SECOND ANNUAL FAIR OPENED THURSDAY

Dawson County Singers To Meet At Key

Expect Big Crowds To Attend Opening On Saturday Night

Basket Picnic Will Be Featured Sunday At Noon

The big Dawson County Semi-Annual singing convention will be held at Key this year, beginning Saturday night at 7 o'clock.

A special invitation has been extended to all young people who have attended the various singing schools which have been held over the county during the summer, to be present at this convention. To the community which brings the largest number a one dollar cash prize is being offered. There will be several out of county singers who will take part in the singing, as well as the best talent which Dawson county affords, so that all who love good singing are promised a real treat these two days at Key.

Among others who are well known locally will be the Harley Sisters, and Richards family quartet, the Woody Girls quartet and the Pittman sisters. Singing will begin Saturday night at 7 p. m. and again Sunday morning at 10 a. m.

All of Dawson as well as surrounding counties are invited to attend and to bring your basket for the lunch Sunday. Those who will be requested to bring more to eat than your own family will consume, so that there will be a surplus for the visitors. Remember the time is Saturday night the place, Key, ten miles east of Lamesa on Highway Fifteen and the event is the Semi-Annual Dawson County Singing Convention.

Begin Paving Of Lamesa Streets Tuesday Morning

Two Blocks Will Be Improved At This Time

A large crew of men began work this week on the paving program which the city is launching. The block between South Main and Dallas on Second street is being graded preparatory to paving, at this time.

One block on South Main connecting at South Second will also be paved as quickly as possible.

It is hoped by city officials that this will be only the beginning of a widespread paving program over the entire city.

As has been explained before, the city now has a blanket approval from the Works Progress Administration, whereby they can pave any block within the city limits, if property holders on either side will sign up for their share of the cost.

Prices for paving to such property owners, has been greatly reduced under the new set-up it is pointed out, and those who desire paving should contact their neighbors and present your petition to the city.

Rotary Club Holds Regular Meeting

The Lamesa Rotary club held their regular meeting last Friday at noon in the Williams hotel. As usual a fine attendance was recorded.

Rotary Anns, Mrs. Harp and Mrs. Martin gave a most interesting program on the community chest movement. It is pointed out by leaders of the club that a little follow-up work on this program could get the move started in Lamesa.

At next Friday's meeting it is planned to have the moving pictures of the San Francisco convention.

Automobile Accident Takes Life Of Seagraves Man Near Lamesa Sunday

Big Spring Will Send Motorcade To Fair Here

Word has been received by officials of the Dawson County Fair Association that Big Spring will send a motorcade of about twenty cars to visit the Dawson County Fair Friday of this week.

They are coming as a good will token. Relations between Lamesa and Big Spring have always been of the very finest and this gesture on the part of that city will be appreciated by Lamesa.

Loveless Hospital Starts Extensive Building Program

New Wing Adds Eight Patient Rooms To Plant

Contract has been let and workmen began this week on an addition to the Loveless hospital of this city.

The new building will intersect the present hospital on the south and near the center of the building. It will be of one story in height and will conform to the general architecture of the present structures. Allen and Waller have the contract. They are local contractors who have built many of Lamesa's better buildings.

Outside dimensions of the building will be 34 feet and 6 inches by 75 feet, running back almost to the property line on the south.

There will be eight new patient rooms provided, a large living room, dining room and nursery.

An ambulance entrance is also provided in the new structure, which will enable the transportation of patients to and from the hospital, regardless of the weather, without the necessity of taking them outside.

Foundations were being poured this week and construction will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

High School Band Practicing Drills For Football Tilts

The Lamesa High School Band under the direction of Conway E. King have been doing some active training in drills and stunts this week to be used at coming football games in which the band will participate.

New and intricate drills are being perfected and the band promises visitors who see the Tornadoes in action not only some good football, but some real entertainment between halves, as well as while the game is in progress.

The youngsters in the band have been working hard, and each afternoon around six o'clock music and the beat of drums may be heard at McCollum field while they perfect the various drills.

The band now has about ninety members, with seventy-five of them fitted with new uniforms. Besides the membership, they sport a senior drum major, junior drum major and three majorettes. The majorettes are dressed in white and the twirling of their batons has been perfected to the extent that the young ladies are quite proficient in the art.

The band makes a very striking appearance when it swings into action and Mr. King as well as the entire personnel, are to be congratulated.

Olon Earnest And Olin Nix Buy IHC Line From Yates

Deal Consumated Here On Wednesday Afternoon

A deal was consumated this week wherein Olon Earnest and Olin Nix have purchased the International agency, together with all implements and repairs, tractors, etc., from the E. R. Yates Hardware.

The deal was completed Wednesday afternoon, and the new firm will begin invoicing the stock within a few days and will then take over the business.

Plans were not definite Thursday afternoon, according to Mr. Earnest, but detailed information will be given the public next week he said.

These gentlemen are prominent in Dawson County and are well known. Mr. Earnest is at present County Commissioner from Precinct One, which office he has filled for several years. He was not a candidate for re-election this year. Mr. Nix is a prominent farmer, who is well and favorably known for his keen business judgment.

Watch the Courier for complete announcement at a later date.

Local Chevrolet Men See 1939 Car

Messrs. T. F. and L. B. Vaughn of the Vaughn Chevrolet Company, local dealers for Chevrolet cars and trucks, returned Tuesday night from Oklahoma City, where they attended a preview showing of the new 1939 Chevrolets.

They are very enthusiastic in their account of the new car and predict that it will meet with the heartiest approval of any car on the market this year.

Of course, they are not allowed to tell what the new features will be, but they do say that it has many worthwhile improvements and new features.

The new cars will be shown in their show room in Lamesa Saturday, October 22.

Blow-Out Causes Auto To Overturn With 7 Occupants

Victim Succumbs Mon. Morning In Local Hospital

Charles W. Meador, 44, of Seagraves was fatally injured in an automobile accident on Highway Fifteen, about three miles west of Lamesa Sunday about eleven a. m.

Mr. Meador, together with Mrs. Meador, their three children, Mrs. Meador's father, J. M. Baker and her brother, both of Athens, Texas, were in a 1937 Ford pickup, driven by young Mr. Baker. Mr. Baker and his son, Wade, were riding on top of some household goods, the boy being wrapped in a quilt. It is thought that Mr. Meador must have jumped, when a rear tire blew out and the car turned over. He suffered a concussion of the brain and died Monday morning at about 3:30 in a local hospital.

The boy was rolled along in front of the overturning car, and was not hurt. None of the others were seriously hurt.

He had been employed in Seagraves by the West Texas Gas Company, and was moving with his family back to Athens, Texas, his former home, when the accident occurred.

It was not ascertained where he would be buried, but presumably the body was carried to Athens.

First Of Materials Placed On Ground For New Stadium

Actual Construction To Be Started Soon

Tools and materials were being placed on the ground at McCollum Field, today, preparatory to starting actual construction on the new steel, concrete and wood stadium which will be built there.

Bids were opened last week and the contract awarded to the Suggs Construction Company of Big Spring.

It is expected that the new stadium will not be finished for perhaps three months. It is to be built on the south side of the playing field and the present bleacher seats will be entirely removed. The seating capacity will be approximately 2500. The old tier of seats on the north side of the field will be left intact and added to the new stadium, possibly 3500 people may be seated in the completed stadium. The stadium will be 22 feet high at the back side, 220 feet long and 47 1-2 feet in width.

Contract price was $8,987.00, which is a part of a building program which the Lamesa school board is engaging in, and which when completed will probably run near $150,000.

FORT WORTH VISITOR

Homer St. Clair, congenial and popular manager of Clero Smith Lumber Company in Lamesa, made a business trip to Fort Worth over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Simpson attended a Texaco business meeting in Dallas this past week. They also visited friends in Caldwell.

Your Neighbor

J. M. PETERSON

J. M. Peterson in 1907 moved to Dawson county settling on a farm about three miles from his present home. In 1915 he purchased the farm upon which he now lives, and has since added to his holdings, until today he has an 800 acres of fine land as there is in Dawson county.

Mr. Peterson has been, ever since he arrived in the county, a great civic leader and he has devoted much time, effort and thought to the religious and educational betterment of his home community, McCarty. He served as a member of the McCarty school board for fourteen years and four years on the county school board.

He is at present president of the Dawson County Fair Association, to which post he was elevated about a year ago. Prior to that time he had been a member of the Fair Board of Directors since the organization began. Mr. Peterson has devoted much of his interest to the developing of one of the finest herds of dairy cattle in all West Texas. While he not only has these fine cattle himself, he has encouraged others to do likewise and has been very instrumental in bringing some of the better herds to Dawson county. Up until a few years ago featured blooded hogs on his farm, but more recently he has devoted his entire interest in the development of his dairy herds.

He is an ardent booster for this section of West Texas and has been a tireless worker in all things which he deemed good for the county. His program has been one of diversification and he attributes this to the success he has obtained. He believes that the secret of the salvation of the farmers must eventually come from a diversified program.

Bicycle Thieves Out-Run Local Man Wednesday Night

The theft of two bicycles was thwarted Wednesday night at the home of Earnest Conley, manager of the local J. C. Penney Company Store. Shortly after retiring Mrs. Conley heard a noise in the yard and called her husband. Upon reaching the front door he spied three men or boys attempting to steal two bicycles belonging to his sons from the yard. In an attempt to frighten the intruders away he yelled at them. They immediately took to their heels, as well as their bicycles, two of them being mounted on wheels.

Mr. Conley and his two sons engaged in hot pursuit, joined by several neighbors who heard the commotion, but the would be thieves eluded them.

A warning is being issued this week by local officers to all who own bicycles to keep them under lock and key as there has been a widespread ring of thieves operating in West Texas, and many bicycles as well as other articles have been taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Moore and children of Clovis, N. M., spent the weekend visiting in the home of R. W. Moore.

Fair Weather And Gay Crowds Greet Exposition Opening

Friday Proclaimed As School Day At Fair

Under a cloudless sky and ideal weather, the Second Annual Dawson County Fair opened its gates this morning.

By far larger than last year, with many added exhibits, this exposition promises to be the best yet held.

Exhibits were all in place and ready for inspection Thursday at noon, and the crowds were slowly increasing shortly after lunch today.

Outstanding among the exhibits is the new live stock division. In a new building which had hardly been completed, some of the county's finest beef and dairy cattle, horses and mules and hogs are on exhibition. To all lovers of live stock there is a treat in store in this department. Creating probably the greatest interest is this division is a pair of young mule twins. They are attracting the largest crowds in the large building. Although they will probably win no blue ribbon, yet they have stolen the show from their blue blooded contemporaries.

The Silver States Shows opened on Tuesday night and have been attracting large crowds nightly since.

Littlefield Meets Golden Tornadoes Here Friday Night

McCollum Field To Be Battle Ground Of Game

The Littlefield High School Wildcats will be in Lamesa Friday night to play the Golden Tornadoes. The Wildcats defeated the Lamesa players last Thanksgiving and bladed the championship hopes for the district and region for the last year in Conference B. This game was originally scheduled for Thanksgiving, but each team had an open date and there is a possibility that the Wildcats will be in the district play-off on Thanksgiving and could not play the Golden Tornadoes who are anxious to even scores with the Littlefield team. This game is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m. Tickets are on sale at Lamesa Drug Stores.

The Lamesa team plays the Amarillo Golden Sandies on Saturday, October 22 at Amarillo for the next conference game. The following conference game will be with Lubbock high school, Westerners on November 4th in Lamesa. This game is the last scheduled home game of the 1938 season.

Cotton Farmers Of Texas Get Better Yield Per Acre As Fight On Insects Gains Momentum

Getting down to "grass roots" in the battle to widen margins between cotton production cost and selling price—by going after maximum per acre yield with minimum outlay—Texas cotton farmers this year have been waging intensive war on the insect pests that normally destroy what would amount to nearly a million bales of the state's potential production.

With federal, state and commercial organizations pooling their resources of men and materials, the campaign of education, demonstration and practice of proved methods in control of the boll weevil, flea hopper and other pests has been geared up to help Texans meet the challenge of low-priced foreign competition and the acreage-reduction program.

The first step toward cutting cotton raising costs, and one that can be—has been, in many sections—taken quickly and with proved practical results, is that of insect control. This is not overlooking the fact that finding new uses for cotton, improving ginning and baling practices, and producing finer grades and greater staple length are also vital to complete solution of the cotton industry's manifold economic ills. It is merely that insect control is one phase of the problem that can be attacked realistically and effectively.

Emphasizing the directness and relatively simplicity and economy of combatting cotton insect ravages here in Texas has been the increasing use of one of the state's own readily available resources, sulphur, in control measures.

For several years the efficiency of sulphur-dusting for thwarting the cotton flea hopper—a tiny, green sucking bug that has rivalled the more notorious boll weevil for ranking as "Cotton Enemy No. 1" in many sections—has been convincingly demonstrated in terms of both gross cotton and net cash returns.

Evidence that this method of flea-hopper control, frequently demonstrated at cotton clinics, throughout the state this year and increasingly practiced by growers, can bring such gains in per acre yield as to show sizeable net cash profits to growers is contained in reports of K. P. Ewing and R. L. McGarr of the U. S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine. Describing results of extensive tests in Calhoun county, their report says that 10 dusted plots—in comparison with parallel untreated check plots—showed an average gain in yield of 31.8 per cent, with a high of 88.7 per cent.

On these plots, ranging from 17.5 to 76 acres in size, the average increase was 167.5 pounds per acre. Against this gain in cotton poundage, the applications of sulphur, in from two to four dustings, averaged 62.1 pounds at a total cost of $2.69 per acre, leaving an average net profit, in cash, of $4.76 per acre—and one farm had a per-acre high net of $11.86.

In five of the cuts the gain from dusting was between 200 and 530 pounds per acre; one cut produced between 100 and 200 pounds per acre gain; three cuts showed between 26 and 100 pounds while in only one cut did the dusting fail to show an increase in yield, and this was caused not by failure of dusting to control the flea hopper, but by the fact that the hoppers were not sufficiently numerous in either the treated or untreated plots to have as much effect on yield as did other factors.

This year's battle, on a widening front, has been inclusion of sulphur as ammunition in the artillery—hand and power dusters, and even airplanes—booming away at the boll weevil, too, for another Ewing-McGarr study shows the effectiveness of combining the yellow gulf coast mineral with the time-honored weevil medicine, calcium arsenate.

Highlights of their findings and recommendations are that: a mixture of two parts sulphur and one part calcium arsenate is recommended when there is a combined infestation of weevils and hoppers, especially for the early season control; this mixture gave larger yields and greater profits than the arsenate alone even when used against high infestations of the boll weevil and low infestations of other insects; calcium arsenate alone is recommended for bollworm, sulphur alone for light infestation of hoppers or when infestation consists principally of nymphs.

Educational work as to the proper application of insecticides, as to mixture, spraying or dusting equipment time and frequency and so forth, has been carried on at increased pace this year by state agencies aided by commercial organizations which manufacture or produce the materials recommended by the experiment stations.

As Travis Bryan, banker of Bryan, Texas, who regards dusting as an ideal form of crop insurance, says: "It is well known by those who come into close contact with the realistic efforts being made to bring more efficiency into agricultural practices that these concerns have capable well-trained men who can and do contribute much in educational work among farmers and ranchers.

"It's merely good business practice to be sure, Mr. Bray adds, "but even so all such supplements to salesmanship must be conducted on a strict merit basis, especially when done on such a broad scale as is entailed in recommending comprehensive agricultural programs. In this state the work of commercial organizations in putting

Golden Tornadoes Take Bowie Hi At El Paso Saturday

Score Of 13-0 Chalked Up By Local Squad

The following is taken from the El Paso Times of Sunday, October 9th. The write-up is below reproduced as written by Jerry Smith, sports editor of The Times, to show what is thought of the Tornadoes prowess in other towns. The story follows:

Finally throwing their scoring machine into gear after fruitlessly grinding away at the Bowie line for nearly two quarters, Lamesa opened up in the final stanzas of the fray at El Paso high school stadium Saturday afternoon to take the contest, 13-0.
It was after Lamesa quit bucking the Bear line and started charging the weak Bowie secondary that the visitors rammed into the pay dirt area. The Bear backfield, slow on the pick-up, failed time after time to stop the charging backs as they cut past the line of scrimmage.
The first quarter and most of the second were strictly punting exhibitions, with Melendez and Armendariz clipping off the extended gains for the Bears in their own territory. As the second quarter neared its close, Crawley, Lamesa quarterback, standing on his own 44, heaved a 17-yard pass to Wingback Vaughn, who raced 37 yards for the goal line and the first score of the game. Crawley's kick for the extra point was good.

In the third quarter the Bears came alive and started goalward. Boswell punted to the Bowie 10, and A. Martinez raced up to his 32. Hernandez, A. Martinez and Melendez, rushing and passing, brought the ball up to the Lamesa 48, where A. Martinez fumbled then recovered, as the Bowie offense bogged down and the Bears were forced to kick.
Del Valle's kick went into the end zone, and when the ball was brought back to the 20, Lamesa started a swift touchdown march. In a series of plays in which Crawley picked up 7, 14 and 17 yards, and Anderson, left halfback, tallied 11, the Lamesans pulled the swineskin down to Bowie's 29. On the next play, Vaughn, again carrying, dashed 29 yards to the goal line. Anderson's kick for the extra point failed, the ball hitting the crossbar and bounding back.
Bowie's Bears failed to get closer to the goal line than their own 48-yard line in the remainder of the quarter, also finding themselves unable to get into Lamesa territory, other than through the punt method in the final stanza.
Lamesa opened the period with a drive to the Bowie 23, but fumbled and Alvidres of Bowie recovered. On a series of plays during which Del Valle connected for 14 yards, the Bears worked their way to their own 47, but again bogged down, being forced to punt.
Returning the kick from their own 17, Vaughn, Anderson and Crawley teamed to drive the ball up to Bowie's seven, but lost the oval on downs. This scoring threat practically ended the limited fireworks. Bowie advanced to their own 32 on a pass and a charge through tackle, but Anderson spoiled the parade by intercepting a Bear heave on the 40. In two plays they brought the ball to Bowie's 37, where the game ended.
Crawley, Anderson, Vaughn and Smith starred for the visitors, as well as Capt. Charles Jacobs, left guard, who was taken out of the game early in the fourth quarter after he had been accidentally kicked in the head. He was taken to Southwestern General hospital, where the injury was said to be not serious.
Hernandez, A. Martinez, Melendez and Alvidres shone for the Bears, but holes in that slow-footed Bear defense cost them the ball game. Lamesa gained 219 yards from scrimmage as compared to 112 by Bowie. Each team got nine first downs; Bowie gained 23 yards by passing compared to 18 by Lamesa, and the visitors lost fifty yards in penalties to 10 given up by Bowie.

FAIR--

large, it was as big as was expected by officials. With many of the schools of the county dismissing classes Friday at noon for the remainder of the week, it is expected that Friday will probably see the largest crowd of the entire fair. This has been designated as School Children's Day, and all the school children of Dawson county will be admitted free this day as guests of the Fair Association.
Much interest is being shown in the Amateurs Contest which will be staged during the fair. The platform where this event will be held has been erected just east of the commercial and community exhibit building.
Without a doubt this has started out as the best fair the county has ever held, from the standpoint of interesting and educational exhibits.

County Ginnings Of '38 Crop Prior To Oct. 1, 8,125 Bales

The Census Report shows that 8,125 bales of cotton had been ginned from the Dawson county crop prior to October 1st, as compared to 9,319 bales at the same date last year, and 618 in 1936.
Estimates on the yield this year have been placed from 25,000 to 40,000. The county last year produced 110,000 bales.

Clear, dry weather has speeded up the gathering and gins are running at practically capacity output. The first moisture to fall on the crop was last Sunday night and the sun came out Monday and picking was resumed.

Safety Division To Traffic Lane Here

With every modern device for testing motor vehicles for mechanical defects, the Safety Division of Texas State Police will operate a Safety Lane in Lamesa for 3 days, Oct. 17th through Oct. 19th, according to Captain George Schauer, director of safety education.

This type of testing equipment is new to traffic safety work in Texas, where there are two such safety lanes operating over the state, testing over 2,000 vehicles a day. Each lane is composed of three sections, this making it possible for an automobile to be completely inspected in a very few minutes, by trained highway patrolmen.

The first unit determines light range and focus. Officers search for defects in lights, muffler, windshield wipers and steering apparatus, through the medium of the special light testing machine. With so many drivers overrunning their lights at night, it is imperative that they know at what speed they may safely drive. Captain Schauer pointed out.

Wheel alignment tests are next in line of inspection. The accurate machinery determines if wheels are out of line and points to the defective unit. Defective wheel alignment contributes to tire wear and difficult steering.

Faulty brakes, along with other mechanical parts of vehicles, are responsible for at least seventeen percent of the accidents in Texas and other states safety officials say. For this reason, state police are using a new device which analyses the braking power of each wheel. The recording meter is similar to a glassed-in gasoline pump. Each wheel's braking power is registered by individual thermometers.

Six specially trained state officers, accompany the Safety Lane and operate the various phases of it, under the direct command of Sergeant W. M. King, local officer and safety workers will assist in sponsoring the safety program.

It is only necessary to block one side of a street, which does not interfere with flow of traffic, except in one direction.

With over one half million vehicles inspected each year, safety officials point to safety lanes as one of the answers to the puzzling death problems on streets and highways. To obtain the best results, however, they need the cooperation of the public.

Vehicles successfully passing the tests, are given appropriate stickers signifying that they are safe if driven safely. Vehicles with mechanical defects are marked with a red sticker, however, these are permitted another test when faults are corrected.

OF HOT WEATHER FOOD-KEEPING

Keep milk fresh and pure, if your family is to have one of Nature's most wholesome hot-weather foods. To be sure milk is as fresh as the minute it's delivered to you, the U. S. Government recommends that you store it in a refrigerator where the temperature is 50 degrees or less. Above 50 degrees, milk spoils rapidly, curdles, gets sour. Other food, not so easily detected as milk, spoils too in higher temperatures. Below 50 degrees, milk and other food is safe. Check your refrigeration now!

Only Frigidaire has the METER-MISER Sealed Rotary Refrigerating Mechanism... Simplest Ever Built! Comes with 5-Year Protection Plan backed by General Motors.

Only Frigidaire has the Double-Easy QUICKUBE TRAYS Save up to 20% on ice. Release cubes instantly... two or a trayful. All-metal for faster freezing. Automatic Ice-Tray Release. No tugging, prying, hacking.

A MODERN SOLUTION To An Age-Old Problem

This is the modern health way for the entire family

Rectal and colonic diseases are responsible for more chronic ill health than all the better known sources of infection put together. Literally speaking, when the large bowel is dormant, a cesspool is formed which slowly but insidiously poisons the entire body. Chronic Constipation affects the whole body as well as the mental outlook. The harmful effects of chronic constipation are unfortunately not confined to the bowel itself. The toxins formed in the colon weaken and injure the walls to such an extent that they are no longer able to prevent these poisons from entering the blood and lymph vessels. By these means they are distributed throughout the body and account for much of the malaise and the vague, dull headaches, pains and discomfort of daily life. Among the numerous complaints occurring as the result of poisoning of the system with intestinal toxins are such conditions as: Malnutrition, Dizziness, Halitosis, Coated Tongue, Sallow Complexion, Hay Fever, Arterio-sclerosis, Cirrhosis of Liver, Circles under Eyes, Hypotension, Anemias, Fatigue, Impotence, Goitre, Gallstones, Neurasthenia, Mental Derangements, Gas Pains, Acidosis, Headache, High Blood Pressure, Diabetes, Asthma, Diarrhea, Insomnia.

This is the first time that the local organization has sponsored a year book and the committee is to be commended highly for the efficient work rendered. #### Delphian Club To Sponsor Art Tour

Traveling gallery coming to Lamesa for benefit of Elementary school picture fund.

"Tell me what pictures hang upon his walls and what books are his companions and I will tell you what manner of a man he is," are the words of a wise man.

These words help explain to you the school is sponsoring the Colonial Art Exhibit in Lamesa, October 24, through 28th. Many of the rooms in the elementary building have no pictures on the walls while others have only the cheap prints which have already faded and have become uninteresting.

The Lamesa boys and girls appreciate good pictures and wish to secure good ones for their classrooms. So they are bringing an exhibit of 150 Fine Prints, reproduced directly from the original paintings, to be in this city the last of October.

The exhibit is under the direction of the Elementary school principal and the teachers. Tickets are to be on sale the week preceding the exhibit, at ten cents for children and twenty-five cents for adults. All money obtained through this sale will be used to purchase pictures for the rooms.

at the disposal of college and county agencies equipment, materials and services of their own entomologists is an encouraging manifestation of the willingness of those industries to do their part in creating effective machinery for fighting farm problems.

With the fund of information and tested practices richer and more readily available than ever before, and with abundant, low-priced native Texas ammunition and willing, well-trained demonstrators from commercial organizations and county, state and federal agencies at their services, Lone Star cotton farmers are potentially the best equipped cotton growing army that has ever undertaken the perennial battle with the bugs.

When PENNIES Count---

"SHOP THE COURIER WAY"

How to get the most out of every penny is mighty important to folks who are just starting out. An error in buying judgment that would be considered trivial by anyone else, might be tragic for them. They can't afford to make mistakes . . . they can't run the risk of "gold bricks." Every penny counts. Every penny has to do double duty. It's interesting to know (and we can't deny that we're a bit proud!) that the Dawson County Courier is making it possible for people like these to get more for their pennies. For the pages of the Courier are a guide to values. Every week advertisers offer definite savings on the things all of us need. Of course, if you are already a reader, you are well aware of this fact.

REMODELING OF DAL-PASO IS COMPLETED

Public Is Invited To Visit Hostelry Friday Night At 7

Refinish Entire Bldg. In Remodeling Program

A large crew of workmen have been busy for the past three or four weeks remodeling and modernizing the hotel of Lamesa.

The entire interior of the building has been completely refinished. The lobby of the hotel has been completely rearranged to facilitate better service to the traveling public, who visit this hostelry. The desk which formerly was along the north side of the lobby has been moved to the east side and nearer the entrance, which is on the south.

Directly on either side of the large entrance, is located two enclosed business offices.

The lobby has been completely done over in a most pleasing effect. The aluminum trim around the ceiling adds a quiet dignity, while the coloring on the walls, and ceiling, which is of pastel shades, lends a restful atmosphere to the entire place.

Upstairs, where the guest rooms are located, the entire floor has been completely repainted and refinished. In the rooms new drapes, as well as new floor coverings have been added. All walls have been refinished and the rooms are as if new. All baths have been completely refinished as well as entrances and halls. The stairways and halls will all be carpeted, for beauty, as well as the muffling of sound so as to not disturb sleeping guests.

The refitting program, which virtually covers the entire building from top to bottom, gives this popular hotel the same as a new building. The old awning over the main entrance has been entirely removed and this not only adds to the general appearance of the outside, but lets in a wealth of southern light to the spacious lobby.

The public is being invited to visit the hotel Friday night of this week, beginning at seven o'clock and view this renewed building.

The entire building is heated from a central steam heating plant.

YARD ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAM AT HOME OF MRS. L. B. STUART

The Shumake Home Demonstration club announces there will be a yard achievement program at the home of Mrs. L. B. Stuart from 3 until 5 p. m. Tuesday, October 18. The public is invited to attend.

Since his arrival in Lamesa he has been closely associated with the civic life of the community and has devoted much of his time to different philanthropic causes in the city. He is a member of several of the city's service clubs and works diligently with them.

Mrs. Wallace is associated with him in the operation of the Dal-Paso and like her husband she is a civic leader and is very active in the civic and social life of Lamesa. She is at present president of the Woman's Study Club.

These congenial people have a host of friends in Lamesa, as well as throughout the entire state who extend their congratulations on the complete remodeling and refitting of the Dal-Paso.

RURAL BARN BURNS

The barn belonging to F. L. Norris, on the O'Quin place seven miles southwest of Lamesa, was completely destroyed by fire Sunday night. The fire was of undetermined origin. Besides the loss of the barn there was between thirty and thirty-five tons of this year's maize stored inside.

The Norris family was away from home and neighbors barely had time to save their frightened livestock from the blaze.

Drug Store To Hold Open House Friday Night To Friends

Enlarging Of Building Adds Needed Room

The Dal-Paso Drug Store of this city is this week, announcing the completion of their enlarging and remodeling program.

For the past several days workmen have been busily engaged in the moving of partitions, rearranging and refitting the entire interior of the store.

As the building now stands they have about one-third more floor space than formerly, and with an arrangement whereby they can serve their growing business to a better advantage.

The business offices of the firm are housed upstairs in the northeast corner of the building, with the prescription department underneath. New fixtures have been installed in this department and it is now as complete and modern as will be found in any city many times the size of Lamesa.

Besides Messers Echols and Peterson owners of the store, T. J. Lyle is a registered pharmacist and Roger Robinson and Max Aiken are soda dispensers and clerks.

This popular store has shown a steady and marked growth since these progressive young men purchased it in 1931. The added floor space which the remodeling program gives them will greatly facilitate the better handling of their business.

Besides a complete prescription department and drugs, they maintain a modern sanitary soda fountain which has proven most popular with the trade of Lamesa and Dawson County.

They are inviting the people of this territory to come in Friday night beginning at seven o'clock and inspect their complete store. They are offering some rare bargains for thrifty shoppers for this week in a large ad in this issue of the Courier.

The walls have been finished white with an aluminum band between the wall and the ceiling which is finished in gray.

Many new fixtures have been added and their stocks in all departments are now complete in every detail.

Look up their ad in this issue and visit them Friday night and inspect this beautiful store.

SPICES FOR VARIETY
RUTH E. MAGEE
FSA Home Supervisor

Today Americans make a holiday of October 12, and revere the memory of Columbus for discovering the New World. But we forget that it was not the lure of a new continent, but partly the urge of the medieval appetite for spices that set Columbus voyaging.

Just 446 years have passed since the world-renowned voyage of Columbus, and Americans are still hungry for spices. The nation spent more than 12 million pounds of imported spices and million dollars for more than 110 million condiments during 1937, according to the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Pepper of various kinds accounted for nearly 40 per cent of these millions of pounds of seasonings, and mustard entered U. S. ports in second largest quantity among the spices. Cinnamon and its near relative, cassia, from Ceylon, China and the East Indies; ginger mostly in the form of dried roots from Jamaica and West Africa, nutmeg and mace from the East and West Indies, cloves from Madagascar and British East Africa, also poured in, in surprising quantities.

Tropical suns, rains, and winds are necessary to store the rich aroma and rare flavor of many of these spices and condiments. More than that, the patience of the laborer of the tropical Orient is indispensable in growing, harvesting, curing and preparing these products for shipment. The inner bark of the cinnamon or cassia must be cut from the center of two-year-old trees, if the spice is to be of the best quality. It must be stripped, fermented, and packed with most exacting hand care. Mace, which grows as a crimson network, covering on nutmeg seeds, must be cut from each nutmeg by hand.

Carefully selected small pieces of rootstocks of a plant closely related to ginger are ground to make yellow turmeric, the spice that gives color to the popular mixture of spices known as curry. Clove and caper blossoms must be gathered before they burst into bloom; and allspice berries and black peppercorns, picked just before they are ripe.

Black and white pepper comes from the same peppercorn, the fruit of the vine "piper nigrum." If the entire berry is ground, the pepper is black; if the black outer coat is stripped off first, the more milk white pepper is the result. For much of the "heat" of the peppercorn is in the black outside coat. Peppercorns used for white pepper are usually larger and more carefully cultivated.

Cayenne, the most sizzling of the peppers, is made by grinding the small pods of a plant related to the tomato. Paprika resembles Cayenne in color, but not in its biting pungency. Paprika is made by pulverizing milder varieties of plants similar to those used for Cayenne. The term "red pepper" is properly applied to all peppers of the correct color.

Once black pepper was often diluted with a few ground olive pits, and large quantities of tasteless clove stems were found mixed with the spicy clove buds. But since the days of the first enforcement of the Pure Food and Drug regulations in 1907, adulteration of spices has been illegal. Now if spices do not run true to name, they are liable to seizure by the government food inspectors. Read the label for it also tells the net weight of the contents of the package.

Most spices enter this country whole and are cleaned again, sorted, graded, ground, blended and packaged by the American companies. Since pulverized spices gradually lose their aroma and flavor, keep the boxes tightly covered and the sprinkler holes closed.

Moderation and variety are mottoes for using spices in seasoning. Without variety even the rarest and best spices cannot give the zest to life promised in popular quotation. For seasoning, spices are at their best when they are an undefinable part of the essence of a dish.

To get the most flavor from every peck of spices, season puddings, pudding sauces, and sprinkle the topping on milkshakes at the last possible moment. In making a spice cake sift all the spices thoroughly with the flour—three times for the best results. When seasoning with a combination of sugar and spices, as for cinnamon rolls or apple pie, blend sugar and spices thoroughly before using.

If your apple pie recipe tells you to "dot" the surface of the spices with butter, that's a good tip too. Mixing with the fat helps hold more of the spiciness until serving time.

Many cooks have won fame, or at least praise, by adding an unexpected bit of spice to foods commonly accepted at their face value. Some of these additions are now so common as to be part of standard recipes, as ginger root in pear preserves, cloves and bay leaf in tomato soup and sauce, cloves in baked ham, mustard with the molasses in baked beans, nutmeg in mashed sweet potatoes, and a sprinkling of cinnamon on cubes of baked squash.

But there are many more unusual touches that have proven happy discoveries. Remember just touches. A little spice is good, but too much easily spoils a dish.

Try adding a grating of two of nutmeg to chicken soup or creamed spinach; a dash of mace to oyster bisque or string beans, a little curry powder to lima beans. Curry powder given an interest of flavor for a mixed green salad, and a white sauce seasoned with curry is delicious on poached or sliced hard-cooked eggs.

The ancient Aztecs, it is said, spiced their hot chocolate with cinnamon, and modern Mexicans keep that custom today. So blend a little ground cinnamon with the cocoa if you would like a different flavor for variety's sake. Some persons also like to drop a whole clove or two in a cup of hot tea or hot consomme.

For another seasonal drink there's not spiced grape juice, or spiced cider. The mixed whole spices—cinnamon bark, cloves, and allspice—are good—in a cheese cloth bag and drop this into the kettle of fruit juice and bring to a boil. Allow the bag of spices to stand in the juice for several hours or until the drink has just enough spiciness to suit your liking. You will want to serve either of these popular autumn drinks piping hot, so add a little sugar, as hot drinks taste less sweet than the same drinks would served cold. About 1-4 to 1-2 cup of extra sugar for each quart of fruit juice has been found satisfactory. Test by tasting.

Paprika chicken, adapted from Hungary, is a variation of the usual stewed or fricasseed fowl. After the bird has been cut up and seasoned with salt and pepper, it is rolled in a mixture of paprika and flour, instead of the usual flour alone. (Prepare enough of the paprika-flour mixture to thicken the gravy later.) After rolling in paprika flour, brown in hot butter or some other well-flavored fat. The paprika in the flour will speed up the browning process. Cover with hot water or chicken stock and continue cooking in a tightly covered pan until the meat is tender. Then thicken the gravy with the remainder of the paprika-flour mixture. The quantity of paprika to be added is all a matter of taste.

Paprika veal, prepared by the same method, is also excellent.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Don't let the fair and its attractions keep you away from church next Sunday. You will probably need something to steady your nerves for another week's work. The quiet, worshipful atmosphere of the Sunday school and church may be the very thing you will need. Better try it. The sermon subject for the morning hour will be, "Three Kinds of Giving". And for the evening hour, "Chickens Come Home to Roost." It depends on the brand you are raising whether you want them to come home or not.

All services begin and quit on time. Come with the children to Sunday school, stay with them for the morning service and then come back to the evening service and the week will be a lot smoother. Try it!

T. C. WILLETT, Pastor.

SHELTERBELTS PLANTED 1938 BY FOREST SERVICE DOUBLE PREVIOUS YEARS

The shelterbelt plantings in the Plains states, in which the Forest Service cooperates with farmers, in 1938 almost doubled the total for the three previous years, a report just released by Forest Service headquarters here shows.
 A total of 6,872 miles of tree shelterbelts has been planted, of which 4,264 miles were planted in 1938, the report shows. A total of 11,636 farms have been served, 7,046 of them this year. Eighty-four million trees were used to establish these shelterbelts.
 The largest mileage for the year was in Oklahoma, 1,039 miles on 1,870 farms. Nebraska was second with 1,007 miles on 1,724 farms.
 Oklahoma also leads in total plantings, with 1,542 miles on 2,760 farms. Nebraska is second with 1,516 miles on 2,387 farms. Other state totals are: Texas 1,165 miles on 1,488 farms; Kansas 1,150 miles on 2,088 farms; South Dakota 843 miles on 1,594 farms and North Dakota, 655 miles on 1,119 farms.
 Shelterbelt planting in the Plains states is wholly cooperative. Foresters point out. Planting is done only after an application is received, an examination made of the planting site, and the soil prepared for planting. The Forest Service furnishes the trees, and uses relief labor to do the planting and build the fence surrounding the shelterbelt. The farmer furnishes the land, prepares it for planting, furnishes the fence material when needed, and cultivates the Shelterbelt during the few years this is necessary.

Letters From Folks You Know

Lamesa, Texas, October 6, 1938

The Courier: Legion's Safety Cam paign This campaign lasted several days and was for the purpose of making the public safety conscious. In the World War, was had at the peak over 4,000,000 soldiers under arms, over half of which were in France. 1,500,000 were engaged in one battle. Our casualties seemed large, but did you know that day for day during that war our injured and killed does not exceed the butchery that goes on in the United States from driving accidents alone. Think that over and the next time you step in a car watch out or your name may be added to the list.

Dr. Cox Says:

Gridiron fans should take a tip from football players this fall and protect themselves at games by keeping in good physical condition, the Texas State Department of Health advises.

"The nervous strain brought on by the Southwest's razzle-dazzle style of play, exposure to extreme climatic conditions for long hours in an open stadium and sudden changes in weather are particularly dangerous to football spectators who have been leading sedentary lives indoors," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer warned.

You are hereby commanded to summon G. T. Blankenship, R. F. Blankenship, Sidney F. Terry, Farmers Royalty Holding Company and the FARMERS MUTUAL ROYALTY SYNDICATE, Inc. to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Dawson County, Texas, to be at the Court House thereof, in the town of Lamesa, on the Second Monday of November, 1938, the same being the 14th day of said month. Then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 10th day of December 1937, the file number of which is 2114 in which suit J. A. T. Blankenship and Farmers Royalty Holding Co., on Oct. 12, 1931. Recorded in Vol. 1 pages 125, 127 Oil & Gas Lease Record, Dawson county, and mineral deeds from G. T. Blankenship to Farmers Mutual Royalty Syndicate, Inc., and Farmers Royalty Holding Company on May 7, 1934. Recorded Vol. 2, pages 334 and 336 Oil and Gas Lease Record, said Dawson County and Oil and Gas Lease executed by the last named two companies to Sidney F. Terry on Jan. 9, 1937. keeps fit maintains his eligibility throughout the season. But one who is careless with his health is apt to miss a few games or be out for the season with a cold, influenza or more serious illness. This is particularly true of the late fall games when the weather varies greatly from week to week.

Again using the players as an example, Dr. Cox urges fans to dress carefully for the games. It is a foolish gamble with ill health to wear heavy garments to opening games when the thermometer is hitting 99, no matter what fashion decrees. And late season games necessitates warm clothes and wraps, of course.

Doctor Cox also asks football fans to cooperate with the Department of Public Safety in driving carefully to and from football games. Congested weekend traffic and the probability that some drivers are over enthusiastic and careless, add to traffic hazards and serious accidents.

violation of a boulevard stop sign, speed too high for safety, driving while under the influence of intoxicants, and ignoring a crossroad sign as the immediate cause of the fatal crash.

In its conclusion the committee charges the traffic system of the State with failure to educate the drivers to the dangers of these violations, failure to enforce the traffic laws and provide certainty of punishment for violators, together with need for further traffic engineering for safety on streets and highways.

The committee recommended a state-wide traffic survey, county by county, perhaps through WPA funds. It points out the need for a substantial increase in state highway patrol personnel. It urges adoption of an anti-ticket fixing pledge by all City Councils and county officials in the state.

Complete scrapping of the state traffic laws and adoption of the Model Code as recommended by the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety, was urged.

A definite program of education for motorists, a revision of the driver's license law, giving the Texas Department of Public Safety authority to suspend licenses, with the right of appeal, and providing for a small fee to be charged for each license issued, were recommended.

A copy of the published report of this committee's investigation and recommendation will be mailed to every official in the State concerned with traffic matters. Ten thousand copies have been printed for distribution.

The committee calls attention to the fact that the annual number of traffic accident victims in Texas is over six times as great as the number who perished in the New London School disaster and it appeals to every public official and every citizen of the State of Texas to join the committee and the Governor in demanding that these recommendations and other steps necessary to make our highways safe be put into effect without further delay and political quibbling, and consequent waste of life and property.

Strip Cropping Proves Beneficial

Strip cropping, the alternation of strips of crops which resist erosion with those which do not, is becoming more and more popular with farmers of the Southern Great Plains each year.

After a modest beginning, strip cropping has become one of the more important phases of the soil and water conservation program being carried on in the so-called dust bowl, according to R. R. Hinde, agronomist of the Soil Conservation Service. Already successful in areas of high rainfall, this farming practice now is producing excellent results in controlling both wind and water erosion in the semi-arid Great Plains region. The approximately 90,000 acres strip cropped in the Soil Conservation Service demonstration projects in 1937 were expanded by 25 or 30 per cent this year and will be increased to an even greater extent next year, Mr. Hinde says.

Farmers are finding that the growing of erosion-resistant crops such as grain sorghums in alternate strips with crops which do not resist erosion, such as cotton, corn and beans, serves the double purpose of preventing the blowing and washing of the soil. Strip cropping alone, in most cases, is not enough to control wind erosion in the high plains area. Mr. Hinde points out. This practice should be used in a variable cropping system with contour tillage operations, and strengthened by terraces where necessary, he says.

LAMESA SCHOOLS CONTINUE GROWTH

The Lamesa schools keep growing according to reports. The enrollment last Monday had reached 1503 distributed as follows: Elementary school 984 and high school 519. About thirty pupils are enrolled in the Blackshear (colored) to bring the total attendance to 1533.

CONSTRUCTION WORK STARTS TODAY

The building contract between the Lamesa Independent School District and Suggs Construction Company was signed last Saturday and was approved in Fort Worth Regional Office of the Public Works Administration early this week. A work order was telegraphed to Haynes and Strange, architects, that the contract forms were in order and that work should begin on Thursday, October thirteenth. The building is the stadium for the south side of McCollum Field. The structure will seat approximately 2500 adults and will cost $8978.00.

Investigate Type Case In Accidents

Investigation of Texas' most tragic automobile collision in 1938 has been completed by a special committee appointed by Governor Allred, and immediate release of the report and recommendations were made today by Carl J. Rutland, chairman of the committee and president of the Texas Safety Association, Inc.

Governor Allred created this committee to investigate an automobile crash at Highway 80 and Belt Line Road, near Dallas, on May 5, 1938, in which six people were killed and two badly injured.

This is the first case on record of an investigation of an automobile accident by the governor of a state, and the committee, composed of C. J. Rutland, Albert Sidney Johnson of the Public Safety Commission, Hary Hines of the State Highway Commission, and Judge Ben Fly of the Dallas County Commissioners' Court, devoted its efforts to learning the fundamental causes of the fatal crash and drafting a number of recommendations for the prevention of such tragedies in the future. In its report, the committee named

A Temptation We Must Resist

There is always a temptation for a feed manufacturer to build a feed to undersell their competitors, if reputable feed makers did not resist this temptation, we would all be building feeds that would be of little benefit to the users.

Therefore, we have always made it a practice to build our feeds up to a standard and not down to a price, buying the best quality of ingredients and blending them to give you a balanced ration that will meet every feeding requirement for this territory, then adding just a fair margin of profit.

We could build a cheaper feed, by buying cheaper, lower quality ingredients, but one low quality ingredient can ruin an otherwise good sack of feed, throw your flock out of production and cause untold damage, a good feed should be blended of pure wholesome ingredients, mixed fresh and used promptly, otherwise it loses its vitamin potency.

If you are not getting the production from your flock, that you should get, there is a reason. Check these points:

- Are your hens wormy?
- Are they free from lice?
- Are your buildings free of mites and blue bugs?
- Are you feeding a good wholesome fresh built laying mash?
- Are your hens eating the correct amount of mash? They should eat about 50 per cent Laying Mash and 50 per cent grain to balance their ration.

We are very much interested in your Poultry, your success means our success.

P-T. A. ANNOUNCES HOLLYWOOD ARTISTS WILL SHOW HERE THIS FALL

Artists Under Direction of Hollywood Ompressario Robert Hollinshead

Three years ago, Robert Hollinshead visited Texas as manager of the world famous concert violinist, Jan Kubelik. He had at this time a vision of a great musical empire, a state boasting of one hundred and more cities, towns and communities, having their own series of musical concerts, lectures and entertainments.

Robert Hollinshead is well equipped to carry this vision through to reality. As a young man, he had his own entertainment service; he was a favorite student of the famous Spanish Baritone, Emano De Gonorza of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Later, Mr. Hollinshead became program director of several eastern radio stations and, in this capacity, attracted the attention of Arthur Judson, famed manager of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, the Philadelphia Orchestra and many world famous artists. Mr. Judson at once made Robert Hollinshead manager of the important Chicago office, where he worked in cooperation with the Chicago Civic Opera artists, also producing several of the important radio programs of that time.

During this time, Mr. Hollinshead felt that smaller communities that could not pay the very large fees demanded by "big time" artists were, however, just as much entitled to enjoy good music, in their community, as were their larger city sisters. Why go fifty or a hundred miles when it is possible to have fine artists to come to your community? That, together with the fact that our young artists, just beginning their careers, find it most difficult to gain a musical foothold is the objective of the musical arts series.

In Texas alone are many of the finest colleges in the country, with excellent fine arts departments, under the direction of outstanding musical authorities. Each year, hundreds—yes, hundreds of thousands of hopeful aspirants for artistic success, are graduated from these schools, not including those artist-students of teachers not connected with the schools. Among this yearly group of aspirants are those who do not intend to make plans for an artist's career, most of them studying to become teachers or just for love of the arts. However, there are many whose artistic star of hope points directly to the career of an artist for concert, opera, radio, or screen success. But, how to begin this career?

In his work in Hollywood, Robert Hollinshead probably auditioned more aspirants than any other manager, for he is not only active in concert, but in opera, radio, and pictures. Mr. Hollinshead advises all young artists to perform at all opportunities, to let people hear and see them. His theory is that success will come sooner or later where there is merit.

Mr. Hollinshead states that a great part of the responsibility for building our artists of tomorrow lies with the smaller communities. He points to those communities who proudly boast of certain great artists of today to whom they lent the cheerful hand of assistance by first presenting them to the public when their names meant no more than Messrs. Tom, Dick or Harry. Not only does the smaller community lend assistance to the unknown artists, but adds to the cultural, educational and entertainment life of the community. In short, Mr. Hollinshead stands for an artistic helping hand for young artists and music in every community through the medium of the Musical Art Series, at fees any community can afford.

Each season, several artists of international reputation lend their assistance to Mr. Hollinshead by appearing on the series with their younger and less-known colleagues.

At the annual state convention of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs held in Beaumont in April, Robert Hollinshead and the Musical Arts Series were officially endorsed. The chairman on this occasion was Miss Inez Rudy of Bowie. Federated clubs throughout Texas are presenting the Musical Arts Series; in San Antonio, the Federated Music Clubs are back of the series in a big way as well as many other clubs over the state.

This season, the Parent-Teachers Association of Lamesa, is proud to announce participation in this great musical plan. The artists to be heard in the series for the year, 1938-39 are as follows: In November, the brilliant young baritone, William Hales, with Dorothy Ellen Ford, concert pianist. The January concert brings Maryse Conde, soprano of the Opera Comique in Paris, with Mae Gilbert Reese, pianist. In February, we hear the world famous concert violinist, Josef Pisatro assisted by Texas' own pianist Virgean England Estes. March brings the young Czechoslovakian mezzo-soprano, Rose Piadro and the young Boston pianist, Charles Gallagher. The last attraction on the series is the Gladys Petch Travelogue, "Sunlight Norway Calls," with Gladys Petch in person and colored illustrated films, assisted by Elora Sornsen in costume songs with Charles Gallagher, pianist.

It will be remembered that Miss Dorothy Ellen Ford, pianist and Josef Piastro violinist appeared here last year and they were enthusiastically received by all who heard them.

Season tickets will soon be on sale. A distinct saving will be made by purchasing tickets for all five concerts.

European Situation

of events in Europe. Well we didn't want to agitate things, but for the moment there seems to be a breathing spell so we will fire away.

First, good manner will not permit, nor the postal laws allow me to print what I think about Mr. Chamberlain's handling of the crisis. The mildest I can say, is England never rose to world power under such leadership. She arrived there by fighting, but she is losing this by betraying her friends, whom she had sworn to protect by welching, fence straddling, and forsaking every path with honor in it. Her, England's, only excuse is, she prevented a war. Did she? It is only prolonged, she has lost the use of 1,879,000 Czech soldiers, and the vast power of Russia's army and air force. Not to mention Rumania's army Hitler has prized Russia away from the Entente, which is worth more to him than the Sudenland, just like Bismark did in 1869, when he separated France from Austria thus assuring him victory over both of these countries in less than two years. There will be a war and not too far off, unless England and France continue to give to Heir Hitler everything he asks for. It is evident, the Great Her, England's, only excuse is, she has reached its decline, unless younger blood does the steering in the future. Space and time forbids discussing how this effects us, but we may do that in the near future.

 Signed: N. P. COCHRAN.
