SAND DUNES MOVE IN

Drifting dust and sand, reminders of drouth-seared acres, pile up a sand dune 10 feet high behind the home of L. R. Riney, a dry land farmer 16 miles southeast of Brownfield. Sand covers the plot where the Rineys normally have a vegetable garden. Riney's pasture is burned up and his cotton crop lost. With the help of a disability pension as a World War I veteran, and cash from work in Brownfield, Riney is holding onto his 320 acre farm.

Bodies Found In Pacific As Search Ending

HONOLULU (AP)—Rescuers today pulled burned and mutilated bodies from shark-infested waters 350 miles east of Wake Island where a Transocean Airlines passenger plane crashed Saturday night with 58 aboard.

Fifty passengers—nine of them children—and eight crewmen presumably perished in the crash.

The Navy transport Barrett recovered 11 bodies, two of them children, before dark last night and had sighted three others.

The bodies recovered included a boy, a girl, four women and two men. Three had not been identified.

Hope for survivors faded rapidly as the Barrett reported sighting the fifth and last raft carried by the ill-fated DC6B plane. The raft was empty.

The Barrett's medical officer aboard the Navy transport said after viewing the scorched and mutilated bodies:

"There is little hope of any survivors."

Dispatches from the Barrett indicated the water was churning with sharks. The rescuers reported they could not retrieve the last three bodies sighted "because of sharks."

The ship said earlier that it was unable to estimate how many bodies were in the immediate vicinity but that parts of bodies had been sighted.

The airliner, bound from Guam to Oakland, Calif., was last heard from at Saturday night, when it reported its position as 325 miles east of Wake. It apparently plunged into the sea minutes later without a chance to send out a distress signal.

Condition of the bodies indicated the plane plunged in flames or exploded soon after crashing into the sea.

A spokesman said the Hawaiian Sea Frontier would continue the air search for at least 24 hours more, with two planes on night search and two others on day search.

UN Falls Back Before 70,000-Man Red Force

Casualty Toll Is Said To Be High

SEOUL (AP)—Tens of thousands of Chinese ripped through South Korean lines as far as four miles in central Korea today in a mounting onslaught that imperiled Allied defenses.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, 8th Army commander, said after a first-hand look at the grave situation that ROK defenders were yielding some ground "as the defense readjusts itself to the new situation."

Between 60,000 and 70,000 Chinese aimed their sudden assault—the mightiest Red offensive in more than two years—at mainline positions on a 20-mile front east of Kumsong to the Pukhan River.

Troops from eight Chinese divisions were thrown into the blazing battles in the wake of some of the heaviest Red artillery barrages of the war.

Four Red divisions—about 40,000 men—struck first in rainy darkness just before midnight. Units from the four reserve divisions were fed into the battle as needed, U. S. officers said.

Gen. Taylor, in a statement issued after he returned from a visit to the front, said:

"The attack was not unexpected and the defense is extracting a very heavy tool of casualties from the Communists."

"Our troops have behaved extremely well," he said, "in spite of the weight of the enemy pressure and the unfavorable weather. Some ground north and east of the Kumsong River is being yielded as the defense readjusts itself to the new situation."

There were other withdrawals across the blazing 20-mile East-Central Front.

The 8th Army said earlier that the Chinese had driven at least two miles southward toward the Kumsong-Kumhwa road network below Kumsong.

The Chinese made their deepest penetrations at the west and east flanks of the Allies' bulge into Red lines, between Kumhwa and Lookout Mountain.

The penetrations at both ends of the front could endanger a big segment of the line.

Associated Press Correspondent Robert Gibson said the Chinese sent probing units as deep as four miles behind the main fighting. Some Reds were chopped down in crossfire as they tried to get through.

Gibson, reporting from the ROK Capitol Division at the west flank, said the Chinese, after breaching the line, funneled in more troops without thought of cost.

"We have cut down two Chinese divisions pretty badly," reported one American officer with the battle-hardened Capitol Division.

Officers at the front called the Red artillery fire "tremendous—unbelievable."

The fighting was confused, with communications hampered by severed wires.

Gibson reported several ROK units were isolated, but fighting—and dying—valiantly.

It was a similar picture along the blazing front. South Koreans fought to their death at many points as the Chinese swarmed recklessly over barbed wire entanglements and charged through Allied artillery.

The attack came with startling suddeness and reports trickled back slowly to 8th Army headquarters because of segered communications.

Despite poor flying weather, Fifth Air Force planes unloaded 250,000 pounds of bombs on Red lines. Six Superforts dropped 60 tons of bombs on Communist frontline positions while others hit a 38-acre troop installation at Hunam, 15 miles east of Pyongyang, the Air Force said.

Although Allied front-line units had been alerted for possible attack because of a Red buildup, the weight of the onslaught came as a surprise.

Four Chinese divisions made up the first attack force that hit four ROK divisions—the 6th, the Capitol, the 8th and the 3rd front-line officers said.

RIVER IS STAGNANT

State Is Asked To Cancel All Pumping Rights On Guadalupe

BOERNE (AP)—Kendall County officials asked the state yesterday to cancel water pumping permits along the stagnant Guadalupe River which they say is becoming a health menace.

The request by the county commissioners' court was sent to the board of water engineers at Austin.

The court said it was informed reliably that 11 pumps of at least 300 gallons per minute capacity were operating 24 hours a day between four miles above Comfort and four miles below Kerrville. It said the pumps are taking 4,752,000 gallons of water daily and added: "Some are operating with permits and some without."

The court further reported that "holes of water are rapidly becoming stagnant, filled with dead and dying fish, thereby creating a serious health hazard to local residents as well as visitors . . ."

The petition said that the "state is spending a considerable sum annually to pay salaries of game wardens to protect and preserve the fish and wild life of this state as well as for stocking our public streams with fish . . ." It adds that "another governmental agency grants permits to pump water from our public streams, causing the same to cease flowing and in many instances becoming completely dry for great distances."

The court went on record as "seriously condemning the practice" and expressing "alarm concerning the water shortage on the streams of our county and the health hazard created because of such shortage."

The court also asked the state board not to grant any more pumping permits, particularly in areas where a water emergency exists.

Copies of the petition went to Gov. Shivers and other state officials and agencies.

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Water board has no authority to cancel existing permits to pump from the Guadalupe River, Chairman H. A. Beckwith said today.

Beckwith said such a request has not yet been received but he believed he knew the answer.

"They might get relief by going to court and getting an injunction," Beckwith said. "We have no power to cancel permits already granted."

Canning Well In Borden Is Listed Failure

The Texas Co. has plugged and abandoned its No. 1 J. R. Canning, a wildcat exploration in East Bordent County, after making only a trace of oil on the last test reported.

The project was acidized with 14,000 gallons and swabbed 48 hours. Recovery was 80 barrels of acid water with a trace of oil and no gas. No formation water was reported.

The No. 1 Canning was drilled in section 221-97-H&TC, about three and a half miles north of the one-well Canning-Wolfcamp field. It had made a show of oil on previous testing.

NOLAN COUNTY

A completion attempt is to be undertaken at General Crude No. 1 Nolan Townsite Unit in Southeast Nolan County.

The completion attempt will be from the Flippen lime. Casing has been cemented at 3,760 feet, above the total depth of 3,883 feet.

A drillstem test from 3,868-883 feet had gas at the surface in one hour and 10 minutes. Recovery on the two-hour and 20-minute test was 935 feet of free oil and 60 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud. Flowing pressure was 300 pounds, with shutin pressure after 45 minutes 1,100 pounds.

The project is in the town of Nolan in section 310-64-H&TC.

CROSBY LOCATION

F. M. Lockhart and Roland Rich Woolley, both of Los Angeles, have staked a 3,200-foot wildcat in Southeast Crosby to be drilled as the No. 1 T. R. Greenfield. It is 330 feet from the most southerly north line and 330 feet from the most easterly east line of section 11-4-WCRR, 17 miles northeast of Post.

Basin Oil Co. of Big Spring has staked the No. 3 Chester L. Jones for immediate drilling in the Coronet 2900 field of Howard County. It is to be 840 feet from east and 910 feet from south lines of the northwest quarter of section 10-28-H&TC, two miles east of Vincent. Contract depth is 3,000 feet.

Humble Oil No. 6 Herman Gardner has been completed as a producer in the Diamond M-Canyon field of Southwest Scurry County. The project flowed 326.09 barrels of oil with no water after being treated with 500 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 837-1. Production is from perforations at 6,685-712 feet and from open hole at 6,712-720 feet.

The No. 6 Gardner is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 77-25-H&TC.

School Board Sets Up Budget For Year

The board of trustees of the Snyder school district last night adopted its proposed 1953-54 budget of $1,593,641, an increase of $35,996 over the preceding annual budget of $1,464,051. The new budget is an increase of 2.3 per cent over actual expenditures last year.

The new budget will call for income necessitating a total property valuation in the district of about $136,500,000, the board agreed in its discussion just prior to adoption of the proposed budget.

Whether valuations will be set actually that high was not known last night, but the valuation total is to be discussed in the district's tax equalization board meeting which began at 9 o'clock this morning. After the figure is tentatively agreed upon by representatives of oil industries and any other taxpayers present, the matter of determining values will be turned over to valuation engineers.

When the budget was adopted last year, however, it was believed valuations would have to be set at a total of about $137 million, but instead total valuations were set at $127 million. The budget set last year was also believed sufficient to clear a deficit of more than $80,000, but the deficit, although now only a fraction of that amount, was not cleared. The budget this year is expected to put the system in the black for the first time since the boom.

The new budget provides for bonded indebtedness requirements of $3,87,805 and total operation and maintenance requirements of $1,205,836. Of this local maintenance requirement total, $136,634 is budgeted for payment of short-term loans and capital outlay, and the remaining $1,069,202 is operation and maintenance costs.

A brief breakdown of the operation and maintenance cost anticipated is: administration, $83,200; instructional services (white), $741,947; instructional services (Negro), $16,500; operation of plant, $116,201; maintenance of plant, $37,864; auxiliary services, $65,706; and fixed charges, $7,784.

Twenty-seven representatives of oil industries were present at the meeting.

Another Mild Day

Pleasant, but temporary, relief from the heat yesterday gave Snyder its second day of 93-degree temperature. A pre-dawn low of 62 degrees was recorded, with the mercury climbing to 70 degrees by 7:30 this morning.

Another High Russian Gets Boot By Reds

MOSCOW (AP)—Vyacheslav A. Malyshev, one of the Soviet Union's top engineers and planners, has been relieved of his post as minister of transport and heavy industry in another major government change.

The announcement that Malyshev has been replaced by Ivan Isidorovich Nosenko was made in the newspaper Evening Moscow. The newspaper listed Nosenko as the new boss of the key ministry in an account of a meeting at which it said Nosenko spoke out sharply against the purged deputy premier, Lavrenty P. Beria.

(Malyshev, a former deputy premier, was considered by Western authorities to be one of the most important men in the Soviet Union because he has held key posts in the development of the Soviet industrial war potential. What happened to him was not revealed in the dispatch, parts of which still had not been received early today in New York and apparently were held up by the Moscow censors.

Last April the Kremlin sent Malyshev to Czechoslovakia to put the finger on mismanagement of that satellite's lagging foundry and steel industry but he was believed to have returned to the Soviet Union.)

Malyshev was a wartime lieutenant general and head of the tank industry. After the war, as head of the Ministry of Shipping, he was responsible for building up the Soviet Navy. He became a vice chairman of the Council of Ministers (the Soviet cabinet) in 1947 and in October, 1952, was elected a full member of the Communist party's Presidium.

When the new, streamlined Presidium was announced after Stalin's death in March, Malyshev did not appear on that body but was given the important post of minister of transport and heavy machinery building.

Ship Sinks Off San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The freighter Jacob Luckenbach sank minutes after an early morning collision today, but all crewmen were rescued, the Coast Guard said.

The outbound Luckenbach, reportedly headed for the Far East from the Oakland Army Depot, collided with the Hawaiian Pilot, inbound from Hawaii, in dense Pacific fog about 18 miles southwest of the Golden Gate.

Details were scanty.

First word came about 5:20 a. m. Globe Wireless picked up a terse distress signal from the Luckenbach, saying:

"Believe ship sinking."

The Coast Guard picked up distress calls, but did not know which ships were involved or how seriously they were damaged.

Before Coast Guard boats could reach the scene, the Hawaiian Pilot messaged its lifeboats were picking up crewmen from the Luckenbach.

Then came word from the pilot aboard the Hawaiian pilot that the Luckenbach had gone down. The message said all crewmen had been rescued and none was seriously injured.

There was no immediate indication of how badly the Hawaiian Pilot was damaged.

The 7,869-ton Luckenbach was owned by the Luckenbach Steamship Co., of New York. The Hawaiian Pilot, an 8,449-ton frighter, is owned by the Matson Navigation Co. of San Francisco.

AGREEMENT NEARED ON PROBING CIA EMPLOYES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said today he thinks he has about secured an agreement by the super secret Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) that his Senate investigations subcommittee has a right to question CIA people "where there is evidence of graft, corruption or subversion."

McCarthy said he had a meeting last night with Allen Dulles, CIA director, and said, "I feel that he (Dulles) agrees with us" on that point. He said he would have another meeting with Dulles this afternoon.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) told the Senate yesterday such a probe "would disclose to our enemies . . . information that even the best spy apparatus of the Kremlin" could not get. He asked the Senate to "be willing to take full responsibility" if such an inquiry is carried on by McCarthy's investigations subcommittee.

Of McCarthy, he said, "I doubt that he has a monopoly within this government on despising, exposing and prosecuting Communists and their fellow travelers."

McCarthy had a date today to discuss his CIA probe plans with its director, Allen Dulles, but there were indications that overnight developments might wash out that meeting and bring an announcement of an agreement with the Eisenhower administration, which had frowned on his plans.

The senator said he is striving, in talks with "the proper officials," to work out some plan under which any "subversion, communism, corruption and other wrongdoing" in CIA or other secret, sensitive government agencies may come under his group's investigation without harming national security.

McCarthy said Dulles, a brother of President Eisenhower's secretary of state, "is rightfully concerned about not exposing the working of his organization and exposing the identity of its secret agents."

He said he believes investigations may be conducted without such disclosures.

McCarthy said his immediate objective is permission to question William P. Bundy, a son-in-law of former Secretary of State Dean Acheson. McCarthy said Bundy is in line for assignment as a liaison man between the National Security Council and the Atomic Energy Commission.

McCarthy told the Senate in a speech July 9 that Bundy had contributed $400 to the defense fund of Alger Hiss, former State Department employe now serving a prison sentence on charges of lying under oath in denying that he passed official secrets to a Communist spy courier.

The three Democratic members of McCarthy's subcommittee have resigned in protest against what they call his one-man rule.

Monroney, in a speech bristling with scorn, said McCarthy had invaded the fields of other committees in quest of "greater headline opportunities."

McCarthy was not on the Senate floor at the time, and later had no comment.

Ike Trying Personal Touch To Get His Foreign Aid Bill Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower began a campaign of personal persuasion today to get from Congress the billions he wants for his foreign aid program.

He had Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate Appropriations Committee in for a cozy chat over the breakfast table at the White House. He invited other members of that purse string controlling group to luncheon tomorrow.

Bridges, leaving the White House, avoided reporters. There was no immediate word as to what plugging Eisenhower did for his program or the senator's reaction.

Extension For Profits Tax Is Given Nod

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee approved today President Eisenhower's proposal to extend the excess profits tax for six months. It made no changes in the bill from the form in which the House passed it.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) predicted the bill would be passed by the Senate later this week without amendment.

This would send the bill directly to the President's desk and give Eisenhower one of his biggest victories of the congressional session.

The administration has asked for the extension because, spokesmen have said, the treasury needs the revenue it would bring.

Just before the committee acted, Eisenhower was reported to have told legislative leaders he would be willing to accept an amendment which would excuse some small businesses from the levy.

The finance committee acted after a closed session. It was the group's first meeting on the bill.

Eisenhower's reported willingness to accept an amendment was said to have been based on the condition that he would approve such action only if sponsors of the measure believed they would not be opening the gates to a flood of other amendments.

THIRSTY CONVICTS

Rebellious convicts at the Oregon prison line up to get a few drops of water leaking from a tap in the prison yard at Salem, Ore. Later the water was turned on when 21 ringleaders of the then three-day-old rebellion surrendered. Some 900 prisoners are still in rebellion. They seemed about to surrender Sunday night, but turned abusive after Warden Clarence Gladden issued them soup and bread.

Short Meeting Of Negotiators At Panmunjom; Another Set

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Allied and Communist armistice delegates met for 39 minutes today and then called it quits until tomorrow, their negotiations apparently snarled by Red fears that South Korea will honor a truce only for a limited time.

Official secrecy shrouded developments inside the conference hut, but the Communist Peiping radio said the U. S.-South Korean accord "has placed another time bomb in the way to an armistice in Korea."

While the delegates talked, the war thundered to its highest crescendo in two years. More than 60,000 Chinese smashed into four South Korean divisions on the East-Central Front.

The truce teams called another meeting for 11 a. m. Wednesday.

After Tuesday's session, the U. N. Command reported that Communist liaison officers lodged a charge that an Allied shell landed in the Panmunjom neutral zone Sunday. The Reds charged Monday that Allied planes bombed a war prisoner assembly area north of Pyongyang July 10.

The U. N. Command has not yet replied to Monday's protest.

Although there was no announcement concerning the full-dress truce talks, Communist correspondents outside the hut said the negotiations were "getting nowhere." Their comments usually reflect the official Communist line inside the conference.

Alan Winnington of the London Daily Worker indicated the Reds were asking a series of questions aimed at getting more clarification on assurances South Korea will abide by an armistice.

It seemed clear that the Communists thus far were far from satisfied with President Syngman Rhee's statements on his two-week-long secret talks with special U. S. envoy Walter S. Robertson in Seoul.

Peiping radio, quoting a New China News Agency dispatch from Kaesong, Red truce headquarters, said:

"The Robertson-Rhee talks, instead of providing definite guarantee for the implementation of the armistice agreement, has placed another time bomb in the way to an armistice in Korea."

Along that line, Winnington commented after Tuesday's session there are only two courses—either Rhee is in the truce or he is not.

He said that if Rhee is in, South Korea should show it "by turning back voluntarily and happily' the more than 27,000 anti-Communist North Korean war prisoners released by Rhee in mid-June.

Winnington asserted that the UNC seems to be trying to take a middle course. He said the U. N. wants Rhee in on an armistice but has failed to give any "solid assurances' that Rhee's government and Army will not wreck the truce.

The Communist correspondent said Rhee apparently has agreed only to observe a cease-fire until 90 days after a post-armistice political conference.

Cool Front Leaves, Showers Possible For Next Five Days

By The Associated Press

Temperatures climbed steadily in Texas Tuesday as the last the last traces of rain, caused by a mid-July cool front, vanished.

The weather bureau reported clear skies across the South Plains, the Panhandle and in some South Central Texas points. Only partly cloudy skies were reported elsewhere, the bureau said, and the clouds were dispersing under the burning sun.

A long-range forecast still held some hope for Texas drouth-bothered ranchers, farmers and city water supplies. The forecast for the next five days predicted moderate rainfall for all of the state in scattered thundershowers.

Showers fell along the Texas coast where the moisture was needed least. Two days of scattered rain missed many areas of West Texas leaving them parched. President Eisenhower has proclaimed West Texas a drouth disaster area.

A measure to expand drouth-relief financing to stricken farmers was heading for the President's desk. The legislation provides long term special livestock loans to farmers from $2,500 up. Advances of more than $50,000 require approval of the secretary of agriculture.

In Austin, Atty. Gen. Shepperd said his staff is searching for all legal possibilities of state aid for farm areas. The move was a follow up on the state aid suggestions Eisenhower made in his drouth conference in Amarillo Friday, Shepperd said.

Gov. Shivers said he would consider calling a special session of the Legislature if anyone could suggest any workable relief plan the Legislature might accomplish. Shivers said he knew of nothing the Legislature might do.

Farmers and ranchers in West Texas, Western Oklahoma and New Mexico ordered 252 carloads of feed grains through the Dallas PMA office Monday. The record appeal brought the requested carload total to 1,109 since July 3 when the emergency drouth disaster feed program was announced following a trip to Texas by Agriculture Secretary Benson.

All feed orders for 152 West Texas counties are channeled through Dallas.

One rancher organized a truck convoy to move his cattle 500 miles from near Uvalde to green pastures near Tyler. The 425 purebred cattle were in a 2,800-acres East Texas pasture leased for six months by Calvin Gray. He said it is the first time in 30 years of ranching he has ever had to move his cattle out of Southwest Texas for grazing.

Sunshine beat down on the Panhandle and West Texas again Monday with temperatures climbing to the 90s. South Texas areas had 100 degrees or higher.

July was playing tricks with the records in Dallas. A July record high of 106 degrees was set July 9. The minimum of 65 Monday was a record low for July 13.

Light rainfall was reported in ten town's in the 24-hour period ending at midnight Monday. The heaviest rainfalls reported were only .46 of an inch at El Paso and .45 at College Station.

Some Sunday and Monday rain was substantial. Farmers near San Angelo, Llano, Tyler, Bonham, Lufkin, Kilgore and Sherman said the rains would help them. Longview reported 2.23 inches.

Bonham in North Texas and the Valley Mills area of Central Texas received the most rain. Bonham reported 2.85 inches Sunday and Monday. Valley Mills had three inches.

The Llano reservoir filled with run off from a good rain Sunday night. Runoff water also went into Lake Waco and Lake Whitney.

First Meeting Of Planning Commission Held Last Night

The first meeting of the city planning commission was held in the city hall last night.

Dr. John Blum was elected chairman of the commission, which is composed of five business men, the city manager and city engineer.

The only official action taken was adoption of temporary rules and regulations that will be followed by the commission until permenant rules and regulations can be written.

Harry Reed was elected vice chairman, and B. J. Shelley, city manager, was elected secretary.

Other members of the commission are Harold Bennett, Bob Dupree, Bill Davis, and Roy Dunlap.

The commission also voted to meet the third Monday night of each month.

It was indicated in last nights lengthy discussions by the group that the planning commission will attempt a long-range planned growth program for Snyder that will provide for systematic development, rather than the haphazard development Snyder has had in the past.

The temporary rules and regulations adopted last night were the same as the subdivision rules and regulations ordinance passed by the city council recently, except for a few additional rules added by the commission.

The petition of Forrest Builder's Supply for annexation of two blocks of land into the city limits was discussed by the commission, but no official action was taken on it.

However the petition for annexation of the proposed subdivision, which is between Avenues C and D and Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Streets, was made before formation of the planning commission, Shelley said.

The developers followed the provisions of an ordinance covering subdivision is ready to be annexed by the city under the ordinance.

In the plat of the property to be subdivided by Forrest, a new east-west street will be formed, and will be named Thirty-sixth Place, according to the plat.

So far the rules of the planning commission cover details of subdivisions concerning property lines, street widths, parkways, alleys, and utility line laying.

Members of the commission discussed the need for a zoning ordinance, and electrical codes, as well as other new building codes.

Shelley told the group that a new traffic count had been requested to be made by the state highway department at the intersection of Thirty-seventh Street and the Big Spring Highway.

A signal light at the intersection has long been urged by some residents of Towle Place and Highland Park, but was once turned down by the state after their traffic count showed there was not enough traffic through the intersection to justify a signal light.

Bob Dupree said that "the planning commission needs to think of some of the broader aspects of the growth of the city, and provide for city parks along with other planned development."

All members of the board agreed that designation of some streets as through streets is needed to facilitiate the flow of traffic to and from the down town area, the schools, and Towle Park.

Shelley said that the city engineer is now working on such a traffic plan.

Imogene Coca Comes Back To Hollywood As Star This Time

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Things just sort of happen to Imogene Coca.

Take her pets. She rented a Brentwood mansion for the summer and the swimming pool looked lonely. So she bought a couple of ducks and called them Millard and Grover, after the 13th and 22nd U. S. Presidents. Now her house guest is sick in bed with a virus which the doctor says may have been carried by the ducks.

Then there is her French poodle. He was named Apry because he was supposed to be apricot-colored. One elbow turned out that way. The rest of the dog is a washed-out white.

The co-star of "Your Show of Shows" is spending her vacation from TV in a huge home that once belonged to Milton Sills. "The rooms are so big they make my ears pop," says the constantly beleaguered Miss Coca, who is here with her husband, Robert Burton.

Why did she come to California? That's another example of the Coca complex.

"I knew our producer, Max Leibman, was coming out here, and I thought Sid (Caesar) would too," she explains. "I thought it would be a wonderful opportunity to plan next season's shows. So then Sid decided to go to Westport, Conn. And on the day I arrived, Max left town for 12 days' "

But there was another reason for her journey. She wanted to come back to Hollywood as a winner.

"I had played here twice before," she remarked. "and both times was not too successful. The first time was when I was appearing with Jules Munshin as part of George Olson's show at the Palomar dance palace. It burned down the week after we left.

"Then about five years ago, I appeared at a place on the Strip called La Papillon. It wasn't a very good engagement; the audience was too chic or something. Anyway, the place went broke a few weeks after I left."

See what I mean about things happening to Imogene?

The comedienne is more subdued than her TV personality and a good deal prettier in person. Maybe it's the California tan. We discussed the plans for "Your Show of Shows" in the fall.

"It's going to be much different," she said. "I don't know all the changes, because Max hasn't made up his mind yet. But he is lining up some big Hollywood names to appear with us, and we will have some new gimmicks. Most of the supporting acts will not be back, except as occasional visitors."

Compensation Case Is Being Continued In District Court Here

The defendent is represented by A. J. Smith of the Anson firm of Smith & Smith, aided by James Rosser of the Snyder firm of Sentell & Rosser.

Jurymen are Ford Caperton, C. D. Ivision, A. R. Thompson, Bradford Holt, Roland Bell, Jr., H. W. Boss, W. M. Howard, John R. Covey, Jr., Harry Clarkson, H. R. Lewis, W. C. Bolding, and J. W. Green.

Wildlife Pampered

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Montana's big game animals are getting plenty of minerals in their diet this year.

Robert F. Cooney, director of wildlife restoration for the Montana Fish and Game Department said about 80 tons of specially mineralized block salt were placed on big game ranges throughout the state.

In ancient times honey was used as an embalming material.

New York's Coney Island resort where thousands of people go on hot summer days is so called because it once was inhabited only by rabbits.

Prowler And Burglary Reports Here In Night

Police are investigating the theft last night of some clothing from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Mongomery, 2903 Avenue T.

Marvin Brister, desk sergeant, said that exact amount of clothing missing had not been determined this morning, because the owner of the clothing, a sister of Mrs. Montgomery, was out of town.

Two reports of a prowler in the same neighborhood were investigated by police last night, but no one was apprehended.

Both prowler reports were turned in by C. C. Miller, 2807 Avenue T, about a half block from where the clothing were reported stolen.

Coast Strike Is Spreading

By The Associated Press

Iron workers in Houston and carpenters in Port Arthur, Beaumont and Orange struck Monday for wage increases averaging about 25 cents hourly.

The walkouts slowed construction, but no picket lines had been set up.

Carpenters were to set up picket lines Wednesday, said the union business agent, J. H. Whitehead.

About 800 members of the AFL Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers at Houston stayed off the job. The wage demand is for 13 to 25 cents an hour. The union gets up to $2.62 an hour.

The carpenter's walkout affects about 2,160 AFL carpenters and millwrights in the three Southeast Texas cities. When carpenters began picketing it was expected to tie up about 10,000 other AFL craftsmen

Carpenters were reported asking a 25 cents hourly increase over their present $2.35. The union rejected a 10-cent hourly raise offered by the Sabine Area Construction Committee.

Negotiations continued in an effort to avert a threatened walkout of operating engineers. It was scheduled Monday but postponed one week. If the engineers strike and picket they might tie up industrial and commercial projects worth 100 million dollars and idle up to 25,000 workmen.

Chamber Talks Of Dedications

Members of the chamber of commerce board of directors planned work in the dedication of three public institutions in a meeting last night.

The chamber will help in the opening and dedication of the county health unit, which has a tentative dedication date of July 27; the county hospital, for which no opening date has been set; and the new high school, which will have its dedication in September or October.

The group also discussed plans for an informal general membership barbecue to be held in mid-August. Members of the chamber and their wives will all participate in the barbecue.

The board discussed the replacement on the board of directors for George Frazier, banker who moved to Carlsbad, N. M., several days ago, but made no announcement of appointment.

PMA Running Out Of Feed

The Production & Marketing Administration was running out of government disaster feeds here today and had confirmation of very little more to arrive within the next few days.

Except for a very little corn, all feeds already brought here had been delivered to farmers and ranchers by this morning. The PMA has already had delivery on two carloads of corn, about 220,000 pounds, and two carloads of cottonseed cake, about 80,000 pounds.

Irelan Finley, PMA administrator, said a 120,000-pound carload of cottonseed cake is to arrive here from Lamesa soon. He said he had no word yet when other feeds ordered will be shipped here.

Finley said farmers and ranchers will be notified when their orders are ready to be filled. There had been 286 applications for feeds by this morning, he said.

Alley Is Cleaned In Southwest Part Of City

Neighbors in the south half of the 3700 block of Sunset Avenue and Austin Street, combined their efforts for an all-day cleaning job on the alley between the two streets Sunday.

An inspection of the alley shows that their efforts were highly fruitful—it is now one of the few clean alleys in Snyder.

The job started about 6 o'clock Sunday morning when Frank Bernson, 3797 Sunset Avenue, got on a rented tractor and started cleaning the alley behind his house. When neighbors saw what he was doing, they joined in and the cleaning job soon spread to cover all the alley behind six houses on each side.

DROUTH GRAZING

TB X-Ray Campaign Set For Aug. 19-22

Committees have been appointed for all phases of planning and work to be done in the annual state tuberculosis X-ray program which will be held here Aug. 19-22.

The X-ray eqiupment will again be set up in the basement of the courthouse because of its central location here. Members of the location committee are Miss Leah Davis, County Judge Edgar Taylor, and Bob Crowell.

Mrs. Mabel Brock, general chairman of the campaign, said the group has not established a definite goal in the number of X rays to be taken, that they "only hope to outdo what was done before." Last year, 2,150 persons were X-rayed by the portable unit, while there were 1,392 in 1951 and 3,145 in 1950.

Mrs. E. N. Bakers is chairman of the hostess committee. Hostesses will be Mrs. Alfred McGlaun Aug. 19, Mrs. J. D. Scott Aug. 20, Mrs. Art Nicholas Aug. 21, and Mrs. Robert Wasson Aug. 22.

Clerical assistants will be Mrs. Mert Jones of Fluvanna on the morning of Aug. 19, Mrs. Pat Falls of Ira that afternoon; Mrs. Ollie Richardson of Dunn, morning of Aug. 20, Mrs. Geral Greene and Mrs. Nova Henderson, both of Hermleigh, that afternoon; Mrs. Fred Bullard, morning of Aug. 21, Mrs. Robert Hargrove that afternoon; Mrs. Wayne Boren, morning of Aug. 22, and Mrs. A. C. Floyd that afternoon.

The publicity committee, headed by Herbert Feather, is made up of Miss Faye Harrell, the Rev. Ronald Hubbard, Mel Zane Gilbert, John Boren, Cecil Yarbrouch, Hilton Lambert, and Dr. John Blum. A committee from the Snyder Ministerial Alliance is made up of the Rev. W. W. Adcock and the Rev. E. K. Shepherd.

On the unloading and loading committee, headed by Forrest Beavers, is Geral Greene. Transportation committeemen, headed by Ross Hemphill, are Mrs. James Rosser and Renal B. Rosson. The telephone committee, of which Mrs. P. W. Cloud is chairman, consists of Mrs. Jim Philp and Mrs. Manning Davis.

Mrs. Brock said that posters arrived this week and will be distributed to publicize the campaign. Telephone committee members will later call oil firms, other business, and clubs here to urge a turnout for the X-ray.

General To Try To Break Speed Record

Rotten Eggs On Road

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—A small road north of Jackson is an unpopular spot these hot days.

During the weekend, someone dumped about 700 dozen rotten eggs in piles along the road.

Deputy Sheriff Blair Corley, who followed his nose to the source of the trouble, said some of the eggs were in cases dated November 1952. He theorized that the eggs were hijacked and spoiled before the thieves could find a market for them.

Crime Committee Dead

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago City Council's Emergency Crime Committee died yesterday.

The official declaration killing the group was made by Circuit Judge Walter R. O'Melley, who earlier had ruled that the committee was without power to investigate crime in the area.

Military Expediency

CAMP PENDLETON, Cal. (AP)—A night training march by B company, 9th U. S. marines, came to a halt here while its mascot dog had pups.

The spaniel named "Gale" was then returned to quarters and relieved of further military duties while she cares for litter of seven.

Backbones Of History Found In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Say what you like about John Wilkes Booth, the man who shot Lincoln, he was a fellow with a lot of backbone.

So was that other, far more estimable character, James A. Garfield, who became president of the United States.

You can prove this to your own satisfaction by dropping in at a little-known Washington institution called the Armed Forces Medical Museum.

There you'll find portions of the backbones of Booth and Garfield, along with such other grisly exhibits as skulls bashed in with Indian tomahawks and still more skulls with holes bored in them.

This last group testifies to an interesting experiment. Some years ago a group of Peruvian surgeons tried to cure idiots of their affliction by drilling holes in their heads. The experiment was not a success.

The museum, part of the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, was established in 1862 to study the wounds and diseases of Union soldiers in the Civil War. Since then it has built up a formidable collection of old bones, skin fragments and other portions of the human frame.

This may not sound enticing, but some 140,000 sightseers found their way to the collection last year. Many doctors and medical students avail themselves of the museum's specimens too.

John McKelway noted in yesterday's Washington Evening Star that from the museum's storage room an interested student "can draw out a kidney the way one takes a book from the library."

The Booth and Garfield backbones aren't exhibited for their curiosity value alone.

Booth's is of medical interest because of what doctors did to it after the assassin was shot through the spine when he was captured near Bowling Green, Va.

Garfield's shows the hole probed by doctors for the bullet which ended the President's life after Charles Guiteau shot him in 1881.

Not to show any favoritism, the museum has a piece of Guiteau on exhibition too—the malaria-affected spleen.

Retired Officer Gives His Money To Waitress

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A retired Army officer, identified only as Capt. Holland of North Dakota, spent about $1.50 in six visits to a restaurant here during the past two days.

He was waited on each time by the same waitress, Mrs. Jackie Boyd, and left only one tip—15 cents—at his first meal.

On his last visit he gave the woman a $150 tip.

When she tried to return the money, he waved her aside and walked from the restaurant.

Moscow Papers Say Party Strengthened By Purges Of Members

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia declared today the Communist party "is strengthening its ranks when it purges itself of all kinds of filth."

Both Izvestia and Pravda, the official party newspaper, ridiculed foreign newspaper comment that the arrest of former Deputy Premier Lavrenty P. Beria indicated a weakness in the Soviet Union.

Izvestia, in a leading editorial, called for heightened vigilance and demanded that the party should "mercilessly expose and render harmless the criminal activity of the hirelings of the imperialists."

FIRST BASE JAM

A traffic jam at first base in Yankee Stadium occurred Sunday when Yank catcher Yogi Berra beat out an infield hit in the 7th. Berra was called safe as Washington pitcher Al Sima attempted to shovel-pass the ball to first baseman Mickey Vernon (3). Berra also hit two homers in the game and drove in three runs as New York won 6-5.

Baseball's Best In All-Star Tilt Today

CINCINNATI (AP)—Baseball's greatest performers—the National and American Leagues' finest 50—were on display here today as the rival circuits clashed in the 20th annual All-Star Game at Crosley Field.

Besides the capacity crowd of some 30,000, millions of television and radio fans were prepared to watch and hear the Nationals seek their fourth straight, which would match the longest streak compiled by the American League—in 1946-49. The game was scheduled to start at 1:30 p. m., EST.

Despite victories in 12 of the 19 previous July encounters as well as 32 of 49 World Series engagements, the American League was an 8-5 underdog against the harder hitting Nationals. Never before was the junior circuit such a decided underdog as it sought to win its first midsummer classic since 1949.

Even Manager Casey Stengel, who has hung World Series defeats upon the National League in the last four years, sized up his dubious chances with the comment: "They say the other guy has all the players."

"The other guy," of course, is Charlie Dressen, who was making his maiden bow as pilot of the Nationals. Dressen, who couldn't conquer Casey and his Yankees last October, felt he could do it today because "I have the best pitcher and the best hitters in baseball on my side."

By the "best pitcher," he meant Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phils' standout righthander, whose 14 victories outranks those won by any other pitcher. As expected, Dressen nominated Roberts to hurl the first three innings. He was to be opposed by Billy Pierce, Chicago's fine little southpaw, whose record of 10-5 was slightly inferior to Roberts' 14-6.

Stengel's choice of Pierce also was expected since he is the only left-hander on the American League's slim six-man staff. The Nationals boasted seven pitchers, four right-handers and three left-handers.

Unlike a majority of American Leaguers, Stengel wasn't too concerned over the presence of only one southpaw on his pitching staff to oppose the top-heavy left-handed National League starting lineup.

"If you're an all-star pitcher," the aged pilot said, "you should be able to get them out with either hand."

Besides naming their starters, who, incidentally, may not pitch more than three innings under the rules, both Dressen and Stengel were coy about announcing their second and third pitchers.

Guessing what these juggle-minded managers would do is an impossibility, but logic pointed to Stengel following up with Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's splendid southpaw, as his "middle innings" pitcher. Either St. Louis' Gerry Staley or Pittsburgh's Murry Dickson were the experts' picks to follow. Hoyt Wilhelm the Giants' knuckleball relief ace, would be used only in a tight spot, it was believed.

Veteran Johnny Sain of the Yankees, well liked by Stengel, figured to get the second pitching assignment for the American Leaguers. Cleveland's Bob Lemon or Mike Garcia could be the third pitcher.

Chances Slim That Either Of No. 2 Teams Will Win Pennant

By BEN PHLEGAR
By The Associated Press

Recent baseball history shows the chances are only 1 in 5 that either the Chicago White Sox or the Milwaukee Braves will win a pennant this season.

The Sox and the Braves are the second-place teams as the flag chases await the outcome of today's All-Star Game. The Braves trail Brooklyn by 1½ games. Chicago is five behind the New York Yankees.

In 1951 the New York Giants moved from second to the pennant after the All-Star break. The Yankees did it in the American League in 1950. In each of the other last five season the National League winner already was in first place when the All-Star Game came along.

During that same spell the Yankees are the only team that climbed from lower than second. In 1951 they were third behind Chicago and Boston when the All-Star Game was played. In 1948, 1949 and 1952 the American League team in first place when the vacation came finished first.

This year the All-Star Game is being played later in the season than ever before. It is a full week later than a year ago.

Briefly, here's how the last five seasons have gone after the All-Star break:

1953

American League — Cleveland, the pennant winner, was in first place, slipped to third at the end of July and then climbed back. The Athletics pulled into first in late July, then tumbled to finish fourth. Boston, in fourth at the break, moved to first in two weeks but ended second.

National League—The Braves were in first and stayed there. Pittsburgh, in second, quickly fell to fourth. St. Louis climbed from third to second and Brooklyn jumped from fifth to second before settling to third.

1948

American League — Cleveland, were first all the way. Cleveland was in second and finished there.

National League — Brooklyn slipped to second at the end of July but wound up first, fighting off the Cardinals, who held the lead briefly in July.

1950

American League — Detroit led the Yankees, Cleveland Boston at the All-Star break and it stayed that way until September when the Yankees took over.

National League — Philadelphia faltered briefly right after the All-Star Game, then resumed the lead. The Cardinals shot into first, but slumped to a fifth-place finish. The Giants in sixth started a steady climb to end third.

1951

American League—The Yankees were in third, their low point of the year. The White Sox fell from first to fourth before the end of July. Cleveland climbed from fourth to a second-place finish. Boston moved from second to first, then trailed off to third.

National League — Brooklyn stayed in front. The Giants slipped back from second to third the next week.

1952

American League — The White Sox were a close second to the Yankees but hit the skids and fell to sixth before July was over. They recovered to finish third. Cleveland edged up to second. The Athletics started a slow climb from sixth to finish fourth.

National League — The only change from the All-Star break to the end of the season came when the Phillies, who were fifth, replaced the Cubs at the bottom of the first division. Brooklyn was ahead, followed by the Giants and the Cardinals.

EXECUTIVES MEET

Hasty Franchise Moves Are Blocked By Major Leagues

CINCINNATI (AP)—The major leagues have set up a road block against any future hasty franchise moves by restricting territorial drafting to the two-month period from Oct. 1 to Dec. 1.

By joint action at yesterday's meetings, the two majors wrote into the rule book a resolution adopted last spring at Belleair, Fla., by the Executive Council.

Although no official action was taken on the sad St. Louis situation in the American League, it was regarded as almost a certainty that owner Bill Veeck again will request permission from the league to shift the Browns to Baltimore next fall. There is no possibility of any move before the end of the 1953 season.

Several club owners expressed sympathy with Veeck's plight and intimated they would go along with him next time. However, Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, hinted he may not be in favor of Baltimore as a site.

"While I am in deep sympathy with Veeck," said Webb, "I don't think it would be good for the league to move to Baltimore. We have too much major league baseball in Eastern cities as it is now. Why clutter it up more?

"Baseball is supposed to be our national game. Yet we have no representation in the West. I believe the time will come when we will have to move such clubs as St. Louis and Philadelphia to Los Angeles and San Francisco."

"The Pacific Coast League is making a determined effort to become major. They advanced from triple A to open classification. I believe we ought to give it one more year to prove itself. If, at the end of that time, it has not reached major status, I think the people out there should be willing to allow Los Angeles and San Francisco to become major league cities."

Webb is convinced the Browns' problems are the league's problems, requiring drastic action.

The majors beat down an attempt to cut the player limit from 25 to 23 men when Commissioner Ford Frick voted with the American League against a National League economy proposal.

Spanish War Honors

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Hart Moore, 80, now has proof that he performed heroic service in the Spanish-American War.

After more than a half century, Moore received Silver Victory Medal and citation certificate from the secretary of state for the Republic of Cuba, inscribed and written in Spanish.

The ward, Moore learned, is "for honorable and faithful service in the cause of Cuba."

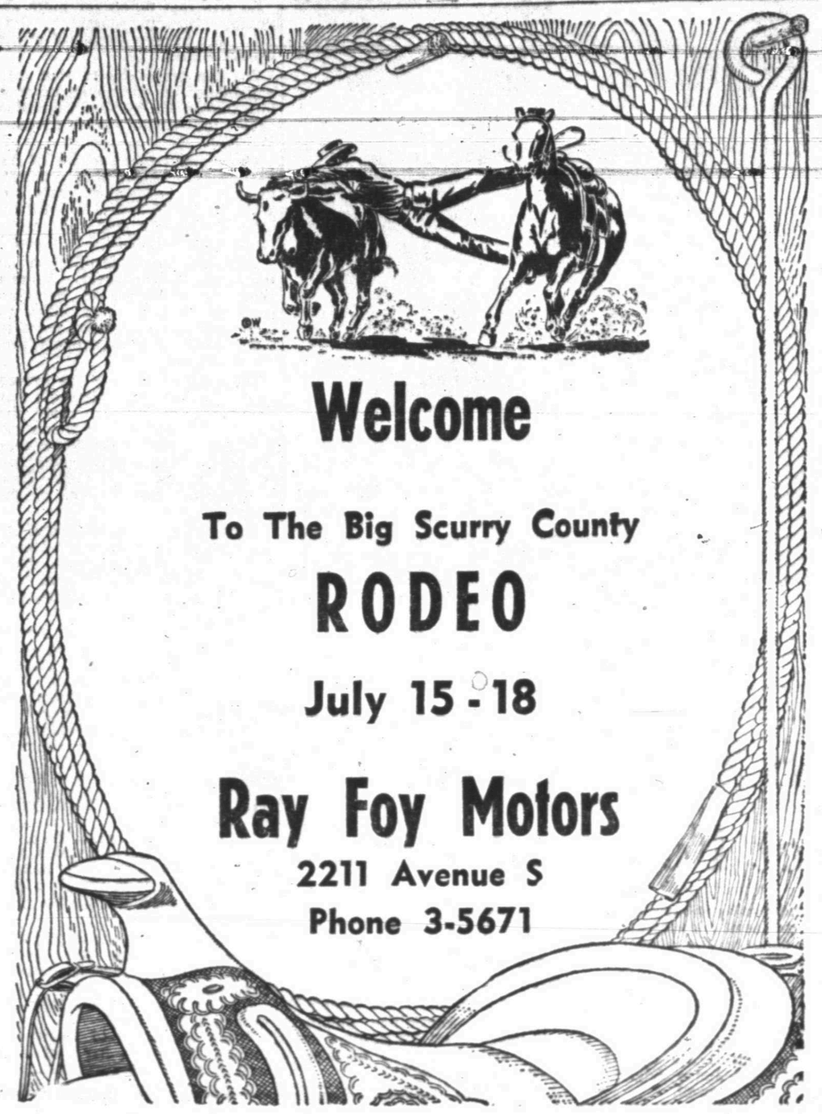

Coaches Responsible For Enforcing New Substitution Rules

COLORADO SPRINGS (AP) —College football coaches will have another worry this fall. They've been handed full responsibility for making sure their teams comply with the new substitution rule which ends the two-platoon era.

Top officials of the National Collegiate Football Rules Committee said yesterday that "Each coach is to be held responsible for the legality of substitutes from his bench."

The new rule divides the game into six substitution periods and provides that a player can enter play only once in each of those periods. They are the first and third quarters, and the first 11 minutes and the last four minutes of both the second and fourth quarters.

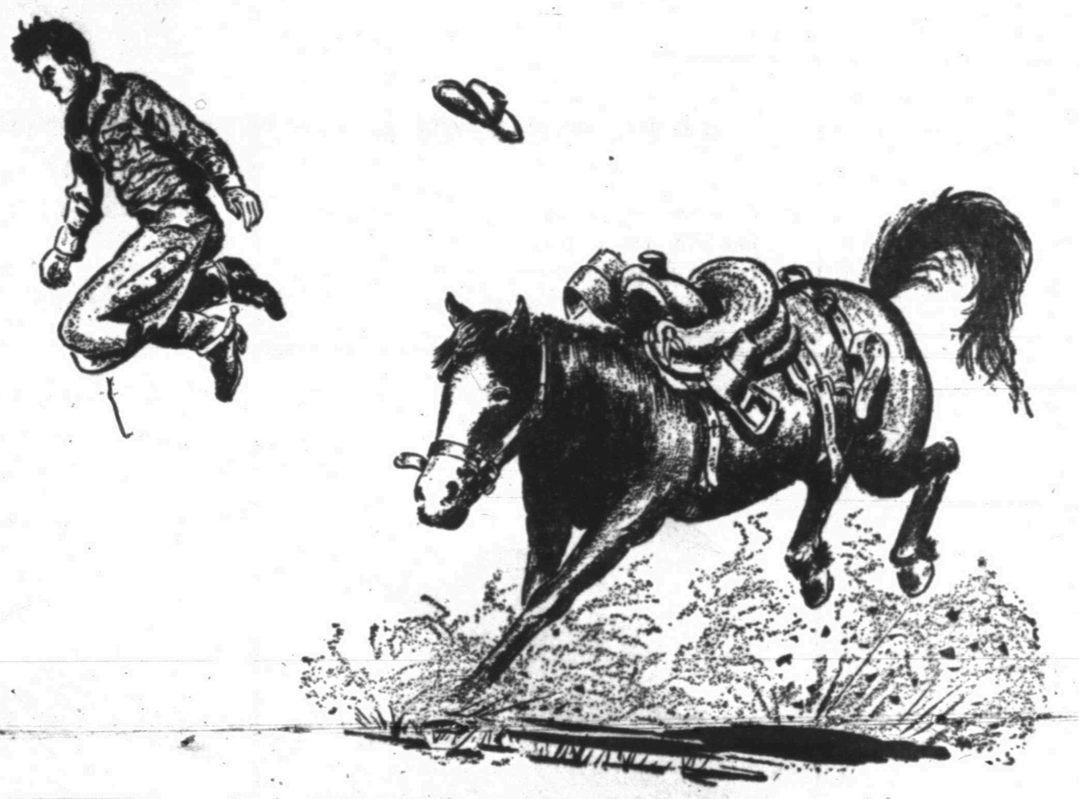

Procedures for applying the new rule were worked out at a meeting here.

Record Number High Schools Will Play Football In State

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Texas schoolboy football will be bigger than ever this year. There appears to be no saturation point.

Last year 882 schools played football under the Texas Interscholastic League, a record. Already 891 schools have been assigned to the six classes and there will be more before the list is made official Sept. 15.

All divisions that play through to state championships gained except Class A.

In AAAA, there will be 49 schools in eight districts. The only change is the addition of South Oak Cliff to the Dallas district.

Class AAA has 58 schools in eight districts, a gain of five. There were considerable changing about in this division. State champion Breckenridge left District 2 and entered 1. Weatherford dropped from District 2 down into Class AA. Arlington, Garland and Pleasant Grove were added to this district. Lufkin left District 5 and entered 4 while McCallum and Travis of Austin were added to District 5. Aldine was added to District 6.

Austin has three high schools this year. Last season it had only one. The original Austin High, now known as Stephen F. Austin, is in Class AAAA.

The football setup (with some more schools due to be added in six-man football):

AAAA—49 (gained one); AAA—58 (gained five); AA—174 (added 15); A — 199 (lost nine).

Class B, which plays only to regional championships, has 236 schools and six-man which does the same, has 175.

The North Central Assn. an accrediting agency that has been giving schools in the Missouri Valley and Big Seven the works and also has Arkansas of the Southwest Conference within its scope, was responsible for the break-up of the Big Six Junior College Conference.

No one had thought about the NCA, which forbids colleges offering athletic scholarships, affecting junior colleges but it was because of the NCA rule that Little Rock Junior College and Cameron Aggies of Oklahoma quit the Big Six and left only three Texas colleges —Kilgore, Paris and Tyler — to carry on. No Texas colleges are under the association, the only out fit that seems determined to cut out scholarships.

"They said they could not compete with the colleges of Texas in athletics without athletic scholarships," Dr. B. E. Masters of Kilgore College, president of the conference, says.

The dwindling Big Six, which now has lost members from three states, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. There seems no other place to go to replinish, is likely to merge with some other junior college conference in Texas, three other conferences — The South Texas, Texas Junior College Conference and the Pioneer operate. The first mentioned appears the one that'll blend with the Big Six if any does. Del Mar of Corpus Christi, Wharton and Victoria make up the South Texas.

Braves Drive On To Keep Close Second

The Kiwanis Braves continued their drive toward the top in the Little League last night when they downed the Lions Cubs 6-2.

The Braves are still only half a game behind the Legion Yankees, who have not lost a game in the second half of the league.

Winning but not changing their standing in the league were the Holder Indians, who edged the Quarterback Giants, 11-10.

The Braves led their game all the way, bringing in their first run in the second inning. They were ahead 6-1 by the end of the fourth.

Chuck Warren and Ronnie Paulk served as pitchers for the winning team. They allowed five hits, while Johnny Drake and Devanne Jones of the Cubs gave up seven.

The Cubs committed five errors, and the Braves had none.

The Giants led off in their game against the Indians with a run in the first and one in the second while the Indians went scoreless. In the third, the Indians tallied one run, then they brought in six in the fourth. By the end of the fifth, the Giants had tied up the score.

Giants hurler Butch Niedecken walked four Indians, giving up the winning Indian run.

Lynn Tankersley and Tim Roberts were pitchers for the Indians. They gave up 14 hits, while Tommy Blakely, Roland Key, and Niedecken allowed only nine.

The Indians had three errors, and the Giants had two.

Scheduled to meet at 7 o'clock tonight are the Yankees and the Optimist Cardinals, who are in third place. A Cardinal win would tie the Yanks and Braves for first place. Playing at 9 o'clock are the Cubs, now in fourth place, and the Giants, last place.

Little League Schedule Off During Rodeo

Three Little League games scheduled for Thursday and Friday nights have been postponed a week, according to Speedy Moffett, league president.

The postponement was called to avoid conflict with the annual Scurry County Rodeo, which begins tomorrow night and lasts through Saturday.

The Optimist Cardinals and Holder Indians, scheduled for Thursday night, will meet at 9 o'clock next Thursday night, when only one game is on the regular schedule. Next Friday night, the Legion Yankees will meet the Kiwanis Braves and the Cards will meet the Quarterback Giants.

Those Friday night games will end the 1953 league schedule here.

Miniature Golf Tourney Is Set

Four places will be awarded next week in the miniature golf tournament to be held at Gene Gibson's Golf Course.

Gibson said that the tourney was originally scheduled for this week but that the date has been changed. Entrants will each play 72 holes, playing next Tuesday and Wednesday nights at 7 o'clock.

The tourney will be run off in foursomes. No qualifying will be necessary, Gibson said.

Entry deadline is Monday, and entry fee is $2. The money paid in entry fees will all go into prizes, which have not yet been determined, Gibson said.

No flights will be included in conducting the tourney, Gibson said, adding that the four low totals on the 72 holes, or four rounds, will be named winners. The ball must drop into the cup in play, Gibson said, explaining that there will be no maximum score on a green. Two rounds will be played each night of the tourney.

A gallery will be permitted to follow players around the course, Gibson said, but will not be permitted to talk when players are putting.

Dorish Leading In Earned Run Column

NEW YORK (AP)—Relief ace Harry Dorish, bypassed by Manager Casey Stengel in his all-star pitching selections, was the American League's earned run leader today.

The 31-year-old righthander, one of the key performers in the recent surge of the Chicago White Sox, has given up only 25 earned runs in 90 innings for a 2.50 average, Associated Press figures disclose.

Small Talk In Baseball's Inner Circles

CINCINNATI (AP)—It happened at the All-Star Game . . .

Bill Veeck, owner of the St. Louis Browns, sitting in a stay-up-late spot, telling the boys, "I'll bet Hornsby gets more money for not managing the Browns this year than he gets for managing Cincinnati." Willie is still paying off on his old contract to the Rajah . . . Allie Reynolds making like a State Department attache while explaining what happened when the players put their demands before American League owners . . .

Joe Cronin recalling Dave (Boo) Ferriss in the midst of all the talk about the Giants' hot-shot rookie, Allan Worthington. Ferriss also pitched a shutout in his first big league start. "You know Ferriss could throw as hard with his left hand as his right," said Cronin. "Only he was a big bashful kid and he didn't want to show off. One day he was fooling around warming up and Bill Summers, the umpire was watching. Bill came over to me and said, 'Is that Ferriss? I didn't know he was a left-hander.' That's how natural he was throwing lefty." Where's Ferriss now? A pitcher-coach down in Louisville on a Red Sox farm.

The All-Star Games and World Series are carried on radio and television under the terms of the old contract Happy Chandler engineered in 1951. The contract runs through 1956. Radio pays $35,000 and TV $75,000 for the All-Star. The series radio fee this fall is $175,000 and TV $925,000. All the dough goes into the player pension fund . . .

Johnny Vandermeer had just thrilled the nation with two consecutive no - hitters when they played the last All-Star Game at Crosley Field in 1938. Johnny was the starting and winning pitcher that day. Now he's a manager of the Cincinnati farm at Burlington, Iowa, in the Three Eye League.

Ted Williams' appearance in Marine uniform will revive memories for fans of his tremendous performances in the 1941 and 1946 games. At Detroit in '41 he hit a homer off Claude Passeau with two on and two out in the last of the ninth for a 7-5 victory. At Fenway Park in '46 he hit two homers and a single and drove in five runs in a 12-0 rout.

First Place Secure In Pony League Tonight

The Courthouse Tigers don't stand to lose their first place spot in the Pony League when they meet the second place Scurry Butane Dodgers at 7 o'clock tonight.

The Tigers hold the lead with a 5-1 record, while the Dodgers follow with 3-2. A Dodger win would only put the Tigers in position to fall from first place with another loss.

At 9 o'clock, the Lions Club Phillies will meet the Von Roeder Red Sox. The Phillies hold down third place with 2-3, while the Red Sox are last with 1-5.

Annual Arkansas Meet Started In Texarkana

TEARKANA, (AP)—The annual Arkansas Open Golf Tournament gets underway here today with Byron Nelson heading the list of entries.

Nelson, the top pro golfer in the nation when he went into semi-retirement, is scheduled to be honored at a testimonial dinner tonight. He was club professional years ago at the Texarkana Country Club where the tournament is to be held.

Barney Osment of Jonesboro, defending champion, will compete.

Civil Rights Suit In Class C Ball Loop

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) —Directors of the Cotton States League came here yesterday for an all-star game and a gay time only to find themselves made defendants in a civil rights suit brought by a Negro pitcher they banned from the Class C circuit.

The suit, seeking $50,000, was filed in U. S. District Court by James Tugerson, now playing with Knoxville of the Class D Mountain States league. The defendants have 20 days to file an answer.

While none would be quoted several league officials expressed fear that the very existence of the league was at stake.

Tugerson named as defendants the Cotton States League, Al Haraway, individually and as league president, all eight clubs in the league and four individual officials of teams in Mississippi.

In addition to cash damages, Tugerson asks a court order forcing the league to permit him to play.

Tugerson contends that the 14th amendment to the U. S. Constitution, guaranteeing equal rights to all citizens, was violated when the Cotton States League barred him from playing after he had signed a contract with the Hot Springs club.

Ted Williams To See All-Star Game Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ted Williams, whose slugging prowess earned him roles in eight all-star baseball games, will be watching today's in Cincinnati as a spectator.

He will return, later this week, to the Navy Medical Center at nearby Bethesda, Md., where physicians will determine whether he stays in service with the Marines or is discharged.

In any event, Williams said after checking into the hospital yesterday, he doesn't expect to see any diamond action this year. Even if he should be discharged promptly, he said, he wouldn't be able to get in shape in time to return to the Boston Red Sox.

Williams, a Marine captain, was sidelined after flying 38 combat missions as a jet pilot in Korea. He is suffering from an ear and throat ailment.

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

PAT IS WED

Patricia King and bandleader Eddie O'Neal pose with heads together outside St. James Episcopal Church in Chicago Sunday following their wedding. Patricia is the 19-year-old sister of Sheppard King, who turned Moslem when he married Samia Gamal, the Egyptian belly dancer. O'Neal's secretary said Pat and Eddie met in February when O'Neal was on an engagement in Houston.

Americans Training Chinese Guerrillas

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—A group of Americans with no official U.S. connections is helping train and supply Chinese Nationalist guerrillas on a group of Nationalist-held islands off the Red China coast, informed quarters here said today.

The highly successful guerrilla raid on Red-held Nanjih Island last October is attributed partially to this unofficial U. S. training and supply activity.

Informed sources expressed doubt that the more than 30 small coastal island would be included in the official U. S. defense perimeter. They said aid given the guerrillas presumably will remain unofficial.

A Foreign Office spokesman explained that the agreement between the Nationalist government and the U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group covers only the joint defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

At various times over the past two years or so, the Nationalists have suggested that U. S. aid be extended to cover the Nationalist-held islands off the China coast. But nothing has come of this.

Government quarters said Nationalist garrisons on the islands are on a continuous alert, but so far there have been no direct assaults on the islands, which lie between Shanghai and Formosa.

A few islands of lesser importance have changed hands on occasion, frequently without bloodshed. Small Nationalist or Communist groups scout some uninhabited dot of an island, remain for a while and then withdraw.

Ike's Envoy Is On Way Home From Korea

TOKYO (AP)—U. S. envoy Walter S. Robertson left today by plane for the United States to report directly to President Eisenhower on his 16 days of secret talks with President Syngman Rhee on a Korean armistice.

The assistant secretary of state is flying by way of Alaska. He reportedly took with him a signed pledge by Rhee agreeing to abide by an armistice in Korea if one can be arranged at Panmunjom.

Robertson was affable, but just before boarding his plane, he read this statement to newsmen:

"I have noted in the press many misrepresentations of the friendly and frank exchange of views in conversations including President Rhee, Prime Minister Pajk, Foreign Minister Pyun, Gen. Clark, Ambassador Briggs, Ambassador Murphy, Mr. Kenneth Young, and myself over a period of two weeks in Seoul.

"However unintentionally such misrepresentations may have been made, they were none the less real. It was to avoid the confusion and possible misinterpretations of separate statements that President Rhee and I agreed upon a joint statement to be released simultaneously in Washington and Korea not before 10 a. m. Sunday, July 12, Korea time. As indicated in this statement the United States and the ROK government reached a wide area of agreement.

"Nothing agreed upon is inconsistent with an immediate implementation of the truce and the long-announced objectives of the United Nations, the United States and the Republic of Korea for an independent, unified Korea and a just and lasting peace in the Far East.

"I do not wish to make further comment before reporting in person to President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles."

Robertson did not specifically mention what he called "press misrepresentations." However, he was known to feel that his mission to Korea was damaged in particular by a news story from Seoul last Saturday which quoted Rhee as saying South Korea would abide by an armistice for only 90 days.

Robertson was said to feel that the particular news account gave a false assessment of the accomplishments of his mission.

Reportedly, Robertson and Rhee agreed that if no headway was made in 90 days of talking at the post-armistice political conference, the United States and South Korean governments would then confer again and decide what course to take.

Man Loses Arms In Separate Tavern Fights

Four More Presumed Dead In Crash Of Navy Bomber

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The Navy all but gave up hope today for four airmen missing in the crash of a patrol bomber off Cape Henry—a crash which already was known to have taken three lives.

Of the 12 crewmen aboard the plane, a Martin P5M which had been on an anti-submarine training flight out of the Norfolk Naval Air Station, four were rescued by the destroyer McNair. They had been lucky enough to climb aboard a life raft dropped by another patrol bomber flying with the doomed plane.

The survivors said they were certain the four missing airmen went down with the plane following the crash 25 miles east of Cape Henry in the Atlantic. The Navy called off its air search permanently last night but service vessels continued looking for the missing men.

Bodies recovered yesterday were those of D. C. Fredlin, aviation machinist's mate first class, Bristol, Fla.; T. Kuama, aviation electronics man first class, Fife Lake, Mich.; and S. W. Earnhart, aviation electronics man second class, Jacksonville, Ark.

Missing and presumed dead were R. L. Sowers, aviation machinist's mate third class, Wharton, W. Va.; J. B. Greene, aviation electronics technician third class, Skowhegan, Me.; R. E. Stewart, aviation electronics technician third class, Dupo, Ill.; and W. H. Justice, aviation ordnanceman first class, Cowen, W. Va.

Survivors were all officers—Lt. (jg) W. B. Sears, Wyoming, Iowa; Lt. W. S. Nuget, Watervliet, N. Y.; Lt. (jg) D. E. Malone, Dallas; and Ens. Tileston.

Boy Walks With Pipe Stuck In His Head

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Bill Schriver is recovering in a hospital today from injuries suffered when a home-made gun backfired, sending the barrel—a three-foot pipe—into his head near his right eye.

The youth walked to his grandfather's house nearby to summon aid, supporting the pipe in his hands to protect his eye. He talked to surgeons while they removed it.

Robber Put Knowledge To Work In Crime

HOUSTON, Tex., (AP)—A young man who said a brief job as a policeman at Newport News, Va., aided him in becoming an efficient robber, received a 25-year prison sentence yesterday.

Billy B. Carroll, 24, entered pleas of guilty to three charges of armed robbery, including the $5,000 March 17 robbery of a bakery.

Destroyer Aground

TOKYO (AP)—The Canadian destroyer Huron ran aground off the Communist northeast Korean Coast yesterday and suffered heavy damage, the Navy announced today. There were no casualties. The vessel was refloated after three hours and escorted to safety.

Nixon Stays Out Of Trouble And Works Hard At New Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the curious and unpredictable fortunes of political life, Vice President Richard M. Nixon is one member of the "Eisenhower team" who has emerged unscarred by controversy from the first six months of Republican administration.

Storms have whirled around virtually every Cabinet member at one time or another since inauguration. Nixon has steered a course remarkably free of criticism either by Democrats or Republicans.

And yet just a short time before inauguration, Nixon was the most controversial figure in the new Republican lineup. The tempest over his acceptance of a private expense fund donated by wealthy Californians made him for a brief period appear as the Peck's Bad Boy of the campaign.

At one time, Eisenhower said Nixon would have to be "clean as a hound's tooth" to continue as his running mate. A dispute raged within the Republican high command over whether Nixon should be dropped from the ticket.

Nixon's own television defense of himself as the victim of a smear made political history. Eisenhower stood by Nixon. The tempest quieted. The crisis passed.

Since inauguration, Nixon's conduct has been politically impeccable. Outside of his infrequent speeches, he has done little to gain public attention other than pat a lion on the head for the benefit of photographers. He has kept himself out of the headlines and become a behind-the-scenes worker.

When not presiding over Senate sessions, Nixon has been acting as a liaison man and trouble-shooter for Eisenhower in Congress. Three times each week he goes to the White House to attend meetings of legislative leaders, the National Security Council and the Cabinet. While not a Cabinet member, he sits in on its meetings.

Eisenhower and Nixon are the only two whose presence is continuous at all these sessions—and thus next to the President there is little doubt Nixon is the man who knows most about what is going on.

A White House source who may not be named said: "Nixon has been a big help to Ike in his relations with Congress—particularly the Senate. He's been working hard and we think doing a good job." The same reaction comes from the Capitol.

Having served in the House and in the Senate, Nixon knows his way around Congress. He is in a position to keep Eisenhower advised on the temper of Congress toward any legislation or course of action. And, from reports, the President is listening to his advice.

This self-effacement is new for Nixon. He made his name nationally known while in the House by keeping in the headlines—particularly in his Communist investigations which uncovered the Alger Hiss case. Hiss was convicted of perjury after denying he turned over State Department secrets to a Soviet spy ring.

But apparently the campaign furor last fall and the weight of his new responsibilities have had their effect on Nixon. He has been a poor target for administration critics these past six months.

Bobo Rockefeller Gets Ark. Legal Counsel

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The estranged wife of Winthrop Rockefeller has retained legal counsel to represent her here, says a Little Rock attorney—but conflicting reports on the situation have come from New York.

The attorney, Edward L. Wright, said his firm of Wright, Harrison, Lindsey and Upton was retained by Mrs. Rockefeller's New York attorney, Louis Nizer.

In New York, Nizer said last night, however, that he had retained no Little Rock counsel.

Wright refused to say why Mrs. Rockefeller needed legal representation in Arkansas.

Rockefeller, a multimillionaire New Yorker, came here several months ago and since has granted his wife authority to occupy his 15-room Park Avenue apartment.

He has denied time and again that he is here to obtain a 90-day Arkansas divorce.

AFL Raids Bring Hot Blast From Reuther

WASHINGTON (AP)—CIO President Walter Reuther says a campaign by the AFL Teamsters Union to take over CIO brewery workers may kill a long-proposed merger between the giant AFL and CIO labor organizations.

In an angry statement made public at CIO headquarters here yesterday, Reuther declared that a "series of raiding excursions" led by AFL Teamsters President Dave Beck "have in effect repudiated" recent CIO-AFL efforts to agree to a ban against "raids" on each others' membership.

Such an agreement, which had been tentatively reached between top CIO and AFL leaders, has been regarded as a necessary stepping stone toward a merger between the two groups.

Senator Looks For Peace In All Of Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) said today he is hopeful that post-truce political negotiations in Korea may open the way for peace in all of Asia.

Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview he believes wide cracks are developing in the Kremlin which might lead to an independent move by the Chinese Communists to arrange a settlement for Asia.

"I'm satisfied that the Chinese people are sick of war and after an armistice has been arranged in Korea, they will be vitally interested in making some arrangements for peace in all of Asia," Wiley said.

Wiley and many of his colleagues are assuming that an agreement with South Korean President Syngman Rhee reached by Walter Robertson, assistant secretary of state, has paved the way for a Korean cease-fire.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said Robertson will testify at a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Thursday to give details of the agreement with Rhee.

He is likely to be questioned closely about a proposed mutual security pact with Rhee's government.

Sen. Knowland of California, the acting GOP leader, said he doubts that the pact will be brought before the Senate for ratification in this session. He said it was possible, however, that President Eisenhower might call the Senate back into session this fall to act on it. The President has authority to summon the Senate alone into special session to consider treaties.

Smith said, however, that if quick action is needed, he believes the Senate would ratify the treaty in this session despite an early adjournment target.

Wiley said he would not be too surprised if the Chinese Communist government, headed by Mao Tse-tung, pulls away from Russia because of signs of an internal struggle for power in the Kremlin.

"Mao Tse-tung thinks he is as big or a bigger Communist leader than any of those left in the Kremlin—that he is the logical leader of the Communist world," Wiley said.

Sen. George (D-Ga), a Foreign Relations Committee member, said he isn't particularly impressed, however, with the thought that the Chinese Communists may desire peace.

George said he thinks they are willing to sign a truce in Korea primarily because they have been told by Russia that the Soviet can't continue to equip their armies on the scale necessary to continue all-out war there.

Midnight Sun Tour Offered In Sweden

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Well-heeled tourists, mostly Americans, are taking a 300-dollars-a-head land cruise to enjoy midnight sun-bathing in the Arctic Circle.

They travel through some of Northern Europe's most beautiful scenery in Sweden and Norway, finishing up by the war-famed waters of Narvik fjord.

The tourists live aboard the electric-powered "Sunlit Cruiser" train which is pride of the Swedish state railroads. The train is equipped with showers, bar and observation car. There are movies and radio aboard and you can telephone direct from the train to almost any place in the world during its longer stops.

Bus and boat tours will carry the tourists to beauty spots far from the rail tracks.

Among the attractions: a midnight round of golf on the world's mort northerly course with a Lapp along as caddy, a special welcome from King Bore (the ice king) at the frontier of his domain, and a "polar certificate" to show you have really been right inside the Arctci Circle.

Milk Code Signals

TONKAWA, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. Paul Brooks readily agreed to take care of her husband's milk route during his second vacation in 20 years. She had two strong sons to help. But the three did not know about the code system set up by Brooks with his customers for their orders. And it took nearly all the vacation period to figure it out.

For instance one empty bottle on one front porch meant, "There are two more empties on the back porch. Bring three quarts. You'll find the money in one of the bottles on the back porch."

Pockets Hung Low

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Police thought Higino Jamenez' pockets were sagging suspiciously low yesterday and stopped him.

A search produced 21 sets of dice, officers reported. He was charged with possession of gambling paraphernalia.

Capt. Arthur W. Jank adjusts the straw birds swimming from the palm leaf hat he brought his mother-in-law, Mrs. M. M. Keeble, from Hawaii. The hat is slowly drying out and Mrs. Keeble intends to shellac it when it does. The captain said a native wove the headpiece in about 15 minutes.

Capt. Jank Visiting Here After Vacation In Hawaii

By DOLORES KETCHERSID

A Snyder visitor, Capt. ARTHUR W. JANK, recently returned from a vacation in Hawaii.

Capt. Jank who is a guest in the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. KEEBLE, frequently saw Joan Davis, Janet Leigh, Fred MacMurray and Tony Curtis. One of the humorous sights was that of Van Johnson dressed in a red high-peaked Tibetian cap, patent leather pumps with a bow and covered with sunburn ointment. Van was in Hawaii working on "Caine Mutiny," Capt. Jank said.

One of the stars who won the captain's approval was Fred MacMurray whose wife recently died. The film actor, depressed as he must have been, still talked and made jokes with landing U. S. servicemen.

Capt. and Mrs. Jank spent little time in Honolulu which he termed as a "Coney Island," but went to the small island of Maui where there is only one town, Hana. The island is actually a ranch owned by one man who is striving to keep it as Hawaii was before the coming of the American dollar. The island is quiet, and there is only one hotel which houses about 30 guests. Included on the register were the names of Elliott Roosevelt and Adm. Arthur W. Radford.

The cattle on the ranch ate grass that was taller than they were. "They don't even have to bend over," he said.

Recreation on the big island included surfboard riding and dancing under the moon at the beach. They also stayed one night in the Royal Hawaiian which is similar to the Shamrock in a more expensive way. One drink called Royal Planters Punch cost $1.10. While there they also rode in an outrigger canoe which was propelled by natives.

The Janks went over on the luxury ship, Lurline, which carried 2,000-3,000 servicemen during the war. After the peace it was converted back to the tourist ship it had been since 1932. On their crossing the ship's guest showed 791 persons were aboard, a record tourist crowd. The unhappy part is that most of the passengers were single women, and while some of them were going over to attend the University of Hawaii, a large majority were taking that romantic cruise to the land of the swaying palms.

Capt. Jank is scheduled leave for Fort Worth Thursday on a private plane provided by Sam Montgomery of Midland. Mr. Montgomery is a brother to FRANK MONTGOMERY, Snyder businessman. Eventually the captain will report for duty in Germany.

While her husband is in Germany, Mrs. Jank is working for a psychiatrist in Honolulu named Dr. Franz Alexander. Dr. Alexander is writing another book along the same line as his previous one called "The Age of Unreason." He is affiliated with the University of Chicago.

Capt. Jank is a West Point graduate and this past month received a master's degree from Stamford University. He is an electronic engineer.

Local Scout Leaders Go To Area Camp

Camp Booth Oaks, area girl scout camp, was formally named in dedication services Sunday afternoon at the site near Sweetwater, according to Mrs. Elroy Miller, local girl scout president.

The camp was named in an area board meeting preceding the ceremonies. Snyder members of the board were Mrs. Gene Best, Melvin Newton and Mrs. Miller.

Money for the mess hall which is open to girls from 13 counties was collected from area cookie sales. Although the building is valued at $20,000 it cost less than $12,000 due to donated material, Mrs. Miller said. The scouts also paid $4,000 for 40 acres of land. Next year's sales will go for a new swimming pool, Mrs. Miller said.

Ray Booth who owns the land bordering the site gave the girls hiking and camping priviledges on his property.

Girls who attended the camp which was in session for four weeks before the dedication included Linda Ann Miller, Linda Gayle Miller, Betty Jo Longbotham, Lois Doonan, Marsha Hurst and Joyce Stone. Miss Faye Callarman who taught in Snyder last year was camp dietician.

About 300 persons were present for the dedication. The camp will be open the rest of the summer for troop camping, Mrs. Miller said.

Diannie Kerley Is Chairman Of Club Committee

Plans were made by the group for a baking contest for club girls throughout the county Aug. 5 and for a county camp Aug. 20-21.

Country Club Tea Is Given Lou A. Miller Saturday Afternoon

Miss Lou Alice Miller, bride-elect of William G. White, was feted with a gift tea Saturday afternoon at the Country Club.

Mrs. Aubrey Stokes, Mrs. Novis Rodgers, Miss Ila Ruth Newton and Mrs. Weldon Johnson were hostesses for the tea. Miss Mary Sue Boren sang two selections, "With a Song in My Heart" and "Always." Three readings were given by Miss Sammie Williams. Mrs. Rodgers played piano music throughout the tea.

The table was centered with an arrangement of white foam wedding bells filled with pink carnations placed against a pink aluminum background. Miss Miller's colors were further emphasized by an arrangement of pink and white gladioli on the mantel and pink caladium placed throughout the rooms.

If a person wanted to start a "frostie" business or start selling ice cream commercially on a small scale to start out with, where in the world do you find a formula for mixing the flavors? Needless to say, a trial and error method wouldn't get a person anywhere, and mixes for ice cream I've tried off the grocer's shelf won't do. There is no comparison between them. A. L. B.

A check with a local frozen dessert business gave us the information that they don't obtain their mixes from retail outlets. The smallest quantity that you can buy is in a 10-gallon container. The local wholesale grocer had only the mixes that are sold by the retail outlets. Actually it is the whipping machines that made the dessert smooth, not the mixes, the businessman told us. The same is true of ice cream. The smoothness is provided by the process by which it is mixed and frozen, not by the mix.

Bonn, Germany, Has Grown To City From Only Small Village

(By The Associated Press)

BONN—This city on the Rhine, set up as the "provisional" capital of the (West) German Federal Republic in 1949, is getting to be less provisional all the time.

It is experiencing one of the biggest building booms in European history. If divided Germany is ever reunited and the capital moves back to Berlin, it will be something of a ghost town.

Some people still sneer that provincial Bonn is "a Bundesdorf (Federal Village) and not a Bundeshauptstadt (federal capital)." But the sneers are getting weaker all the time.

Why, they've even cleared away those chicken and pig pens that stood for three years in a lot directly across from the federal parliament building.

New government buildings are popping up all over the place. Also new apartment houses and single dwellings—here and in adjacent Bad Godesberg and Mehlen.

Bonn, ancient university town and birthplace of Beethoven, has erased most of the scars of wartime bombing. Its population has passed 115,000 from 95,000 five years ago.

It is now even getting "Hochhaeuser (high houses)," eight or nine-story buildings that rate as skyscrapers in low-building Europe.

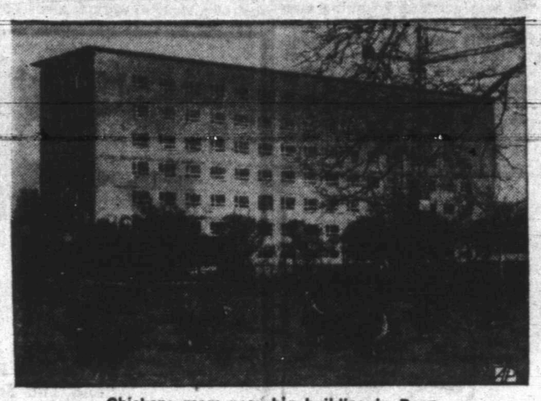

The latest "hochhaus" project is nine-story structure planned for the new foreign ministry. This ministry's more than 1,000 local employes are now scattered through 18 different buildings, grabbing space where they can.

The new structure is to cost $3,165,400 and the first section will be completed by the end of this year, the second section in mid-1954.

The New Wilhelm Strasse (as the foreign office was known in Berlin) is the Koblenzer Strasse.

On Koblenzer street — Bonn's main street — also are the federal chancellery (the Palais Schaumburg) and the presidential mansion (Villa Hammerschmidt) and dozens of other government offices.

The Federal parliament building has been twice expanded and now is more than double its original size. It also has a "hochhaus"—a nine-story annex.

Chickens roam near big building in Bonn.

But the biggest builders in the community still are the Americans. The United States has spent 25 million dollars in construction here.

The Americans have erected four vast projects. In Mehlen they have a huge, modernistic complex of office buildings housing their high commission. In Bad Godesberg they have a "Little America" town to house their American employes. It is complete with shopping center, church, school, theater, bowling alleys, swimming pool and restaurant-night club. Then ther are two big apartment layouts for the high commission's German employes.

This construction was financed out of Marshall plan counterpart funds.

The French also have raised a big new complex of high commission-embassy offices and restaurant-clubs in Bad Godesberg.

The British are now completing a new embassy building in downtown Bonn.

When the federal government was set up here in 1949 the opposition Socialists built themselves a sprawling, wooden party headquarters. But the Socialists, hopeful that the Russians might relent in the cold war and permit Germany to be reunited, took this "provisional" business seriously. Their building is only bolted together so that it could be easily dismantled and carted up to Berlin.

After four years, local wags remark, the Socialists' bolts are getting rusty. They like to point to the flashy new Coca Cola plant, a hundred yards away, which was built solidly and permanently and expects to be in business here for a long time.

Love Life Of Princess Gone Into By MPs

LONDON (AP)—A Labor party member served notice today he'll try again to get the House of Commons talking about Princess Margaret's reported romance with a divorced air hero. The House speaker politely but firmly shut him up yesterday.

Laborite Emrys Hughes said he would file another question in the House tomorrow addressed to the air minister. Officially he wants to know why the ministry is assigning a new air attache to Britain's embassy in Brussels.

The new attache is Group Capt. Peter Townsend, 38, a divorced man and until his transfer an equerry in the royal household for nine years. Reportedly he and the princess are in love, and some British newspapers have speculated he's being sent out of the country because the Church of England opposes a divorced person remarrying, particularly with royalty.

Neither Townsend's name nor Margaret's was mentioned in Commons yesterday, but Hughes asked why a new air attache was being sent to Brussels "where there already is a considerable diplomatic station."

Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd replied that the present attache in Brussels is being replaced and "in the view of her majesty's government, it is necessary to have such an officer in that post."

Hughes then said he thought the government was supposed to economize on such attaches and tried to pose what he called "supplementary questions." The speaker of the House ruled him out of order.

Rosemary Clooney, 25, of Maysville, Ky., and Jose Vicente, 41, of Ossining, N. Y., who's better known as Jose Ferrer, the actor, were married at Durant, Okla., Monday. The singer and actor are pictured in Dallas at a party Sunday night given by Margo Jones, managing director of Theater '53, for notables in show business. Ferrer has the lead in a musical now running in Dallas.

Entry List Growing For Scurry's Rodeo

The entry list for events in the annual Scurry County Rodeo grew to about 100 this morning, according to Billy Boren, president of the rodeo association.

Entry deadline is noon tomorrow. The entries are being taken at Boren Lumber Co. at Avenue Q.

Boren said that the largest group entrants is in the calf roping contest. In the wild mare race, only two men have entered so far. They are Tommy Forrest and Doug Riley, both of Snyder.

Last year, Forrest was the only one to ride his mare in three nights of shows, while Riley won one night. In 1951, Riley won two nights and Sonn Capps won two.

At least three organizations, the Little League, Kiwanis Club and Cosmorama Study Club have indicated they will enter floats in the parade, which will begin at 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Merchants have been invited to enter any type of float or other type of entry they wish, whether boosting their own business or the rodeo.

Officials of the Optimist Club, which is heading arrangements for the parade, said entries can be turned in at the chamber of commerce or can be turned in when the parade forms at Avenue U and Twenty-sixth Street tomorrow afternoon. Prizes for top floats will be $100 for first, $50 for second, and $25 each for third and fourth.

A ticket booth was to be set up on the northwest corner of the courthouse square today by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is heading ticket sales. General admission tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students, while season tickets are selling for $5 for adults and $2.50 for students.

About 10 box seats which sell for $20, were left this morning. O. D. McGlaun, secretary-treasurer of the rodeo association, said.

Operation Of Colorado City Hotel Suspended Until Owners Arrive

The purchase of the Crawford Hotel in Colorado City by the Devonshire Apartments Incorporated of Snyder has been disclosed through papers recorded in the Mitchell County courthouse.

John B. Mills, Dallas, president of the Federal Realty Corp. and the Federal Hotel Company, contacted in Phoenix, Ariz., by telephone Sunday night, said he could not name the purchaser or the price. He did say that other properties were involved in the transaction. Joe Rayner, hotel manager, refused comment for publication.

Hotel operations at the Crawford have been suspended until the new owners or their representatives arrive to supervise the operation. The five-story Crawford was built in the middle 1920's and was originally named the Colorado Hotel.

Correction On Cleaning

A story on the Business Page of Monday's paper stated that Highland Park Cleaners had a special price for cleaning winter garments and blankets. The story should have said that the cleaning firm had a special price for mothproofing winter garments and blankets.

British Keeping Tight Control Around Suez

ISMAILIA, Egypt (AP)—The British Army maintained tight traffic controls around this strategic Suez Canal zone town today but no incidents were reported.

Seeking traces of an airman they believe was kidnaped, British troops at checkpoints continued to search thoroughly all Egyptian civilians.

Maj. Salah Salem, Egypt's outspoken minister for national guidance, challenged a House of Commons statement yesterday by Britain's Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd that Egyptian authorities had a part in the airman's disappearance.

"No Egyptian officer or Egyptian military or civilian had any connection whatever with the disappearance of the British airman," Salem said.

Brain To Med School

BALTIMORE (AP)—The "brain" is coming to Johns Hopkins Medical School.

Frank Milligan, 22, of Victoria, B. C., will start studies here in September.

He was graduated summa cum laude from Portland (Ore.) University this year with a 3.99 average, the highest mark ever attained there in a four-year course. Perfection is 4.00.

Milligan compiled 47 A's and one B—in freshman physical education. The "low" mark resulted when he failed a swimming test.

Mike Gets Breaks

CLEVELAND (AP)—Woe is Mike Magyar. In the past five weeks:

A tornado toppled his chimney.

He went on duty as an auxiliary policeman to help other tornado victims and got a parking ticket.

He took home a homeless robin which now refuses to leave and won't eat anything but mash, potatoes and prunes. He has to take the robin along to work at a sewage disposal plant because the cat wants to eat it.

His pocket was picked.

Nurses Struck By Polio

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)—Officials of Chevy Chase Sanitarium, quarantining a polio outbreak which has stricken four student nurses there since July 1, claimed Monday that no visitors would be admitted to the institution under the quarantine.

Jose Ferrer And Rosemary Clooney Wed

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Jose Ferrer, one of the nation's top actors, married singing star Rosemary Clooney in Durant, Okla., yesterday and then gave a cocktail party here for actress Olivia de Havilland a few hours later.

Ferrer, a Motion Picture Academy Award winner, will begin rehearsing an Italian comedy with Miss de Havilland soon.

Ferrer said his bride couldn't get to the party.

"I think she is taking a shower and putting up her hair," he said. "I have to work tonight and she doesn't."

The actor is starring here in the musical, "Kiss Me Kate." Miss Clooney, a recording and movie star, has been an almost nightly spectator at the theater. She attended last night with Miss de Havilland.

Ferrer's second wife was given a divorce in Juarez, Mexico, last week.

The couple slipped away from Dallas yesterday to be married by an Oklahoma County judge. It was a surprise to none of the gossip columnists, who had been predicting the event for several days.

Ferrer gave his age as 41, Miss Clooney as 25. Kurt Frings, Ferrer's agent, and his wife attended the couple.

When Lewis and Clark took 31 men across the continent 150 years ago there was ony one death in the party and that was from disease and not from trouble with wild animals or Indians.

25 of these big icing machines are in operation at the servicing points along the Santa Fe.

Ever see so much fuss just to chill an orange?

It's the best way there is today to refrigerate a "reefer"—but Santa Fe is developing an even newer and better way to do the job

In 60 seconds flat, the giant ice-crushing machines Santa Fe recently installed can fill the bunkers of a refrigerator car with five tons of ice!

They are the newest and fastest machines for icing cars yet devised.

And Santa Fe "reefers" are the most efficient type of refrigerator cars now on the rails.

These refrigerator cars and these icing machines have carried the technique of refrigeration with ice to the ultimate of present-day knowledge.

WHAT ABOUT TOMORROW?

We can't be sure, BUT—

Santa Fe is now experimenting with a newer way to refrigerate cars automatically for hauling foods which may require temperatures as low as 25° below zero.

30 new experimental refrigerator cars designed by Santa Fe, built in its own shops and each with a capacity of 128,000 pounds of frozen foods, are now being utilized in the movement of frozen foods.

Each of these new cars has its own thermostatically-controlled diesel-driven compressor-type refrigerator unit. It carries 400 gallons of fuel (almost the exact amount Lindbergh used to fly the Atlantic). It can maintain sub-zero temperatures all the way from California to New York.

BENEFITS FELT ALONG THE LINE

All along the line, people and communities feel the benefits of this building now wherever it actually occurs on the Santa Fe—and day-after-day, something new is done to make "America's New Railroad" a little better.

The millions of dollars this newness costs Santa Fe doesn't cost you a single penny in the taxes you pay.
