

Loss of Dam Work Seen In Inquiry

Official Fearful
Buchanan Probe to Ruin Future Plans

AUSTIN, Aug. 17. (P).—County Judge W. M. Burnett, Hays county, today told the state committee investigating the part played by the Buchanan dam in the recent Colorado flood that other dam construction projects in Texas might suffer as a result of the inquiry.

He said that ten counties comprising the Blanco-Guadalupe River Authority fears an adverse effect for an application now pending in Washington requesting PWA funds for the construction of dams.

He said requiring the lakes to stay empty would ruin power producing but admitted flood control was more important than power production. He said he hoped the inquiry would not hurt Blanco-Guadalupe prospects.

A huge crowd attended today's hearing.

Federal Officer Wounded, Another Man Shot to Death

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 17. (P).—One man was killed and another, believed to be a department of justice agent, wounded in a gun duel here last night. An effort was being made to ascertain whether the shooting had any connection with the search for Floyd Hamilton, and Ted Walters, southwestern desperadoes.

J. E. Clegg, agent-in-charge of the department of justice office here, announced an hour later that the wounded man was Agent Leo C. Nulty, 28. Nulty suffered a wound in the right thigh. His condition was not serious.

Clegg declined to volunteer further information until after he had a chance to contact J. Edgar Hoover. The name of the slain man was not revealed.

Federal agents located the parked automobile. While they were inspecting the machine, a heavy-set man walked up, said, "this has gone far enough," and opened fire. The fire was returned and the man fell fatally wounded.

He died ten minutes after an ambulance rushed him to a hospital. Later, federal officers fingerprinted him in an effort to establish his identity.

Real Estate Firm To Cut All Weeds On Property Here

Taking the lead in the current weed cutting campaign in Midland, a local real estate firm this morning announced that beginning immediately all vacant lots owned by the firm will be cleared of weeds and the property cleaned up in general. The firm owns considerable property here. It is hoped that other real estate firms will follow suit in the move by having property owned or controlled by them cleared of weeds as soon as possible.

Although the weed cutting is being carried on continuously in various sections of the city, there are still many vacant lots that have not felt the touch of a hoe this season, complaints still being received daily from hay fever sufferers and others.

The city beautification committee of the chamber of commerce this morning issued another urgent plea for owners of vacant lots to have the weeds cut as soon as possible. The clean up committee also called attention to the fact that many weeds cut during the past two weeks have not been raked up or burned or hauled off, the dry weeds now having started to blow over the city. The weeds, when cut, should be raked up and placed in the alleys to be hauled off by the city trucks.

The Midland Safety Council also joined in the plea for weed cutting due to the fact that the tall weeds are constituting a safety hazard, several near traffic accidents having been reported.

Only two weeks remain until the annual rodeo when the city should be cleared of weeds and made to look its best for the many visitors, including many notables, who will be here for the three day show.

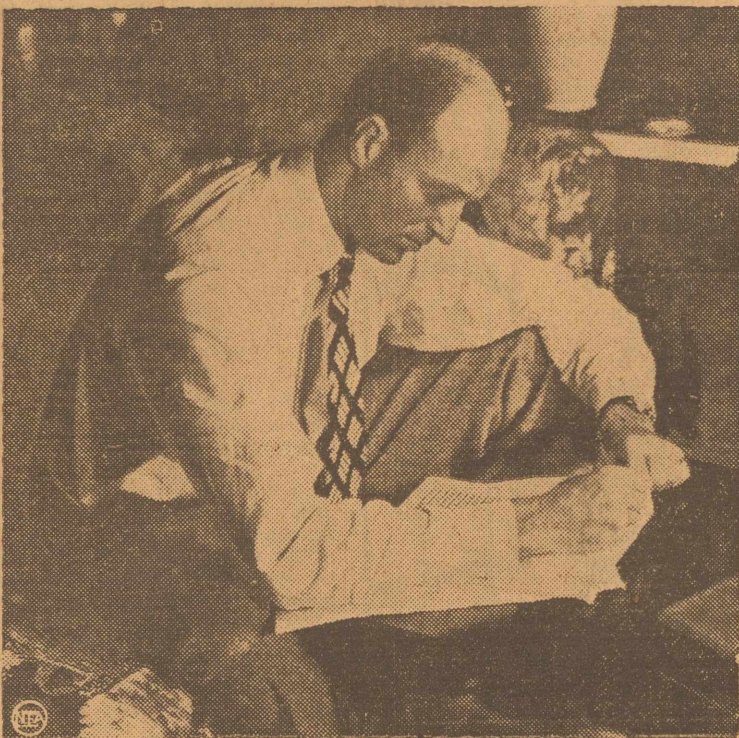

Every citizen of Midland is urgently requested to join whole heartedly in the weed cutting campaign.

Hunt for Walters, Hamilton Pressed

DEQUEEN, Ark., Aug. 17. (P).—The "hottest lead" in the five-day hunt sent officers of three states into a clump of woodlands 12 miles east of here today in the belief Floyd Hamilton and Ted Walters would be apprehended or killed before nightfall.

They centered the search on the new spot following two reports by a farmer and highway employee indicating strongly the bandits failed to break through a blockade after a gunbattle with officers north of here Saturday.

"My Trouble Seems to Be—"

Answering published stories of excessive income and insinuations that he used his father's position to further his insurance business, James Roosevelt, son of the president, denied soliciting or accepting "a single dollar" of insurance money since he has been his father's secretary in Washington. "My trouble seems to be a mixture of being the son of the president and not falling in business," he stated in an article in Collier's magazine. He is pictured above going over his statement, which included income tax figures on his income for the last five years. The largest was $49,167.37, for 1934, in contrast to the rumored hundreds of thousands.

Two More Victims of 'Torso Slayer' Found in Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Aug. 17. (P).—An arm, leg and rib bones were found today on Cleveland's lake front dump following yesterday's discovery of two supposed victims of the notorious "torso killer," known surgically as a surgically expert maniac.

Officers said bones found today matched the man's skull found yesterday.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 17. (P).—Remains of two women were found last night in a fill-in dump near the shore of Lake Erie and police worked on the theory that they were victims of Cleveland's mad "torso slayer."

The first body, discovered late today, dissected in four parts—head, upper torso and both legs. A skull and bones of a second body were found by detectives searching for clues not far from the first.

Police Sgt. William Miller said the first victim found had been slain less than three weeks ago, and that the second had probably been killed earlier.

Discovery of the apparent 11th and 12th victims of a maniacal killer with a knowledge of surgery was made in a barren, rocky plot, part of a fill-in for the new east lake shore boulevard just northeast of the downtown district.

The scene is between the boulevard and the Pennsylvania railroad near the location of last year's Great Lakes exposition.

Coroner S. R. Gerber said the first victim was about 20 to 25 years old and had brown hair. Officials could not tell immediately whether the second victim had been dissected by the "torso slayer."

Richetti Loses Last Chance to Dodge Execution

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 17. (P).—Adam Richetti, last member of the "Pretty Boy" Floyd gang, lost his last hope of a reprieve from death by lethal gas today when the court overruled a motion for a rehearing.

Richetti was convicted of participation with Verne Miller and Floyd in the Kansas City union station massacre in 1933.

He will probably be sentenced within two weeks.

Suspect Identified In Laake Slaying

DALLAS, Aug. 17. (P).—Detective Inspector Will Fritz said Tuesday Marion Lusk of Paige had identified one of two men held here as suspects in the slaying of Adolph Laake, Paige filling station operator, as the driver of a car seen in Laake's station shortly before the killing.

The slaying occurred in an attempted holdup early Monday. Lusk came to Dallas today with Deputy Sheriff M. B. Perkins of Bastrop county. He was positive about his identification of the driver of the car but was doubtful about the other man.

In the meantime, Capt. D. E. Walsh, head of the Dallas police department identification bureau, fired a bullet from a .32 caliber pistol found in the suspects' car and forwarded it to the state police identification bureau at Austin to be compared with markings on the bullet which took Laake's life.

Insurgents Declare Alliance With the Nazis and Fascists

PARIS, Aug. 17. (P).—Spanish insurgents reported today they had definitely cast their lot with Italy and Germany, probably ending hopes Britain and France would withdraw foreign volunteers from the war.

A secret reply to Britain's plan to withdraw foreign fighters predicted the action would mean the end of the cherished non-intervention scheme designed to halt the war.

Stultz left his home in 1925 and when he later attempted to get in touch with his mother he found that she had moved and no one could tell him where to. Last week, a notice was placed in the lost and found columns of a state paper by his mother, seeking to learn the whereabouts of Stultz. A friend saw the notice and pointed it out to Stultz.

Now, he is jubilant over the prospects of seeing her for the first time in 13 years, planning a trip to Okemah, Okla., where Mrs. Stultz is now living.

Six of 8 Fugitives Are Slain

Only One Remains Free After Break From Prison Farm

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 17. (P).—Six of the eight convicts who escaped Eastham prison farm yesterday were dead today.

Jack Kinsley and Charles Aaron were shot yesterday and John Frazier and Raymond Wilkerson were shot today near Crockett.

The bodies of two fugitives not yet identified were found today in the Trinity river. One man is still at large in the woods near Crockett. W. Garner, alleged leader, was captured yesterday.

Guard John Greer, stabbed during the escape, was still in a critical condition this afternoon.

Greer said by physicians to be "dangerously wounded" was permitted no visitors at the prison hospital here.

He told Warden W. W. Waid the eight men slipped up behind him as he accompanied a hoe squad at work. He said he fired his shotgun twice, but was uncertain whether he hit any of the men. The fugitives took his shotgun and possibly his pistol, Greer said.

They made their break ten miles from the nearest highway. State police and rangers were blocking roads.

Membership Drive Of Athletic Assn. To Start Thursday

Members of the Midland Athletic Association were to meet in the chamber of commerce office at five o'clock this afternoon to complete plans for starting their membership drive early tomorrow.

All offices, stores and the business district in general will be contacted for possible members to the organization. Membership dues have been set at 50 cents a month with each member given the right to pay as much more each month as he desires to.

The organization is being perfected to give aid to the athletic program of the high school in all ways possible. Already, members have taken responsibility of one job—paying expenses of the boys out for the team to a training camp. Money to defray part of the expenses was voted by members of the school board, and the athletic association will try to put up a similar amount.

A military Stinson, flown by Pilot Overly, arrived from El Paso and departed for Brownsville. Pilot Erickson arrived from Abilene, and departed for El Paso, flying a Porterfield. A Stinson of the Humble company which arrived Tuesday, departed today after an overnight stay. C. M. Scholes was pilot.

Midland Boy Scouts Make Excellent Record at Camp

Midland Boy Scouts returned Tuesday night from a 2-weeks' encampment at Camp Fawcett, Barksdale, Texas. The camp was attended by more than 300 scouts from this part of the state and was acclaimed as the best camp ever conducted by the council.

Thirty-three Midland scouts attended with 28 of the number staying the full two weeks and the remaining five one week.

Much credit was given to the Midland scouts while in camp as a result of their experience and hard work which made them stand out as campers of good quality, sponsors said. Among the things accomplished were the winning of highest inspection honors the first week by the Bird Dog patrol of Troop 54 and the second week by the Python patrol of Troop 54.

Each day at retreat the four best patrols on inspection were named and then the best selected from that group as the color guards for the following day. The patrols of Troop 52 and Troop 54 of Midland won 75 per cent of the inspection honors. On two consecutive days the four highest were all Midland scouts.

On the first Sunday in camp, Troop 54 lost the water carnival to Troop 20 of Colorado by two points. Howard Ford and Goodrich Heil of Troop 54 were named assistant camp inspectors for the first week and the second week Goodrich Heil was placed in charge of the rifle range.

On the second Sunday, Troop 54 won the camp Olympics with a total of 95 points while Troop 33 of Rotan was taking second place with only 40 points.

Fire Aids Ravages of War Along Yangtze

On the outskirts of Kiukiang, Japanese artillery continued to pour a rain of shells into the city while flames already licked at the suburbs of the doomed town. This remarkable picture was made under fire by a Japanese photographer just behind the advancing front line of the Japanese troops. Kiukiang was regarded as a vital success in the rejuvenated Japanese drive on Hankow.

Authorities Protest Violation by Japs In Neutral Zones

SHANGHAI, Aug. 17. (P).—Shanghai international settlement authorities have protested to the Japanese consulate general against "violation of the neutrality of the settlement" by the Japanese army.

The protest, accusing Japanese of participating in terroristic activities throughout the settlement last week-end, came as the Japanese command sent reinforcements up the Yangtze to renew the stalled drive against Hankow, about which Chinese were said to have deployed 1,000,000 defenders.

The note referred especially to Japanese invasion of the United States sector in which United States marines arrested three Japanese; Japanese airplanes scattering propaganda leaflets over the settlement; and presence of the Japanese army in a hotel room where police confiscated a supply of hand grenades.

Chinese aviators today reported Japanese were sending approximately 70 shiploads of troops up the Yangtze for renewal of the drive on Hankow, provisional capital.

The Japanese overland drive along the Yangtze's north bank, Chinese said, was held up by Yangtze river flood waters and swarms of mosquitoes.

Japanese continued their bombing raids on the Hankow area with a foray against nearby Hanyang and Wuchang. The raiding squadron dropped 200 projectiles on the two industrial centers, killing an estimated 100 persons and wounding 2,000.

RETURN HOME.

Screaming sirens and honking horns marked the arrival of a "rowdy" delegation from Tahoka here shortly after noon today, people on the downtown streets now being well aware of the fact that Tahoka is staging a huge rodeo on August 25 and 26. Messrs. Proctor, Parks, Flynn, Ulmer and Scharbauer will attend to Midland Rodeo matters in Fort Worth tomorrow, the Midland show to be well advertised by the group in Fort Worth and in towns between Fort Worth and Midland. The delegation will return Friday.

Fascists Unanimously Disapprove

France, Britain
Declare It War
Warning to World

By Associated Press.

Secretary of State Hull's appeal against "international lawlessness" broadcast last night, was welcomed by France and Britain today as a warning of war dangers in central Europe.

In Rome, fascists saw the speech as an attack upon Germany and Italy.

In Berlin, the foreign office said Hull had showed a "narrow mental horizon," and left no doubt that the German government resented what they termed America's "endeavors to act in the role of a moral preacher."

A Tokyo foreign office spokesman said "Hull the idealist said nothing."

Praise was general in London. Hull urged upon all nations the adoption of "a comprehensive program embracing both economic reconstruction and revitalizing of principles which are indispensable for restoration of order under law."

He laid a seven-point program before a Europe made jittery by Hitler's mobilization of 1,000,000 men for army maneuvers on the Czech and French borders and Mussolini's speech last Thursday indicating a European war was approaching.

He spoke over a national (N. B. C.) broadcast, deliberately choosing a moment regarded as crucial in Europe to throw America's moral weight into the arena before it was too late. He addressed himself to a world which he said was becoming "smaller and smaller" with the result that "it will soon no longer be possible for some nations to choose and follow the way of force and for other nations at the same time to choose and follow the way of reason. All will have to go in one direction and by one way."

His speech was sent by short-wave radio to Europe and Latin America and was radioed textually by the state department to American diplomatic representatives abroad so that they, at their discretion, might present it to foreign governments.

His program included economic reconstruction, adherence to international law, respect for treaties combined with orderly modification of provisions of treaties, abstention from use of force and peaceful settlement of differences, reduction of armaments, cultural exchanges among nations and, generally, international co-operation.

Hull told the nations that no one of them, including our own, "can avoid participation in determining which course (force or reason) will be taken." He added that "consciously or unconsciously, every country is throwing the weight of its attitude and action, positive or negative, toward one course or the other."

He program particularly to the smaller Fascist nations which have been coming under the sway of Germany, especially in the Balkans. Hitherto his remarks have been pointed toward the big dictatorships.

Miss Neuhardt, escorted by Marion Flynn, chamber of commerce president, left for Fort Worth shortly after noon today.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parks left last night by train for Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Proctor left by automobile this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer will join the Midland delegation in Fort Worth Thursday afternoon. Mayor M. C. Ulmer will leave by train tonight. Others from here are also expected to attend.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. — Big news: The Nebraska senators have agreed on something!

Senator George W. Norris, veteran progressive leader, has publicly urged President Roosevelt to appoint Felix Frankfurter of Harvard Law School to the Supreme Court vacancy created by the death of Justice Cardozo.

Senator Edward Burke, who stayed in Washington this summer to make daily anti-New Deal statements and then endorsed Vice President Garner for President in 1940 as he left for Europe, has indicated that he would be glad to vote for Frankfurter's confirmation.

But, predicts Burke, Roosevelt won't appoint Frankfurter because the latter was not in favor of F. D. R.'s Supreme Court plan.

Burke is likely to be wrong on both counts. Frankfurter now has an inside track on the Court vacancy.

If his friends are to be believed, Frankfurter didn't publicly support the Court plan because his friend and mentor Justice Louis D. Brandeis begged him not to. Brandeis was so shocked by the plan that his younger disciple, foremost exponent of the Brandeis philosophy, heeded his plea. But the army of young Frankfurter lawyers in Washington, led by the professor's closest associates, Tom Corcoran and Ben Cohen, battled for the plan.

BRANDEIS TO STAY

Roosevelt long intended to appoint Frankfurter to the Brandeis seat when the latter resigned. But Brandeis, now 81 years old, indicates no intention of resigning. Mrs. Brandeis has urged against it. And insiders insist Roosevelt is now inclined to elevate Frankfurter without waiting for Brandeis' departure.

Aside from Frankfurter, chief Supreme Court possibilities are Dean Lloyd Garrison of the University of Wisconsin Law School, Senator Sherman Minton of Indiana, and Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan—in case Murphy fails to be re-elected.

WATCH THE COLOR OF YOUR SKIN

A Yellow Tint may Mean You are Bilious and Need Calotabs.

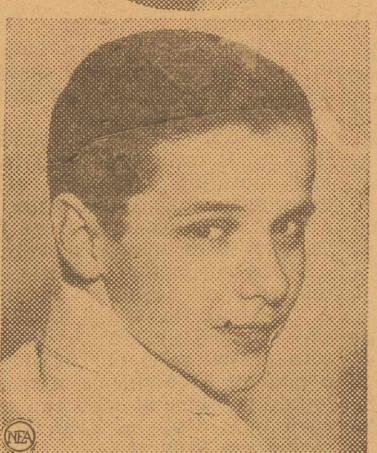

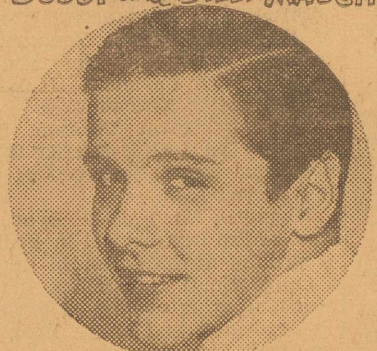

The trained eye of your physician can tell at a glance that you are bilious or, as we Southerners say, you have so-called "Torpid Liver." To make sure of this diagnosis he looks for a coated tongue, poor appetite and digestion. In the absence of more serious symptoms he tells you that you are bilious and need a little Calomel.

When you see the symptoms of biliousness why wait until you are really ill? Take Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablets that make calomel-taking a pleasure. Calotabs act like calomel and salts combined helping Nature to expel the sour stagnant bile and washing it out of your system.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of water, that's all. Next morning your system feels clean and refreshed, your head is clear, your spirits bright, and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish and go about your work or pleasure.

Genuine Calotabs are sold only in checker-board (black and white) packages bearing the "Calotabs" name. Avoid imitations. Family package only twenty-five cents; retail package ten cents to your dealer. (Adv.)

Doctors Don't Know It-- But Turtles' Bird's Nests and Axes are 'Cures'

No medical school ever has heard of the "cures" for human ills which Ben Lucien Burman, famed novelist and authority on superstitions, has discovered in his travels. Some of the more amazing of these fantastic "remedies" are reported in this last of four articles written exclusively for The Reporter-Telegram.

By Ben Lucien Burman.

You can cure yourself of a lot of diseases, and save much money in doctor's bills, if you know the proper charms.

If you're growing bald, it may be age that's causing the trouble, but it's just as likely the real reason is that a bird got one of your hairs when you were using your comb and is making a nest of it. As long as that hair is in the nest, you'll get balder and balder. It's advisable in such cases, to collect your friends, and go search in the woods around your house. When they've found the nest, climb the tree where the nest is hanging, and carefully extract the hair. Your baldness will instantly cease.

If you are crippled in the legs, walk in a wet sand pile, then pick up the tracks and throw them over the roof of the house. Within a month the lameness will begin to disappear.

If you have any illness that is giving you a high temperature, put an axe under the bed where you are sleeping, with the blade turned upward. It will cut the fever without fail.

But your really good luck will

"Granny Magic" for Human Ills May Be Amusing or Tragic

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following paper on "Granny Magic" was presented by Mrs. E. H. Ellison at the regular weekly health program sponsored by the Midland county public health board over station KRLH this morning at 11 o'clock. Author of the article is J. A. Crawford, M. D.

Looking back into medical history, we are sometimes inclined to marvel at the foolish things which people, including doctors, used to believe to be useful in the treatment of disease, or in protecting the individual against illness. Before the days of scientific experimentation when generation after generation was compelled to be guided by the ancient and often mistaken philosophies which attempted to establish facts by force of reason instead of observation, it was but natural that many misconceptions and strange beliefs should gain currency. It is not easy to believe that some of these old superstitions are still present, and yet a physician practicing in the present days has listed a large number of mistaken beliefs concerning medical treatment under which people of our own day still labor.

For example, he points out that he is still frequently confronted with mole's front feet, boar's teeth, wild swamp root, garlic and onions strung around the baby's neck to make teething easier, or to prevent sore throat. Some of his patients still consider it criminal to cut a baby's fingernails, because to do so will make the child a thief, and especially on Friday must nail-cutting be avoided, because it will cause a toothache. However, if absent-minded parents do cut nails on Friday and toothache occurs, then there is a remedy, and what do you suppose it is? Tobacco!

It seems almost impossible to believe that intelligent people will still hold such strange conceptions. Perhaps you are thinking that they are not intelligent, and yet, it is quite likely that they are as intelligent as you and I. The difference is in education, or perhaps in sophistication. These so-called truths have been handed down to them by word of mouth from their forefathers and their trust in them is as unwavering as religious faith.

You perhaps are familiar with the wearing of a bag of asafetida around the neck to keep off contagious disease. In view of our modern knowledge that communicable diseases are spread by close personal contact, there might even be some virtue in asafetida, since it will surely discourage any close personal contact. It is, of course, nothing but a superstition.

While some superstitions are amusing, others are likely to be dangerous. Among the amusing superstitions are the ones that suffer from tea will bring out measles and chickenpox, that sulphur and molasses will purify the blood. It is said that when a baby cries and refuses to be still the thing to do is for the mother, the first time she leaves the house after the baby's birth, to take a thimble to a well, fill it with water and carry it back to the house without spilling a drop, and then give it to the baby to drink. These are inclined to be amusing, because they are relatively harmless, except, of course, that persistent crying on the part of the baby is likely to indicate that something is wrong.

Not so amusing because of the harm they do are some of the so-called remedies for sore eyes. Eye disease in the newborn is supposed to be cured by applying mother's milk or by tying a bag of dead ants around the baby's neck or wiping the sore eyes with a wet diaper several times daily. These are exceedingly mischievous, because sore eyes in a baby are likely to indicate a serious infection which may lead to destruction of the eye or blindness, unless promptly and adequately treated.

In the same way earache is supposed to be benefited by putting a bit of kinky wool from a negro's head into the ear. A string of amber beads is supposed to prevent croup, while goose grease and molasses internally are given for colds. Considering that ears infected may be the cause of future deafness, or may even result in death, if the infection invades the brain, the danger of pinning one's faith on superstition is apparent. Croup is likely to be just another name for diphtheria. Faith in a string of amber beads may well be the forerunner of a funeral.

Perhaps many of you are smiling at the thought of people actually believing in such superstitions. If this is the case please go to your medicine cabinet when you have finished listening, and look at it very carefully. See what you have in it, and consider each article and why you have it there. Did your doctor order it or did you buy it, because you saw it advertised, or because someone told you about it? If your doctor did order it, are you keeping it there after it has served the purpose for which it was prescribed, and with the intention of using it for some other illness, or perhaps recommending it to a can. "I knowed a roustabout on the Tennessee Belle named Dude had a wonderful Toby. He was winning all the money there was on the boat, jest hundreds and hundreds of dollars. One day he was figuring all the things he was going to do, when all of a sudden a big storm come. And all the lightning was drawn to the Toby, till Dude jest looked like the time them fireworks blowed up on the docks, everybody said. When the other roustabouts went to look for him, there wasn't nothing left of him or all the money was in his pockets, except a silver dime."

"But I reckon what you got to watch closest of all is woman trouble," concludes Uncle Jesse after some reflection. "Cause when you got woman trouble that's mighty bad. If you're done married to a woman and you want to git away, look around when she's sleeping, and you can find where she's got you all tied up in kind of knots somewhere, in a piece of string or thread or somethin'. It's worst, if it's blue string. You take a scissors and cut it. And you can git away any time."

"If you want a girl to marry you and she won't pay no attention, draw her name what they call zig zag on a piece of paper, and swallow it. That night she'll come knocking at the door, and ask you to go to the preacher."

"TOBY: Any kind of luck charm blessed by a hoodoo doctor. Generally (Ben Lucien Burman says) it's a stone or a piece of a magnet which has been wrapped in hair and is carried in a little sack.

The Town Quack

With everybody trying to write a life story of the hill billy biscuit man, W. Lee O'Daniel, governor-elect of Texas, Cowin E. King, Sr., for many years connected with the Dallas Journal but now publisher of his own paper, "Uncle Jake's Sports News," comes through with the following life story written in Uncle Jake style:

"I see by th' papers most every-buddy is publishin' a life story of my old friend W. Lee O'Daniel. Lee an' me got pretty chummy like Saturday nite, July 23, 'bout 9 p. m. when a lot o' returns cum in showin' he was sweepin' Texas. Followin' our long established policy o' givin' our readers innyming innym other papers mought give 'em I'm givin' ya t'day a 'life story' o' Lee.

"I ain't ever talked t' him or innymuddy what knowed him but that ain't keepin' us frum turnin' out a life story. With a little encouragement we cud turn out two life stories. So here's yer life story fer t'day.

"Up on a Kansas thinnin' farm a curly haired blonde boy, what was born in Ohio, was settin' under a tree playin' mud pies. He took a gob o' mud in his hands an' started singin' 'Patty Cake, Patty Cake, Baker's Man.' Ole Bill Spew was standin' neer by an' remarked 'That boy be a grate flour salesman t'day.'

"Th' curly haired boy turned his smilin', dirty face up to Mr. Spew an' sed: 'Boys, Play I'd Like to Be in Texas.'

"It was a hot an' dusky day when th' chamber of commerce directors met in Ft. Worth t' elect a president. It was so hot nobuddy gived a darn who they elected. A man cum in with flour on his shoulder an' they mistook it fer dandruff. 'There's our man,' they sed in unison. Every president we've had got in our hair an' here's a man with sumthin' already in his hair. He was elected.

"I'll accept," he sed. And added, 'Boys play 'A Good Man Is Hard to Find.'

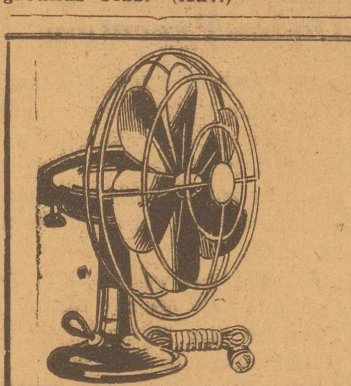

"It was a hot an' dusky evenin' as a flour salesman set ponderin' over runnin' fer Governor. At innny rate it'll be a good ad fer my flour even if I ain't elected," he sed. 'I gotta go t' Waco innymhow so I'll open my campaign there. They ain't got innny balbal gains or innymthing else down there an' folks will go t' see or heer innymthing.'

"After th' big turn out at Waco this beamin', smilin' an' honest-faced flour salesman got t' thinkin'." "Gosh, I gotta have a platform," he sez t' himself. STAMP NEWS

ELIMINATION of high value stamps from the new series of Constitution stamps to be issued by Panama has been announced. Latest advices indicate sets will include five values of airmail, five values of postage and two miniature sheets. Four of the high values of airmail and postage series are to be included in the miniature sets.

Constitution Commemorative sets are to be issued by Cuba and Haiti. Designs for the Cuban set to be available in October, have not been selected. Haiti's set, to release in September, will include a portrait of President Roosevelt on the 60-centimes stamp.

First-day sales of the 3-cent Sesquicentennial of the Northwest Territory Commemorative at Marietta, Ohio, postoffice, July 15, totaled $10,215.48.

The delayed visit of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain to Paris resulted in a change in the commemorative 1.75-franc stamp. The original die bore the date "28 Juin 1938" and this was changed to July 1. French sources report some of the "28 Juin" stamps were off the press, but could not confirm that these had reached collectors.

New issues: Soviet Union—four values and two designs commemorating the rescue and return of the Soviet North Pole scientific expedition. Insurgent Spain—four postage, one airmail bearing portrait of Ferdinand V (1452-1516) of Castile and Leon. (Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

FEMININE FANCIES

By KATHLEEN EILAND

For warm late summer days, when wash dresses are in order, we recommend blouses of printed cotton held at the natural waistline with elastic or latex let into the band. These come in bright red, rather deep blue, and other gay prints, including a vivid black and white. They are natural affinities of washable skirts for all those informal hours when one wants to be cool and comfortable but neatly clad.

Have you seen the newest thing in plaques for wall decoration? Oh, perhaps wooden pictures would be a more exact description. These have the background worn away to give a bas-relief effect to silhouettes such as that of a cowboy, fishing boy, desert scenes and others.

Quite pleasing when black figures are used against vivid colors.

Annually we delight in the colors and textures of the new blankets shown by merchants. This year there are inviting ones in solid peach (nothing prettier) or pink or green or brown or lavender or blue, if one likes monotonies. Or there are plaids or fluted designs for one who doesn't.

One green blanket even boasted sizeable stripes of blue, yellow, and brown as a decorative motif at the end.

We're sorry for the people who slept under blankets in the old days when gray or brown was the accepted color for such coverings. Maybe they slept as soundly but surely they couldn't have slept with such a satisfactory sense of beauty about them as do the modern under the luscious rainbow shades of the 1938 blankets.

Extension of Old Age Insurance Program To Agricultural, Domestic Labor Likely

(EDITOR'S NOTE: On Aug. 14, 1935—just three years ago—the President signed the Social Security Act. This act probably affects directly the lives of more individuals than any other law ever passed by the National Congress. This newspaper presents below, therefore the fourth of a series of articles which explain the National and State programs for social security and recount the progress made in their administration during the first three years.)

(By Sherwood H. Avery, Regional Representative, Bureau of Old Age Insurance, Social Security Board, States of Louisiana, New Mexico and Texas.)

Try to think of a business organization which keeps books on the accounts of more than thirty million customers. That is no more than the Social Security Board's Bureau of Old-Age Insurance is doing now for more than thirty-nine million Americans who have applied for social security account numbers.

More than 1,620,000 applications have come from the State of Texas alone. "What does the social security account number mean to me?"

He burros last night feel about working today?

Decidedly there are compensations in being a woman. At least one is not expected to walk boldly up and mount a burro without a quiver of nervousness, even though the chances are 10 to one that the dismounting will be uncomfortably sudden and quite involuntary. Sometimes we think men are pretty good sports—about a lot of things.

Midland, Odessa Legionnaires Form "40 and 8" Lodge

At a joint meeting of the Odessa Earl S. Bailey post No. 430 and the Midland Woods W. Lynch post No. 19 of the American Legion held last night in Odessa members organized into what is officially called New Venture of the La Societe des Quarante Hommes et Huit Chevaux, but what is generally known as the "40 and 8."

The organization was described by officials as a national fun-making and benevolent organization of the American Legion. The title is taken from the oft repeated tale of veterans about how 40 men and 8 horses were always shipped together while overseas.

Legion posts of Midland, Ector, Crane and Upton counties will comprise the membership of the organization.

The following were elected officers: J. P. Friberg, Midland, Chief de Gare.

P. C. Stacey, Odessa, Chief de Train.

Charles A. Christian, Odessa, Conduiteur.

Gordon E. Monday, Midland, correspondent.

S. O. Glasscock, Odessa, Commis Voyaguer.

W. H. Hoffman, Midland, Commissaire Intendant.

Dr. J. M. Deveraux, Midland, Medicin.

C. Ward Moody, Odessa, Garde La Porte.

Earl Williams, Odessa, Lampiste.

Chemists: or Executive Committee: C. R. Roberts, Odessa.

William Perl, Odessa.

I. J. Prager, Midland.

Following Voyagers Militaire were enrolled from Midland, J. G. Harper, Charles Velen, W. P. Foster, T. E. Steele, Robert Hamilton, George Barton, O. L. Stice; in addition to the above Odessa Post enrolled eighteen members making a total of thirty members.

N. P. O'Hara, Grand Chemist, San Angelo, Texas, acted as installing officer, assisted by Frank Beil, Pase Chief de Gare; Ed Riddel, Chief Pase; and other prominent officers of the 40 & 8.

A comprehensive civic program is outlined for the coming year, and a Wreck will be held at a future date in conjunction with the Vulture at Big Spring, Texas.

If you think what a pity it is that Julie is so un-feminine looking, you can profit by the observation if you make sure that your own hair is waved in the most becoming fashion. See that your makeup is soft and natural and your own movements unhurried.

If Mary's look of being "thrown together" bothers you, find out why she never seems well-groomed, then see if you are guilty of the same faults.

General Carelessness.

It may be that Mary doesn't brush the shoulders of her dress after combing her hair or powdering her nose; that she lets her bright nail polish chip between manicures; that she doesn't straighten the seams of her hose as often as she washes her hands; that her slip always is just the length of her dress and shows whenever she raises her arm. Oh that she goes without a girdle and so lets the back of her dresses become baggy or that her clothes are assembled so haphazardly that she never seems to be wearing an outfit.

You've wished, perhaps, that Sue—who is a grand girl—had more style. But do you realize that her posture and her walk—not her clothes—are to blame?

When you have noticed Sue's posture, you may pay more attention to your own. It is just as easy to sit straight at your desk, with hips flat against the back of the chair and chest raised, as it is to slump down on your spine with your head

Glorify Yourself Step by Step Lest The Task Weary You

By ALICIA HART.

NEA Service Staff Writer.

Once you have made up your mind to be a lovelier looking, more attractive person, it's a good idea to start the self-improvement campaign rather slowly and cautiously. Otherwise, you're likely to become bored with the whole business and stop doing any of the planned routine.

For instance, while you may know good and well that you ought to get rid of the excess oil in your hair, do something about the large pores on your nose, and, in addition, lose a good deal of weight, it's best to tackle one problem at a time. If, all at once, you start dieting and exercising, brushing your hair every night, getting a weekly scalp treatment, using a special pore mask on your nose several nights a week, and spending about twice as much time on your face between times as you used to, you're likely to be weary of the very thought of your appearance by the end of the first week.

But if you just concentrate on doing reducing exercises for fifteen minutes every morning and eating much smaller portions of everything at every meal for one month, then begin on your hair, improving yourself will seem much less of a burden.

During the second month, keep on with your exercises and your diet, and be sure to brush your hair every night. By the beginning of the third month, you'll be enough of a Spartan to be able to continue the improvement routines for figure and hair and do something to improve your face, too.

And remember, of course, that no routine can be one hundred per cent effective if you do it haphazardly or only when you happen to feel like it. Regularity is all important. Don't "go off" your diet just because you have company. (You can make believe that you are eating more than you are.) And don't give up exercises just because you are a house guest for a week-end. (Do them quietly in your own room and not even your hostess will know what you're up to.) Stick to whatever you start. And you'll notice results more quickly than you perhaps think right now.

Rumanian Crop Failure Halts Hollywood Films

BUCHAREST, U.P.—Because Rumania's pea crop has been poor, the Rumanian public may be deprived of seeing American motion pictures this year.

Heretofore the film importers have obtained the necessary foreign exchange for purchasing the American films by buying sterling drafts from the exporters of peas to Palestine and Egypt, with which countries Rumania has a favorable trade balance.

It is understood that negotiations are now taking place between Washington and Bucharest which are designed generally to facilitate the importation of the American films that have become immensely popular here.

CARDINALS HAND DOUBLE DEFEAT TO THE CLOVIS PIONEERS

BEERS, WARREN MAKE IT THREE WINS IN A ROW

CLOVIS, Aug. 17 (Special).—The Midland Cardinals made it three straight over the Clovis Pioneers by winning the night game here last night, 5-2, after taking the afternoon game by a 7-4 score.

In the afternoon game, Clovis out-hit Midland 9-6 but wildness on the part of pitchers Christie and Gotter and Vincent allowed the visitors to get more runs than hits. Meanwhile, Warren was keeping the Clovis hits well scattered, never letting the home club have more than one run in any inning.

In the last game, Beers hurled for Midland and struck out 11 of the Pioneers. He went into the ninth with a 2-hit shutout but was reached for three hits and two runs before he could get the side out. Hurier Luke Coburn made his debut for Clovis in the night game and struck out 12 of the visitors.

Score by innings:
 Midland 000 211 201 7 6 4
 Clovis 101 000 110 4 9 2
 Warren and Ballinger; Christie, Gotter, Vincent and Stuart.
 Midland 001 220 000 5 9 0
 Clovis 000 000 002 2 5 3
 Beers and Ballinger; Coburn and Stuart.

Standard Softball Team Wins Donkey Battle Over Shell

Second baseman Hodgson of the Standard of Texas softball team "got him a mule he could ride" in the second inning of last night's donkey softball game between the Standard and Shell teams, made a complete circle of the bases and scored the only run made as the two teams put on a comedy that lasted six and one-half innings.

The crowd was somewhat smaller than the one Monday night, but was just as appreciative of the futile efforts of the players to ride the bucking donkeys. There were far more spills than rides, as players of both teams will admit.

A little donkey that bore the name "May West" proved to be just about as tough as any rodeo stock ever exhibited here. She piled all riders just as regularly as they crawled on, and managed to drug and walk on a few.

Both clubs started out playing the game as rapidly as possible but soon discovered it was more fun to throw the ball away and let the would-be riders spend that much time trying to ride. Whenever, and it was seldom they found a player who would make an honest effort to ride, the other players just sat around and watched him until he finally gave up.

All in all it was a game that left the crowd limp with laughter long before it broke up. However, all players were plenty glad when the final out was made and they got a chance to doctor their marks of battle.

El Chico, Thingumabob Best Two-Year-Olds of Season

By HARRY GRAYSON

Sports Editor, NEA Service.

SARATOGA SPRINGS.—Many a race has been run since that summer afternoon of 1920 when Man o' War broke John P. Grier's heart in one of the greatest battles ever waged on a track.

They couldn't as much as lead John P. Grier on a strip after Big Red ran his legs right out from under him.

Man o' War went on to become the finest sire of all time. War Admiral and Seabiscuit climaxed the super-horse's long and almost unbroken stretch of success by making 1937 pretty much of a Man o' War year. The Admiral mopped up the 3-year-olds. The Biscuit, a grandson of Samuel D. Riddle's big animal, copped the handicap championship.

But at last it seems that John P. Grier's patience is to be rewarded. Barring accidents, his children should this season and next at least partially even his score with Man o' War.

What appears to be the two finest 2-year-olds since the late and lamented Equipoise of 1930 are John P. Grier's. They are El Chico and Thingumabob.

John P. himself sired El Chico, which is out of La Chica, and the property of William Ziegler, Jr., the baking powder tycoon.

Thingumabob is by Boojum, which was sired by John P. Grier, and was so fast that his legs wouldn't carry him. Thingumabob belongs to Mrs. Charles Payson, a daughter of Mrs. Payne Whitney.

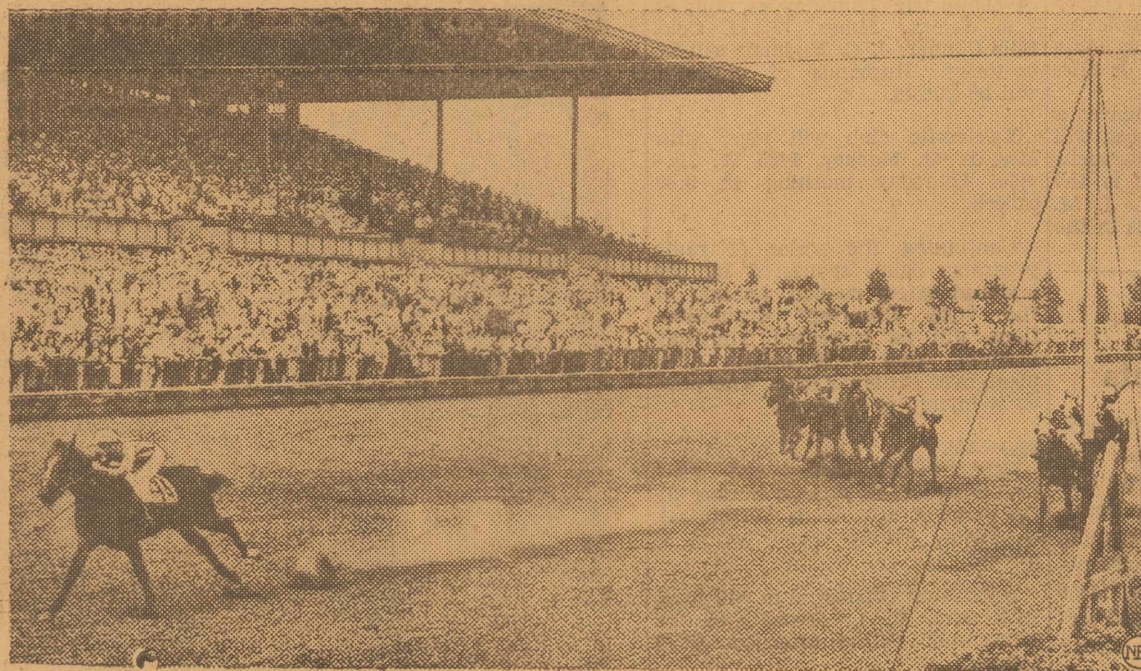

EQUALS TRACK MARK OF OLDER HORSES.

Winner of five consecutive stakes, El Chico looks all over the best juvenile in eight years. He was 2 to 5 in the Saratoga Special, in which the winner takes all and in which the purse was $8000.

Blazing over six furlongs in 1:10 2/5, El Chico, ridden by Nick Wall, not only established a new mark for the Special, which has gone to such good ones as Top Flight, Jamestown, Whichone, Blue Larkspur, Chance Shot, and St. James, but he equaled the track record held by older horses. For a 2-year-old to carry on as fast as Polymelian and Jyntee is testimony to the merit of the Ziegler colt.

Thingumabob, with Eddie Arcaro astride, ran away and hid from some of the best juveniles in the country in the six furlongs of the Arlington Futurity which was worth $31,000 to Mrs. Payson. Thingumabob finished five lengths in front going away in the fast time of 1:12 over a track that was only good.

He had started only twice before this smashing performance, and on that occasion prevailed by a half dozen lengths at Belmont park.

BROUGHT HIGH PRICES AT SARATOGA SALES.

While both have yet to break their maidens, Temulac and Gala Hour, both by Sir Galahad III, are highly regarded 2-year-olds. They brought the highest prices at the Saratoga sales a year ago, Temulac, which is Calumet spelled backwards, going to the Calumet Farm of Warren Wright, also a baking powder king, for $20,000, and Gala Hour being purchased by Mrs. John D. Hertz for $25,000.

They are bred for distance, and no doubt will be heard from when the 2-year-old route lengths to a mile and 70 yards and a mile and one-sixteenth this fall.

Charlotte Girl grabbed seven straight races for Elmer Sachsenmaier of Atlantic City in Florida last winter before she was defeated. By Cohort, she is bred to race a good distance.

But right now the ranking 2-year-olds are the flying El Chico and Thingumabob, and with the 3-year-old championship too unsettled to be decisive, the juveniles will stir up plenty of excitement here between now and the running of the $50,000 Hopeful Stakes on closing day.

books. (Appeals to girls, 6-8 grades.)

McNeely. Winning Out: The story of the two Allen sisters, Winifred, the older, who goes to take her first year of hospital training, and Rena, her selfish younger sister, who stays on the farm. The successes and failures of the sisters are narrated and at the end Winifred is well launched in her professional training course, and Rena has learned to overcome her difficulties at home. (Appeals to girls, 6-8 grades.)

Means. Ranch and Ring: A Story of the Pioneer West: The story of Janey Grant begun in "A Candle in the Mist" moves still further West when she goes to Colorado territory to teach. Many of the characters of the earlier story appear in this. The satisfactory termination of Janey's romance will interest many older girls. (7-8 grades.)

Melgs. Willow Whistle: A story of pioneer days in the middle west, with a visit to a friendly Sioux tribe, the building of the first school house and other exciting events of early days. (4-6 grades.)

Melkejohn. Cart of Many Colors: A delightful story of Nello Rossi of Palermo, twelve years old; of how he made a gay little care as a wedding gift for Mara, his sister; and how he went to Florence to learn to be a painter. The story shows us Italy against the background of the Great War, but it is not a war story. (6-7 grades.)

Mirza. Myself When Young: You'll find Mirza describes his childhood and boyhood in a little Persian village. He also describes village characters, chief among them his aged grandfather, and tells how the Persians celebrate Christmas and New Year, etc. At the age of fifteen Youel came to New York to live, and he gives his early impressions of America. (6-8.)

Mitchell. North America: The land they live in for the children who live there: North America's roads, houses, animals, plants, and work in their geographical relationships, are placed before the reader through the medium of stories, poems and pictures.

Moon. Book of Nab-wee: The adventures of a little Indian boy and girl who live on the edge of the desert. (2-4.)

Morley. Donkey John: Story of a little boy, who wins a prize for carving donkeys and goes to a city fair to sell them. Gives a good picture of the life of the toy-carvers in a valley of the Tyrol and of the goat-herders on the surrounding mountains.

Nicolay. Boys' Life of Washington: "Brief enough to make a unified impression, and simple in style but not painfully so. The author has utilized the more recent studies of Washington and without attempting to liquidate his reputation makes him not an inhuman paragon of all the virtues but a great and admirable character with enough redeeming limitations to make him believable." (Christian Century) (7-8 grades.)

Orton. Treasure in the Little Trunk: A story of early pioneering days of 1823, when the Armstrong family left Vermont to make a new home in western New York. (4-5 grades.)

Palmer. Abdul, the Story of an Egyptian Boy: A simple and truthful picture of life in Egypt at the present time. (5-7 grades.)

Peck. Storybook Europe: Interesting descriptions of Italy, France, and England.

Back on Farm to Cure Bad Arm

Paul Dean is a disconsolate figure as he divides his weight bet a cultivator and a hoe while contemplating his baseball future. Dean believes that he finally has found the cure that will restore the effectiveness that was his when he was a St. Louis Cardinal hero in 1934 and '35. It is hard work on his farm near Dallas. The younger of the famous pitching brothers has enjoyed success since leaving the Houston Buffs for the Dallas Steers, says that his arm never felt stronger.

To Protect Valley Dwellers Below Huge Fort Peck Project

This mile-long spillway is a $14,000,000 insurance policy for the people who live down the Missouri river from the new dam at Fort Peck, Mont. It must carry the excess water in time of great flood and keep the river from tearing out the vast earth-filled structure. Six miles from the dam proper, the spillway skirts a part of the shore of the lake that will be formed and empties into the river at a point where it curves back below the dam. The spillway has a huge concrete dam of its own, with control gates leading to a deep concrete-lined chute. The whole project is costing around 75 million dollars and when completed will control the flow of water in the Missouri so that navigation will be possible between Kansas City and Sioux City, Ia.
