital care will go up only about five per cent. But Dr. Edward Henderson, executive director of the American Geriatrics Society—a medical organization specializing in the ailments of old age—says in an interview in "U.S. News & World Report":

"I HAVE NO IDEA where they got that figure. I would say the demand would be a great deal more than that. An educated guess would be 30 per cent or more. History shows that, when something is free, people are going to take advantage of it. Furthermore, as people get older, they do have physical disturbances. They have pains and other conditions that cause them concern.

"Now that old people have the right to a complete examination by qualified physicians under Medicare, they are going to be more interested to know whether or not what they thought was a simple little pain might not be something that could lead to a more serious condition and which can be corrected at its start."

REPORTS FROM various cities indicate that most big hospitals are already operating at or near capacity and that, for the last three years, many of them have not been able to meet the demands for service. Many hospitals have unfilled jobs and need registered nurses, technical assistants and other kinds of help. Some hospitals are luckier than other institutions in that they have enough doctors.

There is no doubt that the United States government will have to spend more money to provide hospital services as the years go by. Physicians will be hard to get in the meantime, and it may be that even people who can pay their own bills will have to suffer.

THE MOST conscientious and painstaking doctor, says Dr. Henderson, can see only a limited number of patients per day. He adds:

"And the same is true in the laboratory. So the overload begins first with the doctor and then passes on down the line to the laboratories where tests are run, the nurses, and all the other medical, technical and service personnel."

"Let's put it this way, in the form of a parable: We have agreed to give a banquet, or a picnic, or a barbecue for 100,000 people, and we've provided food for only 1,000. That's bad planning."

PROBABLY THE pressure on the doctors themselves in the immediate will be unparalleled. Long waits at doctors' offices can be expected, and home calls will tend to diminish rapidly—all because a practical formula was not thought out in advance to be applied gradually so that additional personnel and facilities could be provided for the inevitable expansion that comes when something is given away free.

Supreme Court Justices Shift Around

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Trying to pin a flat across-the-board liberal or conservative label on the nine Supreme Court justices for their work in the term which ended Monday is like trying to squeeze jelly.

They split ranks repeatedly and shifted around.

THESE FIVE men — Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices William J. Brennan Jr., Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and Abe Fortas — have been bracketed together as liberals.

This would seem to give the liberal viewpoint a 5-4 majority over the justices who have been labeled conservative: John M. Harlan, Byron R. White, Potter Stewart and Tom C. Clark.

And this would have been the case, if it had worked out that way. But it didn't. The liberals voted as a block more often than the conservatives but there was otherwise a mish-mash.

In 18 major cases, which this writer picked from the court's decisions in the 1965-66 term to get an insight into how the justices stood, here were some of the results:

THE CONSERVATIVES voted unanimously against a decision of the liberals only twice. Four times they voted unanimously with the liberals who, for their part, voted unanimously only eight times out of 18.

But six times the conservatives voted unanimously in joining one or more liberals in making up a majority necessary to give a decision.

In 13 decisions the greatest dissenter was Black who has been considered an extremely consistent liberal from away back. Some liberals may consider his dissents this year in the best liberal tradition.

But that judgment depends on who is doing the considering. For instance, was it in the liberal tradition for Black to vote with Harlan and Stewart against the court's 6-3 decision banning the payment of a poll tax as a prerequisite for voting?

in state elections?

BUT DOUGLAS, another long-standing liberal, dissented six times, five times side by side with Black, but not joining him against three other decisions, including the poll tax ban.

The voting of Clark may surprise many who thought they had him safely tucked away in their minds in a conservative niche. He dissented only twice from the majority decision, the same number of dissents Warren and Fortas gave.

Brennan was on the majority side more often than any justice on the court, dissenting only once, and that was against the majority decision which said that only in limited circumstances could arrested civil rights workers have their case shifted from state to federal courts.

In this dissent, a blow to civil rights workers, Brennan was joined by Warren, Douglas and Fortas, while Black teamed up with Harlan, Stewart, White and Clark to make the majority decision.

Man Should Sift Day-Dreams

NEW YORK (AP) — Just as housewives have periodic fits of housecleaning, so should a man now and then sift through his day-dreams.

Some he will wish to keep in mind, some put away in mothballs for a time, and some discard forever, with the rest of yesterday's rubbish.

And, of course, as he goes along he'll want to add to his warehouse of daydreams to keep his stock fresh and new. Life is sorry when one's supply of daydreams become threadbare.

Looking over my present inventory of unfulfilled goals, I find I'd still like to—Go on a real African safari and bring back as my only hunting trophy a stuffed mouse.

Invent a telephone that would froth at its mouthpiece and snap at the ear of any teenager who approached it.

See if I could hypnotize a cobra by playing it a long-playing record by the Beatles.

Develop a slot machine that would take free souvenir snapshots — so the suckers would at least get something for their money.

Come up with an "unfixable" golf ball that would automatically add up how many times it had actually been hit, moved, or surreptitiously kicked during a game.

Meet an income tax collector who couldn't stand the sight of human suffering.

Come across a dietetic gravy that tastes like the kind mother used to make but attacks and destroys all calories the moment it hits the stomach.

Improve the public welfare by distributing free to pedestrians a horn that would break the eardrums of noisy motorists.

Finance all trips to the moon by selling tickets in a worldwide lottery.

Have science invent polka-dot-colored mustard and catsup so that when a fellow came home after eating hot dogs at a ball game his neckties would look more interesting.

Create a little more realism in Hollywood's annual awards by presenting an Oscar for the most wooden performance of the year — the judging to be done by a panel of professional terminates.

Make it illegal for any woman over 30 to appear on a public beach unless she also wore spats.

If daydreams like these came true, now wouldn't life be more wonderful for us all?

Mixed-Up Mother Spanks Baby To Sleep

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I recently spent a weekend with my sister. Each night at 7:30 or 8 o'clock she would take her only child (a beautiful boy of six months), put him to bed and start hitting him to make him go to sleep.

She says that each "pop" or "lick" that she gives him induces sleep that will make him cry himself to sleep.

Will this beating affect him in later life? I have two children and I rock them and sing them a lullaby to get them to sleep. Which method do you recommend?—R. G.

Have you the faintest doubt which method I recommend? Your sister has her "wires very badly crossed." There isn't any question whether such a twisted attitude is going to affect this child in later life. My fear is that emotional damage already has been done.

Making the child cry himself to sleep, indeed!

You didn't give me your address, or your sister's, so there is nothing I can do except speak out against such brutal and distorted treatment of a baby. It is misery for the infant now; it can hardly do anything else but make him grow up hating the world. And we wonder what causes delinquency!

Can't you impress on your sister's husband the need for him to talk to the family doctor? Your sister must be very emotionally confused, and needs help, but even more urgent than that, the baby needs to be protected.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have recently heard of "painless hemorrhoidectomy." Of course I am not naive enough to believe that it is actually painless, but is there a newly developed method of surgery or treatment immediately afterward that lessens the discomfort? Some years ago I heard of people who suffered a great deal of pain following this surgery.—MRS. F. P.

Isn't the operation that hurts, since it is done under anesthesia. It is the period afterward. The area is naturally tender. I am as doubtful as you are that it can be painless.

That just isn't reasonable. But the painfulness has been very considerably reduced. The after-care is of the greatest importance. This involves gentle dilation of the rectal canal to prevent adhesions and excessive scar formation.

In addition, bulk producers are now fed to patients immediately after surgery, so there is some degree of natural dilation.

The people who suffer most are the ones who were not told to return for this post-operative care and dilation—or rather, who were told to return, but didn't realize how important it would be.

Fat! My leaflet, "The Lost Secret of Reducing," tells how to get rid of it the easy way. For your copy write Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner answers readers' questions in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

It's Still A Grand Old Game

We usually associate June 19th with a military order implementing the emancipation proclamation. In the popular mind, June 'teenth is the anniversary of the freeing of the slaves.

JUNE TEENTH also is the anniversary of another equally momentous occasion — the playing of the first baseball game. So far as is known, this event took place in New York on June 19, 1846 — a cool 19 years before the Emancipation Proclamation.

IT WAS played with a crude bat and a ball. Players had no gloves, and the hind catcher had no protection. And that's the way it continued to be played for half a century or more. Finally, the catcher was blessed with a primitive mask, then with a chest protector, and finally shin guards. Gradually, fielders began using gloves, many of the die-hards disdaining these as sissy stuff. The gloves — and that was exactly what first ones were — began to grow in size and acquire some padding. Fielding improved because of it, and even the he-men couldn't argue the point. In recent years, argue size reached a ridiculous point with a catcher's mitt designed to handle knuckle balls. It looked like an elephant's ear.

BUT EVEN with the development of gloves, the addition of spikes or cleats for players, the creation of standard and livelier balls, baseball has remained fundamentally the same. It is a contest of a pitcher against batters, plus catching, running and throwing.

Baseball long since has been known as the national pastime, although some other sports out draw it. Some say, however, that somewhere every day baseball is being played, and this may well be true, for it has been embraced by several other countries with them more enthusiasm than in its native land.

OVER THE years rules have evolved, until the present code covers just about every eventuality. Some are so complex that it almost takes a Philadelphia lawyer to interpret them. Still, they are based on logic and usually resulted from some game situation that created a big argument or protest. Similarly, an elaborate system of acquiring players has been developed, even if some regard it as beneficial form of slavery.

YET, AS STATED, the game has remained so uniquely the same that statistics over the past half century are still significant. A player's performance now may be compared with those of a generation or two ago. How does Sandy Koufax stack up against Christy Mathewson? How does Willie Mays compare with George Herman Ruth as a slugger? How about Maury Wills and Ty Cobb as base stealers? You can argue with the records.

FEW IF ANY games have had such heroes as the diamond, and alas, some had feet of clay. Remember the epochal lament of a ragamuffin, tears streaming down his cheeks, pleading with his idol, Shoeless Joe Jackson, after the "Black Sox" scandal in throwing a world series: "Say it ain't so, Joe; say it ain't so." Nevertheless, after this baptism of fire, baseball righted itself and has remained singularly free from fixing. After 120 years, it still going strong, and that's a pretty good testimonial. —JOE PICKLE

GOP Looking For A Winner

WASHINGTON — Lyndon Johnson is a lot better President than the country thinks he is, and the Republicans are getting big ideas about beating him in 1968.

They see by the polls that Governor George Romney is preferred over LBJ in Iowa and that Senator Bob Kennedy is widely preferred over Vice President Humphrey for second place on the Democratic ticket. These signs of disarray in the majority party that looked invincible at the first of the year are going to be multiplied if the November elections go hard against the administration, as nearly everybody now anticipates. The game of picking a GOP presidential candidate has started far ahead of schedule.

IT WOULDN'T be happening this way except for the impression that LBJ is failing in a very important political knock—that of communicating with the American people. He has done extraordinarily well in the White House, but he is not accepted as the peerless leader that the record shows him to be.

In legislation on Civil Rights, Medicare, education and taxation, he has done everything that President Kennedy failed to do, and in 1964 Johnson brought in Democratic majorities that JFK yearned for but never achieved — the kind of majorities that politicians call a "mandate."

IN FOREIGN affairs, Johnson has been nothing short of terrific. He acted in the Dominican Republic as John Kennedy should have acted in Cuba. Johnson has soothed a revolt in Panama that was raging when he came into office. He used his diplomatic power to steady a collapsing colossus in Brazil, where the Communists were within an ace of taking over in the days of Goulart. And Johnson is probably the single reason we still have a very good chance to win in Viet Nam.

THE PRESIDENT'S detractors do not like to hear the truth—but his accomplishments are manifold and undeniable. Yet the man himself is unconvincing. He lacks credibility.

Whatever the reasons for it may be, Lyndon Johnson has begun to look like a vulnerable candidate for re-election, and the Republicans can sense it without always being able to explain it. Their excitement has translated itself into a pre-season candidate discussion.

QUITE RECENTLY, apparently without collusion, two columnists of the king-making New York Times entered the name of General William Westmoreland as a possibility for the Republican nomination. James Reston, writing from Washington, reported that GOP leaders were "vaguely" considering the Viet Nam commander. C. L. Sulzberger, under a Paris byline, said he had talked presidential politics with Westmoreland and found the General "the finest bit coy" on the subject.

THESE EMINENT newsmen confirm my own feelings that the GOP may have a winner if the candidate-pickers show the good judgment to turn to a non-politician. They may find him in the armed services, but I would look to see him emerge from some other field. The Republicans once nominated Wendell Willkie from the business world, and Charles Evans Hughes from the Supreme Court. They might well turn to the academic community, or to the church, the literary circle where the New York Conservatives found Bill Buckley, or to the entertainment arena from which Ronald Reagan has emerged. The issues of law-and-order being what they are, I wouldn't dismiss the possibility that the Police Chiefs in New York; Los Angeles, Cleveland — all superior men — might get consideration.

The next presidential election seems a long way off—but to Republicans it begins to look like a winning post.

Home Builders Decry Tight Money

NEW YORK (AP) — Builders of homes contend they're the first victims of tight money. Consumers who buy on the installment plan might be the second. And some businessmen say they're worried lest their plans for expansion be cramped.

But supporters of the policy to fight inflation by holding a tighter rein on credit doubt if there'll be any great or lasting deterrent in the plants of many now regarded as possible victims.

THE THEORY is that tight credit in itself isn't the sole cause of the home building downturn. Nor does today's moderate curb on credit seem likely to inhibit consumer spending or business plans. Other factors usually weigh much more with consumers and corporate directors than does the amount of interest charges. And if credit is tight, many have savings or other assets upon which to draw.

But even the staunchest defenders of monetary restraint don't deny that someone is likely to get hurt. And home builders have the statistics right now that seems to back their contention that their industry is suffering.

The Commerce Department says that in May, when money was noticeably tightening, the starting of new homes dropped by 13 per cent. This brought it to the lowest rate since January, 1963.

THE HOUSING industry had been having its troubles for at least two years, with only an occasional upswing that turned out to be temporary. It still expects another push upward when the big crop of postwar babies marries, starts families — and commands the income to pay for new homes, however humble. Some in the industry had felt that the big postwar demand for housing had been met and that the last two years of quiet was only a normal prelude to the expected pickup in the next few years.

What is worrying some of the public is whether all the talk about tight money and maybe higher taxes to beat inflation really means that the economy is in danger. But specifically, they're wondering about their jobs, their paychecks, and about all the uncertainties which the speedup in the Viet Nam war implies.

THE STOCK market's hesitancy also probably deters as many people from taking on new financial obligations as does any tightness in money and credit.

The monetary authorities wouldn't have put the moderately tighter money policy into effect if they hadn't wanted it to choke off some of the more risky loans, and to cool down some of the speculative fever.

But they still say it shouldn't cause any real slump in consumer spending or any but a temporary crimp in business expansion plans.

Billy Graham

You always speak about people going forward from a large crowd. Can one not be converted by being baptized before just a few people?

J.H. The size of the crowd has nothing to do with it: It is your willingness to acknowledge Christ openly. "Before men" was a favorite phrase of our Lord. He said, "Let your light shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your father which is in heaven." He also said, "If ye confess me before men, I will confess you before my father which is in heaven."

The point He seemed to be making was that our decision should be for the record and irrevocable. Sentimental, or emotionally motivated decisions are often short-lived. Jesus said, "He that putteth his hand to the plough and looketh back is not fit for the kingdom of God." It was the once-and-for-all decision which He favored and blessed.

Certainly one can be saved by confessing Christ before a small group. But the intent must be to own Him openly. Many people would like to be "secret disciples," but the New Testament makes no place for those who are ashamed to follow Him openly.

Rep. Burleson Due For VA Ceremony

A second member of the National Congress will be in Big Spring July 3 to assist in dedicatory ceremonies marking the completion of an extensive beautification project on the grounds of the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Rep. Omar Burleson of the 17th congressional district (into which Howard County has been placed) has advised that he will be here for the affair.

Rep. Burleson will introduce Senator Ralph Yarborough, who will make the principal address.

A formal program will begin at 2:30 p.m. on the third. While all details have not been completed, there will be special music, a presentation of the colors, a brief presentation of the beautification project, and appearance of Rep. Burleson and Sen. Yarborough. Also to be presented will be a special plaque bearing the scores of names of firms and individuals who have helped make the beautification work possible.

More than $5,000 is being expended in the work, all of this represented by donations in cash, labor and materials. Mrs. Donald Van Meter, wife of the VA Hospital director, has spearheaded the project, and has done a vast amount of personal work on it.

The "new face" on the hospital grounds is in line with the national administration's program of beautifying the nation, and in cooperation with the city's general face-lifting efforts.

OMAR BURLISON

The VA work includes a multi-colored fountain, a "pitch and putt" course for patient use, concrete benches and tables around the pool and fountain areas; special garden plantings; at least 25 new trees; a lighting project and a special wall backing up a planting of flowers in the form and colors of the VA shield.

Prophecy Is Said Right

HOUSTON (AP) — Today's world is changing "in almost every way," Dr. Vernon Lierly told the American Baptist Association Tuesday night.

And of all the changes, the churchman said, "the religious changes are most frightening to the student of the world."

His address opened a three-day annual messenger meeting of the association, attended by more than 3,000.

Resolutions clarifying the association's stand on some current issues were expected to come up today. Reports were due from committees on resolutions, missionary work and Sunday schools.

The Rev. Dr. Lierly, president of the American Baptists, noted the Bible warns that "in the last days there was to be a falling away and man would depart from the faith," and added:

"This prophecy is being fulfilled before our eyes."

Now pastor of South Lakewood Baptist Church in Tulsa, Okla., he was at the Walnut Street Baptist Church in Hillsboro, Tex., from 1952 to 1958.

A $142,000 damage suit growing out of a June 6 collision on a city street was filed Tuesday in 118th District Court.

The case is styled Bill Metcalf vs. C. E. Sealy and wife. The petition alleges that Metcalf was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Sealy on June 6.

Snyder Slates Art Show

A fourth of July art show has been scheduled for the Scurry County Barn in Towle Park at Snyder.

This is in connection with the annual July 4th celebration at Snyder. Area artists are invited to bring paintings Sunday, July 3, between 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. to the Scurry County Barn. They must be picked up between the hours of 9 p.m. and 10 p.m. July 4.

Divisions will consist of landscape, still life and portraits, and ribbons will be given for three places and honorable mention. Trophies will be given for the "people's choice" in both senior and junior divisions. These will be kept by the winners for one year, unless won two years in succession.

The senior class will be all those above high school age. Each artist may enter four paintings in each division, and there will be a fee of $1 per painting for the adults, 50 cents for juniors. Artists will be allowed to place works for sale, a 10 per cent commission being charged. Any artist is eligible to enter. Mrs. Melvin S. Lee and Miss Joy McGlaun are in charge of the Snyder show.

The bidding:

Opening lead: King of ♥ Today's hand produced considerable discussion when it was dealt in a Ten-of-Four championship during a recent National tournament. Altho North and South can take 13 tricks at a club contract, neither of the pairs who played the deal ever bid the suit.

At one table the bidding proceeded as depicted in the diagram. North chose to pass his hand altho he had 13 points and two defensive tricks. It has been our experience that, with a distributional holding where a convenient rebid is available, strategic considerations dictate a quick entry into the auction before the level of bidding becomes too advanced.

East's bid of two spades is a preemptive call employed by some tournament players to designate a holding that includes a good six card suit with little outside strength. It is similar in principle to an opening three bid; however, the latter is usually based on a seven card suit.

South chose to overcall with three diamonds for, tho he had enough to make a take-out double, the singleton heart deterred him from inviting partner to name a suit of his own. West raised East to three spades; however, this mild competition did not inhibit North in the slightest and he proceeded directly to six diamonds. He reasoned that his trump fit, the wealth of controls and a good six card side suit should provide sufficient playing strength to make the slam contract a reasonable undertaking. West thought otherwise and doubled the final bid.

The king of hearts was opened and South won with the ace. If diamonds are divided three-two, declarer has 12 top tricks; however, West's double clearly indicated that the trumps were stacked. As a safety play to retain control of the hand, South led the nine of diamonds and, when West covered with the ten, the latter was permitted to hold the trick. He continued with the queen of hearts which declarer ruffed.

A spade was trumped with the six of diamonds and the ace was cashed, as East showed out. South led a club to his hand, intending to draw the remaining trump and then run the clubs and discard his last two spades. West administered a rude jolt by ruffing away the king of clubs and then putting his partner in with the ace of spades to get another club ruff. The outcome on the deal was an 800-point deficit for North and South.

East and West were confident that they had netted a substantial swing on the deal; however, they were in for a surprise as we will see tomorrow when we examine the result at the other table where their teammates held the North-South cards.

Tough Auto Safety Bill Is Advanced

WASHINGTON (AP) — An auto safety bill stronger than President Johnson originally asked has been approved unanimously by the Senate Commerce Committee. It goes to the Senate floor where leaders hope for passage before the July 4th holiday.

The committee's bill directs the secretary of commerce to issue interim safety standards next year for 1968 models and to put permanent mandatory standards into effect a year later.

Johnson had proposed legislation giving the secretary authority to issue safety standards. But administration officials working with the committee said they had agreed to the stronger version.

The bill also is stiffer than proposals made by the auto industry.

The bill is expected to clear the Senate with almost no difficulty.

BY PILL DEVELOPER Birth Control In Diet Talked

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Joseph Goldzieher, a San Antonio scientist who helped develop "the pill," says we may be approaching birth control in a backward fashion—developing a negative act to prevent conception. Why not, he asks, use immunization on the population, allowing pregnancies to occur by individual choice and through a positive act. Such an approach may be necessary if man is to control himself, according to himself, says Goldzieher.

By PAUL REGER
SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Science should study means of distributing anti-fertility agents in dietary staples—"just as salt is iodized and water is fluoridated"—in order to fight overpopulation, a San Antonio scientist says.

Dr. Joseph Goldzieher, a developer of the contraceptive pill, believes mass distribution of contraceptive agents, through water or possibly through the air, may be the only way to control overpopulation, which he describes as a blight "as terrible as an epidemic disease."

ANTIDOTE
Under such population control methods, he said, persons could return to fertility "through the voluntary and free act" of taking an antidote.

Only then, Goldzieher said in an interview, can man "make the act of procreation a positive and responsible act."

Goldzieher, chairman of the endocrinology department of the Southwest Foundation for Research and Education, said such a concept is the reverse of current population control methods and consequently science has not directed its attention toward developing such anti-fertility agents.

Contraceptive methods, he said, are now "based on the premise that people must do something to not have more children. People must be intelligent enough" to carry out contraceptive techniques.

EDUCATION
Thus contraceptive methods have failed in some underdeveloped countries where the education level is low and the birth rate high, he said.

"We can't educate people fast enough," the scientist said. "By the time you've got one generation educated, they've had children—you'll always be behind."

"Ideally, people should not get pregnant until they want to and until they do something simple and purely voluntary which makes them fertile. Involuntary, mass distributed anti-fertility compounds would accomplish this, he said, because it would allow the growth of the family to be controlled through the "voluntary and free" taking of an antidote.

A basic part of this concept, he said, is that the "agent that restores fertility must be freely available. An idea like this without ethics is nothing." This point, he said, cannot be over-emphasized.

Such methods may not be necessary in the United States and other highly developed countries where an educated population makes effective use of current contraceptive methods, Goldzieher said.

UNSATISFACTORY
The two principal current methods, pills and intra-uterine devices (IUD), used in underdeveloped countries have largely proved "unsatisfactory against the population explosion which makes famine a real and constant threat," he said.

In India, which has one of the world's largest birth rates, IUD's were used last year on a huge scale. But, Dr. Goldzieher said, they were not always satisfactory and are somewhat less effective than the pills.

Slum Turned Into Decent Living Area

LUBBOCK (AP)—Texas' first urban-renewal project is turning a 415-acre Negro slum into a neighborhood where thousands are living in decent homes for the first time in their lives.

The transformation is costing $7 million, including $5.4 million in federal funds, the largest single urban renewal grant in Texas except for the $12 million for San Antonio's civic center area.

Lubbock voters approved urban renewal 8-1 in 1957, touching off a lawsuit which tested the constitutionality of the state urban renewal statute passed that same year.

FIRST
The South Plains city was also the first in Texas to complete its contract with the federal urban renewal agency.

That was in 1958. But because litigation and delay in relocating families slowed the project, completion of the over-all project is not expected until 1969.

These were the ambitious steps in the plan to rehabilitate squalid Coronado, the ugly shacktown southeast of Lubbock's central business district.

—buy and demolish about 1,300 substandard structures on more than 750 parcels of land.

—clear the lots and sell them, mostly for single-family housing construction.

—establish in modern, clean, safe houses hundreds of families who had known only slum life.

—build schools, establish parks, pave streets and bring plumbing and sewer service where outhouses stood.

Much of this has been done.

3 MORE YEARS
Renewal chief H. O. Alderson, formerly Lubbock's traffic and planning director, says there still are 200 lots for sale, and he figures it will be three years before the project is complete.

Redevelopment of the entire area is only 27 per cent done. Four shopping centers committed for sale have not been redeveloped.

There have been disappointments. Alderson's agency knows of 60 families who left Coronado only to wind up in substandard housing elsewhere. And the agency lost track of another 100 families.

DEAR ABBY

He's Just Too Friendly

DEAR ABBY: I think my husband is entirely too friendly to strange women. For instance, he will bury his nose in an elevator operator's hair and say, "My, you have pretty hair—and it smells nice, too." Or he will compliment a waitress on her "beautiful legs" or "school-girl figure." When I tell him that it shows a lack of respect for me when he does this in my presence, he says he is only trying to make a poor working girl feel good. How do you feel about this sort of thing, Abby? Am I wrong to resent it?

A FRIENDLY FELLOW'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: It is ill-mannered and presumptuous for a man to make personal remarks (complimentary or otherwise) to strange women in (or out of) his wife's presence. Tell your husband if he doesn't cut it out one of those poor working girls is apt to work him over.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a wonderful man, and our wedding date has been set for Sept. 15. My fiancé (I'll call him Marty) wants his brother (I'll call him Jack) to be his best man. Well, Jack lives out of state and his wife, Millie, is expecting around that time. Jack won't leave Millie, and Millie won't be able to travel then, so now I have a problem. Marty's mother thinks we should postpone our wedding until December. Do you think it's fair to center our marriage around Jack and Millie? I always thought it was up to the bride to choose the wedding date. All my plans are set for September, and it would be a mess to change things now. What is your advice?

UNHAPPY BRIDE
DEAR UNHAPPY: The bride selects the wedding date with an eye to the most convenient time for both families. But now that your date has been "set," I agree it would indeed be a mess to change things now. So proceed with your plans, and ask your fiancé to select a next-to-the-best man.

DEAR ABBY: As a service man, presently serving in Korea (but this applies to all service men serving overseas) I would appreciate it if you would drop this helpful hint to all families, friends, and relatives. Please ask them to send all their letters AIR MAIL. If a letter has only a 5-cent stamp, it takes more than two months to get to us because it goes by boat. Abby, I am sure the extra three cents isn't going to break anyone, and it sure means a lot to those of us who are 10,000 miles from home.

But against the total of 1,800 families living in Coronado when the project started, these figures are small.

"At least 507 of these families are in decent, safe and sanitary structures within their economic means, many of them for the first time," says Alderson.

MORE AVAILABLE
He said good living quarters are available for another 100 families. Almost all the substandard buildings have been destroyed.

Besides the new homes in the project, about 200 new single-family residences in nearby Negro subdivisions have been built and occupied since the project started, and another 115 homes in Coronado have been brought up to city code standards.

"If I had it to do over," says Alderson, "I would favor starting with a smaller project first, and would involve local people more from the beginning."

"We had everything we needed except public support for subsidized housing for people being relocated."

"When you clear a slum, some people are going to have to help in relocating. The sooner a community will accept that, the more successful urban renewal will be."

APARTMENT
Subsidized housing became available last year when a 320-unit, FHA-financed apartment, Green Fair Manor, was opened. It has more than 150 units occupied and is filling up with clearance-displaced families.
