She was still a girl when her family moved to Hamilton County.

Rockets Play Quail, Paducah During Week

The Wellington Skyrockets and Rockettes will meet the Quail Quails and Bobwhites here Friday, Dec. 3, then go calling on the Paducah Dragons and Dragonettes Tuesday, Dec. 7. Coach James Stavenhagen reported.

"We know the Rockets will have their hands full with the Quail boys," Coach Stavenhagen said of the meeting with the Class 11-B defending champions. "They have several games more experience than we do. I have seen them play and they are fundamentally a sound ball club. They score lots of points and we'll have to

VISITOR FROM THAILAND

Talks to Rotary

Smith Says FLB Making Loans on Land in Texas Water Districts

Speaking before the Rotary Club of Wellington in its weekly meeting, Raburn Smith, local representative of The Federal Land Bank of Houston told his audience that his institution was lending money in water districts all over the state.

Mr. Smith was invited to speak before the Rotary Club on this specific subject due to the fact that the matter was brought up at the Exclusion Hearing on the Salt Fork dam held in Wellington Nov. 15.

Mr. Smith said that after conferring with officials of the Federal Land Bank, he was able to make these observations:

"Irrigation results in increased yield and also increases the cost of operation; but net income under profitable irrigation is sufficient to justify larger loans per acre."

"Furthermore our appraisal experience indicates that the cost of watering land from wells on the South Plains area is greater than it would be here using the water from Salt Fork provided that the water levy was no more than the in-dedicated $12.50 per acre on the irrigated land."

"Another comparison with irrigation on the South Plains," Mr. Smith said, "is that there is grave concern over the depletion of that source of supply since the water table on the underground lakes has been steadily falling whereas the impounded water on such streams as Salt Fork will continue to be a visible and permanent source of supply."

Mr. Smith also said that the pasture land and the farm land not accessible to irrigation could be improved in value for the following reasons:

1. The dam and lake would improve the economy of the whole area.

2. It would provide recreational facilities and the local economy would benefit from the money spent on recreation.

3. There would be more workers, more residents and more outlets for agricultural and items processed locally.

Mr. Smith concluded by saying all loans must be evaluated individually, but that there was no reason why the building of a dam to conserve runoff waters would lower the loan value on any land in any area.

Glenda Lancaster will be the mistress of ceremonies and Leigh Nall and Teddy Martin will act as narrators. Justice White will welcome the guests, Mike Davis will give the invocation and Gary Scott the benediction.

Many awards are open to 4-H Club members, Helmers pointed out. Those to be presented here Monday pertain to leadership, citizenship, achievement, clothing, foods, beef cattle and general agriculture.

The recipients are not announced prior to the awards program.

The Gold Star boy and girl, Joye Hudspeth and Teddy Martin, will be recognized. They received their pins at the district banquet honoring Gold Star members held recently in Amarillo.

All boys and girls who completed their 4-H Club projects will receive certificates of completion.

The Entertainers, state Farm Bureau Talent Find winners, will present a short musical program.

The public is urged to attend this awards night program, Helmers said.

Santa Arrives Here at Three o'clock Dec. 10

Santa Claus, bearing gifts for the children of the Wellington area, will pay his traditional visit to Wellington at 3 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 10, according to N. M. Higdon, manager of the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce.

It is the big event of the pre-Christmas season as far as the children are concerned and all of them are extended a cordial invitation to be present when Santa Claus drives onto the square in his western style coach pulled by Shetland ponies.

Santa will not arrive empty handed for his sacks will be loaded with candy and other goodies and in addition the children will be given an opportunity to talk with Santa and tell him what they want for Christmas.

The visit of St. Nicholas is only a part of the pre-season Christmas program in Wellington. Street decorations will be put up under the direction of the Christmas Decoration committee, which is headed by John Sherman.

In addition to the conventional lights and the four Santas on the courthouse lawn there will be a new feature this year. Four Stars of Bethlehem will be attached to the light poles on each corner of the square and these will be lighted during the Holiday season. This year the main lights will be across the streets and not on the courthouse.

It is hoped that the lights and decorations will be up by the end of this week.

Rancher-Sportsman

Mish Dukeminier, 73, Dies Here on Friday

Mish Dukeminier, 73, prominent rancher and sportsman, and a generous benefactor to many individuals and organizations, died in St. Joseph's Hospital Friday, Nov. 26, about 5 days after he entered there for treatment of a heart ailment. His condition had become critical about 11 a.m. Wednesday.

He had operations in several parts of the county, including both farming and livestock raising.

Thomas Misher Dukeminier—friends never knew him except as Mish—was born April 6, 1892 at Mt. Hope, Alabama, the son of the late J. J. and Elizabeth Sherron Dukeminier. He was only 12 when he brought him here in 1904, and for the remainder of his life he was identified with Collingsworth County.

He was still a young man when he began operating a dray in Wellington, his first step into the town's business life. Later he was in the feed business.

During this time he began building a fine herd of Hereford cattle, both registered and grade stock, and he acquired the land on which to carry them.

He was an avid sportsman. And true sportsman that he was, he took measures to preserve and restore the county's wildlife. He was interested also in soil conservation.

As a young man he was an outstanding baseball player.

Mr. Dukeminier was a charter member of the First Baptist Church and for many years sang in its choir.

He was a former member of the fire department.

These were the parts of his life with which Mish Dukeminier's friends were familiar. But less well known were his generous gifts and donations, made quietly, and often unknown to all except those closest to him. These were to individuals, to his church, and to others. He was a man who gave friendship warmly and with loyalty.

Funeral services were conducted at 4 p.m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church as friends from many walks of life gathered to pay final tribute. The Rev. A. B. Earnest, Jr., pastor, and the Rev. Verrell Leeper, pastor of Lutie Baptist Church, officiated, and burial was in the West Wellington Cemetery under the direction of Kelson Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were John R. Henard, Rusty Henard, Dan Henard, A. J. Fires, Oran Star-

Graham Film in Amarillo

"The Restless Ones", heralded as the most successful motion picture yet produced by Billy Graham Evangelistic Films, Inc., is shown twice nightly this week in Municipal Auditorium in Amarillo.

Sponsored by an Inter-church Steering Committee of business men and ministers, headed by Mayor F. V. Wallace, the picture will be shown at 6:15 and 8:30 p.m., through Saturday, Dec. 4, with a Saturday matinee at 2 p.m.

The feature-length film, with the accent on youth, deals imaginatively and dramatically with the teen-age crisis. Featuring a background setting provided by the Billy Graham Los Angeles crusade, and artfully woven into the story pattern, "The Restless Ones" is a hard-hitting bold approach to present-day social problems.

We go to all the trouble of redesigning our interiors, improving our handling, and refining our Wide-Track ride, and some people buy us just for our looks.

Our new Executive Hardtop Coupe.

Just once we'd like to have people fall in love with the inside of our cars before they flip for the outside. Why, this year alone we've made available brand-new wraparound buckets. Profile bench seats. More rich, genuine walnut paneling. And nicer instrument clusters you've never seen. We even had our engineers take our test cars apart piece by piece to come up with improvements that, incredibly enough, make our Pontiacs smoother, quieter, more enjoyable to drive.

Really, though—we don't care which feature gets you inside a new Pontiac, as long as it gets you there. And it will. At least judging by the number of Pontiacs you see on the road.

Everything's new in tiger country. Wide-Track Pontiac '66

One Wing Okay for One Coot

PARIS, Tex.—Game Warden Hill Lawrence reported the grim determination-to-live story of a little dark coot, better known as a mudhen.

It struck a high line in the Gambill Goose Wildlife Refuge and severed a wing close to the body.

Joe Vandiver, refuge keeper, treated the bird, kept it over night and then placed it back in the water.

Warden Lawrence said last reports were that the tenacious coot appeared to be recovering, possibly in the knowledge that it has no more migration problems.

Bible Read in 1,200 Tongues

Miss Elizabeth J. Eisenhart, librarian of the American Bible Society which is planning to observe its 150th anniversary in 1966, reports that the Holy Bible, the New Testament, or a Scripture portion have been issued in at least 1,232 languages and dialects.

The mastering of still more languages and the publication of Scripture in three tongues is continuing — and translators are at work in many remote areas of every continent.

The first three printed translations of the Bible—all complete—were into Latin, in the year 1456; German, 1466; and Italian, 1471.

The New Testament was first published in French in 1474 and the Bible in 1530; in Czech, the New Testament was published in 1475, with the complete Bible in 1482. The next two, Dutch and Hebrew, had Old Testaments before the New. A portion of the Bible was first published in Dutch in 1477, the Old Testament in 1480, and the complete Bible in 1522.

In Hebrew, the first portion was published in 1477, the Old Testament in 1488, and the complete Bible in 1599. Catalan, Low German, Ancient Greek, Chaldee, Spanish, Slavonic, Serbo-Croatian and Portuguese followed in that order.

The most recent translation noted is that of Zoque; Francisco Leon, published in 1964, and spoken in Chicapas Province in Mexico.

LOOKING AHEAD

by Dr. George S. Benson

WHO'S TO BLAME?

The nation's so-called civil rights leaders at last are discovering for themselves that sowing the wind reaps the destruction of whirlwinds.

The Reds behind the scenes knew it all along, and now after the Los Angeles whirlwind of violence, with 37 lives lost, hundreds injured, and perhaps $200 million in property gone, the public also is waking up.

Even liberal observers such as the New York Times, the Denver Post, Governor Brown (why doesn't Dr. King stay at home?), and Senator Robert Kennedy all seemed ready to call off the aggressive violence that wins peace awards abroad and tears up cities at home.

And what was the reaction of President Johnson? Lowering his glance as if he might have preferred to say something else, the most powerful leader of the most powerful nation gave these same civil rights leaders (?) a go-ahead by solemnly predicting that such riots might break out elsewhere, even in Washington.

He did not say that they must not, or should not, but that they could. Such permissiveness, Mr. President, is no way to keep the vote of clear-headed Negro citizens, of whom there are many.

Not Washington, however, but Chicago seems to have been picked for the next big trouble.

All the heckling of school officials and demonstrations on the streets could represent only trial runs. The civil rights crowd will doubtless be offered plenty of assistance when the time comes from a group calling itself the Spartacists.

This Trotskyite group is ready for the revolution. One of its incendiary leaflets already calls for Negroes to battle the police: "Drive the cops out . . . the shock troops of the ruling class . . . no one can fail to note the similarity between Los Angeles and Viet Nam."

Los Angeles Police Chief Parker undoubtedly understands what is meant by the Trotsky sort of revolution. President Johnson, however, only recently is said to have greeted youthful visitors to the White House as "fellow revolutionaries."

This is certainly grim humor, if the President does not see, as Chief Parker does, that our ten years of civil disobedience propaganda has helped create the climate in which riots can break out here and there and appear to be spontaneous.

As to Viet Nam, and the tie-in that civil rights propagandists are giving to it, there is a similarity between the struggle there and the rioting in America. The Communists are doing everything they can to expand the conflicts in Southeast Asia, as well as in America and throughout the world.

To the Reds, civil disobedience and rioting point toward the same goals: lawlessness and anti-capitalism.

They don't care whether it takes place in Berkeley or in L.A., as long as it happens. Their plans in South Viet Nam, therefore, are not so far removed from those in America.

Law and order are the first point of attack. Why cannot more of our leaders, the President, for instance, get the likes of Martin Luther King, who come to the White House frequently, on the mat? "Look here," they could be told, "the country has had enough of this anarchy of violating laws according to individual choice. Let's talk about obeying laws, respecting life and property, practicing self-restraint, and expecting responsible actions and proper conduct from all of our citizens?"

Can't the bleeding hearts raise any money for these things? It's a fact not known to many, but the majority of our Negro citizens are well-behaved, responsible, and respectful of authority. But let's quit demoralizing the youth and making Communists of the rabble, who so easily can be victimized and in turn victimize their whole race by rampaging through the streets.

Then we ought to find ways to punish the propagandists and intellectual incendiaries along with the arsonists, the looters, and the snipers. The poor are not called upon to riot because they're poor or underhoused. We'll have to look deeper than that.

What solution does Washington have to offer? Why, $29 million in grants for 45 programs "tailored to meet social problems!"

These, according to Mr. Johnson, are going to "wipe out the causes of violent outbursts." Without denying the value of economic assistance, may we submit that Washington is entirely on the wrong track when it tries to fix up immorality, weakness of character, and poor citizenship with dollar grants?

However, the strong, gamey flavor that some people find objectionable is concentrated in the animal fat. To reduce this flavor, the fat must be removed in more mature, highly fattened carcasses.

Many people prefer to marinate meat from more mature animals to reduce the gamey flavor and make the meat more tender, report the specialists. A marinade is made by combining one-fourth part vinegar, three-fourths part water, sugar and seasoning. Meat should be placed in the solution and refrigerated for 72 hours or longer.

Various methods of preparing and cooking big game and small game and game birds, as well as numerous game dinner menus, are found in the Extension bulletin "Wild Game Care and Cooking," available at the county Extension office.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends for the kind expressions of sympathy, floral offerings and nice food. May God bless each of you.

$2 Bills Point Up Value of All Payrolls in City

There are theories as to how often money in any given community changes hands before it leaves that community, but there is seldom any way this can be proved.

However, one of these ways is in operation in Wellington this week.

The two dollar bills that suddenly came into circulation represent the pay received by local members of the National Guard for this quarter. Every time one of these comes across your hand, it will represent money that has come into the Wellington community from that source.

The same thing applies to money that comes into the community from any other outside source, except that it has no distinguishing marks.

Eventually many of these $2 bills will leave the community again, but not before they have changed hands a number of times, bought groceries and clothes and paid for gasoline and utilities and some of the luxuries that are available to us here.

The National Guard has less than 50 local men enrolled, and the payroll is small compared to a number of others in Wellington. The number of times a $2 bill crosses the counter of a store or comes into your pocket book in any way emphasizes the importance of every payroll this county has.

Academy Award Winning Film to Show Here

"Powerful" is one word for William Wyler's "The Collector," which opens Sunday at the Ritz Theatre in Wellington with Terrance Stamp and Samantha Eggar starred in Technicolor.

"Memorable" is another word, "haunting" a third. Additional adjectives may also be applied: "The Collector" is a truly brilliant example of motion picture entertainment at its absorbing best.

Story of an insignificant London bank clerk who kidnaps a vibrant young art student and holds her captive for months, "The Collector" is based on the John Fowles novel whose originality and daring kept it on the best-seller lists of England and America for months. William Wyler's production of "The Collector" will certainly be among the more-honored films of the year, just as other of his pictures have been: films such as "Mrs. Miniver," "The Best Years of Our Lives" and "Ben Hur," to cite three for which he won Academy Awards.

The screen comes alive with the intensity of the performances of Stamp and Miss Eggar. Their mastery of difficult roles is eloquently brought out by Wyler's sensitive, understanding and persuasive directorial hand and his obvious enthusiasm for the story they put on the screen.

The very professional work of this threesome is reflected in a motion picture that is constantly all-consuming. For their performances in "The Collector," Terence Stamp and Samantha Eggar won the "best actor" and "best actress" awards at the Cannes Film Festival.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Commercial pitches on TV and elsewhere these days seem mostly aimed at youth and senior youth types wishing to Go Where the Action Is.

My watusick neighbor says he was once an Action hunter, until his Papa weaned him and he had to start getting along on just what Action he could afford out of his own pocket.

Says now after some years of Work Action, so he is tolerably healed for Buying Action, it appears that the advertising brilliants don't consider him worth appealing to, because they think he is Out of Action.

The papers say that an Indiana co-ed, who is a psychology major, attacked an armed robber and beat him up and took his loot away from him.

My psychocynic neighbor says if colleges nowadays are teaching such a tough psychological attitude towards crime, the courts may have to outlaw psychology courses in schools, as a threat to the criminal's civil rights.

But he wouldn't worry if he was a robber, because even if students do get a lot of aggressive psychology in college, they will still have to furnish their own guts.

A fellow worrying on paper writes that with social security taxes going up Jan. 1, and more raises to follow, he wonders what will happen when our taxes exceed our incomes.

My flat broke economist neighbor says there is no need to worry, because when this comes to pass, government will no doubt come up with a subsidy to help folks pay their taxes, the same as it is now planned to help pay their rent.

He says when Washington pays out more than it takes in, the condition is known as Progress, and he reckons when all individual citizens are doing the same, it will be Total Progress.

Some say that when Washington starts paying medical bills for people, it will have to require them to take good care of their health, so as to keep down the doctoring expense.

And there likely will be federal guidelines on waistlines, and federal agents bugging our bathroom scales to see that nobody on Medicare gets too fat.

My medicareless neighbor says he reckons anybody getting overweight will be slapped with an excess frontage tax high enough that what he has left won't buy any groceries but carrots and water.

Aoudad Hunt Set Dec. 10-12

SAN ANGELO. — Palo Duro Canyon landowners with surplus aoudad sheep on their property will receive 67 hunting permits for the Dec. 10, 11 and 12 aoudad sheep hunt, according to Jack Parsons, regional supervisor for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Forty-two permits were issued for the first aoudad sheep hunt in 1963 when 6 males and 3 females were bagged. In 1964, 50 permits were distributed among Palo Duro Canyon landowners and 7 males and 6 females were harvested. One ram weighed 270 pounds.

Wildlife biologists said permits have to be severely limited to protect the brood stock.

This year sportsmen will assist in the gathering of biological information by bringing all barbary sheep killed by a conveniently located Department check station before leaving the hunting area.

Norwood Takes Double Header Over Estelline

The Samnorwood Eagles took a decisive win over Estelline and the Eaglettes managed to grab an early lead and hang on for a victory Tuesday, Nov. 23.

The boys game was never close, as the final score was 77-30.

Estelline's boys are still participating in the football playoffs and several members of the basketball team have not yet reported.

Samnorwood jumped to a quick 21-4 first quarter lead and substituted freely as 8 of 9 boys who suited up scored. Paul Clark led the parade with 18 points, Nelson Dwyer had 14, Acie Boyd 10, Augustine Zermeno 9, Danny Tate 8, Alvin Lisle 7, Stanley Oldham 6 and J. D. Ward 5. Thomas Zerpheo did not score but played aggressive defense and steady offense. Jesse Rodriguez was the only Estelline player able to score in double figures with 12 points.

The Eaglettes quickly moved ahead of the sluggish Estelline girls 26-11 at halftime. Estelline Coach Jimmy Adams evidently revived his girls at halftime as they came charging back in the third quarter and trailed only 34-29 at the end of that period.

Estelline scored first in the last quarter to cut the margin to three points, but the Eaglettes settled down and finished strong to win by a score of 55-43.

Suzu Bentley and Kay Purkey led the scoring for Samnorwood with 26 and 25 points respectively, while Jane Helm had 25 points for Estelline.

The Eaglette guards, Eunice Stice, Billie Purkey and Sherry Kindrick, were outstanding in the last quarter after experiencing a let-down in the third period.

R. J. (Bob) Dunson

Wellington Native

Bob Dunson Officer In California Bank

R. J. (Bob) Dunson has been named assistant manager at Crocker - Citizens National Bank's San Antonio Center of-office in Mountain View, Calif., it was announced by George M. Atkins, assistant vice president and manager of the office.

He succeeds Bob B. Canote, who has been transferred to the bank's E. Camino-Whipple office in Redwood City, Calif.

A native of Wellington, Dunson joined Crocker-Citizens early in 1964 after experience in the real estate mortgage field in Midland, Texas, and in California. He completed the bank's administrative training program earlier this year, and until his assignment to the San Antonio Center office, served as assistant manager at the bank's Kings Beach office.

Crocker-Citizens' San Antonio Center office is located at 423 San Antonio Road. It is one of two Crocker-Citizens offices in Mountain View.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Cudd, students at West Texas State University, were in El Paso for Thanksgiving. Cudd plays in the college band that accompanied the Buffalo football team to its game with Texas Western.

Guests of Mrs. W. S. White of the Kelley community were her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Harkleroad of Cotton Center and her granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McAlister of Lubbock.

Rockets Take Victories Over Dodson, Irish

Wellington Skyrockets ended a Nov. 23 game with a 75 to 45 victory over Dodson.

Dodson took an early lead and the first half was a real thriller. With both teams looking sharp on defense the score at the end of the first quarter was tied. The halftime score, also tied, read 27-27.

In the third period, the Rockets built a strong lead by scoring 29 points. Dodson was also hurt by the loss of one starter at the outset of the fourth quarter.

Foster Riley was Dodson high point man with 25 points, and for Wellington it was James Smith scoring 21 and Andy Henard 18.

Quarter scores:
1st 2nd 3rd 4th
Wellington 12 27 56 75
Dodson 12 27 41 45

The Skyrockets pulled out a second win of the week over the Shamrock Irish by a score of 55 to 43. The Nov. 26 game was the second meeting of the two, Wellington also winning the first. The game was played on the Rocket home court.

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER
Thursday, December 2, 1965

It could have been anybody's game until the final minutes when the Rockets gained a good margin. The Irish were a much improved team over the first meeting, according to Coach James Stavenhagen.

Stavenhagen declared "We had trouble in hitting the basket and had a bad percentage. When you have a bad percentage and still win, it shows you have strong defense and rebounding. Both teams fouled more than their share. It will probably be two weeks before the boys get football out of their systems."

Four boys shared high point honors for the game. They were George Leathers and James Smith for the Rockets and Ike Shipman and Jessie Terry of Shamrock, each making 12 points.

Coach Stavenhagen says that he sees quite a bit of improvement in Mike Smith, George Leathers, Danny White, Larry Henard, Johnny Maxwell, Andy Henard and Steve Trapp. "Jimmy Barber was real strong on defense. Don Sweat, who was hampered by an injury, is just now being able to go full speed and play good basketball."

Quarter scores:
1st 2nd 3rd 4th
Wellington 13 30 42 55
Shamrock 10 24 31 43

"We appreciate the fine support of the fans. A large part of the success of a team comes from its backers," Stavenhagen concluded. "The support in the last two years has been some of the finest I have seen, and I feel it is sure to continue."

WHS B Teams Continue String of Victories

The Rockette B team opened its season with a 34 to 33 win over Estelline. This was a scrimmage game and was played at Estelline.

The Rockettes led the entire ball game until the closing minutes, when they dropped two points behind. In the last seconds Mary Lou Hanna tied the score with a set shot, and the game went into overtime.

Both teams made one basket each, and then Mary Lou Holton was fouled. She hit her free shot and time ran out, leaving the Rockettes with a one point lead.

A week later the same teams met in the Rockette home gym. The Rockettes won this game by an identical score of 34 to 33.

Mary Lou Hanna missed this game due to the mumps but Sharon Cummings, Freida Minatrea and Cherry Lewis did a good job of filling in for her. Mary Lou Holton scored 17 points and Carolyn Kilgore 15.

"The guards did a real fine job of out-rebounding Estelline. The importance of good hustling guards is often overlooked. They don't get many pats on the back, but their work is just as important as the forwards," Coach Denzil Lacy commented.

The Rockettes have a third victory in their 30 to 22 win over the Turkey B team. Wellington girls' hustle and desire more than made up for their size disadvantage.

Mary Lou Hanna and Judy McClenden missed this game because of sickness. A strong bench was able to fill in, though.

Mary Lou Holton was high with 15 points, and next was Carolyn Kilgore, scoring 13. Sharon Cummings had 2 points.

"All of these girls want to win as a team, and this adds to the chances of winning a lot of ball games," Coach Lacy said.

B team forwards are Mary Lou Holton, Carolyn Kilgore, Sharon Cummings, Mary Lou Hanna, Cherry Lewis, Freida Minatrea and Vickie Sherman. Guards include Kay Taylor, Jan Blain, Rosa Garcia, Darlene Nickleberry, Rhonda Kersten, Judy McClendon and Irene Dawkins. Captains are Jan Blain and Rosa Garcia.

The boys Skyrocket B team started their season by defeating Quail B team 107 to 37 on Nov. 22.

Coach Lacy said of the game, "It seemed we couldn't miss the basket, although we didn't shoot an exceptional percentage. The difference was the good defense that each of our boys played."

Ronald Barr, a 6'1" freshman was high scorer with 28 points. Following him were Joe Brock, a 6' freshman with 17 points, Kent Clark, a 6'2" sophomore with 16 points, and Jimmy Black, 5'11" sophomore scoring 13.

Don't Climb With a Gun

The Texas Safety Association reminds hunters to never climb or jump with a loaded gun. Never pull a gun toward you muzzle first.

When going through fences, push your gun on ahead, or hand it to a companion with the breech open. And don't set your gun against a tree or fence. It could fall and discharge.

Keep Record of Extra Income

Tax Man Sam says: Every year the good tax folks send out a lot of letters asking taxpayers to come in for an audit. It scares the very bristles off of most taxpayers to get one of these letters. It doesn't pay to get scared. The folks down at Internal Revenue are trained to be reasonable. If you get a letter calling you in for an audit, calmly gather up all your records and settle your affairs with the tax man in a calm, businesslike manner.

Rockettes Win Over Turkey and Shamrock

The Rockettes outscored Turkey 42 to 30 on Tuesday, Nov. 23 for their first win of the season. The game was fairly close through the first three quarters. Then Wellington girls took a commanding lead in the last period and went on to win by 12 points.

Wellington was without the services of starter guard Lou Helen Moore. Ginger Earnest filled in and did a good job. All the guards seemed to show big improvement over the previous game.

Nancy Holton was high scorer with 19 points. Becky Brewer scored 12, and Vickie Wade 7. Coach James Stavenhagen said he was glad to have the scoring well divided.

Turkey high pointer was Karen Arnold, making 11, followed by Norma Yates 10.

Nancy Holton again was high pointer, with 23. Vickie Wade scored 13, her highest of the season. Vickie Bergvall also played a good game at forward.

"Ginger Earnest played an outstanding game at guard," Coach Stavenhagen continued. "Regina Ferguson is improving with each game and will be one of the toughest guards around before the season is over. Nancy Sanford and Lou Helen Moore also did a good job of stealing the ball."

American Farmer Urges Vo Ag for Leadership

Only one Future Farmer in approximately one thousand ever attains the American Farmer Degree—the top honor on the national level of the Future Farmers of America.

That honor came this fall to a young Wellington man, J. C. Saunders, now a junior at Texas Tech.

He received the award at the national convention of Future Farmers of America in Kansas City in October. His first visit home since then came during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Saunders completed his vocational ag studies in Quail high school, under the supervision of Frank Kennedy, who now teaches at Vega.

Most of Saunders' supervised farming projects were with livestock.

Cotton Harvest Steps Up With Open Weather

The open weather that prevailed during the week accelerated cotton harvesting, according to the USDA, Consumer and Marketing Service at Memphis.

K. E. Voelkel, in charge of the Memphis cotton classing office, said that 10,000 samples were classed last week, compared with 3,000 the previous week. As of Friday, Nov. 26, 31,000 samples were classed of this season's crop. About 16% of the estimated production in this area has been classed so far.

Cotton classed last week showed 27% White grades, 65% Light Spotted, and 8% Spotted. The predominant grades in each color group were: Strict Low Middling White, 14%; Middling Light Spotted, 44%; Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, 19%; and Middling Spotted, 7%.

The condition of the cotton plant after defoliation and the method of harvesting are contributing factors to the percentage of cotton reduced in grade because of Bark. 2% of the cotton classed resulted in at least a one grade reduction and this also meant 50 points or $2.50 per bale penalty on the market.

Staple lengths showed 8% were classed 29/32 inch and shorter; 65%, 15/16; 17%, 31/32 and 10%, 1 inch and longer.

Micronaire readings were lower than the previous week with 70% in the desirable range of 3.6-4.8 compared with 79% the previous week. Other readings were: 2.7-2.9, 4% 3.0-3.2, 12%; and 3.3-3.5, 14%.

Pressley tests showed that the fiber strength of the cotton in this area was practically unchanged from the previous week. 80% of the cotton tested was in the grouping of 80,000 pounds per square inch. 16% tested 75,000-79,000 and 4% was in the range 70,000-74,000.

Prices paid cotton farmers for the most predominant qualities were: Middling Light Spotted, 29/32—25.95; Middling Light Spotted, 15/16 — 26.90; Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, 29/32 — 25.25; Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, 15/16 — 25.70; Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, 31/32 — 26.05. These prices were based on mike readings 3.5 and above, and uncompressed, mixed lots in warehouses.

Prices paid for cottonseed ranged from $45 to $50 per ton at gin points.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

There has been some sporadic talk in other months about establishing a Junior College in Wellington. In some places this is called a community college, a vocational institute, but whatever its name it is an institution of higher learning providing the equivalent of the freshman and sophomore work in a university.

And it might as well be noted that there was never a better time for starting the work of establishing such a school. It is common knowledge that there is such a jam of high school students seeking enrollment in the major universities and colleges that they are unable to take care of all of them. They are encouraging the expansion of existing junior colleges and the establishment of new ones and so are the State and Federal governments. The problem is not going to lessen—in fact it will increase steadily in the years ahead.

One of these days with our growing population, turning more and more farm land into cities, highways, lakes, recreational areas, etc., we may wake up to discover that we do not have enough food to nourish our own people. Already the surpluses of wheat and corn are down to normal and the government's stocks of butter and dried milk are barely enough to meet the needs of the welfare programs and there is practically no surplus of cheese at all. Cotton is about the only major crop of which there is a genuine surplus.

In the current Panhandle-Plains Historical Review there is an 1885 map of the Panhandle which shows the streams and rivers of the area. Those in Collingsworth such as Salt Fork and Elm are listed as they are called today; but Buck Creek is listed as Spillers Creek or Clear Creek. Superimposed on the old map are the brands of the ranches of that day. The research work on the ranches was done by Faye Bell Crain, archivist of the museum at West Texas State University. In Collingsworth the brands of the Rocking Chair, Diamond Tail and RO ranches are shown and the Mill Iron is shown in Hall and Cottle.

We have a freeze and frost that was sufficient to take the leaves off the cotton as well as everything else so you can expect the gins to be humming for the next few weeks. The lateness of the harvest is best shown by the number of farmers who have not ginned a single bale up to this time. At the first of this week I was talking to Elmer Black and Stanley Whitson. At that time neither of them had harvested a single boll of cotton. Neither one of them is the sort who puts off anything longer than necessary.

Down in Austin they have set up a committee to study the poll tax situation in Texas. Better forget about it for 1966. If you want to vote in many elections that will come up next year, the thing to do is to hike over to the courthouse and pay your poll tax now.

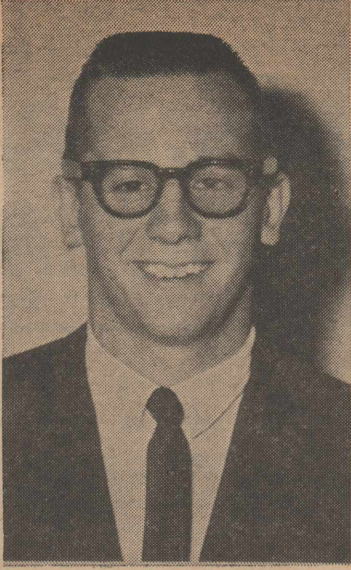

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman will be in Quanah next Wednesday, December 8, to observe a demonstration of mesquite control. It will be held 14 miles west of Quanah on the Childress, Hardeman and Cottle County lines.

It is hard to believe; but there are only 20 shopping days left until Christmas—only three more papers.

Panhandle Bucks Are Heavyweights

Panhandle whitetails outweigh their southern cousins by a substantial margin, according to weight figures collected during the last few years by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. Comparative weights of 3½-year-old field-dressed bucks from various Texas areas are: Llano Basin, 70 lbs.; Edwards Plateau, 84 lbs.; Rio Grande Plains, 103 lbs.; and Texas Panhandle, 127 lbs.

Unfortunately, noted the department, Panhandle deer range is limited to a few narrow stream bottoms that traverse the high plains and only a few hundred deer are harvested each year. But uncrowded range conditions and excellent food availability boost the Panhandle bucks to braggin' size.

Thai Ag Student Spends Thanksgiving in City

A Wellington visitor during the Thanksgiving holiday was Pairojana Visiti Srichamara of Bangkok, Thailand, who was the guest of a college classmate, Freddy Peters, in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Peters.

The young visitor, whose name his friends have shortened to Vince, attends Lubbock Christian College.

Before coming to LCC, he studied five years in English schools and he is due to remain in the United States four years.

At the end of this semester, he will transfer to Parsons College, a state institution at Fairfield, Iowa.

Vince's father, Pron Srichamara, is a high government official of Thailand, the second minister of industry, and prior to entering government service, he was a teacher in a private school.

The young LCC student is here to study tropical agriculture and he expressed the hope that upon his return to his homeland he can follow this as his vocation. His father is a landowner in Thailand.

"I like the small towns, the size of Wellington," said Vince, whose home is in a city of more than a million and a quarter.

Texans Drive a Little Faster

AUSTIN. — Texas motorists are driving a bit faster than they did last year, the Texas Highway Department's 1965 speed survey indicates.

The survey, conducted by the department's Planning Survey Division to determine traffic needs, was made public recently.

Another report comparing average daytime speeds with average speeds at night was released at the same time. It makes clear that darkness does not necessarily bring a slow-up in driving speeds.

In Texas, the speed limit for passenger vehicles, pickup trucks and buses is 70 miles an hour during the day and 65 at night. For large trucks the daytime limit is 60 miles an hour and 55 at night.

As in 1964, the data for the speed survey was obtained by the use of a radar speed machine.

An effort was made to camouflage the survey operation at each of the 31 locations where the checks were made. For this reason, it is believed that the speeds are indicative of the normal driving habits of Texas motorists.

More than 34,000 vehicles, including passenger cars, trucks and buses, were checked for the survey.

The survey found 10.2% of the passenger cars exceeding 70 miles an hour, compared to 5.1% a year ago.

For buses, there was a decided drop in the percent exceeding 70 miles an hour. The 1965 survey found only 0.6% of the buses exceeding 70, as compared to 5.7% in 1964.

There was an increase, however, for trucks with 1.1% exceeding 70, compared to 0.4% last year.

The average speed for all vehicles was 58.6 miles an hour. This compares to 56.6 miles an hour in 1964. The average speed for passenger cars was 61.2 miles an hour, compared to 58.8 miles an hour last year.

The average speed for trucks was 53.1 miles an hour, compared to 51.8 in 1964. For buses, the average speed was 63.3 miles an hour, compared to 62.4 in 1965.

For the day and night report, more than 7,800 vehicles were surveyed—5,381 during the day and 2,454 at night in five locations.

Although the average day speed was 59.8 miles an hour, compared to a slight drop to 58.2 at night, 16.5% of the night drivers were exceeding the posted limit, 65 miles an hour.

In one year, 1860-61, eleven states seceded from the Union.
