Americans Among Dead

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Three air crashes in 2 hours in South Viet Nam's guerrilla-infested jungles today left 26 dead, including four American servicemen.

Five more Americans were missing in the air crashes, and another was killed in an ambush Saturday in one of the bloodiest weekends in recent months.

A two-engined troop-laden Vietnamese air force transport crashed near the Laos border far north of Saigon today in the most serious of the air mishaps, killing 22 Vietnamese soldiers and a U.S. Air Force flight instructor. There were four survivors, all reported to be Vietnamese.

The C47 transport caught fire and crashed on take off at Kontum Airport, 260 miles northeast of here.

Seven planes and six helicopters searched for the wreckage of a two-engine U.S. transport believed to have crashed Sunday against a mountain while on a flight from Saigon to Ban Me Thuot, 160 miles to the northeast. The C123 transport had a crew of four Americans aboard.

The search was hampered by heavy rain and mist over the foothills and mountains around Ban Me Thuot.

Other search crews probed the mountainous jungle 280 miles northeast of Saigon where a U.S. Army H21 helicopter crashed in flames after being hit by guerrilla gunfire.

Ground parties found the charred bodies of two U.S. Army officers and an enlisted man. But an American enlisted man and two Vietnamese were still missing.

The only known survivor, a U.S. Army captain said to have been the pilot, was found walking through the jungle five miles from the crash. He was only slightly injured and accounts here shed no light on how he survived.

The names of all dead and missing Americans in the air crashes were withheld pending notification of kin.

But the American killed in an ambush 40 miles north of Saigon on Saturday was identified as U.S. Army Capt. Don J. York, Asheville, N.C. an adviser to Vietnamese airborne troops. Guerrillas killed 23 Vietnamese in the ambush.

The confirmed deaths brought to 27 the number of U.S. servicemen killed in Viet Nam, 10 of them in combat since the United States began its stepped up assistance here last December.

Eyewitnesses in an accompanying helicopter said the big H21 was hit by gunfire and crashed in thick jungle. Thick woods prevented the second craft from landing.

It was the first helicopter reported shot down by the Communists since December. Communist guns frequently score hits on helicopters flying supplies and Vietnamese troops to the front, but the crews have been able to make repairs and return to base.

U.S. authorities said the plane presumably crashed on what was described as a maintenance support mission from Saigon to the town of Ban Me Thuot, 180 miles northeast of here.

It was the third transport to crash in South Viet Nam since December.

A third search was under way in neighboring Laos for a light twin-engine plane missing since Saturday with two Americans aboard.

The plane's owners said it carried an American pilot and a member of the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group on a flight from Vientiane to Paksane, 65 miles eastward.

In all three air incidents, names of the Americans were withheld.

Celebrezze Appointment Due Senate Confirmation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy sent to the Senate today the nomination of Cleveland Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze to be secretary of health, education and welfare.

Speedy confirmation is expected.

The White House said that Celebrezze, 51, will confer with the President at 11:15 a.m. Tuesday.

In announcing the surprise selection of Celebrezze in Hyannis Port, Mass., over the weekend, the White House said he would assume his new office as soon as confirmed by the Senate.

Senate Republican leaders said they doubted there would be any opposition and Democrats were high in their praise of Celebrezze, 51, named Saturday to succeed Abraham A. Ribicoff.

The White House said the nomination probably would be sent to the Senate today. There it will be turned over to the Finance Committee.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said no hearings are planned but, as is customary, Celebrezze will be required to make an appearance before the group.

"So far as I know there is no objection to him," said Byrd at his home in Berryville, Va.

Celebrezze, now serving an unprecedented fifth term as Cleveland's mayor, is due in Washington Tuesday for a conference with Kennedy.

Byrd said the Finance Committee has a heavy schedule this week. It is working on the President's tax revision bill and is scheduled to begin public hearings Wednesday on the House-passed trade expansion measure.

Byrd said the nomination will be worked in "as soon as we can—there won't be any delay."

On the Republican side, Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said, "I assume the record will disclose nothing that will prevent his confirmation."

Noting Celebrezze's popularity with Cleveland voters, Dirksen remarked: "Evidently he's done a very able job."

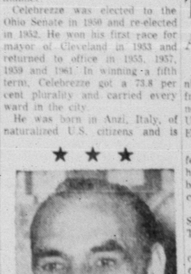

The assistant Senate Republican leader, Thomas H. Kuchel of California, said: "I see no reason for any opposition or for the nomination to be treated in a partisan manner."

Celebrezze was elected to the Ohio Senate in 1950 and re-elected in 1952. He won his first race for mayor of Cleveland in 1953 and returned to office in 1955, 1957, 1959 and 1961. In winning a fifth term, Celebrezze got a 73.8 per cent plurality and carried every ward in the city.

He was born in Anzi, Italy, of naturalized U.S. citizens and is believed to be the first Italian-American chosen for the Cabinet. If he is approved by the Senate he will become the second Roman Catholic in Kennedy's Cabinet. The other is the President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Ribicoff, former governor of Connecticut, quit the health, education and welfare post Thursday to campaign for the Democratic Senate nomination in his state. On Saturday the Connecticut Democratic convention nominated Ribicoff for U.S. senator.

LET'S RODEO...

By Jamie Miers

"For Sale: 6 buffalo." That's an unusual classified ad to appear in a paper in this, the space age—an age when the printed page is crowded with fantastic stories relating the adventurous orbits of men whirling their way through the outer atmosphere and disastrous tales of destruction measured by megatons.

It is a simple little ad and its simplicity is reflected in the story of the man behind the ad—one Hugh "Hackberry" Johnson from Austin.

"Hackberry's" story isn't a new one to this part of the country—a little different, but basically it has been told and retold. It is a story of courage and determination. A story of a man's fight to stand and be counted in the ranks of a breed of men who perhaps unknowingly left their brand on a raw, new country as well as a way of life.

You see, "Hackberry" Johnson is a self-styled "rodeo-tramp". He was busting broncs way back yonder before my mother was born, long before the days of dampened arenas and waiting ambulances; back when the arena was an open pasture and a man's only insurance was his ability to stick in a saddle.

He was named best all around cowboy in Arlington in 1934, having been rodeoing since 1909. He's been out of a chute more times than I've gotten out of bed to eat breakfast, more than likely.

What makes this such a story of courage and determination? Well, in 1906 Hugh "Hackberry" Johnson was working for the old XIT ranch when a horse "jerked down" on him. He lost a leg in the accident and acquired the nickname "Hackberry" soon after. Jake Stubblefield, a Runnels County rancher, gave him that name and it stuck. Johnson earned the nick-name by whittling himself a new leg—made from a hackberry tree.

It takes a lot to make or break a man and "Hackberry" was determined not to let a handicap like a wooden-leg get in his way at doing the thing he knew best and loved most. And he didn't! Johnson kept right on going and hasn't slowed down since.

Until recently Johnson produced an unusual "buffalo rodeo." Last year his show was presented at Brownfield, Lamesa, Monahans, Haskell, Aspermont, San Angelo and San Saba, just to name a few. All his life, Johnson says, he has had a soft spot in his heart for others who are crippled in some way, and has put on many shows for the benefit of crippled children the March of Dimes and others.

One show he remembers particularly well was in 1943 at Temple. Over 600 amputees from the government hospital watched his buffalo rodeo. They watched as "Hackberry", then in his late 50's, put on an exhibition of roping and bulldogging. At the end of the show "Hackberry" pulled off his artificial limb to show to the boys watching that they could do just about what they wanted, even though crippled.

At one time in San Angelo in the early 1920s Johnson brought Indians to the fairgrounds. The Indians killed a beef with bow and arrows and had a barbecue right on the spot. Other promotional schemes from his show included roping a buffalo from a car and having jack rabbit roping contests.

Johnson got his first buffaloes over at the John Slaughter ranch near Post. The buffalo weren't too happy about the whole idea and headed for the brush.

Clyde Miller, Frank Miller, Ed Burdock and several other area men finally got the shaggy beasts corraled.

"Those buffalo were wild, but so were those men, in those days," Johnson recalled.

"Hackberry" wants the buffalo put back on the nickel. He says it is a truly representative American animal and important to the Indians and important to the winning of the west.

Rodeoing has been Johnson's life but not his only occupation. He worked for the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission and later for the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry in the days when the fever ticks were threatening Texas. Often owners opposed his efforts to help them, but Johnson said that when he took the job he intended to do a job, so if "I couldn't outtalk them I'd outrun them."

You can't stop the times from changing and the small, independent shows such as Johnson's are almost no more. The end to his story was the beginning of this one: "For Sale: 6 buffalo." A lot of good times as well as bad ones are summed up in that ad, giving a man a lifetime of memories. If you've ever met him you'll know why we can't call him an "old-timer", the name just doesn't fit his outlook and energy.

We young'ns owe a lot more than we ever stop to realize to the men like Hugh "Hackberry" Johnson. It may be coining a well-worn phrase, but this state and country of ours was made into what it is today by men like him. The traditions that we are so proud of were the way of life for a lot of "rodeo tramps" just like "Hackberry". He is a man who was built by the growing West and in turn did a little building himself.

We have a bad habit of forgetting these builders and as the rodeo week begins here in Snyder, this is our small tribute to one of the "all-around best cowboys" of all times— "Hackberry" Johnson, a bronc rider with a wooden-leg.

Commissioners Vote Hospitalization For County Employes

At the regular meeting of the County Commissioners' Court this morning the court voted to accept the proposal of the Blue Cross Insurance Co. to cover all county employes with hospitalization insurance.

The county will pay the basic premium on each employe. The employe will have the option of insuring his dependents under the same plan. Lower rates are available when all employees are insured than under a plan where participation is voluntary.

In other business the court approved the second quarter treasurer's report, and authorized the employment of the accounting firm of Deffebach and Yorgeson to do an independent audit of the county's books.

The court also approved the June bills for payment.

Sleep Well Again—The Guard's Home

Members of Snyder's First Rifle and Weapons Platoon, Company A, arrived back in Snyder at 9:45 yesterday morning.

The troop-carrying busses left North Ft. Polk at 8:20 Saturday evening. The vehicles of the local guard unit left Friday at noon, spent the night at Ft. Hood, and arrived home yesterday afternoon.

Returning guardsmen reported that the two-week tour had been a hot one. Mosquitos and poison ivy had added to their woes, and with one voice said "It's good to be home."

Goldberg Frowns On Missile Plants Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg says any work stoppages at the nation's missile plants could prompt him to seek antistrike legislation from Congress.

"We cannot afford a strike in our missile manufacturing plants," Goldberg said Sunday during a radio and television program taped with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., for use in New York.

Goldberg expressed hope for a peaceful settlement of a dispute between missile manufacturers and two unions—the United Auto Workers and the Machinists—which threatens to end in a strike July 23. About 125,000 workers at five plants are involved.

Nuclear Compromise Rejected By Soviet

By DORIAN FALK

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin rejected in advance today an American compromise designed to reach a nuclear test ban treaty soon.

Zorin was asked in a news conference if the Soviet Union would be willing to accept international inspections on its territory, if the United States and Britain drop their proposal for internationally staffed seismic detection stations inside Russia.

He said the Western plan was "no compromise at all in our view."

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean said on his arrival Saturday the Western powers are ready to make this compromise to help get a treaty, but would insist the accord provide for international inspection of the site of a suspicious event detected on Soviet soil.

The new Western idea has not yet been raised in the disarmament talks, which resumed today after a month-long recess.

Zorin said the Soviet Union has already made its own compromise by accepting as a negotiating basis a neutralist proposal providing for on-site inspections only by invitation of the country where the suspicious event took place.

"We are prepared to conclude a test ban treaty on the basis of the neutralist proposal, and on no other basis," Zorin added.

The Soviet stand came as the delegates set in an atmosphere notable for a lack of expression of optimism. Only Dean was optimistic enough to say that there was a better chance now for a test ban treaty. But that was before Zorin talked with reporters.

The second phase of negotiations for a disarmament treaty is expected to center on details and technical discussions of the rival U.S. and Soviet plans.

The first three-month phase of the conference made little headway. It was devoted mostly to lengthy speeches and explanations of policy. The only step forward was the adoption of a treaty preamble in general terms.

British Minister of State Joseph B. Godber and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin sidestepped comment on the nuclear issue.

There was a general feeling that a three-power agreement to end nuclear weapon tests was the only issue in these disarmament talks that had any chance of being settled in the foreseeable future.

The Geneva negotiations for world disarmament — a project discussed for 15 years in various forums without any progress at all—are expected to last for several more years.

The current talks appear doomed to failure as long as the Western nations and Soviet bloc cannot find a way to break their deadlock on basic issues on which both sides have said repeatedly they cannot compromise.

The Western plan, already rejected by the Soviets, provides for gradual disarmament with control provisions to guarantee that no disarming country secretly retains armies and weapons, and for a strong international force under the United Natons to keep the peace in a disarming world.

And A Rock Just Came Crashing In

DETROIT (AP)—"I'm going to do it again," Tony Miodusewski, 40, told police in suburban Highland Park Sunday night—and a moment later a rock crashed through the police station's front window.

Miodusewski, who had just been released from the Detroit House of Correction, was held on his third malicious destruction charge since June 18.

"It may not make sense to you coppers," said the unemployed press operator, "But it makes sense to me."

T. E. McCollum Attends Meets

BOULDER, Colo.—Twenty-nine city school superintendents from nine states will compare notes on mutual problems at the University of Colorado School of Education this week, July 13-20.

This will be the 14th annual conference for the school system heads, according to Natt B. Burbank, Boulder superintendent and conference director.

Among the participants will be Superintendent of Snyder Schools, T. E. McCollum.

Discussion topics will range from curriculum problems to school-community relations. A total of 52 specific questions will be discussed involving the superintendent's role in all phases of the educational system.

McCollum also recently attended the Southwestern Seminar for Public School Administrators and the Danforth Lectures at Southwestern University in Georgetown.

Sponsored by Southwestern University and the Department of Religion and Public Education of the Texas Council of Churches under a grant from the Danforth Foundation, the seminar, held annually on the campus, is designed for leading educators from over the state.

The agenda for the three-day conference included addresses, panels, symposiums, discussions, recreation, worship.

Dr. Carl Michalson, Professor of Systematic Theology at Drew University, Madison, New Jersey, was the lecturer. Dr. Rolfe Lanier Hunt, Executive Director, Department of Religion and Public Education, National Council of Churches, New York, served as consultant.

Miss Leighton Among Shakespeare Winners

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP)—Actress Margaret Leighton and the San Diego, Calif. Old Globe Theater are among five winners of American Shakespeare Festival Theater and Academy awards for distinguished work in bringing the bard to the public.

Also honored Sunday night were Dr. Bernard Beckerman, chairman of the department of drama and speech at Hofstra College and author of the book, "Shakespeare at the Globe"; Barbara Holdridge and Marianne Mantell, founder of the Shakespeare Recording Society, and Richard Kirschner, director of the festival's students audience program.

Closing Of Alcatraz Apparently For Real

By CLYDE G. BARTEL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — So, they're going to hang a "closed" sign on Alcatraz.

"I've heard that report many times," said one skeptical oldtime employe on the Rock.

But this time is appears the end is finally is near for the 12-acre island penitentiary in San Francisco Bay.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says the Federal Bureau of Prisons will vacate the rocky bastille, perhaps next year.

The reason is cost of remodeling and maintenance, perhaps $5 million. The daily cost of keeping a prisoner on the island is $13, more than at other prisons, says James V. Bennett, federal prison director.

Sea air has caused extensive corrosion of metal and deterioration of concrete in the buildings —some of them dating from 1907 when the Army installed disciplinary quarters.

The closing will cause no misty-eyed regrets among the elite of American crime circles.

Alcatraz alumni include such notorious characters as the late Al Capone, Chicago prohibition era crime king, who went to the Rock not for shootings and bombings, but for having lied about his income tax.

There was Alvin (Creepy) Karpis, gunman and kidnaper, graduate of Ma Barker's Midwest crime gang of the 1930s. Karpis was sent up for life in 1936. Now a mellow 54, he has been transferred to the kindlier precincts of McNeil Island Federal Penitentiary in Washington State.

Basil (The Owl) Banghart, trigger man for the late Roger (The Terrible) Touhy gang, spent some years in Alcatraz after his recapture following a 1942 breakout from Joliet, Ill., State Prison. His crimes include mail robbery and kidnaping.

Robert F. Stroud, 71, won international notice as the birdman of Alcatraz in recognition of his studies of bird diseases during 17 years in solitary on the Rock.

Stroud spent 42 years in solitary confinement in Leavenworth and Alcatraz prisons. He began doing time in 1909 for the killing of a Juneau, Alaska, bartender over a dance hall girl. He was put in solitary after he killed a Leavenworth guard in 1918. Stroud has been in the Federal Medical Center at Springfield, Mo., since 1959.

Most famed of the Alcatraz inmates today probably are Mickey Cohen and Frankie Carbo.

Cohen, former Los Angeles bookie who has been the target of gangland guns, is on the Rock while appealing his 15-year sentence for income tax evasion. Carbo, one-time New York boxing czar, was convicted in Los Angeles of trying to muscle in on the earnings of a boxer. He is appealing his 25-year sentence.

Arthur (Doc) Barker, another big-time Midwest gangster and kidnaper, was in Alcatraz until Jan. 13, 1939, when he and four other convicts tried to escape. Barker was shot and killed by guards after he had sawed through bars and headed for the bay. The other four were captured.

The erosion caused by salt air was given as partial reason, by prison officials, for the apparent success of the latest escape attempt.

It was June 12 that brothers Clarence and John Anglin, from Alabama, and Frank Lee Morris, of Louisiana, all bank robbers, fled their 5½ x 9-foot cells. They used sharpened spoons to chip cement from around their cell vents, squeeze through and flee.

The trio has not been heard from since, and Warden Olin G. Blackwell and other prison officials believe the men drowned. However, their bodies have not been found.

Since Alcatraz passed from Army to federal prison control June 19, 1934, there have been 12 escape attempts involving 33 men. In these, six convicts and three guards have been killed.

Ralph Roe, 29, bank robber, and Theodore Cole, 23, kidnaper, both from Oklahoma, swam away from the island Dec. 16, 1937. Prison officials believe they drowned, but their bodies never were recovered.

The other 22 attempted escapees were returned to their cells.

There are 262 prisoners on the island today, and a total staff of 156, including 94 custodial officers.

One of the expensive inconveniences is lack of water on the island. Army barges bring 170,000 gallons two or three times a week to fill storage tanks.

What to do with the island after the prisoners move away?

San Francisco Mayor George Christopher suggests it would be a fine site for a gigantic statue, something significant of the Pacific and San Francisco's Golden Gate opening toward the Orient.

And there are always the pelicans and gulls. The fog-shrouded island was their haven long before the first Spaniards settled in San Francisco in 1776.

Maybe the birds would like to have it back.

Department Claims Estes Bond Shows No Favoritism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department produced figures today it said proved there was no favoritism in setting bond on Billie Sol Estes for government grain stored in his warehouses.

But Dabney Townsend, acting chief of the warehouse branch, said the method of setting bond has been changed "to eliminate any possibility of criticism."

Townsend was the first witness as the House Government Operations subcommittee resumed its hearings on the grain storage operations of the Pecos, Tex., financier.

Estes, 37, has been charged with fraud and declared bankrupt. His grain storage activities have been taken over by a receiver.

Townsend produced a tabulation of all grain bonds fixed at $700,000 or more. Estes' bond was $700,000. Unless other factors are involved, the normal maximum bond for grain storage facilities is $200,000.

"Of all the bonds set above $200,000 on judgment alone," Townsend said, "Estes was the highest."

He said Estes' bond was increased through the latter part of 1960 from $200,000 to $700,000 to keep pace with his rapid expansion.

The reasons for the increase, Townsend said, were the rapid expansion of Estes' storage facilities, the single ownership, the complex structure of Estes' financial empire and the fact that he was a relative newcomer in the grain storage business.

Late in 1960, it was decided to boost Estes' bond to $1 million, but he produced a net worth statement which satisfied the then head of the warehouse branch, Carl Miller and it remained at $700,000.

Later, the net worth statement proved to be fraudulent.

Townsend, Miller's assistant at the time, said he agreed completely with the decision, because after making allowances called for by an audit "the net worth was far in excess of what was required at the time.

"There was no question raised as to his financial condition until September, 1961," Townsend added.

He read portions of a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman from the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Freeman had called to the attention of the professional group the Estes' audit of Winn P. Jackson, Lubbock, Tex., who has admitted he merely transferred Estes' figures to his letterhead without checking them.

Running through a tabulation of bonds set above $700,000, Townsend said there were four which might be comparable to Estes but none was set that high on judgment alone.

One was boosted because of a deficiency in net assets, another at the request of the warehouse operator, and a third to continue an agreement with the predecessor of the present operator.

The fourth, he said, was boosted partly because of a deficiency in net assets and partly on the basis of judgment of the size of the operations.

"Estes had the only bond of $700,000 or more based on judgment alone," he said.

Formerly, Miller alone was responsible for setting warehouse bonding requirements. Now, Townsend said, that function is performed by a three-man bond review committee.

He said the board had been created since Estes' indictment or fraud in early April and had set some 350 to 400 bonds since it began operating.

Care For Bear Huntin'?

ATLANTA (AP)—The bear went over the mountain and if he does not go back he more than likely will end up as a rug.

For several weeks a black bear has roamed an area of north Georgia, tearing down fences and frightening cattle and people.

From me to you A DAILY VIEW

Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"Then the Lord said to Joshua, 'Stretch out the javelin that is in your hand toward Ai; for I will give it into your hand.'"

Joshua 8:18 (read verses 1-23)

How many times have you done something that really seemed big, and many people came to you and patted you on the back and said, "You were just wonderful"? Do you remember the pride that swelled up within you? It is only natural that we should take some pride in what we do. We ought to do all things well—the best that we are capable of doing. But, don't you know? It is not you that really deserves the praise. It is God who gives you power to act, or think. He is the one who "will give it into your hand." Give him the praise and the thanks that is his due.

Guilty Pleas Heard In Justice Court

Daniel Faniell and Bennie Huntsman, Snyder Negros, each pleaded guilty in Justice Court this morning to a charge of "drunk and fighting."

The two had been arrested by the Scurry County Sheriff's office at a cafe on south Avenue M yesterday. Each was fined $5 plus costs of $15.50.

Faniell had received a knife wound, and was taken to Cogdell Hospital by Bell Ambulance Service where he was treated and released.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Election Hearings Set In Upshur County

GILMER (AP) — Hearings in the Upshur County election contest were to continue today.

The dispute has centered around the second Democratic primary election for the office of tax assessor-collector. W. C. Jones apparently beat Tommie Mitchell by two votes on June 2.

Both sides have challenged the legality of some absentee ballots.

In testimony Saturday, lawyers for defendant Jones questioned a Denton Church of Christ minister and his wife, who said they voted in the contested election.

Jack White said he had been at Denton 2 years but still considers Upshur County his home. He said although he had served as minister in 8 towns outside his home in the last 16 years, he had always voted in Upshur County.

More voters from Rocky, in South Upshur County, took the witness stand. All but two of the 45 Rocky voters who testified said they voted for Jones.

Theater Executive Dies In Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dick Dickson, 65, widely-known theater executive, died Saturday in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital after a long illness.

A onetime managing director of New York's famed Roxy Theater, he spent 20 years as an executive here with National Theaters and its subsidiary, Fox West Coast Theaters.

He retired from the chain in 1956 and had since managed a shopping center in Palm Springs. He is survived by his widow.

JUICY HAMBURGERS—Pictured above are a few of the 26 persons who enjoyed a hamburger party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Leveridge, on Fortieth Street Friday evening. Members of the two Beta Sigma Phi chapters, their husbands and guests, feasted on an abundance of food and played bridge and 42.

ICE CREAM—Mr. Carl Small, whose wife is a member of one of the Beta Sigma Phi chapters, acquired the job of turning the crank on one of the three delicious freezers of ice cream enjoyed by the group Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Forman of Cisco have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathryn Ann to David Prentice Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Smith of Snyder. The wedding ceremony will be performed Tuesday, Sept. 4, at the Fourteenth Street Church of Christ in Cisco. Miss Forman is a graduate of Cisco High School and is presently employed by Lemore Pharmacy in Cisco. A graduate of Snyder High School, Mr. Smith attended Cisco Junior College for two years and will enroll at Texas A&M College this fall.

Mrs. Higgins To Train In Peace Corps

Loyta Higgins, Manager of Editorial Services for the Betty Crocker Kitchens of General Mills, has been assigned to assist in training Peace Corps Volunteers on the eating and living habits of the foreign people, their customs, languages and nutritional problems, it was announced by Helen Hallbert, Director of the Betty Crocker Kitchens.

Mrs. Higgins, the daughter of an engineer who was in the foreign service of the American Export Lines, is a graduate of the University of Egypt in home economics. She speaks six languages and has traveled extensively throughout the world.

The first group of 120 Volunteers will undergo a 10-week training period at the University of Minnesota before being assigned to various areas of Pakistan. Mrs. Higgins, who is married to an accountant and is the mother of two teenage sons, will work with Mr. Luther Pickerel and Dr. William Rogers, who are in charge of the project. She will give lectures and work with the university's home economics department in preparing typical Pakistani dishes.

"One of the greatest problems in foreign countries," says Mrs. Higgins, "is that the people are not utilizing their own food in the correct manner for a healthy, nutritional diet. This program is not designed to force our food into the diets of the foreign countries, but to use the products they already grow."

Mrs. Higgins was selected for this program by R. Sargent Shriver, Jr., Director of the Peace Corps, after meeting with him and his staff in Washington. She is the only home economist for a food manufacturing company participating in the program.

In addition to her lectures, Mrs. Higgins will also prepare printed material for use by the Volunteers as well as "talking recipe records," which will include information on nutrition and sanitation. These will be made in different languages to be used in Pakistan and other countries as the Peace Corp's program expands.

Furs, Slim Skirts, Top Italy Show

By LOUISE HICKMAN
Associated Press Fashion Writer

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — An eye-opening richness of furs brought big applause Sunday night at the showing of Veneziani's fall and winter collection in the Pitti Palace.

A particular favorite was a beige broadtail coat worn over a rib-hugging mink blouse and straight, shirred broadtail skirt.

For daytime there were big fur hats meeting big fur collars at the eye.

For evening there were jeweled furs—a jet-strewn leopard jacket with white mink bands and a great cape coat of chinchilla skins joined by strips of glitter.

Veneziani's silhouette had wide rounded shoulders on molded-front, hip-length jackets with rippling shell back. Skirts were shell-shaped, too. They were mid-knee in front and curved down to the top of the calf in back.

The night's other collection, Forquet's, featured big square kimono sleeves joined to a high-waisted bodice in easy shape-skimming design. His colors were interesting, especially with the strawberry wigs worn by all the models—petrol blue, dark China blue, pale russet, oatmeal and intense lavender pink.

Three-level costumes, also shown by Forquet last season, were done with short, tie-on boleros over fitted hip-length overblouses and slim skirts. There were many seven-eighths tunics.

Soft blouses with long gathered sleeves, in crepe or chiffon, were outstanding. One of these in bronze brown crepe was worn with a double tier shirred black crepe skirt.

He did few furs but those few were sensational. There was a close red fox cape with black fox collar and hat that met at the eye. There was a three-quarter brown otter coat, belted in black leather with the same hat and collar treatment, worn over a white satin sheath with deep otter hem.

Forquet evening designs had back-buttoned jackets with great kimono sleeves worn over skirts that puffed out stiffly and abruptly at the waist, then fell straight. Deep fur and silk petal borders were frequently used.

Towering peaked balloon headdresses were worn with many of the evening clothes.

Authentic Thai Village Trains Foreign Troops

BY RICHARD STARNES

CAMP COBRA, Pak Chong, Thailand.—How Master Sgt. North East Woodall of Jackson, Miss., got to be a high priest of the Eboo Cult is a story that takes some telling.

Sergeant Woodall is an old hand with the Wolfhound (U.S. 27th Infantry) Battle Group. He's a Negro and top-kick in Echo Company of the Wolfhounds.

There are plenty of grizzled, leathery infantry officers here who will tell you Woodall is the best noncom in the outfit, and it's important to understand that when they say this, they mean he's the best top sergeant there is, because the Wolfhounds, officers and men, are an elite outfit and know it.

As to how Sergeant Woodall got taken with religion: The Wolfhounds reached Thailand nearly three months ago—first, to provide an awfully hard knuckle of resistance to possible Communist agression and, next, to train in methods of dealing with guerrilla war.

There are few rules in this dirty sort of combat, but one of the rules everyone agrees on is that guerrillas don't thrive unless they've got substantial support among peasant villagers. It follows—or at least guerrilla-war experts believe it follows—that an important element in combating guerrillas is to try to win the loyalty and support of the native population before Communist infiltrators do.

In order to learn how to best deal with native populations—and in Southeast Asia they're among some of the world's most primitive people—the Wolfhounds built a native village of their own. They have carefully avoided identifying it as a Thai village—officially it is a typical village in Hostland, a mythical country which has asked the U. S. to help defend it against subversion and guerrilla terrorism.

But Ban Kara Eboo—Ban is Thai for village. Kara is taken from a similar experiment carried out in Hawaii and Eboo is Echo Company's proud and affectionate corruption of its own name—is so much like an outback Thai village that it would take an expert to detect that it was, so to speak, a hothouse variety.

Ban Kara Eboo is a couple of miles from this base. It is authentic right down to water buffaloes plowing a rice paddy, caged chickens, a smugly content hog in his private wallow—and real people living in thatched huts. Some of the people are Thais and some are soldiers of this Wolfhound Battle Group. An outsider is hard put to tell the difference.

Wolfhounds number every race and color under the American flag, from Hawaiians, Nisei, Japanese and Puerto Ricans to Priest-Sgt. North East Woodall. Woodall, of course, is the high priest of Ban Kara Eboo, and if the Wolfhounds hadn't got him first, he would doubtless have been as proficient an actor as he is a soldier. At the end of the main and only street in Ban Kara Eboo is the temple of the Eboo Cult, and presiding over it is a tall, white-robed, dignified man who carries himself with the bearing appropriate to a man of the cloth.

There's also a village headman and a tiny outdoor fruit stand where a genuine Thai haggles enthusiastically with customers. There are old men, women and children. Every effort has been made to make Ban Kara Eboo authentic.

The village is used for training problems. A platoon leader, perhaps a second lieutenant, is told simply to take his men into the village, usually by helicopter airlift, and to secure it against Communist guerrilla agression—without use of force except as a last ditch measure to save his men and himself if the villagers or guerrillas attack. In a typical training program, the American officer will land perhaps a half mile from the village, set up roadblocks and a perimeter defense and then go into the village with only a medic, a rifleman or two and an interpreter.

If all goes well, our young officer will make friends with the headman, who is a Wolfhound, and the priest, who is Sergeant Woodall. And there will be another village entered on our side of the ledger.

Alas, however, the leader of our forces is never cut in on the script.

In one "action" I watched, the Eboo priest insisted that the platoon leader remove his boots before entering the temple. A villager promptly stole the boots. The pig broke loose and went careening down the main street—and then hidden guerrillas opened fire. It was lively and exciting for a few minutes, and, short of the real thing, it is hard to imagine better training for American troops who may have to fight a sure-enough guerrilla war sooner than any of us think.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCIENCE

QUESTION: What is swamp fire?

• • •

ANSWER: Swamp fire is a strange light seen over swamps, seeming to drift over the marsh grass. It is also called ignis fatuus, meaning false fire, and will-o-the-wisp. Because there is so much humidity in swamps, the great amount of vegetable matter decays rather quickly. Gasses are produced by this decaying matter. Sometimes the gasses begin to burn. Swamp fire moves along because it keeps igniting neighboring gasses. It flutters so eerily that in centuries past people tried to follow it. They believed that if they found its source or its destination they would find treasure. No one who followed the fire ever found any treasure and most who followed it far enough never came back. Adventurers following swamp fire concentrated on the fire, never looking to see where they were going, and often became mired in the mud, or so completely lost they never found their way out of the swamps again. The expression "following a will-o-the-wisp" came from the meaningless pursuit of following a strange fire that led to absolutely nothing.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Have you ever seen any swamp fire or any lights at night that you could not explain? Eventually explanations are found for all of these things. Astronaut John Glenn reported seeing lights out in space. What can you find out about these lights? 7-16

Simple Life Achieved In Mountains

By HAL BOYLE

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Bert Garner, 76, "Sage of the Great Smokies," goes barefoot seven months of the year and has proved a man can get by on $50 a year.

A disciple of simple living who dwells on the farm of his birth in a two-room cabin he built 42 years ago for $87.50, the elderly philosopher spent less than 15 cents a day for meals until Uncle Sam put him on Social Security.

Now Bert varies his diet of dried corn, fresh vegetables and soybeans with an occasional restaurant meal.

"I was against Social Security before, and I'm against it now," said Garner. "I don't think it's the function of the government to take care of the people—it's the duty of the people to take care of the government.

"But I guess I can't change the system single-handed."

Bert held jobs from Manhattan to California before he decided at 60 to swear off work and give up the world's foolish ways for the rest of his life.

"I believe in simple living and high thinking," said Garner. "Freedom means more than money anytime.

"Most people never know real freedom. They have become wage slaves.

"I choose to live the way I do so I can live the way I want. Leisure is one of the great words in the English language. I have the leisure I want to learn and study."

His cabin in a 50-acre woodland retreat has no radio, no television, no electricity. His annual utilities bill is 38 cents—for two gallons of lamp oil.

But the cabin is stocked with a library of 2,000 books. And Bert easily spends more for magazines and newspapers than he does for food, clothing and shelter.

Garner raises 27 kinds of fruits, nuts and vegetables, in his garden, says he is far too busy ever to be lonely or bored.

The world he forsook has beaten a path to Garner's door. He has had visitors from most states and from as far away as Switzerland.

One university professor, after talking to Bert, said:

"If everyone lived as thriftily as you do, it would wreck the economy of our country almost overnight."

To curious callers who ask how they can achieve happiness through simplicity, Bert replied with a smile:

"First, shoot your wife. This is no life for a married man.'

All NL Clubs Split Sunday Twin Bills

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National League set a new high for futility Sunday. After 10 games, stretching over 7 hours and 45 minutes, all 10 clubs were right back where they started.

The five split doubleheaders left Los Angeles 2½ games in front of San Francisco and 4½ in front of Pittsburgh. St. Louis still trailed by 10 and Cincinnati by 10½.

And the Mets? Still 34½ games out and 39 games below .500.

You can't say the Mets didn't try. They gave the San Francisco Giants fits, torturing the 35,463 fans who turned out to see the former tenants of the Polo Grounds do their stuff.

After beating the Giants in the opener 5-3, the Mets staged a six-run uprising in the eighth inning of the second game before finally succumbing 9-8.

Manager Al Dark was forced to call on his ace, Juan Marichal, for his first relief stint of the season to put down the aroused Mets. Marichal got the last out in the eighth and retired three in a row in the ninth.

The Dodgers also ran into trouble with the have-nots. After breezing past the Phillies in the opener 9-1 on a six-hitter by Johnny Podres, they lost 2-1 to Art Mahaffey, who never had beaten them previously.

St. Louis and Pittsburgh clawed away at one another all day and got nothing more than a standoff. Fred Whitfield's pinch homer in the 10th gave the Cards the opener 3-2 but the Pirates grabbed the second 8-7 on Roberto Clemente's single after the Cards tied the score in the top of the ninth. Stan Musial set another record when he came up for his 10,428th time at bat in the sixth inning of the second game, breaking Honus Wagner's old National League mark.

Milwaukee got five-hit shutout pitching by Lew Burdette for a 5-0 victory over Cincinnati in the first game and appeared on the way to two before the Reds beat rookie Denny Lemaster 3-2 with two in the ninth on Vada Pinson's 16th homer and a tainted run after Lee Maye dropped Wally Post's fly.

Houston was guilty of nine errors, five in the first game which they won from Chicago 5-4 on Al Spangler's two-run homer in the seventh. The Cubs took the second 4-1 with 10 hits, four Houston errors and a tidy five-hit pitching job by Dick Ellsworth.

In the American League, the New York Yankees moved 2½ games in front of Los Angeles by taking two from Kansas City, 8-6 in 10 innings and 11-3. Baltimore knocked off Cleveland in both ends 6-4 and 6-5. Minnesota topped Boston 5-3 and their second game was rained out. Chicago won a single from Detroit 5-3. Los Angeles beat Washington 5-1 in the opener but the Senators came back to take the second 10-4.

The Giants' hopes of rolling up football scores against the Mets as the Dodgers did Saturday, were roiled by Jay Hook's nine-hit pitching and Frank Thomas' hitting in the opener. Thomas had two doubles and a single and drove in two runs. Tom Haller of the Giants hit the only homer after the Mets had a five-run fourth.

With a 9-2 lead going to the last of the eighth, the Giants appeared to be in a comfortable position in the second game. However, the Mets sent 11 men to the plate in the eighth and scored six runs before Marichal finally cooled them off. Orlando Cepeda and Harvey Kuenn each hit two-run homers for the Giants in that game.

Podres' complete game against the Phils was his first since May 9. He had failed to finish 13 straight times.

Mahaffey had lost seven straight to the Dodgers in his big league career before he finally scored in the second game. Phil Ortega, a surprise starter, simply couldn't handle Roy Sievers who hit his 12th homer in the second and scored the winning run on Bobby Wine's single in the fourth after he was hit by a pitch.

Whitfield's homer at Pittsburgh won the game for Ray Washburn, the man for whom he batted. Roy Face was the loser. Face won the second game when Bill Virdon, Dick Groat and Clemente singled in the last of the ninth. Trailing 7-2, the Cards fought back to tie on Ken Boyer's two-run homer in the top of the ninth. Don Ferrarese was the loser.

Eddie Mathews took over eighth place on the all-time list of home run hitters with his 388th in the first game. Loser Jim Maloney was the victim. With the Braves leading 2-1 and Lemaster doing a fine job in his first start since he was called up from Louisville three days ago, Pinson hit his 16th homer in the ninth, tying the second game. After Maye's error on Post's fly, a wild pitch and Hank Foiles' single ended it.

The Colts overcame five errors with home runs by Roman Mejias, Carl Warwick and Spangler in the opener, won by Hal Woodeshick. They couldn't cope with Ellsworth's pitching in the second and helped the Cubs with four errors.

FL Braves Stave Off Indians, 8-7

The Braves established themselves as Farm League kings of 1962 here Saturday, nipping the Indians 8-7 in a nip-and-tuck interleague battle. They did it by striking early, then holding on for dear life, too, sending 11 men to the plate in the first inning to score five runs and gain a lead which they held the remainder of the contest.

Only one hit was landed during that opening five-run surge—an infield single by Mike Shearburn that didn't figure in the scoring. Prior to the lone bingle, five bases on balls and an error combined to give the eventual winners their early margin.

The Tribesmen pecked away at the lead with single runs in the first, second and third, followed by three more in the fourth and their final one in the fifth.

Braves catcher Larry Krause was the big hitter for the winners. He electrified the crowd in the third frame by powering the first pitch offered him over the left-field barrier, scoring Tony Scott, who had walked ahead of him. Krause singled the inning following to go two-for-four. He had three runs batted in for the evening, also.

Tribe first sacker Doug Morris was practically the whole show for his team in the hitting department. He sandwiched in a leadoff double to deep left in the third between first and fourth inning singles for three of his nine's four safeties off Lee McNair, who toiled the entire game for the victory.

McNair was strongest in the latter stages of the contest. He struck out four in the last two innings while failing to relinquish a hit. The Indians' fifth-inning run was of the unearned variety. Over the span of the game, he fanned a dozen and walked nine.

Loser Randy Rushing, like McNair a righthander, also went the route for the Indians. He also was touched for four hits, struck out five and walked 12.

Rushing was double-tough in the clutch, as attested to by the fact that 14 Braves were left stranded on the basepaths during the six innings duel. In contrast, the Indians had eight runners die on base.

Coaching the winning outfit were V. V. Shearburn and Larry McNair. Heading up the Indians were Leroy Leard and L. A. Rushing.

Abilene '9' Nips Local Merchants

ABILENE—The Abilene Merchants concentrated two runs in each of two innings here Saturday night to submerge Snyder's Merchants, 4-3.

The Abilenians found the scoring combination early in the game, when their first two batters up singled and were doubled home by Wimpy Raines. Raines doubled again in the fourth and tripped home ahead of Don Bell, who blasted a homer.

Snyder picked up two of its tallies in the fourth, also, when Dale Brown walked, Bill Chambless doubled to bring him around, and Ronnie Winkles popped a single to platter Chambless.

A father-son team effort brought the Snyder nine its final run in the fifth. Chester Simons Jr. walked to light the spark, after which Chester Simons Sr. slammed a double to score him.

Both winner Jack Richards and loser Lonnie Crosby allowed five hits. Mickey Sterling doubled in the seventh for Snyder's other extra-base knock. The two opposing hurlers each struck out six, also.

Rain put a damper of the scheduled nightcap of the same evening with the score knotted at 1-1 when the duel was halted at the end of six innings.

Abilene took a quick lead in that one when Tommy Alexander smacked a first-inning double and was singled home by Frank Crow. The lone Snyder tally transpired in the fourth when Mert Creswell reached base by error, stole second, and came bounding home ahead of Winkles' single.

The one-base blow by Winkles was the sole safety of the game collected by the visitors off Sandifer, who whiffed seven. Crosby toiled for Snyder again, relinquished six hits and struck out six.

El Paso '9' Outdistances Tulsa, 11-7

By The Associated Press

El Paso's 11-7 victory over Tulsa Sunday night wasn't an artistic success but it sure had everything else.

The two clubs got 32 hits and 18 runs between them, there were four home runs and five errors, nine pitchers toiled, all briefly, and it took three hours and twenty-four minutes to play the game.

Tulsa didn't like it but El Paso didn't mind since it won and increased its Texas League lead to 2½ games over the Oilers.

Austin broke out of a tie for third with a 3-2 triumph over Albuquerque and San Antonio fell down to fourth as the result of a 6-5 trimming from Amarillo.

Bill Bryan and Ron Shoop each hit a home run in the ninth for Albuquerque but that only made the game close. Austin scored all its runs in the first four innings.

Amarillo shoved over four runs in the ninth to beat San Antonio, with Chuck Boone's infield single driving in the deciding tally.

Referendum Down, But Is It Out?

DALLAS (AP) — A prominent opponent of legalized horse race betting challenged a claim that 103 state legislators are backing a bill to approve local option elections on pari-mutuel race betting.

Dr. W. R. White said, "I believe the men elected to the legislature are too fine and too honorable to go back on what the people of Texas have voted to do."

Dr. White, chancellor of Baylor University and chairman of Texans Against Race Track Gambling, spoke Sunday from the pulpit of the First Baptist Church of Oak Cliff in Dallas.

Last May voters defeated a referendum to amend the Texas constitution and make pari-mutuel horse race betting legal.

Dr. White told the congregation that Frederick Waggoner, president of the Texas Thoroughbred Horse Breeder's Association, said June 26 that 103 legislators had pledged support to a local option bill that would legalize gambling on a county-option basis.

Wright Earns Top Money At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Mickey Wright, the top money-winner on the ladies PGA golf circuit, banked another top prize check today after winning the $10,000 Milwaukee Women's Open in easy fashion.

The 27-year-old blonde from San Diego, Calif., earned $1,350, boosting her 1962 earnings to $10,357, with a 72-hole total of 289, 9-over-par, at the Tuckaway Country Club Sunday. She had a final round of 77.

Veteran Patty Berg and Jo Ann Prentice tied for runner-up money of $970, finishing seven strokes behind Miss Wright. Mary Lena Faulk was next with a 297, good for $730.

Miss Berg, the 44-year-old golf great, posted the best score in the final round with 38-35—73.

A two-stroke penalty she imposed on herself in the second round cost her full ownership of second place and accompanying money of $1,070.

Richards Promises Shakeup

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — General Manager Paul Richards has abruptly announced that Colt baseball fans can expect to see many new faces in Houston uniforms unless the team stops its losing ways.

After overcoming five errors to beat the Chicago Cubs, 5-4 in the opener of a doubleheader, the Colts lost the nightcap 4-1.

The split interrupted Houston's longest losing streak at seven games. The Colts now have lost 18 of their last 21.

In what may be the start of mass turnover, Richards said Houston had swapped pitchers and catchers with the Oklahoma City farm club.

Catcher Jim Campbell and pitcher Jim Umbricht were called up and pitcher Dave Giusi and catcher Merritt Ranew were sent to the American Association club.

"It's time for us to try some other people," said a rather obviously miffed Richards.

"The way we're going, we can mess up these games with anybody. You're liable to see 25 new players run in there if we can find them."

The Colts apparently hope Campbell and Umbricht will improve their catching and relief pitching.

Campbell has been hitting .355 with nine homers for Oklahoma City and contending for the American Association batting title.

"He deserves a promotion," said Richards, "so we'll try him for a while. He went down there and proved himself. Now its up to Ranew to do the same.

"Giusti needs to pitch. He's a fine major league prospect, but he's definitely groping now."

Umbricht specialized in relief pitching for the Oklahoma City club and had a good record for a pitcher with a team that just 10 days ago vacated the cellar. He was 2-3, striking out 51 in 51 innings and posting an earned run average of 3.53.

Youngsters Heralded In Net Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—Karen Hantze Susman, America's newest tennis queen, and 21-year-old Chuck McKinley, fresh from American Zone Davis Cup victories, lead a field of 64 men and 32 women into the National Clay Courts Tournament today.

The 19-year-old Mrs. Susman, surprise Wimbledon winner, was defeated in the meet's finals at River Forest Tennis Club last year by Germany's Edda Buding. Miss Buding is not returning and neither of men's defending champion Tut Bartzen.

McKinley, who was ousted in the 1961 quarter-finals, is seeded No. 1 with Whitney Reed No. 2. Others in the domestic seed, in order of their seeds, are Jon Douglas, Frank Froehling, Don Dell, Bill Bond, Larry Nagler and Marty Riessen.

Mrs. Susman heads the women's bracket. Darlene Hard is No. 2, followed by Billie Jean Moffitt and Gwyneth Thomas.

The foreign seed for men includes Fred Stolle of Australia, Jaun Couder of Spain, Jaidip Mukerjea of India and Eduardo Zuleta of Ecuador.

CL Playoff Beginning In Colorado City

Snyder's Colt League All-Stars embark on the first leg of their playoff schedule in Colorado City this evening at 8-o'clock, the game marking the first in the best-of-three which will determine the team to advance further in the playoff picture.

Dan Holt and Fred Kizer coach the local Stars, who play their second series contest here in Snyder Thursday at 8 p.m. Should a third game be necessitated, it will also be reeled off in Snyder on Saturday night.

Composing the Snyder roster are Tommy Sinclair, Ray and Roy Kizer, David Holt, Billy West, David Cadena, David Wiman, Fred Finley, Lloyd Potts, Ramon Valdez, Gary Trim, Eddie Edwards, Charles McKimmey, Larry Anderson, Robert Golder, and alternates Powers Boothe and Gus Tovar.

'Horse Of Year' Title Undecided

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a bit premature to get serious about the question of 1962 "Horse of the Year" honors, but since Kelso has been getting his lumps and Carry Back is the principal culprit perhaps trainer Jack Price has a point.

Ever since Carry Back, "the people's horse," whipped Kelso in the $100,000 Metropolitan Handicap May 30 at Aqueduct, Price has been having sweet dreams. There was one slight interruption when a brash intruder named Beau Purple knocked both Kelso and Carry Back for a loop in the $100,000 Suburban Handicap July 4.

But Jack and his wife Katherine, in whose name Carry Back runs, are back in dreamland again today. Their horse ran one of his greatest races Saturday when he demolished the Monmouth Park 1¼ mile track record in winning the $109,150 Monmouth Handicap by 3 lengths over Kelso.

Mighty Kelso, Horse of the Year in 1960 and again last season, appears to have had it—at least for the present. He ran sixth in the Metropolitan when Carry Back equalled the Aqueduct mile record. The Bohemia Stable 5-year-old was beaten 2½ lengths by Beau Purple in the Suburban, as Carry Back was fourth. Carry Back was going away Saturday at the finish, when jockey Johnny Rotz wheeled him over the line in 2:00 2-5.

"He could've gone around again, and he'd beaten 'em by seven or more lengths," Rotz said.

"In the winner's circle, Carry Back wasn't breathing hard enough to blow out a match," said the jubilant Price. "Now we'll go after the Brooklyn next Saturday at Aqueduct".

Carry Back ($9.00) collected $70,947, and he needs only $401.00 to surpass the great Citation and become the third leading money winning horse in the world. Citation retired with $1,085,760. C. B. has $1,085,360.

From the Far West there are handicap champ rumbles generated by Rex Ellsworth's Prove It, easy winner of the $162,100 Hollywood Park Gold Cup. Prove It, who now has won his last three stakes starts at Hollywood, finished the Gold Cup 1¼ miles with a rush, to whip Mrs. C. M. Ring'r Windy Sands by 3¼ lengths in 2:00 flat. Prove It, who was out much of last year with an injury, earned $102,100 and jacked his total to $456,970. Coupled with Olden Times, a stablemate, the entry paid $5.20 straight.

The J. G. W. Stable's Ridan, boosted his 3-year-old stock by taking the $102,250 Arlington classic by seven lengths. Ethel Hafa's Mighty Fennec was second, and Fred Hooper's Admiral's Voyage was third. Ridan earned $64,750, and now is pointing for the $100,000 American Derby Aug. 4 in Chicago.

Meadow Stable's Cicada and Crimson King Farm's Crimson Satan ran into more trouble Saturday, as did Darby Dan Farm's Bramalea. Christiana Stable's Cyane ($20.20) upset favored Crimson Satan in the $84,350 Dwyer Handicap for 3-year-olds at Aqueduct. Satan ran fourth.

Alfred Groleu's North South Gal ($26.50) captured the $57,762 Oaks at Delaware Park, as Bramalea was second, and Cicada third.

John Rudometkin, who has signed with the New York Knickerbockers, holds all University of Southern California basketball records. He scored 1,484 points with USC; 400 more than Bill Sharman now with the Boston Colts.

Manny Jiminez, Kansas City rookie outfielder who has been leading American Leaguers in hitting this spring, formerly was in the Milwaukee chain. He hit 17 homers for Vancouver, B. C., last year.

When Cincinnati played host to Pittsburgh the first time this season, Manager Fred Hutchinson used perfect strategy. Each of the eight pinch hitters he used reached base and the Reds swept the three games, 3-2, 9-2 and 6-4.

President Returns To White House

By CORNELIUS F. HURLEY

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy returns to Washington today after his second Cape Cod summer weekend of rest and relaxation on the sparkling blue waters of Nantucket Sound.

The President has no public appointments for his first day back from the weekend, but he is expected to get a first-hand report from his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, due in from Brazil.

A scheduled presidential visit to Brazil was put off last week because of the political situation there. The announcement of the delay came as Salinger was in Brazil.

The President varied his weekend program of boating, swimming and water sports in the vicinity of the summer White House Sunday.

He took off aboard the No. 2 presidential yacht Patrick J., — named for his paternal grandfather — for a run of 20-odd miles across Nantucket Sound to Martha's Vineyard, where the boat put in at Edgartown Harbor, mecca of coastal yachtsmen.

The presidential yacht stayed only a few moments at a pier near the Edgartown Yacht Club, then put out to sea again.

He was there long enough to be seen by scores of small boat sailors and summer people who somehow got the word he was coming.

Aboard the Patrick J. with the President were his wife and daughter, Caroline; his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, and the President's sister, Jean, with her husband, Stephen Smith and son, Stephen Jr.

The President returned to his summer White House in late afternoon after nearly six hours on the water.

Hungry? Not Me!

CAIRO, Ill. (AP) — Fourteen jailed integrationists, vowing not to eat until they are released, got candy bars through their cell bars Sunday.

Police said it was not known if the 14 ate any of the candy. None of them accepted jail lunches or suppers.

Two of the 14 ate breakfast, then vowed with the others to refuse all food. Dozens of Negroes visited the jail during the day and passed candy bars to the prisoners.

Three white men, a white woman and 10 Negro teen-agers were jailed Saturday when they refused police orders to move from the entrance of an all-white swimming pool.

Four others arrested at the same time are free on bond. Those remaining in jail said they did not want bond.

All are scheduled to appear in court Thursday on charges ranging from violation of the state law against mob action, breach of the peace and obstructing an officer. Possible penalties are one year in jail and fines of $500.

Television Preaching Begins At Emory

ATLANTA (AP) — Emory University is aiming at bringing preachers into closer contact with the television-conditioned congregations.

A course in television preaching, described as the first in any U.S. seminary, will be offered this fall. Student ministers will preach before television cameras and view themselves in action later on videotape.

Death Toll Climbs To 26 In Texas

By The Associated Press

A rash of multi-fatality traffic accidents late Sunday pushed the weekend violent death toll in Texas to 36.

Twenty-one persons died in traffic mishaps and five persons drowned.

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

A headon collision on an overpass just north of Cleburne late Sunday killed three persons and left two others injured.

Killed in the grinding crash were Frederick T. Harvey, 26, a Cleburne pharmacist; his wife, 24-year-old Mrs. Janice Harvey; and her grandmother, 61-year-old Mrs. Clara Dietz of Lehighton, Pa.

A 21-year-old Kenedy man and a Beeville youth were killed Sunday in a two-car wreck four miles south of Kenedy on U.S. Highway 181.

The dead were Raul Robert Dias and Sixto Martinez, about 18.

A 30-year-old Alvin man and his wife died Sunday night after a two-car collision that critically injured their two young sons.

Dan David Dansby, a draftsman for the Tennessee Gas & Transmission Co. of Houston, died shortly after the accident. His wife, Mrs. Mattie C. Dansby, 30, died later at a Houston hospital.

A 27-year-old Dallas man, Johnnie Lee Disman, was found fatally wounded Sunday night in a small house at the rear of his parents' home. Investigating officers said that a 16-gauge shotgun was found beside Disman, who died a short time later of a shotgun wound in the chest.

Thomas Casey Boisture Jr., 8-year-old son of a University of Houston assistant football coach, was killed in Houston Sunday when a pile of sheetrock and debris fell on him in the garage of a home under construction next door to his home.

James Edward Brandt, 17, Pasadena, Tex., was fatally injured Sunday in a truck-auto collision in Houston that sent his car careening upside down into a motel driveway. Hirman Lester Gibson, 29, the truck driver, was charged with negligent homicide.

Mrs. Judy Inez Counts, 38, died Sunday in Dallas from two bullet wounds in the neck. Officers were told that the woman's estranged husband, Raine Counts, 38, of Arlington, fired the shots from a .22 caliber pistol and then shot himself in the head. He died later. The shooting occurred in a cafe where Mrs. Counts was a waitress.

Tommy Russell, 34, of Fort Worth drowned Sunday in Arlington Lake, east of Fort Worth.

John D. Rohan, 10, adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rohan of LaGrange, was accidentally electrocuted Sunday while playing at a construction site across the street from his home. Sheriff Jim Flornoy said the boy apparently snipped into a temporary power line with a pair of bolt cutters.

A 16-year-old Port Arthur boy, Thomas Kelly Selman, was shot in the chest by a hunting companion near Port Arthur. Police said the shooting was accidental.

A Fort Worth man, 52-year-old Dudley H. Snyder, was found with a shotgun wound in the head Sunday. He died at midnight in a Fort Worth hospital. Peace Justice Jim Boorman ruled suicide.

Immunization Against Polio Promoted

HOUSTON (AP) — Four southeast Texas counties have agreed to join Harris County in a crusade to stamp out polio, Dr. Thomas L. Royce, president of the Harris County Medical Society, said Sunday.

The counties are Galveston, Matagorda, Brazoria and Montgomery.

Dr. Royce said the four counties will administer polio immunization drives in the same day the medical society hopes to vaccinate some one million persons beginning Sunday.

Type 1 Sabin oral vaccine will then be available at 200 elementary schools between noon and 6 p.m. Vaccines to combat the Type 2 and Type 3 viruses will be distributed in oral form sometime in September and November.

Aerial Bombardment Assistant Is Dead

OZARK, Ala. (AP)—A man who helped Gen. William (Billy) Mitchell prove the value of aerial bombardment is dead at 62.

Walter V. Clark, who was Mitchell's bombardier and copilot in a historic test in the early 1920s, died Sunday in a hospital after a long illness.

Mitchell claimed that bombs from an airplane could destroy a battleship. Clark copiloted a Martin bomber which proved Mitchell's theory. In trial bombings off Cape Hatteras, N.C., Clark sent one bomb down the smokestack of an obsolete U.S. Navy ship and dropped a second alongside, buckling the vessel's plates.

A flier for 37 years, Clark had been a civilian employe at nearby Ft. Rucker since 1955.

Lubbock Fire Destroys Two Business Buildings

LUBBOCK (AP) — Fire razed two business buildings Sunday for the second time in six months, and damaged two other buildings for an estimated $40,000 loss.

The North College Upholstery Shop and Wilson's Auto Supply were razed. Damaged were the Glassarama, a one-time night club being used for storage, and a dry cleaning shop.

The stores were in the 300 block of North College Ave., near the Texas Tech campus.

Everyone Has To Have A Passport, Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Like many an American tourist preparing to go abroad former President Dwight D. Eisenhower ran into trouble over his passport.

He found he didn't have one.

The passport was discovered missing last week when the former president and his wife were packing for Europe at their Gettysburg, Pa., farm. Two photographs of Eisenhower and the proper papers were rushed to a county office.

The Eisenhowers planned, originally to sail for France at midnight Thursday on a French liner. A crewmen strike caused them to switch to the Queen Elizabeth sailing Wednesday.

Sam Houston Teachers Visit In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Some 115 teachers from the Sam Houston State College of Huntsville arrived here Sunday for a one month stay in Mexico.

The visitors plan to visit several schools and places of interest both here and in Veracruz, Puebla, Guadalajara and Oaxaca.

They made the trip in special cars attached to the Aztec Eagle train, and plan to return likewise on August 22.

LARGEST FAUCET SELECTION IN WEST TEXAS—In line with their policy of meeting their customers needs and wants, McKinley Plumbing Co. stocks faucets to replace, and parts to repair "out-dated" models as well as the very latest numbers. Newest in the line is the American Standard push-pull one hand control faucets that take less repair than any on the market. Repair parts are a specialty of the firm. Shown at right is Herbert McKinley, owner of the firm, and Don Landers, employe.

McKinley Plumbing Co. Is Friend In Time Of Need

Basing his business on what customers want has been the secret of the success of the McKinley Plumbing Co.

Dripping faucets, leaky drains, stopped up sewers, a commode that isn't working just right—can all be annoyances that are out of all proportion to the time and expense it takes to have them repaired correctly by a professional.

Even though Herbert McKinley, owner of the firm, is a Master Plumber, he realizes how important these small repairs are to the householder, and is glad to furnish this repair service.

Of course they also do large contracting jobs, but the firm's good name and reputation have been built largely on the repair and remodeling work they do.

One of the most frequent problems facing the householder is the need to replace a hot water heater. McKinley plumbing recommends and installs the Standard American glass lined heater. "In over 13 years of our doing business in Snyder," McKinley said, "we have yet to replace a Standard American before the 10 year warranty expired."

The merchandise stocked by McKinley are those items which his experience has shown to be the things most people want. For example, they stock the famous Jenson stainless steel sinks, economy priced American Standard disposals; faucet replacement parts for out-dated models; chrome commode tank covers; and for those who want to install a shower without having to tear out the tile around the tub they feature a beautiful chrome shower fitting that may be mounted quickly and inexpensively.

At this time of year a well-operating air conditioner is on everyone's "most wanted" list. Air conditioners can be kept functioning with floats, pumps, parts, and fittings from McKinley Plumbing Co. They have one of the largest stock and selection of repair parts anywhere in town.

Another product stocked by the firm for their customers' convenience is their "Thrift" drain, sewer, and septic tank cleaner. Drains, disposals and sewers always seem to stop up at night, on Sunday, holidays, or the most inconvenient times. A dose of "Thrift" usually will get that stopped up plumbing back in operating condition. McKinley credits "Thrift" with adding many names to his "satisfied customer" list.

If the customer is one who likes to do his own work, not only will McKinley furnish the needed materials for the job, but will cheerfully give information on how to do it. They are glad to help in any way that they can. Free estimates on any job are also cheerfully given.

McKinley Plumbing Company's attractive showroom is located on the Big Spring Highway across from Piggly Wiggly. Their phone number is HI 3-5383.

Unapproved Drug Causes Malformations

WASHINGTON (AP) — A skeptical woman doctor kept off the American market a drug ultimately blamed for thousands of birth malformations in Europe.

How and why Dr. Frances Oldham Kelsey, a Food and Drug Administration medical officer, blocked a marketing license here for thalidomide were detailed Sunday by the Washington Post.

Here is the Post's account:

In September 1960, Dr. Kelsey received from the William S. Merrell Co. of Cincinnati a request for permission to market the sedative in the United States under the name Kevadon.

The drug was being sold in Canada, Dr. Kelsey's native country, and in Europe with no harmful side effects noted. Still, the 47-year-old medical officer regarded its safety as unproved.

For the next year she kept declining to license the drug.

In November 1961, the firm heard from Europe that thalidomide had been linked with malformations in babies born to women who had used it when pregnant. The Merrell company reported this promptly to Dr. Kelsey and withdrew its application.

Subsequent investigations, particularly in West Germany, established a link between the drug and phocomelia, a malformation that usually deprives its victims of one arm, leaving rudimentary fingers arising from a stub below the shoulder.

It is estimated that by the end of next month the total of deformed children born in West Germany will be 3,500 to 6,000.

Thalidomide—under its various trade names—now has been generally withdrawn from the market.

Atlanta Pastor Dies

ATLANTA (AP) — A Baptist minister fell dead in the pulpit of the Moreland Avenue Baptist church while leading his congregation in prayer Sunday. The Rev. W. B. Underwood, 70, was serving as interim pastor at the church.

Estes Goes Before House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The congressional investigation of Billie Sol Estes swings back to the House today after being concentrated in the Senate for several weeks.

The House investigating subcommittee, headed by Rep. L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., will resume its examination of the grain storage operations of the free-wheeling Texan.

The Senate inquiry, under the direction of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., has dealt mainly with Estes' acquisition of cotton allotments. Its next session will be Wednesday.

Due to appear before the Fountain subcommittee are Dabney Townsend, acting chief of the Warehouse Branch of the Agricultural Marketing Service, and Donald A. Russell and Charles G. Cleveland, of the Internal Audit Division of the Marketing Service.

The subcommittee hopes to get more information on the department's decision to permit Estes to post bond of $700,000 to cover the government grain stored in his elevators despite recommendations of department officials it be increased to $1 million.

Estes opposed the increase and furnished an audit showing his net worth to be more than $12 million. Friday in federal court in Texas he was declared bankrupt.

Panhandle Tornado Injures Two

By The Associated Press

Two persons were injured seriously Sunday when a tornado hit a rural area south of Pampa in the Texas Panhandle.

The injured, S. C. Jones, 73, and his wife, 67, were in serious condition at a Pampa hospital.

A trailer, parked at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Babcock, 14 miles south and one mile west of Pampa, was damaged.

Mrs. Babcock said the tornado winds overturned the trailer and tossed it against their home, punching a large hole in the side of the house.

Heavy rain and hail accompanied the tornado.

The tornado struck about 8:50 p.m. and the Pampa tornado warning system was activated by the low-pressure area as the storm passed over the town.

A line of scattered thundershowers developed between San Angelo and Wichita Falls in the late afternoon and moved eastward. The cool front moved across the Panhandle and South Plains bringing some respite from the high temperatures this month.

Early Monday skies were clear to partly cloudy in most sections of the state. Widely scattered thundershowers were reported in the northern portion of North Central Texas and in the Panhandle.

Forecasts call for clear to partly cloudy weather through Tuesday with widely scattered mainly afternoon and nighttime thundershowers in West Texas and the extreme northern sections of Central and East Texas.

The temperature range early in the day was from 68 at Amarillo to 82 at Palacios.

Conductor Directs, Speaks In Mexico

Will Recent Boosts Really? Really Help Our Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen are taking a long hard look today at recent government moves to pep up the economy. Will they do the job?

Faster tax writeoffs for wear and tear, easier credit for buying stocks and promises of income tax relief sooner or later for corporations and individuals — all arouse hopes that business will pick up speed.

First reactions were mostly enthusiastic. The stock market perked up for a time, businessmen agreed revision of the depreciation rules was long overdue and some started making plans to spend the savings from income tax cuts, when and if received.

But there is considerable doubt still as to just how much speed the economy will pick up as the result of these moves—and when, and some question whether the moves so far outlined will be as effective as they're supposed to be.

Cuts in stock margins, making it possible to buy with less cash, usually have been followed by rising prices—after a time. But as often as not, the immediate stimulus was temporary. When the market already was declining, the margin cut caused only a short-lived upturn as a break in the general downward trend. Investors have looked more at the general economic picture for hints on stock prospects than at the chance to do more speculating on credit.

Revision of depreciation rules will permit corporations to deduct more from taxable earnings for wear and tear on plant and equipment in the early years after purchase. This is billed by the government as permitting business to retain up to $1.5 billion in the first year. The administration hopes that such an increase in corporate depreciation reserves will be used to order new equipment as replacement, especially in the case of the large percentage that now is regarded as obsolete or fast becoming so.

But corporate finance officers will study the new rules carefully to see how fast their particular company wants to write off present equipment. Individual companies will study their market outlook carefully to decide whether they want to expand now, whether they need new equipment, or whether their present facilities are not adequate until the economy perks up more.

Also, if corporations reserve an additional $1.5 Billion as depreciation, it will be an expense item detracting by that much from total reported corporate earnings. The cash tills may look better, but the annual reports to stockholders on net income available for dividends won't necessarily be as attractive.

The talk of a coming tax cut is acting as a tonic. Everyone likes a tax cut for himself, even when he worries lest tax cuts for others will cause a U.S. Treasury deficit that could lead to more inflation and weaken the dollar.

But there's uncertainty as to whether all of the tax savings from any paring of corporate and individual income tax rates will quickly find their way into consumer purchases or into building up of inventories by business or expansion of plant by industries. Some of the tax savings may be spent, and some socked away—and some could disappear if Congress changed present rules.

The real question of the effect of these measures on the economy is one of amount.

Almost everyone agrees that the three measures—lower stock margins, quicker depreciation writeoffs, and the psychological boost from the promise of lower taxes—will ease the stringency that has begun to cramp the economy. The questions are: How much relief? And will it be enough?

The economy today is perhaps too complex for any one, or even three, method of prodding to be effective in getting it to gallop.

Plunge Is Fatal For Mrs. Talbott

NEW YORK (AP) — Margaret Talbott, socialite widow of Harold E. Talbott, secretary of the Air Force in the Eisenhower administration, plunged 12 stories to her death Sunday from a bedroom window of her Manhattan apartment.

Mrs. Talbott, 62, left five notes, police said. Four were addressed to servants. The fifth, apparently to her family, told of her continuing depression over the death of her husband five years ago.

Talbott, 68, died March 2, 1957, in Palm Beach, Fla., of a cerebral hemorrhage. He served as Air Force secretary under President Dwight D. Eisenhower from 1953 to 1955, when he resigned following a Senate probe into his private business affairs.

In the eight-room apartment on Fifth Avenue at the time of Mrs. Talbott's plunge was John E. Talbott, one of her 23-year-old twin sons, police said. The other son, Harold E. Talbott III, was week-ending on Nantucket Island. Two daughters also survive.

Mrs. Talbott's body, clad in negligee and a house coat, was found in a rear courtyard shortly after dawn. A maid in an adjoining building had heard the impact and called police.

Mrs. Talbott, a member of one of Philadelphia's oldest families, was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John B. Thayer. Her father, an economist, had been vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad. She married Talbott in Philadelphia Aug. 11, 1925.

Prior to her marriage, she had become known as a business woman, amateur actress, tennis player, golfer, swimmer and big game hunter.

Burglars Take $5000 From Hank Snow Safe

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Recording artist Hank Snow gave police a list of contents missing after burglars broke open his office safe while he gave a Grand Ole Opry performance Saturday night.

Included were seven watches, five sets of diamond earrings, several sets of diamond cuff links, insurance papers, several passports and several silver western belt buckles.

The singer estimated the value at about $5,000.

She Could Have Danced All Night

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Miss Universe could have danced all night, but she didn't. She had to be in her room at 1 a.m. today.

Norma Beatriz Nolan, the 24-year-old brunette model from Argentina who has never had a date without a chaperone, formally opened her reign at the coronation ball in Miami Beach's swank Fontainebleau Hotel.

She had a date—and more than 1,000 escorts—at the ball, including consular officials from the 50 nations represented at the week-long pageant.

The smoky-eyed brunette dazzled the guttering crowd in a white evening gown that clung to her 35-25-36 figure, and a new white fur that cost the pageant $10,000.

Honored guests along with Miss Nolan and blonde Marlene Schmidt of West Germany, the retiring Miss Universe, were the runners-up. They are Miss Iceland, Anna Geirsdottir, second; Miss Finland, Aulikki Jarvinen, third; Miss Republic of China, Helen Liu, fourth, and Miss Brazil, Maria Olivia Cavalcanti, fifth.

The ball was the last night the girls had to struggle with the pageant's stringent rule—no talking with males without an escort.

"I don't know what nations I shall visit," said Miss Nolan. "I'm going to try in all of them to do everything possible to promote international friendship."

After she was crowned Saturday night before a nationwide television audience, she kept saying, "I don't know why I won. Those other girls were so beautiful."

Miss Nolan said she planned to splurge part of her $5,000 prize money for clothes. Paris and Rome are the cities she looks forward to visiting — to look at clothes.

"I don't want movie contracts," she said. "I like to travel."

The 5-foot-6½ beauty weighs 120 pounds. Her grandfather was Irish and her mother was Italian.

She speaks Spanish and Italian, and this is what she said after she found out Saturday night that she was the new Miss Universe: "I do not speak English. I am very happy."
