

1970 WELLINGTON SKYROCKETS

The 1970 Wellington Skyrocket team opens its season against the Hollis Tigers Friday, September 11, at Powell Field, under head coach Thayne Amonett, in his last season of coaching before he becomes superintendent of schools. In the front row, from left, are Randy Amonett, manager, Trinidad Cantu, Keith Martin, Keith Hooper, Bruce Oney, Gary Wright, Teddy McLain and

Area Pioneer, Mrs. Keller, Dies Monday

Mrs. J. A. Keller, who came to Collingsworth County in a covered wagon with her parents 72 years ago, died in St. Joseph's Hospital at 8:45 p.m. Monday, Sept. 7. She had been 94 years and lived at Thomas Nursing Home.

Her parents, and later her husband, were closely identified with the development of the county from that time on, and she, too, took an active part in community life.

She was born Rose Richards at Cresson, Johnson County, Oct. 2, 1886. Her parents were the late J. H. and Sarah Edgington Richards.

On March 12, 1904, she was married to Joe A. Keller in Wellington, and the Cross Roads community was her home from that time. He died April 28, 1966.

Early in life she became a member of the Methodist Church.

Funeral services were conducted at 4:00 p.m. Wednesday.

"Ls" Popular in Class

Mrs. J. I. Morgan's tongue trills lightly over the "Ls" when she talks to her class.

With an enrollment of 28, nine students have Christian names beginning with L.

There are Lois Collins and Lon Kiker, then come Lee Sessions and Leigh Ann Jeffrey.

Neither do Lyn Hurst and Lynn Pence spell their names alike. Next come Lisa Wilson and Leonard Chambers, and finally there is Elizabeth Williams.

Now, the latter might be confused in her first name with Elizabeth Davila.

As if this is not enough, Mrs. Morgan has two Connies, Connie Davis and Connie Langford. And rounding out the group are Debra Wood and Debbie Hicks.

"I have never had this before, in all the years I have been teaching," Mrs. Morgan said.

Road Hearing Due

County Budget Hearing Set for September 14

The public hearing on the county budget for the 1970-71 year will be held at 2:00 p.m. Monday, Sept. 14, in the Commissioners' Court room, County Judge Zook Thomas announced.

At 10:00 a.m. Monday, another hearing will be held in regard to the feasibility of a road in the Dozier community.

The proposed budget is $315,873, Judge Thomas said.

Wellington Defense Up

Rockets Open Against Hollis Here on Friday

Wellington Skyrockets open their season against the Hollis Tigers Friday night, Sept. 11, at Powell Field. Game time is 8:00 p.m.

The Tigers are a club with good speed and a lot of size in the line. It is an experienced club, and speed is Hollis strong point.

If there is any one man who stands out on the Hollis team, it is Victor Bobo, who formerly played for Wellington.

"He does a fine job as both offensive and defensive end," said Coach Thayne Amonett.

On the whole, Hollis Coach Chuck O'Donnell has put together a well balanced club.

Hollis out-scrammaged Tipton, Okla., earlier, then on Friday bowed to Childress Bobcats, rated as the No. 1 team in District 2-AA. Childress scored four times and toward

Cost of Milk to Students Is Increased

The cost of milk to students of the Wellington Schools has been increased to 8 cents for each half pint, Supt. J. L. Harper has announced.

This became necessary after the Wellington School was notified that the special milk program, financed in part with federal funds, was discontinued effective Sept. 1.

The new cost applies to both plain and chocolate milk.

"We expect Congress to provide some sort of milk program within the next two or three months," Chas. M. Hicks of the Texas Education Agency told Mr. Harper.

Students previously paid four cents for each half pint.

Milk is now costing the school in excess of 7 cents and this does not cover the cost of refrigeration, Mr. Harper said.

the end of the scrimmage, Hollis began to wear down.

Rocket coaches are well pleased with their team's defense at the final scrimmage at Paducah Friday night, Sept. 4, Coach Amonett said.

Wellington intercepted two passes and ran for touchdowns. "We are still short of speed, but were pleased with the overall performance of the boys," the head coach said.

Denny Carter received a hip injury in the Paducah scrimmage, and although he is not back to full strength, the coaches expect him to play in the Hollis game.

Bobby Saied is still bothered by the ankle injury he received earlier in practice, and his coaches don't know at this point if he will see action in the opening game.

The starting lineup for the Hollis game has not been announced.

Elm Creek Project Goes to Governor

The application for approval of the Elm Creek Watershed Development project has been sent to the office of Governor Preston Smith, Gary Reed of Soil Conservation Service said Friday, Sept. 4.

The application was sent by the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission to the governor in order to correlate it with plans that may be under way for the development of Elm Creek in Oklahoma, Mr. Reed said he was told by Ernest Clerk, PRPC executive director.

"I think we will have to understand that as things will happen, that our projects will have to be correlated down the way," Mr. Reed added.

The Elm Creek project calls for its complete development in Texas, and is sponsored jointly by Collingsworth, Gray and Wheeler counties.

District Scout Meeting Set Here Thursday

The Comanche District Scout Committee will meet Thursday, Sept. 10 at the Greenbelt Electric Co-op, Inc., to discuss the fall membership drive.

Bob Dwight of Samnorwood, district chairman, will preside. Committee members will discuss the declining population of the four-county district and seek a solution to the problem of getting more boys into Scouting.

The Comanche District includes Wheeler, Collingsworth, Hall and Donley counties.

The District Camporee, which was scheduled to be held Friday and Saturday, Sept. 11 and 12 on Buck Creek, has been cancelled, according to Dave Agnew, district Scout executive. It will probably be held in October, he said.

Band Boosters Plan Concessions

The Band Boosters Club met Monday evening, Sept. 4, to make final plans for the opening of the football season this week.

The club will operate the old concession stand for the Hollis game.

A committee of Bob McAlister and O. V. Johnson, president, will meet with the school board Monday, Sept. 14, in regard to a new concession stand for the football season.

Drive Set Sept. 28 to Oct. 10

Chapter Quota for Red Cross Financial Drive Set at $2,008

The Collingsworth County Red Cross Financial Drive will open Monday, Sept. 28, and continue for two weeks, closing Saturday, Oct. 10, Charles Carter, chapter chairman, has announced.

A quota of $2,008 was accepted by the local chapter in a meeting Thursday, Sept. 3.

In this meeting also Mrs. Carter Holcomb was elected vice chairman of the Collingsworth County Chapter, needs for the ensuing year, and

Church Services Come to Elderly

Residents of Thomas Nursing Home will see and hear services conducted at First Baptist Church, by closed circuit television, as a gift from Hershel Tyler of R. H. Tyler Co.

He has completed installation of the TV cable in time for these senior citizens to view the revival services now in progress.

After this, the men and women at Thomas Nursing Home will see the Sunday services each week.

Mr. Tyler will be in charge of camera operation at the church.

Only 109 Acres Sprayed Under Weevil Program

Only 109 acres of cotton was sprayed under the boll weevil diapause spraying program on Tuesday, Sept. 8, according to Duggie Jameson of Wellington Flying Service.

Sign-ups are off sharply in both Hall and Donley counties also, Mr. Jameson said.

Part of this is due to drought damage on dry land cotton. Some of the farmers with irrigated cotton are already spraying for worms and are using a different type of insecticide, Mr. Jameson said.

The second sign-up period is now open, and the next spray date in the diapause program is Tuesday, Sept. 15.

Mr. Jameson said that the weevil cycle is running about three weeks late in this county, as well as in Hall and Donley.

Farm Bureau Leaders Go to Policy Meeting

Collingsworth County Farm Bureau leaders will attend an area policy development kickoff meeting at the Coronado Inn in Amarillo Thursday, Sept. 19, according to Ray Null, president of the local farm organization.

Planning to attend are Mr. Null, Dee Coleman, Douglas Coleman, the Paschall and Dee Burba.

The meeting will be a committee work session for the purpose of identifying major problems at state and national levels which will be of primary concern to Farm Bureau members in the year ahead, Mr. Null said.

The work session committees will be identifying problem areas in some of the following subjects: taxes, education, state and local government, regulatory programs involving agriculture, transportation, natural resources, and various livestock sessions to cover the entire program.

Problem areas defined at the Amarillo meeting will be combined with reports from other similar meetings throughout the state and used by the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau Policy Development Committee as it plans for policy development at the county convention.

The annual Farm Bureau policy development process begins with county annual conventions which will be held

New Bunting Decorates Businesses This Week

Wellington will give a colorful welcome to visitors attending the Collingsworth County Fair, as red, white and blue bunting goes up on the fronts of business houses late this week.

Jaycees, under the direction of Jesse Hernandez, president, will put up the bunting, each carrying a middle panel with "Welcome to Wellington".

Fair Week opens Monday, Sept. 14, as the Golden Spread Carnival moves in and sets up its rides on Amarillo Street between Bura Handley Community Center and Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc.

Plans for the remainder of the Fair, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 18 and 19, were finalized in a meeting of committee chairmen Thursday, Sept. 3.

Mr. Hernandez said that about 50 new bunting were bought by the Chamber of Commerce to replace those that have been used for more than a decade. Almost every downtown building will be decorated, and more of the patriotic banners will go up on buildings along Highway 83 and 8th Street.

The Jaycees will conduct a terrapin race during the Fair, but the time has not been set. In order to accommodate the Golden Spread Carnival, Amarillo Street will be blocked off between 9th and 10th Streets, said Billy Moseley, Fair co-chairman. These rides are based in Hedley and owned by Jack Hoggett.

Plans are near completion for two major fair events, the Old Settlers Reunion and the Rotary Club Barbecue.

Youth Hurt in Gun Accident

A Dallas youth, Tommy Hinkley, became the first victim of the 1970 hunting season when he accidentally shot himself Saturday evening, Sept. 5.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hinkley of Dallas. Tommy was one of a group hunting doves on the Ross Ranch northwest of Quail. Other members reported that he was killing a rabbit with the butt of his gun when it discharged, the pellets striking him in the top of the right shoulder.

He was treated in St. Joseph's Hospital until Monday and returned to Dallas the following day.

Both are in a new location this year, the American Legion Building at the corner of Amarillo and 10th Street, and the lot adjoining it.

There will be plenty of comfortable seats inside the Legion Building for the old settlers, said Riley Dunson, chairman, as he urged all long-time residents to attend. They can begin registering at 11:00 a.m., and can visit as long as they wish that afternoon.

The Rotary Club will be staging one of its famous chicken barbecues. This will be served both in the Legion building and at tables outside.

Tickets may be bought from any member of the club.

Mr. Moseley and Ralph Owens, the other co-chairman, have emphasized that there will be no soliciting for funds by any organization inside the exhibits building at the community center.

Patrolman Don Gosnell

Don Gosnell Joins Highway Patrol Here

Don Gosnell of the Texas Department of Public Safety has begun work as a patrolman in Collingsworth County, Patrolman Doug Wright has announced.

Mr. Gosnell, a native of Collingsworth County, and his family moved here from Ballinger where he was a highway patrolman two years.

He was graduated from the Texas Department of Public Safety Law Enforcement Academy in 1967 and was assigned to the drivers license division in Houston a year before he went to Ballinger.

The new patrolman is the son of Mrs. Virgie Duckworth Gosnell of Cisco, and the grandson of Mrs. Sid Bell. He grew up in Cisco.

He and his wife, Wanda, have two daughters, Cynthia, 3 years, and Bonnie 5 months. Mrs. Gosnell is from Eastland.

Delegates Leave for State Demo Meeting Sunday

Delegates from Collingsworth County to the State Democratic Convention in Dallas will leave here Sunday and participate in the caucuses and other pre-convention activities Monday, Mrs. John Coleman, county chairman, said.

The convention will open on Tuesday, Sept. 15.

Delegates are Mrs. Coleman, Paul Spillman and Ralph Owens. Alternates who plan to attend are Mr. Coleman and Robert Dwight of Samnorwood.

Bill Roberts, Retired Farmer, Dies Monday

W. F. (Bill) Roberts, 87, a retired farmer, died in St. Joseph's Hospital at 7:45 p.m., Monday, Sept. 7. He had been in failing health, but entered the hospital only during the week end.

He lived in the county more than 55 years.

For 25 years Mr. Roberts farmed three and one-half miles northeast of Wellington. About 30 years ago, he began to lose his vision, and in 1942, after he could no longer farm, he and Mrs. Roberts moved into town.

Mr. Roberts was born at Suligent, Ala., Oct. 27, 1882, and came to Texas as a young man.

He worked for many years on the Craven Ranch in north Childress County, and was in charge of the masonry when the large ranch house was built.

He and Mrs. Roberts were married during this time and for a long period she taught in the rural schools of Childress and Collingsworth counties. She later joined the Wellington faculty.

Despite his blindness, Mr. Roberts never lost his interest in the business and civic affairs of the community. He was often in the business district, and his contacts with the merchants were close.

In the last years of his life, when he was less active, he remained in touch with the outside world through his radio.

Funeral services for Mr. Roberts were conducted at 2:00 p.m. Wednesday at Kelson Chapel, with the Rev. Roy Collins, Jr., officiating.

Burial was in the Childress Cemetery under the direction of Kelson Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Jack Davis, Rufus Sweat, Marshall Peters, Albert Fulcher, Earl Hunter, Louis Graham, E. W. Clement, and Bob Barton.

Mr. Roberts is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dora Roberts of Wellington. There are six nephews and three nieces, none of whom live here.

Mrs. Caperton Hurt at Airport

Mrs. Claude Caperton of Dozier received a broken hip when she was blown down by a blast of air from the engine of a plane at Amarillo Airport on Tuesday, Sept. 1.

She and a nephew, Charles Worth Shields of Shamrock, had taken her granddaughter, Gail Caperton, to catch the plane for her home in Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. Caperton was blown over as she and Mr. Shields waited for the plane to take off, according to her nieces, Mrs. R. L. Templeton and Mrs. Henry Rogers.

She was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital and was able to be up in a wheel chair Saturday, Mrs. Rogers said.

Present plans are to return her to the Shamrock Hospital when she is able, possibly in about 10 days.

Her sister, Mrs. Zera Phillips of El Paso was visiting here at the time and is caring for their mother, Mrs. A. J. Shields, who will be 98 years of age within a short time.

In Houston

Hospital Staff Goes to National Meet

Two staff members of St. Joseph's Hospital will attend the convention of the American Hospital Association in Houston Monday through Thursday, Sept. 14 to 17.

They are Sister Mary Perpetua, administrator, and Mrs. Dora Woods, executive housekeeper.

Mrs. Ernest Harwell, x-ray technician at the hospital and president of St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary, and Miss Rose Shadid, will attend as representatives of the Auxiliary.

Sister Perpetua, who is vice president of the Texas Conference of Catholic Hospitals, will preside at a meeting of the executive board of that body.

One item on the agenda will be the selection of a new president, to succeed one who has transferred to another state.

Mrs. Harwell will also attend radiology sections during the convention.

PRPC, RC&D Seek Mutual Understanding

Ernest Clark, executive director of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, and the executive board of North Rolling Plains Resource Conservation and Development met in a two and one-half hour session in Shamrock Thursday, Sept. 3, to work out an understanding of the area in which each of these planning bodies will work.

"I think they (PRPC) have a better understanding of RC&D," said Gary Reed, one of those representing Soil Conservation Service in the 8-county RC&D program. "They want to avoid duplication of planning effort."

One new county, Lipscomb, has joined RC&D and was represented at the meeting.

The planning commission earlier rejected a review of the application of RC&D to the State Soil Conservation Service, the normal route of an application.

Optimistic that a favorable review will now be given, Mr. Reed urged sponsors in the member counties to get to work on projects they would like to see carried out.

RC&D programs were authorized in the Food and Agriculture Act of 1962, in which their primary objective is set out as the orderly regional development, conservation and utilization of natural resources of rural areas through planning, technical and financial assistance to local organizations carrying out RC&D projects.

The Regional Planning Commission in the State of Texas was created by law and is charged with involvement in a comprehensive development planning process.

It is also designated by the Governor as the official planning and development clearing house within the region it serves.

The unofficial Memorandum of Understanding reviewed by the two groups Thursday defined the fields in which each will operate.

The memorandum also calls for each of these agencies to sell the other to the people.

Representing North Rolling Plains RC&D in the meeting with Mr. Clark were these executive board members: W. R. Breeding, Collingsworth County; A. L. Gailey, Hall; O. R. Stark, Briscoe; Bright Newhouse, Donley; Harry E. Frye, Wheeler; and Roland Wheat, Lipscomb. Hemp-hill and Gray are the other member counties.

Representing SCS-SCD were Douglas Cunningham, area conservationist, Pampa; Mr. Reed; Bill Brooks, Wheeler; Henry Gregory, Memphis; Mickey Black, Pampa, and Laramie McEntire, Canadian.

Enlarged Hobby Show Planned at 1970 Fair

The hobby show of the Collingsworth County Fair has been enlarged this year to include children as young as six and men to age 64, according to Mrs. B. M. Sims, chairman.

This show will be set up on Thursday afternoon and remain until the end of the Fair, Saturday at 5:00 p.m.

There are three divisions, with age groups in two: Junior Hobbies, open class, are for boys and girls 6 through 14 years, and the three age groups are 6 through 9 years, 10 and 11 years, and 12 through 14 years.

Young Mens' Hobbies will have two age groups, 15 and 16 years, and 17 and 18 years.

The third class is adult men's hobbies, for those 19 through 64 years, and may include such things as models, leathercraft, woodcraft, etc., said Mrs. Sims. Items to be exhibited are subject to approval of the hobby chairman. First, second and third place ribbons will be awarded in each class with special awards as merited, the chairman continued.

Vice chairmen of the hobby show are Mrs. Bill Hall and Mrs. Gary Reed, and the advisors are Mrs. Leon Hartman and Mrs. R. J. Mitchell, Jr.

Mrs. Courtney With Grandson

Joseph Donaldson, 11-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Donaldson of Lubbock, underwent surgery for pyloric stenosis in Methodist Hospital Aug. 27.

The baby is recovering from this stomach surgery, his grandmother, Mrs. Lynn Courtney, said. She returned home Friday evening, Sept. 4.

Mrs. Donaldson is teaching at Ralls and Mr. Donaldson is doing graduate work at Texas Tech in the field of plant genetics.

Quail Eighth Grade Elects

Quail eighth grade students met Tuesday, Sept. 1 to elect officers and sponsors for the coming year.

Lanora Oatman was chosen president; Judy Gosnell, vice president; Roland Torre, secretary; Generah Martinez, treasurer; and Hope Souder, reporter.

Other class members are Joel Barton, Gary Wayne Brown, Jacqueline Barton, Jimmy Kennedy, Olla Mae McCann, and Carey Sanchez.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gosnell and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Oatman were elected class parents.

Mrs. Lewis Morris and Supt. James Stavenhagen are sponsors for both the seventh and eighth grades.

BUYING AN APPLIANCE

Do you know some hints that will save you money when buying an appliance?

The considerations are, do you need it, and can you afford it? If you can answer yes firmly to these two questions, the next thing to consider is what type, size and what power is needed for operation.

For instance, if you are buying a stove, take into consideration how much you'll be using it, where you can put it, and which utility is cheaper to use. In some communities, electricity is cheaper than gas, or vice-versa.

Assembly of God Organizes Royal Ranger Outpost

The First Assembly of God Church has organized and will soon be making application for charter for a Royal Ranger Outpost. The Royal Rangers are young men from 12 through 17 years of age.

"Boys in this area within this age group are welcome to become members. They are sponsored by the Men's Fellowship and the local church," said the Rev. Tom Rogers, pastor.

The Commander of the outpost is Joe Hooper. Mr. Hooper had been a leader in Royal Rangers before coming to Wellington and is well qualified.

"This year's slogan, 'Preparing Boys for Life's Challenge', depicts the purpose of the Royal Rangers. From the time he enters the Royal Rangers program, a boy is taught to memorize and live by the Ranger code, which is:

"A Royal Ranger is alert, clean, honest, courageous, loyal, courteous, obedient and spiritual."

"In each meeting he pledges to 'live by the Ranger code.' Each time he recites it, he is laying a better foundation that will give him something solid to stand on and live by throughout life," said the pastor.

At present the troop is planning projects to raise money for a trip to an area lake for specified training and camping.

CJC Evening Classes Open

Registration for evening classes at Clarendon College will continue through Thursday, Sept. 17, Dean Beryl Clinton has announced.

Classes offered include: Monday: English 113 and Bible 137; Tuesday, Government 213, English 213 and Art 213 (creative hobbies); and Thursday: Business administration 237; Math 195 and History 213. Sociology 243 will be offered during the fall semester from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. on Monday.

This course would be of interest to anyone wishing to qualify as a teacher aide and it is approved by PESO, said Dean Clinton.

The Tuesday night art course is a creative hobbies class, designed especially for recreational leaders, prospectives, for workers with therapeutic art in hospitals, or those wishing to develop a hobby. The course is conducted as a workshop and no prerequisite art is required.

Quail FFA Elects Officers, Then Initiates Greenhands

Quail Future Farmers met Wednesday, Sept. 2, to organize for the current year and to elect officers.

This was followed by the formal initiation of greenhands, first year ag students, on Tuesday evening, Sept. 8.

Quail Freshmen Elect Sept. 1

The Freshman Class of Quail High School met Sept. 1 to elect officers for the school year.

Sheri White was chosen president; Doris Peters, vice president; Clifton Sullivan, secretary; and Lonnie Green, reporter.

The class parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peters, and the class sponsor is Mrs. Eunice Ratliff.

Officers this year are Laron Peters, president; Jerry Barton, vice president; Redgie Souder, secretary; Terry Canada, treasurer; Joel Ross, reporter, and Jerry Alston, sentinel.

Doyle Messer is advisor. Greenhands initiated Tuesday were James Davis, Lonnie Green, Tito Martinez, Larry McCann and Clifton Sullivan.

Chapter guests were Supt. James Stavenhagen, members of the school board and fathers of the boys.

The Quail chapter has a membership of 24 this year, Mr. Messer said. The regular meeting date will be the first Wednesday of each month.

What God Has Given

BY GAYLORD COOK

In order to change man from a creature covered with and responsible for sin into a new creature innocent and pure God has given:

1. God has given FAITH to change the heart. Acts 2:37. Faith destroys the love of sin and establishes the love of God.

2. God has given REPENTANCE to change the life. Acts 3:19. Godly sorrow for sin brings reformation of life.

3. God has given CONFESSION to change the allegiance. Rom. 10:9-10. The confession that Jesus is the Son of God is taking a public stand with him.

4. God has given BAPTISM to change the state. Gal. 3:27. It is at this point that one leaves the kingdom of Satan and enters the kingdom of God. A new life is started. Rom. 6:3-4.

You can read this in your own Bible. You need not take any man's word for it!

Chevrolet Shows New Vega 2300 In Wellington September 10

DETROIT.—Chevrolet today revealed details of the Vega 2300—the new small car line it expects to become a leader in the economy market.

"Vega 2300 is unlike any other Chevrolet ever built," John Z. DeLorean, General Motors vice president and Chevrolet general manager, declared. "It meets the growing desire for an American-built car which—besides being small in size—is fun to drive, safe, comfortable, economical to own and operate, easy to maintain and long lasting in both construction and styling."

"Vega sets a new standard of customer value in the economy market with performance and handling far superior to any car in its field."

DeLorean said the full line of four Vega 2300 models goes on sale in dealerships on Thursday, Sept. 10.

They include a 2-door sedan, a 2-door hatchback coupe and a sporty "Kammback" wagon—all four-passenger models. There is also a unique one-passenger Vega panel express truck available with a second passenger seat.

With a wheelbase of 97 inches, an overall length under 170 inches and a sedan weight of 2190 pounds, the Vega is generally the same size as other economy cars but offers significant differences.

It is nearly eight inches lower and over four inches wider than the best selling foreign car. It has greater passenger room and trunk space. Its lower center of gravity and wider tread helps the Vega hug the road in American freeway driving.

Vega's excellent handling is due to a specially designed front suspension and steering system that give high cornering ability, responsive steering and less driver fatigue on long trips. A new custom tailored braking system includes standard front disc brakes.

Computer-selected full coil springs at each wheel plus extensive body sound deadening give a smoother, quieter ride than the usual economy car.

Vega's most innovative feature is its new lightweight overhead cam four-cylinder engine. This engine—specially designed and built in this country for the Vega—meets performance needs of American drivers while giving impressive fuel economy and low emissions.

The 140 cubic inch engine (or 2300 cubic centimeters as indicated in the Vega 2300 name) develops 90 horsepower. There is also a 110 horsepower optional version. Both are designed to operate efficiently on the new no-lead or low-lead gasolines. A new open combustion chamber design contributes to more complete burning of fuel and improved emission control.

The Vega engine is the first in the industry to use a new high-silicon aluminum alloy and a recent breakthrough in aluminum casting technique in its lightweight engine block. The result is a large piston displacement engine with high torque output at moderate speeds and good fuel economy.

In Chevrolet tests thus far, the Vega has been getting about 25 miles per gallon with a standard engine and 3-speed manual transmission.

Quail FHA Picks Officers

The Quail chapter of the Future Homemakers of America held its first meeting of the year Thursday, Sept. 3, to elect officers for the 1970-71 year.

Every member was named to an elective office.

Sherri Canada was chosen president; Sandra Sullivan, vice president; Sheri White, secretary; Janet Patterson, treasurer;

Susan Langley, reporter; Brenda Childers, pianist; Marie McGill, song leader; Karon Peters, historian; Esther Martinez, parliamentarian; and Doris Peters, sergeant at arms and teller.

Terry Canada was selected Quail Future Homemaker Chapter Beaur.

Mrs. R. H. Shields is sponsor, and chapter parents are Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Childers, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Canada, and Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Langley.

No matter how good a swimmer you may be, safety should always be foremost in your mind. Strength alone will not keep you from getting into trouble if you take too many chances in the water.

Army ROTC Scholarships Open

Applications are being accepted from high school seniors desiring to compete for nearly 1,000 four-year Army ROTC scholarship to be awarded to students entering college in 1971. The application period runs through Dec. 31.

These scholarships pay for college tuition, books and lab fees and provide $50 monthly allowance.

A scholarship winner may attend any one of over 250 colleges and universities throughout the 50 states, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia offering Army ROTC. He may pursue any course of study recognized by the college and leading to a baccalaureate degree. Following graduation he must serve as an active duty officer for a minimum of four years.

Selection is based on academic excellence, extracurricular activities, physical standards, Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing Program (ACT) results and evaluation of motivation and leadership potential following the student's appearance before a scholarship selection board.

It is of note that from 16 to 24 percent of our American business executives making from $100,000 to $300,000 a year and top government executives took ROTC training.

The Army plans also to award 400 three-year scholarships and 630 two-year scholarships to college men already enrolled in ROTC.

For details, residents in the Fourth Army Area of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico, should write to Army ROTC Scholarships, Headquarters Fourth U.S. Army, Fort Sam Houston, Texas 78234.

CHEVY'S NEW LITTLE CAR IS OPEN FOR BUSINESS.

We call it Vega. We also call it "the little car that does everything well." Because it does.

Everything? Everything.

Vega moves well, stops well, steers well, rides well, handles well, responds well, passes well, travels well, parks well, wears well, and is priced well under what you'd expect to pay for such a talented little car.

In our highway tests, Vega has been getting gas mileage in the neighborhood of the little imports, which isn't a bad neighborhood.

Yet unlike your average little car, ours steps right out when you step on the gas.

The engine is a specially designed overhead cam four with a lightweight aluminum alloy block. It turns slowly and quietly at turnpike speeds, with power to spare.

Disc brakes are standard in the front. So are bucket seats, except on the truck.

How we doing so far?

Numbers speak louder than words.

The wheelbase is 97 inches. Total length is just under 170 inches, or nearly four feet shorter than a full-size Chevrolet.

Height of the coupe is just 50 inches, nine inches lower than the leading import.

Width: a nice stable 5½ feet. Weight: 2,190 lbs. for the sedan. Engine displacement: 140 cubic inches.

Fuel economy: about 25 mpg, with the standard engine and transmission, in our highway tests.

Horsepower: 90. You can order 110. (80 and 93 hp, SAE Net.) Seating capacity: 4 adults.

What it all adds up to is a lot of little car.

Three cars and a truck. Vega turned out so well that we couldn't turn out just one.

So we're turning out four: the sporty little hatchback coupe shown open and closed in the foreground below; the sedan, on the right; the Kammback wagon, on the left; and the little panel truck, in the rear.

Oh, and a special GT version of the coupe and wagon which we'll show you later on.

September 10th is Opening Day.

All 6,300 Chevrolet dealers are handling Vega, so you shouldn't have to go very far to see and drive one.

Chevy's new little car is open for business. Look into it.

Chevrolet introduces

Sprightly Vega Hatchback Coupe

This distinctive four-passenger coupe model of Chevrolet's new 1971 Vega 2300 economy car has a wide combination rear window and rear deck that swings up for easy access to the rear compartment and a fold down rear seat for extra cargo room. This is one of four Vega models. Vega's individual styling will be continued for at least four years. Roomier and better handling than usual economy cars, Vega has a new, domestic-built lightweight overhead cam engine to fill performance needs of American drivers. It gives impressive fuel economy and low emissions. Among "firsts" in economy cars are Vega's power-flow interior ventilation, comfortable molded foam seats and steel side-guard beams in the doors. Vega models go on sale in Chevrolet dealerships on Thursday, September 10.

Lewis Greens Complete Travel Through 49 Contiental States

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Green, 1706 Haskell Street, have returned from tour of the New England states, and when they turned homeward from Augusta, Maine, they had visited all of the 49 Continental United States.

They first traveled eastward to the Great Smoky Mountains and here, as in the Blue Ridge Mountains, they found some of the most beautiful country in all their travels.

But they found tourists, too, "just like us," remarked Mr. Green, "and they're getting so thick you don't have much room."

Mr. and Mrs. Green travel with a camper mounted on their pickup. Their trips are leisurely and they travel without a set schedule, always certain of a place to spend the night. This is the first summer they have traveled alone, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thomason usually going, too. They drove northward through the Shenandoah Valley and the Appalachian Mountains.

"There are more wild animals, bear and deer, there than I ever expected to see," Mr. Green said. "And more of the land is in forests."

"Two country kids like us had to see New York City," he recalled, so they drove there. Other stops were made through New England.

The couple was in Portland, Maine, on Sunday, and attended church services, as is their custom. They always find friendliness and hospitality.

They returned home through the Central States, driving along roads that took them around the major cities.

When they reached Wellington, they had traveled over 5,000 miles in 17 days and hadn't even had a flat tire.

United States mint was established in Philadelphia in 1792.

Kathy Kiker, Robert Dale Graves Marry in Tulia Church Ceremony

Miss Kathy Kiker of Canyon and Robert Dale Graves of Littlefield were married at ten o'clock Friday morning, August 28, in First United Methodist Church in Tulia.

Officiating was the bride's uncle, the Reverend Kenneth Wyatt of Tulia, conference evangelist of the Methodist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin G. Kiker of Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Graves of Littlefield.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. W. C. Teel of Tulia. At the altar, lighted tapers were at each side of the prieu dieu, with the wedding candle at the center.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal floor-length wedding gown of angelmist peau de soie over bridal taffeta, designed with a high neckline, empire waist, bishop sleeves, and an A-line silhouette, all enhanced with Alencon lace and ribbon trim. Her matching mantilla of peau de soie, lace and ribbon fell from a coif of illusion. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses on her mother's prayer book, and wore a 65-year-old cross that belonged to her great-aunt.

The bride was attended by Miss Rhonda Cybert of Lorenzo, who wore a pink chiffon over satin, and carried a single long-stemmed red rose.

The best man was Gordon Graves of Littlefield, brother of the bridegroom, and guests were seated by Lon Kiker of Wellington and Mark Wyatt of Tulia, brother and cousin of the bride.

Jill Wyatt of Tulia, another cousin, lighted the candles.

Reception guests were received in the parlor of the church. Miss Paula Kiker, sister of the bride, was at the reception table.

The serving table was covered with a white linen cloth and appointed in crystal. The wedding candle, bride's bouquet and two individual white candles decorated the table, while two baskets of flowers were at the sides.

Miss Elaine Graves of Littlefield, sister of the bridegroom, served the cake, and Miss Glenda Kiker, sister of the bride, poured.

After returning from their wedding trip to Santa Fe, New Mexico, the couple is at home at 2110 7th Avenue, Apartment C, Canyon, where both are students at West Texas State University.

The bride is a junior elementary education major and works in the University library.

A senior agriculture major with a specialty in field crops, the bridegroom is on the Dean's Honor Roll and teaches freshman laboratory courses in agriculture.

Mrs. Billy Kirk Clay

June Popwell Weds Billy Kirk Clay in Church Ceremony Saturday

The sanctuary of First Baptist Church was the setting of the wedding of Miss June Elaine Popwell and Billy Kirk Clay of Shamrock at seven-thirty Saturday evening, September 5. The Reverend Roy Collins, Jr., pastor, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Popwell, Route 5, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Clay, 415 South Wall, Shamrock.

The altar was centered with an arch covered in foliage and white gladiolas. Seven-branched candelabras were at the sides, and three candles were at the front of the kneeling bench.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Dan Henard, Jr., who also accompanied Miss Polly Browning of Amarillo, soloist.

Mr. Popwell gave his daughter in marriage.

Her wedding gown was of Chantilly lace, with a basque bodice, high ruffled neckline and long fitted sleeves. Five lace tiers covered the bouffant skirt, which swept to a chapel train. The double-tiered floor length veil fell from a coif of roses and seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of Frenched carnations with white ribbon streamers, placed on a Bible.

Miss Waulen O'Hair of Amarillo was the maid of honor. The bride's sisters, Miss Rosemary Popwell and Miss Peggy Popwell, were the bridesmaid and junior bridesmaid. They wore red velvet dresses with full floor-length skirts. Velvet roses with streamers accented the back waistline. Red tulle veils fell from coils of red roses, and they carried nosegays of red carnations.

Johnny Rhodes of Shamrock was the best man, and groomsmen were Eddie Popwell, brother of the bride, while Jim Agan of Pampa was junior groomsmen.

Ushers, who also lighted the candles, were Gary Hiett of Samnorwood and John Parmer of Oklahoma City.

Jamie Mercer of Shamrock was the flower girl and Kendle Hefley of Electra the ring bearer.

After the ceremony, guests were received in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with her bouquet. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Miss Rhoda Bowling and Miss Judy Porter of Amarillo served the guests. Miss Jane Thompson of Canyon was at the register.

Rice bags were distributed by Terry, Debbie and Malinda Cochran of Texline.

The bride was graduated from Wellington High School and attended Amarillo College. A graduate of Shamrock High School, the bridegroom served in the United States Army with a year's duty in Vietnam. He is now associated with Clay Motor Company.

Upon returning from their wedding trip to Red River, New Mexico, the couple will be at home at 413 South Wall, Shamrock.

Susan Peters Crowned 4-H Club Bake Show Queen Here Saturday

Susan Peters was crowned the 4-H Bake Club Show Queen in the county contest held Saturday, September 5, in the office of Mrs. Leta Hill, county home demonstration agent.

She will exhibit her products at the Tri State Fair in Amarillo Saturday, September 19, at the District Bake Show.

The girls entered two-crust fruit pies and batter rolls in the county show. Records were judged. Each product and record counted 100 points with a total of 300-point possible score.

Those participating were Tammie Lovell, Pamela Shumate, Susan Peters and Rose Mary Popwell.

Miss Janna Cole, assistant county home demonstration agent of Gray County, Pampa, was the judge.

Four County Women Will Attend THDA Meeting in Galveston

Four women have been selected to represent Collingsworth County at the 44th annual meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association in Galveston September 16 and 17. Approximately 1,000 will attend from over the state.

Delegates from the county clubs are Mrs. Jess Motsenbocker, Home Demonstration Council president, and Mrs. Lowell Wells of Wellington, and Mrs. W. R. Breeding of Samnorwood. Mrs. Herb Redeker of Dodson is the alternate.

In Galveston, plans will be made for Texas to host the national meeting of the National Extension Homemakers Council at Dallas in September 1971.

At the first session, Wednesday morning, the women will hear Dr. Malcolm C. Smith, Jr., of the Preventive Medicine Division, Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, who will discuss "Space Food Systems Developments," and Robert H. Davis, formerly with the Attorney General's office in Austin, and now with the National Leadership Institute.

The afternoon program September 16 will feature an address by Mrs. Florence W. Low of College Station, assistant director for home economics with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service; and Mrs. R. O. Pearson of Abilene, advisor for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Workshops in family life, 4-H, and health will follow. At the evening session, Galveston County home demonstration club women will entertain with a "Bathing Beauty Revue" featuring beach fashions from 1900 to the present day.

Mrs. Leslie Scott of Houston will present a book review, "I've Only Got Two Hands and I'm Busy Wringing Them."

An election of officers will be the first order of business on September 17. Workshops on membership, public relations and publicity, and THDA organization will follow, along with other workshops in citizenship, cultural arts and recreation and safety.

A general session is planned the afternoon of September 17, with Tom Davison, assistant state 4-H leader, scheduled to review plans for the 4-H Center to be built at Lake Brownwood.

New officers will be installed at the closing dinner meeting.

Destroy Cotton Stalks Early to Aid Diapause Control Work

COLLEGE STATION.—Shredding cotton stalks and plowing them under immediately following harvest has long been recognized by cotton producers as extremely important in combating the pink bollworm.

His practice is also most effective in reducing the potential diapause of boll weevil population, John G. Thomas, Extension entomologist, notes.

"Total stalk destruction immediately following harvest is not only extremely devastating to the bollweevil population, which is destined to enter diapause and infest fields the following year, but also adds little, if any, to the cotton production cost," Thomas said.

"Properly timing these operations consistently makes the difference in effective weevil suppression and results in reduced weevil numbers the following year," he said.

Stalk destruction will prove extremely important in areas of Texas where diapause boll weevil control programs are conducted and in the areas where a short crop is anticipated, Thomas said. Such an area can be found in San Patricio and Nueces counties where Celia recently dealt extensive damage to the cotton crop, he added.

"Where harvest is not anticipated, growers are encouraged to shred stalks and plow them under to a depth of at least six inches as soon as possible," Thomas said. "In other areas of the state, growers should shred stalks and plow under debris as harvest is completed.

Where dessiccants or defoliants are used in preparing the crop for harvest, Thomas urged adding an insecticide to kill weevils before they enter their over-wintering sites, and added that growers should check with the county agent on the insecticide to use.

Mrs. Cleveland in Canyon School

Mrs. Patricia Cleveland this year is a faculty member of Canyon Junior High School, assigned special education.

783,000 Train in VA Program

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson said that a year-end report of the Veterans Administration operations for 1969 reflect growth and increased activities in a majority of its programs.

He said these trends were particularly evident in the agency's educational programs, and that a record number of 783,000 veterans, servicemen, sons, daughters, wives and widows are in training programs of all types. This is an increase of 35% over last year.

Most of these trainees, 736,000, were veterans and servicemen training under the current GI Bill.

Save Those Beer Cans

Stop throwing away those beer cans. They are worth money. Especially if they are cans from Coors which seems, if you check the cans thrown, are the most popular here.

Coors started a "cash-for-cans" aluminum program in January of this year and has paid out $224,900 so far.

I realize that some of the "pure" do not want others to know that they are drinking, especially some with what they consider strict parents, so they throw the cans anywhere rather than take the empties home and put them in their trash barrels.

Really, the trash man could care less. "So the 'Secret' drinker should have some place to dispose of his cans, rather than in the streets.

It might be a good idea for some group—if they've got the nerve—to set up a pen in which one and all can dump or throw their beer cans, especially Coors and from which they can be taken and sold.

Coors is the only company I've heard of that pays cash for empty beer cans.

I feel that other beer companies, if they have not done so, will soon do the same.

In addition to making money from the empties, such a move would go a long way in keeping our highways clean.

Costs of clearing the highways of Texas from litter now runs around a million bucks a year. Those costs could be cut too.

For example, if trash trucks of our Highway Department had to make half as many runs as they now do to keep the highways clear of litter, that should cut the costs in half.

—Morris Higley in The Childress Index

Message Repetition

If your wife (or your husband) said the same things to you, day after day, possible ten or twenty times a day without changing a word, wouldn't the two of you soon grow tired of each other?

This is the thought that occurred to us this week after listening to the fortieth or fiftieth (it seems like the thousandth) repetition of a refrigerator commercial on some of our favorite television programs.

There is an advertising school of thought that says you should repeat a message over and over, drumming it into the subconscious mind, so that when you think of a particular product you will always think of that brand name. This reached its height of advocacy in the early soap and tobacco promotion days of advertising, and in some areas it remains with us today.

But somehow we think of advertising agencies and manufacturer's advertising departments ought to take another look at this proposition. Repetition may add effect, but we also believe it can become nauseating and downright revolting.

There could be a boiling point, much lower than you think, when the constant drumming of the same message by the same voice on the same television set could produce a firm determination not to buy that particular product, rather than a desire to go out and purchase it forthwith.

—Kennett News and Advertiser, Kennett Square, Pa.

AUSTIN.—A veteran state tax bill author predicts that the legislature will be levying more new taxes on Texans next year than the king-sized $348.6 million revenue bill of 1969.

Forecast was offered by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas, chairman of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee and head of the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy.

Bolstering Atwell statistically was James W. McGrew, research director of Texas Research League, who acknowledged that his original estimate of a $400 million tax bill "looks smaller all the time."

Atwell, who denied recommendations at this point, told newsmen he thinks an increase in the sales tax is likely and that the Legislature properly should look to broad-based taxation in 1971.

Insurance Hike Delayed

Further delay in a public hearing on auto insurance rates or investment income makes any rate increase this year even more unlikely than ever.

State Board of Insurance changed to Oct. 19 the Sept. 9 hearing on whether to consider insurance company investment income in determining insurance rates.

A three-way hearing on auto insurance rates, manual rules and policy forms, will be held at a still later date to be announced in the future.

Investment income hearing originally had been slated for July 14 and the rate hearing Aug. 17. One delay already had been ordered.

Companies had hoped to put any new rate increases into effect by Sept. 1 but the delayed meetings made that impossible.

Crime Rate Up

Major crime rate in Texas rose 19.9% for the first half of 1970, Col. Wilson E. Speir, Texas Department of Public Safety director, reports. Latest statewide report reflects a major crime is committed every minute from January through June. Sheriffs and local police chiefs furnish the information.

Increase actually is 20.9% in urban areas and 10.5% in rural territory.

Robbery shows the biggest jump—40.2%. Rape increased 28.7%, murder 28.1%, theft 21.6%, burglaries 17.9%, auto thefts 16.5% and aggravated assaults 10%.

Speir said an estimated 233,599 major criminal offenses occurred during the January-June period. Comparison-wise, it was 4,404 per 100,000 population. Crime clearances (solutions) declined from 27% during the first half of 1969 to 26% for 1970, but the clearance rate for murder and robbery increased slightly.

Attorney General Opinions

Attorney General, on request of the Air Control Board, can take action based on violation of Board rules.

But local government can take action to institute legal proceedings without Board approval, says Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

—Any person receiving probation for driving while intoxicated who refuses to take a chemical breath test for d.w.i. is subject to administrative proceedings to revoke his license.

—Neither the State Commissioner of Education nor the State Board of Education has power to determine unliquidated damages on appeal by a teacher dismissed without cause by a school district.

—Governor may use his staff to provide direct planning aid to cities.

—Higher education Coordinating Board's plan for junior college development lays out service areas, and a junior college district can be expanded under provisions of an applicable statute.

—Parks and Wildlife Department can sell development bonds at par and accrued interest for cash only, and is not authorized to exchange bonds for land to be developed as a park site.

—Mother of a school board member may not be promoted to the position of tax assessor-collector of the school district.

—American Revolution Bicentennial Commission members on official business are entitled to 10 cents a mile and $25 a day per diem.

—Red River County Commissioners have no right to prohibit people from carrying rifles or pistols around Langford Lake near Clarksville.

—Water Rights Commission may only pass on the issue whether good cause is shown as to claims presented under adjudication act.

—Where there is no change in school district boundaries, there is no requirement that an election be held to assume outstanding bonds or other debt of a district as existed prior to consolidation or annexation; nor is there requirement that bond or maintenance tax be voted.

—Hemisfair's skyride in San Antonio is taxable although city owned and leased to a concessionaire.

CROSSROADS REPORT

I see where a Mr. Chavez coerced California grape growers into a union contract which is the same thing as a federal license to shake down their grape pickers.

So my crafty neighbor says he is planning to set up a Congressmen's Union. Using the magic word "Union", he can undoubtedly get a labor contract with the government so the legislators can't serve unless they split their wages with him.

Says he don't know anything about the congressing trade, but that's no drawback. Mr. Chavez likely can't pick grapes, either, but he is doing well at picking grape pickers.

But, like in military hardware, the Russians are well ahead of us in this field. A Red citizen not working at home gets a job in Siberia, which insures his guaranteed subsistence.

But, of course, the Russians haven't yet got their people bred up to where everybody is too good to do menial jobs, and nobody is too good to live off his tax-fleeced working neighbors, as long as any of these are left.

Women Want Recognition

Representatives of an Equal Opportunity for Women's group ask that the Governor's Commission on Status of Women be made a permanent, legally-constituted agency with $100,000 biennial budget.

Commission members also requested governor to direct state agencies to make all appointments to jobs without regard to sex and to appoint a significant number of women as regents and on the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

COME TO CLARK CHEVROLET AND DRIVE THE LITTLE CAR THAT BEGS TO BE DRIVEN

You've probably heard a lot about the Vega by now.

Well, we want you to forget it all.

Forget that the Vega comes in four models: Coupe, sedan, wagon and panel truck. Forget that it gets around 25 miles to the gallon. Forget that even the standard sedan comes with a 90-horsepower overhead-cam aluminum alloy engine, front disc brakes and front bucket seats.

Forget all that and just take Vega for a test drive. That, all by itself, will convince you.

Vega's tight, maneuverable. It's downright fun.

Cost-Per-Unit Pricing

For some time now, home-makers have asked for help in figuring out which size package or can is the "best buy". By this they mean that they would like some way to help them find out which size to choose in order to get the most for their money.

The food shopper today wants facts not only about the product she buys, but also about the price tags attached to them. Encouraged by numerous consumer-oriented federal, state and local laws and regulations recently enacted or pending, retailers are looking for various means of providing the food shopper with more information, clearly stated.

Unit pricing is one of these measures. In recent months a number of big food chains have introduced customers to unit pricing on a temporary basis. It's too soon yet to tell whether unit pricing is what consumers really want, and whether it is something they will really use for their own benefit.

Unit pricing tells customers how much products cost by the ounce, pound, pint, quart, or some other common denominator suitable for specific, comparable items. The idea is to take the guesswork out of prices and make it easier to compare costs.

At present, there are about 8,000 different items in a big supermarket, and around 2,000 new items are being added every year. These items come in numerous differently sized packages. The 6-slice packages of bologna, 320-ounce boxes of detergent, 2-oz. jars of instant coffee and No. 303 cans of peas of undeclared weight are examples.

For the food shopper without a strong background in merchandising, or some talents in mathematics, making comparisons between various sized packages in order to determine which will offer the most for the money becomes difficult.

One's dilemma is heightened when items are priced in multiples such as 2/for, or 3/for. Suppose the same size cans of evaporated milk are priced at 2/39¢ and 5/99¢. Which is the least expensive per can? How much would a single can cost?

Being able to take advantage of the best bargain by using information available, and being able to do some simple arithmetic can save the food shopper money. Remember that pennies add up to dollars.

Interest in unit pricing is spreading fast. But most leading food retailers, and spokesmen for consumers as well, seem to agree that it warrants a closer and longer look before specific costs and consumer reaction can be gauged to a meaningful degree.

It is recognized, too, that food shoppers don't buy on the basis of price alone. They also have preferences, sometimes deep-rooted, for certain qualities, brands, and packaging. There are also status considerations.

Many questions about unit pricing remain. Consumer surveys and analyses of sales data in upcoming months may answer at least some of them.

After all's done and said, unit pricing may prove to be what consumers want and what their sponsors will endorse. It's well to be aware of the situation should unit pricing be tried in any of our local stores.

• In these days when the homemaker doesn't give a second thought to the fact that the head of lettuce in her dinner salad may have been moved more than 1,000 miles, she might well be staggered if she knew just how much fresh produce does move across the country each day. The shipments for Dec. 1, 1969, put in terms of rail-car capacity, added up to 2,374 carlots. If it had all been lettuce, it would have totaled 56,976,000 heads.

Adult Hog Breeders to Show at Fair This Year

Adults as well as youths are urged to exhibit in the swine division of the Collingsworth County Fair livestock show, County Agent Don Reeves, said this week. The show is one day only, Saturday, Sept. 19.

This is the first time adults have participated in this show, and Mr. Reeves, who is overall stock show chairman, urged breeders to select their outstanding barrows, gilts and sows and groom them for the show.

Monty Mitchell heads the swine division.

Broomweeds Can Be Controlled

Results of research studies at the Texas A&M University Research Station at Spur shows that broomweeds can be killed with herbicides if the application is made at the right time. Dr. C. J. Scifres of A&M's range science department says facts are not available on whether cattle utilize any of this broadleaf plant in their diet. We know we can kill it but whether we should or not is another question, he noted.

John Woodman Dies at Lubbock

Services for A. R. (John) Woodman, 49, of 2114 66th St., Lubbock, were conducted Saturday, Sept. 5, at 2:00 p.m. in Oakland Baptist Church in Lubbock.

Burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Mr. Woodman died Thursday, Sept. 3 in Methodist Hospital following an extended illness.

A native of Wellington, Mr. Woodman was in business in Dumas several years before moving to Lubbock in 1960 where he was owner and operator of the Midas Muffler Shop.

Mr. Woodman was a member of the Lubbock Lions Club, Rotary Club, Odd Fellows, Jaycees, Woodmen of the World, and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, a Shriner, and a veteran of World War II. Survivors include his wife,

Gloria, two sons and two daughters: Randy Woodman, Ricky Woodman, and Tami Woodman of Lubbock and Mrs. Sharon Hobbs of Cameron; also three sisters and two brothers:

Mrs. A. A. Spear of Wellington, Mrs. E. J. Black of Dumas, Mrs. C. G. Smith and Jake Woodman of Amarillo; and J. H. Woodman of Dumas; and four grandchildren.

WHS Seniors Elect Officers

Wellington seniors elected officers for the 1970-71 school year in their first class meeting of the term.

David Hodges was selected president; Ted McLain, vice president; Carey Lewis, secretary; Eddie Popwell, treasurer; and Denise Mitchell, reporter.

Student Council representatives chosen were Becky Burba and Carlos Hatch.

Phyllis Thomas and Keith Martin were named class favorites.

The sponsors elected were Coach Jim Forrester, Charles Floyd, Mrs. Billy R. Long, and Miss Jolene Groves.

Two fund-raising projects were selected. During football season, the senior spaghetti supper will be held, with the date to be announced later.

In the spring, seniors will sponsor the traditional Miss Wellington Contest.

New textbooks in 16 elementary school subjects will be used in Texas public schools beginning Sept. 1, 1971.

Old Refrigerators Trap Children

COLLEGE STATION—Simple precautions with a discarded or stored refrigerator or freezer CAN save a child's life.

Precaution can take several forms. The Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers recommend to remove the door, to block it from closing completely, to remove the latch or to chain the door closed.

Completely remove the door of the freezer or refrigerator, put either temporarily or permanently out of use, advises Mrs. Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist.

And take preventive action immediately, she warns.

Rubber bumpers or wooden blocks prevent a door from closing completely to trap a child, the specialist at Texas A&M University adds. Secure with contact cement or strong adhesive glue high out of a child's reach.

Make sure the bumpers are thick enough to keep the door from closing completely.

an ordinary chain and padlock or unbreakable self-adhesive filament tape about an inch wide.

Mrs. Myers suggests wrapping tape around several times and overlapping it at the back of the refrigerator.

If the appliance's design permits, slip a winged head of a toggle bolt into the latch with a wooden block or metal plate screwed flush into the inner door surface. Or, says the specialist, the latch can be removed.

Most important, she advises, is to remove the door completely when discarding a refrigerator or freezer.

EARTH HEAT

A California inventor proposes to draw heat from deep inside the earth to promote agriculture and keep highways and aircraft runways frost free. The heat, from water or oil, would be piped through the topsoil. When cold, it would be pumped back deep in the ground for re-warming.

—By Deskins Wells

When you take a trip from Wellington to Lubbock or Dallas or way on west to Los Angeles you are often impressed by all the open country in between. Yet the fact remains that 80 per cent of the nation's population lives on a very small part of the land. The people are crowded together in row after row of monotonous housing with an ever-increasing crime problem. These financial, physical and governmental problems have spread from the metropolitan centers to the suburban areas.

It is obvious that the central city system with its mushrooming suburbia is obsolete and inefficient. They are no longer the propitious place for business expansion. The congestion and the cost make efficient operation more and more impractical. The solution is to reverse this old horse and buggy idea of establishing new industry into areas that are already hopelessly crowded.

The solution is to get the new industry into the wide open spaces. With the nation's electrical systems and highways stretching from coast to coast and from border to border, thousands and thousands of miles of railroad tracks and airfields and planes capable of reaching any part of the world, there is ample power and transportation for any industry in any part of the nation. The Government could offer tax inducements for industry to locate in the less populated areas.

Many business leaders, politicians and educators believe that such a reversal in the trend of business expansion is essential to the nation's well-being. When it comes, the small town that hopes to profit from the change must be in shape itself. The approaches to the city must be attractive. The same neatness must exist inside the city with neatly kept streets and unsightly buildings removed. The airfield should be efficient and the very best the city can afford. The water and sewer systems must be run efficiently and be capable of expansion. And perhaps the most important facilities of all are the educational system, the churches and the recreational facilities. All of these must be up to par or better if we hope to share in the change that is coming.

We are not the only county where the elementary schools showed a decline. For the first year since 1940 the entire nation shows a decline in the number of children enrolled in the elementary grades. It may be economic conditions and it may be the pill; but there are fewer children in the lower grades this year.

People took considerable notice when burning objects fell from the sky at Adrian in the Panhandle, and at Beaver, Oklahoma and Pratt, Kansas. They were later identified as junk from a Russian satellite that had burned out when it reentered the earth's atmosphere. Since 1957, the date of Sputnik, there have been 4,500 of the space objects launched. The reason we do not hear more about them is that so much of the earth's surface is either water, desert or arctic wasteland.

The regular meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 10, at the Cherokee Inn instead of next Monday. The reason is that some of them will be helping at some of the booths at the regular time. Besides the directors seem to like the coffee break hour better than having to come back to town after they have gone home from work.

Bobby and Nancy Langford took a trip to Las Vegas, Nevada recently and managed to see nine (9) shows in three days. Actually it was two and a half days for they took a trip to Hoover Dam and Boulder City and that takes half a day. Each of the shows is two hours or longer. Eating and getting from place to place takes some time. Perhaps it was just as well to go to the shows. They are much cheaper than the slot machines.

Not New: "I think we have more machinery of government than is necessary, too many parasites living on the labor of the industrious."—Thomas Jefferson.

For General Election

Absentee Ballots May Be Requested Now

Any qualified Texas voter eligible to cast an absentee ballot by mail may now make application to his county clerk for an absentee ballot for the Nov. 3 general election.

In order to vote absentee by mail in this election, a voter must: (1) be unable to appear Nov. 3 at the polling place because of sickness or physical disability; or (2) expect to be absent from his county of residence on Nov. 3 and during the county clerk's office hours throughout the period Oct. 14 to Oct. 30 inclusive.

All applicants for absentee ballots must be received in the county clerk's office not later than Oct. 30.

Details as to absentee voting procedure may be obtained from a voter's county clerk. Generally, these provisions apply:

A voter applying for an absentee ballot by reason of sickness or physical disability must mail his application to the county clerk. It should be accompanied by the voter's registration certificate, and by a certificate of a duly licensed physician, chiropractor or accredited Christian Science practitioner certifying to the voter's illness or physical disability.

A voter desiring to vote absentee by reason of absence from the county may either deliver or mail his application for absentee ballot to the county clerk, in the application, the voter must state that he expects to be absent from the county on election day and during the clerk's regular office hours for the entire period of personal appearance absentee voting (Oct. 14 to Oct. 30). The absentee ballot must then be mailed to the voter at an address outside his county of residence. Also, the envelope in which the voter returns the ballot must be postmarked from a point outside his county of residence.

Voter registration in Texas this year hit an all-time high of 4,150,645. On Nov. 3, voters will express their preference in state, district and local races, as well as on seven proposed state constitutional amendments.

Dr. Lacy on Rutgers Faculty

Dr. Annell Lacy has joined the faculty of the Business Education Department of the Rutgers State University at New Brunswick, N.J.

She taught last year in Georgia State University at Atlanta. Her classes will be on the post-graduate level and she will also work with students writing theses for the Doctor of Philosophy degree.

One of the oldest universities in the nation, Rutgers was founded 204 years ago, before the colonies declared their independence from England.

Dr. Lacy is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Lacy and the late Mr. Lacy. She graduated from Quail High School in 1959, and received the Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts degrees from Texas Woman's University. Her PhD degree was awarded by Ohio State University.

Black Buys Dixie Maid

Norman Black announced this week that he has bought the Dixie Maid on Highway 83 South, and is now in charge.

Assisting Mr. Black will be Mr. and Mrs. Doc Turner, who at one time owned the business.

Black announced a hamburger specialty, and said that drive in service will be continued. Mexican food will be another specialty, and breakfasts and lunches will be served.

The young owner is a lifetime resident of the county and graduated from Wellington High School.

He only recently completed his tour of duty with the Army which included a year's service in Vietnam, followed by an assignment in Germany.

His wife and baby remained here. Black, 23, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Black, and before entering service he was assistant manager of Griff's Hamburgers in Amarillo, Albuquerque, N.M., and Tulsa.

WTSU School of Agriculture to Be Dedicated

CANYON.—West Texas State University dedicates its new School of Agriculture at a giant dinner-convocation Saturday night, Sept. 19.

Dr. Charles M. Smallwood, first dean of the school, said 2,500 invitations were sent to agricultural leaders in the Texas Panhandle, legislators, vocational agriculture teachers, agriculture-related industries, WTSU ex-students, breed associations and university officers and faculty for the milestone affair.

A convocation highlight will be brief statements from dignitaries and guests who played an integral part in securing the new school. The Pampa Shriners will prepare and serve the barbecue dinner.

Dr. L. S. Pope, associate dean of agriculture at Texas A&M University will open the program with a talk on "Texas Agriculture in the 1970s."

Dr. Darrel S. Metcalfe, president of the National Association of Colleges and Teachers of Agriculture and assistant director of the Arizona Agricultural Experiment Station, will speak on "Challenges in Agricultural Education."

Former Lutie Farmer Dies

Alvin A. Arnett, 62, a former resident of the Lutie community, died at 8:30 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 30, at his home a short distance east of Shamrock.

Mr. Arnett was born Sept. 17, 1908 in Grannis, Ark., and was married to Miss Gertrude Rhodes Aug. 22, 1929 in Arapahoe, Okla.

They moved to Lutie in 1951 from Matador, and he farmed there until 1961, when he moved to Shamrock.

He farmed and worked as a carpenter until ill health forced him to retire in 1963.

Funeral services were conducted at Clay Chapel in Shamrock Tuesday, Sept. 1 at 2:00 p.m., with Rev. C. R. Hankins, pastor of Glen Davis Memorial Methodist Church officiating. Burial was in Shamrock Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Selba Rainey, Carl Wilkinson, Larry Elmore, K. D. Ford, Dink Douglas and John Simpson.

Survivors are his wife; a daughter and son, Mrs. Clara Achord of Pampa and Arland Arnett of Amarillo; five grandchildren, two great-grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Lillian Barrington of Elk City, Okla.; and a brother, Johnny Ray Arnett of Perryton.

One child preceded him in death.

Students Visit Fish Farm

Two buses loaded with children from Lela School visited Oran Starkey's fish farm north of Wellington on Salt Fork River Monday, Sept. 7.

The boys and girls visited the fish ponds, then saw seining and fish being dressed for the market. Mr. Starkey explained the operation.

In charge of the visiting students was Lela Supt. Wayne Johnson, who grew up near the fish farm.

Early County Settler Dies

W. D. Worley, 90, who filed on land in the Salt Fork community before the turn of the century, died Wednesday, Aug. 26, in Shamrock, where he had lived eight years.

Mr. Worley was born Jan. 26, 1880, in Fort Smith, Ark. He was still a youth when he came here. In 1911, he filed on land near Des Moines, N.M., and was living at Datil, N.M., when he moved to Shamrock.

He was married to Miss Edith Collings of Wellington in 1913. She passed away Aug. 16, 1954. In 1965, he was married to Mrs. Mamie Gibbard of Fort Worth.

Funeral services were conducted at Eleventh Street Baptist Church in Shamrock Friday, Aug. 28, with Rev. Bill Lewis officiating.

Burial was in the Plymouth Cemetery.

Pallbearers were nephews: Jack Deger, Emmett Kidwell of Shamrock, Les Worley of Stratford, David Worley of Bryan, Eli Worley and Dave Worley of Amarillo, Julius Powell of Wichita Falls and John Powell of Norman.

Survivors are his wife and a number of nieces and nephews.

Chuck's Enco Station Opens

The opening of Chuck's Enco Station at the corner of 8th Street and US 83 was announced this week by C. E. Simpson, manager.

Associated with him will be his son-in-law, Ronald Heisler, who with his family has just arrived from Phoenix, Ariz.

Mr. Simpson said all Enco products will be handled and other services will include washing and grease jobs, and fixing flats. He will stock a small supply of groceries.

He has lived for a number of years on the Cliff Campbell Ranch. One daughter, Doris, is a senior in Wellington High School.

Mrs. Heisler is the former Sandra Simpson. She grew up here but since her marriage she has lived in Arizona.

Mr. Heisler grew up in Pueblo, Colo. They have three children, Deedee, 6 and in the first grade, Rhonda, 3, and Ronnie, three weeks of age.

Trio Attends Funeral of Kin in Colorado

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Isbell and Fred Cummings were called to La Junta, Colo., recently for the funeral of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joe E. Cummings.

She died in a hospital in Rifle, Colo., shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Isbell had visited her. She was with a daughter, Mrs. Floyd Sikes, in that town.

Mrs. Cummings formerly lived here and will be remembered as Bramley Lee Price.
