GIs' Taxes "Forgiven"

Officers Given Extension Of Time To Pay

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—Senate and House conferees on the $5,788,000,000 tax reduction bill agreed today to forgive enlisted men all federal income taxes on their service pay during the war years.

The provision affects pay received from Dec. 31, 1940, to the official termination of the war.

The House conferees also agreed to two other Senate provisions for veterans. These were:

1. A three-year extension of time for commissioned officers to pay accumulated taxes on their service pay, without interest, if the taxes are paid in 12 quarterly installments.

2. A similar extension of time for payment of taxes attributable to pre-service earned income for 1940 or 1941, which became due after the taxpayer entered the armed services.

EXCESS PROFITS TAX MAIN DISPUTED ITEM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (U.P.) — House and Senate conferees began their attempt today to erase differences between conflicting tax relief bills. Corporate tax cuts raised the greatest obstacles to agreement.

The House approved a bill to reduce taxes by $5,350,000,000 next year with only $1,888,000,000 in corporate tax relief. The Senate measure called for total reductions of $5,788,000,000 with corporate benefits of $2,934,000,000.

At the core of the controversy was the Senate proposal to repeal the wartime 95 per cent excess profits tax next year and the House provision to cut it to 60 per cent next year with repeal to follow in 1947. The House also proposed

Workers In Chrysler, General Motors Plants Ready To Strike

(By The United Press)

DETROIT, Oct. 26—CIO auto workers in 45 General Motors plants are ready to strike "at any time," the union revealed today as Chrysler employes joined GM workers in authorizing a walkout to win pay gains.

With overwhelming sympathy for the union's strike authority coming from Chrysler plants across the country, Vice President Walter P. Reuther of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) said further strike machinery was in operation.

He said at least 45 locals in the far-flung General Motors system already had conducted secret ballots under the UAW constitution and had returned 90 per cent showings in favor of strike action.

The only other step required would be a strike call from the UAW executive board, Reuther said. He reiterated that the union does not contemplate any strike "at this time."

Warns Company

But at conclusion of the union's presentation of arguments in negotiations with General Motors representatives, Reuther warned the company that it was time for GM President C. E. Wilson "to come down out of his ivory tower and put his feet under the conference table."

Announcement that the 45 GM plants were vulnerable to strikes under both union and federal procedure appeared coincident with Reuther's sterner note toward what he termed "corporation stalling on the wage question."

In connection with the demand for a 30 per cent wage boost, he pledged "we will not take one red cent less than 30 per cent unless they (the company) can show they can't pay it on the basis of sound economic facts."

First Chrysler returns from National Labor Relations board elections conducted yesterday showed a 20 to 1 margin favoring strike authorization requested by the United Auto Workers union (CIO)

Representation Light

Extremely light representation was indicated in the voting among Chrysler's 120,000 eligible workers. Only 272 ballots were cast at the huge Dodge plant in Chicago,

Dr. Robert Ley Takes Own Life

(By The Associated Press)

NUERNBERG, Oct. 26.—Bull-necked, lugubrious Dr. Robert Ley, one-time luxury-loving chief of Hitler's labor front, hanged himself in his cell last night at the Nuernberg jail, where he was awaiting trial as a war criminal.

Col. John Harlen Amen, interrogation chief, disclosed today that Ley had left a document entitled "my political testimony," which Amen said was "a terrific apology for his anti-semitism." The message was directed to "my German people."

Ley also left two other documents, prepared in his cell. One was a will, addressed to his children; the other a long discourse directed to his three wives. A spokesman said he called upon his last wife not to remarry, "because I know you love only me."

His suicide may mean major changes in preparations for the trial of the 22 other leading Nazis incarcerated there. With the opening of the trial just 24 days away, Ley's death was believed to exclude the use of certain documents with high value as evidence, pertaining only to the ex-labor boss.

Discovered By Sentinel

Ley was pronounced dead at 8:10 p. m. (1:10 p. m. CST) last night after efforts to revive him failed. The official announcement,

Compromise Seen On Rule Of Japan
United States Relations With Russia Are Believed On Mend

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Relations between the United States and Russia seemed on the mend today in an atmosphere of better understanding.

These were the heartening developments:

1. State department disclosure that the two governments were discussing the Soviet proposal for a four-power council (U. S., Russia, Britain, China) to govern Japan.

2. Indications Russia would agree that when differences arose in the council, the U. S. position should govern.

3. Timely delivery of Russia's United Nations ratification documents, which permitted the world security organization to become a fact Wednesday.

More "Air-Clearing" Seen

Washington officials hoped the weekend might bring at least one more air-clearing event: An announcement that Russia had decided to participate in the Allied far eastern advisory commission, which will meet here for the first time Tuesday.

Announcement yesterday of the continuing four-power council discussions climaxed a day in which government officials and newsmen debated this question:

When Foreign Commissar Molotov first proposed the council for Japan, did he mean one like that set up to govern Germany, or one like those established to administer former German satellite nations such as Hungary and Romania?

It made a lot of difference.

Have Equal Authority

On the Berlin council, four Allies have equal authority. The chairmanship alternates among Gen. Eisenhower; British Field Marshal Montgomery; Russian Marshal Zhukov, and French Gen. De Lattre de Tassigny. All decisions must be unanimous.

On the Balkan commissions, the U. S. and Britain have equal representation with Russia, but in the event of conflicting views the Soviet position governs.

The U. S. would not agree to a Berlin-type council for Japan. Officials say the problem of governing the Japanese home islands is entirely different.

Berlin Council Hamstrung

They also say the Berlin council has been hamstrung by the unanimity rule, under which one dissenting nation can block action favored by the other three.

New Jap Party May Be Led By Konoye

TOKYO, Oct. 26 (AP) — Prince Fumimaro Konoye's reported plan to resign his baronial title appeared today to be the opening move of one of the country's most influential men to retain political power under "the new deal."

Well informed Japanese sources verified Domei agency's report that the brooding Konoye was preparing to retire from the imperial court, to yield all of his titles and prerogatives, and to start a new political career as a commoner.

American authorities generally regarded Konoye's projected move as intended to improve his political standing among his people and said there was no indication that it had a significant effect on the court or other senior statesmen. They pointed out that thus far the only development was that Konoye had asked permission to retire from the court and said that request easily could be denied.

Konoye's proposal caused wide interest here. Domei said his reported decision created "a favorable impression" among old line politicians, increasing "his chances of heading a new constructive political party," now in the formative stage.

SOLDIERS UNLOAD SHIPS

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Two thousand more soldiers were sent to England's major ports today to unload food ships clogging the docks as 41,000 striking stevedores showed no inclination to end their month-old walkout. Strike leaders renewed their demands for nationalization of the docks.

Bad Planning Cited In Slow Discharges

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP) — Senator Mead (D-NY) told the Senate today bad planning by the Army and Navy in getting men out of uniform had hurt the cause of adequate peacetime preparedness.

In a summary of the Senate war investigating committee's inquiry into demobilization, its chairman declared:

1. The services were caught unprepared for the mass discharge of their personnel.

2. Shipping will continue to be a bottleneck for the return of men from Europe until January or February, and for the Pacific theater until April.

3. The point discharge system, adopted "on a theoretical basis,' isn't working out in all instances.

4. But "substantial improvement" has been made in the rate of processing men through separation centers.

"In contrast to materiel demobilization, which was swift and well planned," he said, "personnel demobilization has been a welter of confusion and lack of forethought."

Some time after January 1, 1946—only a few months over eight years after the business opened—construction will begin on a two-story building with a full basement costing an approximate $70,000. Aeronautics Agency Hires Dallas Man

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP) — The State Aeronautics commission today appointed A. W. Meadows of Dallas and Houston executive director of the commission which was created by the Legislature this year.

Meadow, 49, has been engaged in various aviation activities since World War I. His home is in Dallas but he currently is stationed in Houston for Essair lines of which he is operations manager. He will begin his state duties on or before Dec. 1.

The commission's present authority is limited to acting as an agent for the state and political subdivisions in accepting and disbursing federal funds for airport development and advising local communities in aviation development.

Selection of a chief engineer for the commission was postponed until Meadows begins work as director.

Buchanan said the newly organized commission planned to meet quarterly unless special meetings were required. Other members of the commission are Henry Ayres of Paris and Parker F. Prouty of Lubbock.

Demos Curbing Pearl Harbor Probe--GOP

Order Providing Majority Action Is Under Fire

BY JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—President Truman has signed an order which Republicans said today gives Democratic members of the Pearl Harbor committee a stranglehold on the investigation's course.

The order provides that witnesses and records may be summoned only by majority action of the ten-member Senate-House group. Six members are Democrats.

At the same time the President rejected a proposal that individual committee members be permitted to interview prospective Army and Navy witnesses and to look over official records.

Republican protests may explode in the Senate and House unless some compromise is reached.

GOP Keeping Silent

They are keeping silent now in the hope they may force approval of procedure similar to that of the Senate war investigating committee.

When Mr. Truman headed that committee as a senator, each member was free to poke into any government records he wanted to see.

He could talk to anybody who might have information on the war program.

Then he could report to other members and if they decided an investigation was warranted, it was so ordered.

Senators said this system produced many worthwhile leads. It has continued under the chairmanship of Senator Mead (D-NY).

Republicans helped draft an order they hoped would permit its use by the Pearl Harbor committee.

Truman Didn't Sign

But when William D. Mitchell, counsel for the Pearl Harbor group, took the order to the White House Mr. Truman didn't sign it.

Now the Republicans say the Democrats, with a six to four majority, will be able to dictate not only which witnesses shall be called but what records are opened.

Democrats retort that the whole committee, not any individual, has the responsibility for the investigation and the whole committee should decide its course.

The House heard charges yesterday that a bill to protect military secrets might prevent a full investigation of the Pearl Harbor attack. It delayed action on the measure, previously voted by the Senate.

Would "Seal Lips"

Rep. Halleck (R-Ind) charged that the bill would "seal the lips" of Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Lt. Gen. Walter Short, Pearl Harbor commanders in 1941, as well as persons who have information about Pearl Harbor contained in coded messages.

Republican members have been particularly anxious that the inquiry committee take a look at an unpublished portion of the naval

Treasure Loot Is Located In Hidden Vaults

(By The United Press)

TOKYO, Oct. 26. — Gen. Douglas MacArthur tonight ordered immediate confiscation of all weapons from the Japanese after American troops seized another $5,500,000 in bullion and other looted treasure from Honshu vaults and warehouses.

The loot included $2,500,000 worth of radium stolen by the Nazis from Czechoslovakia. It was found by Sixth and Army counter-intelligence troops in the vaults of the German consulate at Osaka.

MacArthur ordered the Japanese government to collect all firearms, knives, swords and explosives from the people by December 1, after which strict accounting and monthly reports to the occupation forces would be required.

The seized radium, sent by Czechoslovakia to Japan during the 1930s for hospital use had been confiscated by the Germans after their country, occupied the Czechoslovakia homeland.

Packed In Lead Vials

The radium was packed in lead vials in lead-lined caskets, but X-ray tests at the 36th evacuation hospital revealed that the vials were leading precious radiation. New lead containers were built for it.

The remaining $3,000,000 worth of silver bullion and valuables was seized by troops of the 97th Infantry division in a raid on a Japanese store hours near Iida on a tip.

The bullion was found in a warehouse of the Matsuo Agriculture association near Iida. An Eighth Army spokesman said it was reported to have been owned by the Mitsubishi industrial trust.

Total Over Two Billions

The find brought the total bullion and jewels seized in Japan to more than $250,000,000.

Acting on a tip, troops commanded by Capt. Truman Beesen of Company E, 368th regiment, went to the unguarded storehouse An investigation indicated that only the supervisor knew what was in the storehouse.

A Japanese airplane designer, meantime, told a press conference that the Tayhikawa plant built a long-range KI-77 plane which broke the world's distance record with a 10,306-mile non-stop flight last July.

Only Two Were Built

The designer, Moriyuki Nakagawa, who worked for four months in 1937-1938 in a Lockheed aircraft plant, said only two of the huge planes were built. One was shot down while enroute from Singapore to Germany in 1944 and the other will be sent to the War Controls Draw Protest

But Leaders Claim Dangers Lie Ahead

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 — Administration leaders asked Congress today to go slow in revoking war powers granted the executive branch of the government.

Reconversion Director John W. Snyder declared such action now would "seriously interfere with the reconversion program."

He told a House judiciary subcommittee "no wartime control will be exercised one day longer than is absolutely needed," but added:

Face Grave Danger

"In our haste to return to the ways of peace there is grave danger that the very machinery we need to attain an orderly reconversion may be thrown out of gear by too hasty abandonment of some wartime controls."

In this category he placed rationing and priority authority, operation of the selective service system and many other powers.

Other federal agency officials echoed Snyder's view later.

But four congressmen pleaded for immediate action on their bills to proclaim a legal end to the war either on Sept. 2 or August 14. They were Reps. A. L. Miller (R-Neb), Marion Bennett (R-Mo), Lewis (R-Ohio) and Boren (D-Okla).

"It is morally wrong to keep men in the service who enlisted for the duration and six months by this legal trick of continuing hostilities beyond the end of the shooting," Miller declared.

Many things are being done under the guise of the war effort which the bureaucrats ought to be called on to justify," Boren said.

Regarding service men, Snyder replied:

The Army does not believe we

State Labor Agency Talked

AUSTIN, Oct. 26. (AP)—Creation of a state agency to supplant the regional War Labor board machinery for labor-management dispute settlement when and if WLB is dissolved by executive order was considered at a labor-management-public conference here today.

WLB members representing industry, labor and the public met with Gov. Coke R. Stevenson and State Labor Commissioner Leonard Carlton and indications were that the state was prepared to initiate action when and if an agency is needed to replace WLB which may be dissolved by Dec. 15.

Preparing To Take Action

"We are preparing to take action if it is needed," the governor commented following the meeting.

The WLB officials met with the governor at the latter's invitation. While there were no commitments made at the conference there were indications that the exchange of ideas might materialize into realistic action.

Texas now has a statute authorizing appointment of a five-member industrial commission to assist in settlement of labor-management disputes but the Legislature has made no appropriation for its expenses since 1920. Its function is similar to that of WLB in that it may conduct investigations, hold hearings and make recommendations for settlement of disputes Whether the commission would be reactivated or some other non-legal agency would be created was not determined immediately.

Governor Cites Need

Summing up the discussion the governor said it appeared that Texas may need an agency "with a broad shoulder on which both

Too Many Parlays! Only Local Grid Scores Will Be Given By Phone

So many people are playing "football parlays" by means of cards which offer gambling odds on dozens of widely separated teams that The Avalanche-Journal cannot continue to give all football scores by telephone.

Recent Friday and Saturday nights have found telephone queries on football scores so numerous that all six telephone trunk lines have been tied up and the task of getting the paper to press interfered with.

Therefore, The Avalanche-Journal will give telephone scores ONLY on games in which Texas Tech and Lubbock teams participate. NO OTHER SCORES will be given by telephone—not even to the dozens who each week insist they are "personal friends of the management," hence have a "priority" on special treatment.

For the benefit of parley players and other fans who cannot wait until the paper, carrying results, reaches the street, KFYO, The Avalanche-Journal radio station, offers a football scores service. Over-anxious fans may tune in on KFYO at 1340 kilocycles, at 6 o'clock on Saturday nights for a complete roundup of major college scores over the nation. Motorists May Ride On 100 Per Cent Synthetic Rubber
Tire Production Is Soaring

By JOHN F. CHESTER
Associated Press Business Editor

AKRON, O., Oct. 26 — Inside story of the automobile tire industry is that motorists eventually may be riding on 100 per cent synthetic rubber which can be produced for as low as ten cents a pound.

This won't come about tomorrow or the next day and the 70,000,000 passenger car tires that leaders of the tire business expect to produce in 1946 and again in 1947 will vary anywhere from 50 to 85 per cent synthetic with the rest natural. Production is expected to drop back to 62,000,000 in 1948 in line with demand.

These figures are bigger than the industry has ever known. In 1941 the output reached 53,000,000 against a previous all time high in 1929 of 61,000,000.

In this connection, E. J. Thomas, president of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., said he thought tire rationing would end by Dec. 31, while John Thomas, chairman of Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., predicted that tires would be plentiful early next year, perhaps by February.

As much as 300,000 tons of crude rubber have been found in one-time Jap occupied areas in the Far East, most of it in Indo China. The first experts into the big raw rubber areas reported that not over two per cent of the trees had been damaged and that due to a long rest they probably would produce more than ever before.

These facts came from top executives of the four biggest tire manufacturers in the rubber capital of the world. The statements were made to 16 newspaper reporters who have inspected industrial concerns in 15 cities in the last 26 days in an effort to learn about the progress of reconversion.

Cheap To Produce

E. B. Babcock, a Firestone executive who was an assistant director of the rubber division for WPB, said improvements in the making of synthetic rubber would make it possible to make 100 per cent synthetic tires. Another official said it could be produced for ten

Truman Speech Tomorrow To Be 'Big News'

Address For Navy Day To Deal With Foreign Policy

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—President Truman expects to deliver tomorrow in New York "the most important speech from a news standpoint" that he has made since entering the White House, a presidential secretary said today.

Marking Navy day, it will deal with foreign policy.

The 25-minute address, the second the President will make while in New York, will be broadcast on all networks.

The address will be at 12:30 p. m. (Lubbock time.)

The first speech, a nine-minute affair, will be at 10 a.m. (Lubbock time), aboard the new aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt at the Brooklyn Navy yard. Eben Ayres, assistant press secretary, labeled the second address, to be made in Central Park, the most important since the President took office.

PLANES TO STAGE SHOW

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP) — The Navy will hurl a 1,200-plane aerial armada against New York tomorrow the same way its thousand-plane strikes were made on Japan, but this time the mission will be a peaceful salute to the President during a fleet review.

Staging area for aircraft participating — the greatest display of aerial might ever seen above New York— will extend many miles outside the metropolitan area, the Navy said today.

To Spend Day In New York

The President will spend the day in New York, arriving by train at Pennsylvania station early in the morning. He will have breakfast and a reception for many visitors before departing for the Navy yard.

Leaving the yard shortly after noon, he will go via the Battery and city hall to Central Park. Around 1:15 p.m. he leaves the park for the 79th street boat landing to go aboard the battleship Missouri about 1:30 p.m. for luncheon. At 2:30 p.m. he embarks on the destroyer Renshaw for the fleet review which will last until 4:30 p.m.

He will land at the 79th street dock after the review and motor to the station to take the train back to Washington where he will arrive about 9:15 p.m.

Other Trips Planned

The President said at a news conference yesterday a proposed trip to Statesville and Raleigh, N. C., November 2, Atlanta November 3 and Warm Springs, Ga., No-

Unrest Looms In Philippines

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — President Truman has asked Paul V. McNutt, Philippine high commissioner, to make a prompt investigation of agrarian unrest in the islands.

McNutt was asked especially to look into the activities of "a guerrilla army" which "threatens the stability of government," the White House reported today.

Specific Steps Suggested

The President's letter to McNutt, requesting the inquiry, was one of a series made public by the White House. They were sent to various government departments and suggested specific steps for assistance in rehabilitating the Philippines.

His letter to McNutt said:

"In the provinces near Manila thousands of sharecroppers organized some years ago to demand a more equitable division of the product of their labor. For several years there was no effective solution of the problem.

"During the war the tenants organized a guerrilla army which reportedly did good work against the enemy.

Did Not Disband

"After the enemy was defeated in their localities, they did not disband and today they constitute a special problem which threatens the stability of the government.

"On the other hand, their legitimate claim to fair treatment and the assistance they rendered in resistance to the enemy require that they be not deal with in a ruthless manner.

"I therefore request you to order a prompt investigation of agrarian unrest in the Philippines with the cooperation of the commonwealth government, and to recommend the remedies or reforms which ought to be taken by the commonwealth government and by the United States government."

Reeves Engraving

first floor, 25 feet across the front, 140 feet deep and 75 feet across the back, in an L shape, will be the photo-engraving plant.

The basement will be for storage and will also be equipped with a complete wood-work shop for building props, etc., for the commercial and portrait business and for repairs to equipment.

Built For Office Space

The second story, for the present, will be rented. It is to be built for office space. Reeves said it would be converted into use by his business if ever needed.

The building will be of brick and tile. The first floor, front, will be predominately glass. Glass brick will also be used freely in the architectural construction.

Reeves said he had observed many modern plants and shops and the trend was to eliminate bulky display windows. He will do this in the new building with the glass front to be designed to make the entire shop and camera store one large display window.

To Expand Department

The engraving department will be expanded when the company moves into the new building. Four thousand dollars has been spent for new equipment that is now enroute to Lubbock.

A complete photo-finishing plant, costing $5,000, is also due to arrive in the immediate future. This new automatic equipment, identical to that used by the larger companies in the East, will handle about 2,000 rolls of film each day.

All departments of the business will be expanded and improved.

There will be two camera rooms, one for commercial work and one for portraits. An alley entrance on the east side of the building will make it possible to photograph trucks and automobiles for commercial work.

Finish Color Films

Something new will be added in color-finishing labs that will be installed. This will enable Reeves to finish color films here, rather than send them to the manufacturers.

The entire building will be air conditioned and the dark rooms will be temperature controlled.

More employes will be added to the staff to handle the larger departments and the camera store.

Reeves has said he is aiming at the "finest photo-engraving plant in the South, and when finished according to plans it will stand against any other plant to be found anywhere."

Marine And Bride Leave Georgia For California In Taxi

LAFAYETTE, Ga., Oct. 26 (AP) —Minutes are precious, especially if you married the girl the day after you met her, and your leave is running short.

That's the way Marine Captain H. L. Kipp felt about it. And that's why he and his bride left in a taxicab for San Diego yesterday — at a cost of $750.

Captain Kipp explained he hired the taxicab for the trans-continental trip after he failed to obtain train reservations. His leave from San Diego Marine base is running dangerously short.

Kipp, who comes from Silver Creek, Minn., and Miss Norma Clinton of Lafayette, met for the first time Oct. 1 and they were married Oct. 2.

But they weren't strangers. When he was stationed in Savannah, he was introduced to his soon-to-be bride by mail. Then Captain Kipp went to the Pacific to fight the Japs.

The correspondence kept up, for 13 months. They got engaged — by mail.

The story of the courtship by mail was told here today by the mother of the bride, Mrs. Clarence Clinton.

For a honeymoon the newlyweds recently took a taxi trip through the great Smoky mountains.

On the present trip, they're traveling by way of Meridian, Miss., Shreveport, La., Dallas, Ft. Worth and El Paso, Tex., and Phoenix, Ariz.

Texas To Need Half Million New Jobs

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP) — Texas needs 500,000 new job opportunities by the fall of 1946, J. H. Bond, regional director of the United States Employment service, said in a prepared address today.

"The problem of potential unemployment must be licked at the grass roots," Bond said in the address, prepared for delivery by E. R. Speer, chief of the placement division of the regional USES office at Dallas. The speech opened the Texas personnel conference at the University of Texas. Bond was absent in Washington.

"There are approximately 85,000 persons currently available for employment throughout the state. Additional reductions in war activities and discharges from the armed forces will provide a total of 800,000 seekers by mid-1946.

Not Forecasting Unemployment

"I am not forecasting unemployment. I do not want to emphasize the size of the industrial and business expansion job that must be done—and done quickly—to utilize the trained human resources of this great state.

"Industrialists, business men, labor men and community leaders in each separate community must lose no time in sitting down together, determining what the present situation is in the community, what the outlook is, and planning and putting into action measures that will insure effective and full utilization of the manpower resources of the community.

"This community action certainly cannot be instigated by government. It cannot be instigated by labor alone or management alone. The community leaders themselves must recognize the need for a community organization, having as its objective the making of the community a better place in which to live. They must resolve to establish a united front against those things that endanger that objective.

Unemployment Chief Menace

"The chief menace is unemployment."

Viewing the national picture, Bond said a return to prewar business activity and employment is not enough.

"Insofar as manpower is concerned, estimates have been made indicating that we could now produce as much in a year as was produced in 1940 and still have 19 million persons unemployed."

Unemployment will probably rise from about 1,000,000 just before VJ-day to about 8,000,000 by the first of 1946, he declared. "The probability is that a year from now we will have from six to eight million unemployed."

Dallas, he said experienced the greatest impact from war contract cancellations, with an estimated 12,000 persons there currently available for employment. Fort Worth was second with 8,000 employment reductions.

Of Houston he said: "During a time when the civilian population was being increased by 110,000 persons, aggressive community and industrial leaders were planning for postwar and were lining up definite programs which would be ready to go as soon as the war ended. As a result, well over $300,000,000 in industrial expansion was backlogged on VJ-day. If plans, as laid out, can be translated into construction and production action programs without delay, there will be no problem of providing adequate job opportunities for the citizens of Houston."

Strikers Act To Save Rice

HOUSTON, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—Union spokesmen said today that striking warehousemen would permit longshoremen to cross picket lines to "turn over" rice in a Port Houston elevator in order to save $2,000,000 worth of the grain from damage of heating.

"We don't see any reason why the people with rice already in the elevator should be made to suffer," said A. L. Nurse, president of a striking International Longshoremen's association local which halted activity at the port with its walkout.

No Settlement Seen

Nurse and other union officials met yesterday with U. S. Conciliator Joseph S. Meyers and representatives of the shipping companies.

However, chances of ending the strike appeared dim as Port Director J. Russel Wait said:

"We will resume negotiations with the union men when they remove the pickets and return to work."

The strikers seek an hourly rate of 95 cents while management has countered with a 90 cents offer. Nurse said "our boys are sticking to their demand."

Europe Faces Grim Losses From Hunger

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin declared in a House of Commons debate today that hunger and privation in Europe may bring "a further prolific human loss more devastating than the gun or the atomic bomb."

Bevin said conditions in devastated Europe resulted from a policy Hitler imposed. When the Nazis discovered they could not win the war, Bevin said they decided to leave Europe in a state of "complete anarchy."

"We had studied the situation for months and when we saw what had happened, we had to alter all our plans and redevise the system" Bevin continued.

He described the Germany left by Hitler as a "country with no organization at all."

He said Great Britain alone could do "very little" to relieve conditions in Europe.

George W. Whistler, father of the artist, was commissioned by the Czar of Russia to build the railroad from Moscow to Leningrad.

Chief Of Noted New Mexico Coast Artillery Unit, Survivor Of "March Of Death," Tells Of Experiences During Heroic Bataan Battle

By JOHN D. ALEXANDER
United Press Staff Writer

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 26. — Declaring that "everyone did a hell of a swell job," Col. C. G. Sage of Deming, N. M., today told of his experiences as commanding officer of the famed 200th Coast Artillery of New Mexico during the heroic defense of Bataan during the early days of the war.

A survivor of the infamous "march of death," on Bataan, Col. Sage who is now at Bruns General hospital at Santa Fe, returned to the United States only a few days ago from a prison camp at Mukden, Manchuria. He was held at Mukden from May, 1945, until the signing of the Japanese surrender in Tokyo bay.

Held In Several Camps

Prior to that time, he had been held for one month at Camp O'Donnell, then was taken to a prison camp at Formosa, was transferred to Beppu and then to Kyushu in the Japanese home islands. From Kyushu he was taken to Mukden.

As commanding officer of the 200th, which was made into two units, the 515th and the 200th, Col. Sage was recommended for promotion to brigadier general immediately after the surrender of American forces in the Philippines.

Despite nearly four years of what he termed "pretty rough treatment," Col. Sage said:

Was Pretty Fortunate

"I guess I was fortunate because I was never sick and escaped from the fighting in the Philippines without being wounded."

"My story is pretty much what you have already heard," the colonel said. "I was forced to work in Japanese gardens and haul Japanese garbage, and on several occasions I was struck by Nip soldiers and officers. On a prison ship while I was acting prisoner officer of the day, I was hit three times by a Japanese officer's sword."

Despite the fact that they were prisoners, Col. Sage said they usually knew what the war situation was, and were able through various means to find out how the war was going.

Speaking of the final days of the stand at Bataan, Col. Sage said:

Thrown In As Infantry

"Shortly before the surrender of Bataan our brigade was ordered to destroy its equipment. All artillery with the exception of one three-inch battery, which was sent to Corregidor, was destroyed, and the 200th was thrown into the line as infantry."

At the time of the surrender in the Philippines, the 200th was the only front line infantry on the east side of the line, closest to Manila.

The colonel said that he had "the souvenir of all souvenirs," but was unable to keep it.

The souvenir was a section of the wing of the first Japanese fighter plane shot down over Clark field on Dec. 8, 1941, the first day of the war in the Philippines. The wing section was buried on Bataan but was never recovered.

Casualties Were Light

Despite terrific odds in the form of Japanese tanks and heavy artillery against only .30 calibre rifles, casualties of the 200th were very light, and according to Col. Sage, only about 20 men were killed in action in the Philippines.

As to his future plans, Col. Sage is uncertain except that he is going to visit some 4,000 survivors and relatives of men of the 200th. Then, he is going to Kansas City, Kan., to visit his mother, Mrs. C. F. Sage.

Col. Sage is the owner of two newspapers in New Mexico—the Headlight at Deming and the Liberal at Lordsburg, but he laughingly said that he is "out of a job."

He's out of a job because when his wife heard he was coming home, she immediately leased the papers for two years—just to be sure he will take a long rest.

Col. Sage has sprung back very quickly from his prison ordeal. At one time he weighed 205 pounds, and while in prison he dropped to 133, but now he is up to 165 pounds, and he says he is still eating.

Fagan Dickson To Resign State Post

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (U.P.) — Asst. Atty. Gen. Fagan Dickson today said he would resign Nov. 1 as head of the oil and gas department of the attorney general's department to enter private practice.

Dickson, a former member of the Texas House of Representatives from San Antonio, has been with the department four years. He was head of the land department during former Atty. Gen. Gerald Mann's tenure.

It is estimated that present synthetic rubber plants will produce 1,100,000 tons in 1946.

Devil's Food To Tempt Veteran

A BIG slice of devil's food and a tall glass of cold milk—that's a dream fulfilled for the returned serviceman. Here's a big-time recipe repeated at the request of several wives and mothers.

Preparations—Have shortening at room temperature. Grease two 8x9x2-inch pans, line bottoms with waxed paper, and grease again. Start oven for moderate heat (350 degrees F.). Sift flour once before measuring.

Measure into sifter: 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, ½ cup breakfast cocoa.

Measure into bowl: ½ cup vegetable shortening.

Measure into cup: ½ cup water, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Have ready: 1½ cups brown sugar, firmly packed, 3 eggs, unbeaten, ¾ cup sour milk or buttermilk.

"Mix-Easy" Part: Mix or stir shortening just to soften. Sift in dry ingredients. Add brown sugar. Force through sieve to remove lumps, if necessary. Add water with vanilla and the eggs. Mix until all flour is dampened; then beat 1 minute. Add sour milk, blend, and beat 2 minutes longer. (Count only actual beating time. Or count beating strokes. Allow at least 100 full strokes per minute. Scrape bowl and spoon or beater often.)

Baking: Turn batter into pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until done. Spread almond or vanilla cream filling between square layers and your favorite chocolate frosting on top and sides of cake.

Use cut-up celery tops to flavor stews and soups.

Chicken fat may be used in cooking to replace butter.

PUNKIN' CUP CAKES . . . Hallowe'en party treat to please the kiddies.

Refreshments Sure To Appeal To Kiddies At "Scare" Party

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

EVERY child should either give or attend a party at Hallowe'en. It's one of the best children's holidays and deserving of celebration by everybody.

Have all the traditional games at any children's Hallowe'en party—and all the not-too-scary ghostly rites you can dream up.

The best place to have a good Hallowe'en party is in the cellar, where nothing can be hurt. Then you can serve the food respectably up in the dining room, or on boards over saw-horses in the cellar, whichever you choose.

In my opinion, it's better to have the eating part of the party in the dining room. High spirits may seem to indicate a continuation of hilarious goings-on at the table. This is never really a good idea, from anybody's point of view. If you change the locale of the party, you may also change the mood—not to one of depression, to be sure, but perhaps to a slightly calmer behavior. Serving the food upstairs also lets you decorate the table ahead of time.

Make the party room simple. For young children an afternoon party can be so arranged that refreshments constitute supper. Otherwise, appetites are spoiled. For the slightly older group who may have an early evening party you can confine yourself to just sweets without upsetting any kind of schedule.

Sugarless Pecan Ice Cream

1 can (1½ cups) sweetened condensed milk
1 cup water
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups heavy cream
2-3 cup coarsely chopped pecans
2 tablespoons vitaminized margarine

Combine milk, water and vanilla. Turn into freezing tray. When solid around edges to depth of one inch turn into deep cold bowl and beat with rotary beater until smooth. Fold in heavy cream, whipped stiff. Saute pecans lightly in margarine for five minutes, stirring constantly. Fold nuts into mixture and return to freezing tray. Stir once again when partly frozen. Makes a quart and a half.

Punkin' Cup Cakes

1¾ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons sugar
6 tablespoons vitaminized margarine
6 tablespoons light molasses
6 tablespoons corn syrup
2 eggs
2-3 cup cooked, strained, pumpkin
2 tablespoons sour milk

Sift, measure flour and resift with baking powder, soda, spices, salt and sugar. Cream vitaminized margarine with molasses. Beat eggs lightly with syrup. Add creamed mixture to egg mixture. Add pumpkin and flour. Add milk. Stir all together until batter looks creamy. Fill well-greased, fluted, round-buttomed muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in moderately hot oven (375°) 25 to 30 minutes. Cool. Put cakes together, top to top, with a layer of orange marmalade, jam or mincemeat in between. Put a teaspoon of thin confectioner's sugar frosting on top of each and let it run down over the "punkin." Stick small candle in top of each. This makes 18 cup cakes, or 9 whole pumpkins.

Upside-down cakes require no frosting.

Cut Servings And You Will Reduce Easily

Want to lose weight? Before you embark upon an involved reducing diet which complicates marketing, upsets kitchen routine, and sometimes makes an enemy of the cook, consider a simpler method. Eat less of everything that your normally eat.

By this method you can lose weight safely, and sail through a period of dieting with less unpleasantness than you would on a program of calory-skimping menus.

In calling your own halt on calory intake, make it one slice of bread instead of two, a half instead of a whole pat of butter, a sliver of cake instead of a mountainous slice. Instead of drowning your breakfast cereal, merely sprinkle it with cream. Practice saying 'No" to second helpings.

Savory Stew To Serve As Meal's Main Dish

(Serves 8)

One and one-half pounds lamb neck or shoulder, 2 tablespoons fat, 4 cups water, 2 teaspoons salt, pepper, 1 garlic minced bud, 12 small onions, 12 small potatoes, 3 large quartered carrots, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 1½ cups fresh peas, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons flour, ½-cup water, soda crackers.

Cut meat in 2-inch cubes and brown in fat. Add water, salt, pepper and garlic; cover and cook slowly 1½ hours, or until meat is tender. Add onions, potatoes and carrots; cook 25 minutes. Add remaining vegetables and cook 10 minutes. Add Worcestershire sauce. Remove vegetables and meat and keep hot. Blend flour and ½ cup water, add to liquid of stew and cook until slightly thickened. Add vegetables and meat and serve piping hot with soda crackers.

Since Mackerel has so much fat of its own, little or none needs to be added in cooking.

Scientists, Solons Too Diverse To Agree On Atomic Measure

By MAX HALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 — Two reasons for the big fight over the atomic energy bill:

Scientists are ignorant about writing a bill.

Lawyers are ignorant about science.

There were a lot of blank looks this week when a group of physicians tried to tell the House military committee how they felt about the atomic legislation which President Truman wants Congress to pass.

The chairman, Andrew May (D-Ky), opened the hearing by announcing that the committee would now hear from "a group of interested people known as scientists."

Dr. Szilard Had Trouble

The first witness, Dr. Leo Szilard, had a little extra trouble because of his Hungarian accent and his unfamiliarity with Congress.

He repeatedly spoke of the bill as the "Johnson bill."

This was accurate, in a way. Senator Edwin Johnson (D-Colo) introduced the bill in the Senate. An identical document was offered in the House by Mr. May, the gentleman staring down at Szilard from the chairman's seat.

(Later witnesses carefully referred to the measure as the "May bill.")

Dr. Szilard, a squatty, round-faced man, discovered ways of obtaining plutonium, which is used in atomic bombs.

Secrecy Regulations Feared

He told the committee he feared that the proposed atomic energy commission would slap on secrecy regulations resembling those issued during the war-time development of the bomb. He said flatly that if such rules are made the researchers "can't keep them, and do not want to keep them."

He went farther. He volunteered the rather startling information that the physicists working on the atomic bomb during the war constantly disobeyed the secrecy rules.

He said the rules forbade them to disclose information to one another. He declared it was impossible to obey those rules without hampering the great work itself.

He laid his finger on one of the chief complaints the scientists have against the May-Johnson bill. They object to giving any commission sweeping power to issue rules for atomic research. They are trained to exchange information freely. They think they need a certain amount of freedom to do their best work.

Producers Meeting Will Be Saturday

A farm producers meeting will be held Saturday, beginning at 10 a. m., in the Lubbock hotel and sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation.

Reconversion and postwar problems facing agriculture will be chief topics to be discussed. W. R. Tilson of Meadow, a member of the state board of directors representing this district, will preside at the session.

Purpose of the meeting, one of a series of 14 being held throughout the state, is to bring farm and ranch people first hand information concerning the problem of postwar prices, according to J. Walter Hammond, state president.

G. H. Nelson heads the Lubbock county bureau.

Six Hour Working Day Is Considered

CHICAGO, Oct. 26. (AP) — William Green, American Federation of Labor president, said today the AFL "likely" would move for a six hour working day.

"Because of the progress of science, which has made possible the production of more by fewer men," Green said, "the AFL probably will ask the shorter work day in order to spread work."

DISCHARGES SPEEDED

AMARILLO, Oct. 26 (AP)—Amarillo Army Air field today began processing 5,469 cadets and trainees eligible for discharge under a new War department directive. Field officials said the group would be discharged at the rate of 400 per day.

Thousands Are Coming Home

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 26.—In the largest contingent of servicemen to leave the Hawaii area since the war ended, nearly 16,500 Army and Navy veterans will begin their voyage home this week on ten escort carriers, a hospital ship and the aircraft carrier Saratoga.

Four escort carriers, in a special San Diego run, will transport 5,000 Marines of the Fourth division which is being demobilized. The Breton sailed today with Marines from Oahu and the Shamrock Bay is scheduled to depart with Marines Saturday.

The escort carriers Rudyard Bay and Fanshaw Bay are at present loading Marines at Maui and will sail eastward Saturday. Eleven thousand Marines are expected to be on their way home by the end of the month.

Men in the Fourth Marine division not eligible for discharge will be sent to forward areas to replace high-point men.

Boost In Old Age Payments Is Due

AUSTIN, Oct. 26. (AP) — A total of 794 Texas old age assistance recipients will receive the recently authorized $40 maximum monthly payment in November.

The Public Welfare department, totaling up the November rolls today, announced that 4,286 recipients (including the 749) will receive November grants of more than $30.

The maximum monthly grant permissible was $30 before adoption in August of a constitutional amendment authorizing a $40 maximum.

Truman To Outline New Wage Policies

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—President Truman will announce his proposals for wage and price stabilization in a radio address Tuesday night as part of a fast-developing government attempt to end strikes.

The President will broadcast (9 p. m. Lubbock time) the outline of a policy he and his advisers hope will at least head off further walkouts for pay increases.

Mr. Truman made known his plan at a news conference yesterday. He also:

1. Spiked reports that his chief price adviser, Reconversion Director John W. Snyder, would resign.

Appoints Trouble-Shooter

2. Announced appointment of a seasoned labor trouble-shooter, Dr. John R. Steelman, as a presidential special assistant.

3. Said he had not encouraged Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors, to propose a national 45-hour work week, as Wilson did after a White House visit Friday.

4. Made public the agenda for the labor-management peace conference beginning Nov. 5 and letters from leaders who planned it.

5. Renewed his demand for enactment of the so-called full employment bill now bottled up in a house committee.

Labor Rift Disrupts Service On Airline

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP) — The national mediation board today stepped into the dispute between maintenance workers and American Airlines which has disrupted service between New York, Chicago and Detroit.

Partial service to and from these points was restored last night after supervisory employes not involved in the walkout serviced the planes. Company officials said flights everywhere else were on a normal basis.

Federal mediators arrived from Washington yesterday to begin discussions with officials of the company and the union, the airlines mechanics department of the CIO United Auto Workers.

Meanwhile, mass picketing of hangars at La Guardia field was banned by police, leading to a brief flare-up at the main entrance of the field. Five pickets — two of them women — were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct. Police said they were attempting to enter the gate.

United States for study by American engineers.

While the plane was intended primarily for use in maintaining liaison with Germany throughout the war, Nakagawa said, it also was to have been fitted for long-distance bombing.

Nakagawa said he did not know whether continental United States had been selected as a possible target.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that it had received no official communication from the Japanese government on any phase of the Zaibatsu question.

An Implied Rebuke

The statement well may have been meant as an implied rebuke to the government for stalling on MacArthurs' demand of two weeks ago for immediate dissolution of the Zaibatsu, the multi-millionaire family industrial trusts which financed and exploited Japan's war effort.

"Any statement to the effect that the supreme command has accepted or rejected any communication on this question is false," headquarters said.

The Japanese Domei agency said last night that it had learned the government's plan for establishing a trust company in connection with the dissolution of the Zaibatsu had been rejected flatly by the supreme command on grounds it would put the government in business.

Movie To Expose Leaders

At Ofuna, Tatsuo Ito, secretary of the Shochiku studios, Japan's largest movie producers, announced that the studios would begin production next month of a movie "exposing the leaders who misled the nation in the war."

He said the studio was taking advantage of MacArthur's order freezing the industry to tell the people the truth through motion pictures.

Hori Wada, who was arrested during the war on charges of radicalism and acquitted only a month ago, was revealed to have been appointed director of the government agricultural administration bureau.

War Controls

can safely proclaim hostilities are at an end. Our troops are still deployed in numerous isolated and unfriendly areas where the dangers of guerilla warfare are present."

He added that War department officials would elaborate on this theme later.

Must Retain Controls

Snyder insisted "it is essential that we retain the controls which make it possible for this government to live up to its commitments with other nations."

Said Snyder:

"In a very real sense the war emergency continues."

The President, in a message to Congress September 6, cautioned against "undue haste" and said "the time has not yet arrived for the proclamation of the cessation of hostilities."

Too speedy a reversion to prewar legal status would mean "chaos and confusion," Mr. Truman stated.

Attorney General Tom Clark, in an accompanying report, said operation of the selective service system and many other powers held by the executive branch of the government will expire automatically if either of the suggested bills are adopted.

Truman's Bill To Get Action

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — House leaders have decided to take the membership off a political hot spot by disposing of the universal military training issue before Christmas—and before the 1946 congressional elections.

Present plans, it was learned today, call for a showdown late in November or early in December. The outcome is presently regarded as a toss-up.

The House military committee opens public hearings, expected to last two weeks, on Nov. 8.

Probably Require A Week

Thereafter probably a week will be required to write a bill embodying President Truman's request that every able-bodied youth be required to take one year of training.

An informal poll of the committee showed that the President's request for the legislation probably will be approved there.

The members may tack on requirements that trainees be given regular Army disability payments if injured and an oportunity to go to college with government aid if the demonstrate military proficiency.

Some favor an amendment providing that West Point and Annapolis appointees be chosen from among youths who have demonstrated officer caliber during their training.

As to the bill's chances in the House, even its opponents admit it might be passed.

Tax-Cutting Bill

cutting the normal surtax rate of 40 per cent on corporations to 36 per cent.

Few "Serious Differences"

Chairman Walter F. George, (D., Ga.) of the Senate finance committee, spokesman for the Senate conferees, said there were few "serious differences."

"The House still might want to insist on a reduction in regular corporation rates regardless of what is done about repeal of the excess profits tax," he said. "It remains to be seen, too, what they will want to do about the Vandenberg amendment, which is retroactive on 1945 earnings of about 31,000 corporations and means a Treasury loss in the neighborhood of $85,000,000."

The Vandenberg amendment made increased exemptions from excess profits taxes effective on 1945 earnings.

Senate Provision Opposed

Some members had been confident the House conferees would yield to the Senate provision calling for repeal of the excess profits tax next year. Before today's session, however, a majority of the seven House conferees were reported opposed to the Senate provision in a split that crossed party lines.

Repeal of the excess profits tax would reduce 1946 tax liabilities about $1,250,000,000 more than the House-approved provision.

Inasmuch as House Democrats have wanted to keep the total revenue loss near $5,000,000,000 a surrender on the excess profits dispute might also force the House conferees to drop their provision to put wartime excise rates back to 1942 levels, beginning next July 1. The excise tax reduction would cost more than $500,000,000 in 1946.

No serious dispute was expected over individual income tax rates because there was little difference in the effect of the House and Senate provisions. The Senate bill would cut personal taxes by $2,644,000,000 in 1946 and the House bill by $2,627,000,000.

George said further individual tax relief for 1947 may be provided in legislation next year but that the rates finally fixed in the pending bill would remain effective through 1946 "unless there is some unusual and unforeseen development."

Bradford Speaks At Luncheon Of Club

Many returning servicemen will devote their lives to assist in the engineering job of converting radar to peacetime use, John R. Bradford, associated with a geophysical firm here and former Navy radar officer, told members of the American Business club at today's luncheon meeting in Hilton hotel.

Reviewing the history of radar, Bradford's discussion was highlighted by projection slides showing radar equipment from its stages of development when research was begun in America in 1922 up to the present time.

"Little is known about radar by the layman because its censorship ban was lifted when the atomic bomb was released and all interest was centered on this new scientific development," Bradford said. He emphasized the fact that radar is the most effective counter-measure to atomic bombing.

Luncheon guests were Jack Chandler of Amarillo, Truett (Red) Brooks, Joe McManus, Henry C. Cox, and Alvin Goldstrucker, former member recently returned from the service.

J. A. Fortenberry welcomed new members Roy Krebbs and J. D. Hinson. A. C. Sanders was program chairman and Jimmie Wilson, president, presided.

Penicillin Workers Given Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 26. (AP)—The 1945 Nobel prize for physiology and medicine has been awarded to Sir Alexander Fleming of London university, discoverer of penicillin, and two of his co-workers.

Dr. Ernest Doris Chain, professor of chemical pathology at the William Dunn school of pathology, Oxford, and Sir Howard Walter Florey, also an Oxford pathology professor, were honored with Sir Alexander. The three will share equally in the prize, which amounts to about $30,000.

The award was made for the discovery of penicillin and its healing effects for infections.

Sir Alexander, who visited the U. S. last summer to survey American applications for penicillin, was born in Ayrshire, Scotland, in 1881.

It was in his laboratory, birthplace of penicillin, that two significant new medical theories were advanced: First, that bacteria can cure as well as kill; second, that a substance thriving upon decay can cure advanced septic conditions.

Dr. Chain is a German political refugee who came to Britain in 1933 and is the least known of the three. He is now in New York City.

Prof. Florey, born in Australia, Sept. 24, 1898, is the author of many articles on physiology and pathology, and has worked with American scientists and drug companies to increase penicillin supplies.

UAW Negotiations

with 262 favoring the strike. At Los Angeles, the Chrysler division voted 240 for a walkout and 10 against, with one vote invalidated.

Backed by the two test cases among its own members, the UAW resumed its negotiations with General Motors officials over the demand for a 30 per cent pay increase. Reuther completed presentation of his "economic brief" purporting to show that the wage can be granted without a price rise or loss of earnings to stockholders.

Reuther insisted that reconversion was not a factor in determining whether or when General Motors could pay the higher wage. "The facts revealed by GM executives themselves completely dispel the claim that a 30 per cent wage increase now would endanger the corporation's reconversion and postwar expansion program," the UAW official said.

Reuther also cited government findings presented to the reconversion advisory board that manufacturing industry as a whole can afford a 24 per cent wage increase without raising prices. He said this report was a "complete confirmation" of the UAW's wage arguments both for General Motors and the automobile industry as a whole.

The giant corporation has thus far made no direct answer to the union's case but unofficially it has stood firm in its refusal to set a precedent for industry by granting the wage increases. GM officials contended that a general inflationary trend would result.

C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors, said the 30 per cent wage increase demanded by the CIO in major industries would "inevitably lead to inflation," which would prove "disastrous for sound economy."

'Devices' Flying 1,400 Miles An Hour Developed

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 26. (AP)—The Curtiss-Wright corporation announced today it had developed several special flying devices which were achieving speeds in excess of 1400 miles an hour—almost twice the speed of sound.

Dr. C. C. Furnas, director of the Curtiss Wright research laboratory, said military requirements prevented him from giving any details about the devices. He said, however, that "they are not rockets and they are not artillery shells."

"Right now the devices are not carrying pilots, but we are working on this," Dr. Furnas said, adding:

"We think the value of this development will be largely military. Such speeds are too fast for commercial use, although if anyone wanted to pay enough to go that fast we probably could make it possible within 20 years."

The highest previously-announced speed for a flying machine has been under 750 miles an hour—the speed of sound.

John Thomas, chairman of the board at Firestone which has been taking 36,000,000 pounds of crude rubber out of private holdings in Liberia, said his company and others were willing to take over government owned synthetic rubber plants at a reasonable price in order to get the best possible material for tires.

E. J. Thomas, president of Goodyear, told reporters that synthetic is here to stay and it is only a matter of percentage.

HST Wants Marshall To Remain As Chief

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — President Truman wants General George C. Marshall to remain as Army chief of staff. The 64-year old general is beyond retirement age and wants to step down.

At his news conference yesterday Mr. Truman was asked about a published suggestion that Marshall would have prestige and effectiveness as head of the proposed universal military training program. The president agreed Marshall could do a good job but said he needs him as chief of staff.

Livestock Sale Set Saturday

Opening at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning with the judging of 68 entries the eighth consignment sale of purebred Duroc gilts and boars will be held in the swine barn at the Panhandle-South Plains fairground under the auspices of the West Texas Duroc Breeders association.

The sale is to begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon with Kenneth Bozeman, president of the association and widely known auctioneer, handling the sales.

Stangel Will Judge

The show and sale is to be made up of spring gilts and boars farrowed between February 1 and June 1 of this year. W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture at Texas Tech college, will judge entries.

A free lunch will be served at noon by the East Side Home Demonstration club.

Coleman Cowan, secretary-treasurer of the association, has announced that mail bids will be handled by Jim Millholland, fieldman for the Duroc News; Stangel, or Ray Mowery, professor of animal husbandry at Tech.

Clerks for the show are Jason O. Gordon and W. B. Griffin, Lubbock county and assistant county agriculture agents, respectively, and L. M. Hargrave, vocational agriculture agent of Wolfforth.

To Furnish Certificates

Cowan also announced that registration certificates properly transferred will be furnished with each animal. Crates will be furnished by the consignors for shipping only. A separate check for $5 will be necessary for each crate, to be refunded when the crate is returned.

One of the highlights of the sale will be the auction of five littermates of the "biggest boar in the biggest state," owned by T. H. (Harry) Duvall of Roaring Springs. The boar, which may or may not be on exhibit, officially weighed 430 pounds at six months and 22 days of age.

C. L. Franz of Turkey is vice president of the association, the only officer other than Bozeman and Cowan. Directors are L. D. Whitehead of Ralls, D. P. Clark of Canyon, Duvall and T. D. Julian of Lubbock.

Cowan said the show and sale is not a profit-making affair. It is aimed, he said, at promoting the Duroc breed in West Texas and is only an indirect business venture through the medium of advertising.

Bolivia ranks second to the United States in the production of tungsten in the western hemisphere.

More Fliers To Get Early Discharges

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — All AAF pilots, navigators and bombardiers who are in the United States, have 44 points and two years of service now are eligible for discharge.

The same is true of other AAF officers with less than 44 points but with two years or more on active service, if their services no longer are needed.

The exceptions, an Army Air forces announcement yesterday said, are personnel in the Air Transport command, the Army Airways Communications system and the weather service assigned to foreign duty.

The U. S. transit industry has 27,000 street cars in service, and 48,000 motor buses.

American Scientists Were Used As Spies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — American scientists made daring journeys inside Germany during the war to find out just what the Germans were accomplishing with scientific research.

Congressional sources said it was too early yet to give names or tell details but that when the full story can be told it will be amazing.

In general, the pattern for this super-spy operation was this:

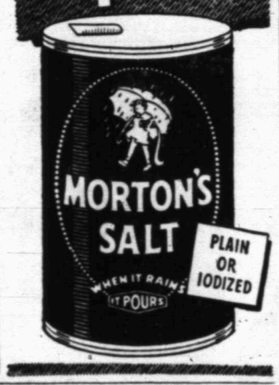

The American who undertook the mission had close friends in Germany based on pre-war associations.

The American was landed by submarine, parachuted into Germany or slipped across the border from Switzerland and made his way to his friend, learned from him what German research was accomplishing and brought out the information.

By such means, the Allies kept fully informed of German progress toward developing atomic bombs and other scientific advances.

The United States bought the Virgin Islands from Denmark in 1916.

Illegal Sale Of Navy Supplies Is Probed

WASHINGTON. Oct. 26. (AP) — The Senate war investigating committee turned today to an inquiry about gambling among Navy men in connection with asserted sale of ship supplies on Hawaiian black markets.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said the investigators would keep an eye on Navy action against personnel responsibility for misuse of food described by witnesses at a committee hearing.

"It is up to them to push it ahead," he told a reporter, "but we are going to watch it."

Ferguson estimated about $1,000,000 of government-owned supplies had reached the black market around Pearl Harbor. Chairman Mead (D-NY) fixed illegal sales at perhaps half a million.

Meat Sold To Dealers

"We know that meat was taken out of Navy supplies and sold to meat dealers, taverns and hot dog stands," Ferguson said.

Mead said evidence on hand and witnesses' testimony yesterday indicated the "whole supply system had broken down."

Committee members invited Navy men and the public to send along any tips on irregularities.

It was such a tip, from Col. Iven C. Stickney of the Marines, which led to the current investigation.

Navy Officer Implicated

He wrote senators that he found 1,500 pounds of meat and 400 pounds of butter in the locker of a regular Navy officer, Commander Laurence Blodgett, since retired.

A court martial cleared Blodgett of charges that he had taken the food from naval supplies, Stickney disclosed. And Stickney, accused of violating regulations by not sending his complaint through superior officers, was given a low efficiency rating and transferred.

However, Secretary of the Navy Forrestal later promoted him to his present grade, commending him, and sent him back to Pearl Harbor to help investigate diversion of supplies.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CIO Group Branded Dangerous Element

DALLAS, Oct. 26 (AP) — Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls, said here today that the Political Action Committee o fthe CIO constituted the largest and most dangerous pressure group in America.

Addressing a luncheon club, the congressman said the proposals supported by the committee would lead to national Socialism and eventually to Communism.

"The largest and most dangerous pressure group in the country at this time is the Political Action Committee of the CIO," Gossett stated. "The rank and file of its membership are perhaps no better or no wore than the rank and file of citizens generally, but many Communists have infiltrated into CIO leadership. Some are wolves in sheep's clothing and others are known racketeers."

Gossett outlined a PAC program against which he said he was planning to vote. The bills included a full-employment measure and a bill to set up a permanent fair employment practices committee.

In an interview, the congressman said Alaska soon will have a chance to vote on admission as the 49th state of the United States.

Gossett is a member of the House committee on territorial affairs which recently conducted hearings on conditions in Alaska. He said he was enthusiastic over possibilities for its development.

Heads of colleges and universities in America are known as presidents, rectors, chancellors, provosts and principals.

Argentina's Labor Delegation Unseated

PARIS, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Argentine delegation attempted today to take its place at the international labor office conference and was unseated by the conference pending a decision on a protest against its admission.

The protest was backed by a threatened walkout of all the labor delegates made on the floor by Leon Jouhaux of the French general confederation of labor in the name of the entire workers' group which held a caucus just before the session opened.

Agreement Reported On Jewish Problem

LONDON, Oct. 26 (U.P.)—An official source said today that an agreement between President Truman and Premier Attlee on the Arab-Jewish controversy in Palestine probably will be announced next week.

From Cairo, meantime, came a roundabout report that King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia has summoned an American representative to Jedda and informed him that the Saudi government will cancel American oil concessions if Mr. Truman continued an "anti-Arab" stand.

Arab sources in both Cairo and London had nothing to support the report, but said such a move would not surprise them. One Arab spokesman said that Saudi Arabia might break diplomatic relations with the United States if the President continued to favor the Jews.

SKUNK IN A JAM

LARAMIE, Wyo. (U.P.) — Tom Wells, Laramie businessman, has a part interest in a skunk which invaded his suburban home, but really doesn't care whether he collects. The skunk snooped around the place and got its head caught in a glass jar. The animal took out through the brush when Wells shot at it, with the glass jar still around its head.

Glass consists primarily of a combination of silicic acid with an alkali (either potassium or sodium.)

New Taxi Firm Refused Permit

Application for additional taxi service in Lubbock was refused by the City commission at a regular meeting Thursday.

The commissioners acted after declaring that Gene Sitz, through his attorney, Jimmie Cunningham, had failed to show the need for the proposed service.

Cunningham presented petitions signed by several score residents of the city, the majority of them in the negro and Mexican residential sections, requesting additional taxi service.

Present Setup Improves

George W. Dupree, local attorney, representing present taxi operators, declared that petition requests should be substantiated with testimony and then proceded to present testimony by Ray Farmer, owner of City Cab company and Bryant's Taxi company, Ed C. Abbott, owner of Yellow Cab company; Desmond Abbott, owner of Domino Taxi company; and Cliff Cocanougher, manager of City Cab company. Each operator declared his company had been handicapped in the past four years by the war emergency but that their equipment and personnel had been improved in the past few months and that service was now on par with prewar years.

Their testimony revealed that approximately two score cabs in operation and that Farmer planned re-entry into the field of the Bryant Taxi company with the return of a recently discharged serviceman to manage the business.

Otherwise Routine

The taxicab hearing highlighted an otherwise routine four-hour meeting of the commission, in which several ordinances pertaining to zoning areas, establishing of building lines on Ave. A from Sixth to Twenty-fifth and on Fourth from Ave. H to Ave. Q, revision of an ordinance governing side-yard and front-yard requirements in zoning districts and other routine matters were acted on.

The commission also authorized the drawing of an ordinance closing a portion of the alley and street on Ave. J to be exchanged for a 15-foot alley behind property recently purchased by Geo. P. Kuykendall, between Aves. J and Texas.

Ordinance No. 727 was passed at a second reading. It zones certain property recently brought into the city limits, the Phillips addition, and property lying between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-eight streets and Ave. B and East Ave. K.

Traffic Dispersal Plan

Ordinance No. 729, establishing the building lines on Ave. A and Fourth where major arteries of a highway traffic dispersal plan will run, was passed at first reading. The commission also spread a resolution on the minutes publicizing the proposed location of street and highway extensions in areas on which there are no established streets in the northern part of the city where the traffic dispersal routes will connect Ave. Q with the Shallowater and Plainview highways.

Ordinance No. 730, amending ordinance No. 661, changing lots 12 and 12, Caver sub-division, from a "C" district to an "H" district was also approved at first reading.

Ordinances No. 731 and 732, revising Sec. XVI, heading 3, ordinance No. 661, establishing side-yard and front-yard regulations were also passed. In A districts, the limits are 35 feet, B, C, D, F and G areas, 25 feet and E, H, J, K, L, M areas 15 feet. In no case shall the setback of a building line be less than 37½ feet from the center of a street.

No Action On Damage Claim

Claim of Mrs. O. L. James for $825 for injuries received in a fall on a jutting sidewalk and presented by Grady West was not acted on.

In presenting his taxicab application, Sitz proposed to put four cabs into operation with a call station in the 1900-block of Ave. A and a station in the 1300-block of Ave. F.

The commission approved a lease contract for the manager's house at Municipal airport, to be rented to Sidney Greathouse, Essair assistant manager, on a month-to-month basis at $40 a month.

General contractor's bonds for R. L. (Bob) Knowles, Tidmore Construction company and Wm. A. Vaughn, sub-contractor's bond for Geo. C. Newton and C. D. Coffey, gas fitter's bond for Baker-Fleming Flash-O-Gas company and a bond for moving a building for A. E. Oliphint were approved.

Police Uniforms

Bid of Fechheimer Bros., Cincinnati, O., for 51 police uniforms at a total cost of $2,741.25 was accepted.

The commission also considered bids of three companies for the purchase of an 85-foot aerial fire truck, hearing representatives of the Seagraves corporation and the Peter Pirsch & Sons company, but passed action American-La-France Foamite corporation was a third bidder, the bids ranging from $16,350 to $18,740.

Advertising for bids on a sanitary sewer interceptor line in the main business and a southern residential area of Lubbock was approved and opening of bids was set for Nov. 19 at 2 p. m.

Traffic Safeguards

Secret Of U-Boat Hunts Is Revealed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — If the Germans didn't know what was tracking down their submarines with dismaying frequency—and the Navy says they didn't—they are hereby informed:

It was the "sonobuoy."

The story of the device which picked up sounds of submerged U-boats and transmitted them by radio to air and surface craft was told today at a news conference of members of one of the war's most secret bodies, the operations research group of the office of chief of naval operations.

Comdr. H. E. Cook, anti-submarine expert who described the sonobuoy, said the devices were dropped in patterns in areas where the presence of submarines was suspected. The Germans did not know of its existence, he said and its results "drove them frantic." The sonobuoys cost only a few dollars each.

Rioting Breaks Out In Sofia

SOFIA, Oct. 25 (Delayed) (AP)—Rioting broke out between supporters of the fatherland front and opposition groups tonight in front of the Hotel Bulgaria, residence of Mark Ethridge, who is touring the Balkans on a special U. S. State department mission.

Ethridge, a Louisville, Ky., publisher, was dining with Sofia journalists when the crowd began gathering. He declined to show himself at a hotel window. Soon members of the opposing factions outside began attempting to shout each other down. Rioting followed.

Had Attended Service

The throng had originally gathered to attend a memorial service for Grigor Chesmehmdjiev, Bulgarian patriot whose funeral last Sept. 18 was the occasion for the first meeting of the political opposition in Bulgaria since the war.

The memorial service was held in a small hall with loud speakers carrying the ceremony to the crowd outside. During a speech by Kosta Loulchev, secretary of the Social Democratic party, there were cries of "down with the opposition" "long live the fatherland front," and "long live Etheridge."

Shouts For Etheridge

Then the crowd began marching toward the Hotel Bulgaria, where there were shouts for Ethridge. Soon there was a milling mass of humanity outside. Fatherland front adherents began to shout and wave clenched fists.

Once a flying wedge—apparently made up of opposition supporters—sought to break up the solid phalanx which was cheering for the fatherland front. After that a part of the crowd marched away singing.

For a few minutes the fighting seemed to be over. Then it began again when a group sought to march in front of the hotel with a fatherland front banner. Unsuccessful efforts were made to tear the banner down.

REELECTION PREDICTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP) — Attorney General Tom Clark today predicted the reelection of President Truman in 1948 — and perhaps 1952 and 1956.

Westerners Off To Plainview For Clash Tonight With Unbeaten, Untied Bulldogs

Underdog Locals In Top Shape; Bulldogs Boast One Of Best Passers In State

"Is it true what they say about the Plainview Bulldogs?"

That is the question that the Lubbock Westerners hope to answer tonight at 8 o'clock at the Plainview stadium when Coaches Dixie White and George Philbrick send their charges against the undefeated, untied and unscored on Hale county lads.

The Westerners, underdogs in the game, will enter the battle in top shape for the first time in several weeks, and for them, the battle will be a make or break test. Some quarters give the Westerners a chance of upsetting the fine record of the Bulldogs in the first conference start for the Hale county lads.

Other sources point out that it would be a moral victory for the Westerners if they could punch across a score, and drop the Bulldogs from the class of unscored on teams. Coaches and players of the Lubbock club feel confident they can score.

Fine Bulldog Record

The Bulldogs have rolled up 102 points this season. The Westerners are less than a touchdown behind that figure, and there seems little doubt but what the Westerners have demonstrated their scoring punch against tougher foes than the Bulldogs.

The Westerners will have a little advantage in weight, but will not have the versitile attack of the Bulldogs. The Westerners have one of the best running games in the district, but the Bulldogs combine a good running game with perhaps one of the greatest aerial attacks in the state.

Williams Top Passer

Jack Williams, Bulldog pass pitching ace, is perhaps one of the state's greatest passers, and has hit his peak this season. Williams has added other features to his play this year, and is a rated as a pretty fair ball carrier.

Teamed with Williams in the ball carrying is Jack Weldon, an all-district performer last season, and rated as one of the top backs of the district.

The Westerners feature George Brewer, the high kicking youngster who has not been entirely stopped this season. The return of John Lanham to the Westerner backfield, will add punch, while the two little speedsters, Noel "Twinkle Toes" Sikes and Don "Speck" Austin are about as good as the average ball carrier in the district.

The Westerner line has been like the team as a whole, hot and cold, while the Bulldog line is willing to let an uncrossed goal line speak for itself.

A banner crowd is assured for the game tonight, with the "standing room only" sign hanging out in Plainview for several days. E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, athletic director of Lubbock schools, said he had a few tickets left, but expected them to be gone before noon today.

Other 1-AA Games

Conference play will take over throughout the district this week, with league play getting down to serious business on three fronts. Featured on the card for this week will be the battle at Amarillo, where the Borger Bulldogs will carry their two game winning streak into the sacred enclosure of Butler field to battle the Sandies.

Borger made an unsteady start this season, but seemed to hit its stride in blasting the Westerners, then followed this with a 39 to 0 victory at Liberal, Kans., last week, which seems to indicate the boys of Coach Tricky Ward may be getting some potent tricks up their sleeves.

Amarillo, however, will be a top heavy favorite to win the game, and be on the rebound from last week's defeat at Odessa, which dropped the Sandies from the state's undefeated, untied elevens.

The Brownfield Cubs move into Pampa tonight to battle Coach Otis Coffey's undefeated, untied Pampa Harvesters in another league battle, and the first for Pampa.

The Harvesters are not expected to encounter too much trouble in maintaining their unbeaten record. But the Cubs have looked good this year in every start but one, and may be primed for an upset.

Cowhand Blacks And Plainview B Clash

The Cowhand Blacks will furnish the grid menu for the local fans this afternoon, while the Golds take to the road, as both elevens face rough tests.

Coach Curtis Barrett's Blacks tangle with the Plainview B team this afternoon at Chapman field, the kickoff scheduled for 4 o'clock. Coach Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst will take his Golds to Sudan to battle the Class A Hornets.

The Blacks will be seeking to make it two in a row over the Plainview club, which was beaten earlier in the year by the Golds, 26 to 0.

The game will serve as a warm-up for the Lubbock-Plainview battle tonight at Plainview, and many fans are expected to see both games.

The Golds will be facing the toughest test of the two, however, with the team facing an undefeated, untied eleven at Sudan. The Golds have been beaten only once this year, a 6-0 loss to Abernathy. They have won five games. The Blacks have won two and lost four.

Crippled Raiders Taper Off Drills For Saturday Night's Tussle With WTSTC Buffs

Hard work for the week was over, and the Texas Tech Red Raiders will take a final tapering off drill this afternoon before Saturday night's battle at Tech stadium with the West Texas State Teachers college Buffs at 8:15 o'clock.

"We'll be as ready as we could be," Morgan said Thursday night.

Team Still Crippled

The team will be crippled for the battle, with the backfield well shot with injuries, but the line in top shape, and ready to go at full speed.

Walt Schlinkman, Tech's All-American hope, will see little, if any, action in the game; Morgan said. Schlinkman was injured in the Tulsa game two weeks ago, and reinjured in the Baylor game last week. The Dumas Dynamiter was somewhat better Thursday, however.

Robinet Takes Over

In his place will be Ed Robinet, who looked good in the Baylor game. Robinet has shown some trouble in holding the ball on his drives into the line, and fumbled twice in the Baylor game, but hopes to have this fault overcome this week.

Jack Hinson and Benny Tidwell, a pair of light, fast youngsters, are slated to get the starting nod at the two halfback positions in the places of Arthur Shahan and Cecil Norris, veteran backs who are both on the sidelines with injuries.

The Red Raiders held their last hard drill of the week Thursday, and will taper off this afternoon and polish up several new plays that have been designed for the game with the traditional foes from Canyon.

Littlefield To Play Muleshoe; Olton And Levelland To Clash

There are no outstanding games on the Class A slate over the South Plains, but conference tilts with the promise of plenty of close contests feature the schedule for this weekend.

The Littlefield Wildcats, one of the highest scoring teams in Class A, moves into Muleshoe this afternoon to battle the Mustangs in a scrap that isn't expected to push the Wildcats too much.

The other conference game in this district will pair Olton and Levelland at Levelland in a battle that promises to develop into quite a scrap, but with the Lobos favored to win.

Eight teams face conference play down in District 6-A, with the leading Denver City Mustangs playing at home with the O'Donnell Eagles. The Eagles are not expected to cause Coach Wilson Head's boys too much worry.

District 6-A Card

Andrews, beaten last week by Denver City, will also be at home tonight, playing the Post Antelopes. The veteran Seminole eleven that seemed to have shifted into high gear last week, after a slow start, will roll into Slaton tonight, favored to win. Sundown will be favored tonight when the Roughnecks invade Tahoka, where Coach Prentice Walker's Bulldogs have been shattered, but are still fighting to keep up the sport in that city.

Three conference games are on the schedule in District 4-A, with the defending champions, the Spur Bulldogs, playing at Lockney in the top game of the card. Matador plays at Ralls and Paducah goes to Floydada.

New Deal moves into Petersburg tonight for a game that will offer plenty of fireworks from two strong Class B teams of the area.

Sundown Rally Licks Cowboys White, 20-14

SUNDOWN, Oct. 26 (Special)—Coming from behind, the Sundown Junior eleven nosed out the Junior High Cowboys White eleven from Lubbock in a free scoring contest here yesterday afternoon, 20 to 14.

The Cowboys took the opening kickoff, and marched to a touchdown, with Lindsey plunging over from five yards out, and Wallace added the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

In the second quarter, Sundown began to skirt the ends, and marched to pay dirt, with Barry covering the last three yards for the score.

The Cowboys came right back, with Lindsey passing 25 yards to Jim Wilson, who ran the remaining 20 for a touchdown. Charley Williams ran over the extra point to give the Cowboys a 14-6 lead at the half.

In the third quarter, Anderson plunged over for another Sundown touchdown, and the extra point was added by a pass. In the fourth period, Barry broke through the middle and roamed 70 yards for the winning touchdown.

The Cowboys were on the Sundown five yard line when the game ended.

Highland Park Meets Wichita

(By The Associated Press)

Highland Park meets Wichita Falls at Wichita Falls tonight in the headline game of a busy weekend in schoolboy football.

It will bring together two of the state's undefeated, untied teams, each of which has been ranked around the top all season.

Other than the Highland Park-Wichita Falls tilt, the schedule is made up mostly of conference games involving all except one of the sixteen districts.

Four games were played in the state last night, the most important being the 13-12 defeat of Amon Carter-Riverside, one of the top-ranked elevens of the Fort Worth district, by Fort Worth Tech.

In other results Texarkana beat Bonham 32-0, Lamar (Houston) dwoned Sam Houston (Houston) 37-0 and Stevenville and Masonic Home (Fort Worth) scrapped to a 12-12 tie.

Tatum Paces Dupre To 18-0 Victory

The Dupre Dogies, paced by Johnny Tatum romped to an 18 to 0 victory over the Central Ward Silver Spurs yesterday afternoon at Dupre field in a grade school touch football game.

Tatum flipped two 15 yard passes to Dick Lowrey for two of the touchdowns, and raced 40 yards for the third counter.

Featuring All-American Bob Fenimore

Southwest Grid Spotlight On TCU--Oklahoma Aggies Game

BY CLAUDE RAMSEY
United Press Sports Writer

Bob Fenimore, Oklahoma Aggies' gift to the all-American selectors, will lead his team against Texas Christian university at Fort Worth Saturday.

Blond-haired Bob, who shook off a stomach ailment this week, leads the nation in running with more than 600 yards to his credit. He has played slightly over half of each Oklahoma Aggie game this season.

The hard-hitting tailback, who was hospitalized for two days, got out of his sick bed to make the Texas trip. But most Christian backers figured that — sick or well — there will probably be too much Fenimore in Texas Saturday.

Meyer Hopeful On Aerials

Coach Dutch Meyer said his Frogs didn't hope to compete with big Bob on the ground "but we think we can hold our own with the Cowpokes in the air."

T. C. U.'s chief tosser is Leon Joslin, freshman tailback, who has passed to pay dirt five times this season and has an aerial record of 411 yards to lead the southwest league.

The teams met in January in the Cotton Bowl with the Aggies handing out a powerful 34-0 thumping to the Texans.

Aggies, Baylor To Clash

Meanwhile, the question of whether "the good old Baylor line" can hold will be settled at College Station Saturday when the Texas Aggies turn loose their two hard-charging backs, Preston Smith and Robert Goode.

Smith and Goode, leading conference scorers with 79 points between them, will be bucking the wall that held against every team it met except the air-minded Texas Christians.

The Texas Longhorns, bloated with new players, will meet Rice, four-time loser, at Austin Saturday. The undefeated Longhorns, riding high toward a bowl contest, were bolstered this week with the return of Ralph Ellsworth, of their 1943 team, and news that seven Southwestern university naval trainees are being transferred to the Austin institution.

S. M. U. Plays Tulane

Southern Methodist, fresh from its points-after-touchdown victory over Rice, travels to New Orleans Saturday to tangle with Tulane, only team to fall to Rice.

The Ponies, boasting the conference leading punt returner, George McCorstin, will be seeking revenge for a 27-7 defeat administered last year by the Green Wave.

Another inter-section game will be played at Memphis Saturday when Arkansas takes on Mississippi. The Razorbacks, still squirming from a 34-7 defeat by Texas last week, will be after a repeat performance of their victory over Ole Miss last year.

Picks for the week: Oklahoma A. & M. over Texas Christian, Texas A. & M. over Baylor, Texas over Rice, Southern Methodist over Tulane and Arkansas over Mississippi.

Levine's, VFW Win 3 Bowling Matches

Two teams turned in clean sweeps in the Civic Club league bowling race at the Lubbock Bowling club alleys last night as the Levine's Scouts and Veterans of Foreign Wars took three in a row.

Levine's Scouts, paced by Welch, toppled the Rotary club fice, while VFW was winning over the Jaycees. Welch toppled 234 pins for the best single game score, and had the best series with 608 pins.

The Optimists won two over the Kiwanis and Lions club won two from the American Legion in the other games.

Abernathy Eleven Trounces Anton, 20-7

ABERNATHY, Oct. 26 (Special)—Showing a lot of power and a fast striking offense, the Abernathy Antelopes walloped Anton here yesterday afternoon, 20 to 7, in a district 1-B north half game.

Fullback Harold Rhodes circled end for 20 yards and the first Antelope score early in the first quarter, but the try for extra point failed.

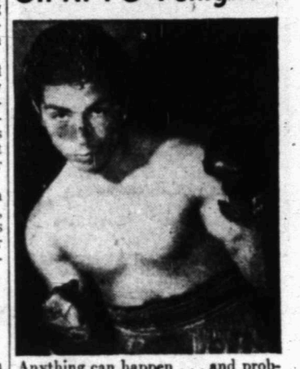

In the second period, Rhodes latteraled to Lester Brown who romped 60 yards to score, then Rhodes ran over the extra point and Abernathy led 13-0 at the half.

The third quarter was a free scoring affair. Early in the period, Center Leon Hamilton caught a fumble in the air and ran 20 yards to score again for the Antelopes, and Brown kicked the extra point.

Late in the third period, Walter Hopgood ran 30 yards for the Anton touchdown.

It's all right to be optimistic —but don't over-do it. Remember, nobody can smile and whistle at the same time!

IT has been exactly two years to the day since Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt, of Littlefield, were found cruelly murdered in their bed. And although Jim Thomas, who has a criminal record as long as your arm, has been twice tried, twice convicted to death for the crime, appeals courts have reversed both decisions and from a legal standpoint, at least, the case has not yet been concluded.

Thomas, currently reported to be serving a prison sentence earlier assessed, may never be brought to trial again in connection with the Hunt murders. The reason is, the prosecution has fired all its ammunition to date and higher courts have ruled it is not enough. Thus there is nothing else to be said except that the Hunt case has not yet been solved to the satisfaction of the public. Nor will it be until someone is found guilty beyond any reasonable doubt.

Until someone is found guilty to the satisfaction of both courts and public, the Hunt case must be listed as "unsolved," along with several other murders perpetrated within this general area over the past decade, or so.

* * *

Regardless of how individuals may feel concerning the courts' actions in the Thomas trials; regardless of how individuals may feel regarding whether or not Thomas committed the murders (and appeals courts decisions in themselves establish some doubt), the people of this section will be remiss in their civic duty if they do not demand a complete reopening of the Hunt murders investigation.

A crime so heinous cannot be shrugged off; must not be permitted to die by being stifled through lack of public interest.

THE State of Texas, through the Department of Public Safety, owes a responsibility to the law-abiding citizenry of the state as a whole, and to that of this area, in particular, to get back into the saddle in the Hunt case.

It is not enough to say that "too much time has elapsed to get more information." It is not enough to say, "Well, we filed a charge on Thomas, but the courts didn't uphold it."

The fact remains that a man and his wife were murdered in cold blood and nobody yet has been finally and legally tied to the crime.

We can think, right off the elbow, of four unsolved murder cases in this area over the past few years, which isn't anything to cheer over and shouldn't give the Department of Public Safety a superiority complex.

The Hunt case shouldn't be permanently placed upon the "unsolved list" until a lot more effort has been expended upon it from Austin right on down.

Indications are that the coming winter will be pretty tough up in the Panhandle. The bark is considerably thicker than usual on both of Amarillo's trees, and a Pampa man has just married a woman who weighs 560 pounds!

J. A. Fortenberry, seeing our request for suggestions to solve the parking problem in downtown Lubbock, comes forth with one.

Says he:

"Just tell more people to ride the buses!"

Mr. Fortenberry is one of the owners of the City Bus lines — which you may have guessed from his suggestion.

Incidentally, Mr. Fortenberry reports that the bus business has increased, rather than decreased, since gasoline rationing went into the limbo of forgotten things. City buses are hauling an average of slightly more than 14,000 souls per day and the past several Saturdays have seen the record pushed to 19,000.

"If it hadn't been that we had a football game here last Saturday night," Mr. Fortenberry says, "we would have set a new, all-time daily record of 20,000 passengers. Late bus passengers are fewer on football nights because the college students who otherwise would be in the downtown area stay on or close to the campus."

LIKE a newspaper editor, the newspaper carrier boy gets more kicks than pats on the back. When the carrier does his work well, nobody thinks to mention it. When he misses a subscriber, though, all hades breaks loose. He gets no credit for collecting 101 per cent—but he gets the very dickens when he misses the other one on his route.

So this story about an Avalanche-Journal carrier is news — because it is about how a carrier not only got credit for doing something pretty fine, but the customer who figured in it took time out to report the incident to Circulation Manager John Fariss.

The other morning, Mrs. Tom Galloway, 1523 Twenty-fourth, came out to get her paper. The paper was there, all right. So was a broken milk bottle. Mrs. Galloway went back into the house, got interested in the paper, forgot about the broken bottle.

Next time she went out of the house, Mrs. Galloway looked around for the broken glass, etc. There was none there.

But where the milk bottle had been, there was a nickel!

* * *

What happened, of course, was this:

When Mrs. Galloway's carrier boy, Richard Allen, 14, a Junior High student, threw the Galloway paper, he hit a milk bottle and the bottle was broken in the resultant bounce and fall.

As soon as he got the rest of his route delivered, Richard came back, cleaned up the mess—and left payment for the bottle.

Mrs. Galloway thinks Richard has a commendation coming, and so do we.

Incidentally, Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Allen, is a crackerjack carrier, described by his customers as polite, business-like and faithful to his job.

In the 18 months or so he has carried his route he has saved $410, too.

K. N. CLAPP, the veteran cotton man whose crop forecasts are accepted as the criterion in this section, says he believes Lubbock county will make more than 25,000 bales this year instead of the universally estimated 20,000 of a few weeks ago; that the South Plains area will make around 100,000 bales—larger than anticipated at earlier dates.

Of course, 25,000 bales "ain't no cotton a-tall" for Lubbock county in normal years, and neither is 100,000 bales for the area. But this is the worst cotton year since 1934 — which was the "worsterest" this county has ever had since it became an important cotton county.

Mr. Clapp probably will beat our ears down for quoting him here, since he has no figures to bear him out at the moment. However, he says he has never seen a bad year that wasn't just a little better, when all the cotton was in, than it was thought to be at an earlier period.

He's banking on that happening this year.

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT
(Copyright, 1945, For The Journal)

THE British government, head in hands over the problem of why Britons don't have more babies, has decided to call on 1,500,000 married women and ask them frankly why they aren't producing enough children to keep the birthrate from declining.

MILLETT

It's a safe bet they will discover that women have been sold short on motherhood by the modern notion that all women must follow a set pattern; that the only worthwhile course for a woman in these times is to devote herself to being as glamorous as the next woman.

Today it is assumed by both men and women—because they have been carefully sold on the theory—that if a woman doesn't keep her looks and her figure and find time to be a companion to her husband he has every right to ditch her for a new model.

There are no credits chalked up to a woman for staying at home to have babies. The mother of four or six is much more likely today to be pitied or looked on with condescension than admired.

"Poor thing," is the way the mother of more than the conventional one or two children is generally regarded.

And as long as that is the accepted attitude most women are going to follow the herd.

They have pretty unselfish-sounding reasons for limiting their families to one or two. But the real reason they do so is fear.

THEY FEAR DESERTION

FEAR that they'll be tied down.

Fear that they'll lose their husbands interest. Fear that while they are having and caring for babies the world will pass them by.

It just isn't glamorous to be the mother of a large family—and the majority of the feminine population has been so sold on glamor they are afraid to risk losing it.

What they don't realize is that the kind of glamor they have been sold on fades with age—whether a women has six children or none.

A GREAT CONTRIBUTION TO VICTORY

The railroads have distributed a booklet detailing their job in the war—and what a job!

To fully appreciate railroad contribution to victory, one must take note of the fact that in the recent war there were 600,000 fewer freight cars and 22,000 fewer locomotives than in World War I.

From the day the Japs struck at Pearl Harbor to the end of June this year, the railways handled more than 278,000,000 tons of freight for the Army, alone. As the war hit its peak in 1944, War department tonnage was 20 per cent greater than that of 1943 and more than double that of 1942.

And get this. In March, 1945, the railways handled a greater volume of material for the European front than was moved in the entire period of this country's participation in the first World War.

More than 39,200,000 troops in organized movements were moved by rail from Dec. 7, 1941, through March this year. This does not include those transferred in small groups or the millions of service men and women traveling on passes, leaves and furloughs.

When V-E day approached, the railroads were prepared. Realizing that an abrupt halt in war shipments might disrupt transportation, the Army and the railroads a year previously had drawn and successfully tried out plans for such a contingency. More than 200,000 tons of railroad freight destined for Europe were "turned around" between May 2 and May 10. More than 7,000 loaded freight cars were stopped in transit on Eastern lines while a large number of loaded cars in movement on Western rails were reversed and re-consigned.

It was a great accomplishment. Casey Jones would have been proud of all the men who have played a role in this saga of transportation.

Byrnes' Cleanup In Far East Gets Results

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The fact that things are going better in Japan since Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson cracked down on General MacArthur is obvious to the naked eye. MacArthur has taken the revolutionary step of instituting woman's suffrage, has helped put an old friend of the United States — Baron Shidehara — in as premier, and has taken important steps toward the democratization of Japan.

Some of the steps behind this, however, are not so apparent. They go back to the encouraging start Jimmy Byrnes has made in reorganizing his State department. While Byrnes has had hard luck with the Russians, he has made unadvertised but important progress in other things.

PEARSON

One of these is his clean-up of the State department's Far Eastern division. The old appeasers — Eugene Dooman and Joseph Ballantine, both in the Far East—are out. They had put faith in the Japanese aristocracy —big business clique.

Replacing them is John Carter Vincent and some hard-working younger men who long warned Cordell Hull against appeasement. Vincent, incidentally, was passed over twice for promotion by the old appeasers under Hull.

Vincent has sent some tough young Far Eastern experts to work with General MacArthur. Simultaneously, Assistant Secretary of War McCloy has taken a special trip to the Far East to make sure that State department-MacArthur cooperation is working smoothly.

TOKYO CHAFF

TWO days before MacArthur came out for woman's suffrage, he had a significant Japanese caller—Yuriko Chujo, leading advocate of woman's suffrage. Daughter of a liberal Jap engineer, she is also one of Japan's leading novelists. . . . Though things are going better in Tokyo, Prince Konoye is the worst man possible to rewrite the Jap constitution. Related to the emperor, he believes in protecting the aristocracy. Never in the past did he buck the military, though frequently pretending to. . . . Several years ago, this writer interviewed Premier Shidehara in Tokyo. He was then foreign minister in the Kato cabinet and definitely favored friendly cooperation with both the U. S. A. and China. However, he got his big boost in life through marrying a daughter of the Mitsubishis, a big business family which has played hand-in-glove with the militarists. . . . One Jap leader MacArthur might look over is Baron Minove, a former member of the house of peers who was forced to give up his seat because he argued that the emperor was the servant of the state, not its boss. . . . Minove's son, a professor who spent 18 months in jail for opposing war with the U.S., is also worth looking over. Kanju Kato, the labor leader, is another. These are men who had the courage to suffer for their convictions. Baron Shidehara didn't.

ARMY POLITICS

ONE point apparently not grasped by the generals who sit in the rarefied atmosphere of the Pentagon building is that if they want to get red-blooded American youngsters to remain in the Army, Army favoritism has got to go.

Judging by the thousands of letters received by this columnist, most enlisted men and young officers are burning up over brass-hat discrimination. (This is equally true of the Navy.) They can put up with a certain amount of injustice in wartime—though it doesn't make them particularly happy. But when they see the sons of Senator O'Daniel of Texas getting breaks they don't get, or the son of Senator Wheeler of Montana released from the Navy on a hardship case, or football and baseball players discharged on low points, it literally burns them up.

This week the generals are considering another step which won't help them win support for the 4,000,000-man Army General Marshall wants. They are considering the discharge or transfer of Robert Stripling, four times deferred former counsel of the Dies committee just as his military police unit is about to leave for Tokyo.

Stripling has been in Washington for several days lobbying for this transfer. Though a lot of men have trouble getting furloughs, he managed to get away from his base at San Antonio.

For some time his Alexandria, Va., draft board deferred him as an "essential worker." Finally the draft board refused further delays and he was slated to report December 11, last year. But at the last minute, General Hershey himself, went over the local draft board's head and gave him until January 4.

Then on January 4, Congressman May of Kentucky intervened and got him off until January 20, at which time Stripling finally entered the Army. By that time the old Dies committee had ceased to exist. So Congressman Rankin introduced a resolution to pay Stripling a salary from January 3 to January 20 because, under the law the Dies committee being non-existant, he couldn't otherwise have been paid.

Stripling has now been in the Army exactly nine months. But, with two-year veterans still in uniform, he wants to get back to Washington. And his congressional friends say the deal is all arranged.

TRUMAN HUMOR

PRESIDENT HARRY TRUMAN was in his best form at the reserve officers' dinner in honor of General George Marshall. The president spoke very humbly and simply, without notes or manuscript. It was straight from the heart. To the star-studded audience of famous generals, Truman said:

"General Marshall is my idea of a leader, and I consider myself something of a judge on that."

Then he went on to reveal that he has studied in his spare time the lives and strategy of such great generals as Hannibal, Grenghis Khan and Napoleon.

Truman also revealed that early in the war he had gone to General Marshall and offered his services, but — according to the president — "General Marshall wisely turned me down." That drew a lot of laughs, and Truman smiled back happily.

But the president hit the jackpot with the Army officers when he said, "and General Marshall even succeeded in getting the Navy to cooperate with the Army."

"Wahoo!" shouted the assembled Army officers in one voice.

"Try And Stop Me"
By Bennett Cerf

"GATE-CRASHING" is the intricate art of getting into places without a ticket. The most famous gate-crasher of recent years is a character known as "One-Eyed Connelly."

This exasive gent boasts that he has seen 17 consecutive World Series baseball games and twelve heavyweight championship fights without paying his way in. He once sneaked out of a model jail where he was serving 30 days for gate-crashing. He broke back in the next night just to show he could do it.

History records a gate-crasher back in 1841. He was a dullwitted cockney named Jones who had a passion for sneaking into Buckingham palace, where he was picked up time and again by mortified guards. The last time they found him hiding under Queen Victoria's royal sofa.

A blood-brother of the gate-crasher is the free-pass hound who will spend ten dollars and countless hours to get a free ticket for a fifty-cent movie. Such a free pass is known as an "Annie Oakley." Annie was a famous shot in her day, and could plug an ace of spades full of holes at 100 yards. If you have ever noticed how many holes are punched in a free ticket, you will understand why it is called an "Annie Oakley."

No man, when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light.—Luke 11:23.

ON BROADWAY
(Copyright, 1945, For The Journal)

NOTES of a New Yorker: Here is a sane way to handle men . . . They tell it around the Pentagon Bldg. in Washington . . . A soldier was talking to a diplomat. Said the soldier: "In peace times, I personally handled one W.P.A. project. I made it a point to ask each man about his job and its objective. I found the accomplishment charts soaring—with no other incentive than interest and appreciation of effort. I believe that to be the backbone, not only of discipline, but of an army's combat spirit" . . . The soldier was Gen. George Marshall, Chief of Staff, U. S. Army . . . The diplomat was Adolph A. Berle, Jr., Ambassador to Brazil.

WINCHELL

At Judge Clark's wedding President Truman wore a new suit which everybody admired. After the ceremony Clark went up to the President and remarked: "You know, Harry, a suit like that would cost $500 in France."

"That so?" chirped the chief executive. "With or without a vest?"

Peter Donald was talking to Tommy Lyman in Jimmy Ryan's when one of the phonies (who fought harder to stay out of the service than he did in uniform) strolled into the club in civilian clothes. Donald cracked: "He fought the war guarding a coal-pile in Brooklyn. Do you thing he got out on points?"

'No," Lyman replied. "Angles!"

WHAT is perhaps the best piece of political oratory was being discussed by a group of politicos the other night in the Zanzibar. They began by tracing the early speeches of our leading politicians. Finally, Jimmy Walker said that the best piece of political oratory he had ever heard came from Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault, who (finding himself being considered for the governorship of Louisiana) deadpanned: "I'm an honest man; I know nothing about politics."

* * *

The-war-isn't-over-yet item: The London Evening Standard's litree critic used this simile to describe a tome: "It rasps the nerves like a Brooklyn accent" . . . Tip: You can avoid hangovers by sipping a little bicarb between drinks . . . Normalcy note: Sponsors are dropping some newscasters. At the same time they are waiting in line for an opportunity to broadcast football games . . . Strange contrast: Allied diplomats are pushing each other around. Meanwhile Nazis and Japs are being treated tenderly . . . Why American soldiers in Verminy lose their tempers: They are forced to stand at attention when a Nazi officer approaches!

WHEN President Harding was once queried about American foreign policy, he said that foreign countries were frequently confused by the fact that the U. S. had two foreign policies . . . "What are they?" he was asked. "The Sec'y of State's," he said, "and Nicholas Murray Butler's."

A returning GI was anxious to bring back a Luger pistol as a souvenir from overseas . . . As the transport neared the dock the fellow became more and more nervous . . . . Finally, in desperation he confessed his fears to a pal . . . The kindly pal offered to trade packs and assume all responsibility . . . The GI was vastly relieved and the switch was effected . . . The luggage was not searched upon debarkation . . . A few minutes later the two met on shore . . . The GI was exceedingly grateful . . . "By the way," he said as they switched packs, "you must have a lot of things in your pack. It's awful heavy."

"Yes," said the pal. "I have TWELVE gats in mine."

Then there's the Colonel from Kentucky who was charged $50 for a quart of bourbon in Paris . . . His buddy observed that it was an exorbitant price to pay.

"Not in my estimation, suh," said the Colonel. "It's th' fust time I evuh had th' privilege of payin' somewheh neah th' figgir I always considered it wuth."

IRV Hoffman's description of a bookshop in Hollywood presided over by Alan Williams: He is an amiable, white-haired fellow, who is weary of the hurly-burly of theatrical life. Williams is now content to lead a life of leisure among the books he has always loved. . . . He likes to sit in the kitchen, drink coffee with anyone who happens in, and discuss life and literature. Customers are likely to find the service haphazard. Once a woman sought a copy of "Green Mansions." She discovered Williams was using it as a bread plate. He became quite irked when she insisted on buying it. Williams has written several novels under the name of Peter Marsh. These books stand on a separate shelf under a small sign which says: "Not Recommended."

This is something for psychiatrists to unravel: After leading their nations to victory on the battlefield, Allied war leaders have suffered political defeats in their own country. Herbert Bayard Swope has pointed out that after the last war, Wilson, Lloyd George and Clemenceau were trounced in the political tussle. Churchill got the same medicine after this war.

The military pipeline system completed in Europe has a capacity of 150,000 barrels of gasoline daily, delivered through 3,446 miles of pipe.

Argument for a Single National Defense Agency

Many Inequalities Are Discovered In Discharge System

Men In Limited Service Left "Holding Bag"

By MARQUIS CHILDS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—In taking apart the war machine assembled by America, there were bound to be inequities. Human beings get caught in the vast gears of a system necessarily framed for the greatest good of the greatest number.

One group, however, seems to have suffered unnecessary discrimination. These are the men on limited service because of some physical handicap that was not sufficient to keep them out of uniform. A number of letters from men in this group tell pretty much the same story.

CHILDS

They were barred, because of their physical handicap, from going overseas even though many repeatedly requested overseas duty. Therefore while some have three years or more or duty, they are a long way from enough points to be released.

Make Selves Essential

Still others in this category have made themselves essential in their military jobs. Often they are older men, more mature and more conscientious.

Because they do a thorough job at some technical or clerical assignment, they are judged indispensable. Consequently their chance for a discharge seems infinitely far off.

Besides the natural resentment they feel at seeing men discharged who have had far less service in point of time, they are concerned about the competitive scramble for a job with so many able-bodied veterans ahead of them in the job line. This worry is greater for men who are over 35. They are fearful they will never again be able to fit into our highly competitive system.

SOME sort of special provision for these men should be possible without upsetting the machinery created to get millions of citizen-soldiers back into civilian life. On points, they are at a grave disadvantage. Having done thorough and conscientious service in what were often boring and monotonous assignments, they should not be further penalized for a disability which was no fault of their own.

On men with scientific education and students whose careers in science were interrupted, there is still no fixed demobilization policy. The Army, realizing how serious is the deficit in our science caused by the war, is trying to work out a plan which will get them back into the laboratory and the classroom. Vannevar Bush, head of the Office of Scientific Research and Development, reported recently that we were short 100,000 trained men because, unlike every other country in the world, we had not made special allowance for continuing our scientific and technical education.

Navy Has Done Nothing

The Navy has done nothing. Thousands of young men with advanced training or with special aptitude for science are going through the motions of schooling in techniques for which they will never have the slightest use. They are wasting their time when they could be preparing for careers in science that would serve the nation.

The most complete blind spot, however, exists—as it has throughout the war—at selective service. They are going right on drafting men out of science; young men urgently needed if we are to continue to hold our pre-eminent place in scientific advancement.

This persistent stupidity of selective service raises a major question about the capacity of the military, as it is constituted today, to direct a system of universal military service with its far-reaching effect on our national life. It is a question that has not a little to do with present doubs on Capitol Hill.

A RECENT letter cites the case of a young man of 20 drafted as he was about to get his degree as a chemical engineer. He asked for an extension of eight weeks to finish a research thesis that might have thrown light on a problem troubling industry. Even though this request was backed by an urgent plea from the head of the school, it was turned down.

It is, of course, very easy to put all the blame on military men. We ourselves, by the urgency of our demands to "bring the boys home," have helped to create the political pressure which makes any deviation from ironclad rules difficult or impossible.

American Eagle Has Done An About Face

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — The American eagle has done an about face.

Now it looks to the right, as shown on a new presidential flag, seal and coat of arms. President Truman displayed all three for the first time at his news conference yesterday.

The eagle's turn-about has it contemplating the olive branches of peace, clutched in its right talon. The fierce bird, long a national emblem, until now has been shown gazing at its left talon, holding arrows symbolic of war.

36th Division Will Dock In New York

The division, which made one of the war's toughest landings, at Salerno, Italy, fought northward up that country and then invaded southern France.

Price Controls To Be Lifted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (U.P.)—Price controls will be lifted next Wednesday on 52 miscellaneous food items, including various spices, a few dried and frozen fruits and some bakery products, the OPA announced today.

In addition, ceilings will be suspended for 90 days on vegetable seeds, canned carrots (including canned carrot juice) and fresh, frozen and canned crabmeat. Canned carrots sold as "baby" or "junior" foods, however, continued under price control.

OPA said all the commodities were insignificant to the cost of living and that the action "does not mean that we are letting up in our battle to keep food prices down."

Here are the 52 items to be exempted from price control:

Fish, fats, and oil — all canned or processed fish bait used for sport fishing, imported and domestic canned abalone, oysters, clams and fish roe, frozen uncooked lobsters, salted lake herring.

Frozen Foods Included

Frozen fruits and vegetables — beets, citrus segments, coconuts, figs, kale, melons, mushrooms, pears, potatoes, vegetable greens other than spinach.

All bulk or packaged dehydrated vegetables except dried or dehydrated peas and dried or dehydrated beans. This does not include dehydrated vegetable soups.

Dried fruits — whole unpitted apricots and peaches, all varieties of black wine grapes, silver prunes, halved pitted plums, cherries and cherry stems.

Bakery products — pretzels, tortillas, ice cream cones sold to stores. Cones sold filled with ice cream remain under price control.

Grocery specialties — bouillon cubes, frozen dough ready for baking, prepared hardsauce containing distilled spirits.

Miscellaneous — canned lime juice, fennel seed, foenugreek seed, anise, cumin, dill, laurel, marjoram, thyme, tumeric, sage, saffron, basil leaves, curry powder, mint leaves, mint flakes, rosemary leaves, savory, savory salt, garlic salt, onion salt, imported chutney.

Chinese War Threat Laid To Communist

CHUNGKING, Oct. 26, (AP)—A charge of provoking civil war in China was flung today at Mao Tse-Tung, the Chinese Communist leader who recently reached broad peace agreements at a conference with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

"The responsibility rests entirely with your side," declared Gen. Fu Tso-Yi, commanding China's 12th war zone, in making the charge. He said:

Chinese Communist soldiers have attacked central government troops at points between 150 and 250 miles west of Peiping.

The Communists are sending more than 100,000 reinforcements into the area.

The "approach of invading forces" has necessitated the evacuation by government troops of five cities "to avert civil war."

"There's a limit to our patience," General Fu messaged Mao.

"Further armed assaults by Communist troops will place us with our backs to the wall. Communist forces must be responsible for any crisis that may result."

State Labor Agency

sides in a labor-management controversy might cry." That is the idea he will keep in mind in further consideration of the situation, he said.

Meeting with the governor and Carlton were the following regional WLB members, representing labor (both the CIO and AFL), industry and the public:

Chairman A. Langley Coffee of Dallas; G. H. Cansler of Houston, J. E. Crossland of Houston; Walter B. Vanwart of Houston; R. E. Curtis of Dallas, A. B. Cervin of Dallas, Thomas H. McKee of Dallas, C. S. Condra of Fort Worth and Harry Acreman of Austin.

Army Points To Be Reduced To 60

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (U.P.) — Another 900,000 soldiers will become eligible for discharge next month, the War department announced today. The discharge point score for enlisted men will be reduced to 60.

Up to last Sunday, the War department said, more than 2,000,000 had been released. In the remaining days of this month another 250,000 are expected to be discharged. It was expected that the total for October would be 1,200,000.

Among the 900,000 to be released next month, 695,000 are coming in from overseas and 205,000 are in this country.

Inactivation Of Base At Albuquerque Set

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 26 (U.P.)—Only guards to protect the property of Kirtland field, Albuquerque, will be maintained after Dec. 31, Col. Alvin L. Harvey, new commanding officer, said today.

Second Air Force headquarters in Colorado Springs announced temporary inactivation of the field, along with nine others in its command, yesterday.

Meanwhile, Chairman Clyde Tingley of the city commission said he believed that the Army had used the word, "temporary" as a "nerve-soother," and he believed that inactivation would be final.

Stalin Is Expected Back On Job Soon

MOSCOW, Oct. 26. (AP)—The Russian people expect Generalissimo Stalin to return to his heavy duties in the Kremlin about two weeks hence, refreshed by a vacation.

Dispatches circulated abroad that Stalin is ill have not been repeated here. The presumption among the Russians is that their 65-year-old leader, who left the capital Oct. 9 for a destination never announced, will be back in time for celebration of the Nov. 7 anniversary of the revolution.

The usual length of a Soviet vacation is one month.

meeting of foreign ministers three weeks ago, Secretary of State Byrnes said he believed Molotov wanted a Berlin-type council. He reiterated this at his Wednesday news conference.

Russian newspapers disagreed. They said all Molotov wanted was a Balkan-type commission.

Last night's State department announcement reiterated that the "original" Soviet proposal "appeared to propose a control council for Japan which, in its important aspects, would closely resemble the control council for Germany."

It added that recent diplomatic exchanges indicated Russia "is not now insisting upon this position."

"I GOT 90,300 MILES on these RIVERSIDES"

". . . and they're good for a couple of thousand more!"

That's what Mr. H. B. Lovett, 22046 Negaunee, Detroit, Mich. thinks of Riversides. That's what he wrote our Dearborn, Mich. store in a completely unsolicited letter. Needless to say, Mr. Lovett has never regretted the day he switched to Riverside Tires.

When you see Riversides on a car, just remember this; those Riversides did not come on that car when it was new. They were deliberately chosen to replace some other brand of tire. (That couldn't happen so often . . . without some mighty good reasons!)

Jewish Problem Is Menace To Peace

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the most dangerous of the many crises which are threatening international peace is that growing out of the dispute over whether unrestricted Jewish immigration should be permitted into Palestine.

This of course involves the historic question of the establishment of a Jewish national home in the Holy Land. A host of homeless Jews in Europe — refugees from the Hitlerian storm — are crying for a raising of the barriers. Arabs in Palestine and in neighboring countries are offering bitter opposition — and threats of armed strife are in the air.

Quick Action Needed

The situation demands quick adjustment, but it bristles with complications. The British government, which holds the mandate for Palestine, is trying to handle this hot potato, and the matter has been the subject of conversations between London and Washington. There has been a growing feeling in England that the United States should share in the responsibility of trying to reach a solution.

Well informed circles are expecting the British government to make a statement in the immediate future. Whether this will relate to the exchanges with Washington remains to be seen.

This column yesterday suggested that the Javanese revolt against Dutch rule, and the native rebelion inu French-Indo-China, might well be taken up by the new world security organization for settlement. The question of self-determination is a logical one to come before all the United Nations. There naturally would have to be mediation by some country, to halt the fighting and preserve the status quo, pending the time when the security organization gets into full action.

No Better Jury

Why shouldn't a similar program be applied to the Palestine difficulty? Certainly there could be no better jury before which to lay the case than the full assembly of the new League of Nations. As a matter of fact, any matter affecting the Palestine mandate naturally would fall to the security organization as successor to the League of Nations which originally granted the mandate to Britain.

This idea doesn't involve any suggestion that Britain be asked to surrender the mandate. The point is that the problem of the Jewish national home has got too big and complicated for any one country to handle. Indeed, it is doubtful if the decision of any single country would be accepted by both sides to the controversy.

Should it be decided that the question should come before the general assembly of the United Nations as soon as that body is established, then the urgent need now would be for mediation to preserve the status quo until the assembly could function. Who would mediate? Perhaps we shall have an answer to that when we get the expected British statement.

The forests of Brazil cover about a billion acres.

Navy Opposes Cut In Its Appropriation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Navy says it can't stand a $17,662,000,000 withdrawal of funds voted by the House.

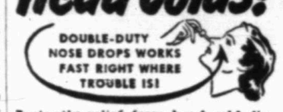

A senator disclosed today naval officers argued for two days at a closed session of a Senate appropriations subcommittee that some of the money should be restored.

They were concerned particularly over a $140,883,000 cutback in the amount authorized for pay and subsistence. The House appropriations committee had suggested this might bring speedier demobilization of naval personnel.

The House bill cut back war appropriations and spending authorizations of various departments a total of $52,453,535,278. It left the Navy $11,945,257,515 for Aug. 1, 1945 to next June 30.

Steelman Now Truman's Aide

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Dr. John R. Steelman, a pink-cheeked former harvest hand with four college degrees and a reputation for settling labor disputes, has been named a special assistant to President Truman.

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach called Steelman from his New York labor relations office last July to help reorganize the Labor department.

Are Old Friends

The two are old friends. They were frequent consultants when Steelman was head of the U. S. Conciliation service and Schwellenbach was a senator from Washington.

Steelman quit the $9,600 Conciliation service post last November 25, saying he wanted to make some money.

He had been rumored as a possible choice of both Governor Dewey of New York, the Republican presidential nominee, and the late President Roosevelt to succeed Secretary of Labor Perkins.

He has been in the middle of some real tough strikes—such as those of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

He is 45.

Waco Planning Celebration

WACO, Oct. 26. (AP)—Waco went ahead today with plans for a colorful celebration Dec. 5, the day President Truman is expected to pay a visit.

The county war finance committee promised "the biggest parade this city ever saw," and it was stated that Mr. Truman will be honored in every way his time schedule will permit.

President Pat M. Neff of Baylor university announced yesterday that the chief executive has tentatively accepted an invitation to recive an honorary doctor of laws degree at Baylor, Dec. 5

Truman Expects To Attend

Neff said he had received a letter from the President acknowledging receipt of the invitation and saying that Mr. Truman expected to be present "if nothing unforeseen takes place." At Washington, the President stated that his plan to visit Waco was tentative but that he was inclined to go.

Mr. Truman is expected to address the annual session of the Texas Masonic Grand Lodge if he comes to Waco. He first visited this city several years ago as a member of the Missouri Grand Lodge, of which he is a past grand master.

The war finance committee said it hoped to close the victory loan campaign three days early, to be able to tell the President, "here's our $5,100,000 quota."
