The SDN Column

The late Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, 34th President of the United States, was one of those rare individuals who possessed a personality that virtually defied dislike. That is not to say that everyone associated with him and everyone affected by his decisions, in both the military and political realm, were always in agreement with him. But the slogan "I Like Ike," widely used during his political campaigns, was made to order because, from the standpoint of personality it appeared that nearly everyone did indeed like Ike.

This unusual characteristic has been prominent in nearly all comments about his career, and occasionally some of his close associates have come forward to recall incidents not widely known or publicized previously which demonstrate Gen. Eisenhower's personal magnetism.

One that I had not heard before was brought to light by Gen. Omar Bradley, probably Ike's closest military associate and now the only living American Army officer to hold the five-star rank of General of the Armies. It was well publicized that former President Harry H. Truman and Gen. Eisenhower had their differences, especially when Gen. Eisenhower ran for president on the Republican ticket. It was well known that President Truman had offered to support Gen. Eisenhower if he would run as the Democratic Party candidate.

Yet, Gen. Bradley revealed, just prior to the election in 1952, President Truman instructed Gen. Bradley to see that proper legislation was drawn up to assure that, in case he should be defeated at the polls, Gen. Eisenhower would return to five-star rank in the U.S. Army. The bill would be submitted immediately in the event of an Eisenhower defeat. Regardless of what happened on election day, Ike was going to have a position comensurate with his stature in the world.

168 Trapped In Mexico Mine

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP) — Officials reported 168 miners are believed trapped today in a coal mine ripped by a tremendous methane gas explosion in Coahuila State.

The blast tore through the mine Monday afternoon. As of this morning six bodies had been brought out, said officials of the company, Altos Hornos de Mexico. They added that one of the bodies was that of a rescue worker who was overcome by gas.

Gas still lingered in pockets of the two mine shafts where, according to work list data supplied by the company, the 168 men remained trapped.

The lists showed 43 miners trapped in the No. 3 shaft, where the explosion occurred. Officials said it was probably caused by a short circuit.

Another 125 were trapped in the nearby No. 2 shaft, officials said. All were believed to be at a depth of about 1,700 feet.

Troops were rushed out to control victims' families who rioted at the tunnel extrances. The crowds calmed down later.

The mine is at Barroteran, with a population of 8,000 people, about 75 miles southwest of the Texas border town of Eagle Pass.

"It was a tremendous explosion, blowing parts of the mine entrance into the air," said Dr. Emilio Lopez of the Barroteran hospital, who witnessed the blast. "We have no injured. They were either all killed at the entrance or trapped below. The lucky ones had left.

"They were able to take out the bodies of some of the dead miners because they were on their way up and near the exit."

The mining company is one of Mexico's biggest coal producers.

Earlier Rolando Villareal, the company's public relations officer, had reported that officials believed 305 miners were trapped. This figure later was reduced by company officials who made further checks.

SNYDER'S STORY TOLD

Look Features A-A Cities

"From Boom to Bust and Back Again."

That's the heading on Snyder's All - America City article in the April 1 issue of LOOK Magazine now being distributed.

The article, written by Anthony Wolff, senior editor of the magazine, sketches Snyder's ups and downs mostly since the oil boom days of the late forties and the fifties. It describes how the town was left in a depressed situation following the oil boom and how a new look for the town's physical appearance and a new outlook by its citizens reversed the downward trend.

Other photographs show an abandoned and condemned building being demolished, a shot in the Towle Memorial Park Prairie Dog Town, a Dumpmaster garbage container being picked up by one of the city trucks, and a view of an oilwell pump with cattle and cowboys in the background and a tank battery on a hillside even farther away.

The All - America City awards are co - sponsored by LOOK and the National Municipal League. Snyder's All - America City plaque will be presented at a community banquet scheduled for the night of April 11 in the Scurry County Coliseum. Representatives of both co - sponsors will be here to participate in the ceremonies.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale now at $3.50 each.

Dunn (theft over $50), Larry and Edith Ellison (theft over $50), Ross Aguilar, Jr. (burglary), George Wortham (rape), and Steven Ray Botts (driving while intoxicated, second offense).

R. E. Lewis Dies; Rites Set Thursday

Richard E. Lewis, 76, a resident of Scurry County for over 70 years, died at 7:15 a.m. today in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

A native of Sterling County, Mr. Lewis was a veteran of military service in World War I. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

He was married on Aug. 20, 1926, at Ira to Miss Nettie Carruthers, and she survives.

Other survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Bill Hanks of Odessa, Mrs. Quincy Deck of Hobbs, N. M., Mrs. Georgene Redman of Colorado City and Mrs. Dalton Moore Jr. of Abilene; five sons, Gene Lewis of Fort Stockton, Arlin and Robert Lewis, both of Snyder, Fred Lewis of Odessa and Melvin Lewis of Justiceburg; four sisters, Mrs. Rufus Davis and Mrs. L. O. Cardwell, both of Sweetwater, and Mrs. Jim Ikard and Mrs. Leland Autry, both of Snyder; three brothers, Walter and Ernest Lewis, both of Abilene, and Homer Lewis of Paradise, Calif.; and 15 grandchildren.

Funeral service has been set for 10:30 a.m. Thursday at the East Side Church of Christ. Bill Minick, minister of the church, will officiate. Burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens, under direction of Bell - Seale Funeral Home. Nephews will be pallbearers.

City Voting In Progress

Snyder voters were making their decision on three councilmen today at the polls in the city hall.

Voting was light to moderate during the morning hours, with the 100 mark being passed during the noon hour.

At the same time, the deadline was today for absentee voting in the school trustee election scheduled for Saturday. Absentee voting in the Snyder School District was being conducted at the school tax office in the administration building.

Candidates in today's city election were Incumbent John Thomas, Joe Carrasco and Homer Godair for Place 1; Wayne Monroney and John H. Boren for Place 3, and Herbert Reed, unopposed for Place 5.

Concert Association Plans Annual Membership Drive

Headquarters have been opened in the community room of West Texas State Bank in preparation for the annual membership drive of the Scurry Concert Association.

The drive will be kicked off next Monday evening at a dinner session in Wesley Hall of First United Methodist Church. W. A. Vestal, president of the association, will preside at the dinner. Organization chairmen for the membership drive are Mrs. Bob Womack and Mrs. Bob Stewart.

Mrs. Claire Spry, representative of the Continental Concert Service, New York, is already in Snyder assisting the local group in planning for the drive.

"Many great things have happened to Snyder during this past year and therefore there is no reason that Scurry Concert Association cannot have a sell-out in memberships," declared Mrs. Spry. "With the excellent series just concluded and an even greater series to be presented for the 1969 - 70 season, we should have a marked increase in memberships. I believe Snyder residents are proud of the community and will certainly want to offer all citizens the opportunity to attend the finest in entertainment. This they can do by joining and supporting the Scurry Concert Association."

Membership enrollment will close at noon on Saturday, April 12. After that time, only newcomers to Snyder and community will be accepted as members. There are never any single tickets sold at the door for concert performances.

Membership dues are $9 each for adults and $5 each for students. A family membership may be obtained for $23, regardless of the number in the family. Anyone desiring membership may simply send his dues to Scurry Concert Association in care of West Texas State Bank. No invitation is necessary.

Vestal pointed out that volunteer membership drive workers are busy people and "it would save much time and energy if everyone would simply mail his dues, or stop at the headquarters and subscribe."

Train Carries Ike Home

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ABILENE, Kan. (AP) — With black crepe drawn across its windows, a funeral train hushed with sorrow hurried across the majesty of America today, carrying Dwight David Eisenhower home forever.

From the grandeur of a state funeral in the nation's capital, the train bore the body of the gentle warrior back to the broad plains for burial in what was a boyhood cornfield.

Through the Civil War battlefields of Virginia, across the mountains of Appalachia, clusters of townspeople gathered by the railroad tracks in the night to pay final homage to the man they knew as "Ike."

From a crowd in the cold darkness at Charlottesville, Va., rose the soaring words of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

A battered baggage car, flaked by age, carried the black velvet bier of the 34th President of the United States on this last journey.

At the rear of the train, came the private railroad car of the former President, this time carrying his widow on the long trip west from Washington.

At midnight the funeral train will reach Abilene, the last scene for the five days of farewell to the general who led history's mightiest armies to victory in World War II.

The burial, beside his first son who died in infancy, will be Wednesday in the Eisenhower Center, a memorial library and chapel built on what was a cornfield when the world leader was a boy in this frontier cattle town at the turn of the century.

President Nixon, the political heir whom Eisenhower lived to see in the White House at last, will fly here for the final services.

Nixon was blinking back tears as he left the train station in Washington Monday after the flag-covered coffin was carried aboard the funeral car to begin the 1,300-mile trip in the twilight of a chill spring day.

Fluvanna's Play Wins

Fluvanna High School copped first place honors in District 6-B competition in one-act play, held Monday night at Jayton.

Their winning presentation, "Once Upon a Playground," featured players Linda Daugherty, Nanette Bruner, June Stansell, Gwen Stansell, Paula Turner, Rebecca White, Carla Shoemaker, Rob Talley, Cindy Patterson, and Johnny Stansell.

Cindy Patterson was named to the All-Star cast, with Rob Talley and Linda Daugherty winning honorable mention.

Jayton High School won second place in the competition with "Woodshed," and Hermleigh took third place honors with "Afterwards." Jayton won best actor and actress awards.

CORONATION SET AT SNYDER HIGH

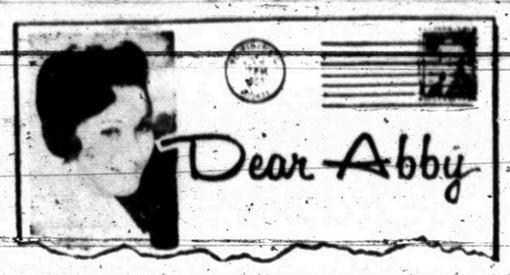

"Mr. and Miss Snyder High School" will be crowned this evening at the annual SHS coronation. The school royalty will be crowned by Principal Ben Brock.

The ceremony is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the SHS Auditorium. The coronation ball will follow at about 8:30 p.m. in the Scurry County Coliseum.

Chairman Mao Speaks To Party

TOKYO (AP) — The congress of the Chinese Communist party went into its first session since 1956 in Peking today and Chairman Mao Tse-tung gave an important address, Peking radio reported.

Red Chinese broadcasts have been saying for some time the congress—expected to approve a new constitution drafted at Mao's direction—was forthcoming soon.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am divorced and remarried. My ex-husband and I have a 6-year-old daughter and I have two younger children by my present husband.

My ex-husband has been in Viet Nam for two years. He has been living with a Vietnamese prostitute for eight months, and recently wrote that he's marrying her and bringing her here as she's expecting a baby in three months.

Now I don't care WHO he marries or what her nationality is, but my "ex" has visiting rights, and Abby, when I think about my daughter being around this prostitute, I want to throw up. My husband and his new wife will want to take my child for week-ends, and I can't stop them because that's what it says in the decree.

I can't see how a woman who has been a prostitute can ever change. Please tell me if I am wrong. What do you think I should do? Tell me and I shall try to abide by it.

A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Cool it. You know too little about the Vietnamese "prostitute" to condemn her in absentia and at such a long distance. Give your ex and your successor a chance. Then act, if necessary.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: What advice have you for a 22-year-old girl who's pretty and smart, but lives in a small town with snobbish people who won't let her forget that she lives on the wrong side of the tracks?

NO FUTURE

DEAR NO: The next time the train comes thru, get on it.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: If there isn't an organization called "RELIGIOUS FANATICS ANONYMOUS" there ought to be. I am serious. My husband is a real nut on religion. Now I go to church, too, and I think everyone should go once a week, but my husband LIVES at church. He runs there before he goes to work every morning, and when he comes home late from work I know's he's stopped in at church again. I wonder what he has done that his conscience bothers him so much. This man has got to be the world's champion sinner.

I keep telling him he is going to wear his knees out, and he says I'm nagging him.

What do you say, Abby? How much church is enough?

FANATIC'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Let each man decide for himself how much "church" is enough.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Hooray for the woman who admitted her error in naming her son "Junior" and had to suffer through the "Big Bob" and "Little Bob" syndrome.

Now, what can be done about people who mark their progeny with William Williams, John Johns, Robert Roberts, Ima Ford, or Ima Anything.

Oh, well, one of my ancestors, Temperance Cooper married Pleasant Loving, which didn't seem to hinder future development of the line. Who knows what another union like that could accomplish. Yours truly,

CAROLYN COOPER IVEY

California Labor Leader In Valley

By GARY GARRISON
Associated Press Writer

MCALLEN, Tex. (AP) — A California man who claims to speak for farm workers who are resisting unionization said yesterday labor leader Cesar Chavez is now merely a "figurehead."

Jose Mendoza, a leader of the agricultural workers Freedom to Work Association, said the Rev. James Drake, a migrant minister, is now in charge of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO.

Mendoza held a news conference at McAllen sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau. About 40 persons demonstrated outside the hotel while Mendoza lashed out at the union's organizing attempts and the grape boycott.

Mendoza blasted Chavez' union for using "scare tactics" and accused striking workers of accepting public welfare.

Even as Mendoza spoke, the long dormant farm labor movement in the Lower Rio Grande Valley appeared to suddenly come into the forefront again. A national officer of the union made his first public appearance in the valley in almost two years.

Antonio Orendain, the national secretary-treasurer of the union who was one of the leaders in the Starr County farm labor dispute arrived in the Valley last week. Orendain indicated he would resume organizing attempts in the valley.

Orendain led a group of about 40 pickets who stood outside the hotel where Mendoza spoke to reporters. The pickets hanged Mendoza in effigy. A sign beneath the figure read "Mendoza is a modern Judas traitor."

Mendoza disputed the farm union's claim of 17,000 members, but declined to accept Orendain's invitation for a public debate. Mendoza said he would debate Chavez or the Rev. Drake.

The farm labor union attempted to organize mostly Mexican-American field hands in Starr County in 1966-67. The union marched to Austin in 1966 to press for a $1.25 an hour state minimum wage. Union efforts ceased in 1967 after more than 125 persons had been arrested during demonstrations in Rio Grande City, Mission and Harlingen.

Cross Rites At Stanton

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Stanton for Mr. J. G. (Gordon) Cross, who died Monday at 3 p.m. in the Bennett House at Big Spring. Mr. Cross, 86, was a retired Martin County farmer and had lived in the Bennett House since 1968. He had been in ill health for several years.

Services will be held at the First Methodist Church in Stanton with Rev. Bobby McMillan, pastor of Snyder Trinity Methodist Church officiating, assisted by Rev. Richard Payne of Stanton. Burial will be in the Evergreen Cemetery at Stanton, under direction of Ellis Funeral Home of Midland.

Survivors include five daughters: Mrs. W. H. Murphy, Ira; Mrs. Slim Curfue, Crane, Mrs. Roy Powell, Plains, Mrs. Albert Carrigan, Midland and Mrs. Bill Starnes, Snyder; five sons, Henry T. Cross, Midland, Julius S. Cross, Lafayette, Ind., Ronald R. Cross, Sand Springs, Vernon C. Cross, Snyder, and Harvey G. Cross of Midland.

Also surviving are three sisters, 20 grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren.

Poage Opposes Limits On Farm Payments

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) —Limitations of payments on government farm programs will be a major issue in the next farm bill, Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., said Monday.

The congressman addressed the 56th annual meeting of the Texas Cotton Ginners Association.

Poage said he doesn't think farm programs will work with payment limitations now under consideration. "If you take acreage from a small farmer, you wipe him out," he said.

Cavalrymen Pursue Enemy

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Thousands of helicopter-borne U.S. air cavalrymen are leapfrogging through the Viet Cong's War Zone C, pursuing an estimated 7,500 troops of two North Vietnamese divisions, military spokesmen said today.

The air cavalrymen were chasing the enemy's 1st and 7th divisions, which are believed to have pulled back into the jungles of northern Tay Ninh province near the Cambodian border after eluding a 10,000-man American sweep called Operation Atlas Wedge.

Atlas Wedge was conducted in the Michelin rubber plantations in the southern half of Tay Ninh province, 45 miles northwest of Saigon. The new drive is called Montana Scout after the native state of the 1st Air Cav's commander, Maj. Gen. George I. Forsythe. Spokesmen said it is about half the size of Atlas Wedge.

The new sweep was preceded by massive B52 bombing raids. Thirty of the bombers dumped nearly 1,000 tons of explosives on War Zone C in the past 24 hours, spokesmen said.

"It looks like they also are receiving replacements. But they are farther away from Saigon now."

Battalions of air cavalrymen who have been operating around Saigon have been moved north to join the hunt for the North Vietnamese. They have built new artillery bases and are fanning out in follow-up sweeps after B-52 strikes.

The only significant action reported so far occurred last Saturday, when North Vietnamese 1st Division troops attacked air cavalrymen building one of the new bases. Nine Americans were killed, 25 were wounded and the bodies of 35 North Vietnamese were found.

Military analysts said the retreat of the two North Vietnamese divisions into War Zone C was part of a general withdrawal forced on the foe by heavy losses suffered in his five-week-old offensive. The Viet Cong's 9th Division, which is supposed to spearhead any attack on Saigon, also is reported in Tay Ninh province.

Allied officers estimate more than 20,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops have been killed since the offensive began Feb. 23, at least 6,000 of them in the 3rd Military Corps area extending from Cambodia through Saigon to the South China Sea.

About 1,400 Americans have been killed and 150 wounded, in the same period, according to unofficial figures.

See. Laird Moves To Cut Spending

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) —Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, moving to cut military spending another $613 million, announced today plans to reduce B52 bomber sorties and trim several naval ships in the Vietnam war.

Laird also told the House Armed Services Committee he is postponing purchase of a short-range, bomber-launched missile call SRAM until tests show whether it will work.

These actions, representing about half the $613 million, brought to more than $3½ billion the amount of spending pared from the Defense Department administration's final defense budget for [illegible].

The new total stands at $77.9 billion for the bookkeeping year starting July 1. Pentagon officials indicated more slashes are under study.

Laird made it plain the fresh spending reductions were related to President Nixon's call for extension of the 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

"The nation is confronted with an extremely difficult and dangerous economic and fiscal situation," Laird said. He noted Nixon had ordered "significant reductions" in federal budget estimates to cope with the problem.

The Pentagon chief's second whack at the defense budget in two weeks was a patchwork including stretching out some projects, deferring others — and in some cases reversing actions Laird announced to the Senate Armed Services Committee only two weeks ago.

Ike's Brother Hospitalized

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Milton Eisenhower spent the night under medical observation in Walter Reed Army Hospital after he complained of feeling dizzy just before the funeral of his older brother, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Friends said Dr. Eisenhower, 66, was worn out by the strain of the recent days.

"He was taken to Walter Reed simply for rest prior to leaving for Abilene," said George S. Wills of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore where Dr. Eisenhower is president emeritus. "His hospitalization is purely precautionary."

Burial of former president Eisenhower will be Wednesday in Abilene, Kan.

Dr. Eisenhower, one of two surviving brothers of the former president, was with the Eisenhower family in a hotel Monday when he became ill.

Haydrop Over For Herd Of Mustangs

MINDEN, Nev. (AP) — Most wild mustangs once trapped on a snowy Sierra ridge have made their way to lower elevations. But air patrols will continue to guard them from poachers who would sell them for petfood.

"Just because they are out doesn't mean they are strong enough to fight for themselves," Ed Court, one of the initiators of a haydrop started Feb. 26, said today.

The 70 horses, part of Nevada's dwindling mustang population of 8,000, were trapped on a 28-mile ridge of the 9,000-foot Pine Nut Mountains. Haydrops were carried out about every three days until last Saturday when the snow had melted enough so they could wade through it.

Pipe Line Group Meets

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Pipelines are safe, M. U. Bagwell said today in a paper presented to the 20th annual Pipe Line Conference of the American Petroleum Institute's Division of Transportation.

Bagwell is manager of engineering for the Colonial Pipeline Co. of Atlanta, Ga. The paper was coauthored by R. D. Phillips, senior engineer for instrument maintenance for Colonial.

Basically, the paper dealt with the problems of surge in liquid petroleum pipe lines.

Bagwell said it is unrealistic to imagine pipe line companies have a surge problem seriously affecting safety.

"This based on historical data, field tests and mathematical analysis. Real, not imaginary," Bagwell said.

J. C. Gaines showed a film to the gathering dealing with the Capline System—largest crude oil pipe line in the United States. Gaines is manager of engineering, Shell Pipe Line Corp. in Houston, Tex.

It was announced that next year's meeting will be held April 3-15 in Dallas.

President Thieu Hints Of Talks

SAIGON (AP)—President Nguyen Van Thieu indicated today that secret talks may already be under way between the Saigon government and the National Liberation Front.

"I cannot tell you. It is very secret," he told newsmen during a Senate reception. "We have to keep them (Peace talks) as private as possible if we would like to have some success about them."

It's simple. Get out of that common, ordinary car, and into Oldsmobile's Cutlass S.

Right away, you're traveling in a class where the styling trends are set.

It's there in economy, too. In a Rocket 350 V-8 that performs great—on regular gas. And in Olds ride, handling and performance lesser cars just can't duplicate.

What it adds up to is extra value that far exceeds its low price.

So, if you're looking for the most exciting buy in town this spring, this has got to be the car. Cutlass S. Try one on at your Olds dealer's today.

We can make you look like a big spender for just about what you're spending now.

ARTISTS AT WORK — Above are some of the members of Snyder Palette Club working on some paintings that will be on exhibit and up for sale to promote money for the local Boy's Club. The club's annual sidewalk exhibit will be held April 11 on the North Side of the square, with a special group to be called the "Poor Boy" section with all proceeds going to the benefit of the Boy's Club. Prices will range from 50 cents up in framed and unframed selections. Pictured above from left, Joy McGlaun, Jo Longbotham and Lucille Yandell.

Love's In Bloom

Love's in bloom: and weddings are a fantasy of colorful flowers this spring season.

Brides have never been lovelier — with baskets of field flowers, fresh flowers in the hair, real blossoms sewn on satin streamers, and plump little nosegay bouquets.

The mood, of course, is unmistakably romantic. Juliet gowns and fresh flower crowns give weddings both a classic medieval beauty and a fresh provincial air.

Gone forever, it seems, is the stiff, formal look. And what a joyful transformation! Imagine the winsome beauty of bridal flower baskets filled with bright blue cornflowers, white and yellow daisies, dainty baby's breath and brilliant red anemones.

Robust and Gay Abandon

The look is fragile and feminine, but the colorful blossoms also impart a feeling of robust and gay abandon. What better atmosphere at a wedding?

Gowns and flowers are designed to compliment one another. The bride who loves field flowers may select an all-white embroidered cotton eyelet gown with tiny ruffles from neck to hemline; or a white dotted Swiss wedding dress boldly cuffed and collared in white organdy, waistline trimmed with a flyaway organdy sash. Maids of honor may wear leghorn hats, and all will carry multi - colored fresh flowers arranged country style in graceful open - ended wicker baskets.

For the bride who prefers a gown that combines white and pale pastels, one designer features yards and yards of shimmering georgette for a skirt, a pale blue satin ribbon sash, and an Emprie bodice embroidered with georgette lilies of the valley. The bride carries a romantic blue and white nosegay — a small, circular bunch of blue cornflowers, fragrant stephanotis, and lilies of the valley. Pale blue satin ribbons — picot-edged—fall gracefully from the tiny bouquet.

Provincial Charm

Another lovely bride wears a flouncy underskirt that peeks from beneath a pinafore of Swiss embroidered silk organza. The bodice is ruffled with more eyelet embroidery, and sashed in pink. Short white gloves and a small natural-colored wicker basket filled with pink sweetheart roses, stephanotis, and tiny snowflake chrysanthemums complete the picture of provincial charm.

This particular bride, incidentally, is stunning in a headdress that strikingly resembles the classic coif of Normandy. A wide pink satin ribbon is tied in a flat bow. Its streamers lay flat on each side of the head, framing the face, and nestled in the very center of the bow atop the head is a single sweetheart rose.

Flower Etiquette

Flower etiquette, has relaxed somewhat in recent years. It is still the general custom — but not an inviolable rule — for the groom to provide all wedding flowers. These include the bride's and bridesmaids' bouquets, flowers for the church and reception, corsages for respective mother-in law, boutonniere's for the groom, best man, ushers and fathers of the bride and groom.

In any event, florists are busy people in spring and summer and there are only four wedding weekends in June! So it is wise to consult directly and clarify arrangements well ahead of time.

Local Music Students Play At Lubbock

The National Federation of Music Clubs held a junior festival recently in Lubbock. Eleven students of Mrs. E. L. Kubala participated and received a superior rating.

Playing for Judge Jack Hendrix were Cherlbeth Campbell, Mary Lynn Crawford, Becki Kidd, Felecia Huddleston, Alice Hollis, Bobbie Harris, Cindy Turner, Paula Parks, Debbie Schlesser, Susan Wallace and Earlyn Perser.

Mazourka

2 eggs
½ cup flour
½ cup sugar
½ cup pitted dates, chopped
½ cup seedless raisins
½ cup dry figs, chopped
½ cup candied fruits, diced
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

Beat the eggs, mix in other ingredients. Put in smallish cupcake papers (spread them sort of in the form of an egg) buttered and lightly sprinkled with flour. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Makes about 15 cakes.

Memoir Comments On War

EAST WIND, RAIN. By Elliott R. Thorpe.

In this World War II memoir the author, now a retired Army general, details his experiences in the Pacific.

In 1941-42 he was an intelligence officer in Java, and nominally a Lend-Lease official.

It happened that the Dutch in Java had an espionage net that gave them a pretty good idea of what the Japanese were up to. But, when Thorpe relayed Dutch information pointing toward Pearl Harbor, he was told abruptly by Washington to mind his own business.

Fleeing the Japanese invasion of Java, he reached Australia in time to join the first nucleus of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Southwest Pacific command, and Thorpe became a chief of counter-intelligence. He is critical of the Australian government in this period, and critical of American policy toward the Dutch.

There follows the story of the slow push northward to New Guinea and to a recapture of the Philippines — and in this episode he describes with some bitterness the problems of sorting out those who had been collaborators with the Japanese.

Finally there is the account of the American occupation of Japan, in which he played a major role as a staff officer for MacArthur.

His portrait of MacArthur as a general is anecdotal and personal. He acknowledges that MacArthur became a controversial figure, and he attempts to be objective in account, but it is clear in the later chapters that he is an advocate of the general as a great man.

Thorpe's story is told in low key and is full of understatements and mild humor about the follies of wartime confusion. It serves as an interesting comment on the war, often deploring the decisions of the White House, the State Department and the Pentagon.

Inconsistencies Abound In Government Inflation Fight

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—While much has been learned in the past decade about regulating the economic cycle, there have been and still remain some serious errors and inconsistencies.

In the early 1960s, for example, voluntary limits were applied to wage and price increases. This was the guidepost policy, and it worked well for a while. Inflation was almost negligible.

It was the government itself that helped destroy this policy. In some instances it approved of increases that exceeded production. And heavy government spending caused relentless inflationary pressure to develop.

In 1966 a credit crunch threatened to plunge the economy into an abyss. It was a manufactured crunch, the result of an administration urging the economy to greater activity while the Federal Reserve was cutting back.

The consequence of those opposite policies was to build economic demand but to deny the economy the money to meet those demands.

This wasn't the only conflict in recent years between the Fed, which controls the availability and to an extent the price of credit, and the administration, which controls fiscal activities such as spending and taxing.

As recently as last year monetary and fiscal policy again were badly out of step with each other. While the administration was taxing money out of the economy, the Fed was pouring it back in.

The well known result of this inconsistency is all about us today. That is, rather than having been cooled, the economy today is growing even hotter and may continue to do so for several months more.

An even greater consequence of this fiscal-monetary clash may lie ahead. That is, in a belated attempt to correct for past errors, a new error could be committed.

The miscalculation would occur if the Fed, feeling that its earlier permissive policy had worsened inflation, were to shut of credit so sharply that a recession occurred.

Another current policy that critics say represents an inconsistency is the 7 per cent investment tax credit. This is meant to be a spur to spending. It's aim is to encourage economic activity.

The stated aim of the Nixon administration, however, is just the opposite—to discourage spending, to slow the economy. In fact, it seeks to extend the 10 per cent surtax on incomes so as to take money out of the economy.

The administration's own wage policy also is being criticized by some as inflationary. Under this policy, government workers are to receive a $2.8 billion or 9 per cent increase later this year.

Junior Editors Quiz on FLOWERS

QUESTION: Why do flowers have such pretty colors?

* * * *

ANSWER: This is a thoughtful question. We all enjoy the radiant color show put on by flowers, but we frequently fail to realize why the colors are there. The colors are there because insects and birds know there is sweet nutritious nectar to be found in flowers. The colors — as well as the fragrance — tell the birds and insects where to go to find the nectar. In getting it, the visitors pick up pollen from one plant and carry it to another, thus aiding in the creation of seeds which will develop into new plants. The petals of flowers show colors because they contain pigments. These are materials which reflect away certain of the colored light rays and appear to be of that color. There are certain colors called complementaries; such as red and green. These opposite colors cause each other to glow more brightly. Why are there so many red flowers? This is because of that same complementary principle. The green grass around the red flower makes it stand out vividly and helps a bird or insect to find it.

Bulletins From Boyle's Mailbag

NEW YORK (AP) —Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Doctors are making fewer home calls than ever. Ten years ago 10.2 per cent of the average physician's contacts with his patients were in their homes. Now it's down to 7.3 per cent, or one out of 30.

How long should a mattress last? A survey found that mattresses in motels averaged 14 years of age, those in hotels 15 years. But some 25 years old were reported—and still bearing up. Mattresses for household use are often guaranteed for 20 years.

A wife feels underprivileged now if she doesn't have at least two bathrooms in her home. But when Queen Victoria ascended the throne of England in 1837, there wasn't a single bathroom in all Buckingham Palace. Servants lugged jars of hot water to the queen's bedroom, where she bathed in a portable tub, just as did the commoners of her day.

Women don't have very high standing among the bushmen in Africa's Kalahari area. They are never taken along on a hunt or even allowed to touch arrows, reports the National Geographic Society. The men fear the women would bring bad luck.

One reason houseflies don't spread more contagion is that they are homebodies. They usually remain for life within a mile of their breeding place.

Fights Suit For USDA

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A lawyer defending the Agriculture Department in federal court Monday said officials in 106 Texas counties decline to ask the federal government for food for hungry families.

The USDA is target of a suit by the Dallas Legal Service Project and is one of 23 similar suits filed across the United States.

The suit says the USDA deprives needy persons of surplus food in the counties.

Witnesses Monday said they are hungry because their counties have neither the federal food stamp program nor the commodity distribution program.

The plaintiffs said the will of Congress is that all poor people needing food should get it, no matter where they live.

Lawyer Ron Pollack said the USDA has not exercised its authority or responsibility to feed the hungry whether the programs are asked for or not.

Lawyers for the other side say the federal government can't give out food unless counties ask for it.

Chamberlain Leads Lakers Back Into NBA Contention

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

OAKLAND (AP)—"We did all the things we had to do," explained Wilt Chamberlain.

Dominating the boards to the fullest extent of his 7-foot-1 ability and scoring more than he had in the first two playoff games together, Chamberlain led the Los Angeles Lakers out of the valley of disaster and back into the middle of the National Basketball Association playoffs Monday night.

Stunned by two straight Western Division post-season defeats to the San Francisco Warriors on their own court, the Lakers broke a close game wide open in the second half and breezed to a 115-98 triumph.

That made the Warriors lead in the series two games to one, with the next game set for the San Francisco Cow Palace Wednesday night and the fifth in Los Angeles on Friday.

In Western Division playoff action tonight, Atlanta, which has won two straight from San Diego, meets the Rockets in San Diego in the Eastern Division, Boston, with a 3-0 lead over Philadelphia, meets the 76ers on the Celtics' home court. New York, leading its series with three wins over Baltimore in as many playoff games meets the Bullets next in New York on Wednesday.

There were no American Basketball Association games on Monday night's schedule.

Playing quite unlike the team that had brought the Lakers to the brink of elimination, the Warriors may have suffered a fate even worse than the loss of the game. The status of their hot-shooting guard Jeff Mullins is now in doubt for the rest of the series.

Mullins collided with Laker forward Bill Hewitt just 37 seconds into the game and was out for the first quarter. When he finally returned, it was with his left knee and he played only half the game, scoring seven points.

"It's touch and go if I can play Wednesday," diagnosed Mullins, who suffered a severe charlie horse with some internal bleeding. He will undergo treatment with team physician Dr. James Raggio in a San Francisco hospital today.

Nate Thurmond led the Warriors with 22 points, but lost the rebounding battle to Chamberlain 28-20. Wilt scored in the first game of the series and only in the second, but threw in 22 this time around, only three less than team leader Jerry West.

Trailing 45-43 at the half the Lakers broke up the game in the third period with 41 points, 13 by West and 10 by guard Johnny Egan. Then when the Warriors narrowed the gap to nine points in the final period, the Lakers reeled off 10 straight points, six by Hewitt, to settle things.

"The ball seemed to go in this time," said Laker Coach Bill van Breda Kolff. "It didn't in the first two games. We were up for this game. We had to be."

Warrior coach George Lee said his club had suffered a natural let-down after the first two upset victories.

"The fourth game is the big one," he said. "Big for us and big for them."

Barry Has Best Average

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Only the field goal and free throw accuracy titles are undecided with four days left of the 1968-69 American Basketball Association season.

League statistics released Monday showed Oakland's Rick Barry, who has missed over half the season due to injuries, has won the scoring average with a mark of 34.0 points per game.

Defending champion Connie Hawkins of Minnesota is runner-up with a 30.3 average.

Larry Jones of Denver has clinched the total point crown. Figures through games Sunday credited Jones with 2,099 points in 74 contests for a 28.4 average. His average ranks third in the league.

Bill McGill and Julian Hammon of Denver and Oakland's Jim Eakins are vying for field goal shooting honors.

Barry, Bob Lloyd of New York and Tony Jackson of Houston are closely bunched for the best free throw accuracy.

Three of last year's individual champions have repeat titles wrapped up.

Mel Daniels of Indiana leads in rebounding with a 16.6 average.

Larry Brown of Oakland is the top player with 7.1 assists per game.

SWC Nines Vie Today

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baylor and Southern Methodist will try to improve on the Southwest Conference's intersectional baseball record today after winning once in three games Monday.

Baylor yielded to Lamar Tech 3-2 and will meet the Cards in a single game today.

SMU nipped Kansas State 1-0 in the opener but was smothered 13-1 in the second game of the doubleheader. The Methodists play Missouri a single game today.

Shortstop Triny Rivera made a leaping catch in the top of the ninth that led to a double play and retired the side to stop a Baylor rally.

Billy Jenkins scored SMU's winning run when K-State catcher Barry Herron overthrew third base. David Grass smacked a three-run double to ignite K-State to a 7-run fourth inning in the second game.

Bo, Boston, Start Season From Scratch

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

With the opening of the major league baseball season a week away, the Boston Red Sox are starting from scratch. So is Bo Belinsky.

Manager Dick Williams, complaining his Red Sox were "goofin' up and not playing baseball," yanked his players from the field Monday during an intrasquad game and let them know who's boss.

"We'll start from scratch," he said after a 10-minute lecture in the clubhouse.

Belinsky, the playboy pitcher who has bounced around four major league clubs, found out from General Manager Bing Devine of the St. Louis Cardinals that he'll start from scratch, too.

The Cards asked waivers on the 32-year-old left-hander and said they'll decide today or Wednesday whether to assign Belinsky to the Cards' Tulsa farm club.

"The Astros told me they don't want him back," Devine said.

Later, the Chicago White Sox, helped by two key hits from rookie Bill Melton, defeated the Cards 5-3 in an exhibition game. Melton raised his spring average to .406 with a first-inning double that drove in one run and a single in the fifth that started another rally.

The Red Sox confined their action to the practice field at Winter Haven, Fla. Their scheduled game with Washington was one of five cancellations because of the national day of mourning for the late President Eisenhower. Also canceled were Kansas City-New York Yankees, Pittsburgh-Baltimore, Philadelphia-Minnesota and Atlanta-Detroit.

The other games started late because of the Eisenhower funeral. The New York Mets blanked Cincinnati 3-0 and San Deigo defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-3.

The San Francisco-Cleveland game was called because of darkness after eight innings and a 5-5 tie. The Oakland-California game was also called because of darkness, with Oakland in front 7-1 after six innings.

Jim McAndrew scattered seven hits over the first seven innings and picked up his fourth exhibition victory as the Mets trimmed the Reds. McAndrew, 4-1 this spring, lowered his earned run average to 0.93 before giving away to Ron Taylor, who completed the shutout with three scoreless innings of relief.

Four San Diego homers helped the Padres break a five-game losing streak. Ollie Brown tagged two homers, his sixth and seventh of the spring; Clarence Gaston hit a two-run homer; and Nate Colbert stroked one with none aboard.

Rich Scheinblum's first home run of the exhibition season boosted Cleveland into a tie with San Francisco. Willie McCovey's two-run homer, his third of the spring, had given the Giants a 5-4 lead.

Oakland pitcher John "Blue Moon" Odom held the Angeles to three hits.

Tiger 9 Hosts Estacado Today

Snyder's Tigers, sporting a 14-2-1 season record, go after their second District 3-AAA baseball triumph on the Towle Park diamond at 4 p.m. today with Lubbock Estacado providing the opposition.

The Matadors are 0-1 in loop play, having dropped a tilt to Brownfield.

Coach Speedy Moffett has made a few changes in the starting alignment for the Tigers. Probable starters, according to batting order, were listed as follows:

Ronny Lewis ss, Wesley Bishop 1b, Steve Holder rf, Jim Patrick p, Jodi Williamson cf, Richie Thompson 2b, David McGinnis lf, Larry Wall c, and Stewart Sims 3b.

The Tigers also are slated to meet Lubbock Dunbar there Friday at 2 p.m. in another district tilt scheduled for this week.

Other SHS sports teams will be on the road unless the golf team hosts a practice meet. The tennis team was scheduled to compete in the annual Easter Invitational Tournament at Abilene Friday and Saturday while the track boys were to enter the Mustang Relays at Andrews Friday.

Lamar Lashes Lamesa Thrice

Lamar Junior High made another clean sweep here yesterday, trouncing Lamesa's volleyball teams in three matches.

Lamar 9th won 15-9, 15-7; the Texan 8th grade, "A" team won 15-12, 15-8; and, the Lamar 8th grade, "B" team won 17-15, 16-14.

The matches closed the season for Lamar. The 9th grade won every game except the ones with Big Spring teams. Each of the 8th grade teams had 6-2 records.

Area B Teams Vie Here Today

IDALOU — Two Fluvanna Junior High students set new records in the Track Meet held here last weekend.

Marsha Talley shattered the 220 yard dash standard with a 25.8 clocking. The old record of 26.1 had been set by Patti Block of Sunray last year.

Also in the B Division, Fluvanna's Pam Shoemaker established a new mark in the hop, skip and jump with a distance of 30-6. An 8th grade student, Pam bettered the old record of 17-10½, set in 1966 by Beddingfield of Panhandle.

The Class B teams of this area were to have a track meet here today in Tiger Stadium. The meet will have divisions for both boys and girls. Competition will be on both high school and junior high school level.

Bruce Land, coach of the Fluvanna team, is a former co-holder of the world 100 dash record of 9.2 seconds.

Racers Dig Up "Babs"

By GLENN GOODEY

PENDINE, Wales (AP) — A racing car called Babs, buried 42 years ago after a fatal attempt on the world's land speed record, has been exhumed from its grave under a Welsh sand dune.

One and a half ton Babs—once the fastest car in the world—crashed at more than 170 miles per hour on Pendine Sands, Carmarthenshire in 1927.

World champion driver Jeffrey Parry Thomas was trying to set a land-speed record when the car's chain drive broke. In the crash the chain decapitated Thomas.

Villagers from the nearby village of Pendine buried the car under a sand dune and it became something of a shrine.

This year people were angry when Owen Wyn Owen, a Welsh lecturer, wanted to recover the wreckage and restore it. After petitions and public meetings, however, they agreed to his request.

On Sunday a mechanical digger cracked the nine inches of concrete under which Babs was buried and Owen carefully finished the work with a hand trowel.

The blue and white car, 20-feet-long and with a 400 horsepower aero-engine, was found lying on its side eight feet down. Only one wheel remained, parts of the aluminium body had rotted away.

But Owen hopes to restore Babs to working order and put it on display in Pendine. "I am convinced this famous car can be restored." He said. "It is even possible we might get it to run again."

Thomas, the son of a North Wales vicar, was fiercely contesting the world land speed record with Malcolm Campbell when he was killed at the age of 42.

Campbell broke the record at 146 m.p.h. on the seven-mile stretch of sands. Two years later, he pushed the speed up to 150 m.p.h.

Thomas snatched the record with a speed of 169 mp.h. in 1926 and later broke his own record with a drive of 171 m.p.h.

Campbell returned later in 1926 and clocked 174 m.p.h. And Thomas was killed trying to regain the title.

Vie Gets New Job

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Vic Bubas made the switch from head basketball coach to special assistant to the chancellor of Duke University today.

Bubas will be working directly under Dr. Barnes Woodhall, recently named chancellor pro-tem. He will assume much of the responsibility for the internal affairs of the university.

Alcindor Spurns More Cage Cash

By BOB KERR

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lew Alcindor is putting all his chips on the National Basketball Association.

For the first five years of his professional career it could cost him just under $2 million.

The 21-year-old, three-time All-American UCLA center turned down a $3.25-million five-year contract offer from the American Basketball Association to negotiate with the NBA which has offered him just more than a million dollars for a similar period.

"Lew decided to fulfill his moral obligation given in New York to the Milwaukee club," was the only comment Monday of his adviser, Sam Gilbert.

Gilbert, a Los Angeles contractor, said Alcindor would begin private negotiations with the NBA and the Milwaukee Bucks by Wednesday.

Gilbert said the decision to rule out the ABA offer was made Monday after Alcindor received a telegram from ABA Commissioner George Mikan. The telegram, Gilbert said, outlined an offer made by the ABA last week.

Mikan detailed the ABA plum last Saturday as he waved a million dollars cashier's check in the air at a news conference.

He said the offer including the million dollars, a $500,000 bonus, five per cent of the stock in the New York Nets, an annuity payment of $65,200 for 20 years beginning at the age 41, and 10 per cent of the ABA national television contracts totaling at least $500,000.

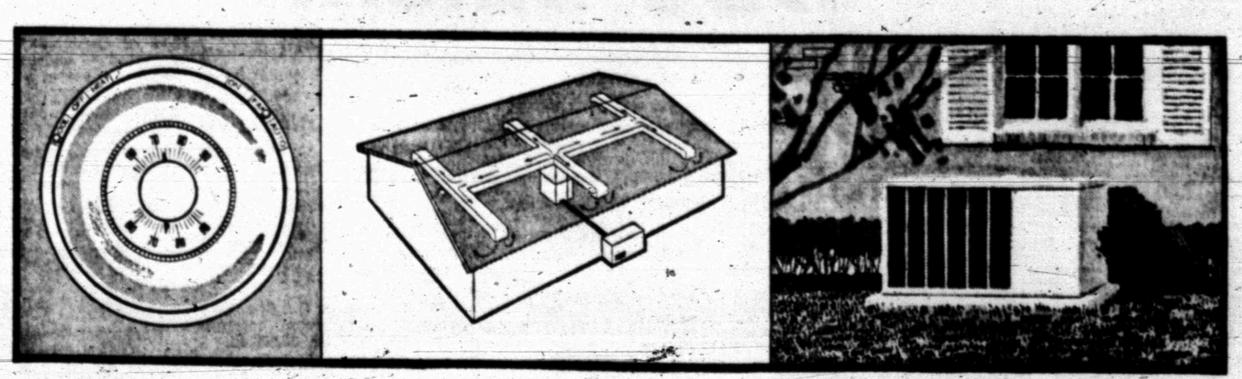

Although details of the NBA offer never have been made public, it is reported to be about $1.4 million.

Officials of the Bucks were reported to be on the way to Los Angeles. A spokesman said the club hopes to sign Alcindor by Wednesday.

BLACK MILITANTS GROWING

SDS Playing Second Fiddle

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Students for a Democratic Society, a major promoter of college revolts, is playing second fiddle to black militants on a growing number of campuses.

From Boston to Berkeley, Negro students are shunning the virtually all-white SDS to follow black leaders whose success in provoking violent confrontations has frequently relegated SDS activists to a supporting role.

Competition from black radicals for student support developed at a particularly inopportune time for the SDS.

While SDS remains a dominant force in the radical youth movement, it is plagued by internal conflicts, and the Paris peace talks have muted its favorite rallying cry—opposition to the Vietnam war.

A nationwide examination of SDS' role in the onrushing wave of student disorders revealed that:

—Despile its troubles, it remains by far the largest of the "New Left" groups with a claimed membership of 70,000 —double what its leaders claimed a year ago.

—Federal and state investigators are taking a close look at SDS activities as officials from the White House down move to curb campus violence.

SDS members are taking a more aggressive stance on racial issues as antiwar protests arouse fewer and fewer students to action.

—SDS is being wracked by a dispute over tactics. The dominant faction wants to emphasie enlisting high school students in the radical cause, but a minority in the leadership wants to work toward forgoing an alliance between students and blue collar workers.

Even with the increase in size —which government investigators accept as possible—SDS membership is less than 2 per cent of the nation's 6 million college students.

Investigators say, too, that nonstudents are responsible for stirring up trouble at some campuses. "This has gone beyond the pale of student demonstration," says Atty. Gen. John Mitchell. "These are the acts of militants who are entering upon a conspiracy."

President Nixon, in his statement last weekend on campus disorders, made no reference to a conspiracy, but many educators agree with Mitchell that the turmoil is part of a nationwide plan.

"A number of people have been recognized here who have been seen at other campus disturbances across the country," said San Francisco State College President S. I. Hayakawa.

Hayakawa wouldn't link the roving agitators with SDS, but said "we have documentary proof that the Students for a Democratic Society in Chicago offered financial help to keep the trouble going."

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says SDS works "constantly in furtherance of the aims and objectives of the Communist party throughout the nation." But Hoover adds that "to simply identify them as Moscow or Peking communists would be missing the point."

"To put it bluntly," he told a congressional committee, "They are a new type of subversive and their danger is great."

From an organizational standpoint, SDS has none of the strong discipline and powerful central authority typical of traditional Communist groups. Local chapters sometimes pay little heed to national headquarters, and often loudly criticize decisions of national officers. Meetings tend to wander aimlessly, and generally break up in discord.

SDS leaders boast that they don't exclude Communists from membership, but Carl Davidson, former national secretary, says their influence is minimal. "I could probably count the Communist party members in SDS on my fingers," he said.

While officially unconcerned with any Red image, the SDS is troubled by its reputation as a white man's movement. "Thre is little black participation in SDS," said Alfred Kazin, a leader of the Harvard chapter.

An SDS member at the University of Wisconsin, scene of massive demonstrations by Negro students that brought National Guardsmen onto campus, conceded that "The blacks ran the show here—we just supported them."

And at San Francisco State, an aide to Hayakawa said "the SDS people have been visible, but the blacks have kept them under their thumb."

SDS' Southern California regional council also acknowledged recently that minority students "to an increasing degree have taken the initiative in, and the leadership of, campus struggles."

"SDS has found itself in a position of uncertainty and doubt . . ." the council said in a paper it adopted.

Black radicals and SDS members differ on both tactics and goals.

Before the San Francisco State violence hit its peak, Negro activist Jack Alexis told a campus newspaper: "If SDS sticks with its same tactics we may have to leave SDS out. We've seen at Columbia, Berkeley and here that SDS mobilizes people and leaves them hanging there. . ."

As for objectives, Harvard Dean Fred L. Glimp summed up the differences this way:

"In a sense, the blacks want a piece of the action. The SDS kids want to stop the action."

While its relationship with black students dominates discusion within SDS, national secretary Mike Klonsky says members face an even more "crucial ideological decision—that of determinihg its direction with regards to the working class."

"Students alone cannot and will not be able to bring about the downfall of capitalism, the system which is the root of man's oppression," said the short, bespectacled San Fernando College graduate. ". . . our struggles must be integrated into the struggles of working people."

In a resolution narrowly adopted at a December meeting, Klonsky said SDS members "should direct the focus of their energies to organizing" high schools, junior colleges, "working-class colleges" and trade schools.

The document added: "Some of us should move into factories and shops as well as into working class communities, to better understand the material oppression of industrial workers, as well as to eradicate prejudices against workers."

Progressive Labor, a sizeable SDS faction, contended Klonsky's resolution didn't put enough emphasis on building a student-worker alliance, and argued that "a nationally organized thrust is needed to make the strategy of a worker-student alliance a reality."

An attempt by one of SDS' three national secretaries to print a student-worker alliance pamphlet at the SDS print shop provoked a sharp clash with the other two secretaries—and demonstrated the depth of SDS' factional disputes.

Education Secretary Fred Gordon's plan was vetoed by the other two national secretaries, Klonsky and Bernardine Dohrn. Gordon, infuriated, carried the dispute before the SDS National Council, charging political suppression. The council voted to authorize printing 15,000 of the pamphlets, but with an introductory sentence saying, "These are the political views of one tendency within SDS."

To the dismay of educators and parents—but the delight of SDS organizers—there appears to be growing activism among high school students.

A survey indicated SDS' high school organizing efforts were meeting only limited success—in such cities as Los Angeles, Denver, Columbus, New York and Boston—but college administrators say each crop of incoming freshmen seems to be more radical than its predecessor.

"There's no doubt about it," said a University of Wisconsin official. "They come on campus ready to protest."

He cited a major demonstration at Madison last September against the Reserve Officers Training Corps. "It came during freshmen orientation week," he said. "The only students on campus were freshmen. Three days after they got here they had organized and were demonstrating."

Lodge Notes Slow Gains At Paris

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge says some slow progress has been made at the Vietnam peace talks, citing as evidence the fact that all the participants are "sitting around the same table and talking."

Lodge also does not believe a military victory is possible for either side, thus making a negotiated settlement the only alternative.

"For the first time in the history of the war, the key belligerents on both sides are meeting face to face," the chief U.S. representative at the Paris peace talks said in a weekend interview. We now have a structure here in Paris to exchange views with the other side . . . Through the exchange of statements and rebuttals, each side is learning what is important to the other side."

Lodge refused to answer questions about secret meetings, prospects for a more flexible Communist position, the possibility of a Soviet role in a settlement, or whether mutual withdrawal of foreign forces from South Vietnam is possible without an admission by Hanoi that it has troops there.

But he spelled out the Nixon administration's basic policy position—that the United States is not seeking a military victory in Vietnam, is ready for "serious negotiations" toward a political solution, and wants to reduce the scale of hostilities as soon as possible.

"As regards withdrawal of troops, we have made clear our readiness in discussing the mutual withdrawal of all non-South Vietnamese forces from South Vietnam. These various withdrawals could begin simultaneously," Lodge said.

"As for political matters, we have always recognized that a satisfactory way to bring out the participation of the National Liberation Front in the political life of South Vietnam is pertinent to an over-all settlement and can be discussed in Paris."

Stranded Motorist Rescued, Arrested

OXNARD, Calif. (AP) — Guadalupe Lomas' car broke down early Monday so, like many stranded motorists, he flagged down a passing car.

The occupants, highway patrol officers Frank Frede and Edward Dockery, pushed the car into a service station.

The station was closed and, and officers noted, had been broken into.

Glancing into Lomas' car, the officers said later, they saw batteries, oil cans, tools and cash.

The officers called local police, who booked the 24-year old laborer on suspicion of burglary.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — Why is it so important to use the form with the label on it?

A — Using the form with the pre-addressed label will help avoid errors in processing your return.

The label lists your name, address and Social Security number just as it appears in our files. Experience shows that when taxpayers write in this information themselves frequently they forget to list their Social Security number or enter it inaccurately. Also, handwritten numbers are harder to read and mistakes occur when a taxpayer writes a "7" that looks like a "9", for example.

Q — I'm moving next month. What can I do to avoid any delay in my refund because of a change of address?

A — If you move before the refund arrives be certain you leave a forwarding address with the Post Office. Then the refund can be delivered to your new address.

Taxpayers who expect to get refunds but have put off filing their returns can get fast service if they file now. Returns mailed in March can be processed and the refund issued in 5-6 weeks if the return is accurate and complete.

Q — I live some distance from my job and as a result drive over 300 miles a week just back and forth to work. Can I deduct anything for this?

A — Commuting is considered a personal expense under the tax laws and no deduction is allowed for it. If you itemize your deductions, however, you may deduct the state and local gas taxes you pay.

On page 8 of the 1040 instructions you will find a table that will be helpful in figuring this deduction.

Q — Are tips taxable?

A — Yes, they are. Cash tips of $20 or more that you receive in a month while working for any one employer should be reported to that employer. This will enable your employer to withhold social security and income taxes on the tips from your regular salary.

Q —We supported our daughter until she married in December. Can we claim her as a dependent?

A — If your daughter does not file a joint return with her husband and the other dependency tests were met, you may claim her as a dependent. However, she would not be disqualified if she and her husband file jointly only to obtain a refund and were not required to file returns.

Q — I was told that the money your company pays you when you're out sick is not taxable. Is that right?

A — It depends on how much you received in pay from an employer financed sick pay plan for the time you were out. If your company paid you over 75 percent of your regular salary while you were sick there is a 30-day waiting period. After it expires you may exclude up to $100 a week from your income as sick pay.

If you received 75 percent or less of your regular pay, there is a 7-day waiting period. Then you may exclude up to $75 a week. After 30 days, you may exclude up to $100 a week as sick pay. If you had been hospitalized, there is no seven-day waiting period.

This provision of the law is explained at greater length in the 1040 instructions so be sure to check them if you think you are entitled to claim this exclusion.

Q — I want to itemize my deductions this year and therefore can't use the 1040A I got in the mail. Where can I get the long form?

A — Tax forms are available at many banks and post offices as well as at local offices of the IRS.

Q — Why is it so important for my wife to sign our joint return since all the income is mine?

A — A tax return is a legal document and on joint returns the signature of both husband and wife are required.

Q — Are dividends from a savings and loan account considered dividends or interest?

A — This income should be reported as interest on Page 2 of Form 1040.

Q — Withholding covered my 1968 income tax. Do I still have to file a return?

A — Whether you owe additional taxes is not the determining factor. If your gross income was $600 or more, or $1,200 if you are 65 or older, you must file.

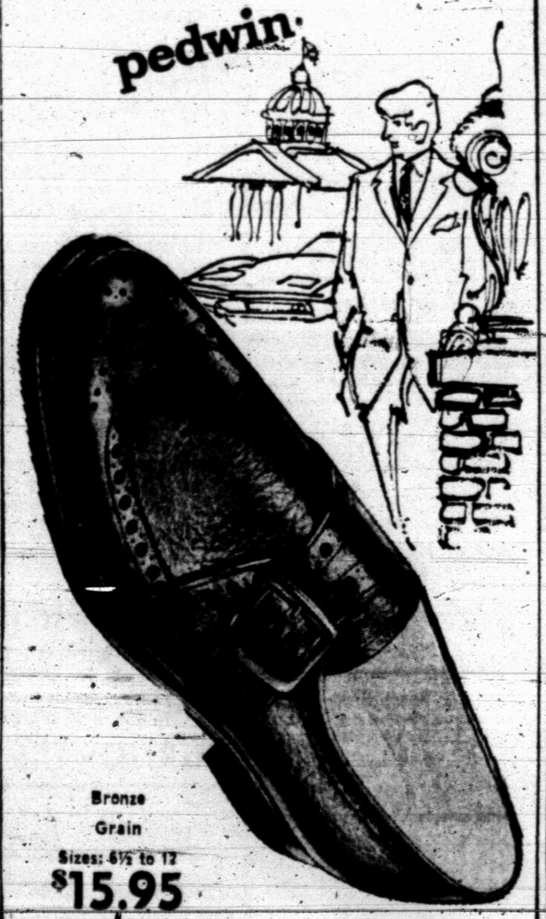

If you had uncollected social security tax on tips or are self-employed and had net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more, you must file a return even if your gross income was less than $600.

Death May Mean New Ray Trial

By DOUG STONE

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Judge W. Preston Battle has died of a heart attack, raising the possibility that James Earl Ray may get the trial by jury he now says he wants.

The 60-year-old jurist was found dead in his chambers Monday night. On March 10 he had accepted Ray's plea of guilty to the murder of Martin Luther King Jr. and sentenced him to 99 years in prison.

Later Judge Battle disclosed Ray had written from the state penitentiary advising that he wanted to withdraw his plea and stand trial.

Charles Galbreath, a Tennessee Appeals Court judge, said today that if the letter is construed as a motion for a new trial, the state would have to give Ray one.

Galbreath said such a motion could be granted under state law if the trial judge dies or is judged insane while the case is pending.

In the case of a petition for a writ of habeas corpus where a prisoner claims his rights were denied, Tennessee Supreme Court Chief Justice Hamilton Burnett said Battle's death would have no effect on the case.

"It makes no difference at all," Burnett said, adding that a petition of this kind could be filed with another judge.

Criminal Court Clerk James A. Blackwell said that no motion for a new trial nor a writ of habeas corpus was on file in his office. He did not speculate on how Ray's letter might be interpreted.

Blackwell said Ray would almost certainly have been entitled to a new trial if Battle had not signed the minutes of the March 10 hearing where the guilty plea was made. But Blackwell said tha. was a detail the judge had completed.

Battle's body was found by James Beasley, an assistant district attorney general who was one of the prosecutors in Ray's case.

Beasley said he had tried unsuccessfully to reach Battle during the afternoon and noticed lights still on in the chambers in the Criminal Court-county jail building when leaving for home.

"I just thought something might be wrong," said Beasley. He said he opened the door to the chambers and found Battle slumped over his desk.

A heart attack was given as the cause of death after an autopsy by Dr. Jerry T. Francisco, the same county medical examiner who did the postmortem on King.

The county's four other criminal judges, along with city and county homicide officers, spent several hours in Battle's chambers late Monday night. They emerged with boxes filled with papers which a court official said would be locked in a safe.

"We don't want Ray to tell us later he wrote something to Judge Battle and it disappeared," said Beasley.

Boston's Dock Strike Is Ended

BOSTON (AP) — The longest dock strike in the history of the port of Boston is over.

Striking longshoremen, off the job for 102 days, Monday voted 4-1 to accept a three-year contract providing increases of $160 in wages and fringe benefits.

The port, closed since Dec. 20 when the 1,500 longshoremen struck, is expected to reopen at 8 a.m. Wednesday.

Two other locals representing clerks and line handlers have scheduled meetings today to consider ratification, but no difficulty was expected since their negotiators are recommending approval.

Longshoremen had been receiving $2.33 an hour. Under the new contract, retroactive to Oct. 1, they will receive in the first year 38 cents an hour increase in wages, 10 cents more for pensions and 5 cents for welfare.

In the second year, the agreement calls for increases of 25 cents an hour in wages, 13 cents for pensions and 5 cents for welfare. In the third year there will be additional increases of 35, 5 and 8 cents in these categories, bringing the hourly wage in the third year to $3.31.

The rest of the $1.60 hourly package goes into vacation and holiday pay.

SCOUT EXPOSITION — Hawaii, the Fiftieth State, was the theme of the exhibit by Pack 37 at the Boy Scout Exposition here Saturday. The group is sponsored by the West Elementary P-TA.

RESPECT FLAG — A history of the American Flag was the theme of Pack 61's exhibit at the Boy Scout Exposition, held in the Towle Park barn Saturday. North Elementary P-TA sponsors this pack.
