GIs In Viet To Undergo 4 Tests For Addiction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before he comes home, each GI in Vietnam will be tested at least four times for heroin addiction. Teams of military drug specialists helicopter into combat and noncombat areas every day to seek out addicts for rehabilitation programs. White House and military drug-abuse specialists say about 10,000 enlisted men and officers—even generals—undergo surprise spot checks by urinalysis daily. Of those, about 500 are hooked or are at least casual users.

Political Parties In Turkey Asked To Suspend Activity

ANKARA (AP) — President Cevdet Sunay has asked Turkey's political parties to suspend all political activity and agree to government rule by decree.

A weekend note handed to all party leaders warned that "the disease of politics has not been cured" despite the passage of one year since armed forces leaders in March 1971 forced the government to resign or face takeover.

"Continuation of this state of affairs is endangering the democratic regime and the country's integrity and prolongs an atmosphere favorable to anarchy and violence," it said.

Sunay's request for new government powers followed the kidnapping and murder last week of three NATO technicians—two British and a Canadian—by terrorists who were later killed by troops in a mountain village.

The note in effect revived threats of military rule. The 1971 government changes also followed a kidnapping of four U.S. airmen who were freed unhurt.

Nixon Returns To Watch Annual Easter Egg Roll

WASHINGTON (AP) — While Democrats cavort in Wisconsin, President Nixon isn't exactly standing above the battle in this campaign week.

After spending an Eastern weekend in his Camp David lodge in nearby Maryland, Nixon returned to the White House by helicopter Sunday night—almost a certain sign that he recognizes this as an election year.

Although Nixon has promised to wear his nonpolitical presidential hat until Republicans nominate him for a second term in August, no recent president has been so interested in politics as he is around the White House on Easter Sunday.

That's when the kids—local and tourist—join in a jollification labeled the annual White House Easter Egg Roll and, in the process, manage to tear up the lawn.

McGovern Charges ITT Didn't Pay Income Taxes

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Sen. George McGovern charges that the giant International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. didn't pay federal income taxes the past three years. He retracted a second accusation that ITT listed a controversial $400,000 contribution to the Republican National Convention as a business expense.

McGovern's charges against the conglomerate, storm center of Senate hearings on President Nixon's nomination of Richard Kleindienst as attorney general, were made on a nationally televised show on an otherwise quiet Sunday before Tuesday Wisconsin presidential primary.

Citing documents used by members of the Senate Judiciary Committee in questioning ITT President Harold Gengen last Wednesday, the South Dakota senator said reports on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission indicate ITT paid no federal income tax for 1968, 1969 and 1970.

He said some subsidiaries "may have paid a tax."

He appeared on the CBS-TV program "Face the Nation."

In New York, an ITT spokesman denied McGovern's asser-

Drug-abuse specialists say there has been a dramatic decline in the number of GI addicts detected when their one-year tour ends.

But officials say that doesn't necessarily mean there are fewer soldiers on hard drugs.

Army Brig. Gen. John Singlaub, deputy assistant secretary of defense for drug and alcohol abuse, said the emphasis is on locating drug users before they become hard-core addicts and treating instead of punishing them.

Several months ago, congressional critics cited studies showing 15 to 20 per cent of GIs in Vietnam were hooked on drugs.

Since then, the Pentagon has begun testing young men even as they tried to enlist or were drafted.

Singlaub said the testing continues periodically for American soldiers all over the world.

But it is in Vietnam, where heroin is easiest to find, that the Pentagon has placed its greatest emphasis.

Of the just under 100,000 American troops remaining in Vietnam, 1.1 per cent are tested daily, Singlaub said in an interview.

The surprise checks of company-size units usually show that 5 per cent of those tested are heroin addicts.

Dr. Jerome H. Jaffe, director of the White House office on drug abuse, said even generals are tested.

From a high of 4 per cent addicts plucked from among departing GIs last August, the figure has dropped to 1.1 per cent in mid-March, officials say.

Jaffe acknowledges that the toughness of the testing program and its spreading reputation among GIs has the effect of only netting addicts who cannot keep away from the needle for five days to pass the departure test.

Some of the youngsters actually roll colored eggs down the gentle, grassy slope beneath the balcony Harry Truman built. But most eggs manage to get squashed, or badly bent out of shape while being thrown at other celebrants.

Somewhat, presidents of late have been far removed from Washington on most Easter holiday weekends. It has frequently been whispered that they deliberately delayed their return in order to avoid the backyard shambles.

Nixon decided this year to do things differently. He and his family flew a scant 65 miles away for Easter, attending Sunday services at Gettysburg, Pa.

By returning Sunday evening, he left himself open to distraction by the many hundreds of children who gather annually at a scant stone's throw away from his Oval Office.

McGovern and his top Democratic rivals scheduled dawn-tusk stumping through Wisconsin's farmlands and industrial plants in a final drive for votes Tuesday.

The South Dakota senator and his Minnesota colleague, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, are rated as the leaders in the 12-candidate field seeking Wisconsin's 67 votes at the Democratic National Convention.

President Nixon is expected to sweep the 28 Republican delegates.

Humphrey had the day's stiffest schedule, nearly 20 hours campaigning from the Kenosha-Racine area in the industrial southwest to La Crosse in the rural west.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace had the lightest schedule, with news conferences in Kenosha and Racine and a night rally in Sheboygan.

Huge U.S. Air Strike Force Ready For Raids On N. Viet

Nearly 600 War Planes To Join Counterattack

SAIGON (AP) — The United States recalled two aircraft carriers to the Tonkin gulf today to reinforce a massive air strike force preparing to hit back at an enemy offensive in South Vietnam's northernmost province.

"When the weather clears we're going to sock it to them," said one senior pilot.

The carrier Kitty Hawk arrived in waters off Vietnam today and the Constellation was steaming in from Japan to join the Coral Sea and the Hancock. The four carriers and their approximately 375 warplanes, combined with U.S. Air Force jets at bases in South Vietnam and Thailand, will form the biggest U.S. attack force since the 1968 bombing halt.

The U.S. Command strongly indicated massive air strikes are planned against North Vietnam to retaliate for the enemy offensive across the demilitarized zone and against enemy troops and materiel already engaged south of the zone.

U.S. pilots said targets inside North Vietnam would include long-range artillery guns bombarding South Vietnamese positions across the DMZ and a reserve infantry division poised just north of the zone.

Other key targets will include tanks, self-propelled artillery pieces and other heavy equipment that North Vietnam is using more than ever before in the Indochina war.

Forecasters said they did not expect fully clear skies until Tuesday or Wednesday. But the U.S. Command set the stage for the massive retaliatory attack with a statement that the North Vietnamese attack across the demilitarized zone threatened U.S. forces still in Vietnam, and the command was utilizing its remaining air and gunfire assets as appropriate to protect our diminishing forces.

The North Vietnamese ground attack slowed down today, but the Communists pushed more heavy weapons across the demilitarized zone and U.S. fighter-bombers and destroyers pounded a column of 50 North Vietnamese tanks below the DMZ.

The invading North Vietnamese pushed 10 miles below the DMZ over the weekend, driving the South Vietnamese from two more bases and shooting down three U.S. helicopters and a small spotter plane. Eight American helicopter crewmen were missing and believed dead.

Other Communist forces attacked Fire Base Anne, eight miles west of Quang Tri City, overran an artillery base on the Cambodian border. Fire Base Pace, and kept up artillery attacks in the central highlands. But the North Vietnamese withdrew from Pace, and the South Vietnamese recaptured it today, the Saigon command said.

The North Vietnamese also were reported moving anti-aircraft missile launchers to the frontier to attack American and South Vietnamese planes below the DMZ.

A break in the heavy cloud cover allowed U.S. jets to make 128 strikes against enemy gun and troop positions below the buffer zone, the heaviest raids in South Vietnam since Feb. 18.

American jets also streaked into North Vietnam to blast anti-aircraft missile sites five miles above the demilitarized zone, but it was not known what they hit.

The biggest Communist push since the 1968 Tet offensive is now in its fifth day. The South Vietnamese have retreated 10 miles back from the DMZ and abandoned a dozen bases. At least 5,000 South Vietnamese reinforcements were ordered to the northern front.

Scores of North Vietnamese tanks were reported to have crossed the frontier, but their advance was blocked by a blown-out bridge at Dong Ha, 10 miles below the DMZ.

Associated Press correspondent Holger Jensen reported from the northern front that the Dong Ha River in effect had become the new front line.

Jensen said there had been no serious attempts by the North Vietnamese to cross the river so far.

While the line appeared to stabilize at Dong Ha, at least for the moment, other North Vietnamese troops moved east from the Laotian border toward Quang Tri City and maneuvered to the south of the provincial capital. They appeared to threaten Route 1, the main north-south highway leading to Hue and Phu Bai, 38 miles away.

Eighty American civilian advisers to the pacification program and some military logistics advisers were evacuated from Quang Tri City, the threatened provincial capital 19 miles south of the DMZ. About 150 Americans remained in Quang Tri Province, most of them were advisers to South Vietnamese field units, sources said.

"We're going to do everything we can to protect our people and keep our casualties down," said one U.S. military source. "Where a situation becomes untenable, we're going to pull our people out. The only assistance we're going to give, the South Vietnamese is air."

All U.S. troops were pulled out of the Quang Tri combat base two miles northwest of the city. Some South Vietnamese units also abandoned the base, but marine reinforcements were sent up, and the government forces hoped to maintain at least part of the base.

President Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Tran Thien Kiem flew to Da Nang and Hue to confer with their military commanders about the deteriorating situation in South Vietnam's northernmost province. Thieu told leaders of the National Assembly's lower house that the situation was "very serious."

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker was reported returning from Nepal Tuesday or Wednesday, cutting short an Easter visit to his wife, the U.S. ambassador there.

Harrisburg 7 Wish To Get More Testimony

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Harrisburg Seven conspiracy jury asked again today that the judge reread his instructions on the law and give them more testimony of the government's key witness against antiwar priest Philip Berrigan and six other peace activists.

U.S. District Court Judge R. Dixon Herman said he would not read his two-hour charge nor provide transcripts of the testimony of paid FBI informer Boyd F. Douglas Jr. But Judge Herman said he would "be happy to read any specific portions" of either his charge or the transcripts.

The jury Sunday found Berrigan guilty of smuggling a letter out of a federal prison. It reported being deadlocked on nine other counts but was ordered by the judge to resume deliberations today because of what he said was the importance and cost of the 11-week trial. He said he would dismiss the jury only if it became "hopelessly deadlocked."

When the jurors filed into the courtroom today they were noticeably more relaxed and smiling than on Sunday, when they appeared tense and tired.

Among the counts unresolved is the key conspiracy charge that includes the plot to kidnap White House aide Henry A. Kissinger, blow up the steam-heating system in Washington, D.C., and vandalize draft board offices in nine states.

The jury last week, at the start of the deliberations which now are in the fifth day, requested and received four days of Douglas' 14-day testimony.

City Commissioner Election Tomorrow

Four candidates are seeking two city commissioner posts in tomorrow's municipal election in Pampa.

Three of them are bidding for election from Ward 4. They are Arthur Rohde Sr., running for a second term; the Rev. Monroe Woods, first black candidate ever to seek a city office, and John L. Goes.

The fourth candidate is R.D.

(Jimmy) Wilkerson, who is unopposed on the ballot for re-election from Ward 2.

In the Ward 4 three-way race a run-off election will be required unless the candidate receives more than half of the total votes cast.

Forty-four absentee votes were cast during the absentee voting period which ended at 5 p.m. Friday.

The two commissioner seats are all that is involved in tomorrow's city-wide balloting. The mayor and Ward 1 and Ward 3 commissioners hold over until the 1973 April city election.

There will be just one voting place tomorrow. That will be in the city commissioners' room on the second floor of City Hall. All registered voters inside the Pampa City limits are eligible to vote.

The polls will open at 8 a.m. and balloting will continue until 7 p.m.

George Scott will be the presiding election judge and Ray Dudley, alternate.

City Secretary Stanley Chittenden said today the vote count should be complete soon after the polls close at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

INJURED IN PIPELINE BLAST Pampa Boy, 7, Listed In Critical And Father In Serious Condition

A Pampa boy was listed in critical condition and his father was reported in serious condition today at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo after both were burned in a pipeline explosion last night.

Jackie Remy, 7, his father, Dale Remy, and his mother were all injured when a pipeline exploded 2 1/4 miles north of Pampa about 7 p.m. Remy was working on the pipeline when the accident occurred.

Jackie suffered second and third degree burns over 80 per cent of his body, hospital officials reported. Remy received second and third degree burns to his left arm and shoulder. His back also was injured by severe heat exposure.

Mrs. Remy was treated for light burns to her arms and face at Highland General Hospital and then released.

According to investigating officers of the Texas Department of Public Safety, Remy, an employee of the Triangle Well Servicing Co. in Pampa, and his son were working on the pipeline while Mrs. Remy had remained in the cab of a company tanker truck.

When the explosion occurred, Mrs. Remy jumped from the truck, which was later destroyed by flames from the fire.

Smoke could be seen at least three miles away, while natural gas from the fire could be smelled about two miles from the accident.

The three injured persons were taken to Highland General Hospital by Ben Ogden, who had gotten married Sunday.

Ogden reported to officers he and his wife were planning to spend the night at his ranch home about a quarter of a mile from the pipeline. He was heading into the city to pick up some clothing from his town residence when he heard the explosion.

He drove into the pasture where the pipeline, owned by Phillips Pipeline Co., was located. He then picked up the injured family and rushed them to the hospital. Remy and Jackie were later transferred to Northwest.

Two units of the Pampa Fire Department went to the fire and had it extinguished within minutes. A crowd had gathered near the scene, just off of Texas Highway 70.

Funeral Arrangements Are Made For 10 Dimmitt Wreck Victims

DIMMITT — Funeral arrangements were being made today for 10 young people who died in a two-car head-on collision just outside Dimmitt Saturday night after a chase with law enforcement officials.

The crash left seven dead at the scene, one was pronounced dead on arrival at Plains Memorial Hospital and two others died shortly after arriving at the hospital.

The accident happened after an east-bound car, being pursued at high speeds by several cars of law enforcement agencies, crossed over into the wrong lane and collided with a west-bound car.

The dead in the east-bound car were Antonio Guia, 17, of Olton; Brigido Soles Sanchez, 17, Olton; Nicholas Arrizola, Jr., 18, Hart; Zoila Luna Olivarez, 13, Hart; and Johnny Joe Olivarez, Mrs. Olivarez' 16-month-old son.

Those in the west-bound car were Johnny Merle Raper, 17, Dimmitt; Robert Lewis Caddell, 17, Dimmitt; Michael David George, 20, Dimmitt; Robert Ireland McLain, 17, Nazareth; and Jeffrey Eugene Glenn, Dimmitt.

According to investigating officers, the chase began after officers were called to a local gun to quiet a fight. When they arrived, they were told the fight apparently involved one of the victims and another's father.

The car had left the scene of the fight, headed towards Dimmitt. Two cars from the Castro County Sheriff's Department met the other car about three miles west of Dimmitt and began to chase it when it refused to pull over.

A road block was set up by members of the Dimmitt police, but the car, clocked by officers at speeds up to 110 miles-an-hour, went through the road block and on through town.

The east-bound car missed collision with several cars in town. When it reached the eastern city limits, the car crossed over into the oncoming lane and ran head-on into the other car.

Officers said the driver of the east-bound car was Antonio Guia. The driver of the west-bound car was Robert Lewis Caddell.

Caddell's car, which was traveling about 50 mph, was driven backwards about 86 feet by the impact of the collision. The two cars came to rest welded together.

All bodies were taken to the Dennis Funeral Home in Dimmitt.

Before the crash, the east-bound car was being pursued by three Castro County sheriff's cars. Two Dimmitt police cars and one car from the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Freezing Temperature Expected Here Tonight

Spring is having a tough time getting a firm grip on Texas this year and some grabs have been violent.

The Panhandle has been spared damaging tornadoes thus far but freezing temperatures that killed fruit, damaged shrubs and bloated more cattle are staging an encore tonight.

They are being driven into the Texas Panhandle by strong north winds gusting to 40 miles per hour this afternoon causing wind warnings to be hoisted on area lakes.

The forefront of this new northern surging over snow-covered areas of the Rocky Mountains lies on a line extending from just south of Canadian through Pampa and Amarillo to Farwell.

While the front held the promise of showers for the north and east parts of the state, it was lacing the northern portion of the Panhandle with blowing dust that severely limited visibility.

Gusty winds should diminish late this afternoon forecasters predict a low of 24 for Pampa tonight. It will remain partly cloudy and cool Tuesday with the high temperature falling short of the 60 mark. A warming trend is expected to start Wednesday.

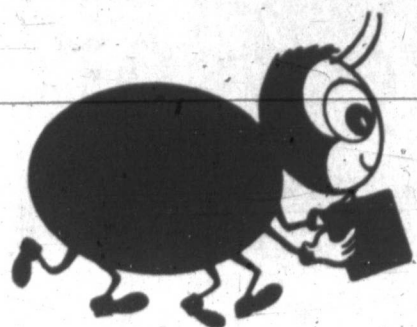

In none of the moving systems is there the promise of moisture sorely needed in the Panhandle. The small amounts that existed were depleted by gusty winds and the warm Easter weekend.

32 Persons Killed In Traffic And Violence During Easter Weekend

A highway crash which took 10 lives and mild weather which encouraged outings helped send the violent death toll in Texas spiking upward during the Easter weekend.

The Associated Press tabulated reports of 32 fatalities between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday, including 25 in traffic accidents.

Deputy Sheriff Rex Cowart reported he was pursuing a car at speeds up to 110 miles per hour Saturday night when it collided head-on with another one-half mile west of Dimmitt in the Texas Panhandle, and 10 young people died in the fused wreckage—five in each vehicle.

The officer said he gave chase after being summoned by a call for help because of a fight at home in the vicinity.

State police listed those killed in the fleeing car as Tony Guia, 17, the driver, and Nicholas Arrington, Jr., 18, Zolia Luna Olivera, 13, and Johnny Joe Olivera, 16 months, all of Hart, Tex., and Brigidio Soto Sanchez, 17, of Olton.

Occupants who died in the other vehicle were identified as Robert L. Caddell, the driver, and Johnny M. Raper, Jeffrey E. Glenn and Raymond I. McLain, all 17 from Dimmitt, and Michael D. George, 20, of Nazareth, Tex.

Among the other dead were: Margaret W. Scott, 23, of Houston was killed and two sisters with her suffered injuries Sunday in a one-car accident 10 miles west of LaGrange. Officers said Mrs. Scott's car hit a gas station pump at the intersection of Texas 71 and Farm Road 154.

Two McLean Youths Hurt In Car Mishap

Two McLean youths were hospitalized following a one-car accident Sunday morning on Texas 273 approximately four miles south of Lefors.

Dennis Earl Brooks, 16, driver of the 1966 Chevrolet El Camino, was hospitalized at McLean with lacerations of the forehead, neck and left hand.

Randall Lee Eddleman, 17, was taken to Highland General Hospital with lacerations about his face.

According to the report of Department of Public Safety Officer Dunham who investigated the wreck, the vehicle had rounded a curve and started downhill when the right front tire blew out. The pickup went off the road on the right side and struck the embankment of a culvert.

Catholic Women Protesting IRA's Campaign Of Violence

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Roman Catholic women called a demonstration in Belfast today to protest the refusal of the Catholic guerrillas of the Irish Republican Army to halt their campaign of violence.

The women scheduled their demonstration in the Andersonstown section, an IRA stronghold, after the leader of the underground army's Provisional wing, Sean MacStiofain, rejected their call for a truce in the war against British forces in Northern Ireland.

It was in Andersonstown that Martha Crawford, a 39-year-old mother of 10 children and a Catholic, was killed in the crossfire during a battle between British troops and IRA gunmen last week.

The demonstrations gave new evidence of growing Catholic opinion in favor of giving the British government's new peace initiatives a chance. These include suspension of the Protestant provincial government, direct rule from London and gradual release of IRA suspects interned without trial.

William Cardinal Conway, the Catholic primate of Ireland, in an Easter radio interview threw his church's influence against IRA terrorism for the first time in the 32 months of civil strife. He sharply criticized the guerrilla chiefs' decision to continue the bombing and shooting and asked them: "What right have you to continue the campaign of violence against the unanimous voice of the Irish people?"

But MacStiofain told a rally in Londonderry, that the guerrilla campaign would continue until British troops leave Northern Ireland.

"I hope to God that the nationally minded women of the North will stand behind their menfolk, behind the men behind the wire and the prison wall—and the men who are carrying on the fight," he said.

Within hours, a bomb blast that injured six children and four adults at Magherafelt, near Londonderry, echoed MacStiofain's "fight on" pledge.

The explosion was outside a post office and the casualties were not hurt seriously.

The Londonderry rally was one of 21 marches or rallies held by Catholics on Easter Sunday in defiance of the government ban on such assemblies. All were peaceful, and security forces made no attempt to intervene.

Five Congressmen Meet With Japanese Officials

TOKYO (AP) — Five members of the U.S. Congress discussed China, North Korea and U.S.-Japanese relations today with officials of Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's ruling Liberal-Democratic Party.

It was the first of a series of meetings between the Americans and representatives of Japan's major political parties.

In the U.S. delegation are Sen. William Roth Jr., R-Del.; Sen. Robert Stafford, R-Vt.; Rep. John Erlenborn, R-Ill.; Rep. Robert McEwen, R-N.U., and Rep. James Howard, D.N.J.

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., and Rep. William Hungate, D-Mo., joins the group Tuesday.

A spokesman for the Liberal-Democratic party said some of the Japanese at today's meeting proposed that North Korea be admitted to the United Nations immediately. He said some of the Americans agreed, but did not identify them.

The congressmen emphasized, the spokesman said, that U.S.-Japan security treaty will continue to play a key role in the maintenance of peace and security in all Asia "although President Nixon has accepted the mainland Chinese view that Taiwan is part of China and the Nixon Administration seems to seek improved relations with North Korea."

The Americans met with three top executives of the ruling party-Secretary-General Shigeru Hori, Zentaro Kosaka, chairman of the policy research council, and Yasuhiro Nakasone, chairman of the executive affairs council. Sato was not present.

Senate Unit Will Hold Hearing On Asia Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee plans a three-day hearing in May on the evolution of U.S. foreign policy in Asia at the beginning of the Cold War.

Committee Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said the hearing will seek answers to questions raised by a six-month study of Pentagon Papers, the once-secret Defense Department history of U.S.-Vietnam relations.

A second study report made public Sunday says there is no evidence that the late Ho Chi Minh ever received a reply to friendly letters he sent President Truman and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes in 1945 and 1946 when he was seeking assistance for his campaign for Vietnamese independence.

The Truman administration operated on the assumption that to recognize Ho and his government in Vietnam might irritate the French, the report said.

PARPARE APPOINTMENT CARDS—Members of Pampa's Junior Service League are making preparations for the League's annual Speech, Vision and Hearing Clinic, to be held April 24, at the First Christian Church. Preparing appointment cards for the pre-schoolers to be tested, are, left to right, Mrs. Charles Roberts, 1921 Lynn, Mrs. Robert G. Lyle, 1827 Grape, and Mrs. H.C. Moore, 2100 Lynn. The cards will be mailed this week.

Junior Service League Slates Speech, Vision, Hearing Clinic

Appointment cards are being mailed this week for the seventh annual Speech, Hearing, and Vision Clinic sponsored by Junior Service League of Pampa.

All children entering first grade in the fall of 1972 are eligible to attend this free clinic at the First Christian Church, 18th and N. Nelson, on April 24.

"Appointments to have a child tested can be made two ways," said Mrs. Robert Cotter, clinic chairman. "Several private kindergartens have made arrangements to be tested as a group. These include St. Matthew's Day School, St. Vincent's Kindergarten, First Baptist Kindergarten, Central Baptist Kindergarten, and Harvester Street Kindergarten. Children not enrolled in private kindergartens are being contacted this week through the mail with an appointment card for each child," she stated.

Parents are urged to return these cards promptly to facilitate scheduling at the clinic. Parents not receiving an appointment card for their child may call Mrs. Cotter for further information.

The clinic will be staffed by professional members of the Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center and Service League Volunteers.

For the vision testing Service League members were trained by the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness in sessions held in Pampa in October of 1971.

"Some childhood eye defects, if not corrected before the age of six, can lead to permanent loss of vision in the affected eye," said Mrs. Cotter in urging parents to take advantage of the free vision, hearing and speech testing.

The vision testing program is being sponsored by the Texas Society of the Prevention of Blindness and has the endorsement of the Gray, Hansford, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Roberts, Ochiltree, Hutchinson, Carson County Medical Societies.

Members of the Vision Project Advisory Committee include Dr. Edward S. Williams, Dr. J. L. Chase, Jr.,

Mrs. O. C. Penn, Mrs. Robert Steger, Mrs. William G. Cornman, Dr. W. P. Beck, Mrs. Robert Cotter, Mrs. Bill Dunn and Mrs. Michael Dunigan.

Purpose of the speech, hearing and vision screening is to detect any signs of defects in these areas at an age when they may be corrected with best results, said Mrs. Cotter.

Vision volunteers will check the child's visual acuity by means of a Snellen "E" chart. If the youngster's performance gives evidence of a vision difficulty, he will be "referred." This means the parents are notified in writing of the child's need for a complete examination.

After an evaluation and testing in the areas of speech and hearing, a child with difficulty will also be referred for further examination, said Mrs. Cotter.

Junior Service League members of the Speech, Hearing, and Vision Committee include Mrs. Robert Cotter, Mrs. Carl Brugger, Mrs. Hermus Moore, Mrs. E. M. Keller, Mrs. Jerry Bond, Mrs. Robert Lyle, Mrs. Ben D. Fallon, Mrs. George Cree, Jr., Mrs. Fred Vanderburg, and Mrs. Bob Roberts.

Wants her marital status kept secret

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: How do you feel about women using the title "Ms." in order to keep their marital status confidential? All men are called "Mr." which gives no one a clue as to whether they are married or single, which in some cases could be to their advantage. Don't you think women should demand equal privacy in their marital status?

MS. SCHWARTZ

DEAR MS. SCHWARTZ: If it's equality women want, instead of adopting "Ms." to conceal their marital status, they should insist that all men be identified according to THEIR marital status. [After all, a woman has a right to know whether a man is a bachelor, married, divorced, a widower, or just swinging.]

Example: Joe Blow, M. M. (Married Man); Moe Schmo, B.R. (Bachelor); WR. for widower; AV for available, or T. O. L. for Temporarily on the Loose. Girls?

DEAR ABBY: Re: That 25-year-old school teacher who wants to scream because she's often mistaken for a teenager. She will enjoy it when she can adopt an attitude more mature than her looks.

I was nicknamed Babyface in the 7th grade and I hated it. In college I was frequently asked what I wanted to be when I grew up. Now I am 32, and married to a physician, and am still asked if my "father" is home when a patient comes to the door to see my husband. [I simply smile and call "the doctor."]

My husband was asked by a waiter recently if his "daughter" was old enough to have a cocktail. And that was in an area where 18 was the legal age! What fun! We both have lots of laughs when things like this occur. It doesn't happen quite so often now, but when it does, it really makes my day.

BABYFACE

DEAR BABYFACE: As time goes on, you'll find it happening less, and you'll be enjoying it more.

DEAR ABBY: "Peeved Typist" complained to you because her boss brought in his kids' essays and term papers to type, also his wife's speeches and reports for her club.

You said, "You're being paid to type, so what difference does it make what you type as long as you have the time," or words to that effect.

Whoops! You missed the point, Abby. If that boss owns his own business, that's one thing. But if he is just one of the employees of the company, then he is asking the typist to do nonproductive work on company time. And ask anyone in personnel what that does to the overhead.

I am a typist in one of the largest firms in the world, and we have a print shop here where some executives have their specially designed Christmas cards made, plus Little League flyers, party announcements, etc. And we are supposed to be cutting down on our overhead!

No name, please. I am typing this on company time, so I'm guilty, too. Sign me . . .

"POT CALLING KETTLE BLACK"

DEAR POT: Many others wrote to point this out. And you are right, of course. But read on, for another point of view.

DEAR ABBY: That "Peeved Typist" sounds like an old sourpuss to me.

I wish my boss would bring me his kids' term papers to type . . . or even his wife's club reports. The routine work here is dull, dull, dull! I'd welcome anything to break the monotony.

Some people don't know when they're well off. I am a typist. Sign me . . .

In A Youth Culture, Some Seek Place For 'Death With Dignity'

Spare me the whispering, crowded room,
The friends who come and gape and go,
The ceremonious air of gloom --
All, which makes death a hideous show.

-- Matthew Arnold, 1867

By TOM TIEDE

NEW YORK (NEA)—In the past century, death has become a more hideous show than Matthew Arnold ever imagined. Today the crowded room is an over-stuffed hospital ward, doctors and nurses are the whisperers, the friends who come and gape and go only during visiting hours — and the ceremonious air of gloom is often punctuated by the modern tubes and lubes and sedations and aeration which science has designed to prolong the show one more agonizing act.

Death, never a comfortable thought, has taken on new horror. It remains the terrible, inevitable unknown. Now also, it often denies the victim even final dignity. Of the two million Americans who will die this year, almost 70 per cent will do so in hospitals, a good many of them hooked up to machines which will record electronically the very last, frustrated, harassed heartbeat.

Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen said it the other day. He's 76 years old. "I pray," he told a religious gathering in Texas, "that I will drop dead before I'm 80."

Increasing numbers of people seem to agree with the Archbishop. In the space of a dozen months the subject of "dying right" has become part of polite conversation in many parts of the country. Colleges are hosting well-attended classes on the morbid matter. The Florida legislature is considering a bill that would permit physicians to allow incurable patients to expire in peace. A Milwaukee judge recently ruled that an elderly patient had the right to refuse leg amputation, even though it meant her death from gangrene. And newspaper readers have become familiar with "mercy killing" stories — like the 79-year-old New Jersey scientist who shot himself, his ailing wife and their 49-year-old Mongoloid son.

So far, the interest in and activity surrounding "death with dignity" is mostly unorganized, mostly personalized. But there is at least one group at the center of the subject: The Euthanasia Society of America. Euthanasia is a Greek derivative meaning "good death." Thus the society is composed of mostly middle-aged to elderly people (6,000 members vs. 600 two years ago) who think human beings have the right to die gracefully. They advocate neither suicide nor murder, but believe simply in honorable death without hopeless deterioration.

Butz Keeps Defending Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) — An hour earlier Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. had said that Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz was hurting administration economic policies with talk about farmers deserving higher prices.

Now, in his private dining room, Butz grinned at newsmen who asked his reaction.

"I know," he said, "I'm a son of a bitch."

Typical Butz. A rough opener from a pro who's been cast as President Nixon's chief downfield blocker through the barnyards in this election year.

Butz said he wasn't going to argue with Grayson whose job is to help keep prices down.

"He has a job, and I have mine," Butz said a few days later in Kansas City.

Butz' job, as he sees it, is to tell the public that farmers need a better shake, and the Nixon administration will give it to them.

Since his Senate confirmation Dec. 2, he has traveled thousands of miles, from Arizona to Illinois to Atlanta, and delivered 18 major speeches with the message that farmers deserve more money and housewives should be thankful.

"Those of us who can afford to pay for our food, in my opinion, have no birthright for cheap, subsidized food priced below the cost of production," Butz said in an interview. "I think we should pay for our food in the market place exactly like we pay for our automobiles and our TV sets."

Butz uses statistics to dispute what he has called malarky about farmers causing inflation and higher food prices. After a supermarket chain urged consumers to forsake expensive meat, Butz reacted:

"The place to look is in the processing and distribution system between the farmer's gate and the consumer's table. That's where 62 cents out of every food dollar goes and that's where the bulge in costs has been ballooning."

The facts show, he said, that in the last 20 years food prices have risen 43 per cent while the share farmers get has gone up only six.

That's music to farmers' ears and Butz has the volume turned up, particularly in the Midwest where GOP Farm Belt hopes are highest for victory in November's elections.

Housewives might say he's calling the wrong tune. Food prices are rising more rapidly than government economists predicted a few months ago. In February, mainly because of higher beef and pork prices in retail stores, food costs were 6.5 per cent more than a year earlier.

Like Butz, the President blames middlemen markups for most of the recent food price increases. "We are going to get at that middleman one way or other," Nixon said recently.

And Butz keeps defending farmers.

The price of steak is "just right," he told a Republican women's meeting in Atlanta late last month. If it were cheaper, there wouldn't be enough to go around.

To farmers, Butz says that since he took over:

—Corn prices, at rock bottom last fall, have improved.

—Cattle prices are at the highest level since the Korean War.

—Economists predict record farm income.

And in speeches he likes to recite this litany of what he favors:

—Farmers having higher incomes.

—Farm products being able to move to market at the right time.

—More farm bargaining power.

—Rural development and economic growth in the countryside.

—Family farms and opportunities for young farmers.

"A new spirit of adventure in agriculture," Butz tells farmers they deserve incomes on a par with their city cousins and are on an average currently 25 per cent underpaid.

As he told the Senate during his confirmation hearing: "I got a resounding mandate to return to academic work."

One advocate, a Brooklyn housewife, explains euthanasia thus: "It was my mother. She was 89 when she died and she suffered for three years in the end. Her bones got so brittle they'd break when she walked. She had to be kept in bed and jammed full of drugs. I tell you, I'm not ashamed to admit it, I wanted to put a pill in her mouth and kill her fast. I don't ever want to suffer like that myself."

To some, such talk seems radical, almost irresponsible. But euthanasiaists see it quite the opposite. Mrs. Henry J. Mall, president of the euthanasia movement, is a quiet 69, hardly a radical. She goes by her husband's name, she has an English crust to her conversation, she is vastly more traditional than today. And so it is, she says, good death is not something new, something revolutionary; it is an ancient and honorable convention to which she would like society to return.

Says she: "There used to be a tradition to death. Remember Sir Walter Raleigh, doomed to execution, writing in the Tower of London about 'Oh eloquent, just and mighty death.' What spirit he had. And before that, in early Greece, death was an art, to be done properly. Euthanasia was the thing back then."

To be sure, Euthanasia was so much the thing back then that early Greeks were expected to take poison when they became too old to serve society. Perhaps the idea was one of dignified ritualism. But it was also because people believed, as did Euripides: "I hate those men who prolong their lives by food and drink and charms of magic art. They ought . . . to quit this life and clear the way for youth."

For her part, Mrs. Mall doesn't believe in euthanasia for the purpose of making way for kids. She says the emphasis on youth is one of the reasons people are dying so badly today. "Our whole culture today is dedicated to youth and vigor. We haven't time to think about dying. We have lost our tradition of death."

Critics remember another proponent of euthanasia, Adolf Hitler, who slaughtered 100,000 ill, elderly and crippled Germans from 1939 to 1941. Critics also wonder what euthanasia does to the old ethic: Where there's life, there's hope.

Still, the euthanasiaists believe theirs is the humane way. They feel most terminally ill people would rather die quickly than slowly.

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE, PH.D., M.D.

Howard is taking the short range view. That's why Biblical Esau sold out his birthright! Never succumb to short range lads, like the hippie philosophy, atheism or Communism. God, Capitalism and "elbow grease" are eternal virtues!

CASE T-544: Howard T., aged 20, recently dropped out of college.

"Dr. Crane," he later confessed, "I think it is futile to spend my time studying, for what does the future hold, anyway?"

"The world is in such turmoil that I figure I might as well enjoy what few years I may have ahead of me."

"So I have joined the hippies and live from day to day, taking my pleasures where I can find them."

"Those fellows who struggle to get ahead and bone over college books till midnight, are just foolish!"

HEED SIGMUND FREUD

The father of psychoanalysis brought forth his new branch of medicine back in 1895.

But he was attacked from all sides, as are most innovators!

The 4 leading world psychologists opposed him violently.

Yet Dr. Freud won out!

When asked by a member of one of his audiences how it happened that he was able to survive the united assault of the world's leading psychologists, Dr. Freud smiled and said:

"I just outlived my opposition!"

"At the start, I faced those 4 powerful foes."

"But one of them died, leaving me only 3 adversaries."

"So I kept defending my position while they vigorously tried to sabotage psychoanalysis."

"Then a 2nd opponent passed away and the odds now were only 2 to 1 against me."

"Resolutely, I kept on stating my position and then a 3rd enemy dropped out of the conflict, due to death."

"That left the odds at 1 to 1, and finally even that final attacker passed away."

"So I just outlived my opposition!"

And that is something all young people must keep vividly in mind.

Even though you are brilliant and well trained for success, if other similarly star performers have had 10 years head start, you may need to bide your time.

This means, too, that longevity is a vital factor in your reaching the top.

Smokers, who die of a coronary at the age of 45 or 50 while they are still vice-presidents, obviously will never become the head of their firm!

Astute Gardner Cowles gave us some shrewd advice when he said:

"Things do not happen. They are made to happen!"

"Which means it requires planning, adequate preparation, a lot of 'elbow grease' and longevity to be sure you reach the top."

So set your goal and don't be distracted by temporary fads, such as the indolent hippie philosophy.

Send for my booklet "How to Improve Your Memory and Study More Efficiently," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents. (Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg., Mellet, Indiana 47556 enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one his booklets.)

Today In History

By Associated Press

Today is Monday, April 3, the 94th day of 1972. There are 272 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1865, during the Civil War, the Union army occupied the former Confederate capital of Richmond, Va.

On this date—

In 1776, Harvard College conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on Gen. George Washington.

In 1783, the American writer and diplomat, Washington Irving, was born in New York City.

In 1860, pony express service began—between St. Joseph, Mo. and Sacramento, Calif.

In 1936, Bruno R. Hauptmann was executed for the kidnapping and murder of the baby of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

In 1941, British troops evacuated the Libyan port of Bengasi during World War II.

Ten years ago, President Joao Goulart of Brazil arrived in Washington to begin a six day U.S. visit.

Five years ago, British troops in Aden fought a daylong battle against sniping and bomb-throwing terrorists.

One year ago, South Vietnamese forces claimed they had wrecked an enemy regiment in a three-day battle in the Central Highlands in South Vietnam.

A PRESCRIPTION IS A MEDICAL TREATMENT IN PRODUCT FORM

Not too long ago, medicines with very few exceptions couldn't cure anything—they merely relieved symptoms. But, today, many drugs actually kill disease organisms and can control or change the way your body operates. Your doctor knows what drug treatment is best for you. He is not just treating symptoms, he is treating the disease that caused them.

Home remedies will sometimes offer temporary relief of symptoms. But, most likely they could be masking a more serious problem. The key to most all medical treatment is to find the cause of the illness and to start treating it early.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Resident Enlists For 1 Year In Local National Guard Unit

William D. Toten, 1117 Sierra, recently enlisted for a one-year term in the local unit of the National Guard.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Toten, Groom, Toten has had three years of previous service in the United States Army.

Toten enlisted as a Specialist Fourth Class. He will be placed in the 3rd Rifle Platoon as a grenadier.

During his enlistment Toten, who was born Dec. 10, 1941, at Muleshoe, will be receiving $173.64 every three months, or approximately $690 for the year term, according to SSG. Degner.

Any personnel with previous military service wanting "a high paying second job" can contact First Sgt. Vernon D. Day or SSG. Degner.

GETS MUSICAL ROLE

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Peter Finch will star in "Lost Horizon," producer Ross Hunter's first film for Columbia Pictures.

Finch will portray an English diplomat in his first appearance in a musical film role. Production will begin this spring. Finch will report to Lugano, Switzerland weeks in advance to rehearse his musical numbers.

Ingenious Pear Meringue Bars

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

A good cook has used canned Bartlett pears in an ingenious dessert. It's a cross between a bar cookie and a pudding — nice to serve to guests with afternoon coffee or for the final course at dinner for the family or company.

Because the pears add moisture, we found it was best to serve this offering on dessert plates with forks.

PEAR MERINGUE SQUARES

1 can (16 ounces) Bartlett pear halves
1 2/3 cups unsifted flour
3/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup butter or margarine

2 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon plus 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup chopped pecans
Drain and dice pears — there will be about 1 1/4 cups.

In a medium mixing bowl stir together the flour, 1/2 cup of the brown sugar and the salt. Cut in butter until particles are tiny. Add egg yolks and vanilla and mix until well blended. Press into buttered 9-inch square cake pan. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven for 15 minutes. Cool slightly.

OVEN NIBBLES

Repeated on request.
1/2 cup butter
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon celery salt
1/4 teaspoon onion powder
6 cups bite-size shredded rice cereal, omit crumbs
1/3 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 cup salted nuts

In a jelly-roll pan (15 by 10 by 1 inch) melt the butter in a 350-degree oven while it is preheating; remove from oven as soon as butter has melted. Stir in the salt, celery salt and onion powder so seasonings are evenly mixed. Add rice cereal and mix carefully to coat with the seasoned butter. Bake in the preheated 350-degree oven until top layer is browned — 8 to 10 minutes; with a wide spatula turn cereal; continue baking 4 to 5 minutes; remove from oven. At once sprinkle with Parmesan, turning cereal as you do so. Cool in pan. Mix in nuts. Store in a tightly covered container. Makes 1 3/4 quarts.

Reliable Potatoes

OLD STAND-BY POTATO SLIMS

4 medium Idaho baking potatoes or 1 package (9 ounces) frozen French fries
1/4 cup water
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce

1/4 cup grated Romano or Parmesan cheese
1 envelope seasoned coating mix for chicken
Aluminum foil
Salt

Pare potatoes and cut into strips, as for French fries, or into slices. Mix water with oil and Tabasco in a small shallow dish; add potatoes to moisten. Mix Romano cheese with coating mix in plastic bag. Shake excess moisture from potatoes and shake in bag, 8 to 10 pieces at a time, until evenly coated. Place potatoes in single layer on baking sheet lined with aluminum foil. Bake in 400 degree F. oven for 30 to 35 minutes (20 to 25 for frozen potatoes). Add salt.

YIELD: 4 servings.

Flavor Variations:
1. For steaks—substitute 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted, for water and salad oil; substitute 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt for Romano cheese.

2. For hamburgers—substitute 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard for Romano cheese.

3. For frankfurters—add 1/4 teaspoon dried leaf tarragon to coating mixture.

4. For chicken—add 1/4 teaspoon dried leaf tarragon to coating mixture.

5. For fish—add 1/4 teaspoon dill seed to coating mixture.

TABASCO FRENCH DRESSING

2 and two-thirds cup salad oil
1/2 cup lemon juice or vinegar
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce

1 teaspoon each, salt, paprika, dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon sugar

Combine all ingredients in jar or bowl and shake or beat to mix well. Serve with salad greens. YIELD: 1 cup dressing.

Broccoli With Celery Sparks Family Dinner

Meat Loaf Potatoes
Broccoli with Celery Apple Crisp
BROCCOLI WITH CELERY Beverage

Good combination of vegetables.
1 bunch broccoli
2 large ribs celery, cut crosswise on the bias in thin slices
3/4 cup boiling water
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter
Grated rind and juice of 1/2 small lemon

Remove leaves from broccoli and trim ends from stalks. With a swivel-blade vegetable peeler, pare outer covering from broccoli stalks up to flowerets. Wash in cold water. Cut off flowerets and separate to make small and even. Slice stalks crosswise on the bias to make thin ovals; place, with celery, in a 10-inch skillet with flowerets on top. Add water and salt. Bring to a boil; cover and boil until tender-crisp — about 5 minutes; lift cover a few times to help keep broccoli green.

Drain. Remove to warm serving bowl. Melt butter with lemon rind and juice; drizzle over broccoli and celery; mix gently. Makes 6 servings.

Spicy Rolled Pork Loin Treat

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

A rolled loin of pork makes an attractive main meat course for a large family or when entertaining. Since it primarily is all meat, it goes a long way and with meat prices higher these days that is important. For a special taste treat use a jelly glaze with the pork. This includes crabapple jelly and brown mustard. Leftover pork makes good sandwiches or goes well in a casserole. Serve with small potatoes, creamed onions and red cabbage or sauerkraut.

PORK LOIN WITH JELLY GLAZE

1 boneless rolled pork loin (about 4 pounds)
Salt, pepper
1 cup crabapple jelly
2 tablespoons wine

vinegar
1/4 cup prepared brown mustard
1/4 teaspoon onion salt

Place pork loin on a rack in an open shallow roasting pan. Insert a meat thermometer so that tip is in center of meat. Roast uncovered in a 325-degree oven for 1 1/2 hours. Meanwhile, combine jelly, vinegar, mustard and onion salt in a small saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring, until jelly melts. Remove meat from oven and baste generously with jelly mixture. Return to oven and continue roasting for 30 minutes or until thermometer reaches 170 degrees, basting occasionally with remaining jelly glaze. Be sure to cook pork thoroughly. Serves 10 to 12. The Unsecret Life of Dr. Meriwether

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — Imagine: September 5, 1972. The Olympic Stadium in Munich is hushed. Two hundred thousands pairs of eyeballs rivet on a tall thin man limping dramatically to the 100-meter track. On the way, he removes a long white doctor's coat and hands it to a nurse who looks like Virginia Mayo. "Dr. Meriwether," she says, softly, her beautiful orbs dripping, "may I help you with your leg, too?"

"No," he snaps, "I can make it alone."

Now Dr. Meriwether lines up with Borzov the Russian and Greene the American and the world record holder from Jamaica and the ex-record holder from Madagascar and the great champion from Sweden who loosens up by flapping his wings.

The courageous doctor waits tensely, feeling the throbbing ache in his right knee, the knee all the world knows he injured in a fall six months ago. The gun blasts. Dr. Meriwether hops off on his good leg. He wins! He sets a world record. He...

"No," said Dr. Delano Meriwether over breakfast recently. "It's not all that important. I like to clown around at track. Sure, I'd love to be in the Olympics. If I'm not—I won't brood."

And with that, the 28-year-old hematologist destroyed the dreams that the rest of us Walter Mittys have had about the one armchair brother who stood up one day, walked right into that television set, onto a track and became a national sprint champion.

It's just fun for him, not a romantic life-or-death way most Monday morning quarterbacks would have it. Is he upset by the knee he bruised recently in an AAU meet? No, it's still in walking order.

"I may be a physician," said Dr. Meriwether, "but I am somewhat unsophisticated about some things. I don't even know who Walter Mitty was."

DR. DELANO MERIWETHER, right, breaks the tape in a dead heat for first place with Herb Washington in the 50-meter dash at a Madison Square Garden meet in February. In his next meet, Meriwether incurred the knee injury that has kept him out of action recently.

The hen-pecked Mitty, created in a short story by James Thurber, only dreamed of being such things as a great sea captain in a storm ("The Old Man and the Sea") and a brilliant doctor ("Only Dr. Mitty could perform surgery for obstructions of the ductal tract").

Meanwhile, back at the lab, Meriwether is actually doing important research on sickle cell anemia, the disorder of the blood-protein hemoglobin.

But he's also the current national outdoor and indoor sprint champ and was in New York recently to receive the annual Tanqueray Sports Achievement Award.

Meriwether began running competitively last year, at an age when most track stars have traded in their spikes for slippers. The story of his beginning is by now a twice-told legend.

One afternoon he was home watching a U.S.-European track meet on television.

"Hey, I think I can beat those guys," he said to his wife, Myrtle.

"Of course, dear," she said, soothingly.

He had already been running in near record time in local meets in Baltimore. Yet he had never competed in high school (no track team) and didn't have time at Michigan State; he went through the heavy pre-med program in three years, and then became the first black student at the Duke University Medical School.

His track training was sporadic because of long lab hours. A couple evenings a week he'd run at night in an unlit park. Other times, his workout would consist of running up the seven flights of stairs of his apartment house (sometimes backward).

Meriwether emerged into the track world like something out of an animated cartoon, wearing tight gold swimming trunks, a white V-neck hospital shirt and striped suspenders. ("Track should be entertaining," he said). His running style was compared to a man thrashing about as though "beset by a swarm of enraged hornets." But he raced, and he won.

His recent win in the AAU championship appears costly, however. He collided with another runner after hitting the tape in the 100-yard dash in Madison Square Garden. He has since missed two meets because the swollen knee hobbles him.

"If it doesn't heal properly, well—I've had fun," he says. "And that's all I'm concerned with. I've always liked to run. Track is my bag, like bowling or golf is someone else's. I don't want to compete. Just clown around and get some pleasurable exercise."

The knee injury is not his first track ailment. He suffered three torn muscles in his left leg last season, and still won several meets. So, though his mustachioed upper lip may be curved in amusement it is still stiff.

"Then," wrote Thurber, "with that faint, fleeting smile playing about his lips, he faced the firing squad erect and motionless, proud and disdainful, Walter Mitty the Undefeated, inscrutable to the last."

Mets' Hodges Dies

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gil Hodges, a loveable giant who won Dodgers fans with his bat and Met hearts with his brain, died on Easter Sunday when he should have been in a baseball uniform.

"Gil was walking," said Eddie Yost, "then tumbled backward."

Yost and fellow New York Mets' coaches Rube Walker and Joe Pignatano had just finished a fun day on the golf course with their manager.

"Only reason we were playing golf," said Pignatano, "was that the players' strike put us out of business. Otherwise, we'd been over in the West Palm Beach ballpark playing the Atlanta Braves."

Yost still was stunned Sunday night.

"Gil had a beer with us," said the man who played 18 years as a major league infielder. "I think he also ate a piece of cake. Gil, Piggy, Rube and me shot the ball with Jack Sanford for awhile."

Sanford, a former star pitcher for the Phillies and Giants, is now golf pro at the public course that sits beside the Ramada Inn on the Lake.

Hodges and his coaches finally said goodbye to Sanford and began walking back to the motel.

Hodges, 6 feet 3 and 205 pounds with hands like a bear, dropped to the ground in front of room 158.

Despite speedy first aid, the man who would have celebrated his 48th birthday Tuesday was dead before he reached Good Samaritan Hospital.

The native of Princeton, Ind., signed with the Brooklyn Dodgers for a $1,000 bonus in 1943 and became a regular after returning from the Marines in 1947.

Hodges was a brilliant first baseman for 11 seasons in Brooklyn, which became his permanent home, and went west with the Dodgers in 1958 for four more years in a Los Angeles uniform.

After two part-time seasons back with a budding New York club called the Mets in 1962-63, Hodges quit to become manager of the Washington Senators for five years through 1967.

His playing career showed a still-standing record of 14 bases-loaded homers along with 1,274 runs batted in, a .273 career average seven World Series, eight All-Star games and a National League record of 370 home runs by a righthanded hitter which has since been surpassed by such modern sluggers as Willie Mays and Hank Aaron.

Hodges came home to New York for a third time in 1968 to manage the Mets, a team more famed for laughs than victories.

After a ninth-place finish the first summer, Hodges marched the Mets to a startling NL pennant and World Series triumph of the Baltimore Orioles in '69.

"We're all still a little glassy-eyed," Mets General Manager Bob Scheffing said late Sunday.

"Gil never looked better. He had recovered so well from that attack in Atlanta that most people had forgotten it."

Hodges was felled Sept. 24, 1968, during the Mets' final series the year before the World Series miracle. Until then, he had never suffered heart ailments.

Baltimore, Athletics AL Division Picks

NEW YORK (AP) — No matter what you read elsewhere, there is no guarantee whatsoever that the Baltimore Orioles and Oakland A's will repeat as American League division champions this year.

After all, there could be a strike, you know.

That's about the only thing that could block these two power-packed teams from the swift completion of their appointed rounds.

How do you cope with the Orioles, who start out with four 20-game winners—lefties Dave McNally and Mike Cuellar and right-handers Pat Dobson and Jim Palmer. The answer is you don't cope with them. You just do the best you can trying to beat the rest of the guys out for second place.

The Birds are so well-stocked with player talent that they were able to dispatch aging Frank Robinson to Los Angeles and, except for the absence of his retired number, they'll hardly notice he's gone.

The Birds traded Robinson so that they'd have room for young Don Baylor, who's graduating from Rochester of the International League. But Baylor still has to wait in line for an outfield job. Stacked ahead of him are holdovers Don Buford, Merv Rettenmund and Paul Blair.

Bobby Grich, another outstanding prospect also moving up from the minors, has a similar problem. To win a job, he only has to beat out Brooks Robinson at third, Mark Belanger at shortstop, Dave Johnson at second or Boog Powell at first.

That means a season of watching for the two prize rookies and another season of winning for the Orioles.

In the West, Vida Blue or not, the A's seem too, too strong. Owner Charles O. Finley, a well-known insurance man, took out a pitching policy against Blue's holdout by acquiring right-hander Denny McLain.

He joins a staff that includes 20-game winner Catfish Hunter, Ken Holtzman, grabbed from the Chicago Cubs over the winter, and holdovers Blue Moon Odom and Chuck Dobson, who both had arm problems late last year.

Add Blue to that cast—Finley would love to—and the A's have one of the strongest pitching staffs in baseball.

The runs will come from solid hitters like Sal Bando, Reggie Jackson, Joe Rudi and Mike Epstein. Dick Green and Bert Campaneris make the A's solid up the middle and Gene Tenace and Dave Duncan are two capable receivers.

It all adds up to another coast-to-coast playoff with the Orioles, the likely AL champions for a fourth consecutive year.

Billy Martin, always the optimist, thinks his Detroit Tigers have enough oomph to overtake the Orioles in the East. Call it wishful thinking.

The Tigers have some solid talent like Dick McAuliffe, Mickey Stanley, Willie Horton, and Bill Freehan. But their pitching is questionable after workhorse Mickey Lolich and Joe Coleman.

Detroit's most important drawbacks are also the club's biggest assets—Al Kaline and Norm Cash. Both are 37 and could wilt in the summer's heat. If they do, so will Detroit.

Chicago's improving White Sox will be a factor in the West, especially if they ever get Dick Allen, formerly of Philadelphia, St. Louis and Los Angeles, to agree to play for them.

Allen's bat would certainly bolster an attack that gets most of its punch from home run champ Bill Melton, Rick Reichardt and Carlos May.

Stan Bansen, picked up from the Yankees, adds depth to a promising pitching staff headed by knuckler Wilber Wood, a 22-game winner last year.

New York is depending on two promising rookies, Rusty Torres in right field and Ron Blomberg at first base, as well as newcomer Rich McKenney, picked up from the White Sox at third.

The most important addition for the Yankees, though, may be reliever Sparky Lyle who must pick up a bullpen that slumped badly last year.

Bobby Murcer, Roy White and Thurman Munson give the Yanks some professional hitters and Fritz Peterson and Mel Stottlemyre are better than average pitchers.

Kansas City, second in the West last year, may slip a bit this season. The Royals have one of the American League's outstanding young players in center fielder Amos Otis and the speed he and little Freddie Patek provide gives the Royals plenty of zip.

Bullpen partners Ted Abernathy and Tom Burgmeier combined for 40 saves last year and starters Dick Drago, Mike Hedlund and Paul Splittorff could get some help from rookie Monty Montgomery this time out.

Second baseman Cookie Rojas and third baseman Paul Schaal both enjoyed their best big league seasons last year and will need to do just as well this time if the Royals are to make a dent in the West Division race.

Boston came up with versatile Tommy Harper and pitchers Marty Pattin and Lew Krausse in a big winter trade with Milwaukee. And the Red Sox still have some talented hitters like Carl Yastrzemski, Rico Petrocelli, Reggie Smith and Danny Cater, grabbed from the Yankees.

But there seems to be something missing in the Red Sox scheme of things. The pitching isn't as solid as it ought to be, even with Krausse, Pattin, Gary Peters, Sonny Siebert and Ray Culp and unless Manager Eddie Kasko comes up with the answer, it seems like a so-so season for the Sox.

In the West, Minnesota's Twins are very much like Boston. They have some outstanding individual performers such as batting champ Tony Oliva, slugger Harmon Killebrew and second baseman Ron Carey. But the pitching is spotty with aging Jim Perry the ace of an otherwise ordinary staff.

California has some new faces including outfielders Vada Pinson and Cero Stanton, shortstop Leo Cardenas and pitcher Nolan Ryan but Manager Del Rice will have to pick up the pieces of last season.

Each boy must make at least two of three planned sessions to be eligible for play, and each is requested to bring his own equipment.

Ruth Tryouts Begin Wed.

Try-outs for boys 13 through 15 years of age who are interested in playing Babe Ruth League baseball this summer scheduled to begin at 5:30 Wednesday at Optimist Park, according to League president John A. Maxwell.

son's mess and it should take more than one year to patch things up.

Milwaukee, with general manager Frank Lane wheeling and dealing, has assembled an interesting cast—much of it from the 10-player trade with Boston by which the Brewers got outfielders Billy Conigliaro and Joe Lahoud, first baseman George Scott and pitchers Jim Lonborg and Ken Brett.

Curt Morton, picked up from Baltimore, gives the Brewers some hitting to go with Johnny Briggs and Dave May. Bill Parsons developed into a fair pitcher and Ken Sanders is a workhorse in the bullpen.

Texas has a new team called the Rangers and Cleveland has an old team called the Indians. Neither figures to make much of a fuss in either East or West Divisions.

The Indians might stir some interest with newcomers Alex Johnson and Gaylord Perry to go with pros like Ray Fosse and Graig Nettles. Even though Frank Howard signed with the Rangers, it could be a long season for Texas.

The picks:

West Division	East Division
Oakland	Baltimore
Chicago	Detroit
Kansas City	New York
Minnesota	Boston
California	Milwaukee
Texas	Cleveland

Sports Briefs

STAR STREET

The Utah Stars may be the only pro basketball team to have a street named after them. Salt Lake City recently dedicated a new "Stars Avenue."

BEST RECORD

Don Johnson of Akron, Ohio, had the best average on the professional bowling tour in 1971, even though he finished second in earnings standings to Johnny Petraglia. Johnson's 213.97 average edged Roy Buckley's 213.465 and Petraglia's 213.049. Petraglia, however, won $85,065 to Johnson's $81,349.

NEARLY A MILLION

The Atlantic Coast Conference football teams drew nearly a million fans during the 1971 season, recording 954,478 admissions for a 27,557-fans per game average.

BROCKINGTON FEAT

When John Brockington of the Green Bay Packers rushed for his 1,000th yard of the 1971 season, he became the fourth rookie in NFL history to reach that plateau. Beattie Feathers of the Chicago Bears did it in 1934, Cookie Gilchrist of the Buffalo Bills did it in 1962 and Paul Robinson of the Cincinnati Bengals did it in 1968.

STOLEN MERCHANDISE

Mel Daniels of the Indiana Pacers is still trying to recover a truckload of possessions stolen from his home last summer while he was touring in Vietnam. When he returned home he found a gun collection, his ABA championship ring, his first All-Star ring, an All-Star watch, 18 other watches, six other rings, three pair of All-Star cuff links, three chain bracelets and two of his wife's fur coats missing.

Palmer Collapses Archer Unpacks

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Arnold Palmer suffered his biggest collapse since the 1966 U.S. Open. Gary Player was disqualified for failing to sign his scorecard. And George Archer had to unpack his car to win the golf tournament.

"I had the car all packed and ready to go," Archer recalled Sunday after Palmer's collapse gave him a second chance in the 1969, 900 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

"I was watching television and when I saw Arnold make that six I said, 'Oops, let's go get the clubs.'"

Archer beat Tommy Aaron on the second hole of sudden death. Palmer finished third, tied with Dave Stockton, Chi Chi Rodriguez and J.C. Snead.

Archer and Aaron were in the clubhouse with scores of 12-under-par 272s when the dynamic Palmer burst out of a car-way tie for the lead with consecutive birdies on the 14th and 15th holes.

A 15-footer on the 15th gave the 42-year-old Palmer a two-stroke lead with three holes to play in the chase for the $40,000 first prize.

A broad smile creased his face when he went to the 16th on the Sedgefield Country Club course, a tough, 225-yard par three.

His usual massive gallery roared when his wood shot came hooking far to the left, and some to rest in a shallow creek.

Palmer elected to play it out of the creek, and splashed it up sort of a sand trap—but still at the bunker to negotiate to reach the green.

He dumped the little chip guano in the trap, blasted out and two-putted for a six that wacked him out of the lead and at him one stroke behind.

Palmer parred in, then shouldered past officials, shrugged I newsmen and didn't even go to the locker room. The pilot of a private plane had to run to step up as he left immediately without speaking to anyone.

That triple bogey represented a biggest collapse since he won a seven-stroke lead with no holes to play in the 1966 U.S. Open, which he lost in a playoff to Billy Casper. He had a final round 70 for 273.

And the big six left it up to the 6-foot-4 Archer and the smooth-swinging Aaron to battle it out in sudden death—the seventh playoff of the season and the second time they'd faced each other.

Both made routine pars on the first extra hole, the 15th. And then the 16th snapped up Aaron. Archer, who won the Los Angeles Open in a playoff with Aaron and Dave Hill, put his tee shot on the green.

But Aaron found another branch of the creek on the other side of the green, dropped out, chipped short and missed a long putt. He was lying four when Archer two-putted from 25 feet for the par that gave the former ranch hand his 10th title.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Voluntary Controls

A gathering of Catholic priests, called the National Federation of Priests Councils, called on its members to take up the causes of the Berrigan brothers and the Gropis.

That was a reference to the Rev. Daniel Berrigan, convicted for burning draft records, his brother Philip, now standing trial in Harrisburg, Gropis, a so-called civil rights activists.

The latest pronouncement from the federation came from a Denver meeting.

Normally, a newspaper of general circulation does not comment on intra-church debates. Such matters are strictly the business of the membership and ought not to be bandied about by outsiders. On the other hand, there has been a tendency in the last two decades for church organizations to depart from their internal affairs and to sashay forth into the public arena. When they do so, they are no more immune from rebuttal than any other political participant. Were it otherwise, every rogue in the country would don a friar's smock in order to gain a sanctuary for his vulnerable conduct.

Fortunately, in this country—unlike so many others—the church gains the revenues by which it operates from the free-will offerings of its members. The activity of the Berrigans, the Gropis, and others of the National Federation of Priests Councils can continue only as long as it has the financial approval of the parishioners. At the time that such approval ceases, the responsible authorities of the church will find ample means to re-establish the customary disciplines. In so stating, we realize there is a considerable degree of independence among the different organs of the church, and the cure is somewhat slow to become manifest. It is also true that sometimes innocent parties will feel the drouth, but that is more incentive for beginning the curative treatment early.

The unfortunate predicament is somewhat like that in which loyal Presbyterians found themselves when an agency of that denomination contributed $10,000 to Angela Davis' defense fund. That cure also is slow to make its appearance, but we have no doubt that it is working. When a voluntary organization goes astray, it must either persuade a high percentage of its members to do likewise or it must return to the original pathway.

Unconstitutional Census

The U.S. Census Bureau is in the midst of another survey to determine our buying habits. The last such effort was in 1961-62. Results are expected to shed enlightenment on such population segments as low-income groups, the elderly, working wives, and how much it costs to live in different parts of the country.

Union and business groups find the data helpful in developing retirement, health insurance, etc., and the government uses the statistics in setting up welfare programs. Bureau of Census personnel will question individuals on how much they spent for food, clothing, beverages, household appliances, trips, vacations, medical services, school tuition and books. They will ask about rent, mortgage payments, income, assets and liabilities. Marketing people just love this type of information because it enables them to zero in on likely buyers.

But the whole thing has no constitutional authority to stand on. The founders of the U.S. did not provide for a census. The word "census" does not once appear in the Constitution.

Article I provides only for a simple enumeration. This enumeration is constitutionally limited to two purposes, the apportionment of representatives and the apportionment of direct taxes. Such a count has nothing to do with commerce, so far as the Constitution is concerned. What right do business and union groups have to scream "Constitution" when they endorse an expenditure of tax funds which nowhere is provided in the Constitution?

Behind Those Supreme Court Decisions

What makes a U.S. Supreme Court Justice liberal? Nobody pretends to have the complete answer to that question, but Congressman John R. Rarick of Louisiana has part of it. Would you believe the law clerks—the young men who serve as research assistants to the Supreme Court Justices? Listen to what Congressman Rarick said over a recent Manion Forum radio broadcast, and then decide for yourself.

"Law clerks are law graduates who do the basic legal research for the Justices and who are in a position to influence the decision as to which cases the Supreme Court will hear and even to influence the ruling of the High Court. In fact, in many cases we have reason to believe the law clerks actually write the judges' opinions."

"Of the 361 law clerks appointed by the Justices who have served on the U.S. Supreme Court over the past ten years, Harvard and Yale graduate account for 185, or 51 percent of the total. This means that two of our liberal Eastern universities have supplied the majority of the 'legal brains' behind the Supreme Court decisions."

"These young law school graduates are placed in positions where they play a significant role in deciding vital issues of national import. You might say that they occupy a role of equal or greater importance than that occupied by members of the President's cabinet, Under Secretary, Secretaries whose appointments the Senate must confirm."

"A law clerk to Justice Jackson about 20 years ago revealed that the bias of the clerks, in his opinion, was not random or hit-and-miss bias. From his observations of two sets of Court clerks during the 1951, and 1952 terms, the political and legal prejudices of the clerks were by no means representative of the country as a whole nor of the Court which they served."

"Conceding a wide diversity of opinion among the clerks, the former clerk stated that it was fair to say that the political cast of the clerks as a group was to the left of either the Nation or the Court."

"Some of the tenets of the liberal point of view which commanded the sympathy of a majority of the clerks were: extreme solicitude for the claims of Communists and other criminal defendants, expansion of Federal power at the expense of State power, and great sympathy toward any Government regulations of business. I might add that Alger Hiss got his start in political life as a Supreme Court law clerk."

"We must realize that outstanding students reflect the seeds of change implanted by their professors. The thoughts and teachings of an extremely limited number of liberal professors at Harvard and Yale is reflected in 51 percent of Supreme Court law clerks over the last ten years."

"I think that it would be well for the Judiciary Committee of both the Senate and the House to look into this matter, to find out to just what extent law clerks do influence the work of the Supreme Court, and to, perhaps, set qualifications for the position I do believe that law clerks should be confirmed by the Congress."

Congressman Rarick has introduced a bill to this effect. Find out more about it, and nip some of those Court decisions in the bud! — The American Way Features

Quick Quiz

Q—What is the oldest road in the United States?
A—The El Camino Real that runs from Santa Fe, N.M., to Chihuahua, Mexico. It first served travelers in 1581. It is now Highway 85.

Q—What is an estimated number of spoken languages?
A—Scholars have counted 2,796 spoken languages.

Q—Are all black bears completely black?
A—No, some have black coats with brown noses and white patches on the chest. Others have rusty brown coats. One kind of black bear has creamy white fur and white claws.

Q—Where is the world's largest library devoted to glass?
A—The Corning Glass Center in Corning, N.Y. The museum exhibits 3,500 years of glassmaking.

Q—Which is the strongest of all natural fibers?
A—Silk. A thread of silk is stronger than the same size thread of some kinds of steel.

Question Box

QUESTION: "If helping one's neighbor is a good thing, why does The News always complain about welfare action by the government?"

ANSWER: True Benevolence comes from the heart of the individuals who have heard a plea for help and voluntarily respond. Sometimes, even this kind of benevolence can be harmful especially if it helps turn the recipient into a non-productive member of society entirely dependent upon handouts from others. If a human being is thus turned into a "non person" because of the continued "generosity" of his more affluent neighbors, he never has the joy of elevating his position through his own efforts.

Government "welfare" is an even greater disaster because it tends to make great numbers of people forever dependent upon handouts. People who criticize "government welfare" programs are often erroneously characterized as selfish and greedy who have no compassion for the less fortunate.

The real criticism for such programs is that they simply do not work for the total betterment of the unfortunate and further they deprive more and more self-producing members of society of more and more of their own earnings.

The vast bureaucracy which has grown to administer the welfare program is ample testimony to that along with the ever increasing numbers of people on the welfare rolls.

If the government welfare programs actually lifted those who are temporarily needy people and helped them become productive again, there would be much less to criticize.

But the truth is that this is the most affluent society in the world wherein the taxes taken to support welfare cases are larger in volume than in any other society. Yet it is also true that those on the receiving end of this welfare dole continue to increase and for the most part do not return to productivity.

Like the hopeless, narcotic addict, they are hooked. And that is NOT helping one's neighbor.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The first elevator to incorporate an adequate safety device automatically preventing the car from falling was invented by Elisha Otis in 1852. The World Almanac recalls. The building of skyscrapers was promoted by elevators, and the Equitable Life Assurance Society built in New York City the first office building with an elevator in 1868.

Florida V.P. Patterns
Reverse H.F.A. on Busing

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Plain crass electioneering politics was the propelling force behind Sen. Hubert Humphrey's abrupt flip-flop on a busing moratorium.

In justification, the redundant Minnesotan talked sonorously about principles and high motives, but that was just glib rhetoric and self-serving claptrap. He is a long-practiced hand at that.

What really impelled the Democratic Presidential runner to suddenly repudiate his endorsement of President Nixon's proposal for a temporary suspension of new court-ordered student busing were two potent politics-loaded factors:

(1) A barrage of telephone calls, telegrams and mail from black leaders and militant libertarians throughout the country berating and condemning Humphrey for approving Nixon's plan. The vehemence of these blasts jarred Humphrey and his inner advisers.

At one strategy meeting he remarked ruefully, "I guess I shot from the hip—or maybe it was the hip. I should have waited a while before sounding off on Nixon's scheme."

(2) A detailed analysis of the balloting results in the Florida primary in which Humphrey wound up an unimpressive second with 18.6 per cent to Gov. Wallace's 41.5 per cent—showing that more than half of the Minnesotan's vote came from two elements—blacks and Jews.

According to the backstage study, of the 230,000 votes cast for Humphrey, 90,000 were from blacks and 40,000 from Jews. Humphrey got the message fast!

The jolting figures coming on top of the heavy flurry of irate phone calls and other outcries caused him to switch to a different tune fast—four days after acclaiming the President for asserting the kind of leadership urgently needed on the explosive busing issue.

This time Humphrey thundered rancorously: "I say the plan is insufficient to aid our children, deceptive to the American people, and insensitive to the laws and Constitution of this nation."

Also this time the Minnesotan did not shoot from the hip (or lip). At least two lawyers and others were consulted in the preparation of the statement—which was read from the manuscript of a speech and not tossed off as a comment at a press conference.

Other Revealing Details
There is a lot more important food for thought in that unpublished Florida primary analysis—which has given Humphrey and other candidates cause for pause. Such as:

Mayor John Lindsay, of the city with the largest Jewish population in the world, got only 2 per cent of the Jewish vote—exactly the same as Gov. Wallace. Humphrey got 53 per cent; Sen. Henry Jackson 23 per cent; Sen. McGovern 10 per cent; Sen. Muskie 8 per cent.

In Brevard County, site of Cape Kennedy and dominated by space industry, Jackson, tagged by his ultra-liberal dovish rivals as the candidate of the so-called "military-industrial complex," ran third to Wallace and Humphrey. Brevard was one of Humphrey's best counties—racking up 31 per cent of the vote to Wallace's 36 per cent and Jackson's 20 per cent.

In the largest Cuban precinct in Dade County (Miami), Wallace led with 37.8 per cent; Jackson next with 19.3 per cent; Humphrey third with 16.9 per cent. Muskie was fifth behind McGovern; Lindsay trailed everybody.

Lindsay left a lot of "paper" (unpaid accounts) all over Florida, particularly in Miami, where his large staff and numerous hangers-on occupied more than 30 suites and rooms.

The Lindsayites entertained frequently and lavishly, and spent money as if there was no limit to it. Much of the big spending was on the cuff.

Local politicians estimate Lindsay's Florida debts at around $200,000.

Any Part is a Storm

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller was fit to be tied when lifelong Republican Rep. Ogden ("Brownie") Reid defected to the Democrats.

Raged the New York state executive to an intimate, "I went to a lot of trouble for him. Stuck my neck way out to help him, and that's the kind of thanks I get: a kick right in the teeth."

What Rockefeller was so indignantly griping about was the following wheels-within-wheels machinations that led up to Reid's switcheroo:

During the winter while the state legislature was deep in the politics-loaded process of reshuffling the state and Congressional districts, "Brownie" sought out the Governor and pleaded for help. Reid pointed out, what Rockefeller well knew, that he almost lost the Republican nomination two years ago and was in even more dire peril this year—due to his persistent voting with the Democrats.

Although a member of one of the oldest and most prominent GOP families in the country and once editor of a leading party newspaper, Reid has a virtual New Left legislative record. Republicans in his 24th Congressional district were irately out to get him and he was patently in deep trouble.

Rockefeller sympathetically promised to help—and did.

So much so, in fact, that it was a major cause for Reid's more-or-less forced bolt to the Democrats.

Through supporters in the state legislature, Rockefeller was able to reshuffle Reid's district in such a manner as to appreciably increase the number of registered Republicans.

On its face it looked just fine: exactly what "Brownie" needed. But close examination revealed an almost certain fatal weakness.

The additional Republicans were not liberals; they were mainly establishment GOP. Reid and his brand of liberal activism and dovishness was anathema to most of them. Samplings showed he would face a highly uncertain uphill fight in the June primary against a traditional Republican opponent.

OVER 65 ONLY: ENROLLMENT PERIOD ENDS MIDNIGHT THURS, APRIL 13, 1972

Here's where most folks over 65 find out...too late... what Medicare does not pay...

Now, for just $1
for your first month's protection, you can examine 'on approval'
this sensible, affordable Plan!
New Elder-Care® pays you up to $50,000 Tax-Free Cash!
It covers every hospital expense that Hospital Medicare leaves out, except the initial deductible!
■ only $3 a month after the first month!
■ no age limit ■ no health questions
■ all pre-existing conditions are covered!
Your first month is only $1.
And you get your dollar back if you're not completely satisfied.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

MEDICARE COSTS JUMP AGAIN!

Now You
Must Pay
13 1/3% MORE!

Effective January 1st 1972 Hospital Medicare payments increased again, by law! Just as in past years, amounts that patients must pay rose very sharply - up 13 1/3%! Fortunately ELDER-CARE owners need not worry! Once again this Plan automatically adjusts to cover increased hospital charges... yet it still costs just $3 a month. Today your Initial Deductible is $68 (up from $60!); after the 60th day you must pay $17 per day (up from $15!); and your "lifetime reserve" contribution is now $34 per day (up from $30!). These continuing annual increases make it more important than ever to protect yourself at today's rates! Send your Application NOW - before the postmark deadline.

MEDICARE IS GREAT-BUT!

Wake up friends. Blessing that is, please realize that Medicare isn't everything many folks suppose. It has Gaps-deductibles, percentages and charges that you must pay out of your own pocket. And recent changes have increased those Gaps. The Government pays less and you pay more! What a shock to find this out too late. Today, even with Hospital Medicare, a long siege of illness in the hospital could leave you with crippling financial debts.

DON'T LEARN THE FACTS THE HARD WAY!
After you're laid up, it's a little late. Under Medicare today you pay the initial deductible for each "benefit period". That's the first $68 of hospital expenses. Then from the 61st day of the period you must pay $17-a-day. After 90 days this increases to $34-a-day - $238-a-week, $1020.00-a-month-that you must pay. Plus you start dipping into your Hospital Medicare 60-day "Lifetime Reserve". And after your Lifetime Reserve is used up, Hospital Medicare won't pay you a cent for the rest of that period. Think what a long spell of illness could mean-the slow kind that older folks get more than anyone else! You could be stuck with unpaid bills that could wipe out retirement savings... force you into borrowing (at today's rates)... selling your home... even turning to your children for charity!

ARE YOUR PARENTS OVER 65? READ THIS!

Right now you have an opportunity to help protect your parents against today's skyrocketing hospital bills. A long illness can easily exhaust their savings. That's why we urge you to bring this plan to their attention immediately-and help them get $50,000 worth of lifetime maximum benefits. Or better still, just complete the form below for them using your address and we will send the Policy and payment notices to you.

THIS PLAN IS A MUST FOR ANYONE OVER 65

If you feel Medicare Gaps are confusing, you're right-they are! Worse-they're expensive! Part 'A' of Medicare is Hospital Insurance, designed primarily for in-hospital costs. Part 'B' is Medical Insurance, for doctors and medical service bills. This Plan supplements 'Part A' to protect you for every eligible Medicare hospital expense that Hospital Medicare doesn't pay. After your initial deductible, you're covered for all the Hospital Medicare Gaps-100%-with no time limit-no matter how much or how often you collect-up to $50,000.00 tax-free cash! And no matter how Hospital Medicare Gaps widen in the future, you needn't worry. This Plan fills in automatically. There's no finer Plan in America today!

MEDICARE GAPS KEEP GETTING WIDER

The law requires that Hospital Medicare costs must be reviewed each year-and if hospital charges change significantly, the money that patients contribute must be adjusted the following year. Well, it's no secret; it's already happened three times-in '70, in '71 and again in '72. In fact, hospital costs have TRIPLED in the past few years. And are still increasing! There's little doubt about it. You'll wind up paying even more. That's why our Elder-Care Hospital Plan makes so much sense!

THE COMPANY BEHIND YOUR ELDER-CARE

Elder-Care is issued to citizens over 65 no matter what their present state of health by Union Fidelity Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, a progressive old-line legal reserve company. Union Fidelity is recommended by both Best's and Dunne's, the insurance industry's leading independent rating authorities.

EVERY GAP IS ANOTHER PROBLEM FOR YOU:

The Social Security Administration estimates that Medicare will pay less than half of your total health cost! That's why this Elder-Care Plan is so vital. It assures you virtually complete hospital coverage no matter how much Hospital Medicare pays (or doesn't pay) in the future. It assures you will never be saddled (or saddle anyone else) with bankrupting hospital bills. It's like having up to $50,000 set aside against a rainy day!

ANY CONDITION YOU HAVE NOW IS COVERED NOW!

There are no tricky "catches" or "waiting periods". All pre-existing conditions (physical illness you've had or have right now) are covered in any recognized hospital, from the moment your policy is in force. Here are the only exceptions: Federal or State Government facilities, mental institutions, sanitariums for alcoholics or drug addicts, and geriatric extended-care facilities like nursing or rest-homes. Loss paid by Workmen's Compensation or Occupational Disease Laws is not covered. Your plan cannot be cancelled as long as you pay your premiums, and the $3. rate cannot be raised, unless a general rate adjustment - up or down - applies to everyone in your state.

SEND $1 FOR YOUR FIRST MONTH'S PROTECTION...

while you examine your Elder-Care Plan. It's yours with a money-back guarantee. Examine it carefully in the privacy of your own home. There's no "fine print". Show it to any trusted advisor. Indeed, show it to your doctor. He knows about the limitations of Hospital Medicare. He'll tell you how valuable this Plan really is. Even then, if you're not completely satisfied, return the policy within 30 days and we'll promptly refund your money-no ifs, ands or buts! It makes sense to protect yourself now for such a low amount-while you make up your mind! If you decide to continue, your regular monthly premium is only $3 per person. A small premium for so much peace of mind!

ENROLL AT ONCE-NOW IS THE TIME!

Everyone over 65 automatically qualifies during this mass enrollment period-with no medical questions asked! The closing date, however, is definite! We cannot accept applications after the postmark deadline. So please don't hesitate. You are protected by an iron-clad 30-day money back guarantee. Mail your Application Form, with only $1, regardless of the number of people to be covered, before the midnight deadline. Act now, while the thought is uppermost in your mind!

9 IMPORTANT QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

- Q. If I have Medicare, why do I need this Plan?
A. Medicare, with its maximum limitations, was never designed to cover all hospital expenses. But the amount you pay gets bigger! $17-a-day is up from $15! $34-a-day is up from $30! Where will it all end? These widening Gaps could cost you thousands of dollars. But Elder-Care relieves your hospital money worries-up to $50,000 security in tax-free cash!
- Q. How do I collect my benefits once I'm in the hospital?
A. There's a simple form to be completed by you and your doctor, and that's all there is to it. As soon as your request reaches us, it gets immediate attention. Folks all over the country have praised the speed and efficiency of Union Fidelity's claim service.
- Q. Can I enroll if I'm not in good health?
A. Yes you can. (There are no medical questions to answer. No matter how poor your health, any health condition you have right now is covered. There is no waiting period. And of course, any accident or future health condition is covered too.)
- Q. Can you cancel me, or raise my rates if I go in and out of the hospital, or if I collect thousands of dollars?
A. Absolutely not! Your Plan cannot be canceled as long as you keep up your low premiums no matter how often, or how much, you collect - up to the $50,000 maximum! And you'll never pay more than $3 per month, unless a general rate adjustment is made on all policies of this class (Form 1-919) in your state.
- Q. Does this plan cover doctor bills?
A. No. Private doctor bills are not covered by Elder-Care because they do NOT come under the hospital part of Medicare. For protection against doctor bills make sure you're signed up for the Medical part of Medicare through the Government.

- Q. How can it cost only $3 a month?
A. Because the initial deductible is not insured-that's still your responsibility. Without this one provision Elder-Care would be too costly to afford. With it, however, this Plan is exceedingly reasonable. Hospital Medicare covers most expenses in the first 60-day hospital benefit period. Then Elder-Care fills in the rest of the hospital benefit Gaps-100%-provides up to $50,000 long-range protection. In addition, mass-enrollment by mail-only-plus no medical questions to process-keeps policy-issue costs at a minimum. And since no salesman will call, there are no sales commission costs. All these savings are passed on to you!
- Q. If I have other hospital insurance, doesn't it cover these Medicare Gaps?
A. Unfortunately no! Many other plans specify exclusions, riders, and limitations on Medicare. They don't bridge all the Gaps, particularly as benefits are adjusted. But with Elder-Care you know that hospital Gaps are covered automatically with up to $50,000 protection. There's no waiting period you're covered immediately for pre-existing conditions. And note: this Plan pays in addition to any other coverage you may have. It's your money to spend as you wish.
- Q. What other advantages are there to joining this Plan right now?
A. During this period there is no red tape of any kind. Just fill in the simple Application Form here. And you enjoy a 30-day approval guarantee! You're protected for only $1 while you examine your Elder-Care Policy. If you're not completely satisfied return the Policy within 30 days and we'll promptly refund your money. In the meantime, you're still-protected!
- Q. How do I enroll?
A. Complete the Application Form at left and mail with only $1 for the first month's protection. Your spouse, if over 65, may also be enrolled on this form. But do not send more money! $1 covers you both during your 30-day approval. Be sure to sign your name and mail before the postmark deadline.
