Rockport P.T.L. Rummage Sale

Saturday, March 4, the Rockport Elementary P.T.L. is holding a rummage sale at the Port Little Storage building #6 Highway 35, to try to raise funds to air-condition the school library.

If you need pick up service call Blas Ramirez at 729-7232. Contributions of money are quite acceptable and will be appreciated; also, we'll be happy to give you a receipt on any item or money contribution, if you wish. See you Saturday!

marks the twenty-second annual observance of this occasion. Public Schools Week was originated in 1950 as a public service project for the sole purpose of stimulating and advancing the general interest in public education in Texas. This traditional observance during the first full week in March has won widespread approbation and support.

This year is the 118th Anniversary of the founding of the public free schools in Texas. We are given an opportunity to reflect upon the great heritage of freedom and self-reliance bestowed upon us, and which we are obligated to pass on to posterity.

To close the week of visitation and observance locally, a music program will be given in the high school auditorium on Friday evening, March 10, 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend this program.

County Receives Drainage Request

Paul Johnson and M. W. Cochran appeared before Aransas County Commissioners Court Tuesday and requested a number of actions to improve drainage in Sylvan Heights in South Fulton where Johnson plans to build eight homes. Commissioner Raymond Owens said he and county surveyor Tommy Griffith will investigate the matter.

In another matter, the Commissioners voted to deny a request from Larry Buckelew who claimed that a county dirt moving vehicle crushed his septic tank while depositing dirt on his property. Buckelew asked that the county pay him $170. In connection with this matter, the Commissioners Court voted that from now on, the County will not haul dirt to any private property.

The commissioners approved an application from Southwestern Bell Telephone Company to cross Curlew Drive, Whooching Crane Lane and Bayshore Drive.

Present at the Commissioners Court session were County Judge John D. Wendell, Commissioners W. B. Allen, Charlie Hale, Wanda Sparks and Raymond Owens, and County Clerk Ruby Hart.

Debbie Wells Miss Rockport

Miss Debbie Wells, age 16, was crowned Miss Rockport Thursday night, February 24. She and her family moved to Rockport from Banquette, Texas, only eight months ago. The Rockport-Fulton Tourist Association congratulates Miss Wells, and will do everything to make this her very special year.

Jean Williams was first runner-up. She is 17 years old, and her interests are varied.

Second runner-up was Jeannie Kleypas. She is 17 and has lived here all her life. She likes sailing, diving, swimming, and the trampoline.

JEANNIE KLEYPAS

She plans to major in music and wants to teach.

The contestants for the Little Miss and Mr. Rockport portion of the program were enjoyed by one and all. They were all so cute, and individually different, the out of town judges had difficulty in making their decisions. The winners of the Little Miss and Mr. Rockport were: Miss Elisa Lonazno, and Tommy Barnard. Their personalities enveloped the standing-room crowd, and everyone

Miss South Texas, Shelley Lee, attended the pageant, and crowned Miss Wells. She is a lovely young lady. The pageant was tastefully done by Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Goodman. Although the program was a bit long—due to the number of finalists, everyone enjoyed the program. Joe Sengler was in charge of the music and arrangements. His music was superb.

Tourist Association President Joe Lister, chairman Bob Hill, and chairman Carl Duckworth, wish to thank the many people who made the Beauty Pageant possible. Next year, they plan to do it again, only bigger and better—although that doesn't hardly seem possible.

Suffered Worst Defeat

John Quincy Adams was the most badly defeated presidential candidate, excluding those nominated by minor parties, in U.S. history. In the election of 1820, he received only one electoral vote.

Boy Scouts Hold Blue and Gold Banquet

The annual Blue and Gold Banquet for the Boy Scouts of America was held Saturday night, February 26, at the Junior and Senior High School cafeteria. The decorating of tables was done entirely by the boys in the scouting program.

Cubmaster Phil Colling gave the welcoming speech to the scouts and their parents followed by the flag ceremony by the Den Chiefs and graduating Webelos. Invocation was given by Mike Vermillion.

Special introductions were made as follows: James Gillis, President of Rockport Lions Club, sponsoring institution; Walter Falk, institution representative; Tom McGlathery, Webelo Leader; Chester Barre, Committee Chairman; and Melvin Mills and Willie Rice, Committeemen.

The dinner was served cafeteria-style and consisted of many delicious dishes prepared by the mothers of the scouts.

After-dinner activities started with Chester Barre leading the singing "Birthdays of Scouting" with the audience participating with lighted candles on cupcakes, John Leslie, who had to leave early to attend another scouting celebration at Live Oak Elementary School, gave a short, but extremely interesting talk on the history of scouting in America.

Everyone Has Their Own Little Chore

You will also see the various members of the circus family doing their various parts in getting the circus ready to entertain you. Some of the actors will be getting their props and equipment inside the tent, others will be washing or cleaning costumes. The property men will be hanging trapeze riggings, setting up the ring curbs, etc. Canvas men will be getting the tent up and the seats in place. The animal men will be seeing that their charges are fed and watered and readied for the performance, and most important to everyone connected the cook will be preparing tasty meals for all employees.

Many people who come to the circus never stop to think of all the efforts that have been made to make their visit an enjoyable one, others wonder how all this is accomplished in so short a time. If you are one of these persons, you and anyone else who wish are invited down to the show grounds to see Dixie and all the other circus employees get things done in so short a time. Dixie and most of these people will also take the tent down again as soon as the show is over. Everyone has a job to do, everything has a special place to be loaded and seldom is anything ever left on the lot after the circus has left town.

Get your tickets from the sponsor ahead of time and save time, money, and help the sponsor make a much larger amount of money which they use in various civic projects.

Almost 250 students and faculty enjoyed the presentation but even more important is the fact that each learned something about the problems facing the wild creatures as man continues to destroy their natural habitat and food.

Bay Shore Court News

February birthdays were celebrated last Friday at Bay Shore Court with cake and coffee around the picnic tables. Hostesses were Mrs. Walter Wood, Mrs. Jack Smith and Mrs. Lillie Rowse. After refreshments several games of shuffleboard were played.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Eino Onkka, Windom, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Byron Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wood and Clarence Prescott, Clear Lake, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, Annandale, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Jullis, Sterling, Neb.; Mrs. Lillie Rowse, Perham, Minn.; Mrs. Fern Stuthett, Lincoln, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Max Nickel, Spearfish, So. Dak.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Houlihan, Sioux City, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Reynolds, Orleans, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taylor, Alledo, Ill.; Mrs. Frances McCoulogh, Mrs. Harold Koert and sons, Mrs. Robert Loflin and daughter and Mrs. Pat Loflin, all of Fulton.

VESTED INTEREST, one might say of this go-together look. A sleeveless knit vest zipped over matching jacquard-pattern skirt that's mostly plum and orange.

A cuff from a worn flannel shirt just fits around the head of a sewing machine. Just button it on and use for a convenient pin cushion.

F.T.A. News

On Friday, February 25, three F.T.A. members, Diana Moore, Debbie Mitchell, and Pam Lister, accompanied sponsor Mrs. Dee Mitchell and her husband to the annual State F.T.A. Convention in Dallas.

Friday they attended general sessions, and that night a dance was held for all members of F.T.A. attending the state convention.

Saturday they attended workshops and the last closing session, which consists of the awarding of prizes, election of officers for the coming year, and announcing of a Mr. and Miss F.T.A.

They returned home Sunday afternoon. The state convention is an annual trip of our local chapter and the three highest ranking members of the club are chosen to go according to a point system. This creates a spirit of competition within the club.

No Smoking, Please

Fire Marshall Elva Mullinax warns local people NOT to smoke in service stations when cars are being filled with gasoline. He says there is a state law which prohibits smoking by not only service station employees but also customers when gas is being poured into the tanks of autos.

Conquest of Cancer

The conquest of cancer is now a national goal. Both Houses of Congress, both political parties and the President of the United States supported the legislation setting up an agency that will intensify efforts to find causes and cures of cancer, and with it additional vitally needed financing.

We think our readers are sophisticated people who know that important laws such as this just doesn't happen. There's a long history of work and education behind them. Here we want to single out one agency, a voluntary, private agency made up of Americans all over the country, for its part in this achievement. The organization is the American Cancer Society. Little more than 25 years ago the government and private agencies together spent a meager $1,000,000 for cancer research. It is the American Cancer Society which awakened the nation to the tragedy of cancer and the need for a greater research attack against the disease. It was the prodding of the Society that helped establish the government's National Cancer Institute and its research program. At the same time the Society developed its own research supporting programs, second only to the NCI. So, too, with the new legislation making the conquest of cancer a national priority, the patience and the persistent prodding of the American Cancer Society helped pave the way to this legislation.

If history teaches an important lesson in this battle against cancer it is the importance of the private voluntary work along with the governmental action. One suffers without the other. Neither can do the job alone. The pioneering work of the American Cancer Society in all its programs, including education and service as well as research must and will continue. It deserves our generous support more than ever in this year's Cancer Crusade.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT

By Carl Duckworth

It's raining today. Tourists are staying put. Probably walking the floor, back and forth saying, "It couldn't rain Monday. It's gotta rain on the weekend we plan to come to the coast. . . Just our luck."

A true fisherman though, doesn't let a little thing like rain and adverse weather stop his fishing. . . It just takes a little more time to get ready. Find the rain gear, and tell the little woman he's going fishing. (a small argument follows.) Make sure he has plenty of cigarettes and check his lighter to see how the fluid is holding out. (more discussion from wife.) Make certain he has his needle-nose pliers, a good rag, stringer, extra hooks, and a spare cork. Do a little more arguing with wife.

Bait bucket. Where's the bait bucket? Oh yes, it's outside the door. Let's see. What else . . . Make a final trip to the bathroom. It's no use, you didn't have to go anyway. . . Final talk with your wife (using reassuring tones) as she says, "All right. Just go on. You'll catch cold and you know it."

Now, you are practically ready. . . Still have to get the bait. As you're standing at the baitstand while they count out the shrimp, you boldly stand in the rain. This is to show the bait stand operator that you're a true, seasoned, fisherman. He looks at you with admiration, it seems. As you reach for your money, a trickle of water runs down your neck, and a goodly amount runs in your pocket. You discover you have a leak in your plastic top, somewhere up around your right shoulder, you think. (how else would your elbow get sticky wet.)

Back in the car. You drive faster now, headed towards your favorite fishing spot. Unload your stuff, put the bait in the water, get your rod and reel, dig out a lively shrimp, carefully put him on your hook, and presto; you are in business. Standing there in the rain, with your shoulder, arm, and arm-pit dripping, you suddenly realize that you need to go to the bathroom.

A strike. You didn't expect it to happen so fast, and you lose the first one. Your adrenalin begins to flow as you rebait your line. "I was right", you decide. You're going to catch a good batch of fish.

An hour later, you've caught about nine trout. The last few are a lot larger than the first ones. You wonder why; but that always seems to be the case.

The need to go to the bathroom is greater now. One more fish, you decide, and you'll quit. Another strike. A good one this time. Rebait and cast out again. . . Minutes later, you tell yourself that the fish have moved.

Reel in quick---before another one strikes. Throw everything in the car. Newspapers in the trunk, so you lay the fish on the spare tire; where it's been lying ever since you had the last flat.

Back at last, as you tear through the door and head for the John. Your wife asks you through the door if you caught anything. "Yes. . . Yes. . . I slaughtered them." Seconds later, you discover you are wet all over, including your pockets and everything in them. Over coffee, you tell your wife about several big ones that got away. . . Although you try to avoid it, you have to sneeze. She gives you that "I told you so look", and shakes her head. You sneeze again.

Sneezing and driving home, you realize that you hate to go back to the rat race. You caught fish, your nerves relaxed, and you have an overall feeling of tranquility. It may take a few days; but you'll get over your cold.

Boost Your Lawn By Removing Thatch

Have you ever wondered why your lawn grass appears unhealthy even though it is deep and spongy? The spongy feel of your lawn may not be evidence of a strong, vigorous grass, says Al Novosad, Extension agronomist at Texas A&M University. This "luxurious" feel may be due to a buildup of mat and thatch.

Thatch and mat are a tightly intermingled layer of living and dead stems, leaves and roots of grasses which develops between the layer of green vegetation and the soil surface, Novosad explains. Too much thatch keeps water and fertilizer from properly penetrating the soil, makes some diseases worse, and apparently prevents grass from putting down a deep root system.

"The best time to remove thatch is in late winter or early spring after danger of a freeze is past," advises Novosad.

The proper use of a powered machine (rake, vertical mower) designed to remove thatch is probably the best way to alleviate this problem, says the agronomist. Scalping the lawn with a rotary mower set to mow as low as possible is also helpful. However, when scalping or dethatching St. Augustine grass, do not allow the machine to go lower than the lowest stolons (runners).

"Use a power rake or mower annually to prevent thatch buildup, suggests Novosad. But be sure the soil is moist when removing thatch so as to prevent mechanical injury to grass."

According to the agronomist, thatch buildup can be due to several things, including mowing too high (frequent shorter mowing is helpful) and returning clippings. Also, some lawn grasses naturally accumulate more thatch than others.

Girl Scout News

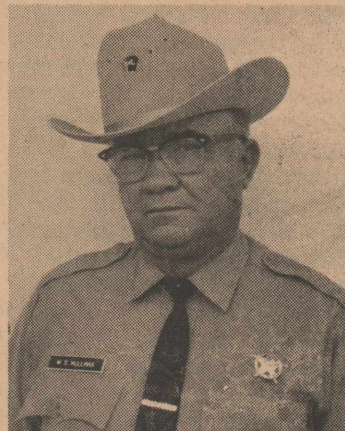

Jr. Troop 469 invited Brownie Troop 431 to join them in celebrating Thinking Day at the Girl Scout Little House on Tuesday, Feb. 22. Thinking Day is the birthday of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell who founded Girl Scouting. The girls played various games, sang songs, and ate their supper around a campfire. A flag ceremony by the Jr. Troop opened the ceremony. The girls all sang a friendship song and had a formal closing before departing. There were 24 girls from the Jr. Troop and 15 girls from the Brownie Troop.

Brownie Troop 431 have just completed a service project for Mrs. Etheridge Kindergarten class at Rockport Elementary. She asked the Leaders and girls if they could make some puppets to help her in teaching her pupils. The Brownie girls made various puppets including stick puppets, paper plate puppets and sack puppets.

PWD Employees Honored

MRS. MARY WIED

M. B. MULLINAX

Local employees of the Parks and Wildlife Department gave a party March 1 to honor three of their co-workers whose combined length of service with the Department totaled 80 years. The guests of honor were M. B. Mullinax (30 years), Mrs. Mary Wied (25 years), and L. D. Nuckles (25 years).

The Paws and Taws Building in Fulton blazed with lights Wednesday night as approximately 150 guests gathered to pay homage to the "old timers." At the height of the festivities refreshments were served from a table covered with a lace tablecloth with a beautiful arrangement of spring flowers centered on the table.

Out of town guests included Department personnel from Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Harlingen, Los Fresnos, Rio Hondo, Edinburg, Kingsville, San Antonio, Hondo, Aransas Pass, Sinton, and Mathis.

Mary Frances Bell Wied, secretary to the Regional Director, Region V, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, was born in Rockport and graduated from Rockport High School in 1940. Before going to work for the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission in 1947, she worked for Bauer-Smith Dredging Company and Canales and Hornsby Contractors.

Her first job for the Commission was as secretary to the Chief Marine Biologist. They worked in a little building in downtown Rockport near the present site of Corky's Cafe. In 1948 they moved to the newly constructed Marine Laboratory and she became Laboratory Receptionist. Since 1961 she has been Wildlife Restoration/Inland Fisheries Secretary and Secretary to two Regional Directors.

In 1960 Mary Frances married Ramon Wied who, since that time, has retired from working with Sun Oil Company. They have no children.

M. B. Mullinax, Assistant for Law Enforcement, Headquarters, Region V, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, was born in Caldwell, Texas, but moved to Rockport at the age of six. He attended the Rockport schools and married Marie Lassiter, a Rockport girl. They have three children: Buddy Mullinax, Rockport; Mrs. Billie Marie Driver, Rockport; and Mrs. Betty Sue Fisher of Petaluma, California. They have seven grandchildren.

Mr. Mullinax was employed by the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission as a Boat Operator/Game Warden in October, 1941. In 1945 he was promoted to District Conservation Chief, Coastal Division, the job which he held until being promoted to his present position in October, 1961.

He is a member of Rockport Lodge 323, AF & AM, the Corpus Christi Commandry 57, Knights Templar, and is a Life Member of the San Antonio Zoological Society.

L. D. Nuckles, Information and Education Officer, Region V, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, was born in Sabinal, Texas. He completed high school there and then served 10 years in the Regular Army. During World War II he served in both the European and Pacific Theaters. He was released from active duty on January 16, 1946, and just 17 days later entered the first Game Wardens School at Texas A&M. His first station was at Graham where he worked Young, Throckmorton, and Haskell Counties, then he moved to Medina Lake in Medina and Bandera Counties in 1947. He remained there until January, 1962 when he moved to Rockport to accept the position he now holds.

Nuckles remained in the Army Reserves until 1968 when he retired as a Lt. Col. On active duty he served in the horse cavalry, combat engineers, signal corps, and as a forward observer for 4.2 mortars. His entire reserve service was in civil Affairs Military Government.

In 1940 he married Georgia Holt, an Angleton girl, and they had one son, C. Gregory.

In 1967 Gregory was a Regular Army 1st Lt., when he was killed in action in Viet Nam. The Nuckles have 5 grandchildren who live just a couple of blocks down the street from them in Rockport.

Use Pre-Addressed Name Label When Preparing Return

Tax practitioners and other preparers of tax returns should ask their clients for the Federal income tax forms package they received in the mail and use the pre-addressed label it carried to assure faster and more accurate processing. R. L. Phinney, District Director of Internal Revenue for southern Texas, said today.

Use of the label will prevent errors in name and Social Security numbers that held up refunds for numerous taxpayers last year.

If there are errors on the label, they should be corrected in ink right on the label, Phinney said.

If the return is filed before April 1, and the name label is used, the return can usually be processed and any refund issued in five to six weeks. Those filed after April 1 may take longer.

Mrs. Connie Hagar is a patient in room 327 at Spohn Hospital.

Mrs. Walter Cassel underwent major surgery last week and is in room 336 at Spohn Hospital in Corpus Christi.

Noted Writer At Key Allegro Isle

Dave Roberts, outdoor editor of the Cincinnati Post and Times Star, is staying in a rented home at Key Allegro Isle and vacationing and working at the same time.

"Mrs. Roberts and I are enjoying your fine weather, and I'm taking advantage of the excellent fishing which gives me ample material for stories to send back to my paper to make everybody in Ohio wish they were down here," Dave explains.

A veteran newspaperman with 51 years of experience in working on big city dailies and owning and operating four weekly newspapers, Roberts has traveled all over the world and he now rates Rockport as one of his favorite places.

He first became personally acquainted with the Rockport area three years ago when he visited here along with a group of travel and outdoor writers from the Mid-West.

In addition to his post with the Cincinnati Post and Times Star, Roberts also is outdoor and travel editor for Farm Magazine which has a circulation of 500,000.

In his earlier newspaper days, Dave was a war correspondent and was one of the few reporters to cover World War I, World War II and the Korean Conflict. Also, he was one of the first American journalists to go into Russia. And he has been in Cuba several times since Castro took over.

Following is a sample of the kind of stories he is sending to the Cincinnati Post:

Drift Fishing: Fun and Success
Key Allegro, Rockport, Tex: It's great to live in a house so near good fishing grounds that you can start casting 10 minutes from breakfast. That's the way it was yesterday--and this correspondent not only was gratified, he was surprised.

Did you ever notice, after a long jaunt from home to some vacation camp or cabin, that your journeying has just begun. Down on the Florida Keys, for instance, you put out at 8 a.m. to cast the waters of Florida Bay for bonefish. It takes an hour to reach your fishing grounds. You don't find anything there, so you run another half hour to another spot. So goes most of the day--and you must crank the motor before 4 in the afternoon to reach port by five--which is prescribed for commercial sports fishing guides to end their working day. In nine hours out, you've probably had five or six hours of fishing.

Approximately the same schedule applies on the West Coast. As is true on the Keys, good fishing is retreating farther from centers of living. Even up in the Arctic I've found that guides run for an hour or more before they start fishing. That's on lakes where there is almost no human habitation.

I left the house yesterday at 6:25 a.m., picked up Wayne Lindsay at 6:30, had a cup of coffee and by 6:45 we put out from a Marina just south of Rockport. The skies still were gray. A faint breeze was moving down from the north. The sun got in a few faint rays just after 7, then hid its face for the rest of the morning. The air, cool enough when we put out, grew chilly as the northerly breeze continued. I was glad to have along a rain jacket with a hood. It made a good wind break and kept me reasonably warm.

Wayne told me we'd be drift fishing--that is, moving across the flats in the breeze. The wind was right for it, not pushing us too fast as sometimes is the case.

"Drift fishing" can mean several things. It can mean fishing on the bottom, above certain reefs, with natural baits such as shrimp, pinfish or cut mullet. But with Wayne you don't use bait.

We started casting half-ounce brass spoons. He was using spin gear, while I had a bait rod. With the breeze at our backs, casting was easy as pie. We were fishing in water which ranged from 10 to 24 inches in depth. We were after weakfish, which are called trout or specs; and for redfish, which are channel bass or drum.

We didn't do anything for the first half hour, so Wayne cranked the motor and we moved a couple of hundred yards to an adjoining flat. There the action started. He hooked, played and landed a three-pound trout and while he was in the process, I hit another. Instead of blanks we had a double. Mine was a red--a little smaller than Wayne's--but still a dandy fish.

Each "Drift" took us an hour or so. Then we'd move back up-wind a short distance, and start another. I don't think we ever were more than a mile from the marina dock during the hours we fished.

By 10:30 the deck of the small 14-foot skiff was covered with fish. And the wind, which hadn't really picked up much, was definitely colder than when we put out. With hot coffee only a few minutes away, we cranked up and headed for it.

In the little marina restaurant we found several other fishermen driven to cover by the wind. They hadn't done much. But when we started icing down our catch, we found we had 32 fish for an average of almost three pounds.

Which made that part of a fishing morning one of the best I've had in many years.

History Of Allegro Club

Emory M. Spencer, who initiated the project to have Dr. A. Ray Stephens write a "History of Aransas County, 1871 to 1971," recently remarked:

"In this history for which research is now being completed, what took place in 1971 is just as important as what took place in 1871, and it is much harder to determine in 1971 whether an event is history or just a current event."

"While I do not profess to have any abilities along those lines, I am willing to bet that 'History -- Allegro Club, Key Allegro Isle' will be a winner."

That history follows:
The Allegro Club was organized by the women residents on Key Allegro Isle on February 4, 1969. It had a charter membership of thirty-six members. The club was organized for the purpose of civic, charitable and social activities to further the concept of gracious living on Key Allegro. Luncheon meetings are held on the second Thursday of each month, September through May.

The original slate of officers elected in February, 1969, were: President, Mrs. Samuel Crosby; first vice president, Mrs. Cecil Hutchings; second vice president, Mrs. Paul Harris; Secretary, Mrs. Hugh Witherspoon; treasurer, Miss Betty Whitney.

The major contributions made in the short time this club has been existence are the creation of social activities to advance hospitality to the new residents on Key Allegro and worthwhile financial contributions to organizations in the surrounding community for the benefit of the general public.

The Allegro Club sponsors Pot Luck suppers bi-monthly at the Community Center on Key Allegro, an Annual Bridge Tournament, an annual Christmas Carolling Event via boats up and down the channels, an annual residential Christmas Decorating award, and a Christmas display in the park at the entrance to Key Allegro.

Since its inception two and one half years ago, the Allegro Club has contributed financially to the following organizations in the surrounding community: Aransas County Emergency Corps $450.00; Aransas County Public Library $250.00; Rockport Art Assn. $350.00; Rockport Centennial Celebration $125.00.

In addition to the above, the Welfare Committee of the Key Allegro Club is responsible for all the local fund drives on Key Allegro. Last year, the ladies collected $637.00 for United Fund and $682.00 for American Cancer Society in door to door canvassing. The amounts collected for the Heart Fund and Muscular Dystrophy are not available.

Funds to operate the club, supply and maintain the Community Center and to afford the above donations are derived from membership dues of $6.00 per year, plus our one large fund raising event each year in May, a rummage sale at the community center and from the compilation and sales of Key Allegro directories.

Officers who were elected and served in 1970 were: President: Mrs. Kenneth Leith; 1st V-President: Mrs. Kirby Turton; 2nd V-President: Mrs. Charles Aldrich; Secretary: Mrs. John Barnard; Treasurer: Mrs. Charles Corbett.

Officers who were elected and served in 1971 were: President: Mrs. Kirby Turton; 1st V-President: Mrs. Charles Aldrich; 2nd V-President: Mrs. Mary Elrod; Secretary: Mrs. Elva Chalfant; Treasurer: Mrs. Olin Blackett.

At the present time, there are fifty-four active members.

The thirty-six charter members were: Mrs. Travis Arnett, Mrs. John Barnard, Mrs. Harry Bogue, Mrs. William Christian, Mrs. Ralph Clevenger, Mrs. Samuel Crosby, Mrs. Hugh Ehrlich, Mrs. Dorothy Elrod, Mrs. Mary Elrod, Mrs. Herbert French, Mrs. George Hogan, Mrs. Blanche Harris, Mrs. Paul Harris, Mrs. Dave Hicks, Mrs. Barnes Hoff, Mrs. Henry Hopkins, Mrs. Cecil Hutchings, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. Herman Livingston, Mrs. Carl Krueger, Mrs. Lloyd Marr, Mrs. R. L. McNally, Mrs. Herman McMeredit, Mrs. Alfred McMurtry, Mrs. Gordon Stanley, Mrs. Lon Starke, Mrs. Hugh Thompson, Mrs. Vic Stuart, Miss Elizabeth Whitney, Mrs. Sam Wilcox, Mrs. Hugh Witherspoon, Mrs. Frank Yosemite and Mrs. Ed Harper.

Mrs. Hoff, McNally, McMeredit, Starke and Witherspoon are no longer residents on the island and are no longer associated with the club.

Respectfully submitted

The Pilot policy about poems is not to publish them. This is because if you publish one, even a good one, many amateur poets submit their creations and pretty soon the newspaper is deluged with poems.

However, we are going to publish ONE poem in 1972 and here it is:

YOU AUGHT TO HEAR HIM HOLLER

The following poem was originally published in the Benson, Neb. Times, reprinted in Editor & Publisher Magazine on Mar. 15, 1924 and in the same magazine on Sept. 25, 1971. It could have been written yesterday.

My father says the paper he reads ain't put up right;
He finds a lot of fault, too, he does, perusin' it all night;
He says there ain't a single thing in it worth to read,
And that it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people need.
He tosses it aside and says it's strictly on the bum,
But you aught to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He reads about the weddin's and he snorts like all get out;
He reads the social doin's with a most derisive shout,
He says they make the papers for the women folks alone;
He'll read about the parties and he'll fume and fret and groan;
He says of information, it doesn't have a crumb
But you aught to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He is the first one to grab it and he reads it plumb clean through.
He doesn't miss an item, or want ad -- that is true;
He says they don't know what we want, the darn newspaper guys;
"I'm going to take a day some time and go and put 'em wise;
"Sometimes it seems as though they must be deaf and blind and dumb."

But you aught to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

Historic Light Side Of the Coastal Bend

By Carl Duckworth

The guys that wrote our history didn't have a twit of fun in their veins. . . Must have been scrawny little guys (formerly book-worms) who saw things in absolute black and white. . .

Now, you know there had to be some fun going on, or the troops would have revolted, and strayed until they found a few little "ha-haws". So today, I will begin my version of the way things must have really happened---in and around our area.

Take our bays. The pirates were here in number, trying to rob just about anyone, for anything. The only pirates we've heard about were the successful ones. . . It's true, there were many who called themselves pirates; only to be laughed at by bold merchants and tough citizens who were bristling with guns and reinforcements. Our bays are littered with the wrecks of pirate ships. Any shipwreck who has been here a long time can tell you where the wrecks are.

Let's face the facts, though. Generally, the pirates were a broke, miserable bunch. Hungry most of the time, they devoured anything that moved, and a lot of things that didn't.

The Indians were here too. In their case, before all the activity began, they had become tired of eating seafood. Their tranquil existence prevented them from going on long hunts. They used to lie around their teepees, gorged on fish, saying, "Cheese-hus, I'd like to eat something besides fish and oysters." They later became cannibals over this.

The only aggressive Indian in the bunch chanced upon a fat Spaniard one day, tomahawked him, and brought his drawn and quartered carcass into camp. Though his intentions were to make time with the chief's beautiful daughter---also stuffed with fish---the rest of the tribe fell upon his present and wolfed everything down. Wiping their mouths on their loin-cloths, they all said in unison, "Yum---yum. Now where'd you get the meat, fella?" All he could do, was point towards the ocean and say, "Meat come in on leaky boat."

Now, we've got part of the picture: Lotta' pirates wandering around looking for food and stuff. Indians too, searching for easy prey to supplement their seafood diets. They weren't looking for financial rewards, just a food change. . . Once, a warrior, (He had things painted on his body), suggested fighting for financial rewards, only to be rebuffed by the chief who said, "Aw, come on. . . Now, where would you spend it?" The warrior sadly washed the war paint off his body, bade the tribe goodbye and decided to seek his fortune elsewhere. The tribe threw a party for the occasion, and presented him with a beautiful horse blanket to sit on, when he stole his first horse. . . But more about this Indian later. . . He was to become the chief scout for the Spanish party of Alonzo de Pineda in 1519. . . His name; Scout

Erster. (His father had named him "oyster"; but couldn't pronounce it, due to a hair-lip, caused by trying to open an oyster with his bare teeth.)

When Scout Erster applied for Alonzo's job, he was horseless. "I see you have a blanket, Indian. Where's your horse?" Erster couldn't think of a good answer and shrewdly hesitated long enough to impress Alonzo. "On never mind. We've got some good spare mounts. On our trip over, nine men died of scurvy, two killed each other over a pin-up picture, and I lashed three to death for winking at my cabin boy. . . Anyway, I'll furnish you with a horse---providing your references hold up."

Erster was so tickled, he handed Alonzo several sundried oysters to munch on. "What's this, Indian?", he asked, as he put one in his mouth. "They're Rockport oysters. . . um. . . good between-meal snack. I give you plenty um for horse."

Suddenly, Alonzo became business-like. "Can the references. You've got the job. I like your attitude. . . Say, gimme another oyster, Erster. . . You will share in our food, wine, and periodically receive awards from our king in Spain. You will also share in all the gold, silver, and diamonds we find. . . Naturally, I'll expect you to guide us to the best areas, line up adequate maidens for the men, and. . . ha. . . a special one for me." Alonzo blushed over his last remark, and unconsciously whacked down a small oak tree with his three-foot sword.

Scout Erster was now really a scout. It was getting dark and Erster spread his blanket near the fire. He fell asleep almost immediately and dreamed of his horse still on the boat, anchored in the bay. In fact, he rode so much (in his dreams) during the night, his back was sore for a week.

The Texas Coastal Bend was carefully explored and charted by the Alonzo de Pineda's Spanish party, with Indian scout Erster up front. . . Alonzo's gift of a horse for Erster wasn't exactly a big-hearted act. . . The horse had been trouble---even in Spain. He refused to be broken properly, and had a strange palate craving for cactus apples.

In fact, the exploring done by Alonzo's party, included a lot of scenic cactus beds. . . At times, Erster couldn't understand why his horse always headed for cactus beds; but soon took it in his stride---since Alonzo didn't seem to notice anything wrong. The only time that Erster heard Alonzo say anything about cactus was when he asked one of his assistants, "Hey, I'm working on the report to Spain. . . What's the plural of cactus?"

TRANQUILITY RECOLLECTED IN EMOTION: Wolf Kahn at work in his New York studio

Wolf Kahn Art Workshop

Wolf Kahn of New York City will conduct a painting workshop in oil and pastel at the Rockport Art Association Gallery from March 13 to March 17. Born in Stuttgart, Germany in 1927, Kahn attended the Frankfurt Philanthropin until 1939. He lived in England a year before coming to the United States, where he attended the High School of Music and Art, graduating in 1945. In 1948 and 1949, Kahn studied with Hans Hofmann. He received his B. A. degree from the University of Chicago and in 1952 he began painting full time in New York City.

The artist has travelled extensively seeking new visual experiences and environments to stimulate his creativity—Louisiana in '53, Mexico in '55, Venice in '57 and '58, Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard and Maine during the summer of '60, '61 and '62, and in Milan and Rome on a Fulbright grant from 1962-1965.

Besides eight one-man exhibitions at the Grace Borgenicht Gallery, New York City, his other one-man exhibitions include the Hansa Gallery, New York, 1954, 1955, the University of California, Berkeley, 1961, Michigan State University, 1962, Kansas City Art Institute, 1963, Nashville Art Center, 1964, Obelisk Gallery, Boston, 1966, Marlboro College, Vermont, 1967, Meredith Long Galleries, Houston 1970, the College Gallery, Drew University, 1970, and Princeton University Gallery of Fine Art, 1970.

Wolf Kahn has received many awards and the major ones include the Fulbright, the Ford Foundation Purchase Award in 1962, and the Guggenheim Fellowship in 1966 and 1967.

His teaching experience has included visiting professor at the University of California at Berkeley, visiting critic at the Rhode Island School of Design, the Brooklyn Museum Art school and he now teaches one day a week at Cooper Union in New York City.

In Art News, Kahn is described as a "passionate landscapist of hills and barns" and though his landscapes look "abstract" using the term in its loose, popular sense, he is quite positive about not being an abstract painter and is pleased to acknowledge himself as a kind of realist.

Jay Jacobs, in Art Gallery Magazine, writes that Kahn is one of the few painters around who wears a smock and uses linseed oil and Kahn quietly depicts barns and hills and fields and timber-topped bluffs, some drowning in dusk, other melting in mist, but each suffused with the light of a particular time and particular place.

Kahn spends his summer in Brattleboro, Vermont and comes back to his studio in New York City to paint the landscapes he has seen and stored in his memory.

The artist has exhibited in many group exhibitions in museums around the country and has works hanging in the collection of Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass., the University of Nebraska, the University of Illinois, the Museum of Modern Art, New York, the Fort Worth Art Center, the Dallas Museum of Contemporary Art, the Whitney Museum of American Art, the Museum of Fine Arts, Houston, the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, Richmond, Michigan State University, City Art Museum of St. Louis, Mo., the University of California at Berkeley and in the Brooklyn Museum. He, as well, has numerous private collectors including the Chase Manhattan Bank and the American Broadcasting Company.

Wolf Kahn is the second artist-teacher of the Spring Program of workshops sponsored by the Rockport Art Association. For further information, please call 729-2478.

SMSA Carlos Lopez, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Lopez, 1971 graduate of Rockport-Fulton High, graduated from Submarine School in New London, Conn. on Jan. 28. He is now on board the nuclear powered submarine USS Nathaniel Greene, SSB(N) 636. He is a member of the Blue Crew.

IRS News

"Be sure to claim ALL of the exemptions or allowances you're entitled to," advised R. L. Phinney, District Director of Internal Revenue for southern Texas. "Otherwise," he said, "many wage earners will be subjected to overwithholding and, consequently, unnecessary reductions in their take-home pay during the remainder of 1972."

Phinney said that, under the old law, last year, many employees claimed fewer exemptions in order to offset the shortcomings of the old withholding tables. This will not be necessary under the new law because the new withholding tables correct this situation.

If taxpayers haven't filed a new Form W-4 -- Employee's Withholding Exemption Certificate--they should do so NOW, while 1972 is young, to make sure that excess amounts are not withheld from their pay.

Phinney said that, generally, an employee should do these things:

1. Claim all the exemptions he's entitled to, for himself, spouse, dependents, etc.

2. If single, and earning less than $25,000, claim the new "special withholding allowance."

3. If his itemized deductions are substantially larger than the standard deduction, claim the "additional withholding allowance" shown in the table on the back of Form W-4.

Phinney stated that all employers already have the new Employer's Tax Guide (Circular E) which contains the new withholding provisions and tables, Form W-4, and further information, may be obtained from employers or by contacting any IRS office.

Doins' at The Dunes

By Viola Reynolds

The giant live oak tree, gnarled, and with many open-mouthed knot holes, that stands mid-way along the north partition fence at the Dunes, is to be destroyed. It has to give way to progress--another new apartment complex building. The age of this tree is unknown, but its knot-holes have been the home for generations of owls and squirrels, and is a perfect specimen for artists and camera buffs. This worm-eaten, knot-holed, weather-warped tree withstood the strongest blasts of wind that Beulah, Celia and Fern could muster up to send against it--yet man with his need for expansion will down it with one mighty move of his bulldozer.

Mr. and Mrs. Tant Lindsay have returned from a four-weeks' visit at their home in Stanton. They spent a short time at Brownsville before returning to the Dunes.

Lester Woodrum of Louisburg, Kansas, was a guest several days last week of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reynolds.

Mrs. John Reese was among the winter residents honored at a breakfast at Key Allegro Feb. 19. The menu was southern food.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Coolbaugh of Elmwood Park, Ill., arrived Feb. 24 to spend some time in this area, calling the Dunes their home away from home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Johnston of Bloomington, Ill., came into our court Feb. 19 for a one week stay and liked it so well they decided to stay a month.

Jere Snow of Houston was a guest last weekend of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Snow.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Scott left Monday for a trip in Louisiana, and returned Saturday afternoon reporting an interesting visit to various points in Louisiana and eastern Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hansen of Havana, Ill., were residents at the Dunes from Feb. 22 to the 26th when they left for their home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beverly left Monday, Feb. 28 for their home in Gladewater, Texas, to spend the summer months.

Fancher and Hazel Upshaw of Amarillo, Texas, came Friday evening for a few weeks' residence at the Dunes. They are friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harter.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Rasmussen have returned from a two-week stay in the McAllen-Mission area.

Gardening and yard work is being sandwiched in between fishing since the later seems to be on the upswing.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Peck of Ft. Worth spent the weekend in their mobile home at the Dunes.

W. H. "Bill" Hamilton, who recently returned from a trip around the world, came back to his mobile home at the Dunes Friday to spend a few days visiting with his friends here. He was accompanied by his

LEARNING VIRGINIA REEL — Fifth grade students at Rockport Elementary have been learning how to perform the Virginia Reel in their music classes.

Because of the difficulty of the Reel, the children learned only a few steps each time they came to music class. When they could do the entire Reel, each class went outside to the school yard and spent their whole music period doing the Reel.

The Virginia Reel was learned in correlation with a Social Studies unit that included Virginia.

son, Earl Hamilton of San Antonio.

Word comes from Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Alter that both are improving at the home of a daughter, Marilyn McMahon in Houston. Mrs. Alter is learning to use a walker and they are both anxious to get back to their mobile home at the Dunes.

We hit the "jackpot" at the end of the month Friday evening pot-luck dinner--both in guests and food. Thirty-three persons partook of the bounteous meal and many remained for an enjoyable evening of games.

Caesar, Alexander the Great and the Iron Duke of Wellington were never defeated in battle.
