City Sales Tax Income Is Up

The City of Rockport has received a sales tax check from the state for $25,612.06 for the quarter ending June 30, it was announced this week by Assistant City Secretary Helen Braffett.

This figure compares with $21,550.58 for the same period a year ago, or an increase of $4,061.48.

Consumers pay a five-cent sales tax on each dollar spent in city establishments. The state retains four cents per dollar and one cent goes back to the city coffers.

The increase in sales tax revenue probably can be attributed to rising inflation. It is expected that an even larger check will be received for the next quarter as a result of Christmas spending.

Pirates Honored as Team of Week

When coach Bobby Flanagan says, "we are a lot better football team than our record indicates," there are a few more people who believe him today than there were a week ago.

The Pirates proved they were good mudders last Friday night by yanking out a 12-7 win over Flour Bluff on the Hornets own field.

Coming into that match, the Pirates had been shut out for three games and lost 36-25 to Calallen--giving up five passing touchdowns to the Wildcats.

Since Flour Bluff quarterback Kenney Adams is a top-notch airman, things didn't look too promising going into the match but as the rains fell the Pirate's stock went up--and didn't stop rising until they had won the Caller, "Team of the Week" laurels.

"We were overdue," Flanagan admits. "We had been getting hurt in the secondary and our offense wasn't moving the ball consistently like we felt it could."

"Also," he continued, "while the wet field hurt both teams offensively I thought the weather hurt them more than it did us."

"I just hope everything has jelled now," he added, "we've had two good weeks in a row from Ricky McLester and if he keeps playing like that and we get our normal play from the rest of our people then our offense will have arrived."

McLester had "somewhere in the neighborhood of 150 yards" including a 90-yard touchdown run against the Hornets to spark the upset win.

He obviously made the "coaches commendable" lists but he had plenty of company.

Both defensive ends, senior Ricky Littleton and sophomore Ricky Herron, "made quite a few big plays for us," according to Flanagan and another sophomore, noseman Ernest DeForest got praise for his defensive efforts.

Offensively, Gene Carter, McLester's running mate, "had a pretty good game even though we did not run him very much and all of the offensive down linemen drew praise from Flanagan for blocking well. They were left tackle Rusty Morrison, left guard Peden Rogers, Center David Mundine, right guard Danny Cox, right tackle Bob Gillis and right end Melvin Morgan.

Morrison graded out at over 90 per cent in game films and Flanagan said both guards and the center did an excellent job of picking up the Flour Bluff stunts. --Caller-Times

United Fund Drive Nears Half-Way Mark

Bill Ratliff, drive chairman of the United Fund Campaign, announced this week that a total of $5,407.45 has been collected so far. The goal is $12,500.

He thanked all those who have mailed in their checks or have taken their cash contributions to the Chamber of Commerce Building, which is headquarters for the United Fund drive.

"I think we are off to a good start," Ratliff said, "and I hope we can keep the ball rolling so that we reach our goal. As you know, we set a realistic goal this year--about $2,000 lower than last year's goal--and I feel confident that we will go over the top this year."

He urged all persons who have not given to please mail in a check or stop at the Chamber of Commerce Office and make a contribution.

Following are the anticipated disbursements approved by the directors, based on the expectation that $12,500 will be raised:

American Red Cross, $2,325. Aransas County Emergency Corps, $380.75. Aransas County Youth Council, $465. Boy Scouts, $3,208.50.

Coastal Bend Association for Mental Health, $325.50. Coastal Bend Council on Alcoholism, $139.50.

Family Counseling Service, $186. Girl Scouts: Paisano Council, $1,860. Local, $790.50. Salvation Army, $1,488.

Texas Rehabilitation Hospital at Gonzales, $465. U.S.O., $116.25.

Administrative costs to conduct drive, $750.

UNITED FUND THERMOMETER — This "thermometer" shows that collections as of Oct. 15 in the United Fund Campaign reached $5,407.45, almost half of the goal. Let's keep the "temperature" rising.

GIVES TO UNITED FUND — Barbara Mosier, president of the "Volunteers," a fifth grade club at Rockport Elementary School, was pleased to present a donation from the club to the United Fund. "Since our motto is 'We help each other,'" said Barbara, "we want to help the United Fund help others."

Bucs Split Two Games With Hornets

The RFJH Bucs split two games with the Flour Bluff Hornets last Thursday night. The 7th grade Bucs winning 8-6 and the 8th grade Bucs losing 20-6.

The 7th grade was led by James Crusier on a long drive that resulted in the winning points. Some outstanding blocking by the offensive line and running by Joe Brooks, Juan Duke and John Solis made the difference.

Excellent defense was played by the 7th grade Bucs in the second half, as the young Hornets kept knocking at the door. Each drive the Bucs would stiffen their defense and held the Hornets.

The 8th grade Bucs scored late in the 1st quarter, but one touchdown wasn't enough to hold the Hornets. The Hornets scored with 2 seconds to go in the 1st half leaving the score tied at 6-6.

The second half was all Hornets as they scored two touchdowns and one two-point conversion to add up to their 20 points.

The offensive line did an excellent job of blocking with good running from the backfield. The big problem in the ball game for the Bucs was holding onto the football on a muddy field.

The season record for both the 7th and 8th grade Bucs is 2-2. The next game is Thursday (tonight) at Pirate Stadium against the Sinton Pirates.

Pirates Sting Hornets 12-7

By BOB CRAWFORD

Seeming more like the aftermath of a hurricane than a night to play football, last Friday night proved to be just what the doctor ordered for the Rockport-Fulton Pirates as they held on to a 12-7 halftime lead for the remainder of the game and defeated the Flour Bluff Hornets at Flour Bluff.

After a scoreless first

period, the Pirates went to the air for their first score of the night as quarterback Scott Gillis found tight end Melvin Morgan on a pattern which resulted in a 54 yard scoring play, with Morgan springing loose after a fine downfield block by halfback Gene Carter.

Flour Bluff came right back on a 70 yard burst and took the lead on the point after 7-6.

Two possessions later the Pirates were pinned with their backs to the goal line at their own ten. Rickey McLester found an opening on the right side of the line behind tackle Bob Gillis and Morgan, and after a clearing block by guard Danny Cox, McLester sailed on a 90 yard run for paydirt.

The remainder of the game was spent with both teams driving in close enough to score, but fumbles or an interception stopped the drives short. In the last drive by the Hornets quar-

Junior Varsity Trims Hornets 6-0

By BOB CRAWFORD

In the midst of a sometimes rainstorm the JV Pirates took a 6-0 win over Flour Bluff last week, posting their second win of the season.

Bill Smith and Joe Harrington led a quick-striking Pirate defense to hold the Hornets away from the goal line. Smith and Harrington figured in on about 40 tackles. Kevin Vannatter also added his part with an interception at the close of the first half on the Pirate 8 yard line to stall any Hornet hopes for scoring.

The only score of the game came when halfback Willie Flores streaked 42 yards for the score.

The JV and the Freshmen will travel to Sinton this afternoon to play Sinton's teams.

Freshmen Get First Win 14-6 Over Hornets

By BOB CRAWFORD

Although completing only two passes in the driving rain, the Freshmen Pirates made both count as both throws went for TD's.

In the second period the Pirates used a 53 yard pass play from quarterback Dickie Ballou to halfback Russell Pyle on a perfect screen pass, to score. This score came after the Hornets had put six points on the board first.

With less than two minutes left to play, the Pirates found themselves with a 4th down and twelve to go at the 12 yard line, and Ballou passed the slippery pigskin to split receiver Rey Guerrero for the TD. Ballou added the two points to secure the victory.

Defensively the Pirates made many big plays, led by Claudio Lara, Ronnie Ormand and Pyle.

terback Kenny Adams marched his Hornets upfield with passes good for sixty yards, only to have Pirate cornerback Glatfro Solis make a diving attempt at a pass which was ruled an interception, stopping the Hornets cold.

McLester was the game's top rusher with 193 yards in 20 attempts, but much credit should go to the Pirates line of Gillis, Cox, David Mundine, Peden Rogers, Rusty Morrison, and Morgan for providing some key blocks.

Noseman Ernest DeForest was all over the field and had his finest game to date for the Pirates, while defensive ends Ricky Littleton and Ricky Heron came up with some big plays to halt the Hornets. Linebacker Bob Mundine was also cited for his play.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dunbar and daughter, Gloria, of Boston, have been visiting Mr. Dunbar's sister, Mrs. Neal Jordan, and Mrs. Mary Wilkins the past three weeks.

The pollution of our salt waters and the destruction of our estuarine areas that are so important to the production of fish, shrimp, crabs, and oysters is no longer a subject that can be pushed under the table or dismissed as "just a drop in the bucket."

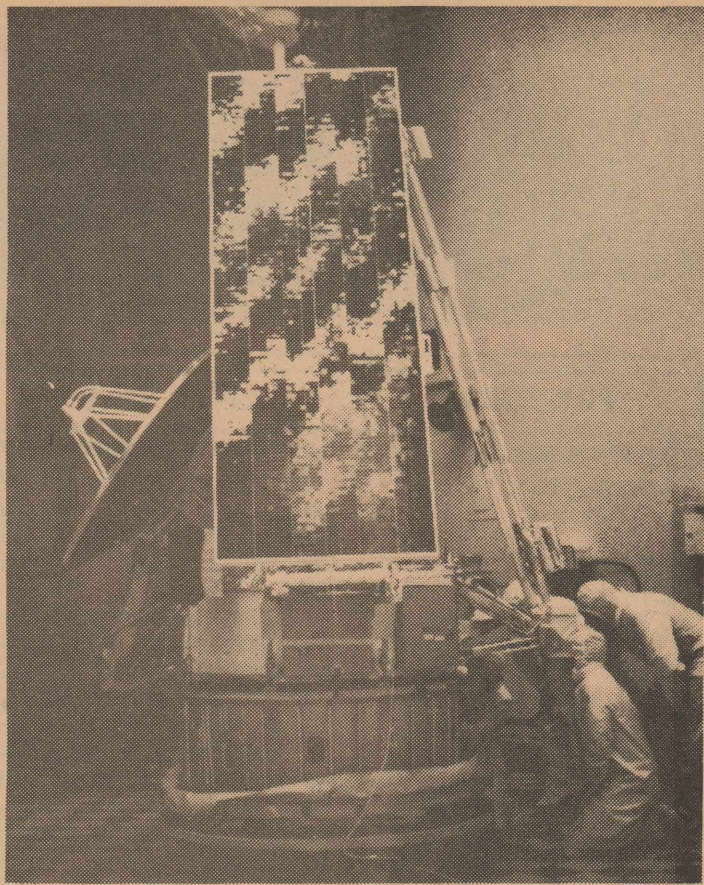

The economic value of sport fishing is tremendous. Nobody can really say how much money is spent on this sport, and it's valuable to a great many people other than those who live right along the coast. Go by Harvey Bowman's Sporting Goods in San Antonio and ask them how much money is spent in their store on salt water fishing. Ask a filling station operator in Karnes City - ask a restaurant owner in Beeville. You'll find that coastal fishing is a boon to all South Texas. Yet, every one of us is guilty, because of apathy if nothing else, of destroying, or letting someone else destroy, the very areas that produce this fishing. If we continue to follow the path we're on, our bays can turn into stinking mudholes surrounded by a smoke-belching, oil-scattering industrial complex that may rival some of those on our upper coast.

When coastal fishing declines, everybody looks for a whipping boy. They blame the sharks, the commercial fisherman, the weather, too many outboard motors, or the position of the planets. Nobody, especially an elected official, wants to point a finger at huge oil interests whose taxes practically run some of our counties, at self-perpetrating governmental agencies, at multimillion dollar real estate developments, or at inadequate sewage disposal plants in their own area. I asked a consulting engineer just how much money it would take to eliminate the sewage problems in South Texas. He said that it would be impossible to set down a figure and say, "This would do the job." Every area has its own problems, and in many cases the city in question would need to double or even triple the size of their existing facilities. Once all the necessary facilities were in place, he estimated that a 25 to 50 percent increase in operating funds would be adequate in most cases.

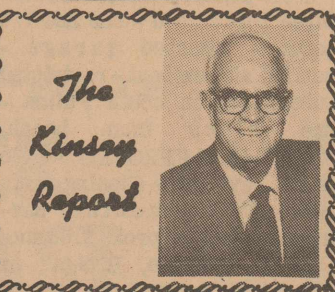

Some politicians hold full-time jobs with industries that contribute to our pollution, and who is going to continue to pay the salary of a man who introduces or votes for bills that would require them to spend large sums of money to clean up their pollution? Where can you find huge corporations who are willing to contribute to campaign funds of a man who has a record of voting against allowing industrial expansion that would damage the environment to the extent that, sooner or later, fishing would be destroyed?

I realize that everything costs more these days, but it may be that the pollution of our waters, both fresh and salt, with feeding pen wastes, sewage, pesticides, oil spills, and silt, combined with the destruction of all-important nursery grounds by dredging, real estate development, and industrial expansion may be the most expensive thing we have to face. It may be a matter of life and death - not just to the fish, but to our way of life.

I like people with a sense of humor. My dentist is such a man.

This week I had to have a tooth pulled. The dentist, as always, did the job efficiently and painlessly.

When he had finished, I complimented him on his skill. He said, "Thank you," and then he added, "You know, I have often thought about putting up a sign saying, 'Artist at work'."

And speaking of chuckles, I thought the latest Yogi Berra story making the rounds was about tops.

A reporter was interviewing Yogi, the New York Mets manager, before the start of the World Series. He asked Berra what he thought about various aspects of the Oakland team, pitching, hitting power, defensive ability, etc.

Finally the reporter said, "What do you think about the intangibles?"

Yogi replied: "I think they only have two -- Bando and Davallillo."

Future Homemakers Hold Meeting

The Future Homemakers of America met Monday, President Pam Rowan presided over the meeting.

The theme for this month's meeting was "We care about our Senior Citizens." John Leslie was the first guest speaker. He is a member of A.A.R.P., American Association of Retired People. He spoke on how FHA can help senior citizens. He said that "Senior Citizens are not a special group but a group just like everyone else. A senior citizen is a positive member of society." The way that teenagers can help most is to be friendly and let yourself be known as a human being.

The second guest speaker was Mrs. Eleanor Sullivan. She told about a type of quilting. This is sewing many small pieces of material together to make such items as pillows, skirts, and afghans. Chapter parents were elected and they are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Hernandez, Mr. and Mrs. Walters and Mr. and Mrs. Flores. The parents of the officers are also chapter parents. Bobbie Collins was elected to represent the FHA as their homecoming queen candidate. Refreshments were provided by Beverly Kelly, Barbara Lewis, Sue Reid, Ruby McLester and Mary Grace Flores.

Fulton Fire Dept. Ladies Auxiliary

Fulton Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary meeting was held October 8. Sue Koert called the meeting to order. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Patty Heald and approved by all present.

New "Game Night" posters were distributed among members and the posters are to be put on display in the area.

Due to the recent discussions in the paper and around town, the auxiliary has been asked if they are still going to have "Game Night" the 23rd of October at the Paws and Taws Building. The answer is "yes," one change and that is the doors will not open until 6:45 p.m. instead of 6:30 p.m. as previously reported. Everyone come. You'll be glad you did.

Debbie Roth will bring refreshments to the Firemen's meeting on November 1st. Ten members were present Oct. 8: Sue Koert, Patty Heald, Wanda Agee, Lou Ann Agee, Jean Nix, Nora Roth, Pat Loflin, Sharon Loflin, Isabel Gutierrez and this reporter Jeanie Pettus. Next meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary will be held October 22 at 7:30 p.m. at the Fulton Fire Station.

Bob Hewes will act as Pack Treasurer. Tom Mostella will be in charge of activities. Mike Gibson will be in charge of the Webelo Program. Donald R. Beard will be in charge of pack outings.

At the present time, the boys are divided into three dens. Miller, Garvin Ratliff, John Olson, Shawn Bateman and Salvador Gaiten. This den is full and cannot handle anymore boys.

Den #2 has as Den Mother Mrs. Meceal Casterline and assisted by Mrs. Leona Daniels. Its members are: Andy Rinald, Thomas Rinald, Michael Hanzelka, James Craigmille, Donald Beard, David Kelly, Troy Casterline, and Charles Daniels.

Plans have been made to hold the first official pack meeting on October 30th, 7:30 p.m. at the cafeteria at Live Oak Elementary School. John Leslie, Scout Commissioner, states that there are several boys in the Oak Terrace area who are 8 and 9 years of age and want to come into the Cub program but cannot because he has not found a Den Mother in that area. If you wish to volunteer call him at 729-6177.

Miss Linda Freeman, Denver, Colorado, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Smith.

Library News

"The Old Beach Road", by Winifred E. Lowther, a local author, has been added to the Aransas County Public Library collection. "The Old Beach Road", is the story of the author's early childhood in the big two-story house on Old Beach Road, a shell topped road leading into Rockport. The road and the old house were destroyed in the hurricane of 1919. This book will be of great interest to area residents as numerous references are made to local pioneer families.

The library has another of Mrs. Lowther's books, "The Sea Was His Mistress", a biography of Captain William Evans, father of Winifred E. Lowther.

The library will be closed Monday, Oct. 22nd.

PUBLIC NOTICES

BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW

(Editor's Note: Public Notice advertising plays a unique role both in American history and in the process by which this country's democracy is preserved. Its one promise is that people must be informed if they are to govern themselves competently. Public Notice advertising first came into being with the Congress of 1792. That body, recognizing its responsibility to the people, required the Postmaster General to advertise for bids for the construction of new post offices. From that inauspicious beginning to the complex publication requirements in federal, state and local laws today, government officials have come more and more to understand their obligations to inform the public through Public Notice advertising. Newspapers over the years have been the vehicle by which these obligations have been fulfilled. They will continue to be as long as the public demands that it be informed frequently and by the best means possible.)

Home and Garden Club Meets

Rockport Home and Garden Club met October 11 in the home of Mrs. Ken Thomas with Mrs. Raleigh Moore as co-hostess. A short business meeting was held during which Mrs. Dick Stafford discussed the Texas Garden Club finance project. She announced that the engagement calendars which the club has for sale had arrived.

A program on soil treatment and flower bed preparation was given by D. P. Pawlik, San Patricio and Aransas County Extension Agent. He noted that Aransas County has two types of soil: the Galveston type which is found on higher elevations where live oak trees will grow and the Mustang which is found on coastal flats and dune areas.

He discussed the Aransas soil limitations such as the high water table and deficiency of organic matter and recommended the addition of such materials as grass clippings, gin trash and manure to improve soil texture.

Pawlik stated that the local soil is usually deficient in nitrogen and potash as well as such micro-nutrients as iron and zinc. He suggested that Aransas gardeners send soil samples from their gardens and lawns to the Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A & M for individual analysis.

Soil sample boxes and instruction sheets may be obtained from his office in Sinton and there is a fee of $2.00 for analysis. Following his discussion, a plant exchange was held by the members.

PROPOSED ROUTE FOR SH 35 FROM GREGORY TO COPANO BAY CAUSEWAY

NOTICE OF HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT

The Texas Highway Department held a Geometric Design Public Hearing at the VFW Hall in Rockport, Texas, on June 28, 1973 for the design and revised location of State Highway 35 from Gregory to Copano Bay Causeway.

The Texas Highway Department is planning to proceed with the development of this proposed highway improvement in cooperation with Aransas and San Patricio counties and the Federal Highway Administration. The construction cost will be shared between the State and the Federal Highway Administration.

ministration; therefore, the Federal Highway Administration's approval has been requested. The Texas Highway Commission has approved the location and design of State Highway 35 as displayed at the Geometric Design Public Hearing on June 28, 1973, by Minute Order No. 68048, dated October 3, 1973. The approval together with a verbatim transcript of the public hearing and all letters and petitions received pertaining to the new route were sent to the Federal Highway Administration.

The proposed route improvement will basically be a 4 lane divided highway with bridges and ramps at the major intersections. The width of additional right of way required for construction on new location varies from 220 feet to a maximum of 400 feet at major intersections. A few relocations of residences and businesses will be necessary to accommodate the new highway.

Maps, drawings showing geometric design, environmental studies and all other available data concerning the development of this project may be inspected and copied at the Resident Engineer's Office at Padre Island Drive and Greenwood Drive, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

If you could virtually insure your child against having five dangerous diseases, would you make the effort?

State Health Department officials strongly emphasize that immunizing children against early childhood diseases is worth both the time and expense -- for the child's health and the health of others.

Under ideal circumstances, only a few visits to a clinic or private physician are needed to complete the immunization schedule during the child's first year and a half of life.

You say it's an inconvenience? There's no real threat you say? Don't fool yourself into thinking the "conquered" diseases are really conquered. Sure your child is safer from disease than his or her grandfather might have been, but consider this:

--Two of the four cases of paralytic polio reported in Texas last year struck children under two years old.

--Children under the age of five were the target of almost 30 per cent of the 41 cases of diphtheria and about 35 per cent of the 20 cases of tetanus.

--43 per cent of the approximately 1600 cases of ordinary measles reported by age in Texas last year occurred in children under the age of five.

--Of the 185 reported cases of whooping cough or pertussis in Texas last year, 50 per cent of those whose age was recorded were four years old and under.

You say your child is strong and healthy and can withstand a few days in bed with a communicable disease? Think about children still to be born, if your child has rubella and infects a susceptible neighbor, friend, or acquaintance during the first months of the pregnancy, the chances are that the newborn, if the newborn does arrive, might suffer blindness, deafness, retardation, and heart disease. Is it worth taking such a chance, when a single immunization for rubella could eliminate the possibility of your child causing such a tragedy?

A 1971 State law requires that all children entering school must be immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, polio, measles, and rubella.

In those areas where no local facilities exist to provide immunization services, the State Department of Health will provide or administer the required vaccines.

As a further result of the 1971 law, Texas schools now maintain a record of the immunizations of every student in the state.

In an attempt to increase immunization among the very young, the State Health Department has implemented an Infant Immunization Surveillance Program. The program essentially involves mailing cards to parents of newborn and one-year old children, informing them of recommended vaccination times, and asking them to check and return the cards. Reminder cards are issued to non-responding parents, and field referrals are issued to local health departments and Immunization Service Aides if parents do not respond to the reminder cards.

The recommended timetable for immunizations is as follows: At the ages of two, four, and six months, infants should receive DTP injections for diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis, as well as oral polio vaccine. When the child is one year old, he or she should be immunized for measles and rubella. The DTP and polio immunizations should be repeated when the child is between four and six years old.

Health Department officials emphasize that parents can help reduce disease in Texas by having their children immunized early, as suggested by the timetable, and responding promptly to health department inquiries.

Does the dew in the morning indicate that good weather can be expected that day?

Yes, strangely enough, this old weather saying is not merely folklore without scientific foundation but genuine weather knowledge.

Dew is formed by cooling. The blade of grass that collects moisture collects it from air being cooled. Warm air has a greater capacity for moisture than cool air and gives some of it up (on blades of grass) when it is cooled.

Cloudless nights are nights for the collection of dew because heat radiation is necessary in the process and clouds check this process. The sight of dew then means clear skies and clear weather. The old saying, then, is usually accurate.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE A six-and-a-half pound radish? Russell Lee, 10, of Omaha recently unearthed the radish in his family's backyard garden. The family tasted the radish but found it just too hot to eat.

Questions And Answers to Veterans Benefits

Q: Can I pay more than market value for a home I'd like to buy with a GI loan from the Veterans Administration?

A: Yes, provided you pay the difference in cash between the VA appraisal and the price of the home. The agency cannot approve a loan which exceeds the reasonable value of the home.

Q: Can I use tutorial assistance provided by the Veterans Administration after my GI Bill entitlement expires?

A: No. Unused tutorial assistance expires with GI Bill entitlement.

Q: I draw compensation from the Veterans Administration for a 30 percent disability. Since I will soon be 65 and retired, can I waive compensation and switch to pension?

A: Yes, if you apply to VA and it is to your advantage. VA will make determination based on information you provide, and pay you the higher benefit.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The first fall meeting of the Woman's Club of Aransas County was a pot luck luncheon on Oct. 9.

Mrs. William Tuttle, president, introduced the speaker, William M. Brown, Jr., vice chairman of the Navigation District Board of Commissioners.

He spoke on conditions today with respect to ecology and pointed out a number of actions that must be taken between now and 1985. Discussing a deep port, he commented that such a project would take many years to complete.

Simple--But Safe-- Picnics For Fall

COLLEGE STATION--"picnic" means anything from a peanut butter and jelly sandwich on the porch to a fried chicken feast under a shady tree on Texas fall days.

"However, don't plan a picnic unless you can transport and serve a safe meal," Mrs. Karen Walker, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, emphasized.

When planning a picnic, consider the time required to travel to the site and how long until eating-time.

"Sometimes a fun picnic turns into an unhappy event -- because people become ill from food poisoning.

"Often they don't realize what caused the problem -- they just know they have diarrhea, nausea and perhaps abdominal pain or vomiting.

"It's hard to believe a picnic meal could cause such trouble-- but it can."

Ever-present bacteria-- under the right conditions-- grow and contaminate food. When these foods are consumed, illness follows, the specialist said.

"Even if a family has picnicked for years without being stricken by food poisoning, the possibility exists.

--Make sure whoever prepares and serves the food has clean hands--washed with soap and hot water. Also keep all equipment and utensils clean.

"This prevents spreading illness-causing bacteria."

--Keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold.

"If transporting hot, cooked foods to an outing, use an insulated bag or chest. Lukewarm, cooked foods -- especially protein-type ones such as meat, poultry, fish or eggs--left in the autumn heat make perfect breeding grounds for bacteria.

"Meats and poultry that aren't served hot, cream-filled desserts, potato salad, egg salad and milk products are just a few foods that must be kept cold. Also, meats that will be cooked later.

"Use an insulated bag or chest for this purpose--with ice, dry ice or reusable cold packs."

--To prevent growth of harmful bacteria, keep sandwiches cold--especially those with protein-type fillings.

"Using frozen bread slices in sandwiches helps keep them cold until serving time," she added.

Never has it been easier to pack a picnic meal and travel, the specialist continued.

Equipment used to consist of a cumbersome wicker basket plus plates and utensils from the kitchen shelves.

"Now it's all plastic, paper and styrofoam -- inexpensive, easy-to-carry and simple to replace or use again.

"Stores also feature insulated metal chests, plastic carrying cases, styrofoam coolers, thermos jugs and other picnic equipment.

"With all this convenience, there's no reason why picnics can't be fun for everyone-- even the one who prepares the food," Mrs. Walker concluded.

Only the U. S. President and the Governor of Massachusetts have the official legal titles of "Excellency."

EDITORIAL

Sports Deaths

Death and brutality shouldn't be a part of sports. Yet the frying of racing drivers continues, American football brutality continues, boxing continues to inflict permanent injuries and occasionally death on participants, etc.

In Holland recently, Grand Prix race fans saw Roger Williamson crash and burn to death; high octane almost invariably ignites in these crashes. Three, of course, were killed in the recent Indianapolis race in this country. Others are fried regularly.

Announcers and radio and television commentators are now gearing up for a good season of "head-knocking" in football. They use such harmless-sounding terms for the brutal playfield—shoulder "separations" (bones torn apart), "shaken up" (knocked senseless, often unconscious), the wind knocked out (again knocked cold, possibly badly hurt), etc.

Excitement, violence and thrills have become paramount in some sports where sportsmanship, ability, and skill should be the measures of athletic competition. Big money is involved, and some aren't too keen to differentiate between entertainment and thrills and sports. There is, however, no place for brutal violence, drugs making it bearable, permanent injury and death in American sports.

Booby Trap Against Trespassers

On the outskirts of town stood an old open-air theater, abandoned for years. The owner of the property, resentful of occasional trespassers, decided to get tough. He placed a small bomb under the stage, connecting it to a nearby door.

Sure enough, a few days later a youthful intruder opened the door, set off the bomb, and suffered fatal injuries.

Could the property owner be held legally liable for this tragedy? At a court hearing, he insisted he had the right to safeguard his property against any unlawful intrusion.

However, a court held him responsible for the young man's death.

"It is no defense," said the court, "that (the victim) was a trespasser. While the law authorizes an owner to protect his property by reasonable means, considerations of humanity preclude him from setting traps dangerous to the life and limb of those whose presence may be anticipated, even though they may be trespassers."

On the other hand, less drastic measures against trespassers have usually been upheld. One case involved a barbed-wire fence which a home owner put up to stop pedestrians from taking short cuts across his front lawn. This time, when an injured trespasser claimed damages, the court turned him down. The judge said the wire obstacle, in plain sight, was a reasonable way for the owner to protect his lawn.

Of course, the right to use force is greater when there is menace not only to property but also to people. Accordingly, most courts have sanctioned the use of deadly force, if necessary, against burglars breaking into a home. As one judge put it: "The idea that a man's house is his castle is not that it is his property. The sense in which the house has a peculiar immunity is that it is sacred for the protection of his person and his family."

RECIPES

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

A big bowl of piping hot soup, followed by a crisp salad, bread, and a favorite dessert always has popular appeal to the family. Have the soup just as hearty and hot as you can make it.

Vegetable Soup

- 1 medium sized soup bone
- 2 onions sliced thin
- 3 carrots sliced thin
- 1 c celery diced
- 2 turnips diced
- 1/2 c shredded cabbage
- 1 c butter beans
- 2 c okra sliced
- 2 cans tomatoes
- Salt and pepper
- Sugar to taste

Add soup bone to 2 quarts of water, add onions, carrots, celery, turnips, cabbage and butter beans. Cook about 2 hours. Add okra and tomatoes. Cook 30 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Season with salt, pepper and sugar. Add more water if needed.

Onion Soup

- 4 large onions sliced
- 2 T butter
- 4 c strained brown meat stock or 2 cans condensed consomme.
- Slices of French bread
- 1/2 c grated Parmesan cheese

Cook onions in butter until lightly browned. Add stock. Cook 20 minutes. Pour into a heated casserole to serve. Sprinkle slices of French bread with cheese. Brown in oven. Serve with soup.

Cheese has increased in popularity because of the way it fits into modern menu planning and because of the many wonderful cheeses you can buy in your super market.

Frozen Cheese Salad

- 3 ounces cream cheese
- 1 c grated American cheese
- 6 green minted cherries, chopped
- 1 c cream whipped
- 1 c mayonnaise

Mash cream cheese and work in American cheese. Add cherries. Combine whipped cream and mayonnaise. Fold into cheese mixture and freeze.

Hot Cheese Tomato Bacon Sandwich

- 4 slices bread
- 2 T mayonnaise
- 2 T chopped onion
- 4 slices American cheese
- 4 slices crisp, cooked bacon
- 1 tomato

Spread bread with mayonnaise. Place onions and a slice of cheese over mayonnaise. Slice tomato into 8 slices and place 2 slices over each sandwich. Place sandwich on a cookie sheet and brown under preheated broiler for 5 minutes. Top each sandwich with a strip of bacon.

You probably know that rice, so versatile and acceptable, is economical and delicious.

Almond Chicken with Rice

- 3 c cooked rice
- 1/2 c sliced mushrooms
- 1/2 c almonds blanched
- 3 T salad oil
- 1 clove garlic cut
- 1 t salt
- 1 c cubed bamboo shoots (canned)
- 1/2 c thinly sliced water chestnuts (canned)
- 1/2 c thinly sliced celery
- 1 c diced cold chicken
- 2 T liquid (1 tablespoon each from bamboo shoot and water chestnuts cans)

Brown almonds in 1 tablespoon oil. Set aside. With a table fork, mash garlic into salt in skillet. Add 1 tablespoon oil and then bamboo shoots and mushrooms. Brown lightly. Add liquid. Cover tightly. Cook over low heat 5 minutes. Add water chestnuts, celery and 1/2 of the almonds. Just heat through. Celery and chestnuts should remain crisp.

Make gravy by mixing 2 teaspoons cornstarch, dash salt, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 4 tablespoons water and 4 teaspoons soy sauce. Cook until liquid thickens and is smooth. Garnish with green onions and almonds. Serve with hot fluffy cooked rice.

HOWARD PYLE AND THE BRANDYWINE TRADITION

Howard Pyle IS the Brandywine Tradition to artists in the field of illustration. His experience spanned the transition from the wood engraving process of reproducing illustrative material in books and magazines to the photo-mechanical process and the development of color reproduction. He was a born teacher - there is no specific doctrine associated with him, but there is a legendary respect and admiration for his work and his teaching ability.

Howard Pyle was born in Wilmington, Delaware, on March 5, 1853. He was encouraged to pursue his artistic bent by his parents, especially his mother. After studying privately in Philadelphia, he returned to Wilmington where he painted and gave lessons. When his father's business faltered, Howard Pyle began working full time in the family business and painted when time permitted.

After the business situation stabilized, he left home to make his fortune in New York. He was well received, and soon began illustrating regularly for Harper's Monthly and St. Nicholas, a well-established children's magazine.

He wrote as well as illustrated a collection of fairy tales, historical novels and new narrations of such classics as Robin Hood.

At this time there were very few engravers, mostly European, since American-born engravers were in the process of mastering this demanding skill. The illustrator was at the mercy of the engraver for an accurate rendering of his work and there was fierce competition among illustrators for the best engravers, who demanded and received very fine salaries.

In 1879 Howard Pyle returned to Wilmington with commissions from Harper's and a desire to teach. In April of 1881, he was married to Anne Poole in Wilmington and pursued his teaching career in earnest. He first offered his services to the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts but they declined his offer since they did not consider illustration one of the fine arts. This cut deeply hurt Howard Pyle but, mainly through his efforts, illustration was certified as a major art endeavor in his lifetime. He established an Illustration Department at Drexel University and taught there for many years, during which time, he initiated a summer school program at Chadds Ford, Pennsylvania, which became very well known. The unique natural heritage of this Historic Brandywine Valley South of Philadelphia provided a wealth of subject matter for young artists who used Washington's and Lafayette's Revolutionary War headquarters for their dormitories.

Pyle's reputation continued to grow. He resigned from Drexel and opened his own school in Wilmington which was as famous as its leader by the turn of the century. It was his philosophy of education and his instincts as a teacher which produced some of the most influential illustrators of this century.

On November 22, 1910, the Pyles left for Italy and less than a year later, he died.

His work was exhibited at the Delaware Art and Library Association which became the Wilmington Society of the Fine Arts in 1912. In June, 1930, The Delaware Art Museum, as it is now known, added a wing devoted to Howard Pyle's work. The Brandywine River Museum, Chadds Ford, Pennsylvania, also has a substantial number of his works in its collection.

One of Pyle's students, Stanley M. Arthurs, began his long association with the Brandywine illustrator at his Drexel classes and later at Chadds Ford and Wilmington. His illustrations are mostly historical in nature.

His most famous work was a mural done for the State Capitol in Dover, Delaware. Another pupil, Violet Oakley, did the murals at the State Capitol in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Frank E. Schoonover also followed Pyle through classes at Drexel, Chadds Ford and Wilmington and later taught art classes himself. He is best known for his frontier scenes and those depicting the life of the Indians in the Hudson Bay area. William H. D. Koerner, known for his Western subjects, Clifford W. Ashley for his nautical illustrations and Thornton Oakley for his series of powerful paintings of American industry in the early 1940's, were all pupils of Pyle as were Phillip R. Goodwin, N.C. Wyeth, Harvey Dunn, and Gayle Porter Hoskins. Howard Pyle's disciples taught as well as painted. George Harding taught at the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts, Harvey Dunn in New York and at his New Jersey studio and Walter H. Everett and Thornton Oakley at Philadelphia College of Art. Pyle's influence was so vast that there are well known third and fourth generation Pyle illustrators who have taught in these and many other art schools in recent years or who are currently teaching.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

ENDS OCT. 28

A bad winter will age a house considerably. Inspect your house and plan for repairs now. Sidewalks, driveways, foundations and mortar joints take a beating from bad weather.

Clean away all loose material from cracks in masonry. Dig out cracks so that they are wider on the bottom than at the surface. Moisten the inside of the crack and the surface to be repaired.

Fill with concrete patch (use a mix to which you add water) and keep moist for several days. After the crack is filled, finish with a wood float for a rough surface, a metal trowel for a smooth surface. Do not attempt repairs if temperatures are still dipping into the freezing zone.
