Her husband also underwent an involuntary ducking.

ROCKPORT, ARANSAS PASS TIE 12-12 IN HARD FOUGHT GAME

The Rockport Pirates and the Aransas Pass Panthers clashed here Friday night in one of the best games seen on the local gridiron this year, and ground out a 12-12 tie in 30AA play.

This makes two district wins and a tie for the Pirates and two district wins, a loss and a tie for the Panthers. If the two teams should tie for District championship, then the Panthers would be winners, as they made one more penetration past the twenty-yard line than did the Pirates. Ordinarily, penetrations and first downs do not count, but are recorded in tie games and used at the end of season if necessary.

A capacity crowd of around 3,000 watched the game in which the excellent defensive play of both teams kept backs from any big gains most of the time, and neither team scored in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Rockport made the first score of the game when Joe Hugenbery, right halfback, climaxed a 72-yard drive when he went over for six points from the three-yard line. A kick attempt for the extra point was blocked.

In the third quarter, the Pirates were pushed to their own one-yard line but held strong and, aided by two Aransas Pass fumbles, marched back 90 yards for a touchdown. Abe Sanchez, quarterback, made the second Rockport score from the six-yard line. An attempt to run the conversion failed.

Aransas Pass, scoreless at this point and 12 points behind, came back in the fourth quarter with a 71-yard drive to rack up six points when S. Harvey, right halfback, drove through center the last 16 yards for a touchdown. A kick attempt for the conversion was blocked.

With one minute left to play, Aransas Pass evened the score, 12-12, when J. McDonald, Panther quarterback, faded back to pass but wound up making a zig-zig run for 25 yards to the score when he couldn't find a receiver. The extra point that would have won the game for Aransas Pass was lost on a penalty for illegal procedure.

Shrimp Landings Rise, Prices Drop Slightly

Domestic landings of headless shrimp at Texas ports in September, 1963, amounted to 6,800,000 pounds, which was 1,200,000 pounds greater than the same month in 1962, and brought landings for the first nine months of this year to 30,700,000 pounds. This, according to Orman H. Farley, U. S. Fish and Wildlife statistician, is 6,700,000 pounds more than last year.

Current September landings include 1,700,000 pounds of white shrimp.

The following are the figures for the separate ports involved:

Port Arthur - Sabine, 508,000 pounds in 1963 287,800 pounds in 1962, with a total nine months landings set at 1,348,000 pounds. In the same order, Galveston-Seabrook, 818,700 pounds, 771,700 pounds, and 3,348,000 pounds; Freeport, 1,838,400 pounds, 1,295,300 pounds, 7,413,000 pounds;

Matagorda - Palacios, 211,500 pounds, 215,900 pounds, 583,300 pounds; Port Lavaca-Port O'Connor-Seadrift, 327,100 pounds, 195,300 pounds, 913,100 pounds; Aransas Pass-Rockport, 1,529,000 pounds, 1,484,800 pounds, 7,758,100 pounds; Brownsville - Port Isabel, 1,595,700 pounds, 1,383,400 pounds, and 9,502,200 pounds.

Farley said trawlers from the Texas ports worked waters from the Mexican boundary to south of Cameron, La. Vessels working the offshore brown shrimp fishery were averaging about 500 pounds per 12 hours fishing effort, with most of the boats working the area from Aransas Pass to southeast of Galveston.

Weather kept vessels from making lengthy trips, but some fishermen reported catches as high as 1200 pounds per night. White shrimp fishing in Texas bays and inshore along the Gulf was fairly good, Farley said. Bay catches ranged from 30 to 400 pounds in six hours, and Gulf catches averaged about 600 pounds in 12 hours. Greatest white shrimp poundage came from Galveston Bay, while over 90% of the Gulf catch of white shrimp was taken between Galveston and Cameron, La.

The ex-vessel price of shrimp dropped again for the third successive month. Box graded 15-20 count shrimp brought 76-82 cents a pound, with a few above and below this range, while prices paid for other sizes except 21/25's remained steady after the first week of September.

Crab landings of 80,000 pounds were the lowest in the past five years.

Weather conditions were extremely unsettled during the month, with Hurricane Cindy hitting the Texas coast between Freeport and Sabine Pass with minor floods and slight wind damage. Extensive damage from flooding was confined to Southwest Louisiana and northeast Texas, some 30 miles inland. About six vessels were slightly damaged as the result of the storm, Farley said.

Harry Carter Resigns, To Be Honored Monday

On November 1, at the age of 76, Harry Carter of St. Peter's Episcopal Church is resigning, after many years spent as lay minister, during which time he endeared himself not only to members of his congregation, but also to members of the community at large.

"The Right Reverend Everett H. Jones, D.D., is anxious as bishop of the diocese to change this mission to a parish basis," Mr. Carter said, "in order for the members here to have a resident priest in charge who who will be able to officiate at Holy Communion and carry out the other duties of a priest.

"The Bishop reminded me that I have been here four years longer than was possible for any ordained minister, as they are obliged to retire at 72. Also, he said that this has been the first time in his ministry as Bishop of West Texas that he has not been short of clergy, and several more will be graduating from the seminary next spring."

On Sunday morning, Nov. 3, morning prayer and a sermon at nine a.m. will take the place of the usual evening service of communion, and Mr. Carter will officiate and preach.

On Monday, Nov. 4, Bishop Jones will be at St. Peter's Church at 7:00 p.m. to administer the Rite of Confirmation, to officiate at Holy Communion, and to preach the sermon. At this service the semi-annual collection for the United Thank Offering of the Women of the Church will be presented at the altar by Mrs. Fred Huffmeyer.

At 8:30 p.m., the Bishop will join members and friends at the Bishop Elliot Conference Center on Copano Bay, to preside at the celebration of Mr. Carter's twelfth anniversary as Lay Minister of St. Peter's Church. Master of ceremonies will be the Reverend Tom Morris, Rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, Corpus Christi. Arrangements for the celebration are being handled by the Women of the Church, and they extend a cordial invitation to everyone to attend and honor Mr. Carter.

On Tuesday morning, the Bishop will preside at a Bishop's Committee meeting, after he and Mrs. Jones are guests at a breakfast at Sandollar Motel, where they will stay during their visit.

Photographic Team Due Here Thursday On Boat Publicity

A photographic team from Norsworthy-Mercer, Inc., of Dallas, is due here today (Thursday) for an extended series of pictures dealing with the Rockport area from the standpoint of boating.

Also due at the same time are a number of people from the Lone Star Boat Company, one of the largest manufacturers of outboard boats in America, for whom most of the pictures are being made, and who will use the pictures in their nation-wide publicity.

Their choice of this area is noteworthy, for in the past such pictures have shown the seacoast elsewhere than in South Texas and inland lakes, none of which have been characteristic of the bays of Texas.

There will be seven or eight men from the advertising agency, and their schedule calls for photographic work in the area from Thursday through the following Monday.

The Lone Star commercials will be filmed in this area; a sequence for popular boating will feature tarpon fishing at Port Aransas.

Two Wrecks Here Tuesday, One Hurt

There were two wrecks in Rockport Tuesday. In the first, which happened about 2:30 p.m., Capt. F. Iansen, 86, of Fulton apparently lost control of his car at the intersection of Highway 35 and Nopal, and ran off the culvert there.

He suffered a cut on his forehead, an injury to his right leg, and hit the wheel with his chest, causing other injuries. Taken to Spohn Hospital, Corpus Christi, his condition was listed as critical upon arrival.

The second wreck took place Tuesday night, about 7 o'clock. Austin Smith Simmons, 79, of Chickasha, Okla., driving a 1962 Plymouth, apparently pulled across Austin Street meaning to enter the Yacht Basin Motel entrance, and was hit by a '55 Chevrolet pickup, driven by Bill James Pendley, who was driving south. Mrs. Pendley was also in the truck with her husband.

Pendley suffered minor injuries to one of his knees, but, as far as is known, no one else was hurt.

LIGHTENING STRIKES TANK, BOAT HERE

Lightening struck an oil tank and a boat here last Friday, during the heavy rain, and the oil tank exploded and was burned to the ground.

The boat belonged to Charles Knapp, and little damage was done to it; the tank was one of two belonging to the Graridge Corporation and had about 80 barrels of oil in it at the time the lightening hit.

The shock caused it to explode and burn, fireman from Rockport, Fulton and Lamar answered the call.

Mustang District Camporee Nov. 2-3

Between 125 and 150 Scouts of the Mustang District are expected to attend the 1963 Camporee to be held Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 2-3, at Goose Island State Park.

The camporee is for all troops currently registered in the Mustang District, according to Dr. Homer F. Elliot. Troops will be assigned campsites at the parking area, Dr. Elliot said, and all troop gear will be packed in to the campsite. There are no exceptions to this, he said, and if the gear can't be carried it should be left at home.

Each Scout Master or Adult Leader will register his troop at the parking area headquarters, Dr. Elliot said, and will also turn in a copy of the troop's Saturday evening menu at the same time. Troops will camp by patrols in the areas assigned. Boy leaders will be in charge of the patrols at all times. During scout craft events, patrols will be under leadership of patrol leaders. One adult leader must be with each troop at all times.

Headquarters will open at 10.00 a.m., Saturday, and troops may bring sack lunches for their noon meals. The water supply is adequate, Dr. Elliot said. Wood will be available for fires.

The camporee will be under direction of the Copane Chapter, Order of the Arrow, Steve Hatfield, Chief, and Dr. H. F. Elliot, advisor.

There will be a camporee patch available, Dr. Elliot said, at 25 cents each, and leaders will be asked to purchase all patches for their boys at the camporee.

Visitors will be welcome for the camp fire entertainment, from 7:30 p.m. until 9 p.m., Saturday. At this time, the Copane Chapter of the Order of the Arrow will present authentic Indian dances in costume.

The schedule for Saturday is as follows:

Troops check in, pack in to the campsites and set up camp, starting at 10 a.m. A Scoutmaster's meeting will be held at 1 p.m. From 2 p.m. until 7 p.m., patrols will take part in the seven scout events.

Patrols will be awarded ribbons on these. Each event will be worth 100 points, Dr. Elliot said. Any patrol scoring 500 or more points will receive an "Award of Merit and Honor"; patrols scoring between 350 and 500 points will have their ribbon marked "Award of Merit"; and those patrols scoring less than 350 points will have their ribbon marked with a simple "Award."

The events for which these will be given are the flag relay, for which each patrol should bring their own patrol flag; the chariot race; flag pole lashing (all equipment furnished); tent pitching (all equipment furnished); first aid, for which each patrol should have its own patrol first aid kit; compass course; and fence climbing.

No patrol taking part in these events may have more than eight contestants on the competing team. In some of the events, Dr. Elliot said, some of the scouts may have to take part more than once, if there are not eight scouts in the patrol. No senior scouts may participate. All Order of the Arrow scouts who are troop members will take part in the events with their own patrols.

Following these events Saturday, patrols will cook and eat supper, and the camp fire events start at 7:30 p.m. Taps Saturday night comes at 10:30 o'clock.

On Sunday patrols will cook and eat breakfast between 6:30 a.m. and 8 a.m. Later Catholic and Protestant Church Services will be conducted at the camp. Awards ceremonies will take place at 10 a.m., at the campfire area.

At 11 a.m. the scouts will break break camp and pack out.

There will be a number of awards given on both troop and patrol basis. Troops will be judged on their camping ability with three types of ribbon awards, and will be classed proficient, satisfactory, or participating. These awards will be scored on the following basis:

Campsite arrangement (by patrols,) 30 points; Saturday night menu, 20 points; meal service, with boys doing the cooking, 10 points; participation by troops in camp fire stunts, 10 points; and decipline, especially after taps, 30 points.

Eighty-five or more points will earn a proficient rating; 60-84 points are required for a "satisfactory" ribbon; below 60 points, troops will merely be given a participating ribbon.

Mrs. Manch Brundrett Celebrates Her 92nd Birthday November 5

Mrs. Manch Brundrett well remembers the days when people did things for themselves instead of heading for the corner drug store.

Born Lydia McRae in Old Lamar 92 years ago on Nov. 5, she has lived most of her life in and around Rockport. Her paternal grandfather, Archibald McRae, was a Scotchman. Her mother's father was an Irishman by the name of Humphrey Heard, and descendents of both of them still live in Aransas, Bee and Refugio counties.

Lydia McRae was a year old before she was baptized in the little Presbyterian church that used to stand in Lamar, which was exactly the same age as she was and, on the same day another Lamar youngster, J. W. Brundrett, later to become her husband, was also christened.

The McRae's were God-fearing church people and Lydia's father was an elder in the church when the congregation met in St. Mary's Star of the Sea, before the Presbyterian church was built.

Circuit riding ministers of all faiths stayed at the McRae home, and all used the same church, but this was blown away in the great storm of 1886, which also ripped the limbs from the great oak trees that shaded it. This caused widespread grief, Mrs. Brundrett once said, because it was a landmark known for miles around.

She and her husband were married in 1891, and soon after they were married moved to Blackjack Ranch on Billmott Bayou, where they lived for 20 years.

Life was strenuous on the Blackjack Peninsula Ranch, where the Aransas Wildlife Refuge is now located. One year, Mrs. Brundrett once said, they branded 900 calves on the ranch. Before the children were born, she helped her husband around the place, riding side saddle with her long riding habit trailing the ground.

They grounds their own corn; milked 25 cows; and churned the butter in an old crockery churn with a wooden dasher. They couldn't keep the butter long, so they used it to season all their food, and they always had buttered grits for supper.

Each year, as a matter of course, Mrs. Brundrett canned hundreds of pounds of green grapes, huckleberries, dewberries, corn and other vegetables. They needed plenty of food because in those days people traveling through the country stopped at the nearest house, and sometimes remained for several days.

About once a month, the Brundretts made a trip to old Lamar or Rockport in their little sail boat, to buy what groceries they needed. Election day was always an event in the Brundrett household, and "Mr. Manch," as he was called, was always in demand to help hold the election at Faulkner, 12 miles from the ranch. Mrs. Brundrett and the babies always accompanied him in the high two-wheeled gig which he drove.

The family also liked to hunt at Carlos City, which was about half way between the ranch and Lamar. They'd load a big feather bed in the wagon for the youngsters, with food and cooking pots, and sometimes would stay for a week, hunting deer and wild turkeys.

At the ranch, dominoes was a favorite recreation after supper, and sometimes there was a dance or social at Lamar, which they would attend. When the children were old enough for school, a governess was employed, but a little later two more families, the George and John Brundretts, moved to the peninsula, and a small school was built. "Mr. Manch" was one of the three trustees.

In 1917, the Brundretts moved to Rockport, and Mrs. Brundrett still spends part of her time here, when she isn't visiting children and grandchildren in various parts of the state. Her husband died in 1940.

Seven of her eight children are still living. They include a son, Elmo, of Rockport, and six daughters, Mrs. George Sorenson, Palacios, Mrs. Fred Mires, Taft; Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Rockport; Mrs. D. L. Kight, Fulton; Mrs. Ingle Turner, Rockport; and Mrs. W. A. Kell, Premont.

Her grandchildren and great-grandchildren number more than 40.

This clipping when presented at the Cove Drive In box office will admit R. M. Hornsby and guest to attend the show on Sunday, Monday or Tuesday, of this week, free of charge.

'Sweetheart' from Day of Birth Is National March of Dimes Girl

"She was a sweetheart from the day she was born."

This is the way her mother describes winsome, bright little Mary Lou Graves, 5, of Flint, Mich., who has been named the 1964 National March of Dimes Child.

Blonde, blue-eyed, vivacious Mary Lou is indeed a sweetheart, but one who has had more than her share of sadness. She was born with a birth defect called spina bifida, which means that the base of her spine was not closed properly. At the age of one month, she underwent an operation to correct this condition. Since then, Mary Lou has fought to be able to walk, and sometimes, she has had to fight to live.

Today, the lower part of her body is paralyzed, and she is extremely vulnerable to infections. In spite of this, Mary Lou is a cheerful little girl determined not to miss any of the pleasures of growing up.

Proud of the fact that she lives in a state known as the auto capital of the world, Mary Lou tells visitors that her wheel chair is a "Kadlac." She has a frisky puppy named Prince, and she scurries after him as fast as Kadlac's wheels can take her. She tags along after her mother, helping to sweep the floor, dust the furniture and dry the silverware.

One of her favorite jobs is baby sitting for her two younger sisters and brother who were all born without defects.

Favorite hairdresser of Mary Lou Graves, 1964 National March of Dimes Child, is her mother, Mrs. Raymond Graves of Flint, Mich.

March of Dimes Symbol

The National Foundation-March of Dimes has chosen Mary Lou to symbolize the 250,000 children born with a serious birth defect each year in this country.

Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation, explains the problem of birth defects, and the voluntary health organization's attack on it, in this way:

"Why did something go wrong when Mary Lou's tiny body was being formed? Why is a seriously defective child born to one out of 10 American families?

"Can more of these children be helped with present medical knowledge?

"What more must we know to prevent this from happening to babies yet unborn?

"Simply stated, these are the questions for which hundreds of March of Dimes-supported scientists seek answers."

Because the answers which come from scientific research will come too late to help children already afflicted like Mary Lou, the March of Dimes is fighting the problem of birth defects in still another way—through a growing nationwide network of March of Dimes hospital centers seeking the most effective treatment for these children. Currently, there are 44 of these centers across the country.

Grateful for Help

Mary Lou may be unaware of all the national and international efforts to help solve the birth defects mystery, but her parents are not. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Graves are grateful to the Genesee County (Mich.) Chapter of The National Foundation for financial aid to help with Mary Lou's frequent hospitalizations.

"The March of Dimes is the greatest friend we ever had," Mrs. Graves says. "The March of Dimes helped us pay for hospital bills, medications, the wheel chair and other necessary items."

Mary Lou wants to be a nurse when she grows up, Mrs. Graves reports. "Wouldn't it be wonderful if she could be?" the March of Dimes Child's mother says. "Then maybe she could pay back some of the kindness shown to her. Until then, my husband and I can only say thank you to everyone who contributes to the March of Dimes, because more knowledge might mean more medical techniques that may help our Mary Lou."

As March of Dimes President O'Connor points out, the ultimate aim of knowledge gathered from this scientific research is to prevent birth defects from harming thousands of tiny bodies not yet born.

BROWNIE TROOP 69

Brownie Troop 69 met on Thursday, Oct. 24 at the Girl Scout Little House. The girls were divided into five groups for roll call and Brownie gold. We then made a Brownie Ring and planned a Hallowe'en party for next week. We also talked about selling nuts and the nuts were passed out to the girls.

The remainder of the time was spent learning Girl Scout songs. There were two new girls present, Valerie Harwick and Carol DeKoch.

CADETTE TROOP 75

The meeting was opened with a flag ceremony. We went over the laws and the promise for our new member, Bonnetta Simmons. We then practiced knot tying.

Rose Ann Elliot served refreshments to Bonnetta Simmons, Margie McNorton, Laura Moody, Cheryl Lichte, Mary Hulett, Yolando Sanchez, Renee Tuer, Mary Sorenson, Nora Heimbuch, Mrs. Sparks and Mrs. Elliot.

Patrol leader Nora Heimbuch assigned us the next two chapters in our handbook to read over the weekend.

Rose Ann Elliot, Reporter

WANTED BY THE FBI

EDWARD HOWARD MAPS

Edward Howard Maps, "beatnik," firearms expert, college graduate, artist and sculptor, who is charged with brutally slaying his wife and four-month-old daughter, is one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives."

Firemen attempting to extinguish a blaze in Maps' Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, home on January 21, 1962, found the infant dead of smoke inhalation, and Maps' young wife dying of a fractured skull and cerebral hemorrhage. At least ten fires had been set in the home and the gas oven was turned on.

Maps was missing but allegedly telephoned two neighbors shortly after the crimes were discovered, threatening one with being "next." A Federal warrant charging Maps with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for murder and arson was issued on January 23, 1962, at Scranton, Pennsylvania.

Generally known as an artist and sculptor, he is a nonconformist who shuns ordinary footwear, going barefoot in the summer and wearing sandals without socks during the winter. A sloppy dresser of unkempt and untidy appearance, he was discharged from the Marine Corps as a schizophrenic.

A white American, born on June 29, 1922, at Passaic, New Jersey, Maps is 5' 8" tall, weighs 170 pounds, has a ruddy complexion, broad shoulders, a barrel-chested build and is unusually strong. His eyes are brown, he has bushy, curly graying-black hair and sometimes wears a full beard and mustache.

Consider Maps armed and extremely dangerous. Please immediately notify the nearest FBI office of any information concerning his whereabouts.

Mr. and Mrs. Leyton Brundrett and daughters, Amy Jane and Jill, of Portland, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Brundrett in Lamar.
