

DENE HEADSTREAM (right) was named Kiwanian of the Year for Colorado City. Pictured presenting the award to Headstream is Eddie Mitchell, Kiwanis Club president.

Headstream Known As Mainstream Kiwanian

"You can't grow an oak tree until you plant an acorn," said Dene Headstream, the 1977-78 Kiwanian of the Year for Colorado City.

And, through the years, Headstream has worked with the Kiwanis to plant many acorns.

Headstream's main interest is working with children's homes, especially Girlstown, U.S.A., located in Whiteface, Tex.

For the past 15 years, Headstream has been involved with Girlstown. His interest sparked from a friend, Marshall Cooper, who was superintendent of the West Texas Boys Ranch in San Angelo.

Headstream assisted Cooper and his wife with several projects at the Boys Ranch. Cooper accepted the position of executive director of Girlstown and Headstream has been dedicated to the cause ever since.

Girlstown operates by private contributions—it is not supported by any state funds.

The national sorority of Beta Sigma Phi sends a monthly contribution to Girlstown, but besides that, Girlstown has no other guaranteed income.

A board of directors consisting of some 30 businessmen and women from across the United States assist in supervising the operations of Girlstown.

Girlstown began with five girls at Buffalo Gap. In 1948, land was donated for the present location of Girlstown and since that time, two additional units have been added—one in Borger and one in Austin.

Now there are some 125 girls from infancy through age 16 living at the three units of Girlstown. Over 175 applications are received monthly for Girlstown.

Those living at Girlstown attend public school. One requirement is that the girls attend church and transportation is provided each Sunday to the various churches.

Girlstown takes girls on referrals from juvenile officers, courts, schools, friends and parents.

"These are not girls who have fallen by the wayside," said Headstream. "They are girls who have been caught in circumstances over which they have no control."

Thus, Girlstown has been the answer for hundreds of girls.

After the girls complete high school, many decide to go to college or vocational school.

In September 1978, construction began on a cottage in Lubbock to be used for the older girls.

In addition to helping to support Girlstown, Headstream is also interested in Methodist Boys Ranch in Waco, Tex., which offers vocational training for boys.

The Kiwanis Club of Colorado City also helps to support the West Texas Boys Ranch in San Angelo and donates various items locally, including two wheelchairs which were recently donated to Root Memorial Hospital and Root Valley Fair Lodge.

Headstream was born in northern Arkansas and moved to Texas in 1918. In 1926, he moved to Mitchell County and has lived here ever since.

Headstream retired in 1965 from Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and since that time, he has been quite involved with Girlstown.

As I began to make plans to attend college, I felt a smaller town might be in order for me.

At first, San Angelo seemed a little too small to satisfy my tastes, but before long, I was adjusted to the city and enjoyed living there.

But, like El Paso, San Angelo began to out-grow me after a few years. Fast-food chain restaurants were going up more rapidly than I could sample their offerings. It was becoming more and more difficult to find a parking space at the grocery store and the five o'clock traffic was bringing back some frustrating memories.

As I neared graduation day from college, I began to seek job opportunities. My mother gasped when I told her that the Dallas Morning News and the Houston Chronicle had not received my application.

Instead, I told her I was considering sprouting roots in a place called Colorado City.

Her first reaction was that a Texan should never leave her home state. When I explained that Colorado City was in Texas and not in Colorado, she became more supportive.

It is possible that the city council's two month search for a new City Manager of Colorado City may come to an end Monday provided Steve Sundby of Littlefield accepts the position.

The council, meeting in special session at 8:30 Friday morning, voted 7-0 on a motion by J. O. Dockrey Jr., to hire Sundby at a salary of $15,000 per year plus $100 per month car allowance.

Before the meeting adjourned, Acting City Manager Brenda Tarter called Sundby to inform him of the council's decision. He stated that he would return the call Monday and give his answer as to whether he would accept the job.

Friday morning's meeting was devoted solely to the discussion of Sundby and much of the time was taken up with reports by Loyd Ledbetter, Rick Perkin and Dockrey on the trip they had made to Littlefield earlier this week to investigate Sundby.

Perkin opened by saying that everything he had heard about Sundby in Littlefield had been favorable. He noted that Sundby appeared to be dependable, that his character was above reproach and that his public relations with the community had been good.

Perkin further stated that Sundby seemed to have a good rapport with the city council, the police and the other departments of the city. The councilman finally added that, "He has good rapport with people his own age on up."

Dockrey agreed that Sundby seemed to relate well with older people and also added that people seemed to like him and hated to see him go.

Probably the strongest endorsement, however, came from Ledbetter who before the Littlefield trip had expressed serious doubts about Sundby.

Ledbetter stated that he had been very much against Sundby until he had talked to several people in Littlefield and has asked them point-blank, "Can Sundby handle a city?"

Ledbetter went on to say that a city councilmember had answered, "Yes Sundby would do a good job," and also the Mayor of Littlefield had stated that he felt that Sundby was ready for the responsibility of a city.

Ledbetter finally summed up his opinion on the matter by stating that, "I have reversed my position on him."

After brief further discussion the motion was made and passed to hire Sundby.

In a telephone call Friday afternoon, Sundby told the Record that he had been very impressed with Colorado City and its people but that he had declined to give an immediate answer over the telephone because he was considering several other job offers including a position with a corporation.

Sundby, 25, received his BBA degree from McMurry College, in Abilene in 1975. He received a Masters in Public Administration from Texas Tech University in December 1977.

Since January 1977, he has been employed as Assistant to the City Manager of Littlefield.

He has had the responsibility for formulating a sizeable part of the City of Littlefield's $1.4 million budget and has also had responsibilities in the area of personnel administration, purchasing, public works and public relations.

He has had experience in grants management having been responsible for the preparation of a grant to the Department of Housing and Urban Development in which Littlefield was awarded $368,000 of community development block grant funds.

Chamber Topic Is Youth Activities

A discussion on planned activities for youth will be one of a number of items on the agenda for the monthly board of directors meeting of the Colorado City area Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Monday.

Among other items to be discussed will be plans for the upcoming rodeo, a report on the annual banquet, report from directors on various committee activities and plans for the coming year.

Regarding the plans of activities of young people, a meeting was held Thursday between Chamber officials and representatives of classes at Colorado High and Colorado Middle School.

The students were asked what youth want to participate in and they made a number of suggestions.

Among the suggestions were a bike-a-thon, a jog-a-thon, skate-board park, some type of court yard at school for students to be able to eat outside, dances, roller skating, miniature golf, bowling alley, more benches at Rud-dick Park, a bike trail, a jogging trail and a recreation center.

There were two students from each grade, 6-12.

For some, the transition from living in a big city to moving to a small town can be rough.

For me, it was made easy. Having spent the majority of my life living in places where population signs with six figures prevail, I looked forward to moving to a place where I would be calculated as a larger percentage of the population.

Although I am a native Texan, I was raised in El Paso, the city on the border which struggles to be counted as part of Texas. Of course, as I grew up, so did the city of El Paso. After 17 years, it was beginning to smother me.

As I began to make plans to attend college, I felt a smaller town might be in order for me.

At first, San Angelo seemed a little too small to satisfy my tastes, but before long, I was adjusted to the city and enjoyed living there.

Terry Webb scored 25 points Friday night and the Westbrook Wildcats took another step toward the District 10-B Basketball title with a 56-48 win over Hermleigh.

Westbrook took a 12-9 lead after the first quarter in the contest and picked up 20 points in the second period to gain a 32-27 margin at halftime. The third period score was 38-34.

In addition to Petty's figures, Ricky Reyes and Daryl Rich each chipped in with 12 points for the Wildcats.

Westbrook, who took the first half title, has only three more games left, with Ira and Loraine on the road on Feb. 6 and 13 and with Hobbs at home on Feb. 9. They need only two more wins to clinch a playoff spot.

Westbrook's girls squad also had an easy time Friday as they raced past Hermleigh to the tune of 52-34.

Teresa Dorn and Sharla Rollins led the Wildcats with 16 and 13 points respectively.

Westbrook led after each quarter, having a 9-7 lead after the first quarter, a 25-9 margin at halftime and a 33-22 advantage after the third quarter buzzer.

Merkel tried to slow things down for the Colorado City Wolves Friday night but it didn't work and Coach Mike Hart's squad eased past the home squad 34-24 in a low scoring ballgame.

No one on either team reached double figures in the contest. Ronald Proctor led the Wolves with eight points and was followed by David Rivera with seven and Tony Truelove with six.

Colorado City led 8-6 after the first quarter and had an 18-13 advantage at halftime. The third period score was 24-19 in favor of the Wolves.

The win left Colorado City with a 4-1 mark in the second half of District 6-AA competition. They have two more contests left. On Tuesday night in Ballinger they play the league leading Bearcats who are unbeaten in district play and who walloped Coahoma by a 71-56 score Friday night.

Ballinger defeated the Wolves by one point in their first meeting in Colorado City on Jan. 12.

Colorado City's girls fell to the league leading Merkel girl's squad by a score of 63-29 Friday night. Anne Marcom led Colorado City in the game with 10 points.

Colorado City's junior varsity boys squad ran their mark to 13-3 Friday night with an easy 52-27 win over Merkel.

Scattering Seeds Or Planting Gardens?

Rev. Monte Wike,
Pastor
First Assembly Of God

The other day a new seed catalogue arrived in the mail. I thumbed the pages and saw portrayed in vivid color beautiful tomatoes, green beans, corn, and on farther, the flowers began, roses, iris, deliahs and others. I had been reading and meditating on Oral Robert's concept of Seed-Faith, to trust God as our Source, and then expect a miracle.

Suddenly, I saw the Bible clearly in a new light: EXPECTANCY! In the seed catalogue there was not one picture of a seed! No dried up peas, no naked beans, no infinite lettuce seeds, but the bright HOPE OF WHAT COULD BE if the seeds were planted with care in good soil, watered and cultivated carefully, and brought to fruition. They were selling seeds, by planting the expectation of a bountiful garden! The Bible is the Word of God, full of PROMISES portrayed in vivid color on the sacred pages. The clear picture of what could be!

Wouldn't it be nice to have a crop come up of prayers answered, needs met, happiness, wholesome loving, salvation and the blessings of God shared with his people? How to arrive at them?

Invest in seeds! Carefully plant, nurture and cultivate confession, prayer, tears, compassion, giving of dollars, sacrifice of self, interest in others. The end result of planting physical seed in the "Garden of Delights" is a spiritual harvest that God has splashed across the pages of that "heavenly catalogue."

An insight into this law of hope, expectancy of planting and eventually reaping a bountiful harvest is referred to in many places, but very clear in the following passage from 1 Corinthians 37, 38, 44:

"And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain; but God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body...It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body and there is a spiritual body."

Without sowing, there is no reaping of any kind, except what may come up accidentally, or grow wild, and is most often weeds that crowds out what we really desire to raise. The toil and expense of a garden is well known in the enjoyment of the delicious products. The same laws of toil and expense with expectation of positive and enjoyable end results work in exactly the same manner with God. We deliberately plant and invest in the work of God, should we not expect a crop of blessing?

p.m. in the Charlie Thompson Room of the Bank Annex.

Hostesses were Mrs. Kelvin McMillan and Miss Shirley Lewis.

The couple were married December 2 in Colorado City and are making their home at Lake Champion.

The refreshment table was overlaid with a pastel cloth and was accented with an arrangement of blue and white flowers. Pink punch was served from a cut glass punch bowl. The three tiered white cake was decorated with yellow rosebuds and was accented with a bride and groom on top.

Mrs. Janie Mosher, mother of the bride and Mrs. Walter Mitchell, mother of the groom were present for the shower.

MRS. AUDIE MITCHELL, Center, was honored with a bridal shower Tuesday in the Charles C. Thompson Room. Pictured with Mrs. Mitchell are left to right, Mrs. Walter Mitchell, mother of the groom, the honoree and Mrs. Janie Mosher, mother of the bride.

Beauty Tips

By JANIE FARDA
 Boots are a definite "in" in the fashion department for legs this year. But wearing boots all day can mean uncomfortable legs and feet by nightfall.

Since walking in boots tends to push the feet forward you may need a half size larger than usual. Getting a proper fit in boots may be the key to keeping your feet in circulation, (in more ways than one).

Lubricate your feet, especially around the heel, before putting on your boots. Using dusting powder on feet and legs will keep skin fresh. Always wear stockings or socks under your boots to absorb excess perspiration.

To freshen the inside of your boots after an all day wearing, sprinkle baking soda or borax into the boots before putting them away. To keep their shape stuff crumpled paper inside which also helps absorb excess moisture.

Lavish your feet by soaking them in warm water, gently scrubbing with a pumice stone, moisturizing, then put your feet up and relax for a while.

Jack & Leslie Perkins

They are now partners with Rick and Mack Perkin in Perkin's Apothecary & Mercantile (formerly Corner Drug). Jack and Leslie are natives of San Angelo where both were graduated from Central High School. Leslie is a graduate of Angelo State University while Jack is a graduate of the University of Houston and the University of Houston School of Pharmacy. Jack formerly managed a drug store in Big Lake and for the past three years he and Leslie owned and operated Nole's Drug in Roby. They came to Colorado City Oct. 1. They have two children, Lauren, 4, and Carrie, 16 months. Leslie is Rick Perkin's niece. The reason for the two apostrophes in the new name of the business is that Rick and Mack's last name is Perkin while Jack and Leslie's last name is Perkins, making it Perkin's. The reason for the name change to Perkin's Apothecary and Mercantile is to establish the fact that Perkin's is more than just a drug store -- it is a store with a wide variety of merchandise, especially in gift lines.

Meynig, Lamb Exchange Nuptials In Candlelight Ceremony At First Baptist

Susan Rae Meynig became the bride of Michael Don Lamb, Saturday, January 20 in the First Baptist Church in Colorado City.

The Rev. Bob Manning officiated during the 7 p.m. double ring vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Meynig of Colorado City. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lamb of Onalaska, Texas.

Two candleabras entwined with greenery were at the bottom of the stairs at the front of the church and a spiral candleabra was on either side of the archway. Behind the archway on the altar was a basket of white gladiolas and burgundy carnations.

Family pews were marked with burgundy bows. Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Pat McClure, pianist and Mrs. Sue Pierce, soloist. Music presented was "Wedding March," "If" and "Time In A Bottle."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white velvet. The straps were trimmed in white ostrich feathers around the top. The gown was accented with a floor length hooded cape of white velvet lined with white ostrich feathers. The dress was designed and made by the bride's mother.

She carried a cascade of cara mia roses, baby's breath and greenery.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Cary Coffee, sister of the bride, of Snyder. She wore a formal length dress of burgundy disco satin trimmed in white lace with a flounce. She carried a white fur muff.

Bridesmaids were Doris Hines and Vicki Lamb, sister of the groom. They wore dresses to match the matron of honor.

The bride presented her mother with a rose and a kiss on her way to the altar and presented the groom's mother a rose and a kiss after the ceremony.

After the vows were exchanged the couple lit the memory candle.

The bride's mother wore a floor length dress of rose quana knit. The groom's mother wore a floor length dress of navy quana knit. Both wore corsages of burgundy carnations.

For the traditional something old the bride carried a handkerchief from her great grandmother Mrs. Viola Russell. Something new was a white Bible presented to her from the groom's mother and something borrowed was a sixty year old necklace from Mrs. Jewel Wimberly. Her garter was her something blue.

She also carried pennies minted in the years of their births.

Ringbearers were Calyn Coffee, nephew of the bride and Chad and Cody Casey, groom's nephews. They wore blue velvet tuxedos with burgundy carnation boutonnieres. Each carried a white velvet pillow with burgundy streamers.

Jeff and Greg Skelton, nephews of the groom, were candle lighters. They wore blue tuxedos.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with a white shirt accented with ruffles edged in burgundy. He also wore a burgundy cara mia rose boutonniere.

Best man was Rodney Moore. Groomsmen were Roger Crawford and Cary Coffee. They wore black tuxedos.

Ushers were Larry Casey and Lanny Skelton, brothers-in-law of the groom.

There was a reception following the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. The three tiered cake was decorated with burgundy roses accented with two cupids kissing under an archway on top of the cake. Pineapple punch, German chocolate cake and coffee were served at the groom's table.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Jim Anderson, Mrs. Kenneth Lain, Doris Hines and Vicki Lamb.

For a honeymoon to Midland and San Angelo the bride wore a light green blouson dress accented with a cara mia rose corsage from her bouquet.

The groom is a 1974 graduate of Westbrook and is employed by Riley Drilling Co. The bride is a 1978 graduate of Colorado High and is employed at Montgomery Wards.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lamb,
