NO CHANCE FOR FLEPHANT TO DEFEAT DONKEY

G.O.P. Hopes to Win Texas Doomed Already

By H. N. F.

DALLAS, Aug. 29.—A democratic nomination has been equivalent to an election in Texas since 1872. In that year the democrats swept out the carpet baggers and their followers and installed Richard Coke as their governor. Texas has been rightfully called the banner democratic state and has been known to roll up a majority of 350,000 for the democratic ticket. In populistic years the democrats were compelled to fight for the life of the party but they got there just the same. They had all the election officers and democratic election officers always stand for a free ballot and a quick and honest count. Earle B. Mayfield has been nominated a majority of the democrats of Texas for United States senator.

James E. Ferguson has bowed to the will of the democratic people of the commonwealth and will take his place among the rank and file. Those who expected Ferguson to bolt the nomination of Mayfield and make the race as an independent subject to the decision of the people at the polls in November were mistaken in their man. He submitted his cause subject to the democratic primary of July. He ran second and found himself in the run-off. He ran second in the run-off and the large vote he received demonstrated that he staged a remarkable comeback even though he lost the senatorship. This is a democracy and the will of the mapority is said to prevail.

Hard Sledding for G. O. P.

Those who win at one election lost at the next and the queer thing is that a democrat in Texas finds himself in one campaign chumming with the fellows he fought two years before. Politics makes strange bedfellows. Politics made strange bedfellows this year. Politics will make strange bedfellows two years hence. Republican leaders are planning for an aggressive campaign. They hope to make a very handsome showing at the polls in November. They may but the times and the conditions are against them. The Harding administration has not been a success. It may not have been a rank failure but the list of its achievements do not appeal to democrats or independents.

There are 1,100,000 qualified voters in Texas. Something over 600,000 participated in the July primary. Something less than five hundred and fifty thousand participated in the August run-off. There is a vast number of voters, a huge army in Texas, made up of very indifferent democrats or republicans and independents and socialists. They are qualified voters but they keep away from the primary voting boxes. There are 27,000 in Dallas county alone or a greater number of voters than the

JOHNSON LEADS IN CALIFORNIA

Heads Moore In Senate Race

By Associated Press.

CAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Senator Hiram W. Johnson had 7,301 votes early tonight to Charles C. Congressman H. Z. Osborne and Walter Lineberger had comfortable leads over their opponents in the two Los Angeles congressional districts.

H. N. F's. Mainly About People

The Public Suffers—Ford Will Shut Down—Blames Wall Street—A Blow To Detroit—

HENRY FORD HAS ANnounced that on Sept. 16 his three big motor plants, located in Detroit suburbs and his assembling plants throughtout the country will be closed. The mechanical wizard of the west declared that industry the county over must throw up its hands and surrender within a few weeks if the rail and coal strikes continue. He held financial interests responsible for the industrial tie-ups, declaring the money barons were manipulating the labor unions and that public officials, state and national, were impotent in the crisis. Moreover he said the strikes would end when a majority of the people are cold and hungry enough to resort to drastic action.

HENRY FORD IS THE SECOND richest man of the republic. He is one of the largest employers of labor. He has his own viewpoint and his indictment of Wall street is characteristic of the man. Continuances of these disturbances to the economic life of the nation, he avers, is due simply to the greed and avarice of Wall street, adding that these interests dominated the railroads, coal mines and public utilities of the country. Furthermore, he declared, the deadlock in strike negotiations, indicated the existence of a plot to unload the demoralized and run down railroads onto the government at their own price, and to mulct the people through excessive prices.

ACCORDING TO THE DETROIT story of the contemplated shutdown 105,000 employes of the Fords throughout the country will be without jobs after Sept. 16. In addition several hundred thousand workers employed in industries furnishing materials for the Ford plants will be affected. Henry Ford has been making a losing fight during the last few months to insure a fuel supply to keep his workers at their machines. Normal daily consumption of coal in the Ford industry is 3,800 tons and when the shut-down comes crews sufficient to keep the furnaces warm will be held and this is all. This announcement is regarded as the most severe blow that industrial Detroit has sustained since the depression of two years ago. Henry Ford has no love for the great financiers who control or dominate the railroads, the coal mines and public utilities of the country. There are no labor strikes at the Ford plants. Henry Ford and his army of employes never quarrel over wage schedules, or working hours. He has a minimum wage and it is the highest paid in the world and all above the minimum wage employed are rewarded for their efficiency, their loyalty and their devotion to the organization that they serve.

LONG AGO THE WRITER PRE- dicted that a coal famine was in sight and that the coal crisis has been aggravated and made more acute by the rail strike. Really, the public, the hundred millions of Americans who are not engaged in mining or the rail industry are the principal sufferers. They carry the load. They pay the cost of both strikes. They suffer the losses. On the other hand the great mine owners who dominate other industries insist upon a showdown in the anthracite fields and the rail executives are more determined than ever before that this must be a finish fight with the surrender of the labor organizations at its termination.

NOW WHAT IS CONGRESS DO- ing? What is the national government doing? What would Theodore Roosevelt do under the circumstances? What would Woodrow Wilson do? W. G. McAdoo warned congress before that majestic or stupid body enacted the Esch-Cummins act that it would be the height of folly for the government to surrender control of the railways before 1925. He said that a scrambled egg could not be unscrambled, with a due regard for the public interests or weal in less than that time.

HE PREDICTED THAT freight rates would be advanced beyond the limit of public endurance, that the rail executives and are rail employes would be involved in a desperate contest for supremacy which would threaten the industries of the country, and great hardships as a result would come upon the American people.

CONGRESS ENACTED THE Esch-Cummins act. Congress handed the railways back to the executives. Then the fight began for sweeping reductions of the wages of employes on rail and in mine and now the people are up against just what McAdoo predicted when he warned congress against the legislation that was pending at the time. Now Henry Ford says when the majority of "the people are without coal and hungry enough to resort to drastic action, the strikes will terminate."

McCormick Quits As Head of Local Police Department

Head of Department Leaves Sept. 1 For Sherman to Join State Guard Force.

J. W. McCormick, chief of police, resigned from his post in the city police department yesterday afternoon, his resignation to take effect September 1.

J. B. Fitts, commissioner of police, declared last night at a late hour that "Chief McCormick's resignation has not yet been officially received." He made no statement relative to who will succeed Mr. McCormick.

McCormick, a sergeant in the Texas ranger force, who had been stationed in the northwest field, with headquarters here for a long period, became chief of police in Wichita Falls, April 16, at the instance of Mr. Fitts and the city commissioners.

He declared last night that he would leave Wichita Falls September 1, to report in Sherman, Texas, to Captain Tom Hickman, of the rangers, resuming his old post as sergeant.

The announcement made by Mr. McCormick late yesterday came as a complete surprise in official circles. No mention of his resignation had been made in the council meeting, called Tuesday night for special matters, and it is understood that the greater portion of the councilmen last night were unaware of the act.

"I talked with Major General Barton in Austin over long distance yesterday morning," Chief McCormick said to The Record News reporter, "and I have decided to take my old job back on the ranger force. He told me to report to Captain Hickman at Sherman, September 1, and since my resignation, which I have already prepared, is effective for that date, I will join the captain in Sherman at that time."

Refuses to Make Statement.

This was the only statement McCormick made relative to his resignation from the chief's chair of the city police force, and whether a break has

316 PERSONS ON STEAMER LOST IN SEA TRAGEDY

Chilean Vessel Itata Goes Down Off Coast

By Associated Press.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 29.—Only six persons, including two passengers, out of a total of 322 on board the Chilean steamship Itata were saved when the vessel sank today off the Chilean coast near Coquimbo.

SHIP ONCE FIGURED IN INTERNATIONAL ROW

SAN DIEGO, California, Aug. 29.—The Chilean steamship Itata, reported sunk, figured in a sensational international incident nearly thirty years ago when the vessel was overhauled far down the Pacific coast and returned by the U. S. S. Charleston, later wrecked in the Gulf of Mexico. Two days after clearing from San Diego, the Itata was charged with having violated neutrality laws and orders were issued by the United States navy department to the commander of the Charleston, anchored in the San Diego harbor to pursue and return the Itata here.

Fight Impends

President Balmaceda of Chile, upon learning of the action of the United States ordered the cruiser Esmeralda to proceed north to meet the Itata and convoy the steamship to Santiago. For days the people of the two nations were in suspense as wireless was unknown at that time and hostilities were feared in the event a clash between the Charleston and Esmeralda.

Nearly one week after the Itata cleared from San Diego the ship was overhauled by the Charleston and a detachment of officers and sailors from the latter was placed on board the Chilean ship for the return to San Diego. Later the Esmeralda put in an appearance and the Charleston was prepared for battle, but the Chileans made no demonstration and soon headed about for Santiago.

The Itata was brought to San Diego, and following lengthy proceedings in the United States courts, the owners of the ships were required to pay a heavy fine.

MINE WAR PROBE HELD IN SECRET

Names of Witnesses Withheld

By Associated Press

MARION, Ill., Aug. 29.—The veil of secrecy that has been thrown around the grand jury investigation of the Herrin mine war that took place June 21 and 22 last, causing 22 fatalities was drawn tighter this afternoon, not even the names of the witnesses being divulged. This stringent action followed the report that one witness had declined to testify or answer questions put by the members of the investigating body.

Many Called

More than to score of witnesses were called into the grand jury during the day, the chief witness being Alton P. Findlay, of Chicago, timekeeper of the Southern Illinois coal company. Findlay was shot twice during the massacre that followed the surrender of the mine employes, and only his presence of mind saved him from certain death when the "clean up" squad of the mob went over the battle ground and found Findlay apparently dead. Findlay was the second man in line when the "death march" began, and it is understood that he furnished the grand jury valuable information as to the apparent leaders of the attacking mob.

Suspension of Work At Ford Plants Is Part of War On Coal Profiteers

Flivver Builder Says He's Not Urging Men To Seek Work In Railroad Shops.

By Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 29.—Reiteration that Henry Ford was "not bluffing" in his decision to shut down his big automobile plants here on September 18, as part of a fight against what he terms a "holdup" on the part of coal brokers, and denial of various reports that other than the fuel shortage were responsible for his action, were made today at the Detroit manufacturer's office.

A report from Louisville that when 75,000 Ford workers in the Detroit district were released on September 16, Mr. Ford would advise them to take employment with the railroads in an effort to break the rail strike was denied emphatically. The statement was termed ridiculous. "There may be individual cases of Ford workers, anticipating the lack of employment, making application for work with the railroads," it was said, "but Mr. Ford certainly is not going to advise the men to attempt to break the rail strike."

Another report that met emphatic denial was that lack of business figured the decision to close up the plants. Figures were cited to refute it. "When the decision to close the plants," was reached, it was stated, "we were four weeks behind in orders for Ford cars and three weeks behind in orders for Lincoln cars. We had only just caught up on orders for tractors."

The decision to suspend operation came, it was reiterated, at a time when the Ford company was doing the greatest business in its history. Production figures showed 5,100 cars being turned out daily against orders for 5,200 a day, it was pointed out.

Labor Board Wont Define "Living Wage"

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Declaring that the desire of 400,000 maintenance of way employes to obtain "a living wage" through decision of the United States railroad labor board "seems absolutely hopeless," E. F. Grable, president of the track men tonight sent telegrams to President Harding and Chairman Cummins of the senate interstate commerce committee, urging that the transportation act be revised at once to make provision for the living wage.

Mr. Grable's telegram was sent after the labor board, in answer to a request of the united brotherhood of maintenance of way employes and railway shop laborers that the board accept the principle of the living wage, had replied that it would not go beyond the transportation act, which says that wages shall be "just and reasonable."

QUANAH, Texas, August 29.—Latest returns on the district judge's race, compiled from six counties in the panhandle, show that Leak is leading Hankins by 717 votes. The figures are: Leak, 6,301, Hankins, 5,584.

SENATE FAVORS USE OF INTEREST FOR VETERANS

Final Vote on Bill Expected This Week

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Without a record vote, the senate today approved the use of the interest on the foreign debt in financing the soldier's bonus. Also it substituted the Smith-McNary $350,000,000 reclamation bill for the land settlement option in the house measure. Then it quit for the day with a final vote on the bonus measure at least one and perhaps two or three days distant.

The amendment authorizing the payment of the bonus charge with the interest on the eleven billion of dollars owed the United States by the allied nations was proposed by Senator Simmons, democrat, North Carolina.

He and Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, and other members urged it as a means not only of meeting President Harding's requirements that the bill carry a means of financing, but also of silencing the talk about the cancellation of the foreign debts. A roll call on the proposal was demanded at first, but this demand was withdrawn, presumably because of the apprehension of leaders that a quorum could not be obtained at the then late hour.

Thirty-three senators, signifying their approval of the amendment and one, Senator New, republican Indiana, his disapproval.

The Smith-McNary reclamation amendment was agreed to 43 to 26. Party lines disappeared on the roll call, 23 republicans and 20 democrats supporting the amendment and 18 republicans and eight democrats opposing it.

All of the senators from the far western states voted for the proposal and all of those from the New England states voted against it.

The Smith-McNary amendment would provide for the reclaiming of arid lands in the west through irrigation and swamp lands in the south and other sections by drainage, the work to be done under the direction of the secretary of the interior, through federal and state co-operation. Veterans of the world war, the Spanish-American war and the Philippine insurrection would be given first opportunity to obtain homesteads and also in working on the various projects.

Opposition Voiced.

Opposition to the amendment was voiced by Senators McCumber, republican, North Dakota, in charge of the bonus; Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin, and Robinson, democrat, Arkansas. The charge was made the opponents of the bonus were supporting this proposition in the hope that it would furnish an added reason for the president to veto the bonus.

Senator McNary, republican, Oregon, who proposed the reclamation feature, told Senator McCumber that the bill would stand a better chance of executive approval with his amendment attached than it would without it.

Senator Williams declared that the years given by the soldiers either at home or overseas were not years sacrificed, as he said had been claimed but "years glorified and years sanctified." He said the men received the equal of a "university course," while in the army and those who returned home sound were much improved in body as well as in mind.

Houston Scout Drowned in Camp

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 29.—Merrill Smith, 15, was drowned this afternoon at the Houston Boy Scouts' encampment 20 miles from here. His death is the first fatality that has occurred at a scout camp here since the encampment began four years ago.

Owners of Stolen Motors Identify Them, Climb in, Drive Off Happily

The arrest of Marvin Blair, driller of Electra, made the sixth arrest in the automobile case unearthed late Monday by Constable Frank Morgan and his deputies, Blair being placed under an official order Tuesday morning and being released later by Wayne Sommerville, assistant county attorney, on bond of $250, on an official information charging him with the receiving and concealing stolen property.

Constable Morgan asserted later in the day that he had disposed of all of the recovered automobiles, the owners appearing at his office yesterday during the day and claiming their respective cars.

A Dodge roadster stolen from Dr. J. D. Hall, of 807 Bluff street, June 22 was claimed by Dr. Hall yesterday afternoon, making the final disposition to be made of the five vehicles located by the constable and his deputies.

The other vehicles were returned to the following persons:

E. S. Goodner, recipient of a Dodge truck that had been stolen from him April 9. The Dodge was originally a touring car, according to the officers, but the body had been chopped away by an axe, and had been converted into a truck.

A Ford touring car stolen August 9 about 9:30 o'clock from its parking place in front of the City National Bank of Commerce building was identified by T. W. Mendenhall, of 2414 Tenth street, while a Ford roadster stolen July 15 from a Mr. Kelly of Burkburnett was also returned to its owner.

All of the prisoners and the cases were turned over to the grand jury yesterday, it was learned, which body is investigating the discoveries made by Constable Frank Morgan and his aides, when, following up a straight tip they had previously received, they raided an establishment in Electra late Monday and placed five men under arrest, one of whom was released.

Tom Barker, Dick Glenn, Ocie E. Glenn and Claude Tidwell were all in the county prison yesterday, charged with receiving and concealing stolen property, and it is understood that they will be held in the jail until they are brought before the grand jury for investigation.

"We've got an ace in the hole," Constable Morgan asserted yesterday afternoon in conversing concerning the big raid. "We have the best information we could hope for, and we believe we will be able to unearth some of the biggest thefts that have been made in Wichita county."

Negro Held For Attack on Woman

By Associated Press.

SHREVEPORT, La., Aug. 29.—Thomas Rivers, negro, was arrested here late this afternoon by Chief D. D. Bazer of the city police force in connection with the attack upon a young married woman late last night. The negro was identified by the young woman and later made a complete confession in which he admitted also that he is the negro wanted by the authorities of Marshall, Texas on charges of having attempted to assault a young white girl at that place about a month ago. He was taken late tonight to another point the exact location of which was not divulged by the police, for safe keeping.

Flames Gaining In Desperate Battle For Lives of 47 Entombed Miners

By Associated Press.

JACKSON, Calif., Aug. 29.—Rescue crews, working in six hour shifts, and putting every iota of energy that they can command into their work, are clearing out tonight a caved in tunnel leading from the Kennedy to the Argonaut mine in the hope of rescuing 47 miners trapped by a fire in the main Argonaut shaft. It is expected that the work will take two more days at least, but, according to state and government experts on the scene, it appears to hold the only hope for the imprisoned men.

The rescuers have figured that the tunnel will come below the lowest fire level in the Argonaut. Tests for gases are being made as they dig their way along, in order that they shall not be overcome by any possible escape of the noxious fumes from the shaft. As each crew goes off the shift, it is brought back near exhaustion by tireless red cross workers who have established quarters in the mine blacksmith shop and the headquarters building.

Hope for rescuing the men through the main shaft was abandoned when it was determined that the fire was gaining despite efforts to get it under control. The tearing out of considerable timbering at the 2500 foot level did not seem to impede the flames to any great extent, according to government experts and the fire was licking its way toward the shaft collar tonight, driving the fighting crews upward inch by inch.

An appliance for detecting any sound or signal that may be made by the entombed miners, if they are still alive, was to be put into the tunnel.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The conference between operators and miners representatives involving the tie-up in the anthracite field were still in progress at 1 o'clock this morning. DETECTIVES FOUND CLUE

A New York ice man stole the wedding ring of one of his customers and while detectives were questioning him developed a stomach ache. Ah ha! They had him promptly X-rayed and found the ring reposing in his stomach. Which may be more comforting than having a ring on your mind when the police are searching you. Possibly they will operate on the ice man. That should be punishment enough.

ARCHER AREA IS QUARANTINED

Ticks Found After Shipment

Special to the Record News.

ARCHER CITY, Aug. 29.—Apropos the finding of fever ticks recently in the Coff Conner pasture west of Archer City, and the bringing in and shipping those cattle from the pens here, it is learned that that pasture, the lane between here and the town joy has been quarantined. The ticks were not found however, until the shipment of cattle reached Kansas City.

Charles Dickey, who also holds a state commission, has been employed as inspector by the county. He has searched for ticks in adjoining pastures, but found none. Cattle in this quarantined area must be dipped. Arrangements are being made to fix pens for the old dipping vat in East part of the city, and the cow, as well as town Jackass, will be dipped in accordance with law. Archer county has been free of ticks for about three years, and in this instance it is thought possibly they were brought in from an infected area by movers or camper's horses or mules.

Roads Hire Men

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Declaring that the break up of negotiations between railroads and shop crafts representatives last week has brought on a nation-wide disintegration of the strike, Robert S. Binkerd, assistant chairman of the association of railway executives, today announced that 8,400 men were hired by the roads of the nation last Saturday within 24 hours after negotiations ended.

DRILLING AT ABILENE

Special to The Record News.

ABILENE, Aug. 29—Though there has been no excitement or any activity of a sensational nature in the development of oil possibilities in the Abilene and surrounding territory in the past several months, there has been considerable drilling going on and indications are that in the next few weeks or months there might be uncovered in this territory a few paying wells.

Though there has been no wild scramble for leases many leases have changed hands among those who are most familiar with the oil fraternity. And, too, it might be well to add that during this period of activity, which is now going on, the people of Abilene have not been "bored" and bothered by oil stock salesmen and oil well promoters. Instead, the wells are being drilled and financed by independent operators or companies of sufficient and sound financial standing as not to require any capital from the interested public.

A BELATED RESCUE.

Mrs. Mary Ann Wiggins Schultz, Toledo, has been rescued from the wash-tub at the age of 68 by a legacy of $375,000 left her by two bachelor uncles, wealthy hotel men. Fine things for the old bachelors to do, but one wonders why they delayed her rescue so long. Why couldn't she have had a few of these thousands when life meant a little more than at 68 after bending many years over a washboard.

RESIGNED

M'CORMICK—

arisen in official circles that has brought about his action is not known the chief refusing to make any statements along that line.

When McCormick first took the helm in the city office, the police department had approximately 38 officers. Shortly after he had been in office, the department was reduced to a large degree in round numbers and since that time it has been cut to less than 20 men.

Whether this had anything to do with Mr. McCormick's resignation is not known, but it is common knowledge that he had repeatedly said he was limited to too few men to accomplish the work needed in this city.

Chief McCormick paid Commissioner Fitts a high tribute last night, declaring that "he is a worthy man for the office he holds, and he is thoroughly efficient in conducting the affairs and the destiny of the police department. "This city is indeed fortunate in having J. B. Fitts as its police commissioner, and it has been a pleasure for me to work under him."

The police force, when its members had been informed of their chief's action, took the blow rather sadly. None of the "boys," as Chief McCormick called his aides, seemed to take the news in a joyous manner, and one by one they came to him late yesterday afternoon, grasped his hand and inquired:

"'Mac,' you don't mean that, do you?"

In office less than the six months which the man he succeeded allotted him as his time there, Chief McCormick has been largely responsible for a steady law-enforcement program which is working here, and the receipts gathered in through the city corporate court indicate the efficient manner in which he had his department operating.

May Come Back

During the present month, he was partially responsible, through his own acts, and wholly responsible, as chief of police, for the collection of over $2,000 through the corporate court, which, reported at the last regular meeting of the council, was "the best record that we have had in Wichita Falls in three years."

"I may come back to Wichita Falls at a later date, and I may take the chief's chair again at some future time," McCormick declared. "I have told Mr. Fitts that I may meet his desires along that line at some future date."

ELECTRA MAYOR IS COMMENDED

Oklahoma Editorial Lauds Him

Mayor Calvert of Electra is warmly commended for his recently stand against outlawry following a threatened attack upon a negro prisoner in the Daily Oklahoman, Oklahoma City, which says:

"The courageous stand taken by the mayor of Electra, Texas, in upholding the law, will serve to remove to a certain extent the stigma which attached to the name of the town as a result of the outrage committed against negroes, there. By swearing in 60 citizens as deputies, the mayor saved from violence a negro accused of attacking a white girl, although he was unable to prevent the burning of buildings occupied or owned by negroes.

"It is stated that it has not been definitely established that the negro prisoner is guilty of the charge made against him. But even if he were known to be guilty, he should be given a fair trial, as the constitution provides.

"It was un-American for the mob to attempt to lynch the accused negro. But it was even more so, for the mob to burn the property of negroes who were not even suspected of connection with the crime.

"Negroes are enlisted to the protection of the law, not only because they are human beings, but also because they are citizens.

"All members of the mob that burned the negroes' property at Electra should be punished if their identity can be established. And every effort should be made to establish their identity.

"If liberty and the protection of the law are to mean what they should in this country, they must be extended all citizens.

"There should be no governmental or other domination of negroes over white people and social equality of negroes with white people is unthinkable. But those things can be prevented without resort to the gun, the rope and the torch."

Stopper Takes All Morrissey Can Hurl In His Direction

Johnny Stopper of Denver, Colo., didn't carry the K O punch in either mitt last night, but he gave Battling Lee Morrissey one of the classiest scraps that has ever been witnessed in Burkburnett.

Stopper and Morrissey, their heads together in the center of the ring most of the fight, staged a clever, entertaining 12-round mixup in the American Legion arena at Burk last night that brought the crowd to its feet on several occasions.

Stopper had the better of the infighting, and carried the fight all the way to his opponent, while Morrissey landed at random on his opponent's neck, face and jaws without effect. Stopper was never moved out of his tracks by a single swing that Morrissey landed, while the latter seemed able to cover up in a shell and prevent any serious damage being done to himself.

The ringside gave the battle to the visitor on aggressiveness and points, while Morrissey, too, had his supporters for the decision.

Several classy prelims and a fast semi-windup featured the evening's entertainment of 34 rounds.

WHO'LL WIN?

Above, Sen. James K. Vardaman, Below, Hubert D. Stephens.

Miss Belle Kearney didn't pull enough votes, 17,000 to come close in the Mississippi senatorial primaries, but she did corral enough to make a "run-off" primary necessary between Senator James K. Vardaman, seeking renomination, and Hubert D. Stephens, runner-up in the recent primaries.

"BLEW HIM UP" FOR GOOD

Three sticks of dynamite tied together and concealed beneath the springs of the front seat of an Indian man's automobile by someone unknown, were connected with the self-starter by a copper wire. When the car's owner stepped on the button a terrific explosion followed that blew him high in the air. So ended the career of an Indiana "love pirate." Risque romance becomes more and more risky.

54 MINES IN EAST TO OPEN

Pittsburgh Producers Accept Terms

By Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—The Pittsburgh coal producers association tonight accepted the terms of the Cleveland agreement and signed a supplemental agreement with the United Mine workers association to immediately re-open 54 mines employing more than 10,000 men. This action practically ended the strike of miners in the bituminous field which began April 1.

PEPPER PROPOSES IMMEDIATE SETTLEMENT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—A proposal that the strike in the anthracite coal fields be settled immediately on the basis of a wage scale in effect last April was advanced through Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania tonight at a conference of representatives of operators and mine union officials.

Under the proposal, the controversial issue of arbitration as a means of reaching an agreement on wages would be set entirely aside, and the only important question to be decided would be that of how long the compromise would be effective.

REV. ED. M'KINNEY LEAVES BURKBURNETT

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Aug. 29.—Rev. Ed McKinney, who has been pastor of the Central Christian church here for the past 22 months, offered his resignation a few days ago, preaching his farewell sermon Sunday.

Rev. McKinney organized the Burkburnett Central Christian church from a small body of members, hailing from many other out-of-town congregations to a membership of nearly 100; built a large chapel here, and small one in Shallow Field. He has been a great power in the social and spiritual uplift of Burkburnett in its rapid transaction from booming oil-camp town to a settled first class little city.

As an expression of appreciation and regret that he is leaving the city, his congregation and a few friends presented him with a nice purse at the close of last night's service.

A pastor has not yet been selected to fill the vacancy caused by Rev. McKinney's resignation, the pulpit, however, will be supplied with speakers each Sunday, according to announcements made by officials of the church.

A 30-YEAR-AGO Strike

This month 30 years ago Governor Flower of New York called out the entire state militia to quell disturbances incident to the switchmen's strike at Buffalo. Two hundred box cars were burned. At that time striking union men on six eastern roads were demanding $65 a month, and increase of 10 per cent. If you do not know that history goes around in a circle all you have to do is to look back.

NO CHANCE—

number of active participants in the primary elections held this year. This holds good in many of the larger counties of Texas. There are thousands of men who call themselves democrats who kept away from the polls July 22 and August 26. They were not interested. They could not be induced to vote. Neither candidates nor issues appealed to them.

Getting Ready for "Next Time"

State Senator T. W. Davidson received a very flattering majority. He has a wide acquaintance throughout the state and already the democratic leaders of east Texas say that he will be a candidate for governor in 1924. This should interest Hon. Robert Ewing Thomason of El Paso. There is to be another senatorial election two years hence. Congressman Thomas L. Blanton of the seventeenth district, according to his friends, is going after the scalp and the seat of Senator Morris Sheppard. Blanton fairly buried Oscar Calloway in the runoff and there was a tremendous vote cast in the district. Blanton's majority may touch twenty thousand over Calloway which is putting the crepe on the later for a fare-ye-well. Blanton has his friends and his enemies, but the most of his enemies appear to be in outside districts. In his races for office he has put away the strong men who have pitted themselves against him. Now he is monarch of all he surveys in the old seventeenth. He kept out of the senatorial race this year because he didn't have the $10,000 to defray campaign expenses.

Lieutenant Governor Lynch Davidson has promised to be in the race for either governor or senator in 1924. He is going to have plenty of company. T. W. Davidson's friends are going to push him for governor and it is said to be as good as a thousand to one shot that Blanton will be in the senatorial race and make it as spectacular as it is possible for T. L. B. to make it which is going some. He is the champion congressional bull dog fighter of the age and Senator Sheppard if he is wise will begin fence building at an early day. Governor Neff has lots of friends the tate over who expect him to enter the senatorial race and Congressman Tom Connally of the Waco district, is looked upon as a man who would be a formidable contender for the senatorial toga.

Thomas Out of It

Cullen F. Thomas is out of it. He can't run against his brother-in-law. Clarence Ousley is satisfied. He ran and he lost but he received the votes of thousands of intellectuals who picked him as the very best offering for the senatorial shoes of Culberson. No man can tell what James E. Ferguson will do in 1924. He has friends who will be members of the thirty-eighth legislature who will ask that body to remove his dis-qualifications which bar him from holding a state office. Harry L. Hertzberg and Harry M. Wurzbach are the congressional entrants in the San Antonio district. Wurzbach is the sitting member and a republican. He is for light wines and beer. Hertzberg is a democrat and is for light wines and beer and made the ku klux klan a campaign issue. State Chairman Frank C. Davis and his followers in the Alamo city fought Hertzberg for the nomination and gave their support to John H. Cunningham.

Republicans' One Chance

Republican leaders predict an easy victory for Wurzbach but the democrats are hopeful of putting Hertzberg over in November. This is the only congressional district in the state where the republicans have a chance of winning unless a political cyclone hits the commonwealth and according to democratic weather makers there are no signs of a cyclonic visitation. There is also nothing republican counties. There is a coal famine on. There is a rail strike on. There are high freight rates. There is a bunk tax bill that is claimed to be bunk. Hear it laugh. All these handicaps will not help Wurzbach or any other republican candidate for congressional honors in the eighteen districts of Texas. Now that the agony is over, candidates for all the offices have been named, the mud throwing has ceased and all the wild men are carrying olive branches, why is it that more than half a million voters away down here in Texas pay poll tax or have put exemptions and then never go near the polling places on primary or general election day? This is passed on to some of the political wiseacres for an answer.

SICK OF DAYLIGHT-SAVING

Washington has had a terrible time with daylight-saving this year. The schools and most of the departments have daylight-saving time. But Congress, the executive offices, the post office, the banks and a majority of the stores have followed standard time. The result has been no end of confusion. Finally the government employes sent a letter of protest against the use of daylight-saving time to the president and have had this response from him:

My own preference was to retain the regular order. There will be no general order changing it until the latter part of August. Then daylight-saving will be put aside not only for this year but for all time so far as this administration is concerned.

This probably means the end of the daylight-saving fad in Washington.

Rumors Rife That Ford Machinists Will Take Up Work In Rail Shops

By Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 29.—Joseph C. Michael, chief clerk to W. L. Mapother, president of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, today said he had been informed by a Detroit newspaper that it had authoritative information that Henry Ford upon shutting down his automobile plants September 16, would release all of his employes and advise them to take positions with railroads in order to break the strike.

A man singning himself Frank Miller, and purporting to be a machinist from a Ford plant at Detroit, has sent a statement to the Louisville Times in which he said all machinists from the Ford plants at Detroit soon would be with the railroads and "get things moving."

Union leaders here, while without information as to what the thousands of non-union machinists employed by the Ford company will do when the Detroit plants are closed down, declared today that they did not believe they would take the places vacated by striking railway shopmen.

Tired Business Men'll Have Chance To Work Off Some Odd Poundage

Plans have been made whereby Blondy Cross, local boxing instructor, will be able to open a gymnasium in the American Legion hall where he will hold classes in the art of self-defense and physical training. Cross started work here among the younger members of the First Christian church and held his classes in the basement of the church, but it soon became evident that new and larger quarters would be needed to accommodate the number who wished to join. Final arrangements have been made for the hall and work has begun on the gymnasium which will be ready for occupancy within a few days.

Cross came to Wichita Falls a few months ago from Fort Worth and established himself here with a group of young men and started giving lessons as a means of passing his time between bouts, but he was besieged with so many applications for the work that he started work on the plans that have resulted in the gym's opening in the next few days. He will give instruction in boxing and general gymnasium work and physical culture, and will number in his classes men of all ages from ten to fifty.

Thirty have already entered and he expects to be able to handle 50, each person taking three lessons a day. The gym will be open all day and classes will be arranged at all times. Cross states that if necessary he will employ an assistant and will enlarge and improve his gymnasium. At present it is equipped with all modern conveniences including showers and ring and mats and is an excellent place for workouts.

Man Has Miraculous Escape

"I was told by our family physician that I could not live without an operation, as my liver and gall sack were in such a condition. I set the day to go to the hospital, but then I saw the advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. Since taking it I am feeling like I never could have survived an operation." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Empire Picks Wichita

STATE OFFICES TO BE HERE

Eastland Will Lose Headquarters

State headquarters of the Empire company, which recently purchased the holdings of the Planet for a consideration of $3,000,000, will soon be moved to Wichita Falls, according to an apparently well founded report here Tuesday.

The present state headquarters are at Eastland and the move to Wichita Falls, as reported, would appear highly logical as a result of the interests they have acquired in the Wichita Falls district proper.

The Empire is one of the largest of the "second line" big companies, and have engaged in extensive wildcatting operations as well as development operations in Texas and Oklahoma pools. Among their successes in this connection is the discovery of the first pool at Duncan, in Commanche county, Okla., opened up by the completion of an Empire wildcat.

TEXAS GAINS IN OIL CASE

Wichita Falls oil men, especially those interested in the Red river field, most all expressed satisfaction Tuesday when they were informed in telegraphic dispatches from Washington that the house committee on public lands had decided to postpone indefinitely consideration of the several bills up dealing with the disputed Red river oil lands. Action was deferred by the house committee because Texas interests requested that they be heard in the matter.

It is reported locally that authoritative information has been received from Washington that no effort will be made to bring up action on the bills during the short December term.

While Secretary Fall is said to have the power to sell the Red river lands at public sale, it is said that he will more than likely refuse to take such steps until congress makes some definite disposition of the bills now pending. In the meantime the lands will be operated as in the past, it is said.

Application Made To Drill Offsets

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 29.—Application for authority to drill offset wells on the Roller lease, Wichita county, was submitted to the oil and gas division, Texas railroad commission, by First Assistant Counsel A. S. Hardwicke of the Magnolia Petroleum company Tuesday.

It was represented wells were drilled by mistake closer to the line than rule 37 permits. It is expected exceptions requested will be granted.

Big Pipe Lines Being Run to Kosse Field

Special to The Record News.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 29.—Construction has been started on two large pipe lines from the Mexia district into the new Kosse gusher field thirty miles to the south. One is being laid by the Humphreys Oil company, discoverer of both fields, while the other is being laid by the Prairie Pipe Line company.

Each will be an eight-inch line and the two will have a carrying capacity of about 35,000 barrels daily. It is also declared the Prairie immediately will prepare for the laying of a second line into the Kosse district. The Humble Oil Refining company already has purchased extended holdings in the Kosse field, and this company also is expected to lay a pipe line to the new gusher.

The Pure Oil company, subsidiary of the Standard and which owns one-fourth of the Humphreys Oil company, has issued a statement declaring the production of the Kosse gusher, the Jones No. 1, is now 12,000 barrels daily.

GRAHAM EXTENDED

Special to the Record News.

ARDMORE, Aug. 9.—Oil production in the Graham field has been extended one-eighth of a mile to the north and west of the bringing in of the Cottonbelt Petroleum company's No. 2 Sparks, southeast of southwest quarter of 30-2-6-2w, which is flowing 250 barrels from the sand topped at 2,340 feet and penetrated to 2,360 feet with the drill still in it. No deeper drilling will be undertaken for the present.

PONCA CITY ACTIVE

Special to The Record News.

PONCA CITY, Aug. 29.—Coming in of workmen, many with their families, to build the twenty-four 80,000 steel storage tanks on the Mariand Oil company farm here, has swamped Ponca City for housing space temporarily. These men are grabbing up every available house until at the present time it is impossible to get a dwelling of any kind in the city. Fifty additional are now under construction, together with four apartment houses.

DEEP AREA BROADENED

Special to The Record News.

ARDMORE, Aug. 29—Attention is being attracted to the Bayou district where the Beau-Ard Oil company's No. 1, Smith, southwest of northwest quarter of 36-4s-2w, is bearing indications of becoming a good producer. This well extends the deep producing area of the field three-eighths of a mile to the southeast. It is making periodic flows from three sands, the first two of which were drilled through at 2,420-45 and 2,510-81 feet, while the third was topped at 2,987 feet and penetrated only ten feet with the drill still in it.

DROUTH IS FELT

COLORADO, Aug. 9.—The continued dry weather has served to handicap operations in the Mitchell county field during the past several days, and at some of the drilling wells slow progress is being made because of the scarcity of water. This is especially true in those cases where operators are taking their water supply from surface tanks.

GOOD NEWS FOR LABOR

WAGES for day laborers in the manufacturing plants of the United States steel corporation will be raised approximately 20 per cent September 1. Judge Elbert H. Gary, the soul and the conscience and the spokesman of the American house of steel, has made the announcement.

There is a reason for it. Laborers are going to be scarce. Coal miners are returning to work. Rail employes are going to work in the near future. There is an immigration law, which shuts out the hordes of common labor from foreign countries.

For twelve years prior to the coming of the world war, 1,200,000 alien laborers landed on these shores every year. They did not come from English speaking countries. They were ignorant of the language spoken here and the customs of the people. They were taken to the coke regions, the coal fields, and the industrial centers where the house of steel is all powerful. They were willing to work for low wages and long hours. They were willing to work Sunday and every other day. They were tractable and easily handled until they had their eyes and ears opened. Then they were not tractable.

They were advertised to the world as red anarchists. But they had shut out the English speaking laborer in vast fields of American industry.

Then came the world war. What happened is ancient history. Immigration slumped. After the armistice had been signed, foreign steamship companies and the agents of captains of industry got busy again. Millions from the war ravaged countries of southern and central Europe prepared to cross the ocean. Then the three per cent national immigration law was enacted and it is enforced today.

Less than 350,000 aliens landed on these shores this year. There were more departures than arrivals. Wall street predicts a tremendous revival and the house of steel knows that it must get laborers. There is one way to get them. Pay higher wages. They can't be brought from foreign countries. Gone are the good old days when shiploads of foreigners brought to this country in violation of the anti-contract labor law are privileged to take the jobs of workers already here or to force down wages because there are more workers than there are jobs.

But it is significent, isn't it? Rail executives are battling to reduce the wages of their employes. Owners of coal mines have been battling to reduce the wage scales of their workers. Now England textile manufacturers locked their operators out last spring and have kept them out in order to bring about sweeping wage reductions. In the face of all this, Judge Gary of the house of steel has advanced the wages of day laborers twenty per cent. There is something new under the sun. Gary of the house of steel boasts that he conducts the largest open shop in the world and now if all the open shop employers advance the wages of their employes as Gary has done, there is going to be joy in the homes of the land.

LABOR WINS

FOR a quarter of a century the officers of the American Federation of Labor, in fact the leaders of all organized labor in America, have been battling for drastic immigration laws. Their efforts were combatted by American captains of industry, the large employers of labor and the steamship companies.

President William Howard Taft vetoed one drastic immigration law. President Theodore Roosevelt vetoed another. President Woodrow Wilson vetoed a third. President Harding gave his approval to the act now in force. Flowers for the living. If there is any credit or any honor, it should go to the leaders of the American Federation of Labor and their sympathizers. This is the official record. It can not be disputed.

It is said to take a master of language to choose the right word at the right time. We don't agree. Most anyone can say "damn" when he hits his finger with a hammer.

They say it takes a game man to smile in the face of adversity. That's not necessarily so. But is does take a man with a clear conscience or a lot of nerve.

It may be that self perservation is the first law of nature all right, but there are a whole lot of Wichita Falls automobilists who don't know the first law of nature.

ANOTHER REVOLT BREWING

KANSAS farmers are getting an average price of not more than seventy cents a bushel for wheat, and prices of other farm products are correspondingly low. Now a new wave of unrest is sweeping over the rural districts of the sunflower state. Farmers assert that while the prices they obtain for their products are low, prices of all commodities they must buy remain high.

J. C. Mohler is secretary of the state board of agriculture and Ralph Snyder is the head of the Kansas farm bureau organization. They agree that conditions have reached an alarming state. They say farmers in large numbers are giving up their farms, convinced that farming is a losing game. Farmers felt that way in Oklahoma. What happened? They invaded the domain of politics and they nominated candidates from governor to constable for the democrats to support at the general election in November.

Now the farmers of Kansas are ripe for a revolt. A year ago they mobbed non-partisan organizers. They wouldn't stand for anything but the republican organization.

Two years they voted a republican ticket. Fordney's emergency tariff law was the bunk that was handed to producers of food and raw wealth. Now they are inviting non-partisan organizers to form locals in the rural districts of the state. Secretary Mohler is widely known the country over. He is one of the top notchers engaged in his field of endeavor. Senator Arthur Capper is a wise man. Ha is chairman of the congressional farm bloc. He may save Kansas for the republicans this fall, but will he be able to save it in the presidential election which will come in 1924?

AMERICAN SOLDIERS FIRST

SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY Andrew W. Mellon is a hard headed business man and never dodges an issue. He says that Great Britain's indebtedness now totaling $4,135,000,000 is an entirely British-American transaction and it has no connection whatever with Great Britain's other debts or with money owed to Great Britain by other countries or with German reparations.

Official Washington regards the Mellon statement as the most important declaration that has yet been made by the government defining the status of foreign loans. In the division of the loot after the armistice had been signed, Great Britain's share in territory and other treasure amounted to many billions of dollars. Solons promised to send a senatorial bonus bill to President Harding. Those who are opposed to the bonus say it will call for the payment of four billion dollars before the coming of 1930.

Well, why not collect the $4,135,000,000 that Great Britain borrowed from the United States in order to prevent the kaiser making London his official capital and Windsor Castle his official home? Isn't business business?

There are four million former service men and four billion English dollars paid into their pockets would not have a depressing effect or interfere with the march of progress in this country. Of course Frank H. Simmonds would have the German reparations whittled down to ten billion dollars, he would have Great Britain cancel all the loans she made to her European allies and then he would have Uncle Sam mark off the books the eleven billior dollars he loaned to Great Britain and other foreign countries during war time.

Why not the American solditr first?

HEARST'S BOMBSHELL

WILLIAN RANDOLPH HEARST has peremptorily declined to permit the use of his name as a democratic candidate for governor of the state of New York. But he handed an awful wallop to his political enemies when he said that he would be perfectly willing to take any place on a ticket headed by Mayor John F. Hylan for the office of governor.

This announcement will give the enemies of Hearst sleepless nights. New York elects a senator this year. Now if Hylan should be nominated for governor and Hearst for United States senator, former Governor Al Smith and his followers would be compelled to put Hylan over. Hylan controls the democratic patronage of the city of New York.

He has a pile of official patronage that almost touches the sky. If the tammany tiger refuses to behave itself. Hylan is in a position to feed the tiger husks instead of raw meat. And the tiger hates to feed upon husks.

Rippling Rhymes

By SURE

Before you lift your voice in song, be sure that you can sing, or neighbors, when you're going strong, all kinds of bricks may fling. For it is ill to slay a tune with voice that doesn't track, recalling dogs that bay the moon until the welkins crack. The fake Carusos of this land much tribulation bring, when, with their maps ajar, they stand, imagining they sing. When I was young I thought my voice was like a seraph's lute, designed to make the world rejoice, and bring me scads, to boot. And when I had the least excuse I'd lubricate my gears, and turn a flood of music loose to charm the people's ears. I chanted luscious lays and sweet, of youth and love and dome. And chunks of coal that bruised my slats from windows high were thrown, and cauliflowers and crocks and cats and broken slabs of stone. And thus the truth, so ghastly raw, at last in pain I grasped: my voice was like a crosscut saw when it is rudely rasped. From that day forth I would not lift my voice in golden song; to sing when one has not the gift is villainously wrong.

Cosden Home Is Swept By Flames

By Associated Press.

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 29.—A richly furnished and decorated bungalow on the roof of the 15-story Cosden office building here—the Tulsa home of John S. Cosden, widely known oil operator, was swept by fire today and damaged to the extent of many thousand dollars. The blaze, of unknown origin, started on the 15th floor of the building and was extinguished only after every fire fighting apparatus in the city had been called out.

The Once Over

"ALL RIGHT, POPPER, YOU MAY CROSS THE STREET NOW"

That Uncle Sam as a motor truck chauffeur, leaping from limb to limb of pedestrians, doesn't present an appealing picture, at last has been realized at Washington. The postoffice department announces that steps are to be taken to curb the speeding of mail trucks through the city streets. Great is the relief felt by the general public.

Drivers of United States mail trucks have been going through the streets like bowling balls down a bowling alley, knocking the pedestrains for a row of tenpins and ironing out all traffic that got in the way. Even the traffic cops hid when they saw one coming.

The chauffeurs seemed to regard all pedestrians as first class snail matter.

The mail truck drivers seemed to accept government stamps as hunting licenses. Every two-cent stamp in the cargo entitled them to one pedestrian. Special delivery stamps were the equivalent of five victims. One-cent stamps: women and children.

The administration didn't seem to care as long as the people ran down by mail truck operators were members of the democratic party. The drivers had become so reckless, however, that not even an old line republican could leave one side of the street and count on arriving safely on the other.

For years the citizens were very patient about it. They exhibited a noble willingness to die for their country's mail service. They felt that "Important—Please Rush" had been written on most of the mail matter and that no good citizen should mind being run over if it helped to get the mail through with speed and despatch.

The revolt came when some of them found they were being run down by trucks carrying nothing more important than souvenir postcards from the summer resorts, "please remit" cards from tailors and follow-up letters from automobile salesmen.

It is no pleasure to sustain a fractured pelvis in order that Aunt Maggie may get "arrived here safely. Wish you were here" from Cousin Laura inside of twelve hours.

The situation had reached a point where a citizen was afraid to go to the postoffice to mail a letter lest he be struck on the way home by a mail truck delivering it to the railroad station.

Will Hays has confessed to friends, it is reported, that he quit as postmaster general for fear he would ultimately be run over by one of his own trucks.

Why all the speed anyway? Motor fire apparatus is worse than the mail trucks. An automobile firewagon puts out more lives per year than it does fires. And by the noise it makes going to fires you'd think the idea was to scarce the flames into submission.

Of course, the firemen are entitled to get back to their cribbage games within a reasonable time, but twenty-five miles an hour ought to satisfy em.

And take the ambulances; they dash through the streets to pick up one man hit by a taxicab and they strike four or five men themselves during the trip back to the hospital.

Why all the speed by governmental and municipal vehicles? Remember, Milton, they used to do very well with horses!

Lesson No. 56
REGENERATION

(All right reserved by United Feature Syndicate. Reproduction Prohibited.)

One of the properties of the three element vacuum tube is that when a slight change is made in the potential impressed upon the grid the current in the plate circuit undergoes a greater change. This inherent characteristic of the three element vacuum tube is made us of in the multi-stage amplifiers where the plate circuit of one tube is connected to the grid circuit of the next succeeding tube and so on until the desired intensity of signal is reached. It has been shown by E. H. Armstrong that amplification similar to that obtainable with several stages may be secured with a single tube.

Instead of applying the voltage of the plate circuit to the grid of the next tube, it is fed back into the grid circuit of the same tube so as to increase the potential on the grid. The result is an increased value of the plate current alternations; which being fed back into the grid circuit, increases the voltage operating upon the grid and so on.

There are many ways in which the plate circuit may be coupled back to the grid circuit in order to obtain this regeneration. A common method is to employ a "tickler" coil which is merely a coil of wire in series with the plate and telephones so arranged as to be in inductive relation to the secondary coil, in the case of two circuit receivers, or in inductive relation to the single coil of a single circuit receiver. The tuned plate circuit makes use of a variometer in the plate circuit and a variometer in the grid circuit by which a similar result may be obtained. It is also possible to accomplish this feed back of plate voltage to the grid by means of condensers.

Regenerative receivers possess the valuable property of not only amplifying the signals from damped wave transmitters, but by increasing the coupling between the plate and the grid circuits beyond the point of maximum signal the circuit may be made to oscillate and thus function as a receiver of continuous wave signals operating upon the heterodyne principle. A regenerative receiving system thus makes use of three properties of the three elements vacuum tube namely, detection, amplification and generation.

In the reception of music and speeches it is found that too much regeneration produces distortion of the received signals sometimes to a degree which renders the signal unintelligible. This condition, while not so objectionable in the reception of telegraphic code signals, has resulted in active development of the radio frequency amplifier for short wave lengths. By properly adjusting the value of the coupling between the plate circuit and the grid circuit a point may be found where very good amplification may be obtained with little noticeable distortion. The intensity of the signal is many times greater than the signal obtained with the vacuum tube detector without the regenerative feature.

Agents Assigned to Work in Herrin

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29—Six agents of the federal bureau of investigation have been assigned to aid Attorney General Edward J. Brundage in his investigation of the Herrin, Ill., mine riot, which cost the lives of 22 men, the local bureau announced today. The orders were received from Chief William J. Burns.

Only two men attached to the local office, it was said, are unassigned as the remainder are busy investigating labor conditions on railroads.

HOW WACO GIRL WON AND LOST LOVE OF MILLIONAIRE WHITNEY

About twenty-three years ago, Fawn Evan was born in the Texas frontier town of Waco. Her early life was uneventful.

While a girl the dancing craze woke in her the desire for ballroom dancing, and she engaged a local dancing master. She progressed and soon took part in small country affairs that perhaps were the direct cause of her eventful love affair with young Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney.

Tales of the Great White Way caused Fawn Evan to look ahead. Finally she urged her mother, who had dreams of her daughter's future, to take her to New York to seek fame and fortune.

A Change of Name

The first thing Fawn Evan did when she went to Manhattan was to change her name to Evan Burrows Fontaine. It was a high sounding appellation and severed the connection of her past and Waco. She studied dancing under expert masters. She then obtained several minor engagements in ballrooms. Then the Waldorf-Astoria took her in and she performed on the roof with mediocre success. Greenwich Village then called her.

A few real Bohemians—writers, actors, actresses and playwrights—were living near Washington Square. South. The studio was small and was not even an apartment. Her meager salary at the Waldorf was insufficient for more sumptuous quarters.

Among the Bohemians

One night in 1915 she stumbled into the restaurant run by Louis Holloday. Louis was famous among a certain set of New York's four hundred. Here they found the real collection of Bohemians they were accustomed to see and know in the Montmartre in Paris.

Louis had sawdust on the floor and cobwebs on the walls, and was not particular as to environment or decoration. But he was particular with food and habitues. All the characters were interesting.

One of them was Doris Carlile, dancer, bon vivaint, globe trotter and dancer of exotic dances. She was known in Paris along the Bois and the Montmartre and Cirro's as "La Belle Gomez." She was strikingly beautiful and bold in her dances. She had been arrested for the dance "The Fall of Eve," performed at Hammerstein's Victoria theater a short time before.

One night in Louis' cafe Dorris danced "The Fall of Eve". Her audience was scant. Some of the patrons were Cyril Hatch, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, Mercedes d'Acosta, Charlie Greenough, the Seton Henrys, Mrs. Ogden Mills and Tommy Slidell.

Miss Fontaine Inspired

This particular night Evan Burrows Fontaine saw the dance. She left with her brain burning with ambition to duplicate "The Fall of Eve". From this time on Miss Fontaine neglected ball-room dancing for the dances of the far and near east. She went to masters, and what they lacked she created.

Then the Palais Royal was opened in 1915, and John Murray Anderson selected the girl from Waco for one of the leading numbers. She first danced her Egyptian creations at the Palais Royal and was so successful that the future began to look bright.

It was at the Palais Royal that "Sonny" Whitney apparently saw, and, it was said, was smitten. Many times he was seen leaning on the velvet rail of the mezzanine balcony while the dancing girl, barefooted and barelegged, went through her contortions.

A New York Introduction

At this period, with the aid of a pres sagent, Miss Fontaine obtained publicity that introduced her to New York. She continued her oriental dances and studied the ways and means of creating new dance movements and alluring gowns and costumes to go with them.

She was described as "vivid and picturesque." Flo Ziegfield saw her and asked the girl to join the follies. The next step in her dancing career was to be very important. It was in this period, 1919, that, she says, she met and loved young Whitney.

Mrs. Fontaine, her mother, never left the dancer unaccompanied. She met her at the stage door and went home with her every night. Persons with the follies always mention the mother when they talk of the dancer.

At the Nine O'clock Revue, in 1919, Miss Fontaine appeared on the stage barefooted, and her graceful undulatnig movements won her a place in the hearts of tired business men. But always the eye of a jealous mother was vigilant.

Here again young Whitney sat along the side lines at the famous roof theater and gazed with rapture at the dancer. They met in the Ritz-Carlton at a ball given by Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt in March, 1919. This was the turning point in Miss Fontaine's life. It made her the most envied girl on Broadway.

The Most Important Year

The year 1920 is the most important in the life of Evan Burrows Fontaine. She says that "Sonny" wooed her ardently and loved her, and that he "was the big love in her life." To a close friend on the Rialto when asked if her affections for "Sonny" were real, she said:

'If you placed a million dollars before me, I would not be untrue to 'Sonny.' He is the big love in my life."

The unknown Waco girl achieved the goal of her life when she became the friend of Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney. But she set Broadway agog with gossip and the hearts of many aflame with envy.

Miss Fontaine's habits changed. She did not frequent the Broadway cabarets so much.

"Sonny" was in Yale. His time was taken completely by his studies and activities on the boat crew. His week-ends were free and he and Miss Fontaine spent them together. Visits were made to the Whitney mansion at 871 Fifth avenue, the country estate at Westbury and Roslin, L. I., and at "Sonny's" uncle, Payne Whitney.

Much in Love

The middle of 1920 found them very much in love. The dancer says that he promised to marry her, but the objections of his aristocratic father and mother prevented.

This period, 1920, brings into the spotlight the name of Sidney D. Adair, said to have been formerly a sailor in the United States navy and husband of Miss Fontaine. She asserts that at the request of "Sonny" she obtained an annulment of her marriage to Adair. The decree was granted in July, 1920.

Her baby was born five months after or in December, 1920. Mystery surrounded the appearance of Adair into her life and mystery surrounded young Adair's sudden death in January, 1921, which occurred in Houston, shortly after the baby, named Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, Jr., was born.

A Verdict of Suicide

Many persons at the time said that Adair had been slain. A coroner's verdict said suicide. The world will have to content itself with the latter verdict, for nothing else remains. However, Miss Fontaine told several of her more intimate friends on Broadway she believed Adair had been murdered.

Following the refusal of young Whitney to marry Miss Fontaine, she forsook her social haunts and went back to her profession. She obtained engagements and again reverted to her dances of the Orient.

She had obtained a small country home in Long Island and a private town house in Greenwich Village in 1920. These she gave up for a small private home at 20 Pomander Walk, a fashionable little colony between Broadway and the Hudson river, near Ninety-first street and Broadway.

Miss Fontaine set up house for her mother and baby boy and then obtained an engagement at the Beaux Arts cafe in New York. It was here that a wealthy manufacturer and husband of a dramatic star was seen to be very attentive to the dancer.

The "Most Popular Girl"

This man came to the cafe nightly and paid marked attention to Miss Fontaine. This was in the fall of 1921. Her engagement there was very short. In December, 1921, while at a Broadway Brevities ball in the McAlpin hotel, she was adjuded the "most popular girl" and was given a silver loving cup by the three judges, Henry Hutt, Harrison Fisher and Henry Clive, artists. The manufacturer escorted Miss Fontaine to the ball.

Gilliard Boag, owner of a string of Broadway cabarets, then took Miss Fontaine back to the Rendezvous and subsequently to the Palais Royal. It was just before this incident that for a time the dancer had disappeared. In 1921 she had begun her suit against young Whitney over the baby.

A Disappearance

It now comes to light that she went to Cleveland and disappeared from her usual Broadway haunts, to which she had returned. The baby was about 6 months old. She danced in a cafe in Cleveland a few months, for, persons said, she needed money.

Since the latter part of 1921 she has not forsaken her dances of the Orient until the story of her affairs with Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney was made public. She turned up in California and when asked what would be the outcome of her suit, replied:

"What chance have I got against the Whitney millions?"

Since then the suit has been filed.

Wealthy Chicago Man Sued For $100,000 Damages

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Suit for $100,000 charging alienation of his wife's affections was filed today by Nicholas E. Schaeffer against Oscar C. Bunte, wealthy manufacturer.

Mrs. Marribel Schaeffer, wife of the complainant, who is an army sergeant at present stationed in the federal building here, was taken to the psychopathic hospital several days ago by agents of the federal narcotic division.

Investigators were told by Mrs. Schaeffer that she was heiress to an English estate, although her husband said he had no knowledge of it, except what she and Mr. Bunte had told him. Mrs. Schaeffer asserted that she was a ward of Mr. Bunte, but Mr. Bunte was represented as having only attended to some business matters for her.

Only the procipe in the suit was filed in circuit court but attorneys for Schaeffer asserted that he declared his wife and Mr. Bunte had told him that the estate mentioned was that of her deceased husband, De Vere Rockwell, of England, and her deceased son, Ralph Rockwell, and that it amounted to $100,000.

Health and Efficiency Club Discusses Having Scientific Food Booth

Members of the Health and Efficiency club discussed plans for a booth which they will conduct at the Texas-Oklahoma fair at a called meeting Tuesday morning held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Akin. The club decided to demonstrate the preparation of scientific food and will show the advantages in its preparation of use of the steam cooker.

Mrs. Akin in the absence of the president and other officers, was named general chairman of the committee to make arrangements for the booth with Mesdames E. T. Barker, W. K. Niles and F. P. Warren, assistants.

A discussion for the enlargement of the club work and extension of their activities with regular lectures formed an interesting part of the morning program but owing to the absence from town of so many of the members, no action along this line was taken.

At the close of the session, ice watermelon was served to Mesdames M. Allman, F. P. Warren and E. T. Barker. Mrs. Akin was assisted in serving by her daughters, Misses Jewell Rose and Margaret.

Why Are Some Women Popular,

happy, beloved and successful, while others drag out a negative existence of no use to themselves or anyone else? Except in a few cases the answer is to be found in a state of freedom from the troubles known as "female." The well woman radiates cheerfulness and serenity, while the ailing one repels because of her lack of these qualities. It is not necessary, however, to harbor aches and pains, and the "blues" that make one a detriment to society. The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought relief to such women, and given them a new lease on life.—Adv.

THINGS YOU'LL LOVE TO MAKE

Easily Made Drapes that are "Different"

The drapes pictured above are Chinese in effect. Although easy to make they are quite "different." Use a combination of plain and figured or brocaded materials, or if you have the time, embroider the hands in wool. The valance is straight with a hand across the bottom. Have a straight piece of the plain material for each side. Stitch a band at each side of each strip. Fasten at the top only. One-fourth of the way down in the middle of each side strip make two rows of hemstitching. Three-fourths of the way down make two more rows. Run the middle band through these eyelets. Finish the ends of the bands with fringe. These make stunning living room draperies.

TODAY'S POEM

Idleness.

I sought to find an idle day,
But all the search was vain—
The winds came searching through the bay
And bade the waves complain.

The flowers nodded as they turned
Their petals to the shower,
And said, "The right to live is earned
E'en by the careless flower."

Even in sleep my dreams renew
The daytime joy of stress,
And though I sought the long years through
There is no idleness.

Little Stories For Bedtime

FARMER BROWN'S BOY DOES SOME THINKING

Think a little kindly thought
And then just let it grow,
'Twill lead you to a kindly deed
The first thing that you know.

Farmer Brown's Boy had no kindly thought as he trudged home with his terrible gun over his shoulder, a scowl on his freckled face and poor old Bowser the Hound limping slowly and painfully at his heels. In the first place Farmer Brown's Boy felt hurt in his pride. You know pride is a very tender thing and easily hurt. Farmer Brown's Boy had set traps around the home of Old Man Coyote, and he had taken such great pains and had hidden them so skillfully that he had been absolutely sure than it be impossible for Old Man Coyote to get out of his house without stepping in one of them. He had been very proud of the way he had set those traps. So when he found that Old Man Coyote had come out of his house without getting caught his pride had been hurt. He knew by the way one of the traps had been sprung and dragged out that it had not been luck that had saved Old Man Coyote. It had been smartness. Old Man Coyote had found that trap and had pulled it out of his way himself.

To make matters worse, Bowser the Hound had had to step right into a trap and the terrible jaws had hurt his leg dreadfully. Of course it was an accident. It showed how well his traps were set, for Bowser hadn't seen this one at all. As he thought this Farmer Brown's Boy's pride began to feel better. Then came another thought so suddenly that he stopped short. "I wonder if that coyote knew where that trap was and led Bowser into it purposely," he said. "I—I do believe he did." His pride now felt worse than before.

"Never mind, Bowser, old fellow, we'll get him yet," he said, stooping to pat Bowser's head.

Now, of course, Bowser was obliged to go very slowly because he could use only three legs, and then he had to stop every little while to lick the one which had been hurt in the trap. So Farmer Brown's Boy had plenty of time for thinking. At first his anger at Old Man Coyote grew and grew. Then, little by little, it gave way to a feeling something very like admiration. He had to admit to himself that Old Man Coyote had been smarter than he. By and by he admitted it to Bowser.

"We thought we were pretty smart; didn't we, old fellow?" said he. "But that coyote fooled us both, and I believe he planned to lead you into that trap. He's pretty smart. Yes, sir, we've got to take our hats off to him. I wish now I hadn't set those traps again, because if he was smart enough to keep out of them once he'll be smart enough to keep out of them again. Does your paw hurt dreadfully, Bowser?"

Bowser looked up and whined. There was no doubt that his paw was very, very sore. Now, Farmer Brown's Boy loves Bowser and he couldn't bear to see him hurt. When they reached home he very tenderly bathed the hurt paw and bound it up. And while he was doing it he was still thinking hard, perhaps even a little harder than before. He was thinking what it must be like to one of the little wild people to be caught in one of those traps and to have, besides the pain, the terrible fright of not being able to get away and of what would happen. Somehow he thought of those traps in a new light. They became to him what they really are—dreadful things.

"Bowser," said he, as he finished tying the last bandage. "I wish I hadn't set those traps and I am going to go straight over and take them up the first chance I get."

DEATH BED REQUEST FAILS

Nicholas Dunaew, Russian poet-actor, marries dancer to fulfill dead wife's wishes.

But now he charges Nina Betts Byron cruelly left him for pleasure, and prosecutes divorce suit from sick-bed.

NEW YORK, August 27.—Nicholas Dunaew, Russian poet-actor, fulfilled the last wish of his late wife—that he care for Nina Betts Byron should she be called by death.

Dunaew pledged his word and to his pledged word was true. He not only cared for her—he married her and installed her on the pedestal once occupied by his dead wife who gave up her life as a nurse in the world war.

Now from a cot in Roosevelt hospital, his head swathed in bandages and recovering from seven operations, a disillusioned poet, his dreams of happiness shattered, is directing the prosecution of his suit for divorce.

And his wife, Miss Byron, the dancer? Oh! she is dancing somewhere in New York, Dunaew believes. But it's only hearsay. She hasn't visited his bedside.

When he was brought to the hospital, penniless, and physicians told him several serious operations would be necessary and that he might not live, he exclaimed:

"Then I must free myself of the woman who, unfortunately, is my wife," and he ordered the divorce action under way.

"She has destroyed my faith in mankind and woman kind," Dunaew said. "I met her in 1915. My wife took a liking to her. She was poor and struggling. We aided her.

"When my wife went overseas as a nurse she made me promise that if anything happened to her I would always care for Nina. Then she died. I remembered my pledge and I kept it. Finally I grew to love the girl and I married her.

"We were happy for a while. Then she left me to do stage dancing. I followed her about the country. Two years later I saw her in Boston. She was with the Follies. Then when he was ill and penniless she told me she needed all her money for herself.

"I am no longer worried about my own future. I will get well and I will be free of that ungrateful woman who has proved again that beautiful faces do not always reflect beauty of mind."

Dunaew's divorce action is being prosecuted in Los Angeles.

Ranger Fires Police Department Sunday

By Associated Press

RANGER, Texas, Aug. 29.—Law enforcement here today is being directed by a school teacher acting as chief of police as the result of the dismissal Sunday night of the police force of seven men. Leading citizens are acting in relays as members of the police department.

The police officers were dismissed following a mass meeting Sunday attended by more than a thousand citizens which adopted a resolution declaring the places held by policemen "vacant." The city commission was aroused at midnight Sunday and dismissed the officers.

Alleged lack of law enforcement was the reason assigned by the mass meeting for its action.

M. J. Herrington, school teacher, is the temporary head of the police department.

The Draped Wool Fabric Street Frock Is Smart and Graceful

With the fate of the draped dress as one of the coming season's leading styles still in the balance, designers continue to offer many interesting models. Those of wool fabric designed for street wear are deserving of especial attention. The tailored street frock of wool fabric has so long been severely plain with straight lines that draped models must necessarily attract attention. But when one considers the more formal evening and afternoon gowns of the past few seasons, it must be admitted that draperies have never been wholly out of the running. The straight silhouette has prevailed and promises to continue the most approvel silhouette for the coming season. Many draped effects have been brought out that are without flare or bouffancy.

The street frock shown in the sketch, made of a fine soft wool twill in navy, is draped surplice fashion in the bodice. The skirt is caught up so that a graceful ripple panel appears, with point several inches longer than the skirt proper.

This panel is faced with silk or wool crepe in contrasting colors, such as henna, royal blue, green or other bright shade, and the girdle carries a touch of this color in its construction. The sleeves aer also faced with the bright colored material.

This dress, of the coat type, is a style that will be generaly becoming to a tall woman.

Matelasse is a fabric much used in the development of smart cold weather street frocks. These are frequently of the draped type, untrimmed, except for a tough of color in sleeve and panel facings, etc., with black leading the color procession when this particular fabric is used.

'What's the News?'

When Columbus and his caravels returned from the New World, the first question shouted from the shore was, "What's the news?"

That's always the question of paramount importance. Years ago folks asked it of the post rider, the soldier returned from the wars, the man who had been down to the settlements, or the neighbor back from the general store.

Today, you find the answer in your newspaper. Through the newspaper the news of the world and of the community quickly becomes public knowledge. And remember this—it takes two kinds of news to make a modern paper complete.

The first tells of happenings near and far—of fires, sports, elections, accidents, marriages, deaths, great men, great events.

The second tells of things you eat, wear and use—things you buy, things being sold to your friends and neighbors. This news is advertising.

It's just as important to keep up-to-date on the advertising in this paper as it is to read about what's doing in the world of events.

Advertising is an essential news service.
It is distinctly to your advantage to be guided by it.

Crabs Even Series; Spuds Take Slight Lead to Cowtown

RALLYING CRABS TAKE LEAD AFTER SPUDDERS CHALK UP MARGIN IN OPENING ROUND

Eibel's Homer in Seventh puts Galveston in Front and Sends Keene to Showers; Ruth Hit Freely after Great Start; Spudders Hit Ft. Worth Today With One Point Margin.

Special to The Record News.

GALVESTON, Texas, Aug. 29.—Galveston evened the series count today when they copped the final game of the series 7-3.

The Spudders started with a strong lead of three runs in the first three rounds but a late inning start by the Crabs netted a series of markers which the visitors could not overcome.

Adams opened the first round with a terrific drive to right and went to third when Irby let the ball get away from him. Miller's single to left scored Adams and after stealing second, Miller counted when McDonald singled to left. This counted the first two runs.

Another in the third brought the total to three. Miller's triple to left followed by Summa's single to left center, netted the marker.

Keene was slightly wild, but kept his hits well scattered. The Crabs seemed to lack the punch due to a crippled infield which saw Connolly at shorts and Griffith, a catcher, on second base. But the Crabs started hits and drove in run after run.

Two runs in the seventh and three more in the eighth brought the total to seven, two having been sent across in the fourth and fifth.

Keene was driven from the mound in the seventh when Eibel poled a long homer over right field wall with one runner aboard. Ruth then went to the mound, and after retiring three hitters in a row on strikes, was touched for the three runs in the eighth.

The loss today cut the Spudder lead to one point as they open in Fort Worth with what many call the "crucial" series of the season.

Knight was soundly walloped in the opening rounds and it seemed that he would be driven out, but after the third he was invincible and no other Spudders toed the counting line.

The Spudders outhit the Crabs by a safe margin, but could not couple them together when necessary. In addition to the visitors' blows, three errors by the home team should have enhanced their chances for a victory. One Spudder error marked the support given Keene and Ruth.

It was Keene's passes that kept him in trouble and repeatedly runs were counted after hitters had been passed to first.

ELECTRA SWAMPS WICHITA MASKATS

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Aug. 29.—Farmer Ray proved too much for the Wichita Falls Shriners and the Electra Producers hit Kellogg and Griggs at will in a game Sunday in which the locals took the long end of a 22 to 8 score. The Maskats did not get an earned run until the seventh when they bunched five hits and forced four men across the plate after Ray had let down and heaved in some slow balls.

Electra started the game with a barrage of long hits to the four corners of the lot and marked up twelve counters in the first inning before the Shriners were able to retire three men.

The hitting of Williams and Dickson, of Electra, and the base running of the latter were the game's features. Dickson pilfered three sacks during the contest and hit fairly three of the four times at bat, while Williams ran to the plate five times and connected for a base every time.

The teams are making arrangements for a game in the near future, probably to be played in Wichita Falls.

DOUBLES TITLE REMAINS IN AMERICA

Tilden and Richards Turn Back Invaders

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—The national championship in lawn tennis doubles remains in the United States.

The Australian invasion which had as its triple objective the Davis cup, the doubles title and the singles championship, was defeated in the secondary phase today when W. T. Tilden II, and Vincent Richards playing through titlists, turned back Gerald L. Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood, antipodean stars, after losing the first set. The scores were 4-6, 6-1, 6-3, 6-4.

The match, which had a double significance because of its bearing on the doubles play in the forthcoming Davis cup tournament for which the conteiders of today have been regarded as the probable nominees, was marked by the irresistible team effort of the Americans following their opening setback.

ARE WE FOR 'EM---

Fort Worth is impatient and nervous today.

Wichita Falls is anxious and confident.

This is the moral status of the thousands of diamond fanatics who sit spellbound waiting the starting gong this afternoon when the Spudders open their four day stay in Cowtown.

The Spudders are driving as never before. The Cats are making their last stand.

The next four or possibly five games, (the Spudders have one postponed game in Fort Worth yet unplayed) will likely go a long way toward determining the pennant chances of two Texas league clubs. And these two clubs are the only ones with more than a mathematical outside chance at the bunting.

Edmonson has joined the Spudder hurling staff. Keene, Flaherty, Wheeler, Mokan, Perdue and Ruth are in the best of condition. None will be spared by the Spudder skipper during the coming games.

The Panthers have a road trip none to profitable and they failed to cop the leadership because the Spudders refused to relinquish their well earned and well established claim to that position.

Hundreds of Wichita Falls fans are already in Fort Worth or well on their way. They're going down to show their faith in the team which has crushed all the second half.

They are fired by the cresote deal and declare they'll opposition with a ruthless hand since the opening of not let the one game make any difference in their standing. A meeting of the team in Galveston heard a declaration that they'd fight to the last ditch and show the state they will win regardless.

Yes, it's a great day today in Fort Worth, and three more are to follow.

WILLS KNOCKS OUT JACKSON

Fight Ends in Third Round

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Harry Wills, New Orleans, heavyweight, tonight knocked out "Tut" Jackson of Washington Courthouse, Ohio, after two minutes and five seconds of fighting in the third round of their scheduled 15-round match at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

A hard swing with the right to the kidney sent Jackson to the canvas. He tried hard at the count of eight to rise, then fell on his face and was carried to his corner by Wills. Jackson had not landed more than 3 hard punches in the contest while the New Orleans man had pounded him on his head and body continually.

First Knock Out

It was the first time that Jackson in his short pugilistic career has been knocked out. Jackson became known after knocking out some forty odd lesser lights in the heavy division. Most notable of these knockouts was that of Sam Langford, the "Boston Tar Baby" who several years ago was one of the leading heavyweights of the world. Jackson showed little of pugilistic prowess against Wills.

Round One

Wills landed several heavy body punches and Jackson smiled broadly at him. Wills pounded Jackson's head with heavy rights. Jackson's swings go wild. Jackson was hurt by a hard left to stomach and left to jaw. He fought back. Jackson went down with a heavy right to the stomach but was up at the count of eight.

Round Two

They talked a lot and grinned at each other after exchanging hard rights to the body. Wills was warned against holding. Wills staggered Jackson with left and rights to head, and the bell found Jackson smiling.

Round Three

They were in a series of clinches neither punching effectively. Jackson went down from a hard right to the stomach. Wills won by a knockout.

POLO CUP TO STAY IN U. S.

Possession of the cup now lies between the four American teams entered, all of which have been in action except the Meadowbrook club which plays Orange county tomorrow.

Amatuers Walk Off With Trophies

By Associated Press.

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 29. America's leading amateur golfers, by winning five of eight singles matches over the national course in Shinnecock Hills from England's foremost simon pures today carried of the George H. Walker cup, in competition for the first time as the international amateur team trophy.

The five victories of the Americans today, added to their three in the four Scotch foursomes of yesterday, gave them a total of eight matches to the English players 4. The Englishmen entered today's competition needing six of the eight matches for victory and they made a brilliant effort. The steadiness and accuracy of the Americans, however, offset the brilliant gbame of the invaders. The Englishmen were best with the wood but their approach shots were wild and their putting was erratic.

Jesse Guilford, of the American team, won from Cyril Tolley of England, 2 and 1, the same score by which Tolley defeated Guilford in the English title tournament last year.

Attorneys Get To Observe Labor Day

Judge Ed W. Napier, magistrate of the 78th district court, who recently returned from a month's vacation, announced yesterday afternoon that because of the fact that Monday is Labor day, no court will be held in the 78th district court.

Thorough Test of M'Callister-Brown Will Be Made After Cleaning Out

Oil, standing up almost 100 feet in the hole of the McCallister, Brown & Grisham No. 2 Waggoner, section 34, Tuesday, morning, kept this well from being considered in the dry columns, as had been feared on Monday, when the bailing down of mud that had been standing in the hole for 10 days, brought no oil in. The sand was drilled from 1,820 feet.

The sand had been well mudded up during this delay, and had evidently driven the oil back into the sand. The overnight standing brought this back to a certain extent, and as soon as the water can be obtained to wash the well out, a thorough test will be made.

The 1,600-foot sand in the Gulf well has not yet been thoroughly tested, according to Tuesday reports from the field. There has been some trouble with the bottom of the hole, it is reported, which is yet to be overcome. The well is showing for a comparatively small producer at present.

Now That's Rather Odd

ATLANTIC CITY—Hudson Maxim, the inventor, who is to be Neptune in the pageant to be held here in connection with the contest for the title of the country's most beautiful bathing girl, has succeeded in having perfumes banned.

"For many years while experimenting with smokeless powders and other explosive materials," the inventor wrote, "I was obliged to work in an atmosphere charged with vapors of aceton, acetate of amyl, benzol and other volatile solvents of gun cotton. So offensive have perfumes become to me that when I give a reception at my house, I send all the invited guests a printed slip requesting them to refrain from wearing any perfume."

SAN FRANCISCO—Major Andrew S. Rowan, United States army, retired, today is officially the man who carried "the message to Garcia." Rowan, who according to the late Elbert Hubbard, who made the event famous, 'stood out like Mars at perihelion" in the Cuban disturbance by delivering "the message to Garcia" was decorated for the feat at the Presidio here yesterday with a distinguished service cross. The cross was presented by Brigadier General Chase W. Kennedy, post commander.

DETROIT — Careless America's toll of accidental deaths during 1920 was 76,000, a life every six minutes, according to a report of the national safety council at the eleventh annual safety congress here today.

While the 1920 toll from all public and industrial accidents was a decrease of 3,300 over 1911, the beginning of the decrease, the balance on the credit side of the 1920 ledger was only 400 over the 1919 figure.

STOCKHOLM—A majority of 44,545 against prohibition is shown by the unofficial tabulation of the vote cast in Sunday's referendum throughout Sweden on what are believed to be complete returns. These figures show:

Against prohibition 942,129; for prohibition 897,584.

NEW YORK BONDS

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 29—Influenced largely by the better tone of the stock list and foreign exchange rates, today's bond market rallied briskly from yesterday's acute depression, international issues showing pronounced strength.

Domestic industrials and utilities were featured by American telephone convertible 6s and 4½s which advanced 1½ to 2 points in sympathy with the increased price of that company's stock.

Rails were irregular. Norfolk and Western convertibles 6s, St. Louis and Southwestern consolidated 4s and Seaboard air line consolidated 6s gaines 1 to 2 points while Chicago and Alton 3s and 3½s lost 3½ to 4 points.

Liberties were inclined to ease in early dealings but rallied later with the improvement in the general list. Total sales (par value) were $12,850,000.

WHEAT SHOWS UNEASY TONE

Liverpool Quotations Lower Price

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. — Wheat showed an easy undertone today in sympathy with lower quotations at Liverpool and on local and commission house pressure, and closed 1¾ t o1¾c lower, with September $1.02 and December $1.02¾ to $1.02⅞; corn was down 1 ⅛to 1⅝c; oats were unchanged to ¼c off and provisions generally lower.

Scattered liquidation was on in corn and at no time was December as high as yesterday's finish. Drought continued over the greater part of the west and southwest, but temperatures were low and the forecast suggested some showers. Receipts were large, arrivals being estimated at 300 cars. There was an indifferent demand for oats and the market was firm with a moderate trade and held close to yesterday's finish.

Liquidation in September and December lard caused a sharp decline in provisions.

Rumors Send Stocks High As Trading Opens

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Favorable interpretation of current news developments imparted a buoyant tone to the stock market today, active issues recovering Monday's losses and advancing to higher ground on gains ranging from 1 to 6 points.

President Harding's assurance that no immediate seizure of coal mines and railroads was contemplated, although authority for such action was desired in case of great emergency, combined with reports of increased car loadings and Chicago dispatches which indicated the railroad labor board's refusal to make the so-called "living wage" the sole basis for fixing the new scale of maintenance men, caused a more active demand for railroad shares, which advanced from 1 to more than 3 points. Chicago and Northwestern closed the day with a net gain of 3 1-4 and Canadian Pacific with 3 1-8, with gains of 1 1-2 points or more took place in Reading, Union Pacific, Great Northern preferred, Atlantic and Alton issues were reactionary.

Public utilities displayed marked improvement, new high records for the year being established in this group by Brooklyn Edison, North American, Western Union, American Telephone and Columbia gas of Baltimore.

Steel shares also participated extensively in the upward movement, U. S. steel common making up its quarterly dividend of 1 1-4 per cent on very heavy dealings. Further confidence in the future of the steel industry was indicated by the advance in wages announced by the Colorado Fuel and Iron company. Independent steels are a group followed the course set by the Premier issues.

Speculative issues, like Mexican petroleum, Baldwin and Studebaker, also gained substantially, partly in response to short covering operations. The tobacco group exhibited marked strength and coppers, rose on the high prices quoted for the metal, strength of American tobacco, which rose to a new high, was attributed to the stabilization of retail prices which followed the abandonment of the trade discount policy by that company.

Special stocks which registered ned high prices for the year included American Ice, National and Lead and retail stores.

Total sales approximated 700,000 shares.

The money market adhered to its movements of the previous day, opening at 3 3-4 per cent but advancing to 4 per cent in the later part of the session.

Leading foreign exchanges showed further steadiness on the higher range for those remittances quoted by London. Sterling was steady despite heavy offerings of commercial bills. French franks were substantially above previous day's close and the German mark rallied sharply.

BUSINESS NEWS

CHICAGO — Announcement was made today that Lamson brothers and company, board of trade brokers, had acquired the entire business and good will of E. F. Leland and company, also of Chicago, effective August 31. The merger involves two of the best known grain houses in Chicago.

WASHINGTON Present coal prices would only add $1.50 to the price of Ford cars, Secretary Hoover declared today in expressing the hope that the Detroit automobile manufacturer would not find it necessary to close his plants because of the price of fuel.

Mr. Hoover said he noted that Mr. Ford considered $4.50 a ton a reasonable price for coal, and that the Detriot manufacturer could obtain it now at $6.50. Figuring on the basis of 38,000 tons of coal used a day, Mr. Hoover estimated that even under present prices the increase per Ford car would only be about $1.50.

ADVANCES RULE ON COTTON MART

Substantial Gains Are Chalked Up

By Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29.—Advances ruled in the cotton market today, resulting fundamentally from the deep-rooted conviction that the pending report by the government on the condition of the report would be extremely low. Opening higher, the market held its gains well and rose to a new high level after mid-session, where it stood 45 to 47 points over yesterday's last quotations. The close was at net gains on the day of 33 to 37 points, October traded as high as 22.35 and closed at 22.24.

Highest prices of the day followed a private bureau condition report of 57.9, indicating a crop of 10,771,000 bales against the same bureau's indicated crop figures a month ago of 11,981,000. On the close prices were off from the highest somewhat under realizing sales from the long side.

	High	Low	Close
October	22.35	22.00	22.24
December	22.37	22.02	22.26
January	22.30	21.95	22.18
March	22.29	21.97	22.20

DALLAS, Aug. 29.—Cotton steady; 21.80. Houston, steady, 22.40; Galveston, steady, 22.50.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The cotton market showed continued firmness today owing to low private condition and crop figures which led to further covering by shorts, a moderate trade demand and rather more active commission house buying in the late trading. December contracts sold up to 22.85 or 47 points net higher and 105 points above the low price of last Saturday morning. That delivery closed at 22.70 with the general list closing easy under realizing but from 28 to 36 points net higher.

The market opened firm at an advance of 12 to 23 points. There was enough scattered selling and realizing to cause reactions of 7 or 8 points right after the call but the offerings were soon absorbed and the market turned firm. Buying became more active during the afternoon when reports from the stock market evidently encouraged hope of an early settlement of labor troubles. October contracts sold up to 22.76 and January to 22.69 with the general list showing net advances of about 47 to 51 points. This carried prices back to within a very few points of the best figures touched at the beginning of last week and the market met rather heavy realizing which caused reactions of 12 or 16 points in the late trading.

Exports today were 5,139 making 155,687 so far this season. Port receipts 17,440. United States port stocks 385,436.

DANIEL ASKS FOR INJUNCTION

Sheriff's Sale May Be Stopped

S. B. Daniel filed petition in the 89th district court yesterday for a writ of injunction against Sheriff Fred K. Smith and others, urging the court to order the defendants to cease sale of property involved at the present time in a sheriff's sale.

The suit, the petition explains, is brought to stop the sale of interests in oil leases which are at the present time under execution in various judgments of the courts.

The sheriff, according to the petition, has ordered the alleged sale for the first Tuesday in September.

The petitioner alleges that he is the sole owner of the property under execution and that he is not a party to any of the suits in which the judgments were issued, placing the property in execution.

Daniel asks for an injunction against B. C. Duncan, W. E. Beal and J. M. Jones to prevent them from levying or causing other executions to be levied on the property, all of which is said to be located in the Texhoma field.

Thieves Take Grip From Local Hotel

Thieves are busy everywhere in Wichita Falls, according to the records of stolen property kept by the city police department. And the police, it is asserted, are busy each day investigating thefts and robberies which are occuring here constantly.

Monday night, while W. C. Henden of San Antonio, occupied a room in a local hotel, some unknown person entered the place and carried off a Gladstone grip. Although the theft was reported to the local police yesterday, no trace has been found of the grip yet.

W-K Spark Plugs in a Cadillac Car 4000 Miles

El Paso, Tex., 8-10-22.

Self Cleaning Spark Plug Co.,
Wichita Falls, Texas.
Gentlemen:

Thought it would be of interest to you gentlemen to know of the performance of my Cadillac automobile on a long run with W-K Spark Plugs installed.

I had them put in my car in Santa Ana, California, leaving early in July for the east via the northern route through Colorado, seeing the sights as we came along. We reached Amarillo a few days ago, having made approximately four thousand miles with an average gasoline consumption of fourteen miles to the gallon. I call this some saving, and will use nothing but W-K Plugs in the future. You may use this letter if you so desire.

They are all that you claim and more, are a real investment.

Yours truly,
(Signed) J. A. BUCK.

Expensive Old Friends

The gas ring in the old furnace is an expensive toy. It is only about 25% efficient.

The perforated pipe in the old coal range costs about three times as much for cooking as the modern gas range.

The open flame gas light uses four times the gas needed for a mantle burner and gives a third of the light.

Right Way Costs Less

The right way is always the least expensive way. It is also the most satisfactory way.

Modern appliances make gas the most economical as well as the most satisfactory heat or light.

CONTEST OVER BOND ELECTION

Recount to Be Asked Says Rumor

It was rumored here yesterday that the recent election over an issuance of $150,000 worth of bonds for the branch county hospitals to be located at Electra, Iowa Park and Burkburnett, may develop into a court contest, and that in all probability a recount will be asked on the entire election.

This rumor became prevalent here yesterday following the announcement by county commissioners to the effect that a mistake had been made in verifying the election returns, and that one box, the North Side box, which had previously gone unaccounted for, had been located yesterday with 22 votes against the bond issuance and 6 for, giving the opposition a majority of 24 votes.

The rumor is believed to have emanated from Electra and persons living in Iowa Park, and, although unverified, indicated that steps have already been taken to request a recount of the ballots.

ARMY OF CARPENTERS BEGIN CONSTRUCTION ON FAIR SITE

3,000 Grand Stand Seats to Be Put Up on Grounds Soon.

They are off at the post. Hammers and saws started the general bump, bump, bump and whirr of activity at the fair grounds Tuesday morning. A full force of carpenters and helpers are on the job working the buildings over, replacing and re-arranging those that need changing and making things ready generally for the big Texas-Oklahoma state fair that opens September 30 and continues through October 4.

It was said Tuesday at fair headquarters that all the men necessary have been secured to do the work and there will be no delay in the activity. Between now and the opening of the fair, there will be work going on at the grounds all the time.

The work at the grounds is under direction of G. Clint Wood, chairman of buildings and grounds, Leon Keith, president of the fair association and C. H. Verschoyle, general secretary, will go to the grounds today and designate each building to be used for various purposes.

In addition to the carpentering work the grounds are being put in first class condition and within a few days 3,000 graduated seats purchased from the State fair at Dallas, will be put up.

Besides the force of men at work for the fair association, Wortham Brothers shows have several men on the grounds putting up the ground work for the big Wortham shows that will be here all during the fair.

President Keith said Tuesday that in view of the fact that construction work at the fair grounds has started the association needs every cent of the money that has been pledged to it and this week every member of the committee appointed to bring in the money will be at wor... He requests that those who have subscribed for fair stock and have not paid in their subscriptions do so at once.

Burk-Clara Project Complete in 4 weeks

Approximately 2,000 feet of the Burk-Clara road has been completed already, according to reports received by the Potts-Prentice Construction company yesterday afternoon at their headquarters here.

Two mixers are busily engaged in putting down the concrete highway, it was reported, both working from each other. The mixers began work in the center of the five-mile paving K. Smith, who arrived here Tuesday while the other advances toward Burkburnett.

Officers of the company here yesterday intimated that the paving project will be completed within the next four weeks.

NEGRO PAIR WED ON COURT SUGGESTION

Judge John P. Marrs took the role of Dan Cupid yesterday morning while he sat on the bench in corporate court, and soon after a negro couple had joined hands in the county court house, tied in the nuptial knot of matrimony.

The negroes were brought before Judge Marrs charged with vagrancy, the court fining them $5 each on conviction of the charge.

A white woman who accompanied them, and who had informed the court that they "were living together and not married," promised the court that she would personally attend to the wedding ceremonial. She accompanied the pair to the court house upon the suggestion of Judge Marrs that they be married, and later the knot was made firm.

Joyner Appointed Incinerator Head

J. E. Joyner was appointed manager of the city incinerator at a special meeting of the city council Tuesday night. His salary was fixed at $230 per month out of which he is to pay his help at the incinerator.

PICKERS WORK THRUOUT COUNTY

Crop to Be Short After Drouth

Many cotton growers in Wichita county have pickers in the field now and the cotton crop harvest will be in full swing within two weeks, according to County Farm Agent Guy R. Jones.

"The crop this year is going to be somewhat short," said Mr. Jones, "on account of the drouth, unless rain comes within the next eight or ten days and makes a late crop."

Mr. Jones said that some of the fields in the river bottom will make from a half to three-fourths of a bale to the acre, but these fields are few, he said. He thinks that on an average it will take about six acres to make a bale this year.

Kaffir corn, feterita and maize have been harvested, Mr. Jones said, and the crop was short. Corn is being harvested in some parts of the county now, according to Mr. Jones, but the scorching winds played havoc with the corn crop. However, some farmers are harvesting a fair yield, it is said.

Sand Needed For Electra Highway

The McCollum Construction company has been closed down on the Electra North highway since last Saturday, it was announced here yesterday afternoon, due to the absence of a quantity of sand needed for completion purposes.

The construction crews, it became known yesterday, lost two days during the past week caused by breakdowns and the loss of water supplies, very necessary in operating the mixers at work near Electra.

It was estimated here yesterday that the strip which is yet to be paved will require possibly six days work.

Judge Bass Leaves Counsel Post With Petroleum Co.

Judge Charles L. Bass has resigned as general counsel for the Kirby Petroleum company and its predecessors in the Oklahoma-Texas boundary suit before the supreme court, and will enter into the practice of law in this city, giving preference to matters in federal equity.

Judge Bass has served as legal advisor and counsel for the oil companies mentioned since 1919 and has won many points before the United States tribunals.

Before coming to Wichita Falls he was located in San Antonio where he was widely known as one of the leading legal lights of that section. He was for several years chairman of the democratic executive committee at San Antonio and took an active part in politics. Judge Bass is rated as one of the best informed lawyers in the state on matters of federal equity.

Council Fails To Act on Building

When the city council convened in special session Tuesday night to take up the passage of an ordinance to restrict the building of stores in the residence district, it was found that R. E. Shepherd was out of the city and as a full council is required to carry the emergency clause, the meeting was adjourned until Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock.

Before adjourning, the necessary motion was made that the ordinance be placed on its first reading. It was also moved that the ordinance a-nending the sign ordinance be placed on the second reading.

Fitts Sounds Fair Warning

Commissioner of Police J. B. Fitts yesterday morning issued a three-days notice to all persons operating vehicles without all lights and without the proper lenses, asserting in his warning to them that after that time they would be placed under arrest by city officers and brought into court.

At the same time, the commissioner instructed the Police Chief J. W. McCormick, to see that the state and city laws regulating the operation of automobiles without all lights, including the two front lights and the tail lights, and the state, county and city taxes apparent, he rigidly enforced here.

Mr. Fitts said in connection with his warning, that it has been called to his attention that there are numerous vehicles operating here at the present time that do not meet all the requirements of law, and that those who are found violating these laws will be strenuously prosecuted.

STAMPFLI INTERESTED

One of the first things that V. E. Stampfli did when returning from California to Wichita Falls after an absence of three years, was to take an active interest in the Texas-Oklahoma fair and make substantial contribution to the fair, according to announcement at fair headquarters Tuesday. Mr. Stampfli came back to Wichita Falls, he said, because of the splendid opportunities here.

NEW CHURCH IS COMPLETED

Dedication Services to Be Held Sunday

Dedication services for the newly constructed Methodist church near the Cooper schoolhouse, ten miles north of Wichita Falls, will be held at 11 o'clock next Sunday morning, according to an announcement by Rev. W. A. Betts, pastor. Sunday school services will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning and will be followed by the regular dedication services at which Rev. S. M. Black, presiding elder, will officiate.

Dinner will be served on the grounds and in the early afternoon a song service will be held, this to be followed at 4 o'clock by a lay sermon by Judge S. A. L. Morgan of Wichita Falls. A cordial invitation is extended the public to attend any or all of the services.

A church conference has been called for Friday evening of this week at which time the report of the building committee will be given and other business given.

Business Council Resumes Luncheons

The business council of the chamber of commerce will resume meeting Friday at noon luncheon after having recessed during the hot weeks of the summer.

Many members of the council have been away on their vacations, but most of them have returned and as there are several matters of importance to be discussed it is expected a large number of the members will be at the luncheon Friday noon. One matter to come up will be a discussion of the automobile trips to nearby fairs.

F. A. Ray's Hog at Texas-Oklahoma Fair'll Make 'Em All Take Notice

F. A. Ray, owner of the Willowbrook farm, near Wichita Falls and chairman of the swine department of the Texas-Oklahoma fair, has a hog that is going to make all breeders at the Texas-Oklahoma fair and the Texas state fair sit up and take notice this year, according to Guy R. Jones, county farm agent.

"Mr. Ray took off the grand prize at the Texas state fair in one class last year," said Mr. Jones, "and this year he has a young male, a junior yearling that weighs just about 800 pounds standing 45 inches high and is in many ways one of the most remarkable hogs I have ever seen. Breeders from many parts of the state have been out to the farm to look at him and he is attracting wide attention."

GREATEST NEWS OF DAY HERE!

Old-Timers Say Heat Wave Broken!

"There is considerable difference between the temperature here and that of Denver, but I am glad to get back home," said J. L. Art of the Art Jewelry company when he returned to his business Tuesday after spending two weeks in Colorado.

The Art Jewelry company maintains the only registering thermometer in the city. It is adjusted to government specifications. As the weather registering machine is right by Mr. Art's door all he has to do besides work is to sit and watch the mercury climb and then think of cool Colorado.

But the weather, especially at night has not been unduly warm since Mr. Art returned and old timers who are brave enough to predict the weather say they think the backbone of the heat for this year has been broken. The mercury mounted to 103 Tuesday at 3:15 in the afternoon but was down to 78 at 6 o'clock in the morning.

A big ball game.
A big dance.

That is the program that has been arranged by the Texas company for its employes to be staged on the grounds of the Old Settlers at Iowa Park, according to information made public here yesterday.

The picnic and barbecue will be held in Iowa Park today, and it is understood that several Wichitans will attend.
