PARK SWIMMING POOL TO BE FORMALLY OPENED TO THE PUBLIC ON SATURDAY

Considerable Improvement To The Property Has Been Made By City

The municipal swimming pool at Ruddick Park will be formally opened to the public Saturday, Mayor Sadler, announced Thursday. The pool will be operated under supervision of the city and accredited attendants will be on duty at all times the pool is open.

Every department entering into the pool properties has been rebuilt and made modern throughout. The bath house, built of native stone, has been rebuilt on the interior into two commodious, strictly private and sanitary dressing and rest rooms. Booths in which bathers may change clothing, shower bath and lavatories are included in both men's and women's departments. All of the inside is finished in sanitary white enamel and will be washed frequently with a hose.

The pool has been worked over, including new calk in the floor seams. The floor and inside walls are finished in light blue. Stone walks have been laid around the pool for use of bathers. Water used in the pool will be kept moderately warm by use of the adjoining reservoir into which water will be pumped for warming by sun before use.

Material for building an ornamental steel fence about the pool arrived Monday afternoon. This feature will add to attractiveness of the property and to privacy of the bathers.

A system of flood lights to illuminate the pool for night swimming is being built about the pool by the Texas Electric Service Company. New park benches for use of the public are to be provided about the pool and at other places in the park property.

"The city is definite in the proposition that Ruddick Park should be maintained as one of the most acceptable pleasure resorts in this part of the State and we feel that Colorado and Mitchell county will point with pride to the improvements made there," Mayor J. A. Sadler stated Monday.

SPORTSMAN CHARGED WITH DUTY OF PROTECTING WILD LIFE FROM EXTERMINATION

Chapter Of State Association Launched at Conference Held Tuesday

If the wild life of Texas is preserved to posterity it will be due to determined effort in its behalf by the sportsmen of Mitchell and other counties of the State, J. Frank Elder of Waco, president of the Game & Fish Protective association of Texas, charged in an address directed to a group of local nimrods at the Colorado hotel Tuesday evening.

Following address of the visitor, in which government statistics were quoted to sustain his claim that game birds and fish were being wantonly destroyed by attacks from every quarter—man, beast, preying fowl and the elements—the Mitchell county chapter was organized with election of J. F. Merritt president. Ed Newsom was named vice president and Ben Smith secretary-treasurer.

The speaker delivered verbal assaults against the State of Texas for permitting wholesale pollution of streams, unchivalrous hunters who wantonly destroy quail and other game birds and the raven and other public enemies of wild life. "If we are to stay this destruction of one of Texas' greatest assets it will be through organized and determined effort at Capitol Hill," he declared after demanding that the legislature pass such laws as would protect the wild life of Texas.

"Eighty-seven percent of the streams in Texas are polluted today due to sewage, oil and other refuse that our sons are permitting being dumped into them," he charged. "The raven is one of the menacing enemies to game birds and agriculture. He will eat a quail egg in preference to any other food and annually destroys from $5 to $15 worth of agriculture. We must give this fellow some attention."

"Texas is first in wild life resources but thirty-eighth in development."

A. French of Abilene, divisional engineer for the commission, stated while in Colorado Monday.

The divisional engineer was in Colorado to confer with Mayor Sadler and other city officials relative to plans for relocating water main connecting downtown section with the East Side water plant. The main is to be moved north from its present location in vicinity of Lone Wolf creek bridge.

The Federal Bureau of Public Roads has given final okeh in the dual project and there is no occasion to anticipate additional delay in awarding contracts and starting actual construction on the street and bridge widening projects, French declared.

Cost estimates on the projects of $34,800 were given approval by State and Federal officials several months ago. Work has been held up pending final checking and approval of specifications covering the improvement.

Rural Clubwomen's Exhibit Friday And Saturday Visited By Over 200

The second annual bedroom improvement exhibit of Mitchell county home demonstration club women was well attended Friday and Saturday afternoons when 200 people came in to see hooked rugs made of discarded woolen garments and the tufted bedspreads.

The club having the most entries was the Looney home demonstration club with 8 entries.

The hooked rugs were much better in color and workmanship this year than last year. Mrs. Albert Orr had an outstanding rug made of ten pair of men's gray trousers with green and yellow as color notes. This rug is 4 1/2 feet by 31 inches wide. It is valued at $10.00 but only cost $2.00.

Another interesting rug was made by Mrs. M. A. Webb of the Looney club, who used small amounts of colored woolen materials in a fan pattern. Mrs. Webb used the algeria berry root to dye some of the golden yellow, yellow green and mustard colors to go with the darker colors used.

An original design similar to a Navajo was used in a gray, Copenhagen blue and red rug made by Mrs. Ivan Barber of the Bauman club.

The champion rug maker of all the club women, Mrs. Lee M. Jones of the Plainview club exhibited two hooked rugs. One was a tile design using green, tan and red outlined in black, the other a tumbled block pattern worked in tan, brown and rust. Neither of her rugs cost a cent.

Other well made rugs of good woolen materials were made by Mrs. G. R. Taylor of Lone Star club, Mrs. Henry Riden of Bauman club and Miss Ollie Thompson of Looney club and a small place mat of discarded articles.

Yellow Daisies, Blue Mexican Glass Center Decorations At Lockhart Party

The daisy and blue glass group centered a table covered in imported Italian lace and lighted by yellow tapers in crystal and silver candlelabra. The table decorative scheme was repeated on the buffet on a smaller scale. A profusion of roses, larkspur, and other seasonal flowers decorated the remainder of the playing suite.

For high score Mrs. Dick Carter received a blue Mexican glass pitcher with a crystal handle. For second high Mrs. Raymond Gary was presented with a crinkly-white pottery salad bowl with a matching spoon and fork. Mrs. A. C. Anderson won the low score prize, a set of Madeira napkins.

silk made by Mrs. Tom Daughtrey of Plainview club.

Mrs. Otto Schuster of Hyman club exhibited a crocheted woolen rug and Mrs. M. A. Webb one of cotton.

She removed the sheet and added salt to set the color, then after the salt was well dissolved the sheet was replaced. It is valued at $7.50.

Mrs. Tom Comer of the Shepherd club entered two spreads. The double wedding ring pattern used in one of them was made more striking with double tufts of rose on the natural sheeting.

Other interesting designs such as six pointed stars, diagonal stripes, diamonds and conventional patterns were used with such colors as sky blue, lavender, green, rose and pink.

The contrast between a good bed and a bad bed was stressed in a playlet given by the Fairview club with Mrs. Curtis Simpson, LaVerne Carpenter and Mrs. J. T. Dawson as characters.

Short demonstration talks were given on hooked rug making by Mrs. Lee M. Jones, picture framing by Mrs. Carl Lowry; light weight bedding by Mrs. Dewey Phillips; recaning chairs, by Mrs. Willie Taylor, and tufted bedspread making by Mrs. M. A. Webb.

The home demonstration club women of the county thank Mr. Bergman for the use of the Levy building, Jones-Russell Co. for use of furniture and other firms contributing articles.

WORK OF LAUNCHING ILLNESS INSURANCE STARTED THIS WEEK

Three men are now at work introducing to Coloradans and Mitchell countians the illness protection offered by the Physicians and Bankers Indemnity company of Dallas, Texas, a state-wide insurance organization.

The plan has been endorsed by all seven practicing physicians of Colorado, and each of the three men bears a letter of introduction and recommendation signed by the physicians.

Protection offered under the plan was explained Tuesday by Fred C. Baldrige, who is supervising the work here, as follows:

"We write a policy for families of from one to eight members, giving them as much as $50 worth of doctor's services per year for $1 per family each month. This entitles them to call at the physician's office or call him to their home when needed without any charge until the total goes above $50. The policy does not cover cost of medicine or hospital service. We also write a $100 policy for $2 per month."

Details of the plan are being explained to citizens by G. A. Lovell and Geo. E. Rice, working here under direction of Mr. Baldrige.

FINAL POOL CHECKS TO BE DISTRIBUTED TO PLANTERS SOON AAA OFFICIAL NOTES

Seventy Percent of Mitchell County Pounding Already Sold At 4 Cents

The final checks covering the sale of tax-exemption certificates through the National Pool will be ready for distribution to participants within a few days, County Farm Agent Ben J. Baskin has been informed by B. M. Meeks, representative of the AAA.

The National Pool reported that Mitchell county had pooled 3,395,215 pounds of tax-exemption certificates. Of this poundage, approximately 70 percent had been sold, or 2,376,650 pounds. The poundage was sold from the pool at 4 cents per pound and the expense of operating the Pool was less than four one-hundredths of a cent per pound.

The 30 percent poundage, which the producers of Mitchell county have to their credit, amounts to 1,018,565 pounds. This poundage may be handled in either of two ways:

It may be placed in a special pool.

It may be reissued in the form of new certificates to the producer.

If the first course is followed, the producer may, at the time he receives his final check, sign a form in the assistant's office to revert the 30 percent poundage in the special pool to sell for not less than 5 cents per pound and the pool to be liquidated in not more than 120 days.

Or the producer may request the assistant or the county agent to have the 30 percent unsold poundage issued to him in the form of 1935-36 certificates.

All producers will be notified of the date checks will be delivered. Farmers will have 10 days after receiving their check to decide whether they will pool their certificates in the special pool.

It was further stated that farmers who have certificates left over from last year's pooling may also pool them in the special pool. If this is done it will not be necessary to exchange these certificates for new 1935-36 certificates.

BABY BORN 20 MINUTES AFTER MOTHER'S DEATH LIVING AND DOING WELL

The following pathetic story is reported from the Abilene Morning News for Wednesday:

There is a baby girl at the West Texas Baptist Sanitarium who was brought into the world by a caesarian operation twenty minutes after the death of her mother.

The birth occurred at 5:45 p. m. Sunday. The baby was kept in an incubator 36 hours under care of special nurses. The physician who performed the operation and is caring for the child said Tuesday night that for 24 hours his tiny patient had been getting along in the normal way of the average three-day-old child, taking nourishment, crying and behaving in the usual way.

The mother, Mrs. Jesse Moody, 22, was stricken about 4 p. m. Sunday with acute indigestion. She was admitted to the hospital at 4:15 p. m., unconscious. In spite of administering of oxygen and stimulants she never revived and died at 5:25 o'clock.

The doctor and attendants employed artificial respiration and other methods 20 minutes in a last effort to bring the mother back. The efforts were fruitless and the caesarian section was done at 5:45 o'clock.

The baby's condition at birth was described as similar to that of a drowned person apparently dead. It was so treated. After fifteen minutes the little one was rescued from the strange border line between death and life.

Funeral services for the mother were held here Monday afternoon.

Hyman Happenings

By Mrs. Edgar Andrews, Reporter
The Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. Walter Averitt Friday, May 24.

Mrs. Carl Lowery gave a report on the council meeting and Mrs. Averitt gave a demonstration on arranging flowers.

In her demonstration Mrs. Averitt brought out these points: The first thing that should be known about this is how to cut flowers. They should be cut with a sharp knife as it cuts the stems clean so the water can flow properly. The best time to cut flowers is before nine in the morning or at dusk.

When selecting containers for flowers a simple vase is best as it does not attract more attention than the flowers.

Use a shallow bowl for flowers with short stems such as violets and pansies. A tall vase is used for long stemmed ones. A crystal vase is ideal for the long stemmed flowers. Never put too many flowers in a vase as the stems will look too crowded for good effect.

Colors may be either contrasted or blended. Yellow roses may be used with violet larkspurs with orange or yellow blossoms.

Bouquets should always be arranged loosely and naturally and never crowded or jammed.

The members present were Mrs. Otto Shuster, Mrs. F. A. Boyd, Mrs. Edgar Andrews, and Mrs. Carl Lowery and the hostess.

Attend the Colorado Record Cooking School June 10, 11, and 12.

COUNTY JUDGE SLATED TO HEAD COLORADO LIONS AS ANNUAL ELECTION IS HELD

Other Nominations Made At Meeting Friday; Voting Due Friday, June 7

County Judge B. L. Templeton, second vice president of the Lions Club during the present fiscal year, Friday was stepped up as nominee for presidency of the service organization and with formal election, due Friday, June 7, will be inducted into office, Friday, July 5. Nomination of Judge Templeton for the club presidency was offered after announcement was made that Congressman George Mahon, first vice president, could not accept any official post, due to necessary absence from the city.

W. N. Crosthwaite, third vice president, was nominated for first vice and W. W. Whipkey, member of the executive board for some time and one of the organization's charter members, received place on the ballot for second vice president. John Deffebach, secretary-treasurer, came in for promotion as the club voted him the nomination as third vice president.

Jack Helton, tail twister and among the active Lions, was voted as choice for the office of secretary-treasurer. M. O. Chapman was slated for Lion tamer with A. L. McSpadden his assistant. Two Lions, J. J. Billingsley and Bob Hubbard, were placed in nomination for the office of tail twister to supply the only competition for election as members of the club mark their ballots. The Lion elected is to appoint his assistant.

FIVE THOUSAND QUARTS OF ICE CREAM WILL BE EATEN BY 30,000 BOYS

Picture, if you can, the dipping of 30,000 spoons into 30,000 dishes of ice cream, and then conveying these tons of luscious sweetness into 30,000 waiting mouths. And yet, that is the exact scene that will be presented this coming August 21-30 when the 30,000 Boy Scouts attending their National Jamboree at Washington, gather around the 5,250 dinner tables on the one Sunday they will be encamped there.

Thirty thousand quarts of fresh milk would seem to be the despair of any herd of Jersey cows, almost regardless of the number of them, that might be asked to supply this amount daily, and yet that is the amount that will be provided regularly. Just imagine 30,000 quart bottles of milk left on your doorstep on a morning.

Seventeen thousand loaves of bread a day; 17,000 pounds of fresh meat, 900 bushels of potatoes, which if sliced, fried and laid out flat would cover a platter measuring over 2 1/2 acres in extent. Yet 30,000 hungry Boy Scouts will "surround" these acres of potatoes quicker than a boy could run around a platter of that size. But regardless of the quantities of food that will be required, a carefully prepared and balanced meal will be served in every instance, all of it checked for

General Upturn In Farm Realty Values Revealed

A general upturn in farm real estate values for the first time in more than a decade and an easing in the farm credit situation were reported simultaneously Sunday by the Agriculture Department and the farm credit administration.

Entering its third year Monday, the credit administration said it had loaned $3,000,000,000 (billions) in the last two years—averaging $4,000,000 a day—and said 90 per cent of the money advanced had been used by farmers to pay creditors, resulting in an interest saving of $35,000,000 annually.

A three-point rise in the index of farm real estate values in the year ending March, or 79 compared with 76 in 1934, and the depression low of 73 in 1933, was announced by the Agriculture Department. The period 1912-14 represents 100.

Values were reported to have increased last year in thirty States, to have remained virtually unchanged in thirteen and to have dropped slightly in five. The largest gains were reported in cotton States, the decreases in the drought area.

Attributing the general improvement to increased farm income, the bureau said farm real estate values also were aided by relieved credit conditions, and an expansion of the farm mortgage credit facilities of the farm credit administration.

calory, vitamin and other food values.

The physical arrangements for a camp of 30,000 Scouts (including the Scoutmasters and all the thousands of men identified with the Scout Movement who also will be in camp there) called for unusual problems of engineering, and design for ground layout, transportation, telephone, communication, lighting, sewage disposal, structures and equipment.

And yet, the acreage necessary for this tented city of 30,000 Scouts and Scouters has all been acquired within the environs of Washington so that all the activities of the Nation's seat of government will be immediately available to these keen-minded youths from every nook and cranny of the whole United States.

conference that steps be taken to build a lake on Champion Creek near Seven Wells and committee from the chamber of commerce is to confer with a similar group from the Lions Club immediately after adjournment of the latter organization meeting Friday at noon.

Brigford explained that cooperation of the Federal government would be sought in financing construction of the dam, once suitable property has been acquired and sufficient funds raised as to impress the government local interests were backing up the enterprise.

ment and protection of that resource. If we do not do something to replace the game being destroyed our children of twenty-five years hence will not know what a bob white looks like."

Elder gave an interesting history of work done by public spirited citizens of Texas to protect game and fish. It was not until during the administration of Governor Hobby, however, he stated, that the State game and fish commission received adequate support from the legislature. Since that time several fish hatcheries have been built and means taken to protect quail and other wild life.

He suggested that lakes be impounded for stocking fish and that quail be turned loose in the county to propagate. The birds may be reared with little effort if man would only extend them some cooperation by affording protection from the elements and providing food and water. Several hundred of the birds were placed in Howard county last year.

Elder offered the urge that Mitchell county sportsmen build a series of crow traps to be operated during the late Fall and Winter. He directed attention to fact that 5,000 of the birds were trapped in Howard county last year. Wild house cats were catalogued as another destructive enemy to birds and other wild life.

Mitchell county is in district 3, embracing 26 counties in this part of West Texas. Larger percent of the area has been organized into county chapters, he stated.

"Vomited 3 or 4 Times Every Day"

—18 years with a stomach like that! And in 3 doses of Gordon's!

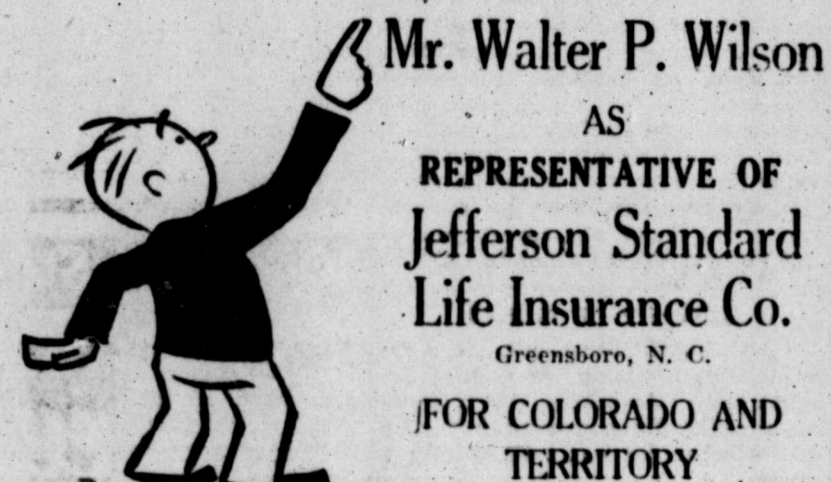

Wonderful! Think of finding relief in 3 doses, at a dose! Read what she says: "For 18 years I suffered with what all said was gall bladder trouble. All but one said nothing but operating would do any good. Got to where I suffered untold agony. Vomited 3 or 4 times every day. Had gas, bloating, sour stomach. Then I read a letter about GORDON'S COMPOUND described just how I felt. Didn't suppose would do me any good, but tried it, anyhow. In three doses I felt better! By the time I had taken one bottle I felt like a new person. Took two and one-half bottles. Has been over a year now, since I have had to take any GORDON'S. I can eat anything now and all I want, and I digest. Feel better the past winter than for years. I tell all my friends. I can't recommend it too highly. I am so overjoyed with results."

—Mrs. G. W. Henderson, 248 South Schuler Street, Ottumwa, Iowa.
Take GORDON'S and see what you like! If you have ACID STOMACH, GAS ON STOMACH, SOUR STOMACH, BLOATING, DYSPEPSIA, HEARTBURN, etc., try it. Money back on first bottle if not satisfied.

'Last Class Meeting' Program Marks Graduation Of 76 Junior High Pupils

A "last class meeting," conducted before an audience that filled the high school auditorium, marked the graduation of seventy-six pupils from Junior High school last Thursday evening.

The students were seated on the stage and presented their program without any outside help. Sam Richardson, as president of the class, called the house to order following a piano solo by Theda Howell and the invocation by Walter Grubbs. The class minutes were read by Virginia Rose Whipkey, class secretary, following which the president gave the welcome address. Duff Chesney gave a discussion of "Good Citizenship in Junior High School."

Those discussing divisions of extra-curricular activities were Jimmie Lee Harrison, league work; Ruth Elliott, school projects; Buster Chaney, athletics; Fae Porter, assembly program and choral club. The class song closed this program division.

Interpretations of class room work were given by Hollis Mize, Louise Dockery, Ruth Harrison, Willie Grace Doss, Pauline Wren, and Aleene Bodine, each of whom discussed some particular subject. Pauline Wren led a drill by seven girls as an interpretation of physical training. Pledges to Junior High school and to Senior High school were given by the class, before and after Bobby Wright's discussion of "The Next Four Years."

Names of honor students and those winning awards had been withheld until the night of graduation. Evelyn Moore made the presentation of the American Legion awards to the "Junior High school boy and girl rating highest in five points, courage, leadership, scholarship, service, and character." These went to Virginia Rose Whipkey and Duff Chesney.

Virginia Rose Whipkey presented the other awards. To Louise Dockery, valedictorian of the class, she gave an elaborately bound book bearing the signatures of all class members. Doris Richardson and Evelyn Moore each received a painting by Miss Alwilda Crosthwaite as her highest rating art pupils.

Diplomas were presented by the class president, Sam Richardson.

Throughout the entire program the auditorium was in darkness with lighting centered on the stage and the group of graduates. It was the first time in local Junior High history that students have had entire charge of their graduation program.

IMAGINATION GREAT THING

QUANAH.—A six-year-old boy created considerable excitement here when he appeared on the streets crying "my mother has been killed." Officers immediately investigated and found the mother visiting with neighbors.

The little boy had become frightened at being lost and had imagined a shooting scene with his mother as the victim.

ELLIOTT'S SON MOVES
After several years as pastor of a Presbyterian church in Knoxville, Tennessee, the Rev. W. M. Elliott, Jr., son of the Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Elliott, Sr., of Colorado, has moved to Atlanta, Georgia as pastor of the Druid Hills Presbyterian church.

Do You Think This Is Right?

Is it right to build churches to save men and at the same time license beer halls that destroy them?
Is it right to license men to sell that which makes them drunk and then punish the man for being drunk?
Is it right to derive a revenue out of a traffic whose success necessarily weakens virtue, morality and integrity?
Is it right to license a man to make paupers and then tax sober men and women to take care of them?
Is it right to license a beer warden to teach vice and then tax people for schools to teach virtue?
Is it right to teach a boy to restrain his passion and then vote to license a place which ruins your neighbor's boy?
Is it right to preach justice and charity and vote to license a thing which robs widows and orphans of their bread?

DO YOU THINK IT IS RIGHT?
"Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise."—Prov. 20:1.

Delinquent Taxes Will Draw Heavier Charge On July 1

The probability that 10 percent interest will be charged on delinquent taxes on and after July 1, arose this week after Assistant Attorney General C. M. Kennedy at Austin ruled that a recent legislative act changed aspect of the belated taxpayer to some degree. Copy of the ruling was received here Wednesday.

The bill which remitted penalties and interest expires June 30. A gradually increasing scale of interest has been in effect, the rate now being 4 per cent, to increase to 5 per cent Saturday.

Assistant Attorney General Kennedy's opinion holds that a House concurrent resolution of the last regular session of the Legislature limits the effective date of the remission bill and that after June 30 no costs, interest or penalties can be released on delinquent taxes.

CONTENTS OF PURSE WILL EXTEND FURTHER THROUGH BUDGET PLAN OF SPENDING

Miss Jessie Hogue, Record Cooking School Expert To Give Advice

A budget plan in the hand is worth twice the money in the purse, according to Jessie Hogue, nationally known authority on Food and Home Economics, whose charming personality will be the leading feature of the Record's Cooking School on June 10, 11, 12.

Accurate division and planning for spending the income, be it large or small, means fewer expensive mistakes, says Miss Hogue; also it means better food and clothing, less work, time for more reading, study, friends, recreation, when done with a system or well-conceived plan.

The family budget for the young couple or the couple of any age tells you what your money can and will do for you. The home says Miss Hogue, is the biggest departmental business in the world; and yet in the majority of homes there is no definite plan for budgeting the income so that the family may get the most out of life.

How delightful it would be if your pocketbook was like a conjuror's hat and—presto!—the touch of a magic wand and out would come anything you desired. Unfortunately pocketbooks are not magical. They contain only what is actually in them. And we have to face the fact that our income, whatever its size is a matter of cold figures.

Miss Hogue's views on budgeting are interesting. No plan will apply for all; but this expert on home management will be glad to advise you just how you can divide your income according to your requirements with a view of getting the last penny's value out of every dollar.

Watch for the Record's Cooking School, and plan to attend every session. No admission fee and no obligation.

Fair Competition Code Being Used By Oil Industry

In commenting upon the United States Supreme Court's decision in declaring the National Recovery Act unconstitutional, Arthur P. Dyer, Texas State Chairman for Marketing of the Planning and Coordination Committee of the Oil Industry Code, which committee has been functioning under the N. I. R. A., made the following statement:

"The Petroleum Industry Code has been operated for many months along voluntary cooperative lines. More than a year ago it was seen that the Federal enforcement of the rules of the Petroleum Code was ineffective and, therefore, our chief work has been in educating marketers of Texas to observe these rules as matters of efficient business practice.

"Therefore, it is highly probable that the work of this committee, which has proven of inestimable value to the industry throughout the country, will be continued in some form. Primarily the industry desires a Code of Fair Competition with a centralized appeals body. This opinion has been voiced consistently and it is hardly to be expected that this industry will be allowed to drop back the many steps which it has taken forward in the past eighteen months.

"Many practices of competition have been eliminated under the code which, for many years, represented expensive inefficiency, but until the code was adopted no means had been available to eliminate these things which the entire industry was anxious to be rid of.

"The industry as a whole, if opinions in Texas can be used as a basis for a statement, is insistent that some code of fair practice be perpetuated and it is very probable that within the next few weeks a definite plan will be evolved by the National Planning and Coordination Committee, along line suggested in the Supreme Court's Decision—that is, a code conducted under the supervision of the Federal Trades Commission."

BEWARE OF MULES

SAN AUGUSTINE.—R. L. Reynolds, farmer living about 18 miles south of San Augustine, was recovering recently from severe injuries received when he was attacked by a mule.

Reynolds was riding the mule in the field where he had been working, when the mule threw him and put his foot on the farmer's chest, breaking his collar bone.

The farmer managed to free himself, after nearly dislocating his right arm, but the mule followed him and knocked him to the ground.

The animal then bit him on the back and shoulders, inflicting painful flesh injuries.

Reynolds was finally rescued by Jessie Albrittain, farmer, who happened to be nearby.

Physicians reported the case very unusual but said Reynolds' condition was not serious.

WANT AN ONION?

RAYMONDVILLE, Tex.—Onions have made Willacy county, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, one of the most prosperous counties in the nation.

Growers are now engaged in harvesting the last of their crop, which averaged a return of $100 an acre. There were 6,000 acres in the county planted to onions.

By far the largest part of the crop—approximately 1,100 carloads—was shipped by rail. Truck shipments were expected to raise the total to nearly 1,400 carloads.

The average price this year was $1.40 per bushel.

Large profits this season enabled many farmers to pay off indebtedness on their farms.

COLLEGE STATION.—The old adage, "like father, like son," held good at Texas A. and M. College in the award of the Ross Volunteers medal for the best drilled member of the organization for 1935 to W. G. Trainer of San Antonio.

In 1913, Trainer's father won a similar medal at the college.

Leading Authorities, Is Harte's Statement

Miss Jessie Hogue who is to conduct The Record's cooking school June 10, 11, and 12, is among the leading economic experts of the country and housewives of this territory will not be disappointed by attending the cookery demonstrations and lectures, Houston Harte, San Angelo publisher, declared while in Colorado Friday.

Miss Hogue recently conducted a cooking school under direction of the San Angelo Evening Standard and Morning Times, daily publications owned by Harte.

"The people of my home city consider Miss Hogue one of the leading authorities in the school of cookery they have ever contacted," Harte said. "I strongly commend her and her work to the women and young women of Colorado and Mitchell county."

Plans for the cooking school are being concluded by this newspaper, W. W. Whipkey, publisher, stated Friday. Whipkey outlined that provision would be made to care for large crowds at each of the sessions. There will be no charge to any one and the ladies attending are to be under no obligations.

Reports received by this newspaper from Abilene and other cities in which Miss Hogue recently conducted cooking schools sustain statements of the San Angelo publisher. The sessions were attended by hundreds of interested women and girls, all of whom evidenced keen interest in every feature of the cooking demonstrations and lectures.

It was removed at the Root hospital Sunday night.

TEXAS COLORFUL HERITAGE REFLECTED BY SENIORS IN PROGRAM AT HIGH SCHOOLYouthful Orators Depict The Traditions And Heroism
Of State's History

The colorful heritage that Texans of today may rightfully claim with pride was reflected in impressive light Friday evening by members of the high school senior class as they portrayed with all the elegance and sway of seasoned platform speakers the traditions and heroism that have been so minutely interwoven into progress of the Lone Star State.

In lieu of the traditional visiting speaker, the seniors assumed the role of orator as one after another of their number pictured in well arranged and well delivered talks the high spots in Texas and American history since that day almost 450 years ago when Columbus made discovery of a new world. The young women and young men grew especially eloquent in offering tribute to the men and women who are living in history as patriots in framing and building this civilization.

Backstage was attractively decorated about a patriotic setting. Texas was shown in colorful relief and flags of the nations that during history of the now Lone Star had part in its inception and progress were unfurled above. Electrical illumination was used effectively to add to impressiveness of the scene. Members of the class occupied seats on the stage.

As the curtain slowly moved to open the stage to view of the large assembly that packed the high school auditorium, the class sang "Texas, Pride of the South," and "The Eyes of Texas." Everett Pond was the first speaker, bringing reminiscences of the discovery of America. "Texas Under the French Flag," was the subject about which Charles Walker brought into refreshed memory the part that France had in early colonization of Texas.

Then came a resume of the part Spain played in early Texas history and development in an address by Reynolds Brown. Progressing next in order was the address by John Ennis who depicted the heroism and suffering of Texas patriots under Mexican regime and the glory of San Jacinto.

Texas as a republic was paraded in an address by Lena Smith who reviewed determined will of those living under the emblem of a Lone Star to build a great civilization. Part that Texas had in war between the States was spoken to by Estelline Chivers. She recounted that Texans stood side by side the sons of Virginia and the Old South to defend with their life blood the principles they believed to be right.

The concluding address by Mirl Garner, speaking from the subject, "Texas Under the United States Flag." Greatness of the State as compared with other Stars in the field of blue, as compared with the cultivation of noble principles of citizenship and with commerce was given.

Presentation of diplomas was by Maxine Dorn, who expressed her appreciation of that honor. Presentation of a five dollar gold coin to Billy Berry, class valedictorian, was by Robert Early Wolfen. This award was offered by the Hesperian club. College scholarships were awarded by Miss Dorn to Miss Berry and Mirl Garner, the latter the class salutatorian.

The program was staged under direction of Robert Coffman, faculty member. Class sponsors who had devoted unselfish cooperation to the seniors in plans for graduation included Omer Cline, Miss Pauline Hargrove and Coffman. Miss Frances Jones, the class accompanist, gave the recessional and other musical features on the piano.

As the students took up places on the stage to deliver their addresses, they held in one hand a small flag of the country about which they spoke. Soft piano music, giving National anthems of those countries, was played by Miss Jones as the addresses were heard.

Just as the last address was closed a large American flag was slowly unfurled from top of the stage, taking up its place immediately in front of the Texas emblem and below the several smaller flags. Use of a spotlight made the scene more impressive.

Organized Labor Watches With Interest
Counter To Save Wreckage Of New Deal

While organized labor centering about the larger industrial areas Wednesday turned to congress for favorable action on the Wagner labor disputes bill in counter to salvage wreckage of the NRA left in path of the Supreme Court's edict, local units of the American federation awaited with interest reports on the outcome.

In so far as information given The Record was concerned, organized labor at Colorado, of which there are several units, had taken no official action in support of National leaders to swing into line proposals pending at Washington that would temporarily, at least, sustain provisions in a minority degree of the New Deal.

Information received by labor leaders here indicate that the National organization is keenly disappointed in ruling of the supreme court and are moving to concentrate their fire to obtain passage of other bills favored by labor.

Goodyear Tube To Be Reckoned With As Safety Measure

The last word in safety in event of a blowout while driving at high speed is now available to motorists in Colorado, according to Thomas
Bros., local dealers for The Goodyear
Tire & Rubber Co.

The new development is a tube for automobile tires that eliminates the danger of serious accident following a blowout by changing the sudden blowout into a slow leak.

"It is a known fact that a blowout at 60 miles per hour is twice as dangerous as one at 40 miles per hour, and at 80 miles per hour is four times as dangerous," Mr. Bill Thomas explained. "With new cars having extremely high top speeds being placed on the market the need for such a tube is increasingly apparent."

"Goodyear engineers have been working on this 'safety insurance' problem for several years and the new Goodyear Life Guard tube is the result. It is in reality a 'double tube', one inside the other and joined together at the base. The two air chambers are connected only by a single small vent hole which allows the air to pass from the inner chamber to the outer chamber."

"The outer tube is similar in appearance and function to an ordinary tube and fits inside the casing," Mr.
Thomas continued. "The inside carcass is built up of two plies of fabric and when in service floats free without chafing. When a blowout occurs, air escapes from the outer chamber instantly but can escape from the inner carcass only through the single small vent hole, which allows it to seep out slowly."

"The tire then drops down slightly to ride on the inner carcass, allowing the driver to bring the car to a stop under perfect control. He can pull off to the side of the road without endangering himself, his car or the lives of other motorists."

"Police and fire department officials and heads of safety organizations who have seen the tube demonstrated are unanimous in the opinion it is one of the most important contributions to the safety of motoring that has been made in a decade,"
Mr. Thomas concluded.

Cly Broadus, attached to the Internal Revenue Department, Dallas office, was in Colorado Saturday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B.
Broadus.

'New Railroad' Front Page News
Again In Record Of 25 Years Ago

The "new railroad" made the front page again in the Record for Friday, June 3, 1910, twenty-five years ago.

Tired of waiting for E. G. Hammock, who had prompted the Colorado-Concho railroad connecting Colorado and Robert Lee, to act, the people of the two towns had decided to look into the matter of building the road themselves.

A mass meeting had been held at Robert Lee on Saturday. The Record commented on Robert Lee's move as follows:

"One thing seems sure—the people of Robert Lee are going to have a railroad. The town prefers an outlet to Colorado, but if we do not meet its interest and zeal on common ground, there are other places on trunk lines more than ready to do so."

The papers of today are filled with pictures and stories about the Silver Jubilee of the reign of King George V of England. Twenty-five years ago the Record had the following to say about the then new king:

"For the first time in decades, if not centuries, England is to have a king who speaks idiomatic English. . . . George V is a thorough Englishman, even in his insularity and pride of nationality."

Plans were going forward for the Midsummer Carnival with which the county was to celebrate the Fourth. About 100 acres of the land lying north of the highway just beyond the west bridge were to be fenced for the celebration to exclude "all wagons and horseback riders." All the land lying south of the highway over to the railroad track was to be used as a camp ground. Mr. Van Tuyl had taken charge of the lighting business and promised electric lights each night. Mr. Graves was to see to the laying of a two-inch pipe line for city water to the grounds. A contract had been made with a professional balloonist to make ascensions each day.

"Speeding" was a problem, even in the days of horses and buggies, an article in the paper reveals. The article stated that "it is against all municipal law to drive across bridges at a greater speed than a walk. . . . Don't forget about fast and careless driving."

Messrs C. H. Earnest S. T. Shropshire, and O. M. Mitchell had returned Tuesday night from an overland trip in an auto to the towns of Lubbock, Lamesa, Gail, and Soash.

Miss Jimmie Dillard was attending to dry goods wants at Burns and Bell in the absence of Miss Belle Dozier.

Miss Lela Whipkey had left on Friday to visit Miss Mary Risinger in Sweetwater and Mrs. T. J. Yoe in Hamlin.

C. C. Graves was getting notice as an union raiser.

The death of Mrs. Laura Stricker, wife of W. W. Stricker, at their rooms at the Alamo hotel on Monday morning was recorded. Mr. Stricker was a salesman for the Colorado Mercantile company.

M. A. Dry had died on May 4. His survivors were two daughters, Mozella and Jo. He and his family had come here in 1895. His record as a soldier in the Civil War was detailed.

Mrs. Ed W. Smith and son, Kennedy, were visiting relatives in Fort Worth.

Miss Birdie Waddell had been married in Fort Worth on May 25 to a man whose name was not learned.

Sam Wulffen was erecting a "neat little cottage" up on the hill next to the home of J. O. McCreless. Asked about his intentions, he replied: "What's the matter with you—can't a man build a house without getting married?"

Miss Elsie Hooper had gone to attend a reunion of her class at "Belton Female College."

Mrs. A. B. Robertson and children had come over from Fort Worth in an auto to visit Colorado friends and then go on to their ranch at Bresford for the summer.

Bennett Scott had gone to Amarillo to work in the Santa Fe round house.

COLORADO RECORD KITCHEN CHATS

By Jessie Hogue
"THE ROMANCE OF COOKING"
 A great celebration will take place on the day when dishes are invented that are inexpensive enough to be thrown away after one using but still retain the virtues of china.

Until that time comes, however, our pride of ownership in good dishes will keep us at the daily cycle of clearing up the dinner table, washing the dishes and storing them away. In the meantime, also, many of us will continually be seeking for ways to lighten the task that takes us from table to sink to cupboard. There is really romance in cooking if we but look for it.

If we examine the processes in dishwashing, reduce if possible the time each takes and eliminate those which are unnecessary it is possible we may find waste motions and reduce the unpleasantness of an unavoidable chore.

First, all dishwashing should not be left until after the meal. Begin to reduce the after-dinner part of the work the first moment of meal preparation.

Clearing away as you go along will simplify dishwashing unbelievably. Replace materials or containers as soon as they are used—the baking powder, the spice can, the sifter.

As you replace them determine whether or not they are in their most convenient location. Replacing is simple if it means merely reaching out to a shelf an arm's length away and not walking across the kitchen. One meal process likely to create a confused and untidy kitchen is vegetable preparation. To avoid this all vegetables such as lettuce, radishes and tomatoes should be washed as soon as they arrive from the green grocer and placed in the refrigerator ready for use.

This keeps the untidiness of wilted leaves and sandy sediment out of the kitchen during its busiest time.

Other vegetables refuse, such as potato parings, carrots scrapings and bean strings, can easily be kept out of the sink by paring or cleaning them directly into waste cans.

The large accumulation of cooking dishes during food preparation—measuring cups and spoons, mixing bowls, plans—all but the last minute cooking dishes, can be washed and rinsed with hot water.

Some housekeepers advise washing each dish as it is used, but there may be waste motion in that. A little easier system may be to clear away as one goes along but to have one washing during the last period of cooking.

When baking, a utility tray saves labor. Each tool as it is used is placed on this tray and taken with the soiled dishes on it in one trip to the sink to be washed.

The next step in cutting down waste effort in the handling of dishes after they come to the table is to have a systematic routine for them in the kitchen.

Extra space near the sink and a table placed conveniently near the sink where the dishes can be cleared and stacked as they arrive from the table are helpful.

It is at this point that a movable table of generous proportions makes its usefulness felt.

Dishes may be placed directly on the table in the dining room, moved to the kitchen cleared, washed, put back on the table and taken to the point of storage if the cupboards cannot be reached from the sink.

ONLY EIGHT STATES ARE BANNING LIQUOR SALES

Nebraska Friday legalized the sale of liquor. Gov. R. L. Cochran of that state signed a bill named last week authorizing the State-wide sale of package liquors and said legal machinery would be perfected in a few days to control the liquor business.

Nebraska is the fortieth State to join the wet column. Only eight States now are legally dry—Alabama, Georgia, Kansas, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Texas.

Light wines and beer are illegal in two, Alabama and Kansas.

North Carolina has an option plan for seventeen counties, but no referendum have been held. Only forty-two counties in Florida are legally wet.

Columnist by "UNCLE FRED"

The Big Boss

I have been asked to fill this column with an exegesis of or to or on the recent graduation class and in an extemporaneous way will proceed to expostulate.

When this writer finished school some 60 years ago they did not call it graduation, it was quittance and after I had mastered the multiplication table in Ray's Arithmetic, passed Baker in Webster's Blue Back speller and learned in McGuffey's third reader to recite "Mary had a little lamb" only I recited it this way:

Mary had a little lamb

Who was her steady beau

And everywhere that Mary went

The lamb put up the dough.

So with these three qualifications

R-R—read, rite and rhythmic I shall proceed to elucidate.

THE GRADUATING CLASS

A little learning is a dangerous thing

Drink deep or touch not the Piercean Spring.

Armed with your diplomas you now face the world and life.

Education increases ability to think, and right thinking creates wisdom. Acquired knowledge alone is not education. Unless one possesses wisdom for the proper application of knowledge to the affairs of life he is not educated.

A mind which is simply a storehouse of textbook information is a machine ready to go with no one to run it. It is power without a mind to direct it. It is a mine of riches awaiting the pick and shovel of the prospector. It is a land of illimitable resources awaiting development.

Knowledge without wisdom is power unused, and power unused is power wasted. Power unapplied is a sleeping giant. It is food unconsumed. It is beauty unrevealed.

Without wisdom knowledge serves to intensify one's ambition without enabling him to attain them. One so educated is like a man who has a mechanic's tools but who has no skill in their use.

There are numbers of men of scholarly attainments men with an abundance of acquired information, whose clothes are shiny and shiny, whose shoes have worn out in search of employment. This because they are lacking in the greatest essential of education, the wisdom necessary to the application of the knowledge they possess. They have become wearied and discouraged playing hide-and-seek with a job which, if they had it, would afford them but a bare living.

So-called "dead languages" are very much alive when given practical application to those engaged in literary pursuits. Mathematics remains dormant in the mind of one who fails to apply it.

Common fractions and common sense must be associated. Grammar and punctuation must be friends. It is as necessary to avoid split switches as split infinitives.

Knowledge without wisdom and skill

"What Is A Balanced Car?" Answered By Chevrolet Engineer In Press Interview

What is a balanced car?

Different answers are given by different authorities.

The mechanical expert says that a balanced car is one in which every rotating part is so accurately made that, even at high speeds, it does not tend to vibrate.

The expert stylist defines the balanced car as one in which all component parts and elements are so skillfully combined as to create the effect of unity of the whole.

The chassis engineer, however, holds that the balanced car is one in which all units are so carefully designed, each in relation to the others, that the car fulfills its purpose with the highest possible degree of efficiency and satisfaction to the motorist.

Actually, according to James M. Crawford, chief engineer of the Chevrolet Motor Company, which presents its cars as truly balanced automobiles, all three definitions must be met before balance can be achieved.

"Some of the costliest and most delicate machines in our plants," Mr. Crawford said recently at a Detroit gathering of Chevrolet field men, "are those precision devices that are designed for balancing parts such as the crankshaft, or the clutch assembly, or the flywheel. But even if every rotating part of the car were in absolutely perfect balance, the car might not be a 'balanced automobile'—a term in which the word 'balanced' is used in a different sense.

"This other kind of balance is to be obtained only through the exercise of judgment and skill before the car or any part of it is built. It is the result of painstaking effort around the drafting board, and of the co-operation of engineers, body designers, stylists, and others whose judgment is reflected in the product.

"As an example of this second kind of balance, consider acceleration ability and economy. Most motorists monotony of routine work of the home life, as if life elsewhere does not get to be humdrum after one settles down to work and business. Also they feel that the "home folks" are not interesting enough. They crave excitement and therefore there are not enough "thrills" about the old place.

"Thrills? Look out, danger ahead. Happiness is not made up of thrills. It is not a product of excitement. Happiness is indigenous to the soil of normality, serenity, peace and contentment.

THINKING

Though man a thinking being is defined

Few use the great prerogative of mind

How few think justly of the thinking

How many never think who think they do.

The difference between intelligence and ignorance consists in the capacity to think. Education increases one's capacity for thinking.

BE CHEERFUL

As you leave these halls of many happy days and start on life's journey be cheerful. A cheerful man is pre-eminently a useful man. Cheerful people live long in our memory. We remember joy more readily than sorrow, and always look back with tenderness on the brave and cheerful.

Addison says of cheerfulness that it lightens sickness, poverty, affliction, converts ignorance into an amiable simplicity, and renders deformity itself agreeable, and he says no more than the truth. Let us cry with Carlyle "The man who sings at his work, he will do more in the same time, he will do it better."

KNOWLEDGE AND WISDOM

Knowledge is one thing, Wisdom another. Each helps to acquire the other. One must have both before he is fully equipped. One gets textbook knowledge in school and college, but most of his wisdom is gained in life's experiences.

Experience is a super-university. Its students matriculate at birth, but are never graduated. Its sessions are continuous. It gives no diplomas. There are no postgraduate courses.

And you must remember that advantages and opportunities necessarily add to your responsibilities. The acquisition of capacity and skill imply that you are to use them in the best way. They mean that more is expected of you than of one who does not possess them.

Read from the Bible, Treasured volume

The passage of thy choice

And lend to the rhyme of the passage

The beauty of thy voice.

And the night shall be filled with music

And the cares that infest the day

Shall fold their tents, like the Arabs

And silently steal away.

want both these qualities; otherwise our task would be easy. We could build cars of still greater efficiency (as judged by miles per gallon) by sacrificing speed and acceleration and high-gear hill-climbing ability; so, too, we could build cars of increased performance powers, but these would bring us decreased economy. Actually, in designing a car, we must balance these two opposing factors to give the motoring public both economy and performance in the ratio that the public wants.

"Fortunately, most decisions necessary to achieve a balanced car are not in the 'problem' class, but are made on the basis of certain knowledge of requirements. For example, a car must possess the proper balance between weight and power. Our Blue Flame engine possesses a maximum horsepower of 80, and its design is such that it develops its maximum torque (or pulling power) at low engine speeds. A chassis too light would not stand up; a chassis too heavy would be wasteful and, of course, would affect performance. So there again we must effect a balance.

"Practically every element of the car is subject to this balancing. Brakes must achieve a balance with the weight and speed of the car, springs must be in balance with the load, gear ratios must effect a balance between power and load, tire sizes must balance with car weight, steering gear ratios must balance the resistance of the tires on the road.

"A balanced car, in brief, is one that fulfills its purpose with the highest degree of efficiency and satisfaction to the motorist. In addition, it must possess visual balance—it must look its part. All its units must combine to make the entire car, through the proper balance of running gear, radiator, fenders, hood, sheet metal, and the various elements of the body, appear as a single unit rather than as separate elements fastened to each other."

JUMPS 7% OVER 1934

NEW YORK.—For April 1935 the Printers' Ink index of newspaper advertising stood at 78.7 as compared with 77 for March, a gain of 2.2 percent over the preceding month. This is after the usual adjustment for seasonal variation, etc.

The April index shows an increase of 7.1 percent over April 1934. This is the largest gain that any month this year has registered over the corresponding month of 1934. The Printers' Ink compilation uses an index figure of 100 to represent the TWENTY-FIVE years ago the Lone Star Gas System (of which your Gas Company is a part) struck out across country with pick and shovel in a four-foot trench, to pipe some North Texas natural gas into Fort Worth and Dallas. They were the pioneers in this part of the country, and many were the problems they had to work out, digging away through black waxy limestone, rivers and woods. It took years of work and planning, large investments, great engineering skill, and a great deal of courage to thread this network of dependable gas supply to nearly 300 towns in Texas and Oklahoma.

Southwesterners Snap Up New Inventions

People have used more gas than we dreamed of in the beginning, because of the new inventions they have snapped up. Imagine our surprise when even the Refrigerators began running with gas. There have been remarkable inventions in industrial gas equipment, from oil refineries to automobile jannanning-ovens. There are House-Heating Systems that clean and moisten the air, as well as warm it; there are Clothes Dryers, Radiators, Floor Furnaces, Automatic Ranges, Incinerators, and so forth. For running a cement plant to warming a baby's bath, these Lone Star towns enjoy an automatic heat that has made their skylines famous for their smokeless chimneys.

A quarter of a century of careful planning has made natural gas so low-priced at your meter that 15 cents' worth a day is the average household load the year around, for heating, cooking, hot water and refrigeration.

Recovery...

THE one goal toward which we are all striving is RECOVERY! What will bring Recovery? Recovery depends upon the building of bigger payrolls; fewer people on the dole; the creation of more real jobs.

And the only way to build bigger payrolls is through renewed business confidence, confidence of investors in the soundness of the securities of American industries, confidence of business in the fairness of government.

There can never be RECOVERY as long as industry is threatened and harassed, as long as it is throttled by crushing taxes, destroyed by unfair government competition or ruined by governmental red tape, interference and political control.

Before any measure of true RECOVERY can be restored the fog of uncertainty and fear that now engulfs American business must be dispelled!

Passage of the Wheeler-Rayburn utility bill now pending in Congress would instill new and increased fear into all business. Thousands of employees of the electric holding and operating companies, which the bill would arbitrarily hinder and destroy, would be forced to join the millions of jobless.

With a single stroke it would bring tremendous loss to ten million utility investors in this state and the rest of the country. These folks really own the utility industries.

The way to RECOVERY is through the re-establishment of business confidence which will permit private, tax-paying capital to go to work again. If we are to attain RECOVERY in the next few years our country must become a workshop, not a laboratory.

The Wheeler-Rayburn bill would seriously retard RECOVERY!

Four Great Record Smashers in 500-Mile Race May 30--Can They Repeat?

"New Record!"

That's the shout that sends the thrills up and down the backs of the cheering horde of spectators at the world's greatest Race Classic May 30. It's the climax—after almost five hours of this roaring, grinding battle of speed under a scorching sun.

Four great record smashers stand out—all of whom will be in there May 30—able, experienced, daring—fighting for that $100,000 pot of gold.

Pete DePaolo roared in with an average of 101.13 m.p.h. in 1928—when he stood assaults for six years—until Fred Frame smashed the record in 1932 with 104.114 miles per hour.

Gas Advertisement Tells Twenty Five Years Of Progress

A quarter of a century in developing complete natural gas service is depicted in an advertisement of the Lone Star Gas System and affiliated companies, published in today's issue of this newspaper.

Twenty-five years ago natural gas service was virtually unknown in Texas. Wood, coal and kerosene fires did the cooking and heating, except in larger cities where manufactured gas carried considerable of the cooking load. In those days smoking chimneys were a sign of prosperity, and soot laden cities accepted their murky atmosphere because they didn't know any better. Today all Texas cities using gas are served with natural gas.

Then in 1909 L. B. Denning organized the Lone Star Gas Company and in the fall of the same year started the first long distance pipeline in Texas. This line, running from Petrolia to Fort Worth and Dallas, a distance of 135 miles was completed in February 1910 and service was started to Fort Worth in that month, reaching Dallas in April 1910. From that time, through many struggles, the system has spread over a territory larger than some states and reaches even out of the way villages, bringing a modern gas service to small towns equal in quality to that enjoyed by the cities.

From one pipeline and 15,000 customers, the company has grown into an interconnected system of 4,000 miles of line serving about 300 towns and cities. From an uncertain and at times inadequate gas supply, through years of struggle for gas reserves, financial difficulties, labor shortage and serious engineering problems, the company has worked its way up to the type of natural gas service known at present throughout this territory.

The advertisement published in this paper sketches the pipeline system, indicates the towns where the company maintains offices, shows a few of the high spots in the company's history, and pictures modern gas equipment now available to gas patrons.

COLORADO CHARTER LIONS HONORED DURING SERVICE CLUB MEETING ON FRIDAY

Rev. Albert F. Click Offers
Tribute To Organization;
Chevrons Given

The nine Coloradans who 12 years ago were enrolled on charter of the Lions Club Friday were given special recognition in address delivered by the Rev. Albert F. Click. The speaker offered special tribute to Col. C. M. Adams, one of the number who served as first president of the service organization.

The program was given under direction of Rev. Dick O'Brien, chairman of the entertainment committee. At time of organization of the club there were 25 charter members. Several of the number have since died and a few are residing in other parts of the country. Dr. C. L. Root and Roy Farmer, among the nine charter members, were not present.

Rev. Mr. Click said:
I am happy in the opportunity of meeting with this club today not only as a member but the special privilege that is mine.

I regret that more eloquent lips are not to voice the praise that is due the nine Lions that we seek to honor this day as charter members namely:

Walter Whipkey, Charlie Adams, Tom Stonerod, Joe Smoot, Jim Greene, Bill Cooper, Roy Farmer, Charles Root, Louis Elliott.

These men realized some years ago that man cannot live alone. That our duty is to aid one another. To lessen the burdens, and if possible, the disasters, simply we can accomplish but little. United we become an active force in the community in which we dwell.

And should not the world rejoice in the fact that man is beginning to know humanity; that on every side are hands outstretched to raise the fallen.

This club founded in human love, is not for an hour or for a day. Born yesterday, it will live beyond tomorrow. And why should not its principles be glorified and its splendid loyalty recalled? Have our brother Lions died in vain and these whom we honor today labored in vain? They wear neither plume nor title; they are simply honest men, who live among, not above their neighbors and believe in and practice the Brotherhood of Man.

We love this Lions Club and want you to know we shall never take a backward step. We have the courage to face the problems, the great problems of every day life, and in the mighty work in which we as a government, and as a people are engaged this club is doing a grand uplifting work. I am glad to say to you who started this club, which has done so much to lessen the burdens of human life that we know your worth and rejoice in your good health and presence here today. We propose to build a greater club, and do mightier deeds and the same principles that started the club we hope to retain unto the end.

"Down the slopes of sunset lead us up the hills of morn." Let me give you as my parting word the familiar sentiment of the Catskill's Vagabond, "Here's to your good health, and to your family's; May you all live long and prosper."

At conclusion of his address, Rev. Mr. Click presented each of the charter Lions a service chevron, requesting that the emblems be worn on lapel of their coat.

BY SHERMAN HART

"EIGHT BELLS"

Palace—May 31, June 1

This story is based upon a play by Percy Handley and it is a thrilling romance of the sea. The screen play, a modern yarn of heroic and cowardly men and courageous women, which follow the formula of making the gold-laced would-be Big Shot the weakling and the competent man in the rough the hero, is by Bruce Manning and Ethel Hill.

The owner of a shipping line, almost bankrupt, appoints the chief officer of one of his fine passenger liners, with whom his daughter has fallen in love, to command a freighter carrying a valuable cargo to China. The captain of the freighter is demoted. The girl and her aunt stow themselves away on the freighter. In a terrific storm at sea, mutiny builds to tense suspense as the boat threatens to sink. The captain proving yellow, the demoted hero takes charge, saves the ship and wins the girl.

Theme and atmosphere of the story graphically suggest the character of exploitation. Action and thrill, plus the triumph of real heroism gives a key to what should be done.

PROTECT YOUR LIFE AND THE LIVES OF OTHERS!

THERE are three questions you should ask yourself about the tires you buy:

- 1—"Will the non-skid tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"
- 2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"
- 3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

Answer No. 1—Harvey S. Firestone early realized the value of tire traction and safety and was the first to design an All Rubber Non-Skid Tire. Through the years Firestone has led the way in the design and development of tires with most effective non-skid treads.

Firestone does not depend solely on traction and non-skid tests made by its own engineers—it employs a leading University to make impartial tests for non-skid efficiency of its tires, and their most recent report shows that Firestone High Speed Tires stop the car 15% quicker than the best of all popular makes of tires.

Answer No. 2—Blowout protection must be built into a tire. Friction and heat within the tire is the greatest cause of blowouts. Firestone protects its tires from friction and heat by a patented process which soaks every cord and insulates every strand with pure liquid rubber. This is an additional process known as Gum-Dipping, by which every 100 pounds of cotton cords absorb eight pounds of rubber. This extra process costs more and is not used in any other make of tire.

Leading race drivers investigate the inbuilt qualities of the tires they use, because their very lives depend upon their tires, and they always select Firestone Tires for their daring speed runs. In fact, Firestone Tires have been on the winning cars in the gruelling Indianapolis 500-mile race for fifteen consecutive years, and they were on the 5,000-pound car that Ab Jenkins drove 3,000 miles in 23½ hours on the hot salt beds at Lake Bonneville, Utah, at an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, without tire trouble of any kind. These amazing performance records are proof of the greatest blowout protection ever known.

Answer No. 3—Thousands of car owners reporting mileage records of 40,000 to 75,000 miles, is proof of the long mileage and greater economy by equipping with Firestone High Speed Tires. Let these unequalled performance records be your buying guide.

Go to the Firestone Auto Supply and Service Store or Firestone Tire Dealer and let him equip your car with Firestone Tires, the safest and most economical tires built.

are given by Adolphe Menjou, Alice Brady and Hugh Herbert, who carry the comedy roles in an excellent manner. Three songs are featured. The yarn concerns three separate love triangles which offers various amusing complications, but all ends well. The spectacle numbers are featured in a milk fund show that a wealthy widow produces at a swanky summer hotel. Story moves along at a fast pace and there is plenty of interest throughout.

"TIMES SQUARE LADY"

Palace—June 4-5

Two clever new screen discoveries, in addition to a competent cast of capable players, place this fast-moving drama of Broadway night life above the average programmer. The male lead is Robert Taylor, a personable young actor who gives every indication of developing into a real draw for the feminine trade. There's also "Pinky" Tomlin, a bashful type of singing comedian, who puts over his own compositions in a natural and pleasing manner. Virginia Bruce and the balance of the cast are first-rate. Action-full story concerns a Western girl who inherits her father's sporting and night-life enterprises and comes to New York to run them herself. The crooked managers of her various interests try to scare her off, but, with the aid of one of the gang who falls in love with her, she is able to outwit them all.

"GOOD FAIRY"

Thursday—June 6

A delightfully amusing romance that will appeal to all lovers of high comedy and particularly to the women who will overlook the implausibility of the story. Margaret Sullivan, heretofore in dramatic parts, now essays a lighter role with much success. It concerns an innocent little orphan whose first contact with the wicked world turns out to be a rich meat packer. His promises to buy her clothes and jewels frighten the girl, who invents a husband to ward him off. The generous millionaire then offers to help the husband, necessitating a sudden decision to pick out a name from the telephone book. The results are uproarious and you'll laugh in spite of not believing it for a moment.

TEXAS TO SEEK HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS FROM U. S. FOR ROAD BUILDING

Relief Funds Would Be Used There, If Hines' Plan Is Given Okeh

AUSTIN.—In a determined effort to obtain $100,000,000 for gap closing on Texas highways before the Centennial and the opening of the Mexico City road, Harry Hines, new chairman of the State Highway Commission, will head a delegation of Texas leaders to Washington in mid-June, he has announced.

His hope is to impress the federal administration with the fact that the building of modern highways in Texas can provide more and better and quicker employment than weed-cutting, ditching or many of the other former CWA activities. It can do this, he contends, with minimum waste or abuses, and the result will be useful, permanent, revenue-producing facilities.

Accompanying Chairman Hines to the capital will be the other commissioners, Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, Col. Ike Ashburn of the Texas Good Roads Association and envoys from many other groups.

Gov. James V. Allred favors utilization of road-building as a means of unemployment relief in Texas, and has wired his view to President Roosevelt.

"Well over 90 per cent of the Texas road dollar goes to labor either on the job or in the factories, mills and pits behind it," Mr. Hines explained, "and this is why we hope to get some of the money from purely temporary relief projects shifted to it."

"Texas should get over $50,000,000 for roads and grade separations from appropriations already made, and we will ask for $40,000,000 more. We have the plans all ready for badly-needed roads that will exceed this amount, and we can get them under way swiftly."

The highway chairman explained that he has no thought of disturbing the many worthwhile city and community projects to be presented PWA, but only random and unplanned work relief.
