Federal Funds Sought For Highway Work In This Section

Road Boosters Talk Plans At Local Meeting

Second Annual Convention Of Road Association Draws Big Group Of Representatives From 20 Counties

Officers Elected

Information Is Sought From Relief Committee On Funds Allocated To Drouth Areas Of Western Texas

DECLARING that highway construction work brings as much unemployment relief and lasting benefits to the citizenship as any other Public Works projects, members of the South Plains Good Roads association in their second annual convention here Friday petitioned President Roosevelt and Congress to allocate a large part of any Public Works and Civil Works appropriations to this section to and for the construction of state, federal and lateral roads of major importance.

Further resolutions of the association requested information from the Texas State Relief committee as to "what use, if any, was made of the $8,900,000 federal appropriation allocated to the counties designated as "drouth stricken" especially in the cases of Dawson, Hockley, Borden, Howard, Martin, Bailey and Parmer counties."

20 Counties Represented

Approximately 70 representatives from twenty counties of the South Plains attended the meeting held at Hotel Lubbock.

Percy Ralls of Ralls was re-elected president and J. B. Slaughter of Post, Judge H. M. La Font of Plainview and Marlis D. Ratliff of Lubbock were named vice presidents.

Col. Ike Ashburn of Fort Worth, chairman of the Texas Public Works advisory board, and also executive manager of the Texas Good Roads association, made the principal talk of the meeting, outlining work accomplished thus far through the efforts of the association and declaring the "ear-marking" of $400,000,000 of the Public Works funds for highway construction a direct

Suit For Foreclosure On Ferguson Farm Is On File

DALLAS, Feb. 2. (AP) — Suit for foreclosure of part of the Bell-Bosque farm in Bell county of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, Ex-Governor James E. Ferguson, for alleged default of payments on a $40,000 note, was filed here today in the 14th district court by C. C. Renfro, attorney for the Dallas Joint Stock Land bank of Dallas.

The suit asked appointment of a receiver for the property to protect the claims of the banks. The suit claimed an unpaid balance of $34,626.01 on the note, on which payments allegedly had been in default since Jan. 1, 1931, to a total of $5,016.29.

New Plan To Extend Car Fee Payments Is Formed

Effort To Revive Question Will Be Made In Senate Monday; Hope For Majority

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 2—A plan for a renewed attempt to extend until March 31 the time for payment of automobile registration fees which became due midnight February 1 was announced in the senate today. Senator Ben G. O'Neal of Wichita Falls said the effort to revive the question would be made Monday.

Extension of the time for payment was refused by the senate Wednesday when it killed a house bill which would have granted a sixty-day grace period. The house had given the bill more votes than necessary to put it into immediate effect, but the senate refused to finally pass it after it had failed to obtain the necessary number of votes to put it into immediate effect on a test vote.

A house bill now on the senate calendar to make March 31 as the final payment date as a permanent policy will be the vehicle used in the attempt, Senator O'Neal said. A substitute bill which would make the bill effective for 1934 will be offered, he said. Proponents were hopeful that a two-thirds majority of the senate will be obtained so that it will be immediately effective, he said.

Following the announcement of the plan, the senate referred to a committee a concurrent resolution

Hard-Boiled Authority Given State Directors Of National Emergency Body By Roosevelt

Politics And Special Favor Will Be Wiped Out Of The Recovery Program; President Is Optimistic

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2. — President Roosevelt armed the state directors of the national emergency council today with "hard-boiled" authority to keep politics and special favor out of the recovery program.

Speaking in his office to the men who will take charge of the recovery campaign in the 48 separate states, the president in emphatical tones asserted:

To Be Hard-Boiled

"We want you to be absolutely hard-boiled if you find any local person within your own state who is trying to get political advantage out of the relief of human needs and you will have the backing of this administration 1,000 per cent, even if you hit the biggest political boss in the United States on the head in carrying out this general program."

Placing a great share of the recovery efforts in the hands of the state directors, Mr. Roosevelt spoke optimistically of the future and of the progress so far.

"We are all behind, with few exceptions, this broad program. We think it has done good. We believe we are on our way. We believe it is working out pretty well in all sections of the country."

Industry Building

He told of a report of one railroad which showed increases in every classification of freight. He said that is the "best illustration of the fact that we are building up economically in every section of the country, including practically all industries."

With Frank C. Walker, national director of the emergency council, at his side, Mr. Roosevelt stressed to the directors the necessity for keeping the campaign free from the selfish and those who would use it for political purposes.

"Where we have fallen down in these past months I would say in about 90 per cent of the cases," he

Perfection At 16 Contract Hands Explained

By TOM O'NEIL
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Perfection at 16 contract hands was explained by the National Bridge association today for the benefit of thousands of players all over the world who struggled last night in the association's annual olympic.

To attain par, squeezes, strip plays, safety plays and other arts of the master were necessary. Once it was necessary to play second high, instead of low, in order to set a contract. Par on another hand was to stop at three hearts when four hearts would be an overbid, although possible to make by finesses. On one hand it was necessary to avoid opening partner's suit.

Throws Cards At Mate

One New York lady who threw her cards at her husband when he was set two redoubled at a heart slam felt justified when she found the par was four spades played by herself. Her husband had no spades; she had no hearts. Neither could get into the other's hand.

A Princeton boy who bet his worldly wealth of 55 cents that he could make a slam by a squeeze had

Federal Government To Set Aside Funds To Aid Studes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2. (AP)—The federal relief administration is going to send 100,000 young men and women to college during the next four and one-half months.

Harry L. Hopkins, administrator of federal relief and the civil works, announced today that $5,000,000 to $7,000,000 was being set aside to help needy students in colleges throughout the country by means of part-time jobs, paying $1 to $20 a month.

Not more than 10 per cent of the students of any college or university may be assisted in this way. He said colleges eligible must be non-profit making.

Touhy Jury Fails To Reach Verdict

CHICAGO, Feb. 2. (AP)—For the second time members of the Chicago gang headed by Roger Touhy today escaped conviction for kidnaping when a jury was unable to agree that they were guilty of abducting John Factor, market speculator.

The jury of craftsmen and tradesmen was discharged by Judge Michael Feinberg after 25 1-2 hours of deliberation when it reported itself hopelessly deadlocked.

The state immediately moved for a new trial and the judge set the date for the rehearing on February 17.

Wichita Collector To Waive Penalties On Car Payments

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 2. (AP) — Arthur C. Howard, Wichita county tax collector, announced late today that his office would waive penalties on payments of automobile license fees until the close of the office tomorrow. He said the two-day "grace" period for auto owners was made possible by dating all licenses as of Feb. 1. A 20 per cent penalty is authorized by state law on licenses purchased after Feb. 1.

Former Deputy Constable At San Antonio Shot To Death

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 2. (AP)—Funeral services for A. C. "Bill" Street, 27, former deputy constable, who was shot to death early today, in a bar, will be held Saturday morning.

Otto "Skeeter" Clauss, 43, who surrendered to Motorcycle Officer A. A. Edwards a few minutes after the shooting, was charged with the murder in a complaint filed before Justice of the Peace John R. Shook. He later was released on bond of $1,500 by Judge W. W. McCrory.

Stay Of Execution For Thirty Days On Real Estate Sales To Satisfy Debts Is Ordered By Legislature

First Relief Act

Bill Adopted By A Two-Thirds Majority In Each House And Becomes Effective At Once With Governor's Okay

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 2.—A stay of execution for thirty days on the sales of real estate foreclosures to satisfy debts was ordered by the Texas legislature today when it passed a bill declaring a moratorium until March 6 on property scheduled to go under the hammer Tuesday throughout the state.

It was the first piece of relief legislation enacted at this special session, which was convened last Monday by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson for the purpose of passing laws to assist the financially distressed.

Immediately Effective

The bill was adopted by a two-thirds majority in each house, thus making it immediately effective when the governor approves it. The legislation cannot reach the executive offices before Monday, however, since the house had adjourned for the weekend when the senate finally acted. The speaker of the house must sign it in the presence of the membership before it can go to the governor. The bill provided that sales could go on where the debtor and mortgage holder agreed to the execution.

Governor Ferguson had suggested the immediate enactment of such a law in her message to the legislature.

To Aid Owners

The bill is intended to tide over the home, ranch and farm owners, whose property is about to be fore-

Kidnapers Are To Face Trial

Gordon Francis Alcorn Caught Shortly After Verne Sankey Is Cornered; Boettcher To Identify Bandits

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—The government ended its roundup today of the six western outlaws who kidnaped the wealthy Denver broker, Charles Boettcher II, last February 12 and held him on a South Dakota ranch until his $60,000 ransom was in their wallets.

Gordon Francis Alcorn, 27, last of the sextet to be trapped, was in custody of the U. S. bureau of investigation, roused from his sleep Thursday night just 35 hours after his teammate of the Canadian national engine crew and his partner in the ransom business, Reo Verne Sankey, was nabbed in a barber's chair.

Sankey Awaits Trial

Sankey was locked away in the county jail at Sioux Falls, S. D., to await a federal court trial about the same moment the federal officers announced their capture of Alcorn. The junior member of the crew was expected to follow Sankey to Sioux Falls.

The roundup of the kidnapers created a sensation in many parts of the nation where they had been sought. From Denver, Boettcher sent word he could identify Alcorn and that he and Mrs. Boettcher would be glad to go to South Dakota to appear against both men.

Woman Slain As Pupils Look On

HARLAN, Iowa, Feb. 2. (AP) — Before the horrified eyes of her 20 pupils, Margaret Graves, 23-year old rural school teacher, was shot to death today by a suitor who then committed suicide.

The suitor, Herman Seick, 28, a farmer, walked into the school house about 3 p. m. and shot the girl in the back with a shotgun as she crouched behind a desk, seeking to evade him.

She struggled to her feet, staggered to the door of the school house and fell from the steps dead.

Coleman Bank Looted Of $24,000; Clyde Barrow Suspected

(By The Associated Press)

A POLICEMAN was slain, three other men were wounded and loot of approximately $180,000 was taken in three bank holdups in the east and one in Texas yesterday.

Four men armed with submachine guns and pistols fatally wounded Policeman Forbes McLeod in robbing the Needham Trust Company bank at Needham, Mass., of $14,500. Another policeman, a fireman and a vault attendant were wounded.

The largest haul was made at Pennsgrove, N. J., where four gunmen seized bags containing $130,000 and escaped. The money was being carried into the Pennsgrove National bank.

Six Kidnaped In Texas

Another robber quartet held up the Union Trust Co. branch bank at Rochester, N. Y., and fled with between $10,000 and $15,000.

FIRE AT CAR

AUSTIN, Feb. 2. (AP)—Ranger Captain J. M. Robbins and Texas Rangers Albert West and Vollie Campbell said here tonight they fired numerous shots late today at an automobile they were positive was driven by Raymond Hamilton, West Dallas desperado. They said they believed one of two cars accompanying that of Hamilton contained Clyde Barrow, much-sought for bank robberies and accused of six killings in the middle west, and Bonnie Parker, his woman companion.

Six employes were kidnaped but later released by robbers who obtained between $23,000 and $24,000 from the First Coleman National bank at Coleman, Tex. A farmer living near Coleman reported he fed Clyde Barrow, notorious Texas outlaw, and his cigar smoking, gun-woman companion, Bonnie Parker, several hours before the robbery.

Six Employes Of Bank At Coleman Kidnaped

COLEMAN, Feb. 2. (AP) — Three masked and heavily-armed men robbed the First Coleman National bank of $24,000 today, kidnaped six employes but later released them and tonight apparently had made good their escape.

Reports of the robbers' whereabouts kept Central West Texas officers on the jump all day but the only clue they found was the abandoned automobile in which the gang fled. Tips that Clyde Barrow, southwestern outlaw, had been one of the robbers could not be confirmed. Barrow was variously reported at Lampasas and on a farm 11 miles west of Coleman.

The men worked methodically, going first to the home of a negro porter of the bank before daylight. They forced him to go to the bank and let them in. Then they waited for the officials and employes.

C. W. Woodruff, an assistant cashier, was the first to arrive. With the negro out of the way—tied hand and foot with wire—they ordered Woodruff to open the vault. Woodruff replied that he could not let them in because the time lock was set for 9 a. m., and they hit him over the head.

In succession, C. W. Hemphill, jr.,

Private Credit From America To Defaulting Nations Will Be Barred; Senate Bill Is Sent To House

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2—Eighteen foreign governments wholly or partly in default on their war and post-war debts to the United States learned from senate action today that they must pay up or go without future private credit from this country.

Without a roll call and after only brief discussion, the bill of Senator Johnson (R-Calif) prohibiting new financial dealings with the defaulters, was repassed and sent to the house. Amendments making the measure satisfactory to the administration were approved.

Sentiment Equal

House sentiment was described by Democratic leaders as equal to the senate in favor of the retaliatory proposal.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic chieftain, said the measure would ally to all defaulters alike without distinction or discrimination, but that under one amendment suggested by the state department and approved by the senate, government corporations like the Reconstruction Finance agency could make loans to all defaulters, including Russia.

Russia owes the United States, as of January 1, $337,000,000, representing borrowings during the war by the czaristic and Kerensky governments.

Penalty Is Fixed

As passed in amended form, the bill fixes a maximum penalty of $10,000 and five years' imprisonment for any person or private corporation who buys or sells any new issues of securities of defaulting countries or loans money to them or

Mayor Held Responsible For Strike Of New York Drivers

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (AP) — In a sudden strike, for which Mayor F. H. LaGuardia was held responsible by two employer groups, thousands of taxicab drivers quit their machines today and left most of their usual patrons to slosh through snow and ice to the nearest subway and elevated stations.

The strike, climaxing a dispute over the distribution of between $500,000 and $1,000,000 in fare taxes, promptly won Mayor La Guardia's unofficial endorsement.

Despite his warning against "rough stuff" there were sporadic outbreaks of minor violence as roving bands of striking hack drivers cruised the five boroughs in an effort to tighten up the walkout.

Silk-Hatted Disciples Of Groundhog Look For More Winter; Shadow Seen

(By The Associated Press)

QUARRYVILLE, Pa., Feb. 2.—The groundhog saw his shadow on the snow today, and silk-hatted disciples of the "supreme weather prophet" solemnly announced at least six weeks more cold weather.

Into the depths of abandoned quarry, just outside this quiet village, went the Slumbering Groundhog Lodge in the dawn's early light to which the woodchuck emerged from his hole.

At 10:24 a. m. Joseph Hooker Wimer, veteran defender of the faith, officially proclaimed that the groundhog had "backed out" of his hole, sniffed the frosty air, took one look at his shadow and went back in again.

From cross-roads stores and filling stations and from farmhouses, the news was telephoned to cities and towns throughout the state.

Telegrams and cablegrams, greetings to the groundhog, poured in on Slumbering Lodge a few hours later. One came from India.

Youngsters may scoff, but to

Young University Student Is Unable To Explain Suicide Of Girl; Body Is Discovered By Her Brother

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Feb. 2.—Grief choked the words of Crawford Godfrey, 20-year old University of Texas junior student, and he was unable to explain tonight the sudden suicide of his 18-year old bride, the former Alyce Mae Sammon, honor graduate two year ago of Highland Park high school here.

"I don't know why it happened," Godfrey said brokenly, "I hadn't seen her since Christmas—but she didn't seem depressed about anything."

Disappears From Home

Her letters had reached him in Austin as usual—then she disappeared from her home here yesterday afternoon. Her brother, Tom Sammon, became alarmed at her absence and began looking for her.

The Sammon home, a smart, new brick cottage, faces on a fashionable street in University Park, near Southern Methodist university. Beyond it stretches a grassy prairie. The brother came upon her body, 300 yards from her home, where she had fallen when the shot was fired into her temple as she walked across the prairie alone.

Married In August

Godfrey and Miss Sammon, an attractive brunette, were married last August in Durant, Okla., but had not announced their marriage to friends.

"Our families knew about it," he said, "but we didn't announce it because I wanted to finish school and get a job—I have about a year and a half more work in the uni-

Twenty Per Cent Penalty Is Assessed On Local Licenses

Approximately 100 Lubbock county motor car owners Friday paid 20 per cent more for their car tags than they would have paid had they purchased the tags prior to midnight, Thursday.

This was the report late Friday of J. B. Bryan, deputy tax collector. He reported the collector's office had had a busy time handling the registrations and penalties.

Under the law, delinquent license fees bear a heavy penalty. Based on the 1933 total registrations, approximately 2,500 motorists will have to pay one-fifth more for being delinquent.

KILLED INSTANTLY

BEAUMONT, Feb. 2. (AP) — W. A. Lee of Daisetta, 40, was killed instantly on the Orange-Beaumont highway tonight when his car crashed into a bridge over Cow Bayou, 12 miles west of Orange. Lee, accompanied by a Mr. Gilchrest, also of Daisetta, was field superintendent for the Humble Oil company in Daisetta.

IF THE ground hog didn't see his shadow Friday it was because he was blind. But if the day was any indication of another six weeks of winter, you can call it spring, or summer, and enjoy it all. Whatever else we have out here, we have the best sunshine in the world. These days this winter couldn't be beat in California or Florida or any other place. The only thing our sunshine is lacking is some advertising for it certainly spends the winter here.

ART SERIES

IF you are interested in art, there is a series of radio broadcasts in which you will be interested, F. A. Kleinschmidt believes. The series starts this evening at 8 o'clock over the National Broadcasting chain.

PROCRASTINATION

THERE'S one thing I have a hard time understanding. That is why it is easier to stand in line on the last day to buy an automobile license than it is to walk over and get it a month earlier at the same price.

But that seems to be human nature.

The ordinary one of us usually waits to pay any kind of a bill until the last day upon which it can be paid. We inconvenience ourselves to pay our taxes late and cause ourselves other trouble simply by procrastination.

Yet, when we make a bill it should be our intention to pay it. We honestly owe the money to the merchant. He is doing us a favor by delaying payment and by no stretch of the imagination can we consider that he has done an injustice in sending us a statement.

We may have a different feeling about taxes. Yet they are levied in order to carry on the government and taxes such as car license fees are usually luxury taxes. If we are to drive a car, as most of us intend to do, we are forced to pay the tax. It costs no less on January 31 than it does on December 31 or any date earlier than that. If we manage our financial affairs with any sort of order we can have the money on hand early for we have had an entire year to prepare for that payment.

Yet, since we are human and procrastinate, we delay this payment and at the last moment stand in line with the mob tramping on our heels and with our patience worn to shreds. All because we had rather put a thing off than do it.

YOU CALL US

DURING the last few years many people in the city have had their telephones removed and this has been a distinct inconvenience to society editors. For most of our contracts are made over the telephone.

There are a number of clubs and societies in town whose reporters or presidents do not have telephones. Several of these live next door to people with 'phones and frequently in our hunt for news we are told to call Mrs. Doe and ask her to call the party we want from next door.

That usually ends the hunt as far as we are concerned. When we do make such a call it is because we feel that it is necessary that we talk to the woman who has no telephone.

If I keep a clear conscience I can't be asking busy housewives to drop their work and run over to call a neighbor to the telephone. It is lots of bother and trouble and I know it. Even the most obliging woman is going to feel some annoyance occasionally.

It is a sort of golden rule proposition. I know that I would hate to stop in the middle of preparing a meal or feeding the baby to call some one to the telephone in my home, unless that call were a necessary one.

So if you are the reporter without a telephone or the president of a society about which we are to run regular announcements, call us instead of expecting us to call you over a neighbor's 'phone. That will help matters out all around. But don't wait to mail us a report. The chances are that we shall have published two or three papers while the note is reaching us.

Marian Martin Pattern

A VERSATILE FROCK
PATTERN 9916

Usher in the new season with this crisp, young frock. Complement its simplicity of line by well chosen fabrics and you'll be very smart indeed. Fashion it of silk or cotton—either a dashing print or a vibrant monotone—and use ribbon for the tricky scarf. Or omit the scarf, and let the raglan sleeves perk out in contrasting color—see small sketch. The longer sleeve shown on the back view is still another idea. With lines and details so simple, the frock is really very easy to put together.

Pattern 9916 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 2 7-8 yards 39 inch fabric and 1 1-8 yards ribbon.

Send fifteen cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.

Order your copy of the new Marian Martin spring pattern book—a practical Spring sewing guide, offering stunning models for all occasions for grown-ups, juniors and youngsters, and for the woman who needs slenderizing lines. Prices of new book, fifteen cents, book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Send your order to The Morning Avalanche, Pattern Department, 232 W. 18th St., New York, N. Y.

Events Are In Four Churches

Valentine Motif Is Used For Decorations; Contests And Games Are Entertainments For Young People

Several city church congregations welcomed Tech students with receptions at the institutions Thursday evening. These affairs were for those who are starting their school career here as well as those who are continuing with their studies.

Parties and receptions were extended in the parlors of the church buildings. The Valentine theme predominated in appointments, refreshments and games.

There were about 45 at the party given in the First Presbyterian church. E. B. Grimes directed games and Miss Christine Berrier prepared the refreshments. They were assisted by Misses Ruth Lewis and Eleanor Hodges. Red and white decorations were used.

Have Game Theme

"The Four Ages of Man" was the theme of entertainment for the First Baptist party, which was attended by about 120 students. Miss Patti Hopping directed games which were in four themes, representing games played by man from his childhood to old age. Various classes and other organizations in the congregation presented stunts.

There were games and contests directed by Truett McCuistion and Mrs. Bonnie Dillehay at the College Avenue Baptist party. The Valentine theme was featured.

Seventy-Five Attend

Games were directed by Marshall Rhew at the First Methodist student party, which was attended by about 75. Miss Myrtle Dunn directed music. The church orchestra played and Gordon Gaines sang. Refreshments were served by Mesdames C. E. Maedgen and M. C. Overton, assisted by a number of high school girls.

There was an attendance of about 60, including 12 new students, at the Asbury Methodist party. Larry Taylor, president of the young people's group in the church, directed games, assisted by Hulen Freeland. Charles Fike and Miss Virginia Magee played musical selections. Greetings were extended by Mr Taylor and the Rev. A. W. Gordon.

School Gathering Is Well Attended

About 85 attended a meeting of the Junior High Parent-Teacher association at the school Thursday evening.

Miss Bonnie K. Dysart talked on "The Significance of Parental Attitude." Misses Evelyn Garlington and Eunice Klett played piano selections and Miss Frances McKee sang.

Final Tribute Paid Russians

Joseph Stalin And Officials Of Government Are Present As Bodies Of Three Fliers Are Buried

BY STANLEY P. RICHARDSON
Associated Press Foreign Staff

MOSCOW, Feb. 2—In the presence of Joseph Stalin and other high officials of the government, the victims of Soviet Russia's stratosphere catastrophe were buried in the wall of the Kremlin late today.

Ten thousand persons massed in Red Square looked on as a light snow fell.

Three volleys from red army riflemen, concealed on ramparts of the wall, ended ceremonies for the three victims—Pavil Fedoseinko, Andrey Vasenko and Ilya Usyskin — killed Tuesday in the crash of their balloon after having apparently set an unofficial world's altitude record.

A barograph showed that they had made an ascent of 72,178 feet into the murky skies, several thousand feet higher than the official record.

Urns containing ashes of the three men were personally placed in the wall by L. M. Vyacheslaff Molotov, president of the council of commissars; and Gregory K. Ordzhonokidzie, president of the supreme economic council.

For Hard Coughs Or Colds That Worry You

Creomulsion is made to give supreme help for coughs or colds. It combines seven helps in one—the best helps known to science. It is for quick relief, for safety.

But careful people, more and more, use it for every cough that starts. No one knows where a cough may lead. No one can tell which factor will do most. That depends on the type of cold.

Creomulsion costs a little more than lesser helps. But it means the utmost help. And it costs you nothing if it fails to bring the quick relief you seek. Your druggist guarantees it. Use it for safety's sake. (adv.)

Putting God's Kingdom First

* * * *

Text: Matt. 6:1-34

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 4

By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D., Editor Of The Congregationalist

THE message that Jesus brought to men concerned the Kingdom of God .It was a message for which many in Israel were prepared, for the religious life of Israel was marked by the hope of a coming Messiah and a Messianic kingdom.

Just what was the nature of this Kingdom of God that Jesus came to establish was then, and is now, a matter of much controversy. To some it was then, as it is to many today, a kingdom of truth and righteousness and justice to be established on earth. To others the Kingdom is more remote and spiritual in its nature.

To the latter, its realization in the hearts of men is a force tending to change the world for the better, but the consummation of the Kingdom is not thought of as earthly or material except as earth and heaven may meet in "some far-off divine event."

Into these controversies and critical speculations and interpretations it is not necessary that we should enter in order to profit by the teaching of Jesus concerning the Kingdom. The fact is that we may put altogether too much of our interest and attention on questions about the Kingdom, while we neglect the realities of the Kingdom itself.

IT was precisely this attitude that Jesus rebuked when he reminded those who were saying that the Kingdom of Heaven is "Lo, here" and "Lo, there," that it was a Kingdom within their own hearts.

It is more profitable to consider the characteristics and attributes of the Kingdom, the sort of life lived by its King, and the sort of life and character demanded in its subjects, than to enter into speculations concerning how and when some outward manifestation of the Kingdom is to come.

When we approach the Kingdom of God in this way, these characteristics are marked rather plainly. The Kingdom of God the King, and His subjects are all very definitely distinguished from the kingdoms, kings, and subjects of this world.

The Kingdom of God is a kingdom of the unselfish, of those who are not seeking earthly treasure for themselves, but of those who are seeking the deeper treasures of the Kingdom of Heaven—that is, the treasure of loving character and good deeds and true relationships, the things that neither life nor death can destroy and that are always safe and permanent investments.

THE Kingdom of GGod is a kingdom of those who are sincere and single-minded. It is a kingdom of those who are seeking the light and whose eyes are not blinded by any insincerity or duplicity of mind and heart. It is a kingdom of those who have made their choice very definitely for God against Mammon, and those who see in life some higher purpose than mere existence or even preservation of the body.

It is a kingdom, manifestly, of those who have brought into their lives a scale of worths and values somewhat different from that of a selfish and materialistic world; of those who believe that a man's soul is worth a great deal more than could be measured against it even if this were the whole world.

What Jesus came to declare was that this Kingdom of God was for all men capable of accepting it. It was not for the rich nor for the mighty, but now, in the coming of the Savior of men, the poor had the gospel preached to them, and the pure in heart, though lowly, had the privilege of seeing God and entering into His Kingdom.

Good Return Is Reported In Brownfield President's Ball

"We believe we had the best return per capita from our president's ball of any town in the state," J. E. Shelton, secretary of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, said here yesterday in announcing the net was $237.

"We deducted our expenses, including an orchestra from Lubbock, and the printing and other costs," he added. "I understood there was a '42' game that netted nearly $200 but I had nothing to do with that part of the program."

The dance was held in the Dock Powell building. Many of the citizens of the town attended and enjoyed the occasion. Mr. Shelton said he danced" for the first time in 25 years."

Persons Neglecting To Get 1934 Licenses Rounded Up

Roundup of persons who neglected to secure a 1934 auto license tag was started yesterday by state highway and other peace officers. Other traffic regulations violations also were being checked. Charges were filed in the court of Justice J. S. Connell.

One man entered a plea of guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle not registered and was fined one dollar and costs.

Two men entered pleas of guilty to operating trucks without rear lights on the trailers and were fined the same. One man paid a dollar fine and $13.15 costs for overloading his truck. Another man was fined for alleged drunken driving.

Panhandle To Conserve Gas

Land Owners And Producers Of Oil And Gas In Area Meet In Fort Worth; Conservation Group Planned

FORT WORTH, Feb. 2. (AP)—Panhandle land owners and producers of oil and gas in the district were in Fort Worth today for the purpose of organizing the Panhandle Construction association. Joe T. Sneed, Amarillo ranchman, presided at the meeting as temporary chairman.

Election of officers and directors was one of the chief items of business.

Wastage of approximately 500,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily through operation of nearly 40 natural gasoline plants in the Panhandle has alarmed Panhandle land owners who fear the largest natural fuel reserve in the western plains will be prematurely exhausted. Engineers have estimated that at the present rate of withdrawal, permitted up to 25 per cent of the open flow capacity, the reserve will be exhausted in about 10 years.

Sneed said the Panhandle Conservation association would enlist the support of representatives from all West and North Texas cities to join the movement because their economical and convenient fuel supply is at stake in prolonging dissipation of the reserve.

Recheck Made On Poll Taxes And Total Goes Still Higher

Recheck Friday of poll tax receipts issued, indicated the total was 8,115 instead of 8,031 as announced, according to Hurley Carpenter, collector.

A report from Slaton said 734 receipts had been written there, when as a matter of fact ,the total was 818, he said.

"We expect at least 200 to 250 in the mails, when we get the letters opened," Mr. Carpenter explained. "I look for around 8,400. We had 8,500 receipts printed and I believe we will use nearly all of them. For a time Wednesday night it looked as if we would be short of blanks."

Slaton branch office of the collector turned in $16,453.17 Mr. Carpenter reported. This included auto license fees, poll taxes and ad valorem taxes. The latter is expected to account for about half of the total.

Sales of new passenger autos in the United States in July were 63 per cent greater than in July, 1932, and only 2 per cent below June, thus far the peak month of the year.

Aimee Says She Will Not Be Able To Resist Turning Back To Preaching

NEWS BRIEFS

AMARILLO, Feb. 2. (AP)—Aimee Semple McPherson opened a six weeks lecture tour here last night with the statement that "I probably won't keep things on a lecture basis; I'm just sure to turn to evangelism."

In a dramatic lecture, "America Awake," she flayed the teaching of evolution in the public schools, and communism, bolshevism and intolerance.

With tableaux she showed satan stealing the cornerstone of faith from beneath the national capitol and a communist taking the other cornerstone, labeled "home," while Miss Columbia, representing the American people, slept on the capitol steps.

"Let us get away from our money grabbing and get back to God," she pleaded. "This is no time for intolerance. It is a time for understanding — between states, nations churches and business men.

"If the blue eagle is to soar above our national discord, it must have two wings, one of material recovery and the other of spiritual recovery."

An open window in the Hodges Brothers store, 1115 Avenue G, resulted in a burglar alarm being sounded and an investigation by police early Friday morning. Nothing was found to be missing, police said.

Altus, Okla., police are holding a man, arrested Sunday, said to be wanted in Terry county for a store robbery at Meadow, according to reports. Extradition proceedings have been started for his return to Texas.

E. F. Huntsucker, Amherst, editor of the Amherst Argus, was here yesterday afternoon attending the South Plains good road meeting. Mr. Huntsucker represented the chamber of commerce.

Littlefield is crowded and many people have to live temporarily in tourist camps before they can find a location, Joe W. Hale, secretary of the chamber of commerce, said here yesterday. A number of new people are moving into farms in Lamb county, he added.

Becton residents enjoyed a good rabbit hunt yesterday. County Clerk Ed Allen said on his return from the northwest part of the county. The morning crowd was small and at noon only about 200 rabbits were killed. More people came in about that time and Mr. Allen estimated between 75 and 100 people were there when he left.

Colonel Price, a negro, charged in justice court with theft, was placed under $150 bond by Justice J. S. Connell for appearance February 5.

A score or more of new farmers have come into Bailey county around Muleshoe this winter, according to Jess Mitchell, editor of the Muleshoe Journal, here yesterday. Conditions are much improved over a year ago, he added.

Crosby county is in good shape represented by more than a score of business it has had in several years, Judge Edgar Hutchins, former county judge, said while here last night. He came over to attend the good roads meeting and also the national reemployment service council and will remain for the Young Democrats's meeting. Albert N. Crandall accompanied him.

North Plains Democrats will be represented by more than a score of leaders here for the young Democrat's West Texas convention, John L. McCarty, publisher of the Dalhart Texan, only daily paper in the extreme north part of the state said while here. Mr. McCarty said a larger delegation from other towns would be here this morning.

A talk by Dr. W. C. Holden of the Texas Tech faculty and musical numbers by Richard and Henry Godeke, Robert Karnegy and Frank Stone were given at the luncheon of the American Business club at the Hilton Friday noon. It was announced the club would meet at the Hilton next Wednesday to hear Herman J. Smith of Ponca City, Okla., national president, and Chas. R. Warren, district governor, of Oklahoma City, in talks to the club.

M. B. Kuntz, Clovis, N. M., manager of the J. C. Penney company store there, was reported as improving nicely at the Lubbock sanitarium last night, where he has been for an operation and treatment. Mr Kuntz, son of Dr. E. B. Kuntz, was here several months ago for medical treatment and later returned for a second operation.

Credit Offices Opened In City

Headquarters of the recently formed Lubbock Production Credit association are in the east half of the ground floor of the West Texas Gas company's building, Tenth street at Avenue K, Sim O'Neal, secretary-treasurer, announced yesterday.

Although the association has taken some applications for loans this week, the quarters will be furnished and personnel aligned to begin work at full swing next Monday, Mr. O'Neal said.

"We have been delayed somewhat," he said, "because of not having office furniture and supplies and so forth."

Lubbock county directors of the association have appointed one inspector and possibly will name another, Mr. O'Neal reported.

The association, of which G. K. Horton of Hurlwood, Lubbock county, is president, received a federal charter last Saturday. It has $150,000 capital stock, subscribed by the Farm Credit administration, and is authorized to make agricultural loans totaling $750,000. It will serve Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, and Garza counties.

House Moves To Commemorate Service Of Vice President

AUSTIN, Feb. 2 (AP) — John N. Garner, vice-president of the United States, started his legislative career as a member of the Texas house of representatives and today that body moved to commemorate his service.

A resolution was adopted appropriating $500 from the contingent expense fund of the legislature to provide a portrait of the vice-president for the rotunda of the state capitol.

Vice-President Garner served in the 26th, 27th and 28th, legislatures.

Two Are Hurt As Ship Falls

University Of Texas Student And Flying Instructor Are Injured When Their Plane Goes Into Spin

AUSTIN, Feb. 2. (AP) — Chilton O'Brien, 23, of Beaumont, University of Texas student, and F. R. Haile, 28, instructor in flying at a local airport, were injured today when their airplane fell from an altitude of 2,000 feet into a field near here.

O'Brien, editor of The Cactus, University yearbook, and popular on the campus, received a broken nose, bruises about his face and legs and possibly a fracture of the jaw. Haile was more seriously injured. He received a broken nose, facial fractures, bruised eyes and a mashed chest. Doctors said he probably was not fatally hurt.

O'Brien is a student flier. He freed himself from the wreckage and assisted others in taking Haile to a hospital.

The plane went into a spin from a steep bank and never was brought under control.

Lamb Weighing 16 Pounds At Birth Reported Here Friday

A lamb that weighed 16 pounds at birth was reported yesterday by B. Reiger, owner of the ewe, Slide, 13 miles south and 5 miles west of Lubbock. The ewe was from Texas Technological college's Rambouillet herd and the ram a Shropshire owned by Gene Wilson of Slaton.

Mr. Rieger said the largest lamb born previously among his sheep weighed about 12 pounds, and estimated the average at not more than 8.

When the lamb, normal of body was born, the owner, impressed by its size, took it to scales soon afterward and weighed it. It was a buck lamb.

Oberlin was the first co-educational college in America.

A Cleansing Laxative

For the relief of constipation troubles, Mr. L. R. Myers, of Justin, Texas, writes that he has obtained good results from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught, obtainable at any store where medicines are sold. "At times I feel tired, sore and out of sorts and my head will begin aching," writes Mr. Myers. "I know if I don't get the trouble fixed, it will get me down. I take a dose of Black-Draught for two or three nights. It cleans my system, and I feel fine."

ARTICLE NO. III

An Educational Series on the Banking Act of 1933

Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

In our last Article we outlined the formation of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the temporary plan which becomes effective January 1, 1934, and the permanent plan which becomes effective July 1, 1934.

It is easy to see that if bank deposits are to be guaranteed, necessary changes must be made from time-honored banking practices. The Banking Act of 1933 makes various changes which banks as members of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation must comply with.

One of the faults in previous banking practice has been the fact that executive officers of many banks were borrowing money from those banks personally. Section 22 of the Federal Reserve Act has been amended by the Banking Act of 1933 so as to forbid any National bank, or any State bank or trust company who are members of the Federal Reserve System, to loan money to its executive officers and forbids them from borrowing money from the bank.

Loans previously made may be renewed or extended for not more than two years from the date the provision takes effect, provided they are adequately secured and pass examination.

The Federal Reserve Act is further amended to prohibit an executive officer of a bank which is a member of the Federal Insurance Corporation to borrow money from any other bank unless permission is given in writing for the officer to borrow, by the Chairman of the Board of Directors of that particular officer's bank.

In a few words, the amendment to Section 22 of the Federal Reserve Act means that from now on no executive officer can borrow money from his bank. If he borrows money from any other member bank he must submit a written request to the Board of Directors of his bank and secure permission from the Chairman of the Board to make such a loan.

The Banking Act of 1933 provides that if an officer of a member bank violates the law or in any way continues unsafe or unsound practices in conducting the business of the bank with which he is connected, that he be removed from office by the Federal Reserve Board.

Thus you see that this new Banking Act of 1933 makes drastic changes in banking practices in order to guarantee depositors' funds.

Lubbock Loses Over-Time Tilt To Pampa; Matadors Defeat West Texas

Locals Carry Fight Through Three Periods

Westerners Meet Borger Here Tonight; Show Change Of Form Last Night To Fight Bitterly All The Way

Displaying a complete reversal of form, fighting like doughboys and defending their goal like early frontiersmen, the Lubbock Westerners came as near winning a regulation-time basketball game last night as is possible, without winning.

At the end of the scheduled 32 minutes of playing time, the score was: Pampa 35, Lubbock 35.

The next three minutes, all that is allowed for overtime, saw a swirl of action among ten desperately fighting schoolboys, but at the end of it, Pampa had won another Panhandle League game, 39 to 35.

Most surprising to everybody concerned, even to their hard-working coach, John Swede McMurry, was the fine performance staged by the Westerners, tail-enders of the league, last night. Giving away many pounds in weight and inches in height, the yellow-suited youngsters fought with everything but the door handles of the gymnasium in an effort to climb from the lower rung.

Try Again Tonight

Tonight the same Westerners, now more confident than they have been all season, and convinced that they have basketball knowledge and ability, will try again to leave the cellar. They meet the Borger Bulldogs at 7:30 oclock at the Lubbock High gymnasium.

A large crowd was on hand last night, and this might have inspired Patterson, Smallin, Jones, Chase, McWhorter and Loftis to basketball heights.

Coach Odus Mitchell's "football" team, so-called because the lineup contained names such as Green, Marbaugh, Owens, Dunaway, Scott, Heiskell and Hamilton, also fought hard, but were a trifle taken aback by this big-voiced bunch of little guys whom they punished last week at Pampa.

Tied Five Times

The score was tied no less than five times, but until the closing moments of the game, Lubbock stayed in front after the tie-ups. At the first quarter, the teams were deadlocked, 6-all, big Green, forward, having sacked a field goal to tie the score after Smallin, Jones and Chase for Lubbock had registered from the floor.

At the half, the score was 19 to 11, favoring Lubbock, and fandom had visions of a Westerner victory, which would have been the first important victory of the season.

But Green, high point man of the evening with eight field goals and five free shots to his credit, kept pouring 'em in for Pampa, and the third quarter found Lubbock leading, 26 to 24.

Smallin Ties Score

The count was deadlocked twice in the last period. Green flipped in a field goal to tie the count, and a charity shot for a brief lead. He scored another field goal, then Patterson, wee Lubbock forward, chalked up a 2-pointer. Green a free shot, and Andy Smallin dropped in one from scrimmage to tie the count at 30-all.

Jones, Westerner center, dropped in a field goal and two free shots for a 4-point lead. Heiskell made one from scrimmage and Green tied it up with a second go. Then things got interesting. With the score knotted at 34-all, Heiskell flipped a free shot. Time was out, and just after the tip-off, Dunaway committed a personal and the referee's whistle and the final gun went off at the same time.

Hey! Come Back

The crowd started to leave, thinking Pampa had won on the free shot. After much argufying, pro and con, between officials and coaches, play was resumed; that is, little McWhorter was allowed his free shot. He made it. That called for an extra session, and Dunaway dropped in a free shot to lead. Irving scored from the floor and Green tallied from the toe-line. The Westerners, fighting as hard as ever, were overcome at last, unable to score in the extra period.

The box score:

Pampa—	FG	FT	PF	TP
Woodward, f	1	0	1	2
Green, f	6	5	1	21

HILL BILLIES WIN

BROWNWOOD, Feb. 2. (AP)—The Daniel Baker college basketball team defeated Southwestern's aggregation tonight in a Texas conference game, 45 to 35. Daniel Baker was leading, 20 to 13, at the half.

Four Teams Left In Cage Tourney; Draughon's And Ralls Win Friday Night

Slaton Quintet Put Out By Ralls In Hectic Game

Draughon's Business college's business-like quintet trounced the 131st Artillery cagers 39 to 20, and the Ralls independents ran over Slaton, 40 to 24, for the second round eliminations in the Panhandle Independent tournament.

The smooth-working business college team, coached by Alvis Day, razzle-dazzled the Army athletes all the way and held them to three field goals in the first half.

Ralls Takes Lead

Ralls took an early lead and kept it all the way to go into the quarter finals of the tournament. Tonight Draughon's meets Liberty, who Thursday night defeated Center, 46 to 6, and Ralls takes on the winner of the Littlefield-Anton contest played late last night.

In the first game, Arthur, Draughon's center, started the scoring with a long field goal. Lefty Sollis, playing forward for the Army, responded with a neat field goal off his wrist, but Hitt, of Draughon's, threw in two from the field, and the business college boys led by 6 to 2, at the first intermission.

Mix In Wrestling

Hitt flung in two more field goals, and Barkley, Draughon's guard, scored to leave the Army at the post. Kelsey, of the army, dropped in a field goal from under the basket. Barkley stood in the center of the court bouncing the ball. Bulldog Hale attempted to throw a flying scissors on him, and received a personal for his pains. Score at half, six to 14, favor the business students.

J. and H. Keye and Arthur, who, incidently took high scoring honors for the game with 10 points, pounded the army for 16 points in the third chukker. The army led by Briscoe retaliated weakly.

In the second game, Smith of Ralls, took the scoring title with seven field goals and one foul line throw. Harvey Dunn, also of Ralls, followed with 12 points most of them scored in the glimmering minutes of the last quarter.

Grant, again was the spear-head of the Slaton offense chalking up 10 points. Ralls led by from five to 12 points all the distance, and staged a last-quarter barrage to completely squelch Slaton.

Davis Cup Challengers Are Drawn For First Opponents

LONDON, Feb. 2. (AP)—The 15 nations remaining in the list of challengers for the Davis Cup after last summer's preliminary rounds today were drawn for the international tennis competition from which will come the team to challenge England for the trophy.

The United States will play Canada in the first round of the North American zone with Mexico to play the winner. Brazil and Peru are the only entries in the South American zone while Czechoslovakia, New Zealand, Italy, Switzerland, India, France, Austria, Germany, Australia and Japan are the survivors in the European competition.

With the United States conceded the standout team in American zone play, the luck of the draw threw the four favored teams in the European zone — France, Germany, Australia and Japan—in the same half of the brackets.

Frogs And Aggies To Scrap For Conference Lead Tonight

FORT WORTH, Feb. 2. (AP)—With top spot in the Southwest conference cage rankings as the prize, the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs and the Aggies from Texas A. and M. will engage in a contest of goal tossing here Saturday night.

Saturday night's tete-a-tete will be the first of the season between the teams coached by Francis Schmidt and Johnny Reid. With both clubs now ranked as outstanding contenders for the title, the duel will draw the attention of the entire circuit. Right now, the two teams are deadlocked with Rice for the lead and the winner Saturday night will take undisputed possession of the golden chair for the present.

If anything, the Frogs are slight favorites. They are playing at home, which means a great deal in basketball. Then, too, they have a slight edge in experience and height, important factors.

Escaped Convicts Will Be Brought To Texas For Trial

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 2. (AP)—"Whitey" Walker, his wife, Dolores, and Ray A. Johnson, escaped Oklahoma convicts who were wounded and captured by officers here a few days ago, today were turned over to Sheriff J. L. Boyd of Palestine, Tex., where they are wanted on charges of armed bank robbery.

The Congressional Library at Washington, D. C., has a rare collection of Persian manuscripts, dating back to the ninth century.

W. T. Harris and Chrane led the scorers with ten points each.

DERRILL PRATT.

After a couple of years respite from the exigencies of managing a baseball club, Derrill "Del" Pratt, former manager of the Waco Cubs and Galveston Buccaneers, steps back into a Texas League uniform this season as manager of the Fort Worth Panthers. Pratt, a leaguer before coming as manager to the Texas loop, was named manager of the Lubbock Baseball club of the West Texas-New Mexico league, a club and a league that never was born, last year.

Rules Committee Of Grid Coaches To Study Change

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (AP) — The rules committee of the American Football Coaches' association, meeting tomorrow under the chairmanship of Lou Little of Columbia, is expected to approve only one of the five major changes up for consideration in the inter-collegiate gridiron code.

This concerns a change in the forward passing regulations calculated to aid the offense. It probably will take the form of a recommendation to the national rules committee, which meets a fortnight hence in Atlanta, that the code be liberalized to make the end zone, in effect, a part of the playing field for forward passing purposes.

Under the existing rules any pass grounded in the end zone is automatically a touchback. Under the coaches' prospective recommendation, such a pass simply would be considered incomplete, as in the case with the play on any other part of the field, and the offense would keep possession. An incompleted pass into the end zone on fourth down, under the proposed change, would not be a touchback but simply entitle the defending team to take possession at the point where the offense last put the ball in play.

"Many of us think the present rules put too great a penalty on the offense for trying to pass into the end zone on first or second down," said William A. Alexander, Georgia Tech coach, in discussing the rules proposals today.

Although there is not much prospect of their adoption, as least four other major changes will be discussed tomorrow afternoon by the coaches and put to a committee vote, including (1) the proposal to bring the ball out 15 yards from the sidelines, instead of 10, on plays that cross the boundary; (2) elimination of the fumble or so-called "dead ball" rules, especially the one declaring the ball dead when any part of the carrier's body touches the ground except his hands or feet; (3) return of the goal posts to the goal line; and (4) permission to forward pass from any spot behind the scrimmage lines, instead of restricting the passer to appoint five yards back of the scrimmage line.

GUS MANCUSO ILL

HOUSTON, Feb. 2. (AP)—Gus Mancuso, stellar catcher of the world champion New York Giants, has been confined to bed six days in his home here, it was learned tonight.

Mrs. Mancuso said his physician feared the catcher had typhoid fever but would withhold his verdict pending a more conclusive blood count. He has been running a high fever.

Derrill Pratt Named Skipper Panther Club

Former Waco And Galveston Pilot Is Appointed Business Manager And Field Manager Of Fort Worth Ball Club

FORT WORTH, Feb. 2. (AP)—Derrill B. "Del" Pratt, is the 1934 business and field manager of the Fort Worth Cats.

The appointment of the former manager of the Waco and Galveston clubs of the Texas League to the dual capacity was announced today by Roy A. Westbrook, president of the Fort Worth ball club, inc. The announcement came shortly after a meeting of the board of directors.

Meehan In Office

It also was announced that Roy Meehan, who has been connected with the Cats since 1917, would be retained and placed in charge of the office.

"We'll start to work Saturday," voiced both Pratt and Meehan in accepting the positions.

"We feel that we have selected the best men and a fine combination for the handling of the club," said Westbrook. "Pratt was highly recommended to us and received strongs boosts from several major clubs to which we inquired."

Pratt Is Happy

Pratt was happy over his selection as business and field manager. "I'll try to assemble a club here that will be ready to go," said Pratt, "and hope to get one of experience. "I plan to make major league connections in an effort to obtain these men."

Handicaps To Be Used This Year In Pro-Amateur

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Officials and members of the Texas Professional Golfers' association deserve congratulation on the new system inaugurated for this year's semi-weekly amateur-pro medal play tournaments. Past records reveal that professionals generally have sought as partners such outstanding amateur shot-makers as Gus Moreland, Reynolds Smith, Louis Nowlin, Elliott Hatch, Gordon Young, Harry Todd, Bobby Burns and others who were sure to click with two or three birdies during the progress of 18-holes.

Under Pressure

This year the system will be different. When an amateur-pro event is played at Sulphur Springs, Corsicana, Ennis, Greenville, Waco, Texarkana, San Angelo, Wichita Falls or other city, the invading professionals will have as partners members of the country club sponsoring that week's tournament. Club handicaps will apply. Under this system the rankest dub will have a chance due to his handicap. It will put the pressure on the boys with small handicaps.

Members of the association are happy over this new plan, they are convinced it will stimulate keener interest among country club members in the semi-weekly tournaments. They believe it will increase the popularity of golf in the smaller cities because it will give all club members a chance to play with such prominent professionals as Larry Nabholtz, Francis Scheider, Willie Maguire, Jack Grout, Smiley Rowland, Dick Grout, George Aulbach, Dudley Bell, Byron Nelson, Todd Menefee and many others.

Scribes May Play

Small country clubs are responding with suggestions that they be included on this year's playing schedule. The only "leak" in the new system is that sports writers will be allowed the privilege of playing in the tournaments regardless of which clubs they are sponsored by. However, the records show there is nothing to fear from the typewriter pounders since the closest one has yet come to winning was in the also ran class.

Francis McGonagill, Texas Professional Golfers' association champion and tournament chairman, will soon meet with Leonard G. Wilson, official tournament starter and member of the tournament committee, to arrange a definite playing schedule. The Sulphur Springs Country club through John Biggerstaff and Weber Fouts has placed a bid for at least two amateur-pro events this summer and Corsicana Country club through Nick and Johnny Garrity, has placed a bid for one or two tournaments. From indications golfers in the smaller cities are going to see plenty of the leading professionals in this year's amateur-pro tournaments.

It's Football Time Again; Westerner Candidates Show Up For Spring Drill

Opening Day Shows Promising Grid Ivory At Work

Thirty-five or forty boys steeped in gridiron traditions and familiar with potentialities that it will take to whamdoodle the whey out of Amarillo and Pampa next fall, the Lubbock high Westerners went through their first outdoor spring drill yesterday evening under the direction of Assistant Coach Berl Huffman.

A promising new fullback and a couple of heavily framed lineman out for the squad are new developments in the Westerner football camp.

A Big Fullback

Big and active Russel Fulton, who weighs 190 pounds in the nude and has legs like a heavyweight wrestler, is the likliest material for fullback duties seen around here in some time. "Russel has action," said Coach Huffman, "there's nothing lethargic about him.

Coaches Weldon Chapman and Huffman are looking for a blocking halfback. There is a least one veteran for all the positions on the line.

Veteran Linemen

The ends, Starkey Whitehorne, Ossie Griggs, and Charles Calhoun, if he is not shifted to the backfield, will be on the firing line come next fall. And the 1934 gridiron season will see the versatile little Morris White, off the Cowhands, cutting up in the Westerner secondary. Othie Upton, Robert Hill, Vergil Griner, and some of the others will round out the backs.

Howell Young, at center, Woodrow Aycock and Barnes, at guards, and Dixie White and Country Phillips at tackles, will complete the lineup of seasoned performers.

Lamb County Cage Tourney To Be Held At Slade Gym; Dates Are February 9-10

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 2. (Special)—Lamb county's annual basketball tournament, a part of the interscholastic league, will be held in the Spade high school gym February 9 and 10.

Schedule of Friday is a follows: 4 p. m., Fieldton vs. Sudan; 5 p. m., Hart's Camp vs. Littlefield; 7 p. m., Olton vs. Spring Lake; 8 p. m., Amherst vs. Spade.

Winner of the Olton-Spring Lake game plays winner of the Hart's Camp, Littlefield at 5 p. m. Saturday and winner of the Amherst-Spade game plays winner of the Fieldton-Sudan game at 8 p. m.

Wiffy Cox Barely Swings On To Lead In Agua Caliente; Hunter Is Close

By BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex., Feb. 2. (AP)—Wiffy Cox held his slim lead in the Agua Caliente open by shooting par 71 today for a 54-hole total of 210 but the golfing pack was on his heels and the Brooklyn professional's position was none too secure.

Willie Hunter, the most menacing of the Dyker Beach man's pursuers, turned in a fine 70 today for a total of 211, cutting a stroke from Wiffy's second round lead.

With only 18 holes to go the 36-year old Cox and 41-year-old Hunter were showing the way to the ambitious youngsters and if the up and coming boys are to figure in the winning picture they must strike quickly.

Tie For Third

A three-cornered tie for third place was established at the end of the third day's play. Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y., Olin Dutra, Santa Monica, Calif., and Ky Laffoon of Denver, were grouped at 214.

For the second time in two days Runyan could not collect a birdie on the second nine and had to be satisfied with a 72. Dutra returned a par 71 in spite of a five on a par three hole and Laffoon toured the course in 69, a hole in one at the 195 yard ninth helping his score.

Stanley Kertes of Los Angeles and Vic Ghezzi of Rumson, N. J., had scores of 215 for three rounds, Kertes scoring 70 today and Ghezzi 72.

The veteran Abe Espinosa scored his third 72 in three days and was joined in the 216 bracket by Fay Coleman, young Culver City, Calif., pro. Coleman, a star amateur a few years ago, leaped over many of his fellows and took his place among the leaders by shooting a sensational 67 to equal the course record.

Mac Smith Consistent

MacDonald Smith, the Scotch vet, continued to be consistent but not effective enough to threaten by playing the course for the third time in 73 strokes. In each round the sweet swinging pro from Carnoustie has played the first nine in 37 strokes and the second in 36.

Leo Diegel, former pro at Agua Caliente had 67, the second made by Craig Wood Wednesday. Since Wood cut a stroke from the old record in the opening round, Bill Mehlhorn, Diegel and Coleman have equalled it.

Porkers Beat Baylor, 31-29

Arkansas Wins Thrilling Tilt After Bears Control Lead In First Three Quarters; Play At Waco Again Tonight

WACO, Feb. 2. (AP)—The Baylor Bears, playing their best basketball this season, led the Arkansas Razorbacks for three quarters tonight and then lost their scoring punch and the game, 31 to 29.

The Razorbacks, led by Jack Newby, a substitute, staged a great rally in the final period and nosed out the Bruins in a contest filled with thrills.

At the half, the Bears were leading by a seven-point margin, 21 to 14.

Baylor Stars Lead

Newby and Clark of Baylor shared scoring honors of the game, each making 12 points.

Clark, usually a forward, was started at a guard position tonight as Coach Ralph Wolfe shifted his lineup. The new combination proved more successful than any Baylor has tried in its games heretofore this season.

Jimmy Parks, Baylor captain and star guard, was in the game at forward, where he played sensationally.

The two teams meet again tomorrow night.

Razorbacks Lose Couple Of Promising Football Players

FAYETTEVILLE, Feb. 2. (AP) — Because of low grades, two of Arkansas university's finest fullback prospects for next season were declared ineligible today.

They were the Corrotto brothers, Albert and Leo, of Fort Smith. Albert, a freshman this academic year, weighs 160 pounds. Coach Fred Thomsen rated him as one of the greatest potential fullbacks the university has ever had. His brother, Leo, is a sophomore weighing 187 pounds. He lettered in the season recently closed and because of his excellent punting was being groomed to replace Tom Murphy, all Southwest conference quarterback, who graduates this spring.

Matadors Chalk Up Ninth Win Of Season As Old Enemies At Canyon Bow In Second Game Of Series

(By The Associated Press)

BURTON GYMNASIUM, CANYON, Feb. 2.—The Texas Tech Matadors defeated the West Texas Teachers college Buffaloes, 29 to 22, here tonight to become the third Tech team in history to split a series with the Herd.

The Buffs won the first game last night, 23 to 22. Tech won a game in 1930 and another in 1928. Tonight's victory was their third.

On Even Basis

During the first half, the clubs played on an even basis, with the Buffs coming from behind a four-point lead to take a one-point margin, 15 to 14, at the half.

But in the second period the Matadors held the Buffs to two field goals and ran up a lead of seven points before the Herd scored from the field.

The Buffs took twice as many shots as the Matadors, but they were unable to make them count.

L. Crews, Tech forward, led the scoring with 11 points, followed by McMinn, Buff forward, with nine, and his own teammate, Gilmore, with six.

Possession Is Nine Points Of Cue Law

LONDON, Feb. 2. (AP) — Walter Lindrum, the Australian cue wizard, has given the Billiards Control Council here a piece of his mind.

The champion is in Melbourne, and with him is the cup emblematic of the British professional billiards championship.

Entries for this year's championship close February 19, and the council cabled Lindrum: "If unable enter, arrange safe return cup beginning April."

Said Lindrum in Melbourne: "I will return the cup when they lick me. I won the championship, and they have to come after me. I do not intend to enter. I shall defend the cup in Australia. It cannot forever be played in England."

TECH STUDENTS

The Churches Of Lubbock Urge You To Attend The Church Of Your Choice Regularly

SPECIAL NOTICE:

Sunday, February 4th.

1:00-3:00 P. M. Visitation campaign of all Tech Students by the various Churches.

7:30 P. M. All-College Night. Special student services in the various Churches. Go to the Church of your choice.

You students at Tech have returned to the college for another semester to equip yourselves better for present and future living. The Churches of Lubbock sincerely hope that these shall be days of real achievement for each of you.

True education does not consist in the accumulation of facts of life. Facts divorced from values are helpless in our every-day experiences. Though man's life is a unity, consisting of the mental, physical and spiritual, we have so institutionalized his experiences that we depend on certain institutions to develop largely these various aspects of man. The Churches of Lubbock are anxious that you keep your religious life in step with your intellectual and physical growth. If this be done, you will have to turn to some other institution than your college. We suggest that you attend the Church of your choice regularly.

MARSHALL RHEW, President,
Student Religious Workers Council.

Whatever your creed or belief—come to church on Sunday in a Christian spirit of peace, good fellowship and love. Leave worldly things behind, and give one hour to quiet contemplation at the church of your choice.

Come

Sunday Morning

ESSENTIAL TO PERPETUITY

In these hectic days when society seems to be in a state of flux and but little appears to be stable, it is of the very highest importance that the youth of the land should be educated in those solid fundamentals that make for the welfare of the human race through the development of the individual.

We must not forget that society can be developed only by developing the units of that society, and anything that tends to the intellectual and moral advancement, the upbuilding and progress of the individual in the end makes for the welfare of society and the stability of all worth-while institutions. If twenty-five millions of boys and girls can be thoroughly indoctrinated with the vital truths of the gospel through the church, the results will be so far-reaching that they cannot be measured or estimated.

I cannot imagine anything of greater importance than the organization and development of churches throughout the land, a work I regard as absolutely essential to the welfare of our citizenship and the perpetuity of our institutions.

JAMES E. WATSON,
(May 14, 1930) United States Senator from Indiana.

"WHY I GO TO CHURCH"

You might just as pertinently inquire, "Why do I eat?" or "Why do I sleep?"—because I find one is just as necessary to my well-being as the other.

I could eat well and sleep well, and yet be a very miserable man without the spiritual uplift, that only comes from an attendance upon the divine ordinances.

Then again, it is a great privilege to touch shoulders with the earnest Christian men who are also interested in promoting Christ's kingdom upon earth.

For four years while Postmaster General under the Harrison administration, I traveled nearly 1,000,000 miles in order to be present each week at my own church.

I have made it the rule of my life to be in my regular place each Lord's day, when in health and in the country, believing that Paul was inspired to write that we should not forsake the assembling of ourselves together.

I also believe that the temptations of every man are great, and, unless he has more than ordinary groundwork of honesty and faithfulness, he may be caught by the sudden wind of plausible opportunity and tumble over the precipice and be ruined.—John Wanamaker.

Let Us Ease The Load

THE decision of the Civil Works administration to end this part of the relief program by May 1 does not mean definitely that this will be done. It is tentative and will be carried out only if the President is convinced at that time that private industry and public works projects have absorbed most of the 4,000,000 workers now on civil works payrolls.

Only about three months remains for this to be done. Private industry undoubtedly is taking on more activity, but a much greater rate of gain than now is apparent would be necessary if it absorbed all of these workers. It is not asked to do this. It will be expected to perform only a fair share of the task.

Comparatively few of the public works projects for which huge sums have been made available have reached the stage of actual construction. It will not be very long, though, unless hitches occur, before they are started. They will give employment to great numbers of men and can be depended upon to take a large share of those now engaged on civil relief works.

The President's plan to curtail relief activities as rapidly as conditions will permit is an encouraging development. He will need to guard against interference by politicians. Already a movement is reported under way in congress to provide two billion dollars for the civil works program and to continue the work for another year. It will have the support of all congressmen who place politics above public welfare, and it represents a danger that was evident at the beginning of the relief program. Millions of easy dollars have been poured into the various congressional districts. Politicians will not view with approval the early ending of this golden flood, especially since congressional elections will be held this year.

The President doubtless is alert to the situation. It is to be hoped that he will be able to hold to a sound program in connection with relief work and that his hope that early cessation of this will be possible will be realized.

JAPAN'S AMBASSADOR

Despite the fact that the United States and Japan at present are on better terms than they were not many months ago, no student of conditions in the Far East can escape the conviction that underneath this surface calm currents are stirring that threaten disturbance to the relations between these two nations.

Just when and where serious controversy may occur can not be predicted. There are many points where the interests of the two powers touch. The United States is desirious of avoiding friction with Japan, and the latter, according to its officials, harbors a similar desire. This, however, is no assurance that the two countries will not become involved in disagreements which may or may not reach serious proportions.

America has in Tokyo an ambassador in the person of Joseph C. Grew who has proved himself an able diplomat. He understands the Japanese viewpoint and has done much in smoothing the relations between his own country and Japan.

It is encouraging to note that Japan has chosen as her new ambassador to the United States a man who promises, in equipment and training, to render equally valuable service here in serving the common cause of peace. Hiroshi Saito is well known in the United States, where he was for several years Japanese consul general in New York and later charge d'affairs in Washington.

Mr. Saito and Mr. Grew are the right men in the right posts. Working together they should be able to render important service in maintaining peaceful relations between the two nations by harmonizing their viewpoints on controversial issues.

Who remembers when you could step into the middle of the street to shake your fist at a disappearing motorist without being cut down from behind?

If the marathon idea was a product of ancient Greek culture, that culture has been highly overrated.

MEASURING TIME

"In the year that King Uzziah died . . ."—Isaiah 6:1.

Isaiah uses a different method for measuring time than we use. He measured time according to events while we measure it according to hours. Ours is a mechanical way of telling time. Isaiah was speaking of a year in which something happened—a great king died. We would give that year a number. It is not a certain number of minutes that make an hour: it is what happened during those minutes.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

REPUBLICAN leaders muffed a swell chance to pull a fast one on the Wheeler amendment that would have embarrassed the Democratic party plenty.

If two Republican senators had switched their votes the gold revaluation bill would have gone back to the House with the amendment attached.

That would have put House Democrats in a tight spot—particularly those from the silver states. They would have had to vote the President's wishes as usual or oppose him because of home considerations. They are all up for reelection and either way the vote might have been used against them.

Gallery strategists chided Republican senators privately for overlooking the opportunity.

They explained they were opposed to the silver amendment and didn't care to vote for it.

The answer to this was they could have voted for the Wheeler amendment and against the whole bill—thus preserving their records.

WHEELER: It seems pretty certain that Senator Wheeler will put his silver proposition across before the session ends.

He has gained strength steadily. Counting those paired in favor as well as actual yeas, Wheeler mustered 22 votes in the lame duck session during the Hoover administration, 35 votes in last spring's special session and 47 the other day.

Three Democratic senators—responding to White House pressure—saved the day. Those who asked Wheeler to be released from earlier promises on the morning of the vote were Neely of W. Va., Bachman of Tenn., and Stephens of Miss.

SHY: Some more hidden politics was in evidence the same day.

This was when Senator Arthur Robinson (R) of Ind. offered his amendment to pay the soldier bonus out of the "profits" accruing from revaluation of the seized gold.

After making his appeal and being seconded by Senator Cutting (R) of N. Mex. the Indiana Robinson permitted Vice-President Garner to put the amendment to a viva voce vote.

There was a robust shout of "aye" and a like shout of "no." Garner ruled the amendment had lost although any proponent could have argued it was debatable.

Under Senate rules one-sixth of those on the floor—or a maximum of 16—can demand a roll call vote. Robinson sat quietly in his chair.

The reason? There's a healthy suspicion that a number of his colleagues would have drawn and quartered him if he'd forced them to record themselves now on the bonus question. One-third of the Senate is up for reelection.

The senate is going to be put on enough of a spot shortly when the American legion's four-point program is forced on them for a vote.

TICKLISH: A Washington law firm that numbers J. P. Morgan & Co. among its clients is credited with importing Raymond B. Stevens from Siam to take charge of the Federal Trade commission some months ago.

He set up the securities division and filled all places with Democrats although the Trade commission is by law a non-partisan body.

Now Stevens is head of the Foreign Securities Bondholders' committee. Originally this was to be a government body but the plan struck a snag because the governmental sponsorship of claims against foreign governments was too ticklish.

Some banks have advised clients to be a little cautious about turning over their foreign securities to this committee for adjustment. Several Senators intend to look in on the committee's setup.

JOBS: What's $100,000,000 among friends? President Roosevelt tacks on this amount for CWA costs and congress will give it to him. The relief program now figures up $950,00,000 instead of $850,000,000 of a week ago.

Toward the end of the session—say in May—another allotment of $100,000,000 or $200,000,000 will be granted to carry CWA over the summer.

TOUGH: A big-shot West coast lumber man came to Washington recently to complain that the lumber code helps his business too much. Raising prices by $8 a thousand feet has killed the market.

An advance of $1 a thousand would have been fat for mills that work up 1,000,000 feet a day. But eight times that spilled the beans.

Unless lumber men can reduce their profits they'll have to go out of business. It's a tough life.

NOTES: Senator Norris is hard at it to bring about a huge Missouri Valley authority bigger than the Tennessee project. . . . Senator McNary—Republican leader—is not so savage since obtaining an allotment for the Coulee project. . . . The A.A.A. is still trying to prevent bootlegging of flour-making by farmers and millers who combine to beat the processing tax. . . . Washingtonians say they would like to have a job with the Congressional legislative drafting committee. . . . They don't have much work to do now because the important bills come up already prepared from the Executive end of Pennsylvania avenue.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

YOU might think our monetary civil wars are ended now that the gold bill is in effect and the dollar revalued. They aren't. Fresh skirmishes are due soon on three sectors.

The old sound money crowd will not be in the battle. Curiously they are more content with the new setup than any of the groups that fought to cheapen the dollar. They didn't want devaluation but now that it's here they accept it and that's that. You won't hear a peep from them even if the dollar is knocked down to fifty cents.

But the various inflationary groups are not so easily satisfied. A Congressional faction headed by Senator Thomas—and inspired by ex-banker George LeBlanc of New York—is preparing to put on the pressure for bigger and better issues of paper money. Goldbacks, greenbacks, circulating bonds or what not—they don't much care—but are thoroughly sold on the idea that recovery's road is paved only with paper. They will make plenty of noise but insiders rate their chances of getting anywhere is thin.

SILVER: Then there are the silverites. Their strength in Senate tests has pepped up New York adherents of the cause. "Free and unlimited coinage" will soon be going strong again as a battle cry with Senator Wheeler carrying the banner. They won't get that—it would be too choice a morsel for silver speculators—but they may get some concessions.

CREDIT: Also there's the school of thought which wants credit expansion on a grander scale than anything yet attempted. Chiefly they aim at coercion of the Federal Reserve system and the banks by government control. Local experts agree with their argument that credit money is much more important than currency but insist that unless business turnover keeps pace with credit we'll just bog down in a new swamp of debt.

This group will come closer to achieving its ambitions than either of the others. Centralized control of the banking system is on the way although it may be delayed. Meanwhile progress will be made in a slightly different direction.

The word here is that monetary theories will play second fiddle in further price lifting efforts. Such use as is made of them will be chiefly psychological. The big push is planned with lavish government spending as heavy artillery. Government credit—not forcible extension of private credit—will be the answer to inflationist demands.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

ANDREW JACKSON'S TWO BIRTHPLACES

Andrew Jackson, 7th President of the United States was either born at the Waxhaw Settlement in Lancaster county, South Carolina, or just across the border in Union county, North Carolina.

The two rival claims have led to monuments being erected on both sites. The controversy as to which is Jackson's real birthplace is still unsettled and has even re-echoed in the halls of the U. S. Congress.

The UNKNOWN BLOND

By Laura Lou BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAVID BANNISTER undertakes to find out who killed TRACY KING, orchestra leader. Bannister is an author and former newspaperman. He works on the murder case with GAINEY, star reporter on the Post.

Among those suspected are JUILET FRANCE, blond, pretty and known to have visited King shortly before his death; HERMAN SCURLACH who wrote King a threatening letter; and JOE PARROTT down-and-out vaudeville actor. It is also known that MELVINA HOLLISTER, middle-aged spinster, had quarreled with King recently.

AL DRUGAN, friend of King's, is found dead in a wrecked automobile.

Bannister persuades the police chief to let Juliet come to his aunt's home, ostensibly as a guest, on the theory that if the girl believes herself free they can learn more about her.

Melvina Hollister is found strangled in the apartment where she lived with her brother, Matthew. Her death leaves him sole heir to $150,000.

Juliet's sister and brother-in-law come to see her. They have arranged with police for Juliet to return to her home. She refuses to go.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLIII

Elbert Stuart snapped, "This is childishness! It's ridiculous. We've come to take you home to your parents and you're going with us. Why in the world shouldn't you?"

"Because I'm going to stay here," Juliet told him.

Kate Hewlett stepped forward and put an arm around the girl's waist. "You're welcome, my dear," she said "just as long as you want to stay with us. I'll be glad to have you."

Stuart said, "That's out of the question. Her place is at home. Juliet, after all the trouble you've made — dragging your sister's name into scandal and even worse — I should think you'd be glad to go home! You're coming with us now and no more nonsense."

"I'm 22 years old," the girl told him sweetly. "And Mrs. Hewlett says I may stay here. I don't see that there's anything more to be said about it."

"But, Juliet!" Her sister's voice was pleading. "You don't understand. Elbert's given his time from business to make this trip. He's done everything to help you and made all the arrangements so you can come with us. Please, Juliet—"

The other girl shook her head. "How can I go?" she asked. "Oh, I know what Elbert's done! Talked to the police about the family name and father's bank account and his own importance. But that doesn't change things any. A man was murdered here and the police think I know something about it. Elbert's coming hasn't changed that. I'm still the same girl. Everyhing is just exactly the way it was. Don't you see that I can't run away now? I'm going to stay until the police know who killed Tracy King."

"You're coming with us!" Elbert Stuart told her angrily.

His wife's gaze fled from his face to the girl's. "Please, Juliet," she begged. "You don't mean the things you've been saying. Come home with us and all this terrible experience will be forgotten. You're not yourself—"

"I'm sorry, Helen, but I can't. It's too late now for me to run away. I've got to stay until the end. Oh, I'm grateful to you and Elbert for what you've tried to do for me. I'm sorry for all the worry I've caused you, too, but I can't leave now."

Bannister put in, "I think she's right about it, Mr. Stuart. She'll feel better for having seen this thing through. Besides she may be able to be of assistance—"

"I won't have my wife's sister mixed up in a murder case!" Elbert Stuart stormed.

The girl's face was colorless but her voice remained steady. I'm afraid you can't help yourself, Elbert. I am mixed up in it and I'm not going with you."

Nor could she be persuaded. The argument lasted for another 20 minutes during which Stuart threatened and stormed and his wife begged. Juliet France remained by her decision. At last the couple left. They would go to a hotel, they said, and get in touch with Juliet next day. Over his shoulder Stuart mumbled a parting shot about hoping the next day would find the girl "more reasonable."

Juliet turned apologetically to Mrs. Hewlett and Bannister. "I'm terribly sorry," she said, "to have a scene like that here. Did you really mean what you said, Mrs. Hewlett—that I can stay here? I could go to a hotel—that is, if the police will let me—"

Bannister interrupted quickly. "Aunt Kate," he said, "all this must be a great mystery to you. I guess it's time for me to make a confession. I told you when Miss France came here that she was an old friend of mine. That wasn't quite the truth.

"The truth," his aunt told him scornfully, "is that she's the mysterious blond the police were looking for after they found Tracy King dead. Did you think I didn't know that? David, you must take me for a fool!"

"Why, Aunt Kate—?"

"I've known all the time who she was," his aunt went on, "and I've know that idiot, Jordan, is a policeman, too, out here to see what was going on. Well, he hasn't learned much! I've kept him running errands and cleaning the furnace and doing more work than I'll wager he's done in six months! Maybe we can get rid of him now. If we can it will be one thing to thank your brother-in-law for anyhow, Juliet."

The girl's eyes were shining. "Mrs. Hewlett," she said, "there's nobody in the world like you!"

"Humph!" Kate Hewlett tugged at the edge of her collar, straightening it. "A good thing that is. At least I'm smart enough to know when David Bannister is up to tricks! He didn't fool me often when he was a youngster and he can't fool me now. As for you're going any place else—if you do, I'll never forgive you!"

"You're invited to stay as long as you like," Mrs. Hewlett assured her. "I like to have young folks about the house. I think it does me good to have company. My land—I forgot all about that ham!"

The baked ham was scarcely the worse for its neglect. The food was soon on the table and the three of them sat down to dinner.

Bannister said, as he handed a plate to his aunt, "What I can't understand, Aunt Kate, is how you guessed all these secrets? How long,

Capitol Chatter

By Charles E. Simons

AUSTIN, Feb. 2. (AP)—The anticipated entrance of Maury Hughes, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, into the gubernatorial rodeo may cause some shifting in lines already tentatively established.

Hughes will be tendered a banquet in his home city Feb. 6, by Dallas Democrats. The announcements and invitations state the banquet will be in "recognition of his services to the Democratic party."

The impression gained circulation that the real purpose was to afford a suitable setting from which Hughes could graciously take the step that would put him into an already crowded field of candidates. He has stated he probably would announce for governor on that occasion.

The shifting may come in the support that might be expected normally to go to C. C. McDonald who avowedly is the candidate of Governor Ferguson for succession to the chief executiveship.

Hughes and former Governor James E. Ferguson split over selection of a national committeeman to succeed Jed C. Adams. McDonald was the Ferguson candidate. Hughes wanted the honor himself. The upshot of the wrangle was that Adams was persuaded by national party officials to remain as titular head of Texas Democracy.

Hughes undoubtedly would cause certain candidates much grief. He is young, aggressive and a ready speaker. In addition he has been through the mill and is believed capable of giving many of his elders lessons in practical politics.

Hughes is a straight party man and supported resolutions presented to the state executive committee criticizing those who had not supported Governor Ferguson as the party nominee for governor in the 1932 general election and Alfred E. Smith in the 1928 presidential campaign. The resolutions excluded them from state party councils and pledged the committee to exert all its influence to prevent any who had bolted from being recipients of patronage.

THE SON OF TARZAN, No. 6

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

That evening, when their son did not appear for dinner, Lady Greystoke again referred to the subject of Ajax the ape. "John," she said, "something MUST be done to discourage Jack's tendency toward anything that may excite the craving for the savage life which I fear he has inherited from you. You know that my constant fear is that our boy may have the call of the jungle in his blood, and then——." She could not voice her troubled thoughts.

Her husband laughed down upon her upturned face, before he bent his head and kissed her. "Just because Jack wants to see Ajax is no sign he would wish to marry an ape," he said, adding, more seriously, "I have always believed you were mistaken in never permitting me to tell our boy anything concerning my early life. Had I told him of my experiences as Tarzan of the Apes, it would have been best, should the jungle lust ever claim him."

But Lady Greystoke only shook her head as she always did when the subject was broached. Never could she bring herself to tell her son the story of Tarzan. What desires would arise in his young brain were he to know his father had been raised to manhood by a tribe of fierce anthropoid apes! In the meanwhile Jack was enjoying to the full the stolen pleasure of the music hall, arriving just as "Ajax THE MARVEL" began his act.

As the ape's antics progressed the boy's eyes went wide in wonder. On the stage the trainer had noted the handsome youth alone in a box. Now came the time for Ajax to go among the audience, pretending to look for a long lost relative. Tonight the trainer directed the ape's attention to the future Lord Greystoke. The shaggy, powerful beast leaped with a spring to the youngster's side—and his other tricks were never done THAT night!

NOT A VACANT HOUSE IN LUBBOCK—

We have been informed by those who are supposed to know that there is not a desirable rent house in the city. Also there are no apartments for rent.

Do you have a house that could be modernized or added to at a reasonable cost that would make an additional apartment for rent? Have you a garage that could have an apartment built on it? Possibly we could help you in planning these improvements.

We carry wall paper and paints as well as lumber. We are at your service. Our phone is 1510.

Coleman Bank Is Robbed By A Trio Of Heavily-Armed Men; Policeman Dies In Holdup In Massachusetts

vice-president; Wade Hemphill and T. L. Turbin, tellers, and Ed Lemay and Jake Lemay, bookkeepers, came in. The robbers covered them with pistols and forced them to sit in a corner of a rear room until 9 o'clock. Then they walked into the vault, gathered up the currency and ordered all to an automobile they had parked in front of the bank.

Woodruff was forced to get inside the car and the others were ordered to stand on the running board, as one of the men started away quickly. All but Woodruff jumped off the automobile two blocks from the bank and spread the alarm.

Woodruff was ejected from the robbers' car 12 miles east of here, while the vehicle was traveling about 35 miles an hour. He returned to his home tonight with a severe gash on the back of his neck and painful facial bruises.

Faces Were Covered

The victims of the robbery said the men had their faces covered; one was tall and the other short.

A short time after the robbery, Williamson and Brown county officers converged on a section of mountainous country in the Fry oil field between Brownwood and Coleman in an effort to catch the robbers but found only the abandoned automobile. The trail was lost at a fork in the road. The fleeing robbers scattered nails in the road to retard pursuers.

Evidently having continued their flight in another car, the three men were reported to have stopped at a Brady filling station for gasoline and then headed toward San Angelo.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon W. C. Yell and Mrs. W. C. Yell by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the 99th District Court of Lubbock County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the 1st Monday in April, A. D. 1934, the same being the 2nd day of April, A. D., 1934, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 20th day of September, A. D., 1933, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 5737, wherein The Peoples Building and Loan Association of El Paso, Texas, a corporation, is Plaintiff, and W. C. Yell, Mrs. W. C. Yell, I. R. Street and wife, J. Verne Street, Don Bradley and Mrs. Pauline Campbell, a widow and W. F. Suffath are Defendants, and said petition alleging I. R. Street and wife, J. Verna Street gave a note for $1300.00, dated April 2, 1930, to plaintiff and secured it by a deed of trust lien on all the North One-half of Lots 1, 2 and 3, Block 64, of the Original Town of O'Donnell, Lynn County, Texas. This property was conveyed by unrecorded deeds to W. C. Yell who now together with Mrs. W. C. Yell claim title to this property. That the other defendants are claiming various interests in said property which are second to liens of Plaintiff. Plaintiff also asks to recover $116.80 against Street and wife for taxes paid on this property by plaintiff, secured by a tax lien on this property.

Plaintiff asks for judgment for $1500.00 on note as principal interest and attorney's fee, and for $116.80 taxes paid, against I. R. Street and J. Verna Street, that plaintiff's liens be decreed first to the claim or lien of any and all the defendants, and for foreclosure of its liens on said property against all of said defendants, and that the property be sold according to law to satisfy said judgments.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this the 10th day of January, A. D., 1934.
(Seal) CHAS. B. METCALFE, Clerk, 99th Dist. Court, Lubbock County.

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Stocks were quieter and more inclined to irregularity today, but there was no letup to the bond market's buoyancy on the advance of dollar exchange.

The London gold price went nearly to the $35 mark set by this country and local banks arranged for further gold shipments to New York. At this juncture it would appear that the movement of metal is likely to reach sizeable proportions, although the question arises as to what protective measures may be taken by the Bank of France. The demand for dollars since devaluation and the adoption of a modified gold standard has attained large momentum, being sufficient today to put sterling under $4.90 and to boost the premium over francs.

The day's net change for the stock averages was a small net loss in a turnover of 2,880,679 shares. Taking the list as a whole more issues declined than advanced. Of the latter, specialty descriptions in the lower price brackets were most numerous. Kelvinator, Kresge, Kress, Servel Shattuck, Mullins Manufacturing, Montgomery Ward, Coty, International Agricultural Chemical and American Agricultural Chemical were among the day's favorites.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 2. (AP)—Cotton was only moderately active today and prices fluctuated rather nervously. The close was 6 points net up.

The market opened practically unchanged. Liverpool cables were better than due but this was offset by easier sterling. First trades showed no change to 2 points up and the market eased one point after the start but soon rallied on a firmer opening of stocks.

Later the market turned easier on a further easing off in sterling and realizing by recent buyers.

Near noon and in early afternoon, active months dropped 7 points from the highs but the market rallied again in the late trading despite easier sterling. May closed at 11.59, July at 11.74 showing advances of 6 points net.

Port receipts 18,451, for week 98,385, for season 6,164,803, last season 6,844,413. Exports 18,857, for week 151,792, for season 4,902,543, last season 5026,965. Port stock 3,777,989. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 167,506, last year 137,838. Spot sales at southern markets 10,113, last year 8,462.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (AP)—Cotton was less active today and prices fluctuaed irregularly within a range of about ten points, closing a shade higher.

The steadier tone of the dollar appeared to check buying on advances and bring in some realizing, but demand increased on the setbacks and the undertone was generally steady.

After selling at 11.54 at the opening, May rallied to 11.64 and after easing off to 11.53, closed at 11.61 with the general market ending firm at net advances of 3 to 8 points.

The market worked 5 to 9 points net higher during the early trading on trade and commission house buying. On a later reaction March sold from 11.46@11.36 and July from 11.79@11.68 or about 2 to 4 points net lower.

Offerings were not heavy and the market rallied rather sharply in the late trading on more active trade demand and covering. Closing quotations were within one to three points of the best for the day.

Exports today 20,779 making 5,020,467 so far this season. Port receipts 19,036. U. S. port stocks 3,768,746.

versity before I will get my bachelor of arts degree."

He said he did not know now what his future plans would be.

Godfrey, an erect, sandy-haired youth whose home is in Crandall, Tex., said he met Miss Sammon several years ago when he came to Dallas to visit friends.

Burial Set Sunday

"Please, I can't talk any more about it now," he pleaded, and abruptly ended the interview. A laughing, shouting group of boys on roller skates swept down the newly paved street playing a game of hockey, unmindful of the sudden tragedy which had invaded the new-looking Sammon cottage, where the body of Godfrey's young wife lay in a flower-heaped casket, awaiting funeral rites Sunday. Burial will be at Crandall, the young husband's home.

Livestock

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 2. (AP) — Livestock trade at midwestern markets today was featured by an uneven 25 to 50 advance in hog prices. Receipts of 59,600 head at eleven markets were 51,000 less than on Friday of last week and 27,000 lighter than the corresponding day a year ago.

The lamb market was fairly active and strong to around 25 higher. Sheep followed some of the advance at several markets. Best fed wooled offerings at St. Louis reached 9.75. A load of choice ewes averaging 133 pounds went at 4.50 at Omaha.

Cattle trade was mostly a clean-up affair and killing classes brought generally steady prices. Some strictly choice 1122-pound yearlings scored 6.85 at Chicago. On the same market, a load averaging 1512 pounds went to the scale at 5.60. Common to medium grades of steers have found a fairly broad outlet at strong to 25 higher prices this week. Prices have been little changed on a liberal showing of good to choice long yearlings and matured steers.

Contract Of Six

North and south should reach a contract of six hearts, but not seven because of lack of strength in outside suits. During the bidding east should name spades, which naturally would prompt the opening lead of the eight of spades by west. The spade should be ducked north and won by east, who then should return the king of diamonds. A squeeze now is necessary.

North plays the ace and king of clubs and then ruffs a club. He now plays his trump and east is unable to protect both the high spade and the high diamond.

The slam is made on a diamond or club opening by the declarer stripping his hand and dummys of those suits and throwing east into the lead with a spade. If a spade is opened, won by east and a club or heart returned, a vienna coup squeeze is necessary.

After the returns are all in from New Zealand, China and other distant points the winners of the international, national and sectional championships will be determined on the basis of the greatest number of pars.

Grains

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Feb. 2. (AP) — Slow demand continued on the Fort Worth cash grain market today.

Prices ranged as follows, basis car lots on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to delivery points:

Delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points:

Wheat No. 1 hard 97 1-4 98 1-4. Barley No. 2 nominally 58@59; No. 3 nominally 57@58. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds nominally 1.13@1.15; No. 3 milo nominally 1.11@1.13. No. 2 kafir nominally 95@97; No. 3 kafir 93@95.

Delivered Texas common points or group three, corn No. 2 white 65 1-4@65 3-4; No. 2 yellow 64 1-4@64 3-4. Oats No. 2 red 47@48; No. 3 red 46@47.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 2. (AP)—Adversely affected by selling here against purchasing at Winnipeg, the Chicago wheat market today suffered maximum declines of 1 1-4 cents a bushel.

A material new fall of British exchange rates had a contributing bearish effect. Mainly, however, lack of aggressive buying appeared to form the chief drag on Chicago wheat values, dollar devaluation appearing to have lost influence temporarily as a buying stimulus.

Wheat closed unsteady, 3-8 to 5-8 below yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to 1-4 down, oats unchanged to 1-8 off, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents decline.

Groundhog

Quarryville, parts of the Lehigh valley, Gobler's Knob and other groundhog realms, this is the brightest day on the calendar. Hasn't Slumbering Lodge asked every president since McKinley to make groundhog day a national holiday?

Red fire cast fantastic, dancing shadows on shops, barns and homes tonight, as Slumbering Lodge members, sporting silk hats and canes, marched to the music of its band to a feast of turkey.

Over in the Lehigh valley, where the groundhog also saw his shadow, the new Grund-sau lodge is holding similar ceremonies with all languages barred but Pennsylvania German.

Gobler's Knob, near Punxsutawney, and foe of Quarryville because there the groundhog is eaten, reported the little animal was unable to see his shadow, so thin has he grown after a winter of insomnia.

observed, "the falling down has been caused quite frankly by individuals who tried to get either personal or political credit out of something that ought not to have either of those factors in the work of any shape, manner of form.

No Partisan Work

"This work has nothing to do with partisan politics — nothing at all," he added. "A great many of you are Republicans, a good many are Democrats—quite a number do not belong regularly to one party or the other. We are not the least bit interested in the partisan side of this picture."

The talk was made by the president shortly after administration leaders in the house had decided to withhold action on his request for $950,000,000 for relief and civil works until Monday and then proceed under rigid rules to prevent too great an increase in the fund.

Action Is Delayed

Although the house previously had granted unanimous consent for consideration of the appropriation today, party leaders were apprised a few moments before the opening of the session that a block of insurgents planned to propose continuation of civil works until after the November elections by increasing the appropriation to $1,500,000.

Party leaders agreed there was widespread sentiment among the membership to continue the work past the deadline of May 15 set by Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins in his testimony before the appropriations committee which reported the bill to the house today. They said if the measure were thrown open to amendments as originally planned undoubtedly it would have been increased far beyond the limit set by the budget.

Dr. Sarah Ruth Dean Will Take Stand In Own Defense

GREENWOOD, Miss., Feb. 2. (AP)—Counsel for Dr. Sarah Ruth Dean, Greenwood woman physician, announced late today that Dr. Dean would take the stand in her murder trial to deny that she was responsible for the death of Dr. John Preston Kennedy, Greenwood surgeon who is alleged to have charged on his death bed that Dr. Dean served him poison in a drink of whisky.

Dr. Dean, 33-year-old child specialist formerly associated in practice with Dr. Kennedy, has maintained silence about the case since she was indicted.

J. Doyle Settle, president of the Lubbock county club, aided Mr. Leech in last night's caucus, acting as secretary. Approximately 50 delegates attended the session.

Candidates Expected

At least four and probably more gubernatorial candidates are expected to be present at today's meeting. Tom F. Hunter of Wichita Falls arrived Friday. C. C. McDonald, also of Wichita Falls, Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo, Quillen E. Terrell of Lamesa and possibly James Allred of Austin will be here today. One candidate for lieutenant-governor, former Senator Ben F. Berkley of Alpine, arrived last night.

Delegations from Lipscomb, Potter, Hale, Scurry, Gray, Lamb, Shackleford, Brewster, Randall, Ochiltree Mitchell, Dawson, Garza, Lynn, Reeves, Wichita, Callahan, Martin, Haskell, Tarrant, Bosque, Hardeman, Briscoe, Hartley, Hockley, Travis, Coryell, Navarro, Dallam and Pecos counties had registered last night besides more than 125 delegates from Lubbock.

Program Scheduled

Today's full convention program follows:

9 a. m.—Call to order by MacDonald Leech, Corpus Christi, national committeeman from Texas.

9:30—Keynote address by Walter Nelson, jr., mayor of Wichita Falls.

10 a. m.—Business session.

11 a. m. — Recognition of candidates for state offices and short talks.

12 o'clock, noon—Luncheon honoring state candidates, at Hotel Lubbock.

their political subdivision.

Refunding issues replacing existing loans would be exempt and the restrictions would not apply to countries such as several in South America, which have defaulted only on private obligations.

Under the amendment exempting American government corporations from the restrictions, the treasury could carry on its currency stabilization operations under the new dollar devaluation act by purchasing or selling foreign exchange and securities.

France Is Affected

Among the 18 governments affected are France, which is in default on $82,000,000 of its approximately $4,000,000,000 war debts, and all the "token" payers, including Great Britain, which has $176,000,000 overdue against her last month on her debt of $4,600,000,000.

The measure originally passed the senate January 11, but Democratic leaders were absent from the floor and upon learning of its approval moved reconsideration. Since then conferences resulted in the modifying amendments.

Forced Sales

closed, until the legislature can consider a more general moratorium. Bills providing for procedure where a property owner has an equity in property that is about to be sold for its debts are pending in the legislature. Courts would be authorized, after a hearing, to forestall sales in worthy cases.

The house did not take final action on a senate concurrent resolution proposing sine die adjustment of this session on February 10. It refused to defeat the resolution by a three vote margin and it then was placed on the table subject to call.

Wets Downhearted

Anti-prohibition members of the legislature were somewhat downhearted over prospects to pass legislation that would temper the existing laws against the handling of beverages of more than 3.2 alcoholic content. There seemed to be some dissension among members of a committee appointed to consider proposed methods of bringing whiskey back to Texas without running in contravention to a section of the constitution which prohibits the manufacture, sale, barter and exchange of intoxicants. Also, doubt that the governor would submit the subject was increasing.

One plan was to license drug stores to sell any quantity of liquor as often as the holder of a physician's prescription, which would be valid for a year without renewal, cared to purchase it. The drug stores would pay a license fee and the liquor would be taxed. Vendors of the liquor would not be permitted to realize a net profit in excess of 15 per cent of the cost of the product.

Consideration of a bill to repeal a part of the reduction ordered in salaries of state college teachers was halted in the senate with a ruling by Lieut. Governor Edgar E. Witt that the bill did not come within the scope of the topics submitted by the governor to the special session.

Road Boosters Discuss Plans

Second Annual Convention Of Road Association Draws Big Group Of Representatives From 20 Counties

result of a movement started here early last year by the South Plains association.

Urges Renewed Activity

He urged renewed activities for additional highway appropriations from the fund, declaring that "unless we forge ahead with highway work under the PWA, it will be years before our highways will be completed."

Guy R. Johnston, division engineer, and A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, spoke prior to Col. Ashburn. Each outlined what had been done in the way of highway work in this section and stressed the importance of continuance of activities of the association.

Election of officers and passage of the resolutions constituted other activities of the session.

Resolution Quoted

The resolution on the "drouth relief" appropriation came after Col. Ashburn had talked concerning the appropriation and how it could be used in highway construction work.

The resolution said:

"Be it resolved that a petition be sent to the Texas State Relief committee asking that the officials of this organization be informed as to what use if any, was made of the $8,900,000 federal appropriation allocated to counties designated as 'drouth stricken' counties especial reference being made to the counties of Dawson, Hockley, Borden, Martin, Howard, Bailey and Palmer."

Other Resolutions

Other resolutions were:

"Knowing from experience, observation and investigation that just as effective relief is given through the construction of highways under the direction of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and the state highway commission in this section of the United States that through the expenditure of Public Works funds under any other projects; and, knowing that permanent highways are the most needed improvement for this section of the country; that they will bring just as lasting benefits to a larger portion of the total citizenship, and that they return just as large direct economic saving to the citizenship in the saving of wear and tear on automobiles and trucks, and that they pay just as large direct returns to the government through the gasoline tax as any other type of public works.

"Therefore, be it resolved by the members of the South Plains Good Roads association in annual convention assembled, that President Roosevelt and Congress be petitioned to allocate a large part of any public works appropriations made and allocated to this section to and for the construction of state and federal highways, and

Ask CWA Funds

"Be it further resolved that President Roosevelt and the Civil Works administration be requested to spend just as much of Civil Works funds in this section on state and federal highways in cooperation with the state highway commission and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads as is possible, for in this way many more road miles per dollar will be had than otherwise.

"And realizing that in many counties of this area there are certain lateral roads of vital importance to the citizens of these counties, and realizing also that the federal government contemplates human relief as well as road building in its appropriations, therefore, be it resolved that in the total amount of funds allocated to the state of Texas, that 75 per cent of said sum be used for state and federal highway construction and 25 per cent for lateral road construction."

Work Is Praised

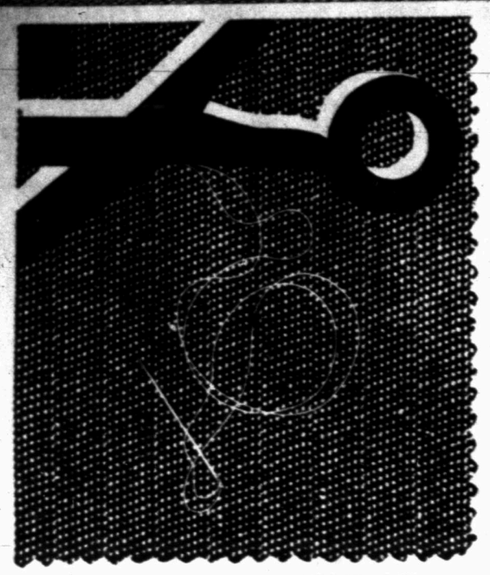

Another resolution praised the work of the Texas Good Roads association, parent organization, in securing the $24,000,000 allotment for highways for Texas.

Out of town visitors present at the meeting besides those mentioned above were.

Jess Mitchell, Neil Rockey, Muleshoe; J. E. Barron, Philip Yonge, Lamesa; Jay Barret, R. I. Cook, L. L. Brock, J. E. Shelton, Brownfield; A. J. Payne, W. P. Oldsmobile Is Shown In City

New 1934 Model Is Displayed At Bowen-Ratliff Company For First Time; New Features Boasted

On display for the first time in Lubbock is the new 1934 model oldsmobile, a General Motors product which is being shown at the display rooms of Bowen-Ratliff Motor company today.

Marlis Ratliff, manager of the Oldsmobile agency here, returned yesterday from Oklahoma City, driving an Oldsmobile "8" sedan, the only machine he was able to procure at the Oklahoma City showing. A deluxe model, it goes into the showroom at the company's plant, 1002 Ave. J, early this morning. Judging from the number of previous inquiries, several hundred persons are expected to view the new machine today.

Eight On Display

While Oldsmobile is building both six-and eight-cylinder cars this year, the six to compete with lower priced vehicles, only the eight is on display. Additional shipments from the factory are expected to begin within the next week or so.

All of General Motors' new features, including knee action front wheels, improved motors, steamlined bodies and longer, lower frames, are embodied in the new Oldsmobile, as well as new features such as "super hydraulic brakes center-control steering and a ride stabilizer.

The built in-trunk is a feature unseen until this season. The trunk on the touring models is formed by an extension of the body, itself making it rattle-proof as well as ornamental and purposeful. Fisher no-draft ventilation, duplex downdraft carburation, splash front fenders and radio wiring are standard accessories.

NEWS THE WORLD OVER

COMMUNISTS SHOT

POTSDAM, Germany, Feb. 2 (AP)—Four communists were shot to death today by a police escort when, the officers said, they jumped for liberty from a motor lorry. The men, John Scheer, Erich Steinfurth, Eugen Schoenhaar and Rudolf Schwarz, were being taken from Berlin to Potsdam.

AWARD GRANTED

CHICAGO. — A $10,000 award against Arthur W. Cutten, veteran board of trade operator, was voted today by a jury trying the $50,000 suit by John R. Mauff for services rendered as Cutten's "ghost writer."

TO RETURN PLANTS

HAVANA. — Immediate return of the plants of the American-owned Cuban Electric company to the owners was urged upon the government today by a commission formed to arbitrate differences between officials and employes. The plants were taken over for operation by the government after disorders growing out of a strike.

MEDAL IS GIVEN

MONTREAL. — The Countess De Boishebert, organist of the woman's choir of the parish of St. Jacques, was the proud possessor of a gold medal and certificate of honor for bravery today. She continued to play the organ while flames spread through the church on March 25 and was credited with preventing a serious panic and possible loss of life.

BONDS ARE SOUGHT

WASHINGTON. — The Southern Pacific company applied to the interstate commerce commission today for permission to issue $12,000,000 of ten-year 4 per cent bonds to be sold to the public works administration. The money would be used for maintenance and equipment expenditures.

TO CALL ELECTION

BATON ROUGE, La.—Gov. O. K. Allen said today he would issue a proclamation on February 20 calling and setting a date for another special election in the sixth Louisiana district to fill the congress seat declared vacant last week by the house of representatives.

DIVORCE GRANTED

PORT ARTHUR. — Sidney Bowman, former All-American halfback and Olympic star, was a better athlete than he was a husband, Martha Ferguson Bowman said in obtaining a divorce decree today. They were married in 1932. The divorce was not contested. Judge J. D. Campbell awarded custody of the couple's four-months-old son to Mrs. Bowman.

honestly, have you known who Miss France was?"

"Well," said Mrs. Hewlett, "I knew that day you telephoned and said you were bringing someone out that you had something up your sleeve. I could tell it by your voice. And when you two got here I was more certain than ever. But it wasn't until that night that I was positive who she was. You told me yourself."

"I told you!"

"Practically. I remember it was after Juliet had gone upstairs to her room. You asked me not to say anything to her about Tracy King being murdered. Offered some flimsy excuse — something about there being a death in her family recently. That was when it came to me. I'd figured that man Jordan wasn't what he pretended to be. Well, it came to me all at once where I'd seen the name 'Juliet France.' In the newspapers, of course.

"So then I just put two and two together. I must say, though, the police in this town are dumber than I thought they were. To think Juliet could have anything to do with that murder! Why, one look at her is enough to know better than that. That's why I kept Policeman Jordan running errands."

Bannister laughed. "And how he hated it!" he said. "Poor Jordan! By the way, where is he?"

"He's gone." Kate Hewlett told him crisply. "I told him to report to Chief Henley that we didn't need any more policemen around here and if he sent out another one I'd complain to the mayor. The man just sort of gulped and said, 'Yes, Ma'am,' and made for the door. I don't think he'll be back again."

"Aunt Kate, you should have been a policeman yourself!"

"Well, I think I could make a better job of it than some of them we've got around."

Juliet said, "Don't let him tease you, Mrs. Hewlett. You're the sweetest person I've ever met—and the kindest."

Kate Hewlet shrugged off the compliment. "Well," she said, "I try to use the common sense the good Lord gave me. So that was your sister, was it Juliet? Pretty little thing. Not as pretty as you are though. Is she older?"

"Yes. Two years. Helen was married when she was 19."

"I can't say I took to her husband much. Oh, I could see how he'd want you to come home. I don't blame him for that. But he didn't need to talk to you the way he did. I didn't like some of the things he said one bit!"

"Elbert likes to have his own way," Juliet told her. "Of course he works hard and he's been very successful as a lawyer. But he does take himself terribly seriously! I don't think he's ever really approved of me."

"Well, I wouldn't worry about that. Do you suppose he'll be out here tomorrow morning?"

"I'm afraid so. But Elbert won't stay long. When anyone refuses to do as he says he doesn't waste much time on them."

It was an hour later that Bannister entered the living room and found Juliet alone. She was sitting at the piano, but turned away from the keyboard. She looked up, smiling.

"Well," she asked, "are you glad I'm going to stay?"

"Why, yes,' he said stiffly, "if that's what you want to do."

British Leader Claims Death of Woman Justified

LONDON, Feb. 2. (AP)—The execution of nurse Edith Cavell by the German army during the World war was justified in the opinion of A Duff Cooper, financial secretary to the British war office.

"Miss Cavell," Cooper told an audience of army officers, "was a noble and courageous woman whom the Germans were entitled to execute according to the rules of warfare. But any politician could have told them the execution was going to arm 100,000 men against Germany."

Cooper asked a truce in the traditional conflict between soldiers and politicians.

Edith Louisa Cavell was convicted by a German court-martial in the summer of 1915 of having assisted 130 persons from Belgium while she was in charge of a Red Cross hospital at St. Gilles. She was executed by a German firing squad on the morning of Oct. 12, 1915. A peak in the Canadian Rockies is named after her.

Total Of 466 Persons Taken In By Police During Month

During January Lubbock police arrested 466 persons, including 209 arrested for other than traffic violations, the monthly report prepared by Desk Sergeant Randolph Rampy shows. Fines collected in corporation court in January aggregated $2,441.75, the report said.

Offenses in which corporation court charges were filed were:

Traffic law violations 257, drunkenness 75, vagrancy 32, gambling 10, disturbing the peace 6, fighting 3, breaking glass on a public street 1, theft 1.

Thirty-eight cases were transferred to county and federal authorities. Charges in those cases were:

Man Confesses Extortion Plot

CARLSBAD, N. M., Feb. 2. (AP) — Twenty-five-year-old Perry Cantrell of Artesia, married and out of work for months, today signed a confession, Postal Inspector M. H Land said, that he attempted to extort $250 from E. A. Paton, Artesia oilman, under a threat of kidnaping Paton's 16-year-old daughter, Mary.

Action against Cantrell will be considered by the next federal grand jury.

Cantrell was arrested Wednesday night at Artesia as he allegedly tried to pick up an envelope supposed to contain the money which he demanded from Paton.

Cantrell said he had never been in trouble before but had been out of work so long he had been forced to attempt to live on a diet of dry flour and potatoes. He said he attended high school at Tuttle, Okla., that his wife lived at Baird, Texas, and that he was an electrician by trade. He had lived in and around Artesia for three years.

Hog Reduction Contract To Be Discussed By Producers

The government hog reduction contract will be discussed at a meeting of hog producers of Southwest ward in the school house there Monday night.

A committeeman, who will work in conjunction with other community committeemen, will be named. The meeting, which will start at 7 o'clock, was called by W. M. Ross, Southwest ward community chairman.

The colonial "New England Primer" was in use for more than a century as a text-book.

Washington Is Playing Numbers Game Again; Low Figures Are Being Sought

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP) — Washington is playing that numbers game again—but it isn't a "policy" game: It's automobile tags.

Now that all the licenses for 1934 have been distributed, the citizens are looking about to see who has the low numbers.

Heads turn sharply when a District of Columbia number between 100 and 110 goes by. If it isn't the president it's likely one of the Roosevelts or at least their automobile.

Vice-President Garner has an official car with license number 111.

General John J. Pershing kept 175, the number he has had for years.

Members of he cabinet have a series reserved for them after the vice-president—121 went to the bureau of prohibition of the justice department. "Secretary A. W. Mellon," as the application read, got the number he asked for, 442.

The district commissioners can have the lowest numbers but apparently no one is anxious for 1, since numbers 1, 2, 3 and 4 were assigned to the commerce department.

The diplomatic corps has from 200 to 425, and its ranking is determined by due precedence. The dean of the corps, Ahmet Muhtar, ambassador from Turkey, has 200.

Reasoner Funeral Services Are To Be Held On Saturday

Funeral services for Woodrow Wilson Reasoner, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Reasoner of Midway community east of here, who died yesterday morning here at 4 o'clock, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home. Death was attributed to complications that arose following an operation for appendicitis.

Cecil Ellis, a Lubbock Methodist minister, is to conduct the service. Burial will be at Lorenzo with Sanders Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Survivors were the parents; seven brothers, Floyd, Nelson, Earl, Bryan, Bresel, C. B. jr., and Bates, and a twin-sister, Wilma.

The largest meteor on record was that of August 18, 1783, which traversed Europe from Shetland to Italy at 30 miles a second.

WOMAN'S WEAKNESS

Mrs. Will Hatcher of Bryant, Ark., said: "My mother and I both took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription off and on for a number of years whenever we felt the need of a feminine tonic and it never failed to give perfect satisfaction. Mother found this same medicine benefited her at middle life."

Write Dr. Pierce's Clinic, Buffalo, N. Y. New size, tablets 50c, liquid $1.00. Large size, tabs. or liquid, $1.35. "We Do Our Part."
