

Tickets available for show barbecue

Tickets for the barbecue to be held on the final day of the first annual Garza County Livestock Show and Sale March 18-19 were on sale this week at the Commerce office, Jim Jackson, president of the livestock association, announced following a meeting Tuesday night. The price of the tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12. The barbecue will be held at the City - County Park, just north of the 4-H building, where the show and sale are to be held. The barbecue will be prepared by Rusty Dean and Matt Stelzer.

Jackson also announced that a work-day will be held Saturday, March 12, to erect the bleachers at the show barn, put the stock pens in shape and do other work that needs to be done ahead of the event. Volunteer workers will be needed for the work-day and are asked to report at the Post Pharmacy at 8 o'clock the morning of March 12.

Sid Long, vocational agriculture teacher at Borden County High School, Gail, will judge the show animals, Jackson said. J. B. Potts, president of the First National bank, will be the announcer and the auctioneer will be Kenneth Bozeman of Lubbock.

"We're asking all the citizens of Post and Garza County to begin making their plans now to support this first year's show by their attendance and participation," Jackson said.

Garza County and Post face a "moment of truth" next day in the special airport election. The choice is whether to accept $56,000 in federal and state aid together with $16,100 county outlays build an airport community investment which has great future promise. Or to say, we will not go a further. This is it!

Such decisions carry a heavy price tag. This one will mean no foreseeable increase in city taxes and but a small and short-lived bond tax to pay the count.

attracting new business, industry, and new people. Population losses mean fewer taxes to pay the tax load, hence taxes.

It is logical that a very investment, together with acceptance of over $56,000 in federal and state grants, to build an airport will be an important step in attacking this community problem. An airport like highways, today's world is important to anybody who has any kind of a business in this area. Airports are a prerequisite for industrial seeking plant locations. Traffic accidents keep police busy

Six traffic accidents, with parked automobiles involved in four of them, have been investigated since last Thursday by city police.

Two of the accidents occurred within 15 minutes of each other Tuesday, the first involving a collision between vehicles driven by Mrs. Vera Gossett and Andrew Sanchez and the second a collision between cars driven by Walter C. Caffey and Mrs. Kay Ballentine Baker.

The collision between the Gossett and Sanchez vehicles occurred at 2:20 p. m. Tuesday when Sanchez pickup struck Mrs. Gossett's automobile as she was making a left turn off Broadway onto West Main. Police estimated damage to the automobile at $200 and to the pickup at $250.

The collision between cars driven by Caffey and Mrs. Baker occurred 15 minutes later near the Main and Avenue I intersection when Caffey's car struck Mrs. Baker's automobile as he backed out from the curb. Mrs. Baker's car, which was going east on Main, was damaged an estimated $100, while no damage resulted to Caffey's automobile, according to the police report.

Parked automobiles were involved in two accidents investigated Saturday and two last Thursday.

At 9:45 p. m. Saturday, an automobile driven by Gary Clois Ray of Route 1, Tahoka, was damaged an estimated $250 when it struck a Rucker "A" Well Service, Inc., car parked at the curb on West 8th Street. Damage to the Rucker "A" car was estimated at $200 by police.

A car driven by Jackie L. Curb struck a parked automobile owned by Scott-Pool, Inc., in the 100 block of West Main at 2:45 p. m. Saturday. Curb, who was given a ticket for not having a driver's license, told the investigating officer that a front tire blow-out pulled his automobile into the parked car. Damage to the car driven by Curb was estimated at $75 and to the parked automobile at $125.

At 3:45 p. m. last Thursday, Joe Callis' car, being driven west on Main Street, struck a parked automobile owned by B. N. Strother. Damage to Callis' car was estimated at $100 and to Strother's at $50.

Frank Bostick's automobile, parked in the center of Main Street, was struck about 10 p. m. Saturday by an unidentified vehicle and damaged to the extent of about $200. The police report said the driver of the car that struck Bostick's automobile left no information at the scene of the accident and that no witnesses to the crash had been found.

Seeks re-election as county judge

"After thoughtful consideration, I have decided to ask you for another term as county judge.

"During my tenure of office, the people of the county have been very considerate in helping to deal with the various problems that we have had. We will continue to have problems of utmost interest to you, as the next few years will be ones of adjustment.

"I have no other interests to divert my attention from my duties as County Judge. This office requires full attention. It is the duty of your County Judge to work to the interest of the taxpayer.

"It is my desire to see each of you before May 7, the date of the first Democratic primary. Should I fail to see any of you, I solicit your vote and support.

"My desire is to serve you another term and will do so to the best of my ability."

County's airport tax would be small; bond term short

If the upcoming special elections Tuesday on the airport have a big "issue," the Chamber of Commerce Airport Committee says it is the misunderstanding on the part of many voters on the size of the county's airport tax.

Many voters assume such a tax will be sizable to pay the county's $16,100 or less share of the $88,248 airport project.

Actually, just the reverse is true. THE TAX will be so small, it will be almost microscopic.

A county bond issue for the $16,100 would probably be the smallest bond issue in the county's history and the quickest one ever paid off.

County Judge J. E. Parker has announced that the tax to retire $16,100 for an airport bond issue would not cost taxpayers over 3 1/2 cents on each $100 taxable valuation. He said the issue can be easily retired in five years, possibly four.

With county tax valuations now standing at about 15 per cent of true value, this would mean a 53 cents per year airport bond tax on a home worth $10,000 or an airport tax only $1.58 for $30,000 worth of property, which is carried on county tax rolls at only $4,500.

TO PUT THE financial point across on the small size of the airport tax, the Chamber of Commerce has taken an advertisement on page 8 of today's Dispatch.

It shows that the airport tax on a quarter section of cultivated dry land on the average would be only 90 cents and the tax for a full section of cultivated land would total only $3.60 a year.

The airport tax on an average section of county pasture land would be only 68 cents a year. Five sections of pastureland on the average would be taxed only $3.40 annually.

These tax estimates are based on average taxable land values as obtained from the Garza County Tax Assessor's office, Chamber of Commerce officials point out.

NO SUCH "issue" exists in the city's half of the election.

The city council sees no necessity for any tax increases to retire its $16,100 airport share unless the cost of city government goes up in some other field. The city's share can be retired through use of a portion of oil taxes paid the city each year.

This oil tax money in recent years has provided funds for all kinds of municipal improvements without any tax hikes.

Airport boosters are emphasizing the point that qualified city voters will vote twice — once at city hall in the city referendum, and once in their county voting precinct in the county airport bond election.

The Chamber airport committee points to a loss of 111 students in the Post schools in the last 12 months in accordance with the annual spring census of those eligible for school next year.

"This is a 10 per cent drop in school population and means a drastic drop in local population," the Post Chamber said in a letter being mailed this week to eligible voters.

"We have lost the parents of these students too," the letter points out, "and these parents have helped carry the tax load of the county, school and city. Every adult taxpayer lost means more taxes for the few that are left.

"Every source available to your Chamber Airport Committee confirms," the letter states, "that one of the major needs for attracting new business and new people is an airport. This has been shown in a survey of community after community in the state and was further shown when over 130 communities in Texas applied for the limited funds available from the state for airport use.

"Some people say an airport will not help them except in cases of a personal emergency, but remember, as the city loses people, property values in town will go down therefore, all property in the county will have to bear more and more of the cost of operating the county and schools, which will increase county and school taxes all over the county."

The airport proposition has drawn not only the endorsement, but the all-out support of both the Post Chamber of Commerce and the Post Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Three absentee votes had been cast on the airport issue up to 4 p. m. Wednesday — one at the county clerk's office and two at the city hall. Friday is the last day for absentee voting.

The Dispatch is publishing two front pages in this edition — the regular one which you see on the front and a second one on Page 3, entitled "The Airport News."

"The Airport News" is presented as a public service by The Dispatch to make available to Dispatch readers all information on the airport.

Hospital board gains three new trustees Monday

Three new hospital trustees were appointed to the Garza Memorial Hospital Board here Monday at a special meeting of the Garza County Commissioners Court.

Jack Lott, chairman of the board, was reappointed to a second two-year term.

The three new members are: Mrs. Ruth Ann Newby, wife of David Newby, who was named for a year to complete the unexpired term of Wade Terry who resigned the position last month.

Dave Sanford and Ed Sawyers, each named to two year terms. They succeed Mrs. Lee Davis, who resigned three months ago, and Jess Rogers.

Completing the six-member board of hospital trustees, which meets monthly without pay to formulate hospital policies, are Giles McCrary and Sexton Huntley.

Each has another year to serve on their two-year appointive terms.

No Medicare news yet on hospitals

With little more than four months to go before the initiation of the federal government's new Medicare program, Garza Memorial Hospital still is awaiting information to determine if the county hospital will be qualified under the program.

Hospital Administrator W. M. Stivers said the Texas Health Department has been named to certify Texas hospitals under the new program, but he still is awaiting information from the board concerning qualifications.

Stivers told The Dispatch that the Texas Health Department already is so behind in its work trying to get the Medicare qualification program worked out that it has extended hospital licenses two months because it is behind in issuing renewals.

Originally, the state health department has announced qualifications would be mailed in January.

THOSE WHO FAILED TO PAY POLL TAX TO BE REGISTERED

Garza and other Texas counties are scheduled to receive forms within the next few days — possibly by the end of the week — for the registration of voters who did not pay their poll tax.

The new voter registration law was enacted Tuesday by a special session of the 59th Texas Legislature.

The first impact of the new law will be the calling of a special 15-day period for any eligible voter who failed to purchase a poll tax to register. This will begin seven days after Gov. John Connally signs the act into law.

Secretary of State Crawford Martin has prepared special kits with instructions to the 254 county tax assessor-collectors to handle the special registration. Most counties should receive the kits by the end of the week.

The state will pay 25 cents per voter to each county annually to pay for elections, financed in the past by part of the poll tax.

More effective tornado warnings

With the Texas "tornado season" not too far off, it is good news to learn of the new radar unit activated at the U. S. Weather Bureau Station in Lubbock, after several months of radarless operations.

The unit's predecessor didn't do the Post area much good in warning of tornado dangers, because of a directional "blind spot" off down this way. The new unit, we are assured, is higher, larger and more effective than the old one was. That should mean no "blind spots" in this or any other direction.

The new radar unit is capable of giving forecasters complete coverage in all directions. In addition, a new stand-by power plant has been installed so that operations may be continued during periods of commercial power failure.

Although the new unit's range is the same as the old one, it can penetrate thunderstorms better because it has a more effective signal. In addition, greater tower height has eliminated a lot of "ground clutter."

Effective this season, the Weather Bureau will use the terminology "tornado watch" for areas where tornadoes may occur during specified periods. The object of the watch is to alert the public in the area covered by the watch to the possibility of tornadoes and to advise them to be ready to take precautionary action in case tornado warnings are issued.

However, the Weather Bureau said, people should go about doing their work as usual. Once a tornado has actually formed and its existence becomes known to the Weather Bureau, a public tornado warning will be issued.

A "warning" means that a tornado has actually been sighted in the area or its presence has been detected by radar. It will indicate where the tornado was discovered, the area through which it is expected to move and the time periods during which the tornado will move through the area warned.

Following this warning, persons in the indicated path should immediately take safety precautions.—CD

Borden County plans celebration

Down in Borden County, the historical survey committee is under way with big plans for the county's 75th Diamond Jubilee to be observed this year.

Plans for the celebration will be followed with interest by many Garza countians, particularly the old-timers, a number of whom are former residents of Borden County.

Garza County used to be a part of Borden County, so, in a way, we feel that their 75th Diamond Jubilee celebration will be partly ours.

Borden County was created from Bexar County in 1876, but was not organized until 1891. That was 16 years before the organization of Garza County, and during those 16 years Garza was considered a political part of Borden County.

The county was named for Gail Borden, inventor, publisher and surveyor, who contributed greatly to the needs of a growing society. The Borden Company is giving an appropriate historical marker honoring Gail Borden to be dedicated Aug. 14, tentatively set as the date of the Diamond Jubilee.

Early plans for the celebration call for a barbecue to be held at noon, and all activities will be held at the Borden County High School in Gail. There no doubt will be many from Garza County among the out-of-county people attending the Diamond Jubilee.—CD

Agriculture more than farming

Congratulations to the Future Farmers of America chapter of Post High School and to all the other FFA chapters throughout the land, who this week are observing Future Farmers of America Week.

The theme that has been chosen for it, "Agriculture is More Than Farming," admirably points up the FFA week's purpose and significance.

Today's agriculture complex, being referred to more and more as "Agri-Business," employs many millions of people and is America's largest industry.

Vocational agriculture in the high schools provides a start for boys to obtain the training needed to enter these occupations. Some will go on to college or technical schools. About a third will return directly to the farm, and they will have the knowledge that additional education is available to them in young farmer and adult farmer classes conducted by teachers of vocational agriculture.

The Future Farmers' organization supplements the regular school instruction by providing opportunities for leadership development. Its goal is to help train young men for a wider horizon of agricultural occupations. And this is a needed and invaluable work.

Most speakers have something to say

Nearly every town with a chamber of commerce holds its annual membership banquet along about this time of the year, and probably nine out of every ten hears a speaker who has something worthwhile to say.

We have an idea that listening to a chamber of commerce speaker is much like reading a book, in that you're going to learn a little something no matter how mediocre the speaker or the book.

Since the first of the year, we've followed pretty closely newspaper accounts of chamber of commerce banquets just to see what the speaker had to say and the approach he used to inspire his listeners to greater efforts for their chamber of commerce and their town. One we especially liked was the talk made at the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce banquet by Dr. Charles W. Jarvis, San Marcos dentist and humorist.

Here are some quotes from the talk made by Dr. Jarvis:

"You've got to have individual participation to keep your city alive." . . . "You've got to laugh to make life worthwhile." . . . "For the success of any town, you've got to love it. If you love it, you will fight for it." . . . "The trouble is, Americans seek a complicated happiness when we ought to know it's the little things that count."

"The true prescription of happiness is thinking of others."

"We're sure there were many more equally sagacious statements in Dr. Jarvis' speech, but the above were about all that were quoted in the account of the banquet we read."

Incidentally, the city of Littlefield was fully deserving of such a good talk as that made by Dr. Jarvis. On the basis of its civic revitalization program carried out in 1963, it won nation-wide acclaim and was a candidate for All-American City honors.—CD

Ten Years Ago . . .

ITS BEEN SO long ago that I don't remember whether the groundhog saw his shadow or not on Groundhog Day, but winter turned around for another blast Monday after a beautiful weekend.

Next Tuesday is the first day of March, with the month getting off to a rousing start here because of the airport elections. There won't be much else the rest of the month in the way of holidays, special weeks, etc. Girl Scout Week comes early in the month, and St. Patrick's Day is March 17.

MRS. C asked a good question a few minutes ago while typing up the "Happy Birthday" list for this week's Dispatch. She wanted to know if folks whose birthday falls on Feb. 29 should be included, since there isn't a Feb. 29 this year, hasn't been since 1964, and won't be until 1968—the next Leap Year. Between us, we finally decided that the Feb. 29 birthdays should not be included, even though the folks whose birthday it is are a year older. Nothing personal, of course, but how are you going to put a Feb. 29 in a list of dates when there is no Feb. 29?

The man up the street says no wonder people say some of the late, late shows are corny—they watch them over the tops of their toes.

I JUST WASN'T thinking when I wrote a few paragraphs north of here that there won't be much going on in March, except Girl Scout Week and St. Patrick's Day. I completely forgot, for the time being, the first annual Garza County Livestock Show and Sale and County Fair set for March 18-19. That'll really be something big!

Most of you might have heard this one before, but I hadn't. A certain farmer bought a $4 axe every Saturday. As Saturday after Saturday rolled around and the farmer kept buying the axes, the hardware merchant got more and more curious.

Finally he asked, "What are you doing with all those axes?" "Selling them to my neighbors for $2," the farmer answered. "Don't you lose a lot of money that way?" the merchant replied. "Guess so, but it sure beats farming," the fellow replied.

SINCE I NEVER believed in mistreating children, even to the extent of spanking them when they needed it, I don't go along with this, but Frederic Flomongo says, "We say 'Spare the rod and spoil the child.' The Chinese have an older saying: 'Beat your child once a day. If you don't know why, the child does.'"

I've just run across a list of the nation's top selling records, according to the latest Billboard magazine survey. I'm surprised that "Boots" isn't among them, but I suppose it might be because "Boots" hasn't been released yet outside Nancy Sinatra's album by that name. Anyway, here are the others:

1. "My Love," by Petula Clark.
2. "Lightnin' Strikes," by L. O. Christie.
3. "Up Tight," by Stevie Wonder.
4. "Barbara Ann," by the Beach Boys.
5. "We Can Work It Out," by the Beatles.
6. "No Matter What Shape (Your Stomach's In)," by the T-Bones.

YOU CAN'T "MAKE IT" IF YOU "FAKE IT"

We once knew of a Post woman who bought a hospital policy from a "door to door" salesman. After paying him in cash, she sat down to read her policy and discovered that the only time the insurance would pay hospital expenses was for injury "upon being struck by an automobile (driven by a relative)."

Fortunately, while leaving church one Sunday, she was run over by her sister, and the company after much delay, had to pay off under the policy.

We don't fake it! Our Accident and Hospital policies provide payment for sickness and/or accident even if you are run over by a drunk on a "stick horse".

Let us "make it" for you.

VOTERS' Who, When, Where and Why

Who is eligible to vote and where to vote are of prime importance in the Garza County and City of Post special elections on the airport issue Tuesday, March 1.

First, as to eligibility: Eligible to vote in the special elections are those who have rendered real or personal property for 1965 taxes and who have paid their poll tax or are exempt from paying a poll tax because of age.

The "exempt because of age" group includes those who reached voting age for the first time prior to the Jan. 31, 1966, poll tax deadline and who were required to obtain poll tax exemptions, and those 60 years of age or over, who are not required to obtain exemptions in counties of under 10,000 population, which includes Garza County.

Voters are reminded to take their poll tax receipts or exemption certificates (where one is necessary) to the polls with them when they go to vote next Tuesday. Those who have replaced their poll tax receipt will be required to sign a form to that effect at the polling place.

There is likely to be some confusion as to where to vote because of the county and city elections on the same issue being held the same day. Voters residing within the city limits will vote twice—once in the city election and again in the county election. In the city election, they will vote at the City Hall and in the county election city voters will cast their ballots at the voting place in the precinct in which they live.

Since one of the new county voting boxes at city hall, some city voters will cast two votes there—one in the city election and the other in the county election. The ones voting twice at the city hall—in different boxes—will be only those who live in the precinct whose county voting box is at the city hall.

Voters living outside the city limits will vote only in the county election, casting their ballots at their usual voting places.

The 12 county voting precincts and the special election presiding judge at each are as follows:

- Precinct 1 (Garza County Youth Center), Marvin Hudman.
- Precinct 2 (Southland school building, E. C. Smallwood.
- Precinct 3 (Verbena Community Center), Dale Cravy.
- Precinct 4 (Justiceburg school house), Henry Key.
- Precinct 5 (Close City Community Center), L. H. (Lonnie) Peel.
- Precinct 6 (Graham Community Center), J. W. (Bill) McMahon.
- Precinct 7 (Pleasant Valley Baptist Church), Henry Wheatley.
- Precinct 8 (Post High School Library), Mrs. Loucille Morris.
- Precinct 9 (Valdez Service Station), Mrs. Billie Cross.
- Precinct 10 (Faith Lutheran Church), W. L. (Walter) Crider.
- Precinct 11 (Postex Mills old office), Mrs. Minnie Lee Tanner.
- Precinct 12 (City Hall), Mrs. Vera Brown.

T. L. Jones will be the presiding judge for the city election.

Another important point for voters to remember is that THE POLLS OPEN AT 8 A. M. AND CLOSE AT 7 P. M.

to probable lower contract bid

City, county airport shares may drop down to $12,312 proposed city-county airport won't cost anywhere near estimated $88,248 because it originally planned on the basis of equipment and labor do-private contractor, bidding in the construction job, very likely could do it as much as under the $88,248 estimated cost of land purchase and construction, the planning engineer estimated.

It should turn out to be the city and county's shares reduced from the present $12,312 each.

of this airport project federal state grants would work out exactly half of the total to a maximum of $44,124. The state grant will remain $12,800.

if the final airport cost trimmed to $73,248 via anticipated lower construction by a private contractor, the government would pay $44,124 and the city would still pay $12,800.

would leave only $24,624 for city and county to divide as respective shares of the airport, or $12,312 each. This would reduce the cost of the airport bond issue—estimated at a maximum of $16,000—probably less than $10 million valuation on a four-year payout.

CITY does not figure it will raise taxes to pay its portion of the airport over the five-year period. If the airport cost is as presently figured—$88,248, city taxpayers' tax cost would go above 3 1/2 cents per gallon, according to Councilman J. E. Parker.

Gambin of the Chamber committee points out that county bond issue stays at $10 million, figured on present county tax valuation of 100 per cent of real value, a rate would be taxed only 53 cents per year.

four-year payout, the airport tax at the county level would amount to but $2.12 on the same amount on a five-year payout of $2.65 total.

airport cost originally was estimated at $88,248 figuring a considerable amount of time lost in the county equipment and under direction of the city. This is because equipment is coming and going during the construction period and could be efficiently organized as a contractor with equipment devoted to the job.

boost in civil aviation in 5 years

The state capital at Austin predicts that "general business and private area of the air transportation in Texas will increase 40 per cent in the next five years. The number of aircraft and pilots will be reflected in this time, the increase to accelerate.

several weeks ago forbid the legal use of such road equipment and labor. The Chamber airport committee, after a year's hard work secured both state and federal aid thinking they had no problems at home with financing.

Then came the revelation of the need for the county's smallest and shortest payout bond issue ever and a city referendum vote on the use of city funds as a necessary legal requirement.

This put the cart before the horse—the cart being federal and state assistance of 63 per cent of the total cost of the project, and more percentage wise if the airport costs under the $88,000 estimate. The horse in this instance is city and county approval at the polls next Tuesday, March 1, to be able to accept federal and state funds.

If the airport proposition fails at the polls, up to $54,124 in federal and state airport aid will go by default—and probably won't become available again in the foreseeable future.

State funds must be accepted by March 31 and the federal funds by June 30, the Chamber committee emphasized.

According to federal aviation officials who have checked the plans and approved the airport site, the landing strips will be large enough to accommodate company jets and virtually 95 per cent of general aviation aircraft.

THE AIRPORT need here is based on the fact that the rough private airport on the Ralls road has been taken off the national air maps and is expected to be closed within months. Local flyers feel lucky to have kept the strip open during the year it took to secure federal and state airport aid.

A city-county airport will serve as a base for continued boll weevil spraying operations in this county, if voters approve, and is rated as a top asset in the community's stepped-up drive to attract new industry and aid present industry, which includes the Postex Mill, Brown Brothers and other oil interests.

THE QUESTION which will be decided Tuesday is whether a majority of voters want a bargain-price airport or prefer to spend nothing whatsoever and leave the community and area without any airport facilities.

A negative decision will definitely remove the "progressive" tag for Post and its rural area.

Everybody stands to benefit from a growing community. An airport is an asset for the community with real industrial growth possibilities.

Fourth, they can't guarantee a new airport would land us a new industry and create some jobs. Answer, that's true. But an airport can assure you that the plant location hunter won't silently steal away from your community without even making the first contact when he finds out he can't land to look. An airport keeps us in the running for industry. After that, many other essential factors remain for evaluation.

We are not a defeatist? We believe that Post and its area can overcome its present difficulties and grow and prosper.

It will be a whole lot harder to do without an airport though. If we turn down $56,000 in state and federal airport funds now, it probably will mean that an airport at a later date is going to cost us a whole lot more and hold us back until we get one.

But what is even more difficult to overcome is the general attitude of a community which believes it can't afford to buy a chance at the future at a very small cost.

In essence, this is what we feel if we turn thumbs down on the airport proposition next Tuesday. And overcoming such an attitude will be the most difficult proposition of all if we are to grow and progress.

Shall we quit now? Or go on with preparation and working together?—JC

HE'S FOR AIRPORT Dear Editor: Would like to say a few words in favor of the airport.

I think it is one of the best things to come up lately. We have a nice park, Little League park, 4-H Club place and one of the best rodeo arenas to be found anywhere around. Almost all of that has been built by a small bunch of hard-working, unselfish people, so why don't we all get together and put this thing over in a big way?

It's being said that if these boys want a hangar let them build it, and that is what the plans call for; not only that, but they will have to pay for space to put it. I believe that everyone here now that has a plane has a hangar already and are paying lease on the landing strip.

We think the profit on a $35 sale in most of the business places here in town will pay their tax for a year, and the government check on the rent of one acre of idle cotton land will pay the tax on the average farm.

And of we should get charity service, look what it would save the farmers. They have to come in ever so often and get their checks, and do you realize how far it is and how long it takes to drive from Lake LBJ or Falcon?

I don't own a plane, don't intend to own one, and don't have anything to pay taxes on, and, brother, I do mean a little. Yours truly, H. L. Gordon

Texas aviation growth can 'save' small towns The Texas Aeronautics Commission said recently that "general aviation is literally exploding."

Nothing foreseeable can stop the growth of this transportation system, says the TAC. "If Texas anticipates and adequately prepares for the use of this new transportation, it will benefit all Texans economically and will be a substantial factor in saving our small communities."

Just call the station and leave your questions, anytime before or even during the broadcast. You do not have to give your name. The questions phoned in will be read over the air and the Chamber of Commerce airport committee, Mayor Harold Lucas, and County Judge J. E. Parker will provide the answers. The airport forum program is scheduled for 7 to 7:30 a. m. Friday, Feb. 25. Don't miss it!

Garza, Post voters to make airport decision Tuesday

The Airport News

The Post (Texas) Dispatch Thursday, Feb. 24, 1966 Page 3
PUBLISHED AS PUBLIC SERVICE TO PRESENT VOTERS WITH AIRPORT FACTS

Arguments AGAINST airport

What are the arguments AGAINST the city-county airport proposal?

Generally, we have found them to be:

(1) Taxes are high enough now. We can't afford anything—even if it costs little and might promise much.

(2) Cost of airport operations and maintenance will be a drain nobody wants to talk about. If we could build it, we can't afford to hire somebody to run it. And the upkeep—that will cost plenty.

(3) I don't fly. An airport wouldn't benefit me at all, only cost me money.

(4) They can't guarantee a new airport would land us a new industry and create some jobs.

These are prevalent thoughts among many, many voters. Next Tuesday, they easily could defeat the airport proposal. In fact, current odds are that they will.

Let's look at these four arguments, one by one. First, "taxes are high enough now. We can't afford anything—even if it costs little and might promise much." Taxes are high. They're high here and elsewhere. But stop and think. Taxes are going to get higher and higher while affording community and area less and less in the way of services simply because of a shrinking tax base. If we can increase the tax base, by attracting industry and new residents, taxes can be lowered.

An airport, which will cost neither city nor county very much and for which the federal and state governments are now committed to pay 63 per cent of the total cost, is rated by most experts as a "must" for new industry.

If for no other reason, an airport is a good-odds gamble to keep taxes from getting higher. Rejecting the airport probably will boost taxes more than voting it—a great deal more in the next five years.

Second, cost of airport operations and maintenance. The city-county airport would not have an operator paid from taxes. One wouldn't be needed. If Lamesa's airport maintenance—and that town hasn't as strong a paved runway as that planned here—is any example, airport maintenance wouldn't average more than $300 a year over the first 12 years. That's a whole lot cheaper than the cost of growing grass each year for the football gridiron at Antelope Stadium.

Third, "I don't fly. An airport wouldn't benefit me—only cost me money." Maybe you don't fly but that airport next year could save your life if you were critically injured in an accident and needed the immediate attention of a specialist.

One farmer told us that "the rough little private airport" the last two years has made him several thousand dollars each year by keeping the boll weevils from waging out his cotton as it did three years ago before the aerial spraying program warded them off. The private airport won't be available to the spray planes this year.

Everybody stands to benefit from a growing community. An airport is an asset for the community with real industrial growth possibilities.

Fourth, they can't guarantee a new airport would land us a new industry and create some jobs. Answer, that's true. But an airport can assure you that the plant location hunter won't silently steal away from your community without even making the first contact when he finds out he can't land to look. An airport keeps us in the running for industry. After that, many other essential factors remain for evaluation.

We are not a defeatist? We believe that Post and its area can overcome its present difficulties and grow and prosper.

It will be a whole lot harder to do without an airport though. If we turn down $56,000 in state and federal airport funds now, it probably will mean that an airport at a later date is going to cost us a whole lot more and hold us back until we get one.

But what is even more difficult to overcome is the general attitude of a community which believes it can't afford to buy a chance at the future at a very small cost.

In essence, this is what we feel if we turn thumbs down on the airport proposition next Tuesday. And overcoming such an attitude will be the most difficult proposition of all if we are to grow and progress.

Shall we quit now? Or go on with preparation and working together?—JC

80 pct. industries require airports

Over 80 per cent of the top industries of this country require an airport with facilities that will accommodate their fleets of executive aircraft and will not select a plant location without them.

That's the punch line of an attractive brochure, "The Airport... Little Known Facts", being distributed by the Texas Aeronautics Commission in Austin.

The TAC reported in the brochure that a questionnaire study of the 500 top industries in the United States regarding their needs and desires for local airports and facilities resulted in the following facts:

Three per cent of the companies require airstrips to accommodate single engine aircraft, 20.8 per cent require airstrips to accommodate light twin engine aircraft, 28.5 per cent require airstrips to accommodate medium twin engine aircraft, and 57.1 per cent require airstrips for heavy twin engine aircraft.

In reply to another question, responding industries lined up like this on companies requiring an airport:

Thirty-nine and one-half per cent require an airport near plant, 45 per cent require an airport within 20 miles, 2.1 per cent an airport within 30 miles, and 9.8 per cent

Industry heads boost airport

Strong statements in support of the city-county airport have been made by two top executives of presently-based local industry to emphasize industry's real need for an airport here.

Charles Gibson, of Greenville, S. C., president of the B. I. Cotton Mills Division for Burlington Industries — of which Postex Cotton Mills is a part — told Post Rotarians last Tuesday: "It is a tremendous advantage to us to have airports in communities where we have plants."

GIBSON ALSO said that "the fellows who make plant location decisions for industries are very busy men who have to fly all over the country. A community's airport, or lack of it, is the first item such a plant site hunter notes when he comes into a new community to look it over."

Gibson also noted that Memphis, Tex., where Burlington not too long ago put in a new sewing room plant, has a paved airport available for Burlington's use.

The second outside executive with vital interests here to speak up for the proposed airport is Ralph S. O'Connor at Houston, president of the oil and gas division for George R. Brown. It is this division which he heads that is the operator of the Brown Brothers, et al properties here.

O'Connor expressed himself in a letter to the editor of The Dispatch published last week in the Postex column.

O'CONNOR IN his letter explained how difficult it was for him and others to reach Post by air for a conference with the Post city council relative to a new drilling ordinance.

O'Connor said he was surprised to find Post did not have an airport, which meant he and others had to leave Houston early in the morning, fly to Dallas, take a commercial flight to Lubbock, and then drive to Post by car to attend the council meeting that night instead of leaving Houston directly for Post by company plane in mid-afternoon.

"I believe if Post had an airport, my people would be visitors to Post almost on a monthly basis, where we would be better able to serve our district employees and in all probability, do a better job in serving our production people and your citizens," O'Connor wrote.

"This, of course, is a personal reason as it would be a great boon not only to our oil company but others in the oil business, especially the service people that could fly in parts, specialized equipment and personnel on a minute to minute basis," he added.

CITING A secondary reason for the airport which he said a lot of people tend to overlook, O'Connor wrote: "Flying is now a way of life and ALL progressive towns and cities have access to an airport and more and more young people are learning to fly and the recreational opportunities are unlimited since planes have gotten to be so safe and economical."

O'Connor concluded his letter by saying: "I think the citizens of Post and Garza County would be doing the county a great favor by voting for the airport, as I am sure it will be a boon to industry as well as to each of your citizens and the young people that will be coming on in the future."

Radio Station KPOS has a scheduled 30-minute public service broadcast from 7 to 7:30 a. m. Friday to answer anybody's questions on the airport.

Dave Sanford, station owner and manager, calls it a public forum program on the airport proposition which will be voted on next Tuesday by both county and city voters in separate special elections.

Just call the station and leave your questions, anytime before or even during the broadcast. You do not have to give your name. The questions phoned in will be read over the air and the Chamber of Commerce airport committee, Mayor Harold Lucas, and County Judge J. E. Parker will provide the answers. AIRPORT OPPORTUNITY

If Garza County wants an airport like other progressive towns, now is the opportune time. Every modern community needs airport facilities for industry, charter flights, emergencies, agriculture spraying and for the convenience of visitors who want to come here to visit relatives, or friends or on business. Hardly a week passes that I do not have an inquiry about the availability of a landing strip for incoming planes, or for a flight out of Post. There were two such requests last week, both concerning emergencies.

According to the survey conducted two years ago by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce the number one need for our community was a community center and the number two was for an airport.

At the present time we can get both federal and state aid to build an airport. This is a result of a lot of time and work on the part of the airport committee. This committee appeared before different groups of both the House of Representatives and the Senate in Austin. They proposed the passage of a bill for aid to small airports. We with some other communities were successful in securing the passage of this act. The money for this is derived solely from unclaimed road taxes on aviation gasoline, and rightfully belongs to airport facilities.

This committee was also successful in getting a $12,000 grant from this fund. In addition this county was granted $44,124 from the federal agency, making a total of $56,124 in state and federal grants. This is an opportunity that may not occur again, to have airport facilities adequate for many years.

Also we would like to thank Southwestern Public Service Company for their interest and consideration. They had already planned to build a power line along the highway adjacent to the proposed airport, they at considerable time and expense secured new right of ways and rerouted their lines so it would not interfere. This was without being asked to do so. It is this type of community spirit that builds a better place to live.

FLYING LAWYER WRITES Dear Sir: The other day I learned from A. C. Cooke that you are contemplating a new airport there in Post. Mr. Cooke is a friend of mine of many years standing, and I would like to give you the view of an outsider as to the effect of a good airport and facilities there in Post.

I fly my own small airplane in connection with my business and have for more than 20 years. I have had some business from time to time there in Post; and after landing on the rather rough and uneven strips that you have had in the past, I had to hitchhike my way into town.

This suggestion has become a personal one with me because of my problems in Post and towns of like size, and I would like to tell you how much I feel that an adequate airport and facilities will help your town. If the voters do see fit to put in this new facility, I feel that it will be an achievement that you can all be proud of. Very truly yours, Davis Scarborough Attorney, Abilene, Tex.

RIDES TO POLLS ARE AVAILABLE Need a ride to the polls for the airport special elections next Tuesday? If you do cars are available by calling 2872 or 2873.

Names of three nominees have been received thus far by Mrs. Sherry Josey, sorority secretary, and they along with other candidates will be announced in next week's Post Dispatch.

All clubs in the county have been asked to submit names for this honor. Those attending the style show, which will feature fashions by Maxine's, will vote for the woman of their choice. After ballots have been counted, an engraved plaque will be presented to the winner to conclude the program.

Mrs. Josey points out that tickets can be purchased from any member and if one is not able to be present they may vote in advance for "Woman of the Year." The sorority selects a student from the top ten Post High School scholars as a recipient of the annual scholarship.

Dr. P. Merville Larson, head of the Texas Tech speech department, will be the featured speaker at the all-school education program sponsored by the Woman's Culture Club and the Amity Study Club, March 3 in the grade school auditorium at 7:30 p. m.

MAKES HONOR LIST. BRADFORD, Mass. — Bradford Junior College here has announced that Miss Meredith Newby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David N. Newby, 612 West 7th St., Post, is on the honor list at the end of the first semester. Miss Newby is a graduate of Post High School and a member of the freshman class at Bradford.

Marker tour is set for May 5. The Woman's Culture Club, in cooperation with the Garza County Historical Survey Committee, is planning a tour of historical markers May 5.

Mrs. A. C. Surman, chairman of GCHSC; Mrs. Lee Davis, district chairman of historical tours of federated women's clubs, and Mrs. Tillman Jones, Texas Heritage chairman of the local club, are in charge of arrangements.

Anyone interested in the tour is asked to contact one of the committee so private cars may be arranged for transportation. Those taking the tour are asked to bring a sack lunch for the noon meal.

Rev. Ramsey announces Sunday sermon topics. The Rev. Bernard S. Ramsey announces that his sermon topics for Sunday services at the First Christian Church will be: "Mirror, Mirror on the Wall" at the 11 a. m. service at which the Lord's Supper will be observed, and "Does God Read Our Mail" at the 7 p. m. service. The public is cordially invited to attend.

World Day of Prayer to be observed in special service

Church members in Post will join their counterparts across the nation and around the world Friday in the annual observance of the 80th World Day of Prayer.

Mrs. Howard McCampbell, chairman of United Church Women's local World Day of Prayer committee, has invited all interested persons of the Post area to attend this special service in the First Presbyterian Church at 10:30 a. m. A nursery for small children will be provided.

"Observed each year on the first Friday in Lent, World Day of Prayer is truly world-wide in character," Mrs. McCampbell said. "The same order of service, translated into many different languages, is used in all parts of the globe. This provides a unique opportunity of Christian unity in prayer with Christians all over the world."

She pointed out that each year's order of service is designed by an individual or committee in a different country. The 1966 service, based on the international theme: "You Are My Witness" (Isaiah 43:10), was prepared by women of the World Day of Prayer Committee of Scotland.

"This year's service stresses the ideal that ordinary church members can change the world by their daily actions," Mrs. McCampbell continued. "It also reflects the ancient traditions of the Scottish church."

Surprise party honors husband on birthday. Mrs. Ronnie Morris entertained her husband with a surprise birthday party Wednesday night of last week.

Cakes, sandwiches, potato chips and cake were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McAlister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Young, Mr. and Mrs. Daymon Ethridge and Mr. and Mrs. Travis Guy.

Ronnie and Tommy Young both have the same birth date.

I do believe this is the first time I've ever waited until Wednesday morning to write my column, but things haven't really started "up" for me yet and I felt like another repeat of last week's column might lose me a few more readers, if I have any left.

Mr. C. tried to sneak out of the house this morning without awakening me. I thought surely he realized, by now, that I'm indispensable. Behind all his kindness, I think, was the thought that if he'd get plenty of sleep this morning she might not keep him awake all night coughing and wheezing. Even Miss Sam Bassett's sleep routine has been shattered by my wild coughing.

I stumbled into the office and Editor Didway brightened my life considerably by telling me that Denver City got BEAT last night by Dimmitt. I don't know a soul in Dimmitt, but I'll love their team always and hope they go far.

Like most women, I'm a poor loser and the Post-Denver City game was a bit hard to take. I'll admit Denver City beat us, with no help from the officials, but I felt like the officials needed help!

My eldest sister flew in from Wichita, Kans., Thursday evening so she got to take in the big game. I'm sure she thought we were biased, after watching our defeat, by the talk she heard on the way over about how easily we'd win this game. During the game, she tried to act like she wasn't with us because I was more than a little obnoxious, but I'm sure our Irish noses established a family relationship which is hard to ignore.

She was delighted with the weather while she was here and amused at the number of people she met who hoped we'd have a good West Texas sandstorm so she could see what we suffer through occasionally. She wondered why so many people wanted her to see one, as they must be most disagreeable. I explained that in Texas anything that happens, be it good or bad, is always better or worse than anything that happens elsewhere and Texans are proud of that.

We both agreed that our home state of Kansas can put a Texas wind in the shade anytime. I've always been amazed that people complain of wind here because it always stops after a decent interval. In Kansas it just keeps blowing along.

Because she felt sorry for my readers, Eleanor Cooke arrived at the office early Monday morning with a small can labeled "Humor Powder." To be used for ill-temper. I passed it around the office but declined taking any of the content (snuff?) because I'm rather enjoying being a stinker.

Maybe I should have stayed in bed, but hurrah for Dimmitt.

Beginning of first woman's federated club is depicted

A mock session of the 21st anniversary of Sorority, the first woman's federated club in the United States, was the highlight of the Amity Study Club meeting Tuesday night in the Community Room.

Mrs. Marion Duncan and Mrs. Malcolm Bull were hostesses with the meeting opened by Mrs. Pat N. Walker leading the club collect. Roll call was answered with "Club Ethics."

Mrs. Wayne Richardson told of the forming of federated women's clubs in 1889. The mock session followed with a setting at Delmonico's in New York City. Those taking part in the session wore elaborate clothes of the period. Interesting facts concerning all club women were illustrated.

Mrs. Carl Aycock played the part of the first president, Mrs. M. Louise Thomas. Other officers were portrayed by Mrs. Lee Davis Jr., Mrs. V. L. Peel and Mrs. Ronald Babb.

Club members voted to go as a group to the banquet, March 22, at the District Convention in Brownfield. The next meeting will be the joint sponsorship of the all-school program, March 3, in the grade school auditorium with the Woman's Culture Club.

Attends meeting of ESA board

Mrs. Kay Pace, District IX president of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority, attended an executive board meeting of the Texas State Council of ESA in Austin recently.

She reported that Dr. C. W. Daeschner, chairman and professor of the department of pediatrics at the Birth Defects Center of Galveston, was guest speaker, and gave an informative talk on the many birth defects, showing the affected child and explaining the genetic cause through the use of color slides.

Included in these slides were doctors and technicians using the Zeiss microscope, valumatic fraction collector and refrigerator purchased by the sorority at a cost of $2,970 last year. Needed equipment in the amount of $3,200 will be purchased for the center as the state project this year. Each chapter gives to this project and to local projects for "Better Health to Mankind."

Mrs. Cecil Gray is Mystic Club hostess. A business meeting was held following sewing and visiting when the Mystic Sewing Club met last Friday in the home of Mrs. Cecil Gray.

The hostess served cherry chiffon pie, coffee and tea to a guest, Mrs. Barbara Blake, and to the following members: Mmes. Connie Self, Jimmie Hudman, Maggie Kennedy, Winifred Blake, Mae Shipley, Nell Windham, Aylene Runkles, Lillie Short and Miss Henrietta Nichols.

The next meeting will be March 4 with the place to be announced.

A Great Leader Still Leads

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

It has been said that a man is tallest when he is on his knees. The familiar picture of George Washington kneeling in prayer at Valley Forge reminds us that the "Father of our Country" was a man who walked close to God and who taught his soldiers to pray.

Washington recognized that human frailty is not a sign of weakness — that it is the first step toward finding the needed strength. To call upon God for the resources we lack is to supply our deepest want.

The example of our first President still points men to God. Just as George Washington found God's strength available, so do men in our time when they call upon Him in faith. Discover Him in your own life. Worship God in your church next Sunday.

In case you think you might be stung

Some people seem to feel that prescriptions are outrageously priced. The truth of the matter is this: Last year the average American bought about 3 prescriptions for a total cost of around $7.50. An average of less than $3.00 per prescription. Sure, some drugs cost a lot. So do television tubes—for the same reason. They're expensive to manufacture. New and improved production methods, however, bring prices down. Penicillin, for example, costs only a small fraction of what it did when it first came out. Your pharmacist has a professional knowledge of drugs and can tell you this. They are fairly priced. You get what you pay for. We are always pleased to serve you.

DEKALB

302 STORM PROOF COTTON

New Vigor - Yield - Quality

Here's a strain-cross developed especially for areas where a definite attractant boll is desired. Medium height, erect plants have short branches and great uniformity. Hybrid vigor makes 302 somewhat earlier than standard storm proof varieties. DeKalb tests show substantial increases in lint yield over most popular varieties, under both irrigation and favorable dryland conditions.

Ceretha's Chatter

Many congratulations to Pam Owen on her engagement to Joe Hall. Her ring is a solitaire with a gold band and silver trimming around the edge.

The choir presented an assembly program for high school in the primary auditorium last Friday. It was the first one to be given this year for the upper classmen. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed it.

Things came alive around PHS Thursday when teams began arriving for the junior high tournament. Team spirit was soaring as high as each one did yell as they arrived.

A surprise birthday party was given in honor of Pat Landreth, Arleta Robinson, Marilyn Jones, Sharla Pierce and Cheri Cummings. A dinner was served at Genez's and then a slumber party was given at Pam Owen's. Approximately 14 seniors attended.

Some of the students of PHS have begun to discover a hidden talent of one of the fellow classmates. It happens to be Rickey Rogers. He has some excellent ideas and a lot of originality, especially for writing! He has helped a number of us out when we could have never made it.

The Juniors have begun selecting the stone for senior rings next year. They're really on the ball!

Love sought is good, but given unsought, is better.

Mechanical drawings highlight showcase

The highlight of the showcase this week were scratch-board and sepia sketches. These were made by boys taking mechanical drawing. They represent the appearance of the proposed building for competitive purposes.

In most competitions not only is a perspective required but plans are asked for as well. They are "rendered" on eggshell, tracing or other white paper, in water color, pen-and-ink, crayon, pencil giving the effect of color or light and shade. Accessories, such as figures surrounding buildings and foliage, are often used to give the relative sizes and the pictorial effect. The drawings are very attractive and eye-catching.

New Junior High teacher was a member of the Peace Corps

By Cathy Cates
Mr. George Edgerton of Kingsville, Tex., began his new job as 8th grade mathematics instructor here Feb. 14. He replaced Mr. Leon Barnes.

Mr. Edgerton is a graduate of the University of Texas and later taught mathematics and physical education at Ingleside, in south Texas.

He joined the Peace Corps in 1964 and was sent to the Dominican Republic after four months training in Puerto Rico.

In the Dominican Republic, Mr. Edgerton lived in a small village near Santiago, but was later transferred into the city. He was associated with community development projects such as building schools, bridges and highways.

When asked what the greatest difference is in the cultures, he replied: "American girls are allowed much more freedom than the women of the Dominican Republic. The girls there are not allowed to go out without a chaperone, no matter what their age. The women of the Dominican Republic do not go out for sports, such as basketball, like the American girls."

The PJHS student body and faculty welcome Mr. Edgerton.

Assembly is given by the Post High choir

The PHS choir gave an assembly Friday during home room period.

The choir sang several selections.

In addition, the freshman girls sextet sang "Baby the Rain Must Fall." The Playboys sang "Barbara Ann" and "Wedding Bells." The Shangrals sang "On the Street Where You Live" and "Gonna Get Along Without You Now."

John Hill heard by TSTA group

John Hill, field representative for the Texas State Teachers Association, spoke on "What Is Ahead for Teaching?" at a meeting of the local unit of TSTA last Thursday night in the primary school auditorium.

After the meeting was called to order by Charles Hopkins, TSTA unit president, A. T. Nixon gave the invocation and the minutes were read by Mrs. N. R. King.

Mrs. Hutchins introduced a skit, "Maggie the Midget," presented by Sharla Pierce and Pamela Owen, members of the high school chapter of Future Teachers of America. The skit was of a typical American girl getting ready for a date.

A short business meeting followed Mr. Hill's talk and refreshments were served.

Band thanks Mr. Lee for directing them

The PHS Band would like to thank Mr. Graddon Lee for taking Mr. Evans' place last week. We all enjoyed it and hope that he did.

The pep-squad would also like to express their appreciation to him for directing them at the last two basketball games. Without his help, the band wouldn't have been able to perform at the games due to Mr. Evans being out of town on Tuesday night.

Again, we say thank you, Mr. Lee, and we hope you enjoyed it as much as we did.

Jimmy Barlett new Future Farmers head

The new officers are: Jimmy Barlett, president; Felton Gatlin, vice president; Johnny Pennell, secretary; D'Wayne Gannon, treasurer; Dennis Ray, reporter, and Donnie Cole, sentinel.

After the election of new officers each of the outgoing officers presented a medal for the office he held.

City ordinance Barring minors from pool hall

By Rickey Rogers

A strong controversy over an action taken by Chief of Police Miller concerning the local pool hall has haunted the halls of PHS this week. Minors under 17 years of age are not allowed in the pool hall. Contrary to the thoughts of most students, this rule was not made by Chief Miller. It was passed by action of the city council.

CITY ORDINANCE NO. 217 SECTION VII-MINORS PLAYING

No person who keeps, conducts or operates any billiard or pool table for profit, or who keeps, conducts, or operates any room or rooms wherein the same are kept, conducted, or operated for profit whether the licensee or an employee or associate of the licensee, shall permit or allow any minor under the age of 17 years to play thereon, or to be or remain in or frequent any such room, unless accompanied by his parent, guardian or an adult person responsible for the conduct of such minor.

PASSED AND APPROVED at a regular meeting of the City Council of the CITY OF POST JEFFERSON TEXAS

Antelopes pasted by Mustangs in playoff

The 1965-66 Post Antelope basketball team came to the end of the trail at Levelland last Friday night when they lost to the Denver City Mustangs, 70-63, in a playoff game to determine which of the two teams would represent District 4AA in the bi-district playoff.

It was a heart-breaking loss for an outstanding Antelope team that had compiled a 22-2 record during the regular season, in which they had lost only to Slaton and Denver City. It was also a heart-breaking loss for dozens of Antelope fans who had followed the team on the 72-mile trip to the playoff site.

Nothing went right Friday night for Coach Will Bigott's Antelopes, who for the first time this season trailed nearly all the way. They were never able to get their offense clicking with any regularity, made numerous mistakes, and never seriously threatened to overtake the Mustangs past the midway mark of the second quarter.

The Antelopes were behind by only one point, 15-14, at the end of the first quarter, but trailed by seven, 36-29, at the halftime intermission, and by 52-47 at the end of the third quarter.

The Mustang defense bottled up Ronnie Pierce so effectively that the Antelope top scorer hit only five field goals, but he hit 12 of 13 from the free throw line to grab scoring honors with 22 points.

The Mustangs' double-teaming and, sometimes, triple-teaming of Pierce left other Antelopes open, but none of them was able to score with any consistency.

The Antelopes staged a rally in the final 90 seconds that at one stage pulled them to within three points of the Mustangs, but they were having to foul to break up a Denver City stall, and four free throws by the Mustangs' Greg Black put the game on ice.

In regular season play, the Antelopes shellacked the Mustangs, 98-80 at home, but lost to them, 63-61, at Denver City to tie the teams for the top spot and bring on the playoff game to decide the bi-district representative. Both teams are co-champions of District 4AA this season.

Friday night's game was the final one for Post starters Ruben Solis and Birch Lobban and for squadmen Sammy Sims, Luis Ayala and Rickey Welch.

The scoring summary:
DENVER CITY — Mitchell 6 5 4 17; Henson 0 7 5 7; Black 4 4 2 12; Vernon 4 7 3 15; J. Young 2 2 1 6; Mead 0 0 2 0; Spivey 2 3 5 7; Childers 3 0 5 6. Totals 21 28 27 70.

POST — Sims 2 3 3 7; Lobban 2 4 3 8; Pierce 5 12 4 22; Solis 2 7 4 11; Heaton 3 1 4 7; Vargas 1 1 3 2; Windham 3 1 5 7; Welch 0 0 0 0. Totals 18 29 25 65.

CHEVY PICKUPS RIDE SMOOTHLY

... A BIG REASON WHY THEY'RE LIKED BEST!

Smooth ride is one big reason why Chevy is America's most popular pickup. You get true independent front suspension; front wheels that step lightly over bumps. And most models provide big coil springs at all four wheels to soak up the jolts. You get a ride that's ideal for camper duty as well as work ... a tough suspension proved over the past 5 years on rugged jobs. Try a smooth-riding 1966 pickup at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Track practice to start soon

Candidates for this season's Post Antelope track and field squad will start workouts in earnest as soon as the weather warms. Coach Glynn Gregg said Tuesday.

The quarter-mile track, on which construction is yet to be completed, will be used for practice, but isn't in shape for inter-school track meets, the coach said.

Coaches Gregg and Billy Hahn will be in charge of the high school track and field team.

Returning trackmen include Ruben Solis and Pete Morales, who were district winners last year in the half-mile and mile run, respectively. Also back will be Rickey Welch and Luis Ayala from among those who scored points last season.

Southland reporter says

No place like home on bad-weather day

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE
 "Be it ever so humble, there is no place like HOME!" The word for Monday is "home" because that is the place to be on a day like this! It is a bit unpleasant outside today, the light snow isn't bad, but that wind cuts like a knife. I'm just sitting here wondering what kind of weather the fishermen are having down at Falcon Lake. Hope it is nice there, no need for all of us to be miserable.

 Correction, please. Carol Stolle is student teaching at Randolph AFB instead of Lackland. There has been so much news in the papers on Lackland lately, that I got my wires crossed. Sorry, Carol.

A group of Southland 7th and 8th graders went on a little outing Saturday night. First they attended the movie at Post and went to Judy's Restaurant for a little snack. Those attending were Breonne Winterrowd, Joan Gindorf, Kathy Bryson, Darrell Hill, Jimmy Overman, Gary Lester, David Mock and Sherri Wilke. Taking them were Mrs. Paul Winterrowd and Mrs. Edmund Wilke.

Webster Crawford, son of the Payton Crawfords, has finished his training at Fort. Ord, Calif., and has been sent to Fort Benning, Ga. where he will begin jump training in the paratroopers.

James Crawford and R. B. Paulliger of Lubbock attended the annual convention of the San Antonio chapter of American Institute of Industrial Engineers over the weekend.

Janet Hollingsworth of Slaton and Jettie Crawford spent the weekend in Lubbock with Mrs. James Crawford and children. Sunday, the Payton Crawfords were dinner guests of their daughter-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Croby visited Mr. and Mrs. Wallace in Murton last Tuesday. The Cokers were also guests there.

Mrs. O. D. Smart of Littlefield visited the Neil Crosbys Friday, and Mrs. Bess Gregg was a Saturday visitor.

Tuesday of last week was Kenneth Callaway's birthday and his parents were over that night helping him eat his birthday cake. I wish I had a piece of it with a cup of coffee right now!

I WAS SO sorry to hear that Roy Dean Belk, son of the Elmer Belks, got hit with a baseball bat at school last Wednesday and suffered a light concussion. A little later a blood clot formed in one of his eyes and he is being treated for this. To top it all off, he got a virus and an infection in his other eye, so he has really had a tough time of it. He is feeling better today, but his mother is keeping him out of school for a few more days. Roy Dean, we hope everything goes a lot better for you.

Mrs. D. G. Ellis entertained a group of ladies last Tuesday afternoon with a home appliance party. She is one of the busiest ladies I know, always making something pretty. It happened that she had a quilt up and some of the ladies came in the morning and quilted stayed for the party, and then quilted some more! I'm not very good at quilting, but I like to watch. It is quite fascinating to me to see them make all those tiny stitches. I just don't see how they do it!
 Don Hill, son of Rev. and Mrs.

Hill, left Monday for California, and after spending last Wednesday night with his sister at Baldwin Park, left Sunday for Guam where he will be stationed. Our blessings go with you Don.

Rev. and Mrs. Hill visited the Delbert Abshire family Saturday night and helped Jackie Abshire celebrate his birthday. They enjoyed birthday cake and ice cream.

I AM GLAD to report that Ned Myers is better and will be dismissed from the hospital this week. Am sorry to say that his wife, Betty Sue, entered the hospital one day last week for a check up and tests. I can imagine that with all the worry and strain that she has been under for several months, that she needs a nice long rest.

The Robert Dyess family spent the weekend in Lovington, N. M. with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Bowden. While they were there, along with his grandmother, who also had a birthday.

Visiting the Robert Dyesses on Monday were his parents from Spur and her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Denton's daughter, Mrs. Cleo (Tater) Johnson of Santa Barbara, Calif., is here for a visit.

Rotarians hear 50 years of 4-H

Paul Gentry of Lamesa, in a talk before Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon, spoke on "50 years of 4-H work." He traced the development of 4-H clubs in Texas back to the "corn clubs" for boys and "tomato clubs" for girls just before World War I. The nation's 4-H clubs now have over 2,500,000 boys and girls as members with 84,000 of them in Texas. 4-H also has grown in the last half century into a world-wide movement for practical education to youth. Gentry noted Garza County has six 4-H clubs, named them and urged his hearers to support them.
