WHERE QUAIL SCHOOL ROOF COLLAPSED

Nearly 50 boys and girls escaped without a scratch when the roof of the Quail school library-study hall collapsed during a rainstorm shortly before 3 p.m. Thursday, April 26. The east section of the ceiling and roof is shown where it fell, lying on the floor with tables and chairs crushed beneath it. But library books in their shelves were undisturbed. The flat roof had a gravel-type topping.

Reveal County-Wide Plan to Develop Water Resources

A broad program for the development of all waters of Collingsworth was made public for the first time by the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District governors as their representatives met before the Red River Valley Association, the Red River Valley Authority of Texas, and the Red River Compact Commission in Shreveport, La., on Monday and Tuesday, April 23 and 24.

The master plan calls for a dam on Salt Fork at a point where the waters are still good, coupled with a diversion dam to carry the waters to a reservoir backed by a dam at Red Bluff on Buck Creek. The fourth dam is proposed on Elm Creek near the mouth of Wolf Creek, in the northeast part of the county, to back up waters along those two streams, with total capacity greater than that of Lugert.

Making the presentation before the Red River groups were Dan Henard, chairman of the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvemtnt District board, and Paul Spillman, its legal advisor.

Upon their return, these events followed in quick succession:

The Collingsworth Water Board passed a resolution making application for membership in the Red River Valley Association, made up of members from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, and requesting its help in the development of the county's waters.

A. H. Wolverton, Austin engineer, was hired as engineer on the county's proposed projects. He has done work for the district in the past.

Monday, four members of the water board met with the Commissioner's Court, which in a court order, approved $750 to help the Water Board finance immediate costs.

Wednesday, Henard and N. M. Higdon, Chamber of Commerce manager, left for Fort Worth to meet Wolverton and present formal application for membership in the Red River Valley Association.

Plans as drawn up call for government financing for part of the cost of the dams.

For the first time, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare enters the picture, from the Collingsworth stand-

Cotton Meeting Set for May 8 Here

A meeting of cotton farmers, pertaining to cotton varieties, weed control, fertilizers, and insect control, will be held on Tuesday, May 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the county court room.

Three specialists from the Extension Service will speak, according to County Agent Bob Lynch. Considerable information of a localized nature will be given, taken from the demonstrations run in the county in recent years.

Fred C. Elliott, cotton specialist, will discuss cotton varieties, weed control and defoliants.

"I think he is one of the outstanding men in the field of cotton production and he is recognized throughout the Southwest," Lynch declared.

John Box, agronomist, will speak on soil fertility and the use of fertilizer.

John Thomas, who formerly lived here, and is now area entomologist, will discuss cotton insect control.

All cotton farmers are urged to attend.

Children to Give Operetta at Norwood

Samnorwood elementary school will present a two-act operetta, entitled "Polly Make-Believe" on Tuesday evening, May 8, at the school gymnasium. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Mrs. Jack Lowry is directing the production and is assisted by other teachers of the elementary school.

All elementary school children will take part.

This is an annual musical program presented by the music department under Mrs. Lowry's direction.

The public is invited and there is no admission charge.

Two Long Blasts Are Storm Warning

Two long even blasts of the fire department siren is the city's storm warning, Fire Chief Richard Bailey said this week.

If there is time between the time a storm is sighted and when it hits, the warning will be sounded a second time, Bailey said.

The signal is different from a fire call in that it is an even blast, not the wavering siren, he pointed out.

Thursday Night

Hog Growers to Form Marketing Assn.

A meeting of the county swine association, for the purpose of organizing a swine marketing association, has been called for Thursday, May 3, by Fred Bourland, chairman.

Bourland, Jack Phipps and County Agent Bob Lynch will discuss marketing associations they visited in Central Texas, and tell of their visit with Jay Naman, president of the Texas Hog Marketing Association, of Waco.

These farmers, Lynch explained, sell their hogs together on the basis of grade.

"The meatier your hog, the more money you get, and the value of a hog can vary as much as $3.00 per hundred, based on conformation," the county agent said.

Rain up to 9 Inches Breaks Winter Drouth

The county's winter and spring drouth was broken on Thursday, April 26, with rain that varied from heavy downpours to light showers, followed by more rain through Friday.

Wellington had one of the lighter amounts of moisture reported in the area, getting only 1.75 inches.

Between Quail and the Dozier-Samnorwood area, however, as much as 9 inches in total rainfall was reported. The heavy rain continued through the north and west part of the county where fields washed, terraces were ruined, and roads and bridges damaged.

An undetermined number of cattle were drowned, and Elm Creek was reported to be the highest even in the memory of long-time residents.

That stream spread out over Elm Valley, and Commissioner Alfred Knoll said that the Elm Creek crossing on the Texola road north of the Needwood community could not be used for weeks.

The initial downpour gave Quail 2.3 inches of rain in an hour, and this was followed

Two Dodson Area Residents Hurt in Crash

Ronnie Lewis, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnice Lewis of four miles south of Dodson, is still listed in critical condition in the Hollis hospital after being injured in a two-car collision about 10:45 p.m. Friday, April 27.

The youth's mother is also receiving treatment for a broken leg, lacerations and spinal injuries. The accident occurred about 3.5 miles west of Hollis on U.S. Highway 62.

The Lewis car, heading west, was struck from the rear by a vehicle driven by Billy D. Black, about 34, of Wellington, according to information received here. Black was not seriously hurt.

Lewis suffered extensive head and spinal injuries and underwent surgery shortly after the crash. He is still completely paralyzed, Farris Cornelius, a relative, said Tuesday.

Cornelius also said that Ronnie and his mother would both be moved to Amarillo Wednesday, May 2, where both will undergo further surgery and treatment.

Ronnie is a sophomore student at the University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla., and was home for the week end visiting his parents.

Workers Named in City-County Cancer Crusade

Work in the rural areas, held for the first time in several years, will be continued until all areas are covered.

The Ti-i-ca Club, girls social and service organization, will cover most of the residential streets. Women working will include Mrs. Shumate in the Housing Project; Mrs. George Jones, Haskell street; Mrs. LeRoy Jones, Ennis street; and Mrs. Louis Berg, 15th street.

Workers in the business section will be Mrs. R. L. Mabery, Mrs. Fleet Pruden, Miss Rose Shadid, Mrs. Alton Wilkins, Mrs. Wayne Cudd, and Mrs. Alvin Horton.

Nominate Candidates in First Democratic Primary on May 5

Collingsworth county voters will go to the polls Saturday, May 5, to vote for the first time in a two-party primary election, either state-wide or on the county basis.

The county's voting strength is around 2,000, and at the close of absentee voting Tuesday, May 1, 140 Democratic and two Republican votes had been cast.

Interest in the races picked up sharply early this week, both on the part of candidates and of the voters. In only one race below the state level, however will there be more than two candidates, and that is for representative of the 87th legislative district.

Democrats will vote in their usual polling places completely unaffected by the Republican balloting taking place in another part of town. Just one thing: a voter can't vote in both elections. If he wants to vote for some favorite, his entire ballot must be cast for that party. This point has caused a little confusion.

There are eight voting boxes in the Democratic Primary. These are:

South Wellington, located in the county court room.

North Wellington, commissioners' court room.

Quail, the school.

Samnorwood, the school.

Dozier, Church of Christ.

Lutie, Lutie gin office.

Dodson, Dodson school.

Marella, the Marella store.

The usual voting hours of 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. will be observed.

The following names will be on the ballot:

Governor: Marshall Formby of Hale county; John Connally of Tarrant county, Price Daniel of Liberty county, Edwin A. Walker of Kerr county, Don Yarbrough of Harris county, and Will Wilson of Dallas county.

Lieutenant Governor: James

Republicans Vote in First Primary Election Saturday

Collingsworth Republicans for the first time will hold their own primary election with a slate of state, district, and two county candidates.

The election will be held in two boxes, both located in Wellington.

The South Wellington box will be located in the fellowship hall of the First Christian Church. All persons living south of 8th street in Wellington, or of a line extended east and west of the point, will vote in the south box.

The North Wellington box will be located in the office of the Tindall Gin, and all persons living north of the dividing line will vote there.

Republicans complied with the state law in this matter by advertising that the election will be held and calling for persons to hold the election. When there was response from those two precincts only, the law was fulfilled and it was therefore not necessary to hold a Republican primary in each voting precinct of the county.

The following candidates are listed on the Republican ballot:

Governor: Roy Whittenburg of Hutchinson county, and Jack Cox of Stephens county.

Lieutenant Governor: O. W. (Bill) Hays of Bell county and Kellis Dibrell of Bexar county.

Commissioner of Agriculture: Harry J. Hubbard of Presidio county.

Commissioner of General Land Office: Albert B. Fay of Harris county.

Railroad Commissioner (unexpired term): Bernold M. Hanson of Midland county.

Congressman at large: Desmond A. Barry of Harris county, Giles Miller of Dallas county, and Joe B. Phillips of Lubbock county.

Representative in Congress, 18th District: Jack Seale of Potter county.

State Board of Education, 18th District: Mrs. Edward McKay of Potter county.

State Senator, 30th District: John Zahn of Parmer county.

State Representative, 87th District: Johnny Wills of Gray county, and Warren Fatheree of Gray county.

County judge, Collingsworth county: Emil Kersten.

Republican county chairman of Collinsworth county: David Baumgardner.

Blank space is left for write-in votes in these races: county-district clerk, county treasurer, justice of the peace, commissioner of precinct 2 and commissioner of precinct 4.

Quail Students Escape When Roof Collapses

Between 40 and 50 Quail high school students escaped injury or death by seconds when the ceiling and roof of the study-hall-library collapsed during a rain storm Thursday, April 26, about 2:45 p.m.

A heavy downpour dumped 2.3 inches of rain on the community in an hour, residents reported. More water backed up on the flat roof of the building than the gutters could carry off, Supt. Herman Moseley told The Wellington Leader, shortly after the accident.

Moseley stated there was also wind and hail.

Students and high school principal Purl Tippie, who was keeping the study hall, heard cracks and saw pieces of the composition ceiling begin to drop.

The room was vacated quickly, and as the last two persons went through the door, the collapse came, the superintendent reported. He estimated Tippie had about 30 seconds to get the students out.

More than half the roof of the 30x60 foot room fell flat, crushing desks and seats beneath it, but leaving books intact in their shelves along the wall. The roof remained attached along the west and northwest sections, with the

Band Parents Meet May 7

The final meeting of the Band Parents Club will be held Thursday, May 7, at 7:30 p.m., in the school band house, J. K. Porter, president, has announced.

Music Week Concert to Feature Borger Pianist and Trombonist

The Wellington Music Club is presenting in concert Phil Griffin, trombonist, and Hurshelene Journey-McCarty, pianist, Thursday evening, May 10 at 8 p.m. in the community building.

Griffin is a member of the Amarillo Symphony and was selected as first chair trombonist of the Texas All-State Band in Dallas by audition. Dr. Joe Haddon of Midwestern University says:

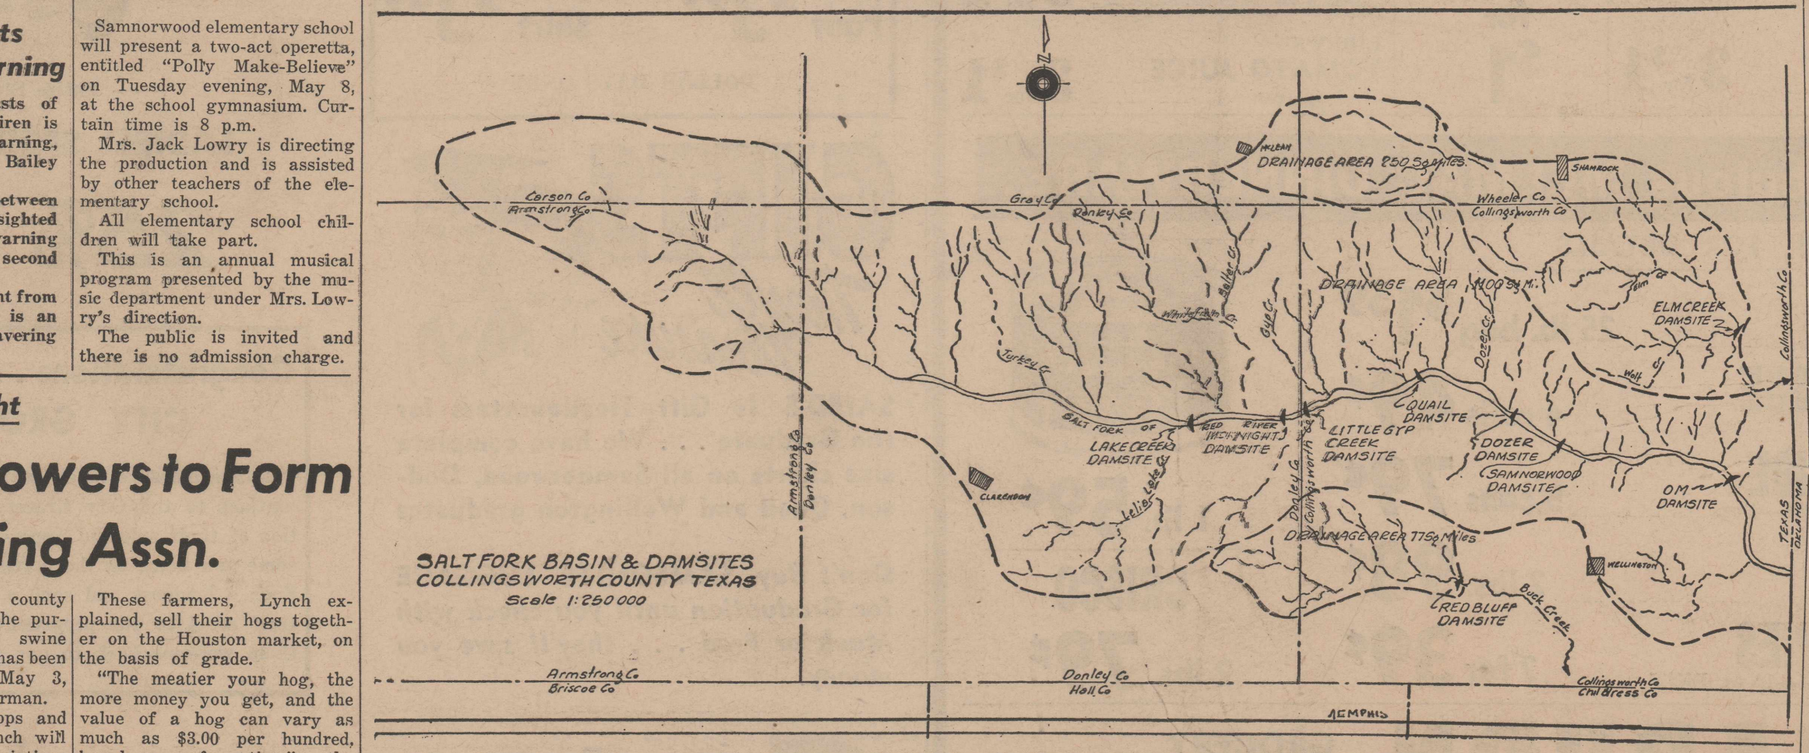

"I have never heard a trombonist who has more talent. He plays with a tremendous maturity, musicianship, and style."

Mrs. McCarty is also a member of the Amarillo Symphony and is professor of piano at Frank Phillips College in Borger. She has concertized widely as soloist, with orchestra, and in concert. She received her Masters Degree in piano under Dr. Silvio Scionti at North Texas State University, and is a pupil of Madame Rosina Lhevinne, famed mentor of Van Cliburn, at the Juilliard School in New York.

Mrs. McCarty originated the Lhevinne Society International which preserves the teaching and performing heritage of Josef and Rosina Lhevinne and establishes scholarships for talented youth. She has done work toward a doctorate at the University of Southern California, Harvard University, and the Royal Conservatory in Toronto, Ontario.

AREA AFFECTED BY WATER DEVELOPMENT PLAN PROPOSED FOR COLLINGSWORTH

This is the area affected by the plan for the development of all the waters of Collingsworth county, announced this week by the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District. Dotted lines show the drainage areas of Salt Fork River, Elm Creek to the northeast and Buck Creek on the south. The Salt Fork drainage area extends to within 30 miles of Amarillo. Indicated also are the various dam sites proposed since the Collingsworth County Water group began work.

JP Precinct Lines Described

Collingsworth county's Justice of the Peace Precinct 1 does not have the same boundary line as the Commissioners Precinct 1, it is pointed out to voters this week.

The boundary of the Justice of the Peace Precinct is the same as the old Precinct 1, which means that from a point one mile north of the Lillie Gin site, it extends due east to the Oklahoma line and due south to the Childress county line.

If you voted in the old Precinct 1 before the commissioners precinct lines were redrawn several years ago, then you will vote for justice of the peace.

There are two voting boxes: Wellington and Dodson.

point, Henard explained.

Its concern is with pollution of the waters of Red River and its tributaries, which is causing a serious problem as far downstream as New Orleans and the mouth of the Mississippi.

"Army engineers, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the Bureau of Reclamation were very interested in our presentation of the proposed development of our water resources. Our membership in the Red River Valley Association puts us in a position to be in contact with these three," Henard continued.

The pollution problem is created by salt and mineral contents picked up in the eastern Panhandle and western Oklahoma, Henard and Spillman explained, pointing out that Army engineers are conducting two pilot projects in shutting off salt water from Red River.

"The two things they put great stress on is recreation and pollution study to clean up the streams," Henard said.

"We presented a proposed plan of development of all water resources of Collingsworth county to the Red River Valley Association and the Texas Water Commission. Our proposal called for a diversion on Salt Fork and dams on Buck Creek and Elm Creek," Spillman said.

"Our engineering study is not far enough along to report the size of the structure on Salt Fork for the diversion of the good waters to Buck Creek.

"The present plan for development of Buck Creek in its preliminary stages reveals a dam approximately 110 feet in height with a water level of 80 feet, located at Red Bluff. This proposed dam will impound approximately 111,000 acre feet of water or have a surface acreage of 3,400 feet.

"Water analysis of this water shows it to be excellent for irrigation and municipal use.

"Engineering studies are being made to determine the cost of a diversion from Salt Fork to Buck Creek to provide sufficient water supply."

Elm Creek

The preliminary proposal for the development of Elm Creek shows a drainage area of 250 square miles. As of April 9, 1962, Elm was flowing from springs 7,200 gallons per minute—over 10,000,000 gallons per day.

The quality of the water on Elm shows it to be good for industrial and municipal use.

The proposed dam would be 100 feet high with a water level of 70 feet, impounding 155,000 acre feet of water, with 5,500 surface acres.

This would back water up 7 miles in Elm Creek and four miles up Wolf Creek, according to Henard.

Water samples are being taken daily on Buck Creek at the bridge and Elm Creek at the John Robert Henard ranch.

Lugert, it was pointed out, holds approximately 143,000 acre feet of water.

The size of the Buck Creek dam would be determined by the amount of water that can be diverted from Salt Fork. The Red Bluff site has been considered excellent for a dam by Bureau of Reclamation officers, and a structure could be put up to hold much more water than the relatively small watershed would be able to supply.

Pollution

Pollution is the big problem in the Red River Valley organizations, the Wellington men learned.

"Preliminary studies show the waters of Elm Creek pass through a salt pollution area on the edge of Oklahoma that make the water of unusable quality, with salt content as high as 26 per cent, according to engineers of the Public Health Department," Spillman said.

These are the Elm Creek salt beds, familiar to many people, especially the old timers.

Buck Creek picks up mineral content south of Wellington and salt in Western Oklahoma and becomes unusable.

Salt Fork picks up mineral content in the west edge of Oklahoma which makes it of inferior quality.

Bureau of Reclamation engineers in recent weeks have studied Buck Creek and Elm Creek, but the feasibility report is not complete, although it has been promised to the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District in the near future.

"We have been assured by the Red River Valley Association they will work with us to the end of developing our water resources," Henard said. L. R. Matthias, executive vice president of the Association, will visit Wellington in June, accompanied by Fred Parkey, secretary of the Red River Valley Authority of Texas.

Following the funeral, Mrs. Saied visited with several nieces and nephews in Detroit and then went to Streator, Ill., where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. Mary Abbnour. She plans to be gone for three or four weeks, members of her family said this week.

Work for All Texas, Preston Smith Urges

State Senator Preston Smith of Lubbock, candidate for Lt. Governor in the Democratic primary, has declared that any candidate for an important state office should "conduct his campaign on a basis of working for all of Texas . . . not just one large industrial city."

He charged one of his opponents "who has spent money like it was going out of style, has been publicly endorsed for Lt. Governor because of what he will do to promote one big city."

Senator Smith said the Lt. Governor "should always be a man of judgment and experience enabling him to see the 'big view' of Texas government that will be best for all the people."

"Texas is certainly not going to benefit by a policy of doing good for only one city, or one section of Texas," he said. "Especially since our state is very large, different from area to area in economy, agriculture, industry, people and geography."

"The only state officials we can afford are those that work for the whole state and in the interest of all Texans," he added.

Senator Smith will complete his campaign this week and return to Lubbock to spend election day with his family.

Visiting with the Rev. J. W. Read and Mrs. Read recently were their children and their families, including Mr. and Mrs. E. L. TO THE PEOPLE
OF PRECINCT 4...

I have received a lot of encouragement in the last few days in my race for Commissioner, and I would like to say that I appreciate the people of Precinct 4 and will welcome the opportunity of serving you.

I believe in keeping our roads in first class condition at all times and in maintaining all functions and services of the county government at a high level of efficiency at all times.

But I also believe in a business-like, economical operation of the county government, for I think we have just about reached our limit in the amount of taxes we can pay, county, state and national.

Most of you in Precinct 4 know that I operated within my budget and that our Precinct was not in debt when I last served you.

Your vote and your help will be sincerely appreciated next Saturday.

Linda John Holton and Glenn Lacy Marry in N. M. Ceremony April 21

Miss Linda John Holton and Larry Glenn Lacy were married Saturday, April 21, at 5:00 p.m. in the Center Street Methodist Church Chapel, Tucumcari, N.M., with Dr. George Ditterline officiating.

Student Loan Fund Set up by Auxillary

St. Joseph's Hospital now has available a student loan fund, to be made available to some deserving girl who will study nursing, medical or x-ray technology, hospital dietetics, or medical records.

Announcement of the availability of the fund was made this week by Mrs. L. C. Hill, president of the Auxiliary.

"This is a revolving loan fund," she explained, "and it is to be paid back with interest after the girl has completed her study and is established in a job.

"We feel," she added, "that this may be the means of some girl establishing herself in a profession in the nursing or technical field who otherwise would not do so."

The student loan fund is made up of money from honorary memberships, of $25 or more. As other women become honorary members, the fund will grow, and contributions are being sought, Mrs. Hill said.

Eleven women have become honorary members since the student loan fund was set up. Two of these, Kitty Armstrong Hughes, and Mrs. E. N. Lewis, are deceased.

The others are Mrs. Chas. B. Jones, Mrs. Mish Dukeminier, Mrs. J. M. Wells, Mrs. John Sherman, Mrs. Jimmie Kelso, Mrs. L. C. Hill, Mrs. W. R. Orr, Mrs. E. W. Jones of Lubbock, and Mrs. Creed Hill.

● RECORD OF PROVEN ACCOMPLISHMENT: Grainger McIlhany is seeking your support on the basis of his work for this District and our State. McIlhany believes that a candidate should run on his qualifications rather than on a campaign of mudslinging.

● CO-SPONSOR OF ORIGINAL FARM ROAD bill passed in 1949 — thirty-five thousand miles of roads have been built under this program.

HOUSE SPONSOR of bill passed this year to provide maintenance funds for farm roads and relieve the primary highway fund from this burden.

● COMMENDED by Texas Sheriff's Association for his work for better law enforcement; Author of many bills for narcotic control, traffic safety, curbs of juvenile delinquency; and ban on lewd literature.

● WATER CONSERVATION: Member of House Conservation Committee; helped sponsor enabling bills for the Greenbelt and Canadian River water projects.

GRAINGER McILHANY PLEDGES his continued efforts to accomplish:

● Correction of inequities in present sales tax. McIlhany voted against the passage of the conference committee plan which is the present sales tax because its complicated provisions create an unreasonable hardship on the people of Texas.

● Revision of auto merit rating plan to correct unfair provisions.

● PASSAGE of an effective small loan bill. McIlhany has actively supported all bills to stop loan sharks. Figures compiled by the Texas Legislative Council show that on loans of under fifty dollars, these illegal operators charge interest rates that range from 262% to 347%.

Three for Each

Both Parties Vote on Referendum May 5

County voters will join with others through the state in voting their choice on three propositions submitted by referendum.

But democrats and republicans will not vote on the same propositions.

Both parties have submitted propositions on whether parimutuel wagering on horse races shall be submitted for constitutional amendment vote, although the republicans indicate it shall be on a county option basis.

Both parties have submitted a proposition as to whether or not the legislature shall submit a constitutional amendment to abolish the poll tax.

The democrats, however, have set up a more complicated proposition on the question of pari-mutuel betting on horse races.

The third republican proposition gives voters three choices in voting on a park on Padre Island.

Here are the referendums as they appear on the ballots:

Democratic

FOR or AGAINST: the Legislature to submit a constitutional amendment to legalize pari-mutuel wagering on horse races.

FOR or AGAINST: The Legislature to enact a law legalizing pari-mutuel wagering on horse races with the State and the track sharing 14 per cent of the pari-mutuel pool, the home-county receiving two per cent of the total pool, and all other counties receiving one-half the net state share on the basis of population. No racing on Sunday.

FOR or AGAINST: the Legislature to submit a Constitutional Amendment to abolish the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting.

Republican

FOR or AGAINST: the State Legislature of Texas submitting, for a vote of the people of Texas, a constitutional amendment which would legalize pari-mutuel wagering on horse races, on a local county option basis.

FOR or AGAINST: the State Legislature of Texas submitting, for a vote of the people of Texas, a constitutional amendment abolishing the payment of a poll tax as a prerequisite for voting.

Here is the third proposition: FOR the establishment of a National Seashore Area on Padre Island; FOR the establishment of a State Park on Padre Island; or AGAINST the establishment of any public park on Padre Island.

We want to take this means of thanking each and every one who helped in any way to plow our land while I was in the hospital. It has meant so much to us.

Mrs. Saunders Club Hostess

Lillie Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. A. M. Saunders Thursday afternoon, April 26.

Lets Vote For Progress

On the 5th of May the people of Collingsworth County will nominate the Democrat nominee for County Judge.

When you select a County Judge, you are naming a man who will operate your County business for you and this is big business (one-quarter of a million dollars a year) and he must be alert and energetic and be the type of person who you would hire to run your own business.

Collingsworth County has been exporting its children, soil and water in the years past, and it is our opinion that the next four years will be the most important in the history of this county. We can continue to go as in the past and be a county of 7000 people with taxes to meet the county needs or we can develop our county by working together and take advantage of all of our physical, mental, and financial resources and have a county of many more people with lower taxes due to the increased taxable property.

We believe we must all pull together and develop our county and it can be done by all of us working together.

Hiram Cudd has served as City Judge for the past four years and worked with you and your children. He pledges to you, if elected your County Judge, to hold court in accordance with the law.

We believe we must have a jail in this County and with proper operation, there is no need for a big tax bond, but let's build it in a business like way, saving many thousands of dollars in unnecessary interest.

We believe we must constantly work for a good County Road System and take advantage of all available programs to have better roads.

The decision is yours as to what you want to happen to this County and we hope you will join us and allow Hiram to work with you for a greater Collingsworth County.

Richard Mauldin

Richard Mauldin wears his many athletic honors modestly, and his ability has won him other honors as well.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Mauldin of Route 5, he was born Sept. 18, 1943, in Orange. However, he has completed all his school work in Wellington schools.

Richard participated in all WHS major athletics, football, basketball, track and volleyball. Of district and even national football calibre, Richard was chosen on the All-American High School Football team, and on the all-district level he received honorable mention in 1959 and was on the team in 1960 and 1961. He was team co-captain one year.

President of his class two years, Richard also was member of the Student Council all four years. He was chosen the Friendliest Boy one year, was listed in Who's Who two, he was a charter member of the National Beta Club, was chosen outstanding student in Biology in 1960, and held membership in WBA, the Science Club, Spanish Club, Future Farmers of America, and Future Teachers of America.

Mathematics and science are his favorite subjects and skiing and swimming his hobbies.

Richard will attend Cameron Junior College at Lawton, Oklahoma.

John Roark

Interested in speech, John was in the junior and senior plays and the speech class play. He is sergeant at arms of the senior class this year and was the junior class favorite.

Outside of school, John has served as vice president of the Explorers in 1960.

He plans a full four-year college course, first attending Clarendon Junior College two years.

Texas Trades Deer, Turkey With 2 States

AUSTIN.—Two more states are to be stocked with Texas wildlife, according to H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission

Nebraska will receive 100 Rio Grande turkeys trapped on the King Ranch, for which Nebraska will pay a trapping cost of approximately $12 each. At a later date, Texas may receive some other type of wildlife in exchange from Nebraska.

The state of Georgia will receive 100 deer, also taken from the King Ranch. These deer will be paid for at the approximate trapping price of $35 each. At a later date, Texas expects to receive a supply of Eastern wild life turkey in exchange from Georgia.

A number of birds, and transplants of both mammals and fish have been negotiated within the past year. Texas has received chukars, pheasants and Eastern wild turkey. The inland fisheries division also has received several shipments of stripers from the West Coast, which were planted in several lakes of Texas that have a high salt content.

Sir Francis Drake claimed what is now the state of California for Queen Elizabeth in 1578.

Let's Talk Politics

LESTER A. JONES
Candidate for State Representative 87th District

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS

I am a Democratic Candidate for State Representative from the 87th District. This is the ninth and final in this series of weekly newspaper columns which I have used to acquaint the voters of the 87th District with the issues to come before our next Legislature. Since I have voluntarily restricted myself to introducing no new issues in the final week of the campaign, this column will be general in nature.

The undertone of all of my previous columns has reflected my concern for the present trend in our government to strip the individual of his basic rights of human dignity. The time is ever growing shorter in which the possibility of retaining our human rights can successfully be defended.

The most disturbing single element in our headlong plunge toward the precipice of totalitarian government has been the apathy of the people in accepting things as they are "BECAUSE ONE VOTE WON'T DO MUCH GOOD." I wish you, the people of the 87th District, could read, as I have, the House Journal for the last two years, and see how many of our present laws survived by JUST ONE VOTE. This same principle of the importance of one vote extends thru all of your elective offices. You have in your hands, at the ballot box, the most potent weapon ever devised to guarantee good government. Take full advantage of your right to vote and let your voice be heard, emphatically, in the halls of our State Government.

Go to the Democratic Primary May 5. Let there be no doubt as to your choice for State Representative of the 87th District.

A detailed talk on this subject will be made on radio tomorrow morning.

Bob Sanford

Many activities have been packed in the three years Bob Sanford has attended Wellington high school. Prior to coming here he went to school in Childress through the fifth grade, then enrolled in Victoria in the sixth through the eighth grades.

Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanford, 1601 Graham street, and was born Dec. 3, 1943 in Richmond, Va.

Bob's activities in high school have been varied. He was a member of the Future Teachers of America three years and is vice president this year; a member of the Teen Council the last three ears; on the Skyrocket staff two years; the Science Club two years, participated in tennis and track, was in the junior play last year, and also was the high ranking student in Spanish last year.

Spanish and physics are Bob's favorite subjects, and swimming, drawing and writing are his hobbies.

He will attend Midwestern University in Wichita Falls.

Earlier this year, Jerry was married to Jan Langford, of Quail, and besides attending school, he works at Parsons Drug.

He will attend Southwestern State College, Weatherford, Okla.

Randall Kent Scott

Randall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Scott of 1509 East Avenue, and was born here on Sept. 23, 1943. He has lived here all his life except for a short time in Oklahoma.

RESTORE REPRESENTATION

Vote for

Lester A. Jones

State Representative

(Paid Pol. Adv.)

To the People of Collingsworth County

I have been making an active campaign and for that matter am still working in behalf of my effort to become your next County Judge. If I have failed to see any of you I would like for you to consider this as a personal invitation for your vote and your active help in calling on your friends in the interest of my candidacy.

Your vote is solicited upon the basis of service to all the people of Collingsworth County.

My record as Mayor of Wellington and my service in other capacities is known to many of you. The City of Wellington is to all extents and purposes a debt free city and yet we have continued to add more paved streets each year, expand the water and sewer facilities, maintain a city police force and a city jail and improve our modern efficient Fire Department which serves both the County and the City. And all this has been done without raising taxes or voting a bond issue.

My experience in conducting the Mayor's Court will enable me to preside over the County Court in a fair and impartial manner and I will perform this duty faithfully and promptly.

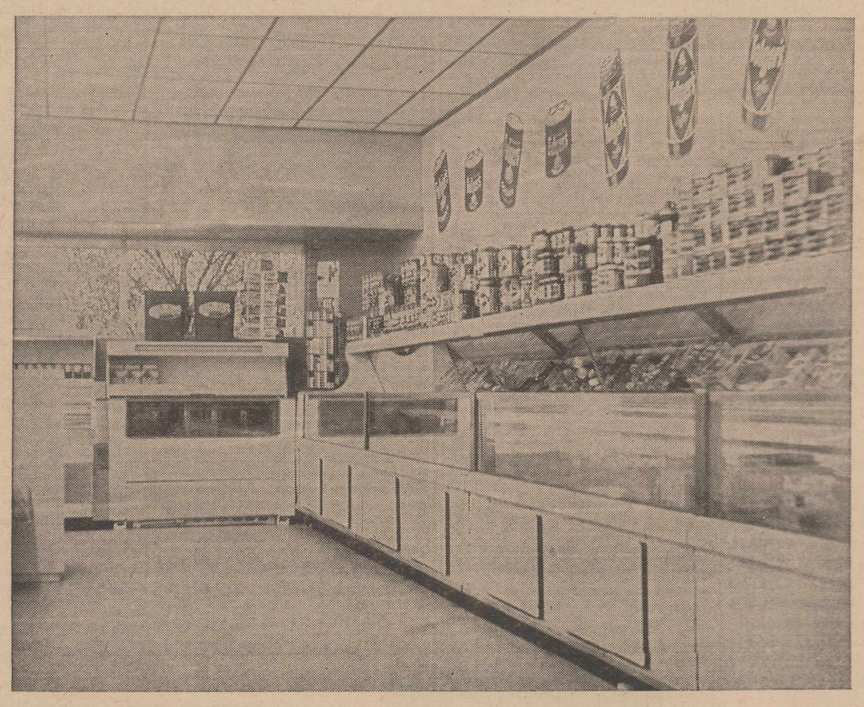

My experience in working with the aldermen will, I believe, enable me to work harmoniously and effectively with the commissioners.

Upon these qualifications I earnestly solicit both your vote and your active support next Saturday. I appreciate the people of Collingsworth County and will welcome the opportunity to serve you.

HIRAM CUDD

CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY JUDGE

In the Democratic Primary

I AM HAPPY TO SAY

Congratulations CITY GROCERY

FOR A VERY SPECIAL REASON

- The ties between Luther Sullivan, Raymond Patton and myself are close, and they go back a long time. It was during the depression (can it have been nearly 30 years?) that these two young men began work in the J. T. Slay Grocery. I never had two better employees.
- After a number of years, I decided to retire, and it was these two, Raymond Patton and Luther Sullivan, who bought me out. The business became City Grocery.
- I was pleased as I watched their store expand, until it far surpassed in size the business I had operated. Certainly they are to be commended for the way they have kept abreast of the times.
- You see, then, why I take special pleasure in becoming the landlord to City Grocery and its owners, Luther and Raymond. We worked together to remodel the building into just what they wanted—a building worthy of their business.
- I have never said "Congratulations" with greater sincerity.

This is an all-Wellington job. I am pleased that all materials and all labor that went into the remodeling, with one exception, is local.

J. T. Slay

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The tempo of local politics has increased considerably in the last ten days, with all of the candidates stepping up the pace. Local politics often give me a mixed emotion and a certain feeling of sadness, for you know that some of them are going to be defeated and often they are good deserving people. That is the reason that I try constantly to treat candidates with all the courtesy and consideration at my command. They are performing a public service just by offering to serve.

Remember to attend the precinct convention of your party that will be held the evening of election day. It is your only voice in selecting delegates to the county convention where delegates are selected to the state convention. And in presidential election years it is your only voice in nominating a candidate for president. It is a small enough voice, but it should not be allowed to go by default.

Perhaps something should be said about the boundaries of Precinct 1 in the race for Justice of the Peace. This has not been changed and runs from the location of the old Lillie gin due east to Oklahoma and due south to the Childress line. People who vote in Dodson, North Wellington and South Wellington can vote in this race.

Our deep thanks to so many of you who have been so kind and thoughtful during the illness of our son. We are humbly grateful. The doctors have been well pleased with the progress he has made during the past week. Again let me express the sincere thanks of all three of us.

Howard Hunt, Dodson postmaster, heads the drive in that town.

Mrs. J. L. Alexander will work at Lutie and in the surrounding area, while Mrs. Robert Lacy will cover the Buck Creek-Rolla areas.

The 1924 Study Club held its annual "Coins for Cancer" drive in downtown Wellington Monday, and collected $103, Bratten reported.

Rain

by other heavy rains.

North of Quail Obie White reported 5.3 inches and approximately 7 inches fell at the Ross Ranch.

Samnorwood reported 6 inches. At Dozier, Mrs. Alex Coleman said four inches fell.

There was considerable damage to roads and bridges, according to Commissioner W. R. Breeding of Precinct 4.

The extreme north part of the county received around 8½ inches, according to reports.

Alfred Knoll estimated 6½ inches of rain at Lutie, and around 4 inches at Needwood, 9 miles east.

The Old Aberdeen Bridge ran knee deep in mud, water and debris, but the structure was believed undamaged, Knoll continued.

Loss of cattle was reported by two owners and even more livestock was believed lost. W. W. Cook reported 12 head of cattle drowned and Lee Roark lost two head.

Darryl Morris

County Poet Has First Volume Published

Darryl Morris, reared at Quail and Wellington, has had published a book of poetry titled "Point of View," now available from booksellers or from Dorrance and Company, publishers.

Morris now teaches English and Journalism at Childress. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Morris, of Wellington.

"In this study of philosophies and ideas which have intrigued, amused, excited, frightened and even repulsed him, Darryl Morris take the reader along as he browses around in Life's stockroom, trying to find a little more pleasure, a little more courage and determination to one day knock the problems of Life flat on their collective back," the publishers state.

"Some intellectual surprises are in order for the reader who may not expect to find the solid platform of intellectual integrity called merely 'point of view'," the publishers continue.

Morris was born at Wellington and graduated from Quail high school, where his mother is elementary school principal. Morris grew up on the family farm near Quail, later moving to Wellington. He attended Southern Methodist University before entering the Marine Corps and received his degree from West Texas State College. He is married to the former Sharon Bettis of Wellington, and they have a small child.

This Week End

City Grocery to Hold Formal Opening

City Grocery this week is observing the formal opening of its re-opening in its new location at the northeast corner of the square.

The opening comes through the combined efforts of the owners of the business, Luther Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Patton; the owner of the building, Temple Slay; and a group of Wellington business and service firms who provided the material and work that went into the remodeling of the store into one of the town's most modern buildings.

The series of events that led to City Grocery's opening in this location began with the disastrous fire which completely destroyed the business at the northwest corner of the square several months ago.

A week later, the business was reopened in a temporary location on the east side of the square.

The 50-foot front building was provided by combining two existing buildings, one, a modern store occupied by S&R Hardware, the other long-vacant but occupied a number of years ago by Hatch Dry Goods before it moved to its present location.

All departments City Grocery ever had are to be found in the new store, and this time they are in locations set up precisely for them.

All equipment and all fixtures are new, and the stock itself is new.

Across the back is the meat department. Completely along the east wall are the refrigerated produce cases, and on the west side are the frozen foods.

Through the center of the building are long rows of shelves holding canned and boxed merchandise, and between these are wide aisles.

Soft harmonizing colors, built around the basic color of beige, give a restful appearance to the interior. New cases are gleaming chrome and white porcelain. Gay spots of color are provided by the merchandise itself.

Banks of fluorescent lights extend the full length of the building.

The exterior of the building was redesigned and faced with white brick and glass, using both low and high windows for a pleasing architectural effect.

Temple Slay, a former groceryman, remodeled the building to suit the needs of his tenants, and he is especially proud that all the material and labor that could be secured in Wellingeon came from local businessmen.

These include: S&R Hardware; H&H Construction Co.; B&B Electric; Cicero Smith Lumber Co.; Wellington Lumber Co.; O'Hair Plumbing; Earl Slay Decorating, and Henry Stall, painting.

Likewise, all employees of City Grocery are Wellington people, some having lived here all their lives.

These include Bill Langford and James McDanel in the market; Roy Bounds, in charge of produce; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gosnell, Leroy Robinson, and Mrs. Versie Rippetoe, and Reggie Lewis.

The owners work full time in the business also, and additional help is hired as it is needed.

Music Week

bers: "Ballade" by Bozza, and "After a Dream" by Faure. Griffin will also be heard in "Romanza Appassionata" by Weber, and the Rimsky Korsakoff Concerto. Mrs. McCarty will play the Ravel "Sonatint," "Voceluntana" by Castlnuovo Tedesco and "Un Sospiro" by Liszt.

The lighter side of the program will include "Sophisticated Lady" by Duke Ellington in improvised jazz form, and "Tara's Theme" from Gone With the Wind.

Both musicians plan to continue work this summer at the Aspen Festiva, Colorado. Griffin plans to study again with Keith Brown, first chair trombonist of the Philadelphia Symphony. They also plan auditions in New York this coming fall and a tour of study in Europe in the summer of 1963.

Annual Hymn Festival Opens Music Week

The annual hymn festival, a part of Wellington's observance of National Music Week for six years, will be held Sunday, May 6, at 3 p.m. in First Baptist Church, with vocal or instrumental groups from six city churches participating.

There will be congregational singing as well as numbers by church groups, according to Mrs. Davis Edens, who is helping with arrangements.

Mrs. Kenneth Grunewald will be the organist and Earl Lynn Bartlett the pianist. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Groves will play the violin and alto saxophone.

Churches participating with special numbers are Church of the Nazarene, First Baptist, First Christian, Trinity Methodist, First Methodist, and the Assembly of God.

The congregational hymns will be those familiar to everyone, and the type most of those attending will enjoy, Mrs. Edens said.

Mrs. Velman Warrick is Music Week chairman for the Wellington Federated Music Club, sponsor of the week each year. Mrs. Hiram Cudd is co-chairman.

Hymn festival chairman is Mrs. Kendall White, with Mrs. Edens as co-chairman.

ceiling and roof boards sloping down to the floor.

Water and mud ran ankle deep along the hall leading from the library and into the classrooms on either side, according to the superintendent.

The number of books lost had not been determined definitely, but it included most of the high school library, teachers estimated following the accident. Heavy library tables and chairs were crushed.

Supt. Moseley praised the work of men of the community and older students who worked until about 8 p.m. Thursday night, and again Friday morning cleaning up the mud and water.

Approximately 50 students are normally in the study hall, Tippie told The Wellington Leader, but several were out of the room at the time the roof collapsed, and the exact number remaining inside is not known, he said.

The principal praised the students for the speed and calmness with which they got out of the room.

Most of the boys and girls grabbed their books as they left.

Supt. Moseley told The Wellington Leader Friday repair work would begin as soon as possible. Early this week, the final report of the insurance adjuster had not been made.

The play is based on the book by Hartzell Spence, according to Mrs. Bob McAlister, play director.

The action takes place about 1910 in Laketon, Iowa, and the story tells of a pastor and his lively family who move to a new pastorate and attempt to solve the problems of intolerance and jealousy they find among the parishoners.

Mike Dillon plays the role of the Rev. William H. Spence, father of the author, and Hope, his wife, is portrayed by Cheryl Wilson.

Others in the cast are Hartzell, their son, played by John Roark; Eileen, the daughter, Elaine Crawley; Dr. Romer, family friend and doctor, Gary West; Louise, Hartzell's girl friend, Jennifer Singley; Maria, a pretty Mexican girl, Sandra Rogers;

Molly, a teen ager, Andrea Carter; Ronny, Molly's brother, Bob Sanford; Letty, a pest, Terri Trapp; Mrs. Sandow, an invaluable church member, Mai Nell Ratliff; Mrs. Digby, the choir leader, Janice Wood; Georgie, her son, Herman Childress;

Mrs. Cambridge and Mrs. Jellison, church workers, Glenda Seitz and Donna Curry; Major Cooper, a leader in the church, Jerry Rainey; Bishop Sherwood, Oliver Bishop; and the Rev. Fraser Spence, who narrates the story, Randall Scott.

Richard Mauldin heads the production crew, which includes Dan Henard, Freddy Watkins, Harold Pigg, Rommie Forbis, Elizabeth Adkins, Tony White, Jackie Daves, Elaine Crawley, Bobby Antoon, Kyle Lindley, Ellen Stall, Eddie Maxwell and Delmer Duckworth.

Class sponsors assisting in the production are Ralph Word and Louis Graham.

Why, Daddy....?

She is only five years old. Her blonde hair dances with a sparkle in the delightful sunshine of childhood. Her laughter is a melody no composer could ever hope to capture — and never shall.

She has never known war.

She has never known the pangs of hunger.

She has never been cold that she could not receive warmth.

"Communist . . . unemployment . . . . hopelessness," these are foreign words she cannot understand; nor hardly pronounce.

She sat in her father's lap as he talked to her mother of a vote. An important vote, he said, and pointed to the picture in the newspaper. Her tiny fingers moved across the picture . . . the countenance of a man whose face reflects concern—and determination to his fellow man.

"Are you going to vote for him? she asked. Her father nodded.

"Why, Daddy?"

"Because," he answered, "I care about the people of this state. I care about our state. I care about you."

She wouldn't understand, perhaps, but he continued: "He is a man who cares. He has started a resolve to bring back to the people of our county truly representative, sensible, conservative action.

Many people have big problems. More than you or I. Working people. Older people. People who have small businesses—like your friend, the grocer, Mr. Jones. People who work for big companies, like our neighbor in the oil business, Mr. Davenport. And people who grow things for you to eat.

"This man has goods to help these people — and many others. He is determined to act.

"He builds new ideas. He is alert and intelligent. . . and he dares to speak and fight for his ideas, because he believes in them. He believes in Texas. And he believes in you.

"I guess, most of all, I will vote for him because he will do things when we send him to Austin."

"What's his name, Daddy?"

"His name is John Wills."

She yawned, and snuggled closer in her father's arms. "I think I like him, Daddy."

A FAIR AND IMPARTIAL TRIAL

From my experience as a peace officer I learned that it is the law that in all courts a defendant in a criminal case is presumed to be innocent until his guilt is established by legal and competent evidence beyond a reasonable doubt.

In all civil cases each party, plaintiff or defendant, is entitled to a fair and impartial trial.

If elected your Justice of the Peace, I will follow these principles as to all parties irrespective of persons involved.

Vote — Then Attend Your Precinct Convention

Saturday is election day—and it is more than that. It is the key day in the operation of our political system. It is the only opportunity that the average citizen has to take part in the shaping of political policy. This year, every franchised citizen, both Democrat and Republican, has that opportunity.

Voting is routine with most of us. It determines the kind of local government we have and who shall administer that government. That is one way we speak our voice.

There is another way, in the precinct conventions, more or less ignored by the general run of voters through the years.

This year, both the Republicans and Democrats will hold precinct conventions here Saturday, the day of the election. The hours and places are announced in the news stories of this paper. Any voter can attend the precinct convention of his party, he can speak out and take part in the discussion. He can make his voice heard and his opinions known.

He can caucus if he wants to. And that is as simple as a group of men and women getting together and threshing things out and getting organized ahead of the convention. This is perfectly legal and the way things are done under our political system.

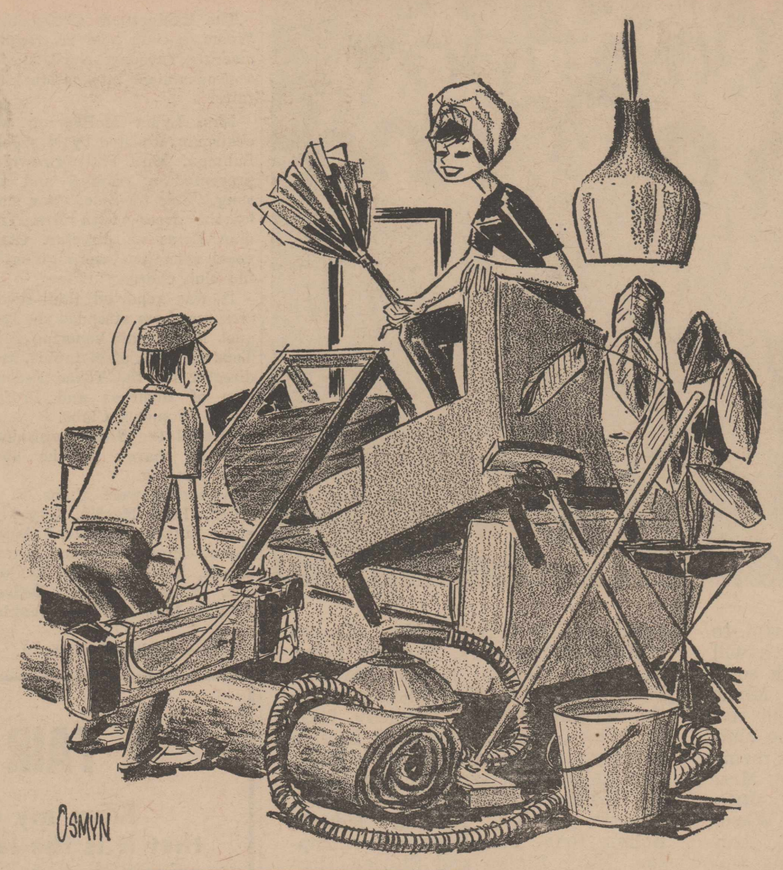

He will then vote for the delegates for the county convention to be held later.

And here his active participation in political policy making ends. This is why it is so important that we as citizens participate in both events Saturday, voting and attending the precinct conventions.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where a drive is now on to apply federal correction to all backward States which no not knowingly let illiterate citizens vote.

Reform crews are working on a national decree that anybody can vote who once got to the sixth grade in school, even if he still can't read and write.

My skepticious neighbor says this is just a crafty move by Washington to water down the average level of voter intelligence, to keep it from getting high enough to be a menace to the politician class.

There is not much status in just being a people these days, but even after taxes it beats being a great national leader.

Like Mr. Khrushchev, Mr. Castro, and Mr. Kennedy, all have very bothersome problems such as controlling their tempers when somebody crosses them.

But my loyal neighbor says the steel price hassle proves we have got the best of the lot, because when Mr. Kennedy wishes to chew somebody out, it doesn't take him a six-hour speech to do it.

I see where a radical type Plan is being organized by some Minnesota stores, which instead of more credit cards, gives the members 5 or 10 per cent discount for paying cash.

My cordless brain neighbor says this is a dangerous development, on account of enticing a man to take up the cash habit is apt to work a hardship on his family by dragging them down to living standard he can afford.

Says it would be tough on sales people, too, having to learn what to do when a customer hasn't got a charge plate or anything but money.

Main function of a modern, progressive government, aside from taking money here and putting it there, is to solve the people's big problems.

Like, for instance, society used to didn't know what to do with old, shot football players, but now government research shows you can make Supreme Court justices out of them.

Proves that shrewd administration can get some good out of what was once thought to be exhausted resources, and may yet find a way to make something useful out of old patriots.

Piece in the paper says the European corn borer cut down U.S. corn production 65 million bushels last year.

My tax-conscious neighbor says this nice job of helping to hold down the corn surplus didn't cost the government a cent, while farm experts spraying money all around only managed to witch up a measly 18-million-bushel cut in production.

Says maybe we have got our wires crossed, and ought to be egging on the corn borer, while hunting for an insecticide that will control the American pocketbook borer.

I see where a citizen wants an arrangement like the Greeks once had, whereby when a legislator introduces some bill that gets passed but turns out bad, he can be fined, or run out of the country, or shot.

But my thinking neighbor says this wouldn't work on account of our congressmen blame it all on the President when they go astray.

Says, anyhow, it is already too late to make a rule that lawmakers who think up bad laws get tarred and feathered or something, unless it was retroactive.

Mrs. Ollie Wilson was in Odessa last week with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boyer and children. Mrs. Boyer was under treatment in the Odessa hospital.

Sylvia McQueary Honored

Future Homemakers on Convention Program

Sylvia McQueary, Wellington high school junior, was named fourth vice president of the Texas Association of Future Homemakers of America as the group held its state meeting in Dallas Thursday through Saturday, April 26 to 28.

She is the first member of the Wellington chapter to serve in a state office, Mrs. Dee Coleman, homemaking instructor, said.

Three Quail girls received their State FHA degrees, highest offered on the state level to those studying homemaking. These were Linda Jenkins, Betty Moseley and Almeda Tidwell.

Girls from the three county chapters — Samnorwood, Wellington and Quail, also participated in the entertainment on Friday night, April 28, at Music Hall auditorium in State Fair Park. Girls from the entire state participated.

The group from Area I appeared first in "High Hopes."

Sylvia McQueary, Area I fourth vice president, was the narrator and Mary Graham, assistant to Area I fourth vice president, was the pianist. Vocal selections were by a quartet made up of Jenny Ann Kennedy, Almeda Tidwell and Barbara Tyler of Quail, and Sylvia McQueary.

The FHA's Miss America contestant was Betty Moseley, with Nancy Gibbs as the newsboy announcing her and Linda Jenkins as her escort. Girls also participated from these chapters: Clarendon, Childress, Estelline, Groom, Hedley, Lakeview, Memphis, Panhandle, Quail, Samnorwood, Shamrock, Wellington, Wheeler, White Deer and McLean.

Other entertainment numbers were presented by girls from Area II, Area III and Area IV. The state chorus was made up of girls from the remaining five areas of Texas.

Special entertainment was given by three girls who are in Texas as Exchange students: Marilyn Shennen of Sydney, Australia, attending school at Raymondville; Gillian Ann McArthur of Edinburgh, Scotland, Exchange student at Hereford; Carole Ann Reeves of Auckland, New Zealand, attending the Katy school.

As fourth vice president, Sylvia will be in charge of the program for the Friday night entertainment next year.

Another highlight of her year will come when she and Mrs. Coleman attend the National Future Homemakers convention in Salt Lake City in early July.

Going from the county were Sylvia, Mary Graham, and Nancy Gibbs of Wellington; Jenny Ann Kennedy, Almeda Tidwell, Barbara Tyler, Linda Jenkins and Betty Moseley and Mrs. Monty Mitchell of Quail; Mrs. Arva Knight, Polly Clark and Darlene Rainey of Samnorwood.

County 4-H Club Bake Show May 3

By Kathryn Potter

The Collingsworth County 4-H Club county-wide Better Bake Show Contest will be held Thursday, May 3. Time for the products to be at the county home demonstration agent's office is 9:00 a.m.

The products to be baked this year are two-crust fruit pies and biscuits.

Each girl is to enter one pie and eight biscuits arranged on a cardboard. The pies are to be in standard size pie pan.

After the judging the products will be displayed in a store window at one of the merchants. The products may be picked up after 3:00 p.m. on Friday. This gives time for the general public to see the display and the products baked by the girls of the county.

The winner of this contest will represent the county at the district Better Baking Contest at the Tri-State Fair held in Amarillo in September. This contest is in addition to the Favorite Food Show.

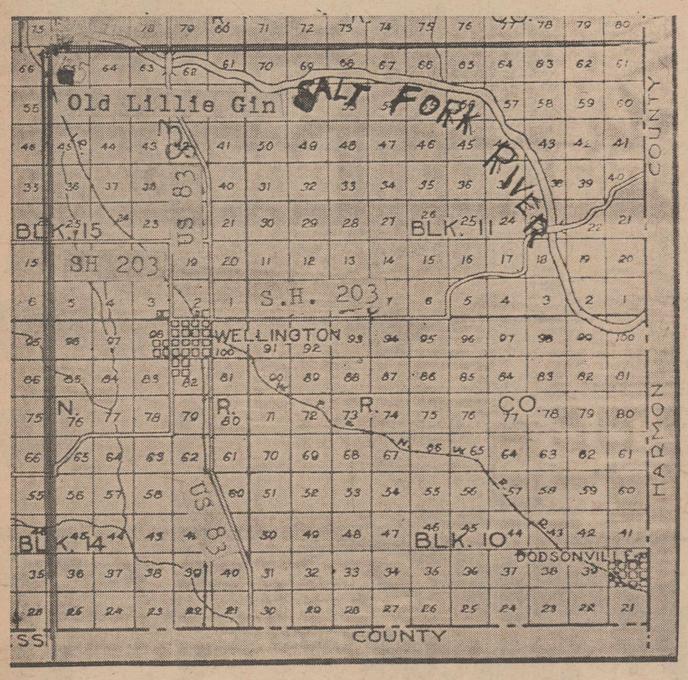

Mrs. V. E. Tramel, Donald, and Lillian, of Fort Worth, were week end guests in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Seale Jr., and also visited R. L. Seale.

I am glad to recommend to my Collingsworth County friends Jarrard Secrest for Lieutenant Governor.

Who is eligible to vote for Justice of the Peace?

What are the bounds of Justice of the Peace Precinct 1

Justice of the Peace Precinct 1 is the same as the OLD PRECINCT ONE, shown on the accompanying map. The precinct corner is one mile north of the old Lillie gin, and extends due east to the Oklahoma line and due south to Childress county.

One of the important duties of a Justice of the Peace is the trial of misdemeanor cases, which make up by far the most of the law violations here. I have always tried to be fair and just and I have studied what the law has to say. But at the same time, I have tried to never forget that it is men and women—not just cases—that I am trying.

I sincerely appreciate your past confidence, just as I will appreciate your continued support.

SOME REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD VOTE IN THE REPUBLICAN PRIMARY MAY 5

The Republican candidates in Texas stand for:

A government for Americans and not a world government.

A government for the people, of the people and by the people.

Personal integrity and private enterprise and full States Rights without Federal coercion.

Three branches of government not created by the legislative body.

We still maintain that laws enacted by the Legislative body are the only legal ones, and that an APPOINTED Supreme Court does not have the right to qualify any law without approval of state governments, where this law applies to states as individuals.

In other words: The True Democratic Party left us by various programs which place safety and freedom of future generations in jeopardy. And we ARE deeply concerned with the future of our children.

Here is where you can vote:

North of Court House—voting box at Tindall Gin Office No. 1 on 8th St.

South of Eighth Street—voting box at Fellowship Building of First Christian Church.

You can vote for your favorite candidate by write-in on the Republican Primary! And perhaps put them in the general election ballot.

Distribute Sears 4-H Pigs to Youths May 14

Distribution of pigs under the Sears 4-H Club swine program will be held Monday, May 14, at 11:30 a.m. at the Wellington Livestock Commission, and any 4-H Club boy or girl wishing to be considered for a pig should secure an application blank now, County Agent Bob Lynch announced this week.

A committee will select the youngsters to receive the pigs, and they will draw for the pigs at the time of distribution.

These weaning size pigs are the best gilts out of the litters from last year's Sears swine program gilts.

"The pigs this year look very good—they're top notch," said Lynch.

In addition to making application, the 4-H member must write an essay on why he would like to have the pig. Details are available from Lynch.

Several changes in the Sears swine program were listed by Lynch. There has been a small increase in prize money for the county Sears Swine Show, and a management contest has been set up to reward the youngster doing the best job of swine management. Prize money will be $15 for first prize, $10 for second and $5 for third place.

In order to be eligible to receive a gilt, Lynch said the boy or girl must have the facilities to care for a gilt, must show her in the annual swine show, pay for the registration papers and vaccination.

The top gilt and boar in the county show will go to the area show at the Tri-State Fair, Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bliss Alexander and Roxanne, of Dallas, are house guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Wheeler and children, of Gallup, N.M., were guests over the week end of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Dunson were in Hereford recently to attend the 18th District American Legion Convention, and from there went to Bovina to visit friends.

Rogers Blasts Civil Rights Rider on His Personal Bill

Congressman Walter Rogers, in his weekly newsletter this week, lashed out at the action of the Senate in attaching a civil rights rider on his personal bill designed to rectify a wrong done a Hall county farmer by the Federal government. His letter follows:

WHY MR. NORMAN?

"Mr. Norman" is Mr. James M. Norman, who resides in Memphis, Texas. He was wronged by the government—his own Federal government; not deliberately wronged, perhops, but nevertheless a victim of too much red tape or inefficiency or, perhaps, a reasonable mistake.

In any event, Mr. Norman has been out $2,001.48 which, in the opinion of the House of Representatives (which passed a bill for his relief), he is entitled to recover. He would have been well on his way to recovering it, had the other body of the Congress (sometimes referred to as the Senate) proceeded to discuss his bill for relief on its merits.

However, when the bill for the relief of James M. Norman came up on the calendar of the Senate, an amendment known as the Mansfield-Dirksen Amendment was offered, to substitute the provisions of S. 2750, a bill to bar arbitrary literacy tests in Federal elections, for the contents of the Norman bill.

Mr. Mansfield is the majority Leader of the Senate, and a Democrat. Mr. Dirksen is the Minority Leader of the Senate, and a Republican. So, it would seem that Mr. Norman involuntarily became a bipartisan victim.

If the Amendment is adopted, it will mean that Mr. James M. Norman, individual citizen of the United States, will be denied the relief to which he is entitled and be forced to begin anew the mechanics of obtaining a recovery of his money.

The irony of the situation lies in the fact that the debate on S. 2750 will no doubt produce much weeping and wailing about the violation of the rights of individual citizens of the United States of America.

Yet here is Mr. Norman, an innocent victim of the fault of the Federal government, whose rights as an individual citizen are being ignored and encroached up. And, this encroachment of individual rights in this particular situation is being used as a platform or a vehicle from which to argue against the encroachment upon individual rights. One wonders, how inconsistent is inconsistency?

The facts of the Norman case are simply this: in 1952 he was approached by representatives of the Federal government to purchase crop insurance on property he owned in Foard county, Texas. He yielded to the entreaties and agreed to purchase the crop insurance. Under the rules then applicable such crop insurance, once purchased, remained in force and was reinstated each year unless affirmatively cancelled by the landowner. And, in the event a landowner did not cancel the insurance, he was charged the premium for the full year and it could be collected from him by law and, in fact, was in many cases. Hence, Mr. Norman was insured beginning with the 1952 crop year, and from year to year afterward, through 1958. For some unexplained reason, the description records reflected section 26, rather than section 16. This was unknown to Mr. Norman, as he had not made out the applications but had only signed them in the first instance at the request of representatives of the Federal government.

In 1952, 1953, 1955, and 1957 indemnities were claimed in accordance with the contract, and were paid by the proper agency in the Department of Agriculture.

It will be remembered that this was the period of the long drouth in Texas. In 1958 there was another crop failure and Mr. Norman again claimed the indemnity to which he was entitled.

It was then that the Department of Agriculture discovered that his land was actually section 16 and not section 26. They also discovered that section 16 was not in an insurable area, although this fact had never been made known to Mr. Norman.

Consequently, the 1958 claim was rejected and a demand was made upon Mr. Norman to pay to the Federal government the sum of $2,001.48. When Mr. Norman made these facts known to me, I immediately instituted an investigation of the matter and concluded that Mr. Norman was not at fault, but that the fault lay with the Federal government.

In fact, had the insurer been a private corporation instead of the Federal government and had made the same mistake, any claim against Mr. Norman would have been barred by the statute of limitations, or Mr. Norman could have successfully defended a law suit from an equitable standpoint.

However, not so with the Federal government.

Under the circumstances, I introduced a bill for the relief of Mr. James M. Norman in the summer of 1960. Due to the lateness of the time, the bill was not reached during that session of Congress.

Hence, on January 3, 1961, I reintroduced the bill and proper hearings were had before the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives and the bill, HR 1361 was favorably reported from the committee and was subsequently passed by the House of Representatives and sent to the Senate.

It passed through the Judiciary Committee of that body and was placed on the calendar for consideration by the Senate.

Mr. Norman was kept fully advised of the progress of the measure as he was entitled. He no doubt subscribed to ehe policy that in this country justice is slow, but sure. There is no doubt in his mind about it being slow, but when his bill became the vehicle for a civil rights dispute with the bipartisan support of both the Republican and Democratic parties, I wonder if Mr. Norman is not somewhat skeptical about justice being sure.

In any event, let it be known here and now that we shall continue the fight for justice, whether it be Mr. Norman or any other individual citizen of this nation who is entitled to redress.

My Record Is Before You

I Shall Appreciate Your Support

I want to say this about the job for which I'm asking your support in the first primary election: I thought enough of the job and your vote that I took a portion of my vacation to try to contact each of you personally. I tried to not miss anybody. If you were not home, I left my cards and hope you got to them before the weather did. If I missed you, I take this opportunity of saying I appreciate your support in the past and thought enough of your vote to try to see each of you personally and would like to have your consideration.

I have tried to fulfill the duties of this office efficiently and courteously. The records are always open for your inspection, and I invite you to come by and look at them.

I feel deeply the responsibility of the work as your county treasurer. The money handled belongs to you, the tax payers, and the accounting of this and keeping the records accurate and in order, I sincerely believe, are among the most important duties of any official.

If you return me to this office, my only pledge is to continue to carry out the work you have entrusted to me to the best of my ability.

Dear Friends

It has been a pleasure to serve you as County Clerk and I want to thank you, the good people of Collingsworth County, for your co-operation and support, first during my appointive term, then the present un-expired term to which you elected me. I now ask you to return me for my first full term in this office.

I have tried to see all of you but if I have failed to see you, please consider this as a means of asking each of you for your support in the Democratic Primary May 5.

I have operated the County Clerk's office in a business-like way, the manner in which I believe the people want it operated. I try to give the greatest possible service to the public, at the lowest expenditure of tax money.

If elected your County Clerk, I will continue to serve you with the same friendly, efficient and economical service I have rendered in the past.

Thank you,

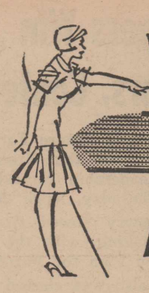

Sincerely,

Lorene Jenkins

Our Best Wishes to a Valued Friend & Customer

We take pleasure in congratulating City Grocery upon their new home for we believe that a modern super market of this kind and quality is a distinct asset to the growth and prosperity of any community.

We are proud of the fact that the City Grocery has used Wells & Wells as their insurance consultants through the years.

When a disasterous fire wiped out the store earlier this year, the firm was insured in Old Line Insurance Companies through this agency. Prompt, full adjustment and settlement of their loss enabled them to resume business in a remarkably short time and prevented further loss that might have been caused by loss of customers.

The same type of service and protection is available to you, if you are insured through Wells and Wells.

County Judge

Should be a legally trained man, for the reason that he presides over the County Court, both Criminal and Civil cases. He is also probate judge, which involves much of the property titles, by probating Wills, hearing administration cases and presiding at guardianship hearings. Your County Judge, hears all insanity matters and is also juvenile Judge, for all youthful offenders. Last but not least your County Judge is the presiding officer of the Commissioners Court that transacts all the County Business. The County Judge is the County finance officer, making the budget to be submitted to the Commissioners Court.

Collingsworth County is in the best financial condition it has ever been. Operating strictly on a cash basis. At the present schedule, we will soon be a debt-free County. On these qualifications and record I am asking for re-election. Thanking you, I remain,
