Kenneth Smith Becomes Arnett School Head

Kenneth Smith, formerly of Gould, took over the reigns as superintendent of Arnett School Thursday, July 1, as Bob Copeland stepped down after a 9-year tenure. At the same time, Mrs. Smith joined the Arnett faculty.

Mr. Smith was in the Gould School System 20 years, the last thirteen as superintenddent. Prior to that, he was principal coach of junior-high 5 years and of senior high two.

The last two years he has been associated with Oklahoma School Supply in Stillwater.

Mr. Copeland, whose home is in Wellington, is joining the Childress Schools as an elementary principal. He is continuing to farm in the Loco community.

Mr. Smith was born and reared at Gould. He attended Cameraon College a year, then served 5 years as a pilot in the Air Corps during World War II.

He then received his bachelor's degree from Southwestern State College in 1949, lettering in football both there and at Cameron.

His master's degree was awarded in 1953, and he returned to work toward his doctorate at Oklahoma University in 1958.

Mrs. Smith, the former Shirley Pierce, received her B.A. degree from Southwestern in 1953 and has had 15 years teaching experience.

The couple has three sons, Harley, a junior in Cameron College; Dean, who will be a sophomore at Arnett ; and Kirk, a seventh-grader.

Mr. Smith is president-elect, as well as a past-president of the Harmon County unit of the Oklahoma Education Assoication. He also has been State OEA representative.

Over Week End

Two Wellington Landmarks Burn

Two Wellington landmarks were destroyed in fires during the July 4 week end. The origin of neither blaze has been determined, according to Fire Chief Jim Sikes.

The O.K. Loving home at the corner of 8th and Dalhart Streets was completely destroyed in a blaze that was reported about 10:15 p.m. Saturday, July 3.

A fire that was first noticed about 9:00 p.m. Sunday burned out the inside of the large sheet-metal warehouse at the corner of 8th and Arlington Streets.

The building is owned by Mrs. Vernon Ratzlow of Phillips, and it was used by her brother, James Sullivan, to store merchandise for Sullivan Hardware and Furniture. No estimate of the loss has been determined, Mr. Sullivan said

This was the old Milo Brown Blacksmith Ship. The building itself was constructed in 1916, but Mr. Brown had operated a shop on that same location for some years prior to that. The sheet metal structure was about 115 feet in lenght and fronted north of 8th.

Chief Sikes said the fire was "rolling pretty big before it was noticed." It was confined to the inside of the building, and it was easily contained because of the metal construction.

"Water turned to steam as soon as it hit the intense heat inside and that smoothered out the fire."

All Wellington firefighting units were called out, as they were the night before, but July 4 found the volunteer department short handed, and a number of non-members joined firemen to help, Chief Sikes said.

The Loving house was burning throughout and fire was beginning to go through the roof by the time firemen arrived and they were unable to save any part of it or its contents. They did keep the blaze away from other nearby buildings.

Firemen were called back Sunday morning about 7:00 a.m. to put out some blazes that had come up, Mr. Sikes said, and Sunday evening smoke was still coming from the ruins.

Mr. Loving was visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. Pearl Loving Shaw at the time

Mrs. Shaw said the one and one-half story house was built by her father, the late Dr. J.H. Loving in the early summer of 1913. It has remained in the family the entire time and was property of the Loving Estate. The only time it was not occupied by a family member was a

Abandon Old Site

Land for New Park Location Bought

The Commissioners Court has acquired a 7.9 acre tract of land immediately north of Salt Fork River near the Highway 83 bridge to be developed as a county park, County Judge Zook Thomas announced Friday, July 2, with the filing of the deed.

At the same time, he announced that the county's property on the south side of the river is being abondoned for park pruposes, because it cannot acquire more land that is needed, the county judge explained.

The new tract was bought from Mr. and Mrs. E.C. LaHue of Wellington.

"We feel that we now have an excellent location for a county park. There are big cottonwood trees, and it is already sodded to bermuda grass," said Mr. Thomas. "We feel the land north of the river is consideralby more desirable."

The tract does not lie adjacent to Highway 83, but it is only a short distance off it, and access is available from the highway. The park will be an even shorter distance when that stretch of U.S. 83 becomes four-lane.

The commissioners have not set a date for improvement work to begin.

When that does start, the County Park committee will join the commissioners court in making plans for the new recreation area.

Historical Survey Committee Lays Groundwork for Museum

Committees which will make up the Collingsworth County Historical Survey Committee were announced in an organizational meeting Thursday, July 1.

The duties of these committees were outlined by Mrs. Claude Drake, county chairman, who then explained the State Historical Survey Committee and the help it can give the county as it searches its past.

The goal of the county survey committee is the establishment of a museum, or perhaps more than one, in Wellington.

Funding of the committee and its work will be through a Historical Foundation, which will operate much like the State Historical Foundation, with money coming from public funds, private donations, and memberships.

To meet current expenses, a foundation has been set up, with Mrs. Drake and Earl Hunter as the temporary officers.

Proposed by laws were presented for reading, but were not intended to be voted on in the Thursday meeting.

These set forth that museum the group is seeking will be called the Collingsworth County Museum.

Mrs. Drake stated that the most popular tourist attraction in the Wellington area is the historical marker, at the intersection of US 83 and Highway 203 three miles north of town. People are hungry for entertainment, she reminded.

Mr. and Mrs. Drake have also made available as museum headquarters and for storage of museum artifacts, the small tin building one-half block north of the northwest corner of the square.

It, in itself has historic ties with Wellington, as it was the cotton office for Mrs. Drake's father, the late A.V. Cocke, for many years.

In later years it was occupied by cafes. It was the orginal site of Tom's Red Top, established by Tom Wilkins. The last to occupy the building were Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Mendez, who called their business Mexico Liendo, and who have since returned to their home in Monterrey, Mexico.

Mrs. L.E. Ward was announ-

Mrs. Inez Reding, Long-Time County Resident Dies

Mrs. Inez Reding, a resident of the county 63 years, died in St. Joseph's Hospital at 12:35 p.m. Sunday, July 4. She had been ill several months

Mrs. Reding lived in the Aberdeen community many years. Moving into Wellington about 15 years ago, she then trained as a nurse's aid, and worked in this field as long as she was able.

The former Inez Thompson, she was born September 1, 1896, in Deport, the daughter of David B. and Alice Thompson. She was marrried to Jack Reding December 14, 1913, in Collingsworth County, and they farmed until his death in 1955.

She was a Methodist.

Funeral services were conducted at 10:00 a.m. Tuesday, July 6, in Kelso Chapel. Officiating was the Rev. R.C Hankins, pastor of Trinity and Glen Davis Memorial Methodist Churches, and a friend of Mrs. Reding and her family for many years.

Pall bearers were Bill Simpson, Billy Waters, Paul Schaub, Howard Holton, Walter Deger and J. L Alexander.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Surviving Mrs. Reding are a son, Leo M. Reding of San Bernardino, Calif., three grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews.

One Injured In Turn-Over

Mrs. Kenney Hunt was hospitalized, but her husband escaped injury when their car overturned Saturday night, July 3.

The accident occurred east of Wellington near Sagebrush Feed Lot, Inc., according to Sheriff John Rainey.

Mrs. Hunt was driver of the car, which turned over to rest on its top when she lost control, Mr. Rainey said.

There was considerable damage to the vehicle.

Mrs. Hunt was released from St. Joseph's Monday, July 5.

Patrolman Don Gosnell and Doug Wright conducted the investigation, assisted by the sheriff.

Woman Finds Kin After 15 Years

A California woman and her grandson, who had not seen each other for 15 years, were reunited recently through the work of a former Wellington police chief, Donald Nunnelley.

Mrs. Treva Jones of Oakdale, Calif., formerly of Quail, visited a few days ago with Larry Dale Robinson, the grandson with whom she had lost all contact.

This came about with the death of Mrs. Jones' daughter, Larry's mother, when he was only two years old. Because of various circumstances, they drifted apart, and then she did not know where he was.

Larry is now a student in West Texas State University.

It was the work of Nunnelley, now a Randall County Deputy Sheriff in the South Amarillo office, who located Robinson for his grandmother.

Mrs. Jones is now visiting her mother, Mrs. Cora Gosnell, in Wellington. Grandchildren living here include Billy Neeley, Debbie Neeley, and Stacey Neeley.

Mrs. Hutson is the former Shirley Dickerson, daughter of Mrs. G.W. Dickerson of Phoeniz, Arizona and the late Rev. Dickerson.

Illegal Entry Arrest Made After Accident

The driver of a car which rolled over Sunday night, July 4, escaped with injury, but the accident resulted in the arrest of a Mexican believed to be a wetback, and a search for a second man suspected of illegal entry into the United States.

Sheriff John Rainey said the car, driven by Gilbert Davilla, Jr., 16, went out of control and turned over once, coming to rest in a pasture. The accident occurred on a straight stretch of road about three miles northwest of Dodson.

The man now being held in County Jail for the Immigration Service left the scene and appeared at the Grover Graham home. He speaks no English, and the Grahams could not understand what he wanted, but they put him in their car and returned him to the scene of the accident scene where officers were working, Sheriff Rainey said.

The sheriff has not been able to determine his name, but he appears to be about 30 years of age. He is to be picked up this week by a Border Patrol representative.

The second man is believed to have come to the Garland Hightower farm, where a Mexican was seen inside the house by a member of the family returning home. He left immediately and has not been apprehended, Mr. Rainey reported.

The Davilla youth was filed on for having no drivers license.

Damage to the car was considerable, according to the sheriff.

Effective July 1, the state sales tax went up from 3.25 to 4 per cent, the amount Collingsworth residents will pay when they trade within the county.

Those places having a city sales tax will pay 5 per cent.

The new sales tax hike means that everything except staple groceries, which are exempt, that cost more than 13 cents will come under the sales tax.

The automobile sales tax, which is a separate law jumped from 3 to four per cent, meaning that now a $3,500 car will cost $140 in taxes instead of $105 as before July 1.

FOLK TALES

and Bits of Collingsworth County History

by Nora Cocke Drake

WEEDS ! and more WEEDS!

Thanks to the birds, the winds, and THE rain we really have them in abundance this year.

Some folk pull or chop them; some poison them ; some cultivate , even pot them for ornimental uses while other people gather them to use in gourmet dishes or by the armful to feed to stock.

Early in the spring many people gather the tender lamb's quarter to cook as greens. Mrs. Jim Wood helps keep the tender leaves pulled on Bowie Street and Clarence Littleton thinks such greens 'the very best'.

Included in this years bountiful 'out of place plants'—— (also known as WEEDS) is the pretty purslane which is also spelled pussley and pursley. It is defined as a fleshy annual plant (Portulaca Oleracea) of gardens and waste places, with reddish-green leaves ; the leaves are used in Europe and Mexico (and in Collingsworth County) as salad greens or in simple cooked vegetable dishes.

Guy Clement recalls gathering it by the armload when he was a lad under ten years of age to feed to his hogs. His home was on East Avenue then and he would go over to this 'big patch of pussley' that grew across from the Charley Roberts' place which is now the C. E. Francis home on Galveston to gather this fee. This year Mr. Clement is trying to keep the plant chopped of his yard, no hogs to feed now.

Mrs. Clement recalls that her mother, Mrs. Jeff Kelley, used to gather it when they lived in the Kelley community east of town and cook it as greens for her family table.

Louis Graham has a 'patch' where prusslin has always grown and he just leaves it alone and lets it grow there, sort of squatter's rights for purslane.

Mrs. J. L. Burt has a corner in her yard where the plant thrives. 'I can't get rid of it' she says.

Mrs. Bill Langford had so much of it in her yard that Mrs. B. L. Langford applied weed-killer poison to it. Clyde Drake did the same thing to those plant found in his year but still they live in a sickly fashion.

This writer potted one, it is such a pretty plant and now we read that it is also a potherb -----; my goodness, what a versatile plant !

Mrs. John Beauchamp of San Antonio found an interesting article giving recipies for preparing this 'weed'. We pass these along to you in case you want to follow one of F. O. Masten's favorite advisory quotations that comes from the Bible story about the ship that had lost all of its drinking water and the sailors about to perish. When they called to men on the shore for help they were advised to 'Dip Your Buckets Where You Are'. Sure enough they did and the water was not salty.

Try some purslane, you might like it and if you don't? Well, feed it to the hogs.

PURSLANE SALAD

Combine in a salad bowl 1 cup whole pruslane leaves (from plants that have not been treated with weed killer) with 1 quart torn leaves of crisp lettuce; sprinkle with /2 teaspoon dried tarragon. Just before serving, mix in thoroughly 1/4 cup Italian style dressing. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

PURSLANE with Scrambled Eggs

6 eggs, salt and pepper to tast, 1/2 teaspoon oregano optional seasoning, 1/4 cup milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup finely chopped purslane leaves, several sprigs purslane for garnish.

In a bowl combine the eggs, salt, pepper, oregano, and milk, beat until well blended. Melt butter in a frying pan ; add purslane and cook slowly for about 20 second or until it is slightly softened. Four in egg mixture ; as it slowly cooks, keep lefting it from the bottom of pan. Avoid stirring, continue cooking until all of the egg is cooked., it should still be moist looking. Turn out onto a large platter or cut into wedges for individual servings. Garnish with sprigs of Purslane and serve immediately.

Hay - Hay - Hay

400 bales of wheat straw, donated by C. B. Carter, Hollis, and baled without charge by Dude Tyson, Hollis, was put in Westview Boys' Home hay barn by the boys and staff. This hay will be used by F.F.A. and 4-H boys for their club animals. Pictured above are, left to right, Phillip McCune, Bobby Lollar, Jeff Vaughan, Noel Hardy, and staff member, Pete Disterlic. Even the smaller boys are taught to work, and these three little ones were really tired after stacking a truck load and then helping unload and stacking it in the hay barn. However, it didn't keep them from devouring fried chicken and chocolate pie at noon.

Tech Receives Funds for Arid Land Studies

LUBBOCK— Matching funds granted this week by Plains Co-Op Oil Mill and the International Center for Arid and Semi-Arid Land Studies at Texas Tech University will enable Tech researchers to continue implementing already encouaging evidence that the nation's number one fiber crop, cotton, may also become world's fight against hunger.

The grant, totaling $4, 400 with half coming from Plains Co-Op Oil Mill and half from ICASALS, is aimed at helping finance a continuing research project centered on cottonseed flour by the Department of Food and Nutrition in Tech's College for Home Economics.

According to Mrs. Margarette Harden, food and nutrition instructor and reseach associate at Tech who is working closely with the project, flour from cttonseed is promising not only as a valuable and largely untapped source of nutritious food but also as a potentially valuable new economic boost for the cotton producing industry.

Mrs. Harden pointed out that cottonseed flour is an abundant source of protein and that significant results of the research at Tech already include development of recipes and rat growth studies establishing the nutritive values of cottonseed flour bread in addition to creation of public interest in cottonseed products.

Mr. Hunt farmed until his retirement. He is still active working in the yeard. Mrs. Hunt has been in ill health for a number of years.

They have four children, Mrs. David (Betty) Conant and Randolph Hunt of Wellington; and Mrs. Boyd Houchin of Hollis, who were present for the anniversary, and Mrs. Ken (Maurine) Carman of Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

Notes from Your County Home Demonstration Agent

by Mrs. Leta Hill

BEAT THE SUMMER BLAS

Feeling run down and tired lately – like you just don't have any energy?

Beat the summer blahs by following these suggestions: Get plenty of rest and sleep.

Stop racing around. Make a realistic schedule of errands and include rest periods.

Check your surroundings for "irritators", such as excessive noise, poor lighting or inadequate ventilation, that make you feel tired.

Try a change of pace –do something different during the day.

When you start to feel irritable, take a breather. Find a quiet corner and put up your feet.

If your daily activites are sedentary, try some exercise such as walking.

And if you are constantly tired, week after week, see your doctor for a check up.

Most people suffer from fatigue at one time or another. Don't let it get you down. Remember, there are two kinds of fatigue - emotional and physical, and both can put a damper on summer fun if not checked.

VACATION PLANNING

Considering a long vacation soon?

To lessen worries while away from home, plan and prepare for safeguarding your properties before you leave.

First, stop routine delivers. Call or write businesses concerned; a note left on the door is a good way to let prowlers know you're away. Then check with the post offices about holding or forwarding your mail. Ask a neighbor to remove circulars or notes dropped on the doorstep.

Notify relatives and neighbors or your itinerary so you can be reached in case of emergency.

Make sure fire insurance policies on your home are in force and paid. You may also want to place valuables and important papers in safekeeping.

An unmowed lawn may indicate a vacant house, so arrange to have the lawn mowed if you will be away long. Store outdoors tools, appliances, furniture, ladders, and hoses inside to avoid damage.

Window shades or venetian blinds should not be closed completely.

When you're ready to leave turn off heat and disconnect electrical appliances. Lock all doors, then leave a key with a neighbor so, if necessary, your house can be entered without breaking a window or lock. Never leave keys outside, under a mat or over the door.

As a final note, have your vacation mentioned in the community newspaper after, not before, your holiday.

HOME CANNING TIPS

Many homemakers have begun to do some home canning. Many times the canned foods spoil.

The only three causes of food spoilage are: (1) Obtaining faulty seals, (2) underprocessing (3) improper handling. At least 80% of food spoilage in home canned foods is due to sealing failures.

Some common causes of sealing failures are (1) Failure to read and follow instructions on package for using caps and lids. (2) Leaving wrong amount of head space when filling jars. (3) Not taking the time to "knife out" air bubbles before sealing jars. (4) Not removing particles from the tip of the jar. (5) Screwing band too tight (6) Not screwing band tight enough. (7) Insufficient heat to seal the lid. (8) Failure to exhaust steam pressure canner for full 10 minutes. (9) Letting pressure in canner fluctuate. (10) Reusing jars in which commercial food is sold. (11) Using warped, rusty worn bands or old commercial caps. (12) Reusing lids. The lid of a two piece metal cap should not be used more than once.

A MAN NAMED CORNELIUS

by Gaylord Cook

In the tenth chapter of the Book of Acts an account is given of a man named Cornelius. The Scripture says he was "a devout man", and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always." Most people after reading this description of Cornelius would conclude that he was a saved man who was right with God. However, the story that unfolds in Acts 10 makes it abundantly plain that this was not the case. Because he was a good man, though an unsaved man, God sent Peter to him to tell him all the things that God commanded him to do. Cornelius was a good man, but until he obeyed the commands of God and had reached the blood of Christ who died for the sins of mankind, he was not a saved man. To some this may seem strange, but it simply points up the fact that man is not saved by his own goodness, but by the blood of Jesus Christ. Dear friend, it matters not how good you may be morally, if you do not have Christ YOU ARE LOST.

I Saw... by Virginia Robey

When the Clyde Drakes took their daughter, Francis Beauchamp and her children, Drake and John Stuart to Amarillo Air Terminal for the flight home to San Antonio, her uncle, Frank Cocke of Mobeetie, was waiting to visit. A little later, an aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Draper, she is Clyde's sister and their daughter, Mrs. Mike Gibson arrived, going home to Philadelphia after visiting in Memphis. All of them were going by Dallas and at Love Field when they arrived was the Draper's son, Charles and his family.

Virginia Hess, social security field representative who has covered Wellington two years, accepted her transfer to the Dalhart-Dumas area, but with regrets.

"I have never worked in a town where I was greeted with open arms, and that was so friendly to me as I have been in Wellington," she said.

Making a place for themselves in Wellington is the Kenneth Mitchell family ... A former math teacher in Harmon County and city engineer at Ardmore, Okla., he now does custom farming. There are two young Mitchells, Hoby, six, and Shane, two. Kenneth is the son of Mrs. Jim Langley.

Enthusiasm for the Collingsworth County museum filters down. When one Wellington youngster found a deer skull in Salt Fork and someone asked what he was going to do with it, he announced proudly he was going to give it to the museum.

Not all mother's day gifts come tied in satin ribbon. The two Charles Darter boys were a little puzzled when they saw no gift for their mother, from their father. It's there now, for everyone to see. The Darter's home has a coat of glistening white point.

Capt. Darryl Morris, here with his family from West Point, discussed the broad educational base a young man gets who goes through the Military Academy, and the close contact between teacher and student. His classes have only 15 each.

Darryl did not mention but from other sources it is learned he will be Major Morris in a few days. Promotions are like that. They come along a few days after, instead of just before, your visit to your home town.

Wellington's Tex Winter, who won fame as a basketball coach, first at Kansas State then at the University of Washington, is coming home to Texas. Earlier this year he took his first professional coaching job, with the San Diego Rockets, according to his cousin, Bear Bowen. Now the Rockets are moving to Houston, lock, stock and name.

Judge R. L Templeton playing tennis with his son, Lee, at Ellison Park. R. L., you will remember, is the man who can still wear his World War II Royal Canadian Air Force uniform and find it a good fit.

When Rotarians installed their new officers last week, Sandy Parsons was the installing officer. He is the only charter member remaining in the club.

Auditions Set for Palo Duro Fall Drama

The director for "They Came From Spain," the story of the march of the Conquistadors to the Texas plains, will hold auditions Sunday, July 18, 1971 at 1:00 p.m. The place will be the ballroom (Room 202) in the Activities Center, West Texas State University Campus, on the Spur road in Canyon, Texas. This will be for men only. Applicants will be asked to read some material which will be given them at the auditions to study for a few minutes.

"They Came From Spain" will play in September and October, on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays. Applicants must be available on these dates and for rehearsals from August 5 during late afternoons and evenings.

Applicants will also be asked to participate in a screen test at 4:00 p.m. the same day.

"They Came From Spain" is a story of the Conquistadores who came here many groups of Spainiards ranged the world in the 1500's explored more than any other men from any other nation. They walked farther, rode farther, dared more, and opened up a new continent to the world.

The Indians who had never seen horses thought a rider and a horse were one beast, with one head and four legs, and the Indians described the guns of the Spainards as "talking sticks which spoke and made animals fall dead". They also described the walking soldiers as "The men with shining dishes on their deads."

After two years of struggle marching from Compastela, Mexico, Coronado led his group of Spainards into the Palo Duro Canyon where "They Came From Spain" will play. Their stay here was the turning point of the journey for most of the army, a place of rest and refuge after their wanderings over the plains, the endless sea of grass. These were the Conquistadores.

There also will be performances on September 4, and October 10. The show starts at 8:15 p.m. CDT. Prices are Adults $2.50 and Children, $1.000. For tickets and further information, write to "They Came From Spain", Box 268, Canyon, Texas, 79015 or call 806-655-2182.

You are protecting and increasing the value of your investment in this community...your business, your job, and your property...when you do most of your trading at home

A lot of people have a lot of money and many years of their lives invested in businesses, farms, homes, and other property in this community. Every dollar we spend at home helps to keep our area alive and vital, and the property in and around it worth more. And every dollar we spend somewhere else has the opposite effect.

Archie Roberts Heads Teachers

(The June Issue of The Texas Outlook, official publication of the Texas State Teachers Association, pays tribute to Wellington reared Archie A. Roberts, superintendent of Beeville Schools, who on June 1 became president of the Texas State Teachers Association. Mr. Roberts is the son of Mrs. C.E. Roberts, now of Dumas and the late Mr. Roberts. Below are excerpts from the article by Traxel Stevens of the Outlook staff.)

One Plaque on his office wall is misleading. It says : "My work is so secret - I don't know what I'm doing."

Another sign is more appropriate. It repeats the admonition :"Don't give up the ship."

People who know Archie Alton Roberts understand quite clearly that he knows what he is doing. They also percieve that he not likely to give up the ship, on land or sea.

These attributes of Archie A. Roberts of Beeville have long been evident to his professional colleagues in Texas. That's one reason he was elected last year to become 95th president of the Texas State Teachers Association on June 1, 1971, succeeding Jewell Harris.

You don't remain a superintendent of schools anywhere without a firm backbone, understanding and resiliency. Roberts has held down the Beeville superintendency for 15 years. That's not a Texas record, but it is considerably above average - and beyond the honeymoon period. It's a tribute to his stickability.

Neither an extrovert or a shy person, Roberts has what might be termed a friendly reserve. He obviously is an open person who thinks deeply in private.

The new president believes strongly in professionalism, and in each individual being involved. He is a life member of both TSTA and the National Education Association, and was district NEA membership chairman six years. He has been on the TSTA Executive Committee and served as president of the Texas Association of School Administrators.

The new TSTA leader speaks with confidence. His ideas are uncluttered, straightforward.

Perhaps some of that stems from the self-confidence instilled by his early life on the farm and his association with the land through the years. He was born and raised on a stock farm ; he still ranches as a diversion from the pressures of the superintendency, and possibly to maintain a link with his roots.

Archie was one of 11 children of the Roberts family on a farm near Wellington, in the Texas Panhandle county of Collingsworth. He was a full-fledged farm hand at the age of six, and he had began school at Houselog.

It was in Wellington that he met his future wife, the former Idell Smith, whose family had just moved there from Canyon. His college work was intertwined with military service, and he received his bachelor's degree in 1949, with his master's coming in 1950.

The Roberts family includes three charming daughters : Marilyn (Mrs. Phil Eanes), who teaches fifth grade in Cameron while her husband is in military service at Fort Polk, La.; Carolyn, who graduated this spring from Beeville's A. C. Jones High School ; and Kathy, who just finished her sophomore year.

The Beeville superintendent's advice to fellow administrators is about the same as it was in 1969 :

"The time is here in our professional development where everyone wants a peice of the action. There is plenty of room in school administration these days to give it to them."

Out of that shared responsibility , Roberts feels, will come better mutual understanding. Teachers will know more of the entire educational program, its finances, and its limitations. Administrators most of whom came up through the teaching ranks, will in turn have their memories refreshed about the classroom and space instruction, and they will relate better to teacher problems.

Today's college preparatory student enters a much more competitive arena, and he needs to learn to do his own thinking before setting foot on today's turbulent college campus, Roberts insists.

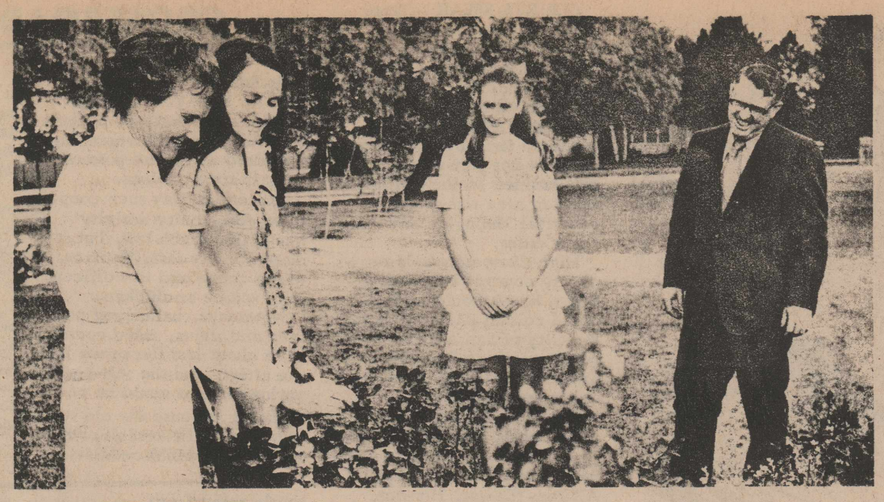

Beeville's Jones High School offers that opportunity. An open campus plan in operation there for a number of years makes a student a free agent when not in class, just as he will be in college. Roberts says the plan works well.

The current transition of education from emphasis on college preparation to emphasis on vocational education is eyed cautiously.

"I hope we are striking an era of balance between the two," Roberts says. "We will make just as bad a mistake if we go far back to vocational preparation as we did with college preparation."

He is very much in favor of vocational education. He favors the compreshensive high school serving the needs of all students. As proof, some 55 percent of Beeville's 1,200 high school students are involved in one or more vocational courses. That's in line with U. S. Department of Labor estimates of future needs.

In the vocational field, schools are having to develop closer partnership with the public, which he sees as a healthy process, adding : "They want a man who has a general education, not just a trained technician."

BREATHING TIME

Boat Owners Come Under New Laws

AUSTIN– Boat owners in Texas will operate under new rules as a result of actions by the 62nd Legislature.

Of immediate interest to boaters is the new law requiring children 12 years old or under riding in a Class 1 or Class A motorboat while underway to wear life preservers of the sort prescribed by the regulations of the Commandant of the Coast Guard.

The only such approved life preserver is a U. S. Coast Guard approved life preserver.

If a boat is underway, and if the child does not have the life preserver, the operator will be ticketed.

The new law does not apply to canoes, rowboats, or sailboats, but these boats after Sept. 1 are required to have a Coast Guard approved life-saving device on board for each person. These boats were heretofore exempted from this requirement.

Also new is the requirement that after Jan 1, 1972, all motorboats must be registered with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, regardless of length of horsepower.

Funeral services were conducted Friday at Pomona Mausoleum.

Survivors are his wife, two daughters and two grandchildren all of Pomona ; four sisters and a brother, Mrs. Michael, Mrs. Carter Thompson of Amarillo, Mrs. W. S. Martin of Lubbock, Mrs. Bob Lusk of Post and Bryan Wells of Ft. Stockton.

Turn Off the Engine and Take the Keys Out

Turn off the engine and take the keys out of the lock may be the appropriate precaution for old drivers who are set in their ways to start practicing now. It will not be long until the new law regarding drivers will go into effect. Since most of us drive by rote and not by reason, it is time to start practicing better driving habits.

The new law provides that it will be a violation for a driver to leave his engine running or to leave the keys in the car if he leaves the vehicle. This seems like a sensible practice which every car driver should develop as a habit for the protection of his own property. Unfortunately there are too many drivers who do exactly the opposite. There is the busy salesman with his mind on his quota who grabs his catalog or his sample case as he leaves the keys in his car. There is the harried housewife who leaves the engine running on a cold morning as she dashes into the grocery store. There are a thousand more examples of people who are thinking about something else besides what they are doing with their car.

The only real safeguard is to get in the habit of turning off the engine and taking the key out of the lock until the act becomes automatic. It should be practiced until it is automatic even if the driver is thinking of the man who beat him out of an account in anger, or looking at a pair of hot pants in delight. Habit can be helpful as well as harmful. It depends on which habit it is.

Court Saves Ali

Millions of young men and their parents must be disillusioned by the Supreme Court's unanimous decision which threw out the conviction of former heavyweight champion Huhammad Ali for draft evasion. He contended that, as a Black Muslim minister, he was a conscientious objector within the legal definition of the term.

In conscientious objector cases, the court places great stress on the "sincerity" of the defendant's beliefs.

When Ali was convicted of evading the draft on June 20, 1967, the Justice Department presented testimony which seemed to deny that "sincerity." The government contended that he had failed to claim conscientious objector status until the draft was breathing down his neck.

Of concern to America and its future society is the precedent this decision sets. Will every youngster who doesn't want to serve his country now claim similar immunity when faced with military service?

But worse—what about those who willingly have shouldered a rifle, many of whom are in graves, and who did not seek loopholes to escape their duty?

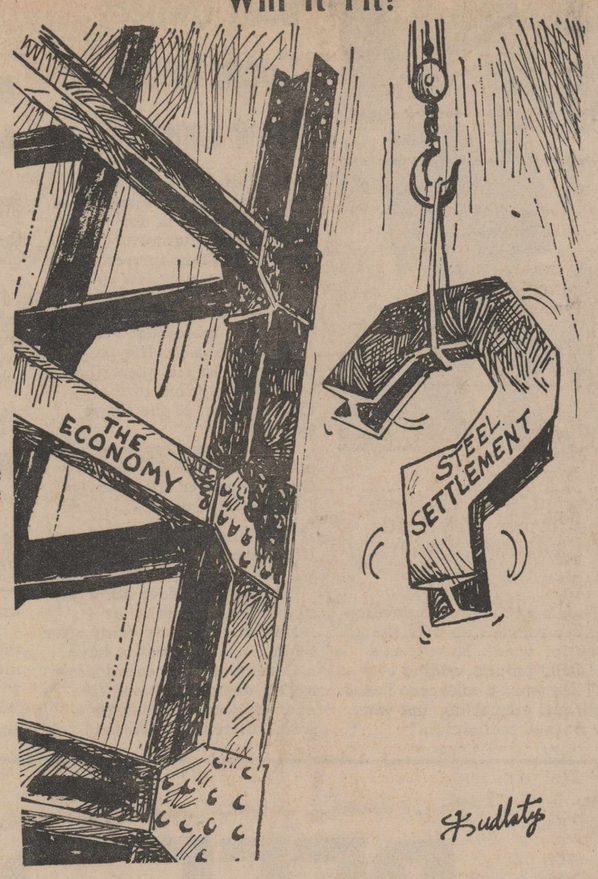

Ali is now free to slug some boxer in the head for a fat purse. But he apparently is not willing to slug some enemy of the country which has been good to him.—The Dallas Morning News.

Will It Fit?

STATE Capital NEWS By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN, Tex. –Gov. Preston Smith, in an unprecedented veto action, turned the job of rewriting the entire 1973 state budget to a special legislative session next year.

Smith took the axe to $3.1 billion in state spending which he found "unnecessary and unwarranted" for the second half of the biennium. He announced his decision on statewide television program, and said that he will submit to the lawmakers before September 1972, a new 1973 budget proposal which will require no new taxes.

Smith made it clear that a 1972 special session is inevitable, anyway, because the Legislature did not appropriate welfare funds for the second year.

Governor's action may accomplish the following regardless of whether a new tax bill can be avoided next year (Texas Research League estimates a $474 million biennial tax bill will be required in the 1972 special session.

Legislators will have to take a sober second look at spending items in an election year when many are faced with general election contests.

Smithe declined to reveal his future political plans but left dangling the prospect of a third term race.

Governor claims the public response has been almost 100 per cent favorable to his historic veto.

COURTS SPEAK – State Supreme Court, in a five-four decision, held that an insurance company can't fight its policyholders in suits against uninsured motorists except in unusual situations.

A man fired by an oil company for not getting enough new business in the Beaumont Houston area was granted a new trial through a Supreme Court order.

High Court upheld the county court at law finding that a San Antonio woman could collect damages from the City of San Antonio for condemnation of her land and for damage to property due to erosion.

Trial of former San Marcos Police Chief Waymon Dial, for burglary, has been transferred to Harris County.

AG OPINIONS – Texas Water Quality Board may contract for the state with the federal government for federal grants or loans under the federal water pollution control act - subject to a 60-day limitation and the governor's approval - Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that :

El Paso can contract with the Council of Governments for a recreation area partly within the city limits, partly in the county and partly in Dona Ana county, New Mexico.

National Guard Armory Board has authority to determine the lowest and best bid and best interest of the state on armory construction which involves unknown factors on a fixed bid, price and congressional factors.

Concentrated Employment Project federal funds are not subject to auditing procedures applicable to county funds.

A city fireman, on returning from military leave, is entitled to credit for the time spent in service, in figuring city payroll longevity.

Where the legislature has made specific lump sum appropriations, for hourly wages, the head of state agency to whom an appropriation is made has the discretion to fix the hourly rate of pay.

APPOINTMENTS – James L. Lindsey of College Station, longtime newspaperman in Midland, San Antonio, and San Anton io, was Antonio, was named by Governor Smith to succeed Dr. Elmer Baum of Austin on the State Banking Board.

Richard Keahey of Austin is now director of the Veterans Land Program and Jim Watson of Lubbock is General Land Office personnel director.

CITIES COLLECT $35.5 MILLION – Texas cities which levy a one per cent local option sales tax received nearly $35.5 million from January-March collections on sales within their boundaries.

Collection for the first quarter of 1971 compared with $39.6 million for the final quarter of 1970 and $36.5 million for the third quarter of 1970.

More than 400 cities levy local option sales tax.

Money goes to the state comptroller and is handed back to cities of origin. During the quarter ending March 31, the state retained $719,756, as its service fee.

INSURANCE RATE HIKE ASKED AGIN

ASKED AGAIN – Auto insurance companies were expected to request rate increases of more than 25 per cent at a hearing before the State Insurance Board June 30.

Companies six months ago were granted a 14 per cent increase, but were far from happy and insisted on more. They wanted a 27 per cent boost.

A new law permits motorists to purchase deductible liability insurance if they are willing to assume the risk of the first $250 damage their car may do to property. Another new act gives the State Insurance Board direction to promulgate rules for cancellation and non-renewal of policies.

It is calculated that 5 million teen-agers won't find jobs this summer because what they can do is not worth the federal minimum $1.60 an hour to anybody.

And Congress is fixing to make that 6 million by raising the minimum to $2, and later on may get the unemployment and dole rolls up to 100 million by making the legal minimum $10 an hour.

After all, the ancient idea that a man's pay had ought to be related somehow to his worth to his wage payer was knocked in the head when Congressmen raised their own wages to $42,500 a year.

Construction of a million dollars worth of new ward buildings has been started at Rusk State Hospital.

After September 1, Texas Department of Public Safety law officer recruits must have a semester's college training or agree to get it within two years after enlistment.

A total of 162 Texans have lost their lives in water accident during the last six months, Texas Safety Association noted in warning that the most-dangerous months for accidents are just ahead.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor :

Some New York Citizens the other day saw two ruffians busy killing a policeman and organized an instant posse to restrain the attackers.

In an earlier day such cooperative community activity was called lynch law, but it made society safer in places where courts and law officers were scarce or chicken.

Nowadays, hamstrung police men and rights, rabid courts have about lost the peace in the cities, and the self-preservation instinct could be commencing to rouse the old style vigilante spirit against criminals and criminal coddlers.

The State of Texas has got a new tax on sin. There is now an extra charge of $2.50 on traffic tickets, which is a state tex ; and $10 tax on people who get charged with a felony.

And it is bing pointed out by rational observers of legislative larceny that a man getting sent to the electric chair for murder will have to pay a $10 tax on the trip.

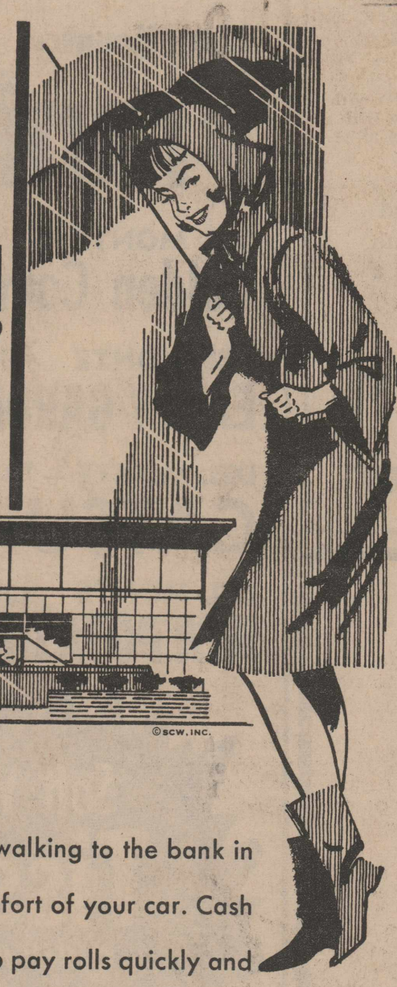

But a flat rate tax of $10 per job on the thieving business is cheating the state, which could take in far more money with, say, a 50 per cent tax on each robber's loot.

GRASS GROWTH 1972
by Robert W. Borchardt, SCS

Dry weather times have slowed down the current grass growth in Collingsworth county, making the importance of a moisture holding grass cover even more valuable. In spite of the drought, most of the grass has greened up and some of it is already trying to make seed to sustain itself.

Grazing after seed maturity will help naturally plant some of the seed produced and at the same time help the grass to maintain the vigor it will need to resume growth next spring. If the leaves of a grass plant are grazed off before sufficient food nutrients are stored in the roots for next year's growth, the plant will automatically begin growth several days later next spring. This is due to the fact that if the food nutrients are stored up, the future food manufacturing operations of the plant will be hindered, because they are directly affected by the area of leaf surface present. Also due to the short food supply in the roots, the vegetative development next year will be much less vigorous than other plants which were not grazed off.

It is true that climatic conditions directly influence the time in which grass growth will begin, but the vigor of the vegetation affects the length of this period more than anything else.

Rye Tops for Fall Forage

Researchers in forage production have found rye to be the top forage producer during the fall and early winter months.

It flourishes again in March and declines again in April and May. Rye leads all other small grain forage crops in total forage production.

Barley is generally comparable or slightly superior to wheat in early fall, and like rye is quite productive in early March.

Wheat becomes productive in March and remains productive somewhat longer than barley, oats, or rye.

Oats are generally productive in fall and early winter but suffer more from low temperature than the other small grain species.

Summer Garden Care Suggested

COLLEGE STATION– The prolonged drouth conditions throughout Texas calls for gardeners to use special care in cultural practices that can conserve moisture and reduce the amount of irrigation water needed for lawns and woody ornamentals in the landscape.

Through waterings and judicious applications of fertilizer, insecticides, or fungicides are two steips that can help gardeners through the hot, dry weather, according to Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist.

When applying irrigation water, do a thorough job, soaking the soil to a depth of six to 10 inches, he advises. If the soil surface is sloping or is compacted, water must be applied at a slower rate to prevent run off.

Deep watering of landscape plants tends to encourage deep root penetration that ultimately provides a greater moisture supply for the plant. Janne warns that frequent , light waterings encouages shallow root systems and once this happens, it is difficult to bring plant through extended drought plant through extended drouth periods without considerable damage.

Fertilizer, insecticides, or fungicides should never be applied unless there is moisture in the soil because severe foilage burn can occur if these materials are applied when the soil is dry. Janne says that any fertilizer applications should be followed with a thorough watering.

Another way to conserve moisture is to be sure all flower and shrub borders have a mulch at least two inches thick. A good mulch reduces evaporation from the soil surface, keeps the soil cooler, reduces weed growth, and cuts down on soil cultivation. Shredded pine bark, pine straw, wood chips or other readily available organic matter will make an excellent mulch.

In caring for the lawn, Janne adds that raising the height of the lawnmower blade one-fourth to one-half of an inch during hot weather will increase the lenght of the leaf blade, providing shade and reducing water needed by the grass plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Templeton, their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Presntice in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Lanier, all of Jacksonville, spent the week-end with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alexander.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

PEOPLE NEED not have as much fear of a credit card being lost and someone finding it and running up a huge bill before they could notify the company. There were cases in which the courts held for the card issuer and against the holder. Now that is changed. Last April Congress passed a law which stipulates that the firm which mails out the credit card must send out a special form and a stamped envelope from the card issuer. The law also says that you can't be held accountable for any loss in excess of $50. And in order for the card carrier to collect this or a smaller amount, you must have formally accepted the card. Unsolicited mailings are now prohibited.

THE SAFEGUARD that is provided to the credit card carrier by the new law is that the issuer must provide for a self addressed envelope to be mailed back in event of loss or theft. Thus far I have never encountered a person in Wellington who has ever received such a self addressed stamped envelope or notification. You must have received such a notice if you are to be held accountable in case of misuse of your credit card by another person.

THIS NEW LAW will enable many people to enjoy their credit cards with more care free comfort. Credit cards are a luxury never known before by the man of moderate means They enable him to take a vacation, attend a football game, buy needed supplies and do many other things without going to the bank and negotiating a new loan. Of course it must all be paid back in time : but a few credit cards give a sense of security when you start out on a trip when there is no time to arrange for the money. And there is still a need to notify the company if the card is lost. Prompt action will protect your good credit rating.

THE COLLINGSWORTH County Farm Bureau will hold its annual beauty queen contest July 31 in the auditorium of Wellington High School. This county has a remarkable record for district, regional , and even state winners in the Farm Bureau contests. Let's hope this is another of our fortunate years. We still have a lot of lovely girls who live here. To be eligible to enter this contest a girl must be between 16 and 22, must have a father, brother, or guardian who is a farmer or rancher and she must have never been married.

PERHAPS STYLES DO not change as fast as I have been thinking. Here is a copy of the May 16, 1966, issue of The National Observer, which has pictures of the 'Mod' fashions of that year on the front page. It is nothing more than a mini dress except it is not as smart looking as the girls are wearing these days. Naturally not, the girls are prettier than they were way back in 1966.

OTHER STORIES in that issue of the National Observer, The President –Johnson – was talking, car sales were down and one headline asked : "State Legislatures,are they worth saving." These are not too different from today's headlines.

To give you a inkling of the legislative story, I will quote the first three paragraphs :

"State legislatures ought to be abolished.

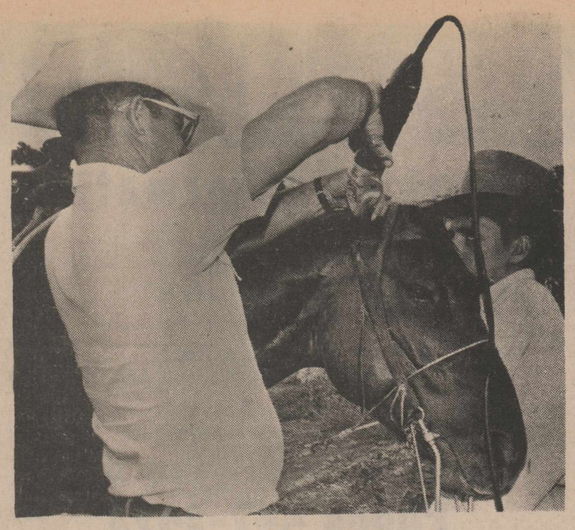

They are ineffective, inefficient, and archaic. They are disorderly, inept, and costly. They are largely irresponsible and too often corrupt. They are arenas for rascals, clowns, and opportunists.

The only thing legislatures have going for them, apparently, is that as political institutions in this country they seem to work, more or less well."

TWO YEARS AGO, Mrs. Jake Lawrence told me of having seven terrapins that came up each evening to eat with the chickens. I asked what they ate, and she told me they would eat almost anything. It was hard for me to believe for all I had ever seen them eating in my yard were tomatoes, cantalopes, and other juicy vegetables. I am convinced now that these dry land hard shells relish a wide variety of foods. There was one in the yard finishing potatoes and greens the cats had ignored. I gave the creature half a cup of old tapioca pudding and it was soon gone.

Visiting with Mrs. Nannie Johnson are her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Davis Bruce, Zana, J. Dan, Nancy, and Curtis, of Nucla, Colorado. They will be here two weeks.

"... A BUZZING IN MY EAR, DOCTOR"
Horses bore with more or less patience as manes were roached and ears were clipped in preparation for the District 4-H Horse Show in Amarillo Thursday and Friday, July 8 and 9. Richard Nall wields the clippers on an unwilling ear. Bart Patterson holds his horse's head steady.

The girl who wins the county contest and the runner up will receive gifts from the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau. The District winner also will receive gifts and an expense-paid trip to the state convention with her mother or another woman.

Hollis Plans Golf Tourney

The Hollis Golf Club will hold its sixth annual summer tournament Sunday, July 11, Dr. Chester Harrison said while in Wellington Tuesday, July 6.

Entries close at 12:00 noon, on the day of the tournament.

Players will be divided into flights, with four merchandise prizes to be awarded to each flight.

Wellington golfers have been sent invitations, but anyone else who wishes to enter is welcome, Dr. Harrison said.

Cotton Showers Fall in County

Rain which ranged from a cotton shower up to one and one-half inches fell over much of Collingsworth Wednesday night, June 30.

The heaviest fall came in the Dodson area, where an inch was measured. To the west, at Mrs. Emma Young's farm, 1.50 inch was reported.

All this is beneficial to small cotton and grain sorghum, in view of the near 100 degree weather the county has experienced.

Garland Hightower, northwest of Dodson, said he had .55 inch. Bob McAlister received .50 at his farm in north Childress county.

In Wellington, moisture varied from .25 to .50 inch, the former amount measured at the Gary Reed home in the southeast part of town, and the latter at the Kenneth Mitchell place just north of town. Alonzo Cartwright had .30

Several in the Fresno area reported .60, including Bill Adams, Raymond Ford, and Carthel Lewis. John Jackson has .7.

East of town six miles, Richard Fourmentin measured .80.

Several places north and south of town, half an inch was reported, and Cal Sugg said he had a similar amount northwest of Wellington.

Half an inch was reported at two places near Samnorwood.

Quail Store measured .3. To the southwest, a narrow strip that included the P. O. Fielding place and part of the Wilbur DePauw land, received a full inch.

N. E. Childers said his place at Marella had one-half inch.

At Lillie, James Richardson reported .4.

At northeast corner of Wellington, Mack Willis got .30. and farther north, Bill Janes received a good rain.

Southwest of Wellington, Frank Fourmentin measured only .20 at Rolla.
