Production Has Jumped; House Shoes Included

About 28,000,000 Pairs In October; More Expected

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—Shoe rationing will end at midnight tonight, the Office of Price Administration announced.

The end of rationing will be effective at midnight local time in each of the four time zones in the country.

Casual shoes, house slippers, and moccasins will be released from rationing along with all regular types of shoes .

Output Is Boosted

OPA Chief Chester Bowles stated that 28,000,000 pairs of shoes were produced this month. He said prospects for increased production in November and December are so good that output is expected to equal normal pre-war demand—about 30,000,000 pairs a month.

In addition, Bowles stated, production of the most essential types of shoes, such as men's work shoes and children's shoes, has increased substantially during the past few months because of military cutbacks of leather.

Bowles cautioned that consumers will not always be able to buy the styles of shoes they want in the immediate future.

Trouble Spots Expected

"Trouble spots are bound to turn up at first," he said. "Here and there stores may find it hard to get their orders filled exactly as they would like them. But no general hardships should result from the end of shoe rationing."

Bowles said that shoe rationing was one of the most successful of the rationing programs because of widespread cooperation by both the trade and consumers.

Bowles urged shoe dealers to follow "the declaration of policy" issued a few days ago by the government. The declaration suggested that retailers give preferential treatment to returning servicemen and women needing new civilian apparel.

Six Stamps Used

Six shoe stamps were used since shoe rationing became effective on Feb. 8, 1943.

Overshoes and rubbers were

HST To Propose Wage Hikes

40 Hours Work 48 Hours Pay, Reported Plan

Compromise Would Be 20 Per Cent Raise For Labor

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 — Authoritative persons said President Truman will propose tonight that industry pay 48 hours wages for 40 hours work without raising prices.

They said he will make this request in a broadcast at 9 p. m. (Lubbock time) as a compromise with demands by unions that employes be paid for 52 hours while working 40.

The compromise, if accepted by industry and labor, would give workers a 20 per cent increase in pay compared with the 30 per cent the unions ask.

Would Provide Exceptions

Exceptions to holding the line on prices would be made in cases which would work a hardship on the employer, persons informed of the plan said.

Price rise requests would be handled through the Office of Price administration and the Office of Economic stabilization.

If the subject comes before the labor - management conference opening next Monday some enforcement machinery conceivably could be adopted. But industry agreement might be difficult to obtain.

Discussions Planned

The President will discuss wages and prices with as many of the 18 management and 18 labor delegates as he can meet before the conference.

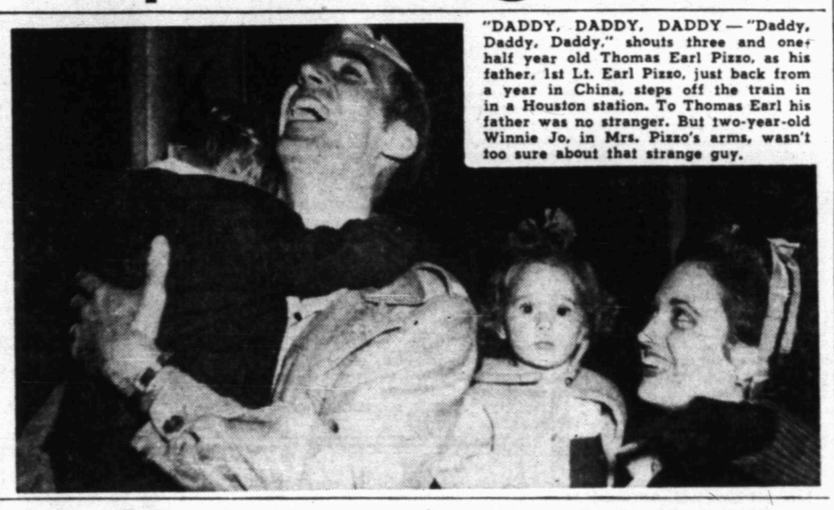

Today he invited AFL Secretary-Treasurer George Meany to discuss the issues with him, along with James M. Duffy, of East Liverpool, Ohio, president of the AFL potters, an alternate delegate. Teamster President Daniel J. Tobin, a power in the AFL, expects to see the President next Sunday.

HST To See Labor Chiefs

CIO delegates are expected to confer with Mr. Truman on Friday. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, is believed to have been invited Thursday, although there has been no announcement.

The whole wage-price issue revolves about the fact union labor generally worked a wartime 48-hour week, getting time and a half for the extra eight hours. This meant 52 hours pay for 48 hours work.

What the unions have wanted is to get the same pay as in wartime in changing back from the 48-hour to the regular 40-hour week. Under Mr. Truman's reported proposal they would get a little less pay than in wartime but work eight hours less.

Yanks Seize $50,000,000 Narcotic Cache In Japan

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Oct. 30.—Occupation trbops operating under General MacArthur's directive to stamp out the Japanese narcotics industry, which supplied approximately 90 per cent of the world's illicit traffic, today seized an opium cache worth $50,000,000 at smuggler's prices.

The Americans also located tons of other narcotics worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The supreme commander, meanwhile, in two new directives, ordered the arrest of Genki Abe, one of the organizers of the hated Japanese "thought police," and commanded that the confidential files of the 15 largest Zaibatsu be reported to him.

Modifications Rejected

In another major action, MacArthur declined in a personal interview granted Foreign Minister Shigeru Yoshida to modify in the slightest the recent directive diplomatically isolating Japan from the rest of the world.

Artillerymen of the 97th division, commanded by Brig. Gen. Sherman V. Hasbrouck, made the big narcotics haul in the Nagano district of central Honshu.

Capt. John F. Kelly, the division's artillery medical officer, estimated the legal price of the lot at $6,000,000 but said that the four tons of opium alone would bring $50,000,000 in illicit traffic in the United States.

Medical Supplies Found

The find included more than $200,000 worth of morphine, novocaine and cocaine, besides medical and dental equipment enough for three complete hospitals.

Another warehouse produced 30 tons of quinine, which the medical officer said would have been enough to protect 1,000,000 American soldiers from malaria for a month.

Under today's order, the Japanese government was instructed to deliver Abe, who besides his "thought police" activities was Japanese home minister in Premier Kantaro Suzuki's surrender cabinet, to American officers for incarcaration in Omori prison, where a number of other former war lords are awaiting war criminal trials.

Vargas Ousted As President Of Brazil In Bloodless Revolution

By J. ALAN COOGAN
United Press Staff Writer

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 30 — Chief Justice Jose Linhares of the Supreme court took over the presidency of Brazil from deposed "iron man" Getulio Vargas today in a blodless revolution.

Linhares announced that presidential elections would be held as scheduled Dec. 2 to return Brazil to constitutional government. Indications that Vargas intended to postpone the elections led to his ouster last night.

Vargas Under Guard

Vargas, for the past 15 years virtual dictator of Brazil, was under guard in the presidential palace preparing a proclamation to the people announcing his resignation.

He agreed to step down after the Army occupied key points in the capital with tanks, armored cars, anti-tank guns and infantry and threatened civil war if he remained in office.

Brazil had been seething with rumors of possible revolution for several months. Although Vargas had announced elections for December and asserted he would not be a candidate to succeed himself, many elements feared he was plotting an extension of his long

Price Of Jaywalking Going Up In Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 30. (U.P.) — The price of jaywalking went up in Dallas today.

Judge Frank O'Brien of corporation court announced that pedestrians found guilty of jaywalking will be fined $5.00 from now on instead of $3.00.

Twenty-four of 37 traffic deaths in Dallas this year have involved pedestrians, the judge said, and stern measures must be taken to make people cross streets only at intersections and only with the traffic lights.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Oct. 30. (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Myron Semunchick, convicted sex slayer who fled the Allentown state hospital last Friday, was recaptured last night with the 15-year-old girl who aided his escape, state police at the Bethlehem barracks reported today.

Lieutenant A. Cook said the youth, sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of nine-year-old Mae Barrett of Vandling, Pa., last January, was captured with Mabel Harris, Philadelphia, in Seipsville, Pa., near Easton.

Clement Attlee Coming To U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee of Great Britain will visit President Truman early next month to discuss the future of atomic energy.

The White House announced Attlee's forthcoming visit in a statement timed for release simultaneously with an announcement by Attlee to the British House of Commons.

To Discuss Problems

"Prime Minister Attlee will visit the president in Washington early next month to discuss with him and Prime Minister MacKenzie King of Canada problems to which the discovery of atomic energy has given rise," the White House said.

"The prime minister is expected to arrive in Washington so that the discussions can begin about November 11."

Attlee was in the United States last April as a member of the British delegation to the United Nations postwar security conference at San Francisco.

Met In Potsdam

He and President Truman also got together at the last "big three" meeting in Potsdam.

President Truman recently told Congress he would soon initiate discussions looking to the renunciation of the atomic bomb. At the same time he called upon Congress to create a commission to control the domestic use and development of atomic energy.

Seven "Soldiers" Held In Shooting

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 30 (U.P.)—Juvenile authorities in Albuquerque were holding seven "soldiers"—aged 10 to 14—today as the result of a shooting Saturday in which Alex Padilla, jr., 15, was injured.

Alex was only an innocent bystander, but he suffered a shoulder wound when the two "armies" fought it out in the sandhills near Lincoln Junior High school here Saturday.

According to Sheriff Harold Hubbell, the opposing armies were shooting at each other with .22 calibre rifles. Alex was playing on the school grounds when a stray bullet, fired by one of the "soldiers," found its mark in his shoulder, sheriff's officers said.

Fortune & Dudley Moving Into New Building Costing $50,000

Congested conditions in the downtown retail area have forced another Lubbock implement company to move into an expanding business area in southeast Lubbock.

Fortune & Dudley, Allis-Chalmers tractor and agricultural implement dealers, now located at Thirteenth and Ave. G, will move into a new $50,000 building at Nineteenth and Ave. C, as soon as the contemplated structure is erected, Clyde Fortune, manager of the company, has announced.

Covers 16,000 Square Feet

The new building, covering 16,000 square feet, will be of brick and tile construction and will house the company's showrooms, offices, shop and warehouse. A 150-foot section of plate glass will extend along one side of the structure where the showrooms and offices are situated. The showroom will be 100 by 85 feet.

The new building will have fluorescent lights and will be equipped with the latest type shop and service tools and equipment. One of the features of the new building will be a complete parts department, where parts and accessories for tractors and imple-

Fliers Credited With Killing 300,000 Nazis

U. S. Losses Set At 79,281 Men, 18,000 Planes

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. — Twelve civilians declared today that Allied air power was the decisive factor in the conquest of Germany.

Victory in the air cost the United States 79,265 flying men and 18,000 planes, the British 79,281 fliers and 22,000 aircraft, the committee said in a report to the War department.

But their air power killed some 300,000 Germans — more than the total of U. S. armed services dead in all theaters — destroyed or heavily damager 3,600,000 dwellings, made rubble of principal German cities and kept 5,000,000 persons busy repairing bomb damage.

Victory Was Complete

"Hindsight inevitably suggests that it might have been employed differently or better in some respects," the committee said in an officially titled "U.S. strategic bombing survey."

"Nevertheless, it was decisive. In the air, its victory was complete."

The appraisers were named by former Secretary of War Stimson at the suggestion of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt to make an impartial study of the effects of aerial attack on Germany.

German Resources Exposed

Their conclusion was that Germany lost the war by losing the battle of the skies in the early months of 1944. Thereafter her resources were exposed to all-out Allied air attack.

Of Allied air power, the survey set fourth that:

"At sea, its contribution, combined with naval power, brought an end to the enemy's greatest naval threat — the U-boat; on land, it helped turn the tide overwhelmingly in favor of Allied

Priest Tells Of Jap Butchery

MANILLA, Oct. 30 (U.P.)—A soft-spoken Catholic priest told today how a band of Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita's Marines ravished La Salle college in Manila last February, murdering more than 50 civilians, including 16 priests, with bayonets and guns.

Father Cosgrave gave the most damning testimony so far in the trial of the erstwhile "Tiger of Malaya," accused before a U. S. Army commission of responsibility for the wholesale Japanese atrocities in the Philippines.

Slaughter Described

The second day of the first major war criminal trial in the Pacific produced Father Cosgrave's account of the slaughter at La Salle as American forces were fighting through Manila.

Yamashita leaned froward and listened intently while the Catholic priest, sitting wholly composed on the witness stand, his hands clasped in his lap related the story of the horror of La Salle.

Through his and supporting testimony the prosecution sought to prove charge No. 17 of the 123 against Yamashita—that he was responsible for "brutally killing without cause or trial 40 men, women and children, all unarmed non-combatant civilians", at La Salle.

Other Charges Included

Rape also was included in the charge. Rosarios Carlos, 21, who was alleged to have been raped, testified that she was shot in the left breast. Another witness, Serviallano Aguino, said he saw the Japanese prepare to rape the 21-year-old girl, but they heard officers coming and stepped on her stomach before they withdrew.

A later witness, Alfred Lagmay, related that more than 100 men and boys were machine-gunned on Feb. 10 at a Manila street corner. He said the victims were lined up in five rows of 20 each

Integration Of Services Urged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — The War department proposed to Congress today that the Army, Navy and Air Forces be placed under a single civilian "secretary of the armed forces."

Under the department head, who would be advised by military chiefs of staffs and a secretariat of civilian assistants, the Army proposed this organization of the services:

"The Air Force should include all land-based combat aircraft except those allotted to the Army and Navy for reconnaisance, spotting of gunfire, command and messenger service. The air should retain its own service forces.

Marine Corps Under Navy

"The Army would include all combat ground forces other than the Marine corps and would have its own service forces.

"The Navy would include the United States fleet with its air arm, the Marine corps and its service forces.

Each component apparently would be directed by a military rather than a civilian head, as at present.

Hope Still Held For Truman's Waco Trip

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex) held out hope today that President Truman will visit Waco, Tex., on Dec. 5.

"I hope that matters will ease up by then so he will be able to go to Texas," commented Connally. "Of course, there's no telling now, but that's more than a month off and a lot of things can happen between now and Dec. 5."

Mishap Gives Albany Important Guests

ALBANY, Tex., Oct. 30. (U.P.)—An automobile that wouldn't run provided the little Texas city of Albany with its most important guest of 1945.

A garage owner disclosed today he found Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President and until recently an Air forces general, waiting beside his out-of-order car when he answered a highway tow call on U. S. 180.

Roosevelt and his bride, a former movie actress, spent the night in the Albany hotel while repairs were made and then continued their motor trip east today.

Labor Strife Spreads To West Coast; San Francisco Area Hit

(By The Associated Press)

A strike of some 12,000 AFL and CIO machinists over a wage dispute partially paralyzed industrial and shipping operations in the San Francisco bay area today, the first major industrial disturbance there since before the war.

Between 35,000 and 40,000 workers in factories and shipyards not involved in the strike were kept away from their jobs because of the walkout and indications were that the number would gradually increase.

Mayor Roger Lapham of San Francisco acted to prevent a threatened milk shortage for the bay area while a federal conciliator called a conference of management and union representatives in an attempt to end the stoppage.

The labor strife in the Pacific coast metropolis pushed up the number idle across the country because of labor disputes to around 277,000. Meanwhile, strike votes involving thousands of workers were listed, while President Truman arranged to confer with as many of the 18 management and 18 labor delegates as possible before the labor-management conference in Washington next Monday.

The stoppage in San Francisco topped the developments along the labor front. The machinists, who struck yesterday after their demands for 30 per cent wage rate increases had been rejected, formed picket lines at shipyards, manufacturing plants, warehouses, machine shops, refineries and foundries. The lines were observed for

Tax Reduction Bill Approved In House

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP) — The House today gave its final blessing to the plan to reduce individual and business tax burdens by $5,920,000,000 in 1946.

The action came in approval by a roll call vote of the reduction measure worked out by House and Senate conferees after the two chambers had put through differing tax-slashing bills. The conference measures now goes to the Senate for approval there.

The Senate will vote on the bill Thursday and the measure should be in President Truman's hands before the end of the week.

The House vote was 297 to 33.

Reds Say Uncle Sam Meddling; War Is Feared

Fear Is Expressed Communists Might Provoke A Clash

(By The Associated Press)

CHUNGKING, Oct. 30. — Charges that the United States is meddling in Chinese internal affairs, today increased the tension in the Chinese capital, where political observers already tensely are watching for the possible outbreak of civil war between Nationalist and Communist troops.

Reports from Tientsin said the American Marine garrison there had been alerted after reports spread through North China that the clash between the two armies was impending.

60,000 Marines In Area

Presence of the estimated 60,000 Marines in North China, and the transfer of Chinese Nationalist troops into that area by the American Air Forces, were the basis of the protest against American actions which was issued by a Communist spokesman. He charged the United States with "intervening in China's internal politics."

Noncommunist quarters said they fear that the Communists might deliberately provoke a clash with the Marines with the intention of embarrassing the United States and central governments and arousing agitation in the United States for immediate withdrawal of American forces from China.

Railway Is Cut

Central government troop movements into the unsettled North China regions were considerably hampered by the reported cutting of 100 miles of the Peiping-Hankow railroad by Communist troops.

The Yenan forces were officially reported to have burned bridges, and stations and to have torn up tracks on the Peiping - Hankow line.

Nationalist troops continued northward along the Peiping-Mukden route, however, reportedly to take "defensive positions" along the great wall.

Minor Clashes Reported

The Peiping dispatches which reported the alerting of the Marines said minor clashes had been reported outside the city, Tientsin

Plan Voted To Curb Strikes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—The House military committee voted today to strip collective bargaining rights from any unions violating a no-strike agreement in a contract with employers.

The vote, taken behind closed doors, was reported as 15 to 9.

The anti-strike provision would relieve an employer from all contract liability if the union struck in violation of a no-strike contract. It also would make the union liable for civil damages and would deprive the union of its collective bargaining status for one year.

Ballots Are Taboo

The committee also voted to repeal a section of the Smith-Connally act under which organized labor has been conducting government-supervised strike ballots.

Another section of the Smith-Connally act also got the committee's disapproval. It struck out a provision under which the government could seize federally owned plants in which workers strike.

The government, however, may still have the right to seize plants under wartime powers given the president.

The legislation may not reach

Full Recognition Is Given To Venezuela

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—The United States today recognized the revolutionary government of Venezuela after consultations with other American governments.

The State department issued this statement:

"The secretary of state, James F. Byrnes, announced this afternoon that the government of the United States has extended full recognition to the government of Venezuela which is now organized under Senor Romulo Betancourt.

"The American ambassador in Caracas is informing the new minister for foreign affairs of Venezuela of this action.

"Before making its decision to recognize the new government of Venezuela the government of the United States of America has exchanged views and consulted with the governments of the other American republics."

Mystery Deaths Puzzle Police

ROCKPORT, Ind., Oct. 30. (AP)—Police in Illinois today joined with Indiana authorities in an investigation of the mysterious deaths of a 33-year-old East St. Louis (Ill.) iron worker and a young tavern waitress, whose bodies were found Sunday in a shallow grave in a wheat field near here.

Through fingerprints, the Indiana state police identified the victims as George E Tyson, 33, and Ethel Sparks, 22, also of East St. Louis. Tyson, Indiana state police said they had been advised by Illinois officals, had been the object of police search since last July 16 in connection with the shooting of Joe Callahan, 28, also an iron worker, outside a Madison, Ill., tavern.

Freed Without Charges

They also said that a week after Callahan had been wounded by an unidentified assailant, a shotgun charge fired through a window of the same tavern killed Miss Kathryn Morrison, 22, a waitress. Miss Sparks was held by police overnight for investigation following the slaying, but she was released without any charges being filed.

Mayor Stephen Maeras of Madison said Miss Morrison and Callahan had identified Tyson as Callahan's assailant and Deputy Sheriff Fred Craycraft of Granite City, Ill., said he was investigating the possibility Miss Morrison was slain because she knew the man who shot and wound Callahan.

Money Is Found

Indiana state police said that $2,700 in $100 bills and a $500 bill was found hidden in a braissiere worn by Miss Sparks, whose parents live in Stuttgart, Ark. In East St. Louis Tyson's wife, Mrs. Allecy Tyson, said she had not seen her husband since the shooting of Callahan. She said Tyson had sold their house before his disappearance and she expressed belief the money found in Miss Spark's clothing belonged to her husband.

Tyson was shot near the heart and the girl was shot in the head and strangled with a rope that was still around her neck when the bodies were found by John Spaetti on his farm. Automobile tracks in an adjoining field indicated, investigators said, the bodies had been brought to the farm in a car and buried. They were unable to determine how long they had been dead.

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 30. They presumably will be given German citizenship.

and mowed down.

After they had fallen, Japanese officers with sabers and enlisted men with bayonets "hacked right and left, thrusting up and down" in a bid to make sure that none survived, Lagmay testified. When the officers finished ,they wiped the blood from their sabers on the backs of the victims.

Spread Gas In Chapel

Cosgrave said he saw the Japanese spread gasoline in the college chapel and set fire to it. The flames destroyed all the furnishings and 3,000 books.

Japanese troops charged into the college dining room at midday of Feb. 12, when Manila was being pillaged by Yamashita's forces who realized they were fighting a losing battle for the city. Cosgrave related.

They began bayonetting everyone within reach while the officers leading them slashed furiously with their swords.

"The Japanese followed fleeing people up the stairs and continued their bayonetting and shooting," Cosgrave said.

The Catholic priest himself suffered two bayonet wounds. A native of Ireland, he came to Manila in 1939.

Women And Children

Among the victims of the Japanese, Cosgrave said, were Filipino and Spanish women and children as well.

The troubles of the college began on Feb. 7, Cosgrave testified. A Japanese officer and some enlisted men came to the school and lined up all 70 persons at La Salle. On that visit they did not harm anyone, but took away Brother Xavier, rector of the college, and Judge Jose Carlos.

Prosecutor William N. Calyer of Newburg, N. Y., late rintroduced evidence designed to prove that these two men were murdered.

"The Japanese forbade anyone to go outside," Cosgrave testified, "and from then on we were virtually prisoners."

It was at midday of Feb. 12 that a Japanese marine officer and 20 marines burst through the dinning room door.

"They seemed to be excited, and asked whether any snipers or guerrillas were there," Cosgrave testified. "We answered of course not."

But the Japanese took off two Filipino servants. Later it was learned that they had been shot.

"Then the Jap officer gave a command, and immediately the Japanese attacked with bayonets," the priest continued.

Fighting Halts In Tense Truce

BATAVIA, Oct. 30. (U.P.)—Fighting ceased under a sort of armed truce in the big naval base city of Soerabaja today after Indonesian extremists killed 20 British soldiers and wounded 59 others.

The situation remained tense, however. Indonesians were manning barricades throughout the city and were refusing to permit anyone to pass without a permit signed by Dr. I. R. Sukarno, president of the unrecognized Indonesian republic.

Gen. D. C. Hawthorn, Allied commander, flew to Soerabaja and saw Sukarno. The truce evidently was arranged at the meeting.

"Two British battlions were in the south part of Soerabaja and one in the north. The Indonesians were said to dominate the heart of the city.

The Nationalist newspaper Meredka published in Batavia today an appeal by Sukarno to the population not to take things in their own hands and to "do away with all Nazi-Fascist practices."

Three RAF Dakotas carrying doctors, stretchers and medical supplies left for Batavia to evacuate the wounded. Sukarno, who flew to Soerabaja especially to halt attacks by his followers, also may return aboard one of the planes.

There was a question, however, whether the RAF planes would be permitted to land. Indonesians prevented a plane sent to evacuate liberated war prisoners from landing at mid day. It was flown by a crack Dutch pilot, Dick Esjes.

Mrs. Annie Rollins Is Taken By Death

Mrs. Annie Rollins, 75, of Route 5, Lubbock, died at 12:40 o'clock this morning in St. Mary's hospital. She had been sick for several months.

Mrs. Rollins had been living in Lubbock only about two months.

Services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Abernathy Church of Christ. Burial will be in Abernathy cemetery under direction of Bryan McDonald and Son Funeral home.

Survivors are two sons, Walter of California, Ted of Lamesa; four daughters, Mrs. Lois Hill of Lubbock, Mrs. Gladys Cunningham of Calipatria, Calif., Mrs. Leona Crane of San Leandro, Calif., Mrs. Lilly Green of California; 17 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

New Service Officer To Help Veterans

Mrs. C. D. Eaves has been named a member of the staff of the Lubbock county service office to assist veterans in loan matters under provisions of the G I. Bill of Rights, Geo. Berry, chairman of the Lubbock Civic Service committee, announced today.

Mrs. Eaves will cooperate with Lubbock county service officer, Jack Hall, in loan matters, screening loan applicants and qualifying them for loans so that they may go to the financial institution of their choice for their loans.

Mrs. Eaves recently spent two weeks in the Republic National bank at Dallas, studying loan procedure and applications and learning how screening of applicants is conducted there.

More than 50,000,000 pairs, or about one of every five pairs of non-rubber boots, shoes and slippers made in the United States in the first half of 1945 were made in New York state.

CIO Gives Figures In Wage Demands

BY CHARLES T. LUCEY
Scripps Howard Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 — Philip Murray, president of the CIO, gave a lunch for newspapermen, and here are some of the figures and arguments he presented in support of the CIO's drive for higher wages:

Industry, according to a government survey which is supposed to be confidential but which nearly everybody knows about, has $27 billion more liquid cash in the till than it had before the war. This does not include increased wealth in plants.

Big Profit Seen

Manufacturing industry stands to show a profit of $7½ billion after taxes in 1946 — highest in history.

Industry stands to benefit 24 per cent through downgrading of workers as between wartime and peacetime jobs, by greater productivity, by savings resulting from less overtime pay and in the repeal of excess profits taxes.

The "total national product" will be down by $35 billion — from $165 to $130 billion according to some estimates — if wages are not increased to offset the war-to-peace changeover. This conflicts with the idea of a national prosperity built on high productivity, high wages and high-rate consumption.

No Inflationary Threat

A 24 per cent pay increase could be granted, the CIO reasons, without any inflationary threat. Its leaders say a 10 per cent increase, which has been offered in some cases, would be inadequate.

In terms of the individual worker, the CIO says the government's own figures estimate that the average manufacturing wage in 1946 will be $33.96. But only $23.95 in real wages would remain after taxes and allowing for decreased purchasing power.

In terms of a single industry—say steel, where Mr. Murray's own union rules the roost on the labor side — the case is made this way:

Production in 1946 is estimated at 84 million tons of ingots or 63 million tons of fabricated steel. The steel workers' union contends the steel industry stands to show a $522 million profit after taxes, as against $130 million before the war and a 1941 peak of $327 million.

If the industry met the $2 a day increase sought by the union, it would cost an estimated $250 million.

Would Save Millions

But, according to CIO figures, payments in overtime resulting from shifting from the 48-hour week to a 40-hour week would save the industry $125 million. There would be additional savings due to downgrading workers, elimination of excess profits taxes, and cheaper production possible in new mills with a capacity of 10 million tons.

Labor wants an increase in real wages, according to Mr. Murray, and there may be unrest if the government grants price increases along with wage increases.

Mr. Murray goes along generally with a statement last week by Walter Reuther of the United Automobile Workers that parts of industry are on a sitdown strike.

He said there has been no successful collective bargaining since VJ-day. He thinks this is due in part to selfishness on the management side, to hoarding and to a disposition to keep goods off the market until the new year brings elimination of excess profits taxes. He said he knew of no large companies which would not profit by this reduction.

Mr. Murray opposes General Motors President Charles E. Wilson's proposal of a 45-hour week. Productivity has increased steadily as hours of work have decreased, he holds.

Atomic Bomb's Effect Claimed World-Wide

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP) — Dr. Chauncey G. Suits, chief research scientist for the General Electric company, said today he believed radioactive effects from the explosion of three atomic bombs had been felt around the entire world.

Dr. Suits said a major manufacturer of photographic film first noticed the effects after the explosions in the form of a fogging of film. These results are not expected to be harmful to humans many degrees of distance away from the spot of explosion, he said, but apparently have been carried through the stratosphere.

Thomas Hargrave, president of Eastman Kodak company, said in Rochester, N. Y., his company first noticed spots showing on film about one month after the first New Mexico atomic explosion. He said no definite results were noticed from the two explosions in Japan and that the trouble now had been cleared up.

J. W. Aynes Rites Set Today At Crosbyton

Last rites were to be conducted at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Crosbyton Methodist church for J. W. Aynes, 85, who died early Monday in West Texas hospital. Rev. J. W. Watson, pastor, was to officiate assisted by Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor of the Lubbock First Presbyterian church.

Burial was to be in the Crosbyton cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral home. The body will lie in state in the church from 12 noon to 2:30 o'clock.

He had been in the mercantile business at Crosbyton 20 years.

Real Estate Dealers To Gather In City

W. S. Wagley, president of the Texas Real Estate association will be in Lubbock Wednesday to address a luncheon meeting of real estate dealers of the area at noon in the Hilton hotel, according to an announcement by J. M. McKelvy, president of the Lubbock Real Estate board.

Wagley is actively interested in aiding veterans in obtaining homes in the various sections of the state and his talk here will deal with that subject.

W. C. Perkins, executive secretary of the state association, will also be present, according to McKelvy. The latter will preside.

Wednesday night the association president will be in Plainview to talk there and McKelvy has urged that all members of the local Real Estate board follow Wagley there for that talk.

Traffic Deaths Show Increase

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP) — The nation's traffic deaths in September—the first full calendar month of unrestricted buying of gasoline—were 2,830, an increase of 40 per cent over the same month last year, the National Safety Council said today.

The council said there is every indication "that the worst is yet to come." Traffic fatalities have gone up steadily since July, and the council said the most hazardous part of the year for driving is just ahead — months of darkness, fog, snow, sleet and icy roads.

Increase In Other Months

In July traffic deaths went up 15 per cent over July, 1944; in August the increase was 26 per cent and last month 40 per cent. The council said the death toll for the first nine months this year was 18,450 against 16,990 for the corresponding period in 1944.

The council expressed belief the postwar increase in traffic fatalities is running ahead of any upsurge in traffic volume. It urged checkups of war-worn cars and extra caution in driving.

The council cited that the 2,830 lives lost in motor accidents last month were almost three times as many as lost at Tarawa in one of the war's bloodiest battles.

"Does this pile-up of traffic tragedy mean that America is willing to pay a higher price in human life for enjoying peace than for gaining it?" asked Ned H. Dearborn, council president.

General Wainwright Off Rice For Life

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30 (U.P.)—No rice, thank you, for General Jonathan M. Wainwright.

The entree at a Victory loan luncheon was chicken a la king and rice. The general ate the chicken. As for the rice——

The defender of Corregidor and prisoner of the Japs for more than three years called the waiter and said:

"Take that rice away. I'll be damned if I ever eat it again."

Victory Loan Drive Off To Good Start

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — The nation reached into its pockets Monday to begin raising $11,000,000,000 in the last war bond drive—the Victory Loan.

Six million volunteers will assist in the campaign which got its send-off Sunday night from Secretary of Treasury Vinson in a nationwide broadcast.

"A successful victory loan will help us on the long road ahead," Vinson said. "It will help you in planning your own future. And it helps to keep the faith with those who fought for a better world."

Honoring the living and dead heroes of the armed forces, ceremonies across the country launched this final drive to "finish the job."

Woman Reporter Is Back From Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30 (AP)—Bonnie Wiley, only Associated Press woman correspondent in the Pacific theater, returned today from the invasions of Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

Miss Wiley, former feature writer in the Associated Press bureau here, was the first woman correspondent ashore in Japan. She traveled to Tokyo with Admiral Halsey's Third fleet.

Miss Wiley was at Iwo Jima on D plus one, aboard a hospital ship. Her vivid stories told of the wounds and suffering of the Marines who stormed the volcanic isle.

"Okinawa was the toughest for me," she recalled today. "Air raids every day, artillery every day, kamikazes every day, typhoons. It was rugged." Miss Wiley spent a month on Okinawa.

Jumped Into River; Only Wanted Drink

CHICAGO, Oct. 30 (AP) — Alex Aratri, 48, was asked by municipal judge Jay A. Schiller to explain why he jumped into the Chicago river.

"You wern't trying to commit suicide, were you?" the court asked.

"Heavens, no!" Aratri said. "I can swim. Just went in for a drink of water."

A charge of disorderly conduct was dismissed.

Worker Is Charged In Wife's Mercy Death

READING, Pa., Oct. 30 (AP) — John Pattas, 41-year-old steelworker, was charged with murder today in the mercy killing of his wife.

Pattas was quoted by Detective Lt. Albert Hoffman as saying he fired a bullet into the head of his 40-year-old wife, Helene, because he "couldn't stand to see her suffer" from cancer.

Mrs. Pattas was shot ten days ago and died yesterday without regaining consciousness.

Hoffman said he learned M. Bernard Hoffman, widely - known Berks county criminal lawyer, would be Pattas' counsel.

Good News from General Electric

DESPITE the sudden stopping of war work, employment at General Electric has declined less than 10 per cent overall. Rehiring is already under way, and it is expected that more people will be employed within six to eight months than were employed during the biggest prewar years.

What G-E people are making is shown, in part, by the list below. This list of things you and your family have wanted for many months shows the progress General Electric has made in swinging back to its regular job of making "More Goods for More People at Less Cost." General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York.

Alarm Clocks. In January, 1944, WPB okayed making some electric alarm clocks. Within seven weeks, G. E. was in production.

Turbines. Full schedule peacetime production of steam turbines, source of two-thirds of the nation's electric power and the driving power for most of our fighting and merchant fleets, is expected to be reached by December.

Irons. In June, 1944, came authorization to make electric irons. In three months, G.E. was shipping irons. Today's rate is higher than 1941.

Motors. Ten million were built for war—many of special types and sizes. Now G-E lines are being quickly converted to production of standard types for washing machines, refrigerators, etc.

Refrigerators. After getting green light from WPB in June, 1945, G.E. was in production in eight weeks.

Transformers. Upwards of 70 small transformers were required for a single B-29 Superfortress. Now G-E facilities are turning them out again to help make electricity more useful to you.

Washers. Ten weeks from WPB go-ahead, G-E washer line started rolling in Bridgeport on August 24, 1945. Already they're being turned out at 47 per cent of G.E.'s prewar rate.

Street Lights and Flood Lights. Facilities that turned out mobile anti-aircraft searchlights for the Army, and thousands of signaling searchlights for the Navy, are now producing flood lights for sports and industry, and street lights to reduce the nation's night traffic toll.

Radios. G-E radios will be back on the market for Christmas. Table models will be in dealers' stores in November. By Christmas, 12 models should be in stores, including AC-DC battery portables, radio phonograph consoles. Television and FM will go into production after the first of the year.

Home Construction Materials. Wire, cable, fluorescent lampholders, etc., formerly for Army and Navy use, are now in production for your new home.

Ranges. Manufacture began on the first G-E electric ranges September 9, 1945. Three days later the first shipment was made.

Plastics Production. The plastics facilities of General Electric, largest manufacturer of finished plastic products in the country, have been turned to molding camera, clock and refrigerator parts, toaster and coffeemaker handles, caster wheels and wiring devices, radio cabinets, fluorescent bases, cosmetic jars and covers, industrial and decorative laminated materials, lighting reflectors and shades.

Water Coolers. Production at G.E. will equal prewar rate in November.

Automatic Heating. G.E. in January will have oil-fired boilers, conversion oil burners, gas-fired boilers, gas-fired warm air conditioners, all coming off the lines where radar, gunfire and aviation equipment was produced.

Farm Freezers. Will be ready in 1947.

Air Conditioners. One model of room air conditioner will be ready in limited numbers for your next summer's needs. First "store cooler" was shipped the day after V-J Day. More daily.

Radar. The G-E Electronic Navigator, to make ship navigation safer in fog and dark, and to speed shipping schedules, has been tested by many months of actual operation and will soon be available.

Exposure Meters. The new G-E exposure meter for amateur and professional photographers is in production. Present rate is several thousand a week.

Lamps. During the war, the Lamp Department did the double task of supplying both military and civilian needs. Now available once more, but in limited quantities, are such war-discontinued types as: 50- and 75-watt inside frost lamps, 50-100-150-watt medium base lamps, flame-shaped lamps, round decorative lamps, fluorescent lamps, lumiline lamps. Christmas tree lights are in production but will be quite limited this holiday season.

Federation Is At Election

An election of officers to serve in 1946 was held at a fifth Monday meeting of Church Women's Federation yesterday afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal church. Mrs. J. W. Hendryx, retiring president, presided.

New officers are Mrs. Bill Roberts, president; Mrs. H. F. Godeke, vice-president; Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson, secretary; Mrs. J. B. McCauley, treasurer.

Mrs. Arthur Yonge gave the scripture reading and Mrs. C. A. Bickley spoke on "Women's Part in the Reconstruction." The meeting closed with a prayer by Mrs. Lucille Smith. In the absence of Mrs. W. R. Hedrick, program chairman, Mrs. Godeke was in charge of the program.

Following the meeting the group went to Seaman hall for tea and a social hour. Music was furnished by Miss Chloe T. Dawson, who gave piano selections. Hostesses were St. Paul's Episcopal Woman's auxiliary and St. John's Methodist Woman's Society for Christian Service.

The body was sent by Bryan McDonald and Son Funeral home to Albany where services probably will be held Wednesday.

Voluntary Rationing For Cars Expected

DALLAS, Oct. 30. (U.P.) — War veterans, old-time customers and persons who can prove they need a car vitally in their business will get the first 1946 model automobiles in Texas, it appeared today.

President Clifton Dennard of the Dallas Automotive Trades association said he believed car dealers will adopt a sort of voluntary rationing program for new autos.

"Dealers have a special obligation to their regular customers and in addition should give preference to veterans back from the wars who don't have autos," Dennard said. "I'm sure that special hardship cases will be taken care of, too."

Strike Vote Sought

In Pittsburgh, a committee of the CIO-electrical, radio and machine workers authorized filing a strike vote petition which a union spokesman said would affect 102,000 workers in 34 Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants in 25 cities. He said the vote was the union's answer to the company's rejection yesterday of its demands for a $2 a day wage increase.

The CIO United Automobile Workers said preliminary balloting indicated that Ford Motor company employes will approve work stoppage by a wide margin in Nov. 7 strike vote same as unionists balloted in General Motors and Chrysler Corp. polls.

Lumber contractors in Portland, Ore., said that the five weeks strike of some 60,000 AFL lumbermen will result in the virtual shutdown within 10 days of home and commercial construction in the four northwest lumber producing states.

American Legion To Push Bond Drive

Motive power in the Victory Loan drive will be furnished by the American Legion, Neil H. Wright, Lubbock county War Finance committee chairman, announced today.

A committee from Allen Bros. post will be selected sometime this week and a concerted campaign to put Lubbock county's quota over the top earlier than any previous war loan drive will be made.

The committee, more than likely composed of several veterans of World war II, will supplement present machinery of the war bond campaigns both in the city and rural areas, H. J. Kendrick, post commander, said.

"We will use every agency which has worked heretofore in the drives in an effort to make this campaign the greatest ever," Kendrick said.

The Legion has a membership of approximately 550 veterans of World wars I and II, between 325 and 350 of whom are veterans of the latter war.

"Most of these boys have been on the fighting fronts and know what war really is," Kendrick said. "We hope the citizens of Lubbock county will do their part in the Victory Loan drive to show their appreciation for the fighting our boys have done on the battle-fronts."

Use Of Troops To Be Limited

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—An administration request for authority to back the world security council with American troops encountered some reservations in the Senate today.

Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis) told a reporter he will insist that legislation defining the powers of the American delegate to the council limit the use of troops to numbers authorized by Congress.

He said he is willing that the president decide when the American forces shall be used to support council action against an aggressor.

To Redraft Legislation

"I just want it made certain that the president can't augment these forces without the approval of Congress," LaFollette said.

Undersecretary of State Dean C. Acheson agreed at a meeting of some Senate foreign relations committee members yesterday to redraft the legislation to meet LaFollette's wishes.

The redraft will be presented to the full committee tomorrow.

The State department's original draft proposed that the American delegate—who will be Edward R. Stettinius, jr., former secretary of State—be made the agent of the president on the security council. He would have the rank of ambassador, be paid $20,000 yearly, and have a $12,000 assistant-alternate.

Without consulting Congress in advance, the delegate could vote at the president's direction for the use of force to keep the peace.

Could Go Into Action

If Great Britain, Russia, China, France and two other council members approved, that would mean that American troops and equipment committed to council use could be ordered into action.

The original allocation of troops would be made by agreement among the security council members. The State department's draft would stipulate that Congress must approve.

Whether congressional action would be by treaty, requiring two-thirds approval of senators voting, or by a resolution adopted by a majority of both houses apparently was left for a later decision.

Members said the committee might write in a direction on this point.

As presently drawn, the measure would not limit the use of the allocated American troops, once the council votes to enforce the peace. They could go into action anywhere in the world.

Ship Workers Idle In Texas

(By The United Press)

Five thousand ship workers were idle Tuesday in Galveston when striking checkers of the International Longshoremen's Association (AFL) extended their picket lines along the waterfront.

Meanwhile in Houston federal conciliators hoped that a "peace meeting" Tuesday afternoon of strikers, shipping company representatives and city fathers would end the walkout at Port Houston where about 3,200 men were idle.

In Galveston some 2,000 dry dock workers and ship repair employes had walked out when the checkers expanded their picketing territory to make the port strike-bound.

Refuse To Haul Garbage

City employes, honoring the picket lines, refused to haul garbage from Navy ships and shell and other supplies from the wharves.

Galveston city street Commissioner Herman A. Bornefeld demanded the unions cease picketing and meet with employers. He said if the unions did not permit city workers to cross their picket lines he would ask Mayor George W. Raser to file an injunction enjoining the picketers from operating on the wharves.

Hopes For Conciliation

Federal Conciliator Joseph S. Myers said he hoped to bring the warring factions in Houston together and work out a satisfactory ending to the 11-day-old port strike.

"We realize that as long as the contending parties remain in separate camps, not talking to each other but about each other, there can be no possible chance to work out an agreement," Myers said.

Voluntary Rationing For Cars Expected

DALLAS, Oct. 30. (U.P.) — War veterans, old-time customers and persons who can prove they need a car vitally in their business will get the first 1946 model automobiles in Texas, it appeared today.

President Clifton Dennard of the Dallas Automotive Trades association said he believed car dealers will adopt a sort of voluntary rationing program for new autos.

"Dealers have a special obligation to their regular customers and in addition should give preference to veterans back from the wars who don't have autos," Dennard said. "I'm sure that special hardship cases will be taken care of, too."

Strike Vote Sought

In Pittsburgh, a committee of the CIO-electrical, radio and machine workers authorized filing a strike vote petition which a union spokesman said would affect 102,000 workers in 34 Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants in 25 cities. He said the vote was the union's answer to the company's rejection yesterday of its demands for a $2 a day wage increase.

The CIO United Automobile Workers said preliminary balloting indicated that Ford Motor company employes will approve work stoppage by a wide margin in Nov. 7 strike vote same as unionists balloted in General Motors and Chrysler Corp. polls.

Lumber contractors in Portland, Ore., said that the five weeks strike of some 60,000 AFL lumbermen will result in the virtual shutdown within 10 days of home and commercial construction in the four northwest lumber producing states.

American Legion To Push Bond Drive

Motive power in the Victory Loan drive will be furnished by the American Legion, Neil H. Wright, Lubbock county War Finance committee chairman, announced today.

A committee from Allen Bros. post will be selected sometime this week and a concerted campaign to put Lubbock county's quota over the top earlier than any previous war loan drive will be made.

The committee, more than likely composed of several veterans of World war II, will supplement present machinery of the war bond campaigns both in the city and rural areas, H. J. Kendrick, post commander, said.

"We will use every agency which has worked heretofore in the drives in an effort to make this campaign the greatest ever," Kendrick said.

The Legion has a membership of approximately 550 veterans of World wars I and II, between 325 and 350 of whom are veterans of the latter war.

"Most of these boys have been on the fighting fronts and know what war really is," Kendrick said. "We hope the citizens of Lubbock county will do their part in the Victory Loan drive to show their appreciation for the fighting our boys have done on the battlefronts."

Use Of Troops To Be Limited

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—An administration request for authority to back the world security council with American troops encountered some reservations in the Senate today.

Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis) told a reporter he will insist that legislation defining the powers of the American delegate to the council limit the use of troops to numbers authorized by Congress.

He said he is willing that the president decide when the American forces shall be used to support council action against an aggressor.

To Redraft Legislation

"I just want it made certain that the president can't augment these forces without the approval of Congress," LaFollette said.

Undersecretary of State Dean C. Acheson agreed at a meeting of some Senate foreign relations committee members yesterday to redraft the legislation to meet LaFollette's wishes.

The redraft will be presented to the full committee tomorrow.

The State department's original draft proposed that the American delegate—who will be Edward R. Stettinius, jr., former secretary of State—be made the agent of the president on the security council. He would have the rank of ambassador, be paid $20,000 yearly, and have a $12,000 assistant-alternate.

Without consulting Congress in advance, the delegate could vote at the president's direction for the use of force to keep the peace.

Could Go Into Action

If Great Britain, Russia, China, France and two other council members approved, that would mean that American troops and equipment committed to council use could be ordered into action.

The original allocation of troops would be made by agreement among the security council members. The State department's draft would stipulate that Congress must approve.

Whether congressional action would be by treaty, requiring two-thirds approval of senators voting, or by a resolution adopted by a majority of both houses apparently was left for a later decision.

Members said the committee might write in a direction on this point.

As presently drawn, the measure would not limit the use of the allocated American troops, once the council votes to enforce the peace. They could go into action anywhere in the world.

Ship Workers Idle In Texas

(By The United Press)

Five thousand ship workers were idle Tuesday in Galveston when striking checkers of the International Longshoremen's Association (AFL) extended their picket lines along the waterfront.

Meanwhile in Houston federal conciliators hoped that a "peace meeting" Tuesday afternoon of strikers, shipping company representatives and city fathers would end the walkout at Port Houston where about 3,200 men were idle.

In Galveston some 2,000 dry dock workers and ship repair employes had walked out when the checkers expanded their picketing territory to make the port strikebound.

Refuse To Haul Garbage

City employes, honoring the picket lines, refused to haul garbage from Navy ships and shell and other supplies from the wharves.

Galveston city street Commissioner Herman A. Bernefeld demanded the unions cease picketing and meet with employers. He said if the unions did not permit city workers to cross their picket lines he would ask Mayor George W. Raser to file an injunction enjoining the picketers from operating on the wharves.

Hopes For Conciliation

Federal Concilator Joseph S. Myers said he hoped to bring the warring factions in Houston together and work out a satisfactory ending to the 11-day-old port strike.

"We realize that as long as the contending parties remain in separate camps, not talking to each other but about each other, there can be no possible chance to work out an agreement," Myers said.

Hirohito's Fortune Totals $106,041,000

TOKYO, Oct. 30 (UP) — Supreme headquarters announced today that Emperor Hirohito's fortune totals more than 1,590,615,500 yen, $106,041,000 at the present exchange rate.

The figure includes assets in cash, negotiable instruments, land, timber and buildings of the imperial household. Reports on the household's are objects, jewelry and gold or silver bullion will be submitted to Allied headquarters later.

Also not included in the preliminary report were the fortunes of 14 imperial princes.

REPARATIONS TALKED

PARIS, Oct. 29. (AP) — American, British and French delegates began today preliminary discussions of German reparations, preparatory to official tripartite talks opening Nov. 11.

The talks will pave the way to a formula for sharing 74 per cent of total German reparations, Russia having been allotted 36 per cent by the Potsdam agreement.

Running Revolutions Is Real Science, Says South American

By NORMAN CARIGNAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—South American revolutions are real military operations and not comic-opera affairs.

An ambassador from one of the South American countries says this. He should know. He organized and led a highly successful revolution a couple of years ago in his own country.

The ambassador doesn't look a bit like a rebel. He's a mild mannered man who at an embassy party likes to retire to a corner with a friend and talk things over. He once taught mathematics.

His black eyes really flash and he teeters excitedly on the edge of his chair when you ask him: "Now how do you run a revolution?"

"A Real Science"

"Ah," he says, "that's a real science. The best way is through Congress. But first you have to build up an atmosphere for revolution by stimulating a popular reason for the uprising.

"You do that by presenting outrageous bills in Congress. The government has to attack them and then you attack the government for attacking them.

"The people get aroused and your 'atmosphere for revolution' really gets going.

"Meanwhile, your partner in the military is quietly sounding out the officers in command to see if they will go along.

"When we were about set to go, we found that the federal police were still loyal to the government. The government, suspicious that a revolution was afoot, had been quietly increasing the size of the police force.

"So when the government came to Congress for its police appropriation, we suggested doubling the salary of the police and cutting the size of the force in half.

Government Violently Objected

"The government, of course, violently objected.

"So we then appealed to the police, emphasizing that we wanted to double their pay and that the government didn't want to. We mentioned in passing that half of them would lose their jobs.

"We were defeated but we had stirred up the police.

"Only a few people knew when the revolution would start. I hadn't even told my wife. The night of 'D-day' I had an officer in my house who went out intermittently and reported the latest news.

One Thing Went Wrong

"Special squads of troops had been assigned to capture the president, his cabinet, top government officials, the post and telegraph office, the electric light works, the water system, radio stations—in fact everything to paralyze the country.

"Everything went along smoothly except one thing. The police remained loyal to the government. We sent a bomber over them that dropped leaflets telling how we had tried to double their salary and how the government defeated us.

"This weakened their morale and thereafter fighting was only sporadic. The revolution started at 4 a. m. and by 9 a. m. it was over!"

I CHOSE THEM!"

"You sure see plenty of Riverside Tires on our factory parking lot!"

"I looked around, last year, when my first set of tires wore out. You'd be surprised how many of the gang on my shift rode back-and-forth to the plant on Riversides! NOT because Riversides happened to come on their cars, but because they deliberately CHOSE them... chose them in preference to all other brands!"

Industrial workers are typical of the millions of car-owners who have switched to Riversides. All these folks, like yourself, want a tire that gives them most for their money; long wear on rugged roads; real protection against blow-outs. (Riversides today are 12% stronger than our pre-war tires!)

Lubbock Club Visits Anton

ANTON, Oct. 30—A program by the Lubbock Lions club in the Anton High school auditorium last night entertained members of the Anton Lions club and their wives in a ladies night observance.

Thirty-five persons from Lubbock, Lions and their wives, attended the affair. The meal was served by the Anton High school home economics girls under direction of Mrs. Ima Dore Haile.

Ed Hart, president of the Anton club presided and then turned the program over to R. C. Harvey, president of the Lubbock club, who introduced the visitors. Elmer East of Lubbock was Program chairman.

An informal program consisting of stunts and quiz contests was staged, much to hilarity of the crowd. F. L. Newton won a box-building contest over Clarence Matthews, both contestants wearing boxing gloves as they built the box.

Supt. Orian Dennis made an eight-minute talk on Victory bonds while R. L. Burdette held a cake of ice in his hands. Clarence Herrin was winner in a bead-stringing contest over T. E. Wood and Claude Couch.

East then conducted a 'Dr. I. Q.' contest with B. C. McCasland and Geo. Young as his assistants.

Attending the affair from Lubbock were: Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Young, East, Groves Denman, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Jackson, Dr. B. C. Schulkey, Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Coggin, Mrs. Viola Younger, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Maas, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer Aycock, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burford, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Price, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Abel, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ratliff, and Dr. and Mrs. D. D. Jackson.

BERET IS SOUVENIR

LONDON, Oct. 30. (AP) — Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's well-worn black beret became a souvenir today of the Royal Tank regiment. He confessed that he borrowed the beret originally from a sergeant during the battle of Alamein.

AREA IS RESTORED

MOSCOW, Oct. 30. (AP)—Eighty per cent of the pre-war cultivated area of the Ukraine—breadbasket of the U.S.S.R.—has been restored to grain production, the Ukraine premier said today.

Atomic Age Is Threat To City

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — A suggestion that in this atomic age America may have to break up its big cities and scatter them over the landscape was laid before senators today.

Dr. William F. Ogburn, sociologist, of the University of Chicago summed it up thus tersely:

"If an agreement not to use the bomb fails, then there is another way out, namely, to scatter the urban population."

Proposed Foundation

Ogburn and other social scientists testified in support of a proposed national research foundation backed with federal funds. Particularly they asked that the social sciences—such things as sociology, psychology and the like—be aided as well as the physical sciences.

"For every important mechanical invention that physical scientists make there is created a new social problem on which social scientists should work," Ogburn told a joint Senate Military-Commerce subcommittee holding hearings on the research proposal.

Urges Planning Now

He suggested specifically that "it would not be a bad idea to have social scientists work in finding out all about how our urban population from very large cities might be dispersed, slowly or rapidly, to greater or lesser degree whether further into the interior or not."

Ogburn, a high-domed, easy-smiling man, then ventured a look at the future of society as changed by peacetime industrial use of atomic energy may be as great as those that followed the use of steam 150 years ago.

Senator O'Mahoney (DWyo) introduced a resolution which would put Congress on record in favor of outlawing the use of the atomic bomb by international agreement.

Good Prices On Used Cars Will Continue

DALLAS, Oct. 30 (AP) — Good prices for used cars will be maintained for sometime after new cars come on the market, an official of the Texas Used Car Dealers association, said today.

Dick Wiley of Fort Worth, president of the association which held its first annual meeting here today, said used car dealers are confident prices will not drop at once on good used cars.

Legion Honors Lost Battalion, Families

Honoring members of the "Lost Battalion" and their families a barbecue and special entertainment was held Monday night in the Legion hall in a joint meeting of the American Legion and the Legion auxiliary.

Plans for the traditional Armistice Day breakfast were formulated by committees representing the Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wards. A dance is planned the night of Nov. 10 for members of the organizations and guests.

Durwood Bradley, Lubbock attorney, spoke on behalf of the Victory Bond drive, and Capt. Gordon Treadway, Lubbock Army Air field, discussed purposes of the American Legion.

Hop Halsey was master of ceremonies, and members of the Dunagin School of Music, Miss Patti Hall, and a quartet composed of A. M. Cooper, A. A. Molmquist, J. A. Daniels and R. E. Robertson appeared on the program.

Jap Repatriates To Start On Way Home

NEWELL, Calif., Oct. 30. (AP) — Return to Japan of voluntary and involuntary Japanese repatriates will begin at an early date, possibly by November 15, officials of the immigration service announced today.

Ivan Williams, officer in charge and speaking for the commissioner of immigration and naturalization service, said a detail of men from the Department of Justice yesterday began a survey of the Japanese detained at the war relocation authority Tulelake center here.

This survey, Williams said, will include persons whose applications for renunciation of their United States citizenship have been approved by the attorney general, together with members of their families, whether citizens or aliens, who may desire to accompany them, alien residents who are segregated paroles under alien enemy proceedings, and alien residents who are under orders of deportation under the immigration laws.

The survey is expected to be completed within two weeks.

SLAYER IS SOUGHT

SANDERSON, Oct. 30. (AP) — Planes from the border patrol and from Fort Stockton joined Texas rangers and highway patrolmen today in a search for a 30-year-old Sanderson girl, Francisco Hernandez.

Better Hearing
Treat Yourself at Home!

Dr. E. T. Molzahn of McCook, Nebraska, a Medical Specialist of over 40 years practice, has designed a rubber suction cup for home treatment of deafness, head noises and dry ears.

You just place this vacuum cup over the ear and work in and out—the resulting suction action is designed to aid vibration in the mechanism of the ear and many hard of hearing people have gotten a better hearing from its use.

Also very good for head noises and hard wax conditions of the ears.

Dr. T. B. Shrader, a licensed Chiropractor of McCook, Nebraska, with 25 years experience, will represent Dr. Molzahn at a free clinic and you are cordially invited to attend and receive a free treatment to see if you can be helped. Many a hard of hearing person has cupped his hand over his ear to make a suction and this has helped in a measure, but Dr. Molzahn's ear cup will get far better results because it has the proper suction.

Dr. Shrader restored the hearing to his left ear after 15 years of almost complete deafness by using the suction cup daily for 3 months.

You will be shown how to use the cup and if you can hear better after a free treatment—then you owe it to yourself to purchase this suction cup and continue the treatments at home, as the price is only $5.00. No obligation to buy. Dr. Shrader will be at

Army Holds Lead In National Grid Poll

Ten Top Teams Undergo Changes

BY HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 — Army, Notre Dame and Navy retained the first three places among the country's top ten football teams as determined by the weekly Associated Press poll today but the remainder of the elite group under went a thorough shake up.

Three new clubs were admitted to membership, three others grabbed new places and only beaten Pennsylvania kept its position.

Army, playing what the Cadet coaches said was the team's best game of the season, defeated Duke 48 to 13 Saturday and today did one of its best vote-getting jobs by snaring 91 first places on the 106 ballots cast. Ten critics placed the team second and five rated it no better than third.

Notre Dame's unbeaten string and its 55 to 0 conquest of Iowa induced six voters to place the Irish first and Navy was the choice of three.

Army Gets 1,040 Points

The Cadets, who have been on top since a year ago this week when Notre Dame relinquished the throne, gathered 1,040 points.

Ohio State, Oklahoma A. and M. and Michigan are the new members of the top ten although it is a return appearance for both of the Big Ten clubs. Defeats suffered last Saturday by Purdue, Minnesota and Texas sent that trio out of the major ranking.

The leading ten teams determined on a basis of 10 points for each first place vote, nine for second, eight for third, etc.,

(First place votes in parenthesis):

|---|---|
| Army (91) | 1,040 |
| Notre Dame (6) | 899 |
| Navy (3) | 798 |
| Alabama (4) | 706 |
| Indiana | 47 |
| Ohio State | 317 |
| Pennsylvania | 254 |
| St. Mary's (2) | 233 |
| Oklahoma A. & M. | 189 |
| Michigan | 154 |

Gas Company Bowlers Take Lead In League

Picking up a three-game "donation" from S. & Q. Clothiers, the West Texas Gas company bowling five moved into undisputed first place in the City League race at Plamor lanes last night when the Jaycees held Hub Laundry to two wins.

Armour's moved up into a three-way tie with S. & Q. and Meads Bakery by winning two from the Bakers, while the Lions club won two from Birds Eye food store.

Scoring honors for the night were divided, with Grossman of the Lions toppling 220 pins for the best single game, while Hamlett of Armour's had the best series with 588 pins. Armour's also had the best team scores of the night, a single game of 928 pins and a series of 2656 pins.

Perfect Records Out In College Football In Texas This Year

(By The Associated Press)

Not a Texas college playing football this year — and there are twelve of them — can boast an unblemished record.

The University of Texas fell last week 7-6 to Rice institute to remove the last undefeated team.

Eleven of the schools have games this week. The North Texas Aggies and Allen Academy start the ball rolling Friday night at Arlington. It will be for the unofficial junior college championship of the state. The Aggies have beaten John Tarleton which Allen Academy tied last week 6-6. They are the only junior colleges playing football in Texas.

A. & M. Plays Arkansas

Saturday Rice plays Texas Tech at Houston, Texas A. and M. goes to Fayetteville to meet Arkansas, Southern Methodist clashes with Texas at Dallas, Baylor engages Southwestern at Waco, Texas Christian journeys to Norman to play Oklahoma and West Texas State Teachers meet Dalhart Army Air field at Canyon.

The standings of Texas colleges:

| Team | W | L | T | Pts. | Op. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Texas | 5 | 1 | 0 | 144 | 28 |
| Texas A and M. | 4 | 2 | 0 | 132 | 77 |
| Baylor | 3 | 2 | 1 | 125 | 46 |
| Texas Christian | 3 | 2 | 0 | 64 | 70 |
| Southwestern | 2 | 3 | 1 | 65 | 92 |
| Texas Tech | 2 | 3 | 1 | 39 | 80 |
| Sou. Methodist | 2 | 4 | 0 | 58 | 95 |
| Rice | 2 | 4 | 0 | 58 | 115 |
| North Tex. Aggs. | 1 | 3 | 0 | 26 | 131 |
| WTSTC | 1 | 5 | 0 | 74 | 117 |

Hornsby Turns Down Managerial Job

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, one of the greatest right-handers ever to swing a bat in major league baseball, has turned down a managerial job just so he can teach boys how to play the national game. Hornsby, who had a lifetime batting average of .358 in 26 years in the majors and minors, yesterday refused a job as general manager of the Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association to continue as instructor in the Chicago Daily News' baseball school for children.

"I think I can do more with the kids in Chicago to promote baseball than I could do as a manager of a champion team like Milwaukee's Brewers," was his only comment.

HOWARD REPLACES ZELSMAN

Lufkin Rated No. 1 Eleven

Five Clubs Are Virtually Equal

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS, Oct. 30 — Ranking the high school football teams of Texas has become quite complicated. Results of the past several weeks have brought five teams virtually even with each other. Comparative scores show it as well as what has developed on the playing field.

You can rank either Lufkin, Highland Park, Waco, Wichita Falls or Odessa No. 1 and feel you are right in each instance. But here's how they look just to get something settled:

1. Lufkin; 2. Highland Park; 3. Waco; 4. Wichita Falls; 5. Odessa; 6. Goose Creek; 7. Amarillo; 8. Paris; 9. Austin and 10. Brownsville.

The second 10: Pampa, Plainview, Marshall, Brownwood, Breckenridge, Cleburne, Crozier Tech (Dallas), Milby (Houston), Galveston, Corpus Christi.

Lt. Walker Nichols Visits In Lubbock

Back home after 19 months duty in the Pacific theater as a recreation officer, Lt. (j.g.) Walker Nichols, popular line coach at Lubbock High school and later at Texas Tech, is visiting with his family and friends here for a short stay.

Nichols arrived home for a first visit with his 18-month old son, Walker junior, and his wife at 1808 Thirteenth, getting to Lubbock in time to see his former alma mater, and later his charges, tag a 12-6 victory on West Texas State Teachers Saturday night.

Serving as head of the fleet recreation center and handling a motion picture exchange for the Navy in the South Pacific Nichols served 14 months on Guadalcanal and Tulagi and five months on Samoa. All of his service in the Pacific was in recreation work.

The former guard at Tech entered the Navy in November, 1942, after seeing his charges hold a highly rated Texas Christian University team to six points while racking up a 13-6 Tech homecoming victory, the game dedicated previous to the kickoff to the Red Raider's departing coach. Nichols still possesses the ball which the Raiders presented him after using it to beat the Frogs.

Nichols was commissioned at Princeton university in the spring of 1943 and sailed overseas in March 1944. He arrived back in the states, landing at San Francisco, Oct. 14. He will leave Lubbock soon to report to New Orleans be sent from there to Camp Wallace and then given his terminal leave prior to discharge.

He reports seeing many West Texas boys in the Pacific and mentioned former Tech students with whom he had visits, among them Roy "Red" Williams, Abernathy boy who played end at Tech in 1942.

No plans for the immediate future were discussed by Nichols, although he is expected to resume his coaching duties at Tech.

Raiders Scrimmage For Rice Game; Westerners Limber Up For Battle With Brownfield

Texas Tech's Red Raiders scrimmaged Monday afternoon, while the Lubbock Westerners took only a light limbering up workout as the two teams started getting ready for this week's games, the Red Raiders on the road and the Westerners at home.

The Red Raiders will head for Houston this weekend, playing the upsurging Rice Owls in that city on Saturday afternoon. The Westerners will remain at home this week for another conference battle, playing the Brownfield Cubs at Tech stadium Friday night.

RICE LIMBERS

HOUSTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—A dozen or so Rice Institute griders went through a short limbering-up session Monday but the complete squad is due to be back this afternoon as the team starts heavy practice for Saturday's game with Texas Tech.

Coach Jess Neely had no additional information on Bob Nemir, bruising right halfback who played a whale of a game against Texas last week. Nemir received his commission Saturday, but there is a possibility he may remain at Rice.

Bob Zelsman, big lineman, will be missing for the Tech game. He is on leave and due to receive his commission next month.

The game Saturday will start at 2.30.

No New Injuries

Both clubs came out of their games last week without any serious injuries cropping up, but the Red Raiders found several old wounds reopened, and Coach Dixie White reported that George Brewer, the top ball carrier of the Westerners, was pretty well bruised up last week, and might be slowed down a little Friday night.

The brigade of cripples at Texas Tech certainly were not improved by the rough battle Saturday with West Texas State Teachers, but Coach Dell Morgan was holding out hopes Monday that the team would be in much better shape by Saturday than at any time since the Texas Longhorn game.

White Is Pleased

Coach Dixie White expressed himself as well pleased with the showing that the Westerners made last week. An error in the after game statistics carried in the Avalanche-Journel was also pointed out, and a check revealed that the Westerners gained 164 yards rushing against the Bulldogs, instead of 97, as carried in the report. Fast addition after the game was blamed for the error.

The game was perhaps the best game of the season on the part of the Westerners, and left fans hopeful that the club is starting to hit the stride that was picked for them early in the year.

Westerners Mar Record

The Westerners not only shattered the record of an unscored on ball club, but did so with a drive that showed real power. The Westerners also gave the powerful Bulldogs the toughest the Hale county lads have had this season, and the biggest scare.

As a reward for their great showing last week, White gave the Westerners an easy day of it Monday, and spent most of the time to merely working out the kinks of last week's game.

But it was a different story at Tech stadium, and Coach Dell Morgan started the week with a rough scrimmage session, and promised more of them during the week.

Taking his cue from the upset last week that found the Owls beating the vaunted Texas Longhorns, 7-6, Coach Morgan pulled out his notes on Rice offense, and held a lengthy scrimmage session against Rice offense.

The return of George Walmsley to the Rice lineup is expected to make the Owls even tougher than Texas found them, and this is also bad news for the Red Raiders.

Class B League May Be Formed In Area

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 30. (AP)—O. E. Beck, chairman of an Albuquerque committee seeking to organize a southwest class B baseball league, said some action on the proposal may be taken at a Nov. 4 meeting in Lubbock, Texas, of representatives of interested cities.

Beck reported last night that Milton Price, president of the class D West Texas-New Mexico league which operated before the war, had written it appeared almost certain that loop would be revived.

On the basis of information from Price, Beck said cities interested in reviving the West Texas-New Mexico league were Abilene, Lamesa, Lubbock, Amarillo, Borger and Pampa, Texas, and Albuquerque and Clovis, N. M.

LAWSON LITTLE RETURNS

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Lawson Little, who won both the British and U. S. amateur golf championships in 1934 and 1935, and then went on to win the U. S. open as a profession in 1940, is ready to get back into the golfing wars. Little, a lieutenant in the Navy for almost three years, left here last night for his home in Monterey, Calif., and said he would be back in there swinging when the Bing Crosby tournament is held at Del Mar, Calif., late in December.

Preston Smith Widens Ball-Carrying Lead; Texas Setting Pace On Offensive In SWC

(By The Associated Press)

Preston Smith, Texas Aggie fullback, increased his lead in Southwest conference ball-carrying last week as he gained a net 59 yards against Baylor to bring his total to 502 in six games.

Smith has carried the ball 108 times—much more than any other back in the circuit, conference statistics released today by James H. Stewart, executive secretary, show.

Sammie Pierce, Baylor halfback, stayed in second place but when he gained only 21 yards against A. and M. it widened Smith's lead. Pierce has a net of 447 on 59 runs.

Hoffman Moves To Third

Big John Hoffman of Arkansas rolled up 125 yards against Mississippi to move into third place in the conference. Hoffman has carried 76 times for 325 yards.

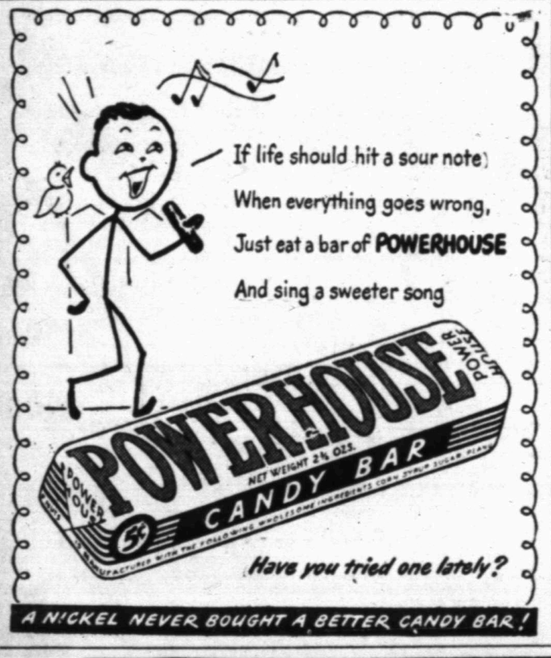

Leon Joslin of Texas Christian still tops the passing, having thrown 61 and completed 31 for 499 yards. Jack Price of Baylor still is second with 358 yards on 29 completions out of 52 passes. Dave Moon of Southern Methodist is third with 16 out of 48 for 300 yards.

In team statistics, Texas still is the offensive leader with 1713 yards—1039 rushing and 674 passing. Baylor is second with 1515 yards.

Baylor Leads On Defensive

Defensively Baylor is No. 1. The Bears have allowed only 753 yards in six games—an average of 126.3 yards per game. Texas A. and M. continues as the top defender against passing. The Aggies have allowed only 13 competitions out of 54 for 196 yards.

The individual punting race is a duel between Howard Maley of Southern Methodist and Jim Plyler of Texas. Maley has an average of 39.8, Plyler 38.7. Last week Maley kicked for an average of 41.7 against Tulane while Plyler averaged 41 against Rice.

Publisher Says German Occupation Too Swift

BERLIN, Oct. 30 (AP) — Clyde E. Palmer, Arkansas and Texas publisher, expressed the opinion today that the United States is pulling its occupation troops from Germany so swiftly that we might "lose the peace."

"Their replacements are all green men, unfamiliar with the problems of occupation," Palmer commented. "They are non-combat men who do not know Germany as an enemy and consequently are susceptible to German propaganda. While the Germans lost the war they lost none of their cleverness."

LUBBOCK'S plans to erect a modern, combination auditorium-coliseum certainly have at least two neighboring cities "looking at their hole cards." Both Amarillo and Abilene are showing more than academic interest in the plans here and papers in both cities have reproduced The Avalanche-Journal's pictures of the proposed structure.

Amarillo's treatment of the topic was more than striking. The up-and-at-'em Globe, of that city, ran the 8-columns wide picture of the planned Lubbock structure across the bottom of its front page and placed immediately above it a picture of the ramshackle entrance of Amarillo's present livestock building at the Tri-State fairgrounds. Riding adjacent to both pictures was a story of Lubbock's plans, and Amarillo's procrastination along the same line.

The Globe's news story included an account of a meeting of Amarillo's coliseum committee, at which time a copy of The Avalanche-Journal, showing pictures of our proposed coliseum and a story detailing plans, was laid before the leaders of the North Plains city. The boys got so high behind that they came up with a resolution calling for an Amarillo-wide postwar improvement program similar to the one planned in Lubbock—including a superduper coliseum.

Well, for our part, we hope Lubbock's leadership in civic matters will continue to provide an inspiration for our good neighbors of the bleak stretches of the Panhandle, and of the more aged areas to the South and Southeast.

If what Lubbock plans to do helps make better cities of Abilene, Amarillo and others, so much the better for all West Texas.

Although not a member of the coliseum committee which made a lengthy tour of similar structures over the South in September, The Plainsman makes bold to invite to Lubbock similar committees from Amarillo, Abilene and elsewhere so they may take advantage of the findings of our committee on its inspection tour.

Let surging, growing, progressive Lubbock be all things to all men we always say!

THE United States, which holds undisputed world leadership in the number of telephones, bathtubs and automobiles, soon may have a radio station for each of the latter. Literally hundreds of applications for operation permits now rest before the Federal Communications commission in Washington and 18 months from today the present number of stations likely will be almost doubled.

Almost every city of any size at all will have two radio stations within the next year or so; many will have three and the big metropolitan centers may have as many as eight, or more.

Lubbock, for example, is certain to have a second station; El Paso, with two now, is certain to have a third; and such small places as Silver City, N. M., will soon have their own ethereal outlets.

Why by January 1, 1947, the listener won't even have to twist a dial to get a program. All he'll have to do is barely move the knob to change from one station to another!

Verily, the Federal Communications commission will have to be composed of a collection of Solomons if the best and wisest action is taken in every instance where competing groups are seeking permits in the same town. Vying for the right to operate a second station here, for instance, are three groups, each offering more or less the same argument in their individual behalf.

Whether the listening public and owners of stations will profit much when there is a broadcasting concern on almost every corner is a matter of conjecture.

But the guys who make radio broadcasting equipment; records and electrical transcriptions, and the lawyers who specialize in radio matters in Washington are really going to get well!

THE overwhelming majority of the American people are shown by the Gallup Poll to oppose our sharing the atomic bomb secret with other nations. Scientists, who admittedly know more about the subject than mere laymen, think we should share the secret with one and all among the United Nations.

Every person has a right to his own opinion, no matter how wrong it may be. But we were interested in a new twist to the question, in the form of a comment by Dr. Walter R. G. Baker, vice-president of the General Electric Co. Said he:

"It is not so much a question of other nations discovering the secret of the atomic bomb, but whether or not there is another country rich enough and industrially strong enough actually to make one."

Thus we learn by reading between the lines that the harnessing of atomic power is extremely costly—more costly than most of us dreamed.

Since Japan and Germany are supposed to be broken for generations to come, and England already has the bomb knowledge, the inference is that Russia is likely to be the only power on earth today with everything needed to (1) discover the secret, and (2) produce the bomb.

The question thus is rendered down to whether or not we shall give Russia all the dope we have on the bomb; not whether we shall make the knowledge general among the United Nations.

If it were left up to The Plainsman, he'd vote "No," fully as gleefully as he always has voted against Wilbert Lee O'Daniel.

How would you vote?

THE governor of Indiana has asked one of the senators from his state to see if he can't get President Truman to set the date of Thanksgiving right away — so we won't be wondering about it.

Perhaps the governor is as fed up with uncertainty as the rest of us—and figures it is now time to give folks a few certainties besides death and taxes to live by.

We thought most of our uncertainties would be over with the end of the war—and of course we were relieved of the biggest, most important one, "When will the war end?"

But thousands and thousands of Americans overseas and their families back home are still nagged by another uncertainty. They haven't the slightest idea when the men will get home.

And thousands and thousands of workers and their families are facing an uncertain future, because they don't know what or where the next job will be.

There is still, also, the uncertainty of when many of the things we need to buy will be back on the shelves.

WHAT OF THE FUTURE

AND thousands of parents are wondering what the future holds for high school age sons—whether they'll be called on to get into uniform or will be allowed to continue their educations uninterrupted.

There is so much we don't know in this post-war world, that life, except for the one big if, seems almost as uncertain as it did in wartime.

So no wonder the governor of Indiana thinks it would be nice if we could count ahead of time on Thanksgiving's being a certain day.

We need to be able to count on a few things. We're weary of living by "If's" and When's.'

THE PEOPLE ARE BECOMING PRACTICAL

The American citizenship, as indicated in recent Gallup polls, has shucked off its Santa Claus complex. We, apparently, are no longer inclined to open our purses to just any nation's pleas for financial succor. We have developed, in the last two decades, a cold, business sense which is bound to be all for our good.

Gallup surveys revealed strong opposition among the people against complying with Russia and Great Britain's requests for huge loans. They are remembering, no doubt, the numerous times this country got "stung" in post-World war 1, and during the last war, as well.

Sixty per cent of the populace disapproves granting the six billion dollars that Russia has requested; and approximately the same per cent is against the five billion loan asked by Britain.

One of the surprising findings is that the American people believe that Russia would be more likely to repay the loan than Britain. This is probably due to Russia's wartime record of keeping her word, her frank approach to international problems and her practice of talking "above the table."

Obviously, the polls do not indicate that the rank-and-file hold unfriendly feelings toward either Britain or Russia. They merely are opposed to the idea of foreign loans.

It goes without saying that the United States has a considerable financial problem of its own. It is in no condition to float such huge loans as those asked by our allies. Russia, for one, seems to have the natural resources and the industrial capacity to get by without outside aid. Many Americans are probably opposed to financing Britain because of its recent switch to radicalism.

Refusal to grant big loans, especially to two of the most powerful countries in the world, is not being isolationist, we think. There are several other countries which need assistance far more than Britain or Russia. Plainly, we cannot take it upon ourselves to feather the nest of all nations in need.

Congress Sabotages Department Of Peace

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—This columnist recently proposed that we begin thinking a little more about the Sermon on the Mount in our international relations, and among other things establish a Department of Peace.

It was suggested that along with the Department of War and the Navy department, we set up as our first line of defense a Department of Peace to promote the idea that the only alternative of the atom bomb is to teach the world and ourselves that we must get along with each other. Because if there is another war, we face the end of civilization.

PEARSON

One aftermath of this idea is significant. It occurred in the appropriations committee of the House of Representatives the other day when its members voted appropriations for the State department.

It happens that the nearest thing we have to a Department of Peace is the Department of State. That organization is by no means perfect, and might not be ideal to operate a Department of Peace. But its new chief, Jimmy Byrnes, has some good ideas and is working hard to establish new bureaus for spreading goodwill and helping peace.

He is trying to carry on the ideas of the Office of War Information which furnished propaganda to newspapers, aimed to raise salaries. For years State department officials have struggled along on starvation wages. This is partly the fault of the wealthy career clique which wanted to keep wages low and thus operate a closed shop for themselves. So Secretary of State Byrnes is trying to raise diplomatic wages as the first step toward having alert diplomats guard the peace front.

However, when Byrnes' appropriation bill got up before his old friends in Congress the other day, the House appropriations committee slashed it to ribbons. They particularly cut the new agencies patterned on the general idea of a Department of Peace.

Worst knifer of Byrnes' peace-front plans was Committee Chairman Clarence Cannon from Truman's home state, Missouri

Meanwhile the War and Navy departments are still able to get just about all the money they want.

NAVY NURSE

EARLY last week this column told how Navy Capt. W. J. Slattery, commander at Banana River, Fla., had used Navy planes on various junkets to arrange for an admirals' "clam bake" on the British Bahaman island at Cat Cay.

Captain Slattery is anxious to have enlisted men remain in the Navy and recently suppressed an issue of the base newspaper "Banana Peelings" because it contained opinions by men and junior officers against remaining in the Navy.

It now develops that Captain Slattery has other reasons besides airplane pleasure-rides for liking the Navy. He also has had the use of an athletic specialist as a glorified nursemaid to take care of his children.

Athletic specialists are generally used for rehabilitating veterans who have suffered loss of legs or arms. But Captain Slattery used 2nd Class Athletic Specialist Robert Beal to take care of his two sons all summer. Now that school has started, Athlete Beal works only half-time.

However, he is on call by the captain either morning or afternoon which means that he is practically on full time call. Beal has at his disposal a pick-up truck on which he has a No. 1 priority. Also at his children's disposal are the facilities of the boat house and the rifle range where the athletic specialist takes them shooting.

If other Navy men could get similar privileges perhaps they'd stay in the Navy too.

WHY MEN LEAVE NAVY

WORRIED about the failure of men and officers to remain in the Navy, Secretary of the Navy Forrestal recently put out an order to naval separation centers to interview the next 100 reserve officers who came up for discharge. The result showed bitter resentment on the part of reserve officers against the Annapolis clique. Here are some typical interviews quoted verbatim:

"The only reason I would join the Navy again would be if I were starving."

"It's mighty late for the Navy to try to sell itself to reservists."

"I think the officers of the regular Navy are grasping, pushing and self-centered."

"The attitude of the majority of Annapolis officers to reservists is that they are to be endured only for the time being."

"The Annapolis grads should cast aside their childish attitude."

Perhaps the bitterest comment came from a reserve officer who in civilian life had been a professor at the University of North Carolina. When interviewed by the discharge officer as to what he thought of the Navy, he replied:

"One skipper, a regular Navy officer, was drunk and missed his ship. I was forced to take the ship into battle. Was anything done to him? No. He was an Annapolis graduate."

CONGRESS ABSENTEEISM

MOST Washington visitors are anxious to see Congress in session. However, the majority come away scratching their heads, wondering how Congress gets anything done at all.

The other day, two hours after the session got underway, the galleries of the House of Representatives were moderately crowded. However, the floor was as devoid of congressmen as Speaker Rayburn's head is barren of hair.

Rayburn, seated in the presiding officer's chair, seemed a little ashamed of the poor attendance. Out of the 435 members of the House, exactly five were in the chamber, three Republicans and two Democrats. One of the Democrats was speaking on the full employment bill. Congressman Claire Hoffman of Michigan was heckling him. In a far corner, another Republican sat whispering with Senator White of Maine, GOP leader who had come over from the Senate for a visit. The other Republican and the other Democrat sat reading the afternoon papers.

This, of course, is the way Congress has functioned for generations and somehow or other they seem to get things done.

"Try And Stop Me"
By Bennett Cerf

MARK TWAIN was a distinguished-looking figure in his later years. One day he was strolling in the park when a little girl pattered up to him and asked if she could walk with him.

Highly flattered, Twain told her stories for an hour, then gave her a nickel and said, "Now run along home—and when you grow up you can tell your friends you once walked with Mark Twain."

"Mark Twain!" echoed the little girl, bursting into tears. "I thought you were Buffalo Bill!"

Twain received countless letters and photographs from harmless souls all over the world who insisted that they looked just like him. He finally composed a form letter to acknowledge such communications. It read: "I thank you very much for your letter and your photograph. In my opinion, you are now more like me than any other of my numerous doubles. I may even say that you resemble me more closely than I do myself. In fact, I intend to use your picture to shave by. Yours thankfully, S. Clemens."

Speaking of Mark Twain's doubles, Frederic March's portrayal on the screen was a triumph of acting and makeup. While the picture was in production, March passed Jack Benny on the studio lot, but didn't see him. "How do you like that?" commented Benny. "March is made up so good he doesn't even recognize me!"

TYPEWRITER DOODLING: Talk about under-statements! Eminent Scientist Dr. Vannevar Bush says—"I don't think that a future war would necessarily end civilization, but it would certainly set it back so far that it wouldn't be fun!" . . . The other night an announcer fluffed: "Abomic tomb." It recalls the most hilarious tang tongueler. A broadcaster wanted to say: "Do you want a Civil Service job?" and it came out: "Do you want a chivel jervis sob?" . . . Post-war note: Some unknown brands of cigarettes which popped up during the ciggie shortage are now being hawked for a nickel per pack. . . . When an American soldier (whose home is in Hawaii) is stationed in the United States—he gets overseas pay. . . . A wave of strikes gripped the nation after every war — except the Revolutionary war. . . . Why lobbyists are potent enough to half-nelson legislators: A new real estate lobby has just been established in Washington. It starts with a half-million dollar fund.

The Norlyst Gallary on E. 56th has an engrossing photographic exhibit depicting the contribution of minorities to our democracy. . . . The British London Observer revealed thata over 23,000 inmates of a Nazi concentration camp died since they were "liberated"! . . . Laval's suicide attempt wasn't surprising: He was afraid to die like a man—because he never lived like one.

WINCHELL

First-nighters are once again draping themselves with white tie and tails, now that the war has ended. It offers a devastating commentary on their war "sacrifices." Their contribution consisted of putting their fancy duds in mothballs for the duration.

Who said Britishers are staid? British movie magnate J. Arthur Rank is quoted: "You know, everything over here is so mugh bigger. I suppose Americans are so used to things being big that they think of them as even bigger than they really are. Now, for example, consider the way your advertisements play up the size of the female bust."

A FRONT-PAGE yarn this week informs thata American and British officials are mapping plans "to eradicate cartels." We've heard such vows before. We will be skeptical about those promises—until they are carried out. . . . The A-bomb has aroused so much interest a complex technical tome on that subject is now a top-seller.

Here is a pungent illustration of the Nazi mentality. War criminal Karl Frank is the former Gauleiter of Czechoslovakia. When Czech authorities questioned him recently he was asked what he knew about the murder of Lidice. Frank replied that he remembered it "only vaguely" . . . He then added: "After all, that was only a very small community."

Military expert Maj. Alexander de Saversky told reporters that the next war will be won with "one massive air blow unaided by an Army or Navy." . . . France was liberated a little more than a year ago. Yet they have already tried and convicted many of their traitors. In America we are still dawdling about putting our swastistinkers on trial.

Pres. Truman's pet definition: "A statesman is a dead politician." . . . A photo mag displayed sympathetic photos about the suffering of Nazis who are now refugees. Sorry we can't work up any pity for them. They don't rate any mercy — because they are the victims of their own crimes. . . . Movieville is so hungry for yarns producers are shelling out tremendous sums for options on novels — often before the author has put a line on paper! . . . Observation: The punks trying to incite another war are too old to fight in it.

MEBBE you've heard this chuckler before, but we haven't: A novelist moved to an upstate farm because he thought it would be a good place to write. When an inquiring neighbor asked (between squirts of tobacco juice) what crops the stranger intended to raise, the scribe was momentarily stumped. Then he happened to recall what his wife had said about the city being no place to bring up children. . . . "I'm going to raise children," he said brightly. . . . The farmer drawled: "Around here we look on that as a sideline!"

Technicolored television has reared its amazing head. Which means that listeners will soon be able to see the color of the hair on comics' hoary wheezes. . . . Two pretty-faces were discussing the A-bomb in the subway when one ejaculated: "Gee, they ought to be careful what they do with that stuff—it's dynamite!" . . . Historical sidelight: When railroads were introduced in Europe military leaders predicted they would make war obsolete because armies could be moved so swiftly. "It would reduce war to a kind of chaos and thus render it absolutely impractical." . . . Scenarist Nunnally Johnson's slick guide for scribes: "Write every line as though it were a 10-word telegram."

NAZI DISMISSED

BERLIN, Oct. 30. (AP) — The Allied kommandantur announced today the dismissal of Dr. Edmund Noortwyck, head of the Berlin finance and tax department, because inquiry disclosed he was a former officer in the Nazi party's motor corps. Noortwyck was appointed when the Russians ruled Berlin.

Little Credit Is Given Reports About Stalin's Illness, But—

Silly Season For Rumors About Russia Is On

BY MARQUIS CHILDS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The silly season for rumors about Russia is apparently on. "Stalin is dead." Or he's gone to Mars to shoot an atomic bomb at the earth.

This has an unpleasantly familiar ring. It is reminiscent of the rumor-mongering that persisted for years around Hitler and Mussolini.

We were told long before the war that Hitler had cancer of the throat and could not possibly live. Mussolini was on the verge of a mental and physical breakdown after every European crisis.

CHILDS

Many of the rumors about Stalin come from the same "authentic" sources. That is to say, they come from points just about as remote from the sources of authentic news as possible.

Little Credit In Reports

Those who have the best reason to know, because of their current background of knowledge of Russia, are not inclined to put very much credit in the reports of Stalin's illness. The best conjecture, and it is just that, is that he has gone to a favorite retreat in the north Caucases, where there are mineral springs that have curative and restorative properties.

One reason he may have gone away — and again, this is conjecture based on the best inside sources of knowledge — is to get leisure and perspective so that he can make up his mind on certain issues vital to Russia and the world.

STALIN's position today must be measured against the background of the war. Far more than most people realize, he personally directed the conduct of the war against Germany in all its immensity.

Those who were at the Teheran conference remember how on more than one occasion he looked gray and weary. Once he explained that he had been up all night talking on the telephone to Moscow about the war on the Western front. It was one of the chief reasons Stalin insisted on having the conference at Teheran — so that he could be at the end of a telephone wire securely linked to the Kremlin.

Having concentrated so completely on the war, Stalin inevitably let domestic controls slip out of his hands. That is understandable. President Roosevelt, giving the greater part of his time and attention to the war effort, let domestic matters and domestic politics slip.

Is Matter Of Timing

A strong isolationist faction seems to have gained considerable authority inside Russia. In some areas outside the Soviet union, Russian troops appear to be acting quite independently of Soviet foreign policy.

Stalin is faced with a situation he must meet. But he has shown himself to be a master of timing in the past, and he may feel that the time for action has not yet come.

The breakdown of the foreign ministers conference in London is a fact he cannot ignore. There is every reason to believe that the United States will wait for Russia to make the next move. On previous occasions we have sent special envoys to Stalin, but that phase is now ended.

THE feeling in the State department is that the U. S.-British stand was made perfectly plain at London. There will be no recession from that stand. The intention is to make clear the continued willingness of this country to participate in every possible way in the organization of the world on a security basis through the machinery of the United Nations organization.

It happens, of course, that our actions in the Pacific somewhat belie the stand we took in London. Our policy framers intend to try to correct this serious discrepancy.

The rumors flying around the world about Stalin and the state of the Soviet union grow directly out of the heavy censorship and secrecy applied by the Soviets. Our president lives in a goldfish bowl so transparent that the most trivial details of his life are recorded. Stalin moves behind a curtain of secrecy. In that difference lies one of the great obstacles to understanding.

Statehood Invitation To Iceland Proposed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif) proposed today that Iceland be invited to become the 49th state in the American union.

The Californian urged also in resolutions that negotiations be opened with Denmark, Great Britain, France and other countries for the purchase of all islands off the Atlantic coast and in the Pacific ocean and Caribbean sea that are essential to the defense of America, the Panama Canal zone and of the Philippines.

The resolutions contemplate the acquisition without cost of islands in the Pacific which were Japanese.

BUSINESS FOR SALE
A fine small manufacturing business, the only manufacturer of these products in all West Texas. This business is thoroughly established among the automotive jobbers and dealers throughout West Texas, Eastern New Mexico, and Western Kansas. This business has been netting owner from $600.00 to $1,000.00 per month. Other business in a far away town necessitates owner selling this business. A real bargain awaiting some one. $2500.00 cash will handle.

39—Legal Notice

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS (Legal)
NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals addressed to the Honorable Mayor and City Commission of Lubbock, Texas, will be received at the office of M. R. Smith, Jr., City Manager until 2:00 p. m., November 19, 1945, for furnishing all necessary materials, equipment, superintendance and labor for constructing a Sanitary Sewer Interceptor for the City of Lubbock, owner, Lubbock, Texas.

Bidders must submit Cashiers or Certified Check issued by a bank satisfactory to the owner, for 5% of the amount of the base bid, payable without recourse to the order of the City of Lubbock, or a Proposal Bond in the sum of the same amount, from a reliable Surety Company, as a guaranty that Bidder will enter into contract and execute bond and guaranty in the forms provided within ten (10) days after notice of award of contract to him. Bids without required check or Proposal Bond will not be considered.

The Successful Bidder must furnish bond on the attached form in the amount of 100% of contract price from a Surety Company holding a permit from the State of Texas to act as Surety, or other Surety or Sureties acceptable to the OWNER.

All unit prices must be stated in both script and figures. The owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive formalities. In case of ambiguity or lack of clearness in stating the price in the bids, the owner reserves the right to consider the most advantageous construction thereof, or to reject the bid. Unreasonable or "unbalanced" unit prices will authorize the owner to reject the bid.

Bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work and to inform themselves regarding the local conditions and conditions under which the work is to be done. Attention is called to the provisions of the Acts of the 43rd Legislature of the State of Texas, page 91, Chapter 45 (Article No. 5159A Civil Statues 1925) concerning the wage scale and payment of prevailing wages established by the Owner. Said scale of prevailing minimum wage is set forth in the specifications.

Instructions to bidders, proposal forms, specifications and plans are on file at the office of Arch L. Kinz, City Engineer, City Hall, Lubbock, Texas.

Copies may be secured upon deposit of $15.00 to be returned to the Contractor on submission of bona fide bid on the work with such plans and Specifications; or upon returning the Plans and Specifications immediately after examination of same, before the date of receiving bids, and advising the City Engineer that bid will not be submitted; otherwise the deposit shall be forfeited.

M. R. Smith, Jr., City Mgr.

Strike Leader Evades Bullets

GLENDALE, Calif., Oct. 30. (AP)—Herbert K. Sorrell, 48, president of the AFL conference of studio unions which has been striking for eight months at major Hollywood film studios, reported to Glendale police that several shots were fired at him from a black sedan last night as he was backing his own car out of his driveway at his home here.

The strike leader told Police Detectives C. M. Kneller and H. E. Hobson that one shot narrowly missed him as it went through a window just behind him.

Others Missed Car

Sorrell said another shot struck the rear window and riccochetted off. He said at least two other shots were fired but missed his car.

The detectives said they believed the apparent attempt on Sorrell's life was made with a .38 caliber revolver.

Sorrell said he was leaving his home to drive to a store and get a newspaper. He said the car traveled slowly at first and then sped away.

rule by decree.

Explosion Touched Off

The explosion finally was touched off yesterday by Vargas' appointment of his brother, Benjamin, as police chief of Brazil. Known as the president's "mailed fist," Benjamin long had been feared for his readiness to use force on the slightest pretext.

Army generals interpreted the appointment as a tipoff that the elections were to be postponed and gathered in War Minister Goes Monteiro's office for a conference on strategy.

Cordeiro Farias told Vargas that the armed forces were determined to turn over the government to the Supreme court pending elections, but wishing to avoid fighting, Vargas gave in.

Simultaneously, Joao Alberto Lins de Barros resumed his former post of police chief and Benjamin Vargas disappeared from the scene after only a few hours in office.

Lins Barros told newsmen that the police would support Goes Monteiro and the new government.

"I am disposed to maintain liberty and assure the rights of the people," he said. "I will follow the same line of conduct for the police with the advent of the new government."

the House for several weeks, and is expected to be the center of a bitter battle.

One committee member assailed it as "the most vicious anti-labor legislation ever reported by the committee."

In addition to seeking to penalize striking unions, the committee also strengthened a previous provision of the Smith-Connally act prohibiting unions from contributing to primary or general elections for president, vice president or members of Congress.

Any union making such a contribution, or making political assessments against its members, would face a fine of $5,000, and any union officer permitting such a violation could be imprisoned for one year and fined $1,000.

itself was quiet, but beginning to suffer food shortage, because of the breakdown of supply lines, either by Communist troops or roving bandits.

The dispatch said that Nationalist troops now were in Tientsin "in force" and had disarmed an estimated 1,500 officers and men of the Third Advance Army and arrested at least 200 irregular officers, including some generals.

Stock Market

INVESTORS STAND ALOOF

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP) — Investment funds generally shied away from the stock market but late bidding for rails and assorted industrials cushioned the drift which got under way in the preceding session.

Transfers were around 1,100,000 shares.

Principal excuse for lightening commitments or standing aloof was the desire to await this evening's broadcast by the President of his wage-price policy which, Wall Street heard, would advocate pay boosts and maintenance of existing prices in the majority of cases. Passage by the House of the lax relief bill was helpful. The dark labor picture, however, still was a restraining influence.

Contesting the trend were Western Auto Supply, Standard Gas preferred, American Telephone, Chrysler, N. Y. Central, Great Northern and Nickel Plate preferred. Casualties included Bethlehem, General Motors, Santa Fe, U. S. Rubber, Eastern Air Lines, Douglas, Allied Chemical, National Distillers, American Can, General Electric and Western Union "A".

Bonds were irregular.

DEFEAT POSTWAR PLAN

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP) — Lincoln voters have turned their backs on the city's proposed $2,975,000 postwar construction program.

The proposition was defeated by a vote of better than 2-to-1 at a recent election.

Second-guessers explained the program lost out because the 14 separate projects were included as a single unit. If the voters had been permitted to accept some and reject others, according to post mortems, many would have been approved.

REVALUE FARMLAND

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—The way is paved in Nebraska for fair evaluation of farm lands.

Under a law passed by the 1945 legislature, county boards may appoint local real estate classification committees, to examine and classify rural property. County assessors then must value the land according to committee recommendations.

Allied Air Power

ground forces. Its power and superiority made possible the success of the invasion.

Economy Virtually Collapsed

"It brought the economy which sustained the enemy's armed forces to virtual collapse, although the full effects of this collapse had not reached the enemy's front lines when they were overrun by Allied forces. It brought home to the German people the full impact of modern war with all its horror and suffering. Its imprint on the German nation will be lasting."

Almost 2,700,000 tons of bombs were dropped, more than 1,440,000 bomber sorties and 2,680,000 fighter sorties were flown. The number of combat planes reached a peak of some 28,000 and at the maximum 1,300,000 men were in combat commands.

The survey noted that it was surprising how quickly the Germans could bring back industrial production after a raid. In the oil industry alone 350,000 men were assigned to the job of trying to see that production was kept going. But after Germany lost the control of the air repeat attacks defeated efforts of the repair crews.

Tried Industrial Bombing

The British experimented briefly with industrial bombing, then concentrated on bombing cities.

But the survey found that "the city attacks of the RAF prior to the autumn of 1944, did not substantially affect the course of German war production."

As a rule industrial plants were located around the perimeter of the cities and were relatively undamaged. Production would receive a moderate set-back after a raid, but would recover substantially within a few weeks.

The U. S. Air Forces entered the war with the view that industries and services — oil refineries, transportation, marshalling yards —were the most promising targets.

Weather Was Handicap

However, most bombing operations over Germany had to be conducted under weather and battle conditions which restricted bombing technique and accuracy suffered accordingly, the appraisers said.

Survey studies showed that only about 20 per cent of the bombs aimed at precision targets fell within the target area, a circle of 1,000 feet radius around the point attacked.

With the reduction of German air power, oil became the priority target. Attacks on the Ploesti oil fields in Rumania in 1944, together with mining the Danube, materially reduced Rumanian deliveries. The Russian occupation finally eliminated this source of supply.

Oil Plants Blasted

Germany then depended on synthetic oil plants and by July, 1944, everyone had been hit. Production dropped to a low of 5,000 tons in September 1944. The Germans viewed the attacks as catastrophic, the survey found.

The attack on transportation was the decisive blow which completely disorganized the German economy, the committee said. It reduced war production in all categories and made it difficult to move what was produced to the front.

The survey declared that all in all industrial bombing was more effective than "area" bombing—the pounding of cities.

Franklin D'Olier, president of the Prudential Insurance Co. and first national commander of the American Legion, was chairman of the survey.

SENATOR IS INJURED

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 30 (AP) — U. S. Senator Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind) suffered a broken left ankle, cuts about the face and a badly-lacerated tongue in a head-on automobile collision 15 miles northeast of Indianapolis early today.

YOUTH IS ELECTROCUTED

SONORA, Oct. 30. (AP)—Shirel Whitmire, 16, of Mayflower, Ark., was electrocuted here last night when he reached out to grasp a metallic post on a bridge. His companion, Billy Guest, ran for help but the victim gasped only five times after help arrived.

Quick-freezing garden products to insure a horn of plenty the year round is important in these days of rationing. Up-to-the-minute hints on freezing can be found in the new Emergency Food commission leaflet, "Primer on Freezing Vegetables." Address request to Fernow Hall, Cornell University, Ithaca, New York.

SWING STUFF

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., — The jump and jive of the jitterbugs has to take a back seat to the polka as far as action is concerned.

General Electric company scientists report that vibration meter tests of the atmosphere of a dancing studio registered the polka at 170 mills per second. The best the jitterbugs could do was 120 vibrations.

CHOOSEY

KANSAS CITY — "Butch was the strangest of all," Col. Thomas G. Corbin said in describing to folks at home the pets his unit had overseas.

"He was a brown mongrel picked up by a gunner and inspired with a disdain for officers," Corbin said. "Except for the insignia, it seemed to us that every man in the group, 4,000 or more, wore the same kind of outfit. Butch might meet two relative strangers to him, one a lieutenant, the other a private. He would come up, tail wagging, to get a pat from the private, but if the lieutenant put out his hand, Butch shied away."

EAGER

KANSAS CITY — Someone's ahead of his neighbors—he has the first 1946-model vehicle stolen in Kansas City.

Police said a 1946-model Dodge ½-ton pickup truck with only 26 miles registered on its speedometer along with 25 new tires was missing. The truck had no rear fenders, no license plates and was the first 1946 car reported stolen in Kansas City, they added.

BAD MANNERS

BOISE, Idaho. — Fireman Howard Swope mounted an 85 foot rescue ladder while citizens applauded his daring feat of mercy.

But the object of the rescue, atop a utility pole for three days, had a strange way of saying "thanks."

Swope descended with a profusion of lacerations. "I never did see anything quite so mad," se said, as a large yellow tomcat leaped from his arms.

Texas Youth, 15, Gets Life Term In Slaying

ATOKA, Okla., Oct. 30 (AP)—A district court jury today convicted Ernest Entland, 15, Austin, Tex., of murder in the Aug. 20 "hitchhike" slaying of McGraw E. Streckenfinger, Pittsburg, Kas., and sentenced him to life imprisonment.

County Attorney W. H. Parker said sentence had not yet been passed on two other youths, Billy Slussler, 17, and Oma Dixon Claunch, 14, both of Austin, who pleaded guilty to murder charges in the same case. A murder charge also has been filed against Ann Doser, 18, Oklahoma City, in the case.

Hike In Production Of Texas Oil Seen

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP) — The railroad commision today added three producing days, except for the Panhandle and East Texas fields, to the November statewide oil production pattern, making an average daily allowable of 2,016,198 barrels beginning Nov. 1.

This was an increase of 207,449 barrels over the average daily allowable reported Oct. 27.

Commission Chairman Olin Culberson said the increase was granted to meet firm demand of refineries.

The altered November allowable is about 217,000 barrels below purchaser nominations and slightly above the Bureau of Mines estimates of daily demand in Texas.

Nome Under Martial Law After Storm

NOME, Alaska, Oct. 30. (AP)—Military police are standing guard today over buildings which contain all winter supplies for this storm-buffeted town.

Martial law was declared here yesterday by Col. W. B. Morgan, commanding officer of the Nome Army base, after gale-whipped waves undermined structures along the waterfront and piled water a foot deep on Nome's main street.

Winds swept down the Bering straits at 50 to 80 miles an hour yesterday, leveled the village of Unalakleet, whipped across Nome and then moved southward.

Armed Service Plan

chief of staff of Army ground forces and a veteran of European campaigning, presented the plan to the Senate military committee for the War department.

"Merger" Not Proposed

He asserted the Army was not proposing to "merge" the services, but to "integrate" them with maximum autonomy for each.

Collins' statement was the first detailed public discussion of the plan to establish at least three and possibly four assistant secretaryships.

A civilian assistant secretary should be provided "to coordinate the military program of scientific research" with the activities of any national civilian research agency set up later and with the great civilian laborators of the country, he said.

Other Units Proposed

The Army proposed an assistant secretary for procurement and industrial mobilization. Working with that office, but directly under the chief of staff of the armed forces would be another unit, the director of common supply and hospitalization. That officer, said Collins, should be responsible for procuring items needed commonly by all services, such a sfood and blankets.

Collins' statement also suggested a civilian assistant secretary to supervise legislative matters and public information.

The fourth department might handle military intelligence. Collins said "there can be no question" about the need for coordination.

Collins said the joint chiefs of staff — a wartime agency composed of the high commands of the Army, Navy, Air Forces and the White House military chief of staff —should be continued. But his recommendation was that it have recommending authority only on military policy, strategy and budget requirements.

China's Civil Strife Is Grave Situation

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The resurgence of bloody strife between the powerful Chinese Communist armies and Generalissimo Chaing Kai-Shek's government forces may signal the dread civil war which long has threatened China — a disaster of the first magnitude.

A worried world heaved a sigh of relief in mid-October when the Chinese Reds and the generalissimo reached an agreement which ostensibly meant peace at long last. However, the ink was scarcely dry on the pact before the clash at arms was resumed and swelled until now heavy fighting is reported in numerous parts of the country, especially the northern section which is the stronghold of the Communists.

Civil War Long Feared

You may recall that as far back as early 1943 I reported in this column, after a visit to China, that well informed observers feared the fierce quarrel could be settled only by civil war. The two factions were working under a truce in face of their common Japanese enemy, but even then there were sanguinary clashes and the great fear was that the all-out civil upheaval would come before the Japs were beaten.

Whether we have now arrived at the show-down remains to be seen. We shouldn't rush to conclusions, but the situation is grave.

The trouble is that trying to make a union of the Chinese Communists and General Chiang's Kuomintang dictatorship is like attempting to mix oil and water. The ideas and ideals of the two factions are as far apart as the poles. They just don't mix.

Link With Russia Denied

Right here it should be pointed out that the Chinese Communists claim there's no relationship between them and the Russian Communists. General Chou En-Lai, one of the Chinese Communist leaders, assured me that there was no link with Moscow and that the Chinese Reds were mainly agrarians who were interested in bettering the state of the farmer.

Well, far be it from me to dispute the word of Chou En-Lai (who incidentally is a charming gentleman to meet). However, one may remark that what he said could be true, and it still could be equally true that the Chinese brand of communism had its origin in Russia. There have been many signs of at least a sympathetic understanding on the part of Moscow.

Force Is Favored

In this connection it may be significant that sources favoring Chiang's government say they believe the only way to unify the nation is to eliminate the Communists by force, and they think the generalissimo could do it in from three to six months. They go further and figure he would start an offensive against the Chinese Reds if he weren't fearful of the reaction of other countries, especially America, and the possibility that Russia might support his enemies.

Chungking observers are frankly pessimistic about the chances of reconciliation between the Chinese Communists and Chiang's government, the atmosphere of the ancient city is heavy with gloom.

Great Suffering Seen

And what would civil war bring to China? There is no conflict so terrible as civil strife. It would mean that the country's five hundred millions would endure an agony far greater than anything they experienced during the Japanese invasion. It would ham-string rehabilitation of the nation's shattered economic structure. China's proud designation as one of the "big four" would indeed be an empty phrase.

It also might mean, as I see the picture, a further division of China. Unless Generalissimo Chiang could crush the Reds — and they are powerful — they likely would split off a huge territory in northern China and set up an independent state there. Indeed, in the long run such a division may be the only solution.

Could this be a moment where the Big Three might use their influence to halt the strife?

New Mexico Officer To Get High Award

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (U.P.) — Brig. Gen. William C. Crane, Fort Bayard, N. M., has been awarded the Distinguished Service medal, the War department announced today.

The award was given, according to the citation, because of Gen. Crane's display of exceptional professional ability and leadership while serving as commanding general of the Fourth Corps Artillery from June, 1944, to May, 1945, during that phase of the Italian campaign which ended with the surrender of all German forces in Italy.

The War department announcement said: "His intense loyalty, tireless, unflagging energy, and devotion to duty are worthy of high praise, and exemplify the highest traditions of the United States Army."

Draft Board Sends 27 Men For Exams

Lubbock County Selective Service Board No. 1 sent 27 registrants to Fort Bliss via bus Monday for pre-induction physical examinations, Mrs. Viola Younger, chief clerk, announced.

Those reporting were Windell Royce Nichols, Harry LeMaire, Vernon H. Caldwell, Louis D. Moon, George Benton Melet, Wallace T. McMinn, John Wade McCrummen, H. R. Roger, Gerald M. Dunlap, Harold N. Hawkins, Ralph E. Hager, Clifford E. Newton, Adolph N. Hawran, Harvey C. Smyrl, William Arthur Kennedy, Robert E. Ruckel, Thomas R. Polk, Kenneth D. ## Speeding Driver Just Wanted To See Chase

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30 (U.P.) — After an 85-mile-per-hour chase of a careening and screeching car over city streets, police got this excuse from the 21 year old driver: "I just wanted to see you chase me."

After "seeing the police chase them," the driver and his companion were placed in city jail.

First Come, First Served Is How You Will Get New Cars; No Priorities Are Planned

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (U.P.) — The only things standing between you and a new car are money and time. You don't have to worry about a priority.

The OPA and WPB announced yesterday that new autos will not be rationed. They will go on a first-come, first-served basis, which is especially good news if you know a dealer.

"Naturally," said Price Chief Chester Bowles, "some individuals will be inconvenienced by their inability to buy new cars immediately. We ask, however, that dealers everywhere give special consideration to unusual hardship cases."

Started In 1942

Auto rationing started early in 1942, when new car production halted, and ended last July. The decision not to resume it on new models was reached after months of deliberation.

Bowles and War Production Board Chairman J. A. Krug said that with new car production underway and some 24,000,000 autos still on the road, there is no longer danger of a breakdown in the auto transportation system. But they asked motorists to take good care of their cars because it will be some time before everyone can get a new one.

Prices of new cars have not been announced, but Bowles has indicated they will cost slightly more than 1942 models.

Startling Hairdo Is Too Much For Co-ed's Parents

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 30 (AP) —A new hairdo—"skunk locks"—has been adopted by the bobby-soxers at the South High school.

Dark-haired girls use bleaching solution to turn one lock of hair blonde.

Co-ed Darleen Buckley admitted the result was startling, and she added:

"My parents were stunned at first—but they're reconciled now."

Old-Time Vehicles Sought For Show

DALLAS, Oct. 30 (U.P.)—If you have a slightly used stage coach, buckboard or chuckwagon on your hands—here's the news you've been waiting for.

Officials of the greater pan-American Hereford exposition to open in Dallas on Nov. 9 issued an appeal today for frontier vehicles.

They want ancient horse-drawn vehicles from all parts of Texas for use in an elaborate livestock parade which will open the 10-day exposition.

Lubbock Woman Is Insurance Official

Other officers elected include Miss Bene Eudy of Lubbock, recording secretary.

Wreckage Of Plane Is Found At Anchorage

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Oct. 30 (AP)—A ground rescue party radioed at 11:35 A.M. (4:35 P.M. EST) that it had found a big C-54 transport plane, reported to have crashed on a mountain 15 miles east of here enroute from Edmonton, Alta. The rescuers reported two men alive. Fate of the other five reported aboard the plane was not determined.

The rescuers' walkie-talkie operator asked for two stretchers, a gas stove, a toboggan, clothing and bandages to aid in bringing out the survivors.

The big Army air transport arrived over Anchorage at 2:25 o'clock this morning and circled the field, awaiting landing instructions. It was not heard from again.
