Hull Warns Again On Trade; Italian Columns Push On

Neutrality Of U. S. Is Cited In Statement

Third Warning To American Business Is Issued Friday By Secretary; Cites Gain In Exports To Nations

League Gratified

General Spirit Of Neutrality Is Being Violated, State Department Head Declares; Labels "War Materials"

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Renewed government suasion to halt American trade with warring Italy and Ethiopia was applied today by Secretary Hull in another warning to exporters against sale of combat commodities to those countries.

Asserting there had been a "considerable increase" in American exports of oil, copper, trucks, tractors, scrap iron and steel, Hull flatly labeled such goods "war materials," and added.

Contrary To Policy

"This class of trade is directly contrary to the policy of this government as announced in official statements of the president and the secretary of state, as it is also contrary to the general spirit of the recentneutrality act."

The statement, issued only a few days before the League of Nations' economic and financial sanctions program is scheduled to become effective against Italy, constituted the third warning to American business men since President Roosevelt admonished them on October 5 that any transactions they might have with the belligerent countries would be at their own risk.

Received With Gratification

In London, Hull's statement was received with gratification in official quarters. It was said there that while the action of the United States had been awaited with interest, it was considered too early to say whether further sanction steps would be taken against Italy by the league.

It has been known for some time that shipments of unidentified classes of goods were being continued to Italy notwithstanding the government's efforts to discourage

National Government Headed By Stanley Baldwin Keeps Control In England; MacDonald, Son Defeated

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 15. — Stanley Baldwin's national government retained control of Great Britain's destinies in the general elections and prepared tonight to continue a firm stand in efforts to halt the Italo-Ethiopian war.

But Ramsay MacDonald, who founded the national government four years ago, was dropped overboard from the ship of state.

Exceeds Forecasts

At 7:50 p. m., with only 19 scattered districts unreported, the government had a commanding majority in the house of commons of 242. It captured 419 seats in the new parliament, exceeding most all forecasts.

The combined opposition won 176 seats, with one independent also marked up.

MacDonald, Son Defeated

The entire cabinet except for MacDonald and his son, Malcolm, were reelected. They had held their posts of lord president of the council and secretary for the colonies, respectively, following upon the veteran MacDonald's resignation as prime minister several months ago.

Stamford Child Killed In Fall From Bale Of Cotton

STAMFORD, Nov. 15. (AP)—Cordea Britton, 6-year-old daughter of Mrs. Arnette Britton, was killed Friday afternoon when she fell from a bale of cotton on which she was playing in a gin yard near her home here. Her neck and back were broken and she was otherwise injured.

The child's body was found by a farmer. She apparently had been dead only a few minutes.

Besides her mother she is survived by a sister and a brother.

Snow Swirls In Mid-West Areas Friday

Heavy Soggy Snows Fall Over Large Area; Mercury Hits 16 Degrees Below In Town In Minnesota

(By The Associated Press)

The season's first major snow storm swirled through the middlewest Friday night a boon to winter crops and a menace to highway traffic.

Heavy, soggy snows, in some cases turned to sleet, fell from Minnesota to the southwest. Generally, temperatures remained above freezing and snow melted as it hit the ground. An exception was Crookston, Minn., where the mercury sank to 16 below.

Biting Cold Forecast

Biting cold that preceded the storm in most states was moderating, but a wet week-end in prospect.

Sleet coated highways—general in Minnesota, parts of Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa and as far south as Texas—were blamed for one death. Melvin Smith was killed when his truck skidded near Salina, Kas.

The Kansas City area's first snow assumed major proportions. The weather bureau said the downfall probably would continue through most of Saturday. Airplanes continued to operate out of Kansas City, but many were hours behind schedule.

Need For Action On Mishaps Cited

CHICAGO, Nov. 15. (AP)—Stern enforcement of traffic laws was demanded today by President Thomas P. Henry of the American Automobile association to cut the nation's motor vehicle death toll in half.

He told delegates at the annual convention of the organization:

"We must stop talking and thinking in terms of 'safety weeks' 'slogans,' and 'pledges' and other claptrap phrases. We must have a continuing program of intelligent and resolute action.

"I firmly believe that if we set out in earnest on selective enforcement and rule off the road those who refuse to accept their responsibility at the wheel, we shall within one year cut our fatality toll in half."

Condifent Columns Of Il Duce Advance Toward Jijiga And Harar; Fate Of Railroad Hinges On Coming Battle

Italian Airplanes Strafe Camp Of Ethiopians South Of Makale; Casualties In Encounter Counted

(By The Associated Press)

CONFIDENT columns of Italian fighters pushed up from the south of Ethiopia Friday, believing Jijiga and Harar, key defenses of Emperor Haile Selassie's central empire, almost within their grasp.

One column drove along the high valley of the river Fagan following a sharp battle Thursday, Italian war correspondents reported. Col. Maletti and his native "Flying Dubats" were said to be only 28 miles from their "immediate objective."

CONFER ON SAFETY

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 15. (AP) — All foreign diplomats in Addis Ababa conferred today with young Crown Prince Asfa Wossan regarding measures for the protection of nearly 10,000 foreigners still remaining in Ethiopia. The possibility of unrest and disturbances among the natives is becoming more pressing as the Italian army continues to advance from both the south and the north toward more populous centers.

Jijiga to answer telephoned pleas for aid from that city. He will take personal command of the warriors massed in defense of Jijiga, where the major battle of the war may be fought.

On this defense will depend not only the fate of the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railroad, north of Harar and Jijiga, but the success or failure of Italy's great drive to unite her colonies of Eritrea, on the north, and Somaliland, on the south, with occupied territory.

Planes Drop Bombs

In the north the aerial "eyes" of Italy's armies spied out what aviators believed to be the encampment fo the slippery Ras Seyoum, Ethiopian northern chieftain, south of Makale.

They dropped a rain of bombs on the great red tent that furnished an excellent target in the midst of the encampment, but most of the Ethiopians apparently escaped.

On the northeast an Ethiopian force fled south after ambushing

One Killed, Two Critically Injured In Henderson Crash

HENDERSON, Nov. 15. (AP)—M. R. (Mack) Hammonds, 47, of Springhill, Texas, was instantly killed in an automobile accident today. His daughter, Hazel, 22, and Mrs. Ernestine Holden, 40, both of Springhill, were critically injured.

The accident occurred when the car in which they were riding was hit broadside by the tender of a Missouri Pacific locomotive, as it was backing across the Henderson-Kilgore highway, six miles north of Henderson.

Neither Miss Hammonds or Mrs. Holden are expected to survive, according to hospital attendants.

Few Restraints Placed On Buyer And Drinker By Texas Liquor Control Act

Bank Is Robbed Of $3,000 As President Explains How New Tear Gas System Is Operated

CHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 15. (AP)—Three men held up and robbed the Chester National bank of nearly $3,000 today while the president was explaining to a friend how the tear gas system, installed to prevent robberies, works.

The robbery was over so quickly that no one had time to set off the gas.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of three articles explaining the Texas liquor control act.)

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 15. — Texas' first liquor control act after more than 16 years of statewide prohibition places few restraints upon the buyer and drinker. It is predicated upon state supervision and control of those trafficking in liquor.

An outstanding restraint upon the buyer, rebounding from a regulation on the dealer, prohibits sale of spiritous liquor by the drink. The inhibition complies with a repeal amendment stipulation against return of the "open saloon."

Residents in 212 of Texas' 254 counties are provided a method for legalizing liquor now banned by local option. In the other 42 counties liquor became legal by repeal Aug. 26 for they were wet when statewide prohibition became effective in 1919.

Must Have Permit

Drinkers in wet and dry areas alike, however, may not legally buy liquor immediately. All liquor traffic in wet areas is prohibited until license is issued for the act specifies as an offense sale of liquor without a permit.

Observers believe a three-member board appointed by the governor will need several days to organize. They may issue temporary 90-day permits to shorten the "arid" period. Possession is not outlawed during the interim.

Face Delay

A minimum delay of 15 days faces repealists in dry areas who are in a hurry to wipe out local option prohibition. Commissioners courts may initiate the movement on their own motion tomorrow by ordering a county-wide election to legalize:

(1) Four per cent beer and wine;
(2) Fourteen per cent beer and wine, or
(3) All types of liquor of any alcoholic content.

If commissioners delay, 10 per

Joint Church Session Voted By Conference

Northwest Texas Methodists Approve Plan Adopted By Other Conferences To Hold Meeting Next Year

(By The Associated Press)

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 15.—All five conferences of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, had approved tonight a plan for a joint meeting of the conferences next year in some city to be designated by the church's centennial committee.

The Northwest Texas conference, last to act, approved the plan today. Church leaders here expressed the opinion the centennial body would accept the invitation of Dallas to meet there, where the central exposition will be held in celebration of Texas' hundredth birthday.

To Aid In Revival

The conference voted also to cooperate in interdenominational revival services planned in connection with the expositon at Dallas.

A session of the bishop's cabinet and committee meetings occupied the delegates this afternoon. Presiding elders of the nine districts reported salary and benevolence collections during the last year were materially greater than during 1934.

Mrs. Martha A. Rogers, 93, of Shamrock, a church member for 81 years, addressed the conference. She pleaded for a return to the family altar and for more interest in prayer meetings. She has been attending conference meetings since 1886.

A motion to accept Lubbock's invitation to hold the 1937 meeting in the South Plains city was tabled, with the recommendation of Bishop Hiram A. Boaz that it be considered seriously.

More Of Long's Allies Indicted

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15. (AP)—The federal court grand jury here today returned indictments against Seymour Weiss, political treasurer for the late Huey P. Long, Mike M. Moss and Joseph P. Meyers on six counts charging conspiracy to defraud and obstruct the operation of the treasury department.

Three of the counts charged those named with attempts to defraud the government and the other three charged a conspiracy to evade on the part of the Hartfig-Moss Insurance company.

Weiss, manager of the Roosevelt hotel where Senator Long kept his headquarters during his political life, already is under indictment on charges of attempting to evade and defeat the federal income tax law.

Objective In View, Idahoan Avers Friday

All Direct Questions About His Own Presidential Plans Parried In Conference With Newspapermen

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Senator Borah of Idaho thrust himself further into the political picture of 1936 today, announcing he had "a definite objective in mind," but parrying all direct questions as to whether he sought the Republican presidential nomination.

In an extraordinary press conference, however, the Idahoan caught the ear of trained political observers with an assertion that friends of Herbert Hoover were organizing in his behalf.

Friends Working For Him

"I do not know what is in his own mind," said Borah of Hoover, in answer to a question, "but I do know his friends are working for his nomination."

With considerable adroitness, Borah stood off repeated efforts by expert questioners to solve with a direct statement the enigma of his own aims and aspirations.

Would Not Elaborate

Readily he conceded that he had "definitely determined on a policy." But he would elaborate no further than to say:

"I have a definite objective in mind, and I'm going to conform my tactics to that objective."

More than one of the half a hundred newspapermen present, nevertheless, emerged from Borah's office feeling he had strengthened the intimation he dropped upon his arrival here last night—that under certain circumstances he might enter the presidential primaries.

For one thing, the veteran independent Republican revealed that in the weeks before congress convenes he intends to make Washington the headquarters for a more or less ambitious speaking campaign in the east.

Among other things dropped by Borah during his half-hour with the press were:

A belief that if the election were held this year President Roosevelt would carry the west.

That he will announce his "objective whenever I think it propitious."

That he supposes he will go to the national convention as a delegate from Idaho.

Officials Sign Trade Treaty

Secretary Of State Hull And Prime Minister King Are Participants In Ceremony In White House Friday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The new Canadian trade treaty was signed today with President Roosevelt pronouncing it a harbinger of better times in both the United States and its northern neighbor.

In an unusual White House ceremony typifying the importance attached to the pact, Secretary Hull signed for the United States and Prime Minister King for Canada, while the president, the cabinet and a group of Canadian and American officials looked on.

First Since 1866

"The trade agreement which has just been signed between the United States and Canada places the trade relations between the two countries on a basis of mutual agreement for the first time since 1866," the president said.

"I am happy to have a part in removing this anomoly in the relations between two countries which are united by so many bonds of friendship and common heritage.

"The signing of this agreement marks the reversal of the trend of the last two decades toward undue

Bullish Tendencies Continue In Stock Market Again Friday

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. (AP)—Bullish tendencies continued in today's stock market and numerous prices edged into new high territory for the past four years despite considerable profit taking in some of the recently buoyant leaders.

The news from the various economic fronts was still sufficiently impressive to furnish buying stimulus in many selected isues. Further cheerfulness over official assurances that the "breathing spell" for business would be maintained was a helpful influence.

Plea Stirs Storm

Plea of Miss Anna Becker, above, that a doctor end her life "in the name of mercy" stirred emphatic protests from physicians that the act would be murder, legally and ethically. TO COOPERATE

COLUMBUS, Nov. 15. (AP)—Officers said tonight they would cooperate fully with a Texas Ranger being sent here to investigate the lynching of two negro boys, but would not make detailed comment.

A court of inquiry into the lynching has been tentatively set by local officers for next Tuesday. Sheriff Frank Hoegemeyer and Deputy Berry Townsend, from whom the negroes were taken, said at the time they did not recognize any of the "mob of several hundred persons.

the public safety commission, to make an investigation into the lynchings at Columbus," Governor Allred said.

"Chief Phares has ordered Ranger E. M. Davenport to proceed to Columbus at once and assist in this investigation."

The negroes were taken from the custody of officers returning them from Houston to Columbus for trial in connection with the slaying of a white girl and hanged to trees.

A statement of a county official that he believed the lynching to be an "expression of the will of the people" was challenged from many sources.

Chas. Ulrickson Dies In Dallas

DALLAS, Nov. 15. (AP)—Charles E. Ulrickson, 63, best known for his work in drafting an improvement program for the city which was the basis of a $23,900,000 bond issue voted in 1927, died at his home tonight after a long illness.

Ulrickson formerly was vice president and general manager of the Trinity Portland Cement company. He came here in 1916 from Jackson Mich., where he was superintendent of public works and later assistant postmaster. A native of Norway, he carried on his adopted land with the vigor of his race and many civic improvements here in recent years are attributed to his foresight.

TEACHER NEAR DEATH

TEMPLE, Nov. 15. (AP)—Physicians gave Miss Evelyn Royalty, dramatic arts teacher at Mary Hardin-Baylor college at Belton, "one chance in 1,000" to live late today as the result of an automobile accident last night.

Three vertebrae were broken, her spinal cord crushed and her left leg broken in several places. She also received head injuries.

Third Special Session Seen For January

Liquor Control Law Becomes Effective At Once; Two Members Of Board Are Appointed On Friday

Plan Regulation

Liquor Law Cannot Become Operative Until Details Of Administration Are Worked Out; Status In Doubt

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 15.—Governor Allred today signed bills restricting liquor sales to unbroken packages and licensing automobile drivers, studied a bill establishing a system of old age pensions and said he believed a third special session of the legislature would be called in January to raise revenues.

The liquor control law became effective at once.

Appoints Two Members

Governor Allred appointed two of the three member control board who will meet in Austin tomorrow to organize formally. They were D. B. Benson of Bowie, a dry, chairman, and D. J. Decherd, of Flatonia, a wet. The third appointment was tendered a prominent Texan who delayed acceptance immediately.

The governor ordered Orville S. Carpenter, state auditor, and R. B. Anderson, tax commissioner, to study the act so regulations could be prescribed and collection of dealers' license fees and taxes started with a minimum of delay.

Could Be Improved

"The Texas liquor control act is evidently a compromise bill," the governor said. "It is not perfect, of course, and could be improved upon in many respects. Unquestionably it is the best bill that could have been passed under all the circumstances with the wide conflict of opinion prevailing in the legislature.

"I am impelled to sign it because of the total present lack of regulation and the tremendous loss of revenue."

Revenues $10,000 Daily

Revenues from liquor sales and license fees were estimated at $10,000 daily.

Benson is a practicing attorney and is 40 years old. Decherd, 45, has been a general merchant 30 years.

Jewish Rights In Germany Reduced

BERLIN, Nov. 15. (AP)—Jews were stripped of all political rights by the Nazi government today and were forbidden to marry gentiles.

Official decrees put into effect the sweeping citizenship and racial laws approved by the reichstag at its Nurnberg meeting in September.

Thus Germany's Jews are deprived of the right to vote, to hold public office or even to be employed by the government.

Only a special dispensation from Adolf Hitler himself can exempt Jews and part Jews from these restrictions. The decree also forbids the employment of female aryan servants under the age of 35 in Jewish households.

"The Jews cannot be a reich's citizen, cannot vote or occupy public office," said the decree. "Jewish funstionaries of the government will be pensioned December 31, 1935."

Panhandle Oil Firm Raises Its Dividend To 35 Per Cent

AMARILLO, Nov. 15. (AP)—A 35 per cent dividend amounting to $52,500 will be paid November 27 by the McIlroy Oil company, W. W. McIlroy, president, announced today.

The payment will bring to 320 per cent, or $480,000, the amount of dividends paid since the company was formed in 1925 with a capitalization of $150,000. The company, with holdings in Gray and Hutchinson counties, paid a 25 per cent dividend previously this year.

President Roosevelt Asserts Senator Norris Should Be Kept In Office, Willingly Or Not, "As Long As He Lives"

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—An extraordinary indorsement of an independent Republican senator came from President Roosevelt today in an assertion that George W. Norris of Nebraska should be kept in office, willing or unwillingly, 'as long as he lives."

Even as the president paid this unusual tribute at a crowded press conference, he apparently held other thoughts related to next year's campaigns. He arranged during the way to travel next summer into Arkansas, as well as Texas—a journey generally regarded as a friendly gesture toward his lieutenants, Vice President Garner and Senator Robinson of Arkansas.

Seldom, however, has there been a presidential utterance comparable to that with which the Democratic chief executive acclaimed the Republican independent who supported him in 1932 and his promised similar support for 1936.

Mr. Roosevelt even waived the press conference rule forbidding direct quotation of his remarks when he acceded to a request that he comment on a report that Norris had said he would not be a candidate for reelection—a report which Norris since has denied.

After observing that it was something "that can be said of few people, and George Norris is one of them," Mr. Roosevelt asserted:

"If I were a citizen of the state of Nebraska, regardless of what party I belonged to, I would not allow George Norris

Weeks Shrink To Days When Pacific Air Service Is Opened Up Next Week

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15. — The Pacific ocean goes on a Yankee air line tempo a week from today.

Islands steeped in centuries of somnolence will start counting time in the modern fashion to keep up with the flying schedules of Pan American Airways' big Clipper planes.

The Orient will be only five days away from California. By steamship it is two or three weeks.

The new-born Phillipine commonwealth government, under United States protection, will be within 60 or 80 hours flying time of the Pacific coast. Manila will be only 40 to 60 hours from Hawaii, projected base for many long range American fighting planes.

Hawaii, Midway, Wake, Guam and the Philippines give the air line an All-American island chain across the Pacific.

Elsewhere American aviation is introducing its thunder birds to other and still more remote

Between Holiday Week-End To Be Calm In City As Students Are Taking Exams

The Woman's Angle

BY MARGARET TURNER
Woman's Editor

WE have five recipes to present this morning without apology, knowing that our women readers are glad to get them and that our men readers will be glad to eat them after they are prepared.

PEANUT BUTTER BREAD

WE have two ways to make peanut butter bread; both are free and you may take your choice. The first, submitted by Mrs. A. W. McKee, we will vouch for since we have eaten at her home time and again.

Three cups flour, 1-2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoonfuls baking powder, 1 cup milk, 1 cup peanut butter, 1 egg. Sift the dry ingredients, add milk and peanut butter, then egg. Put in greased pan and let rise 20 minutes. Bake in rather slow oven for over 40 minutes.

The other recipe and one for cranberry salad were telephoned in by a kind-voiced woman who did not give us her name. (Don't think we're making this up either because we can't cook.) Her way is to take 2 cups of bread flour, 2 teaspoonfuls baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup sugar, 1 cup milk, 7-8 cup peanut butter, 3 1-2 tablespoonfuls melted shortening, 2 eggs beaten lightly. Sift dry ingredients, rub in shortening and peanut butter. Mix eggs and milk and add to other ingredients. Bake in deep pan for a little over an hour at 325 degrees Fahrenheit.

RAW CRANBERRY SALAD

GRIND 2 cups of raw cranberries through a food chopper, rind of 1-2 orange, pulp and juice of 2 oranges. Mix with 1 cup of sugar and let stand over night. Dissolve 1 package of lemon Jello in 1 cup boiling water, add sprinkle of salt. Add cranberry mixture to hot ingredients and when it begins to thicken add 1-2 cup of nuts.

HONEY FRUIT CAKE

MRS. CARL L. BROWN of Route 4 brought us a recipe for honey fruit cake. 1-2 cup figs (chopped), 1-2 cup candied orange peel, 1-4 cup cooked pitted prunes, 1 1-2 cup cooked pitted dates, 1 2-3 cup cooked dried apricots, 1 1-2 cup cooked raisins, 1 1-2 cups cooked currants, 2 cups of honey. Mix well and let stand for one week.

One cup shortening, 3 eggs, 1-2 cup strong coffee, 3 1-2 cups flour, 1-4 T. cloves, 1-4 t. nutmeg, 1-4 t. allspice, 3-4 t. cinnamon, 1-2 t. salt, 2 t. baking powder, 1 1-4 cups candied pineapple, 1-4 cup citron (shaved), 1-2 cup cherries (halves), 3-4 cup pecans (chopped), 3-4 cup walnuts chopped).

Cream shortening, add honey mixture, eggs, coffee. Sift baking powder, salt, flour and spices and mix with other ingredients. Use three pieces of well buttered brown paper in pan and bake in a hot oven for one hour or longer.

HOPE YOU LIKE IT

THE kind of soup the French made famous is guaranteed to be made as follows: 4 tablespoons butter, 2 1-4 cups thinly sliced onions, 6 cups beef broth, 1 t. salt, 1-8 t. pepper, few grains cayenne pepper, 3 dry rolls, toasted, 3-4 c. grated cheese.

Melt butter in saucepan. Add onions and cook 8 minutes, or until yellow. Add broth, salt, pepper and cayenne. Cook slowly 20 minutes or until onions are tender. Do not cover. To serve, place half a toasted roll in each of 6 soup plates. Top each roll with 2 tablespoons cheese. Fill plate with soup and serve at once. Serves six people. It appears to us that this dish gives one all of the comforts of dunking without having to go through the exercise.

College Group Attends Party

Tech Aggie Society Is Host To Home Economics Club In Campus Livestock Pavilion On Friday Evening

Friday's social events, which were comparatively few, were the beginning of a calm week-end, a rest between two holiday periods. High school and college students appear to be taking advantage of the lull to rest up for Thanksgiving trips and entertainments. Mid-semester examinations also are in full sway.

The high school branch of the Lubbock Classroom Teachers council entertained with a bridge and forty-two party at Tree-Top Inn Friday evening.

College activities last night were centered around an annual party the Tech Aggie club gave for the home economics club in the campus livestock pavilion.

Mrs. Gus Crawford, the former Miss Inez Hensley, was complimented when Mrs. Victor Bearden entertained with a buffet supper Friday evening in the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Reed.

Several clubs and societies had meetings in the afternoon. These included the Garden club which heard Dr. Donald W. Douglass lecture on bird life, the Madonna circle of Child Conservation league, Loyalty club, Merry Bidders and the Central Baptist Dorcas society which met for quilting.

Barrymore Said Not Obligated To Barrie Girl

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. (AP)—John Barrymore, the movie star, is under no obligation to Miss Elaine Barrie, his erstwhile protege-fiancee, and has her signature in black and white to prove it, Frank Aranow, Barrymore's attorney announced today.

The glittering diamond ring, which Miss Barrie said plighted their troth and which Mr. Barrymore said merely sealed their friendship, will be returned to the young student actress, Aranow said.

A simple statement couched in legal terms announced the end of the romance that began in a hospital, was nourished by sea breezes on a yacht trip to the Caribbean, and was climaxed by Barrymore's cross-country flight with his "ariel" in full pursuit.

The statement, signed by Aranow, follows:

"In behalf of Mr. John Barrymore, I have arranged to return to Miss Elaine Barrie the diamond ring which she claims belongs to her. Miss Barrie has made no other claims against Mr. Barrymore and both Miss Barrie and her mother, who is her legal guardian, have signed statements that Mr. Barrymore is under no obligation to them.

"Miss Barrie did not ask for any money nor was any money paid to her."

Will Rogers Memorial Funds Here Reach Total Of $265

Realization in money from a ball conducted Thursday night at the Auditorium for a Will Rogers Memorial was $265. The funds will be merged with those of many other cities of the United States.

Definite decision as to what form the memorial to the late cowboy philosopher will take has not been announced, but it is considered likely a hospital for children best would perpetuate his name.

Of the amount contributed here, $129 was from sales of the Junior Welfare league, which will receive a 20 per cent division for Mrs. W. T. Milam's Opportunity home.

Bank deposits, contributed to by those who did not care to attend the ball, totaled $63. Expenses to be deducted for holding the affair were listed at $70.

TO ATTEND DEER HUNT

Youth Finds His Father In Hunt For His Mother

FORT WORTH, Nov. 15. (AP)—A 17-year-old Nocona boy came to Fort Worth in search of his mother but found instead his father, who he believed had been killed in the World war.

The story had its beginning when the father, Emmett Defee of Fort Worth, marched away to war, leaving his wife and infant son. Upon his return from France the couple was divorced and the mother, whose whereabouts are unknown, gained custody of the son. He formed the belief early in life that his father fell overseas.

Foster Father Dies

The boy took the name of Billy Blanton when he was adopted by a man in Wichita Falls. After the death of the foster father 10 years ago, the youth lived with the foster father's mother until she died nearly a year ago. Then he went to live with Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Nicholson near Nocona.

Billy came here Wednesday with Mrs. Nicholson. They solicited the aid of Joe Berry, marriage license clerk, who traced through the old marriage records. They decided that his father was Earl Defee, who turned out to be his uncle. The uncle summoned his brother, telling him "here is a boy who wants to see you."

The father asked in a business-like manner what the boy wanted. The youth began to unfold his story and quickly the father knew that the boy was his son. The two are now reunited at the Defee home.

Merrill Rites To Be Read Saturday

SLATON, Nov. 15. (Special) — Last rites will be read at the First Methodist church at 2:30 Saturday afternoon for J. F. Merrill, Slaton resident for almost a quarter-century.

Mr. Merrill, cotton buyer, died Wednesday night at his residence from complications which had set in following an attack of flu.

Survivors are his wife, one son, James, of Flagstaff, Ariz.; one brother, W. R. Merrill of Dallas; and two sisters, Mrs. W. O. Warren of Dallas, and Mrs. W. R. Shepard of Klondike, Tex.

Burial will be at Inglewood cemetery.

Two South Plains Projects Approved

Treasury department warrant No. 642 announced Friday will permit H. P. Drought, Texas PWA administrator, to initiate work on selected projects from a $1,522,109 program, the Associated Press at Washington reported.

It was emphasized that under funds available only certain projects could be undertaken. Mr. Drought will select from various projects those regarded as most adaptable to speedy prosecution of the state program.

Included in the 18 projects are:

Lamb county: Sudan — Improv roads. Federal funds, $15,288.

Hockley county: Smyer—Improve water system for school building. Federal funds, $1,3282. Levelland—improve roads. Federal funds, $17,-278.

Funeral Services Are Held For Victim Of Ralls Wreck

RALLS, Nov. 15, (Special)—Funeral rites for two victims of an automobile crash near here early Thursday night were read by Rev. R. F. Pepper at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at First Baptist church.

Mrs. Margaret Yarbrough, 18, of Ralls died here a short time after the crash, and Chester Yarbrough, 14, brother of Mrs. Yarbrough's 17-year-old husband Leo Yarbrough, died later in the night in a Lubbock sanitarium. Both victims had head injuries.

Burial was made at Ralls cemetery, with Will Marr funeral home in charge.

Six others were injured in the crash. Two of them are being treated at Lubbock.

GAS WELL BURNING

Nelson's Unicameral Legislature Plan Is Explained; Like Two-Headed Snake

Remember the disaster that came to the two-headed snake that died en route to the river for a drink? It came upon a twig, one head trying to push by on one side, one on the other. It never got by.

That, said Sen. G. H. Nelson of Tahoka, is a fair analogy of what happens in the present system to laws the people want passed.

Serving Unexpired Term

Sen. Nelson recently was elected to serve an unexpired term of the late Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield.

Sen. Nelson believes that to make the state government more democratic and to simplify its workings so that the will of the people can be carried out with least possible expenditure of funds Texas should replace present legislature with a unicameral body.

He has offered a resolution in the senate asking representatives to go on record favoring at the regular session in 1937 submission of a constitutional amendment to the people on the question. The resolution has gone to the state affairs committee.

Resolution Explained

The senator's resolution, in substance, is this:

There would be a legislature of 42 members, two from each congressional district, elected for four-year terms. One member would be elected from each district each two years. Each would receive an annual salary of $5,000 and would be precluded from receiving any other compensation during his tenure.

There would be a continuous legislative session. The chamber would recess or adjourn occasionally, but would be subject to call by 50 per cent of the membership. Should a district feel its wishes were not being followed it could recall its representative. Governor's power of veto would not be abridged.

Will Adopt System

It is the senator's belief that once the people of Texas are made to realize how "inefficient the present system is" they will adopt readily the unicameral legislature.

He points out that criticism by the public is growing annually; that there are loud grumblings about costs and types of legislation, and that the objections are valid. He has gathered a great amount of data on the subject and has collected figures which show the cost of operation of each legislature per man, for each of the 181 solons, is approximately $6,129.

For the 42nd legislature, which he said was a fair example, salaries to members totaled $402,842.34; mileage amounted to $47,123.27 stenographic help $241,378.06, postage $22,435.52, Telephone and telegraph $33,861.71, not to mention numerous other expensive items.

Would Save Thousands

The one-house legislature would save thousands of dollars for the state, Sen. Nelson said. "It would conform to modern ideas of business direction. It would not change our representative form of government because members of the one house would be chosen from identical districts by the same people, and each of the two representatives would be paid the same salary.

"The one house, instead of breeding corruption, would eliminate corruption. It would do away with the free conference committee which is, in fact, a separate house." Conference committees, he said, often insert provisions in important bills which do not conform to wishes of a majority of legislators or to those of the public.

Expense Is Entailed

"When late in the session something like that is done members of the separate houses have the alternative of refusing to adopt the report of the committee, in which case an additional expense is entailed because a special session generally has to be called, or of adopting the report, in which case they are being made to vote against their own wishes and those of their constituents.

"And the one-house form would eliminate practice of shifting responsibility.

"The people of Texas are interested vitally in seeing that their orders are obeyed. If they simplify the machinery of government they can see who is responsible for neglect of the people's business."

Hans Christian Andersen, author of fairy tales, disliked children.

Burlington Officials Visit Lubbock; Inspection Is Made

Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad officials visited Lubbock Thursday night on an annual inspection of the Fort Worth and Denver, of which the Burlington is a parent system.

In the party were: General John A. Hulen, vice president of the Fort Worth and Denver and allied lines; E. Flynn, Chicago, executive vice president in charge of operation of the Burlington; J. W. (Jenks) Mode, Wichita Falls, acting superintendent, and C. B. Reagen, Fort Worth, assistant to General Manager John D. Farrington, who was unable to make the trip.

J. H. Barwise, Fort Worth, general attorney for the road and H. B. Clarke, Chicago, engineer maintenance of way, also were in the party.

"Business on the Fort Worth and Denver is better than it has been for a long time and prospects are brighter," General Hulen told R. E. Stroup, local agent for the road.

Harrist Named Deputy Sheriff

Personnel changes of police and sheriff's departments were announced Friday.

Grady Harrist, assistant police chief, resigned to become a deputy in the office of Sheriff Tom Abel, the sheriff said.

Don Reeder, a member of the night police force, was appointed assistant police chief, said Police Chief H. L. Johnston. Baxter Honey, who was a deputy under Sheriff Abel until Nov. 1, was appointed a member of the police department.

Harrist and Reeder became members of the police department in 1929 and remained through succeeding administrations and department shake-ups. Honey is a former member of the police department. The changes will be effective Saturday.

Judging Team To Be Named

Eleven Students To Compete This Afternoon For Places On International Team To Judge At Chicago

Eleven students will compete this afternoon for membership in the Texas Tech senior livestock judging team, which will enter the judging contest at the International Livestock exposition Nov. 30 in Chicago. This afternoon's contest, which will serve as the final practice work-out, will begin at 1 o'clock in the college livestock pavilion.

An annual pig roast given by the Aggie club will be conducted Tuesday evening in the pavilion as a "send-off" for the team.

Judges will be J. H. Burroughs of Dallas, 1929 graduate, member of the first team which competed in the international exposition and of the team which won at the Southwestern Livestock Exposition and Fat Stock show at Fort Worth in 1928; C. Luker, vocational agriculture teacher trainer at the college; Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, associate professor of animal husbandry; and Ray Mowery, team coach and acting head of the animal husbandry department.

The team will leave for Chicago Thursday noon by automobile. Six students will be selected. Five will form the team and one will be an alternate. Winners will be announced Saturday evening.

A team from the college won the contest last year, bringing home a bronze bull, which they must win twice more to keep permanently.

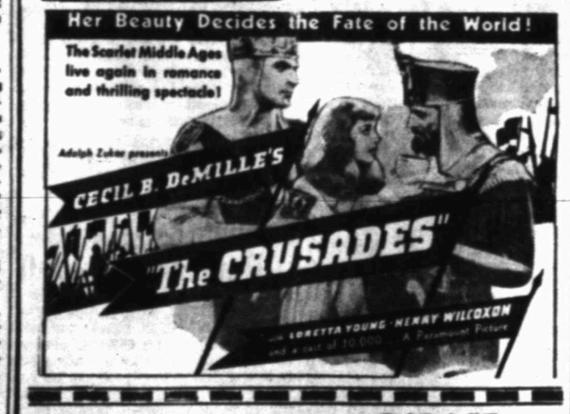

Roosevelt Urges Intensive And Continued Safety Drive

CHICAGO, Nov. 15. (AP)—President Roosevelt in a message to the American Automobile association today, urged an intensive and continued campaign for highway safety.

"Our people must realize once and for all that freedom to use the streets and highways carries with it important responsibilities and obligations," he said in his message.

The president wrote that federal and state government investments in good roads were largely nullified unless a proper degree of safety were assured.

Top Row Favored In Waggoner Handicap, Feature At Arlington Downs

Dozen Classy Thoroughbreds To Enter Race

Conqueror Of Discovery Rules Heavy Favorite; Riskulus, Toro Nancy, Sweeping Light Among Other Favorites

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ARLINGTON DOWNS, Nov. 15. (AP)—A. A. Baroni's Top Row, son of Peanuts and conqueror of A. G. Vanderbilt's great discovery at Narragansett and Suffolk Downs, ruled a heavy favorite tonight to win tomorrow's $15,000 Waggoner memorial handicap for 3-year-olds and up at a distance of a mile and a furlong.

Top Row will carry top weight of 122 pounds and will have G. Woolf up. The Baroni thoroughbred has been magnificent in workout and promises to answer to post call an odds-on choice.

Don't Forget Riskulus

The N. W. Church entry of Riskulus and Toro Nancy, the latter a winner of the $5,000 Dallas handicap last Saturday, were second choices of pari-mutuel players.

About 12 thoroughbreds out of the 58 nominees will go to the post. They probably will include Prince Torch, Sarada, Sweeping Light, Rip Van Winkle, Advising Anna, Annoruly, Quatre Bras 2nd Our Count, Bold Lover and the three favorites previously mentioned.

The 4-year-old top row will be making his initial Texas appearance and, regardless fo the potency of those opposing him, is sure to rule a tremendous favorite because of past performances against some of the nation's fastest thoroughbreds.

30,000 Expected

Trav Daniel, resident manager, said tonight that he expected a crowd of approximately 30,000 tomorrow, providing the weather is right. The forecast was for cold, but no rain, which would assure a dry track for the rich classic.

It will be the third running of the Waggoner handicap and every race on the program will be dedicated to some outstanding event in the late Col. W. T. Waggoner's life.

Meadow Gridders Win Final Scrap

MEDOW, Nov. 15. (Special)—The Meadow High school football team called it a successful season this afternoon when it wound up the 1935 scheduled card with a 53 to 6 victory over the Roosevelt Cass C team.

Junior McDonald, fullback, led the touchdown parade with five counters for six points each. Nathan Chesshir, quarterback, scored three touchdowns, and was a power in the victorious backfield. Most of the scoring was done on power drives down the field.

Excitement came late in the game when Fred Finley, right halfback, intercepted a pass from a Roosevelt thrower and scooted 56 yards through a broken field, shaking off four would-be tacklers before going down on the 10-yard line. It was the longest run of the afternoon.

The Meadow lineup:

James Burleson and P. J. Watkins, ends; Willard Upton and Ford Hawkins, tackles; Stafford Stearns and Robert Caldwell, guards; Howell Ballard, center; Chesshir, quarterback; Finley and J. W. Smith, halfbacks, and McDonald, fullback. Substitutions were Edward Turnipseed, Russell Banks, Ollie Bundrant, Leslie George and Lenoir Easterwood.

Tech Netters To Play Buffs Here This Afternoon

First intercollegiate tennis joust of the season for Texas Tech's netters is scheduled this afternoon, beginning at three o'clock, when the West Texas State Teachers college Buffaloes invade the Matadors courts.

The Buffs are figured to provide heavy competition, having won one intercollegiate meet this season.

Coach James G. Allen's Texas Tech squad will consist of Marshall Gordon and Harry Jordan, leading singles players, with doubles teams composed of Gordon and H. A. Bozeman or Weldon Parker, and Jordan and J. D. Donaldson. Three other singles players will be selcted from the group including Bozeman, Parker, Donaldson, Larry Taylor, Henry Roberts, Aubrey McCarty and Russell Soper.

Bleachers will be set up alongside the clay courts immediately west of the Tech gymnasium.

George Washington Defeats Tulsa U. With Field Goal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15. (AP) — A field goal, kicked from a difficult angle by a husky tackle, Captain Harry Deming, tonight gave George Washington university a 3 to 0 intersectional football victory over Tulsa university of Oklahoma and settled a bruising battle.

Scoreless for nearly three periods as brawny linemen bottled up every scoring thrust, the clubs seemed too evenly matched for a decision until Deming, who previously had missed one attempt, came through with his third period boot.

Christians To Be At Their Top Strength Against Steers

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 15.—Texas Christian university's untied and undefeated football team arrived today with high hope of including the University of Texas in its long string of victories.

The Longhorns, however, were definitely pointed toward the invaders and were prepared to risk all to topple the Christians and add lustre to an otherwise mediocre season. Texas nosed out T. C. U. 20 to 19 last year.

Both teams stressed offensive tactics in final workouts, indicating the game might develop into a free scoring contest.

Rice Owls Are Out To Please Old Grads Today

HOUSTON, Nov. 15. (AP)—The Rice Owls will endeavor to please the old grads, back for their annual homecoming, with a smashing triumph tomorrow over Texas A. and M.

Comparative scores, highly unreliable indicators, say the Ricemen will win by three touchdowns. The Aggies, having rested for two weeks, are primed for the battle and believe they have a fighting chance to register one of the most startling upsets of the season.

Razorbacks To Be Set For Mustang Invasion

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 15. (AP)—"We'll be in there fightin'," Coach Fred Thomsen said today after putting his Arkansas Razorback through their final practice for the battle with the undefeated Mustangs of Southern Methodist tomorrow.

The Ponies, facing the job of herding the Porkers before an Arkansas homecoming crowd, were en route to Rogers, Arkansas, 20 miles from Fayetteville, where they will remain until shortly before game time.

Coach Thomsen indicated the Porkers would "have something in the bag" when they go on the field with the top-notch Mustangs. The Razorbacks polished their defense tactics and went over the aerial attack in final practice.

Baylor Bears Off For Battle With Centenary

WACO, Nov. 15. (AP)—The Baylor Bears entrained tonight for Shreveport and their battle tomorrow with the Centenary Gentlemen.

Coach Morley Jennings whipped the Bruins through a short workout in the afternoon and pronounced them ready for the contest.

The Baylor probable starting lineup:

Clark, ls; Parry, lt; Simpson, lg; Reynolds, c; Buchanan, rg; Kriel, rt; Williams re; Russell qb; Finley, lh; Gernand, rh; Brazell, fb.

Matador Takes Important Tilt

Bullfighters Favored To Win District 4 Title After 20 To 13 Victory; Floydada Is Loser On Home Field

FLOYDADA, Nov. 15. (Special)—Barring an upset next Friday or on Thanksgiving, the Matador High school Bullfighters will wear the District 4, Class B crown this season.

In a game between undefeated teams here this afternoon, the Bullfighters of Coach Harvey Stanford defeated Coach R. P. Terrill's Floydada High school Whirlwinds, 20 to 13, and became undisputed leader of the loop, favored to take the championship.

Late Rally Falls

A large crowd watched the Whirlwinds attempt a comeback in the fourth quarter, grew hopeful when Conwell Mooney, left end, took the ball on an end around play and stepped over the goal line for a touchdown. Malcolm Lider kicked goal for extra point. But the rally failed, and the home team failed to get going again. It had scored on a power drive down the field after the Matadors had gained their 20 points with a third quarter touchdown.

First downs favored Floydada 9 to 12.

Gates, Matador halfback, was the offensive star, scoring all the visiting team's touchdowns. He tallied first in the opening quarter on a short drive through the line after power plays had advanced the ball down the field after the kick-off. Washington converted for the extra point.

Lider Runs 45 Yards

Lider got away for a 45-yard sprint to score for Floydada in the same period, but missed the extra point.

In the second quarter, Gates made a touchdown after a drive down the field, and Washington converted. Gates scored after the same fashion in the third period, after a pass, Washington to Pritchett, had gained 30 yards. Washington's try for point was blocked by Lider.

Then came Mooney's counter in the fourth, and Lider's kick for goal, after the ball had been worked down to the 3-yard line.

Matador faces two tough ones yet in Spur and Paducah. The Spur Bulldogs play at Matador on Nov. 22, and Paducah is the Thanksgiving foe.

Two Games Left

Floydada is favored to take Silverton next Friday on the Floydada field. The Whirlwinds wind up the season at Spur on Thanksgiving.

The starting lineups today:

Matador: Titus and Pritchett, ends; Ford and Brown, tackles; Willis and Faulkner, guards; R. E. Campbell, center; Webb, quarterback; Gates and Washington, halfbacks, and Blackshear, fullback.

Floydada: Mooney and Eudy, ends; Woods and Ward, tackles; Jones and Golightly, guards; Montgomery, center; Lider, quarterback; McClung and Allen, halfbacks, and Matthews, fullback.

Orville White Wins Title In Mid-South Go

Unattached Missouri Pro Cops Pinehurst Meet With Score Of 144; Willie Klein Ends Up Second, Armour Third

(By The Associated Press)

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 15.—Orville White, unattached to any club, today added the Mid-South golf title to his job-hunting credentials by a decisive three stroke margin.

The stocky Missourian, who learned his game in the St. Louis district, put a 74 with his opening round 70 for a 144 that brought him the title and the $250 first money on the 36-hole tounament. Willie Klein, Wheatley Hills, L. I., finished second with 147 and Tommy Armour, Chicago, third with 148.

Bob Quinn Likely To Manage Braves

BOSTON, Nov. 15. u—The Boston Braves' reorganization plans were whipped into workable shape today.

Ford Frick, National League head, conferred with C. F. Adams and Major Francis P. Murphy of Nashua, N. H., who controls about four-fifth of the club's stock.

Bob Quinn, general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, also attended the conference and, with Frick, set an appraisal on the financially distressed club's assets and players.

Quinn, slated to become the Braves' general manger when the reorganization is completed, left for the minor league meeting at Dayton, O. where he said, he intended to close three deals for the Dodgers.

Suit For Damages Is Filed Against J. T. Trigg Friday

J. T. Trigg, justice of the peace of precinct 1, place 1, was named in a damage suit filed in county court Friday afternoon by J. R. Bundrant, Terry county resident.

Bundrant, who also named American Indemnity company, a general surety and bonding business, and Henry Kennedy, Hockley county peace officer, charged he was jailed here July 1 without a warrant of arrest having been served; that the peace justice allowed no opportunity for him to make bond, and that the justice later on his criminal docket entered a "purported judgment assessing fine and bill of costs," including a warrant of arrest, which plaintiff set out there was none.

Bundrant prays for actual damages of $15.60, with interest at 6 per cent, and $300 exemplary damages.

Irish-Army Game Catches Fancy Of Eastern Football Fandom; Southwest Bill Promises Hearty Action Today

Big Ten Program Is Lively; Buckeyes Meet Illinois

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The major reverberations in the collegiate football scramble tomorrow seem likely to echo from the Atlantic seaboard, North and South.

Familiar manifestations of football phobia also may be observed in the Southwest and Midwest.

New York's annual emotional reaction to the Army-Notre Dame game has reached a high pitch despite the fact the outcome of the game involves less significance than appeared certain a couple of weeks ago.

Upstate the climax game of the season tomorrow will find Syracuse's unbeaten team battling before a sellout gathering of 36,000 in Archbold Stadium.

Rose Bowl Interest

In Dixie, North Carolina's Rose Bowl and Southern conference title hopes will be involved in the annual match with Duke. Georgia's challenge to the Southeastern title ambitions of Louisiana State will attract upwards of 30,000 to the stadium at Athens, Ga.

The Big Ten plays an all-family schedule, topped by Minnesota's bid to overpower Michigan for the second straight year at Ann Arbor and Ohio State's reception for Illinois at Columbia.

The chance that Texas may upset Texas Christian and that Arkansas, playing at home, may make things interesting for the Southwest's other unbeaten aggregation, Southern Methodist, enlivens the situation in this rugged combat area. There's a lull in the gridiron proceedings on the West Coast, generally speaking, in anticipation of a sudden storm when St. Mary's and Santa Clara collide Sunday afternoon before 60,000 at San Francisco.

Temple And Marquette

With the exception of California and Princeton, which engage "breather" opposition without any real necessity for so doing, the surviving unbeaten contenders for national championship honors run a variety of risks. Temple, closer to full strength than at any time in weeks, figures to give Marquette all kinds of trouble at Philadelphia.

Michigan has only a remote prospect of holding Minnesota in check. Duke is probably the best "shortender" on the day's card.

Notre Dame is a 2 to 1 choice to beat Army, despite the fact it won't have the sensational Andy Pilney available to harass the Cadets.

Dartmouth, pointing for the "ivy championship" game with Princeton next week, cannot afford to underestimate Cornell's "little red team." Navy has too much man power for Columbia but Pennsylvania will have to click again to avoid being beaten by Penn State. Pittsburgh, rated off its improvement in whipping Army last week, is the choice over Nebraska.

Colorado, the Rocky Mountain leader, undoubtedly has improved a great deal since dropping an early season clash to Missouri but is a doubtful choice against another intersectional rival from the Big Six, Kansas.

California's unbeaten Golden Bears tune up against the College of the Pacific. Southern California, showing improvement, has an outside chance to register its first major victory of the season at Washington State's expense. Stanford should score a few touchdowns, for a change, against Montana.

Sixto Escobar Is Bantam Champ

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. (AP)—Sixto Escobar, a masterful little piece of fighting machinery from Puerto Rico, easily lifted the bantamweight championship tonight from Lou Salica of New York in a 15-round match in Madison Square garden.

Escobar floored Salica in the third round and gave the titleholder a terrific beating.

Rudyard Kipling was born in Bombay, India.

Crosbyton And Ralls End Conference Season Without Winning A Game—But Crosbyton Gets Advantage In 0-0 Tie

CROSBYTON, Nov. 15. (Special)—The Ralls Jackrabbits and the Crosbyton Eagles battled to a nothing to nothing football tie here this afternoon for the cellar championship of the northern division of District 5, Class B.

It was the fourth and final conference game of the season for each team, and neither had won a previous game.

Thus two teams of the division have played out their conference schedule without winning a game. And they have played each other.

But Crosbyton won today's game 11 to 7. Ralls takes the cellar title.

Coaches had agreed before the game to let first downs decide the issue in the event of a tie. Crosbyton made its yardage eleven times, Ralls seven times.

It was purely a defensive battle, with each team playing hard smashing football. There were several threats, but lines held on charging plays, pass defensives were clicking. Buck, Crosbyton halfback, was an outstanding player.

Crosbyton today ended its schedule, leaving an open date for next Friday. Ralls has one more to go. The Jackrabbits will invade Tahoka next Friday for the season's windup in a non-conference game.

Big Ten Loop Campaigns Against The Bottle-Toting Football Fan

By ROBERT WALTON

CHICAGO, Nov. 15. (AP)—They're taking the "hic-hic, hooray" out of Big Ten football.

The familiar gurgle of the hip flask that threatened to develop into a roar last year is being reduced to a mere trickle.

The well-known inebriate who used to liven things up until he became obstreperous is missing. He doesn't get by the ticket-taker any more.

It is a painless operation—this matter of separating the nip from football—says Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of Big Ten athletics.

The campaign got under way as long ago as last December following years of discussion without much action.

Take "Drastic" Action

"Last year," says Griffith, "drinking during games increased so much that drastic action became necessary."

So far, however, the "drastic action" has consisted merely of warning cards enclosed with tickets, and announcements over loud-speaker systems at the games, urging spectators to desist.

Some schools have stationed extra guards at stadium entrances with instructions to ask bottle-toters to keep heir flasks under cover.

That system was tried at Illinois on Dad's Day when the Illini played Iowa, but it was hardly necessary, reports George Huff, director of athletics.

Only three persons were refused admission to the stadium because of drunkenness; only seven were cautioned, and no one—once in—had to be ejected, he says.

At Purdue, drinking during games has passed out almost entirely. A party of Chicagoans attending the Purdue-Carnegie Tech game admitted afterward they had a bottle with them, but were afraid to bring it out.

"Dead-Soldier" Check-Up

One good way of measuring the drinking during a game is by the number of empty bottles found in the stadium afterward.

"This year there haven't been enough empties to constitute a problem," says Major Griffith.

The big Michigan stadium, once one of the favorite "spas" in the Big Ten, is almost as dry as a temperance meeting these Saturday afternoons, says Griffith.

"They're waiting until after the game to celebrate victory or drown their sorrow," says Griffith.

One of the things that puzzles Griffith is how drinking ever got a hold on football crowds in the first place.

"You never see any drinking at a baseball game," he says, "and I can't think of any other sport where you see it."

"No Drinking" Sign At TCU-Texas Battle

AUSTIN, Nov. 15. (AP)—City officials and the University of Texas joined today in a drive to stop drinking at the Texas-T. C. U. football game tomorrow.

The group discussed "the obnoxious situation arising at football games due to public and indiscriminate drinking by certain spectators," City Manager Guiton Morgan said.

"The police and university officials are definitely committed to a policy of breaking up this practice and stringent means toward that end will be undertaken."

Three truck loads of empty liquor bottles reportedly were hauled from the stadium after the Rice-Texas game a few weeks ago.

Frenship Defeats Petersburg, 13-0

WOLFFORTH, Nov. 15 Special)—The Frenship High school football team wound up its Class C season here this afternoon by defeating an invading Petersburg club, 13 to 0.

J. F. Martin, Frenship halfback, ran 60 yards through a broken field for the first touchdown, in the second quarter.

In the third period, the Frenship line charged, blocked a Petersburg punt, and Knox Lofland, tackle, fell on the ball behind the goal line for a touchdown. Conversion was made.

Frenship led in first downs, 11 to 3, but was worried all afternoon by the Petersburg passing attack. It was by the aerial route that Petersburg counted its three first downs. Several were intercepted, but the passes were always threatening.

Frenship wound up its nine-game schedule with a .500 average, having won four games, lost four and tied one.

North Texas Teachers Down Trinity Gridders, 13 To 8

WAXAHACHIE, Nov. 15. (AP) — The North Texas Teachers college Eagles of Denton defeated the Trinity Tigers, 13 to 8, in a non-conference gridiron contest here today.

The Eagles' first counter came early in the opening period after Daniels, Eagle end, blocked a punt in midfield. A long drive put the ball on the 12-yard stripe, and Stovall slipped through for the touchdown.

Trinity scored a safety a few minutes later when Meharg punted out on the Eagles' four-yard line and Howarth tackled Stovall behind the goal on the next play.

BEER THIRST SHRINKS

VIENNA. (AP)—Beer consumption in Austria reached a new low in the first five months of this fiscal year. The decline, amounting to 17 per cent, hits breweries, restaurants and bars, and also the government, which levies a fat tax on the beverage.

Brownfield Is Winner, 39-6

Tahoka Bulldogs Bow To Cubs In District 5 Game, With Burnett, Tankersley And Thalman In Hero Roles

TAHOKA, Nov. 15. (Special)—The Brownfield High school Cubs took third place in the southern division of District 5, Class B, today by drubbing the Tahoka Bulldogs, 39 t 6, in a conference game.

It was Brownfield's third district contest, and gave the Cubs a victory, a defeat and a tie for their record so far. The Post Antelopes remain on the Cub schedule. The game is to be played at Brownfield next Friday.

For Tahoka, the game ended the official season, although the Bulldogs meet Ralls here next Friday in a non-conference game. Tahoka ended its conference season with one victory, three defeats.

Burnett Scores First

Burnett, Tankersley and Thalman were the backfield thorns in Tahoka's side this afternoon. Burnett scored the first touchdown after a sustained drive down the field. Effort to convert failed. This came in the first quarter, and Brownfield added 13 points in the second, Tankersley scoring two touchdowns and kicking goal after one, to give the Cubs at 19-0 lead at the half.

Both of Tankersley's touchdowns came after power drives down the field.

Thalman scored the fourth and fifth touchdowns for the visitors in the third quarter as the big Brownfield line plowed down the field, featured by individual work on the part of Pharr and McCloud. It was a fast-charging line that opened good holes for backs.

Late in the game, with about five minutes to go, Burnett intercepted a pass from James Minor, Tahoka halfback and captain, on the Brownfield 10-yard line, and raced 90 yards for touchdown.

Tahoka's score came in the fourth period, result of a 25-yard pass from Captain Minor to Brower. Brower caught the ball over the goal line. Place-kick for extra point failed.

Brownfield led in first downs, 13 to 6. Tahoka drew 80 yards in penalties, Brownfield 50.

Minor and Hoover, Tahoka halfbacks, were stars for the home team. They broke loose several times for long gaines, but always the Brownfield line tightened when Tahoka threatened to score. Brower at end was Tahoka's leading lineman, and pass catcher.

The game, originally scheduled for Armistice day, had been postponed on account of weather and field conditions.

Deer, Turkey Season Opens This Morning

Game Commission Executive Predicts 25,000 Hunters Will Start Today; Supply Of Game Thought Heavy

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 15. — William J. Tucker, executive secretary of the state game, fish, oyster commission estimated tonight about 25,000 hunters will take the field tomorrow to shoot the elusive deer.

Tucker said deer were in good condition owing to plentiful grazing during the fall, that the supply was fair and that statewide reports indicated excellent hunting weather.

Tucker predicted between 20,000 and 30,000 deer would be killed during the season.

Turkeys Plentiful

He also reported there was a plentiful supply of turkey and that the birds were fat and in good condition.

Thousands of hunters from many sections of the state converged at Fredericksburg today for forays tomorrow into the hill country, considered one of the finest deer and turkey hunting grounds in the Southwest. Traffic was heavy on the highways of that section as hunters moved toward the haunts of the game. Merchants, filling stations and hotels reported brisk trade.

Practically all available pastures were leased. In some instances hunting grounds had been leased all summer. Deer and turkey were reported plentiful and fat.

Rush In Llano Region

A rush was reported in the Llano region, another good hunting section. Hunters stopped today at the edge of the brakes to stock provisions for the invasion of the hilly country in the Llano river region tomorrow.

Ranchers in the Big Bend country had complained all summer of deer injuring the range. The animals, reports today said, still are plentiful, and large numbers of hunters are ready to start shooting in that section.

Field Goal Wins For Texas Miners Over Silver Cityans

EL PASO, Nov. 15. (AP)—Baffled at almost every turn by a hard fighting Silver City State Teachers college eleven, of Silver City, N. M., Texas College of Mines gridders called upon L. O. Page, veteran right end, to boot a field goal from placement on the 25-yard line here this afternoon and give the Muckers a 9 to 7 victory, their first of the 1935 season.

FRAME-UP!

LOGAN, Utah, Nov. 15. (AP)—The "brother act" of Utah football makes itis ninth bow tomorrow when Brigham Young university, coached by Ott Romney, meets Utah State, where E. L. (Dick) Romney is mentor.

Each team has won four games in the eight years the brother-coached elevens have met.

Wheeler Tells Of Tree Work

Forest Lecturer Presents An Interesting Lecture And Program On Forestry In Hilton On Friday

A striking contrast between lands properly and improperly used was pictorially illustrated to supplement a lecture Friday afternoon by Dr. H. N. Wheeler, of the United States Forest service.

Representatives of civic organizations, garden clubs, women's clubs, members of the horticulture class at Texas Technological college and others from Lubbock and the South Plains attended. His lecture was given in Hilton ballroom.

The shelterbelt movement, Dr. Wheeler said, is the start of a program to prevent wind and soil erosion and to educate land owners to use their lands for what they are best adapted. Officials of the movement will be able to give accurate information within a few years on the types of plants, shrubs, and trees best suited to the particular localities.

Color slides presented during the lecture by Dr. Wheeler showed work of CCC camps, the forest service, biological bureaus and national park staffs in preserving natural life and reconquering man-wasted areas.

Dr. Wheeler was introduced by K. N. Clapp. The lecturer spoke again Friday night at the CCC veteran's camp of Lubbock.

RANGER STAGES RAID

GALVESTON, Nov. 15. (AP)—Texas Ranger M. W. Williamson staged a one-man raid on a club here last night, arrested seven poker players, charged them with frequenting a gambling house and saw all fined $1 and costs on the charge.

Oberholtzer Talks On Public Schools

High points in the part public schools are playing in development of a high type of American Citizenship, were pointed out to American Business club members yesterday noon by Kenneth Oberholtzer, superintendent of schools, in a National Education week address at the Hotel Hilton.

Oscar St. Clair, Texas Tech faculty member, was program chairman. President Wyatt Hester reported on the district convention at Amarillo the first of the week. Glen Chase, Brooks Stephens, Bruce Craig, Rex Blackburn and Ted Alkire, local club members, were honored by committee appointments.

Organizer Visits Club

P. E. Neuman, Danville, Ill., field organizer for the national office, made an official visit to the club. He gave a brief outline of how the club could assist in organizing a new group and said Durwood Carnett, former Lubbock A. B. C. member now at Big Spring, was of material aid in organizing a club there.

The senior high school girls quartet, under the direction of Mrs. E. Waldo Trotter, sang several numbers. Misses Ruth Stanfill, Mary Peek, Mary Grace Allison and Jane King comprise the group.

School Influence Cited

"As a nation, we've probably kept on a more even keel during the depression of the past few years than any other nation," Mr. Oberholtzer pointed out. "One of the factors, in my opinion, is our public school system."

The schools, he added, are responsible for the improvement in the literacy of the nation. One thousand persons over 21 years of age are illiterate compared with one under 21, he stated.

The public schools are the greatest source of technical education, he pointed out. They are democratic, offering opportunities for creating good citizenship and they have contributed to the wealth of the nation in a large degree. "Our schools are the greatest guarantee of equal opportunity," he added.

Return From Captivity

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Nov. 17

By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D., Editor Of Advance

IF the downfall of Jerusalem before the armies of Nebuchadnezzar, and the carrying off of the Jewish people in exile to Babylon, was one of the major tragedies of history, one of its bright and glowing pages is the return of the Jews their own country in a new and merciful plan of colonization put into effect by Cyrus, king of Persia.

The power of Babylon had fallen beneath this soldier and statesman, who, having made himself conqueror of Persia, proceeded to make his country supreme among nations.

Cyrus wa sa remarkable blending of the ruthless, efficient soldier and the wise and tolerant administrator. He proved himself the friend of the Jews, and the record in our lesson would suggest that the project of re-establishing Jerusalem with something of its religious glory appealed strongly to his interest and vision.

THE people who returned from Babylon were very different in spirit and purpose from the broken remnant that had been carried off in defeat. Their bitter experience, if it had tested their souls, had also had a purifying effect.

They came back with spiritual vision and with the sense of a world mission that was no longer to be found in outward glory, but in devotion to that sense of God's call to Israel as a people to be the witnesses to truth and righteousness.

The brief psalm which is a part of our lesson is a poet's expression of the glory of the new enterprise. It expresses in terse and beautiful words the joy of the returning and the sense of new life and hope in the consciousness that Jehovah is calling Israel to a new mission.

The expression, "they that sow in tears shall reap in joy," has written itself into the records of human life, and the picture of going forth sowing and weeping, and returning with the sheaves and rejoicing, is one that has fitted the experience of every people.

THE lesson has peculiar appropriateness for a period of thanksgiving, especially in a time of depression. Here in America we have not been exiled to another land, but many have been driven forth from their homes and from their jobs in the crash that came when a false prosperity, with too little regard for human values and elemental honesty, went down in temporary ruin.

We have been passing through the experience that again and again has befallen nations when they have failed to order their affairs aright. If we have not learned all the chastening lessons of these experiences, there is evident, at least in some quarters, the return to greater sanity and a desire to discover sound and right ways both of living in personal life and of rectifying social abuses.

Would God that in these days we might have something of the spirit of these returning exiles, their faith, their vision, their courage, their disciplined attitude toward life, and their determination to rebuild, laying true foundations and establishing the temple as the center of their life and organization!

Crop Estimates For Texas Given

AUSTIN, Nov. 15. (AP)—The United States department of agriculture today estimated 1935 Texas cotton production at 3,350,000 bales as of Nov. 1, a decline of .8 per cent from Oct. 1. Production last year was 2,406,000 bales and the 10-year average 4,642,000 bales.

The per acre of corn was calculated at 19 bushels, compared to nine bushels last year. Total production was forecast at 108,471,000 bushels, more than double the 45,873,000 bushels last year.

Orange production was placed at 585,000 boxes, compared with 560,000 boxes last year and a five-year average of 292,000. Grapefruit production was estimated at 3,080,000 boxes, with 2,750,000 boxes last year and a five-year avtrage of 1,457,000 boxes.

Sweet potato production was up 3,090,000 bushels, from 3,300,000 to 6,390,000.

Water Survey Begins Soon

U. S. Geological Survey And Texas Officials Are To Conduct Thorough Survey Of Waters In Area

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 15.—A survey will be started within two or three weeks by the United States geogolical survey, the state board of water engineers and Texas A. and M., John Norris, water board chairman, said today.

Field parties will concentrate in West and Southwest Texas, Norris said, to locate underground reservoirs for use in drouths, but the survey will encompass the entire state.

To Find Storage

"The survey will be made to find how much and where the underground waters are stored," Norris said. "A total of 375,000,000 acre feet of water falls annually on Texas but only nine per cent is carried off by surface streams. The portions not consumed by evaporation and plant growth are stored in underground reservoirs. We will determine their size and costs of tapping them."

Quality of the waters also will be logged, he said.

The survey will include investigation of seepage from the Rio Grande in the lower valley and geological conditions affecting the water supplies of 70 south and southwest counties.

The Works Progress administration will pay $174,176 of the cost with the state bearing supervisory expenses.

TO OPEN HEARING

AUSTIN, Nov. 15- (AP)—A special house committee appointed to investigate wage scales on highway construction planned to open hearings in Austin Dec. 2.

Rep. Morris Roberts of Beeville was elected chairman at an organization meeting.

CARDUI

Eased Pain

Cardui is a medicine for such conditions as described below by a lady who used to take it.

"I took Cardui for pain and cramping, also for a run-down condition, and I found it eased the pain and built up my nervous system and helped the weakness," writes Mrs. E. D. Carrell, of Hillsboro, Texas. "I would have nervous spells that would unfit me for my work. I took Cardui and I would get all right. I was never without it when needed."

Functional pains and nervousness at monthly periods often go away when better nourishment has been provided. Cardui relieves certain pains, increases the appetite and improves digestion. If it does not benefit YOU consult a physician.—

Texas Young Democrats

REPORTS from Dallas indicate that almost a complete turnover in the executive councils will come to the Young Democrats of Texas when leaders of the organization meet there on November 22.

John L. McCarty, Dalhart newspaperman, already has resigned as president of the organization and several other "bell wethers" likewise have quit their posts, leaving empty saddles to be filled.

The Morning Avalanche has never taken the Young Democrats organization very seriously and doubts than very many people, outside of those most zealous about the group, have, either. It may be possible that time will bring prestige and political strength to Texas Young Democrats but thus far they have been floundering aimlessly with "much ado over nothing."

In order to be a powerful political factor, the Young Democrats first must mend their own fences, adopt and keep a policy of co-operation between themselves and quit the business of "washing their dirty linen" in the front yard for all to see.

Further, they must make their organization truly one of young Democrats and operated by young Democrats without interference from many men who are 25 years older than young Democrats are supposed to be.

Until such changes are made and until a firm hand takes the bridle reins, Texas Young Democrats cannot expect to cut much political ice.

They can expect nothing more than a lot of unnecessary publicity concerning their internal disorders.

GOOSEBONE PROPHETS

Washington may be the official as well as the political capital of the nation, but Harrisburg, Pa., claims the title of the nation's weather capital. This has no reference, it is well to state promptly, to the scientists who sit on the top of tall buildings and make weather maps for daily consumption. Harrisburg is not that kind of a weather capital at all. It is the capital of the prophets who speak by the bone of the goose on what is ahead of us weatherwise.

And not what is ahead of us for a day or a week or a month, but for a season. They are the marathoners of soothsaying. Let scientists confine themselves, if they must, to weather forecasts of the moment; the gooseboners, when autumn's half done, will tell you, if you ask, what the weather next winter has in store for you.

In fact, they will tell you whether you ask or not. What if you should never ask? The true gooseboners are not to be caught by any tricks like that. Knowing something the world ought to know, they no sooner have communed with the goosebone than they mount their housetops and tell what they have heard. And this is what they're broadcasting from the Harrisburg area in the second week of October:

Hard winter is ahead. Goosebones have turned dark and when they do that it's time to begin laying in—if you live in the Harrisburg area—an extra supply of sauerkraut, firewood and whatever else you may consider essential to a shut-in winter.

And when the booseboners say the goosebones have turned dark, they don't mean in spots only but all over. So if winter finds you unprepared you can't say the gooseboners didn't warn you!

The tradition that the show must go on seems specially applicable to a sensational trial.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.

Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering for he is faithful that promised;

And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works:

Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching. Hebrews, X: 22-26.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE GOLDEN BABY

On January 2, 1868, General Napier landed in Zula, (in what is now Italian Eritrea) leading a British expeditionary force against Emperor Theodore of Ethiopia. The march to Magdala where Theodore resided, 420 miles away, began on January 25th. On April 10th, Magdala was reached and the Abyssinian forces defeated. Magdala was stormed and razed. Peace was concluded and the last British soldier left Africa on June 18, 1868.

Before the walls of Magdala, the British found an abandoned infant of unknown parentage. General Napier took pity on the foundling, adopted him and took him back with him to India and England. That baby, given the name of Workenah (O my golden baby) received an excellent education, became a famous physician, married an Ethiopian princess, and is now His Excellency Doctor Workenah Martin, Ethiopian Minister and Envoy Extraordinary to the Court of London.

AND THE SNAKE DIED

When a rattlesnake bites a man and then dies from the bite—that's unusual. Yet that is what happened when a rattler bit Tex McDowell of Hayden, Colorado this summer. Hayden has been collecting rattlers and extracting the venom, and at present has about forty good specimens. One day he grabbed a big one, but got it too far behind the head and the snake sank his fangs into Hayden's hand. The hand, however, did not even swell up, and that same evening the snake died.

The BLUE DOOR

by Rachel Mack © 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

RUTH WOODSON, a pretty, high-spirited girl of 19, in search of work, is put off a bus in the little town of Worthville when she runs out of money. A storm is breaking and Ruth seeks refuge in an old stone mansion with a blue door. She faints and is carried upstairs by the queer old housekeeper. BERTRA GIBBS, also known as "PENNY," and by JOHN McNEIL, from next door.

Penny believes Ruth to be ELAINE CHALMERS, whose grandfather built the house. Ruth lets the mistake stand. Elaine, meanwhile, at Graycastle College, vows in a sorority meeting to win the love of John McNeill, her first sweetheart. She plans to go to Worthville.

Ruth, in love with John, resolves to stay on a while at the old house, pretending to be Elaine.

A man known as JOHN SMITH escapes from an institution for the criminally insane, buys a used-car and starts for Worthville where, he assures himself, "Old Bertha Gibbs will hide me at the house with the blue door."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

Ruth was far more happy than she was unhappy. Far more gay than apprehensive. She was in love, and knew it. She moved in that soaring, tremulous state when the mere recalling of a beloved pair of eyes, a beloved voice, sent the pulses pounding. The anticipation of another meeting with John McNeill—another such rendezvous as last night's ride—made life a glorious adventure. Her happiness dimmed her fears for the future, caused her to forget the insecurity of her position, and lulled her pricking conscience into comfortable quiescence.

In short, Ruth Woodson, becomingly clothed in one of the charity-box hand-knit dresses, moved gracefully through the old Hunter house, in and out its rooms, up and down its stairs, quite as if she owned the place. Old mirrors, cleared of dust by her own agile hands, reflected her presence; dim corners echoed her laughter and the sound of her singing.

Penny said feelingly that morning: "Lor', Miss Elaine, it's good to have you here. You cheer up the place considerable!"

In the afternoon mail there arrived a check from "Miss Gwen." After Penny had pulled the letter from the rusty mail box she stood in the hall, handling it with trembling fingers.

To Ruth, passing through the hall, she said importantly, "It's from your mother. It's the money she sends me regular for takin' care of the house. But seems like I'm gettin' more and more afraid to open 'em. There might come a letter any time now, sayin' I'm pensioned off. . . ." Her voice trailed away anxiously.

Ruth's anxiety caught fire, too. She realized that the letter in Penny's hands was a sort of bomb which might, in its explosion, blow her temporary little world of happiness to atoms. But she said, her voice held steady, "Don't anticipate bad 'news, Penny, and maybe it won't ever come. Open the letter."

Penny obeyed, removing from the creamy, square envelope a check and a folded sheet of paper. She said, handing the letter to Ruth, "You read it to me, Miss Elaine. I can't make out pen and ink writin' very good lately."

Ruth unfolded the paper and ran her eyes down it hastily and anxiously. She thought, "If it says anything about Elaine—anything that will give me away, I'll skip it." Presently she breathed a quick sigh of relief. There was nothing at all in the letter to upset her own world or poor old Penny's. She read aloud:

"Dear Bertha: I am sorry to be a week or two late with your check but I have been in France and have just gotten home. I hope you have not been inconvenienced. Please see that the leaks in the slate roof are attended to, also the guttering, and whatever other repairs are needed. Have the bills sent to Mr. Deal's secretary, as usual. I don't want the old house to go to pieces.

"I hope you are keeping well and that your eyesight is improving. Do get new glasses. That often helps. Call on me if you need extra funds, of course, Affectionately, Gwendolyn Hunter Deal."

"There!" said Ruth, handing it back. "I don't believe they've any idea of pensioning you off, Penny. Quit worrying!"

Penny was nodding her head in relief. "I'll take the check right down to the bank," she said. "I havent' been down town for about three months. I've got to lay in some staples at the grocery store. I'd be obliged if you'd keep house for me while I'm gone?"

"Of course I will," Ruth assured her. "Give me that cloth and let me finish dusting. Then you can get ready and go right away."

When Penny came down a bit later, hatted and coated for the occasion and wearing overshoes and an anxious expression, it was evident that this trip "to town" was an important event in her life. Actually she left the house only four times a year, and that was for the purpose of banking her quarterly check. Pausing before she went out the door, she said to Ruth earnestly, "I won't be gone more'n an hour and a half, all told. If anybody comes here askin' for me—askin' for me by name, I mean—will wou have 'em come in and wait?"

"Why, yes," Ruth answered, "of course. Can you manage all right at the street crossings, Penny?"

Bertha nodded. "I'm careful, and I use my umbrella for a cane. I never have any trouble that way."

On a highway leading from a southerly direction a small, unnoticeable automobile had just picked up a nail and blown a tire. The car, traveling rapidly at the time, was thrown smartly across the road and was partially wedged between a tree and fence.

The driver, its sole occupant, recovering from the shock of the impact, lifted himself from the steering wheel and rubbed his chest. His prodding hand found a sore rib that made him wince with pain. From a cut on his palm blood was trickling. He was the man who, some time before, had escaped from a place where the criminally insane are detained.

Climbing cautiously from the car, John Smith inspected the damage done. He could, he decided, extricate his car without help if the engine still ran. But first he must change the tire which had blown out. This he proceeded to do, getting the tools from the place he knew them to be, and applying the jack with fumbling, unaccustomed fingers. It took him all of an hour to do this. At last, weary from his exertions, he sat on the running board and smoked a cigaret while his mind wrestled with his problems.

His hand had started to bleed again. He wrapped the bloodsoaked handkerchief tighter and frowned. He contemplated looking for a doctor in the next town, then decided against it. He could not afford to have any one recognize his picture, should it be published in the interest of his capture. No, better push on to Worthville. Better put himself in the old woman's hands.

"The old house is like a fort," he thought. "I could dig in there and stay indefinitely—"

A car was coming to a halt beside him. Breaks ground, tires skidded, and from the window of a gleaming coupe a tanned, hatless young man leaned out and called pleasantly, "Can I help you?"

"Thanks, no," John Smith replied in a gruff voice, not his own. His hat was pulled low over his eyes. He partially concealed his mouth and chin by manipulating his cigaret with his uninjured hand. "It was a blow-out." Then he added, lying, "I was going the other way. Car turned completely around!"

"What you know about that!" exclaimed the young man, with surprised interest. "Well, you're lucky you didn't crash that tree."

"Yeah," replied John Smith. He was narrowly eying the nonchalant, clear-cut young man whose gaze was so direct and who wanted to be helpful. He wondered why the young man looked vaguely familiar to him. After all, he, "John Smith," hadn't been in this vicinity for 10

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

LIQUOR happens to be the inspiration for the radiant smile on Henry Morgenthau's face these days.

The Secretary of the Treasury has taken a lot of backstage kidding for his puritanical views on liquor taxes and methods of enforcement. Even President Roosevelt has joshed him now and then. Mr. Morgenthau was accused of encouraging bootlegging by his refusal to lower foreign and domestic duties. He was charged with placing booze beyond the thirsty reach of the poor man. Until Mr. Roosevelt muffled him, ex-FCA-er Choate used to groan audibly at the Morgenthau policies.

Now Mr. Morgenthau feels he is on the road to vindication. Prices of fairly good stuff are dropping. There will be a surplus of 200,000,000 gallons of whiskey aging in the wood by January 1. Mounting receipts indicate he will collect $500,000,000 for the 1936 fiscal year. He insists he will eventually suppress illicit operations except for moonshine areas in the South where never heard of prohibition even in Carry Nation days.

RELIEF: Promise of an annual revenue of a half-billion will be music in the ears of Southern and Western Congressmen.

Many traditional drys in the House voted for repeal only because President Roosevelt wanted it. But they warned Messrs. Morgenthau and Roosevelt that they were on the spot and that their only justification was economic. They assuaged their constituents' feelings with the pledge that a bountiful return would help to cut taxes and end the depression. Most of them mouthed the good round figure of $500,000,000 in revenue.

It was Mr. Morgenthau who slipped them that estimate at executive hearings on Capitol Hill. They have frequently reminded him of his responsibility for their political lives. Many a time the conscientious Secretary has shivered over the chances of making good. What made it worse is that Appropriations Chairman Buchanan of Texas, who has the drop on all Treasury requests for funds, took Mr. Morgenthau more seriously than the Secretary did himself. Now that issue's dead.

PRESSURE: In dumping the relief problem on cities, counties and states Harry Hopkins has been trying to dig himself out of a hole without admitting publicly that there is so much as a slope in the ground.

What happened is that the administration decided to shift the burden to states at a time when most legislatures are not in session. For two months there is no method by which states can provide the extra funds needed to feed and clothe the jobless, unless Governors call special sessions. Welfare workers throughout the nation protested to the White House against setting an arbitrary date for transfer of responsibility, but the communication was pigeonholed.

It opened Harry's brown eyes, however. Some delay in shifting gears may be due to natural difficulties. But insiders note that legislatures will be in session when there's sharp print to the program for making states take care of their own needy. Washington intends to shoulder the burden on local communities and it will throw millions off federal rolls before the states are prepared to supply substitute care. That will put the problem right in legislators' laps.

PLANS: The GOP's sharpest objective next year will be to elect a House hostile to the New Deal. They may win the White House but privately they are dubious of that prospect. They can't control the Senate if they win every contested seat. To check Mr. Roosevelt they must carry the lower chamber.

On the surface the GOP apparently has no chance to elect a House majority. They need about 125 victories over sitting Democrats, whereas their maximum hopes are 75 in the inner councils. That would leave the administration with a majority of 50—enough to put through all New Deal legislation in most cases.

But secret conferences between GOP strategists and friendly Democrats in the last few weeks have been fruitful. Powerful groups which oppose Roosevelt—the American Liberty League, the utilities, the industrialists—will endorse anti-New Deal Democrats in southern and midwest primaries. They will put up lots of money to nominate and elect their candidates. The winners will come to Washington as nominal Democrats but they will be pledged against all Roosevelt proposals. Under such an alliance it is easily possible that the President's enemies may dominate the House. You will hear more of this operation before long.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE Securities Exchange commission's tactics in dealing with the big utility groups—which will be nearly unanimous in refusing to register under the holding company act—will be based on public relations rather than law. The commission privately fears that the power companies will have a large measure of public support for their recalcitrance—especially in view of Judge Coleman's decision.

So although Jim Landis talks vaguely of unspecified penalties to be visited on those which do not register, you will find him trying hard to appear sweetly reasonable and to make registration look like the mere innocuous formality which power men claim it isn't.

The commission is particularly anxious to impress utility security holders to the point of bringing pressure on stubborn managements. This is frankly rated the only hope—and a mighty slim one at that—of swinging the holdouts into line. So far security holders—whenever they have had a chance to express themselves at company meetings—have invariably urged their managements to an even more belligerent opposition to the New Deal. It looks as if it would take a five-star diplomatic miracle to induce them to change their minds. The managements certainly aren't worrying about such a possibility.

STALL: One more knot in the nightmare tangle with which the Securities Exchange commission is confronted is uncertainty about the market action of utility stocks when failure to register becomes an official fact. The commission figures they are likely to swing sharply up or down — but has no idea which.

The first would make the commission look foolish, the second would bring a fearful rassing down on its head for disrupting recovery. Either would be likely to upset general market stability and create fresh problems of market control.

Insiders understand there is strong sentiment within the commission in favor of stalling off a final showdown by postponing the registration date until the Supreme court rules on the constitutionality of the holding company act. But there is also opposing sentiment that this would be a fatal confession of weakness. No official decision has been reached on this point as yet.

STACKED: Sometime ago this column noted that many business men were critical of the New Deal questionnaire sponsored by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce—contending that the queries were too obviously designed to inspire replies unfavorable to the administration.

The current record on the chamber's referendum confirms this critical attitude. The fact that an overwhelming majority of the business groups which have replied to the questionnaire have been adverse to New Deal policies is less significant than the number of groups which have not yet replied at all. Informed sources prophesy that other local chambers besides the one at Columbia, S. C. will resign from the national organization in protest.

Some New York right-wingers privately concede that the referendum won't even serve a useful propaganda purpose because the administration can so easily claim that the cards were deliberately stacked against it.

TARZAN AND THE FIRE GODS, No. 48

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Lady Beth knew that soon she would be engaged in a titanic struggle for power with Niarchus—and she feared the result. The position of the high priest and his performance of the sacrificial rites were firmly ingrained in the age-old traditions of this degraded sect.

By questioning Arbela she explored again the possibilities of escape from the valley of the crater. "There is no exit," Arbela replied; "unless it be to the South, where dwell the South Canaanites." "Who are they?" Lady Beth inquired. Arbela shook her head sadly.

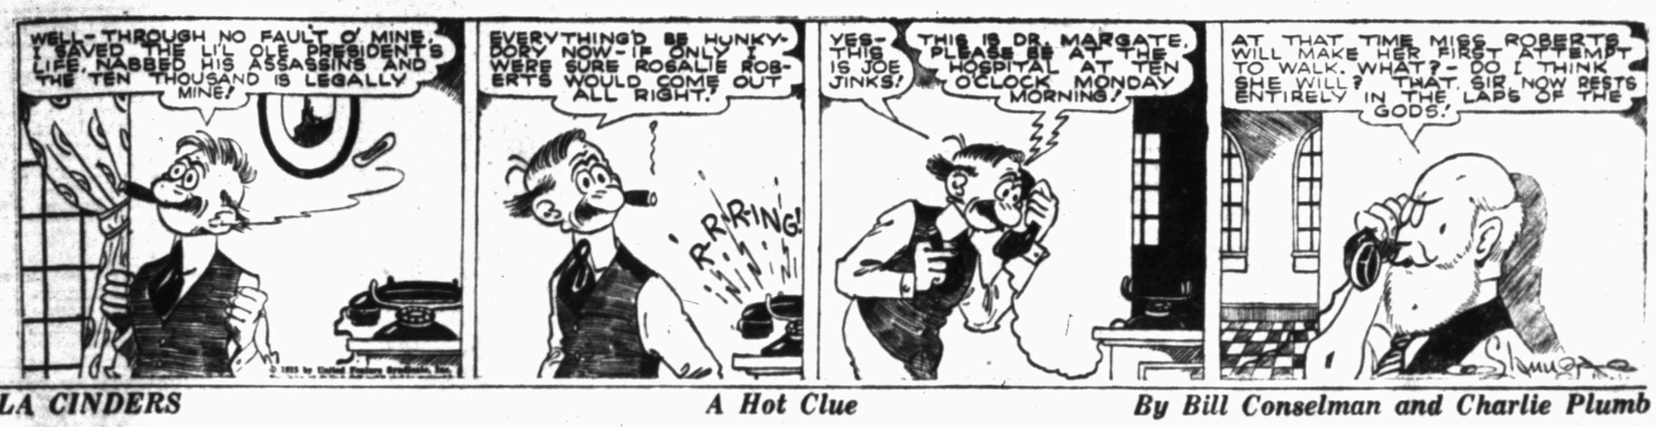

"They are something like us, they speak the same language, but they are very strong and warlike. There is a feud between them and us. Sometimes they raid our village and kill our people. But anyway, I should like to be captured by one of them. The men are beautiful."

Arbela sighed, then continued: "I think a South Canaanite husband would love me, for I am beautiful, too." Beth was about to smile at the girl's naivete when a sinister form suddenly darkened the mouth of the cave. It was Niarchus; and he commanded: "Come with me!"

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals, addressed to the Board of Trustees of the Crosbyton Independent School District, Crosbyton, Crosby county, Texas, for the construction of a school building in accordance with the plans, specifications, and instructions to bidders, prepared by, and which may be obtained from O. R. Walker, Architect, will be received at the office of the School Superintendent of Crosbyton Independent School District until 2:00 p. m., December 4th, 1935, and then publicly opened and read.

The successful bidder will be required to enter into a contract with the Crosbyton Independent School District, which will contain provisions conforming to the requirements of the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works, as set out in PWA Form No. 166, or Form 179, issued July 22, 1935, and revisions thereof, and the special requirements of the State Director, P. W. A.

A cashier's of certified check, payable without recourse to the order of Crosbyton Independent School District, or an acceptable Proposal Bond, in an amount not less than five per cent (5%) of the largest possible total bid, including consideration of alternates, must accompany each bid as a guarantee that, if awarded the contract, the bidder will promptly enter into a contract and execute bond in the form provided, as outlined in the specifications and instructions to bidders.

A Performance Bond, in an amount not less than one hundred per cent (100%) of the contract price will be required.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than the prevailing rates of wage as established by the Crosbyton Independent School District and as set forth in the specifications must be paid on this project.

The award of the contract shall be conditioned upon funds being made available, and the Crosbyton Independent School District shall have the right to hold the bids for a period of sixty (60) days from the date of the bid opening. No bid may be withdrawn within thirty days after the date of bid opening.

Contract will be awarded subject to the approval of the State Director, P. W. A.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any and-or all bids and-or waive any and-or all formalities.

T. O. CAGLE.
Board of Trustees, Crosbyton Independent School District.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. (AP)—Specialties and rails took the lead in the stock market today. Good gains in a relatively narrow selection of issues stood out above a market which was generally only fractionally improved.

Farm implement shares, rails, railroad equipment, oils and some of the motors attracted the bulk of the buying. The high spot of the market was a rush for these groups at the end of the second hour, when many of the best prices of the day were recorded.

Activity and most prices were below the best in later dealings, turnover in the stock exchange was 2,340,000, approximately 400,000 less than the previous session. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks [illegible] of a point to 56.2, replacing Thursday's figure of 55.7 as the top, not only [illegible] 1935, but since September 11, 1931.

Bonds were about steady for the most part, although secondary rail loans found a following.

Livestock

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 15. (AP) (USDA)—Fresh receipts of cattle around the [illegible] western circuit included only a limited showing of steers and yearlings, mostly short fed steers selling within a range of 8.75@10.50. Prices were considered generally steady. Good 940 lb. yearling steers cleared up to 11.35.

Total arrivals of hogs today compared favorably with last Friday but number around one-third of the receipts a year ago. Chicago and St. Louis had an extreme top of 9.70.

Unevenness prevailed in fat lamb trade, prices, however, generally steady. Best natives available reached 10.60 bulk natives and westerns around the circuit at 9.75@10.25. Fresh shorn lambs scored 8.50 and 132 lb. range ewes made 5.25.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Nov. 15. (AP) (USDA)—Hogs 600; top 9.35 paid by packers and small killers; packing sows steady, mostly 8.25.

Cattle 2,700; calves 1,300; scattered sales good fed steers and yearlings 7.50@8.50; medium grade 5.50@7.25; beef cows 3.50@4.50; common and medium grade slaughter calves 3.75@5.50; few good kinds 5.75@6.25.

Sheep 700; fat lambs 8.00@9.00; shorn fat yearlings 6.00@6.50; 2-year-old shorn wethers 5.00@5.50.

LOS ANGELES REPORT

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15. (AP) (USDA)—Hogs rcts. 300; bulk 10.00@10.35; few sows 8.25@8.60.

Cattle rcts. 1,200; fed steers at 7.25; two load cows 5.50. Calves rcts. 500; odd vealers 10.00; few slaughter calves 7.00 down.

Sheep rcts. 900; no sales; good to choice lambs 9.75.

If the world's temperature were lowered but 10 degrees, for the year round, another ice age would result.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15. (AP)—Cotton ran up to new high levels for the season again today after a mild recession during the early dealings.

While the advance netted futures from 4 to 12 points, considerably less than the more than $1 a bale gain on Thursday, the market was strong in the final hour and closed at the best prices of the day.

Profit-taking and realizing cropped out in the first hour or so and brought small losses for all options. Around noon prices began to recover and going into the final hour were actively bid up. Dec. closed at 11.91, Jan. at 11.81, March at 11.77 and July at 11.60. In the spot market middling at New Orleans advanced 10 more points to 12.30, well above the government guarantee level.

Speculative sentiment in the afternoon was decidedly bullish. Good weekly reports showing mill takings of 392,000 bales, compared with 378,000 bales a week ago; a good volume of exports and heavy spot sales all indicated to the trade that the demand for actual cotton is holding up well.

Freezing weather in the northern section of the belt and a report from Dallas that some trouble might be experienced in producing the 3,250,000 bales estimated for that state by the government also helped the bullish side.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. (AP)—Cotton showed renewed strength today after slight early reactions and prices reached new high levels in the late trading. The close was very steady at net advances of 8 to 13 points.

Reactionary sentiment followed recent sharp advances was in evidence during the early trading and southern hedging was supplemented by realizing of liquidation. Offerings were absorbed on declines of 4 to 8 points, however, and selling tapered off later.

Exports today 61,469, making 1,969,341 so far this season. Port receipts 53,548. U. S. port stocks 2,969,553.

TICKER NEWS

205 New Cotton Exchange Building

NEW ORLEANS—Cotton News Bureau Observer says: Yesterday for the first time this season the average price of middling 7-8 cotton in the ten designated markets of the country was above the 12 cent level, touching 1202. This means that yesterday the government did not have to pay any subsidy to farmers who sold their cotton under the plan, which is part and parcel of the crop loan to guarantee the growers at least 12 cents a pound for their cotton. This means a saving to the government, but there is another angle to this, which is important. Those farmers who claim subsidies from the government must sign a contract to cut acreage next spring as the government directs. With cotton at, and above 12 cents no subsidies are available and the growers who sell will not be forced to sign contracts, leaving them to all appearances, free to plant as they like, next spring.

LIVERPOOL cables—Profit taking about balanced by new buying in the cotton futures market. General opinion here is that Bankhead act will be declared unconstitutional and that four year AAA program will be financed by other means than processing tax. Alexandria reports distribution proceeding at such a rapid rate that statistical position becoming very strong. Election returns suggest government majority of around 250.

NEW ORLEANS wires: As full bullish features justify further advance, continue to advise purchases.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 15. (AP)—Big jumps of wheat prices at Minneapolis, with reports of notably enlarged demand for flour, led late today to material upturns of wheat prices here.

In some cases, the Minneapolis wheat market rose 4 3-8 cents a bushel.

Wheat in Chicago closed irregular, ranging from 1-8 cent off to 1 1-4 cents up compared with yesterday's finish, Dec. 96 1-4@96 3-8, corn 1-4 to 3-4 advanced, Dec. 60 3-8@60 1-2, oats 1-8 to 3-8 up, and provisions showing 17 to 27 cents gain.

Despite Liverpool wheat quotations higher than due, the Chicago wheat market averaged lower the first part of the day.

Late purchasing that rallied Chicago wheat futures 2 1-4 cents from the day's low point was led by houses with connections east, and chiefly affected December and May.

Corn and oats were firmer mainly because of unfavorable weather in the corn belt.

Decidedly higher prices on hogs gave stimulus to a rise of the provisions market.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Nov. 15. (AP)—Estimated receipts were: Wheat 2 cars and corn 7. Wheat No. 1 red winter 1.18 1-4@1.20 1-4; No. 1 hard, according to protein and billing, 1.21 1-4@1.36 1-4. Barley No. 2 nom. 54@55; sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. nom. 1.07@1.02; No. 2 white kafir nom. 1.07@1.09.

places in the Pacific.

Somewhere west of Hawaii, 41 naval planes now are making the acquaintance of sandy islets and coral reefs seldom visited by human beings.

To the south of Hawaii more tiny islands are being "colonized" by Americans. Some day these mere dots in the Pacific a part of the American defense may become useful not only as system but also as potential stepping stones for other commercial airlines — possibly to Australia or New Zealand.

Following the path of the Pan American Clipper which blazed the trail as far as Guam, the China Clipper will confine her first operations to mail carrying, but already she has drawn a bumper crop of prospective passengers.

Company officials said today 912 persons already had applied for tickets for the first passenger flight, which will not be made for several weeks.

Travel will be much like that in a railroad Pullman car. The berths, accommodating 18 persons, are slightly larger than Pullman sleeping quarters. They are cared for by a steward, who also presides over the plane's buffet.

There will be no alcoholic drinks aboard. Smoking will not be allowed, at least not for the time being.

The Clipper will carry just about everything for safety.

Each has six air-tight compartments, any two of which are supposed to keep the plane afloat on the sea indefinitely, and collapsible rubber life rafts, capacity eight persons, also are carried.

DOCTOR'S BAG STOLEN

LEVELLAND, Nov. 15. (Special)—The offense likely tracing to some one's craving for drugs, theft of Dr. C. M. Phillips' medical bag was reported tonight to Clarence Davis, sheriff.

The sheriff said the kit was taken from the doctor's automobile sometime from 8 to 9 o'clock.

Reward for recovery is offered.

Liquor Control

cent of the qualified voters may by petition require the court to act. The petition method is mandatory for ordering local option elections in justice precincts, cities or towns.

Face More Delay

The election may not be less than 10 nor more than 20 days from the date of the commissioners' order. On the fifth day after balloting, commissioners are required to meet in special session, canvass returns and certify results.

Thereupon local option becomes operative as to the type or types of liquor favored in the election. Sellers face further delay, however, for permits from the board are necessary.

Elbert Hooper of Austin, who assisted the conference committee and interpreted provisions of the act, believes 50 additional counties will legalize liquor in four months. His estimate arises from the Aug. 24 repeal vote. Three-fourths of the state's population reside in the 50 counties, he said.

Prescription Whisky Outlawed

There can be no legal liquor sales before permits are issued, even prescription whisky being outlawed pending licensing of physicians and druggists. Licensed physicians may prescribe one quart at a time, double the amount allowed under the repeal Dean act.

Package store permits authorizing sale of not less than one-half pint may be obtained in areas which legalize sale. A supply will not be denied drinkers in dry territory, however, for the act is interpreted to permit purchase in wet territory and legal transportation to a dry area for personal consumption.

Transportation Prohibited

Transportation to or sale in a dry territory is prohibited. Possession of more than one quart is termed prima facie presumption of possession for sale. Courts must decide in each case the fact issue of whether or not possession was for the purpose of sale. Sponsors said the provision is aimed at bootleggers.

"Three-two" beer now legal in 176 counties becomes four per cent for the act removes the limitation provided under the beer legalization constitutional amendment. Beer, ales, porters and wines up to 14 per cent may be bought by the drink from licensed dealers other than liquor package stores.

Hotels An Exception

Hotels are an exception to the prohibition against conducting liquor packages stores and beer and wine dispensaries in the same location. There a buyer may have a bottle of liquor delivered to his room from the hotel's package store, mix his cocktails and then have beer or wine with his meal in the dining room.

Hotel package store operations must be segregated, however, from the beer and wine dispensary. The permittee faces cancellation of his license for allowing liquor drinking in the place where he sells beer and wine.

(TOMORROW: Restraints placed upon liquor dealers).

Trade Treaty

and unnecessary trade barriers between our two countries. I am confident that this constructive step will contribute greatly to he economic recovery of both the United states and Canada."

President Roosevelt announced that the provisions of the pact would not be made public until Monday.

He expained that it was necessary first to transmit the text to Ottawa for publication simultaneously in the Canadian capital and in Washington. Indications were, however, that the agreement would become effective before the end of the year. Only formal proclamation of the heads of both countries now is necessary to make it operative.

New Braunfels Man Honored Here By Textile Fraternity

Honorary membership in Texas Tech chapter of Phi Psi, national honorary textile fraternity, was conferred at a dinner Friday night in Chimayo room of Hilton hotel upon Walter Dillard, general manager of New Braunfels mills.

Initiation of eight pledges of the freaternity began at 5 o'clock. Dinner was severed at 7.

Musical entertainment was provided by Miss Willette Waters, who played piano and accordion numbers. Elliott Knox and Worth Gamel, June graduates of the textile department and employes of the New Braunsfels mills, and Mr. Dillard spoke.

Denzil Probasco was toastmaster. Twenty-five attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillard are guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Heard, 2623 Twentieth street. Mr. Heard is acting head of the college textile department.

Jury Deliberates On Boone Verdict

A 99th district court grand jury which had deliberated the abortion case of Dr. O. C. Boone since 2:15 o'clock Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock asked Judge Clark M. Mullican to allow it to go to dinner and, afterward, to bed.

Statutory penalty is from two to five years in the penitentiary, with no provision for suspension of sentence.

Blair Closes Argument

District Attorney Daniel A. Blair made closing argument after court had been resumer in the afternoon. Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, opened for the state, followed by George S. Berry and George W. Dupree, defense attorneys.

Motion to acquit Dr. Boone, a chiropractor, was overruled by Judge Mullican.

Two years in the penitentiary was assessed Orville Tuttle, 21 charged with burglary of the Spotted Pig refreshment stand. He pleaded not guilty and asked a suspended sentence.

Five-year sentence in the case of W. H. Moore, charged with forgery of a $2 check at Slaton. He waived jury hearing. Sentence may not be suspended when an assessment of more than five years is rendered.

The case of Mrs. Ruby Borders, charged with theft over $50, was called but was reset for Dec. 9 because of illness of defense attorney.

Weather Friday

temperature below freezing in some sections continued south toward the gulf coast.

The mercury climbed from 30 to 47 in the Lubbock section yesterday but fell again at night.

29 At Midnight

Midnight's temperature reading of 29 degrees was one degree under Friday morning's low and indicated a drop of two or three more degrees early this morning, it was reported at the main line station of West Texas Gas company.

A drop of nine degrees in two and one-half hours beginning at seven o'clock was reported.

Cold weather is delaying somewhat picking of cotton. Many farmers have not begun to pick while a number more are holding up temporarily their second round. In only comparatively few instances have farmers made their third round of picking, it is said.

Clouds with occasional rains were predicted for Houston and Beaumont was promised temperature of between 35 and 40. Continued cold was promised the Galveston section.

trade with the belligerents. The secretary's statement, however, was the first official acknowledgement that it had not been successful in obtaining voluntary obedience on the part of American business interests to the spirit of the neutrality law.

Statement Creates Interest In League Quarters

GENEVA, Nov. 15. (AP)—Secretary of State Hull's warning that the export of war materials was contrary to United States policy created special interest tonight in the League of Nations because of a pending proposal to place an embargo upon the export to Italy of oil, coal, iron and steel.

The sanctions committee of 18 made this boycott in reality contingent upon receipt of assurances from the United States and Germany that they would not supply Italy with these products.

Hull's warning came after Germany announced she would limit the exportation of certain key products.

Liquor Control Act And Car Drivers' License Law Are Approved; Two Members Of Liquor Board Named full time administrator.

Although the law went into effect on the governor's signature, actually it cannot become operative until the administrative setup, is completed, stamps are printed and regulations formulated.

Status In Doubt

The status of liquor dealers who continued sales without a license was in doubt. Sales have been unregulated since repeal of constitutional prohibition last summer but under the new law dealers who sell without a license may be denied permits. It was estimated at least two weeks would be required to prepare forms and solve other administrative problems. The board, however, may issue temporary permits.

In addition, applicants for licenses must advertise their intentions in newspapers at least two weeks before the board can act.

To Consider Action

L. G. Phares, acting director of the public safety department, said he probably would confer with his superior on a course of action in the interim.

"I don't believe we will be unreasonable about the thing," he said.

Huge stores of liquor became immediately subject to taxation. The law levies a tax of 80 cents a gallon on whiskys and distilled liquors with smaller taxes on beverages of lighter alcoholic content.

License Effective In April

The drivers' license law would not become operative until April 1 and marked the state's first effort in that field. The law was pushed through the legislature with great difficulty despite growing alarm over the increase in automobile fatalities.

Sponsors of the law, who witnessed the governor's signature, said it was not as strong as they wanted and that they would attempt to add teeth at a subsequent session.

Supplied Without Cost

Licenses would be supplied without cost by the state but possession would be mandatory. Drivers would be suspended automatically on conviction for:

1. Negligent homicide resulting from use of a motor vehicle.
2. Driving while intoxicated.
3. Use of an automobile in commission of felonies.
4. Failure to stop and render aid after a collision.
5. Two convictions within one year for violating traffic laws.

The initial suspension would be for six months with subsequent violations punishable by suspension for one year.

The governor said he wished to study the pension bill before signing it. Although plainly disappointed at failure of the legislature to provide revenues to pay pensions, the governor expressed general satisfaction with its work.

to retire from the United States senate whether he wanted to or not, for the very good reason that I feel he is necessary in the senate, not only to the people of Nebraska but to those of the United States for as long as he lives."

Earlier, Mr. Roosevelt arranged to visit the home states of his vice president and senate leader next June on the eve of the national Democratic convention.

His Texas visit is at Garner's invitation, and is believed by many to clinch the probability that Mr. Roosevelt will insist upon the same runningmate in next year's campaign.

Pre-Christmas Move Is Made

Goodfellows Organization May Result From Breakfast Held Friday For Discussion Of United Charities Plan

A pre-Christmas move to supply cheer to the indigent upon the most famous of all historical observances was taken Friday morning at 7 o'clock at a breakfast for 16 men in Hilton hotel. A Goodfellows organization may result.

Representatives of civic, church, patriotic, and social organizations will be invited to attend a meeting at 3 p. m. in the American Legion hall Sunday to consider the proposal.

To Unify Charities

Object of a Goodfellows organization, it was pointed out, is to unify Christmas charities to avoid duplications and to see that every destitute family is remembered at Christmas.

Whether groups which heretofore have been conducting individual Christmas cheer programs will cooperate in the Goodfellows movement will be determined Sunday. Dr. E. F. George, Captain John G. Churchill, Ray F. Hinchey, J. A. Raley, jr., and R. F. Bayless were named by Dr. H. H. Bidwell as members of a committee to arrange the next meeting.

Goodfellows can be most effective in a Christmas campaign only when they supplant individual groups, it was explained.

Legion Calls Meet

The American Legion called the breakfast meeting after The Plainsman, Evening Journal columnist, suggested that some clearing organization be formed to direct a community Christmas program. Doctor Bidwell, the legion commander, presided. W. H. Wright, post adjutant, presented a tentative plan which would include a visit by Santa Claus, a community Christmas tree for needy children, distribution of baskets to indigent families, and downtown and residential decorations. No action was taken on the proposal pending decision on establishment of a Goodfellow set-up here.

The legion representatives explained their calling the meeting and offering a program were to start the movement for unified Christmas charities and decoration.

The group, in an informal discussion, approved placing of 12-foot decorated trees on Broadway at each intersection between Avenue H and Avenue Q. The line of trees may be continued to College avenue.

Other persons attending the meeting included Ben R. Eskridge, W. H. Waln, F. R. Land, Bill Bray, Gordon Webb, F. H. Bain, A. C. Jackson, A. B. Davis and G. W. Nolen.

Car Licenses In Higher Numbers

Numerals of 1936 license plates in Lubbock county have been placed in a higher bracket, word was received Friday from Bessie Bergstrom, chief clerk of the State Highway department.

Numbers for the plates will be: for 8,600 passenger licenses, 718-01 to 726-700; for 1,500 commercial plates, 105-951 to 107-450; for 450 farm trucks, 46-701 to 46-950.

Although delivery of plates to the office of county tax collector will be made soon, the new licenses cannot be obtained until Feb. 1, 1936, and are not required until Apr. 2.

Theme Of Addresses Of Noted Jap Leader Discussed Here

Themes of addresses to be given in Lubbock Dec. 23-24 by Dr. Toyohika Kagawa, noted Japanese Christian leader, were set when several members of the Texas Technological college Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations met Thursday evening in the home of Rev. W. R. Vivrett, 1020 Seventeenth street.

General theme of the four conferences will be "Values of the Kingdom of God." Theme of the principal address, the evening of Dec. 23, will be "The Kingdom of God in the Everyday Life of the Christian." Theme of other conferences will be "Kingdom Values for the Ministry"; "Kingdom Values for Young People"; "Kingdom Values for the Lay Leadership of the Church."

Doctor Kagawa will appear here under the auspices of the college Christian associations. Invitations have been sent to 750 pastors and church workers throughout Northwest Texas.

years. And 10 years ago that young chap must have been only 14 or 15 years old.

The young man lifted his hand in salute, shifted gears and drove on. Toward Worthville. An advertising cover on his spare tire said "McNeill Pumps make hard water unnecessary!"

John Smith lifted an eyebrow. So that was it. The McNeill boy, grown up. He was glad he'd kept his own face covered. The interview caused him to reconsider his plans. It was possible, even probable, that the McNeill family still lived next door to the old Hunter place. This boy might recognize him after the roadside meeting. Certainly he would recognize the injured car. John Smith decided to abandon the car and continue on foot until overtaken by a bus. The bus would carry him to Worthville. Here he would alight at some busy intersection, and from there would saunter, perhaps under cover of falling darkness, to the old house.

John McNeill, already forgetful of the incident just past, skillfully lighted his pipe without reducing speed. He'd signed up the dealer he wanted in Akron—the third such achievement in a month—and things looked bright for McNeill Pumps. The factory would soon be running full time again, if this sort of thing kept up.

"Dad would be proud as all get-out, if he could see me carrying on," he thought contentedly. "I guess I'm going to be a fair to middlin' salesman after all."

Then, persistently, through these pleasant meditations recurred the image of the wirey, thin-faced, slouching figure on the running board back there. "Where've I seen that guy before?" he asked himself. The question was unanswerable. He thought he had dismissed it, but the subconscious mind never dismisses the unsolved. Back, back through the years went the trail of his subconscious thoughts while his conscious mind took up a happier theme.

"Elaine!" he said aloud, and laughed in the wind. "Lord!" he said, "I believe I'm in love with her. I believe I'd rather have her for my wife than any girl on earth!"

He imagined her in his arms, in his house, in his life. Belonging in those places. Happy to be there. His pulses pounded harder and his eyes narrowed in determination.

"I'm going to let myself go," he decided. "I'm going to make love to her. I'm going to try to win her. Some hunch tells me I could!"

Then he thought of his mother, whome he loved and whose opinions he respected. He could imagine her saying in her sane, gentle way, "An unsuitable match, John! It would end in trouble. Maybe divorce—"

"But I want her anyway," John McNeill thought unreasonably. And that was how he knew that he loved her.

OIL AREA EXTENDED

HOUSTON, Nov. 15. (AP) — The south Houston oil area was extended 1,100 feet west today when the Diadem-Sterling No. 1 Alice C. Dean flowed an estimated 1,000 barrels of oil on a 3-8-inch choke from 15 feet of oil sand topped at 4,724 feet.

The well was drilled on a one and one-third acre tract of land owned by Miss Alice C. Dean, librarian and mathematics instructor at Rice Institute.

Coughs Go—
Often Overnight When You Take the Right Thing

But adults can't expect real results from the same sweet syrupy concoctions that you'd give to a child.

As a matter of fact, that powerful yet smooth, creamy creosoted emulsion known to druggists as Bronchu-line Emulsion is not loved by children; it's a medicine for grown-ups, but it sure gives results and speedily, too. Get a bottle at Mark Halsey Drug or Cammack Drug tonight and put it to work at once—it strikes right at the source of the trouble—satisfaction guaranteed.
