Teachers Strike

By The Associated Press

A strike by about 2,000 public school teachers in Baton Rouge, La., entered its fourth day and showed signs of expanding, while the two sides in Washington's teacher strike moved further apart. And the threat of teacher walkouts loomed in St. Paul, Minn., and Cincinnati.

The Baton Rouge walkout was expected to grow today based on reports that a Teamster-affiliated custodian's union would set up its own picket lines.

Reach Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negotiators for United Airlines and the union representing its mechanics reached tentative agreement today on a new contract after an all-night bargaining session, a federal mediation official announced.

The proposed agreement generally follows a settlement reached with Trans World Airlines in October that called for a 30 percent pay increase over three years plus cost-of-living adjustments, said Robert O. Harris, a member of the National Mediation Board.

Teamster Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Teamsters union, the trucking industry and the Carter administration are digging in for the final leg of bargaining in an unusually crucial contract dispute that could erupt into a nationwide trucking strike April 1.

Union, industry and government officials involved in the contract talks, which were resuming today at a suburban Virginia hotel, are still holding out hope for reaching a settlement without a potentially crippling walkout by nearly 300,000 drivers and warehouse workers.

But with just two weeks to go before a midnight March 31 deadline, when the union's three-year national freight agreement expires, officials are growing increasingly gloomy about the chances for a peaceful resolution.

170 Killed In Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—At least 170 persons have been killed in fighting between Kurds of the Sunni Moslem sect and Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's Shiite Moslems in the town of Sanandaj, in northwest Iran, reports reaching Tehran today said.

One source, reached by telephone, said Kurdish rebels were besieging the military barracks at Sanandaj, 250 miles west of Tehran.

PUC Gets Jurisdiction

AUSTIN (AP)-The Senate Economic Development Committee voted 5-2 today to give the Public Utility Commission exclusive jurisdiction over electric utility rates and services.

Municipally owned electric utility systems would be exempted.

Suspects Arraigned

HARLINGEN (AP)-Two men accused of immobilizing the Los Fresnos police force and then taking $77,000 from a bank in the small Lower Rio Grande Valley town were ordered arraigned today on bank robbery charges.

The two men, both from Harlingen, were arrested Friday and held during the weekend in the Cameron County Jail. FBI spokesman Charles Bayne said some of the money has been recovered.

The bank was robbed Thursday after one man overpowered and handcuffed Los Fresnos' only policeman on duty at the time. The police dispatcher was also handcuffed, and the gunman fired a shot through the police teletype machine.

Another man walked into the bank and held it up.

China Proposes Talks

TOKYO (AP)-China proposed today that Vietnam open peace talks with it March 28, five days after the date proposed by Vietnam, to restore normal relations after their four-week border war, China's official Xinhua Hsinhua news agency reported.

Xinhua said the Chinese Foreign Ministry sent a note to the Vietnamese Foreign Ministry proposing that vice foreign ministers from each government meet on a rotating basis in Hanoi and Peking.

Quake Shakes Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)-A moderate earthquake shook much of southwest Mexico including the capital Sunday afternoon, swaying high-rise buildings and panicking residents. There were no reports of injuries or major damage.

The Seismological Institute at the University of Mexico said the quake registered 5.5 on the open-ended Richter scale and lasted about a minute.

Thundershowers Bring Rain, Hail Here Today

Early-morning thundershowers dampened most of Scurry County this morning with rainfall ranging up to more than an inch which was laced with hail in some areas.

Hailstones as large as small marbles fell in the north and east parts of Snyder. Hail also was reported at Hermleigh, where rainfall amounted to a little more than an inch.

Fluvanna reported a hard shower this morning, but it was estimated at less than an inch, but at Ira the rain measured 1.3 inches by mid-morning.

Snyder had less rain, but showers continued intermittently during the morning after a total of .20 had been recorded at 7 a.m.

Half an inch was reported at the Lake Thomas dam, but no runoff into the lake was reported.

The thundershowers moved in before dawn this morning following a weekend of weather that brought turbulence to the Plains and Panhandle regions of the state. Apparently the largest of several tornadoes which struck early Sunday occurred in Crosby County where four persons suffered minor injuries, power lines cut and some homes and farm equipment were wrecked and scattered.

Forecasts called for a chance of more thunderstorms in Northwest Texas today and Tuesday.

None of the injuries in Crosby County, just east of Lubbock, was serious, according to Crosby County Deputy Paul Stone, who said a broken leg was the most severe injury.

Sheriff Fred Owen said a 3-year-old child was thrown out of one rural residence as tornadic winds ripped half of the house down. The child was not hurt.

Stone said officers were still evaluating the damage, but it appeared at least one house was demolished by the twister and that four others were damaged.

"There's a lot of expensive farm equipment strewn around. It'll be awhile before we figure it all out," Stone said.

"I saw 10 or 12 utility poles that were just snapped off at the ground," the deputy said. "Nearly every place the tornado went there was some damage."

Police in Lubbock, about 35 miles west of Crosbyton, reported a small tornado touched down briefly about three miles south of the airport. Officers said three houses and one business were heavily damaged and power lines were down. No injuries were reported.

Heavy rains in Lubbock caused the roof of one building to cave in, but the structure was vacant when the incident occurred shortly after midnight.

The National Weather Service in Amarillo reported a tornado near Silverton.

Another twister was reported by the Department of Public Safety north of Wellington. A farm house was destroyed and the bus barn at the local school was damaged by the tornado but, again, there were no injuries reported.

A twister near Plainview, between Lubbock and Amarillo, caused no damage, the Department of Public Safety said.

Rain Delays Street Work

Rains today forced a delay in the local street seal-coating project.

The annual city-county project was scheduled to begin this morning, with work planned this week on streets with heavy winter weather damage and on the Western Texas College campus.

"I don't know when we'll be able to start, now," said Jim Dower, city engineer. "We will have to wait for the streets to dry off.

At Energy Meet...

Carter Yet To Deal With Deregulation

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)-President Carter met at Camp David today with his top advisers to review the administration's policies on energy and inflation.

Carter, Vice President Walter F. Mondale and top White House and Cabinet officials began what was to be a day-long session at the Marine-guarded retreat in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains.

One of the principal items on the agenda was what to do about federal price ceilings on domestically produced oil, which are mandatory until May 31, then may be removed or continued at presidential discretion.

The White House hotly denied a published report that Carter was virtually certain to eliminate these controls and allow the price of domestic oil to rise to world levels.

"The president has made no decision on the course of action he will pursue," press secretary Jody Powell said in a statement. "Speculation about what that decision will be is idle and uninformed."

Among those summoned to the meeting were Energy Secretary James R. Schlesinger, Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal, Labor Secretary Ray Marshall, Commerce Secretary Juanita Kreps and budget director James McIntyre.

Also attending were Carter's chief anti-inflation strategist, Alfred E. Kahn; Charles Schultze, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers; White House domestic policy aide Stuart Eizenstat; trade ambassador Robert Strauss and Assistant Secretary of State Julius L. Katz.

Besides energy, the agenda was expected to include the administration's semi-voluntary wage and price guidelines, which so far have shown little effect in the face of an unexpectedly strong business performance.

Officials said no hard decisions were expected to be made at today's session, which instead was devoted to a broad review of current conditions.

Under discussion were mandatory thermostat controls and a long list of other ideas packaged in a proposed "Iranian Response Plan," designed to cope with the pinch on supplies that is just beginning to be felt as a result of the Iranian revolution.

Q--Has a Southwest Conference team ever won the NCAA national basketball championship?

A--No, but a Texas team outside the conference has. Texas Western University (now the University of Texas at El Paso) won it in 1966 to become the state's only NCAA champion. Prior to that, the closest a team from Texas had come was in 1948 when Baylor went to the semi-finals.

2nd Trial For Delao Begins Here

Ruben Delao went on trial this morning for the second time in the death last September of Pedro "Pete" Silva.

Delao, who is charged with murder, was 24, years old last Sept. 15 when he is alleged to have stabbed Silva, 49, to death. A son of Silva's, Felipe, 22, was also injured in the confrontation that occurred outside a residence north of Snyder.

Delao's first trial ended in January with a mistrial when the eight-man, four-woman jury deadlocked in a prison-or-probation argument that proved irreconcilable, despite having earlier returned a verdict of voluntary manslaughter in the case.

Delao's trial began this morning in 132nd District Court with jury selection. The defendant is represented by Gene Dulaney, the same attorney who represented him in his first trial.

One Step From Signing Treaty

By The Associated Press

The Israeli Cabinet today approved the peace treaty with Egypt, leaving ratification by the Israeli Parliament as the only remaining step before a historic signing ceremony in Washington - as early as next Monday - ending 30 years of conflict between the two nations.

The Parliament debate is scheduled to open Tuesday and the vote may come Wednesday or Thursday. As with the Cabinet, the Parliament's approval is considered a foregone conclusion.

Cabinet Secretary Arieh Naor said the Cabinet voted 15-2 to approve the treaty, engineered by President Carter on his Mideast peace mission last week. The Cabinet debated the treaty for five hours before voting. It was not learned immediately who had cast the negative votes.

Publication of the treaty text by the Israelis was expected later today.

Over the weekend U.S. presidential envoy Zbigniew Brzezinski failed to win Saudi Arabian and Jordanian support for the Egyptian-Israeli treaty, but he said he is "more convinced than ever" the pact will be the "beginning and cornerstone" of peace in the Middle East.

The Israeli Cabinet session was largely a formality, since each article and clause of the treaty was studied and approved during a half-year of negotiations capped last week by President Carter's Mideast trip.

13 Are Added To Historical Panel

Scurry County Commissioners this morning appointed 13 members to two-year terms on the Scurry County Historical Commission. The action was taken following receipt of a letter from Jean Everett, chairman of the historical group in which she said the executive board had requested appointment of the additional members.

Appointed were Mrs. B.J. Bartels, Mrs. Irene McFarland, Mrs. Margaret Drum, Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Jim R. Brown, Jim Palmer, Rodger Sullenger, Gloria Shaw, Harry Krenek, Barbara Miller and Dub Tubb.

In other business this morning, the commission approved a new contract with the State Human Resources Dept. which has offices in the new senior center-office building, and set Aug. 9 as the date for the county board of tax equalization to meet.

The resignation of Mildred Tracy as a member of the county library board was accepted.

Personal Income Rises In February

WASHINGTON (AP)-The personal income of Americans rose a modest 0.6 percent in February, about half the average rate for the fourth quarter of 1978, the Commerce Department said today.

The increase of $11.2 billion to a seasonally adjusted annual figure of $1.83 trillion followed a lackluster January increase of only 0.3 percent.

"It means people will buy less," said a Commerce official. "We have already seen little retail sales change this year."

In fact, retail sales were up just 0.6 percent in February and 0.2 percent the month before following five months of increases of 1 percent or more.

The increase in personal income - only 0.9 percent in the first two months this year - compared with increases of 1.3 percent in October, 1 percent in November and 1.4 percent in December, revised Commerce Department figures show.

Much of the drop in January was attributed to an increase in the Social Security tax rate, which took a $5.5 billion bite from Americans' paychecks. In February, Commerce said, social insurance deductions increased $400 million.

revolutionary dress

At its present stage, the Iranian revolution is almost hors de comment.

It will eventually run its chaotic course and a new order will emerge. But this is a matter more of time than of specific revolutionary events and decisions. The real shaping of the new Iran will begin when the revolution has exhausted itself.

Nevertheless, the demonstrations in Tehran of women alarmed by the Ayatollah Khomeini's comments on the proper dress for revolutionary womanhood are of more than usual interest, and just possibly significance. The call for women to attire themselves according to religious standards was widely taken as meaning the chador, the traditional head-to-toe black veil. And women who have become accustomed to Western dresses and jeans didn't like it.

One wonders where these women were, or what was their reaction, when the ayatollah, remote-controlling the revolution from his French exile, was declaring to Iran and the world his goal of an Islamic republic where the word of the Koran would literally be law. Now that he is back home, there is surprise that he means it to apply to all Iranians, not only such trasgressors to be punished by whippings and hand amputations.

The stirring of opposition manifested by the Tehran demonstration suggests the ayatollah's Islamic revolution could be entering a very trying period. The shah's over-equipped army may have caved into it without a real fight, but never underestimate the determination of even the semi-liberated woman aroused on an issue that really matters.

The defiance of enforced orthodoxy among great numbers of westernized younger women was epitomized by one anonymous secretary quoted in The New York Times' account of the event: "I will wear a chador on the day all Iranian men start wearing turbans and stop shaving their faces, as Islam law says they must."

Is she kidding? Does she think exactly that may not also be in the cards as well as the Koran? Has she taken a good look at Khomeini himself recently?

Never underestimate the dogmatic consistency of the zealot. Just give him time.

it pays to loaf

Take a good look at any major program of the federal government and chances are it will be peppered with fraud.

That is what a Senate subcommittee did recently with the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, as it is being administered.

Sure enough, it found evidence of wholesale corruption. Youths, who supposedly are given jobs under the act to teach them employable skills, were being paid for engaging in recreation or for doing nothing at all.

By now everyone who hasn't been hibernating knows the federal government has found more ways to spend taxpayers' money than a porcupine has quills. What some of its managers still haven't learned is how to spend it lawfully.

at wits end

by erma bombeck

Since I work from home, I fantasize a lot on how it would be to climb into the car every morning and drive into the city to an office in carpetland.

I see me sitting behind the wheel looking cool . . . my lip gloss simmering and my solar hair looking like an unmade bed as I sip my Spartan breakfast of black coffee from a steaming mug.

Sometimes, a man three times larger than his sports car with license plates "MACHO I" pulls next to me and tries to catch my eye, but I stick-shift into low gear and pull off, leaving him in a cloud of exhaust without a threat of hope.

Oh, I could pull it off. After all, I'm not without credentials. I have transported three dogs to the vet with three children (one with stomach flue and one blowing bubbles from his own saliva in my ear) arguing over two windows in the back seat when an umbrella opened automatically.

It's just that the opportunity didn't present itself until yesterday when I found myself in the early morning traffic going into the city. This was my chance to fulfill my fantasy.

I ran a brush through my hair, put on a skirt, topped by a jacket with one of those five-foot scarfs that just hang around the neck. Next came the lip gloss, and finally the mug of steaming hot coffee.

When the motor finally turned over, the vibration spilled part of the coffee all over the dashboard where it dripped down on my leg, causing me great pain.

I balanced it on the console and reached for it a few times but cars were passing me on the right and cutting in. One time when I shifted gears, my entire hand went into the cup and sloshed coffee all over the carpet.

Once, I nearly had it to my lips when the cars in front of me braked suddenly and I got a lap full.

Ahead, I could see a light. If I timed it right, I could put the cup to my lips and look cool. We inched our way forward and finally my moment had come. I brought the cup from my side, threw my hair back with the assuredness of a woman executive on the move, and started to sip my coffee.

The light changed. The car behind me blew his horn. I jumped a mile. The coffee dribbled down my chin and onto my jacket. My scarf fell into what was left of the cold coffee. The man in the sports car alongside me laughed until I thought he would have a hernia.

I drink too much coffee anyway.

Solar Towers Planned Near Big Spring

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP)—A Fort Collins firm has been awarded a $1.5 million contract by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation to develop and build a network of solar-powered weather stations, the first of which will be installed near Big Spring.

Electronic Techniques Inc., was chosen to construct a chain of 150 portable monitoring stations that will transmit weather information through a satellite into a centralized computer system.

The weather stations are designed to allow researchers to monitor weather developments relating to wind speed, temperature, relative humidity, barometric pressure and precipitation.

Each weather station, to be built in the next 20 months, will be operated by batteries that draw their power from solar panels.

The first 25 stations will be installed near Big Spring.

in washington

martha angle and robert walters

WASHINGTON (NEA) - Anyone foolhardy enough to run for president needs a thick skin and a stiff upper lip, but there are some indignities no human being - not even a politician - should be asked to endure.

At the top of the list is the sort of unsubstantiated printed assault that New Hampshire publisher William Loeb and his Manchester Union-Leader launched last week on the private lives and personal character of GOP Rep. Philip M. Crane and his wife, Arlene.

In a pair of articles and a signed Loeb editorial, the newspaper said that the conservative Illinois congressman and his wife were hard-drinking, foul-talking philandering party-goers in direct contradiction of Crane's public image as a clean-cut family man.

The charges were attributed only to "former staff members, associates, friends, colleagues, conservative political observers and columnists," all of them conveniently anonymous. No specifics, let alone proof, were offered.

The reporter who wrote the articles indicated to Crane that his sources had included some Ronald Reagan supporters and staff, but Reagan - challenged by an angry Crane - denied that anyone connected with his campaign was responsible.

It doesn't really matter where the rumors originated. The newspaper had no business printing them. Crane is not Loeb's first victim; Sen. Edmund S. Muskie and his wife, Jane, along with Betty Ford, have likewise been subjected to the publisher's vitriol. Nor is Crane likely to be the only 1980 presidential candidate subjected to such treatment.

But that doesn't make it tolerable. And the Union-Leader is not the only publication in the country which is willing to play fast and loose with the facts for the sake of a titillating story.

In recent years, the line between gossip and good reporting has all but disappeared. Politicians have suddenly become fair game for the most flagrant invasions of privacy, with none of the usual standards of proof applied.

Newspapers and magazines that wouldn't dare publish allegations about a candidate's financial dealings without painstaking research and documentation blithely report - in gossip columns and on the news pages - even the flimsiest rumors of personal peccadilloes.

Some claim it is all part of the "post-Watergate morality." Balderdash. Watergate had absolutely nothing to do with the private conduct of public officials. It was a scandal of official abuse of power - a far more appropriate target for "watchdog" journalism.

Back in the "good old days," what a politician did on his own time and money was his own business - until and unless his conduct led to a brush with law enforcement authorities.

Perhaps that was too lax a standard. Maybe the public does have a "right to know" if a presidential candidate goes on drunken binges in the wee hours of the night, even if he doesn't wind up on the police blotter. But how does a journalist distinguish between a one-time episode and a pattern of behavior when none of us spends 24 hours a day, seven days a week, with any politician? And how do you prove someone is drunk?

What about sex? A candidate's sexual adventures may legitimately concern his or her spouse, but are they really anybody else's business? Are they in any way relevant to a candidate's capacity to serve in the office he seeks? Eleanor Roosevelt may have been deeply wounded by her husband's affairs with Lucy Mercer, but does that mean America would have been better off if Franklin D. Roosevelt had never been president? Of course not.

There's a long, hard road ahead between now and election day 1980. There are enough legitimate hurdles along the way to test the mettle of any would-be president without forcing candidates to run a gauntlet of personal attacks that are irrelevant at best, vicious lies at worst.

Oswald: "Alvin Roth played this hand some years ago in an important match against a really great player in the East seat and a fine player with a somewhat devious mind in the West. He never got a complete count because East's one discard made on the fourth spade was a low club."

Alan: "From what I know of Alvin he made the hand and West must have given something away to him."

Oswald: "That is just what West did. Alvin started out by running the four spades. West had to make two discards. The first one was very painful, but West finally parted with a low diamond. The second was a low club accompanied by even greater distress."

Alan: "So Alvin decided that West just couldn't have that club queen."

Ask the Experts

A California reader asks if it is ever proper to show a four-card suit before rebidding one of six cards.

The answer is that there are many occasions when the six-card suit is not rebid. See tomorrow's article for an example.

Literary Larceny Of the Verse Kind

By Abigail Van Buren

1979 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Did you ever determine for certain the author of that beautiful poem, "Slow Me Down, Lord"?

You said 92 people claimed to have written it. Didn't the original author ever copyright it?

CURIOUS IN WINNIPEG

DEAR CURIOUS: The author of "Slow Me Down, Lord" is Wilferd A. Peterson. He wrote it in 1952 but failed to copyright it, which made it very easy to plagiarize. Three people forwarded "documented" proof claiming authorship. Each sent me a slightly altered version of Peterson's poem, insisting that they originated it. (One even set it to music and is planning to record it!)

When I asked Peterson why he didn't sue these frauds, he said, "I'd rather write than fight."

Peterson is now 78, and perhaps the Lord has answered his prayer and HAS slowed him down a little, but he continues to be a fast friend and faithful correspondent.

DEAR ABBY: The question arose in your column whether a woman who had borrowed $200 from a friend should pay interest when nothing was said about interest at the time she borrowed it. (It took her 14 years to pay it back.)

You said the person who lent the money should be glad to get the $200 back after 14 years—never mind the interest.

When a loan agreement is silent with regard to interest, the law usually imputes an interest rate into the agreement. (In Ohio, a 6 percent interest rate is imputed.)

In any event, inasmuch as prices have more than doubled over the last 14 years, the creditor should have received at least $400 in return.

OHIO ATTORNEY

DEAR ATTORNEY: What a person is legally entitled to is oftentimes a far cry from what he gets. I maintain that, after a 14-year wait, the lady was lucky to see her $200 again.

DEAR ABBY: A woman writes to Dear Abby and says, "This guy I am writing about is a real louse. I will call him Paul."

My name happens to be Paul. Why does she have to drag my name through her filth? If he's a louse, let her use HIS rean name—not mine!

Second question: What is all this garbage about equal rights for women? If women get any more rights, I'm changing my lifestyle from Paul to Pauline.

Feminist Leader In Iran Deported

By BRIAN JEFFRIES
Associated Press Writer

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—American feminist leader Kate Millett was expelled from Iran today after being kept overnight in a small room at the Tehran airport.

Accused of "provocations" against Iran's Islamic revolution, the 44-year-old author of "Sexual Politics" and a woman companion, Sophie Keir, were put aboard an Iranian airliner on a flight to Paris, London and New York.

Ms. Millett told reporters she hoped to leave the plane in Paris.

Two immigration officials took the women from their downtown Tehran hotel Sunday morning and delivered them to the airport after a stop at the Foreign Ministry. They were detained in a small room equipped with a couch and a camp bed and were not allowed visitors. But reporters were able to get through by telephone, and Ms. Millett said they were not mistreated.

Ms. Millett ran afoul of Iran's revolution when she called its chief architect, Moslem holyman Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, a "male chauvinist."

She arrived in Iran two weeks ago at the invitation of Iranian women's groups campaigning for equal rights with men under the revolutionary regime.

On Thursday, Deputy Prime Minister Abbas Amir Entezam accused her of "provocations" against the revolution and said she would be deported.

The new government has abolished the family protection law under which women had equal property and divorce rights with men. Khomeini has also urged women to trade Western dress for the traditional Moslem veil.

Thousands of army troops and police marched through the streets of Tehran and other cities throughout the country today to demonstrate their support of Khomeini and the revolution. The demonstration apparently was designed to counter demands by revolutionary guerrilla organizations that the chief bulwark of the shah's regime, be replaced by a new people's army.

In 1848, Louis Philippe of France, the last Capetian king, abdicated and left for England.

Which Came 1st? High Prices Or Inflation...

Figuring Blame Like Old Riddle

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Trying to figure out who - or what - is to blame for inflation and rising food prices is a little like trying to solve that old riddle about the chicken and the egg: Which came first?

Inflation leads to increases in food prices. And increases in food prices lead to inflation. Which leads to more increases. And more inflation. And on. And on.

The problem was spotlighted recently at a conference sponsored by the Food Marketing Institute, an industry group. Speaker after speaker, from cattle rancher to supermarket executive, talked about how inflation is boosting prices.

And William T. Boehm, a U.S. Agriculture Department economist, said that "as long as the food system continues to rely so much on inputs purchased in the general economy, food price increases at about the rate of inflation can be expected," he said.

Agriculture Department figures show that in 1978, the farmer got about 32 cents of every dollar consumers spent on food produced on U.S. farms.

The statistics don't cover imports or non-farm foods like fish. The remaining 68 cents went for processors' and retailers' marketing costs - 32 cents for labor, 8 cents for packaging, a nickel for transportation and 23 cents for taxes, rent, advertising, profits, interest expense, repairs, etc.

The USDA expects food prices to rise about 8½ percent this year. About one-third of the boost will be due to a 10 percent to 11 percent rise in prices paid to farmers, according to Boehm. Most of the rest will stem from an anticipated 9 percent boost in marketing costs.

Food prices went up almost 12 percent last year and Boehm says that preventing the same kind of double-digit boost this year depends on "some progress in the overall fight to control inflation."

Controlling inflation, however, depends on controlling food prices.

Goods and services measured in the Consumer Price Index are weighted according to what proportion of a family's budget goes for each item. Food prices are third, behind shelter and transportation. Food, eaten at home and in restaurants, accounts for about 18 percent of the overall index, meaning that a 10 percent boost in food prices adds 1.8 percentage points to the CPI.

In a speech late last year, Howard W. Hjort of the USDA said that from 1950 through 1978, food prices - on the average -- contributed less than one percentage point a year to the rate of inflation. The picture since 1972, however, is much less encouraging. "Only once since then -- in 1976 -- have food prices contributed less than one percentage point," Hjort said.

He noted that the Consumer Price index does not take into account changing buying habits that follow price increases. But he added: "Because food purchases are made weekly and because changes in food prices are highly visible, consumers are especially sensitive to price movements. And ... changes in food prices are often used by many as a psychological bellweather to signal the strength of inflationary pressures in the general economy."

In 66th Legislature...

Tax Bill Marks Halfway Point

AUSTIN (AP)-The kind of issues that light the emotions come before the House and its committees this week.

State representatives were expected to mark the halfway point in the legislative session this afternoon by voting final passage to a bill HB1060 implementing the 1978 Tax Relief Amendment.

Next step will be committee hearings in the Senate, some of whose members object to the House's method of reimbursing school districts for more than $430 million in revenue losses caused by tax cuts.

With that formality out of the way - the real debate preceded tentative approval last week - House members plunge into a calendar that includes conjugal visits for state prison inmates.

It is the top priority bill of Rep. Sam Hudson, D-Dallas, a prolific sponsor of legislation who fasted for weeks in 1977 to protest lack of committee action on his program.

The House Committee on Security and Sanctions approved the bill more than two weeks ago, against the wishes of its chairman, Rep. Jimmie Edwards, D-Conroe.

A perennial issue that taps both religious feeling and pocketbook interests goes before the House Committee on Business and Industry following today's floor session.

Committee members expect a large crowd for a hearing on four bills to repeal the state's 1961 "blue law" that prohibits merchants from selling about 40 different kinds of goods on consecutive Saturdays and Sundays.

Discount houses have failed in repeated efforts to have both state and federal courts declare the law unconstitutional and are mounting their most determined effort ever to have the Legislature repeal the law.

PACK RECEIVES TROPHY---Cub Scout Pack 177, sponsored by the Stanfield Parents and Teachers Association, received a "traveling" trophy for having the most leaders in attendance at the March Cub Roundtable held at Dunn community. Those in attendance were Sandra Campbell, cubmaster; Janet Moseley and Judy Robinson, den leaders; and Thelma Deere, Committee member. The trophy is returned at the next scout meeting and awarded again to the pack with the highest attendance. There is no limit as to how many times a pack can receive the honor. Above, Mrs. Campbell is shown placing the trophy in a display case at Stanfield. (SDN STAFF PHOTO)

Library Books Restored By Freeze Dry Process

By NADINE JOSEPH
Associated Press Writer

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)-More than half of 45,000 books Stanford University librarians feared were lost to a flood will be back on the shelves next month - saved by a freeze-dry process usually reserved for coffee.

"The results have been exciting, when you consider we had masses of pulpy paper and it looked hopeless," said Sally Buchanan, a Stanford librarian in charge of the book restoration project.

Ms. Buchanan said 65 percent of the books will be returned to the graduate library after dirt and mud have been removed and 25 percent of the books will need rebinding. The rest - 10 percent - need extensive repairs and a small number will be replaced.

"We may lose some covers, but the paper has come out beautifully," Ms. Buchanan said.

The books were soaked when a water main broke and flooded the basement stacks of the Stanford library on Nov. 4. Most of the damaged books were classics, religion, art, music, philosophy and architecture books.

After the accident, the books were immediately frozen, among vegetables and fruit, at Modern Ice & Storage in San Jose, Calif., which is owned by a Stanford alumnus.

The books remained there until Lockheed Inc. volunteered to freeze-dry them in a vacuum chamber that had been used in training for space ventures.

It took three days to freeze-dry each load of 5,000 books. The process began Feb. 5 and was completed March 12, Ms. Buchanan said.

The books were first subjected to mild heat in the stainless steel vacuum chambers, which measured 18-by-18-by-35 feet.

Through a physical reaction called sublimation, the ice crystals turned to vapor without getting the books wet. The vapor collected on a special cold panel in the form of ice and the books came out "dry and brittle," Ms. Buchanan said.

Before they are returned to the shelves April 1, the books are being kept in a high humidity environment so that they absorb moisture.

A similar process was used to restore smaller numbers of books from the Corning Glass Museum and Library in Corning, N.Y., the Klein Law Library at Temple University, in Philadelphia, and the Federal Record Center in St. Louis.

Rig Count On Decline

Drilling activity continued to decline last week in the Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico.

Reed Drilling Equipment's weekly survey showed 209 rigs running, compared to 213 the week before. At this time last year, there were 288 drilling rigs running in the Basin.

Lea County, N.M., topped the week's activity with 26 active rigs. Pecos County was the West Texas leader with 15.

Scurry County had three rigs running, a decrease from four the week before.

Figures for other counties in the area, with last week and the week before, in order; Dawson 4 and 3; Garza 4 and 4; Howard 3 and 4; Mitchell 2 and 3.

Clemency For Cash Alleged

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A federal grand jury has indicted four members of former Gov. Ray Blanton's administration, alleging thousands of dollars and expensive gifts changed hands in a four-year scheme that allowed Tennessee convicts to buy their freedom.

Shooting, Theft, Mishaps Reported

Investigations of an accidental shooting, a theft, and several traffic accidents kept police busy during the weekend.

Reports indicate that Antonio A. Guzman, 25, was cleaning a .22-caliber rifle Saturday evening at his home in the 2800 block of Ave. Z when the weapon discharged. Shot once in the left hand, Guzman, was taken first to Cogdell Memorial Hospital, and later transferred to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Laura B. Smith, 2607 Ave. W, told police Saturday afternoon she admitted a young woman to her home who claimed to have a cut hand. Once inside her house, Mrs. Smith claimed, the woman she befriended ransacked her purse and dresser drawer, taking two $5 rings and $60 in cash.

The suspect is described as a female 16-20 years of age, medium build, long hair, who wore jeans and a red-striped sweater, police reported.

A broken window at the Deffebach Agency will cost about $300 to replace, reported Tommy Deffebach to police. The criminal mischief was discovered at noon Sunday.

A traffic accident Saturday resulted in minor injury to a 40-year-old woman. Reports indicate the injury did not require hospital treatment.

The collision occurred in the 3600 block of College Ave. about 12:50 p.m. The woman, Lydia Garcia, was a passenger in a car driven by Frank Garcia of Jayton. His vehicle was in collision with a 1975 Cadillac driven by Ronnie Farmer of Snyder and a 1979 Ford driven by Richard Nicholson, also of Snyder. Minor damages were reported.

A two-car collision early Sunday morning sent Fernando Lopez to Cogdell. He was treated and released.

Reports show the Lopez car was in collision with a parked 1977 Ford owned by Ricky Williams of Farmington, N.M. The wreck took place about 5:11 a.m. Sunday.

A minor wreck also occurred about 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the 3500 block of Austin. There, reports show, a 1968 Chevrolet driven by Frank Miller collided with a 1964 Oldsmobile driven by Maude Holcomb.

Sunday, about 10 a.m., a 1972 Oldsmobile driven by William Raymond Wilson and a 1977 Pontiac driven by Jesse Edward Lemons collided in the 2600 block of Ave. Q. Minor damages were reported.

The 2500 block of Ave. I was the scene of a minor accident about 12:47 p.m. Sunday. A 1974 Chevrolet driven by Esa Trista Robles was in collision with a parked 1978 Ford owned by James Henry Smith.

The final mishap of the weekend took place about 7:25 p.m. in the 500 block of 30th St. Reports indicate a 1972 Chevrolet owned by Maria Elva Medrano was struck by a vehicle which is alleged to have left the scene.

NCAA Tourney Winds Up With Surprising Final Four

By The Associated Press

Talk about longshots ...

Take the teams in the NCAA basketball semifinals -- Indiana State, Michigan State, DePaul and Penn.

Of the four, only Michigan State ever has gone this far, the Spartans finishing fourth in 1957. DePaul was among the final four teams in 1943, but at that time, only a total of eight teams were invited to regional games in the East and the West, with the regional champions meeting for the national title and no third-place game between the losers.

Of the team's four coaches -- Bill Hodges of Indiana State, Jud Heathcote of Michigan State, 65-year-old Ray Meyer of DePaul and Bob Weinhauer of Penn - none has ever guided a team into the Final Four.

In addition, no Ivy League school, such as Penn, has appeared in the Final Four since 1965 when Princeton finished third.

Saturday, top-ranked Indiana State, 32-0, won the Midwest Regional at Cincinnati, edging No. 5 Arkansas 73-71 on reserve Bob Heaton's field goal with two seconds remaining. No. 6 DePaul, 25-5, captured the West Regional at Provo, Utah, upsetting second-ranked UCLA 95-91 as Curtis Watkins and Gary Garland each scored 20 points.

Sunday, third-ranked Michigan State, 24-6, took the Mideast Regional at Indianapolis, beating No. 4 Notre Dame 80-68 behind Greg Kelser's 34 points and 13 rebounds and Earvin Johnson's 19 points and 13 assists. And 24th ranked Penn won the East Regional at Greensboro, N.C., defeating No. 17 St. John's 64-62 on James Salters' two free throws with 23 seconds remaining.

This Saturday in the national semifinals, Indiana State faces DePaul and Michigan State plays Penn. The winners meet for the national collegiate championship next Monday night.

Perhaps the happiest coach of the surviving teams was the long-frustrated, grandfatherly Meyer, in his 37th season at DePaul, a little school in Chicago.

Asked if he was shocked at having beaten proud UCLA, the Pac-10 champion, Meyer replied: "Quite frankly, yes. So much so that I had to pinch myself."

Questioned about DePaul's matchup against unbeaten Indiana State in the national semifinals, Meyer said: "We play Indiana State? Well, the Bird will fly. We'll have to devise some defense for him." He referred to the Sycamores' Larry Bird, the Player of the Year in college basketball.

'Bama The Spoiler For Big Ten Hopes

NEW YORK (AP)—It's more like a Big Ten Conference playoff - but Alabama should feel right at home, being away from home for the holidays.

You can be certain the Big Ten won't do any worse than second in the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden, seeing as three of the four teams in tonight's semifinals come from that midwestern power conference.

But Alabama, the only "outsider," fits in very nicely, thank you. The Crimson Tide began this season's campaign in the Big Apple, finishing third in the Joe Lapchick Tournament.

That, incidentally, was better than the Tide's ever done in the NIT. In two previous appearances, Alabama has finished fourth. "Maybe the third time's a charm," said C.M. Newton, the Tide's coach.

And maybe the third time on the road during a break from classes will help, too. "Our boys gave up their Thanksgiving holiday to come here to play in the Joe Lapchick Tournament, then they gave up their Christmas holidays for the Sugar Bowl (a basketball tournament in conjuection with the New Year's Day football classic) and now they've given up their spring holidays for the NIT," Newton said.

Indiana, 20-12, and Ohio State, 19-10, drew third-round byes and go at it in the second half of tonight's double-header. Purdue, 26-7, the only nationally ranked squad 15th in the NIT and one of the three teams that shared the conference crown, opens the twinbill against Alabama, 22-10, which wound up tied for third in the Southeastern Conference standings.

While Indiana and Ohio State were relaxing last Thursday night, Purdue was defeating Old Dominion 67-59 and Alabama was whipping Texas A&M 72-68 in third-round games.

Newton said he is not thinking yet about which team his Crimson Tide might face if it gets past the Boilermakers.

Rains Ruin Bid At Brownwood

BROWNFIELD -- Rains forced a quick halt to the Brownwood Invitational Tennis Tournament here over the weekend.

The scheduled two-day tourney did not begin until 4 p.m. Friday due to adverse weather, and was never resumed Saturday. According to Snyder Coach Bill Boles, the Tigers were on their way to a second place finish behind host Brownwood when the meet folded.

Snyder will host Estacado in a dual match Tuesday at 3 p.m. The team will travel to Borger for a Friday-Saturday tournament this weekend.

In the first two rounds completed Friday Diane Sentell won by default over Bonnie McCullough, Early, then lost to Diane Senterfilt, San Saba, 0-6, 0-6, last year's state champion in class A.

Cathy Cypert lost to state-ranked Carrie Croce, Brownwood, 3-6, 6-3, 3-6, then fell to Susan Mickle, Weatherford, 9-7.

In girls doubles, Donna McGee and Connie Weber defeated Brown and Dawson, San Saba, 6-1, 6-0, and won over Mullin and Middleton, Weatherford, 6-1, 6-2. Belinda and Kelly Scott lost to Johnson and Miles, San Saba, 1-6, 6-7.

In boys singles, Neal Paige, No. 1 seed in the meet, defeated Steve Davis, Weatherford, 6-0, 6-0, and lost to Paul Pearce, Brownwood, 6-0, 6-0, and was on his way to a defeat over Pete Hibler, San Saba, when the lights went out and matches were halted.

In boys doubles Jeff and Jay Wesson received a first-round bye and lost in the second to Barton and Nabors, Brownwood, 6-4, 1-6, 7-6. Lyn Edminson and Jimmy Fowler defeated Smith and Long, Weatherford, 6-1, 6-2, and lost in the second round to Pearce and Pancake, Brownwood, 4-6, 1-6.

Tigers Take Second In District 3-3A Meet

SWEETWATER--Snyder varsity golf team grabbed second place in the first District 3-3A golf meet of the season here Saturday.

The Tigers carded a 325 to finish only two strokes behind leader Brownfield.

Lance McMillan of Snyder took medalist at the meet with a 75 over 18 holes. Brownfield's Bobby Knox was runner-up with a 76.

The Cubs won the meet - the first of four - with a 323, followed by Snyder, Lamesa 334, Sweetwater 348, Sweetwater B 348, Snyder B 394, Lamesa B 394, and Brownfield B 396.

Other individual scores for Snyder A included Randy Chambers 79, Mike Wolf 81, Randy Wolf 90 and Kris Seale 98.

Snyder B scores included Devin Donelson 93, Barry Blackmon 94, Joe Lee 102, Mike Wimmer 105 and Greg Hinton 106.

Single scores for the Tigers included Joe League 99, Steve Neeley 113 and Clint Potts 119.

Odessa Slugs Snyder To Win Lobo Bracket

MONAHANS -- Odessa Permian came up with four runs and held Snyder to zip here Saturday, taking the Monahans Baseball Tournament championship.

Permian scored its initial run on a walk, a stolen base and an error in the first inning, scored its second on similar occurances in the second, then slapped back-to-back singles in the seventh stanza to score twice more and insure the victory.

The loss leaves Snyder at 7-4 for the season, and snaps a winning streak of seven. The Tigers will travel to Jal, N.M. for the next outing, Tuesday at 5 p.m.

Kerry Holden, Permian pitcher, kept Snyder at bay most of the evening here. The hurler fanned seven batters during the contest, and only allowed as many as two Tigers on base twice during the game.

In the fifth inning, Sammy Willis drew a walk and advanced to second base on a steal. Next up Toby Neves walked also, but with two outs already carded, Bryan Vincent slapped one fo the alert second baseman for the third.

Snyder managed but two hits in the game. Neves logged one in the third inning and Mitch Mackey got his in the sixth.

Odessa trimmed Snyder pitcher Tony Degrate for six hits. Degrate also fanned seven batters. The Tigers committed three errors.

Snyder had advanced to the finals by defeating Monahans 6-2 and Lubbock High 5-4.

Final standings in the tournament included: 1. Odessa Permian, 2. Snyder, 3. Pecos, 4. Lubbock High, 5. Monahans, 6. Seminole, 7. Fort Stockton, 8. Kermit.

NCAA Tourney Winds Up With Surprising Final Four

By The Associated Press

Talk about longshots ...

Take the teams in the NCAA basketball semifinals -- Indiana State, Michigan State, DePaul and Penn.

Of the four, only Michigan State ever has gone this far, the Spartans finishing fourth in 1957. DePaul was among the final four teams in 1943, but at that time, only a total of eight teams were invited to regional games in the East and the West, with the regional champions meeting for the national title and no third-place game between the losers.

Of the team's four coaches -- Bill Hodges of Indiana State, Jud Heathcote of Michigan State, 65-year-old Ray Meyer of DePaul and Bob Weinhauer of Penn, none has ever guided a team into the Final Four.

In addition, no Ivy League school, such as Penn, has appeared in the Final Four since 1965 when Princeton finished third.

Saturday, top-ranked Indiana State, 32-0, won the Midwest Regional at Cincinnati, edging No. 5 Arkansas 73-71 on reserve Bob Heaton's field goal with two seconds remaining. No. 6 DePaul, 25-5, captured the West Regional at Provo, Utah, upsetting second-ranked UCLA 95-91 as Curtis Watkins and Gary Garland each scored 20 points.

Sunday, third-ranked Michigan State, 24-6, took the Mideast Regional at Indianapolis, beating No. 4 Notre Dame 80-68 behind Greg Kelser's 34 points and 13 rebounds and Earvin Johnson's 19 points and 13 assists. And 14th-ranked Penn won the East Regional at Greensboro, N.C., defeating No. 17 St. John's 64-62 on James Salters' two free throws with 23 seconds remaining.

This Saturday in the national semifinals, Indiana State faces DePaul and Michigan State plays Penn. The winners meet for the national collegiate championship next Monday night.

Perhaps the happiest coach of the surviving teams was the long-frustrated, grandfatherly Meyer, in his 37th season at DePaul, a little school in Chicago.

Asked if he was shocked at having beaten proud UCLA, the Pac-10 champion, Meyer replied: "Quite frankly, yes. So much so that I had to pinch myself."

Questioned about DePaul's matchup against unbeaten Indiana State in the national semifinals, Meyer said: "We play Indiana State? Well, the Bird will fly. We'll have to devise some defense for him." He referred to the Sycamores' Larry Bird, the Player of the Year in college basketball.

'Bama The Spoiler For Big Ten Hopes

NEW YORK (AP)—It's more like a Big Ten Conference playoff - but Alabama should feel right at home, being away from home for the holidays.

You can be certain the Big Ten won't do any worse than second in the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden, seeing as three of the four teams in tonight's semifinals come from that midwestern power conference.

But Alabama, the only "outsider," fits in very nicely, thank you. The Crimson Tide began this season's campaign in the Big Apple, finishing third in the Joe Lapchick Tournament.

That, incidentally, was better than the Tide's ever done in the NIT. In two previous appearances, Alabama has finished fourth. "Maybe the third time's a charm," said C.M. Newton, the Tide's coach.

And maybe the third time on the road during a break from classes will help, too. "Our boys gave up their Thanksgiving holiday to come here to play in the Joe Lapchick Tournament, then they gave up their Christmas holidays for the Sugar Bowl (a basketball tournament in conjuection with the New Year's Day football classic) and now they've given up their spring holidays for the NIT," Newton said.

Indiana, 20-12, and Ohio State, 19-10, drew third-round byes and go at it in the second half of tonight's double-header. Purdue, 26-7, the only nationally ranked squad 15th in the NIT and one of the three teams that shared the conference crown, opens the twinbill against Alabama, 22-10, which wound up tied for third in the Southeastern Conference standings.

While Indiana and Ohio State were relaxing last Thursday night, Purdue was defeating Old Dominion 67-59 and Alabama was whipping Texas A&M 72-68 in third-round games.

Newton said he is not thinking yet about which team his Crimson Tide might face if it gets past the Boilermakers.

Rains Ruin Bid At Brownwood

BROWNFIELD -- Rains forced a quick halt to the Brownwood Invitational Tennis Tournament here over the weekend.

The scheduled two-day tourney did not begin until 4 p.m. Friday due to adverse weather, and was never resumed Saturday. According to Snyder Coach Bill Boles, the Tigers were on their way to a second place finish behind host Brownwood when the meet folded.

Snyder will host Estacado in a dual match Tuesday at 3 p.m. The team will travel to Borger for a Friday-Saturday tournament this weekend.

In the first two rounds completed Friday Diane Sentell won by default over Bonnie McCullough, Early, then lost to Diane Senterfilt, San Saba, 0-6, 0-6, last year's state champion in class A.

Cathy Cypert lost to state-ranked Carrie Croce, Brownwood, 3-6, 6-3, 3-6, then fell to Susan Mickle, Weatherford, 9-7.

In girls doubles, Donna McGee and Connie Weber defeated Brown and Dawson, San Saba, 6-1, 6-0, and won over Mullin and Middleton, Weatherford, 6-1, 6-2. Belinda and Kelly Scott lost to Johnson and Miles, San Saba, 1-6, 6-7.

In boys singles, Neal Paige, No. 1 seed in the meet, defeated Steve Davis, Weatherford, 6-0, 6-0, and lost to Paul Pearce, Brownwood, 6-0, 6-0, and was on his way to a defeat over Pete Hibler, San Saba, when the lights went out and matches were halted.

In boys doubles Jeff and Jay Wesson received a first-round bye and lost in the second to Barton and Nabors, Brownwood, 6-4, 1-6, 7-6. Lyn Edminson and Jimmy Fowler defeated Smith and Long, Weatherford, 6-1, 6-2, and lost in the second round to Pearce and Pancake, Brownwood, 4-6, 1-6.

Tigers Take Second In District 3-3A Meet

SWEETWATER--Snyder varsity golf team grabbed second place in the first District 3-3A golf meet of the season here Saturday.

The Tigers carded a 325 to finish only two strokes behind leader Brownfield.

Lance McMillan of Snyder took medalist at the meet with a 75 over 18 holes. Brownfield's Bobby Knox was runner-up with a 76.

The Cubs won the meet - the first of four - with a 323, followed by Snyder, Lamesa 334, Sweetwater 348, Sweetwater B 348, Snyder B 394, Lamesa B 394, and Brownfield B 396.

Other individual scores for Snyder A included Randy Chambers 79, Mike Wolf 81, Randy Wolf 90 and Kris Seale 98.

Snyder B scores included Devin Donelson 93, Barry Blackmon 94, Joe Lee 102, Mike Wimmer 105 and Greg Hinton 106.

Single scores for the Tigers included Joe League 99, Steve Neeley 113 and Clint Potts 119.

Odessa Slugs Snyder To Win Lobo Bracket

MONAHANS -- Odessa Permian came up with four runs and held Snyder to zip here Saturday, taking the Monahans Baseball Tournament championship.

Permian scored its initial run on a walk, a stolen base and an error in the first inning, scored its second on similar occurances in the second, then slapped back-to-back singles in the seventh stanza to score twice more and insure the victory.

The loss leaves Snyder at 7-4 for the season, and snaps a winning streak of seven. The Tigers will travel to Jal, N.M. for the next outing, Tuesday at 5 p.m.

Kerry Holden, Permian pitcher, kept Snyder at bay most of the evening here. The hurler fanned seven batters during the contest, and only allowed as many as two Tigers on base twice during the game.

In the fifth inning, Sammy Willis drew a walk and advanced to second base on a steal. Next up Toby Neves walked also, but with two outs already carded, Bryan Vincent slapped one fo the alert second baseman for the third.

Snyder managed but two hits in the game. Neves logged one in the third inning and Mitch Mackey got his in the sixth.

Odessa trimmed Snyder pitcher Tony Degrate for six hits. Degrate also fanned seven batters. The Tigers committed three errors.

Snyder had advanced to the finals by defeating Monahans 6-2 and Lubbock High 5-4.

Final standings in the tournament included: 1. Odessa Permian, 2. Snyder, 3. Pecos, 4. Lubbock High, 5. Monahans, 6. Seminole, 7. Fort Stockton, 8. Kermit.

Relieving leg cramps

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am suffering so badly from cramps in my legs. My doctor prescribed quinine sulfate, and I take one tablet every night before I go to bed. I still get the cramps occasionally, sometimes in the early morning or while I lie on my couch in the evening. I would like to know exactly the cause of this terrible pain, and if it has anything to do with the diet and what I eat.

DEAR READER — There are many reasons for cramps in the legs and a complete medical examination is usually indicated. Individuals who are deficient in salt, like the heavy laborer who sweats a lot, may have leg cramps as an indication of salt depletion. I am sure that's not your problem.

I notice that you describe all of your instances of cramps associated with resting, specifically while you are lying down in the evening or sleeping at night. I hope that means that you don't have any circulatory problem causing the leg cramps, but anyone who has leg cramps needs to have an examination first before deciding what to do about them.

Quinine sulfate is frequently used to control leg cramps, and it is often very successful. Many times we never really find out what causes leg cramps, even when the doctor is successful in controlling them.

Other things that are used include vitamin E and Benadryl. Just exactly why vitamin E should be helpful is unknown, but many doctors do claim that it is very beneficial in some cases.

I have found very few things that vitamin E seems to be useful for in human beings, primarily because our metabolic and enzyme systems are quite different from animals. But there's no harm in trying vitamin E for leg cramps if you choose to do so or if your doctor wants you to. I am sending you The Health Letter number 4-12, Vitamin E: Miracle or Myth, to keep my recommendation in perspective. Other readers who want information on vitamin E can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Benadryl, of course, is an antihistamine which means it induces sleep and, for unexplained reasons, it also may help to prevent leg cramps.

One of the home remedies which seems to help a lot of people is making sure the feet and legs are warm. They are the parts of the body farthest from the heart and that means they get the least circulation. If you actually measured skin temperatures, you would find the temperature over the legs and feet is usually cooler than most other parts of the body.

Good heavy wool socks that come all the way up over the calf of the legs are helpful. In the wintertime, a person with leg cramps might want to add thermal underwear to this. The whole goal is to keep those feet and legs warm.

I would caution against using a heating pad or something that might result in burning or injury. When a person is asleep, there is always a possibility he might hurt himself before he becomes aware of it.

In Out Of Court Settlement...

Prince's Lubbock Home To Transfer Ownership

LUBBOCK (AP)—An out-of court settlement is expected sometime this week to transfer the ownership of a $256,000 home to Iran's new Islamic republic. The ranch-style home was the West Texas residence of the 18-year-old son of the deposed shah of Iran.

The crown prince lived in it until recently while training eight months as jet pilot at nearby Reese Air Force Base.

Lubbock attorney Elgin Conner, who is representing the trustee of the property in the case, said during the weekend, "the Iranians are convinced they are entitled to the property, and they are probably right."

Conner predicted the ownership question will be settled out of court. He said he wants to ensure that his client, real estate agent Stephen Von Phul, is reimbursed for outstanding debts and that he is protected against possible claims by a third party.

Sylvan M. Marshall, a Washington, D.C., attorney representing the Iranian embassy said Saturday he is awaiting delivery of a signed copy of the deed and agreement to the property, which he asked Iranian Colonel Muhammed Katami to personally bring him.

The colonel, who arrived in Lubbock from Washington on Wednesday, was sent by the new Iranian government "for the purpose of clarifying the situation," Marshall said.

Marshall said he wants a chance to see the papers before commenting on a plan of action.

Hopefully, the papers will be brought to me early this week," he said. "I called the Department of State and was made aware that we (the United States) have, as a nation, recognized the new Iranian government," he said.

Marshall said the house still belongs to a branch of the government of Iran, even though the government has changed its name.

Meat Production Down

WASHINGTON (AP)— Total production of red meat totaled 38.6 billion pounds last year, down 3 percent from 39.7 billion in 1977, according to an annual report by the Agriculture Department.

The report showed that beef output at 24.2 billion pounds was down 4 percent from 1977 while pork production rose 1 percent to 13.4 billion pounds. Decreases were reported for veal, down 24 percent, and lamb and mutton, down 12 percent.

Production includes the output by commercial slaughter plants and on farms.

Iowa was the leading producer of red meat with almost 6.03 billion pounds, followed by Nebraska, 4.05 billion; Texas, 3.94 billion; Kansas, 2.1 billion; and Illinois, 2.05 billion.

Texas was the largest beef producer, while Iowa led in the total live weight of hogs slaughtered.

Commercial cattle slaughter last year totaled 39.6 million head, down 6 percent from 1977, and calf slaughter dropped 24 percent to 4.17 million.

The average weight of cattle slaughtered last year was 1,036 pounds, up 12 pounds from 1977.
