CLOTURE ASSURES PASSAGE OF DRY RE-ORGANIZATION BILL

PROHIBITIONISTS CRACK WHIP TO RELIEVE SENATE

DEBATE LIMITED ON MEASURE DEMANDED BY ANDREWS

BUILDINGS DELAYED

CLOTURE REFUSED ON BILL TO CONSTRUCT POSTOFFICES

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Drys today cracked the whip for the first time this session, forcing through the debate limiting cloture rule on the administration prohibition re-organization measure.

Succeeding in this move just after the senate had three times in as many days declined to invoke cloture, the dries secured passage of the bill which has been consistently demanded by Assistant Secretary Andrews, chief of the prohibition forces. It would create bureaus of prohibition and customs in the treasury department.

Breaks Tangle
The cloture vote on the proposal was 52 to 47, or one more than the required two-thirds majority, and it broke up the parliamentary tangle, in which the senate had become involved, definitely displacing as the unfinished business the Boulder Canyon Dam bill against which a filibuster has been waged.

Previously today an attempt to build a bridge on the $125,000,000 public buildings bill had met the same fate as the two other moves made on last Saturday for the Boulder Dam and emergency officers retirement bills. It was defeated on a vote of 52 for cloture to 47 against or four less than the required two-thirds majority.

Vote on Buildings
Supporters of the public buildings bill, which has passed the house, believe, however, they can get a vote on it before the close of the session. It would allow $100,000,000 for building construction in addition to that authorized a year ago and $25,000,000 for purchasing of land in this city.

Both wet and dry proclaimed before the cloture vote on the reorganization bill that the prohibition issue was not involved. Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, a wet, being among those who led this view.

Pioneer Woman of Crosby County Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. John W. Murray, 74, mother of Mrs. E. M. Wheeler, of the Acuff community, were conducted at the Robertson school house yesterday afternoon by Rev. J. T. Fall-Doheney Deal Is Found Fraudulent

$50,000 City Taxes Will Be Penalized

With R. A. Howard, city tax collector, shut the doors of his office at 5 o'clock last night, $50,000 was lost to the city of Lubbock in taxes still unpaid. A thirty-day extension in time granted by the city commission expired yesterday, and although $25,700 was paid during the day, this brought the payments for the year up to only $150,000, or 75 per cent of the total taxes assessed.

DISARMING PLAN IS STILL DUBIOUS

ENGLAND'S ACCEPTANCE CLEARS AIR FOR FURTHER PROPOSAL, HOWEVER

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—With Great Britain and Japan definitely committed to the desirability of further direct and immediate efforts to check naval building competition and France and Italy as definitely opposed, President Coolidge is in a position to determine with reasonable accuracy the chances of success with which a new attempt in part to promote a supplemental naval agreement may be undertaken.

No Comment
The British reply to the American five power conference suggestion, regarded officially as a categorical acceptance, was made public today with out comment from the White House or state department. While it outlines certain aspects of British naval policy that must be considered, it leaves exact means by which principles might be extended open to further discussion. It also cautions as to the necessity of "careful adjustment" of the proposed naval conference with the views of the Geneva preparatory commission.

Find Body in Pecos
Second Victim of Auto Crash Is Pulled From River Where Car Missed Bridge

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Pecos river late Sunday gave up the body of John Ryan, second victim of an accident Thursday when a roadster missed the Gilling bridge on a curve in a sleet and rain storm and plunged into the stream.

The body of J. W. Steele, pipe liner, was recovered Friday at the same point where receding water Saturday revealed his car, and where Ryan's body also was found.

NATURAL GAS AT MULESHOE FIRED

FLAMES IN HUMBLE TEST WELL AT 1,500 FEET REVEAL SHOWING

SPECIAL TO THE AVANTAGE
MULESHOE, Feb. 28.—A "show" of natural gas, ignited due to unknown causes, early today started a fire which resulted in the demolishing of the rig and engine house of the Humble Refining Company's Capital Syndicate Number 1 oil and gas test well reports reaching here late this afternoon.

Gas in Hole
First reports coming into Muleshoe said that the conflagration had started in the test tank from which it spread to the derrick and engine house. Later reports, however, stated that the fire started from a showing of natural gas in the hole while the morning tower was drilling at approximately 1,500 feet.

To Drill 3,500 Feet
Immediate steps will be taken to replace the damaged machinery and to rebuild the standard derrick. The test well will be drilled at least to its contract depth of 3,500 feet. It is stated it is going down on land owned by the Capital Cattle Syndicate, and is located approximately eleven miles north of here.

Sunday Golfers Arrested in So. Carolina as 17th Century Blue Laws Again Brought Up; Cooks, Nurses, All Idle

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 28.—The ancient regulatory laws which South Carolina passed in the seventeenth century continued to make their presence felt today. Additional arrests for playing golf on the Sabbath were made, and all business not considered essential on Sunday.

No Cooks, No Nurses
The bells of St. Michaels at Charleston rang out over city last night on the observance of the Sabbath. Cooks were not allowed preparing a Sunday dinner for a quarter of a century, declared that they would not "buck" the governor, and nurses who had been as regular as Sunday itself, left agents to tend babies alone. Three agents of hotelkeepers, however, collecting from Saturday wages were the only law breakers officers could find.

Golfers Arrested
William Whitcomb, a winter resident, Ben Thompson, Everett McDonald, and Jim S. Dyer were arrested by Sheriff Notts Robinson at Allston. They were released upward bond.

The four will be given a hearing tomorrow and if convicted hundreds of other winter residents who played golf or polo on private clubs and fields will be called into court to answer similar charges.

ENGINEER RELATES HOW PRISONERS WERE LEFT TO FREEZE

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Three times told he was to be shot and for two years held in twenty-two Russian prisons, Julius Chevalier, one-time Standard Oil engineer and native of Texas, arrived today en route to Washington to tell his story to the state department.

Chevalier, who is thirty-five, landed at Providence, R. I., when the freighter Asda docked, and came here by rail with his two children, Hanna, four, and Louis, 6.

He was arrested, he said, without warning at Balmor in the counter revolution in 1924, the day before he was to sail for the United States. He was accused of espionage, and prosecuted, he said, in vain.

Exiled to Siberia
The first decision to shoot him, he said, was changed to a sentence of ten years at hard labor when he said he was an American, and this was subsequently reduced to three years exile in the White sea.

After two years of being shifted from prison to prison, he went on a hunger strike and shortly after Christmas, 1926, he was released.

1200 Women
There were about 1,200 women prisoners on the island where I was, he said. The Soviet held them as "spies" after the fact, as you would say here. These husbands or sweethearts had committed crimes, and so they were sent to prison because they knew the ones who had been convicted. The women were sometimes made to work in brick yards, or to cut meat.

"Many of them were pretty young girls when they arrived in the prison. They looked like old women in a few months."

Frees to Death
The guards seemed to enjoy death. When prisoners got sick they would send them by sleigh for twenty or twenty-five miles, so they would be frozen to death when they got there.

The worst torture chamber I ever saw was the prison which was a little room called "the scorching." When a prisoner became deranged, you know, got little mad and screamed at his guards, he would be taken to the scorching. They tore off all his clothes, left him in the place to freeze. It was cold. A man couldn't live for one third hour there. Death from scorching was the prison rule.

"They never told me what absurd charges had been brought against me. My trial was just a farce, of course. When they found I was an engineer, they put me in charge of the power plant on Solovki Island."

Chevalier's wife died in Constantinople in 1925 from exposure, brought on by poverty, he said, and he found his two children, after weeks of searching, in the custody of an American relief organization in a suburb near that city.

Major H. A. Dargue Continues Pan-American Trip Tomorrow

Major H. A. Dargue, who yesterday saw the bodies of Captain Woolsey and Lieutenant Benton sent back to the United States after the fatal crash Saturday when the two were killed as their plane collided with that of Major Dargue. The latter was unhurt.

The remaining Pan-American planes will go on from Buenos Aires Wednesday, led by Major H. A. Dargue, who yesterday saw the bodies of Captain Woolsey and Lieutenant Benton sent back to the United States after the fatal crash Saturday when the two were killed as their plane collided with that of Major Dargue. The latter was unhurt.

TRAGEDY MARKS TRIBUTE TO FLYERS

ARGENTINE FLYER STRICKEN AS BODIES OF PAN-AMERICAN VICTIMS SENT HOME

(By Associated Press)
BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 28.—The steamer Vauban put out to sea today with the bodies of Captain Clinton F. Woolsey and Lieutenant John W. Benton, U. S. Army, good will aviators, victims of the tragedy of Saturday when their planes, New York and Detroit, collided in mid air and crashed.

Captain Arturo Cuervo, attached to the Argentine air service who had gone to the pier to pay his last respects, suffered a heart attack and died within a few minutes.

Thousands Gather
The bodies of Woolsey and Benton lay overnight in the military club, and several thousand gathered there this morning, as well as at St. John's Anglican church where funeral services were conducted.

Pay Honors
President Dr. Alvarez, the ministers of marine and war, the members of the American embassy and consulate and Major Dargue, Lieutenant Whitehead, Captain R. C. Baker, Lieutenant "Red" Thompson and Lieutenant Weddington, held the funeral cortege, with many hundreds of high officials and army, navy and aviation services following a long line. American and Argentine flags covered the coffins and biers, and a battery of guns fired a salute.

It was announced that the departure of the other planes for Asuncion had been postponed until Wednesday.

CLOSING RUSH OF LEGISLATURE IS IN FULL STEAM

FINAL EFFORT IS MADE TO REDUCE THREE-PAGE CALENDAR

PASS NINETEEN BILLS

MOST OF MEASURES ARE OF LOCAL OR MINOR NATURE

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Feb. 28.—The closing rush of the fortieth legislature gained full momentum tonight when the senate held its first night meeting of the session in an effort to reduce the three page calendar before it. Nineteen bills were passed. Two other bills were engrossed and one killed. Most of the bills were of a minor or local nature. Senator Pollard's bill prohibiting the retention of attorneys by state departments and institutions was among the more important measures passed.

HOUSE VOTES AGAINST SUNDAY THEATRE OPENING

AUSTIN, Feb. 28 (AP)—A Baptist preacher got up in the house of representatives and argued among other things, that Texas people spend money for Sunday amusements that ought to go to churches.

A few minutes later the house defeated by a few votes the bill of Sunday and Kemble to legalize Sunday afternoon operation of theatres.

Will Neglect Churches

The preacher was the Rev. H. H. Wallace of Tyler, house member who took occasion to make his first extended speech of the session. He held forth eloquently for about ten minutes. If small towns have picture shows and baseball games on Sunday, he said, the "country people" will go to them instead of to church.

"The people will run around and try to have a good time," he explained. "They have to work six days a week, and if they get a chance to go to shows on Sunday, they will go," he added.

MRS. NEAL'S "SABBATHAL LEAVE" BILL DEFEATED

Schools Will Present Lyceum Number This Evening at H. S.

Presenting the Anne Varner Baker company, the public schools of the city are to have their fourth lyceum number this evening at the High school auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock. Miss Baker, assisted by Miss Esther Baldwin, pianist and pianist, will present a variety program of readings, impersonations, costumed songs, shadowgraphs, colored crayon sketches and other features, according to the announcements.

nothing but a museum—that's a relic of the Victorian age of hair-cloth sofas, atrocious chandeliers and startled deer in glass cases. Bad arrangement of chairs and tables can ruin the size and shape of a well designed room architecturally, while cleverness in planning can camouflage a too-little or too-big room and give personality to drab places of furniture.

"Haven't you been in a room where none of the furniture looked at home?" she questioned; "where a sofa seemed to be edging out of the room, the chairs restless, and the tables positively menacing? Bad arrangement, rather than bad furniture is the reason for it."

As for color—here the shining cannot be overlooked even by the most big-eyed and tolerant. Mrs. Fairchild suggests a few don'ts that her experience as a decorator has taught her:

"Don't clash colors in humidors, book ends, ash trays, and so-called 'objets d'art.' These all distract the eye from the main beauty and harmony of a room.

"Don't use dark draperies in a corner or north room. If your living room gets little or no sun, use orange, yellow, green or gold combinations.

"Don't use bright colors in a sunny room. This has a blinding, disquieting effect. Use blues, violets or dull reds.

"Don't use bright colors in large unties such as wall draperies or rugs. When your room needs a brilliant toning up, the right vases or pictures should give the color.

"Don't mix periods. Bennington pottery doesn't belong with mahogany, for instance, but with more rustic woods such as pine, maple or cherry.

"Don't be trite. Don't be indiscriminate in your use of Dante book ends, Sir Galahad, nude statues and other 'arty' fade.

"Don't forget a room is created to live in, so it should be livable. Have your living room quiet and your chairs comfortable. Be logical and have your chairs and tables where comfort and convenience dictates."

Mrs. Fairchild started business men a year ago by setting up an antique shop in a bungalow on the roof of a Manhattan skyscraper. Her quaint cottage looks down upon roaring New York as from a mountain top. Fashioned as an early American home would have been—a delightfully uncommercial interior—the result.

The Woman's Day

By Allene Summer

There is no longer "a weaker sex" and if there is, it is not the sex that was once denoted by the phrase. This according to Granland Rice who etes Glenna Collett's 250-yard golf ball drive, Helen Willy's lightning tennis ball, Trudy Elderle's pioneering tennis quest of the channel, the hike of 49 miles from Providence to Boston by Eleanor Sears and Elizabeth Ryan.

The question involved is: Must there be a weaker sex, one or the other? If the girls figure that they have "done time" at the weakest job will the boys have to take their turn? Or can the race survive with both sexes equally strong? There is no denial that as things are at present, the weaker sister has the male votes. They want 'em weak and they themselves want to be strong. But a changing viewpoint may come in time.

TOO MUCH EFFICIENCY

They tell me that it's not new at all, and that I'm surely from the backwoods not to know that "it's been done for ages," but I registered amaze when playing bridge the other evening at the "double deck shuffling" idea. Not a minute lost between deals—second pack all nicely shuffled and ready while the one whose turn it was to do to job shuffled the cards just played in order to have them ready for the next hand. Not a minute lost. Efficiency, efficiency, efficiency, efficiency—no time to ask if they'd seen those adorable new yellow primrose corsets, and if it was true that Mabel had changed jobs—time to shuffle. Speed, speed, speed. Making a job out of bridge, being efficient about it, daytime-office-methods-carried-into-the-recreational hours. Of all the dumb-Dora ideas, and if they're taking bridge that seriously, I'm not playing any more, that's all!

Mussolini may "holier" all be wants for long skirts, and Queen Mary of all the Britains may do the same, but what cures Paris? The knee should not show, but that's all, that matters, and skirts will be 15 to 16 inches from the ground this spring, says the world's fashion dictator. Fashion also sponsors the up-in-the-front, down-in-the-back hang of the skirt, which will indeed be a boon to all the girls who never could get the old skirts to hang right.

WHERE ARE THEY?

None less Dan George Bernard Shaw talks about the "holier" woman. He says that when he was young, no such woman was in existence. "Women then had children to look after. She had a house to keep. Now we have got rid of the house and the housekeeper and have substituted service flats in residential hotels. We have got rid of children through birth-control, and of women's leisure time. She can spend it drinking cocktails, going to the night clubs, doing the Charleston and all the things that many women seem to imagine will fill their lives gloriously."

The Deadly Sins of Decoration—How to Escape Their Pitfalls

Living room of Mrs. Fairchild's maisonette shop

By MORTENSE SAUNDERS
NEA Service Writer

BEFORE YOU DECORATE—READ THIS

These are the interior decorating DON'TS most emphasized by Mrs. Mary Tanner Fairchild, New York expert:

- DON'T
- Clash colors.
- Draper south rooms brightly.
- Use dark draperies in north rooms.
- Have bright colors in large units.
- Mix periods.
- Over-indulge in faddish furnishings.
- Neglect logic, comfort and convenience in anything.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The seven deadly sins of the present-day are in home decoration, according to Mrs. Mary Tanner Fairchild, antique collector and dealer of New York.

"And they are so bad as the seven mortal sins defined by the medieval monks," she asserts, "because they betray a woman's judgment, taste, refinement, intelligence—in fact, her whole personality."

Here follows her list of artistic transgressions which will make the home a permanent monument to the deficiency of its mistress:

- Inequality between the outside and inside of a home.
- Overcrowding.
- Jumbled arrangement.
- Antagonistic color schemes.
- Confused styles and periods.
- Triteness in decoration.

PAGEANT OF NATIONS AT W. T. C. C. CONVENTION TO BE COLORFUL

Special to The Avalanche
WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 28.—The big, blond German fraulein, the slender Spanish coquette, the sweet voiced Italian maiden, the rosy-cheeked plaid lassie, and maidens representing other typical foreign national personalities will flood the streets of WICHITA Falls May 16 and 17 during the two gala days of the annual big West Texas chamber of commerce convention to be held at that date in the "City That Faith Built."

Not that foreigners will crowd the West Texas city, but all West Texas will turn out in thousands to participate in the pageant of nations. The pageant of nations pageant planned by the West Texas chamber of commerce will assume colorful costumes and flags of different nations of the world a big feature attraction of the two-day event is the scheduled Texas League baseball battle between the rival cities of Wichita Falls and Fort Worth.

Besides the spectacular parade and pageant in which a number of towns of the West Texas chamber of commerce will assume colorful costumes and flags of different nations of the world a big feature attraction of the two-day event is the scheduled Texas League baseball battle between the rival cities of Wichita Falls and Fort Worth.

Clusters of golden balls, sprays of gorgeous light and popular to the musical notes and musical notes who will keep the air stirring around the convention grounds during the two-day session. Band contests will be in progress May 16 and 17, with more than 50 rival horn-blowing groups competing, under direction of the West Texas band masters division. West Texas vocal talent will be given opportunity to "thrust" itself in vocal and choral contest to take place during the initial session of the meeting.

Country editors will be honored at breakfast. Entertainment is planned of diversified nature to care for the desires and wishes of all attending. Figures of state and national importance have been secured as speakers and many others will attend for the educational and instructive features of the two-day program.

Additional snap is added to the 1927 meeting from the fact that it is to be a two-day rather than a three-day session.

LAND OWNER OF HALE CENTER HAS PLAN FOR AIDING AND ENCOURAGING TENANTS WHO WISH TO PRACTISE DIVERSIFICATION

Special to The Avalanche
PLAINVIEW, Feb. 28.—Dr. S. J. Underwood of Hale Center, who owns two farms here, that city in Hale county, has a unique plan of renting out his farms which is adaptable to home tenant farmers and landowners who wish to go to the diversified work-farming route of raising chickens, turkeys, hogs and cows which is becoming so common in this part of West Texas where cheap feed and feed climate prevail for these farming pursuits.

Dr. Underwood furnishes everything in his 80-acre farm, which he terms "diversified farm," the chickens, the turkeys, the hogs and the cows. His tenant, K. E. Fruit, who takes care of the farm and does the work gets a home to live in, half of the chicken profits, half of the turkey profits, half of the hog profits and half of the cow profits.

He does not plan to raise any cotton and only enough wheat for pasture.

Keeps His Field
The crops that he raises are sorghum, corn, alfalfa, wheat, barley, oats, and of course a garden. None of this is sold, except on hoof or in the form of poultry products.

Dr. Underwood's 80-acre farm is shaped as an ideal Plains farm, and on the land which is situated close to Hale Center and valued at one hundred dollars per acre with the improvements that are on it, a five-room house, barn and other outbuildings.

Dr. Underwood says that he and his tenant will clear easily between three thousand and four thousand dollars during 1927, on his poultry, turkeys, hogs and cows.

He is a great believer in pure bred Jersey cattle and has one of the leading herds of Hale County. He has a cow which won fifth at the Tri-state fair and Exposition in Amarillo in 1926 in the Jersey Cattle class although she had to be entered in a cow class when she was in reality only in the yearling class. This cow, Princess Gamble, has won three years ago. Three out of five of her dams in the last generations behind her had over a thousand pound butter fat record. The cow won first at the Hale county fair in 1926. Another cow which he owns that he is very proud of is Aquinas Prize, a double grand daughter of Master Man of Oakland and a register of merit.

In his herd is a bull known as Majesty Esther's Knight a pure bred Jersey with 775 pounds of fat record in his dam side and he is a grandson of Royalty Majesty St. Cloud and also a great grandson of Gamble's Knight.

Thirty Head
Dr. Underwood's Jersey herd consists of thirty head of cattle which he is breeding to pure bred sires in an effort to create a herd of improved quality, four grown. Registered females and three calves and heifers of registered class besides his two bulls.

Dr. Underwood was the pure bred Jersey rearing given as a premium for the best herd of registered Jersey cattle in Hale County from 1925 to 1926.

The feed used by him in feeding all of his stock is ground kaffir, milo and sorghum. He has a feed mill which thoroughly grinds all of his feed. He grinds the milo and kaffir heads for his grain ration and the stalk heads and all of the grain sorghum for roughage. He finds that with a three hundred dollar mill run by a small tractor he gets much more out of his feed and on the bunch of cows that he feeds this way the machine makes its way in one year.

Dr. Underwood is installing a small irrigation plant on his farm to be used in raising alfalfa and for other irrigating purposes when it is necessary. He plans to use an irrigation well outfit in general use in California and demonstrated successfully in Hale county by L. P. Barker of Plainview. The outfit is run by a small tractor for power and can produce about five hundred gallons of water per minute according to a test made at the Barker plant last year. The total cost of this irrigation outfit exclusive of the tractor and including the well will be about twelve hundred dollars.

For pasture Dr. Underwood raises Sudan grass which is grown as the best pasture for dairy cattle in the world and was a prize product almost exclusively in the beginning although it is now raised in nearly every state of the union.

Dr. Underwood who is actively engaged in practicing medicine in Hale Center, and who handles his farm and cows on the outside expects to develop the Jersey breeding business in Hale County to a high point but he believes that it can be done profitably.

A. C. C. WILL HAVE BIG NEW BUILDING

OPEN BIDS SOON FOR CONSTRUCTION OF $150,000 ADDITION

Special to The Avalanche
ABILENE, Feb. 28.—Bids for the construction of a $150,000 administration building and auditorium for Abilene Christian college will be opened within the next thirty days. Announcement to this effect was made by a representative of the board of trustees of the institution this week. Plans for the building have been prepared by Nichol and Campbell, architects of this city. Russell Barker is president of the college.

The new building will be strictly modern in every respect. A committee representing the school recently made an extended tour to a number of the leading colleges of the country to obtain ideas as to the proper way to plan and build the structure. The auditorium will have a seating capacity of 2,500 and will be fully equipped.

Punk for the erection of the building were obtained here several months ago in a campaign sponsored by the chamber of commerce.

Mrs. A. L. Page's Bible class will meet at 3 o'clock with Mrs. J. N. Nislar, 2108 Broadway.

The monthly business and social meeting of all departments of the First Baptist B. Y. P. U. will be held in the evening at the church.

Mrs. A. V. Weaver will entertain the Tuesday afternoon bridge club at 3 p. m. at her home, 1901 Broadway.

The Junior Twentieth Century club will meet at 3 o'clock at the First Methodist church.

The Gamma Pi Alpha club will meet Tuesday evening with Miss Irma Dalrymple.

Methodist Young Folk to Meet Each Sunday Afternoon

Considering that the first open house sponsored by the Methodist Student Federation was a success, those in charge have announced that others will follow on Sundays in the future. More than 50 Tech students and other young people called at the church Sunday afternoon for an informal time of reading, games, music and other amusements, after which light refreshments were served. Miss Dorothy Cooper, student secretary, and members of the Tech student committee were in charge. They were Mrs. W. W. Royalty, Mrs. E. W. Camp, Mrs. J. C. Granbery and Dean William J. Miller.

C. C. Ingram, of Crosbyton, was a visitor here yesterday.

All-Day Meeting of Aid Circle Is Held Monday

A social hour during which fortunes were told and motion pictures of the group were taken was a feature of the all-day meeting of Circle 2, and 3 of the First Christian, Ladies Aid Monday at the home of Mrs. Charles P. O'Neil, president of Circle 2. All who were in attendance brought chicken, salad, pie or cake which were served with hot rolls and coffee at the noon hour. Rev. and Mrs. Walter P. Jennings were special guests and Rev. Jennings pronounced the invocation at the opening of the devotional program in the afternoon.

Mrs. D. W. Robertson led the devotional lesson after which the women present commented informally on the Bible passage, and Mrs. Tom Garrard read another Bible passage. Other talks and musical numbers were given. Business sessions of the two circles were held.

The luncheon was served buffet style in the sun parlor, which was decorated with red carnations. Those who were in attendance from Circle 2 were Mesdames D. N. Leaverton, E. C. Young, R. L. Howell, R. A. Mills, James H. Robinson, B. P. Shepherd, Crowder, Beth Bailey, D. W. Robertson, Paul Barrier, Jewel Davis and Charles O'Neil. The Circle 3 members in attendance were Mesdames Tom Garrard, J. C. Bowles, C. P. Carlock, L. S. Mast, T. Teal and Miss Bess Edwards.

Schools Will Present Lyceum Number This Evening at H. S.

Presenting the Anne Varner Baker company, the public schools of the city are to have their fourth lyceum number this evening at the high school auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock. Miss Baker, assisted by Miss Esther Baldwin, pianist and pianologue, will present a versatile program of readings, impersonations, costumed songs, shadowgraphs, colored crayon sketches and other features, according to the announcements.

nothing but a museum—that's a relic of the Victorian age of hair-cloth and atrocious chandeliers and started deer in glass cases. Bad arrangement of chairs and tables can ruin the size and shape of a well designed room architecturally, while cleverness in planning can camouflage a too-little or too-big room and give personality to drab pieces of furniture.

"Have you been in a room where none of the furniture looked at home?" she questioned; "where a sofa seemed to be edging out of the room, the chairs restless, and the tables positively menacing? Bad arrangement, rather than bad furniture is the reason for it."

"As for color—here the shining cannot be overlooked even by the most broad-minded and tolerant. Mrs. Fairchild suggests a few don'ts that her experience as a decorator has taught her: "Don't clash colors in humidor, book ends, ash trays, and so-called 'objets d'art.' These all distract the eye from the main beauty and harmony of a room."

"Don't use dark draperies in a number or north room. If your living room gets little or no sun, use orange, yellow, green or gold combinations."

"Don't use bright colors in a sunny room—this has a blinding, disquieting effect. Use blues, violets or dull reds."

"Don't mix bright colors in large untiles such as wall draperies or rugs. When your room needs a brilliant tinging up, the right vases or pictures should give the color."

"Don't mix periods. Bennington pottery doesn't belong with mahogany, for instance, but with more rustic woods such as pine, maple or cherry."

"Don't be trite. Don't be indiscriminate in your use of Dante book ends, gir Galahada, nude statues and other 'arty' fads."

"Don't forget a room is created to live in, so it should be livable. Have your living room quiet and your children comfortable. Be logical and have your chairs and tables where comfort and convenience dictates."

Mrs. Fairchild started business men a year ago by setting up an antique shop in a bungalow on the roof of a Manhattan skyscraper. Her quaint cottage looks down upon roaring New York as from a mountain top. Fairchild was an early American house would have been a delightfully uncommercial interior is the result.

Mary Tanner Fairchild

There is no longer a weaker sex, and if there is, it is not the sex that was once depicted by the phrase. This was once depicted by the phrase. This was once depicted by the phrase.

The question involved is: Must there be a weaker sex, one or the other? If the girls figure that they have "done time" at the weakest job, will the boys have to take their turn? Or will the race survive with both sexes equally strong? There is no doubt that as things are at present, the weaker sister has the male votes. They want 'em weak and they themselves want to be strong. But a changing viewpoint may come in time.

TOO MUCH EFFICIENCY

They tell me that it's not new at all, and that I'm surely from the backwoods not to know that "it's been done for ages," but I registered amaze when playing bridge the other evening at the "double deck shuffling" table. Not a minute lost between deals—second pack all nicely shuffled and ready while the one whose turn it was to do to job shuffled the cards just played in order to have them ready for the next hand. Not a minute lost, efficiency, efficiency. No time to gossip—no time to ask if they'd seen those adorable new yellow primrose corsets, and if it was true that Mabel had changed jobs—time to shuffle. Speed, speed, speed. Making a job out of bridge, being efficient about it, daytime office methods carried into the recreational hours. Of all the dumb-bore ideas and if they're biding bridge that seriously, I'm not playing any more, that's all!

Mussolini may "holier" all he wants for long skirts, and Queen Mary of all the Britains may do the same, but what cures Paris? The knee should not show, but that's all that matters, and skirts will be 15 to 16 inches from the ground this spring, says the world's fashion dictator. Fashion also sponsors the up-in-the-front, down-in-the-back hang of the skirt, which will indeed be a boon to all the girls who never could get the old skirts to hang right.

WHERE ARE THEY?

None less than George Bernard Shaw talks about the modern woman. He says that when he was young, no such woman was in existence. "Women then had children to look after. She had a house to keep. Now we have got rid of the house and the housekeeper and have substituted service flats in residential hotels. We have got rid of children through birth control. We have got leisure time. She can spend it drinking cocktails, going to the night clubs, seeking the Charleston and all the things that many women seem to imagine will fill their lives gloriously."

TO SEE THE WORLD AT WICHITA FALLS

PAGEANT OF NATIONS AT W. T. C. C. CONVENTION TO BE COLORFUL

Special to The Avalanche
WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 28.—The big blond German fraulein, the slender Spanish coquette, the sweet voiced Italian maiden, the gay Scotch plaid lassie, and many other representing other typical foreign national personalities will flood the streets of Wichita Falls May 16 and 17 during the two gala days of the annual big West Texas chamber of commerce convention to be held at that date in the "City That Faith Built."

Not that foreigners will crowd the West Texas city, but all West Texas will turn out in costume to portray various nations in the huge Congress of Nations pageant planned. Boosters, business men and workers will leave off their high-heeled boots and big umbrellas for two days to the picturesque apparel of foreign countries to their part in the brilliant and elaborate pageant planned, which is already attracting international attention.

Besides the spectacular parade and pageant in which a number of towns of the West Texas chamber of commerce will assume costumes, colors and flags of different nations of the world a big feature attraction of the two-day event is the scheduled Texas League baseball battle between the rival cities of Wichita Falls and Fort Worth.

Clusters of golden balls, sprays of gorgeous lights, and popping cracker will set the skies aglow at night during the midnight fireworks exhibition to be displayed following presentation of pretty bonanzas of visiting towns on the first evening. After this celebration, a society ball is planned. West Texas will be feted with a society ball.

Prizes aggregating more than fifty thousand dollars are to be awarded to the musical groups and musical societies who will keep the air stirring around the convention grounds during the two-day session. Band contests will be in progress May 16 and 17, with more than 50 rival horn-blowing groups competing, under direction of the West Texas band masters division. West Texas vocal talent will be given opportunity to "show their stuff" in vocal and choral contest to take place during the initial session of the meeting.

Country editors will be honored at breakfast. Entertainment is planned of diversified nature to care for the desires and wishes of all attending. Figures of state and national importance have been secured as speakers and many others will attend for the entertaining and instructive features of the two-day program.

Additional camp is added to the 1927 meeting from the fact that it is to be a two-day rather than a three-day session.

Declare Bride Is Held as Captive

Alleging that Romayne Noble and Robert Noble were married February 1, and now refuse to live together, but that Mrs. Noble is restrained and held captive in the home of C. L. Cooper at Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Garard, Lubbock attorneys, yesterday on behalf of Robert Noble filed habeas corpus petition in the 99th District court asking that Mrs. Noble be ordered released. They allege that Judge Charles Chambers of Garard county has refused to take any action on a similar petition.

How Doctors Treat Colds And Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending "Chestnut," the purified and refined natural compound tablet that gives you the effects of natural products combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Chestnuts at bed-time with a swallow of water—that's all. No more restlessness nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are free from the effects of a heavy attack of cold or flu. But what you please, no danger.

LAND OWNER OF HALE CENTER HAS PLAN FOR AIDING AND ENCOURAGING TENANTS WHO WISH TO PRACTISE DIVERSIFICATION

Special to The Avalanche

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 28.—Dr. S. J. Underwood of Hale Center, who owns the farm here that city in Hale county, has a unique plan of renting at his farm which is adaptable to both tenant farmers and landowners who wish to go to the diversified stock-raising route of raising chickens, turkeys, hogs and cows which is becoming so common in this part of West Texas where cheap feed and ideal climate prevail for these farming pursuits.

Dr. Underwood furnishes everything in his 80-acre farm, which he terms a diversified farm, the chickens, turkeys, the hogs and the cows. His tenant, E. E. Frost, who takes care of the farm and does the work gets a home to live in, half of the chickens, half of the turkey profits, half of the hogs, half of the eggs and half of the cream sold from the dairy farming activities. No cotton is raised on the farm. In addition to this a acre farm, Dr. Underwood has a 25 acre tract which he is managing in same way this year for the first time.

He does not plan to raise any cotton and only enough wheat for pasture.

Keeps His Field
The crops that he raises are sudan grass for pastures, milo maize, kafir corn, alfalfa, wheat, barley, oats, and of course a garden. None of this is sold, except on hoof or in the form of poultry products.

Dr. Underwood's 80-acre farm is perhaps an ideal Plains farm, and on his land which is situated close to Hale Center and valued at one hundred dollars per acre with the improvements that are on it, a five-year lease, barn and other outbuildings, Dr. Underwood says that he and his tenant will clear easily between three thousand and four thousand dollars during 1927 on his poultry, turkeys, hogs and cows.

He is a great believer in pure bred Jersey cattle and has one of the leading herds of Hale County. His herd which won fifth at the Tri-state Fair and Exposition in Amarillo, in 1925 in the Jersey Cattle class although she had to be entered in a cow class when she was in reality only in the yearling class. This cow, Princess Ganshage Fox and is now three years old. Three out of five of her dams in the last generations behind her had over a thousand pound butter fat record. The cow won first at the Hale County fair in 1926. Another cow which he owns that he is very proud of is Agatha Price, a double granddaughter of Master Man of Oklahoma and a regular of meetings in his herd is a bull known as Majesty Mother's Knight, a pure bred Jersey with 775 pounds of fat record in his dam side and he is a grandson of Majesty St. Cloud and also a great grandson of Ganshage's Knight.

Thirty Head
Dr. Underwood's Jersey herd consists of thirty head of cattle which he is breeding to pure bred sires in an effort to create a herd of improved quality. Four grown registered females and three calves and heifers of registered class besides his two bulls. Dr. Underwood won the pure bred Jersey yearling sires as a premium at the Midland Cattle Show at the Hale County Fair in 1926.

The feed used by him in feeding all of his stock is ground kafir, milo and sorghum. He has a feed mill which crushes the grain all at his feet. He grinds the milo and kafir heads for his grain ration and the stalk, heads and all of the grain sorghum for roughness. He finds that with a three hundred dollar mill run by a small tractor he gets much more out of his feed and on the bunch of cows that he feeds this way the machine makes its way in one year.

Dr. Underwood is installing a small irrigation plant on his farm to be used in raising alfalfa and for other irrigating purposes when it is necessary. He plans to use an irrigation well outfit in general use by California and demonstrated successfully in Hale county by L. P. Barker of Plainview. The outfit is run by a small tractor for power and can produce about five hundred gallons of water per minute according to a test made at the Barker plant last year. The total cost of this irrigation outfit inclusive of the tractor and including the well will be about twelve hundred dollars.

For pasture Dr. Underwood raises sudan grass which is grown as the best sward for dairy cattle in the world and was a plains product almost exclusively in the beginning although it is now raised in nearly every state of the union.

Dr. Underwood who is actively engaged in practicing medicine in Hale Center, and who handles his farm and cows on the outside expects to develop the Jersey breeding business in Hale County to a high point and believes that it can be done profitably.

A. C. C. WILL HAVE BIG NEW BUILDING

OPEN BIDS SOON FOR CONSTRUCTION OF $150,000 ADDITION

Special to The Avalanche
ABILENE, Feb. 28.—Bids for the construction of a $150,000 administration building and auditorium for Abilene Christian college will be opened within the next thirty days. Announcement to this effect was made by a representative of the board of trustees of the institution this week. Plans for the building have been prepared by "Nichols and Campbell, Architects" of this city. Russell Hester is president of the college.

The new building will be strictly modern in every respect. A committee representing the school recently made an extended tour to a number of the leading colleges of the country to obtain ideas as to the proper way to plan and build the structure. The auditorium will have a seating capacity of 2,500 and will be fully equipped. Funds for the erection of the building were obtained here several months ago in a campaign sponsored by the chamber of commerce.

LYNN AND SCURRY TO JOIN LUBBOCK HERE ON APRIL TWELFTH

Several hundred farm club men and women from Lubbock, Scurry and Lynn counties will gather in Lubbock April 12 for an educational meeting. Miss Hazel Hammer, home demonstration agent of Lubbock county, said yesterday, after consultation with Miss Mills Haines and Miss Bessie Carr, demonstration agents in Lynn and Scurry counties, respectively. The clubs will inspect the agricultural experiment station, the county park, and the Texas Technological college. Miss Hammer said, with especial interest in the park, as Lynn and Scurry counties are each asking a five-cent tax for the establishment of similar parks.

Miss Hammer says she will bring nearly 150 to the meeting, and that she expects at least 100 from each of the other counties.

LIVE RIGHT TODAY:—Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth. Proverbs 27:1.

HAVE A HEART IN DOING BUSINESS

In Florida and in some other parts of the country, where there has been some temporary reaction in real estate and other business conditions, ready money is temporarily short. Some business men of the highest integrity are not, therefore, able promptly to meet all of their obligations. In some cases Northern houses persuaded these people to overbuy, causing them to be stocked up with a larger amount of goods than was needed for the lighter trade of the present season as compared with former years. In dealing with the situation manufacturers and merchants in the North and West should be extremely careful not to crowd those who are indebted to them. The whole situation is rapidly clarifying itself, and some houses which could not today pay out all of their indebtedness are intrinsically sound and safe and will be able to meet all their obligations if given ample time. The spirit in which a creditor tries to grab the pound of flesh is not the spirit with which reputable business men ought to act. In grabbing for the pound of flesh they may kill the man from whom the flesh is taken without accomplishing any good for themselves. A live, hustling customer, even if for a time he is a little slow in paying, is vastly better than a man dead financially because some foolish creditor overcrowded him. The low prices of cotton and the reaction in real estate have produced unfavorable conditions for immediate collection of some accounts, but in such cases merchants and other business men should receive the utmost leniency and, indeed, the utmost courtesy, from those to whom they are indebted. In this way friendships are made, business is expanded, and if viewed only from a purely selfish standpoint the results are infinitely better than where one tries to overcrowd an honest debtor. Here and there once in a while a dishonest debtor may rob his creditor, but such cases are so rare in comparison with the number of business men and the number of customers a man may have on his books that extreme friendly leniency is in the long run in such times as these infinitely better than harshness and a determination to get the pound of flesh for fear that somebody else might grab first. We would very strongly urge, that business men in other sections who have overdue accounts in the South should avoid to the utmost extent the pushing of debtors at the present time. Courteous letters requesting payment or information as to business affairs are justified but in some cases where merchants must sell off accumulated stocks slowly they can only pay slowly even though their assets may far exceed their indebtedness. The extreme conservatism of Florida banks and the slow payments by buyers of property opens up exceptional opportunities for Eastern and Western financial interests to loan money in the State where they can secure high rates of interest with ample margin of safety. The situation should immediately command the attention of investors who, like security buyers after a break in Wall street, rush to the bargain counter. The bargain counter in Florida offers rare opportunities.

WORLD PEACE THROUGH EDUCATION

We are at present crossing the divide between two great, vitally different dispensations. In all history thus far the nations have looked to military equipment as a means of preparedness against invasion, the theory being that the nation which could produce the greatest and most efficient equipment would be the securist and might, if it was so desired, subjugate many smaller nations. This in the past forced the idea of the balance of power, triple alliances, the entente, and other forms of national security.

Today we have come to the conclusion that the greatest preparedness is in the hearts of mankind. Good will, friendship, and justice may be taught so that treaties may become more than mere scraps of paper, and expensive military equipment which exhausts the nations may find a substitute in courts of arbitration. To this end the world is centering its interest upon the training of the rising generation.

It is a more difficult task to train a generation to live peaceably with its neighbors than to prepare it for war. The professional militarist whose fortune is war holds war essential to manly courage and national solidarity, but war is the expression of hate. A patriotism built upon hate is a false emotion, while patriotism built upon love of country becomes the ideal.

No one in the present international conditions and attitudes object to a regular army sufficient to maintain law and order in time of peace and to form a suitable skeleton to whatever citizens' army an emergency may demand. But the people have a right to complain when they are kept poor by heavy taxation in order to support competitive armaments and high military spirit.

There is no call for compulsory military training in high schools. Only a small percentage of the youth of our country even yet are found in high schools. If it is made compulsory for them, it should be for all. Our defense can be built up through a small regular army, the national guard, and reserve officers.

Our children should be taught the virtues of the children of other lands. Our schools through the pageant, moving picture, a study of music, and the contributions made by all countries to civilization can be brought to understand the child life of all lands, their interests, home life, school life, recreations, devotions, and aspirations. The children of the world will then be friends, and friends cannot very well fight each other.—Christians Advance.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

The motorist traveling along the most important roads in the state of Ohio will see at more or less frequent intervals small white wooden crosses planted along the roadside. By inquiry he will learn that these crosses mark the places where fatal automobile accidents have occurred. There are 1,800 of these crosses along Ohio's roads.

Not a bad idea as a warning to the reckless automobile drivers, although somewhat uncanny perhaps to the nervous lady riding in the back seat.

But the strange and remarkable thing about the location of these crosses is that most of them are not in the dangerous places, where there are sharp turns, high embankments, steep hills, and other natural hazards—parts of the road where accidents would be considered most probable, but on stretches where it would seem that an accident would be unlikely to occur.

Of course railroad crossings are high in the rating of fatalities, for many motorists still believe that they can beat the train to the crossing—and sometimes they do—but when the race results in a tie the motorist loses. Based on 100 per cent, railroad crossings take up 30 points, bridges 6, road intersections (where they don't know that anyone else is out riding that day) 7, hills 6, turns and curves 18, and straight sections, where one would think that accidents would not occur, 33 per cent.

How can this be accounted for? Probably this is due to the setting aside of the caution which most drivers undoubtedly exercise when dangerous places present themselves. When danger seems possible caution prevails. But when the way seems clear caution is thrown to the winds—and the accident, unlooked for, happens.

It is better to be safe than sorry.

MILLIONS OF LIVES SAVED THROUGH PROHIBITION

There are those who would bring the nasty saloon back into the United States, and blight the lives of millions of the children of this country, but that bunch certainly do not realize what it would mean to the people of this nation—we wonder when people think of this if they realize that saving in human lives through the deceased death rate prevailing under prohibition is estimated by the American Insurance Union of this city as close to a million lives in the last five years. This estimate was made public in a statement issued by the Anti-Saloon League of America "as a splendid reason why the voters will not permit the repeal or nullification of our prohibition laws." The statement quotes the official publication of the American Insurance Union, "The decrease in the death rate which accompanied prohibition has greatly and favorably affected insurance companies. It is reflected in gains from mortality, one of the principal sources of profit for insurance companies. In 1923, the last year which has been computed, amounted to $156,696,949, while in twenty-seven industrial insurance companies it amounted to $226,641,963. This represents the difference between the expected and actual amount of death claims payable. The saving of human lives through the decreased death rate prevailing under prohibition has been estimated as close to a million lives in the last five years."

In connection with this report, the American Insurance Union, through its president, John J. Lentz, gave this advice to its policy holders: "Be an intelligent thinker on the prohibition question! Don't let some one else do your thinking for you!"

HEALTH EDUCATION IN CHILDHOOD

The physical examination of school children has become an accepted thing in most classrooms. Weighing and measuring at regular intervals as an index of development, protection of the teeth and eyes, some form of health education, all these things the schools along Main street report. One of the great general gains which may be counted in this progress is the recognition of health as one of the primary objectives of education.

One of the most interesting phases of one survey was an inquiry into the habits of 85,000 school children of the fifth grade of schools in 86 cities. The composite which this habit picture gives is hopeful. It shows an eleven-year old who gets ten hours sleep, who averages a fraction over two glasses of milk a day (not enough, of course, and with one-fifth of the 35,000 drinking no milk at all), it shows him familiar at least with the Saturday night bath, given to brushing his teeth and visiting the dentist. He goes to school in a building which is, in most cases, clean; where the common drinking cup is a thing of the past, where the vacuum cleaner is beginning to displace the duster and the broom, and the radiator is displacing the open stove.

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

MEMORIES

The Avalanche dated July 8, 1904, had in its local columns the following:

"Col. Frank Bowles, his wife and son, were in Lubbock Tuesday, and reports everything moving along nicely in that part of the country."

"Bob Stoker of the west part of the county was seen on the streets Wednesday of this week."

"Will Graves, conductor of the Cannon Ball Freight, between Lubbock and Canyon, returned Saturday with a big lot of merchandise for Lubbock people."

"W. G. Nairn, the big Scotch sheepman from northeast of town, was here Tuesday."

"Thad Tubbs, the handsomest bachelor of Cochran county, was in the burg Saturday looking after business matters and getting his mail."

"Joe and Kid Powell, of the Laguna Saca ranch, were in town Monday. Jolly Joe has our thanks in helping us gather a nice batch of news for this issue of the paper."

"Mrs. Jno. T. Beall, left last Saturday for New Mexico, where she will spend the summer months on her husband's ranch in that section."

The Fourth of July festivities were rather light. There was a burro race and a number of patriotic citizens met at the court house and heard the declaration of independence read and listened to speeches by Judges Rahn and Hane. Though the day passed very quietly, everyone seemed to enjoy themselves.

SO THINK WE

We think this would be a dead old world if everybody had the same idea about things.

We think from the looks of things now, there will probably be more of the penitentiary officials discharged than prisoners. Possibly if those fellows were on the inside looking out they might not be worth of a discharge, but as it appears to us some of them deserve some sort of dismissal papers from the job they have.

We think Miss Peach Bloom will probably find that her dress is entirely out of season before this spell of cold weather is over.

We think if it were only out of style to drink and smoke many of the young ladies would not do it. They will possibly have formed the habit however to such extent before the style changes, and it will be hard to quit.

We think those fellows who say they do not believe there is any hell certainly must not own radios. Static would prove to them at once that they are surely mistaken.

We think that if the legislature will pass a law compelling people to respect the laws, it might be a great thing.

We think if people would put in just half of the time, in obeying the laws that they do in trying to enforce them, there would be a better moral atmosphere.

We think Lubbock is building more pretty homes, and more business houses than any other town on the South Plains, and this is all going on without a lot of glaring head lines in the state papers, telling the main lines of the railroad is coming through the city.

We think some towns like some people make themselves obnoxious by their continual hammering away at the other town. Usually a town builds more rapidly when the people telling of the demerits of the other town.

We think there is one thing pretty sure that we all have our worries and we all have our periods of rest. We notice while we town folks are worrying and working the hardest at our vacation that the farmers are having their rest period.

We think Mr. Borah has possibly issued more challenges than most any other man in the United States. We failed to get the serial number of the one just recently issued by that noted statesman to the government.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that some of the fellows who have been dodging grand juries threaten to leave this county, because of the creation of a new court here. They seem to think they will have to be away from home too much of the time, especially if both these courts have grand juries.

It is reported that this damp spell of weather will leave the building in good condition to receive a nice new coat of paint.

It is reported that after this spell of wet weather that we will have sun, but even then we would suggest that spring is not here yet.

It is reported that England has accepted the disarmament plan. She can possibly do away with a bunch of her ships, etc., and still have a lot more than her share.

It is reported that an oil derrick near Muleshoe burned, and some reports say it was from the gas in the well, becoming ignited. We hope it was natural gas.

It is reported that Lubbock still has a few automobile smash-ups. This will continue till everyone is lousy to be careful.

It is reported that several hundred children play in the streets of Lubbock every day, and this is sure to result in a fatal accident sometime in the near future.

It is reported that there will be less argument if you will step forward and pay railroad bonus notes within the next few days.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

A year ago today the Avalanche stated that Mrs. Ferguson had tossed her hat in the ring for another race for Governor of Texas.

Texas university ex-students were preparing to celebrate Texas independence day by a banquet and program at the Tech cafeteria.

It was announced that the Lubbock county teachers would meet at Carlsbad for normal program, under the direction of County Superintendent P. F. Brown.

Dikre Cullum announced the formal opening of his auto accessory business on Avenue K.

Too much alcohol and too much gas caused one Lubbock citizen to add to the city treasury. More than sixty dollars from five speeders.

The stock judging teams from the Tech college were tuning up for a contest at Canyon and also at A. and M. college.

Funeral services were conducted for Mary Louise Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Moore, who died at the family home on Ave. G.

Cosch-Make Davis was getting his nine ready for practice in the West-end line-ups.

DIVERSIFICATION BEING PROVEN

Lynn County Farmer Can't Kick On Low Cotton Prices

Mr. J. W. Terry of the Gordon community, northeast of Tahoka, is one Lynn county farmer who is a real diversified. He is another farmer who has nothing to say about hard times. Besides farming in the field, he raises poultry, hogs, dairy cows, garden products, fruit, berries and freckles has a head to kill.

On the 15th of 1926, Mr. Terry raised 15 varieties of vegetables in the garden and two in the ran. In his orchard he has twenty producing fruit trees. He also has 150 berry plants. When he began raising so much stuff on his place that he could not use all of it as it became ready for use, he bought a canning outfit, and here is what he canned last year:

265 cans of meat, value $121.50
3 cans dillpickle, value 7.50
44 cans vegetables, value 95.16
41 cans fruit, value 42.00
25 quarts preserves, value 52.50
3348 quarts pickles and relishes, value 74.00

Total $429.66
Besides canning all of this, he cured 500 pounds of meat for home use, made 500 pounds of soap at a value of $25, and had all the fresh vegetables in his garden for his family could eat.

That's not all. Mr. Terry raised a standard breed of poultry, and during the past year they yielded him a good profit. He sold 371 chickens to the market at 50 cents each, or a total of $185.50, and he sold 330 at broilers at $1.00 each, or $330.00.

During the year he has produced 45,294 eggs, or 2,608 dozen. Of these 2,583 dozen were sold on the market, 427 dozen for hatching and 183 dozen were used on the family table.

He culled his flock, keeping 260 of the highest grade hens and discarding the other 37,000. He also raised a few calves for "butter reference," and sold them for $2.50 each.

He also raised 22 calves at the Garza County Fair at Fort.

Yes, England Watches for Spies, but Seldom Catches One

BY MILTON BRONNER

NEW Service Writer
LONDON, Feb. 28.—New York papers, which have just come over here, print a story in which the reader is informed that Europe is having its first big international spy scare since the World War.

Scotland Yard, it says, has redoubled its watch for spies at the channel ports and "even American residents, who generally are considered harmless, must have identity cards and must report their movements to the police."

It really isn't as bad as it sounds; and besides, it is seven years old. The whole situation is one which grew out of the great war when it was essential for the safety of the United Kingdom that every foreigner should be tagged. The present system is a hang over, like so many other substances.

Tourist Jack Betts, who comes to England for a few weeks' visit, is not affected at all—and will not be. The police rule—which has been in effect for over seven years—is that Americans, like other aliens in Great Britain, must apply to the police for an identity card if they are making an extended stay in Great Britain.

Each citizen of a foreign country thus sojourning here must supply the nearest police headquarters with three copies of his photograph. One of these is posted in the identity book given him. The others are retained in the files of the police. There is no annoyance, no third degree stuff, nothing but courtesy, expedition and business-like methods.

The only nuisance in the whole affair is that every time you change your residence or your boarding house, you are supposed to go to police headquarters and report this fact, so that it can be duly stamped in your book and duly noted in the police dossier upon yourself.

Presumably the system is kept up, so that if, for any reason, the police ever want you, they know exactly where to find you.

But, like so many nets spread by the authorities, the meshes are so big the very fish they want to catch slip through. Law abiding Americans, like other foreigners of the same caliber, duly obey the law and report their every move.

Easy to Slip By
But the fellow, who is a rascal or a crook or a shady person, who doesn't want the police to know too much about him, simply neglects to keep the police posted. He is swallowed up with "for the most part" of failing to report to the police. Nor is he ever caught at the channel ports unless a watch is being kept for him on some specific serious charge.

Leaving Great Britain is a comparatively easy matter. You are required to fill out a card giving your name, age, nationality, what class you are traveling and a few more details. You give this to the police authorities as you pass through the gates to board your steamer. You don't produce your passport and you are not asked for your identity card. You could even give a false name.

Truth is, the whole clumsy system—like the equally cumbersome method of demanding passport examinations when you land in the country—has probably been kept up because it gives jobs to a lot of people who would be out of work if the thing were straightened.

"Farthest West" Boy Scouts Are Farthest North, Too

By NEA Service

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 28.—If you will look at the map of Alaska, up near the point where the American continent draws close to Asia, you will discover Cape Prince of Wales. It is the "farthest west" point on the continent. And on it stands Uncle Sam's farthest west school.

The children, who attend this school all are Eskimos, Indians or combinations of the two, with here and there a trace of white blood. The boys of the school have just organized the Farthest West Boy Scout troop in America.

If you have imagined Alaska as a land of perpetual ice and snow, with maybe a few reindeer and polar bears swimming through ice-strewn seas, you may wonder what these school children and Boy Scouts find to do. As a matter of fact, they are kept busier than most American school children. They learn a great many things besides the three R's.

Nothing But An Idea
It was to help the boys along in their studies that Clark Barber, government school teacher, decided to organize the troop.

Then, for unknown, he got hold of some old army belts and packs from an Alaskan army post. Nimble fingers of native women and school girls reduced the equipment in size until it fitted the sturdy, stocky frames of the Eskimo scouts. Then Barber was ready for work.

He taught the scouts that the first secret of commercial success is health, and that health comes through clean living. That is the main lesson the bureau of education, Alaska division, tries to teach the Eskimos. It seeks to make him independent and comparatively rich. And it is coming along very well with its plans.

They Police the Village
Twice monthly the scouts hold village meetings, at which problems of the community are discussed. They work with the Eskimo village council and it is their particular job to keep the community clean and sanitary. They look after the needy, police the village, see that the curfew law is obeyed and act as official welcome and hosts to visitors.

Today's Poem

'TIS NOT THE WORLD, 'TIS YOU

With the world you seek
To find a moment—stop and reason—
Take of life a broader view.
For 'tis not the world that needs
Changing—my dear friend, 'tis you.
When you feel sad and down-hearted,
Rise up and make another try.
Just remember the sun is shining,
Though the clouds obscure the sky.
This life of ours is what we make it—
We're repaid for all we do.
So with the world be not fast finding
—When the trouble lies with you.

YANKS STAND PAT ON BABE RUTH'S SALARY

BAMBO'S DEMAND FOR $100,000 IS CALLED "UNREASONABLE" BY RUPPERT; SWAT KING MAY DESERT BASEBALL

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The New York Yankees apparently were making no idle gesture to comply with baseball law when they offered Babe Ruth a renewal of his old $32,000 a year contract for 1927. The club intends to stand pat on this proposal, it was learned on good authority today, in spite of the fact that the transcontinental highway for a new contract at the rate of $100,000.

Baseball men generally have supposed that with the rise of player value the Yankees would be willing to go as high as $75,000 to sign their star home run hitter, but as interpreted in reliable sources today, the club is not disposed to make any compromise.

Neither Colonel Ruppert, the owner, nor Ed Barrow, business manager, would comment on their attitude today, but Colonel Ruppert's statement that Ruth's $100,000 demand was "unreasonable" seemed to support the view that the club is not in a temporary mood.

The Yankee officials if they stick to a contention that the Babe is not worth more than his previous $52,000 salary in spite of a big 1926 season and exceptional work in the world's series may be without the services of their colorful star when the season opens. The Babe's letter put his demands on record in firm tones and emphasized that he was prepared to leave the game if they weren't met.

ODDS STAND TWO TO ONE AGAINST McTIGUE IN FIGHT WITH HEAVIER SHARKEY NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—If Jack Dempsey's rapier like right hand thrusts decisively the barrier of Jimmy McTigue's 21-pound advantage, what prospect has the veteran Mike McTigue, who has fought through 20 rounds and winning their 15 round match at Madison Square Garden next Thursday night?

Not much, any bystander may be informed, if he takes his answer from betting odds that stand at 2 to 1 tonight in Sharkey's favor and from the bulk of expert opinion after the rival fighters had gone through their last strenuous workouts.

to the logic of those who see end of his ambitious climb this week. He predicts that he will beat Sharkey decisively, possibly knock him out, and then be ready to take on Paulino, McTigue, Dempsey and Timmer, in any order or any way it can be arranged.

Inasmuch as Mike has conceded anywhere from eight to thirty pounds to his last five opponents and knocked them all out, he isn't worrying over this handicap in the Sharkey bout. The Irish boxer weighed 170 today and Sharkey weighed 195. Sharkey already has put himself on record as being able to dispose of all obstacles to a heavyweight title bout.

When Derrill Pratt, former American League star, attended University of Alabama, he also specialized in football and ranked as one of the best drop kickers in the south.

Perhaps that explains why Pratt played the leading role in one of the most unusual double plays ever made in the American League.

Detroit was playing the New York Americans at the Polo Grounds. Pratt was at second for New York while Peckinpaugh was stationed at short. There was one out at the time and Detroit had started a rally that it seemed would decide the ball game.

The batsman hit a sizzling grounder to Pratt's right. There, didn't seem to be a chance for him to make a play on the ball. As the ball was hit, Peckinpaugh moved over to cover second should there be a play at that base. Pratt never did reach the ball with his hands but he did so with his trusty right foot. When the ball appeared to have passed him it took a peculiar english and came into contact with the toe of Pratt's right shoe.

The result was a beautiful drop-kick that Peckinpaugh took out of the air shoulder high just as he touched second base. His throw to first easily beat the batsman, retiring the side and ending the rally.

It is the only incident on record where a football drop kick was brought into baseball for the purpose of staging a double play.

Resume Work on Yellowhouse Well

Following the wedding of a drill bit which was broken Friday, drilling operations on the Yellow House number 1, 12 miles southeast of Littlefield, have been resumed, reports from Littlefield stated yesterday. The test was down 3,765 feet when the bit was broken Friday.

The bit is cutting through a gray line formation that, in the opinion of geologists, is a good indication. They have advised that pay will likely be reached around 3,800 feet, which is practically the level of the Panhandle and Big Lake pools.

collusion and in the latter upon apprehension of Japanese encroachments.

The $100,000 "loan" made in Fall by Doheny was related in detail, not as an influencing factor in the court's decision that the contracts and leases were illegal, but as a part of the corruption feature. Justice Butler characterized the money as having been "given" to Fall.

In only one minor detail did the supreme court disagree with the circuit court and that was in finding that Denby signed the leases and contracts without misapprehension and with full knowledge of the contents. Justice Butler declared that Denby "is presumed to have had knowledge of what he signed," adding that there was direct evidence to show that he had. He, however, took no active part in the negotiations, the justice said, declaring that "Fall, acting collusively with Doheny, dominated the making of the contracts and leases."

Tainted With Corruption

The whole transaction was declared to have been "tainted with corruption." The court stating that it was not necessary to show that the money transaction between Doheny and Fall constituted bribery or that Fall was financially interested in the transaction, or that the United States suffered or was liable to suffer any financial loss or disadvantage as a result of the contracts and leases.

The making of the contracts and leases was ascribed to the purpose of circumventing the laws and defeating

AUSTIN, Feb. 28.—A composite vote of six sporting editors in the southwest on the candidates for the all-southwestern conference basketball team as compiled by The Associated Press give the following selections for the first and second teams:

FIRST SECOND
Allison, S. M. University of Brock, Texas (Forward)
Steele, Arkansas. Cantelini, T. C. U. (Forward)
Pfeiffer, Arkansas. Nation, Texas (Guard)
Baker, A. and M. Estes, Texas (Guard)
Rose, Arkansas. Matthews, T. C. U. (Guard)
In the selection, made by Flen P. Hall, Star-Telegram; Jim Tucker, News-Tribune; Kelly Cousins, Post-Dispatch; George Fall, Waco Times-Herald; Frank White, Austin American and Ned Record, Record-Telegram no one player was the unanimous choice.

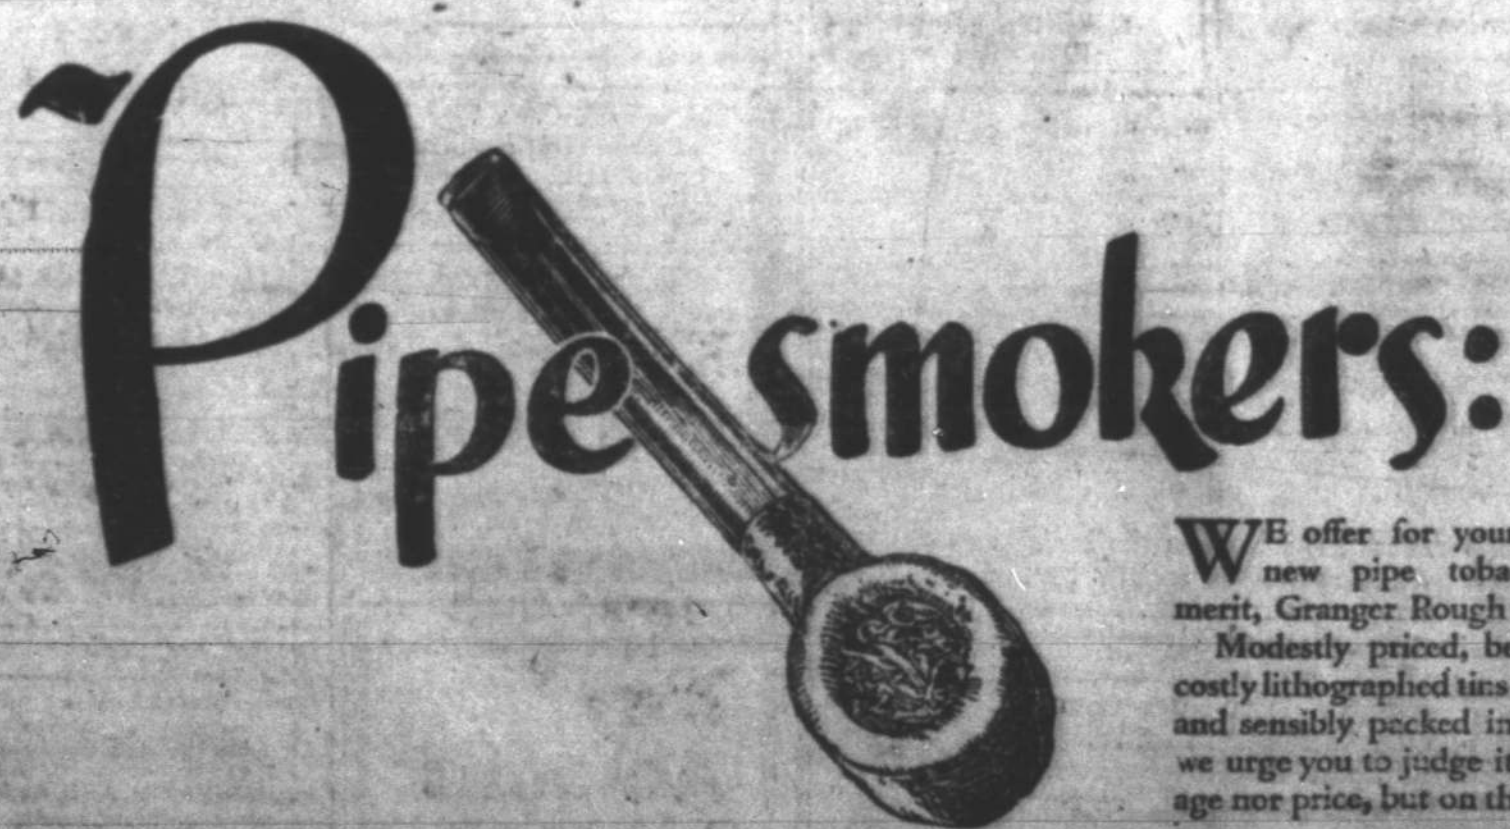

Allison of S. M. U. and Steele of Arkansas both received five votes for forward and Rose of Arkansas, received five votes for guard. The largest number of votes for first string places received by any of the other players named was three and it was necessary to count the second string choices to break the dead lock.

the policy of the United States to keep the oil in the ground. The navy wanted fuel depots or storage facilities that had not been authorized by congress, the court said, and for that reason had looked with favor upon the leases which would provide the means.

The contracts and leases, and all done under them, constituted transactions not authorized by law and consummated by "conspiracy, corruption and fraud," the court asserted. Pointing out that the storage of fuel oil at Pearl Harbor had not been authorized in excess of the facilities provided by congress, it declared that congress must decide what may be the usefulness or value of the tanks erected by Doheny and whether he is to be compensated for any part of his outlay under the contracts and leases.

After the decision had been rendered Secretary Wilbur said the navy department was prepared to take over the oil reserves and that Rear Admiral H. H. Rousseau, civil engineer corps, would be placed in charge of them.

Since the case has been in the courts the reserves have been operated by a receiver under the direction of the court.

WE offer for your consideration a new pipe tobacco of singular merit, Granger Rough Cut.

Modestly priced, because instead of costly lithographed tins it is inexpensively and sensibly packed in heavy foil. But we urge you to judge it neither on package nor price, but on the two things pipe smokers will most enjoy; its good taste and its superb smoking qualities.

We believe that for character, mild richness, and coolness, Granger will compare with any pipe tobacco made. At ten cents per package (due to the foil wrapper), it is beyond question the greatest tobacco value to be had today.

WILLIAM DOLLAR GOES TRAVELING

NATIONAL PAY-UP WEEK STARTS HIS ROUND IN LUBBOCK

William Dollar received a warm welcome in Lubbock yesterday and before the day was over had done much toward his part in observing "National Pay-Up Week" which is being sponsored by the Retail Merchants Association of the United States. He was so impressed with Lubbock yesterday and with the people in the town that he has decided to remain a major part of the week here.

Offered by the local organization of the Retail Merchants, "Bill" made a few visits over the city. Starting from the Avalanche-Journal office, he called on the Myrick Hardware company.

But first you better meet "Bill". He is just a plain dollar bill, a one dollar green-back, and the whole idea of his call here is to show you how far he will travel when given a chance.

The Avalanche-Journal paid this dollar bill to the Myrick Hardware company, who in turn paid it to the Clervo Smith Lumber Co. The Clervo Smith Lumber Co. paid it to the Long Bell Lumber Co. and the Long Bell Lumber Co. paid it to the Sherrod Bros. Hardware Co.

$500 in Thirty Minutes
And Mr. William Dollar reached Sherrod Bros. in less than thirty minutes after he started on his travels and in that time had paid $5 worth of accounts. Think of it, one single dollar paying $5 worth of accounts in less than thirty minutes.

It is the big idea back of National Pay-Up Week, which has been set aside all over the nation from February 23 to March 5, and which the members of the local Retail Merchants Association is sponsoring here. "I'll pay you," "You pay him," "He'll pay me," and so on, and money is started to circulating and thousands of dollars of accounts are paid, and perhaps in the end the man who pays the first account will be just as well off as when he started for some well have paid him.

On His Gait
But back to old Bill Dollar—Sherrod Bros. took him over to the City Drug store and paid him on account, and Lige Robertson paid him into the Hunt Grocery, whereupon A. G. Hunt paid him back to the City Drug. Lige Robertson wanted to get rid of Bill Dollar, so he gave him to Mrs. Robertson, who in turn paid the bill to the City Drug.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Among the dentists who are in Amarillo attending a course on dental economics are Dr. J. B. McCorkle, Dr. G. M. Terry, Dr. H. H. Bldwell, and Dr. W. H. Howard.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wheeler, of Shallowater, is recuperating in a local hospital following an operation for appendicitis Sunday.

C. J. McElman, of Antton, was in Lubbock on local business yesterday.

A. R. Allen, brother of E. R. Allen, of this city, was in Lubbock transacting business yesterday from his home in Hockley county.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Taylor and two children are moving to Lubbock from Stamford and will make their home at 1914 10th street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ohlen Franklind moved into their new home at 1809 8th street yesterday.

Miss Audie Terrell, of Littlefield, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Green Thompson.

Max T. Morris has returned from a trip to Sharnock.

C. H. Grullman has gone to New York to buy merchandise for his store here.

Shirley Jean Bridges, of Post, visited her aunt, Mrs. L. H. Howard, during the week-end.

Among the out-of-town visitors to local physicians yesterday were Lee Duckworth, of Post; Mrs. T. J. Raney, Lamesa; W. W. Bowers, Levelland; William Thompson, Abilene; W. A. Langford, Amberst; Zeke Baldwin, of Slaton; Fred Shell, Ralls; R. P. Lyall, of Slaton; C. J. Chapman, of Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Baldwin and family were in Lubbock yesterday from Slaton.

Mr. and Mrs. Erv Sale, of near Dallas, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Dowell, 804 Avenue K.

Charles Whitacre is in Memphis.

Dr. D. D. Cross has been called up to Memphis by the illness of his mother.

Mrs. J. W. Shipworth, of Clisco, was here during the week-end consulting local physicians and it is probable that she will return for an operation.

Miss Louise McGee, teacher in the Littlefield school, spent the week-end with her mother in Lubbock.

J. W. Hood and J. F. Pohl, of Slaton, were business visitors here yesterday.

W. C. and J. D. Henly, of Greenville, brothers of Mrs. A. B. Slagle, of this city, were here Sunday and yesterday. The former has accepted a position with the Carter-Houston company at Plainview.

Thirty-six paving contracts with property owners and the Potham construction company were filed with the county clerk yesterday. Work is to begin soon on the paving, company officials say.

Coch and Mrs. E. Y. Freeland and little son, are expected to return today from Brownwood where they have been visiting friends and relatives the past week-end.

Only 5452 automobiles have been registered in the office of county tax collector I. F. Holland, the records show. With an estimated car population of 7500 cars, the new state highway inspector, L. E. Keller, will have a good job making the delinquents pay up.

Out-of-town people who visited in Lubbock yesterday included C. C. Ingram, of Crosbyton; J. E. Jones, of Abilene; W. W. Bowers, of Levelland; and W. A. Scott, of Littlefield.

Raiders during the week-end in down-town offices by members of the Lubbock police force netted five gamblers, two drunks, two fighters and one man charged with fighting and disturbing the peace.

When the huge cedar logs used in a corduroy road built in 1915 in Vermont were removed recently during improvement of the highway, their centers were found to be intact.

GIRLS TO BE ACTIVE IN BASKETBALL

At a meeting of the girls of the college with Miss Johnnie Glickerson last night, plans were perfected to give the girls several weeks of basketball training during the spring term.

The games will be played every afternoon from 6 until 8 o'clock. The first practice is to be held Thursday.

The basketball will be considered as a way of making points for the W. A. A. awards, 100 points being allowed when a girl makes the team. Nine hundred points are required to make a sweater.

100 points being allowed for each team made by the girls such as the liking team, the basket ball team, the swimming team, the volleyball team and the tennis team.

Besides the regular W. A. A. work, the girls are to organize their basketball into intramural competition. College Inn, Doak Hall and possibly other girls' halls are to organize teams as well as several teams composed of town girls. Regular scheduled games will be played.

MORE THAN 100 TO ATTEND FIRST ANNUAL ENGINEERS' BANQUET
With everything in readiness and with more than 100 tickets already sold for the affair, the engineering students of the college will gather around the banquet table in the hall of the Lubbock hotel tonight in their first annual banquet. The banquet will begin at 7 o'clock.

They are all to be there, the mechanical engineers, the textile engineers, the architectural engineers, the chemical engineers, the civil engineers and the electrical engineers. Each department is to be heard from in the program which has been prepared, each class having a speaker on the program.

The freshmen are to be represented by Samuel H. J. Womack, the sophomores by W. E. Street, the juniors by M. Z. Clipp, Jr., Prof. J. E. Murdock is to act as toastmaster for the occasion which will end in an address by Dean William J. Miller.

The Tuning Fork Quartet are to feature their selections and Prof. Mrs. Mary W. Donk, dean of women and Miss Margaret Weeks, dean of the school of home economics are absent from the campus also and Mrs. S. H. Hinchey, president of the Tech Home Economics association, is acting as dean of women.

Ask Mandamus to Collect Checks

Declaring that the First National bank, with funds of Cochran county on deposit sufficient to pay $2,000 worth of checks, had refused to honor two checks for $1,000 each given by Cochran county to the West Audit company of Abilene, this company, through Lachart and Garrard, Lubbock attorneys, yesterday filed petition in district court here for a writ of mandamus to force payment of the checks.

The writ was scheduled for the club during the remainder of the year, Mrs. Ruth Pirtle, director stated yesterday. Toward the latter part of the spring term, students of the college are to present a long play to the public.

SOCK AND BUSKIN CLUB MEETS TONIGHT
After two weeks of other things, the members of the sock and buskin club will be entertaining tonight with the play, "The Trysting Place," under the direction of Miss Margaret McNabb. The play is of an excellent plot and every member is urged to be at the meeting on time. The curtain will be drawn at 8:30.

County Justice Has Light Day Monday
Continous dissemination of justice was light yesterday. An Idaho man was fined $3 and costs in county court for being drunk, and a Mexican was assessed a similar fine for a like offense before Justice W. S. Clark.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—A further advance in the cotton market today carried prices into new high ground for the movement. May contracts selling at 14.35 or 14.36 points net higher, and closing at 14.31. The general market closed fairly steady, net unchanged to 11 points higher. New crop months were relatively easy. December closing net unchanged, while old crop positions showed net gains of 3 to 11 points for the day.

The market opened steady at a decline of 2 points on March, but generally 1 to 2 points higher on reports of continued good spot demand in the south and less favorable weather advice. Initial offerings were soon absorbed and after some irregularity, the market worked up to 14.30 for March.

14.31 for July and 14.32 for October, or about 6 to 15 points net higher on the general list.

A little more southern hedge selling was reported at the advance, part of which was in the new crop months, while there also was a good deal of re-selling around the 14.1-2 cent level for July. This held advance in check and closing prices showed reactions of a few points from the best. The unsettled weather reported in the south-west may have accounted for some of the buying, but the features most generally emphasized were reports of continued good spot demand and of steadiness in the southern markets.

Private cables said trade calling had been supplied by hedge selling with

DAILY MARKET

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

London and Manchester liquidation in Liverpool, but reported extensive cotton cloth demand with some difficulty in arranging deliveries, and a fair turnover in yarns.

Exports today 22,620, making 7,582, 932 so far this season.

Port receipts 47,198. U. S. port stocks 2,789,365.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—In spite of pre-holiday liquidation cotton prices clambered upward today, dipping once into a realization cavity, but rising head and shoulders above its brow before the session closed to leave the market steady with net gains for the day of 2 to 3 points.

The market opened steady. Two points up to one down in spite of poor Liverpool cables. A finger hold for the first upward tug came in the form of heavy spot sales in Liverpool.

Unfavorable weather furnished the second step for the climb and good spot sales in the country gave an added boost to the first peak where March traded at 14.22, May 14.33 and July 14.47, nine to ten points above Saturday's close.

Prices eased downward several points in liquidation but the selling was soon hoisted and the market pulled to gains of 11 to 12 points above the previous close where May and July set new highs at 14.25 and 14.35, respectively. The market closed off 4 to 5 points in the late trading realization, but the loss was recovered before the close.

The lows set in the slump followed the early highs saw March at 14.17, May 14.28 and July 14.42, 3 to 5 points below the highs.

Exports totaled 22,671.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Cottonseed oil was moderately active today, with a steady undertone, influenced by covering of shorts in March and scattered buying of the later positions, promoted by the steadiness of raw cotton and spot oil. The close was 1 to 9 points net higher. Sales 10,500 barrels. Prime crude 8.50; prime summer yellow spot 8.80; March closed 9.87; May 2.88; July 10.08; September 10.17.

COTTON GOODS

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Orders for printed wash fabrics were large today and the gray cotton goods markets continued steady, with demand light. Fine combed yarns have been selling more freely. Raw silk was higher at Yokohama and firm here. Silk goods were in moderate request. Wool goods were in moderate call. Durum were higher at Calcutta, and steady here, with business light.

WOOL

BOSTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Wool inquiry for wool is very slow. Reports indicate business very spotty with manufacturers. Those that have offered their new lines are getting some orders, but the volume does not appear large, and business is not very general as yet. Wool dealers report sales to mills that have booked orders. Little interest is shown, however, by mills that do not have orders to cover.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, Feb. 28 (AP)—Cattle, 15,000; steers uneven, generally steady; she stock strong to 25 higher; vealers steady; top steers 12.00; bulk 9.00 to 10.50; best yearlings 10.75; vealers 10.50 to 11.50.

Hogs 37,000; slow and drab; top 12.15; bulk 11.50 to 12.10; pigs 9.50 to 11.00; estimated butchers 9.00.

Sheep, 1,000; fat lambs 25 to 50 higher; top 15.50; bulk 14.50 to 15.50; sheep strong; fat ewes 12.50 to 13.50; feeding and yearling lambs 25 to 50 higher; bulk 13.50 to 14.15.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Feb. 28 (AP)—Generally steady conditions prevailed in the cattle trade here today, the exception being on yearlings which were weak to 25 cents lower. The hog market continued its climb of last week by advancing 10 to 15 cents. The sheep trade was steady.

Receipts amounted to 1,600 grown cattle, 500 calves, 2,000 hogs and 200 sheep.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 28 (AP)—Wheat is a result of heavy snow affording needed moisture to the winter crop west and southwest wheat values today turned down grade. Closing quotations on wheat were weak 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 cent to 7 1/2 cent net lower, with corn 3 1/2 to 7 1/2 cent to 11 1/2 cent off, oats unchanged to 1 1/2 cent higher, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to a rise of 35 cents.

For at least the time being, corn appeared virtually friendless. Liberal receipts 534 cars here today. With 1,22,000 bushels increase of the visible supply were too much of a burden for the market to withstand. Oats, however, showed stubborn resistance. Provisions fluctuated upturns in the value of hogs.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—There was no change in the raw sugar market today, but offerings were a little more liberal. The only sale reported was 15,000 bags of Cuban for prompt shipment at 4.95, duty paid.

More liberal offerings in the spot market and the issuance of 40 March notices led to increased selling pressure in raw sugar futures. Prices declined 3 to 5 points for active positions, but covering checked the decline and final prices were a point above the lowest, but still 3 to 4 points under the previous close. Approximate sales 25,000 tons. March closed 2.05; May 3.18; July 3.29; September 3.28; December 3.28.

The refined sugar market was unchanged at 6.00 to 6.20 for fine granulated.

COFFEE

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Coffee futures were quiet today, with prices lower under further liquidation and a little trade selling accompanied by reports that cost and freight offers were being made in some instances. The market opened at a decline of 5 to 11 points and sold off to 13.00 for May, or 25 points net lower. That delivery closed at 13.18, the general market closing at net declines of 11 to 15 points. Estimated sales 23,000 bags. Closing quotations: March 13.95; May 13.18; July 12.41; September 11.78; December 11.49; January 11.45.
