

HARVESTER COMPANY MUST BE DISSOLVED AS MONOPOLY

International Concern Declared Guilty In Decision Of Federal Court Today

VERDICT UPHOLDS CONTENTION OF GOVERNMENT

Two Judges Concur, Third Dissents—Company Given Ninety Days To Submit Dissolution Plan

By Associated Press. St. Paul, Minn., August 12.—The International Harvester company was declared to be a monopoly in restraint of interstate and foreign trade and was ordered dissolved by a majority decision filed here today by Judges Smith and Hook in the United States court. Judge Walter H. Sanborn dissented.

Unless the corporation submits a plan for a dissolution within ninety days the court will entertain an application for a receiver. The majority opinion held that the International Harvester Company was from its organization in 1902 in violation of the Sherman law. The original corporation, formed of five concerns, violated the first section of the Sherman act by restraining competition among themselves. The combined organization also tended to monopolize trade in contravention of the second section of this law.

The decision declares that while the International Harvester Company and its selling organization, the International Harvester Company of America, control from 80 to 85 per cent of the trade by them, their treatment of smaller competitors in general has been fair and just.

The court finds fault with the actions of the corporation, aside from the technical violation of the Sherman law, for only two actions. The opinion declares that there was no excuse for the advertising of the products of D. M. Osborne & Company as independent for two years after it had virtually entered the International Harvester Company. This advertising was to induce purchasers, the court finds, from those who were opposed to buying from the combination.

The other act censured by the decision was the manner in which the five original concerns were turned over to the International company by William C. Lane, a New York banker who contended that he had purchased the properties.

"The court is clearly of the opinion," the decision reads, "that the process by which it was made to appear that the properties were sold to Lane was merely colorable." The court holds, however, that the property turned in to the international company was greater than the stock issued for it, and that the case involves no question of overcapitalization.

The court cites portions of the decision in the cases of the Standard Oil Co., the American Tobacco Co., the DuPont De Nemours & Co., and other cases as to what constitutes the restraint of trade reasonable and unreasonable and concludes:

"These are elements under the American law to which a business may not independently grow, and even a combination of two or more businesses if it does not unreasonably restrain trade, is not illegal; but it is the combination which unreasonably restrains trade that is illegal and if the parties in controversy have 80 or 85 per cent of the American business and by the combination of the companies all competition is eliminated between the constituent parts of the combination, then it is in restraint of trade within the meaning of the statutes under which the decision is rendered."

"Prior to the consolidation the first five companies were in fierce competition for trade and especially was this true of the McCormick and Deering companies, and this competition extended not only to price but to the granting of expert assistance and numerous free items with machines. The result of the combination was that all this competition at once wholly ceased, except within the limitation of agents' commissions."

"The defendants claim that the objects of the organization were: First, to build up the foreign trade; second, by the combination to secure more capital to enable them to continue the battle in the foreign market; third, by enlarging the scope of the business so as to include other lines of agricultural implements to make an all the year around business. They also claim that it was not the intention to oppress the domestic market and that they have not done so."

"It does appear that since the combination the foreign trade has been greatly increased. This trade of all the combining companies was $10,400,000 in 1902 and has grown under

GERMANY PUSHING HER CAMPAIGN IN BELGIUM; LIEGE FORTS STILL IN BELGIUM'S POSSESSION

BODIES OF GERMAN SOLDIERS CREMATED

COMMANDER EXPLAINS WHY KAISERS TROOPS FAILED AT LIEGE

HEAVY ARTILLERY COMING

Women Firing Indistinctly, Add To German's Troubles—Battle Expected in Finland

By Associated Press. London, Aug. 12.—A dispatch from Maastricht, Holland described the wholesale cremation of bodies of German soldiers killed at Liege as told by fugitives arriving there. Funeral services were held and military salutes were fired over the heaps. The bodies then were burned. The officers explained that this was necessary to prevent the bodies becoming a menace to the living. Many other bodies were thrown into the Meuse.

A dispatch from Rotterdam says that the Maastricht correspondent of the Rotterdam Courant has been positively assured by German officers at Vise that the crown prince's regiments crossed the River Meuse some days ago without the prince.

The correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph at Liege gives an official statement by Gen. Von Stein regarding the siege of Liege. The German commander denies the loss of 20,000 men but does not give figures of his losses. He says only a small number of German troops were engaged in order to mask the movement of the bulk of the army. The enemy's advance force he says, was completely annihilated and while he admits that the forts are still intact he explains this by saying:

"Wished To Avoid Sacrifice. The emperor did not wish to sacrifice life unnecessarily, but so soon as the heavy artillery arrives the forts will be taken without the loss of a man."

General Von Stein admits that the capture of the forts is a difficult problem because of the unfavorable ground about them and further because the population of the town, including the women, shot at the German troops from behind, firing indiscriminately hitting the surgeons and the wounded. The general concluded with the remark:

"It must not be forgotten that the Belgian force numerically is superior to ours."

The Copenhagen correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "It is estimated that the German torpedo boat destroyer which is reported to have been sunk by the explosion of one of her boilers off South Geleser merely was destroyed by a mine laid by a German warship. The Danish and Swedish statements, it is reported, ceased running as a result of information that the Germans had laid contact mines in the North Sea. The Russian commander of the fortress of Seaborg, Finland has ordered all the inhabitants of that place and of Helsingfors to leave, as a battle or a bombardment is believed to be imminent."

CO-OPERATION IS ASKED IN HANDLING OF FREIGHT

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Aug. 12.—Serious congestion of freight traffic in Texas as will be precipitated unless railroads, shippers, consignees and the various commercial bodies of the state co-operate to facilitate its movement, declares the railroad commission in a public statement. The commission points out that the war in Europe curtails the number of vessels for export of Texas grain and as a large number of cars are always en route to Gulf ports a shortage of cars everywhere seems inevitable. The commission urges quick movement of cars, pointing out that speed and decision are vital to successful railroading; shippers should never ask for cars except when certain of loading them.

WOODMEN OF WORLD HOLD RALLY AT MOUNT PLEASANT

By Associated Press. Mt. Pleasant, Texas, Aug. 12.—The Woodmen of the World rally which was postponed here in July began today. It will last two days. The July dates was set back on account of heavy harvest work in Northeast Texas. Initiation of a big class of new members was on the program. The object of the rally was to increase the Woodmen's strength in this section of Texas.

OFFICIAL REPORTS SAYS FRENCH ARE HOLDING OWN ALONG BORDER

By Associated Press.

London, August 12.—The military situation at Liege, Belgium, also along the Franco-German frontier, where the opposing outposts are in touch, and in Alsace, where several engagements between the French invading force and the German defenders recently were fought, is explained in a dispatch from the French foreign minister received here today. It says:

"Rumors regarding the loss of the fort of Liege by the Belgian troops are entirely false. Only small groups of German soldiers entered the town itself under cover of darkness. All the encircling forts, twelve in number, are intact.

Small unimportant engagements have occurred along the whole line where the French and German armies are facing each other from Bellfort opposite the southernmost part of Alsace, to Belgium. In these the French cavalry has always maintained its superiority over the German mounted troops while our artillery has been splendidly served.

"Our troops have kept the passes of Vosges mountains and they dominate the heights of Alsace. A line between Thann (twenty-two miles southwest of Colmar-Alsace and Altkirch) the first position occupied by the French after the invasion) is held by our army. This line runs slightly to the rear of Muelhausen.

"The French government indignantly denies that there was any violation of German territory by the French army before the declaration of war."

GERMAN ARMY REPORTED ADVANCING THROUGH HEART OF BELGIUM TODAY

By Associated Press.

Brussels, August 12.—The German army is being detached from its position before Liege and is advancing through the heart of Belgium today. The main body of German cavalry is engaged in a forward movement all along the front of the allied armies.

An official report states that communication has been restored with Landen, a village in the province of Liege, seven miles southeast of Tireloont. The Belgians blew up several bridges at their front in that vicinity which gave rise to the report of an artillery engagement. No news of such action has arrived here.

A German aeroplane flew over Brussels today at a height of 2000 feet. Civic guards fired several shots at the airship but they fell short.

There is no fear regarding the food supply of Belgium.

CAPTURE OF SCUTARI BY MONTENEGRIN TROOPS IS REPORTED AT ROME

By Associated Press. Rome, August 12.—The newspapers Corriere Dellasera states that the Montenegrin troops have captured Scutari.

UNITED STATES FLEET TO BE WITHDRAWN FROM VERA CRUZ

By Associated Press.

Washington, August 12.—All the big ships of the Atlantic fleet will be withdrawn from Vera Cruz and brought north by September 1.

Secretary Daniels announced today that it was his intention to leave in Mexican waters only small craft capable of patrol duty or which might necessarily be ordered across the gulf to Dominican or Haitian waters.

It is the plan to have Rear Admiral Fletcher take command of the fleet at Hampton Roads about September 1, in succession to Rear Admiral Badger who then retires.

ATTEMPT TO CROSS DUTCH TERRITORY NOW EXPECTED

Holland Asked To Declare Herself—French Forces In Alsace Said To Be Well Positioned

A Dutch dispatch says a terrific cannonade was heard this morning from the direction of Tongres, north of Liege. It was reported yesterday that two divisions of German cavalry, with artillery, had arrived there.

The meagerness of dispatches from the war centers of Europe today appears to indicate that the censorship has become stricter than ever. Neither from England nor France is any hint allowed to pass over the cables as to the progress of events, or as to the position and movement of the huge armies of all the nations involved, which it is assumed must now be within striking distance.

Belgium again was the scene of the fighting today, in which Belgian and French outposts contended with the Germans. The German commander at Liege denies the loss of 20,000 men in his efforts to take the forts there. He says the forts will be taken without the loss of a man as soon as the German heavy artillery arrives. He asserts that "Belgian force is numerically superior to ours." He intimates that the assault was stopped by the emperor to prevent needless sacrifice of life.

On the subject of Liege the French foreign minister declares all the surrounding forts are intact and that only a small force of Germans entered the town itself under cover of darkness. It had been pointed out previously that the defect of the Belgian forts was the inability to see one from another, although the fire of their guns crosses.

A Brussels dispatch says the bulk of the German army is leaving Liege and advancing toward the French frontier through the heart of Belgium.

The French foreign ministers describes the French position at Alsace as good, as the troops occupy the crests and passes of the Vosges mountains.

Belgium anticipates an attempt by German to cross Dutch territory and has requested Holland to state her intentions regarding the resistance to a breach of her neutrality.

Sveaborg, the great Russian fortress in Finland, awaits a bombardment or battle as its commander has ordered all civilians to leave there and also Helsingfors.

Paris reports Montenegrin troops occupying Tarabosch, overlooking Scutari, Albania, where severe fighting between Montenegrins and Turks occurred during the Balkan war.

Considerable sums of English gold are to be deposited in Ottawa, Canada, to facilitate payments without running the risk of shipping money across the Atlantic.

GERMANS BUILD PONTOON BRIDGE OVER MUESE TO TRANSPORT CAVALRY AND ARTILLERY

By Associated Press. Amsterdam, August 12.—The second attempt of the German army to build a pontoon bridge at Hartsal, over the Meuse, was successful according to a dispatch from Maastricht, to the Telegraph today. The bridge is intended for the passage of siege artillery, several pieces of which are being sent to Liege and others to Namur.

BLOCKADE OF COAST OF MONTENEGRO BY AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN FLEET IS ESTABLISHED

By Associated Press. Vienna, August 12.—An effective blockade of the Montenegrin coast has been established since yesterday by the Austrian fleet according to an official announcement today.

AMERICAN OFFICER DISCUSSES OUTLOOK

REAR ADMIRAL ALFRED T. MAHAN IS INTERVIEWED ON EUROPEAN SITUATION

ARMAMENT OF GREAT POWERS

Believes Russia is in Much Better Military Shape Than is Generally Conceded

New York, August 11.—Rear Admiral Alfred T. Mahan, U. S. N., retired, a leading authority on the naval affairs of the world, in addition to pointing out in advance of England's declaration of war at England must oppose Germany, gave some interesting details in the course of the probable action of the fleets of Europe.

Mahan holds the usual view that Italy must join the war within a week's time, not as a partner of the triple alliance, but as an ally of France and Russia. Italy must be this step, he says, and hold the Austrians in check for the salvation of the Balkans which are already threatened by Turkey and sure to be the prey of the Turks unless the Austrian navy can be kept from the shores of Greece.

The complete interview as given at Jacques, N. Y., to the New York Evening Post, follows: The aggressive insolence of Austria's ultimatum to Serbia, taken with the constant threats of all the demands except those too humiliating for national self respect, indicate that the real cause of the war is other than set forth by the ultimatum.

"Knowing from past experience how the matter may be viewed by Russia is incredible that Austria would have ventured on the ultimatum unless assured before hand of the consent of Germany in it. The inference is irresistible that the substance of the ultimatum was the pretext for a war already determined on as soon as a plausible occasion offered.

"The cause of this predetermination is to be found in the growing strength of Russia on recovering from her war with Japan. With the known deficiencies of French armaments, which were recently admitted, the moment was auspicious for striking down France and Russia before they regained strength. The motives are to be found in Austria's apprehension of the growing Slav power in the South and East of Germany concerning Russia on the east.

"Great Britain, as the third member of the entente, finds herself in the position of Prussia in 1866, when she permitted Napoleon to strike down Austria, making her a helpless ally struck down the following year at Sedan. Or that of France in 1866, when she stood by while Prussia crushed Austria, and was herself overwhelmed in 1870.

"Germany's procedure is to operate within a circle of concentration, preparation and impetus momentum. If she fails in this she is less able to sustain prolonged aggression, as was indicated in the Franco-Prussian war during and after the siege of Paris.

"The British fleet is not strong enough to divide for blockade in both Baltic and North seas. The Rhine, emptying through neutral Holland, can not be blockaded.

"If the first German rush proves indecisive or prolonged, the financial pressure thus in the power of Great Britain may determine the issue, in which case the issues will be determined by battle.

"If Germany succeeds in downing both France and Russia, she gains a respite for expansion, and is able to build up her sea force equal or superior to that of Great Britain.

"In that case the world will be confronted by the naval power of a State not like Great Britain, stated with territory, but one eager and ambitious for expansion, and for her influence. This consideration may well affect American sympathies.

"In my judgment, a right appreciation of the situation should determine Great Britain to declare war at once. Otherwise her entente engagements, whatever the latter, will be in spirit violated, and she will earn the entire distrust of all probable future allies.

"Italy likewise will be to herself to declare war against her recent allies. In co-operation with France, and with Greece, reinforced by the two American battleships just purchased, she can doubtless maintain the balance of maritime power in the Mediterranean prevent the Turks giving their expected support to Germany, keep quiet the Bulgarians, if there are so ill-advised as to pursue a diversion in favor of Austria, and, in brief, consolidate the opposition of the Balkan states to Austria-Hungary, whose ambitions are notoriously inconsistent with those of Italy.

FALLS FROM TRAIN, CRUSHED TO DEATH

W. T. CARROLL IS KILLED BY DENVER FREIGHT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

"YOU MAY NEVER SEE ME AGAIN"

Words To Wife Before Leaving Home Indicate He Had Premonition of Doom

From Tuesday's Daily. When W. T. Carroll, a Wichita Falls carpenter, kissed his wife and children good-bye after supper last night (telling them that he was going to Texarkana and that they might never see him again, he had little thought how literally his words were to come true. Two hours later Carroll's mangled and lifeless body was picked from the railroad track near the Fort Worth & Denver water tank. He had fallen between two freight cars and death was almost instantaneous. Both of his legs were crushed completely from his body which was otherwise unscathed.

A brakeman on the train had seen him fall and at once signalled for the engineer to stop the train. Carroll's brother, L. N. Carroll, a switchman employed by the Denver, who was riding to the yard limits with his brother, had missed him almost as soon as he fell and when the train stopped, felt a premonition of his brother's fate.

The body was carried to E. G. Hill's undertaking establishment and was later removed to Carroll's home at 1302 Scott avenue.

Carroll was forty-three years old and was a widow with six children and a father and mother who made their home with him. Another brother, E. N. Carroll also lives here.

TWO NEW FACTORIES SAID TO BE IN PROSPECT HERE

Details Not Announced, But Outlook Is Declared Favorable—Directors Meet Today

From Tuesday's Daily. Directors of the Chamber of Commerce were told by Chairman Frank Kell of the committee on manufacturing this morning about preliminary negotiations looking toward the location of two big manufacturing enterprises here. Neither has advanced to a stage where a public announcement can be made but the directors were so well pleased with what had already been done that they gave the committee authority to proceed along the lines already followed. Mr. Kell told the directors that some of these plants would mean as much as two new railroads.

Authority was given the president to appoint delegates to the Meridian Road meeting at Galveston this month. The delegates will be Messrs. Kell, J. W. Langford, and J. W. Langford.

BRAZILIAN STEAMERS WILL OPERATE TO NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 10.—The Brazilian Steamship Company announced today that its fleet of seven vessels, had been withdrawn from the coasting trade of South America and until further notice would ply between Brazil and New York. These ships fly the Brazilian flag.

The Baltic is not tenable. The Russian fleet with only eight pre-dreadnoughts and no destroyers and battle cruisers—however much of an absurdity that type may be—is negligible. Germany could achieve nothing with her fleet in the Baltic, for it is a principle of warfare that under modern conditions no nation can afford to waste its navy in operations against fortifications.

Submarines and Aircraft. As for the questions of the science of naval warfare to be answered in this final test of all theories of war, Rear Admiral Mahan said that the most important, undoubtedly, would be those of the increased efficiency of submarines and torpedoes, and of air craft.

"And believe me," he said, "the English fleet which sailed with sealed orders is at present in the North sea, with the purpose of being just out of the effective range of submarines. I do not know definitely, what the effective cruising range of such submarine craft is, but I would estimate it to be 10 miles. To accomplish that distance they must travel for a long way upon the surface, and so be in sight of the scouts which the British fleet of course, has posted.

"This question of the use of the increased efficiency of the submarine is assuredly one of the most important to be tested in actual warfare. They had, of course, no opportunity in the Russo-Japanese war, but in the present confined theatre of operations should be seen at their best. I do not share Sir Percy Scott's views of the surpassing power of the submarine to the complete effacement of the battleship.

"The torpedoes, as used in the Russo-Japanese war were utilized chiefly to put a fish to ship almost silenced already by gun fire, and for such purposes are effective. But torpedoes are night craft. They can not be effective in daylight against modern guns. Germany apparently does not place much faith in them.

"But most of these problems of the technical science of warfare are too obscure for the general observer. They are really even to technical experts to agree on. As General Sherman said: 'One may demonstrate something in maneuvers, but you really need the element of human fear to be conclusive.'

"The most serious question of the big guns will also be tested. For my own part, I have always believed that the volume of fire was the determining factor. The number of hits, and not single shots is the most important element. I believe, however, all those things we shall soon know, perhaps any moment."

BRITISH CRUISER APPEARS IN NEW YORK HARBOR TODAY

Is Believed To Be Essex, But Steams Away Before Her Identity Is Disclosed

By Associated Press. New York, Aug. 11.—A British cruiser believed to be the Essex suddenly appeared at the entrance of New York harbor early today. She was sighted off the highlands of Sandy Hook at about 10:30 o'clock apparently bound in, but when within a mile and a half of the harbor she abruptly changed her course and steamed eastward. It was impossible to ascertain her identity.

ENGLISH GOVERNMENT TAKES TRANS ATLANTIC STEAMERS

Board of administration officials believe they will effect a great saving in this way.

WOULD FORCE RAILROADS TO MAINTAIN ROADWAYS

By Associated Press. Oklahoma City, Aug. 11.—A hearing on a proposal to require railway and interurban lines to maintain the roadway at each grade crossing was called to be held here today. The Oklahoma Corporation Commission issued a call. ELECTRA BOND ELECTION ORDER MAY BE REVOKED

Not Believed That Proceedings In Connection With It Will Stand Test of Courts

From Tuesday's Daily. The county commissioners will probably pass an order at the present session revoking their order declaring the result of the road bond election in precinct No. 4. Injunction proceedings were filed yesterday to stop the issuance of bonds under this order. The commissioners believe the proceedings will not stand the test, but do not blame themselves. The petitioners for the election employed an attorney and the court in ordering the election and in the later proceedings followed the instructions of this attorney.

A WAY OUT

Resident of Wichita Falls Shows How to Relieve Kidney Backache

There's one effective way to relieve kidney backache. Liniment and plasters may relieve it. But they seldom reach the cause. Backache is caused by inflamed kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys. Wichita Falls people back them up. Read a case of it. Mrs. W. M. Langford, 209 Lee St., Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "At Times my back was so painful that I could not sleep. I had pains in my sides and when I got up in the morning, I was more tired than when I went to bed. My kidneys were weak. Doan's Kidney Pills promptly relieved all the pains and strengthened my kidneys. Since then I have taken a box of Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally and they have kept my kidneys in good working order."

LABOR COUNCIL ELECTS NEW SECRETARY MONDAY NIGHT

C. W. Johnson of Typographical Union is Chosen—Members Hear Two Addresses

From Tuesday's Daily. C. W. Johnson, a member of the Typographical Union, was chosen secretary of the Wichita Falls Trades and Labor Council at the regular weekly meeting of the Council Monday night succeeding S. W. Stout. Mr. Stout resigned as he found that his work would not permit him to give the time to his duties that they ought to receive.

At Monday night's meeting, Tom Arthur, one of the proprietors of the Model Laundry which recently signed a contract with the Laundry Workers' Union, was present and gave a short talk. Mr. Christensen, a member of the State Plumbers Association who has for many years been a member of the union also gave a talk.

A meeting of the Labor Day committee was announced for Wednesday night at the Star Sheet Mill works.

According to an article written by Dr. Richard, president of the German American Society, the clash in Europe was not started by the Austria-Serbia embroilment. Something much deeper began it, and it is from that deeper cause that the Kaiser and the German people must be indulged in the present war.

W. P. Lane's claim that he polled a few hundred more votes than Jeff McLemore for congressman-at-large seems to be supported by the actual vote in the seven counties that failed for some cause or other to make their report to the chairman of the State Democratic Executive committee in the time required by law, and the chances are that Mr. McLemore and not Mr. Lane will be given the nomination.

SAYS GERMANY IS MISREPRESENTED.

Electra, Texas, Aug. 10, 1914. Editor Times: It may be interesting for some of your readers to hear the opinion of a close observer of European politics on the cause of the great war.

During the last forty years of uninterrupted peace, Germany has made wonderful progress in population and wealth, and especially in foreign trade, so much so that England became scared and feared for its supremacy on the seas. The late King Edward devoted most of his time and energy to bringing about the most unnatural alliance between republican France and despotic Russia and England against Germany and Austria.

Three things are men most likely to be killed in a war—a wig, a horse and a wife.—Franklin. "This plant belongs to the begonia family. 'Ah! And you are taking care of it while they are away.'"—Boston Transcript.

and made his Emperor and over a half million soldiers prisoners of war. The present war news seems to be like the whistling of a boy who feels his courage leaving him. That our great dailies should mislead the people of this country so shamefully is much to be regretted.

CLIPPED FROM EXCHANGES

We would venture to advise those who have an argument to let the matter of who started the European war alone. This war just simply came. It was not due to anyone's fault.

In graceful dignified words, Hon. Thomas H. Ball speaks of the result. He is not the first man of ability and popularity to encounter such an experience. He will find that a man of honor and patriotic purposes, worthy of esteem, will in no wise lose the esteem of his people because of political reverses.

Dwight Lovelling of Dallas went down in defeat as a candidate for reelection of the Legislature. He attracted so much attention making speeches on every question that came up in the next Legislature that he must have been imbued with the idea that he was immensely popular.

The curtailing of campaign expenses in the State is necessary and the movement now on appears likely to bring about the needed change in this direction. It should be made imperative for members of Congress to put out the cash necessary to carry the State for any office. The sooner the law is established, upon this point the better for the State.

NOT THIS TIME

The diversion hoped for by the heads of the trust syndicate has come in a way, but this time the United States government authorities can pursue their policy of watchful waiting without stopping the arm and hammer legislative process at Washington. The big business heads have been diligent in their efforts to check all proposed legislation that would curtail their profits.

Naturally those best entrenched will take advantage of all opportunity for delay. But the great house of Morgan and the progress and even Standard Oil, the mightiest bog of them all, stand because of gobbled millions and uninterrupted sway, must soon obey and respect the law of the land.—Tulsa (Okla.) Democrat.

BIT TIGHT! DON'T ROCK THE BOAT!

Bit tight! Don't rock the boat! That's the watchword today. That's the first duty of every American at this moment.

Business conditions are sound. We have one of the greatest grain crops in history. Its value has already greatly advanced. We have a sound financial system, backed by the greatest store of gold in the world.

The national administration is acting wisely, promptly. The sum of $500,000,000 is available under the Aldrich-Vreeland act, for an emergency. The organization of the reserve board will soon be complete.

The City Council is due a vote of thanks for having the street force repair the crossings at Seventh and Scott. Now those who drive autos can pass this point at a lawful speed without danger of jolting occupants out of their seats.

Stock exchanges have closed—a wise precaution. This country cannot be the jumping ground of the whole body of securities that war-mad Europe is anxious to convert into money.

The administration has decided to appeal officially to the public to help maintain satisfactory conditions. The public cannot fail to respond. The only danger is one which it may create itself. Its course is simple. All it has to do is sit tight, do nothing to disrupt the fortunate condition in which this country happily finds itself.

Don't rock the boat—that's the central idea! The swell from the great battleship, "Europe," will be felt. But it will not hurt us. It need not even break over the sides. There's nothing the matter with the boat that we are in. Straight and strong, well-seamed, well-balanced, well-stimbered, with reasonable guidance it will bear as safely and prosperously through.

Sit tight! Don't rock the boat! Keep its head well up against the sea! Don't let it get into the trough of the waves! Let every man realize that at this moment calm confidence and calm thankfulness are first duty. They are absolutely justified by the favorable situation in which we find ourselves. They are the certain guarantee of a continuance of those conditions.—Chicago Herald.

CIVILIZED WAR.

It must afford his satanic majesty grim amusement to hear modern statesmen discussing civilized war and to behold tribunes managing resolutions in order to relieve it from barbarity. Civilized war! What a paradox of hypocritical pharisaism the expression really is!

It may be a sop to conscience and an excuse for brutality, but reduced to its true value it is emptier than the wind that blows. Civilized war, while lies, expedient deception, justifiably dishonest, they are all made of the same stuff. In the olden times men were frank enough to admit their brutishness and glory in it. Today it is excused on various pretexts and called by soft names. In order that its presence may be tolerated with less compunction.

Civilization has taught us how to conceal raw acts with agreeable words, but at the same time it gave us the printing press it gave us gunpowder. It is no longer considered honorable to war on women and children—that is to treat them in the same manner as men are treated on the battlefield or when captured as spies.

It is no longer considered good form to shoot an enemy with soft-pointed bullets or to carry a sharp spear. It is no longer considered legitimate to bombard a town without giving due notice to non-combatants.

It is much less granted by way of courtesy and concession to the niceties and politeness of modern times. It is thought proper, however, to rob a country of its resources, despite the fact that such action may cause thousands of women and children to starve and die miserably.

It is thought proper to blockade a nation's seaports, in order that famine may accomplish what the cannon and the rifle failed to do. It is thought proper to plant mines about the sea in all directions, to sink merchant ships or men of war, which ever happens to strike them first.

Civilized war? It is but a sophistry. There is no such thing and there can be no such thing.—Austin Statesman. If the European war continues for a few months, or until the various warring nations settle their differences by force of arms, an article under the caption of "Sit Tight and Don't Rock the Boat," credited to the Chicago Herald and republished in another column of this paper, tells what the United States is to gain, and how the people of this country are to be benefited.

Europe is a powder magazine, and demanded of us as a nation, and it is a fact that the European war means prosperity for us, it had better be that than hard times. Therefore, we can with a clear conscience be thankful that it is to be that way.

There is a silly ordinance that makes it compulsory on property owners to keep the weeds down, but not much attention is paid to it. Most of the owners of the homes are careless to keep the weeds cut, but those who own the vacant lots do not seem to care how tall the weeds grow.

There is war on over the Ferguson so-called land plank, and Senator Bailey planning to fight it in the state convention to be held at El Paso. Don Quixote fighting windmills, had a reasonable and sane crusade to contend, compared to a fight on this fallacy. Not one-half of one per cent of the farmers in the state could name a man who had ever paid a bonus above a third and a fourth. In isolated cases tenants who have not wanted to move, or who wanted to get possession of extra good land have agreed to pay a bonus, usually volunteering to do so rather than the risk of failing to make a trade, but these cases are very seldom known to occur.

The City Council is due a vote of thanks for having the street force repair the crossings at Seventh and Scott. Now those who drive autos can pass this point at a lawful speed without danger of jolting occupants out of their seats.

The prospect now is that the price of wheat by this time next year will be above the one dollar mark, and farmers are preparing to put in a larger acreage than ever before. The rain of last night and this morning, which appears to have been general throughout the section, and which amounted to the order of an inch in this city, will be a great benefit to breaking wheat.

What has become of that Dallas and Wichita Falls interurban proposition? Chicago Herald.

If you want the news the day it happens, The Times is here to supply your wants in that line.

The delegates to the State Convention at El Paso are all about there by this time, and the steam roller is being oiled up ready for service tomorrow.

As much as we may deplore the misfortune of the European nations that are at war with each other, the United States will profit by supplying their needs. In that way, the war will help and not injure the people of this country.

There are thirty-one senatorial districts in the State, and according to Senator McNeahas of Dallas, the ants have fifteen and the pros fifteen. The odd man being himself. But it would have made no difference had the ants elected all the members of the Senate, considering "Farmer Jim" was chosen on a platform that declared he would veto any and all acts of the Legislature that touched on the liquor question, whether such legislation favored or was against the liquor traffic.

Of course, every Democrat who participated in the recent primary election is honor bound to support the nominees of that election, even though some of the candidates for office who gained the nomination were elected by only one-fourth of the votes polled at such election. But the voters knew what the law was before they voted, and even if some candidates for office were named as the nominee who is or might be objectionable to more than one-half or a majority of the voters, there is no honorable way for those who are displeased to withdraw their support.

The county judges and the county commissioners are in better position than any one to judge this matter, and if they did not believe the maintaining of the office was a useless expense to the tax payers they would not have recommended that the office be abolished.

John H. Kirby says the National administration defeated Ball for governor by endorsing his candidacy.—Van Alstyne Leader.

No. Had Mr. Kirby and perhaps one or two others kept out of the front seat in Ball's band wagon, Ball would have been our next governor. When Mr. Kirby and his friends began to make their talks for Ball the effect was just to the reverse of what it was intended. He was powerless to lead very many with him, but did have the power to drive thousands of voters who were wavering between Ball and Ferguson into the Ferguson camp.

Mr. Ferguson has announced that his land plank must be embodied in the State platform to be adopted by the party at the El Paso convention. It has been the practice, so far as we have observed, for the successful candidates for governor to dictate what shall go into the platform, and in accordance with this precedent Mr. Ferguson is entirely within his radius.

THE DISEISE OF THE PRESIDENT'S WIFE.

The "Destroying Angel" knocks at the door and summons one near and dear. The pangs of grief stab to the heart, numb the brain and makes the soul cry out to God for relief. No friendly word uttered by human tongue can give succor to the pain that grips with the cold fingers of death. Alone, in the silent chamber where the corpse lies in the winding sheet, the grief-stricken companion must go through the trying ordeal and prepare to bridge the void in the domestic circle.

Therefore, aside from the respect and honor due the President on this occasion of the loss of his beloved wife, the Nation must stand aside with uncovered head and allow him an hour to perform the sad duty of laying her body to rest in the home of her youth.

This is the common lot of all. The farmer in his field, the laborer at his task, the artisan at his work, the statesman in the forum, the President at his desk; are called on to meet the grave emergency; "death is no respecter of persons."

A good woman; a pure woman; a wife and mother lies in her coffin at the White House, ready to be transported to her grave. That she was our President's wife makes the occasion of more than passing notice. But, who can measure the value of life?

"They die an equal death—the idle and the man of mighty deeds." But, to the good and pure: "There is nothing terrible in death. 'Tis but to cast our robes away. And sleep at night without a breath. To break repose till dawn of day."—OBSERVER.

those supporting the candidacy of the Bell county man had in view the law which provides that no demand for special legislation shall be introduced as a demand for a party platform which has not theretofore been voted on and approved by a majority of the people voting at a primary election; this plank in the platform was not voted upon nor endorsed in accordance with law, and the presumption is that a great many of Mr. Ferguson's supporters did not think his idea would be given serious consideration because of its not having been approved in the statutory way. But the candidate has been given a certificate of good character by Representative Henry who vouches for his "progressivism," which we are taught covers a multitude of shortcomings.—Denison Herald.

If Mr. Ferguson's land plank is not made a platform demand, the thousands of farm tenants who are prohibitionists but who thought and believed that the farm tenant proposition, and the relief promised them by the election of Ferguson as governor, was of decided more importance than state-wide prohibition, will be greatly disappointed. To that proposition the nominee for governor owes his success, and the State convention will doubtless view the matter in that light and make the land tenant proposition a Democratic platform demand. When that is done it is the plain duty of the Legislature to carry out in good faith the demands of the people. As to whether such a law will be constitutional or not, is a question upon which lawyers of ability disagree, and therefore is a matter for the higher courts to settle. The nominee for governor assumes all responsibility for the farm tenant proposition. It originated with him, and the majority of the Democrats of the State took him at his word. There are a few of us who believed during the progress of the campaign, and who yet believe, that the farm tenant land proposition was only to be used as a horse on which to ride into office on, and then abandoned. It is now up to Mr. Ferguson to prove his sincerity in the matter. By all means, the State convention and the Texas Legislature should do all possible to make Mr. Ferguson's farm tenant proposition into law, if that be possible. If they turn it down, it will confirm the suspicion that prevailed during the campaign for governor, that it was agitated only for "vote-catching purposes."

It was the first battle. The delightful acclimated field unfurled its snowy banner and attempted to plant the banner of peace and love upon the gilded dome of the Nation's capitol. The line of march was thickly set with the lions of the enemies. It crossed great rivers of water, it led through the bogs and fens of the pot hickers, it blazed its path through foul-smelling breweries, and followed the winding path of the worm of the still. The combination was too great. The cold-water cohorts, the grape juice gulpers, the devotees of the Gaubrius brew, the long-throated Barley-corners and the dreary drones grown over-shaped from overdoes of pot liquor marshalled their forces and stood like an Austrian phalanx. But termilk, the true elixir of life, went down, but it went down shouting the words of the immortal Lawrence, "Don't give up the ship."

Some day souls will grow full-stated and men will grow far-seeing, and then will dawn the golden age foretold by prophets of old and sung about by poets of latter days, when Buttermilk shall sit enthroned, and its regency no man will dare dispute. Then shall we behold the sunlit splendor of perfect days, then shall astral glories shine resplendent through matchless nights. The sun of political righteousness will trail its robes of burnished gold, over a pathway of planets, and stars of peace, and love will gem night's radiant brow. All men will be happy, all men will be good, and the war drum will throb no more.

Defeated—yes; hopeless—no! The eternal passion which betrays men most in mountain, rises in the true buttermilk, blossoms and is as active as a seething volcano—"Eternal hope! When yonder spheres sublime Pealed their first notes to sound the march of Time Thy joyous youth began; but not to fade When the sister planets have decayed! When, wrapt in fire, the realms of ether glow, And heaven's last thunder shakes the world below, Thou, undismayed, shall o'er the ruins smile And light thy torch at nature's funeral pile!"—And so, like Marion of old, buttermilk shakes the fragment of its blade and gives a shout of victory.

The churn dasher is the hope of the world.—Jim Lowry, in Honey Grove Signal.

JAPAN IS CONSTANTLY AT WAR IN FORMOSA

San Francisco, Aug. 16.—Japan is having desperate troubles in its attempt to pacify Formosa, according to arrivals here from the Far East. At the time the Mikado acquired the island, great hopes were entertained, because of the fertility and natural resources of the country, of making it support a considerable portion of the home country's surplus population. It might be doing this already, say those who have been there recently, were it not for the intractability of the natives. After years of efforts to conquer them with small bodies of troops, many of which were cut to pieces in the remote interior, it is stated that an extensive campaign has been launched in the hope of more speedily ending the constant warfare between natives and Japanese authorities.

BATTLE IMMINENT IN BELGIUM WITH GERMANY FACING BELGIAN, FRENCH AND ENGLISH FORCES

Situation At Liege Unchanged—French Declaration Of War On Austria Adds To Duties Of American Diplomats—Evidence Of Battle On Russo-German Frontier—Fighting In Alsace

In and around Liege, the situation was unchanged today. The Germans held the town itself but the forts were still fighting strongly. The German main army in the north was reported entrenching itself on the River Ourthe, while two large divisions of cavalry had got to Tongres, north of Liege.

It was expected that a general advance was in preparation and a battle imminent in which the Germans would be confronted by the allied Belgian, French and British forces.

The French force met with opposition at Muehlhausen, Alsace, after their occupation of that city. A superior force of Germans caused them to leave the place and take position outside where an action was fought, details of which have not been made public. French reports indefinite but give the impression of French success.

Many German spies were arrested today in Belgium and a secret wireless apparatus was discovered on a German store in Brussels.

Fighting has evidently occurred on the Russo-German frontier as six carloads of German prisoners were reported to have passed through Vilna today on their way to the Russian frontier.

Russians have concentrated a considerable army in Finland thus disposing of German reports of the landing of a German army corps.

Bulgaria apparently is mobilizing all her forces, as she announces, to prevent violation of her neutrality.

The United States diplomatic officials in Europe have the further task since yesterday of looking after French interests in Austria and Austrian interests in France, following France's declaration of war on Austria.

A state of war has been declared in the southern provinces of Holland.

Russian funds seized in German banks amount to $25,000,000.

The German cruisers Goeben and Breslau are still at large in the Mediterranean, according to reports.

England is said by the London Times to have between 500,000 and 600,000 men under arms with the reserves.

Aviators are at work constantly on the frontiers of France and Germany endeavoring to observe the concentrating of the respective armies.

GERMANS YET UNABLE TO CAPTURE FORTS AT LIEGE

By Associated Press. London, August 11.—The Paris correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company says a dispatch from the Netherlands announces that the Germans occupy Tongres, a town ten miles north of Liege. The place has been abandoned by the Belgians. German engineers are building a second bridge across the river.

Dispatches to the Times from the Hague and to the Telegraph from Maastricht, Holland, sent under yesterday's date, agree that the struggle for the possession of the forts at Liege was going on continuously and giving rise to terrible scenes of bloodshed and heroism. At noon the dispatches say that the Germans were making fierce efforts to silence the forts nearest the city proper, and the defenders were gallantly holding out against almost constant bombardment.

A news dispatch from Brussels says it is officially announced that the German loss in Belgium in the Liege fighting, was 2000 dead, 20,000 wounded and 9,700 prisoners.

BELIEVED GERMAN PLANS TO CROSS BELGIUM WERE FORMULATED 6 WEEKS AGO

By Associated Press. Brussels, Aug. 11.—The Germans made a desperate attack on Fort Seraign, south of Liege, Sunday night and were repulsed with heavy loss. It is estimated that 800 Germans were killed within an area of half a square mile. A bridge which the Germans were crossing was shattered by the fire from the fort.

The Germans attempted the assault with great courage. Some of the dead were found directly in front of the barbed wire fencing that surrounds the fort. It is reported that Prince William of Litta and his son, who were killed, were charging at the head of 100 German soldiers. Their bodies were buried near the fort.

Military authorities here assert that the German cavalry division were designated to make a raid on Brussels, with the object, it was believed of either levying war contributions or seizing the treasury. It was argued that they evidently reckoned on not meeting any Belgian resistance.

As evidence that the German plans to traverse Belgian territory were known to well-informed Germans here it was pointed out that a celebrated chateau in Belgium belonging to a German prince was emptied six weeks ago. All the silver plate and works of art were taken to Germany.

FRENCH SUCCESS REPORTED IN THE ALSATIAN CAMPAIGN

By Associated Press. Paris, August 11.—A large force of Germans on Sunday night attacked the French advance guard which had pushed forward on Cernay and Muehlhausen. Before this attack the commander of the French troops had quit Muehlhausen and assembled his troops in the rear of the town. He quickly put his forces in a fighting line and stopped the advance of the Germans who, according to French reports, were superior in number. The action of the French were declared to have been brilliant, and it was claimed that they remain masters of northern Alsace.

There have been numerous movements of German troops toward Morhange, twenty miles southeast of Metz in the region of Elamont in Muerthe-Et-Moselle. An attack on Rogersville and Habenville was attempted by the German force, but failed because the French were supported by cannon.

BATTLESHIP'S WRECKAGE ON COAST OF CALIFORNIA

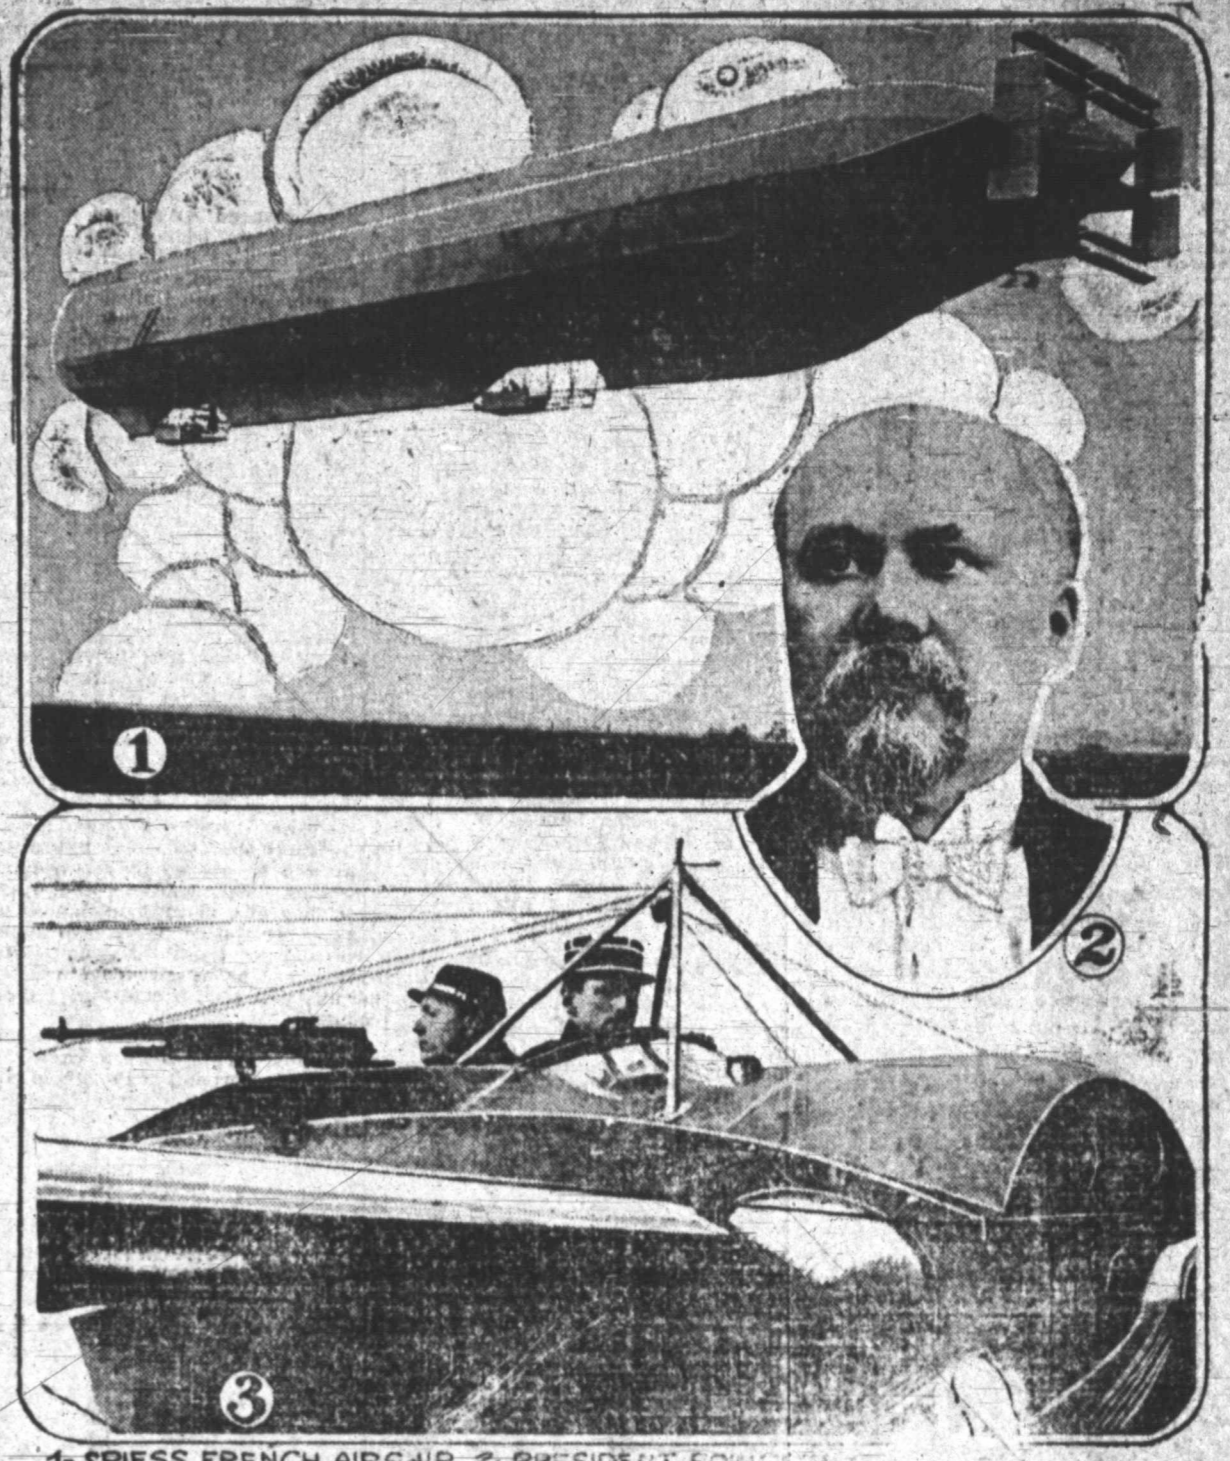

By Associated Press. San Francisco, August 11.—More wreckage from a British war vessel which today is established to have been a man-of-war was cast up by the early flood tide in the neighborhood of the south shore life saving station today. Two white wooden cabin doors were found bearing on bright brass plates, one the legend "navigation officer," and the other, "gunner."

A German man of war with two stacks and three military masts was sighted three miles outside the Golden Gate at ten a. m. today. Taken in connection with the finding of the wreckage of a British warship her presence has significance. She is believed to be either the Leipzig or Nuremburg.

May be Wreck of English Gunboat

By Associated Press. Ottawa, August 11.—"The wreckage cast up by the tide at San Francisco is not part of the Rainbow; of that, we are certain," declared the naval office today. It was thought the wreckage might be from the Shearwater or the Algeriane, small British gunboats, as there is considerable wood in both of them.

More Common Sense Needed In Supplying One's Wardrobe Needs

New York, Aug. 8.—How few women realize the economy of a widely planned wardrobe. Instead, they allow themselves to purchase each garment in a haphazard manner. This is the cause of more worries, more failures and more heartaches than women realize. A woman usually receives but little preparation to fit her for managing a home. She takes it for granted that her grandmother did it, that she, also, will be able to do it—when the time comes! This same lack of forethought extends to a woman's wardrobe. Clothes she must have, and pretty ones, and she buys regardless of whether or no, a thing is suited to her particular style or figure. Some special occasion arises which requires a gown, lacking in her wardrobe. Thereupon she rushes from shop to shop, finally buying (as her time is limited) something which costs more than she intended. The dress has to be altered; this again depletes her pocket book (and as a finale she realizes that the hastily bought, hastily altered gown did fairly well for the affair for which she bought it, but it is too elaborate for some occasions, too perishable for economy, and last, but not least, that it does not suit her style.

Another, insidious, deceitful and crafty enemy to the proper wardrobe, and to that feeling of well being which is associated with being smartly and suitably gowned, is the unwise use of the bargain counter. Its temptations are responsible for many an ill-chosen outfit. Money that should be saved for some really good thing is spent on something which is cheap, but has no value in the specific wardrobe. It may be a collar which is worth 50 cents and you get it for 35, but you have no dress with which to wear it; it may be a belt that is not appropriate or a pair of shoes the wrong color, or an array of conspicuous stockings when the frocks, and shoes to suit are lacking. Colors, fabrics and accessories are constantly changing, and the temptation of getting something for little or nothing is a feminine characteristic much catered to by the wily storekeeper wishing to get rid of his stock. In other and shorter words, system and thought must be applied to the wardrobe. The few absolutely necessary clothes suited to the occasions which your position in life calls for are all that the well-dressed woman's wardrobe should contain; then, when the styles change, you are not forced to wear out of date frocks. In every gathering of well-dressed women, mingling freely, unobtrusively, with easy gravity, among the loose kimono styles, is the basque of 1880. Not quite so tight to be sure, but with seamed and fitted back, and buttoning snugly down the front. Wine colored poplin is used for the attractive model illustrated, with collar and cuffs of white satin. The back is fitted, but the fronts are unseamed except under the arm. The lower line of the waist is conservatively long, fitting closely over a skirt with a snug-fitting long tunic. The pleated lower section of this skirt gives ample fullness. To finish the stand-away collar is a narrow, black moiré ribbon tie, with flowing ends. The large hat in sailor effect is well suited to the costume with which it is worn, and accents the trimly picturesque effect of the costume. The day-time dresses are often so low-cut that they seem most inconsistent to those brought up to the idea that décolleté gowns should not be worn until after six o'clock, any more than a man's dress suit should be worn before then. But the ways of arriving at these low neck crosses are like observing the letter of the law. The satin slip is cut very low, but is worn with a long sleeved bodice of lace or mullin, thin and transparent, which is cut high enough, however, to cover the collar bone. Although color is conspicuous in the sash, stockings and hat of the tennis costume, in the lining of the cape coat, or in the development of the embroidered afternoon dress, there is no more striking costume than the all-white gown worn with a white hat, white shoes, white gloves and even white veil. The long straight tunic has taken a prominent place with the over-waisted and long-waisted, in taffeta, satin lace and net. The second illustration shows a late summer dress of white taffeta and Margot lace with craquele net top. This net is made of the thread in an irregular mesh, which reminds one of the crackle on old porcelain or Chinese pottery, and is extremely good in the net lace so extremely fashionable this season. The yoke to this dress is of the Margot lace with the sleeves of the plain craquele net. A wide pleated flounce of Margot edged craquele net is attached to a taffeta yoke. The over-waist is of taffeta and has extended fronts which tie in the back like the sash ends of a child's old-fashioned pinafore. The under skirt is also of taffeta. A sunning little tulle entirely covered with flowers and having a white wing standing saucily upright, in the front, gives a touch of imperious charm to the costume. Black or white, and black and white are worn considerably by the smartest dressed women. In fact the late summer frock proves to have a growing fondness for the magpie colors. Looking up and down Fifth Avenue one sees a dotting of black and white with just enough color thrown in to add spice to an otherwise monotonous color. One of the secrets of being well dressed in the hot summer weather is to be always immaculate. With a freshly laundered frock, white shoes and a becoming hat the day may be faced with equanimity whether it brings weal or woe. Wide crushed girdles, buttoning up the back or front, give the basque effect to a dress, and are decidedly the rage. In silk, or in the same cloth as the dress, they are effective. As an addition to an old-dress which needs a new touch to bring it up to date they are excellent. A straight wide belt of moiré is an excellent addition to your white frock of crepe or organdy. As a last addition to the summer frock, the white silk stockings with sprays of flowers painted on the front, extending up five or six inches from the instep. In wild roses, pink or pebble, these are dainty to wear with white pumps and sheer-organdy or net dresses.

BASQUES AGAIN IN FAVOR FOR FEMININE APPAREL

Velvet is Popular Material and is Otherwise in Demand For Present Fashions

(By Margaret Mason)
With fashions and love to fill our minds. Wars and suffrage and strikes seem petty. So Betty smiles in her basque of black. And I bask in the smiles of Betty.

New York, August 14.—The black basque plays an important part in the sartorial make-up of the dainty maid who follows the fashions in this black masque in the sartorial make-up of the taking person who follows the dark banner and the Jimmy. Preferably and almost invariably of black velvet, this newest basque is worn with a fluffy and many-flounced skirt of white, or pastel, or light. Often the skirt while it has an iridescent foundation breaks out in fleeciness of either tulle or chiffon. Delicate tulle and sweet pea tints are also used for these skirts as well as the all white and the effect of the froth of many ruffles bursting out below the close sheath of rich black velvet basque is charming enough to compensate for the rather obvious discomforts of such apparel on a midsummer day. As a concession to the host, variations of these basques are shown, developed in either black tulle or black satin but they lack that indescribable air of chic of the velvet brand. Hence they are not much favored by the fashionably elect who have long since bowed to the inexorable mandate of the mode that one cannot be truly smart and comfortable all at the same time.

The velvet basque is always low of neck and long of sleeve and buttoned either up the front or back with visible button fastenings. On some of them sheer roll collars of organza or a tulle frill softens the effect about the throat.

The run on velvet is by no means confined to the basque. Already the all velvet hat saucy and perky in its miniature proportions has ousted the fragile straw from the heads of summer beauties. So tiny and close fitting are they that they seem inadequately to dispute the prophecy that large chapeaux of picture proportions are coming to the top again ere long. And yet following the immutable law that everything goes the limit before it changes and things always worse before they are better, this August crop of wee velvet hats may be to prove the rule that they have only gotten smaller to get larger.

There certainly is nothing half way about fashion and from the extremity of no sleeves at all, or at least none to speak of, the long sleeve is now the night drier's cry. For afternoon and street wear they are absolutely the only permissible sleeves as the total absence of arm covering still holds good for evening toilettes. It is simply a case of long sleeves or none. While the velvet and satin basques all show uncompromisingly long tight sleeves of lace and tulle are very smart in combination with the silken bodices of many of the dressy little afternoon frocks of tulle or crepe. The Hazler's gowns are all showing the long sheer sleeves now and a pretty find is the wearing of a cicquet of tiny rose buds or some other small artificial flowers between the elbow and the shoulder to peep through the mist of face or tulle. Bracelets of sparkling jewels are also given a welcome haven in like position and many are the fortunes in gems that one fair maid is thus enabled to keep up her sleeve.

As a sort of reaction against the multi-colored strings of beads that have all summer degraded the bosoms of both Judy O'Grady and the Colonel's lady, the latter personage is now going in exclusively for strands of pearls. Real or otherwise strings of these lustrous tearful jewels show to best advantage atop the background of the velvet basque and contrary to the long accepted decree that pearls before breakfast were as bad as pearls before swine, pearls are now being proudly flaunted in the face of tradition and the rosy dawn.

This present penchant for the chaste pearl has by means completely done for the beads of many color, however. As brilliant beaded bands for dress trimming, as fringe and garnishment on purses and bags of silk and velvet they will fulfill a different but an equally prominent sphere this fall and winter.

IN OVERALLS GOV. MAJOR WORKS ON ROADS IN MISSOURI

Jefferson, Mo., Aug. 14.—Armed with pick and shovel Governor Major, for the second time today led the men of Missouri in the betterment of the state's highways. Today and tomorrow are good roads days by executive proclamation. Major inaugurated a good road plan last year and 250,000 men in two days did 100 days' work and material estimated to be worth $1,500,000. Greater results are expected this year. The results obtained last year in Missouri stood out so favorably and the plan proved so popular that many other states took up the idea while more are preparing to follow the move of Missouri this year. August dates were selected because the season is most favorable for road improvements and because the farmers have more spare time at this particular season. The governor believes that a large percent of the men who observe the proclamation will work not only on the two days designated, but five days. Thousands of Missouri chickens today were sacrificed to the cause. The good wives, knowing well the appetites of road workers, selected shady spots near where the various gangs were at work and served real feeds for the volunteers which turned the noon hour into a picnic.

WANTS NO MARRIAGE ALLOWED AFTER DARK

Clayton, Mo., Aug. 13.—"No more marriage licenses in Clayton after dark." That is one of the planks in the platform of John S. McNelly, candidate for the Democratic nomination for recorder of deeds of St. Louis county. His announcement has caused a great panic among his opponents who fear that the town of Clayton will sink into oblivion if he is nominated and elected.

Clayton is known in St. Louis largely as the haven of slopers and old residents dislike the prospects of losing their chief source of entertainment and publicity.

IN THE SPHERE OF WOMANKIND

The Reckoning.
What do they reckon who sit aloof on thrones,
Or in the chambered chancelleries apart,
Playing the game of state with subtle art,
If so be they may win, what wretched end grows
Rise from red fields, what unrecorded bones
Bleach within shallow graves, what bitter smart
Pierces the widowed or the orphaned heart—
The unhooded horror for which naught atones!

A word, a pen stroke, and this might not be!
But vengeance, power lust, festering jealousy,
Triumph and grim carnage stalks abroad,
Hark! Hear that ominous bugle on the wind!
And they who might have stayed it, shall they find
No reckoning within the courts of God?

ROWENA CIRCLE MEETING WEDNESDAY WITH MRS. JENNE

The Rowena Circle held one of the best and most profitable meetings of the year from every standpoint Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Jenne as hostess at her home, 1913 Tenth street. The bad weather did not seem to interfere to any degree with either the interest or attendance. The Circle took up the first chapter of Ivanhoe for the afternoon's study and will continue the book, taking one chapter at each meeting. As the order is founded on Ivanhoe this makes a very interesting course of study for the Circle and one which will prove of unlimited benefit. After the program and business of the afternoon had been disposed of, the hostess served a delightful three-course luncheon and the Circle had as special guests for this interesting part of the meeting, Mr. South, state manager for the B. of A. Y., Mr. Sites of Hobart, Okla., and Mr. Jenne. When time came for adjournment all present unanimously decided that this was the very best meeting which it had been the Circle's fortune to enjoy. The members present included: Mesdames Earl Richardson, Zetsche, Robertson, Hallowitz, South, Jenne and Miss Ora Carlson. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Louis Holloway.

HAY FEVER SUFFERERS IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

New York, Aug. 14.—Several hundred stragglers or rather weak (from sleeping)—New York City's representation for the annual convention of the United States Hay Fever Association to be held at Bethlehem, N. H. It may seem funny to the rest of the world but a hay fever congress is a serious matter. In the 200,000 odd sufferers of this peculiar malady. The loss it was explained, is in loss of services and wages, the sufferers being incapacitated for work for from six to eight weeks every year. New York State has the distinction of furnishing one eighth of the hay fever sufferers of the country. "Contrary to general opinion," said Percy F. Jerome, secretary-treasurer of the Empire State organization, as he boarded the train for the hay fever haven, "hay has nothing to do with the hay fever. I am pained to observe that many eminent physicians hold the same foolish belief. The disease is so called because it is after the hay has been cut, baled and gathered into the barn, that it grips the sufferers. It is the absence of hay that causes hay fever. The fields, formerly covered with hay, as are overrun with goldenrod after the hay is cut. This flower, together with its rejeked confederates, the ragweed, sweetpea and nasturtium, is responsible for the annual harvest of 200,000 hay fever victims in the United States."

DAIRY INSPECTION POSTPONED

Made Special Order For Tomorrow Morning—Dairy Owners Present Their Views

On account of the absence of Councilman Young who was detained in jury service, the proposed food and milk inspection ordinance and amendments to the tax levy ordinances providing for hospital and park levies as provided under the new charter were not taken up last night but were made a special order for an adjourned session Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

The amendments mentioned are now necessary as the attorney general has found that the proceedings in connection with the adoption of the new charter were in accordance with the law. In a letter the attorney general sets forth some particulars in which he asks for certified copies of the proceedings in reference to the bond election before he can pass upon the hospital and park levies. These are now being prepared for him. The letter is from Assistant Attorney General Harris and in reference to the charter he says: "We have found the record of the proceedings had in the adoption of the charter in proper shape and the record of the issuance of bonds will be approved when it is corrected in the particulars above pointed out."

Dairy Owners Are Heard.
News that the attorney general had approved the charter proceedings was heard by the council for the first time last night and there was much rejoicing over the fact. While the "milk" and "food" inspection ordinance was not taken up by the representatives of dairy interests were present to state their views. Mrs. Lunsford who conducted a dairy near the city urged that the inspection ordinance provide a fine for each dairy and, not so much as to throw out germs that cause typhoid, smallpox and other loathsome diseases. THE NOISIEST PLACE IN TOWN

THE WICHITA TRUCK FACTORY IS A VERY NOISY PLACE. THEY ARE DOING SOMETHING, THEY ARE SELLING THEIR CARS EVERYWHERE.

OUR BIG STORE IS A NOISY PLACE

Our store is crowded every day with anxious buyers, big crowds of people make noise. It requires several salesmen to wait upon those customers, the salesmen make noise. It requires two piano tuners to tune the pianos as fast as we sell them, tuners make noise. It requires one man to box and ship pianos to out of town piano buyers, boxing pianos makes noise. Our big "Wichita Piano Truck" is kept very busy delivering pianos in this city, and in the country, that makes noise. Yes, we confess that our place is the "noisiest place in town," come in and hear the noise. We will pay $1,000.00 reward to anyone who will prove that our prize checks are not worth their face value on any new piano, or player piano in our store.

We do not believe that the many good people who have bought pianos of us during our big introductory sale in this city, will charge us as being "fakes." We do not try to sell our pianos by knocking our competitors. "We are boosters," not knockers.

We ask every one who is interested in buying either a piano, or player piano to visit our store and let us prove to you that we are offering the best values in the history of Wichita Falls. Our terms and prices are the lowest.

TIMES PUBLISHING CO., ED HOWARD, Manager.

Readers of the Times, particularly those whose sympathies are with Germany in the present war, should bear in mind that all news dispatches from the scene of action are censored by France or England before they are transmitted. It follows that, even if the news is not actually censored to make it appear favorable to the French and English, it cannot be very partial to the German side of the question. That such a condition exists is a result of the Associated Press of the other news agencies. Germany, in the parlance of the day, is not getting out anything in the way of war news as until Berlin follows the example of Paris and London in the giving out of official dispatches, not much news is being sent to our German friends who will come over the wire. The nation's leader, and properly so, should consider as to movements of armies in new essential than satisfying the public thirst for news.

The announcement that Senator Joseph W. Bailey will be in the race for United States Senator again in 1914 makes things look interesting. Bailey, Coquit, Brooks and others would divide the vote to such an extent that it seems, considering the fact that one has about as good a chance as the other—McKinney County Gazette.

But you must not lose sight of the fact that, in the event that there are more than two candidates for the senatorship, and that neither of them receives a majority of the votes polled at the primary election, the law made by the last legislature governing senatorial elections, provides that all but the two candidates receiving the greatest number of votes shall drop out, and another primary election hold four weeks after the first in which election only the two candidates left in the contest are to be voted for. That makes it so that the nominee for this office will have to be chosen by a majority. That is the correct method. If by county and state primary elections required a majority to nominate, the chances are we would get better and more efficient officers.

WAR AND NEWSPAPERS

A big European war will be a fine thing for the newspapers, said the Philadelphia manager of a large electrical company.

"In what way?" I inquired. "Help to sell papers," he replied.

"Alas! Others may see your optimism, but you alone can observe the fly swimming around in it. The ink scarcely dry upon the printed testimony of one newspaper manager to the effect that the Spanish-American war had cost his publication a tidy three-quarters of a million net.

The editor of the London Post told me his paper had twenty correspondents in the Boer war and cable rates were then $1.20 a word from Cape Town. That African conquest was the biggest menace to newspaper dividends which London has experienced in a generation.

I saw dispatches from Manila during our insurrection there which cost $3,000 a column. That included the price paid the special correspondent for sending one article.

Yes, a convention of newspaper proprietors would be quickly endorsed if great war for their own money-making purposes as a former granite would vote to employ a pack of wolves to guard their sheep.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Ledger, of course, is one of the great newspapers, but the same conditions apply equally as well to the smaller papers. When there is a war on, the people demand the news. They are so restless that often they cannot wait until the regular hour of publication for the paper and extras are issued. And it is doubtful if any newspaper that ever issued an extra got enough out of it to pay the cost.

These Afton of Wichita Falls says that when he was a boy in Missouri the farmers fed their wheat to their hogs which were cross-bred short, which was about three years out of it. When they fed a dollar a bushel then, and hogs brought five cents a pound, and still the farmers made more out of their wheat that way than they could by selling it on the market. (Cotton) Texas farmers make money the same way, with wheat at twenty-five cents and hogs at nine cents.—Gratford Herald.

Wichita this year produced more than one million bushels of wheat. The greater portion of the crop was sold at prices ranging from 70c to 80c per bushel. It would require, on an average, about 10 bushels of wheat to fatten an ordinary one-year-old hog. Some of the wheat is used at curing the hogs of stock hogs, the present price of wheat and then make comparison with the market price of hogs and the profit on the hog. The profit on the hog can figure out how much greater the profits would have been to the producers of the one-million bushel wheat crop of Wichita county for the year 1914, had the wheat raisers fed their grain to hogs instead of selling it at prevailing prices.

Just a few hours before his death Count Tolstoy wrote these prophetic words. How well he has prophesied, the observer of events now transpiring in Europe can judge:

"This is a revelation of events of a universal character, which must shortly come to pass. Their spiritual outlines are now before my eyes. I see floating upon the surface of the sea of human fate the huge silhouette of a nude woman. She is—with her beauty, her poise, her smile, her jewelry—a super-Venus. Nations rush madly after her, each of them eager to attract her especially. But she, like an eternal courtesan, flirts with all. In her hair ornaments of diamonds and rubies is engraved her name: 'Com-

F. P. St. Clair brought in an eight pound catfish from the lake this morning, which he told admirers over at the Kemp and Kell building he caught himself with a hook and line from the pier. Some of his friends told him that he didn't need to tell a fish story to sustain his reputation. Mr. St. Clair said that when he came in this morning there were fully 200 fishermen on the pier and a number of good catches had been made. The lake runs about fourteen inches Wednesday night.

SOME IMPROVEMENT IN WHEAT EXPORT PROSPECTS

Some wheat at Galveston is being loaded onto boats for shipment to Europe, according to advices received here this morning. Other wheat is being loaded from cars into the elevators from which the wheat is loaded onto the boats.

TEXAN IS RESTORED BY MAYR'S WONDERFUL STOMACH REMEDY

Alvarado Man Gets Appetite and Comfort Back After Taking First Dose

Hensley of Alvarado, Texas, suffered for a long time from derangements of the digestive tract. He had cold attacks and indigestion. His liver was inactive and he was in pain after eating any food.

He took Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. From the very first dose it brought swift results. His wife, ROBERT VANCE HENSLEY, writes: "I have taken your treatment for stomach trouble and consider it a Godsend to suffering humanity. I have been suffering from (stomach) troubles for a long time, such as colic attacks, bloating after eating, sick spells, indigestion, constipation and inactive liver and gall stones. Now I do not feel like the same man. I can cheerfully recommend this remedy to all stomach sufferers."

Mr. Hensley's experience is typical of those of the thousands who have taken Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy with such success. The first dose proves its value.

Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucoid secretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings quick relief to sufferers from stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure that it has saved their lives.

The remarkable success of this remedy has caused many imitations, so be cautious. Be sure it's Mayr's. Probably it is known among your own neighbors. Ask them. Go to Footlock & Lynch and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing in cases they knew or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Co., 154-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist will tell you it is wonderful. (Adv.)

PRICES OF SOME PRODUCTS SHOW DOWNWARD TENDENCY

With the exception of beans, coffee, sugar, cured meats and imported table delicacies, especially those from France, the tendency in wholesale prices of food products generally has been slightly downward within the past thirty days, according to a prominent Wichita Falls wholesale grocer.

Following the attention that has been directed to the few commodities that have shown an increase since the war started, this dealer went over his quotations carefully to learn just what effect the war was having and as a result found that the tendency had been downward rather than upward.

OH! JOHN! HEY! JOHN! LISTEN TO THIS ONE

Eaton, Indiana, August 13.—John's day was celebrated at Riverside Park. The surest way for a well intentioned millionaire to find himself broke was to rent a megaphone and shout: "Have a drink John!"

Hundreds of Johns would have answered him and they would have led hundreds more little Johns up to the pop emporium and what their first probably never in the history of the country were so many Johns gathered together in one spot. The John's Day idea originated with a group of Eaton residents whose wives call them to breakfast by carolling their name. Last year the Johns and their families numbered 4,000 persons and word from surrounding cities indicated that this year's crowd would be as large.

Representative John A. M. Adair of Portland, Ind., was one of the speakers who was to jolly the other Johns late this afternoon. There were loads of prizes for the fastest John, the slimmest John, the oldest John, and the youngest John and the most handsome and ugliest Johns.

Market Reports

Chicago Futures.
By Associated Press.
Chicago, Aug. 14.—Wheat and corn in price today owing largely to a decline at Liverpool. The fact was ignored, that easier quotations across the water were due in part to advices there of two steamers having sailed for England from American ports and the prospects of further sailing in the near future. Demand here was lacking, regardless of reports that farmers were storing wheat instead of selling. The opening, which was 5-8 to 1-8 lower was followed by a decided further drop. Rains over the drought region gave a setback to the corn market. In crossed country offerings had a further bearish effect. After starting 3-4 to one cent off, values rallied somewhat, but then fell lower than before. Oats sagged with other grains. Buy orders were scarce. Wheat closed weak. Oats closed heavy. Prices, wheat, Sept. 90 7-8; Dec. 96 5-8. Corn, Sept. 77 7-8; Dec. 68. Oats, Sept. 41 1/2; Dec. 44 5-8.

The Gem. A Melies two reel "Who is Who" a drama of much interest and the sort of story that will hold the audience to the very last foot of film is the headliner here today. "The Ethics of the Profession," a Biograph and "The Widow of Red Rock" an Edison comedy complete today's bill.

The Majestic. Four single reel pictures make up a program for today that can not be beaten. Lillian Walker and Wallie Van are featured in "The Persistent Mr. Prince." Mr. Prince falls in love with the photograph of Miss Peach, a beautiful society girl and determines to win her. He sends her his photograph and a note saying that he intends to marry her on May first. She is resolved that she will not be won in any such high-handed manner. All his efforts are in vain and he becomes desperate. Finally he learns that she intends to take a trip in an aeroplane. Braving the aviator he takes his place. He gets the lady of his affections up in the air and tells her that he is going to keep her there until she promises to marry him. She accedes to "The Persistent Mr. Prince." Miss Dark Feather, the charming Indian princess is featured in a Kalem drama of the west, "Brought to Justice," a Melies comedy, "The Lottery Ticket" is showing and the fourth reel is a Lubin drama, featuring Velma Whitman in "The Parent Strain."

Joe and Tom Barry two brothers are in love with Ruth Hartley. The girl favors Joe, but his mother detects in him a passion for gambling and she suggests to Ruth's father, that he shall oppose the match. The father confronts Joe and he makes a denial. Ruth takes his side, tears up the letter and will not listen to any argument. Her confidence is however, shattered when on the wedding day Joe is found in a gambling house and in a fit of anger she strikes Tom. Joe is too late to regain the confidence of the girl and he goes to the minister of the settlement for advice. The minister persuades him to become a church worker and makes amends for the past. Ten years pass and Joe has become a respectable citizen, but the gambling fever has taken possession of Tom. One day he loses his wages at roulette and notice comes from the land office that unless he makes good his home will be taken from him. He takes his wife's savings and loses that also. The wife appeals to her old sweetheart Joe, who recovers the money lost at the point of a gun. The wife is unable to endure the strain any longer and decides to leave her husband forever, but Joe intercepts the separation and makes Tom agree never to touch a card again.

The Empress. There is something fascinating about the life of the men who toll underground that this world's inhabitants may have heat, light and power.

As its title implies "The Disaster in Shaft 15" is a gripping story set in a great tragedy enacted hundreds of feet below the earth's surface. The tragic scenes are somewhat relieved by the charming romance of the mine owner's daughter and the brave mining engineer who risks the fire dam in shaft 15 to save his employer from ruin.

HEALTH OFFICER ISSUES TYPHOID FEVER WARNING

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Aug. 14.—Unsanitary conditions are named as the cause of typhoid fever in a warning to Texas issued recently by Ralph Steiner, state health officer in which he says: "But one germ can cause typhoid fever and that is the typhoid bacillus. Before it can cause the disease it must be swallowed, and pass the intestines. Every person who has typhoid, previously has swallowed unwholesome food or water."

The typhoid germ is carried by the fly which unsanitary conditions breed. Do not let sewage mix with surface soil or seep into wells, springs, creeks or rivers. Screen all outhouses, barns and stables and keep them free of manure. "Vaccination absolutely will prevent typhoid and it is safe and sane and simple."

the oxygen helmet and the electric head light, now worn by rescuers when penetrating gaseous mine workings. Numerous thrills are provided by the descent of the courageous engineer into the abandoned shaft, and his efforts to blast his way out when he finds himself a prisoner, due to the treachery of a rival miner for the hand of the mine owner's daughter.

Many surprising things happen to father and daughter between the time of the engineer's disappearance and the firing of the dynamite cartridges that opens a path for his escape. All in all, this production is so distinctly unusual as to cause considerable comment. This picture will be shown today at the Empress.

The Lamar Airdome. Glick and Dale, a clever couple, opened a three nights engagement at the Airdome last night. They have a very pleasing act of the usual sort with singing, dancing and talking. The man's voice is unusually good and his "Dream" solo was very much enjoyed. Several catchy songs were sung and a bit of fancy dancing added to the act, which may safely be classed as much above the average.

Florence Lawrence is featured in "Her Haggard Knight." W. J. O'Neil takes the part of the wealthy gentleman of Flo. He is perturbed at the thought of being guardian to a girl whom he has never seen so leaves, giving the impression that he has gone to Europe. Instead he tramps about in the country, eventually coming to the place where his ward lives.

It is in a way, a fact. His clothes are stolen so he has to take the clothes of a scarecrow. Flo meets him and in pity for him secures him a place on the farm. His room learns to love her. His identity is discovered but love settles everything. A Sterling comedy, "The Crash" is also to be shown. It contains in addition to other features a terrific explosion when a house and barn are destroyed, an auto dashing over a cliff and being torn to pieces at the bottom and immediately following this wreck a motorcycle which has been following tumbles over and joins the general crash.

The Victoria. Mutual Weekly No. 77 is showing also a picture of the Mexican border, "Arms and the Gringo." Dorothy Gish and Wallace Reid are featured. Frank Sullivan, a young American is in charge of the border patrol at Nogales to prevent the smuggling of arms into Mexico. His off time was spent with Mary Ball, niece of George Ball an American resident at Nogales. Mary knew Sullivan loved her and Sullivan knew his affections were returned in fact they understood each other. Edgar Rice was also interested in Mary—he was a traveling salesman, but he never saw him collecting business cards.

Some day service men in Mexico will be informed Sullivan was the smuggler of some into Mexico was going on and Sullivan promised to keep a sharper lookout. Rice was the smuggler and his partner was Mary's uncle, George Ball. In some way Rice learned that the secret service men were in Nogales and began to have the managing laid at some one else's door, and he decided to put it on Sullivan. He arranged with Ball to have Mary cross the line in amato and to smuggle arms with her, he to be the secret service agent which he did and the sugar was stopped at the border. Mary showed her present interest by Sullivan. She was told that Sullivan was the smuggler. She refused to believe this and threatened to expose the entire plot to the authorities. Argument falling, the uncle and Rice imprisoned Mary in a hut. Mary managed to get a note to Sullivan who arrived just as Rice and Ball were resorting to torture to force Mary to sign papers incriminating Sullivan. Sullivan made Rice and Ball prisoners. Smuggling arms was stopped in that region and Sullivan won Mary.

GO WHERE YOU PLEASE—EAT WHAT YOU PLEASE

That is what you can do if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic. Many people know the danger of calomel, yet still use it because they know nothing better. Other people are not afraid of calomel because they do not understand what a dangerous drug it is. Because it has never hurt them, they believe it never will.

No one needs to take dangerous calomel (which is just another form of mercury).

Your druggist sells Dodson's Liver Tonic for fifty cents a bottle and guarantees that it takes the place of calomel.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is a pleasant tasting, vegetable remedy that lives up the liver without causing any restriction of habit or diet. It has none of the many bad after effects of calomel and is safe for children as well as grown-ups.

You don't run a single risk when you try Dodson's Liver Tonic, because if you aren't entirely satisfied, all you need to do is go right back to where you bought it and have your money cheerfully refunded to you with a smile. Isn't that fair?

ICE CREAM SODA

They can all talk about their exhilarating drinks, but the real, sure-thing drink that lingers in your taste organs and sticks to your ribs is one of our long, cold, properly mixed ice cream sodas with crushed fruit. Much of the goodness, of course, is in the ice cream, and we use the best that is possible to buy, made from pure Jersey milk and turned in a freezer to the smoothness of jelly. We have tried various kinds of ice cream, but the best we have ever been able to find is that made by the Holiday Creamery, right here at home, and once you try one of our fountain drinks we are sure you will agree with us.

PAVLOWA The World's Premier Danseuse Endorses Columbia Dance Records

Since I have been in your country I have been amazed to see the popularity of the talking machine record used with the dance. This so excited my curiosity that I have made it a great study and think it is due you to say that Columbia instruments and Columbia dance records over all others have my unqualified endorsement. I use your Grafonola and dance records in my rehearsals with complete satisfaction and find your dance records truly represent the very spirit of the dance. Their tempo, rhythm, clarity and musical qualities simply charm me. I am convinced that all who dance can get great satisfaction from the use of your Grafonolas and records. Sincerely yours, ANNA PAVLOWA.
