Cogdell Administrator Miller says he'll step down Dec. 31

Longtime Cogdell Memorial Hospital Administrator Cy Miller Thursday night submitted his resignation, to be effective Dec. 31, to the hospital's board of managers.

Miller, 56, said after the board meeting that he is "resigning to retire" from the hospital industry, although he expects to take some other kind of employment in Snyder after the end of the year.

He said the financial straits that the hospital has experienced with the economic recession did not influence his decision.

Miller is a native of Eastland who was working as a clerk for General Motors in Arlington before he came to Snyder 26½ years ago to become business manager at Cogdell. He has been the hospital administrator for 22 years.

Miller's current contract runs through April 1, 1988. After the board accepted the resignation, board chairman Leon Autry said Miller would be relieved from the remainder of his contract.

Miller told the board he is willing to help the new administrator during an orientation phase for the new job and that he would be willing to stay on the job longer than Dec. 31, if necessary.

"There is a whole lot that needs to be passed on," he said.

Vet groups plan Boys Club fix-up

Representatives of three veterans' organizations have launched a campaign to upgrade the Snyder Boys Club quarters in the 1500 Block of 28th St.

Organizer Rene Garza said the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and Vietnam Veterans Association had become concerned that the large building, with a game room, gymnasium and other facilities, might fall into a state of disrepair without a clean-up, fix-up effort.

The veterans plan extensive painting, patch-work and a refinishing of the gym floor, Garza said.

The center is formally known as the Dan Gibson Memorial Building, named after the late Snyder stockman.

The club is affiliated with the Boys Clubs of America.

Aquino safe after attempted coup

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Troops loyal to President Corazon Aquino pounded mutineers with air strikes and mortar fire today in an attempt to quell the most serious coup attempt of her administration.

Mrs. Aquino was safe, but her only son was wounded in the combat.

The rebels, who numbered in the hundreds, had seized key military installations. By nightfall, loyalist forces had gained the upper hand in and around Manila, but the rebels were reported entrenching in Cebu City, the country's second largest metropolis.

Chief of Staff Gen. Fidel Ramos fired the Cebu area constabulary commander, Brig. Gen. Edgardo Abenina, after hearing of his support for the mutiny.

Military and hospital sources said at least 23 people were killed and 175 wounded, including Mrs. Aquino's son, in clashes that began about 1 a.m. when rebels led by a former aide of Sen. Juan Ponce Enrile launched attacks near the presidential palace, military garrisons and broadcast stations.

The rebels, who called themselves "idealistic young officers," seized a half dozen media and military facilities around Manila and a constabulary garrison in Pampanga province.

Marines and elite scout rangers backed by air strikes by World War II vintage bombers stormed the armed forces general staff headquarters at Camp Aguinaldo in suburban Quezon City, which rebels had seized early in the day.

The three-story armed forces general headquarters building was heavily damaged before the rebels withdrew to the eastern end of the sprawling camp. It was still burning by nightfall.

Armed Forces spokesman Col. Honesto Isleta said six soldiers were killed and 39 troops and civilians were wounded in the assault on Camp Aguinaldo. There was no breakdown on rebel and government losses. Ramos said a total of 350 mutineers had been arrested and he expected 200 more to give up within a few hours.

Ramos said troops set up roadblocks around the city to apprehend mutineers still at large.

Hundreds of civilians gathered near the main gate of Camp Aguinaldo and cheered pro-government troops as they launched their attack.

Physician resigns from Cogdell staff

The resignation of Dr. Nelson Brice from the Codgell Memorial Hospital staff, which was submitted Aug. 14 to be effective Aug. 15, was accepted Thursday at the hospital board meeting.

Contacted Friday, Brice said he will stay in Snyder to operate the out-patient clinic he owns here. The physician said he decided to resign because he had been consistently unable to find other doctors to cover for him when he had to be out of town.

The board last month tabled a request from Brice to be placed on a six-month leave of absense because the request was not received in time to be placed on a meeting agenda.

Also Thursday, the board heard a presentation from hospital community relations director Kathy Minemier on the "Senior Class" program sponsored by St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock and then voted to join the program.

The plan features cost reductions for senior citizens, streamlined registration, insurance counseling and other services, along with the inclusion of Cogdell in St. Mary's extensive media advertising.

The board tabled for a month a proposal by Mrs. Minemier for the hospital to employ a Lubbock advertising agency and also chose to wait on a decision about hiring a consultant for long-term planning.

Referring to the possibility that a Texas Department of Corrections unit will be built here, board member Rex Robinson said he preferred to wait "and see what happens in the community. We could have a whole new ballgame in a couple of months."

Miller had reported talking with consultants in Atlanta and Chicago who offered to come to Snyder and make presentations if the hospital would pay their expenses.

Related to the prison issue, the board unanimously passed a resolution supporting the effort to obtain a 2,250-man maximum security facility in the county.

The board adjourned for an executive session after all of the other agenda items had been dispensed with to discuss a personnel matter and reconvened a few minutes later to announce Miller's resignation.

The meeting was also attended by board members Dan Cotton, Roy McQueen, Jackie Smith, Janet Hall and ex-officio member Bobby Goodwin, Scurry County judge. No one was absent.

Jobless percent at 8.2

A seasonal shift in employment during July in Scurry County caused the number of persons with jobs to increase somewhat and the unemployment percentage here to go down.

The most recent figure reported by the Texas Employment Commission sets Scurry's jobless total at 8.2 percent, down from the 9.6 percent reported for June.

As recently as four years ago, the county's unemployment range hovered around 4 percent.

In actual numbers, TEC reports that 9,232 individuals were employed during the month. This marks an increase of 281 from the figure quoted in June of 8,951.

Regarding the number of persons actively seeking jobs in the county, the latest figure shows 823 were classified as unemployed. This also is a decrease from June's 948.

The employed and jobless figures were combined to calculate the county's civilian labor force, now set at 10,055. For June, this figure was 9,899.

For 1987 to date, the highest unemployment percentage was noted in January, when the year began with 9.9 percent figures. Since that time, it is estimated the number of persons working here has increased from 8,807, a rise of 425 individuals.

In addition to Scurry County, the Sweetwater-based regional TEC office reported unemployment figures for four of the other Brownsville...

Jury finds mayor guilty

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Mayor Emilio Hernandez' wife gasped with emotion and fell into her son's arms after a jury found the mayor guilty of aggravated perjury.

Elma Hernandez' sobs punctuated the courtroom Thursday as the jury was polled with the verdict that her husband in January lied under oath before a grand jury investigating allegations of city government corruption.

The 56-year-old mayor showed little reaction when the jury returned after about five hours of deliberation and told District Judge Darrell Hester of its decision.

After Hernandez elected to be sentenced by the jury, Judge Hester set punishment for Monday morning.

The mayor could face up to 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Hernandez was indicted in a Texas Rangers-led probe of alleged corruption in city government.

Central to his four-day trial was testimony centered on an inaccurate campaign spending report and Hernandez' financial troubles.

He was accused of lying under oath when he told investigators he did not pay for billboards for the 1985 re-election campaign of former City Commissioner Jesse Sloss with money from his own pocket.

"We're shocked that the jury would come back with a verdict like this," said defense attorney Rey Cantu, who added he plans to appeal the verdict.

Special Prosecutor Sharon MacRae declined comment.

"You all have the opportunity to decide what is appropriate behavior for public officials in Cameron County," MacRae told the jury in her closing argument Thursday morning.

The grand jury in January was looking into allegations of bribery in city contracts, among other allegations. Hernandez, who still faces a bribery trial, was cleared of a felony theft by a public servant charge in June.

The perjury case ended in a mistrial in July, the first time it was tried.

Prosecutors attempted to draw a connection between the perjury case and bribery allegations leveled by an employee of Browning Ferris Industries, which was attempting to win a multimillion-dollar garbage contract with the city in 1985.

Hernandez maintained he collected money from various individuals on behalf of the Sloss campaign, but did not personally give more than $200 for the Sloss billboards.

Cantu said BFI district sales manager Juan Gonzalez lied when he made statements to investigators that led to the bribery and perjury charges.

Cantu said Gonzalez made the allegations because Hernandez and Sloss embarrassed him in front of two BFI executives from Houston when they refused to accept a campaign contribution from the company's political action committee.

The prosecution, he added, brought Gonzalez to testify Wednesday, "to smear mud all over my client and make you think about the bribery case and not the perjury."

Thursday's conviction is the first in the city investigation by the Rangers and Cameron County Attorney's office. Of 22 indictments stemming from the probe, 20 have resulted in dismissals or acquittals.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1987 by Universal Press Syndicate

Any Words Are Right Words To Those Who Suffer Loss

DEAR ABBY: A year ago our daughter was raped and stabbed to death. Words cannot express our horror and pain. It was bad enough to lose our daughter, but it seems we also lost our friends. Friends we had known for years didn't call or come to see us. We were shunned as though we had some kind of terrible disease — and just when we needed their friendship most. Now, when we run into former friends, they act embarrassed and say, "We would have called or come over, but we didn't know what to say."

Abby, I belong to a support group called Parents of Murdered Children, and at each meeting, some time is spent on just this subject. Most members say their friends have dropped them.

Abby, you have publicized our group in your column, and I thank you for that. Now, please, tell your readers, all they have to do is call and say, "I heard the news, and I am sorry." Or come over and say it in person — and just be there to help the suffering parents get on with their lives as normally as possible.

MICHELLE'S MOM,
JOHNSTOWN, COLO.

DEAR MOM: My heart goes out to you and to every other parent who has lost a child. The message in your letter is not news to me. I have read it many times from many grieving parents. So, let me send this very important message to my readers: If you have friends who have lost a loved one in death — please don't abandon them. They don't need to lose you, too.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I recently received a wedding invitation to be held in a neighboring state. On the bottom corner was stated: "Reception: Covered dish dinner immediately following ceremony."

Surely that doesn't mean that they expect us to drive that distance and bring a covered dish, does it? I've never heard of such a thing. I always thought the bride's family gave the reception, and it could be either very lavish or simple punch and wedding cake if they couldn't afford much.

What would you interpret that to mean? And what is your opinion of that? Please hurry your answer as several others can't figure it out either.

INVITED GUEST,
PORTSMOUTH, OHIO

DEAR GUEST: Seldom, if ever, does a wedding invitation state what will be served following the ceremony, so it is safe to assume that the guests are being solicited for "covered dishes." But just to be sure, either write or phone, and inquire.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: You said: "A pox on those folks who dial a number and if their party doesn't answer after the fourth or fifth ring, they hang up. Many people (especially those who are on in years) cannot spring to the telephone in 10 seconds, so give them a break and let the phone ring at least 10 or 12 times."

Do you know that MCI charges for calls over five rings whether or not the party answers the phone? I have paid twice before I realized that this is their policy. I thought you would like to know.

EVA GALLA,
BILLERICA, MASS.

DEAR EVA: My staff checked with MCI and was told it is not MCI's policy to charge for calls whether the party answers or not. A spokesperson said: "Some tone difference (static in the background, picked up while dialing) could record as 'completed' on our equipment — even when a call was not completed. So check your phone bill, and if you are charged for an uncompleted call, ask for credit and you will receive it." And have a nice day!

'Plaza Suite' opens Thursday

POST--Neil Simon's funniest play, "Plaza Suite," opened Thursday at the Garza Theater in Post and continues through Sunday's 2 p.m. matinee.

Performances begin at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the theatre, located on East Main Street.

The play opens with a middle-aged couple tossing barbs at one another as they "celebrate" their 23rd wedding anniversary in a suite at the Plaze Hotel. It is a bitter-sweet comedy mixed with humor and sadness.

Act two is a hilarious look at a successful Hollywood producer in town who attempts to revive a romance with his old high school sweetheart.

The final act is an out-and-out farce as a man and wife desperately attempt to get their daughter out of the Plaza Hotel suite locked bathroom in time for her wedding.

Garza Theatre director Will McCrary stars in all three acts, with Pat Bilbo, Linda Ellis and Zoe Kirkpatrick filling the leading lady roles.

Other veteran Garza Theatre performers in the play include Garrick Pass, Cheryl Thompson, Lupe Perez, Troy Timms, and Jayta Ticer.

"After 265 performances on states across the country, I've decided it's time to give this play just one more shot," he adds.

McCrary was first introduced to Neil Simon productions as one of the card players in "The Odd Couple," and was later recommended for other Neil Simon productions, playing the part of the fastidious "Felix" in the "Odd Couple."

He began performing in "Plaza Suite" in Atlanta in 1972.

The play is set for men in their middle 40s," McCrary explains, "and well, let's say I'm a little past that age now."

Word processing classes to start

Day classes will meet from 8:35-9:50 a.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The evening section will meet from 6:30-9:20 p.m. on Tuesdays.

WP 148 is a beginning applications class in which students will work on the Wang dedicated word processor. Students may enroll for the day class, which meets from 11:15-12:05 on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, or the Tuesday night section meeting from 6:30-9:20 p.m.

Lab times are to be arranged with the instructor.

Record's ruling set for October

FORT HOOD, Texas (AP) — A military judge will rule in October whether medical records of a soldier charged with having sex without telling his partners he carried the AIDS virus should be supressed from a court-martial.

In a preliminary hearing Thursday for Sgt. Richard Sargeant, military defense attorneys presented a motion to supress medical records that show Sargeant carries the Human Immuno-Deficiency Virus.

Lt. Col. Stephen V. Saynisch will rule on the motion Oct. 14. If he denies the motion, the trial could begin the next day.

While Sargeant sat somber-faced with an attorney on each side of him, Saynisch said he will allow the prosecution two weeks to respond to the motion.

Sargeant, 27, worked as a medical instructor at the Academy of Health Sciences at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio before being charged with having sex with three women without informing them of the virus. He is formally charged with seven violations of the Uniform Code of Military Justice in connection with having sex with the women from late March through early July.

The charges include sodomy, adultery, reckless endangerment, aggravated assault and failure to obey an order of a superior officer.

Saynisch scheduled the Oct. 14 hearing at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio to announce a ruling on the motion and consider any new matters before the court.

Sargeant is expected to be arraigned and enter a plea at that hearing. He will also decide then if he wants a court-martial panel or the judge to consider evidence against him.

The preliminary hearing was held at Fort Hood, near Killeen, to accommodate the military judge who was hearing other cases at the post.

Army attorneys involved in the Sargeant case would not comment about the impact if the judge grants the defense motion for the suppression of AIDS test results.

Changes in midstream

Sometimes you have a choice of finesses to make your contract. If you play a card that a defender would normally cover with an honor, and that defender plays low, you may rightly judge that the defender does not have that honor. So you might fall back on the other finesse. Here is an interesting deal in which declarer Larry Cohen, playing in the prestigious Cavendish Pairs in New York last May, used just such a strategy. But he then decided not to take any finesses.

Larry's opponent was Canada's Joe Silver, winner of the event in 1985. Silver led the queen of spades, won by declarer's king. Declarer played a heart to dummy's king and a heart back to his ace, and then led his club queen. Silver followed with the seven without a tremor. Cohen trusted his opponent's demeanor and rose with dummy's ace. He now played out his remaining high hearts, discarding two diamonds from his hand. Joe Silver had to make three discards, and he threw away two small diamonds and then the eight of clubs. Of course declarer could now try a diamond finesse for his contract, but he felt that West was holding the diamond king. So he led the spade seven from dummy. If East put up the eight, he would cover with the 10. If East played low, the seven would lose to West's nine. Either way, West could cash out only four spade tricks before having to lead away from the K-J of diamonds to give Larry his contract.

Rocket booster...

Critical test firing delayed to Saturday

BRIGHAM CITY, Utah (AP) — A rocket booster test considered critical to the space shuttle's future has been reset for Saturday after "nuisances," including a broken water main and cranky ground control equipment, delayed the firing.

Morton Thiokol Inc. engineers twice carried the countdown to within seconds of ignition Thursday before ground equipment failed. Another attempt was halted just three minutes from ignition.

The booster was redesigned to eliminate the flaws that caused the Challenger to explode last year, but the new system must pass a series of ground tests before shuttle flights can resume.

Thursday's failed test will not affect the National Aeronautics and Space Adminstration's plans to resume shuttle flights next June, but the schedule is tight, said Richard Truly, the agency's chief of space flight.

The test failures were caused by "nuisances" not associated with the motor, said John Thomas, director of the booster redesign program for NASA.

The firing was to be the first of the redesigned rocket using the full 1.2 million pounds of solid propellant.

About 500 space industry officials stood in the bright Utah sun from 1 p.m., when the first attempt was stopped, until 4:57 p.m., when the final countdown was aborted, peering up at the 126-foot-long white rocket perched 9,000 feet away on the side of a brown hill.

A highway beside the Thiokol test site was lined with spectators for two miles, but the crowd thinned as the long afternoon wore on and the mood among officials went from upbeat to grim.

The first countdown started at midnight and "everything was just nice" until 10 a.m., Thomas said.

"The first nuisance was a six-inch water main that failed," he said. The water is used to cool the rocket casing after it has fired. The countdown was held.

The pipes were fixed in 90 minutes, said Thomas, and the countdown resumed just after noon, an hour before the planned ignition.

Preparations proceeded smoothly and continued to within 10 seconds of ignition when the water system failed at another connection.

The countdown was stopped while repairs were made and then resumed toward a new firing time of 3 p.m.

Just three minutes before the appointed hour, a computer checked test equipment and the results "looked strange to us so we held for three minutes," Thomas said. "We couldn't explain the problem to our satisfaction so we aborted and cycled back to one hour."

At this point, some of the Thiokol technicians had been working for more than 12 hours straight. Truly visited the blockhouse and told them that if they were tired the attempt could be halted.

Truly said the engineers were eager to resume and he agreed, provided the test would be canceled for the day if one more problem occurred.

That problem came just 12 seconds before ignition, when the ground control computer determined that a rocket turbine was not up to proper speed. Frustrated officials gave up and rescheduled the test for 1 p.m. Saturday.

USDA to watch for tainted meat

WASHINGTON (AP) — A closer watch will be kept on meat imports from 41 Australian processing plants as part of an agreement worked out with the Agriculture Department to keep beef contaminated by high levels of DDT and other chemicals from entering the U.S. market.

Recent shipments of contaminated meat were traced back to points of origin in Australia. And in the future, meat from 41 Australian plants will be subjected to additional sampling and testing before being subjected to routine USDA inspection at ports of entry.

"We have identified a group of 24 Australian plants where there is data to show that the likelihood of (chemical) residue violations is minimal," Agriculture Secretary Richard E. Lyng said Thursday.

New computer keyboarding course slated

A new six-week course in Computer Keyboarding is scheduled this fall at Western Texas College. It is listed on the schedule as Business 113.

This course is designed for students who want to build speed on the computer keyboard and the 10-key pad. It will not meet the requirements for Office Careers majors.

Tammy Wesson, Office Careers instructor, will teach the course.

Because the course lasts only six weeks, it will be offered twice during the fall semester. The first section will meet from Aug. 28-Oct. 9. The second session will meet from Oct. 12-Nov. 20. Students planning to enroll in either session must register now while fall semester registration is underway.

Classes will meet from 8:30-9:20 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday in both sections. Lab times will be arranged with the instructor.

Owls intend to get respect from opponents this season

HOUSTON (AP) - Rice University Coach Jerry Berndt expects more surprises from his Owls this season.

The Owls won their final two 1986 games for the first time in 13 years and finished 4-7 for the first time since 1981.

It surprised media, fans and even Berndt.

"Yes, I was surprised too, I expected us to win more ball games," Berndt said. "I was disappointed that we won four games. I felt we had an opportunity to win six."

In a poll by sports writers and sportscasters on the SWC press tour, the Owls again were picked to finish ninth last season.

"I know that we're picked eighth and if Southern Methodist was playing, we'd be picked ninth," Berndt said.

"I just hope a lot of teams come to Rice Stadium expecting to roll their helmets on the field and beat us because they may be suprised."

While Berndt doesn't care where the Owls are picked, some players think it's time Rice got more respect.

"It does make me mad to see that," starting center Courtney Hall said. "We've been picked last the past two years and we didn't finish last so I don't know why we keep getting picked there."

Berndt places his optimism around eight returning offensive starters, including a quarterback depth chart he says is the best in the conference.

"I don't see another team in the conference with more depth at quarterback than we have," Berndt said. "We have three quarterbacks that we can win with."

Quentis Roper and Mark Comalander shared the starting quarterback's job last season and apparently will shuttle again this season. They'll be backed up by Rosenberg freshman Donald Hollas.

"It's a heck of a battle right now, but if we played Saturday, Quentis would be the starter," Berndt said. "In my mind both of them are starters. Whoever starts, the other one will be in there after a few series."

Comalander accounted for 1,383 yards on 255 plays last season and Roper, who also doubles as the team's kick returner, got 1,041 yards on 190 plays.

Comalander threw two fourth quarter touchdown passes to beat Air Force and Roper threw the game-winning touchdown pass to beat Houston in the final game.

"We might have a situation where both quarterbacks would be in the game at the same time," Berndt said. "Heck, we may even have all three of them in there. It's okay, you can write that."

Neither Comalander nor Roper will criticize the two-quarterback system.

"I'm not going to say anything against the system," Roper said. "With our system, Mark and I both will be in there on certain situations. I might even play less this year."

Comalander started last season recovering from off-season shoulder surgery and played his first injury-free season since junior high.

"I'm happy with the way I'm playing right now, that's the main thing," Comalander said. "If that's not good enough to start, then I want the best guy for this offense to start."

Berndt expects the offense line, headed by left tackle Russell Moses and a healthy center, Hall, to also be improved.

Berndt has a preseason ritual of putting an envelope in his desk, predicting the team's finish. Last season's forecast called for six victories.

This season?

"I think we'll be better than we were last year," Berndt said. "Our goal is to win the SWC and go to the Cotton Bowl."

The Owls open the season Sept. 5 in Rice Stadium against the Lamar Cardinals.

Late homers knockout Rangers, 3-2 as Wathan makes Kansas City debut

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - The Kansas City Royals may have rediscovered something special in their first game under Manager John Wathan.

The Royals became known for comebacks in 1985, coming back time and again until they finally won the World Series.

Lackluster play this year brought a 62-64 record and the downfall of Manager Billy Gardner, who was fired Thursday.

With Wathan in the dugout Thursday night, Kansas City rallied behind a two-out ninth inning home run by Bo Jackson and a two-out 10th inning home run by George Brett for a 3-2 victory over the Texas Rangers.

"The sign of a good team is to battle back and play hard and not give up," a relaxed Wathan said afterward. "It's an exciting feeling to win close games. I think that's what we're going to have to do, win the close games."

Brett hit his 17th home run to left off reliever Dale Mohorcic, who had just come off the disabled list.

"I didn't want to strike out three times, I didn't want to make any errors for him (Wathan)," said Brett, who had struck out in his two previous at-bats. "We started playing together in 1971 in the Instructional League and we played together in the minors. We lived together many times in spring training.

"It's just great to see him get a chance and it's great to see him get his first win. I think we played with more enthusiasm today, there was more hustle, there was more cheering on the bench."

Jackson, who had been benched while struggling through a 1-19 slump, got his first home run since July 30 on a 3-2 pitch from Paul Kilgus.

Jackson, who had doubled in the second inning was 2-25 with 15 strikeouts in his last nine games before getting his 21st home run.

The Rangers had gone ahead 2-1 in the ninth when Pete Incaviglia and Larry Parrish led off with singles. After Pete O'Malley grounded out, Royals starter Bret Saberhagen intentionally walked pinch hitter Geno Petralli to load the bases.

Wathan called for reliever Jerry Don Gleaton, who got pinch hitter Bob Brower to foul out. Gleaton then worked to a 1-2 count on Oddible McDowell before walking him on a 3-2 count and forcing in the lead run.

Ruben Sierra had given the Rangers a 1-0 lead with an inside-the-park home run with two outs in the first inning, his second inside-the-park homer in three games.

Sierra hit a drive off Saberhagen that bounced off the rightfield wall, just out of the reach of a leaping Danny Tartabull. Sierra circled the bases for his 26th homer as centerfielder Willie Wilson chased the ball down.

Kansas City tied the game in the fifth on doubles by Ross Jones and Wilson around a groundout by Larry Owen. Kevin Seitzer and Brett grounded out to strand Wilson.

Each starting pitcher deserved better. Kilgus went 8 2-3 innings and gave up just the one run on five hits before Jackson homered.

Saberhagen, who has struggled with a 6.91 earned run average since the All-Star break, did not allow the Rangers a hit after the third inning until the ninth.

Mohorcic fell to 6-4 with the loss.

UT won't appeal for Lott as yet

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The University of Texas won't automatically appeal the ineligibility of defensive cornerback James Lott just because the NCAA reinstated a Pittsburgh player who, like Lott, received a loan from a sports agent, UT athletic director DeLoss Dodds says.

"Our position today is not to appeal. If circumstances change drastically, we'll look at it," Dodds said Thursday.

The NCAA Eligibility Committee voted earlier this week to restore the eligibility of Pitt senior Teryl Austin, a defensive back who borrowed $2,500 from agent Norby Walters.

Following that decision, the NFL postponed Friday's scheduled supplemental draft, and two players in the draft who had been ruled ineligible may get a chance to appeal to the NCAA to regain their eligibility.

Smith, Expos blank Padres

SAN DIEGO (AP) - Montreal's Bryn Smith wasn't sure he could pitch at all when he took the mound. Then inspiration got the best of him.

Spurred on by a come-from-behind victory 24 hours earlier and the race in the National League East, the right-hander overcame a sore shoulder and became just the second Expos starter to win this month.

Smith, who had elbow surgery in the off-season and hadn't started in eight days because of an aching shoulder, checked the San Diego Padres on four hits over five innings Thursday night for a 3-0 victory.

"The shoulder's basically kind of worn down. Now, it's back in the rebuilding phase," said Smith, 8-6. "It seems to be coming back real good. There was no pain."

Smith, who hadn't won since July 29, said he and Expos Manager Buck Rodgers had decided prior to the game to pull him after five innings.

Elsewhere, Atlanta beat Chicago 5-2 in the first game of a doubleheader. Chicago led the nightcap 8-6 when it was halted by darkness in the eighth inning. No other games were scheduled in the NL.

The only other Montreal starter to win this month was Dennis Martinez, who beat New York on Aug. 10.

Rodgers was thrilled with the victory, which gave the three-game series to the Expos, 2-1. It pushed the third-place Expos within five games of St. Louis and a half-game of New York.

The Expos moved on to Los Angeles where they begin a three-game series against the Dodgers tonight. They face San Francisco and Atlanta before returning home to meet the Cardinals.

Rodgers said the team went into the game fired up by its come-from-behind win the night before. The Expos scored three runs in the ninth inning Wednesday to tie the score at 5-5, then overcame a bases-loaded situation in the 11th, and finally got the winning run in the 12th on Tim Wallach's single.

Smith allowed four hits, struck out two and walked none.

Joe Hesketh, Bob McClure, and Andy McGaffigan pitched the final four innings for Montreal, with McGaffigan getting his ninth save.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED SETTLEMENT

In November of 1986, two classes, the first defined as all mexican-americans eligible to presently or in the future vote in elections for trustees to the Snyder Independent School District, and the second defined as all blacks eligible to presently or in the future vote in the elecions for trustees to the Snyder Independent School District, were certified by the court in Malone, et al v. Snyder Independent School District, et al, Civil Action No. CA5-85-259, pending in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas, Lubbock Division. After lengthy negotiation, the parties to the above-referenced law suit reached a proposed settlement.

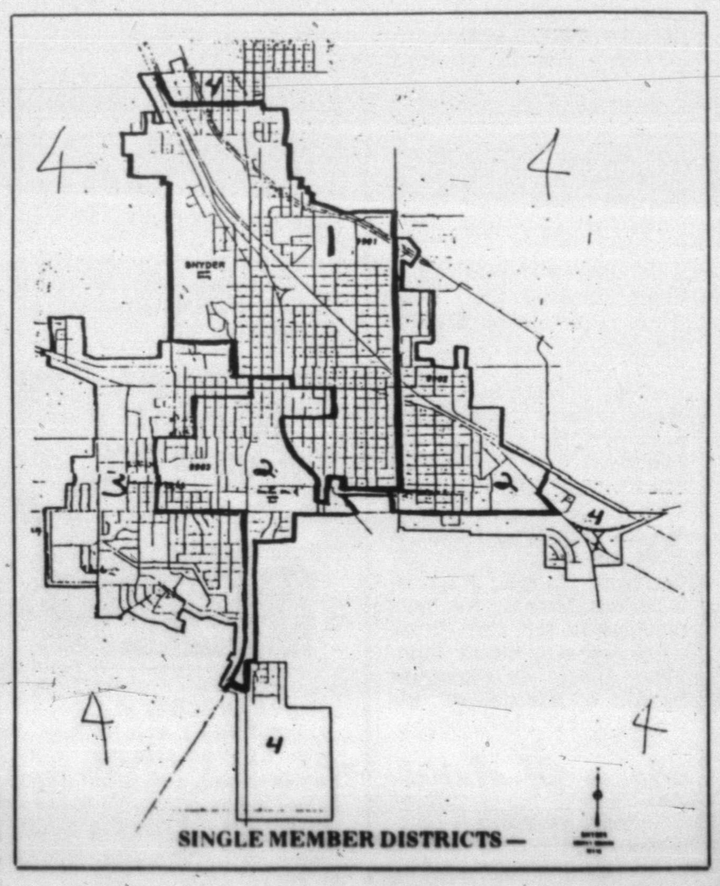
Under the agreement, a new method of electing trustees to the Snyder Independent School District was tentatively adopted. The size of the school district remains at seven members. However, four of the seven members shall be elected from single-member districts, and the remaining three positions shall be elected, simultaneously, at-large and by plurality vote.

All single-member district elections shall be by majority vote. Each registered and qualified voter properly voting in an election for a representative from a single-member district may cast only one ballot for any particular candidate running within that district. With regard to the at-large positions, each registered and qualified voter may cast up to three ballots; however, no more than one ballot may be cast for any one candidate.

The term of the trustees shall remain at three years, except for those who were elected at-large during the April, 1987 elections. Furthermore, each candidate for a trustee position must, at the time of the election and during his or her term of office, live within the Snyder Independent School District. Each candidate seeking to represent a single-member district must, at the time of the election and during his or her term of office, live within his or her respective district and within the Snyder Independent School District. For instance, all candidates seeking to represent District No. 1 must reside within District No. 1 at the time of the election, and, if successfully elected, during his or her term of office. If a trustee occupying a district seat moves out of his district or out of the Snyder Independent School District or if a trustee occupying an at-large position moves out of the Snyder Independent School District, or if any trustee dies in office or resigns then that seat is immediately declared vacant.

An alternate voting plan has also been tentatively adopted. The system, based upon five single-member districts and two at-large, will be implemented depending upon the outcome of that one suit styled Legal of United Latin-American Citizens v. Midland Independent School District; Civil Action No. MO-85-CA-001 (W.D. Tex.). The Honorable Halbert O. Woodward, Judge, will be asked to consider the alternate as well as the primary plan.

The parties hope to install the new voting plan by the next general trustee elections in 1988. Any member of the above defined class who objects to this plan must file the objection in writing, specifically stating their reason for the objection, with the Honorable Halbert O. Woodward, Judge, United States District Court, Room C210, Federal Building, 1205 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, TX 79401, Mr. Tomas Garza, Attorney for the Classes, 820 Avenue H, Suite 2, Lubbock, Texas 79401, and Mr. Brian P. Quinn, 1722 Broadway, Lubbock, Texas 79401, Attorney for the Snyder Independent School District. All objectons must be received by the Court, Mr. Garza and Mr. Quinn no later than October 7th, 1987. As the Court has scheduled a hearing on the above-referenced settlement agreement for Wednesday, October 14, 1987 at 1:00 p.m. o'clock in the United States District Courthouse, in San Angelo, Texas, and may hold a hearing on any objection filed. Anyone filing a objection must appear at the Federal Courthouse in San Angelo at that time and be prepared to present the objection in open court. If they do not, the objection may be waived.



SINGLE MEMBER DISTRICTS—

AVISO DE ARREGLO PROPUESTO

En noviembre de 1986, dos clases, la primera definida como todos mexico-americanos elegible para votar actualmente o en el futuro en elecciones del Consejo Escolar del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder, y el segundo definido como toda la gente negra elegible para votar actualmente o en el futuro en elecciones del Consejo Escolar del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder, fueron certificadas por el tribunal en Malone, et alii contra Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder, et alii, Causa Civil Num. CA5-85-259, pendiente en el Tribunal Regional de los Estados Unidos Americanos del Distrito Norteno de Texas, Division de Lubbock. Despues de negociaciones extensas, los interesados de la disputa sobredicha llegaron a un arreglo propuesto.

Segun el arreglo, un nuevo metodo de elegir miembros para el Consejo Escolar del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder se adopto provisionalmente. El tamano del distrito escolar permanece a siete miembros. Sin embargo, cuatro de los siete miembros se elegiran de distritos unimiembros, and los puestos que sobran se elegiran, simultaneamente, en general y por voto pluralitario.

Todas elecciones de distrito unimiembro se llevaran a cabo por voto mayoritario. Cada votante registrado y calificado votando apropiandamente en una eleccion para representativo de un distrito uni-miembro puede dar solamente una votacion por cualquier candidato en particular que procura ese distrito. Con respecto a los puestos generales, cada votante registrado y calificado puede dar hasta tres votaciones; sin embargo, nada mas que una votacion se le puede dar a cualquier candidato.

El termino de los miembros del consejo escolar permanecera a tres anos, con excepcion de esos quienes se elegieron en general durante las elecciones de abril de 1987. Ademas, cada candidato para un puesto del consejo escolar tendra que, a la hora de la eleccion y durante su mandato del oficio, vivir dentro del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder. Cada candidato que procura representar un distrito uni-miembro tendra que, a la hora de la eleccion y durante su mandato del oficio, vivir dentro de su distrito respectivo y dentro del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder. Por ejemplo, todos los candidatos que procuran representar Distrito Num. 1 tienen que residir dentro del Distrito Num. 1 a la hora de la eleccion, y, si elegido con exito, durante el termino de su oficio. Si un miembro del consejo escolar que ocupa un puesto se mueve fuera de su distrito o fuera del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder o si un miembro que ocupa un puesto en general se mueve fuera del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder, o si cualquier miembro del consejo escolar se muere miemtras ocupa el oficio o renuncia su puesto, entonces ese puesto se inmediatamente declara libre.

Un plan alternativo de votacion tambien se ha adoptado provisionalmente. El sistema, basado en cinco distritos unimiembros y dos en general, se llevara a cabo segun el resultado de ese litigio titulado Liga de Ciudadanos Latino-Americanos Unidos contra el Distrito Escolar Independiente de Midland; Causa Civil Num. MO-85-CA-001 (W.D. Tex.). Se le pedira al Honorable Halbert O. Woodward, Juez, que consiedere el alternativo tanto como el plan primario.

Los interesados esperan instalar el nuevo plan de votacion paara las proximas elecciones generales del consejo escolar en 1988. Cualquier miembro de las definidas clases sobredichas que protesta este plan tiente que registrar la protesta por escrito, declarando especificamente la razon por la protesta, con el Honorable Halbert O. Woodward, Juez, United States District Court, Room C210, Federal Building, 1205 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas 79401, Sr. Tomas Garza, Abogado de las clases, 820 Avenue H., Suite 2, Lubbock, Texas 79401 y el Sr. Brian P. Quinn, 1722 Broadway, Lubbock, Texas 79401, Abogado del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder. Todas protestas tendran que ser recibidas por el Tribunal, el Sr. Garza y el Sr. Quinn no despues del 7th de October, 1987. Asi que el Tribunal ha fijado la hora para una vista acerca del arreglo sobredicho el 14th de October 1987 a la/las 1:00 p.m. en el Palacio Regional de Justicia de los Estados Unidos Americanos, San Angelo, Condado de Tom Green, Texas, y podra escuchar cualquier protesta registrada.

Cualquiera que registra una protesta tene que presentarse en el Palacio Federal de Justicia en San Angelo a la hora fijada y estar preparado para presentar las protesta en pleno tribunal. Si no se cumple con esto, la protesta podra ser renunciada.

John Huston, film maker, dies in his sleep at age 81

MIDDLETOWN, R.I. (AP) — Director John Huston, who lived as hard and at times as dangerously as the characters in "The Maltese Falcon," "Prizzi's Honor" and other films which he created in a long and honored career, died today. He was 81.

Huston died in his sleep at a home he was renting here during the filming of "Mr. North," said Patty Raya, production coordinator for the movie.

Huston had been released last week from a hospital in Fall River, Mass., after he was hospitalized for three weeks for emergency treatment of pneumonia complicated by his long-time emphysema.

During his half-century in film, Huston ventured deep into a jungle for "The African Queen," pulled together misfits and outcasts for "Under the Volcano," drank, caroused, befriended such mavericks as Ernest Hemingway and flourished in a Hollywood that cut most rebels down to size.

A half-dozen of his 40 feature films were considered classics, including "The Asphalt Jungle," "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre," and "Key Largo."

He was the son of Walter Huston and the father of Anjelica Huston, and made film history by directing each of them in movies that won them Oscars. He won his own for writing and directing "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre."

He also acted; in perhaps his best-known role, he played the corrupt father in "Chinatown."

He rarely trimmed his pace, though he suffered in later years from emphysema that forced him to wear tubes leading to an oxygen tank.

John Marcellus Huston was born Aug. 5, 1906, in Nevada, Mo. His father was then a utility company engineer, his mother a traveling reporter. He made his stage debut at the age of 3, reciting "Yankee Doodle Dandy," and spent much of his childhood shuttling back and forth between parents, who split up when he was 6.

After grade school, Huston became a boxer, then studied painting. He worked briefly as a screenwriter, newpaper reporter and editor before joining Warner Bros. as a writer in 1935.

He got his first directorial assignment in 1941 with "The Maltese Falcon." He wrote the screenplay himself from Dashiell Hammett's novel, and cast Humphrey Bogart, Mary Astor, Sydney Greenstreet and Peter Lorre.

It marked the start of an association with Bogart both off and on the screen. Bogart starred in "The Treasure of Sierra Madre," for which Walter Huston won a supporting actor Oscar, and took the best actor Oscar for "The African Queen."

In 1983, he received the Life Achievement Award of the American Film Institute.

Huston was married five times, to Dorothy Harvey, Lesley Black, Evelyn Keyes, Enrica Soma and Celeste Shane. All ended in divorce, except for his marriage to Miss Soma, who died after a long separation.

He had five children, Anjelica and Tony by Miss Soma; Danny by Zoe Sallis; and Allegra and Pablo, whom he adopted. He had befriended Pablo, a Mexican orphan, while filming "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre."

Last year, Snyder's donations totaled some $1,326. The MDA supports some 240 hospital-affiliated clinics nationwide where patients receive care for any of the 40 neuromuscular diseases covered under the association's programs.

In the Lubbock area, an MDA clinic is located at Methodist Hospital.

The Labor Day telethon last year raised the highest pledge total in the show's 20-year history, more than $34 million in pledges.

Births

Greg and Carrie Hayes of Snyder are the parents of a baby girl, Courtney Jane, born at 5:40 p.m. Aug. 6 in Methodist Hospital of Lubbock. She weighed seven pounds three ounces. Grandparents are Ted and Jane Crenwelge and Doyle and Jean Hayes.

Iran scoffing at arms embargo by United States

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Iran scoffed at the threat of a United Nations arms embargo, said it flight-tested its first domestically produced plane and vowed to press its 7-year-old war with Iraq to victory.

Shipping sources said earlier reports that another U.S. Navy-escorted convoy of reflagged Kuwaiti tankers was headed up the Persian Gulf to Kuwait may have been wrong. They said the ship movements actually may have been American warships deploying in the region as part of a U.S. Navy buildup.

Sources in Kuwait and Washington on Thursday denied reports that a convoy was off the coast of Saudi Arabia or had arrived in Kuwait.

Weather conditions improved in the northern gulf today, but dust and haze continued over southern sections.

Shipping sources who spoke on condition of anonymity also reported widespread radio interference and unexplained jamming of radars along the gulf coast.

Western Texas College...

Women's Program to offer workshops

For the fourth year in a row, Western Texas College will again offer a series of workshops for women of all ages and economic backgrounds.

The workshops are sponsored by the Women's Program at the college and an informational meeting is planned for 7 p.m. Monday, Aug. 31, at the Senior Center. All interested women are invited to attend, says Pat Blakely, director of the Women's Program.

The first workshop will begin on Sept. 3 from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. Subsequent sessions will be held on Tuesday and Thursday of each week of the fall semester for a total of 11 weeks of instruction. Classes will conclude at Thanksgiving.

The college will not charge any tuition for the workshop and free childcare will be available for those who need it, Mrs. Blakely said.

Dan Osborn will again teach the workshop and subject matter to be covered includes relationships within the family, stress, depression, alcoholism, and teenage drug abuse.

Field trips are also planned and career choice counseling and financial aid counseling will also be available.

No high school diploma or GED is required to sign up for the workshop, but Mrs. Blakely said that many women go on to not only get their GED but to take other college courses as well. To date some 102 women have registered for the special workshops.

"We have been pleased with the success of the workshops in the past and are excited about the opportunity to bring them to the community one more time," Mrs. Blakely said.

For more information call Mrs. Blakely at 573-0907.

Medicare wants money back

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Medicare is seeking the return of $13.3 million in overpayments the agency made to patients and doctors across Texas because of a computer error by Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Texas, officials say.

Medicare has sent letters to patients and doctors requesting that the money be paid within 30 days.

"Most Medicare patients are on Social Security and have no extra money, no fat in their budgets," Dr. Melvin Fox, president of the El Paso County Medical Society, said. "Why is our government so inhuman with these patients? Why is it so lacking in compassion?"

Jerry Sconce, regional administrator of the federal Health Care Financing Administration in Dallas, said the agency "isn't coming down like gangbusters on patients who don't have the money."

"In fact, while we did overpay about $15 million, we are trying to collect only $13.3 million," Sconce said. "If an overpayment to a patient is under $50, we don't try to collect because it costs more to write the letters and go through the collection procedure."

Sconce, reached at home by the El Paso Times, did not have figures on the number of patients and doctors in El Paso who are being billed for the overpayment.

The El Paso County Medical Society and representatives of the American Association of Retired Persons were trying to find out Thursday how many patients and doctors will be affected and how much money is involved.

Robin Weinman, executive director of the Medical Society, said in a news release issued Thursday that $4 million statewide is being billed directly to patients.

The overpayments began in early 1985 after Blue Cross-Blue Shield, the Medicare contractor in Texas, changed computer codes from a four-digit locally used code to a five-digit national code created by the American Medical Association, Sconce said.

The codes reflected reasonable charges doctors could make on procedures performed for Medicare patients.

Errors were made in charge codes for 16 medical procedures, and overpayment for those procedures occurred for six or seven months before the error was discovered in January 1986, Sconce said.

It took until March 1986 to get the codes corrected, he said.

But bills for the overpayments were not sent out until last week.

"They identified this problem almost two years ago and we heard nothing about it," Fox said. "Why?

"I don't believe that in the history of Medicare this has happened before. They have never gone to a patient population of this magnitude because of a problem like this," Fox said.

Assignment plan won't be blocked

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A federal appeals court refused to block a new student assignment plan by the Austin Independent School District, but said it would hear quickly a claim by some parents that the plan is discriminatory and unconstitutional.

School district officials have said that a court order barring the implementation of the new student assignment plan would have delayed the first day of school Tuesday.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans Thursday agreed with school officials on that point.

"To arrest the new plan at this moment would result in chaos in the school system," said the 5th Circuit. "Schools could not reopen on Sept. 1 even if the previous plan were reinstituted, and that seems to be impossible if the Texas law concerning student-teacher ratios ... is to be followed."

The plan does away with almost all cross-town busing of elementary school students for desegregation purposes. The plaintiffs say it would resegregate schools and discriminate against all students.

Effects of rare syndrome

DEAR DR. GOTT — My niece has Marfan's syndrome. Her height is 6 feet, 5 inches (she's 17), and she's still growing. What can you tell us about this disease?

DEAR READER — Marfan's syndrome is an inherited abnormality of connective tissue, the material that holds organs together. Patients with this disorder are tall and thin and have long extremities. The syndrome is marked by a high, arched palate, crowding of the teeth, poorly developed muscles, asymmetry of the chest cage and spine, inguinal hernias, emphysema, eye abnormalities (especially displacement of the lenses) and degeneration of the aorta (causing aneurysm).

Virtually any organ can be affected, depending on the severity of the disease, because connective tissue is widely distributed in the body. The most serious consequence of Marfan's syndrome is the aortic involvement. This major blood vessel may balloon out, cause heart strain or burst. Aortic disease is the leading cause of death in Marfan's patients, most of whom succumb to cardiovascular complications at an average age of 32.

Modern surgical techniques make repair of the weakened aorta a life-saving procedure. However, not all patients require surgery; a considerable amount of variability occurs among people with this ailment. In milder forms of the disease, simple restrictions — such as prohibition from strenuous activity and contact sports — may enable Marfan's patients to lead relatively normal lives.

Other medical treatment includes addressing problems as they arise: hormone therapy (to speed up maturation of bones in children), braces to prevent spinal curvature and prophylactic antibiotics to prevent heart-valve infection.

Some experts have suggested that Abraham Lincoln had Marfan's syndrome. Surely, there are many patients with the syndrome who lead long, productive lives. Although the cause of Marfan's is unknown, much can now be done to correct the abnormalities seen in the disease. For people with the condition, regular medical examinations enable doctors to identify early abnormalities and treat them as needed.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I'm male, 17, with an embarrassing problem. When I was 14 all the secondary sexual characteristics appeared, but my voice never changed. I still sound like a little kid. Is there anything I can do?

DEAR READER — The lowering of the voice in male adolescents is due to genetic influences and hormone levels. You have little control over your genes. However, your voice might be improved by the judicious use of male hormone to supplement the amount already manufactured by your body.

I suggest that you seek a consultation with an endocrinologist, a doctor who specializes in disorders of the glandular system. Such a specialist will be able to advise you whether hormone treatment would be appropriate and effective in your case.

Dr. Gott's new Health Report on weight loss tells you how to lose weight wisely — and keep it off. For your copy, send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to ask for WINNING THE BATTLE OF THE BULGE.
