For Seventy-six Years a Builder in Collingsworth County

Volume LXXV | WELLINGTON, COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY, TEXAS 79095 | THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1985 | Number 18

TIME FOR LUNCH

Feeder calf numbers have tripled in Collingsworth County from last year as farmers and ranchers take advantage of excellent wheat pasture grazing provided by late summer and fall rains. Most of the heifers and steers will stay on the wheat pastures through mid-March. Wheat acreage is up this year and wheat stands are good, although some early "rust", a fungus plant disease, has been reported.

School Approves Phones, Lockers

Wellington school board approved at regular board meeting Monday, Nov. 11 renovation of junior high and high school lockers, purchase of a new telephone system for the district, and hiring a secretary for the superintendent.

The board approved renovation and repainting of the lockers at a cost of approximately $6,000. The project will include replacing all 1,260 latches, replacing missing handles, bolts and door jambs, and sanding and chemically washing the lockers before electrostatically painting them.

The board approved purchase of new telephone systems for the high school and elementary campuses at a cost of approximately $7,000 from ASCOM, an Amarillo telephone system company. Supt. Lawrence Ward told the board that he expects the system to pay for itself within five years by eliminating phone equipment rent and by reducing the number of phone lines by two.

The board also approved hiring a secretary for the superintendent. The district is currently remodeling former classroom in the old west wing of elementary for use as a new superintendent's office and the secretary will occupy the old superintendent's office.

In other action the board:

* approved guidelines for purchase of a school jacket for National Honor Society members at the beginning of the junior year if they have not already received one in another extracurricular activity. The district will also buy one letter for National Honor Society students.

* cast its votes for County Appraisal Board for Sharon Starkey and Bill Spillman.

* set Monday, November 25 as the date for the board to hear an appeal by a teacher who was not included on the "career ladder."

* approved a grant application for approximately $71,000 worth of computer equipment. If the school receives the grant, it will be part of a statewide pilot project on the use of computers in school systems.

* approved a contribution of $500 to the local "Crimestoppers" organization.

* decided not to appoint a board member to fill the vacancy created when Bill Spillman resigned from the board earlier this year. The seat will be filled by election next April.

* postponed a decision on planting a row of windbreak trees from the Soil Conservation Service around the south and west sides of the new track.

* approved new hours for the tax office: the tax office will be open through the lunch period on Mondays and will close at 4 p.m. on Fridays.

* asked the City Council to designate a 20 miles per hour speed limit on the following city streets around the school campuses from 7:45 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. on school days: Rocket Road from 15th through 17th streets; Amarillo Street from 15th through 17th streets; Childress Street from 15th through 17th streets; Dalhart Street from 15th through 17th streets; 16th Street from Rocket Road through Dalhart Street; and 17th Street from Rocket Road

Bishop Matthiesen to Dedicate Center

Bishop Leroy Mattheisen, DD of the Amarillo Diocese will be in Wellington Sunday November 17, to dedicate the remodeled Religious Education Center at Our Mother of Mercy Catholic Church.

The dedication and Blessing of the Religious Education Center will take place as an intergal part of the 11 a.m. Sunday Mass, according to Fr. Paul Sauerbier, pastor of the catholic Church in Wellington.

A Parish dinner will take place at the Bura Handley Community Center with all the members contributing.

Fr. Sauerbier and some of the men have spent evenings each week over the summer and early Fall fixing up the old Rectory so that the four room house, with bath and kitchen, could be used as the Religious Education Center of this small Parish.

Bishop Leroy Mattiesen, DD will be visiting the Catholic Churches of Wheeler County this weekend. St. Marys in Wheeler and St. Patrick's in Shamrock.

"It has been rumored that Fr. Paul Sauerbier, CM pastor, invited him out just for his birthday, November 16, but the real reason the Bishop has chosen to visit the Catholic Churches of Wheeler County is that he is also here to dedicate the Religious Education Center at Our Mother of Mercy Catholic Church in Wellington," a spokesman said.

Skyrockets, Rockettes Begin Basketball

Wellington Skyrockets and Rockettes, varsity and junior varsity, are preparing this week for their 1985 basketball schedule, along with the junior high teams, 7th and 8th grade boys and girls.

Don Lacy, who is coaching varsity and junior varsity girls, has announced that the outlook for these teams is excellent.

Lacy's varsity Rockettes scrimmaged Samnorwood Tuesday night, Nov. 12, and they will open their playing schedule against Wheeler Tuesday, Nov. 19 with varsity and JV girls games.

At this point, Wheeler Mustangs are still in the football playoffs, and no boys game is planned.

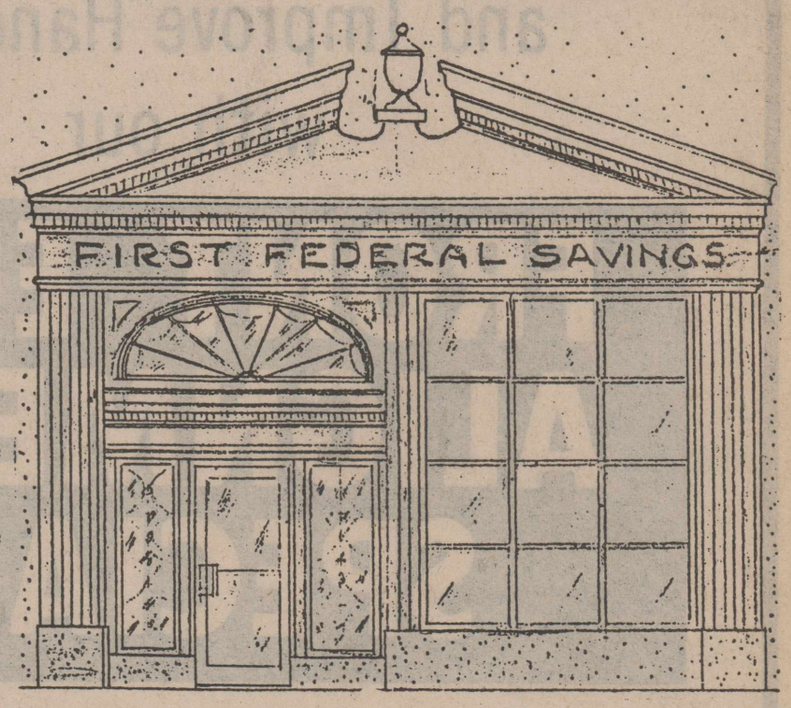

Wheeler girls lost only three games last year. "We were one of the three who defeated them," Lacy said. "They have three starters back on their team and they will be extremely good."

The game will be played at Wheeler, and although there will be only two games, a 4 p.m. starting time was announced.

On Friday, Nov. 22, Wellington Skyrockets and Rockettes will meet Samnorwood Eagles and Eaglettes on the Samnorwood court. This will be a double header as Samnorwood does not have junior varsity teams. Starting time will be 6:30 p.m.

Gano Wilson, Skyrockets coach, had his boys on the basketball court briefly Tuesday, as Monday had been scheduled for picture taking. He said he will be able to have the team put together and a good idea of its strong points by the end of the week. "I'll be glad to talk about them then," he said.

An artist's sketch depicts the new facade of First Federal Savings and Loan's Wellington branch office. Construction began last week on the remodeling project.

CRIME STOPPERS Pays First Reward

Collingsworth County Crimestoppers Board on Monday November 11, authorized payment of its first reward for information furnished on a crime committed in Collingsworth County. Sheriff John Rainey announced the amount was $50.

"We received enough information to issue a warrant for the arrest of a person," Sheriff Rainey explained. The possibility of a reward was enough to cause a person with information about the crime to contact us through our Crimestopper number, 806-447-2587.

The crime for which the $50 reward was paid was the recent burglary of the Church of Christ, in which recording equipment was taken. Information indicated this was used to record sermons and other religious material was later played for shut-ins and on other occasions.

Although the equipment had changed hands after it was taken, the Sheriff's department was able to recover it, Sheriff Rainey said.

The sheriff emphasized that the identity of all callers will be confidential, as only he and the caller will know that identify.

The one exception is if the caller voluntarily offers to testify should the case come to trial.

"In this case, the call which enabled us to issue a warrant for arrest is proof that we mean business in our efforts to lower the crime rate in Collingsworth County," Rainey declared.

Cancer Society Slates Fiber Food Coffee

The Collingsworth County chapter of the American Cancer Society will join chapters throughout the nation in the Great American Smoke Out Thursday, November 21, according to Edith Brown, president.

On the same day the Collingsworth chapter will host a "Fiberfood Coffee" at the Heritage Room of Wellington State Bank, Mrs. Brown said.

Loretta Wright is the coffee chairman.

Serving hours will be 9:30 to 11 a.m.

There will be a video slide presentation calling attention to the Smokeout, which will be under way at the same time.

Mrs. Brown pointed out that American Cancer Society is not promoting the eating or urging the American people to include fiberous foods in sufficient quantity in their diets.

Refreshments will be served, and these foods will contain high fiber content.

A representative of the Amarillo chapter, American Cancer Society, will be present to explain the research that has led to the Cancer Society's endorsement of high fiber foods as being effective in reducing colon cancer.

"We want everyone to come. Take your morning coffee break with us," said Mrs. Wright.

In observing the Smokeout, the Collingsworth chapter is asking all users of tobacco products to quit them for one day.

"The Smokeout is not for smokers only, but for "dippers" and "chewers" also. We hope everyone will join us," said Mrs. Brown.

Wellington Senior Citizens organization will join the Cancer Society on November 21 by distributing material concerning the Great American Smoke Out. They will make available in their own building and they will place material among downtown businesses. They will post placards urging Collingsworth people to observe the day.

First Federal Begins Remodeling Project

First Federal Savings and Loan ripped the rock facade off its Wellington branch office last week in the first stage of a remodeling project that will completely change the appearance of the interior and exterior of the office.

The new facade will be composed of white painted cypress millwork in colonial style over a base of Indiana limestone. Other features include leaded glass windows above and beside the entrance door, a cast aluminum urn in the pediment, bronze Roman lettering across the front of the building and a planter box.

A redesigned layout inside will provide open office space, private offices, a kitchen facility, vault and an additional restroom.

Remodeling is expected to be completed by mid-January of February 1, Bennie Foard, First Federal vice president, said.

"Our central Waco office is very proud to have our division involved with them," Foard said, " and I think the improvement in the Wellington branch office is a very positive statement about our desire to serve the community."

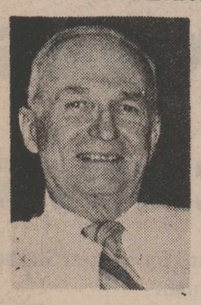

"We'll be open for business throughout the remodeling," Foard said. "It may not be business as usual, but it will be the best we can provide."

Foard said First Federal plans to begin remodeling its Memphis branch as soon as it completes the Wellington project.

Architect for the projects is Arthur C. Lenander, F.A.R.A., of Columbus, Ohio, the architect who designed the Waco office and branches of First Federal.

EXTENDED COVERAGE

by Bo Castleberry

Jewelry values change all the time. and while you can't hope to keep up with the daily or even monthly fluctuations, it's a good idea to have your things reappraised from time to time.

If your jewelry appraisals haven't been updated in 10 years or more, you're most certainly underinsured. Your coverage would not replace your treasures.

Similarly, you could be OVERinsured. If you bought jewelry or even silver at the height of the market a few years ago, bring it in soon to be revalued so you can save on premiums.

It doesn't pay to overinsure, since the insurer usually has the option of replacing your valuables---now available at a lower price--instead of giving you the cash.

The current tax laws make it extra-important to update your coverage, since it is now almost impossible to deduct most casualty losses on your tax return.

Protect the things and the people you care about. For complete insurance coverage, talk to us at...

Chamber Makes Christmas Plans

Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce directors met Monday, Nov. 11 to plan Wellington's Christmas activities, and other community improvement projects.

Bill Hatch, member of the Christmas promotion committee, announced that Santa Claus will visit Wellington Saturday, Nov. 30, arriving at 2:30 p.m. He will visit with children who gather from throughout the trade area, then will visit in the stores around the courthouse square. Meanwhile, the Community Band will arrive and as Santa begans his rounds, the band will strike up with a program of Christmas music.

There will be no prizes of merchandise or cash given this year, Hatch said. Some merchants indicate they will plan their own Christmas promotions.

Some indicate they may stay open on the two Sundays before Christmas, Dec. 15 and 22, from 1:30 to 5 p.m.

Hatch asked for more input on this idea.

Charles Darter, president, announced that the Highway Welcome signs are progressing. The City of Wellington will build the all-metal sign without cost in its own shops if the Chamber of Commerce will furnish the design. There will be a Welcome sign at the north and south edges of town on Highway US 83.

Darter announced the nominating committee for 1986 officers and directors. It is made up of Don Reeves, Lyn Hurst and Tom Lonon.

At the same time Darter announced that he was not to be considered as a candidate for re-election to the office of president, as he did not wish to serve a second term. He suggested that president officers be moved up. Directors whose terms expire are Zeb Roberson, Perry Foster and Mark Keys.

In discussing plans for the annual banquet, it was agreed that it be held in January 1986 instead of the usual March date.

It was also agreed that a local group, probably a youth group, be selected to furnish entertainment and that there be no guest speaker. Yates Parker, vice-president, is the banquet chairman and Dorothy McGill, treasurer, the food chairman.

In looking over the financial report, the directors voted to transfer an industrial account of $302, accumulated at the rate of $50 per month, into an interest bearing account in one of the banks in which the Chamber already has such an account set up.

Directors also voted that a $135.03 Youth Project Show account be changed from the checking account in which it is held, to one of the interest bearing accounts.

The Chamber of Commerce has been designated by the Collingsworth County Sesquicentennial Committee as the official dealer for the state-approved sesquicentennial merchandise which will be sold through 1986, the state's Sesquicentennial Year.

The Chamber will make these available to any business wishing to handle the material.

They had hung up their football helmets only three days earlier.

Mike Bergman is the junior varsity boys coach, and like the Skyrockets, the JV is just out of football.

Carl Taylor is coaching junior high girls and Don Beck is junior high boys coach.

Lacy has 6 returning letter players from the 1984 varsity. Two were starters.

Heading the list is Margo Duncan forward who last year averaged 12 goals and 10 rebounds per game. She was a unanimous choice for all-district.

Just behind her is Stacey Chandler, guard, who averaged 6 points per game with 4 steals. She was an honorable mention all-district. From a coaches' standpoint, one of the best things about these girls is that both are juniors.

The other returning letter players are Linda Lacy, Ashley Williams and KayLynn Bartlett, all junior forwards; Leigh Ann Barton, junior guard; Debbie Benton, senior guard.

These girls are up from the 1984 JV: Ginger Daniel, sophomore center, who is 16 years old and already 5-10. Trina Baker, and Donna Lewis are sophomore forwards whose heights are 5-6 and 5-7.

This completes the Rockette varsity list right now, although Lacy said some other girls may be coming up from JV a little later.

On the Junior Varsity Rockettes are Paula Nunnelley and Janna Nunnelley, twins and sophomores, who are in their second year of basketball. Stacy Fires is also a sophomore, as are Nicole Linville, Rusty Bawcom, Linda Murdock and Stephanie Barton

Freshmen on the JV are Lynette Barber, Shannon Peeks, Danna Isaacs, Dana Guthrie, Jodi Hunnicutt and Toni Bell.

Bergman has height in his junior varsity, as well as some speed and size.

Lacy sees two distinct assists in his Rockettes: speed and quickness. They do not have too much height.

Rockettes had their first scrimmage with Valley at Valley, in a 10:30 a.m. game Saturday, Nov. 9. This was a varsity and JV girls double header.

Wellington girls finished second in District 2-2A in the 1984 season, losing in the first round of the district playoffs (bi-district) to Stratford, coached by former Wellington coach Dale Morris.

It is the junior high teams, however, that will get the honor of playing the first basketball games of the 1985 season under coaches Carl Taylor and Don Beck.

They will meet Wheeler 7th and 8th grade teams Monday, Nov. 18. This is a split arrangement, with Wheeler 7th and 8th grade boys coming to Wellington for games starting at 5:30 p.m.

Wellington and Wheeler 7th and 8th grade girls will also meet with Wellington girls traveling to Wheeler. Again, game time will be 5:30.

After these games, the junior high teams do not have another scheduled game until Thursday, Dec. 19, when 7th grade boys and 8th grade boys and girls play in Rocket gym at 5 p.m.

Elected to serve with him were Jack Neeley, vice president; Kay Thomason treasurer; Yvonne Brewer secretary and Willie Faye Patrick finance chairman.

Andy Henard was elected a member of the museum board to fill an unexpired term which ends at the close of 1986. He replaces Bob Goforth who has resigned.

New members of the board for 1986-7 term are Lyna Hurst, Charlene Poteet and Martha Morris. Holdover directors are Jean Cudd and Kirby Campbell.

With Dan Henard, Jr., presiding, members heard a report that the Collingsworth County Museum has on deposit $236.05 in its checking account and $8,609.22 in its savings account.

Jean Cudd, chairman of the finance committee, reported that membership dues paid within recent weeks totaled $365. Mrs. Cudd was named to set up the drive after a period of 10 years had elapsed since the last membership campaign.

Nora Drake, administrative director of the museum, spoke of goals and some of the work that needs to be done on the building. She introduced two new volunteers, Wesley and Louise Hill, newcomers to Wellington, who are helping her with exhibit material inside the museum.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

by Don Reeves

Cattlemen should have little respect for late-calving cows because they are income robbers and should be culled.

Studies have shown that late-calving cows--those that give birth after the majority of the herd has calves on the ground--are a detriment to a cattle operation. They wean lighter calves and have lower rebreeding rates than early-calving cows, and that means money down the drain.

A recent demonstration on the LaSalle Ranch in Calhoun County attests to the impact of lower rebreeding rates. Some 200 crossbreed cows were monitored over a 160-day calving period. Almost 84 percent of the cows were considered early calvers (calving in the first 80 days) while the remainder were late calvers. Among early calvers, 93 percent rebred while late calvers had an 84 percent conception rate.

What does this mean economically?

Had pregnancy rates between the two groups been equal, the late calving cows would have contributed three additional calves to the total calf crop for that year. Assuming a 450-pound weaning weight per calf and a market price of 65 cents a pound, that would mean an additional $877.50 in gross income.

Many herds with long calving seasons have an even greater proportion of late-calving cows--often 25 to 30 percent. In these cases, lost revenue is even more pronounced.

A cattleman can't afford to operate with such losses, particularly with the current economic situation. There's only one choice: cull these late-calving cows along with any that are open. Also, never keep a heifer from a late-calving cow because she will likely be a late-calver as well.

Rockets Crunch Shamrock 42-22

The Rockets smashed the Shamrock Irish 42-22 Friday, November 8, in the last game of the 1985 season. The Rockets dominated the first half, scoring 36 points to the Irish 8.

The Irish held their own in the second half scoring 14 points to the Rocket 6, but the damage had already been done to the Irish's hopes for winning a game this seasom. The Rockets' running game was the deciding factor. While the Irish offense generated 185 yards on the ground, the Rocket offense gained a net of 415 yards.

The Rockets took the Irish opening kickoff and ran it back to their 28 yard line. The Rocket drive lasted 9 plays and ended on an 8 yard scoring run by Johnny Nash. The extra points run was good by Brad Long and the Rockets led 8-0 with 8:40 left in the first quarter. On this series of downs linemen Ruben Cantu, Shawn Davis, Kendall Harris, and Anthony Baker opened several large holes in the Irish defense allowing for good gains by the Rocket offense.

The Irish took the ball on their own 25-yard line following a 35-yard kickoff by Kenny Peeks. Four plays later the Irish were forced to punt the ball and the Rockets took over on their own 36 yard line.

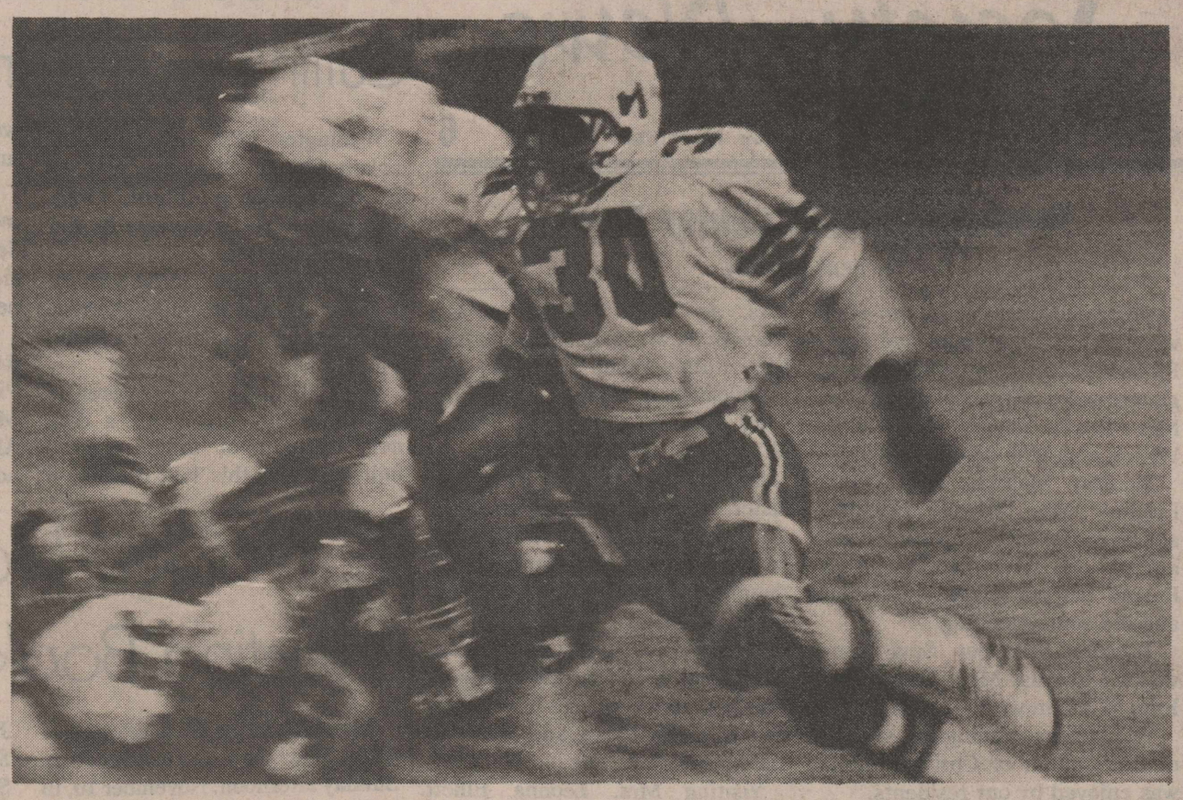

The Rockets drove 64 yards in 15 plays, much to the credit of linemen Mike Skelton, Kacy Davis and Tracy Day. This drive culminated on a 1 yard scoring run by Johnny Nash. The extra points attempt failed. The Rockets led by a score of 14-0 with .33 left in the first quarter.

The Irish took possession of the ball on their own 41 yard line following the Rocket kickoff. Seven plays later a Chuck Dougherty pass was intercepted in the end zone by Tracy Day, and the Rockets took over on their own 20.

On the first and only play of this drive Johnny Nash ran 80 yards for a touchdown. The extra points pass was incomplete and the Rockets led by a score of 20 to the Irish 0 with 10:26 left in the second quarter.

The Irish started their next drive on their own 29 yard line following the Rocket kickoff. Four plays later the Irish scored on a four yard run. Their extra point run was good and the score was Rockets 20, Irish 8 with 8:47 left.

The Rockets took the ball on their own 38 yard line after a 41 yard kickoff. The Rockets moved down the field to score in 7 plays. The scoring play was a 1 yard run by Johnny Nash. The extra points pass was good from Johnny Nash to Tracy Day and the Rockets led the Irish 28-8 with 6:47 left.

Club Hears Story of Odessa's Museum of the Presidency

Mrs. Bob Hightower, president of Belles Lettres Club, was also the program speaker Tuesday, November 5, when Mrs. Bryan Denley was hostess.

In her "Salute to the Presidents," Mrs. Hightower told of a little-known museum in Odessa that pays tribute to all presidents.

The setting does seem unlikely, she told the members. An oil town on the sage-spotted plains of West Texas, Odessa exists far from the mainstream of presidential politics.

Today, the museum remains the only institution devoted to all United States Presidents and to a better understanding of the office and its awesome responsibilities.

Campaign memorabilia, colorful trappings of the electoral process, abound here. From dignified to flamboyant, artful to absurd, they dominate the collection.

Election campaigns are placed into historical perspective and captures the flavor of the times in which they were waged, Mrs. Hightower explained.

The presidents emerge as men, who faced with extraordinary challenges of the office, often times rose to greatness but sometimes fell short.

The museum was conceived in a time of national tragedy. In November 1963, during the grim days following the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, several Odessans discussed the possibility of paying tribute to the slain president by creating some kind of memorial.

Soon the project began to broaden. The committee in charge concluded that the presidency itself, rather than any single president, demanded a memorial.

Today the museum has more than 25,000 items of presidential memorabilia; a 3,500 volume research library and an outstanding collection of original art that has attracted national recognition. More than 300,000 visitors have toured the exhibits.

In the lobby, one can view a collection of dolls in replicas of First Lady inaugural gowns. Each minature gown is intricate and faithful to the original in every detail. This year the Presidential Museum entered its third decade of tribute to the efforts of West Texans and their friends across the country is available for all to enjoy.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Earl Alexander, Mrs. E.F. Bartlett, Mrs. J.A. Graham, Mrs. Hightower, Mrs. W.F. Harbin, Mrs. Dick Richards and the hostess, Mrs. Denley.

Pauline Masten presented the Extension Homemaker Council report.

Plans were discussed for the Christmas party and the program was given by Trudie Peters on "Citizenship and Legislation."

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Peters, Deloyce Savage, Annie Caison, Lorene Hill, Mamie Terry, Louise Smith, Annie Bowen, Ina Brown, Pauline Masten, Edna Rudy, Elise Wilson, Gertrude Mayhugh, Frankie Duncan and Mrs. Kersten.

Scoopin'

I rarely find myself in agreement with Jesse Helms, North Carolina's ultra-conservative U.S. Senator.

But this week the right wing Senator is right on.

He is castigating the Reagan administration for turning back over to Soviet officials a Russian who jumped ship twice and asked for asylum while the ship was tied up at a Louisiana dock.

Apparently the seaman wasn't brave enough and didn't want freedom badly enough to meet the administration's requirements for admission to the land of the free and the home of the brave.

But anyone who jumps off the ship twice has demonstrated his desire to sacrifice home and family and friends in order to join us, and that seems sufficient to me.

One might say that the Russian did not come through proper channels. But the channel of the Rio Grande seems proper enough to the Reagan administration. Thousands of immigrants come that way every year, and the Russian seemed to have at least as much desire to immigrate as those who wade the river.

One might say that in the great sweep of international relations and the upcoming summit between the leaders of the United States and the Soviet Union, this lone fellow's plight is best swept under the rug in order to smooth diplomatic paths.

Wrong. We should have accepted the seaman with open arms. So what if it made the Russians blush on the eve of the summit?

It would serve to contrast to the world a basic difference between the foundations of the two nations: The Soviet's principle of sacrifice of the individual for the interests of the state, and the American principle of the state's interests being subservient to the individual's rights and freedoms.

VALERIE VAN PELT

She is the daughter of Don and Deanna Van Pelt and a graduate of Wellington High School.

She attended West Texas State University, Canyon, before transferring to Texas Tech.

She plans to do her student teaching in Amarillo in the spring of 1986 and will graduate in August 1986 with a double major, a B.S. degree in Home Economics Education and a B.A. degree in Spanish.

In both schools, she received many honors and awards.

At Tech, Miss Van Pelt was a member of the Mortar Board, on the Fashion Board, and she belonged to the Tech Chapter of Vocational Home Economics Teachers Association. Additionally, she was a member of Phi Eta Sigma honorary, at both Texas Tech and WTSU, and she was on the President's and Dean's Lists.

In West Texas State University, she was a member of Alpha Chi Honor Society, the Student Foundation and Campus Services.

Wayne and Jean Cudd Receive A "First" from Texas Truckers

For the first time in the history of the Texas Motor Transportation Association, its coveted Member of the Year Award has gone to a couple.

They are Jean and Wayne Cudd of Cudd Brothers Trucking, Wellington.

In late 1984, Wayne and Jean Cudd were selected jointly as Member of the Month, and it was from the 12 Members of the Month that the Member of the Year was drawn.

Wayne Cudd and his brother, the late Hiram Cudd, organized the business in 1937. Jean has been a partner since 1957.

Because of the company's impact on the livestock hauling industry of the Texas and the nation, Wayne Cudd's activities are widely known. Jean's work is less well publicized.

As a member of the TMTa Auxiliary, she is especially interested in its scholarship fund which benefits students who are interested in the transportation industry.

The program was begun in 1982 and 6 scholarships have been presented up to this time. Both boys and girls are eligible. She has served on the TMTA foundation for two years and as a member of the TMTA membership committee for the Panhandle. In 1984, she secured 6 new members from the area.

Wayne Cudd's work in Austin in behalf of the trucking industry is familiar. Jean adds a footnote:

"I have driven Wayne to Austin so many times I think I must be the official chauffer. We have walked the halls of the capitol many times. He going one direction and I the other direction, talking to representatives and senators about legislation concerning the trucking industry. Some of the legislators said they dreaded meeting me more than they did Wayne," says Jean Cudd.

She works at all TMTA conventions, usually with registration. She likes that, for it gives her an opportunity to meet new members and visit with old friends as they come in.

An article in the TMTA Magazine told of Cudd's career. It follows in full:

If TMTA had to choose a couple to symbolize this year's theme "Strength through Unity," the first choice of many individuals could be Jean and Wayne Cudd. As one TMTA staffer commented, "You never see Wayne without Jean. If he's in Austin, she's right by his side. You can't really recognize the efforts of one without mentioning the other."

Because they have both made such a contribution to TMTA, and because one cannot honor one without honoring the other, TMTA has chosen to name both Jean and Wayne Cudd as the September Members of the Month.

Wayne Cudd has been a member of TMTA for 40 years, joining the association just six years after he and his brother, Hiram, formed a partnership creating Cudd Brothers in Wellington.

With less than $2,000 invested in equipment, they hit the road in 1937. They ran their company out of their father's service station, using part of the garage for their office. Their first load was baled cotton, with Houston as the destination. Now, 47 years later, Cudd Brothers is still hauling cotton for its customers.

Cudd Brothers operates in Texas under Railroad Commission permits to haul livestock, livestock feedstuff, and cottonseed. In 1930, Wayne Cudd made his first business trip to Austin to apply for his first permit. Since that time, he has made the long drive from Wellington to Austin many times. Most of those trips were made at the request of TMTA, because he is an excellent spokesman for his industry.

Since their marriage in 1957, Jean has made the long trips to Austin with Wayne to give both him and the industry her support. She maintains an active interest in the Cudd Brothers business and in the trucking industry in general.

Wayne has served on the TMTA Board of Directors since 1947, and has held every position on the TMTA Executive committee, including the chairmanship in 1951-52. In addition, he has worked on many of the association's committees. Wayne is currently a member of the TMTA Advisory Committee. Jean is a devoted member of the TMTA Auxiliary.

The couple are also active members of the ATA Livestock Carriers Conference.

They support TMTA in every way possible, offering their services whenever they are needed. Jean or Wayne won't hesitate to call upon prospective members if asked. When the legislature is in session, the Cudds just about become Austin residents with their many trips to the capital to lobby for the trucking industry.

The Cudds also are visible at every TMTA convention. People seem to have a better time just being around the friendly couple. They are among the first to arrive at the Cummins traditional breakfast in the morning and the last to leave the dance floor at the Chairman's banquet at night.

The Cudds do have a life apart from trucking. Wayne has twice held the presidency of the Wellington Chamber of Commerce, and has served his city as fire chief for four years. He is a director of the City State Bank, and has also served on the Wellington City Council.

Jean is a member of the hospital auxiliary. And both are members of the Methodist church.

The Cudd family also supports youth projects in the Wellington community. The company has sponsored Little League teams and donated equipment to haul 4-H livestock to Dallas. Other youth groups which have been supported by the firm include Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Boys' Ranch, and Girls Town.

Jean is an accomplished artist. She has captured the beauty of the Texas countryside on canvas many times. She also enjoys playing golf.

They both also love to spend time with their children and grandchildren: Carolyn Sanford and her children, Tamy and Mark; Nancy Samuels and daughter, Beth; Jan Stallings and sons, Chad and Tatum; and Jim Lindsay and his children, T.J. and Jay.

Because Jean and Wayne support each other, they have a successful business and a successful marriage; because they have both supported TMTA, the association is also more successful.

Trio Drives Home in Hurricane Border

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch and Mrs. Lou Allman, returning from a visit with their children in Mobile, Alabama, drove all day Sunday, Oct. 27, across southern Louisiana, in lashing rains spun off by Hurricane Juan. The center of the hurricane was just off the coast.

They traveled Interstate 10, which for much of the distance is a causeway above the swamps and marshlands.

There was a constant threat that the causeway would be closed and they would be stranded. Traffic was heavy to the west; none moved east.

In western Louisiana, they turned north and crossed Toledo Bend Reservoir from Many, La., to St. Augustine, Texas. On Sunday night they were guests of Mrs. Barjenbruch's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Potter and son, Jay. They continued driving in rain Monday until they reached Decatur.

In Louisiana they passed through the area where soybeans are the major crop. The fields had been defoliated and the plants stood in water, field after field, Mrs. Barjenbruch said. In other places they saw rice ready for harvest.

The trip to Mobile, which started Tuesday, Oct. 22, was calmer. They went along the northern route, through Shreveport, and Monroe, La., Jacksonville and Hattiesburg, Miss.

In Mobile, they visited Ft. Morgan, oldest settlement along the gulf coast, and Bellingrath Gardens, then went on to Pensacola, Fla. They toured historic houses in Mobile.

Mike Barjenbruch is employed with Schlumberger, a major oil well service company which operates world-wide.

The permits may be obtained by submitting the name, address, and county of residence of each hunter to any of the following Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD) or U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service (USFWS) offices. Those most convenient to this area are:

TPWD Headquarters, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, Texas 78744, (512) 479-4979.

TPWD, P.O. Box 3369, Lubbock, Texas 79452, (806) 744-0213.

TPWD, 2736 S. Georgia, Amarillo, TX 79109 (806) 335-9246.

Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge, P.O. Box 228, Umbarger, TX 79091, (806) 499-3382.

Sandhill crane hunting will be permitted in three zones which have the same boundaries as last season. The season dates are: Zone A, Nov. 9-Feb. 9; Zone B, Nov. 30-Feb. 9; and Zone C, Jan. 11-Feb. 9. The daily bag limit is three sandhills, six in possession, in all three zones.

"County of Residence" Clarified

AUSTIN - Law enforcement officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department said further clarification may be needed for the "county of residence" law for hunting license exemptions which went into effect Sept. 1.

The law, adopted by the Texas Legislature during its last session, requires that hunters possess a valid hunting license to hunt any bird or animal anywhere in the state, including their county of residence. Only persons hunting on land on which they legally reside are exempted, and they must possess a $6 exempt license to hunt deer or turkey.

Officials said the law requires hunters to possess a valid hunting license to hunt any bird or animal, not just those classified as "game" species.

SERVICE MEASURED NOT BY GOLD, BUT BY THE GOLDEN RULE

GOD'S WILL

The greatest commandment is that we should love our God. This is a free choice that man has, but it is God's desire that all would seek Him. He is our heavenly Father, and desires only the best for us.

ATTEND CHURCH

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
