

HERE'S HOW THE ROCKETS DID IT

The scenes above show some of the terrific play between Wellington and Lefors last Friday, which Wellington won 32 to 6. The upper left hand picture shows I. D. Russell (31) making the longest run of the game early in the second half. He went from his own 44 to the one yard line before being bounced out of bounds by Stracener (77) who can be seen closing in from the side.

The bottom picture shows something of the Rocket defense. Sims was stopped by Johnson and Raburn who are on the ground. Closing in on the play are Copeland (41) Bill Combs (22) and Fulton—next to Combs. Other players still on their feet, Orr (29) Hatch (43) and Moore (21).

Lindy Cunningham Dies Nov. 20 of Accident Injuries

Lindy Cunningham, 17-year-old engineering student at John Tarleton College, Stephenville, succumbed Wednesday, November 20 to injuries received a day earlier when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car. The accident occurred in Stephenville.

The young man was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Cunningham of Wellington.

The accident occurred, so far as can be determined, when the car drove out of a side street and the boys on the motorcycle were unable to stop or go around it, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham said. Their son received a broken neck, broken arm and other injuries. Robert Hutchins of Lawn, who was riding with him, was not seriously hurt. Charles Lindy Cunningham was born in Collingsworth County November 28, 1928, and would have been 18 years of age on Thanksgiving day. He spent his entire life here except for the time spent in John Tarleton College.

He was graduated from Quail High School in 1945 as valedictorian of his class. He had been active in school work, extra curricular activities, and in work of the Future Farmers of America. He enrolled in John Tarleton College at the fall semester of 1945 to study engineering, and would have completed his work there next May.

Popular with both those his own age and those who were older, Lindy Cunningham was gentlemanly and courteous, ambitious and loyal, and enthusiastic and fun-loving.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in Wellington Thursday afternoon with Rev. Howard Jones in charge, assisted by Rev. Vernon Jones.

Wellington gave Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys a royal welcome when they came back to the Panhandle Wednesday night, November 20.

"This is the biggest crowd I've ever played to outside of Hollywood," he enthusiastically told Russell Yates, who was in charge of the dance for the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mr. Yates reported that between 1350 and 1400 persons paid admission to the dance. At a nearby town the crowd was estimated at around 70.

Due to play here three hours, Wills and his Playboys stretched this to four hours and fifteen minutes, so enthusiastic was the crowd attending.

As a tribute to the memory of Mrs. Deskins Wells for her work with the Girl Scouts of Wellington, and particularly with Troop 2, girls of that group recently voted to give the money in their treasury, $18, to the Boy Scouts to be used in connection with their new building, Mrs. Mickey Kennedy, Scout leader, has announced.

The girls of Troop 2, now passed scouting age, are disbanded and requested that the money they had collected be given to the Boy Scouts.

Rearrangement of Residential Lights To Improve Setup

Installation of a new street lighting system for the business section of Wellington and rearrangement of the lights in certain parts of the residential section will be made during the winter months, making this one of the best lit smaller cities in the Panhandle, Bura Handley, city manager, said Tuesday.

The new lights will be of the mercury vapor lamp type, the newest and most efficient obtainable for street lighting at present. Work will begin as soon as the 30-foot fluted steel poles from which the lights will hang can be secured.

The improved lighting arrangement was worked out with the West Texas Utilities Company, which owns the city's street lighting system.

"The efficiency of the new lights will be beyond compare with those we have now," Mr. Handley declared enthusiastically. "They will put the light down on the pavement where it is needed, but they will be high enough that they will not glare in the eyes of people on the street."

The mercury vapor lamps will be many times brighter than the lights now in use, and there will be little loss of light in an upward direction as is now the case. The lamp will be a pendant fixture suspended from an arm near the top of the pole.

The lamps are adjusted to diffuse light up and down the street, where it is needed. Fewer lights will be needed to illuminate the business section.

Mr. Handley also said Tuesday that a new contract has been made with the West Texas Utilities Company which will result in considerable reduction in cost in accordance to the amount of light received.

Work in the residential section will include mainly re-arranging the present lights to function more efficiently, removing some now almost completely hidden by trees to places where they will not be over-

County Pioneer Dies in Calif.

Dan L. Kutch, who came to Collingsworth County before its organization and served as one of the early sheriffs, died in Glendale, Calif., Sunday, November 17. His death was unexpected so far as his son, Horton Kutch of the Kelley community, has learned. Mr. Kutch was 82 years of age.

Mr. Kutch was a native Texan, and was still a young man when he came to this county about 1885. In 1890, along with other progressive pioneers, he helped with the county's organization and was active in its development during those early years.

He was married to Miss Rose Hendricks here in 1890. For many years he farmed in the Kelley community, and there he reared his children. He was elected sheriff in 1904.

About 20 years ago, Mr. Kutch moved to California, where he continued to make his home. However, he returned here to visit many times, and took much pleasure in attending the Old Settlers Reunions where he could visit with friends of the early days.

Surviving Mr. Kutch are Horton Kutch of Kelley, Mrs. Claude Cox of Wheeler, Mrs. Cecil Poe of Richland, Wash., Mrs. J. C. Hinton of Trona, Calif., Miss Ethel Hinton and J. D. Kutch of Glendale, Calif., Mrs. Ray Sudano of Burbank, California, and Mrs. Inez Youliano of Venice, Calif.

Mrs. Kutch preceded her husband in death in 1933.

This is a covered dish supper, and each family attending is requested to bring a dish.

"This is not a business meeting of the church. It is purely a fellowship affair, one which we hope will help us to draw closer together and closer to our friends as the Christmas season approaches," Rev. Armstrong said.

Christmas Lighting Is Limited This Season

Wellington's traditional Christmas star atop the court house will be seen again this year, but further lighting will be greatly restricted due to the inability to secure colored light bulbs and other decorative material, Bura Handley, city manager, said Tuesday.

"We had made plans for elaborate Christmas lighting this year, but after two months of work, we find we cannot get from any source the colored bulbs we need. However, we are asking the merchants of the city to cooperate as far as possible in decorating their display windows with decorations left from other years or from impro-

Three of the five supervisors for the Collingsworth County Soil Conservation District will be named in elections held December 5, 6, and 7, Jake Tarter, polling superintendent, said this week. Lutie, December 6th, 7:00 p. m. at the Lutie Gin.
Dodson, December 7, at 2:00 p. m. at the school.

"There is nothing more important in the near future that should be of more interest to all land owners than this election, as the men who will manage the affairs of this soil conservation district will be elected at this time. One will be named to serve two years and two to serve three years," Mr. Tarter explained.

Landowners will vote in their own district and in no other.

The Dodson district will include those living around Dodson and to

Demand for Farm Products May Show Decline in 1947

COLLEGE STATION — Total demand for farm products is due to drop in 1947 and prices received by farmers during the coming year are likely to be below the 1946 average.

This is the situation reported by specialists of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service who attended the Annual Agricultural Outlook Conference in Washington, D. C. recently to get the picture on what to expect in agriculture for 1947. As summed up by the specialists, the following is a general outlook for farmers next year:

Although cash receipts from farm marketings and government payments may be five per cent less than in 1946, farmers are still likely to receive more money for their products than they did in 1945, a near-record year. With increased production costs and reduced sales, it is possible that the net income of farm operators will be reduced as much as 10 to 15 per cent from 1946. Even with such reduction, the net farm income will still be near the high wartime levels of 1943-45, and about two and a half times the 1935-39 average.

The increased consumer income due for next year is likely to go more for satisfying cumulated demand for many manufactured goods as these become available, and not for the purchasing of more farm products.

Also, foreign demand for farm products is likely to be somewhat smaller in 1947. Index of prices received by farmers during 1946 is estimated to be about 225, and that figure is slated to drop the early part of 1947. Prices in the latter half of the year may average considerably lower if crops continue large and exports are greatly reduced.

Production expenses are likely to continue the upward trend which has prevailed during the war period. Total farm production costs in 1946 will be about 10 per cent higher than in 1945, and a further increase of as much as five per cent may occur next year. The indicated total for 1947 will be nearly 50 per cent greater than in 1920, the highest year prior to World War II. Increasing prices for nearly all commodities used in production are mainly the reason for the production costs due. One exception is the lower prices in sight for feed bought for livestock.

In the years immediately ahead, a higher average interest rate for the farm mortgage debt is seen, judging from the mortgage debt trends of the past few years. A more significant rise in interest costs during the coming year may occur in connection with non-real estate credit. The various creditors will make loans at about the same rates, but to finance companies whose rates are considerably higher than those of the more usual lenders—banks and production credit associations.

Property tax payments made by farmers in 1947 will be up somewhat from those of 1946. The 1945 levies on farm real estate, payable largely late in 1945 and early 1946, were more than 10 per cent higher than those of 1944. A further rise is expected in 1946.

For 1946 the realized net income of farm operators is estimated at about 14.7 billion dollars, or more than 10 per cent above 1945. Net income for 1947 may be from 10 to 15 per cent below 1946.

In the marketing and transportation picture, some shortages in means of processing and distributing farm products are expected to continue. Rail transportation shortages are likely to remain critical throughout the year. Food processing equipment should be improved to some extent next year, but limited plant capacity and equipment is likely to hold down normal progress in some lines of food marketing. Over the long run, important developments are anticipated, such as pre-packaging of fresh fruits and vegetables and the growing use of quick-freezing methods of food preservation.

Shortage of motortruck transportation in 1947 will probably be much less critical than the rail shipping situation.

It is very likely that water transportation tonnage will return to pre-war levels. Most types of transportation, especially by rail, probably will cost the user considerably more in 1947 than during the current year. The Interstate Commerce Commission has already permitted a temporary increase of about three and a half per cent in rail rates on agricultural products, and hearings are now being held by ICC on the carriers' request for still further rail rate increases.

Rockets Scorch Good Pirate Team To Keep District Record Perfect

The Wellington Skyrockets left no doubts in the minds of Lefors fans as to why they are district champions as they pisted a 32 to 6 defeat on the Pirates to wind up a perfect conference season.

Coach Al Duncan's boys lost no time in getting to work on the team that had tied Clarendon and almost defeated Shamrock. The Rockets could go when they got the ball and the Pirates fumbled when they got the ball in the first half. But it might as well be said here that a hard charging line and line-backer created all of the 3 first half fumbles which were promptly recovered by alert Wellington players.

At the start of the game Stracener ran the kickoff back to his own 22 yard line and on the next play plowed on up to the 33 for a first down, but on the next play the ball was fumbled and Copeland recovered for the Rockets.

Wellington took the ball on the Lefors 42 yard line and hard running by Hatch and Russell, behind fine team play and picked up 4 first downs in a row to put the ball on the 9 yard line. Hatch made 4 and Russell carried it over to give the Rockets a 6 to 0 lead in the middle of the first quarter.

The second touchdown was a repetition of the first. Russell kicked to Stracener who made a nice runback from his own 14 to the 31. One running play picked up three yards. On the next play the Rockets charged hard, Stracener fumbled and Gerald Copeland pounced on the ball back on the 26 yard line. Strickland and Russell picked up 7 yards on running plays and then Russell shot a touchdown pass to Hatch who took it well across the goal line. The try for point was not good and the score was 12 to 0.

The next touchdown offered a little variety in the fumbling technique. Russell kicked to the Lefors 5 yard line where Gatlin took the ball and ran it back to the 20 where he was hit so hard that he fumbled and again Copeland recovered the ball. Russell charged up to the Lefors 5 yard stripe where he was hit hard and fumbled and Lefors recovered. Stracener made 5, a pass went incomplete and the Pirate punted to their own 42 yard line where Hatch took the ball and was brought down.

Russell made 11 yards but the play was called back for backfield in motion and the Rockets had second down and 15 yards to go. Russell shot a 14 yard pass to Fulton who was knocked out of bounds 1 yard short of a first down. Hatch ran through the line to pick up a first down with yards to spare on the Pirate 22 yard line. Russell lost a yard on one thrust and Strickland picked up 9 yards. Russell made three for a first down and on the next play ran it over to bring the score up to 18. Hatch's kick was good and the score moved on up to 19 to 0.

There was no more scoring in the second quarter; but it did bring about another Lefors fumble. After the Pirates had advanced the ball past midfield, Copeland jarred Sims loose from the ball and Strickland promptly recovered on the 45 yard line to halt the only real drive the Pirates got started in the first half.

The Rockets started off in high gear at the opening of the second half. Stracener kicked to Russell on the 10 and Russell ran it back to the Wellington 30 yard line. Hatch busted into the clear and made a beautiful 26 yard run before he was brought down on the Pirate 44 yard line.

On the next play big Robert Fulton and little Wayne McCleendon swept aside two would be tacklers to get Russell around end and the Rocket quarterback journeyed 43 yards before he was bounced out of bounds on the one yard line. Hatch ran the ball over easily and Russell kicked point to bring the score up to 26 to 0.

The Pirates came back with a lot of drive with 145 lb. Harold Sims doing practically all of the effective ground gaining. Notable line play finally halted the spirited drive on the 45 and the Pirates punted to Hatch on the Rocket 25. On the first play Combs ran the ball back to the 35 only to fumble and Lefors recovered.

On the very next play Lefors fumbled and Strickland recovered and the Rockets took over on their own 36 yard line. Hatch picked up 4 yards and after a pass had gone incomplete picked up 8 more for a first down on Wellington's own 48 yard line. Benny Moore laced through the line for 7 yards and on the next try Hatch went 25 for another first down on the Pirate 20. Fulton took Hatch's pass and went to the 1 yard line before he was hustled out of bounds and on the next play Hatch ran it over to end the Rocket scoring with the count 32 to 0.

The Pirate lone touchdown was made with many of the Wellington reserves in the game. It featured a drive down the field with Sims doing the carrying and finally taking it over. Wellington did not score again but there was some beautiful running by Bill Combs and Kenneth Strickland and a very finely executed pass from Moore to Clifton Hunter. The Pirates launched one other drive which went from their own 40 to the Rocket 5 before it bogged it down and Wellington took over. First string Robert Fulton was sent back into the game to put a block or two on the Pirate linesmen who had been charging the Wellington backs a little too hard, which he did. Strickland intercepted a Pirate pass on his own goal line and raced all the way down to the Pirates 30 yard line, executing a very brilliant run, as the final whistle sounded.

In winning the game the Rockets kept their conference record clear and automatically elevated the Clarendon Bronchos to second place in the district standing. Shamrock is third and Lefors 4th as a result of the November 22 game. If Lefors could have won they would have been in a tie with Clarendon for second place.

Next week the Rockets will be idle while Floydada and Spur battle it out to see who will represent District 4-A in the bi-district game. Starting lineup for the Lefors game follows:

Wellington	Pos.	Lefors
Fulton	LE	Keeton
McCleendon	LT	Daniel

Johnson	Center	Boom
McPherson	RG	Culoison
Raburn	RT	W. T. Cole

Eastern Star Has Annual Thanksgiving Dinner at Community Building November 19

By MRS. ALDA WYNN

The members of the Eastern Star were hosts to their families, the Masons and their families and their invited guest at a Thanksgiving Supper in the Community Hall on the evening of November 19.

A musical selection entitled "Overture Olympia" was the call to order which focused the audience's attention upon the Young Musician's Orchestra seated near the piano in the north. This orchestra is sponsored by Mrs. Mary Anderson, who plays their accompaniment at the piano. Members participating were Teddy Joe James, Ansel McDowell, Jr., Miss Jeanne Way, Miss Sue Anderson, V. C. Saied, and Benny Karnes.

Mrs. Bessie Slay, Worthy Matron of Wellington Chapter was mistress of ceremonies. The audience joined her in singing "The More We Get Together" and "We're Here for Fun". These two songs preceded the feast and "America" was led by the Worthy Matron afterwards.

Mrs. Slay gave a talk on Thanksgiving applied to Eastern Stars. As an "Aside" I voiced the following: Mrs. John Forbis stood next to me before the program began and she called my attention to a group of little girls standing in a group—"Little golden girls" she called them. When the Worthy Matron spoke of our spiritual as well as material blessings, it was easy for the thoughts to flash to "little golden girls", little apple-checked boys and the gracious young ladies and young gentlemen so unselfishly aiding the entertainment.

Miss Helen Jo Holder sang "Indian Love Call" and "Sharing". The last named song was the theme song of the Past Junior Worthy Grand Matron when she was serving the Grand Chapter of Texas as their Worthy Matron during the 1945-46 season. Miss Holder paid the Eastern Stars an appropriate honor in the selection of "Sharing."

Mrs. Zena LeDerer performed two ever-new selections on the accordion. They were "Old Waltzes" and "There is a Tavern in the Town".

Brother C. C. Armstrong expressed the invocation. The supper was served buffet style from a table decorated with bronze and golden-hued dahlias and chrysanthemums reposing on a bed of gorgeous autumn leaves.

The young people of the orchestra never seemed to tire and delighted the audience with well-chosen numbers. Miss Sue Anderson and Benny Karnes played a duet on the flutes entitled "Song of the Lark." Ansel McDowell, Jr. offered "Country Gardens." Teddy Joe James played "Song of the Evening Star" which he politely dubbed "Song of the Eastern Star". "The Holy City" featured a cornet solo by V. C. Saied. "Teddy Trombone" was a sparkling melody by the entire orchestra.

Several Masons while taking leave of the Eastern Star Thanksgiving Supper grew better and bigger each year. Thus the initial incident occurring in the Worthy Matron's song, "Let other banquets be forgot, Let this one be the Best" was fulfilled within happy hearts.

The register revealed the following names of those present. Mrs. W. A. Squyres, Melba Joyce, and Ray; Miss Neva Harrison, Ansel McDowell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Somerville, Miss Dora Villafane, Miss Jeanne Way, Miss Sue Anderson, V. C. Saied, and Benny Karnes.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars have announced through Bo Yates that their Thanksgiving dance will be played by the West Texas Collegiate.

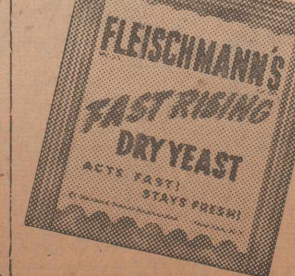

Hailing from West Texas State College at Canyon, this band is reputed to be as good as many of the name bands over the country. Mr. Yates has had many requests to have the band in Wellington again but this is the first opportunity he has had to reschedule them.

Wellington's Community Building with its excellent dance floor will again be the site of the dance, and Mr. Yates has added that he "would like to take this opportunity to express his and the V. F. LETTERS From The PEOPLE

Dear Deck:

At a recent meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Bura Handley said the City of Wellington was ready to begin operations to beautify the cemetery; they had the machinery and the men to operate them, but they hesitated to begin work until the people of Wellington expressed approval of the beautification plans.

The plans are to level the grave mounds and make the cemetery level so that grass can be planted and watered in an efficient manner. Since this involves levelling grave mounds, some people might object, and they have a right to be heard and considered before any plan is undertaken. For that reason the Cemetery Association is calling a meeting of members and all people interested in the preservation and beautification of the Cemetery, and this meeting is to be held in the early part of December.

I have many loved ones in our cemetery and expect to be out there myself someday and for that reason I have a sincere interest in the beautification plans. I hope many people turn out for this meeting and I take this opportunity to ask the ministers of the Wellington churches to announce this meeting and urge all those interested to attend. The exact date of the meeting will be in the next issue of The Leader. Lets all get behind the move to beautify our cemetery and agree on plans and give the city the "Go Ahead" signal to begin operations.

Sincerely,
R. L. Templeton

Presents Sought For Disabled Vets

Ex-servicemen, patients in the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo, who are not able to go to town for their Christmas shopping this year, will be aided through the thoughtfulness of citizens of Panhandle towns, including Wellington, Mrs. Ernest Harwell, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, said this week.

Countians are asked to donate small gifts to be sent to the hospital and these will be selected by patients as their Christmas presents this year.

Gifts may be left in the office of Wells and Wells.

"The gifts are to be new, but they need not be expensive. For example, handkerchiefs, aprons, pillow slips or a toy will be appropriate and will enable some disabled veteran to get his Christmas presents this year for his family without cost," Mrs. Harwell explained.

Persons wishing to make donations are requested to bring their gifts as early as possible, since these must be sent to Amarillo on December 9.

Editorial

Centuries hence when historians assay the trends of the twentieth century it is possible that more lines will be written regarding the movement for soil conservation than about many of the contemporary problems that loom so large today. As a nation we are beginning to realize that productive land is different from other natural resources. Soil is a resource that must be maintained and used simultaneously. At the recent Princeton University Bi-centennial Conference, H. H. Bennett, Chief of Soil Conservation Service, presented a challenging paper that emphasized facts we have too frequently ignored.

He said: "Productive land is much more limited than commonly has been supposed. It is not permanent. Once the fertile topsoil is washed or blown away it cannot be restored or replaced in any practical way for generations. There are no undiscovered reserves of productive land of any substantial area. We cannot dig deeper into the earth and find new productive soil. We cannot pump it from wells, plant it with seeds, or dig it from mines. We must keep what we have or do without, for when soil has been washed of blown away into the oceans it is not recoverable. Productive land is the only natural resource without which we cannot live. To protect our source of food, then, the only sensible, practical thing to do is to protect the productive land we now have."

Urban dwellers, now representing 80 per cent of our 140,000,000 population, have a false sense of security in the news items they read regarding the mechanization of our farms. It is true that corn-pickers, combines, cotton-pickers, hay-balers, tractors and milking machines have greatly increased production per man on the farms, but if the soil is not maintained in fertility and humus, the law of diminishing returns will inevitably assert itself. When our nation was young and the population smaller we could stand a degree of waste. But now the

• Out of Season Hunting

The game warden is complaining that squirrels are being killed out of season in Hardeman County. This fact sounds absurd to the old settler in the county who will readily swear that there are no squirrels here and never has been except those brought to the county in a cage from more southern parts of the state.

Actually this edible rodent is an inhabitant of this county and along Groesbeck creek and Wanders creek his presence can be detected any day. Several families in the county have planted pecan trees and have also protected and fostered the squirrel population until the multiplication has become rather large and the population has scattered even to the brakes of the Pease River.

It is true that the grey squirrel is not a native here any more than above the Cap-rock was the home of the prairie dog until a few years ago but that cousin of the squirrel had progressed that far north as the squirrel has come to here. When more trees are grown on the Plains of Texas then there will come the squirrel.—Anton Koch in The Quanah Tribune-Chief.

• Mild Winter

This genuine Indian Summer weather will continue on and on. And we will not have a White Christmas.

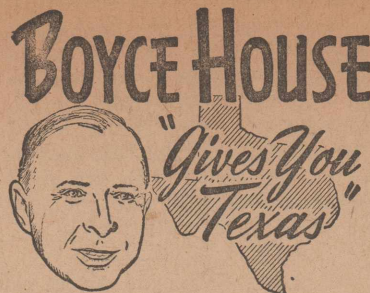

Despite the croakings of the old old-timers we will not have an extraordinarily hard winter. The progressive, modern-minded old-timers, such as Mr. Tack, see a fairly open winter until well in January. But next spring will be rough, with late freezes. Not a chance for a fruit crop next year.

The above forecast is official from Mr. Tack, himself. It's his annual late-November forecast upon which so many of the farmers depend for their winter planning.—Gene Howe in The Amarillo News.

• Autumn

With chaste dignity the spent fields leave their wealth in orderly rows of shocks like dutiful servants who bring riches to their masters and retire until it is time to labor again. Autumn paints a brown and gold canvas, extravagant with purple hills and silver sky, and hangs it in the twilight room of day.—Douglas Meador in The Matador Tribune.

situation is different. There is no virgin soil to be exploited; we can no longer mine fertility and humus. The national welfare requires reforestation of watersheds, control of floods and the return to grassland of vast stretches. Through Soil Conservation Districts and enlightened farming we are starting a revolution on the land. It's a revolution that deserves the support of all because it affects the welfare of the whole social order.—San Marcos Record.

Add to "items that have changed since I was a boy":

Prize-fighters don't have the picturesque names they used to have. The negro boxers who fought in the old Phoenix Athletic Club in Memphis, Tenn., had such handles as Joplin Ghost (he was a scientific boxer); Hock Bones and, even more striking—the name, not necessarily the punches—Egg-head Ratty.

Of a public official who fancied himself as a speaker, a rival said, "He never opens his mouth but what he subtracts from the sum total of human knowledge."

Then there was the statesman who answered the speech of an opponent with, "The gentleman is indebted to his memory for his humor and to his imagination for his statistics."

Even a little "column" like this gives one an opportunity to strike a blow for the people of Texas.

A few years ago, a bill was introduced in the legislature, which would have had the effect of confiscating 3,000,000 acres of land rightfully belonging to the public schools and placing that land in the hands of oil companies. These tracts were known as vacancies and their potential mineral wealth gave them a value which might reach $100,000,000.

School leaders were fighting to protect the birthright of the boys and girls. Through this "column" the facts were told to about a million readers of 200 weeklies. The article was quoted in debate in the legislature and the bill was modified to safeguard the rights of the school children of this State.

Any time we learn of a good cause, such as that, to which we can lend a little assistance, it will be done.

Some people will spend $10 on a canary; others $50 on a lark.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* thus help build resistance for the "time" to come. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try it!

to do your part on Thanksgiving?

Over the span of the next few generations our lives may change as our system of living becomes more modern. Autos may give way to flying vehicles. Our baths may be made of plastic rather than porcelain. Our clothing will be longer wearing, and our life spans greater due to medical research.

But there is on thing certain. We will never observe Thanksgiving by substituting capsules of food elements for that delicious roast turkey.

Our American tradition is strong and has a definite meaning. Let us keep it so forever.

Duck Hunters Out As Season Opens In Texas Saturday

Saturday, November 23, marked the opening date for Collingsworth County duck hunters to take off for the fields and streams of the area in their favorite sport.

Migratory bird hunting stamps (duck stamps) may be obtained at the local post office at a cost of $1.00. This money is turned over to the U. S. Department of the Interior, Wildlife service, and all money collected is spent in wildlife conservation.

National authorities predict the greatest number of sportsmen will attempt to take their bag limit this season, due to the pent-up desire brought on by the war years. Ammunition, however, is still scarce.

Here is a review of the rules pertaining to duck hunting:

The season opened November 23 and will close in Texas January 6, 1947.

Ducks may be taken one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour before sunset during the open season.

The daily bag limit is seven of any kind or in any combination of all kinds.

Any hunter may have in his possession not more than 14 ducks of any kind or combination of all kinds.

Ducks may be taken with or by use of a shotgun not larger than No. 10 gauge fired from the shoulder; or by bow and arrow, and by dog. The use of automobile or aircraft is prohibited.

Automatic-loading or hand-operated repeating shotguns must be plugged to limit capacity to only three shells.

Violation of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, non compliance with any regulation thereunder, or failure of a waterfowl hunter over the age of 16 years to have a properly signed migratory bird hunting stamp of current issue on his person while hunting will subject the offender to a fine of not more than $500, imprisonment for not more than six months, or both. Hunting stamps are obtainable at all post offices.

Former Resident Dies at Lela

Eddie Vince Dunn, prominent Lela farmer and former Collingsworth County resident, died at his home November 16 following a lengthy illness.

Mr. Dunn was born May 10, 1889, in Atlanta, Ga., and at the time of his death he was 57 years, six months and six days of age. He was married to Miss Vera Keys of Knox City on December 24, 1911.

The family came to Collingsworth County in 1924 and resided in the Dozier community until six years ago, when they moved to Lela.

Swing of The Farm Markets

Cattle led the gradual upward swing of prices for sheep, eggs, peanuts, wheat and barley at southwest markets last week, according to USDA's Production and Marketing Administration. However, cotton took another tumble, turkeys and sorghums dropped sharply and hogs declined. Other products remained about steady.

Last week saw turkeys drop to a level below that of last year at this time as demand continued to drag. Prices ranged from 23 to 25 cents per pound for young toms. Young hens held a stronger position at about 10 cents per pound higher. Demand strengthened for good fat hens at 22 to 25 cents per pound. Fryers moved fairly well at 37 to 40 cents per pound. Also, eggs went up under increased holiday demand for light supplies. Current receipts were quoted from 42 to 45 cents per dozen depending on the market.

Cotton dropped below 30 cents per pound at some markets last week for the first time since mid-October collapse. However, activity increased and demand was strong.

Moderate offerings of Colorado onions and potatoes moved slowly at dull to slightly weaker prices last week. Also, south Texas citrus and vegetables met with slower demand than the previous week. Tomato prices were off about 50 cents per crate from Monday. Grapefruit prices were lower too but peppers and oranges held about steady. Louisiana and Texas sweet potatoes remained firm.

Southwest peanut harvesting was nearly over last week. Prices received by growers for farmers' stock peanuts ranged from the CCC support schedule to $15 per ton higher.

OPA raised the maximum prices of milled head rice 70 to 85 cents per hundred pounds recently, which seemed to increase demand and movement.

Wheat and barley gained about a penny a bushel last week, oats and white corn remained about steady, but yellow corn moved downward and sorghums lost about 20 cents a hundred. Feeds continued mostly easy with further declines in shorts and oilseed meals.

Demand for domestic wool was still limited to filling in orders in the process of manufacture. Sales of Texas wools consisted largely of scoured descriptions and some small lots of grease wool. Nearly all fall Texas Mohair was sold. Prices were 62 to 63 cents for adult mohair and 72 to 73 cents for yearling hair.

Southwest sheep and lamb markets reported steady to firm prices for top quality stock but slightly lower prices for common and medium grades. San Antonio quoted medium and good lambs with No. 1 and 2 pelts at $16.50 to $17 per hundred and common and medium ewes $6.75 to $7.23. Fort Worth moved good and choice fat lambs at $20 to $21 and medium and good ewes $7.25 to $8.25. Good and choice lambs brought $22 to $23 at Denver and $21.50 to $22.50 at Oklahoma City.

Hog trading was slow last week with most markets registering losses of 25 to 50 cents per hundred pounds for slaughter grades. San Antonio reported about the only gains. Friday's prices for top butchers were $25 per hundred at San Antonio, Fort Worth and Oklahoma City; $24 to $24.25 at Wichita and $24 to $24.50 at Denver.

Steady to stronger prices and southwest cattle markets last week. However, some easiness showed up on lower grade beef cows and calves. San Antonio sold common and medium grass steers at $11 to $12 per hundred pounds and common and medium cows $9.75 to $13. Common and medium steers and yearlings brought $12 to $15 at Houston and $12 to $18 at Ft. Worth. At Oklahoma City good beef cows reached $17 and medium and good beef steers and yearlings sold at $15 to $22. Common and medium cows realized $10.50 to $13.50 at Wichita and $11 to $14 at Denver where a few loads of good fed steers sold at $20 to $23.50 per hundred.

Gospel Of Christ (Rom. 1:16)

THE NARROW WAY
Luke says a disciple asked Jesus, "Lord, are there few that be saved?" (Lu. 13:23) His answer is, perhaps, the hardest truth of His religion. He said, "Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able." (Lu. 13:24) Matthew adds, "Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it." (Mt. 7:14)
The world speaks of many ways, but Jesus declares with severity that there is no middle way; only two gates; two destinies. He plainly marked the way: "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me." (Mt. 16:24) Then repentance, self-denial and the cross of obedience stand at the entrance to discipleship of Christ, and mere mental assent that God is and that Christ is His Son will not move that cross of service.
The gate is too narrow to admit any worldliness of selfish pride; too narrow for any word or doctrine not taught in God's holy Book.
The way is narrow; not because God willed it so, but because of sin. But for sin all might walk abreast in the way. God wills that all come to repentance. The sinner, though he be poor, may come and walk the upward trail to the summit of our habitation, whose builder and maker is God.

Questions on Veterans Aid

Q. Does a veteran who is going to school under the G. I. Bill have to report money he earns through overtime work?
A. The veteran must report those wages received for the standard work period of the establishment where he is employed, including overtime work customarily scheduled. It will not include occasional overtime beyond the standard work period of the establishment.

Q. I am taking training under the G. I. Bill and am working at night for which I receive the usual 10 per cent differential. Do I have to report this differential to the Veterans Administration in making a report of my income?
A. Yes. Both the base pay and the 10 per cent differential would be included as wages in determining the rate of subsistence allowance payable and accordingly must be reported by the veteran and the employer.

Q. Can my subsistence allowance be apportioned in event my wife and I decide to separate?
A. Yes. The subsistence allowance is subject to apportionment on the basis of 70 per cent to the veteran and 30 per cent for the wife. Further apportionment may be made in the case of children.

Q. Is a veteran following a course of vocational training entitled to a vacation during the time he is in training?
A. Yes. A leave of absence may be granted but not to exceed 30 days in any consecutive 12 months.

Q. Will subsistence allowance be reduced during the leave of absence or vacation of the veteran?
A. No. The veteran will be considered as pursuing his course of vocational rehabilitation while on vacation and will be paid accordingly.

Q. I am taking training under the G. I. Bill and am working at night for which I receive the usual 10 per cent differential. Do I have to report this differential to the Veterans Administration in making a report of my income?
A. Yes. Both the base pay and the 10 per cent differential would be included as wages in determining the rate of subsistence allowance payable and accordingly must be reported by the veteran and the employer.

Bob Hope Due In New Comedy

It's now Bob "Monsieur Beaucare" Hope, for the country's king of comedians arrives for Prevue Saturday night at the Ritz Theatre in Paramount's satiric interpretation of Tarkington's famous novel, "Monsieur Beaucare", in which Bob co-stars with Joan Caulfield.

Any similarity between the author's original work, once a vehicle for the late Rudolph Valentino, ends with the setting, locale and title of the picture. But, keeping this much, enabled Norman Panama and Melvin Frank to write a screenplay that allows Hope to dispense his 20th century brand of hilarity in heretofore unexplored and excellently contrasting territory, the royal courts of 18th century Europe.

The vision of Hope in satin knee breeches, powdered wig, and in the guise of France's greatest swordsmen and lover is enough to send the disciples of hilarious comedy streaming to the boxoffice. And Hope is reported to make a field day of laughs of this ludicrous situation.

Bob plays the title role and barber to King Louis XV. A complete buffoon, he sings the temper of his royal client, and is, himself, sentenced to "the big haircut." He escapes Spain with the aid of, and disguised as, France's greatest and gayest blade. There he is forced to continue his pose, which involves him in many riotous escapades.

The lovely Miss Caulfield, eagerly awaited since her debut in "Miss Susie Slagle's," is reportedly more beautiful than ever in the enchanting costumes of 18th century Europe. She is cast as the object of Hope's bumbling affections, who finally gives in to his wooing, probably from sheer exhaustion.

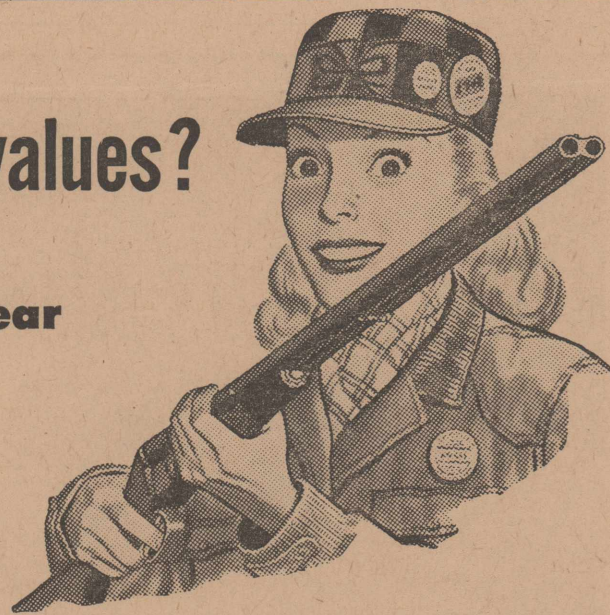

It is Patric Knowles and Marjorie Reynolds who provide the sincere love interest in the film. They head the imposing supporting cast which includes Cecil Kellaway, Joseph Schildkraut, Reginald Owen, Constance Collier and Hillary Brooke. George Marshall directed.

Texans Asked to Buy $35,000,000 in Bonds

Nationally speaking, the cash income of American Farmers in 1946 will be the highest in history. With few exceptions, bumper crops have been evident throughout the year. With a national income of all Americans totalling 20 billion dollars more than goods and services available, it is imperative that this surplus cash be put into purchasing power for the future.

With this condition prevailing, the U. S. Treasury is conducting the promotion of Savings Bonds during the period between Armistice Day and Pearl Harbor Day, Dec. 7. During this promotion, every effort will be made to divert excess income which inflates prices to a drastic degree into Savings Bonds. Special appeals are going forward to farm communities which are enjoying their highest incomes in history.

In Texas, a quota of $35,000,000 in Series E Savings Bonds has been set. To reach this goal is of importance to every individual and every community in the years to come. With Series E Savings Bonds still drawing the same rate of interest as during the war ($4 for every $3 invested), this great backlog of savings will provide a source of individual financial reserve at all times and will insure cash for purchases of now scarce items.

"Savings Bonds are still the best investment in the world," said Nathan Adams, Dallas banker, who is chairman of the Texas Advisory Committee on Savings Bonds.

"No matter how much money a farmer has today," Adams continued, "there are many things that he cannot buy on present market prices. A wise farmer will invest his income now in Savings Bonds and take advantage of future normal supply and prices for his equipment and buildings."

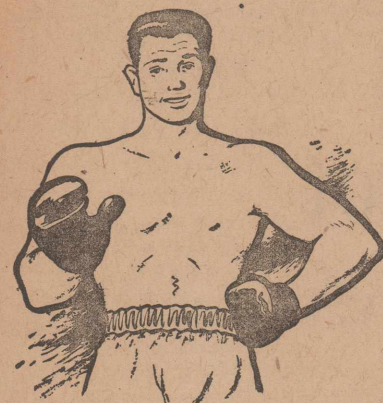

"A span of ten years marks a great many ups and downs with those who till the soil. Weather, insects, prices and many other factors enter the picture to make a good year or a bad year in a farmer's life. With an adequate reserve in Savings Bonds, the bad years can be tide over. And if the bad years never come, the thrifty farmer will have a nestegg to provide for his leisure years, to send the children to college, to travel, or to do the many things a man works and saves for in life."

"During the Treasury's promotion in November and December," concluded Adams, "I know that farmers all over Texas will invest all their excess income in Savings Bonds and will continue to invest in 1947 when they can. All during the war years, the farmers of Texas made a splendid record on War Bonds to back their country's future. Today, they are backing their own future with Savings Bonds."

Savings Bonds, which are obtainable in the same denominations as War Bonds, may be purchased at your bank, post office or other issuing agents.

Sudan Seed Crop Is Short

COLLEGE STATION — Texas farmers who wait until spring to start hunting seed for a sudan crop are likely to find themselves out of luck.

According to a report received by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service from the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics, production of sudan grass seed in Texas this year is estimated to be only 5,200,000 pounds—the smallest since 1929. Indicating just how low that figure is, the report showed the average seed production of this state over the past 10 years to be 27,490,000 pounds. Last year's crop was only 9,000,000 pounds, which was still nearly twice as large as the current crop.

Although Texas farmers aren't ordinarily on the lookout for sudan seed this far ahead of the spring planting season, the short crop, as indicated by the BAE report should move them to buy sudan seed now instead of waiting until spring when a mad rush to find seed usually occurs.

Present supplies of the sudan seed for the entire nation, including production this year plus the carryover, stand at 45,859,000 pounds. This is 34 per cent smaller than the 1945 supplies.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

A Lesson In Conservation

We were sitting on Bill Webster's porch the other night, chatting over a glass of beer—when the talk turns to forest preservation, soil erosion, and other things that affect a farming community.

Judge Cunningham speaks up: "It's all right to worry about conserving our natural resources," he says, "but there's a far bigger problem when it comes to conservation—and that's preserving our democratic way of life, our sense of personal freedom, our respect for one another's rights."

From where I sit, the Judge is right. All America's great resources, our abundant natural wealth, are lost the minute we lose the right to work them as free people in a free land!

Whenever you see or hear of an encroachment on our rights—whether it's the right to free speech, or the right to vote as we see fit, or the right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer in licensed, law-abiding places... watch out!

Giving Thanks

The American Way

We knew a man when we were young. Every Thanksgiving he used to walk over and chop a cord of wood for a crippled neighbor. That was his way of saying, "Lord, I thank Thee that I am a whole man."

It seemed to us that there was something real and open-heartedly American about saying "Thank you" that way. In fact, we know of no better way of showing appreciation for the good things of life than by helping someone less fortunate to carry his load.

A fellow doesn't have to look far to find someone who could stand a little help, either. And being human beings, those same people need a lot more than just "charity"—even as you and I.

Got any ideas of your own? We figured you would have... so take it up from there. We'll bet anything you'll find that juicy turkey tastes a lot sweeter come Thanksgiving dinner time.

Be a Good Scout. Do a good turn daily.

Norwood, Kelton Meet Friday Night

One of the outstanding games of the season for the Samnorwood basketball teams will be played there Friday night, November 29, when Kelton meets the undefeated and untied senior boys and senior girls teams.

The Kelton Lions are one of the stronger teams in the conference, coached by Mr. Willoughby. He has three lettermen on his boys team that helped defeat the Eagles last season.

The Eagles showed their best playing against Quail during the summer session, but they are again expected to show excellent performance in teamwork, sportsmanship and hard playing. The girls team will be wearing new red and white satin suits.

The teams, under the direction of Orville Cunningham and Guy Briscoe, are making the best of every workout to get in shape for the games Friday night.

The Samnorwood gymnasium has been completely remodeled and repainted and will be in first class condition. One of the largest crowd of supporters of the season is expected to be present to see the games, which will begin promptly at 7:30 p. m.

Starters for the Eagles will be Nolan Poteet, Shorty Overcast, Doug Coleman, Richard Overcast and Harold Bryan. Substitutes will be George Irwen, LeRoy Taylor and Don McBrayer.

The girls will have as their starting lineup Jeanette Young, Martha Montgomery, Patsy Bradley, Joycerene Price, Cleo Brooks and Camilla Coleman. Their substitutes will be Ravenna Cunningham, Bobby Oldham, Rozelle Buckner, Helen Carreker, Joan Abercrombie, and Joan Rountree.

Installation of a mercury vapor lamp system is now under way in Memphis where wooden poles are being used instead of the fluted steel sought by city officials here.

Mr. Handley indicated, however, that if the steel poles cannot be secured within a short time, the city will make other arrangements, using either wooden poles or making its own from oil field pipe or some other material.

Reason for the organization is that the Interscholastic League does not include boxing, making it necessary to form a league in order to keep this popular sport alive.
