Management Changes Announced at City State

City State Bank officials announced this week management and ownership changes at the bank.

Voting control of majority stock in the holding company that owns City State and Security State Bank in Hedley has been transferred to Don Donaldson of Bartlesville, Oklahoma. At the same time, Donaldson was named vice chairman of the board and chief executive officer at City State.

Donaldson is president of Union Bank and Trust in Bartlesville.

Richard Fourmentin will remain as bank president, and the local advisory board will remain in place.

Donaldson will acquire ownership of almost all the holding company's stock over a several-year period from Jim Diamond, who, before the transaction, was the company's principal shareholder. Diamond is also from Bartlesville.

City State will receive management and consulting services from Union Bank and Trust, a bank with assets of $140 million. Bill Gillespie, Union Bank Vice president, was in Wellington this week with Donaldson, and Gillespie will be working closely with City State.

"We're in a position at Union Bank to offer consultation and advice to City State," Donaldson said, "but we will rely heavily on the local board and the advisory board for the actual operation of the bank."

"We're pleased with the association, and we're looking forward to getting to work."

In addition to Donaldson and Fourmentin, City State bank officers are June Owens, assistant vice president, and Glenna Hernandez, cashier.

Directors, in addition to Donaldson and Fourmentin, are Louis Allfed and Jim Diamond

Advisory board members are Cliff Hartman, chairman, Wayne Cudd, Ralph Owens, Raymond Ward, John Robert Henard, Earl Patterson, and William O'rear.

City State employees are Vaneita Null, head bookkeeper, Margaret Carroll, Kristy Barton, Laverne McCann, Jane Nall, and Toni Cummings.

School Votes 10% Tax Rate Hike

Wellington School Board approved a budget and voted to raise the school tax rate 10 percent at regular school board meeting, Monday, August 8.

The board voted unanimously to set the tax rate at $1.06 per $100 valuation, up a dime from last year's 96 cent rate.

88 cents of the $1.06 goes to local maintenance. 18 cents of the levy pays the school's building bond indebtedness.

The budget approved by the board totals $1,516,821, up 5 percent from last year's budget of $1,439,949.

A 10 percent tax rate hike was necessary to fund a 5 percent budget increase because the district's tax valuations are down from last year. Most of the decrease comes from bank capital not being included on the tax roll. Local tax officials are still awaiting instructions from the state on how to tax bank stock in the wake of a recent federal court decision. The district also lost valuations because of additional homestead, over-65 and veterans exemptions and because the remainder of farm equipment has been eliminated from the tax roll.

Figuring a 94 percent collection rate, the school will collect $544,538 in local taxes, a little more than a third of its budget. The remainder of the budget is funded by state and federal funds. State funding is up, and federal funding is down this year.

If current estimates prove correct, the district will actually collect less local tax money this year than last, because the loss in valuations will cut the levy more than the tax rate hike will raise it.

In other business, the board approved a student handbook as proposed. An amendment to allow girls to wear sleeveless blouses failed 3 to 2.

The board also accepted Langford Conoco's bid of 95.5 cents per gallon regular gasoline, $25/case 10W40 oil, $22/case 30W oil, and $2.95/gallon anti-freeze for the coming year. The board also accepted Jerry Mc Carty's milk bid of half pint white 16.65 cents; half pint chocolate 17.65 cents; half pint low fat white 16.15 cents; and half pint low fat chocolate 16.65 cents.

The board set lunch room prices at 95 cents for grades 6 through 12 and 85 cents for grades K through 5.

The meal charge for school employees is $1.50 and non-school personnel is $1.75.

The board also transferred title to a pickup to Rodney Myrick. Myrick had previously purchased the pickup from the school.

The board voted to continue coverage with the same employee health insurance company that it used last year, and it voted to provide catastrophic health insurance for students participating in UIL events. The board tabled for further consideration a property insurance proposal from the Texas Association of School Boards.

Supt. Kenneth McKay told the board that a random 3 percent of the free and reduced lunch applications would be verified this year in compliance with federal guidelines.

Present were board members Kirby Campbell, Reed Souder, Frances Schmidt, Bill Spillman, Dan Langford and John Barton. Carroll Nunnelley was absent.

First Call Made for Fun Fair Booths

Loretta Wright, Fun Fair chairman in the upcoming Collingsworth County Fair, has announced preliminary plans for the 2nd annual fun event, again slated in Ellison Park. The date is Saturday, Sept. 10.

"We need entries for more booths and games," she declared and urged that organizations and groups take part.

"If anyone needs suggestions, we have some and we will be glad to work them out with you," she said.

The second annual chili cook-off is already scheduled with Henry Wells again serving as cook-off chairman, Mrs. Wright announced.

Other events that are already slated for the Fun Fair are the bed races, bucket brigade, Cub Scouts games such as 3-legged race, sack race and others.

A number of food booths are also definite.

These will include tacos, hot dogs, home made ice cream, home made pies, brownies, and rice crispie treats. There will be Kool Aid and Lemonade stands, and Collingsworth General Hospital Auxiliary will have a cold drink booth.

Anyone wanting information or who wishes to enter one of the events should contact Mrs. Wright at 447-2707 or Margaret Vines at the Chamber of Commerce, 447-5848.

Mrs. Wright reminded those planning to enter the bed race and bucket brigade that both need 6-member teams.

Mrs. Wright returned last week after being with her husband and their wheat combines north through Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas. County fairs are already being held in these states and Mrs. Wright visited a number of these, talking with chairmen and searching for new ideas that could be applied here.

"People and their enthusiasm are what makes a fair, and we are looking for even more enthusiastic efforts this year than last," she declared.

OM Reunion Set Saturday

The annual OM Community reunion will be held Saturday, August 20, at Hall Lake in Harmon County, according to D.C. Thomason, vice-president.

Hall Lake is located 12 miles north of Hollis on Oklahoma Highway 30, with a road sign marking the entry.

Those going from the Wellington vicinity should drive east on State Highway 203 17 miles to the intersection with Oklahoma Highway 30 turn south on Highway 30 for about 5 miles, to the highway sign.

Those attending should bring a basket lunch, which will be served at 12 noon. The remainder of the time will be available for visiting.

Ivan Argo of OM is president of the reunion and Levenia Conaway of Hollis is secretary.

Along with McKnight, Tea Cross and Bitter Creek communities, OM is one of the oldest communities in Harmon County, Thomason said.

His mount was an 8-year-old gelding, Shorty.

He competed in a class of 50, coming from across the state.

Accompanying Williams were Extension Agent Don Reeves, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Williams; Bill Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Gano Wilson and Dale Morris.

Williams has been a 4-H Horse Club member 6 years and this is the third consecutive year he has competed in the state event.

This will be his last show, as he graduated from Wellington High School this spring.

Saied Heads Wichita Medical Society

Wichita County Medical Society recently elected Dr. V.C. Saied president for the coming term.

He succeeded Dr. Erwin F. Soell. Also elected were Dr. D.C. Bondurant, president elect, and Dr. Richard N. Sutton, secretary-treasurer.

A native of Wellington, Dr. Saied is the brother of Mack Saied and the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Mack Saied, Sr.

Saied is a University of Texas and University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston graduate. He is on the staff at Wichita General and Bethania hospitals and is an anesthesiologist.

He is also a Diplomate of American Board of Anesthesiology and an American College of Anesthesiologist fellow.

He is past secretary-treasurer and former president of Wichita General's staff and served as the society's secretary-treasurer during 1980 and 1981.

For recreation, he plays in The Mad Medics, a jazz group widely known through North Texas for their music.

As president of the Wichita County Medical Society, Saied inaugurated Your Doctors Report, a column which appears each Sunday in the Wichita Falls Times.

"A more active role in fulfilling this obligation was pledged by our medical society early this year. With the cooperation of the news media, civic clubs and church groups, we intend to work toward this goal, which should only improve the health and health care of our citizens."

Plans for the column were worked out with James D. Lonergan, publisher of the Times and Record News, and Don James, the executive editor.

Saied presented the first article in the series, and other Wichita County physicians have followed.

He paid tribute to Wichita Falls physicians of generations past, who gained respect for the present generation of doctors by their "dedicated personal and caring attention to their patients...to their patients' personal problems as well as their medical problems...to the concerns and problems of their families...In other words, to patients as people, as individuals. We must realize that if we don't carry on these principles in our practices, we can only lose the respect and trust of our patients.

After citing medical changes and technological advances, Saied continued:

"We have to be aware of the fact that our patients want and expect these technical advancements in medicine, but what they really want and need is a physician who cares and who they can trust to ensure that they get these advancements."

DevelopmentAct Available

College Station--Texas now has a means of financing agricultural enterprises through public nonprofit corporations created by county governments.

The procedure is outlined in the Agricultural Development Act recently passed by the state legislature, says Dr. Forrest Stegelin, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Purpose of the Act is to provide financial assistance for the development and expansion of agricultural industries and agribusinesses in Texas.

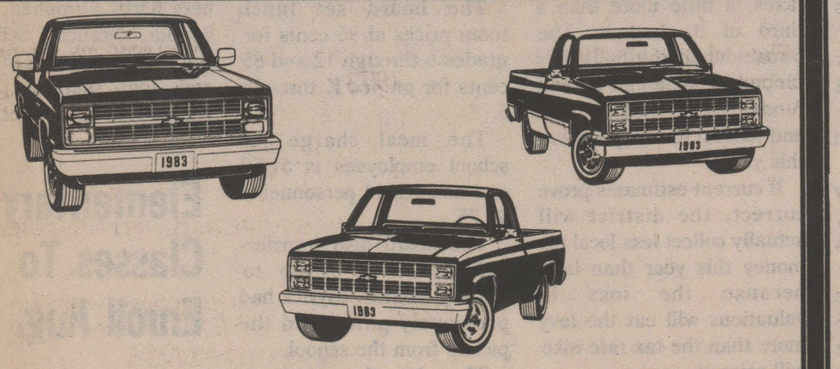

A major reason for the legislation was to combat the high cost and lack of loans for farmers and ranchers. This has caused a drop in productivity and has hampered the abilities of producers and agribusinesses to acquire equipment and technical processes, notes Stegelin. Consequently, producers and agribusinesses have neither maintained high employment nor increased their employment.

Producers have also found it difficult to join the cooperative development of agricultural industries and enterprises that could increase the value of their products, increase their access to consumer markets and spur the development of new products.

The Agricultural Development Act encourages an increase of agricultural economic activity by authorizing counties to create public nonprofit corporations for financing agricultural enterprises, explains the economist.

The agricultural enterprise must be owned either by cooperatives licensed by the Texas Department of Agriculture of firms, partnerships or private or public corporations in which agricultural producers have majority control. These producers must provide the products or by-products required as the raw material, feedstuff or commodity which will be either assembled, packaged, processed, marketed or transported, Stegelin explains.

At any time, at least three residents of the county where the business shall exist may file a written application with the Commissioners Court for the creation of the nonprofit corporation. Only one corporation may be created by each county under the Act but a corporation may serve more than one county, notes the economist. Such a corporation is tax exempt and can be financed through bond sales.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

CONSERVATION TILLAGE & WHEAT PRODUCTION

As farmers start to get wheat land ready for the next crop, they need to consider several tillage alternatives, including conservation tillage.

In dryland wheat production systems, stubble mulch tillage may be used successfully. Adequate plant residues maintained on the surface after harvest can minimize wind and water erosion and increase soil moisture through reduced runoff and evaporation losses. These benefits are lost if crop residues are burned or plowed under. Tillage operations which invert the soil bury protective residues and cause high soil moisture losses.

Farmers can maintain adequate amounts of initial crop residue by careful selection of tillage operations. Tillage implements vary greatly in their effects on surface resides. Research at Bushland has shown that wide-blade sweeps or rod weeders reduce surface residues by about 10 percent. However, chisel plows, subsoilers or sweep cultivators bury about 25 percent of surface residues. Each disking operation will cover about 50 percent of surface residues while moldboard or disk plows will reduce surface residue levels by 90 percent.

Tillage pans or compaction layers in some soils restrict plant rooting depth and soil moisture movement. Compacted zones may occur naturally or be caused by improper or excessive tillage. These should be broken up by subsoiling when soil is dry. Subsoiling opens soil to allow for root growth and air and water penetration.

Chemical fallow--using herbicides to control weeds and grasses between crops--is another alternative. This practice may reduce or eliminate tillage operations. If tillage is used to control weeds during fallow, consider using wide-blade sweeps or rodweeders.

Conservation tillage techniques should include only those tillage operations essential to produce a good crop and take advantage of reduced fuel, labor and equipment costs. For more information on conservation tillage, consult the County Extension Office.

Decide Best Ranch in Texas August 19-20

WICHITA FALLS-- More than 200 real working cowboys will compete under the banners of 14 of Texas' largest spreads for braggin' rights as this year's best ranch in Texas during the third Texas Ranch Roundup to be held August 19-20 at 7:30 p.m.

The two-day schedule of events is reminiscent of a late 1800's roundup competition, upon which today's rodeos are based. The event emphasizes working ranch skills.

The Moorhouse Ranch, headquartered in Benjamin and commandeered by J. C. "Togo" Moorhouse, will return to defend the title its ranch hands won last year.

Texas Deer Reach Peak

AUSTIN -- Statewide white-tailed deer populations in Texas are at their highest levels since 1965, according to data gathered by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The department's annual deer census completed in fall 1982 shows the herd has rebounded from the drought on 1980 and now totals an estimated 3.6 million animals.

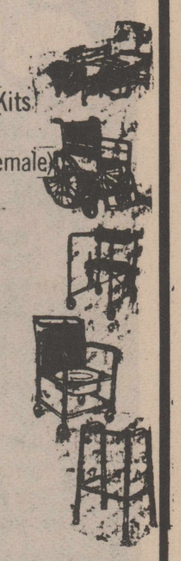

Giologist Fielding Harwell said statewide deer populations apparently peaked in the early 1970s and remained at slightly over three million animals until dry range conditions caused a low count of 2.7 million in 1980.

However, Harwell warns that while higher populations are a welcome development in some regions, the habitat in others is again becoming overpopulated with deer.

WHS EX-STUDENTS
REGISTERING, FROM
1913 THROUGH 1983...

We, the directors, thank you for coming. We extend special thanks to the National Guard Armory for the use of the fans during the dance, and to the guys from the class of 1953 who helped set up the tables and chairs; thanks to the Wellington Leader for the paper space they so abundantly gave; to Greenbelt Electric for the use of the typewriters; and to individuals too numerous to mention. For the classes having special reunions, a super 'thanks' to their chairmen. We are looking forward to seeing each of you in 1984.

DIRECTORS, WHS EX-STUDENTS

Over 400 Ex-Students Come Home for WHS Reunion Saturday

Wellington Ex-students and their guests traveled the world to come to the annual reunion Saturday, Aug. 6.

One came from Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, and another from the Republic of the Philippines.

More were there from up and down the West Coast, from New Jersey and Florida.

Part of the attendance was due to the 12 class reunions involving 17 graduating classes which were held in conjunction with the regular ex-students reunion.

Others who did not register were present for the barbecue dinner Saturday evening, but it was the concensus that this is one of the largest WHS reunions ever held, if not the largest.

During the brief business meeting, Andy Henard, president, announced that the 1984 Wellington Ex-Students Reunion will be held the first or second weekend in August, with the specific date to be announced.

The present slate of officers and directors will serve through 1984 and besides Henard include Helen Gollihugh, vice president; Rosemary Throne treasurer; Louise Lancaster Peters, corresponding secretary and Louise Whisenant Henard, recording secretary.

The alumni dance Saturday night closed the 1983 reunion.

The remainder of the time was free for visiting.

A directors meeting will be called next month.

Wedding vows were repeated by Miss Carol Ann Hurt and Tommy Glenn Johnson in the Quanah Church of Christ Saturday, June 25, at seven in the evening. J.B. Lamb, minister of the church, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurt of Quanah, while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Blackie Johnson of Hedley. The bride is also the granddaughter of Mrs. W.B. Hurt of Quanah.

A 14-branch cathedral candelabra entwined with Emerald leaf, accented with white satin bows was at the center of the setting in which the ceremony was performed. Spiral candelabra holding white tapers, were at each side, and votive candles surrounded by Plumosa fern marked the pews along the bridal aisle.

Wedding music was sung a capella by a quartet, from Moore, Okla., and by Karen and Kenn McFarland, also of Moore.

Mr. Hurt gave his daughter in marriage.

She wore a formal gown of white Chantilly lace and organza. The Queen Anne neckline was accented with seed pearls and irridescents, and sheer bishop sleeves that ended with a ruffle of Chantilly lace. The skirt, which fell softly from an empire waist, featured an apron of Chantilly lace over organza ruffles outlined the chapel train.

A juliet cap adorned with seed pearls held the fingertip illusion veil, with Chantilly lace appliques accenting the two layers. Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses, orchids and ivy.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Sherry Slaton Warner of Lubbock, matron of honor, while the bridesmaids were Tori Riley of Quanah, niece of the bride, Candy Melton of Vernon, Kathy Rich of Sterling City and Marina Leppart of Kansas City, Missouri.

Their floor-length gowns of lilac voile were designed with an off-the-shoulder ruffle and flounced ruffle which was drawn to the waist with a dark purple silk rose. Each carried a long stem crystal hurricane lamp with a lighter purple votive candle and lilac and purple satin streamers.

The flower girl was Amanda Goss of Clarendon, who wore a white organza dress sprigged with lilac flowers. She carried a white wicker basket of red and pink rose petals. Ric Riley, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Ed Hutcherson of Memphis was the best man, and ushers and groomsmen were Kelly Clark of Lakeview, Todd Bailey of Hedley, David Reese of Amarillo and Doug Hindman of Spur.

Candle lighters were Robyn Richmond, cousin of the bride, and Denise McLennan. Their dresses were identical to the bride's honor attendants.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Hurt were hosts for the reception held in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth, garlanded with white and purple flowers. Crystal and silver appointments were used. The bride's four-tiered fountain cake was decorated with lilac and dark purple flowers.

The groom's table, also covered with a white satin cloth, draped with a garland of white and lilac flowers, held the traditional chocolate cake decorated with a cascade of white roses. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Standing candle holders were at each side of the fireplace, with a minature silk blossom tree in the center.

Mrs. Caren Riley, sister of the bride, registered the guests.

The bride is a graduate of Abilene Christian University and a teacher in the Memphis Schools. The bridegroom, a graduate of West Texas State University, is on the coaching staff of the Wellington Schools.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT REPORT

by Nancy Bigby

Each year, beginning in September, many Collingsworth County boys and girls aged 9-19 join thousands of others throughout the state in the world's largest youth organization--4-H.

What is it and why do they do it?

A brief look into the nature of the 4-H program and what it has to offer youth and their families can provide the answers to these questions.

First of all, 4-H is fun. 4-Hers take part in a wide variety of enjoyable activities--club meetings, recration, camps, learning laboratories and project work. Meanwhile, their families have the joy of working together on projects, participating in fun days, and enjoying a host of other opportunities.

Secondly, 4-H offers educational experiences. Youngsters learn that learning can be fun. 4-H learning takes place in small group work, in individual work on projects and in conjunction with adult volunteers and family members. They learn at fairs and project shows of various sorts and in a variety of other "non-classroom" environments.

In a sense, 4-H education involves youngsters in a "learn to do by doing" atmosphere where useful and practical skills and facts are learned.

Finally, 4-H is for everyone--young or old, rural or city, male or female, regardless of race or ethnic group. Furthermore, 4-H requires no membership fee or dues. It is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service which is a part of Texas A&M University System

NOW. A REFRIGERATOR THAT DOES SOMETHING YOUR OLD ONE CAN'T.

PAY YOU BACK.
If you own a frostless refrigerator 10 years old, or older, you can't afford to keep it. The reason? The rising cost of energy. Yesterday's refrigerators simply weren't made for today's energy costs. Today's Frigidaire Frost-Proof Refrigerators are. In fact, they're so energy efficient they'll almost pay for themselves.
To prove that, we've prepared the above chart. It shows how much money you'll save on energy, in just 10 years, by replacing a 10 year old 17.0 cubic foot Frigidaire Frost-Proof model with the new 18.0 cubic foot Frigidaire Frost-Proof model in this ad.* (Even if your old refrigerator is another brand, your savings will probably be just as much, or more.)
*Based on Frigidaire Engineering Analysis. Full details available.
So come in today. Let us show you the entire energy-saving, money-saving Frigidaire story. And take home the refrigerator that pays you back.

Ethiopia is Exciting--One Shock After Another

By DOROTHY JANE RIGGS VINSON

[Editors's note: Dorothy Jane Riggs Vinson is in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, where her husband, Mack Vinson is on assignment with the UNECA Personnel Section of the United Nations. In this article she describes her arrival in the Ethiopian capital.]

This has all been very exciting--one shock after another. One of my air tickets was accidently cancelled May 17 when return was changed.

In London I was charged for 63 pounds overweight (on her luggage) which I will never get over (about $100). Mack had none. I was so horrified I couldn't think to ask to repack and carry on a backpack and garment bag full. They were just inside suitcases.

Then on arrival in Addis, Mack met me with a UN representative or I would have been at the airport longer than the 1½ hours I was, and then they demanded I have yellow fever innoculation. They finally let me in when the UN rep said I would be given it. They said I couldn't leave without it!

Anyway, weather is gorgeous, cool wind when you are wet and at the Hilton swimming pool especially. Sun and a few short showers each day.

My surprise from Mack for my belated Birthday present was a whole weekend back at the Hilton, and it proved to be especially exciting because the heads of state of the Organization of African States (over 50) were beginning to arrive for the big conference starting Tuesday for the rest of the week. And within the month, the OAU delegates also met.

They have turned the city upside down draping buildings, some 8 to 10 stories high, with their green, red and yellow striped cloth from top to bottom--military changed from drab green to spick and span uniforms with red braid all over the shoulders. They were even planting more trees along the road from the airport to town and building concrete block curbs. One woman hands a block to another across a ditch, etc. ---

When I got off the plane, those of us who weren't dignataries were herded to the side of the plane and stewardesses TOLD US TO STAY which we did. There was a welcoming delegation here and in Asmara---all standing in line in the middle of the airport terminal until the departing and arriving dignataries had greetings and handshakes. Most men were in uniform but all others there and in the hotel are well dressed in vary handsome three-piece suits.

We had to walk a very long way to the terminal and placed in separate rooms from the dignataries and had to get in line for passport and immunmization check.

When I got to luggage inspection I had to get my keys out of my purse then figure out which key went where. Which caused such a delay that after they looked in one, the UN rep finally got the airport inspector to let me through. Period.

A UN car then drove us to our apartment and we were met by the building guard and two women, each carried one of my bags up three flights of stairs.

This apartment belongs to a UN employee from Tanzanialand. She was sent to Parris for three months to study French. Her son is staying with a family while she is gone. It seems to be very common to leave children for long periods of time here.

Our apartment faces the southwest angle. There are 8 apartments on 2nd through 5th floors, with a business for vocational education of some kind that has the only door facing the street.

Our door is at the back and more like a closet door facing a paved parking lot for about 10-12 cars and tall cypress and pine trees surrounding the house.

One must enter our door through a huge red brick and metal gate of solid iron. There is a dirt road to the parking lot in back with a worn path to the door. It is definitely depressing, but not nearly so stark as China. There are green vines with purple blooms, roses, banana trees, jacaranda trees, etc. But they have clothes on outdoor lines strung over the flowers to the tree trunks.

Our apartment is bright and airy because of many floor to ceiling windows and the cross-ventilation and balcony. The ceilings are higher than our usual height of rooms in the U.S.A.

The front door of the apartment is very wide and of a beautiful dark wood and has a sign about one foot square engraved in Amharic and English saying "This Place has Diplomatic Immunity" and below it is the blue symbol of the Untied Nations. I find it ironic that the door is so elegant and impressive when the building door is so small and nondescript.

Mack feels we are very fortunate to have gotten the apartment because when you are in the hotels here and these meetings of governments take place, all visitors have to move out until it is over. Some UN employees wait in and out of hotels for months to get a house or apartment.

The apartment costs the equivalent of $450 per month, but $1800 to $2200 staying all the time in the hotel, even with 20% discount for UN.

We plan to spend most weekends on tour to all the parks and historic places til we've seen them all or been rained out when the July rainy weather arrives.

I am invited to a UN women's meeting Tuesday at 9:30 so will be able to meet a few women. We attended a UNESCO function the first evening I arrived. It was in an African Hall, the Nigerian Lounge, with tables covered in exquisite white cutwork table cloths with candles, and the entertainer was a Scottish woman, a singer who has been here two years.

Well, today I've coped with a maid trying to clean with no mops, no cleanser or cleaning supplies, and the language barrier, and my definite idea of how to do furniture and to capture the window light and sunshine.

You can't leave an apartment unlocked.

In fact, every storage cabinet is locked--about four to one wall, our closet doors and every door in the apartment locks. I have more keys than I had at home.

Even furniture pieces have locks. It is somewhat scary. I have to lock my purse in the closet and when we leave we lock everything, expecially bedroom doors where we have most of our things also locked in closets and bureaus. It is a time consuming thing to do time after time, but we feel we should do as directed.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN—Last week the U.S. Justice Department finally approved the redistricting plan for the Texas House of Representatives, originally drawn up three years ago.

The long battle which has spilled from the legislative chambers into the courtrooms is still not over yet—the feds still must approve redistricting plans for Texas Senate and U.S. Congressional seats—but last week's favorable ruling was taken as a harbinger of good luck for the other two plans.

The Justice Dept. ruling means the federal executive branch finds no denial or abridgment of voting rights. However, House redistricting chairman Rep. Tom Uher of Bay City believes a Mexican-American legal group will appeal the ruling in federal court to force creation of an Hispanic district in Houston.

If that's the case, the group is about the last of the redistricting combatants still on their feet. Most participants are sick and tired of the three-year old battle which has been hashed and rehased in courtrooms, backrooms and committee rooms.

No one group particularly likes the plan, but most political groups are anxious to get on with the election year politicking.

THOMAS ROLL CALL REPORT

Your Congressman's Votes Reported Each Week

WASHINGTON -- Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes July 28 through Aug. 3.

HOUSE

REVENUE The House rejected, 176 for and 248 against, an amendment to keep "revenue sharing" payments to local governments at their present level.

Members voting no favored the additional $450 million annually in revenue sharing outlays.

Voting yes: Jack Hightower, D-13, Charles Stenholm, D-17.

Voting no: Kika de la Garza, D-15 and Kent Hance, D-19.

HELP By a vote of 252 for and 174 against, the House passed a bill to spend up to $4 billion over two years on health insurance for unemployed individuals who lost their medical coverage when they lost their jobs.

KING The House passed, 338 for and 90 against, and sent to the Senate a bill (HR 3706) setting the third Monday of each January as a national holiday honoring the birthday of slain civil rights leader and Nobel Peace Prize winner Martin Luther King, Jr.

Voting yes: Hightower, De la Garza, Hance.

Voting no: Stenholm.

NICARAGUA Dealing a setback to President Reagan's Central American policy, the House passed, 228 for and 195 against, a bill prohibiting covert U.S. aid to insurgents fighting the Marxist Sandinista regime in Nicaragua.

Voting yes: De la Garza.

Voting no: Hightower, Stenholm and Hance.

SENTATE..

STANDARDS By a vote of 75 for and 18 against, the Senate delayed until Oct. 15 or later the effective date of new work rules the Office of Personnel Management has proposed for civil servants.

Lloyd Bentsen, D, did not vote. John Tower, R, voted yes.

Labor Unions

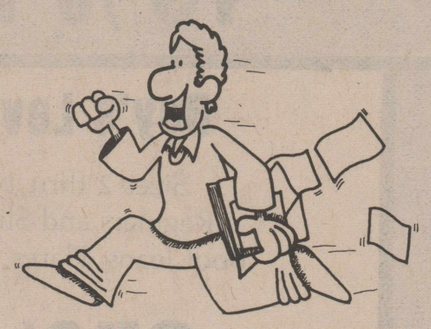

One group that has already decided on its game plan for the coming election year is Texas labor. Last week the Texas AFL-CIO leadership endorsed State Sen. Lloyd Doggett of Austin, a liberal, for the U.S. Senate race against John Tower. News that the unions endorsed Doggett over conservative-moderate Bob Krueger was a surprise only in regard to the haste of the endorsement.

At the Texas AFL-CIO annual convention in San Antonio last week, delegates also stood and cheered embattled Atty. Gen. Jim Mattox, under a grand jury investigation for misreporting campaign loans.

During the annual election of community king and queen, Lorene Wolf of Tipton, Okla., and T. Wyrick were selected to represent Arlie, and Ben Moseley and Maude Prince of Lubbock to represent Loco.

Virginia Robey, news editor of The Wellington Leader, was recognized for support the newspaper has given the reunion from its beginning.

Plans were made to have all living alumni and teachers present next year. The secretaries, Lucille Covey Motsenbocker and Edith Copeland Carter, were re-elected by aclamation. Chamber Seeks Members, Cuts Bingo

Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce directors approved a 'mini-membership drive' with directors concentrating their efforts among non-member businesses in Wellington. The action was taken at a called meeting Thursday, Aug.4.

Bingo was dropped from the Collinsworth County Fair events by a vote by directors after President Tommy Hudson told them a license to play bingo would cost $75, or $25 for each of the three hours of playing. The chamber had applied for a license for three nights.

Directors believe the game would go in the hole.

Under the old rules, a license could be secured for $5.

Hudson announced that Evelyn (Mrs. J.B. King) has accepted the chairmanship of the county history project and this week is due to consult with other local residents interested in the proposed volume.

Walter Clements, fair chairman, reported that plans were "coming along fine."

It was brought out that this is the year to negotiate a contract renewal for the fair carnival with Best Amusement Co. and the board voted for the approval of the renewal. Members called it "the cleanest carnival around."

In past years, the carnival has paid the expenses of the fair, Margaret Vines, secretary, siad.

There was some discussion of the 1983 banquet.

A vacation for the secretary, Mrs. Vines, was approved.

The chamber has withdrawn from the Miss Wheatheart contest as it was learned that a change in age rules disqualifies its contestant, Vanda Wood.

Price of copying material on the newly installed copy machine was lowered to 25 cents per sheet, with the ambulance service to be charged ten cents per sheet.

Officers and directors present were Hudson, James Shepard, Nick Gilley, Bill Hatch, Danny Martin, Jerry Duncan, Mrs. Vines, Billy Jackson, Walter Clements, Dwight Bowen, and Charles Britten.

Rodeo Assignments Made

Plans have been finalized and job assignments made for the rodeo, slated for Friday through Sunday, August 19-21.

All rodeo events will be held Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m.; a jackpot roping is scheduled for Sunday at 2.

The jackpot roping fee is $30 for three head of steer, progressive after one. Divisions will be junior, senior, over 80 and open. Jeff Langford will be in charge of the stripping chute; Danny Gray, calf roping and steer dogging; Eddie Blacksher, chute gates; Monte Ferguson, catch pens; and Sharon Bowen will collect money for the advertisements.

The rodeo is sanctioned by the Texas Cowboys Rodeo Association. Renovation of the arena is close to completion, said Walter Clements, who is working on the project. The arena will be shortened by about one third, or 255 feet. New construction will allow barrel racers and other participants to enter the arena through an alleyway on the north end.

One work night has been held, but more work remains to be done. "Hopefully, we will finish this week," said Clements.

A platform floor will be put in approximately three feet above the ground and from 4 to 5 feet wide for the cowboys or others who work the stock behind the chutes and get it ready for the events, said Clements. This will replace 1x12 boards presently being used.

The 4-H Horse Club will post the colors and pivots for the grand entry each evening, under the direction of Frankie Campbell.

Family Returns From Heidelberg

M/Sgt. Bobby Motsenbocker and his family are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Motsenbocker, upon completion of his Army assignment in Heidel berg, Germany.

With him are his wife, and their two daughters, Shawn, 15, and Tracey, 12.

His new assignment will be as 1st sergeant and station manager at the Military Enlistment and Processing Station, Phoeniz, Ariz.

This was his second tour in Germany. Other assignments have been in Korea, Vietnam and 6 years in Oklahoma, where he was in the ROTC region , then at Ft. Sill. His assignments are in administration.

In Germany, Mrs. Motsenbocker, who is from Kansas, worked for the Travel Office, which handles traveling in Europe for enlisted men at a cost which they can afford.

The Motsenbockers also did a great deal of traveling, including trips to Paris, Normandy, Strausbourg, in France; also in Holland, Louxembourg, and Switzerland.

Added to this were many one-day tours in the region.

Among these was a trip to Castle Neuschwanstein, on the Rhine River, after which Walt Disney patterned the castle which became his trademark for Disneyland.

The family especially enjoyed their visits to various castles, and Mrs. Motsenbocker explained that those which are primarily for tourists remain as they were when built. Those in which the owning families still live are modernized to equal the homes of any well-to-do family.

Gladys Davis Dies Aug. 4 At McKinney

GALE GARDNER QUINN

Mrs. Gladys Davis, 79, died Thursday, August 4 at McKinney, where she had been with a daughter since December 1982.

Mrs. Davis had lived here since 1943, when she and her husband, the late H.A. Davis, made Wellington headquarters for Davis Freight Line.

Later Mrs. Davis owned and operated a laundry and dry cleaning service. She retired about 1970 but continued to make her home here.

She was a member of the Wellington Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star and of First Baptist Church.

The former Gladys Leona Goff, she was born Sept. 19, 1903 in Wood County, the daughter of Sam and Catherine Goff. She grew up in Rockwall County and was married to Henry A. Davis in 1920.

Services were conducted at Harris-Horn Funeral Chapel in McKinney with the Rev. David Griffin, pastor of Lake Lavon Baptist Encampment, and Dr. Fred Chambers, pastor of Tremont Baptist Church, Dallas, officiating. Burial was in Restland Cemetery, Richardson.

Surviving Mrs. Davis are three daughters, Mrs. Lorene Miller of McKinney, Mrs. Odell Wheeler of Amarillo, and Mrs. Gwen Green of El Paso; a brother, DeWitt Goff of Whitney; two sisters, Mrs. Annie Rea of Canton and Mrs. Clemmie Verner of Duncanville; 9 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Gale Quinn Dies Aug. 3 In Tennessee

A former Wellington woman, Mrs. Grace Gale Quinn of Old Hickory, Tenn., died Wednesday, Aug. 3 in the Donelson, Tennessee Hospital after a massive stroke. She had been ill only a few days.

Mrs. Quinn is the former Gale Gardner, daughter of Mrs. Grace Johnson Gardner, now of Nashville, and the late Troy Gardner.

She was born in Wellington May 13, 1942 and attended school here through the eighth grade. She moved to Amarillo, graduating from Palo Duro High School in 1960. She moved to Nashville in 1973.

Her father, Troy Gardner, died in 1981.

Wellington relatives are Mrs. Ruby Sanders, Mrs. Clarence Littleton and Mrs. Vertie Saunders, all aunts, and Mrs. Billie Seitz and Mrs. Fay Horton, cousins.

Because author Thomas Wolfe was almost 7 feet tall, no ordinary desk suited his needs. He often wrote standing up, using the top of a refrigerator for his workbench.
