First Primary Elections To Be Held Saturday

Referendum On Cotton Allotments To Begin Soon

A referendum will be held by mail, May 16 through May 25 on whether to permit transfer of cotton acreage allotments to other counties, Lynn L. McKown, office manager of Hall County ASCS announced today.

This transfer would be by sale or lease and would be for 1967, 1968 and 1969 crop years. A similar referendum was held in Hall County on Nov. 23, 1965, for the 1966 crop. At that time growers disapproved transfer out of the county by 508 to 165, he said.

Transfer or sale out of the county must be approved by at least two-thirds of all growers voting in the county before it can be permitted.

The May 16 through May 26 referendum will be the first time a referendum of this type has been conducted by mail. Ballots will be mailed to all persons having an interest in a 1966 cotton allotment.

A vote by mail, particularly during this busy season, should be much more convenient for growers rather than having to appear in person at their polling places. In order to be counted, all votes should be in the office of the County ASC Committee before office closing time May 25, McKown said.

Hall County Heart Assn. Is Formed

The Hall County Heart Association was formed in a meeting on April 28 in Memphis, and affiliation with the Texas Heart Association was adopted. The meeting was attended by Ben Parks, Gordon Gilliam, Don Curl, Hubert Dennis, Jim Lange, Burl Grafton and Harry Van Slycke. Mr. Van Slycke is regional director for the Texas Heart Association.

In the past, all money collected in Hall County for the Heart Association, has gone directly to the state office in Houston. The forming of the Hall County Heart Association will now permit approximately 30 per cent of this money to be stipulated for projects in Hall County it was explained.

Officers for the year July 1, 1966, to June 30, 1967, were elected as follows: Burl Grafton, president; Mrs. Bob Fowler, vice president; Gordon Gilliam, secretary-treasurer; and Herschel A. Combs, publicity director.

Shannon Doss To Leave Memphis

Shannon Doss, superintendent of Memphis Independent School District for the past two years, announced yesterday that he has accepted a similar position with the San Marcos Independent School District. He will assume his duties at San Marcos on July 1, he said.

San Marcos is presently a Class AAAA school but will advance into the Class AAAA ranks after next year, he said.

"My family and I hate to leave Memphis, but it's too good an opportunity to turn down," Supt. Doss said.

During Mr. Doss's two years as head administrator in the Memphis Schools, several major improvements have been made. Possibly the most far reaching is the $950,000 plant improvement project which includes the building of a new high school building and remodeling other building in the district. Construction began the first of this year.

Other improvements included the school nursing program, begun in September, and the special Polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m., it was announced today by Oren Jones, county chairman of the Democratic Party.

Although not much interest has been shown this year in the election as compared to prior years, voters will decide several important positions at the polls Saturday.

As of Wednesday morning, 49 persons had voted absentee at the Hall County clerk's office.

Voters in the two Memphis boxes are reminded that balloting will be in the courthouse with D. C. Messick presiding at Memphis No. 1 box, in the east part of the corridor, and Guy Smith presiding as judge over the Memphis No. 13 box in the west end of the same corridor.

16 County Students Go To State Meet

Sixteen Hall County students left Wednesday to attend the State Spring UIL meet in Austin. The county will have representatives in track, tennis, golf and typing events.

The six boys of MHS track team and four boys of the local school's golf team, both regional champs, left Memphis yesterday in a booster procession which gave them quite a send off. The procession was organized by the Cyclone Booster Club.

President Leroy Gaston said that if the local boys win at Austin, the organization of supporters wants to meet them for a real homecoming celebration.

Memphis students competing at Austin in track are William McFalls, Clyde Wilson, Danny Peters, Gilbert Devorce Roy Long and William Welch; and golf, Jerry Moss, Larry Parks, Roge Fowler and Donny Miller.

Estelline and Turkey each will have six students competing, with all but one participating in the tennis meet.

Mike Hughes, Estelline sophomore, will participate in the Class B state typing contest.

Estelline sisters, Anne and Cheri Rapp, will be strong contenders in the girls doubles contest.

Turkey's netters, David Majors and the doubles team of Alton Setliff and Harvey Case will also be strong contenders. Setliff and Case are defending champions at the meet.

Banks' Total Assets Are Over 16.2 Million Dollars

Hall County's financial picture, as reported by statements of condition of the four county banks, is brighter now than at any time in its history, even surpassing the record high set on Dec. 31, 1965, by better than a half million dollars.

The reason for the record high being set in April, instead of the end of the year, was because of the late harvesting and selling of the 1965 cotton crop.

As of April 5, 1966, the combined total assets of the four county banks total $16,208,200.91, which showed an increase of $657,148.57 over the same figure of Dec. 31, 1965.

What makes this even more promising is comparing April's figure with a year ago. The $16.2 million total for 1966 is $2,640,739.41 above the April 26, 1965, total assets figure of slightly over $13.5 million.

According to figures, the total assets of the four Hall County banks climbed 19.5 per cent during a one-year period. Also, this is the first time the total assets figure has reached the $16-million mark.

The total deposits figure of the four banks last month was $14,759,664.94, which was $571,155.16 over December's figure and $2,717,431.75 over the April, 1965, total deposits figure.

Also showing an increase, but not nearly as strong as the increase shown in total assets or total deposits, was the loans and discounts figure. As of last month, the county's four banks had a total loans and discounts figure of $6,860,873.08. This was an increase of $279,021.94 over Dec., 1965, and $757,761.11 over the April, 1965, figure.

A check of the records also revealed that in April, 1961, five years ago, total deposits figure was $9,457,859.21, which is $5,301,805.73 below last month's figure. The 1961 total assets figure was $5,589,402.27 below last month's total assets.

The trend has been that the four Hall County banks have shown a million-dollar-a-year increase for each of the past five years.

Saturday Is An Important Day!

Saturday, May 7, is an important date for every citizen in Hall County. It is the day to vote in the primaries—both Republican and Democratic. Everything is in readiness for both parties to hold elections.

In the 10 voting places for the Democratic primary, supplies and officials are in readiness to handle the ballots of all members of that party. Republicans this year in Hall County will vote at a booth in the Community Center in Memphis. The single box will be presided over by Mrs. Mills Roberts, who urges all Republicans of the county to cast their preference for Republican nominees. Winners names will appear upon the general election ballot to be voted upon in November.

From the standpoint of statewide races, there is very little heat being generated. Only moderate attention is being manifested in district, county and precinct races. Republicans will have the easy ballot to cast. There are no contested races.

Democrats have the usual list of candidates with the exception of only a few statewide contests. Governor John Connally who has been a very able administrator of state affairs, is the favorite to win re-election, but he has two opponents. Preston Smith, seeking re-election as lieutenant governor, will probably win over his opponent. By the same reasoning, Attorney General Waggoner Carr of Lubbock should win easily over his opponent for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator. He should then unseat Republican John Tower in the general election in November. This man's record, from five terms as Representative, then Texas attorney general, he has been enviable.

To replace Carr, it looks like Crawford Martin will be the Democratic nominee. He has a fine record as state senator and did a fine job as secretary of state until he resigned. Byron Tunnell will probably win over his two opponents as a member of the Railroad Commission. He is up for re-election.

The important thing to remember is for every qualified person to cast his or her ballot in the first primary election Saturday, May 7. The early prediction is that only about half those qualified will go to the polls and help determine who will be public servants in the future. This is based upon the fact that very little heat is being generated in all offices.

What Other Editors Say

About Cong. Walter Rogers

DOLPH MOTEN: Congressman Walter Rogers who was here Saturday for the dedication of the new post office, stands out in a crowd without being stand out. Even in a group of important people, and all groups are, the Congressman can be recognized even if you didn't know him beforehand, we daresay.

He has an air of confidence about him which he instills in others.

He has the ability to handle the complaints and expressions of dissatisfaction of taxpayers and voters with the ease of a major league shortstop handling a routine ground ball.

He has an attentive ear for everyone with a problem and leaves people better satisfied for having a discussion with him.

Needless to say, we have a great admiration for Congressman Rogers and his ability to be elected, time after time, even though he is almost constantly opposed by a stronger candidate representing a minority force.

Being a congressman is no easy chore anywhere, we'd guess, but we can't help but believe that his job is harder than that of some of his colleagues because of the diversified thinking of the people in Rogers' district. A man has to "get up early" to please the North Plains oil and gas man and the South Plains farmer, all at the same time.

To keep all the voters happy would be impossible, of course, but it's amazing to us that one man is able to keep a majority of the voters casting ballots in his favor ever two years.

We don't agree with Walter Rogers on every issue, but that certainly doesn't keep him from being a great representative for the people of this district in Washington.

Voters will do well to keep in mind what a good job he's doing, and has done, when they go to the polls next November.

At least weekly and maybe more often than that, the postal service which Congressman Rogers praised in his address here Saturday brings some derogatory remarks about him from his Republican opponent. We look most of them over, but have yet to be impressed with the points which are attempting to be made.

With all due respect to the others, Congressman Rogers is probably the most popular legislator in Parmer County.

We are proud he was the main speaker at the post office dedication. — The Bovina Blade.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Vinson, Okla.

The Memphis Democrat:

Maybe I am a little bit slow in renewing my subscription, but the saying is, better late than never.

As of now, there only a few people in Memphis that I ever know. Since it has been sixty-five years since wife and I left there.

We live on our original filing with a half section (320) added, northeast of Wellington on Texas line.

We enjoy the Memphis Democrat because we see something in it often that reminds us of the "good old days", back in the nineties when we knew most everyone in and around Memphis. We hope to be at the picnic again.

More Than 100 Piano Students Play In Auditions

The National Piano Playing auditions, sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers, came to a close Friday afternoon.

From this area, "Memphis Center," 100 students of all classifications most of whom were playing a program of ten or more numbers were heard by the adjudicator, Frederick Thiebund, who is head of the piano department of Howard Payne College, Brownwood. From here he goes to Olton where he will judge for several days.

Mr. Thiebund spoke highly of the quality of the playing by the students and the work being done by the piano teachers of this area which includes teachers and students from Hedley, Wellington, Childress, Quitaque and Memphis.

The ratings of the students as follows: Critic Circle rating (For Top talent only) 14 students, superior plus.

Citywide Circle Rating: 28 students, superior; 26 students, superior minus; 15 students, excellent plus.

School Circle Rating: 10 students, excellent.

"The above rating show talent and good work for most of the students and a great love for music for which we can be most grateful," said Gertrude Rasco, chairman of the Memphis Center.

Five Memphians Listed On Tech's Honor Roll

Five students from Memphis High School were listed on the Dean's Honor Roll at Texas Technological College for the fall semester, according to information received here last week.

Listed were Bill H. Cosby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cosby; Tony Monzingo, son of Mrs. Mildred Monzingo; Ronald Pate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olton Pate; Don Gailley, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Gailley, and Noel Clifton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Clifton.

Three of the boys, Monzingo, Pate and Cosby, are freshmen at the school. Clifton is a sophomore and Gailley is a senior. All five boys are graduates of Memphis High School.

The major cause of death and destruction on U. S. highways is driver error and lack of judgment.

Historical Com. Takes First Step Toward Museum

Plans for collecting and conserving old records of historical interest as a first step toward getting a Museum in Memphis were considered in a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Museum and Historical Committee in a meeting in the Community Building Monday afternoon.

Tops Gilreath, committee chairman, expressed concern over the burning and otherwise destroying old records, photographs and items that belonged to our pioneer families. An effort will be made to find a suitable, safe storage place for such material, she said.

Another meeting of the committee will be held soon to plan visits to Museums in other counties, and to check on buildings that may be available in Memphis.

"We want to preserve for Tomorrow the true landmarks of Yesterday's Hall County," Miss Gilreath said.

Dr. Jack L. Rose Family Attend—

65th Texas Optometric Convention In Houston

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is an account written by Dr. and Mrs. Jack Rose of the recent trip to Houston where they attended the 65th Texas Optometric Association Convention. Dr. and Mrs. Rose and three children were in Houston from April 23 through April 27. The following is an account of the trip:

"Our convention met in the beautiful Hotel American, a sight in itself with its interesting, marvelous and modern structure of concrete, gravel, marble, and glass in its heart-of-the-city spacious park sporting putting greens and croquet court. It boasted, too, a splendid sun deck complete with lounging chairs, tables, umbrellas, and swimming pool. Without leaving the hotel, a magnificent ioncource carried us right out over one of Houston's freeways to Cullen Center which housed in its structure of smoky glass practically every kind of business and service one can mention.

"Our first evening in Houston saw us dashing to the Astrodome, the much publicized eighth wonder of the world, to see the Astros downed by the San Francisco Giants. The famous Kilgore Rangerettes entertained before the game; and the sights to see were so numerous before, during, and after the game, that the game itself seemed a somewhat remote attraction. However, we saw Willie Mays tie the season's batting record with his 510th home run. Therein lay my only disappointment; I was of course a Houstonian for the evening and that not only did not help their cause; it also did not light up the fabulous scoreboard as it would have for the Astros.

"On Monday, the ladies were feted with a luncheon which included "Hats and History", a merry entertaining reminiscence replete with fashions, girls, and information dating from somewhere back there in the 1800's. Monday evening, we traveled to the White House—not Johnson's—for a buffet, which I'd call a smorgasbord if I know how to spell it, consisting of nothing I had ever eaten before but all delicious. (Here I proudly note an exception; with all the good food, unusual food, hot and cold food, we were offered, the bread was the same hard, cold, tough rolls which we decided must be of German origin; missing were the good hot, light, tender rolls Mrs. Barber spoils us Memphians with.)

"One rainy morning included a tour of the young College of Optometry which operates as a part of the University of Houston and has grown in its few short years of existence to boast of all the newest equipment and techniques available to young doctors (and a few oldies, too) who are striving to equip themselves for the best possible visual care of future patients. On our bus was the public relations director of the University who pointed out to us things of interest as we drove through the campus and told us plans for grand-scale expansion for the near and not-so-near future. From the building in the process of being torn down (whose facade did not even hint that it had been built in 90 days during World War II only to require a tent pitched over it to keep the rain out after completion), to the multi-million dollar Cullen-donated building which houses an auditorium so acoustically perfect that a pin dropped on the stage can be heard at the extreme rear without benefit of a microphone; it was all interesting.

Our last afternoon afforded us the privilege of a visit to NASA, the place from which all our outer-space explorations are controlled. Because of limited time and various restrictions, we saw only a small portion of the very impressive and extensive facilities. Dr. Joe Kerwin, the astronauts' physician, addressed us and answered various questions fired by the optometrists who are quite naturally interested in what outer space does to the eyes and vision. Several films, parts of which we had seen on television at the times of launchings and orbitings, seemed much more fascinating and interesting at the closer range and on the larger screen in brilliant color. We really wished for a whole day to spend in the "city" of wonders. Somehow, it has all been more believable to me since this experience.

"From NASA, we wandered around to show our children a few things that were not on the planned agenda. We "wandered around" simply because we were lost much of the time. From the hotel, they had brought swimming suits for the memorable experience of swimming in the surf. It seemed that when we could locate ourselves on the map we were always going in the opposite direction. When we finally ended up at Cylan Beach in LaPorte, the late chill in the air erased all thoughts of swimming. Being interested in new schools, though, we were thrilled by the sight of LaPorte's, a most unusual and beautiful plant.

"We couldn't give up some of the things we wanted to see and show the children, though our time was almost run out, so we went at night to the San Jacinto Park to see the monument of Texas independence and the Battleship Texas, veteran of two world wars. Though we regretted being unable to tour the two places of interest, we were glad we went and they were impressive in the night lights.

"As we found our way out of Houston and were well on our way down the road, we kept noticing signs pertaining to Sam Houston the man: his home, his grave, the museum dedicated to him, etc. It seemed they were mostly in the vicinity of Huntsville, so we detoured that much. After nearly ending up in two institutions of correction, we found ourselves in the most beautiful park right across the highway from Sam Houston College. We spent more than an hour touring Sam Houston's first home in Huntsville which stood on its original site surrounded by trees which he planted and still furnished with much of the original furnishings complemented by donated furnishings of the same period and touring the "steamboat house" which had been relocated in this park and in which he died of pneumonia at the age of 77. Time prevented our going through the museum, but maybe day - - -

"Home again! I believe I lost only twice more. We think of incidental highlights like running out of gas on Dallas freeway, Bruce's ride fast elevators while we ate meetings, Vicki's swimming rain for fear the sun would storm—I realize the best going away is coming back can hardly wait for some of Barber's hot rolls!"

Baptist Church Honors Senior Class At Banquet

Banquet was given last Friday night by First Baptist Church honoring the entire graduating senior class of Memphis School. The banquet is an annual affair and is given each year by the church. This year's banquet was held in the basement of the church and followed the annual emphasis of Christian Education.

Besides the Seniors who attended, guests at the banquet included Superintendent Shannon Doss and his wife, Principal Clinton Voyles and Senior class sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Phillips. In addition to these school officials the Young People's Department Sunday school workers and Training Union workers of the church were invited. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Morris Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Les Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Ace Galle, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray Jones, and Mr. and Mrs.

Chuck Jones.

The Seniors were greeted at the door by the Young People of First Baptist Church and were given a diploma which contained the menu and the program for the evening. At 7:00 p. m., the senior and adults entered the banquet hall in the church basement through a maze of decorations carrying out the theme of Christian Education. The banquet hall was decorated with pennants and posters from each of the Texas Baptist Colleges and Universities and the tables were decorated with graduation caps and centerpieces contributing to the theme. Silhouettes of graduates in cap and gown were scattered about the banquet hall which added to the atmosphere of the seniors' final days at M. H. S.

The banquet was served in proper style by members of the Junior Class. The meal was composed of: fried chicken steak, green beans, creamed potatoes, tossed salad, hot rolls, iced tea and strawberry shortcake with whipped cream, which seemed to be enjoyed by everyone.

Following the meal an interesting program was presented by a group of four students from Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene. Mark Phillips, president of the church Youth Council, gave the welcome and Larry Parks, president of the senior class, gave the response. Pastor Gene Jorgenson served as master of ceremonies and Cliff Pedersen, the church music and education director, made a brief presentation on the values of attending a Christian College. The entertainment was provided by three freshmen girls from Hardin-Simmons. The three girls, Cheryl Foster, Cheryl Karnesh, and Casey James, have formed a folk singing group at the college and entertain throughout the state. They sang several folk songs and spirituals before finally presenting the social music before the main address. Jim Armstrong, also a freshman at Hardin-Simmons, brought the banquet address. Mr. Armstrong was the winner of last year's State Better Speakers Tournament, sponsored by Texas Baptist Churches.

The banquet was held in its traditional manner and is sponsored by the First Baptist Church and directed by the church's Youth Council. The banquet chairman was Mrs. Billy Thompson, and the planning committee was composed of Mrs. Lenis Simpson, Mrs. Harvey Wines, Mrs. Bob Philpot, Mrs. T. O. Pounds, Mrs. Lowell Houston and Mrs. Ross Gentry. Chairman of the decorations committee was Mrs. W. R. Scott; serving committee, Mrs. Bob

Giles Picnic Is Slated For Saturday, May 28

By VIRGINIA BROWDER

Yes, there will be the usual annual GILES PICNIC on the banks of old Buck Creek again this year on Saturday, May 28. Again this year, too, for the eleventh time in these parts, Flip Breedlove and Pete Land will officiate at the barbecue pits with plenty of red beans, pickles, onions and bread as trimmings. We hope, as always, the "lady picknickers" will bring salads and pastries for those with a "sweet tooth".

There will be the usual fine "community singing", "gabfests", and old time fiddle music. We may even stage and do the "fiddlers' contest". Watch for a definite announcement on that bit of business. Speech-making will be held to a minimum, but the "old-timers" and "prominent guests" will be recognized some time during the day.

This year though, something new will be added to the roster of events. There will be a GILES RODEO in the afternoon at the Johnson Arena west of Blackie Johnson's house where he and his cowboy cronies have for some now been staging Sunday ropings. So, for those with a yen for the more active sports, a real live bucking and roping will be in full swing on the west bank of Buck Creek.

All in all, it promises to be another good old-fashioned COUNTRY PICNIC where the women wear sunbonnets and the men spit and argue about everything from the high price of putty in Peru to the high cost of living on the Moon. The grand festivities will begin at ten o'clock, May 28, and run through the day. Come early and stay late or until the last dog is hung.

Baptist Church Ordains Five New Deacons Sun.

Sunday evening, at 7:00 p. m., the First Baptist Church was the scene of an important and impressive ceremony in its ordination of five new deacons. Ordained were Kenneth Dale, A. L. Gailley, Wendell Harrison, R. B. Phillips, and Jerry Don Smith.

The men were selected several weeks ago by the entire church body and have since engaged in a period of examination and training.

Rev. Clifford Jester, pastor of Shady Oaks Baptist Church of Hurst, Texas, delivered to these men and their families the charge concerning the service and privilege associated with the office. J. M. Ferrel, Jr., charged the church with her responsibilities; and Rev. Gene Jorgenson, pastor of the ordaining church, delivered the ordination sermon. The ordination prayer was led by Robert Moss; and, as the candidates knelt, the laying on of hands was observed by the ordaining council. After the closing hymn and benediction, the new deacons and their wives were received by the entire church fellowship.

The ordaining council, composed of men already ordained to the office of pastor or deacon, included the following: Rev. Gene Jorgenson, Rev. Clifford Jester, John L. Burnett, Robert Moss, Jack Rose, Byron Baldwin, Kenneth Chick, Edgar Daugherty, Clyde Davidson, Morris Davis, J. M. Ferrel, Jr., Buster Howard, Haskell Howell, Rayford Hutcherson, Sam Jackson, Bill Jones, Orville Phillips, Louis Richards, Les Sims, Loren Denton, and J. R. Adamson.

Linters have more uses than any other cottonseed product.

The term "spot" cotton originally meant cotton actually on the spot at any market.

TENNIS HOPEFULS—Turkey's boys doubles team, Alton Setliff (left) and Harvey Case, will begin defending their State B title at Austin tomorrow. They are favorites to bring home another state trophy to go with the one they won last year. The boys are juniors at THS and their coach Lorin Denton said they are playing good, sound tennis and will be hard to beat.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

Research Work Given of Representatives has supported
A Boost a long standing objective of mine very pleased that the House—that of augmenting research laboratory facilities at the Bushland Agricultural Experiment Station. As it approved agricultural appropriations for the coming fiscal year, the House voted $325,000 to construct the additional laboratory facilities and thereby complete a program begun several years ago to step up soil and water research aimed specifically at solving problems in our High Plains area. With solid backing from home, I had worked to obtain the initial authorization of $600,000 to provide new facilities at the Bushland station, an action of Congress that was followed by a $250,000 appropriation in 1961 and a $25,000 appropriation last year with which to plan completion of the project. By late summer, the planning will be completed and the project is expected to go out for bids.

False economy moves had threatened to curtail progress in agricultural research programs and, with them, any augmentation of the work at Bushland. However, I am glad to say that the action of the House will, with the Senate's agreement, insure that research can be continued at a proper rate into such areas as soil and water problems (at the Bushland station), grain marketing, cereal rust, sedimentation, range livestock (at Miles City, Montana), meat animal research (at Clay Center, Nebraska), nutrition and consumer use research, pasture research, and barley research.

Experience shows the need for continuing research. The House, by its action, supported the conviction that it would be a serious mistake to risk reducing the ability of our agricultural system to assure an adequate supply of food and fiber to a constantly increasing number of consumers in the United States and abroad. Agricultural scientists make the point that our research efforts must be at least five years ahead of the constant threat from existing pests and their hybridized descendants. For example, a new race of wheat rust, known as 15B, appeared suddenly in this country and wiped out 300 million bushels of wheat and durum worth $500 million in the period 1950 to 1955. Previous research on a new variety of wheat called "Selkirk" provided a stopgap to partially offset these disastrous losses until research could develop newer and better varieties with resistance to 15B which would eventually adapt and attack "Selkirk."

At the Bushland Station, one of the research objectives is to investigate improvements in soil conservation practices with special application to the soils in our part of the country. Emphasis is being placed on Bushland on moisture conservation practices to utilize as much rainfall as possible for agricultural benefit, and this work includes ways and means of better utilizing the water in the relatively shallow "playa" lakes. Management of irrigation water is one of the fields of research at Bushland, as is the reduction of surface evaporation. The work at Bushland is closely tied to the agriculture of our area, and the funds approved for expenditure by the House would greatly help in the work by making possible improved and expanded facilities.

One of the interesting research projects now being advanced involves space technology and a cooperative agreement between the Department of Agriculture and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA). Cameras and sensing devices on satellites are to be employed to identify proper soil, water, and chemical conditions to assist underdeveloped countries step up lagging food production and develop natural resources.

Improvement Com. Says Now Is The Time For Clean-Up

Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Community Improvement Committee, reminded everyone that if our town is to be clean and pretty this summer, now is the time for us as individuals, to start working toward that end.

Since our wonderful rains plants, flowers, shrubs, trees and weeds will be growing at top speed. This means that every home owner in Memphis should be giving serious consideration to this method of attack, member of the committee stated.

Vacant lots and alleys around your yard that are not kept can ruin the looks of your own yard and nullify the efforts you put forth, it was stated.

Block captains are asked to begin contacting their neighbors to plan an organized attack against unsightly alleys and vacant lots. Let's get together and make Memphis the prettiest little growing town in the whole Golden Spread, members of the committee urged.

Musical Drama In Palo Duro To Open July 1

By VIRGINIA BROWDER

At a meeting of the Board of Directors in Amarillo Monday evening, members and patrons of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation were brought up to date on the happenings at the Pioneer Amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon. The president, Mrs. Pler Harper of Canyon, conducted the business session in the club room of the La Taser Apartment Bldg.

Additional construction of dressing rooms, a workshop, a concession building, and a rain shed is underway. The parking area is being hard surfaced and the workmen and Earl Parge, the architect, are busy as bees in a hive to have all in readiness for the grand opening of the musical drama by Paul Green July first.

Mr. Green, the eminent playwright from Chapel Hill, North Carolina, has completed the manuscript for this colorful historical spectacular of the early days in Texas and dubbed it "Texas." More than 100 persons appeared for the auditions for parts the weekend of April 23. So many came from all over the Golden Spread area that the local aspirants had to be heard at a later date.

That later date, by the way, is this Saturday, May 7, at 9 o'clock in the Fine Arts Building of WTSU in Canyon. The play will have a cast of 45 actors and actresses. All will be paid a salary from the start of rehearsals to president of the Travis Parent-Teacher Association, and the Woman's Forum. She is a member of the 1913 Study Club.

Carla and Bill are students in the Travis School. Carla is a member of the Beginner's band. Bill is a cub scout and enjoys playing ball with the Yankees in the summer Little League program.

Mrs. R. E. Roark Is Honored At Midland Friday

Mrs. R. E. Roark, 501 South Sixth, was one of the honored guests when The Midland Community Theatre celebrated its twentieth anniversary with a special performance of George Bernard Shaw's comedy, "The Devil's Disciple", and a reception which followed Friday evening April 29. The Shaw play was a fitting vehicle for the festive occasion.

Begun as a small and struggling civic project with less than three hundred members in 1946, this theatrical enterprise today boasts a membership of more than four thousand. Under the ingenious direction of Mr. Art Cole, the excellent quality of acting and finished production through the years have set The Midland Community Theatre apart as a pattern for other theatrical groups throughout the United States.

In fact, the Midland players were invited to represent the United States at The Third International Festival of Amateur Theatre in Monaco last spring. Thus it was that a small town troupe of actors from Texas performed "The American Dream" a one-act drama, in the beautiful little opera house on the French Riviera.

Mrs. Roark was one of a six-member play selection and casting committee which helped lift this theatre off the launching pad twenty years ago and send it on its way toward the enviable success it enjoys today as an educational, non-profit organization devoted to the best interests of theatre art. Mrs. Roark feels both proud and humble to have had even a small part in the furtherance of the cultural aspirations of this fast growing mid-Texas town.

GIRL SCOUTING

Fun
Learning
Adventure

Registration for Girl Scout Day Camp for Memphis, Hedley and Turkey is scheduled for May 10. Registrations will be taken from 10:00 a. m.-11:30 a. m. at the Legion Hall in Turkey; from 1:30-3:00 at the Presbyterian Church in Memphis; and from 3:30-4:30 at the Lions Den in Hedley. The fee is $4.00 per girl. Non-Girl Scouts may register May 16-20 and the fee is $5.00. This is the only way Girl Scouts will be registered for Day Camp. Non-Girl Scouts may mail their registrations to the Quivira Girl Scout Council, P. O. Box 459, Pampa, Texas. (Registration cards should be filled out completely on both sides.)

Memphis, Hedley and Turkey will have camp the first week of June 13-17, on Indian Creek, four miles west of Memphis on the Lakeview Highway. Cars will leave the Memphis Carnegie Library at 8:30 a. m. and return promptly at 3:30 p. m. each day except visitation day, the fourth day of each session. On visitation day the buses will leave at 2 p. m. and return at 8:00 p. m. All cars will leave promptly at the appointed time.

Buccaneer, Frontier, Gunn Bros. and S&H Green Trading Stamps will be accepted again as partial or total payment of the camp fee. (Only full books will be accepted.) Each book, except S&H Green Stamps is worth $2.50; S&H Green Stamps are worth $2.00. The fees held cover program supplies, transportation, insurance cookouts, and other Day Camp expenditures. Senior Scouts working as program aides are not required to pay, but must register.

Day Camping is camping by the day on an approved site with staff and facilities provided by the Council. This type of camping enables girls from different troops to become acquainted with each other in an out-of-doors setting. They have the opportunity to learn and practice the skills of outdoor living—to lash and cook out, to go on nature hikes, to lay and follow a trail, and to learn new crafts and games and songs. Girls are encouraged to discover the world of the out-of-doors and to find joy and satisfaction in the experience. They receive training in citizenship through the give and take of community living in which each girl has part in planning and carrying out the camping program with the help of adult leaders. Camping helps develop such qualities as resourcefulness, initiative, and self-reliance, and for many girls it is their only opportunity for a summer camping experience. Mrs. W. R. Herndon, Memphis Neighborhood Chairman, will be Day Camp director, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Bachman and leaders from Hedley, Turkey and Memphis. All girls to be registered to attend a field day at the Memphis City Park to be held Saturday, May 7, from 10:00 o'clock a. m. to 1:30 o'clock p. m. Each camper will bring a sack lunch for the noon meal and drinks will be furnished.

The weather caused the Shamrock Camporee of the Girl Scout of District III to strike camp and return to their homes earlier than planned. A total of 512 scouts attended the camporee on the Range Ranch north of Shamrock with leaders from over the district, including Memphis, Turkey, Clarendon, Hedley and Shamrock. The group did camp overnight Friday and enjoyed excursions through parts of the O'Gorman Caves on Saturday. However, due to the cold and threatening rain, the activities were curtailed shortly after lunch on Saturday.

Those attending from Memphis were Debbie Herndon, Connie Guthrie, Glenda Carroll, Carla Cole, Vicki Rea, Jan Smith, Kay Johnson and Mrs. W. R. Herndon.

This year the Quivira Girl Scout Council will offer Counselor-in-Training at Camp Kiowa from July 17 to July 30, to girls meeting the following qualifications:

1. Be an active registered member of your troop.
2. Have good health and vitality.
3. Have experience working with children.
4. Have a real interest in the progress and welfare of younger Scouts.
5. Be advanced enough in camping skills to be able to teach them.
6. Have four-to-six weeks established camping; attendance at Quivira Girl Scout Council Camp at Camp Kiowa in 1964-65, or the equivalent at another camp, will qualify you.

7. Have serious intentions of becoming a camp counselor.
8. Age: Minimum of 15 years of age and have completed your Freshman year.
9. Cost: Regular campers fees—$20.00 per session, $40.00 for two weeks.
10. Registration: Use the white card for Established Camp, included in the camp books, and indicate "C.I.T." in the upper right-hand corner of the card. Deadline for registration is June 1, and one-half the fee is due on that date.

Jones Goes To Drake Relays With NTSU Team

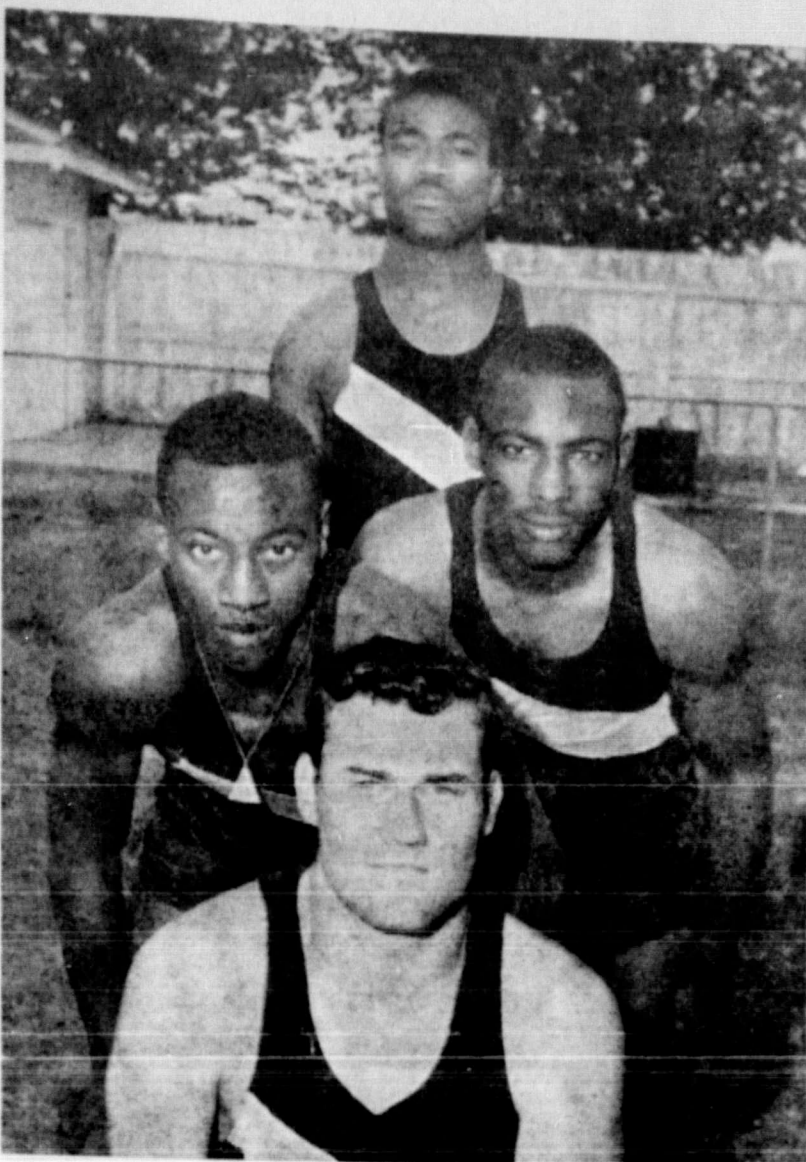

"Hoot" Jones, a freshman track man for North Texas State College, participated with his team in the Drake Relays in Des Moines, Iowa.

Hoot participated in the mile relay, and reported he ran his leg in a 49-flat. His team placed fourth behind A.C.C., L.S.U. and Drake, with a time of 3:17.9 in a close race.

"We would have placed higher, but one of our men ran the last 220 without one shoe, which was spiked off him. We finished ahead of Houston, Iowa State and Morningside," Jones said.

Hoot said the NTSU team flew to and from the meet through rough thunderstorms and said the weather at the Drake Relays was cold and slowed the times considerably.

Ministerial Alliance Gives Yearly Report

The Ministerial Alliance, in meeting Tuesday, reviewed its work for the past year. Rev. Leroy Gaston, who is president of the group, stated this week.

In order that the public might be better informed on the problems and the nature of its work in the community, the following report has been released by the secretary, Rev. Richard Avery.

The Memphis Ministerial Alliance was organized almost a year ago with the purpose in mind to present better relationship between the churches of our community. Working in the venture has been the ministers of the Assembly of God, First Baptist, First Christian, First Methodist and First Presbyterian Churches.

Within the organization there has been discussed the various spiritual, social and moral problems that are facing the Memphis area. Therefore, it is the hope of the Alliance to let you in on the discussion and ask for your help in meeting these problems.

Over the past year, the Ministerial Alliance has been concerned with the following problems:

The moral standards of a few young people leaves a lot to be desired. The Alliance, through its program of Rallies and Study groups, has tried to impress upon the youth of the community the values of living a life that is worthy of the Christian heritage upon which our community has been founded.

The Alliance has discussed at great length the problems involved with Sunday funerals. It has tried to recognize the sentiments for having funerals on the Lord's Day, over against the burden that it places on the churches
