"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATS RICHLAND SPRINGS 13-0

On last Saturday the Santa Anna football team scored two touchdowns on the heavy team from Richland Springs, and were able to hold their opponents scoreless. Santa Anna made both her touchdowns in the first half on forward passes to Greer, left end. Santa Anna's goal was in danger at several times during the game but her line was able to hold in the pinchers. Both sides fumbled frequently during the game with Santa Anna getting the advantage in recovering the ball.

Greer was the star of the game, making both of the local touchdowns. Santa Anna's team averaged only 135 pounds but they made a good showing against their opponents who averaged 165 pounds and had plenty of speed.

On next Friday, October 27, Coleman will play a return game with Santa Anna on the local High School grounds. On Nov. 4th, Brownwood High plays Santa Anna on the local grid.

The "Rooters Club" of the High school had a great deal to do with the results of last Saturday's game. Santa Anna is getting back her old time "pep" and spirit.

Santa Anna's line up against Richland Springs was as follows:

Sims—center.
Curry—right guard.
Bartlett—right tackle.
Parris—right half back.
Davidson—full back.
Substitutes:—Hensley, Brown, Hill, Dick, Pearce, Jones, Polk.
Referee—Stewart.
Head Linesman—Woodruff.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY

A number of friends reminded Mrs. T. W. Davidson that Oct. 12 was her birthday by spending the afternoon at her home.

There were useful gifts and pretty flowers for the hostess. A hand-painted birthday book was passed and after the many good wishes were registered, sewing afforded diversion until time came to go in the dining room where a large birthday cake with pink and green candles was displayed. After much merry making and wishing the honoree many happy birthdays, the cake was cut and served with ice cream to the following: Mesdames Davidson, Kingsbery, Fred Turner, Jack Woodward, Mills, Abernathy, Chas. Oakes, Tadlock, W. R. Kelley, S. H. Collier, Jno. Harper, Holt, Black and Miss Ruth Holt. The children present were David Harper, Gail Collier, Gwendalyn Oakes, Mary Lee Woodward and Virginia Black.—One Present.

SINGING CONVENTION, AT BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY

Next Sunday, October 29th, Eastern District Singing Convention of Coleman county will meet at The Baptist church in this city in their semi-annual session.

Many outside singers have promised to be here and, the weather conditions being favorable, we expect one of the best conventions of the year. Arrangements will be made for a public spread at the noon hour and we hope to see as many as can and will bring out a box of eatables to help out in the feed. All those who want to buy a roast, barbecue or other cooked meats, if they will see the News editor before Saturday and place the order with us, we will have the meats all served warm and fresh at the noon hour in one bulk. Plenty of coffee will be furnished on the grounds, arrangements having already been made for it. The Baker man will have in stock plenty of fresh bread and with the number of boxes that have been promised from various sections of the community, we expect to have a perfect feed. Any one wishing to prepare a box and have no conveyance, if they will phone the editor we will send a car for your box. Let's all join in making this session of the convention a creditable one for Santa Anna.

MONEY RAISING CAMPAIGN NOW IN PROGRESS

(By J. M. Dawson, Publicity Director of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, 708 Slaughter Bldg., Dallas) Dallas, Texas, October 19, 1922—Baptist of Texas are elated over the great gains shown in the opening of their schools. Everyone of them from Baylor University, with its several professional schools, down to little Rusk Junior College, there is a decided gain over last year.

Texas enjoys the distinction of having more Baptist educational institutions than any other state within the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention and has been enabled as a result of the 75 Million Campaign to make a large contribution to each of them. Under the method of distribution are cared for in the spring and the state institutions and interests during the fall, though each interest and institution gets its total quota from the Campaign fund within a year's time.

The Texas Baptist are now engaged in an effort to raise $1,500,000 in cash between now and December 1st, and when this money comes in, a considerable sum of it will go to the various educational and benevolent institutions fostered by the denomination in this state. Up to May 1st, 1922, the Baptist schools of Texas had received the following amounts: Baylor College, Belton $121,598.42; Baylor University, Waco, $1,734,400.00; Howard Payne College, Brownwood, $52,012.00; Simmons College, Abilene, $81,700.00; Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, $86,700.00; Burleson College, Greenville; Decatur College, Decatur; College of Marshall, Marshall; Rusk College, Rusk; Wayland College, Plainview, and San Marcos Academy, San Marcos, $17,340.00 each.

In addition to their interest in schools the Baptists of Texas are seeking to care for their extensive State Mission interests, their several hospitals and their orphanage in this Campaign. It is believed that when the Convention meets in Waco the middle of November this great sum will have been raised.

Just for argument sake, the editor often indulges into political discussions to get expressions from other people, and in so doing, some people take us more serious than we intend. An editor has his own way of doing things, and this is one of the ways we choose to get expressions from other people, not that they are so valuable after we have gotten them, but just because we want them.

GOVERNOR NEFF REMITS $2,000 FINE AGAINST FISHER ALSUP

Austin, Oct. 20.—Governor Neff has remitted the fine of $2,000 imposed upon Fisher Alsip, Bell county newspaper man, convicted of libel against the governor, and tried by a jury at Waco on Jan. 12, 1921.

The Governor not only remitted the fine but also forgave Alsip "personally, politically and officially." The libel in question was as to the age of Governor during the campaign for the governorship when Neff was running for the office.

Alsip published in a paper that Pat M. Neff was not born on Nov. 20, 1871, as he, the said Neff, claimed, but that his correct birth date was one year later, and that the said Neff for the purpose of concealing his correct birth date, had not only changed the records in the family Bible, but had stolen from the family cemetery, and destroyed a tombstone of a little sister who had died, it was alleged, in infancy; and that the said Neff had obliterated all signs of her grave. These charges in the court trial were proven untrue.

WOULD TAKE 12 YEARS

In pardoning Alsip, Governor Neff states: "It so happens that I, who was sinned against, who was slandered and libeled, am Governor of the State, and I therefore, alone, have the authority to remit the fine assessed against Mr. Alsip, the offending party. He has been unable to pay the fine. He has been working it for several months on the public roads of McLennan county. The law allows him 50 cents a day credit on his fine. At that rate, if he were compelled to work out all the fine, together with court costs, it would take him approximately 12 years. I am not only going to remit this fine assessed against Mr. Alsip, but I am going to forgive him personally, politically and officially, for the crime he committed and for the injury that he did me, and thus permit him to go back to his dependent wife and six dependent children to live as his conscience will permit him to live."

VICE GRAND WIZARD CLARKE TRYS TO MAKE GOOD ON "VICE!"

The Marshall News, in its issue of Saturday, October 7, declares that Vice Grand Wizard Clarke, of the Ku Klux Klan, is in trouble again. One might think he is trying to make good on the word "Vice" to his title.

First he appears on the police records of Atlanta charged jointly with Mrs. Tyler, Grand Something or Other, of social immorality. He settled this by paying the fine of both, saying the reason he did so was to save the woman's good name. Some of us outsiders might think this a peculiar way to save a woman's good name, that is, pleading her guilty of immorality.

The next time we hear from him he is arrested by a United States prohibition officer up in Indiana for having liquor in his possession. He was out on a lecturing tour at the time, in the organization of the Hooded Klan, that has for one of its tenets the enforcement of the law, especially against the bootlegger.

His latest court record is the answering to an indictment in the United States Court for using the mails to defraud. It seems that Mr. Clarke required all the Klegles to make bond for the handling of all funds entrusted to them. And so he makes them give a surety bond for $5,000 each and tells them the insurance company demands $25 as a premium for each insurance. As a matter of fact the insurance company was only charging $9, leaving a balance for the "Vice" Wizard of $16 for each Klegle.

He might have gotten by with this little Napoleonic piece of financing if he hadn't used the United States mails in telling the different Klegles that the insurance company demanded $25. Uncle Sam tries his best to keep people from using his postoffice for any swindling business and so Mr. Clarke (with an e) must answer before the United States District Court. And yet he is the head of an organization that proposes to regulate the morals of people by trials out in the woods, and to tell Texans who they shall send to the United States Senate.—Baird Star.

Merkel, Texas, Oct. 21, 1922

Rev. J. M. Reynolds,
Santa Anna, Texas.
Dear Brother Reynolds:

Congratulations on the outcome of your great service last Sunday. I rejoice with you in the wonderful achievement. I can hardly realize that it is all true. It is the answer to the prayers of a number of us that hoped to be able to lead the church in that task. Only I must admit that it is even a better church building than any of us before you ever dreamed of seeing in Santa Anna.

I think that is the reason the Lord would not let me build the church. I did not have the vision as large as was needed and the Lord wanted a house there that would honor Him.

You are to be congratulated in that you led them to build but even more in that you have now led them to pay for the building.

We are planning to attend the Sunday school meet in Coleman, and will try to come in time to worship with you at prayermeeting the Wednesday night before the sessions begin on Thursday in Coleman.

My heart rejoices with you in the work you have done in Santa Anna and I am hoping to hear that your good work goes right on.

Pray for us and may the Lord ever bless you and the good people at Santa Anna.

Yours in Him,

Ira L. Parrack.

Note:—Rev. Mr. Parrack was at one time pastor of the Baptist church here and an effort was made to have him present the day we held our Rally Day service.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY IN ALL DAY SESSION

The ladies of the Presbyterian church met on Monday, Oct. 23, in an all day session of the Missionary Society at the home of Mrs. W. R. Kelley.

The time was spent in discussing a book on Missions with different members as leaders for each chapter.

At the noon hour quite a feast of good things to eat was served—including a birthday cake with all the fixings in honor of the day being the birthday of two members who were present. There were toasts, many good wishes and a very happy time for those present, who were Mesdames T. W. Davidson, Jack Woodward, S. H. Collier, Chas. Oakes, Whetstone, Holt, Mills, Twyman, Jno. Harper, Garrett, Rackley, Tadlock, W. R. Kelley and Black.—Contributed.

NEW HALF MOON

Last Friday evening the editor caught his first glimpse of the New moon, and shortly after the discovery an argument ensued between the editor and his would-be boss. She tried to argue that the new moon was a wet moon, when we know it wasn't.

The editor was taught during the 80's by a good old sainted mother that when the moon appeared on its back, it indicated it was full of water and was called a wet moon, and when it appeared like it was hanging on its corner that it indicated no contents and was called a dry moon.

Now the editor claims that the present moon appeared more to be hanging on its corner than it did on its back, thus we claim it to be a dry moon, but in as much as the other party participating in the argument was not satisfied about the matter, we agreed with her to a compromise and we would call it half-wet.

We never heard of such a thing before, but we will never stand right under the moon and agree that it is lying on its back when it appears to us that it is hanging on its corner, so according to this prediction we will have about half-rains during the month of November.

IS YOUR SCHOOL SOURROUNDINGS SAFE FOR THE CHILDREN?

The boys and girls throughout the country are now back in school and now is the time to see that the school houses and grounds are clean and sanitary. Health is one of the first essentials in getting an education. Some of the things parents, in conjunction with the school boards should look after are as follows:

Investigate the water supply. Pure water is a prerequisite to good health, while impure water, polluted with filth and germs is sure to bring distress and sickness. Be sure that the boys and girls have plenty of pure drinking water.

Examine the windows and seats. Lack of proper ventilation in the school room helps to spread contagious diseases. Badly fitted seats result in crooked spines and cramped lungs.

Unsanitary closets are dangerous. A toilet needs to be fly-proof to be safe. Typhoid fever and diarrheal diseases may be contracted from food and water that has been contaminated with human excreta. It is next to impossible to teach a child cleanliness and decency in the school room and from books when he is daily getting a lesson of filth and indecency from the schools own outbuildings.

Do you not owe it to your boys and girls to see to it that clean and sanitary conditions exist in the schools this year? If sickness or death should come to your home as a result of your negligence, you could hardly forgive yourself for not looking into these matters and giving them the proper attention.

Many a wise man knows a few things and makes good guesses at the rest of them. E. J.

B. I. CLUB

On last Friday afternoon the B. I. Club met with Miss Ruth Stephenson, hostess.

When almost two dozen lively young girls meet there's almost a social whirlwind. Nothing is more interesting than the voice of each girl trying to be heard over the other and some particularly delightful selections on the victrola. That's a part of the real fun the Busy Idlers enjoyed with their hostess—and some more—joy! fancy work and—pst! Angel food cake and ice cream topped with cherries.

Present were: Misses Mildred Gipson, Ruth Crosby, Winnie Todd, Lois Verner, Grace Ewing, Blanche Collier, Margaret Barnes, Georgia Gilmore, Ruby Brannan, Mesdames Harry Caton, Richard West, R. A. Crosby, Oscar Cheaney, Jess Garrett.

BAKERY CHANGES OWNERS

A deal was closed last Thursday hereby the Santa Anna Baker shop changed from the ownership of W. H. Ragsdale to that of Walter Ransberger. Mr. Ragsdale is a splendid bakerman and has conducted a nice business. We have not been informed as to what line of business he will take in the future, but we hope he will continue to be a citizen of this town. Mr. Ransberger is no stranger in this town, and needs no introduction at our hands. Here's hoping for a successful business for him in his new business.

NON-METALLIC MINERALS OF TEXAS

In the Magazine Section of the Santa Anna News, which will be published Nov. 3rd, Mr. E. H. Sellards, geologist of the University of Texas, writes of the non-metallic minerals of Texas. He tells in this series of our resources in minerals, such as, fullers earth, potash, salt, sulphur, copper, lead, zinc, iron, gold, silver, quicksilver, graphite etc. Texas and Louisiana mines produce ninety-nine per cent of all the sulphur mined in the United States, the greatest production coming from Texas. Our state is full of valuable minerals, and when fully developed, will rival the world in production of mineral richness. Read the News and keep well informed regarding Texas, the greatest state in the union. Subscription price $1.00 per year in Coleman county.

Politics has interfered with its enforcement, but as far as our organization is concerned, it's going to be enforced to the letter."

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 22

JESUS TEMPTED

LESSON TEXT—Luke 4:1-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—For in that He Himself hath suffered being tempted, He is able to succor them that are tempted.—Heb. 2:18.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Phil. 2:3-11; Heb. 2:14-18, 4:14-16.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Overcomes Temptation.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Tempted to Do Wrong.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Overcoming Temptation.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—What Christ's Victory Means to Us.

I. The Place of (v. 1).
The wilderness of Judea. The first man, Adam, was tempted in a garden with the most pleasant surroundings. The second man, Jesus Christ, was tempted in a barren wilderness surrounded by wild beasts (Mark 1:13).
II. The Purpose of (v. 1). He was led into a wilderness by the Spirit. Christ's temptation was Messianic. Though He was "tempted in all points like as we are," we are not tempted as He was in this instance, but the same methods are employed on us. During the eighteen years of retirement Satan surely tempted Christ as he tempts us. Satan, no doubt, would have gladly escaped this hour, but the time had come for the Redeemer to enter upon His mediatorial work; therefore He went from the place of anointing and heavenly recognition as the Son of God to meet and despoil the arch enemy (Heb. 2:4).
1. It was not a preparation for His work, but rather its first conflict. In baptism we have the symbolic act of dedication of himself to the work of redemption through the cross—the making full a righteousness. In the temptation, the strong man is spoiling the enemy.
2. It was not to see if Christ would stand fast—would fall under the most crucial test. Christ could not fail. To so postulate would make God's scheme of redemption to have been unsettled until after this temptation, and would have made God guilty of setting forth a scheme of redemption on the basis of a possible overthrow.
3. It was to show Christ as an object upon which we may rest our faith with unshaken confidence. He came as the second Man, the head of a new race, its very source and life. It was a demonstration of the inseparableness of the divine and human natures in the incarnation.

III. The Method of (vv. 2-12).
Christ as the world's Redeemer sustained a threefold relation—Son of Man; Son of God; and Messiah, therefore Satan made each one a ground of attack.

1. As Son of Man (vv. 2-4). Satan made his first assault upon Him as a man by appealing to the instinct of hunger. Satan urged Him to use His divine power and convert a stone into bread. Hunger is natural and sinless. The temptation was in satisfying a right hunger in a wrong way. To have yielded in this case would have been to renounce the human limitations which He had taken for our sakes. To use divine power to satisfy human needs would have been to fail as Saviour and Redeemer.

2. As Messiah (vv. 5-8). Here the temptation was to grasp His rightful dominion by false means. The devil offered to surrender unto Him the world if He would worship him. The force of this temptation was in the fact that the kingdoms of the world are Christ's by God's covenant with Him. God's method by which Jesus was to possess the world was the cross. The temptation Satan is pressing upon the church today is to get possession of the world by other means than the cross.

3. As Son of God (vv. 9-12). Here Satan tries to induce Christ to presume upon God's care. He quotes a Messianic Psalm to induce Him to so act. To do the spectacular thing in order to get notice is to fall into Satan's temptation. For Jesus to have placed himself in danger in order to get God's special help in delivering Him would have been to sin. To put one's self in moral and spiritual peril in order to test God's faithfulness is to sin. Satan is never quite so dangerous as when he quotes Scripture.

IV. Christ's Defense (vv. 4, 8, 12).
It was the Word of God. He met and repulsed the enemy with "It is written." Our defense is God's Word. May every Sunday school teacher know how to use it!

V. The Issue (v. 13).
Satan is vanquished. If we will but trust God and use His Word we too can overcome.

Superior and Inferior.
You may fall to shine in the opinion of others, both in your conversation and actions, from being superior, as well as inferior to them.—Greenville.

Faith.
Now faith is the substance of things to be hoped for, the evidence of things that appear not.—Hebrews 11:1.

The Lord's Day.
Ye shall keep my Sabbaths and reverence my sanctuary; I am the Lord.—Leviticus 19:30.

CIVILIZATION DEPENDS UPON UTILITY SERVICE

Dallas, Texas, Oct.—In his address before the public utilities class of the School of Commerce of the Southern Methodist University in the city, C. W. Davis, general manager of the Dallas Power & Light Company, pointed out the important of the service of transportation, power and light, gas and the telephone as follows:

"The continuance of civilization is dependent upon service given by the various utilities, and this service, due to its gradual broadening and perfection, has so involved the community life of the human race that a cessation of it would bring about chaotic conditions never before known or realized. Modern methods of living are so closely tied with this service as to be a part of it. The one great problem of the utilities is to continue giving this service to the public in even a bigger and broader way than they have in the past."

The unspeakable Turk appears to speak with unspeakable possibilities at times.

YESTERDAY AND TODAY

An old timer made a visit to a few schools recently and found everything so different to the scenes of his childhood school life.

The old time teacher was usually a man of inferior type in his community. The cripple, the pauper, the cobbler, and the aged were the old time instructors. As time advanced the work of the teacher became more efficient, and the increase in the salaries made the teaching profession more profitable. Men and women of strong personality and wide experience were attracted to this field of work. Normal schools and colleges for the training of teachers were established in many or all the states.

In the "good old times" the school house was built of logs and the cracks filled with dried mud, had a dirt floor, and stone fireplace, no windows, except a log sawed out, split log seats and no blackboards. The teacher might be found asleep at any hour, and the pupils enjoying themselves trying to push the teacher out of his chair, or dropping cold water into his ears.

The teacher in that day had little education, very often barely able to read and write, and had no training to teach. He might be described as the most ignorant and illiterate adult in the community, as for instance Achabod Crane. His sole authority in education was Webster's Speller which he had studied and tried to teach for more than a quarter of a century, and yet could not pronounce correctly a large per cent of the words in this historic book.

In mathematics some old puzzle of arithmetic furnished mental gymnastic for the teacher and the larger boys. The day would be spent in droning recitation broken only at the rest periods. When the sun set behind the western horizon, the students would wend their weary way to their humble homes. The authority of the teacher in discipline was a large bundle of switches over the front door in plain view of the scholars. Every Monday morning the teacher would read the rules of the school to an inattentive student body. The penalty to be administered for the disobeying of any one of these rules was a whipping by the czar pedagogue. The boys loved romance and action so well that one boy each day would make an infraction of the rule that would make him appear most like a martyr, for the entertainment of the school while the teacher administered a flogging in the good old way.

On his visit he found the schools and the teachers of the present day system to have changed altogether since the days of his school life.

The new school is a revelation to one who has not kept in touch with the advancement of the school system has made. Instead of dirt floors, log walls and stone chimneys, almost all the schools have modern comfortable quarters, equipped with patent desks, maps, blackboards and stoves, libraries, sometimes victrolas and pianos are in the schools. In the early days about the only musical instrument was the violin heard mostly at the dance. The old things have passed away, and their places have been filled by the comforts of the modern century.

The modern teacher is abroad in the land. She, a majority, three to one, are females, is educated and trained to teach. With a power in smiles and kind words and motherly instinct she is the ministering angel on earth to the poor, and a help to the more fortunate. She is the ideal and the real inspiration in life. She loves, not always the children only, with a power that is conquering and inspiring. She advises, administers and soothes. In thousands of instances is the physician to the wounded and the sick. She is the counselor and director of sweet, tender, innocent childhood.

The female teacher is here to stay. She has taken the place of the male czar with his rules and sticks and his ignorance. The age of new learning has arrived with her as the leader, for higher, nobler, and better ideals, to carry the young people of today on to victory.—The Floyd County Hesperian.

Campaign For Equal and Uniform Taxation
(By Gus Reininger)
(In Democrat-Voice)

Nothing should prove more conclusively the irregularities practiced by the 95 underpaying counties, than the record itself which discloses the fact, that 157 counties of the State are being taxed for approximately $3, 000,000 a year over and above their rightful share, to which Coleman county contributes approximately $16,000 annually.

This results from our lack of central authorities by which each and all counties may be required to meet their obligations to the State as provided for in section one (1) Article eight (8) of our State constitution, which provides that taxation shall be equal and uniform, etc.

Under our present system, however, by which 252 commissioners' courts operate separately, and adjust the taxable values in consideration of county needs only, and with no consideration for the needs of the State there is not a semblance of uniformity in the rendition of property as between counties, resulting in a loss of fully four million dollars annually, to education in the public schools. All counties desiring to build good roads and establish good schools, must of necessity, place a considerable per cent of their taxables on the roll, in order that they may secure revenues necessary to accomplish the desired betterment, and as a result the respective counties are being penalized for such progress.

West Texas, as a whole, is paying fully $1,000,000 annually over and above its rightful share toward the administration of the State government, and the conduct of the public schools.

What Texas needs and that which the taxpayers should demand is, an amendment to the full rendition law so as to require a rendition of not less than 33 1/3 and not over 40 per cent of the full value of all property subject to taxation, and that the State Tax Commissioners' Department be vested with power and command to co-operate with every commissioners' court in the several counties of the State, to the end that such law will be strictly enforced.

Unquestionably, under a method as suggested, we could establish within reason, uniformity in the rendition of property as between counties, and thus correct one of the most monumental wrongs ever perpetrated upon a loyal and patriotic citizenship. The conduct of the campaign is dependent upon the individual taxpayers from the overpaying counties to meet the expense of carrying on this laudable work, and now that success is practically secured, the people affected should not let the opportunity slip from them, but should aid in assisting the campaign financially as well as otherwise. Its up to you Mr. Taxpayer of Coleman county, to do your share.

"BACK TO THE BIBLE" CURE FOR PRESENT ILLS

The world is in a turmoil. Physical, mental, moral, spiritual, everything is wrong and crossways with everything else. The remedy is "back to God—back to the Bible."

Back in the days when this republic was young, the great Webster said:

"If we abide by the principles taught in the Bible, our country will go on prospering and to prosper; and if we and our posterity neglect its instructions and authority, no man can tell how sudden a catastrophe may overwhelm us and bury all our glory in profound obscurity."

Three quarters of a century later two great Americans expressed the same thought.

General Lee said "The bible is a book comparison with which all others in my eyes are of minor importance, and which in all my perplexities and distresses has never failed to give me light and strength."

General Grant said "Hold to the Bible as the sheet-anchor of your liberties; write its precepts in your heart and practice them in your lives."

In these later days Woodrow Wilson, General Pershing, and President Harding all express themselves the same way, and Roger W. Babson, the greatest statistician of the age, who has studied conditions—causes and effects and is in a position to know more than any living human, says:

"The need of the hour is not more legislation. It is more religion."—San Marcos Times.

A MAN'S BEST ASSET

What is a man's best asset? The credit man of one of the largest business houses in the country, one having customers in nearly every city and town in every state, was asked the other day what was his main rule in granting credit.

"I try to get a line on the personal life of my customers," he replied. "I want to know whether he leads a clean life or a dissipated one; I want to know if he is economical and prudent in his business affairs. My information on that line has more to do with granting credit than anything else."

A banker in a neighboring city has the same views, says an exchange. Not long ago a man came to him for a loan. He held securities worth eight or ten times the amount of money that he wanted to borrow, but the loan was refused. One of the bank directors heard of the incident and asked about it. "Yes," replied the old banker, "the man has ample security, and the loan, no doubt, would have been safe. But I happen to know that he is leading a very wicked life; he is doing things that will involve him in disgrace sooner or later and I would much prefer that some other bank handle his business."

A man's character is his best asset. Reputation is based upon character, and business men judge a man by his reputation. This has always been the case, but never more so than now. A man's good character, tried and proven, is his best asset and his best friend.—Milford Weekly News.

Co-operative Marketing Will Help Us Get On a Cash Basis

One of the great benefits of cooperative marketing is that it will help farmers of the South get on a cash basis. This will be done as a result of the policy of making gradual payments throughout the year, instead of having all the farmer's money to come in at once—and then be paid out at once, leaving the farmer "broke" till another crop is sold.

No people will ever develop thrift so long as this policy prevails. We talked with Mr. C. M. Morgan, who was an official of the Arizona cooperative cotton marketing association last year and who especially emphasized this point. "Suppose any business man got a whole year's salary at once," he says. "Suppose a factory worker or miner or railroad employee got a whole year's wages at once. Suppose a doctor or lawyer got a whole year's fees at once. The last one of them would spend the money more recklessly than they do when it comes in gradually throughout the year. The same thing is true of the farmer."

Mr. Morgan says at first the Arizona bankers kicked like steers about the cooperative marketing installment method of paying for cotton. "We will have to carry accounts so much longer, waiting for the final settlement," they said. "But now they are enthusiastic over the plan. They see that it has given the farmer for the first time a year-round income. Farmers get more money gradually, spend it more gradually, and hence borrow less from the banks."—The Progressive Farmer.

TRAVELS OF A DOLLAR

Consider the rounds of a dollar when spent at home. The farmer received it in exchange for produce he ships to the city markets. He pays it to the grocer. The grocer's wife must have a new gown, and it goes to the dry goods man. That gentleman pays it to his clerk, and the latter hands it over to the shoe dealer. Mr. Shoe Dealer wants a new suit, and the clothing man gets it. A car goes on the blink and the clothier transfers it to the garage man. The garage man is a pious sort of a bird and drops it into the collection box at Sunday morning services. Then it reaches the church treasurer, and he tickles the palm of the preacher with it, and the ministerial gentleman slips it to the milliner in exchange for a hat for Mrs. Preacher—or as part payment therefor. Mrs. Milliner needs some face cream, and the beauty parlor or drug store gets it. Then it goes to another grocer for foodstuffs, and the grocer hands it over to the farmer for produce, and the dollar starts off on another round of calls. A sort of endless chain, you know. But if the farmer had sent that dollar to a catalogue house where in heck would it be by this time? Certainly not in this community. In all malarial counties the popular remedy is Herbine. People find it a good medicine for purifying the system and warding off the disease. Price 60c. Sold by all Druggists. With some people married life is a long dream of happiness that never comes. Friday, Oct. 27, 1922

The Lubbock Avalanche, one of the best papers in the State, will begin the publishing of a daily November 1st, which will be the first daily paper for the south plains country. The Avalanche Publishing company is now furnishing Texas with one of the best Semi-Weekly publications in the state, and they are doing more to put Lubbock and the south plains on the map than any publication we know of. The editor has been reading the paper for more reasons than one. The Avalanche is a stay-through thick and thin.

The editor has been suffering this week with a severe attack of tonsilitis, and at times, the agony has almost reached the point beyond our ability to bear it with patience. However, we are proud to state that our condition is somewhat improved and we hope to be able to record a complete recovery in the near future. Some one, possibly by neglect or oversight, either left the yard gate open or left one end of the clothes line down and we contracted a cold in the throat. Ordinarily, a germ has an unlimited nerve to tackle a newspaper man, but some of these darn germs here in Santa Anna have the nerve to undertake the impossible. We register one thing, via, when we get through with them they will not tackle another subject of our stature.

From throughout the country comes news to the effect that business in every line is improving. People are more optimistic than they have been in some time, and the general outlook is much improved. The Tariff and the high cost of transportation are still knockers in the way of progress, but all things cannot be overcome at once. We hope, ere another crop is made and harvested, that these conditions will have been improved. The Tariff question is a bomination to all the United States, and the Fordney-McCumber bill should be repealed at once. All the Tariff regulations in the world, except for revenue only, is a drawback to the producer and protection to the manufacturers. This is very plainly brought out in the recent advances of the finished products in this country. One for example the $40.00 per ton advance on print paper, which made the leap just as soon as a protective tariff was placed on Canadian products. There is no change in raw material, very little in labor conditions and if any it was favorable to the industries, no additional cost in transportation and the outlook favorable for a reduction, but as soon as the Tariff went into effect the users of print paper were held up for $40.00 a ton extra on news print. This is only one item and we use it because it effects us more than does any of the others but all commodities manufactured and used in the United States are affected from the highest to the lowest and it is all in favor of the manufacturers and against the producers. The writer is opposed to a Tariff for any purpose except for revenue only, as there is no way of regulating the resources of the country equal to the old rule supply and demand, and every Tariff regulation that has ever been incorporated in the country has been favorable to the classes and against the masses. We are opposed to any Tariff that benefits the few to the detriment of the many. Let's remove the cause by removing the Tariff burden.

The city of Tullia voted last week on a bond issue in the sum of $100,000.00 for water sewer and electric power improvements and the proposition carried by a two to one vote. The city of Lubbock is also preparing to spend $150,000.00 for local improvements this season.

NEW OIL ENTERPRISE TO BEGIN DEVELOPMENT MAHALA DUNCAN TRACT Oil Men Think Outlook For Bringing In New Field in This Locality is Good

A drilling contract has been closed by the terms of which development on a considerable scale is to be started within the next few days on the Mahala Duncan survey on the line of Brown and Coleman Counties. The deal was made by Fred Turner of Santa Anna with the Penant Oil & Gas Company and oil people regard it as one of the best propositions now on the list of new developments in all the Central Texas oil area. The Mahala Duncan tract lies on a direct line between the Pioneer field and the Santa Anna field, being located on the extensive structure between Pecan bayou and the Jim Ned creek. The Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil Company are developing on the southern end of this structure, on the Jim Ned, where they now have one gas well and one oil well and a third in process of drilling.

There is reported to be considerable inquiry for lease land in the locality where the new enterprise is to be developed and the indications are that a large number of new developments will be announced in the near future. As a matter of fact, it is stated by experts that the territory along the line, between Brown county and Coleman county has been regarded for some time as one of the very promising localities, in respect to oil development, in the central west. It is understood that a nice bonus changed hands on the deal herein mentioned, but this report could not be verified owing to the fact that the parties interested were out of the city today. Mr. Turner has long been identified with oil development in this section and is very optimistic as to the outcome of the new venture.

Would pass Law Making Sale Of Watermelon a Felony

Jim Lowrey, of the Honey Grove Signal, says a Red River county boy was shot and killed by a neighbor one night last week. The boy invaded his neighbors watermelon patch and while looking for a good melon was shot and killed. If we ever get to the legislature we will do our best to have a law enacted making the sale of watermelon a felony. In the good old days when the sale of watermelons was unknown, it was not a crime but an act of sociability to visit a neighbor's watermelon patch, but now that watermelons have a commercial value, men actually shoot other men for invading watermelon patches. Commercializing the watermelon may be the cause of the many evils that have come to this people. We know that when watermelons were stolen with impunity and without even causing hard feelings, there were no strikes, and nobody suffered from appendicitis or adenoid troubles.—

SINGING CONVENTION

The poets sing of the good summer days
They sing of the spring time and fall,
But a certain day different times in the year,
Is the grandest day of all.

They sing of the holidays long and short
But one they failed to mention—
Its the day of song, the whole day long—
It's the day of the singing convention.

They sing of a certain popular song
To which we give our attention—
But there's more than one, when they've once begun
On the day of the singing convention.

The poets sing of the Baritone
Of the classical whatness and whension,
But Soprano and bass, till they're blue in the face,
They'll sing of the singing convention.

They sing of the dinner mother cooked
When the table put on its extension,
But the dinner there, wont half compare
To the dinner at the singing convention.

They sing of the day you can never forget
Whose memory is worth retention,
But if you once attend, you'll remember to the end—
That day of the singing convention.

CITATION THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Coleman county, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon S. E. Brimberry by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the County Court of Coleman County, to be holden at the Court-house thereof, in Coleman, on the 1st Monday in January A. D. 1923, the same being the 1st day of January A. D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 6th day of June A. D. 1922, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1654, wherein E. M. Critz and Walter C. Woodward are plaintiffs and S. E. Brimberry is defendant, and said petition alleging that on October 1st, 1917 S. E. Brimberry as principal and J. W. Griffin as surety, executed and delivered to plaintiffs their promissory note dated October 1st, 1917 for the sum of $431.28 due October 1st, 1918, with interest from maturity at the rate of ten per cent per annum and providing for the payment of ten per cent additional as attorneys' fees, if collected by suit; that said note has not been paid, nor any part thereof, and that the attorneys fees therein mentioned have accrued thereon; plaintiffs pray judgment for the amount of said note, principal and interest, ten per cent additional for attorneys fees, and all costs of suit.

This is the second citation issued in said cause. Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Coleman, Texas, this, 12 day of September A. D. 1922.—L. Emet Walker Clerk, County Court, Coleman County. 43-44c

MAKE DEFINITE PLAN OF GARDEN ON PAPER

First, Get Exact Dimensions of Available Land.

Ascertain Which Spots Will Be Best to Certain Crops Requiring Sunshine—Run Rows North and South.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
A definite plan for the garden should be drawn on paper before any planting is done, suggest garden specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. First determine the exact dimensions of the available land, then ascertain which parts of the garden will be best adapted to certain crops, especially those that require a large amount of sunshine. Outline the garden plan on paper and sketch in the crops that are to be planted upon each part.

In planning the garden it should be borne in mind that certain crops, such as lettuce, radishes, and early beets, can frequently be grown in the same rows with other crops and be removed before the main crop attains sufficient size to require the entire space. It should also be remembered that carrots, beets, radishes, early turnips, parsnips and all crops of that type may be grown in rows of 12 to 18 inches apart and will occupy a comparatively Setting Out Plants Started in Hotbed, small amount of space if grouped together. The taller growing crops, such as pole beans, tomatoes trained to stakes, and sweet corn, should be planted at one side of the garden where they will not shade the smaller crops.

It is generally conceded that the rows should run north and south; however, it is more important to arrange the rows for convenience of cultivation than for exposure to the sunshine.

Due consideration should be given to both companion and succession cropping. By companion cropping, the plan of planting two or more crops together and removing those that mature first is followed. By successive cropping one crop follows another, keeping the and fully occupied all the time. Thus, early cabbage may be followed by celery or late tomatoes; early corn or early Irish potatoes may be followed by turnips, late beans, late beets, or late cabbage. The arrangement of crops, however, depends somewhat upon the locality and length of the season.

COST OF MILK PRODUCTION

Dairymen Should Be Interested in Knowing How Much Feed and Labor Are Required.

Dairymen throughout the country should be interested to know how many pounds of grain, hay and silage, and how many hours of labor it takes to produce 100 pounds of milk in the different sections of the United States. The bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, began a series of studies in 1915 on groups of dairy farms to obtain accurate information of this kind.

The results are shown for southeastern Louisiana in department bulletin 955. The figures for northwestern Indiana are contained in department bulletin 858; North Carolina and western Washington in department bulletin 919; and for Vermont in department bulletin 923, which may be purchased from the superintendent of documents, Washington, D. C., at five cents the copy. The various tables are based upon figures obtained during a two-year study, and weighed averages of the records were used whenever they would express the results more accurately. The surveys include also an inventory of dairy buildings, live stock, and equipment used.

Fifteen to twenty pigs, weighing about 100 pounds each, will be all the average pasture can stand. More than this number is liable to spoil the pasture and the danger from spreading disease is increased, says the animal husbandry department at Iowa State college.

The Temporary Slump In Dairy Products

During the late period of depression, milk and poultry products were among the last to drop in price. In searching for a source of cash with which to repay some of the cotton losses a great many Southern farmers began to milk a few cows and sell milk or cream. Summer pastures and cows that freshen in the spring led to the overtaxing of facilities for handling and a saturation of demand. The natural result was the usual summer complaint of low prices for milk products.

Experienced dairymen recognize this as an annual event. Dairymen who supply milk in the cities nearly always have a surplus in summer time. Since they have been accustomed to it for many years, they go ahead, stay in the business, and manage this summer surplus as best they can.

Men new in the job of milking cows for extra cash may become discouraged by reason of the lower prices during their first summer. Instead of becoming discouraged and dropping out of the business, they would do well to follow the example of the old timer in the business and stay by it. The man who makes anything milking cows is the one who stays in the business in season and out and yet tries to adapt his business in such a way as best to meet expected conditions of an unfavorable nature.

Experienced milkers are now trying to have more of their cows freshen in the fall so the greater volume of milk will come at the season of the year when prices are likely to be better. Where possible they provided an abundance of silage or good winter grazing crops for succulence to increase the milk flow in winter. They add to their profit by having more milk or cream when prices are best and less when prices are poor. The beginner can far better afford to take up these practice and continue to produce cream than he can afford to drop his new source of cash. Even new retail prices have taken a turn upward. Increased prices to the farmer are sure to follow.—The Progressive Farmer.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 23.—Among the ex-students of the University of Texas engaged in various fields of activity, there are five Methodist missionaries. They are all situated in Brazil and are mainly supported by students and ex-students of the University. The first Methodist student volunteering for the foreign field was Jerome Walter Daniel, of Cotulla, Texas, who received the bachelor of arts degree from Vanderbilt in 1914. Members of the Epworth League of the University Methodist Church started the Daniel Fund for the support of his work, and the students have contributed to the fund annually. During his stay in Passo Fundo, a church parsonage and school have been built.

The second missionary going out from the University was Miss Eula Lee Harper, of El Paso, who received her bachelor of arts degree in 1911. Miss Harper has also been stationed in Passo Fundo, but is soon to be married to Jalmer Bowden, a teacher in one of the largest theological colleges in Brazil, and the couple will live in Juize de Fora, where the college is situated. She will continue missionary work, which is made more efficient by her influence in speaking the Portuguese tongue. (Jalmer Bowden was reared on a farm in Eastland county and is a student of S. M. U.)

The third missionary from the University was Raymond Taylor, who received the bachelor of arts degree in 1920. His work in Brazil is supported by Garlington League, an organization in Dallas which was established by Lynn Landrum, an ex-student of the University, and is mainly composed of other former University students.

Charles Herbert Marshall is the fourth missionary from the University. He received the civil engineering degree in 1920. He and his wife, Mrs. Beatrice Hall Marshall, sailed for Brazil on August 19, 1922. It is not yet known where they will be stationed.

BAPTISTS REPORT $35,000,000 CASH

CAMPAIGN HAS MADE POSSIBLE VAST ENLARGEMENT OF EVERY PHASE OF GENERAL WORK

GAIN 500,000 NEW MEMBERS

Effort Will Be Made to Enlist These and All Other Baptists in Share in Forward Movement During Movement

Total cash collections on the Baptist 75 Million Campaign up to May 1, 1922, had reached the sum of $35,152,211.69, according to the general Campaign headquarters. This represents an advance of nearly $20,000,000 over what Southern Baptists did for their general missionary, educational and benevolent work for the three years preceding the Campaign. The contribution of larger gifts to religious work has been accompanied by larger spiritual results in the local churches, it is pointed out. For instance, Southern Baptists baptized 150,000 more converts during the first three years of the Campaign than they did in the three years before, gained 3,000 new Sunday schools and 400,000 new pupils, enhanced the value of their local church property by $32,000,000, enlarged their contributions to local causes by $22,390,000, and increased their contributions to all causes by $43,480,490.

Baptist Institutions Grow

Some other phases of denominational progress made possible by the Campaign include increasing the number of Baptist hospitals in the South from 12 to 19, with three others under construction and four more definitely planned; strengthening of 17 Baptist orphanages and the establishment of two new ones, lifting $3,000,000 indebtedness on 113 Baptist schools, colleges and seminaries, completion and projection of permanent improvements there in the sum of $4,000,000, and the addition of substantial sums to the endowment funds. Over 2,500 ministerial students are enrolled at Southern Baptist schools.

Church Loan Fund Raised

Among the outstanding accomplishments in the work of the Home Mission Board are the aiding of 1,000 churches in building new houses of worship, the completion of the million-dollar Church Building Loan Fund, strengthening the work among the foreigners and Indians and the 38 Mountain mission schools. The Board has employed an average of 1,495 workers during the Campaign and reports for that period 134,832 baptisms, 213,371 additions to churches, 2,376 Sunday schools and 769 churches organized, and 1,409 houses of worship built or repaired.

On the foreign fields the equipment for mission work has been practically doubled, more than 250 new foreign missionaries have been sent out, more than 400 new native workers have been employed, and the Board has entered the new fields of Spain, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Roumania, Southern Russia, Palestine and Siberia. The Board reports for the period of the Campaign 11 new churches on the foreign fields, 21,723 baptisms, 211 new Sunday schools, gain of 17,576 pupils, native contributions of $1,002,390.68, and 529,642 treatments administered by medical missionaries.

Another result of the Campaign is that the Relief and Annuity Board, which is seeking to care for the aged dependent ministers and their families, has been enabled to double the number of such persons helped and the amount that is given these beneficiaries. Last year the Board was able to dispense $128,966 among needy ministers. It has invested assets of $1,149,088.

Receive 500,000 New Members

More than 500,000 new members have been received into the local Baptist churches of the South since the Campaign began, and in the hope of enlisting all these in the Campaign, as well as reaching the older members of the churches who have not shared in the forward movement heretofore, the month of November 5-December 3 has been designated as Re-enforcement Month by the Campaign Conservation Commission. During this month it is planned that every Baptist church in the South will call upon all its members who are not already participating in the Campaign and secure subscriptions from them covering the two remaining years of the movement, and cash offerings to the Campaign from all the members. Dr. L. R. Scarborough, of Fort Worth, Texas, who was general director of the original Campaign, has been elected to serve in that capacity for the Re-enforcement program, although the details are being worked out in the various states under the leadership of the secretaries of the state mission boards. It is hoped to secure several million dollars in additional subscriptions and several million in cash as well by December 1.

FORD PRICES REDUCED $50-00

According to a statement just issued by Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, a general reduction of $50.00 a car has been made in the prices of Ford Model T Cars and the Ford 1 Ton Truck, effective October 17th.

"The revision in prices," said Mr. Ford, "is the result of the increased volume of business which our company has enjoyed during the present year, and also to the fact that we now own and operate many of our own sources of raw material, which enables us to continue increasing the quality of our product and at the same time keep the price so low that Ford cars are in reach of everybody."

"Our production for 1922 is already in excess of a million, which has been an important factor in bringing down costs. Our present daily output is averaging better than 5,000 cars and trucks which means a complete Ford car or truck every 5 1-2 seconds of each eight-hour working day. It is in anticipation of this continued demand that price adjustments are again being made in order to keep in effect the policy of selling Ford products at the lowest price consistent with quality."

"Quality, as usual," said Mr. Ford, "will continue to be a prime consideration in the building of Ford cars. As our business has increased we have constantly increased our equipment and manufacturing facilities, so that this price reduction merely reflects the progressive methods which come as a result of increased volume."

"This reduction, which is the sixth since March 1920, brings the price of the Ford touring car from $575, the price in effect early in 1920, to the present extremely low level of $298, which is nearly 50 per cent less. Corresponding reductions have been made on all other types.

- TOURING $298
- ROADSTER $269
- CHASSIS $235
- COUPE $530
- SEDAN $595
- TRUCK $380

THE MENACE OF ALIEN POPULATION

General Grant, when at the height of his power, said to members of his family, more than forty years ago, as his son, Jesse Grant, recently wrote the Manufacturers Record, that he regarded as a grave danger the heavy immigration of foreigners into this country. And to that statement he added that he feared the time would come when the South, with its Anglo-Saxonism, could alone be depended upon to save the Nation from ruin by the influence of an alien population. If General Grant could have lived to the present time the fear which he felt forty years ago would have been intensified many times.

The figures as to the number of foreign stock living in the United States are startlingly significant. New England, once the home of rock-ribbed Americanism, has ceased, so far as population is concerned, to be truly representative of America. Over 60 per cent of its population is of foreign stock.

Rhode Island leads all other States with a foreign stock of 69 per cent, followed by Massachusetts with 65 per cent, Connecticut and North Dakota with 65 per cent each, Minnesota 64 per cent, New York 62 per cent, Wisconsin 59 per cent, and New Jersey 58 per cent.

New York City had at the Census of 1920 a total population of 5,620,000. Of this number 4,294,000, or over three-quarters of its population, are of foreign stock. Chicago, out of a population of 2,700,000, had 1,941,000, or 72 per cent of foreign stock. These two cities are but typical of many others.

On the other hand the South has been almost wholly free, as compared with the rest of the country, in the matter of foreign stock. The total for the South, including Missouri, Oklahoma, and Texas, is only about 8 per cent, against 48.2 per cent in the rest of the country. As Rhode Island leads the Nation, with 69 per cent of foreign stock, North Carolina leads at the other end of the line with only seventenths of 1 per cent of foreign stock.

North Carolina is one of the most prosperous States of the Union. It is developing, industrially, commercially and agriculturally, with amazing rapidity. It is probably one of the most law-abiding States in the Union, and its courts enforce the laws, without fear or favor. It is carrying forward a campaign of college and university extension involving the expenditures of six or seven millions of dollars at present for new buildings and having $20,000,000 as the ultimate plan of this campaign. Some $42,000,000 was expended in the single year, June 30, 1921, to July 1, 1922, in that State. It is putting $50,000,000 or more into highway improvements. It is enormously expanding its hydro-electric developments and its cotton mill interests, and yet it is doing this with less than 1 per cent of foreign stock, an unanswerable proof of the fact that this nation can carry forward its material development and expand every interest which makes for the betterment of humanity without any great influx of foreigners.—Manufacturers Record

PUBLIC OPINION (In Lubbock Avalanche) THE SWEET TALKERS

In the conduct of man, ethics gives a higher law than the laws of government.

Is honor dead; can it be true that it no longer binds?

It has ever been said that the cheapest thing in this old world was sweet talk that tempts to lead astray, but today politically, the stuff is at a premium—today the politician no longer tells the people how he stands upon the fundamental principles of constitutional government, and the political issues now pending, but openly and boldly holds up a white sheet and declares that it is black, and that he is going to protect the dear people against its horrid political influences—and that an obligation to do a certain thing is not binding upon the party, if he don't want to be bound, that is he is not legally bound to keep the obligation in the same manner as he would be by his promise to pay a sum of money; for then the strong arm of the law would make him keep his promise.

That is in plain English, the people are told that the obligation that a voter has to make before he can vote in a Texas primary election, is not binding if the voter don't wish to keep his promise, and that there is no penalty attached if he voids his contract.

The last Democratic primary election held in Texas, was held as the law directs, and with all the campaign facts before him, each voter voluntarily voted, and thereby obligated himself to vote for the candidate nominated, at the November election. Geo. L. BEATTY, Lubbock, Texas.

P. S.—The people as a whole, are not bad, but there are so many issues now afloat they have got badly mixed up. After while, they will wake up and pick out the sweet talkers.

Now there is a few things to be considered about people staying with a party pledge, but before the editor delves into a discussion of the above, we wish it understood that we are still a democrat and expect to stay with the party, notwithstanding the fact, that we do not consider that a man who voted in the July and August primaries, thinking that he was voting for democratic candidates is morally or otherwise bound to live up to his pledge, because of the fact, when the delegates met in San Antonio in a State convention there was nothing democratic about the proceedings. For instance, because of the secret domination of the Ku Klux Klan, which defeated and repudiated its time honored principles of religious freedom and adherence to constitutional guarantees of the right of trial by jury.

We consider that no citizen who prefers to be a democrat rather than a Klanocrat, is morally bound to carry out the party pledge. The fact is, the party in state convention deviated from the principals of the democrat party to such extent that we do not recognize the actions as being that of Democratic convention.

BITING OFF THEIR NOSES

The Attorney General of the United States rules that no foreign ship with liquor abroad can enter an American port. This is in accordance with one of the provisions of our prohibition law.

Whether that law is best for the country, or not, is a matter which each citizen must decide for himself. It is also a matter upon which public opinion is acutely divided.

But some of our foreign friends have taken umbrage at the ruling and have threatened a wholesale boycott of American ports. They intimate that American tourists will find it inconvenient to journey to Canada in order to take ship for a trip abroad.

Foolish babble of irresponsible tongues!

They take it for granted that Americans can not exist without flocking over to Europe and strewing their gold broadcast.

Instead, they might with advantage to themselves reason thusly:

1. If other nations put into effect a shipping boycott of our ports there is nothing to prevent Americans from putting a financial boycott into effect against Europe.

2. America could exist very comfortably without any contact whatever with Europe.

3. European countries would find themselves mightily distressed if suddenly shut off from all financial aid from this country.

4. Rich Americans are foolish enough to spend their money abroad when conditions are normal. But when a foreign conspiracy is hatched up against our country it is quite possible even for people of wealth to line up behind the good old flag and tell all conspirators to go where it is warmer.

Talk sense, cousins. We are not all fools on this side of the Atlantic.

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT

Chickens come home with painful results at times.

A wild and reckless motorist was in the habit of tearing thru the country and terrifying pedestrians and other drivers by his terrific speed.

Protests only served to afford him greater amusement.

Recently he took his wife for a long distant tour, and proceeded to glimpse only the high spots enroute.

The inevitable happened—and he took her home in a coffin instead of a car.

The dead is intitled to sympathy.

Don't lose any sleep over the dire consequences that are predicted as a result of the president's enforcing of the prohibition law against foreign ships with liquor abroad entering our pastports.

Ship owners on the other side of the Atlantic may boycott our ports for a short time in an effort to bluff us into letting down the booze bars for them and keeping them up against our own ships—a condition much to their liking and with juicy pickings.

But it will be only a question of time when they will be around begging for an opportunity to eat out of our hand again.

The American hand is too full to be long overlooked by the hungry and the greedy.

This country is in need of a greater respect for law and order. It is likewise in need of more officers who possess the honesty and nerve to enforce that law.

As long as V-O-T-E spells "law" we will continue to be long on law and short on their enforcement.

In the meantime, the people who put these birds into public office have no reason to complain of the things they don't do.

Prophets are having a hard time these days.

They may be a wise prognosticator in the morning and a d-m liar by night. They don't know how to predict, and yet they just can't keep still.

If you don't believe that this is the truth without varnish, just tell us what the allies and the Turks will be doing by tomorrow.

Within twenty-four hours you may have to save your face by declaring that you never said it. Give it a whirl.

Hon. Chas. A. Culberson has been a member of the U. S. Senate from Texas for the past quarter of a century and will continue to serve until his successor has been elected and qualified.

APPEAL TO THE SPIRIT

It is time to supplement the appeal to law, which is limited, with an appeal to the spirit of the people, which is unlimited. Some unsettlements disturb, but they are temporary. Some factious elements exist, but they are small. No assessment of the material conditions of Americans can warrant anything but the highest courage and the deepest faith. No reliance upon the National character has ever been betrayed. No survey which goes below the surface can fail to discover a solid and substantial foundation for satisfaction. But our countrymen must remember that they have and can have no dependence save themselves. Our institutions are their institutions. Our government is their government. Our laws are their laws. It is for them to enforce, support and obey. If in this they fail, there are none who can succeed. The sanctity of duly constituted tribunals must be maintained. Undivided allegiance to public authority must be required. With a citizenship which voluntarily establishes and defends the cause of America is secure. Without that all else is of little avail.—The Hon. Calvin Coolidge, Vice-President of the United States.

"The Store For All The People"

EARLY DAYS IN

SANTA ANNA

(By L. V. Stockard)

The young men who acted on Horace Greeley's advice and went west and stopped in Santa Anna before my arrival and before the arrival of the Santa Fe railroad and were here to greet me upon my arrival were J. D. Simpson, S. H. Phillips, Dr. J. P. Mathews, Lee Hunter, Will Hunter, Miles Wofford and S. T. Tooke.

I wish to make a correction called to my attention regards the first newspaper published in Santa Anna. Dr. Mathews says, and I think he is correct in a measure, the Santa Anna News was published before the railroad reached here by a man by the name of Con Rowlin. I remembered after he spoke of it that there had been a paper published in the old town and the machinery had been boxed up and Con Rowlin had moved away and never lived here after I came and Major Spann and his son Charlie, opened up an establishment and called it the "Model Job Printing Plant" and published the "Santa Anna Sentinel" and did job work, and afterwards the Santa Anna News moved up in the new town and resumed publication by some one but I cannot recall just who the editor was. So we will have to admit that the Santa Anna News was the first paper and the only paper that weathered the storm and remained upon the field until now. We had another paper published later by a man by the name of Robertson and it was called "The Mountain Echo." They occupied the two-story frame building just west of Dr. Tyson's office and did like the Sentinel, suspended business in a short time. News papers as well as many individuals had a hard time staying in western Texas during the drought of 1886-87. I remember about the time I came here the Coleman Democrat was sold under a deed of trust at Coleman during the time Callens owned, but some way or another the Callens bought it back and run it for some time afterwards.

The first cotton gin erected in Santa Anna was owned by Hampton Young of Galveston, who at this time owned a dry goods and grocery store and occupied a two story frame building situated on the corner where W. R. Kelley and Co., are now doing business. Mr. Young had a young man by the name of R. H. Hare in charge of his business here, but never lived here himself. Mr. Hare was a good mixer and a good salesman and did well with the business until he let booze get the upper hand of him. I think it was in the winter of 1889 that he got on a spree one night and hired a horse and buggy from Brannan's livery stable, said stable being located about where the Hub store is now doing business, and there was a saloon located on the lot where Latham's barber shop is now situated. I was at the depot that night to meet the passenger train, and Mr. Hare came over and told me he wanted me to come over to the saloon that they were having a high lonesome time. I told him that I could not go just then that the train had not arrived. It was only a short time after the train did arrive until he came back again after me and nothing would do but I should go over and see the fun. I finally went over to the saloon and a lot of boys, full as ticks, were dancing to the music furnished by a man with a fiddle and he was sawing away on "Arkansas Traveler" when I reached the place. I did not want to hurt my friend Hare's feelings by not going over to see what he called fun, but the first time I got a chance I slipped away and went home. The first thing I heard the next morning was Hare had shot and killed the fiddler, whose name was Crum. They got into a racket over the livery team, Crum was attending to the stable and took the horse away from Hare and put it in the stable. Hare went to the hotel which stood where the State bank is now located, and Crum went to the stable located across the street, and they fussed at each other for quite a while across the street, finally Crum advanced on Hare, who stood on the hotel gallery, and as Crum approached and got within ten or fifteen feet of the gallery, Mr. Hare shot him dead, and the only thing Mr. Crum had was a pocket knife, it was found by his body open. Mr. Hare came clear in the courts, but Mr. Young took his store and gin business out of his hands and put G. W. Gates in charge for a few months and afterwards turned the business over to J. D. Simpson, who ran the store for a while and sold it to Mr. Stephenson, but continued to run the gin business until October 1897, at which time the old gin caught fire one night from a lantern in the hands of George Martin, and burned down. Afterwards Simpson and Stockard built a first class gin on the same lot and had it ready for business 30 days after the old gin burned. This is the old gin that stands in the north part of town and is not used at present. 1897 was a good cotton year and the farmers piled their cotton in the fields after the old gin burned and held it until the new gin was ready to run.

Very few people know that Santa Anna has had two flour mills, except the few old settlers who have been here all the while, but such is a fact. In 1888 the citizens here around Santa Anna decided that if we would only induce some man or company to build a Flouring mill here people would settle in the country and grow wheat, so we appointed a committee to advertise for some one to come here and build a mill and on account of being very little prospects for much business we offered a bonus of Ten Thousand dollars to the first man to erect the Flour mill. A man by the name of Wm. Anneser showed up and proposed to take us up on the proposition, and after we secured a good location, which is the block of land where Lawrence Lowe now lives, Mr. Anneser moved his mill machinery here and erected the mill and made flour for the people for a short time. One day this mill caught fire about noon and burned down, after being here long enough to secure plenty insurance and doing business enough to say they had been here. It was the general opinion that some one set fire to this mill and there was very little doubt about it for it was learned afterwards these people stole this machinery out of a building in Fort Worth where it was covered by a deed of trust for its value. After getting the ten thousand bonus and the ten thousand insurance, this bunch of crafters, the old man Anneser and his two sons hiked it back to Iowa from which place they had immigrated to Texas. There is no improvement more beneficial to a community than a good flour mill, but it is poor property for the owner. Shortly after this mill burned the citizens decided that they must get another mill and offered another bonus for some one to come here and build a mill, so another party showed up in the person of Rogan and Lambertson, two nice gentlemen, who erected a mill where Frank Turner's gin is now located, and Mr. Lambertson built him a nice home which is the dwelling now owned by Grand-ma Thornton, and after running the mill for several years saw that it did not pay and moved the mill to Brownwood. I think it is still the mill that is still doing business there is known as the Austin Milling Co. Such has been our experience on Roller Flouring Mills and at the time these mills were built here when our population was very few, so the present citizenship of this town can judge something of the pluck of the early settlers of Santa Anna who accomplished these things for what they thought was for the upbuilding of the town and surrounding country. My recollection, we paid these people a bonus of Five Thousand dollars and we could have probably have enjoined them from moving it but no one felt disposed to do so as the wheat crops had failed for several seasons and we not having but one railroad they claimed they were at a disadvantage on shipments of wheat and flour.

CHILDREN SUFFER FROM IMPROPER FOOD

Austin, Texas, Oct. 23.—Nutrition conference are being held by Miss Edythe Hershey, of the home of economics extension division of the University of Texas, in Port Arthur, Beaumont, Sugar Land, Rosenberg, Columbus and San Antonio. At the close of this tour, Miss Hershey will conduct similar programs in other sections of the state. The work is being done in co-operation with school superintendents, public health nurses, grade teachers, doctors, school boards, parent-teachers associations, county home demonstration agents, home economics teachers, and other local interested agencies. "Malnutrition is the greatest menace to the health of children at the present time," Miss Hershey says, "and the best remedy is to be found in nutrition clinics, where children can be weighed and measured, and efforts made to bring them to normal weight through proper food habits. Examination shows that one-third to one-half of the school children of the country are underweight and suffering from other effects of malnutrition. To prevent such conditions nutritional education should be put in schools."

Why We Now Have Fast-Time Farming

IT WAS once thought that it would be impossible to do farm work thoroughly if the tools traveled over the land any faster than a good team of horses could walk. However, the fast-running Fordson, coupled with Standard Fordson Equipment, does the field work much more thoroughly at a higher rate of speed.

For seeding in faster time the AMSCO DRILL, made especially for the Fordson, is recommended. It is made exceptionally strong and durable. There are no light castings and the frame work is made of strong angle steel with an I-beam in the center.

The feed mechanism is so positive that there is no danger of inaccurate dropping, even when the seed boxes are nearly empty.

The discs are raised by a power lift which is so prompt in its action that much narrower headlands are required. This is a big advantage in saving time on large or small fields.

TWO WAYS OF KILLING YOUR CAR

The first is by using a sledge hammer.

The second is by simple NEGLECT!

Either one is highly effective, and both should be scrupulously avoided.

You might just as well use a sledge hammer on your car as to continue running it when it is not in condition.

Please bear in mind that we do all kinds of automobile repair work, promptly, efficiently and economically.

J. L. Gober, age 72, died at his home in the Plainview community Wednesday evening, and his remains were placed in the Santa Anna cemetery Thursday afternoon, after a very impressive funeral service at the Baptist church.

Robert Marvin, 3 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Simmons, died at their home in the Plainview community Thursday morning and his remains will be buried in the City cemetery today (Friday) at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The News very tenderly extends sympathy to the bereaved.

HIGH SCHOOL TO GIVE LETTERS TO FOOTBALL
 The Athletic Association of the High School has made arrangements to award letters to the boys who play in a given number of quarters in the football games of this season and who are still eligible at the end of the season. Santa Anna has a light team but has some very promising material and with the incentive of a letter or better still—a sweater—a good high school team can be developed.

It's a fact, though, that we all have an overpowering interest in automobiles. If we don't own them we have to dodge them.

This community was visited with another slow rain which fell throughout the day Wednesday. A real season has not yet fell, but these splendid showers are helping considerably.

"TURN TO THE RIGHT" AT THE BEST THEATRE MONDAY AND TUESDAY IS SPLENDID PLAY

All that heart throb and delightful comedy which made the play, "Turn to the Right," one of the most popular offerings of the stage has been preserved in the screen version which Monday will begin a two day run at the Best Theatre. And in addition there is the added beauty which only can be attained in pictures which makes this motion picture of John Golden's stage success by Winchell Smith and John E. Hazzard one that no lover of the artistic and dramatic will wish to miss.

It pictures a story whose appeal has been testified to by millions of theatregoers and Rex Ingram, whose productions "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" and "The Conquering Power," rank him as the leading director of the silent drama, has fully lived up to his reputation in this latest Metro release.

For those who are not familiar with the famous story, it portrays the adventures of a country youth, who is unjustly sentenced to a term in prison. While there he becomes acquainted with two crooks. When freed the youth determines to go back to his home and arrives to find his aged mother and little sister in direct poverty and about to have the mortgage foreclosed by the village skinflint. Through the aid of his two crook friends a way is found to beat out the grasping miser while the influence of the trusting mother turns the two crooks to the right road and opens up for them a new life of love and happiness.

As the heroine, beautiful Alice Terry, who won fame in "The Four Horsemen" and "The Conquering Power," was a winsome delight, portraying the part with all that artistic and dramatic fervor which has made her such a favorite. Jack Mulhall as the boy who headed the call to turn to the right was excellent. Harry Myers and George Cooper carried off high honors as the crooks who knew but one way to win what they wanted, while Edward Connelly as the village skinflint made the old deacon live again. Others in the cast were Lydia Knott, Betty Allen, Margaret Loomis, William Bletcher, Eric Mayne and Ray Ripley.

"Turn to the Right" was adapted by June Mathis and Mary O'Hara. It is presented by John Golden and Marcus Loew and distributed by Metro pictures. John F. Seitz was the photographer, Starrett Ford production manager, while the technical direction was by A. J. Ayers and Harold Grieve.

A certain per cent of the proceeds of this picture will go to the Mothers Club, to be used for the benefit of the school, as the courtesy of the management of the Theatre.

Of course, children may not know quite as much as their parents do, but they know it better, perhaps.
