THIEF ESCAPES IN GUN FIGHT WITH COP

Ma's Forces Fight Inquiry Methods

WANT IT ALL DONE AS SHE HOLDS OFFICE

Report to 40th Legislature Unfair, Loftin Says As Probe Progresses

AUSTIN, Sept. 14.(AP)—Supporters of Govérnor Miriam A. Ferguson in the house of the 39th legislature, meeting here in call session, are irrevocably opposed to an investigation of state departments by a committee that will report to the 40th legislature, Representative Ruben Loftin of Henrietta, Ferguson floor leader, Tuesday told the Associated Press.

He declared the investigation should be started immediately and completed by the 39th legislature, "as the Fergusons and their frineds are entitled by an investigation while Governor Ferguson is in office."

Brings on Opposition.

Representative Loftin's pronouncement placed the Ferguson forces in direct opposition to the resolution, asking appointment of a committee of nine house members to conduct an investigation of the highway commission, text book commission and pardon board, and report to the 40th legislature. This resolution, signed by 48 members, most of them strong supporters of Attorney General Dan Moody, democratic gubernatorial nominee, was referred to the committee on state affairs.

The house adopted a resolution petitioning the governor to submit the question of raising the per capita scholastic apportionment from $11.50 to $15 by appropriations from the general fund.

Adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock Wednesday to give the judiciary committee opportunity to consider 182 district bond validating bills, and the committee on state affairs, the resolution asking investigation of state departments.

Loftin was undecided whether Ferguson forces would carry the fight to amend the constitution before the committee on state affairs. Most of the members of this committee are said to be Moody supporters. The committee was to meet at 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

"I prefer to do my fighting on the floor of the house," he said.

May Not Report.

Serious doubt exists in his mind and in the minds of many other members of the house as to whether a committee of the 39th legislature legally could report to the 40th, Loftin said. "We would have the anomaly of the members of the committee functioning at the same time as members of the 39th and 40th leggislatures, though their tenure as members of the 39th had ended."

There has been some talk of Ferguson supporters attempting to amend the resolution by delegating the authority to appoint the committee to the house, instead of to the speaker, but Representative Loftin said Speaker Lee Satterwhite was entirely satisfactory to him.

"He is the fairest presiding officer, I ever saw in the house," he said. "Throughout the bitter amnesty bill fight of the regular session, he was the personification of fairness. I am glad to say of him though we often differ in politics and policies."

Ma's Appointees Passed To Senate For Confirmation

Solons May Serve In Investigations Until January, '27

AUSTIN, Sept. 14.(AP)—Members of the 39th legislature may serve as members of investigating committees after the November election, and until their successors qualify the second Tuesday in January, 1927, the attorney general's department Tuesday advised Speaker Lee Satterwhite in response to his inquiry.

House members generally felt the opinion removed all doubt as to legality of an investigating committee functioning after adjournment of the call session.

Speaker Satterwhite said the opinion clarified the situation and that the ruling was as he had anticipated. In his letter of Tuesday, he said, "it occurs to me that the election will have no effect upon the rights of the committee to continue an investigation after the November election, but I will appreciate it if you will give me an opinion with reference to the matter."

190 BILLS UP BEFORE SENATE

Legislature Sails Smoothly Along in Special Called Session

AUSTIN, Sept. 14.(AP)—With 190 validation bills of district road bonds introduced, the senate of the 39th legislature, in call session, began ironing out the wrinkles Tuesday through the committees, and it appears as if little trouble will be encountered in this legislation. However, the civil jurisprudence committee, in joint session with the house of representatives judiciary committee, heard what complaints there were.

Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller ran the senators through two brief sessions Tuesday and the senate, after dumping the bills onto the clerks, adjourned until 2 p. m. Wednesday.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson who has only eight more days to submit the remainder of her 167 recess appointees, Tuesday submitted her judiciary appointees and they were referred to the committee on nomination, which decided the procedure but made no report.

Carson Gets Aid On Road Project

The first payments are to be made in 1928, according to tentative plans.

The commission allotted $112,000 to Tarrant county for aid in construction of 5.1 miles of highway number one, to the city limits of Fort Worth, which connect up several hundred miles of hard surfacing roads west of Fort Worth.

RAILROADS TO CUT RATES ON FAIR TICKETS

Reduced Round Trip Fare Offered by All Lines Entering City

Reduced round trip fares for visitors to the Texas-Oklahoma fair this year have been announced by all railroads entering Wichita Falls and are to become effective Oct. 1, lasting through October 7 and giving visitors an opportunity to be at the fair the entire six days.

The unusual rates are calculated on the basis of one and one-third the one way fare for the round trip and applies to children traveling on half fares as well. Actual railroad fares for points in the trade territory are as follows:

Other rates included on Katy lines are Shamrock $14.96 and Wellington $6.50.

Many Others Coming.

Many other towns will send delegates to the Texas-Oklahoma fair which are not included in the rate schedule and these are advised to pay the regular fare to the nearest point coming under the reduced rates and there buy a round trip fare under the reduced rates. A saving can thus be made on part of the trip to the T.-O. Fair. No fare is to be less than one dollar and all intermediate points not mentioned here will carry the reduced rates. Fair visitors should ask their ticket agents about these rates.

Towns in far away western Texas such as Hereford, Canyon, Dalhart, Lubbock and Memphis do not come under the reduced rates but a saving can be made by getting rates at the nearest point under which they come.

Special freight rates are also made on all exhibits coming to the fair, and are in line with the reduced passenger rates which figure at one and one-third the regular one-way fare. Livestock is carried at full fare one way and returned home free.

Fair Trip Starts Today

Home Brew Season Here Productive of Big Results, Hodgins Tells His Cops

Close to 200 arrests in the city's war on the bootlegging gentry have been made and approximately 15,000 bottles of beer have been seized and destroyed since the opening of the home brew season about the middle of June, Police Chief George Hodgins told members of his corps in a get-together meeting at the city hall last night.

Hodgins commended his officers highly for the manner in which they have been working and asserted that so far as he had been able to ascertain this record was the best of any police department in Texas over the same period, declaring that no single police corps had "pinched" more booze this year than the Wichita Falls department.

He pointed out that the seizures had been made from all classes of people and that the raids had embraced all sections of the city. The high class residential sections "on the hill," he said, had suffered just as much as had the negro and Mexican hovels on the river bank.

Hodgins also told of his trip to Dallas and Fort Worth the past week-end and visited with police officials of both cities.

W. E. George, city attorney, gave a short talk and thanked the police for their co-operation the past several months. W. E. McBroom, city clerk, also spoke to the officers.

Political Orchard Has Big Invasion

AUSTIN, Sept. 14.(AP)—Despite the fact that most of the state jobs are "rot" lucrative, there is a great demand for them. That has been shown in the senate chamber during the past two days when the special session of the 39th legislature got under way.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson has 167 recess appointees. She, according to law, is compelled to submit them within ten days for confirmation for the offices they hold automatically become vacant. Tuesday she submitted for judiciary appointees, but the committee has not made a report.

Elaborate Plans Made

The Texas-Oklahoma fair officials and the chamber of commerce officials have made elaborate plans for this trip and have made a strong appeal for as many to go as possible.

Mayor Shepherd stated late last night there would be plenty of transportation available for all those who would make up their minds to go and would be at the Perkin-Snider building by 10 o'clock this morning. Enough delegates are wanted to make a good showing in the towns visited and possibly to make a parade displaying banners of the Texas-Oklahoma fair.

BULLETS RAIN OVER MACHINE IN HOT CHASE

Burkburnett Deputy and Fugitive Shoot It Out in Oklahoma

A high powered rifle shot failed by inches Tuesday afternoon to carry death to L. D. Jones, deputy of Burkburnett, when he chased an alleged automobile thief for miles through Oklahoma, only to lose him after a torrid gun battle. Superior speed of the fugitive car enabled it to get away after the Texas officer hung tenaciously to the trail.

A shattered windshield on Jones' car last night gave evidence of the closeness of his call. The ball, one of a dozen or more fired at the officer, crashed through the glass and buried itself in the cushion of the front seat. Had any one been riding with Jones at the time, it would have meant sure death, he said. The officer emptied his revolver twice at the fleeing machine, but could not come within close enough range to use his gun effectively.

The chase started in Burkburnett after the automobile, said to have been stolen Monday night in Munday, passed through Wichita Falls. Officers here were on the lookout and noted it going through the city and out the Burkburnett road. They phoned Burkburnett and Jones went out to watch the highway. He gained a vantage point just as the car drove up, however, and the driver, seeing the officer, stepped on the gas.

The deputy gave chase in his car and followed it across the toll bridge and on to Randlette where the gun fight started. It continued on toward Walters before the fugitive's machine out-distanced the pursuer. Two men were in the stolen car, Jones said, one of them using the rifle while the other one drove. The pilot of the car, he said, was well known to officers here.

Mexican Orchestra In Triumphant Appearance Before Big Crowd Here

The Imperial Symphony orchestra of Mexico City, appearing in a benefit program for the Wichita Falls Day Nursery and under the auspices of the Kiwanis club, lived up to all advance notices Tuesday night when its program in the Junior college auditorium held a large crowd spellbound by the beauty and brilliance of its music.

The program produced a musical organization, trained to a fine art that gave all the epic melody possible only from a symphony orchestra. And it gave more, too, for with its musical mastery in the orthodox way, the orchestra included a dash of romance and color peculiar only to the sunny land below the Rio Grande.

Prof. Roberto Rechi, director, handled his musicians with deft expertness; Roman Neva, lyric tenor, was called back repeatedly for more of his delightful songs; the string quartet of Valles, Gonzales, Valera and Roza gave several numbers of indescribable beauty; and an unnamed cellist's rendition of "The Rosary" held the audience in rapt attention from first to last.

A medley of popular Mexican songs proved a distinct hit, while the rendition of Mexican national anthem brought the large scattering of Mexicans in the audience instantly to their feet.

Proceeds from the ticket sale for the concert to go to reduce the debt on the Day Nursery building which the Kiwanians sponsored.

"But Are You Really Happy?" Merry Asked. "Tell Me The Truth."

Merry Locke, pretty and gay as her name, is a born flirt. She has no ambition except having a good time and plenty of beaux. At 20 she fails in her business course because she won't study. Then, when her father dies suddenly, she takes a job in Lillie Dale's little beauty shop, at a tiny salary.

At that time she is having the first real love affair of her life. She is in love with Tony Gaines, a young lawyer who wants to marry her. But when he finds out that the flirtatious Merry has been going out with other men, their engagement ends. Tony goes to Montana and a year later Merry hears he is going to marry a girl there.

Moms, her mother, takes Lillie Dale and Mr. Hefflinger into the house as boarders. Helen, the oldest of Merry's sisters, marries. So does Cassie, the second oldest. She is jealous of Morley Kaufman, her rich husband, and unhappy. But nevertheless, Merry envies her, her easy life.

Jinny, the youngest sister, elopes with Derrick Jones, who lives next door. She lives with his parents, refusing to come home because of Moms' middle-aged infatuation for Mr. Hefflinger, whom she finally marries.

Through Cassie, Merry meets Bill Erskine, a wealthy bachelor. She becomes engaged to him but he keeps putting off the wedding day. One of the flimsy excuses he makes is that he must stay in Florida with his sick father. He goes there for three months, and returns unexpectedly to find Merry in the midst of an affair with Les Purcell, an old beau of hers, who is separated from his wife. He goes away again, and Merry hears nothing of him for months. Purcell's wife tries to kill herself because of her husband's flirtation with Merry, but later forgives him and goes back to him. Merry unfortunately tells the story to Cabby Marsh, who is engaged to Morley's sister, Muriel. Muriel tells it to Cassie, who quarrels with Merry.

After several weeks the quarrel is patched up, when Cassie gives a house warming in her new house. Merry sees Bill Erskine there, and they hide away from the crowd to have the long talk that Merry has been wanting to have with him for many months.

Now Go On With The Story.

CHAPTER XLVIII

Not more than an hour afterward Merry was caught in the little "white lie' she told to Bill Erskine.

It happened this way:

She was dancing with Cabby Marsh. Dancing a little too affectionately—even in these days of affectionate close-ups on every dance floor in the country, from Portland, Maine, to Portland, Oregon!

Her flushed face was pressed close to Cabby's, her lips were parted and her eyes half-closed.

And yet, at that moment, Cabby meant no more to her than a good dancing partner. She was hypnotized not by his nearness, but by the music and the joy of the motion itself.

"Don't get so close to me—old snuggle-pup," Cabby said suddenly, and pushed her a little farther away from him.

Merry drew back her head and stared at him. Why, she always danced that way! It was the only way she ever had danced! Snuggle-pup! Indeed!

"What's the matter with you, Solid Ivory?" she demanded, flushing deeply.

Then she saw what was the matter. Bill and Muriel were dancing just behind them with narrowed, jealous eyes. As Cabby and Merry swung away from them, she said something to Bill that made him turn his head and look back at them over his shoulder.

The minute the dance was over he hunted Merry up. He found her in the dining room, with a tiny sandwich in one hand and a cup of fruit punch in the other.

He came up to her and asked her if she were ready to go home.

"No, indeedy!" she said in surprise. "It's only half past ten—"

"Well, you're going anyway," he answered. "Go on up and put on your cloak." His face cushioned with fat, semed to quiver as he spoke.

With a little shrug of her bare shoulders, Merry put down her glass and her sandwich and started to obey him.

On the landing, half-way up the wide, curving stair-case, there was a great leaded-glass window that rose straight to the ceiling. And outlined against its grayness stood a man and a woman locked in each other's arms, so that they were like one figure standing there instead of two.

The light from the lower hall struck up at them—at Fifi Pell's scarlet shawl and slippers, and at Morley's dark, glossy head bent over hers!

Merry took one look, flattened herself against the wall, and crept back dow the stairs.

In the hall she came upon Cassie, haggard and worried under her paint and her festive air.

"You haven't seen Morley, have you?' 'she asked as she hurried past her sister and turned toward the stairs.

"Cassie!' 'Merry called sharply. She mustn't! She mustn't go up those stairs! Not for a moment, at least.

"Cassie!" Merry said again. "I want to say good-night to you—Bill is going to take me home."

"He can use my car if he wants to. You might tell him so," Cassie answered, posing with one foot on the bottom step of the stairs. "Come along. I'll go up with you while you get your wraps."

There was nothing for Merry to do but to go with her. Morley and Mrs. Pell must have heard them coming. For by the time they reached the landing they were sitting side by side on the cushioned seat that ran under the window, and Morley was striking a match for the woman's cigaret.

"Hello, Fifi, dear!" Cassie said to her gaily. "You keeping Morley amused?" There was sharp sarcasm under her gay voice.

"Well, hardly amused," drawled Mrs. Pell.

"I could cheerfully murder her!" Cassie declared, when they were in the big, luxurious dressing room at the top of the stairs, with a door between them and the pair on the landing.

She dropped down on the cushioned seat in front of the silk-hung dressing table, and stared at her face in the glass, with hard, brilliant eyes.

Mechanically she put out one soft hand and picked up a lipstick. She drew it across her mouth and then threw it down with such violence that the tongue of carmine broke in two.

"I'd better go down and get him away from her, I suppose," she said ,and, forgetting to say goodnight to Merry, she got up and flashed out of the room.

Bill, in his overcoat, was waiting in the lower hall when Merry ran down the back stairs and through the dining room to him.

"Cassie says we may have her car," she told him.

He shook his head. "I'm using Morley's,' 'he answered shortly. Bill was staying at the house during his visit and he was the kind of house guest who really makes himself at home.

Merry followed him to the garage behind the house. As the two of them settled themselves in Morley's big car and switched on the lights, a shrill giggle came from the darkness beside them.

And there, in Cassie's car, sat Cabby Marsh and Muriel, "twosing." They had a flask that they held up in view and they waved cheerfully to Bill and Merry in farewell.

"I wonder if that's the kind of life I want to lead," Merry said quietly to the man beside her, when the big house and the noise and the revelry were behind them.

"What d'you mean?" Bill asked.

"Oh, I don't know exactly," the girl answered soberly. She was still feeling shocked and bewildered by the scene on the landing—by her mental picture of Fifi Pell and Morley Kaufman there, together. "All this jazzing around and drinking and carrying on—I wonder if it's the sort of thing I want for myself. Tonight, for instance, Bill, I saw a married man and a married woman making love to each other—and I tell you it was disgusting! It made me sick, somehow—"

"Made you sick? Hah! That's good" Bill said nastily. "You never looked at a married man yourself, I suppose!' '

"Why, of course not—" Merry began innocently, and then stopped, as the thought of Les and Nonie Purcell popped into her mind.

"That's not what Muriel Kaufman told me tonight,' Bill told her bluntly. "She told me some wild story about you and that bird Purcell getting tangled up together. She said his wife tried to kill herself—or kill him—I've forgotten the details. But you were mixed up in it, all right, all right!"

Merry knew then why he had dragged her away from the party! She knew then what Muriel had been so busily telling him while she danced with him!

Muriel's a cat," she said evenly. "A jealous little cat! I didn't even know that Les Purcell was married until I'd been out with him a couple of times and then I never went out with him again."

Bill laughd an ugly laugh.

"That's a lie, too," he replied. "Muriel saw you with him only a couple of weeks ago, in a Ford. You sure do know how to juggle the truth, Miss Locke!"

"Why, Muriel doesn't even know Les Purcell" Merry blazed out at him.

"Hush, not so loud," Bill begged her in a smooth, calm voice that made Merry want to slap him. "She knows numbers when she sees them, though. And she looked up the number on his automobile license—"

"The rotten little sneak" cried Merry, furiously. "I told you I wasn't with Les Purcell after that time you saw him at my house—and I wasn't!"

"That's your story and you're going to stick to it, eh?" asked Bill. It was plain that he did not believe the story she told him—and that he did believe Muriel Kaufman.

Merry did not see him again during his visit.

But a week after he went away he wrote to her to tell her that his father was dead.

She answered the letter, and he wrote another to tell her that he would be coming north again, soon, to see her.

"So I guess he isn't very peeved at me, afterall," she said to herself, as she folded it up in its envelope and put it away.

But January went by and he did not come.

On the second day of February Bill Hepworth had to go out of town on business and Merry went over to Wandsworth Road to spend the night with Helen.

Helen was expecting to go to the hospital almost any day now, to bring home the new baby that was coming.

She was pale and tired and listless. But in spite of her weary look, there was a certain peace and beauty in her face that made her look like one of the madonnas that Raphael used to paint, so many centuries ago.

"I should think you'd go crazy, doing nothing but housework all day in this little house," Merry said to her when they were getting supper together in the little blue-and-white kitchen that was the pride of Helen's heart.

Helen gave her a slow, contented smile.

"Housework is dull — unless you're doing it for the man you love," she answered quietly. "I never enjoyed taking care of Moms' house, but this one is Heaven to me—"

"But are you really happy?" Merry persisted. "Tell me the the truth—the absolute truth!"

"I have," her sister replied. "I've told you I am—and I am. What better thing can a woman have than what I have—a man like Bill, and his home, and his babies?"

She really wanted to know what else there could be.

It was plain to Merry that she was sure she had the only worthwhile thing on earth. A little house, and a family to live in it.

Bill tells Merry why her marriage would be impossible. A tragedy overtakes the Locke family in Chapter 49 of "The Petter."

WRITER SCORES CO-EDUCATION

Declares It Responsible For Much Immorality In Universities

CHICAGO, Sept. 14. (AP)—W. P. Cross, member of the class of 1926 at the University of Illinois, says in an article in the Witness, published by the Episcopal church publishing company of Chicago, that increased immorality in American universities is traceable to co-education.

"A novel social situation has come about because of the invasion of universities by women," Cross asserts.

"Drinking is now a minor vice for dating, a comprehensive diversion which includes dancing, drinking and petting. Women now participate in drinking bouts to an extent which is, to the uninitiated, astounding."

He declared co-educational drinking has gone so far that back door deliveries of huge loads of gin were made to his personal knowledge, to a quarantined sororiety house.

"I know of a trainload of sleeping coaches bound to an inter-university football game last fall in which collegians of both sexes most of whom were quite drunk, staged a pajams dance, in the aisles between sleepers berths," he said. Cross, who was graduated in June, contemplates training for the Episcopal ministry.

HOW TO GET OUT OF DEBT

Here's one way to catch up and get out of debt: If you owe a number of bills, some pretty large, the others small, clear them all up at once by borrowing enough to wipe them out.

Then by making a careful budget of income and expenses, deciding on regular, systematic payments that you can meet, pay back the borrowed sum.

Perhaps that looks hard if you are already worried about how you are going to get clear. But it is really surprisingly easy after you once get started. And your credit will be better.

We make loans of $25 to $500 to responsible individuals, at low interest rates, with payments divided so you can meet them easily and systematically. We will be glad to explain details.

One child was bitten Tuesday by a dog believed to be suffering with rabies. The dog's head was sent to Austin for examination.

SENATE NOT TO CHANGE BILLS

Validating Measures Left Alone By Committees To Work On It

AUSTIN, Sept. 14.(AP)—The special committee of the senate meeting in call session of the 39th legislature, and jointly with the judiciary committee of the house of representatives Tuesday night voted "not" to amend senate bill number one, which is to validate all district road bonds and voted that the bill with 189 others "do pass the senate."

W. P. Dumas of Dallas former assistant attorney general, told the committees that former Gov. James E. Ferguson, husband of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, instructed him last May to prepare the bill necessary to obtain validation of the district road bonds affected by the United States supreme court decision in the Archer county road bond case.

Attorney Draws it Up.

Mr. Dumas said that the recognized bond attorneys of America drew up the general validating bill and the forms for the other bills, meet the requirements of the supreme court's decision, and suggested that no amendments be recommended by the committee and on a vote, it was ordered.

The question was raised by Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman, whether the general statutes could be amended, upon the submission by the governor of the proposition, in order that people in proposed districts could be heard and the 14th amendment of the federal constitution be conformed to as required to remove the disability on future district road bond issues. It was the general belief that it could, and Senator Woodward indicated that this would be undertaken.

Assistant Attorney General C. A. Wheeler said the attorney general was satisfied with the general validating bill and the forms of the district bills, and believed they will cure the defects of the present law, which was ruled unconstitional by the supreme court.

Would Legalize Districts.

Senate bill number one, as introduced by Senator John S. Bailey of DeWitt county, would validate and legalize the creation of road districts; validate and legalize the authorization, issuance and sale of bonds issued on behalf of road districts, and the levy of taxes, for the payment thereof; authorize the assessment and collection of general and advalorem taxes in all such road districts for the payments of all road district bonds now outstanding.

Senator A. J. Wirts of Guadalupe took issue with the proposition and said that without hearings from the people in the districts affected, that the legislature would be acting arbitarily if it passed the bill, but this met with considerable denouncement. Several of the committee said that after the districts had functions they were without appeal.

Senator J. G. Strong of Panola county, said he did not oppose validation of the bonds, but that in Shelby county a district's bonds were stolen, and the people did not derive but a small benefit from them and that validation would be opposed. He indicated that a special bill for these districts would be offered.

Cotton Field Workers Suffer At Hands of Some Farmers

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 14. (AP)—Charges that cotton pickers and other farm laborers sent to the fields of the Gulf Coast country have been mistreated will be investigated by the department of commerce and the department of justice, Evart R. Goss, superintendent of the local branch of the United States farm labor bureau, announced Tuesday.

He issued a blanket warning to farmers to be careful of the bummer in which they handle laborers obtained through the federal labor bureau.

"In most instances the farmers have lived up to their contracts with the department of commerce, but there are some unmistakable cases of rank treatment having been doled out to the laborers," Goss said.

Guilty of Peonage

He said that in some cases, it was possible farmers have been guilty of peonage.

He told of one instance where a constable who was a relative to a farmer, forced cotton pickers to stay in the fields of his kinsman, notwithstanding they could have obtained higher wages on neighboring places.

"When they went to this farmer they were to get 75 cents a hundred to pick his cotton," Goss said. "Soon after their arrival there, neighboring farmers began paying $1.50 a hundred, but the man they were working for refused to raise. Naturally they went where they could get more money. The constable visited them and told them they were working for the wrong man. When they refused immediately to be dictated to, he filed charges of vag against them and had them arraigned.

Is Fined $135

"In another case a man and his family had decided to go to another section, where picking was better. The farmer called in a deputy constable to help force them to remain. The family had saved up $134. When they could not be persuaded to stay, the constable filed charges of vagrancy against them and when they appeared before a justice of the peace, the head of the family was asked how much money he had and when he replied "$134," a fine of $135 was assessed against him."

Angelus Temple Leader clears Up Some More On "X" Story

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.(AP)—Aimee Semple McPherson, Angelus temple evangelist today admitted that funds from Angelus temple had been given to Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sielaff to carry on a Carmel, Calif., investigation which finally resulted in a confession by Mrs. Sielaff that her original story about "Miss X," was a hoax.

"Of course we frowarded Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff funds with which to carry on her investigation," Mrs. McPherson said. "We did just as we did with detectives and others who believed they could obtain evidence in clearing up my case.

"We gave her considerable money with the understanding that it would be returned to us providing she did not obtain the facts as she represented."

SHOES OF INDIVIDUALITY

PURE CHIFFON HOSE $1.95 to $3.50

How shrewd a shopper are you?

When selecting silk for a new dress, you seldom accept the first piece of goods shown you. You compare before you buy. Only by comparing values can you obtain the best quality and choose the one pattern you like best.

The same holds true in buying coffee.

We could tell you many things about Folger's Coffee. Its rich, full flavor. Its fragrant aroma. And the joy and satisfaction that you get with each steaming cup of this fine coffee.

But we ask you to take nothing for granted. Simply compare Folger's Coffee with the brand you are now using, by making the Folger Coffee Test. It is the logical, easy way to shop for coffee.

The Folger Coffee Test: Drink Folger's Coffee tomorrow morning; the next morning drink the coffee you have been using; the third morning drink Folger's again. You will decidedly favor one brand or the other. The Best Coffee Wins. That's fair, isn't it?

FOLGER'S Coffee

See that the name Folger's is on the can. Make it your buying guide for coffee. It is the mark of distinction.

"THE MAN IS THE THING"

SOME few democrats are finding fault with the platform of their party. Why grumble? Why pick flaws? Why snarl? Before the nominations were made "the ballot was the thing." After the nominations had been made "the man is the thing."

If the man who is to be at the head of the government is all right a platform does not matter.

Five hundred thousand democrats declared the man picked for leader and governor the man for the job. They knew what they wanted. They returned a verdict at the ballot box. They are not losing any sleep over the platform.

Now give the people a rest. Give business a chance to breathe. Give the man who paid the taxes an inning. They are weary of politics. They made a clean up and they expect the lawmakers of the 40th legislature to do the rest.

There is a time for all things. This is a good time or would be a good time for the practical politicians to go into a trance and remain in that condition until the snow flies.

A BIG JUMP IN SALARY

FORT WORTH has a city manager. Fort Worth adopted the city manager form of government last year. Fort Worth sent to Iowa for O. E Carr and made him city manager.

Now his salary has been raised from $13,500 to $15,000 a year and this by unanimous action of the Fort Worth city council.

Manager Carr must be a success. His salary was jumped to $15,000 and he was given a leave of absence to attend the national convention of city managers at Chicago September 21 to 23.

According to the newspapers of Fort Worth the city manager plan of government has been given the acid test and has been a success from the very beginning.

Old-time machine politicians in Fort Worth do not approve of it. A few taxpayers have started court action to decrease Carr's salary as well as to question the legality of city manager rule during the absence from the city of the gentleman from Iowa. They die hard.

DAUGHERTY ON THE RACK

FORMER Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty is on the rack. He is on trial in the Federal Court in New York and the Federal prosecutors has produced evidence that $441,000 was paid for the return to its German owners of the American Metals Company and that some of the money went to Daugherty and Former Alien Property Custodian Thomas W. Miller.

Indeed a german metals magnate Richard Merton, testified that he paid the $441,000 in checks and liberty bonds into the hands of John T. King of Connecticutt and Jesse Smith of Ohio and that the four Americans were in the big deal.

John T. King cannot be heard. He is in his grave. He was republican committeeman from Conneeticutt. Jesse Smith cannot be heard. He is in his grave. He committed suicide. He was imported from Ohio to Washington by Daugherty when Daugherty was attorney general of the United States, first appointed by Warren G. Harding and continued in office by Calvin Coolidge until the great oil scandal became uppermost.

Daugherty protests that he is as innocent as an unborn babe. Miller declares that he is as pure as the driven snow. Of course, but where did the Merton money go?

LADY ASTOR AS CREDIT

LADY Astor is Virginia born. She visited the land of her nativity. She discovered that American children have such old looks on their faces that it almost made her weep. She regretted that American children are far, far too old for their age and the reason is they are given too much spending money by their parents or guardian. She had another regret, "the amount of cosmetics used in this country makes the American girl look like the last days of pompeii." Back to Lunnon.

TEXAS REPUBLICANS HOPEFUL

TEXAS republicans are hopeful. Their candidate for governor, Col. H. H. Haines predicts his own election for governor over Dan Moody at the November balloting. Colonel Haines must be an optimist, the prince of optimists or he would not see a personal victory in the distance.

There are two functions of the republican party. They hold a primary election this year. Counting the ballots of all factions, they mustered 16,000 votes. Colonel Haines has been told that the democrats who voted for the house of Ferguson will vote to establish the house of Haines of Texas.

When Vermont goes democratic, Texas may go republican. All this reminds this newspaper that the republicans held thei rstate convention at Dallas and Major Leonard Withington, business manager of the Texas republican party, inserted a plank in the platform declaring that the state should give its best and most loyal support to the enforcement of the 18th amendment to the federal constitution and all laws in its support so long as they are laws of the land.

This did not appeal to a San Antonio delegate, who declared that no one law should be singled out for support, especially since the platform in a previous paragraph had urged that all laws should be enforced or repealed. This man from the Alamo city declared that the Withington plank was making an issue of prohibition which was not really a state issue.

Of course this aroused the ire of the doughty major, who said that it was idle to deny that prohibition was an issue, and insisted the republican party in Texas should take a definite stand. Then a delegate from West Texas, a democrat, made a motion and the Withington plank was modified to read in effect that "the party should give its support to all laws both state and naional."

Mention of the 18th amendment was left out of the republican platform and the major had to take his medicine. Now the major insists that the democrats will make it an issue nationally in 1928 and he wishes to be prepared for the event. He predicted the democrats will nominate Senator James A. Reed or Governor Al Smith and this would force the issue of prohibition to the fore.

Well, the straddlers smashed the plank offered by the major. They made no mention of the 18th amendment. Just like the democrats, they are for enforcement of all laws. Just like the democrats, there are some few of the republicans who are dry when platform making is the order of the day and wet when drinking is the order of the day when there is any moist stuff lying around.

Colonel Haines is on the road making speeches. There are 150,000 black republicans qualified to vote. Where are they going in November. Two years ago two-thirds of these black republicans voted for the house of Ferguson. This is a matter of history. They do not love the house of Creager. They do not love the lily white republican party. Are they coming to the democratic reservation on election day?

FIGHT OR FILM

MOTION picture actors apparently have won the first round of the battle with the United States troops. They protested the use of soldiers in pictures where large groups of men were required, asserting that it was taking food out of the mouths of budding stars. The mob sang a tune to the effect that the men of Uncle Sam belonged to the regulars, not to the movie volunteers.

The dignified department of war replies, upholding the cinema performers. But in order that this will not halt enlistments in the army, the department immediately qualifies its stand. There are certain exceptions. Troops may only appear in pictures which are historical, educational, military, or patriotic, which gives a rather wide lattitude.

In fact, most pictures claim to be one of these. Even those of the romantic type are educational. The cheers of the mob may turn to howls when it begins to understand.

But wonder when the California army finds time to drill.

GERMANY IN THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

GERMANY has been unanimously accorded a permanent seat on the council of the league of nations. France voted for the admission of Germany, Belgium voted for the admission of Germany. Great Britain voted for the admission of Germany. Europe has buried the World war. Europe has taken a long step forward. Woodrow Wilson is dead. His league is not dead. It is all powerful. It is in the world to stay.

Mickey (Himself) McGuire

SMELL

By Arthur B. Reeve

Chandler was leaning forward in his chair, his play forgotten in the daze of surprise and horror that one of his club mates should be charged with the brutal crime.

"The very idea of the fish-glue factory touched your fancy as being repellant, keeping folks, prying folks, away. Only a man without a sense of smell would have gone in that place and overturned the refuse as you did when you concealed poor Cronk's body. The workmen themselves, used to inhaling the stuff every day, wondered how the murderer could have done it. It seemed to have been done so deliberately and thoroughly. Why, it would have turned any other man's stomach not accustomed to it to do what you did. So! You're the man without a sense of smell! Well—you're wanted!"

General Tams, playing nervously with his thin-stemmed glass, twirling it again and again, was muttering: "Thought they'd take Kennedy into game, eh? The five senses! Then the sense of smell was the solution, after all!"

Kennedy still met the defiant stare of Halpin. "It's no use. You'd know it if you knew what I know. It's the message George brought me from headquarters. They've found the Sunbeam—and Hinman's stolen cordials with it!"

Larry Halpin seemed now to wilt back into the leather chair behind him, his hands before a colorless face. He seemed to shrink.

"Sorry, men," cried Kennedy, brusquely. "Sorry to have this happen here. But it's the only place I was sure to meet him this evening. George, you may tell that central office man to step in—the fellow that brought the message. He can take you downtown, Larry, with the bracelets, if you pull any rough stuff."

Chandler was fondling the almost empty cordial bottle, as if getting ready to introduce it as a prop in his stage set.

"By the way, Chalmers," smiled Kennedy, "George is not merely careless. He is stupid. That bottle he brought wasn't the cordial I wanted, not the one I told him."

Chandler shrugged. "But you caught your man just the same."

Kennedy nodded. It wasn't worth arguing.

"That's not the point, Chandler, to me," I jumped in. "He proved his case—that crime detection depends on the senses—or the lack of them!"

"Yes, by golly!" broke in Tams, in his jovial voice. "Yes! Convicted him on the sense of smell—and he couldn't smell a damned thing!"

Questions from the World of Love Answered by a Noted Authority

MILLIONS OF WOMEN ARE MARTYRS TO THE IDEAL THAT EVERY WOMAN MUST BE BEAUTIFUL—

Except the snake in the grass that chivvied Mother Eve out of Eden and lost woman her first good home, the greatest enemy the female sex has ever had is the individual who first promulgated the theory that every woman must be beautiful whether she is or not and that she can work a miracle and make herself into a Lillian Russell if she tries hard enough.

Millions of women have been martyrs to this idea. Millions are still suffering in coils of it. Every day millions of women go through agonies to save their complexions that would entitle them to cannonization if it were done to save their souls. The starving Armenians suffer no more gnawing pangs of hunger than do multitudes of rich women striving to maintain that girlish figure.

The torture chamber of the Inquisition has its counterpart in every beauty shop, with its permanent-waving instruments, its sweat-boxes, its reducing machines, its face-liftings and skinnings, its manicure tables and so on, where the poor victims are scalped and stewed in their own juices and are beaten and pounded to a pulp and then—not least painful of all—pay out good money for the privilege of enduring suffering that should give them seats among the cherubim and seraphim on high, but that only enables them to get by down here below.

For, alas, unless nature makes you a good-looker there is precious little you can do to help yourself. Yet women go an trying to achieve the impossible of being beautiful though homely, for it is sadly true that woman's one best bet is beauty. It is the one thing she can depend on to carry her smoothly over the rough places of life and atone for and excuse all other lacks and abortcomings.

Of course, this is the fault of men. Men make the most invidious distinctions between a plain woman and a good-looking one. The pretty woman never has to struggle for her rights. Privileges are presented to her on asilver salver. No handsome woman has to stand in a crowded car. If she is a beauty she could have a whole cross-section if she wanted it, while the men stood and beamed on her. But if by chance a man get up and gives his seat to an ugly woman he does it with an expression that indicates he feels that he deserves the Victoria Cross for heroic performance of duty.

Talk about men's rights. There is no other right that women envy so persistently and entirely and sincerely as the right to be as ugle as nature made them and to look as old as they really are.

Steel Firms In Germany Cut Price

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.(AP)—Officers of American steel companies today confirmed dispatches from Berlin to the Times which stated that a mixed commission in Europe had uncovered conclusive evidence that German steel manufacturers had been cutting prices on their exports to the United States "to an extent clearly in violation of the American anti-dumping act." Steel men here say that a feature of the situation is that the German companies which have been the sharpest competitors here are those who have been heavy borrowers in this country.

LONDON, S[illegible] (AP)—Press dispatches from China today said there were 2,000 Chinese casualties in the recent fighting with the British on the Yangtze river at Wanhsien. Officials declare this figure is "a very great exaggeration," although they admit the affray was serious.

Freight Schedules Cut By Board

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.(AP)—Freight rate schedules filed by southwestern railroads which would have increased sharply the cost of transporting fruits and vegetables to Memphis, New Orleans and related points from Arkansas, Missouri and Oklahoma were suspended today by the interstate commerce commission pending an investigation into their reasonability.

The increased rates were filed by the roads to become effective September 15, but the commission's order today required the maintenance of existing schedules until January 13.

WARNS REBELS

American Admiral Goes to Aid of British Vessel.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.(AP)—Rear Admiral Latimer, commanding American naval forces at El Bluff, Nicaragua, reported today that he had sent an armed boat to aid a British merchant steamer which signaled that revolutionary troops had boarded her while loading hardwood and ordered her to move elsewhere.

The American officer told the revolutionists there must be no interference with foreign shipping.

MEXICO PROTESTS.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 14.(AP)—Manuel Tellez, ambassador to the United States, has been instructed to protest to the United States government against the alleged killing of Tomas Nunez and his two sons in Raymondsville, Texas. It is asserted that a mob broke into the jail and tortured and shot the Mexicans and beheaded the elder Nunez.

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

SQUARING THE NATIONAL OBLIGATION.

As Heywood Broun tells the story, an American, some two years following the Great War was spending a vacation in London. Having changed his clothes he was distressed to discover, after entering a bus, that he had left all his money behind at the hotel. He made this discovery when the conductor held out a hand for the fare.

An Englishman riding in the next seat saw his embarrassment and courteously proffered the necessary change. The American accepted the loan.

"If you will give me your card," he said gratefully, "I will send the amount to you immediately."

"My deah fellow," replied the Britisher, "let it apply on the debt."

Lyrics of Life

LYRICS OF LIFE.
By Douglas Malloch,
Pleasing Everybody.

The good Lord sends us sun and rain,
And some folks like it, some complain.
The farmer wants the growin' wheat,
The city fellah hates the heat.
Fair weather pleases lots of fellahs
But not the man who makes umbrellas.

The good Lord sends us rain and sun,
Don't try to please not everyone;
And, if He thinks it's rain we need,
The rain we git, to sprout the seed.
Folks kick about the wintry season,
And yet the good Lord has some reason.

I knew a fellah once named Brown
Who ran for everything in town.
He wanted office, used to run,
But always lost and never won.
And Brown could never understand it,
The reason why he couldn't land it.

I know he didn't have a foe
In that whole village, high nor low,
Because he never did express
Himself on anything, I guess.
He went to church, but drank his toddy,
And tried to please just everybody.

And guess what happened in the end?
At last he didn't have a friend.
When parties split, or town divides,
Folks like a fellah who takes sides.
Even the Lord, in His high station
Don't try to please the whole creation.

According to legend the use of coffee was first discovered by sheep, who ate the berries and became stimulated to cutting up excited capers. Arabs in Abyssinia, at any rate, brought the coffee bean and the cup brewered from it back to Mecca and there it was at first employed only by people who wanted to keep awake. It is said that pious persons who went to Mosque half the day were especially glad to get hold of a cup, although the Sultan had forbidde its use.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

BY MARY BLAKE

Today's planetary aspects are favorable, and continue so until a little after noon. They then abruptly change and become quite adverse and inapsuicious, and remain in this condition until after sunset, at which time they assume a benign—but not actively favorable—nature. The morning is the only time that justifies special effort, or that spells success for any radical change. Contracts executed during this period will be carried out, and prove advantageous. Only customary duties should engage your attention in the afternoon, and all temptations to yield to haste or impulse must be roisted, if failure is to be avoided. The evening can be safely given up to the amenities of either social or family life.

Children born today will, as babies, be practically immune to the ordinary and usual infantile ailments. In their earlier 'teens, however, they will not be so fortunate, and the signs denote that sickness will cause them—and others—considerable trouble at this stage. Care and good medical attention will enable them to outgrow this weakness, and a ragged maturity for them is assured. They, so far as disposition goes, will be hard to manage, as they will always want to have their own way—be it for good, or be it for evil. Argument, affection and persuasion will have little effect on them. Discipline, of the stern, will be necessary. If their early faults be eradicated, and they can be, they are destined to become useful and worthy citizens.

If today is your birthday, you are a sworn enemy of "makebelieve," or decit. You call "a spade a spade," and your frankness and candor, although at time, embarrassing, call for the admiration of your friends, but, at times, militate against your material success. You not only believe that all are born equal—but live the part, and never show subservience to any one. With it all, however, you are never lacking in respect, which is as honest as it is sincere. You are full of energy, and "go-get-itiveness," but your efforts, owing to limited vision or faulty preception, are oftimes directed in the wrong channels.

You enjoy a very happy home life, as those who are near and dear to you, love you, not because of your lack of attainment, but in spite of it.

The way I used to view with pain
The starting of school in September;
But then the lessons were, you see,
Not like the things you've taught to me!

GEOGRAPHY! My teachers made
Me study every state and nation;
I almost flunker—just passed my grade;
I didn't want the information.
My soul at it I would have hurled
Had I known YOU were in the world!

And WRITING! What a bitter pill!
I hated every slant and motion.
My lessons never failed to fill
My teachers with complex emotion.
I would have practiced, had I known
I'd use it to write you, my Own!

And READING! That was something, too,
I hated with a hate unholy;
But struggling teachers saw me through,
I thank them for their labors lowly
For now I read, with keen delight,
The loving letters that you write!

NEMESIS!
By Joan Koopman.

It had been hours since the steamer had gone down in the cold waters of the lake and Roberts had been swimming for hours. Numbered and despairing, he fought on and on through the night until his muscles refused to respond and his tired brain began to give way. All seemed lost.

Then just before him he saw a boat—a fishing boat. At first he thought it was a product of his troubled imagination, but when the realization came that it was really a boat just a few yards away in the moonlight his exhaustion left him. He pushed ahead.

On the deck of the boat was a man. Roberts was about to cry out, but when the face of the man was turned to the moon the words froze on his lips. Instead there came a low cry of agony. Roberts threw up his hands and sank like a stone.

It was Bill Warburton, the man Roberts had owed six dollars since 1911!

I'M THE GINK!

I'm the gink who collects rare editions. I am always seeking first editions of books and magazines. I have them put away in fine bookcases and I pose as being a person of great literary knowledge. I have a few words of the book collectors' art and I use them judiciously. I never read them. I just collect them and show them to all my visitors. I am sure they are quite impressed. They usually know more about the books and authors than I, but I have the first editions. That's different.

Kremer Wins No. 18 When Mugs Go Down By 5-0 Count

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.(AP)—The world's champions played championship ball today, shutting out New York, 5 to 0. Ray Kremer made it his eighteenth win of the season, allowing no hits until the seventh when Frisch beat out a slow one to Grantham. The victory gained ground for McKechnie's team in the pennant race due to the idleness of St. Louis. It was Pittsburgh's third win from the Giants in four games played in the series. Hugh McQuillan, opening ceremonies for New York, took a fancy to the Pirates bats which landed on him and on Bert Greenfield, who relieved him in the first inning, for five hits and four runs. Waner's homer in the second concluded the scoring for the day. Greenfield settled down and pitched steady ball until the ninth when his duties were taken over by Poetz, a new man from Portsmouth, Va. Only three Giants hit Kremer, Frisch succeeding twice.

BOUQUETS FOR TURGEON.

In bidding adieu Tony DeFate, Spud shortstopper, lisps a fine tribute to his infield mate, Wee Peter Turgeon, the mighty mite of the keystone. Tony doesn't expect to be back when the roll is called next spring.

* * *

Tony Won't Return.

"They're going to ship me, brother, get rid of me and send me somewhere else," ruminated DeFate. "No-o-o, I won't be back, but I'll say one thing and that's that I gave 'em my best all season. I was in there trying my hardest all the time just for Carl. I'll have to admit, though, that I wasn't in the best of shape all the time."

* * *

And DeFate wasn't in good condition all the way. But Tony has nobody to blame but himself. There were days that no shortstop in the minors could compare with Choco in finished fielding and equally finished slugging. But there were other days, days when Tony "was not in the best of sha e," when his performance was not quite so good. But DeFate, in a Spudder uniform, or in the uniform of a team a thousand miles from this sector still is a wonderful little ball player, fast afoot, sure of hand and strong of arm—"when in shape." If DeFate will take care of himself through the winter and more so during the summer he will make some team, be it the Spudders or some other, a great infielder next season just a he did in years gone by, for there was a time that few players could hound a ball better than Clyde Choco Tony DeFate.

* * * *

But b k to Turgeon: Tony with an earnest expression in his eyes declared, "you have a young man at second base this year who played the greatest game I ever saw any second baseman play. Some of these funny Texas league sports writers, when they're picking their all-star teams, which don't mean anything anyway, may leave Pete off the list, but I played with him. I've been playing ball 12 years now and I never saw a man play a better game at second base this year than Turgeon did!"

* * *

It was Jim Roberts who remarked a month or so ago when somebody cracked about selling Bernie Deviveros to a major league club for $20,000, "If Deviveros is worth $20,000 then Gardner doesn't know what he's missing because Turgeon's worth $40,000!"

* * *

Looks like we've got a wonderful second baseman with us for another season. If it were possible for Pete to improve as much next year as he did the past what a wow on the infield the midget would be!

Victory-Wilson of Dallas plays Galveston for the state amateur baseball crown. The Panhandle Refiners of Wichita Falls have one satisfaction, if ar in full knowledge that should Dallas cop the title there remains a better team in north Texas.

* * *

Several Dallas players themselves are quoted as declaring they never had seen a team so neatly trimmed and taken to such a royal gypping as the Wichita Falls entry was by an umpire in Dallas Saturday.

It's a tough life here and there, but at its toughest there's a bit of humor almost everywhere. The Illinois athletic association, which in short is the "—go biff commish, endeavors to make it tough on Phil Rosenberg by "disqualifying" him and naming Bud Taylor WORLD'S bantamweight champion. Do you get that!! Illinois makes the WORLD'S champion. The rest of the world including Asia, Europe, Africa, South America, Canada, Alaska, 47 other of these United States and Wichita Falls, of course, have nothing to say.

DALLAS, Sept. 14. (AP)—The Texas League pennant winning Steers were defeated by Longview, champions of the East Texas league in an exhibition game here today, 7 to 6. A home run by Bowman, pinch hitting for Shortstop Boyd in the ninth inning, turned the trick with a man on base.

Fight Promoter Not At All Excited Over Injunction

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.(AP)—Arrangements for the Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight championship fight in the sesqui-centennial stadium next week went forward today without interruption.

The injunction issued by the Indiana court last night restraining Jack Dempsey, the world's heavyweight champion from fighting before he carries out the contract of the Chicago coliseum club to meet Harry Wills is not effective in Pennsylvania unless action is taken in this state, said Attorney General Woodruff today.

"It is merely a matter of news in the Pennsylvania courts; it has no legal effect," Mr. Woodruff said.

To Oppose Move.

To be on the safe side in the event action is taken here, Tex Rickard today arranged a conference with Mayor Kendrick for tomorrow at which steps will be taken to oppose any move to stop the bout. The city's legal adviser will be present.

Rickard pointed out today the officers of the Chicago coliseum club would have to put up a bond of at least $3,000,000 as a guarantee against loss to the defendants if a suit were brought here.

Gate Over $1,500,000.

The gate receipts, it has been estimated, will exceed $1,500,000 and the state requires a bond of double the amount of possible loss in the event the suit were thrown out of court and there was a financial loss.

"They haven't money enough to pay the premium on such a bond," said Rickard, "and I doubt whether the coliseum club will attempt to press the case in this state."

Edwin M. Abbott, counsel for the sesqui-centennial association concurred in the opinion of the attorney general that the Indiana decision was not effective in Pennsylvania.

Kopecky Meets Pasha In Elimination Match Thursday Evening

Johnny Meyers of Chicago, world's middleweight wrestling champion, will appear in Wichita Falls within the next few weeks or when a suitable opponent can be found for him, said A. B. Ross, Wichita Falls wrestling association matchmaker, yesterday.

The promoter said that he is in touch with Meyers and that the king of the middles hopes to take in Wichita Falls on a tour he has planned from Chicago to the Pacific coast.

Joe Kopecky and Kala Pasha, the Turk, who claims the Texas middle crown, if any, meet here Thursday in a finish match on the same card with Billy Romonoff and Yaqui Joe. This match is to take the form c an elimination battle, said Ross, with the purpose of finding a worthy opponent for Meyers. The promoter did not say whether or not the winner of the Kopecky-Pasha bout will be given a match with the champion or will meet other wrestlers here first in an elimination process.

Kopecky is on the scene now working out for the match. Kala Pasha is expected to arrive almost any hour.

Romonoff is due in today, said Ross, from a visit with friends in Oklahoma. The Blonde Goof has been training hard in Oklahoma, said the promoter.

Mays Pitches Out of Turn And Beats Robins, 5 to 1

BROOKLYN, Sept. 14.(AP)—The Reds defeated Brooklyn 5 to 1 today and moved into the league leadership while St. Louis was idle. Carl Mays won his nineteenth game of the season after volunteering his services to Manager Hendricks. The Reds eased into first place with a half game margin over the Cardinals. Twelve hits off McGraw, the Robins' reliance, gave the Reds their tallies. Brooklyn could do little against the under-slung slants of Mays, hitting for but five scattered safeties. Cincinnati's offensive centered about Walker, Roush and Critz with Critz's fielding a feature. The visitors took the lead in the second inning scoring on a double by Critz who reached third on Wheat's fumble and came in on an infield out. The Robins tied it in their half when Marriott singled and went to second on Ford's hit past Pipp and scored on O'Neill's single. The Reds went into the lead again in the third on singles by Walker and Dressen and a wild pitch, and sewed up the game in the sixth with two runs resulting from singles by Critz, Hargrave and Ford and sacrifice fly. Critz started his brilliant work in the first inning, scooping up a slow roller off Herman's bat which got past Mays. He swept the ball up with his gloved hand and got it to Pipp in time to retire the batter, preventing a Brooklyn score. In the next inning he robbed Cox of a safety by a spectacular pick up in front of second base.

Jones' 143 Sets Pace For Amateur Tournament Field

SHORT HILLS, N. J. Sept. 14.(AP)—The magic clubs of Bobby Jones paced America's foremost amateurs successfully through the qualification test for the national amateur championship to a dramatic finish on the sand-cupped links of Baltusrol today.

Three thousand spectators trailed the famous Atlantan through another brilliant march over the rolling foothills of the Orange mountains this afternoon as he raced ahead of the pack to post a 73 for a medal winning total of 143. But it was not until three hours later, with dusk settling down on the links battle ground that they had the privilege of looking upon the day's most stirring struggle, with Francis Ouimet of Boston, hero of by gone days, and young Watts Gunn, Bobby's Atlanta foe in the final last year, fighting desperately for places in the match-playing field.

Four other players, M. B. Stevinson of Chevy Chase, Md., Eddie Held of St. Louis, M. L. Massingill, of Fort Worth, and Frank W. Dyer of Memphis, were grouped with Gunn and Ouimet in the post-round contest for the last five places in the list. And it was upon Ouimet that interest was directed for only a year ago the bespectacled former champion in a similar test went down to defeat in the most stunning surprise of the season.

There was a breathless suspense as the popular veteran hooked his second shoot of the six cornered play-off into a trap at the left of the first green. Once more it appeared that grim fate was to reach out a detaining arm to brush from the struggle one of the most picturesque golfers of all time. But today Ouimet was greater than his misfortune. With a spectacular shot he hoisted the pellet from the sand and landed it within six feet of the pin. He then sank his putt for a birdie four to clinch his qualification.

Massingill, laying straight and true all the way down the fairway also gathered a four, while Gunn, despite a poor run-up shot and Held, after hooking into a tree came through with par fives. This left Dyer and Stevinson both of whom took sixes to battle it out on the second hole for the 32nd place in the field, and par figures proved good enough to sweep the Maryland player into the fold. With this belated rescue of two favorites, all the outstanding contenders for the crown held by Jones came through. Brilliant second rounds saved most of them after erratic starts yesterday. Only 16 players were inside the 160 mark, including four members of the Walker cup team.

Four strokes behind, Jones came Rudy Knepper of Chicago, with 147, while Lauren Upson duplicated his 76 of yesterday to clinch third place with 152. J. Wood Platt of Philadelphia and Eustace F. Storey of England, next in line with a brace of 154's were two strokes better than Roland Mackenzie of Washington, D. C., the youngest who won last year's medal.

DISSECTING FLAG CHASER

Cardinals Have Smoothest Infield

The St. Louis Cardinals have the edge on the other teams in the merry National League battle royal as far as infields are concerned. There can be no question about this.

I am considering all around strength of course.

The infield consists of Jim Bottomley at first, Rogers Hornsby at second, Thevenow at short and Lester Bell at third.

Taking the positions individually the Cardinals cannot claim the outstanding stars. For instance, Jim Bottomley is a mighty sweet man at first and a good hitter but George Grantham of the Pirates and Wallie Pipp of the Cinci Reds are outhitting him. It is Bottomley's fielding, however, and his ability to hit in the pinches, if not at frequent intervals, that gives him the edge, in my opinion. Besides that Bottomley has the team spirit.

Hornsby stands by himself at second as far as aiding the attacking power of his team is concerned. This, of course, may be classed as secondary in computing the worth of an infielder and yet Hornsby's hitting, his generalship and his ability to lead men would give him a place on any infield regardless of any competition that might be furnished by other fielders in covering the middle bag. For straight fielding Hughie Critz of the Reds might well draw the palm.

The injury to Glenn Wright, star shortstop of the Pirates, may have handicapped him this year but as matters stand now Thevenow is leading the shortstops in hitting and comparing favorably with Hall Rhyne (who replaced Wright) and old Horace Ford.

Pie Traynor stands alone as a third baseman. There can be no dispute there. But the man who is giving him a race for batting and fielding honors among the last corner men is Bell. Dressen, at third for the Reds, is a weak sister with the bat and not a finished fielder. In addition to these individual comparisons it can be said with little fear of a deluge of objections that the Cardinal infield plays together better than either of the rival quartets. The substitution of Rhyne for Wright and the weak hitting of Rawlings at second for the Pirates have hurt that infield for general effectiveness on defense and offense.

Pipp's hitting and Critz' fielding give the Reds a claim but the inner defense is not a smoothly working affair.

So the plam for infields goes to the St. Louis Cardinals whether they win or lose.

Former Aggie Grid Stars Make Grade As Coaches

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 14. Many former Aggie football stars, some of whom wore the regalia of their Alma Mater only a year or two ago and others familiar to the fans 10 or 15 years ago, are now coaching college and high school teams from the Red river to the gulf and from the lowlands of Southeast Texas to the plains of Northwest Texas.

More than 100 ex-aggies are guiding the athletic destinies of other schools and many of them are enjoying phenominal success.

Jim Crow, all-conference tackle in 1915 and 1916, is line coach for Baylor university, having been retained by Morley Jennings, the new head coach. Fay "Puny" Wilson, captain and end of the 1922 team and Norman Dansby, star guard on the 1925 team, both all-conference men, are guiding the fate of Allen academy, Bryan. Mule Frazier, sensational halfback of the 1922 club, is making good at John Tarleton college at Stephenville.

Grady Higginbotham, who made a reputation as full back in 1913 here under Charlie Moran, is coaching at Texas Tech at Lubbock. Abe Morris, quarterback of the 1922 Aggie machine, is directing athletics at Abilene Christian college. Woodrow Wilson, captain and guard of the 1919 team the year the Aggies were not even scored upon, is coaching at Burleson college at Greenville.

Nixon Askey, halfback on the famous 1919 team, is coaching at Corpus Christi. Jim Bradford, center of the 1924 Aggies is coaching at Greenville high school. One of the best records achieved by Aggie coaches has been turned in by C. R. "Ruby" Drake, at Taylor high school. "Ruby" was a tackle on the celebrated team of 1919. Tim Griesenbeck of the 1919 team is coaching at Main avenue high school, San Antonio. Tim has starred in baseball as well as football, being with the St. Louis Cardinals several seasons ago and the past year with Corsicana in the Texas association.

Another of the most successful coaches is Johnny Pierce at Corsicana high school. It will be remembered that Pierce was defensive center and offensive quarter on the team of 1920 that lost to Texas 7 to 3. Pierce was knocked out on the first kickoff in that game and his absence tended to demoralize the Aggies. Pierce was running the Aggie team and there was no one to take his place in that game. He was one of the best players at diagnosing plays in the history of Aggieland, according to A. & M. coaches.

"Do" Rollins, halfback in 1917, is at Farmersville high. L. B. Shifflett, end of the 1921 team, is directing Brownsville high school. "Heinie" Weir, captain of the Aggies in 1921 when they defeated Centre, is coaching at Itasca.

Dempsey Trains In Secrecy—Almost

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 14.(AP)—After a day of rest from the dreaded training grind, Jack Dempsey will resume work tomorrow in semi-privacy with a hundred or more newspaper correspondents and camera men as the only spectators.

The gates of the Grey Hound race track where the world's heavyweigh champion is putting on the finishing touches will be closed to the general public tomorrow and Thursday.

Dempsey says that by working in privacy, he can toss aside all caution or restraint without regard to the wishes of the spectators. He intends to try out certain styles of attack against the ablest of sparring partners—Tommy Loughran, Big Bill Tate and Martin Burke. He does not care to be criticized for punching them or instructing them to cut loose with their heaviest blows so he can determine himself how he will stand up under them.

TO ARREST VETERINARIAN.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.(AP)—A warrant was issued today for arrest of C. G. McIntosh, Louisville, Ky., veterinarian whom the state department of registration and education accused of contributing to the death of the $100,000 race horse Captain Hal, by unlicensed treatment.

GIANTS BUY BENTLEY

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.(AP) The Philadelphia Nationals have sold Pitcher Jack Bentley to the New York Giants at the walver price of $4,000.

Tunney Training On Rest These Days

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 14.(AP)—Gene Tunney today enjoyed one of the most complete holidays he has fitted into his program since he began training for his championship bout with Jack Dempsey. The day was one of almost 100 per cent rest. He did a little less than eight miles of road work in the forenoon and called it a day.

Tomorrow will send him back into the ring with boxing also in order Thursday. Ring sessions are planned also for Saturday and Sunday. Monday will bring a period of idleness and his last appearance before the bout will probably be next Tuesday.

BUCKAROOS TO PLAY BROWNWOOD AT FAIR

BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 14. — The first official class A game in this district will be played between Breckenridge and Brownwood high schools at 10 o'clock on the morning of Sept. 30, the last day of the Oil Belt fair here, September 28, 29, 30, it was announced today.

The Breckenridge public schools have declared a holiday, Sept. 30.

The first game for the Buckaroos will be played the Friday preceding when the De Leon team comes here.

GOES TO CALIFORNIA

Captain J. L. Cardiff of the Salvation Army leaves today for San Bernadino, California, where he will meet his mother. He expects to bring her to this city to live with him, and will be back within the week.

BURK GRIDMEN BEARING DOWN

Eaton Expected to Develop Winner With Present Squad

With the arrival of their new coach, Harrold M. Eaton, the Burkburnett Bulldogs have settled down to hard football practice. Coach Eaton was a member of the famous Notre Dame eleven in 1924. Many times he was in the game both at end and quarterback, substituting for the famous "Four Horsemen."

Eaton has a good many of the last year letter men back and several who fell one or two quarters short of lettering. If he can get the team running as it did last year, he will have one of the fastest and best Class B machines in the district.

Gene Buckner and Blackie Warren will be missed greatly from the back field, but the coach has some good material with which to replace them. It is the line at the present time draws heaviest attention.

Captain Johnny McDonald, Mitchell Wolfe, Jim Barker, Harrold Hickam, John Trask, H. D. Hurd, Douglas Tiffin and Wilburn Griffin have returned to the fold and will be the players around which coach Eaton is likely to build his team.

At present Wilburn Griffin is out of the heavy practice with a bad elbow, but the little scrapper is in there getting all that his arm will allow him to get.

There is still a chance of Patterson, Gilmore, Wood and Philipy returning into the game. All of these, but Patterson, have said that they might come back and Patterson has given some mention of attending Wichita Falls Junior college.

Tilden Limps To Another Victory

Champion Exhibits Poorest Brand of Tennis In Years

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept 14.(AP)—Exhibiting the most erratic brand of tennis he has shown since becoming national champion six years ago, William T. Tilden limped to his second victory today in the title tournament at the West Side club.

"Big Bill," still favoring his strained knee had as much difficulty overcoming one of his young proteges, Neil Sullivan of Bethlehem, Pa., as he did yesterday in disposing of John Vanryn, Princeton youth. The title holder, finding few of his strokes in consistent working order, dropped the first set and was given a lively tussle before he gained control sufficiently to pull out the match at 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1.

Bill's Chances Fade.

Sullivan frequently outdrove the champion in their back court exchanges. With Tilden still off form and his bid for the seventh championship apparently fading, the other 15 tournament survivors reached the third round in a series of hard fought matches that produced numerous upsets.

The most conspicuous of these eliminated Japan's two foremost threats. Takeichi Harada, Nipponese ace was overpowered by the fiery attack of Dr. George King of New York in straight sets, 6-4, 8-6, 8-6; while Tsumio Tawara, another Japanese Davis cup performer, was put out by Arnold W. Jones of Providence, R. I., in five sets, 2-6, 6-4, 2-6,, 6-3, 6-1. By his victory, Jones gained the right to oppose Tilden tomorrow.

Hunter Beats Chapin.

Another "seeded" entry faded from the competition when Alfred H. Chapin Jr., of Springfield, Mass., erstwhile conqueror of Tilden and a Davis cup team candidate fell before the hard hitting Francis T. Hunter, New York veteran, 6-2, 5-7, 8-6, 6-3.

Among Tilden's foremost rivals William H. Johnston had a day of idleness through default but both Vincent Richards and Rene LaCoste encountered some opposition before triumphing. Richards let down after a flying start and dropped a set before defeating George Lott Jr., of Chicago, at 6-0, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4; while LaCoste found Malcolm T. Hill, Boston youth a stubborn foe after the latter had overcome his early unsteadiness.

Jean Borotra the Wimgledon champion also had trouble overcoming Watson M. Washburn, former Davis cup player at 7-9, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3, in a match that ended in semi-darkness.

Olney Grid Outlook Turns for Better

OLNEY, Texas, Sept. 14.—As the practice season progresses, Coach O. P. Herm of the Olney high school is assured of an excellent class-B team this year.

Ten letter men have returned while more than 30 candidates are daily reporting for practice. The first conference game of the year has been scheduled with Bowie on October 2, although a practice game will probably be played with Archer City this month.

WALTERS HAS MEAN ELEVEN

Coyotes Look for Tough Go With Oklahomans On Saturday

Coach Bud McCallum's Coyotes, a sore and bedraggled outfit, nonetheless peppery gang following injection of scrimmage into the daily work sessions starting over the past week-end, snapped through riotous practice spree Tuesday afternoon at the Junior college with fundamentals and signal drill still to the fore.

McCallum is whipping his squad along at a terrific pace in preparation for the Walters game here Saturday, the season opener.

Considering the brief training period the Pack has undergone so far, McCallum's men are in surprisingly good shape. But it's general opinion the Wichita Falls team will have both hands and feet full in battle with the Oklahomans for the Sooner state lads boast a mean reputation.

Coach Freeman's eleven is being touted to cop Southern Oklahoma conference honors again this year and move out for extra laurels. The Walters squad has a majority of its regulars back this fall. Freeman, by the way, has a habit of being hooked up with winning combinations, hence much is expected from him by Walters fans. Last year he coached Weatherford, Southwest Oklahoma conference champs, who defeated Walters after the latter had won the Southern conference title.

Dixie Series Probably Opens Sept. 22 With Love on Mound

DALLAS, Sept. 14. (AP) — J. Doak Roberts, president of the Texas League, and J. Walter Morris, secretary of the Dallas baseball club, Texas League champions will meet with John Martin, president of the Southern Association and A. J. Heinemann, president of the New Orleans baseball club, probable winners of the Southern Association, Thursday in New Orleans to complete final arrangements for the sixth annual Dixie series.

The principal matter to be arranged is where the series will be opened. Both New Orleans and Dallas are anxious to play the first two games away from home in order that the Saturday and Sunday games may be played in their city. This will be determined by toss of a coin, the winner selecting the site of the opening contest.

President Roberts indicated that the series probably would start September 22, with two games being played on Wednesday and Thursday. Friday, the teams will lay off to make the trip between the two cities. The series will reopen in the other city for games Saturday, Sunday and Monday. If a sixth game is necessary it will be played Wednesday in the city where the series opened. In the event that a seventh game is needed to decide the series, a toss of a coin will determine the site. Any tie game or rained out game will be played in the city where the contest originally was scheduled.

Hunter Hill and Henry Fanning were appointed Wednesday to officiate in the series by President Roberts. It is expected that Bill Brennan, umpire in chief of the Southern Association will be one of the umpires from his circuit.

The other arbiter probably will be selected by Brennan.

New Orleans needs two victories out of the remaining five games to cinch the pennant. Should Memphis lose one of the five games, the Pelicans will need only one game to cinch the rag. The Southern Association season ends Sunday.

Slim Love, elongated southpaw of the Steers, is almost certain to open the series against New Orleans. Either Russell Pence, Moline, Ills., right hander, who did not regain his sensational form of 1925 until late this season, or Tink Riviere, cure ball artist, will hurl the second game. Luther Roy, ace of the Pelicans, is expected to oppose Love in the initial game.

THREE INDIAN VETS RETURN

Ludgate Shoves His Gang Through "Light" Drill This Week

Light drill and football calesthenics will compose the bulk of the Junior college Indians' workouts this week, their first for 1926 on the field.

Running and passing constituted the practice Monday with a wee bit more intricate work added on Tuesday. When the term "light" drill is used it is not meant that Coach Ludgate is letting his men take it easy. Quite to the contrary. Without scrimmage work and dummy tackling practice is known as "light" but in truth the lads are being put through the p heavily.

There wasn't a man yesterday afternoon, perspiring and dirty, who wasn't glad when a halt was called to the exercises and the squad sent in to rest up for another day.

Ludgate is working on a schedule this week, he said, and hopes toward the week-end to be in a position to make an announcement. The first game probably will not be played until the second week of October.

Not all of the Indian squad has turned out yet. The boys are trickling in daily by ones and twos. A partial list of the men out now follows: Tom Peery, Charley Tant, O. H. Box, Doyle Stephenson, Baxter Scroggins, Vernon Farquhar, Harrell McConnell, J. L. Keller, Roscoe Burks, Olin Harvey, Norall Travathan, Lloyd Bland, Reed Pace, John Wolfe, L. M. Ford, Bill Thompson, B. F. Gilchrist, George Wright, Duncan Clark, Mitch Ray, Jimmy Rea, Roy McAninch and Jimmy Williams.

Box and Burks, linemen, and Captain Stephenson, halfback, are the only veterans returning this year from the 1925 machine.

Only Six Regulars Back But Farmers Aren't Pessimistic

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 14.—Although there are only six varsity letter men on the squad that has reported at Kyle Field, there is no pessimism in the camp of the Texas Aggies. By the time that Bible and Rothgen bring the Farmers to Dallas on October 9 to meet Sewanee once more, there is every hope that the team will again boast a big red line to measure up to the caliber of that which after three successful seasons carried the Aggies to a championship in 1925.

In developing as fine a forward wall as its predecessors have been however, the Farmer coaches have little veteran strength. The line must be built around Captain Dieterich, the 190 pound tackle, and Watt, a comparatively light center who however made a fine showing last year. These are the only really experienced players who will be ready to cope with a Sewanee rush line that includes those rugged Texans, Beaton and Helvey, and Kirby Smith and Kimbrough. Eighteen of the men who answered the first Farmer call this year however are line men, and not only the freshman squad of last year but battalion football has been combed to provide promising line material.

Drastic Rules For District 2 Elevens

BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 14.—Some of the most drastic regulations ever adopted for the conduct of high school football were adopted by the executive committee of the Oil Belt District, or District No. Two, recently when that body met at Eastland with all five members present either in person or by proxy.

The rules which were adopted pointed principally toward the elimination of professionalism, and a questionnaire was prepared and agreed upon which goes much farther than the state eligibility blank in that it secures far more detailed information relating to the age, parentage, birthplace and time of birth of the contestant, and calls for his complete school and athletic history, as well as a report of all credits and grades made in high school.

Information upon all changes of residence on the part of the parents or guardians of the contestants is required. The report must be signed by the contestant, his parent or guardian, and certified to by the superintendent of schools.

A failure to make a complete report, or a falsification of a report will tend to disqualify the player.

Hull, recently appointed business manager of the American Association of Petroleum geologists will address members of the North Texas society at a dinner at the Wichita club.

Mr. Hull was formerly at the head of the geological department of the Louisiana Oil and Refining company with headquarters at Baton Rouge. Since his appointment to his present post he has spoken before many of the local chapters in Oklahoma and Texas, and his trip to Wichita Falls is in the form of a get-acquainted meeting. All members in the Wichita district are therefore urged to be present, Thursday evening.

Bell Oil and Gas Enters Panhandle

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 14.—The Bell Oil and Gas company of Tulsa, is entering the Texas Panhandle as a purchaser and transporter of crude oil. It is to post a scale of prices for that area.

Announcement was made Friday by Al Finston, of the Bell company, who said that the Bell Oil and Gas company had contracted to buy more than 1,000,000 barrels of current production from three operators there. It will build a 50 car loading rack at Isom, on the Pecos and Santa Fe railway tracks, and lay an eight-inch pipe from the tanks of the three operators to the Isom loading rack.

Work is to start at once, and Mr. Finston said that the oil would be stored at the Grandfield, Okla., and Arkansas City, Kan., refineries, and part of it run and the remainder sold on the open market. The entrance of the Bell Oil and Gas company may have a tendency to stabilize the Texas Panhandle crude oil market.

Phillips Denies Rumor of Merger

NEW YORK, Sept. 14. (AP)—Frank Phillips, president of Phillips Petroleum company, today denied rumors of a merger concerning his company. No consolidation, he said is being considered. Earnings for 1926 would be the largest in the company's history, those for August amounting to $3,750,000 after charges, a new record for any month. Earnings for the first eight months this year were $21,138,000 with a balance of $13,138,000 for dividends and surplus. Daily gross production of crude in August was 70,000 barrels, a gain of 100 per cent over August last year.

Texas Panhandle Gains 2,408 Bbls.

The Texas Panhandle field for the past week averaged 118,731 barrels a day from 415 producing wells. This is an increase of 16 new wells and 2408 barrels in new production. The summary follows:

County	Weekly Output	Number Wells
Hutchinson	110,477	348
Carson	3,849	48
Gray	3,717	48
Wheeler	653	8
Potter	35	1

REFINED OILS SOFTEN

Rainy weather, over the marketing area of Group 3 refineries, has caused Mid - Continent gasoline markets to sofen slightly. Refiners, however, are still optimistic that prices will continue steady.

All that is needed for a new strengthening is a big export movement and word from the east indicates that it may develop shortly. Natural gasolines are strong.

Kerosene continues strong, and the Magnolia Petroleum company has advanced the state tank wagon price 1 cent a gallon to 15 cents, meeting the 1 cent advance of the Marland Refining company. Fuel oils are also steady.

COTTON CROP IS DOUBTFUL

Situation in West Texas A Question, Survey Reveals

STAMFORD, Sept. 14. — The West Texas cotton situation is a question mark at present, according to B. M. Whitaker, agricultural manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, who has just completed a survey of the cotton crop in the Panhandle, the Red River district, and in the Wichita Valley.

Deterioration has not been so rapid during the past two weeks as it was during the last two weeks of August. Whitaker finds that a most unusual situation prevails. Notwithstanding the fact that there have been heavy rains during the past month and that the weather has been cool, the damage from boll worms has been negligible in most sections. Whitaker found some signs of boll worms in all fields he examined, but they are apparently few in number and the damage has been no more than in ordinary years. The cotton flea has done great damage in some sections and signs of present flea damage were found by Whitaker.

Worm To Help

The cotton leaf worm will be of great benefit to the old cotton from now on, particularly in the sections where the stalk is large and bushy. The cotton this year has the heaviest crop on the lower limbs in the sections visited and with the scarcity of sunshine there is danger of the bolls rotting. The leaf worms, by eating the foliage, admit the sun and air that will cause these bolls to open. He advises farmers who have cotton of this type to let up on poising leaf worms, pointing out that they can do little damage by eating squares and forms which have little chance to mature at this season. However, the worms are damaging young cotton and should be poisoned in such fields to protect half-grown bolls.

Commenting upon the general cotton situation Whiteker declared that the last government report indicates that the government believes the crop to be a question mark. The West Texas crop is cut at least 300,000 bales since the prospect of August 1, but on present prospects it cannot be said that deterioration will greatly exceed that figure. With dry weather and sunshine West Texas will produce around 1,300,000 bales in Whiteker's opinion.

He states that the Panhandle and the Red River sections have the best prospects he has seen this year. Hall County in particular has prospects of a bumper crop, while in Haskell, Baylor, and parts of Jones Counties the properly cultivated cotton will average half a bale per acre. In the irrigated sections of the Wichita Valley he found the most perfect and best fruited stalks he has ever seen, but the crop there will need sunshine to open the bolls. The leaf worm is doing much good there by eating the unusually heavy foliage to admit the sun.

WELLINGTON SET FOR FAIR

Sixth Collingsworth Exposition Scheduled For Thursday Opening

WELLINGTON, Texas, Sept. 14. Everything is in readiness for the opening of the sixth annual Collingsworth county fair Thursday. The fair will be opened with a down town parade and more than a score of towns in the Panhandle and western Oklahoma will be represented with floats and cars.

Horse races, roundup, band contests, airplane flights and Lizzie races are few of the many attractions that will be featured this year.

The cattle department has been flooded with entries, and the following classes have been filled, Holsteins, shorthorns, jerseys, gurnseys, Herefords. From the present entries it is believed that this will be one of the largest gatherings of pure bred cattle ever exhibited in West Texas.

The agriculture exhibits are larger than any previous year, and every girl and boys' club in the county will be represented.

Dan Millers roundup is attracting much attention, and entries have been received from cow boys all over the state, entries in the calf roping contest have been exceptionally heavy.

Many of the state's finest race horses are stabled here, and every contest is expected to be hotly contested.

From all indications the slogan set by the fair officials will become a reality: "$5,000 paid admissions and the Greatest county fair in the southwest."

PORT CORPUS SWINGS WIDE

Texas Coast City Finally Sees Fulfillment of Age-Old Dream

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 14. (AP)—Corpus Christi, tired but triumphant today looked back upon the day to which it had been looking forward half a century—the day in which it would open its new five million deep water port to the commerce of the world.

The elaborate program which had been prepared by the celebration committee was carried out without a hitch. The program beginning at 10 o'clock this morning with a monster parade in which the army, the navy and representatives of the federal, state, county and municipal governments, together with surrounding cities, participated, closed late tonight with fireworks display which was said to be one of the finest seen in the south.

Simple Services.

The port of Corpus Christi was dedicated with simple but impressive ceremonies this morning "to the pioneers of the past, whose faith inspired those who followed to bring Corpus Christi's dreams of a deep water port to a successful realization. To the splendid leaders of more recent years; and to service," the principal dedicatory address was made by Roy Miller, vice chairman of the celebration committee and one of the leaders in the long fight for the port and which followed a series of addresses by men identified with local, state and national affairs.

Many Speakers.

Speakers included Judge Gordon Boone of Corpus Christi; Judge Jesse Wright of Nueces county; General Herbert Deakyne, assistant chief of engineers and representative of the secretary of war, former governor Pat Neff and W. E. Pope, former representative in the Texas legislature.

One of the features of the program was the presentation of a silver loving cup by Mayor Oscar F. Holcomb of Houston to Mayor P. G. Lovenskyold of Corpus Christi on behalf of the city of Houston, "as a token of our appreciation to the opening of your port project."

Immediately upon the conclusion an official party representing the various agencies involved in the building of the port, boarded the destroyer Borie for a short trip into Corpus Christi Bay and return, signalizing the official opening of the port.

OLNEY COTTON ASS'N FORMING

Organization Expected To Be Completed at Meeting Wednesday

OLNEY, Texas, Sept. 14. — The organization of the Olney Cotton Growers' association will probably be perfected Wednesday night when farmers of the Bitter Creek district meet to decide whether or not to nter the league.

Cotton growers from Ingleside, Hunt, Elbert, and Padgitt districts have already organized for the purpose of stimulating the cotton growing industry in this section of the state.

The farmers have already decided to pick instead of pull the cotton this year, and have fixed a price of $1.25 per hundred pounds for cotton pickers.

This is the first attempt to organize the farmers of the territory surrounding Olney, and is being sponsored by the Olney Chamber of Commerce.

SAN ANTONIO GIRL WINS

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 14. (AP)—Miss Catherine Moylan as Miss San Antonio won first prize of $1,000 in competition with 30 other young women in the bathing revue held in connection with the port opening celebration. The loss was a tragedy, however, to the tax payers. The damage was $150,000. Photos show the fire at its height at night and children gazing at the ruins.

INDIANS IN SONORA REBEL

Severe Fighting Reported On Interior Between Two Factions

NOGALES, Ariz., Sept. 14. (AP)—General Francisco Ancheta, commandant of the garrison at Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, tonight was advised of a battle between 1,500 Yaqui Indians and Mexican troops near Vicam, Sonora. No mention of casualties were made.

The marauding Indians have burned out bridges between Vicna and Lencho on the Southern Pacific of Mexico railway which were being repaired hastily tonight to permit the advance of federal troops.

YAQUI, Guayamas, Sonoro, Mexico, Sept. 14(AP)—Rumors were current here today that the Mexican central government is sending bombing planes to the Yaqui Indian reservation, where an uprising is reported.

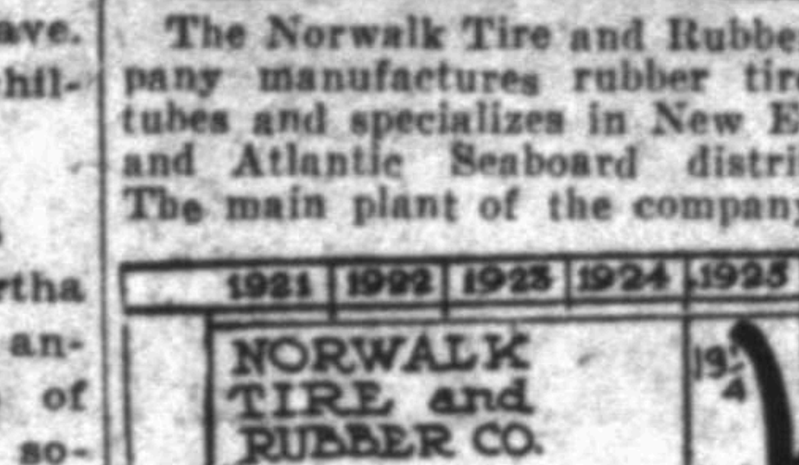

Troops under General Francisco Manzo, corps area commander, are being sent into Yaqui territory where they will march on the Indian stronghold of Bacetetes.

INDIANS DESERT INLAND VILLAGE.

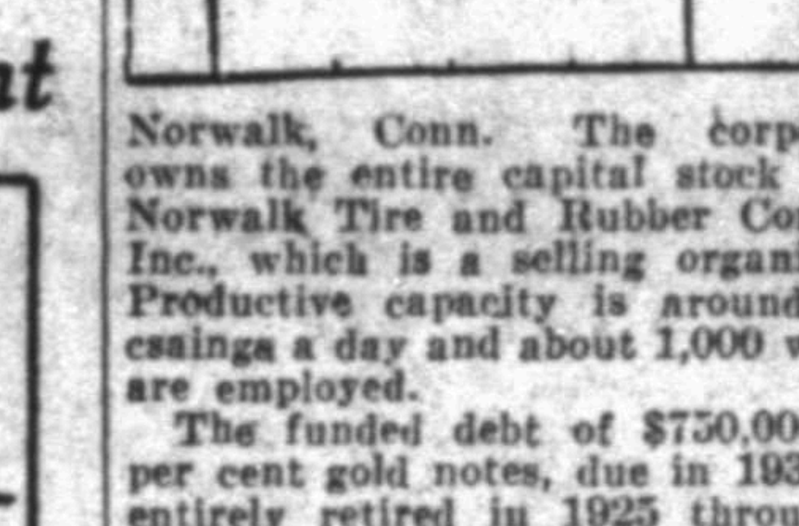

NOGALES, Ariz., Sept. 14. (AP)—Information reaching here today stated that Yaqui Indians, 2,500 strong had deserted their small villages at Vicam, San Marciel, and other rail points in the state of Sonora, Mexico, and had taken to the hills for a pow-wow and council of war. The Indians are reported to have torn up rails and burned bridges to prevent the approach of Mexican federal troops.

The Indians are reported to have dispatched an ultimatum to the Mexican central government demanding that their rights to visit Magdalena, Sonora, shrine of their patron saint, San Francisco, October 4, be upheld. The government the report said had refused to accede to the request.

General Alvaro Obregon former president of Mexico, who was taken captive by the Indians yesterday and later released is now at Lencho station, 77 miles south of Empalme, Sonora in consultation with General Francisco Manzo, corps area commander, who has received orders to advance into Yaqui territory.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14.(AP)—The cotton market was fairly active today particularly during the afternoon when considerable liquidation developed. After a decline of 9 to 12 points in the early trading owing to lower cables and continued fair weather in the belt prices rallied 13 to 17 points on a rumor that storm signals had been ordered upon the Louisiana and Texas coasts, but the market turned easier again when the report was denied and eased off on a fair weather map, a favorable forecast and fears of a favorable weekly weather and crop summary tomorrow. Although the downward trend was checked for a time near mid-session on a fresh storm warning showing that three separate storms existed in the tropics, the market turned easier again during the afternoon and at the lows of the last hour prices showed losses of 45 to 47 points. There was a slight rally at the end and the close showed net losses for the day of 39 to 40 points.

At the start as Liverpool was lower than due first trades showed losses of eight to ten points and October soon traded down to 16.87, December to 17.00 and January to 17E.08, or 9 to 12 points below yesterday's close. During the first hour prices rallied 13 to 17 points from the lows to 17.00 for October, 17.17 for December and 17.22 for January. These proved to be the high points of the day.

Later in the morning prices turned easier and they kept on the downgrade for the rest of the session except for a few brief and moderate rallies until near the end October traded down to 16.55, December to 16.70 and January to 16.75 or 45 to 47 points down from the early highs and 41 to 43 points under yesterday's close. There was a rally of five to seven points right at the end.

Exports for the day totaled 24,502 bales.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.(AP)—After selling up to 17.22 during today's early trading on tropical storm apprehensions the cotton market broke to 16.93 for December contracts under renewed liquidation combined with local and southern selling. This made a decline of 21 points from yesterday's closing quotations and new low ground for the movement.

Closing prices were at the lowest figures of the day with the market easy at net decline of 20 to 22 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of one point to a decline of two points. After a little irregularity, active positions sold about nine to 12 points net higher on trade buying and covering. The latter was stimulated by early reports that storm warnings had been issued for the west gulf coast and for a time the market showed considerably anxiety over the situation in that respect. Later advices, however, were reassuring while weather conditions otherwise were considered very favorable and the failure of the early storm reports to bring in more general buying evidently encountered bearish sentiment.

There also may have been some selling in expectation of a fairly favorable weekly review by the weather bureau tomorrow and the market showed increasing weakness in late trading when December and all later deliveries made new low ground for the movement. Stop orders were uncovered on the decline giving the market rather an unsettled appearance late in the afternoon when October broke to 17.75 and January to 17.00. The general feeling here appeared to be that the storm report central over Cuba this morning would move out to sea instead of into the gulf, and while there were rumors of another disturbance near St. Kitts they failed to make much impression on sentiment.

The report of the census bureau showing domestic consumption of 500,652 bales for August, a gainst 448,605 last year was without any apparent effect on the market. Port receipts today 79,763. U. S. port stocks 798,439. Exports today 24,502, making 582,301 so far this season.

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.(AP)—Speculators for the advance regained control of the price movement in today's market which gave one of the most impressive demonstrations of strength in recent weeks. Aside from a number of trade and earnings reports, there was nothing in the day's news to account for the sudden change in speculative sentiment but the feeling has been growing for several days that necessitous liquidation was nearing an end and that at least a technical rally was warranted.

Encouraging statements on the fall outlook have been received in Wall street during the last few days from bankers and leaders in the steel, oil, copper and automobile industries but several of the larger commission houses have urged careful discrimination in the purchase of stocks. Although the call money rate held firm at 5 per cent all day the credit situation was no longer a source of general uneasiness and at least a temporary decline in rates was looked for when the income tax payments were out of the way tomorrow.

Public interest showed signs of expansion particularly in the amusement, copper, food, motor and investment railroad shares. The commercial possibilities of the improved talking motion pictures have fired the speculative imagination with the result that sensational advances took place in several of the stocks of companies sponsoring devices. Fox Film "A" was bid up over six points to 78½, closing within a small fraction of the top. Warner Brothers soared nearly six points to a new record high at 69¼, but fell back to 66⅝ on realizing. Pathe was bid up 3½ points to 58, with buying attributed to reports of large current earnings and Famous Players and Loews advanced a point or two.

Strength of the coppers reflected the improvement in the market for the red metal. American Smelting crossed 149 for an extreme gain of more than three points but sagged slightly from that level. Howe Sound, which is expected to increase the regular dividend from $3 to $4 touched a record high level at 44⅝ after having sold as low as 27 earlier in the year.

Selling pressure appears to have been lifted from Mack Trucks. The first sale was a block of 3,800 share sat 112 at overnight loss of two points but from that level the stock climbed to 115⅝, closing a point below the top. General Motors was bid up 6½ points to 148½. Oils and steels were firm. Failure of the Atchison directors to discuss dividend action at today's meeting a routine affair had no effect on the stock which closed 2⅝ points higher at 156.

The money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges held fairly steady, quiet in trade. Demand sterling ruled around $4.85 and French francs around 2.85 cents. Japanese yen advanced ¼ of a cent to 48 7-16 cents, the highest price quoted since the earthquake of 1923.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.(AP)—Aggressive buying by local eastern shorts combined with impressive strength in Winnepeg gave wheat values a decided turn upward today. Despite a slight reaction just before the close when some early buyers turned to the selling side the market closed strong at a net gain of 1⅝ to 3c. Corn finished ⅞c down to ⅛c up, oats gained ⅛ to ⅜c and provisions were 5s lower to 2½c higher.

Wet weather over parts of the corn belt coupled with the strength in wheat helped corn values early but later the offerings from the country increased and the market eased off.

Advices which told of considerable damage and delay to oats threshing because of soaking rains gave that cereal a firm undertone.

Provisions were somewhat easier in sympathy with a decline in hog values.

MAN ENDS HIS LIFE

HOUSTON, Sept. 14.(AP)—A "drifter", who apparently had seen much of life and found it bitter, causually drew a phial of poison from his pocket on a downtown corner here Tuesday and drank it. He was dead before an ambulance could get him to a hospital.

The name of "George Gall" was found in his shirt. He was white, about 50 years old, gray and weighed about 165 pounds.

Drastic Cut Is Made By Overland Company On All Cars; Range ls Wide

A sensational cut in prices on all Overland models was announced this week, the cuts ranging from $40 on the Whippet sedan to $120 on the Overland Six sedan deluxe.

Coming at the end of what has been the largest month in volume of sales ever known in Wills-Overland history, this price reduction is looked upon as an indication that Willys-Overland is taking the position of passing all excess profits coming as a result of increased output on to the car buyer.

Prices in the Whippet line are dropped in the new schedule from $735 on the sedan model to a new price of $695 from $735 on the coupe model to $685. This brings the Whippet into a closely competitive price range with its only other competitors in the light car class with the advantage from the buyer viewpoint that it is regularly equipped at these prices with four-wheel brakes, full balloon tires and other constructional features which are exclusive with this model in its size class.

$120 Cut Made

The most sensational cut in the Overland Six sedan deluxe on which the reduction is $120 from $1,095 to $975., The price of the touring car has been cut $70 to a new low level of $825; the coupe has been cut $70 to a new low level of $825; the two-door sedan $100 to a new price of $835. These models are offered with two-wheel brake equipment, four-wheel brakes being furnished at an additional cost of $60.

The new prices on the Overland Six line bring all models below $1,000 f. o. b factory.

The new Overland Six prices have brought this model down to a point where the price difference between the lowest priced six on the market, and the Overland, in the two-door or coach model is negligible despite the fact that the general dimensions and specifications of the Overland make it the largest car in its general size class.

No changes have been made in the prices on the Willys-Knight models built by the same manufacturer.

Sales Exceed Demand

It has been known in the trade for some time that sales on an Overland models have exceeded the factory specifications and that production has been steadily stepped up since the first of the year. It has also been known that Willys-Overland have set high alms as they relate to quantity output and that all manufacturing and sales plans have been laid with the idea of keeping prices down to the lowest levels consistent with the profitable operation of the company.

The new prices on the Overland models have, however reached to a lower level than anyone in the industry has anticipated with the view of the fact that numerous mechanical improvements have been made in the Overland Six models during the past several months and that the original prices on the Whippet models were held as surprisingly low in face of the constructional features of this light car.

They came as a boomerang in face of the apparently authorative statement given out earlier in the week from other trade sources, that prices had reached a low level which would apparently remain stationary for some time to come.

Coupled with the announcement from the Ford Motor company that no new Ford models were anticipated and with the announcement by General Motors that 1,000,000 Chevrolet cars were to be produced this year, the situation created by the Whippet price indicates a strong bid by the Toledo manufacturers for large volume in the light car field.

Jewish Day Of Atonement Will Be Observance in City

Members of Jewish congregations of the city are planning to celebrate Yom Kippur, September 18, according to Rabbi Samuel Phillips of Temple Israel. On Friday evening, Rabbi Phillips will speak at the synagogue at 8 o'clock on the subject, "If Not Now, When?" On Saturday, September 18, at 10 o'clock he will speak on "Yom Kippur,—Reminder of Human Responsibility." At 4 o'clock in the afternoon his subject will be "Hope and Immortality."

In speaking of Yom Kupper, Rabbi Phillips made the following statement: "The Day of Atonement or Yom Kupper, is the holiest day in the Jewish religious calendar. It occurs this year on Saturday, September 18, and will be ushered in on Friday evening by the Jewish people throughout the world with a solemn service which is generally known as Kol Nidre. The observance of this day of God is based on the Biblican command found in Levitivus, XVI:29-34 and XXII: 26-32. It makes the climax of the ten days of penitence, which commence with the New Year; and is considered a 'Sabbath of solemn rest,' upon which loyal and faithful Jews whether reform or orthodox abstain from all manner of work and keep their places of business closed."

Realtors Busy On Convention Plans

Delegates to the annual meeting of the Texas State Realty board which meets in this city, opening September 28, will be entertained elaborately, according to plans committee at the weekly meeting of the Wichita Falls Real Estate board Tuesday noon at the Kemp.

Two receptions at the Wichita Falls Golf and Country club, a dance at the Kemp, luncheon at the Wichita club, a home speaking contest, a residence musicale, tour of the city and vicinity, and a closing banquet are numbered in the activities for the 350 guests expected to attend the convention.

W. S. Curlee, general chairman of arrangements, read the program to be given, and it included a number of addresses by leading realtors and business men of the country.

Reports were given by the committee chairmen as follows in making plans for the coming convention: Mrs. M. M. Adickes, entertainment; John Monroe, automobile; Anderson Kemp, golf tournament; A. L. Huey, banquet; Linn A. Boyd, decoration; P. S. Richardson, program; A. W. King, registration; John Gould, publicity; hotel and transportation, Gould; rooms, J. F. Friberg.

Attention was called to clean up week and realtors were asked to co-operate in the movement.

Kemps Enjoying Tour of Europe

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kemp of this city who are now touring England and the continent have written to friends here that they are having a delightful trip.

In a letter to officials of the City National Bank, Mr. Kemp declared the voyage to England from New York on the S. S. Berengaria was without discomfort and that he and Mrs. Kemp enjoyed every minute of it. London, he said, was supplying a never-ending source of delight, and they were looking forward with a pleasure to an excursion through the Scottish highlands.

Clyde Bently, city motorcycle officer for several years past, is leaving the local force to take the traffic patrol job on Clay county's new paved roads which are now being opened up rapidly. Bentley leaves within the next few days to assume his new duties.

The paved pikes in Clay county are finally being opened to traffic and approximately 15 miles will be available for use within the next week or 10 days, it is said.

Richardson, presiding elder of the Wichita Falls district of Methodist church, south, will be the principal speaker. His subject is announced as "The Place and the Power of the Adult Bible Class. Paul Rutledge will sing a solo, and a song service will be led by Wayne J. Holmes.

Ad Men to Boost City's Expansion

Wichita Falls, 100,000 by 1930!

The Wichita Falls Advertising club went on record Tuesday at the weekly luncheon at the Kemp hotel pledging their support in any efforts of the chamber of commerce towards building this city into one with a population of 100,000 by 1930.

Following the resolution, a talk was made by Claude Miller, local business man, who declared that "the cities that are doing the advertising are the cities doing the business." He urged in his address that the club help put on a city-wide advertising campaign, and place signs on highways leading into the city.

A lesson in advertising conducted by Alva Willgus was the chief problem taken up in the club. A series of advertisements taken from present day publications were drawn by the members and discussed as to their value, and criticisms, favorable and unfavorable, were made.

A vote of thanks were given Mr. Willgus for planning the lesson, and expressions were made by the members that it was unusually helpful.

Pestilence Menaces Flood-Struck Areas

EMPORIA, Kan., Sept. 14.(AP)—Pestilence and hunger threatened tonight to follow in the wake of the destructive floods which have swept through Neosho, Verdigris and Cottonwood river valleys in eastern Kansas.

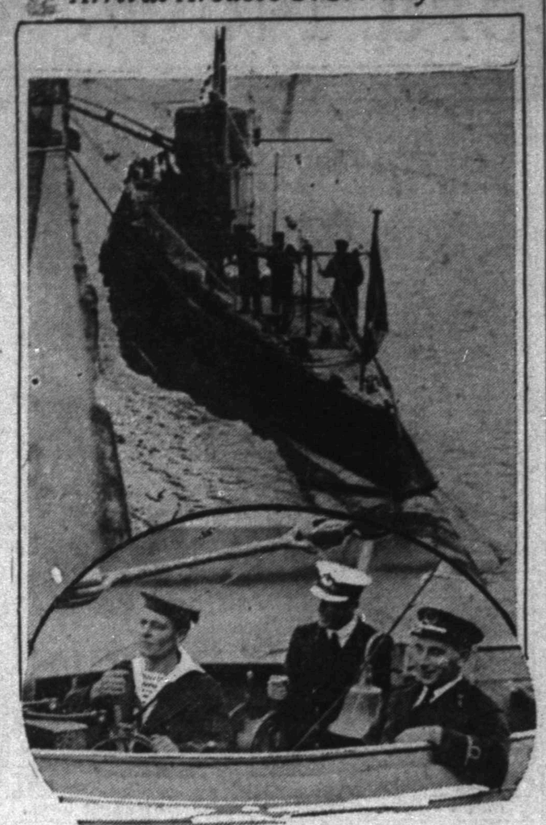

Health officers in counties where the streams have spread and towns proceeded to protect flood sufferers again unseen danger—typhoid fever. Wells and cisterns became contaminated because of filth and rubbish carried by the flood. All persons in the stricken area were warned to boil drinking water. Those who have not been immunized against typhoid were cautioned to obtain vaccine treatments at once.

RESIDENCE DAMAGED

Damage estimated at $1,000 was done Tuesday morning at a small residence at 703 Woods street when a fire practically destroyed the structure.

Enroute to the fire a hose truck from the central fire station rounded one of the curves near the ball park and crashed into a truck of the Panhandle company, badly damaging the truck and smashing the rear fender of the fire truck. No one was injured.

Dutch Submarine Circles Globe; Arrival Arouses U. S. Navy Heads

The recent arrival of the Holland navy submarine KXIII on the Pacific Coast on her journey of 25,000 miles around the globe without consort has aroused considerable discussion among U. S. navy leaders and active "militarists." The submarine, one of the largest to visit this country, is making the trip mainly for the advancement of science, to test undersea gravity, etc., but anti-pacificists point out that a huge number of such submarines could make such a trip from European or Far East shores bent on destruction. Photos show the sub moored at San Francisco and a group of officers in the control pit.

Traffic Cops To Dress Up Smart

Wichita Falls traffic police will strut their stuff and look alive this winter regardless of how close to zero the thermometer may hover and how fierce Arctic winds may swirl through the downtown intersections, according to Chief George Hodgins.

For the city traffic constabulary is to be decked out in brand new double-breasted blue uniform overcoats when by the time the chill breezes begin to blow or, at least, that's the plan.

NO CLUES IN GRAVE CASE

Houston Police Baffled By Grewsome Find In Cemetery

HOUSTON, Sept. 14.(AP)—Statements that conflict, tangled skeins of hypothetical evidence leading to several possible motives—this was the progress made Tuesday by police in the investigation of the disinterment and mutilation Sunday night of the body of Miss Mamie Bichon found dead from poisoning in her automobile the previous Wednesday night and buried in Hollywood cemetery Saturday afternoon.

The investigation, under the direction of City Attorney Sewall Myer, was carried through its second day Tuesday and pronounced no nearer solution than the official announcement that "some startling developments might be forthcoming in the next 24 hours," also was the promise made Monday night.

Have "Hot Lead."

When City Attorney Myer recessed the investigation late Tuesday he announced that City Detective George Peyton and Identification Expert Henry E. Keller were searching for a man whose actions, Myers said, led him to believe he had a "hot lead." They left after Myer had talked for more than an hour with Bichon's family physicians.

As soon as Mr. Myer left police headquarters two women relatives of the dead woman were ushered into the office of Captain of Detectives Tom Shelley for further questioning.

Investigator George Andrew of the district attorney's office spent several hours in the investigation with Mr. Myers early Tuesday.

Few officials have been called upon to solve a crime of this nature, but it was pointed out that the outrage was a duplication of three cases brought to light in Houston several years ago. In each instance, bodies were removed from fresh graves, mutilated and crammed back into the casket. Several of the investigators declared the similarity of the cases pointed to the work of a prevert whose mania apparently recurs when details of women's deaths are given prominence in newspapers.

Detective Peyton and Attorney Myer also declared Tuesday that they believed fear of having the finger of suspicion pointed toward them caused several persons to withhold information of vital importance to the investigation.

Other theories as to the person or persons responsible for the act were advanced Tuesday. Officials are reticent to state names of any of those suspected, but declare the searching investigation will continue until an arrest is made or every grain of evidence is sifted to the utmost in an effort to bare the truth in the case.

TWINS DROWNED

Committee Members Meet to Work Out Plans For Coming Year

A meeting of the committee members of Girl Reserve work headed by the chairman, Mrs. Deane J. Wolf, met Tuesday morning at the Y. W. C. A. and made plans for the year's work. Each member of the committe was assigned a place to work with the adviser from each of the ten organizations in the public schools of the city. They are as follows:

Mrs. E. H. Edileman, Alamo club; Mrs. J. H. Cable, Travis; Mrs. Annie Barker, San Jacinto; Mrs. C. E. Lasky, Austin; Mrs. Freeland, Sam Houston; Mrs. W. E. Whightsel, Barwise; Mrs. L. L. Albritton, Junior high annex; Mrs. R. L. Joiner, Junior high; Mrs. J. D. Bright, Junior college; Mrs. L. Shattuck, Fannin. The committee will meet the second Tuesday in each month at 10 o'clock it was announced.

Mrs. Wolf led the devotional for the morning on "Casting the Net on the Right Side," and spoke of starting the work in the schools in the right manner at the first of the year. Miss Ivo Wilson, girls' work secretary of the Y. W. C. A., gave a short history of the organization of the Girl Reserves movement.

Now Hickman Goes To See a Big Fight

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 14.(AP) The senate passed a resolution Tuesday praising Ranger Captain Tom Hickman who shot two bank robbers at Clarksville last week and Adjutant General Dallas J. Matthews granted him a leave of absence to witness the Dempsey-Tunney fight at Philadelphia.

The resolution introduced by Senator Walter C. Woodward, read:

"The courage of his action, together with his fidelity to duty, warrants public commendation by the senate of Texas and we express to him our appreciation of his services."

Commenting on his action in the matter, General Matthews said:

"I readily granted his request to see the Dempsey-Tunney fight as he did a great service in stopping the Clarksville bank robbers. He certainly upheld the traditions of the old Texas rangers."

WORTHAM HERE MAKING PLANS

Promises Best and Biggest Show in History For T.-O. Fair

John T. Wortham, manager and owner of the world famous Wortham Shows is in the city making arrangements for the big attractions to be exhibited here in connection with the Texas-Oklahoma fair October 2 to 7.

Mr. Wortham stated yesterday that his show was bigger and better than it had been, and emphasized that such a statement is not merely press agent stuff, but real facts.

Several new attractions in trapeze and animal stunts are with the show, some having never been shown in the south before, and new clown stunts which never were played in a circus before will be in the show.

"During my years of show experience during which time I have exhibited in practically every town in the United States large enough to warrant a real circus, I have never brought a better attraction to a city than I am bringing to Wichita Falls," Mr. Wortham stated, "and it will be well worth the time and expense to visitors to the fair to see the Wortham shows, whether they care for any of the other fair attractions or not. I have exhibited in Wichita Falls before and have always had a good crowd here. People in this section know me and know that I have always given them a real treat in circus performance, and I am expecting my best run of the year right here at the Texas-Oklahoma fair next month.

An advertising car of the Wortham shows is here now putting out advertising matter, posters and newspaper publicity.

Roll Call Service At Church Tonight

A "roll call" service is announced for the Walnut Street Baptist church Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the tent on the Henrietta pavement just east of the Wichita Valley tracks. Rev. J. F. Walters, the pastor, said Tuesday evening that he expected to call the complete roll of the membership and was anxious that all members answer to their names. Following the roll call he is to speak on the subject, "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning."

Fifteen additions to the church have been had so far in the meeting which has been in progress for the past ten days. The pastor is being assisted by T. F. Clossip, singer, and Miss Thelma Wilson, chalk artist and personal worker. Services are being held each morning at 10 o'clock and each evening at 8.

This afternoon the ladies are to meet at the tent for the purpose of organizing the W. M. U. work, electing officers for the coming year, etc., and it is urged that as many of the ladies as possible be in that service.

All Sections Of State Need Pickers

DALLAS, Sept. 14.(AP)—All sections of the Texas cotton belt are in urgent need for cotton pickers. This unusual situation, announced here today by G. T. Adams, in charge of the federal employment service offices, was discussed in a conference between Mr. Adams and J. Lee Tarpley, chief deputy state labor commissioner, who was here from Abilene. The latter said he could use 1,000 families of workers in the cotton fields immediately.

The fact that the crop in south Texas is four to six weeks late in maturing has brought the demand for pickers in this part of the state into conflict with that from west and north Texas, where the crop is earlier than usual, it was pointed out. The Rio Grande valley is not supplied with enough help to harvest the crop there, a fact which further complicates the situation.

Mr Tarpley reported that pickers would be paid $1 a hundred pounds in Taylor county with board furnished, or $1.25 without board. Mr. Adams said transportation would be furnished workers.

TRIAL SLOWS DOWN.

Previoiusly, United States Attorney Buckner had said he would prove a conspiracy whether the claims were valid or not.

Merton, the government's key witness was bombarded with questions during the entire day—the fifth he has spent in the witness box—in an attempt by Mr. Buckner to prove that he knew the claims were false.

School Enrollment In City Goes Above 7,500 Figures May Increase

Enrollment reports from the Fannin school Tuesday brought the total enrollment in Wichita Falls above 7,500, the number estimated by school officials before the opening of school. Fannin, reporting an attendance of 257, brought the total from 7,231 to 7,513. This total, however, is made up from figures, some accurate and some estimates, given by principals and other officials before all schools had tabulated complete registrations.

The total exceeds by a thousand that of any previous year's first day's registration. According to estimates made a year ago, Sept. 14, 1925, the second day of school, there were only about 6,500 enrolled, and the enrollment for 1924 and 1923 were approximately 5,500 and 6,000 respectively.

The issuing of books was completed and classes begun in earnest Tuesday morning and students remained at school for the entire day. All cafeterias were open except that of the Alamo school, which will not be opened until the latter part of the week.

Crowded conditions exist in many of the schools, especially in Junior high, but the completion of the Ben Franklin and the Zundelowitz schools will relieve these conditions in a few weeks. The attendance, according to Dr. J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of schools will reach its peak in December and January, after the completion of these two new buildings.

Youngsters, Left By Father, Find Happiness in City

A dark cloud with its silver lining unfolded in this city several days ago, and the skies have cleared now. Two motherless children were deserted by their father and left to the mercies of the city. They have been cared for and a home found for them, all within the space of a few days.

Recently a carnival was in town, and members of the troupe included a father and his daughter, 14, and a son, 11. The wife and mother had died and the family was doing the best it could working from town to town. The rift in their happiness, however, was the disobedience of the children in regard to their father's wish to make of them money getters by fair means or foul.

The climax came when the carnival was ready to leave, and the father made his get-away, leaving his children stranded in Wichita Falls. Persons in the neighborhood of the carnival learned their plight and took them to the Salvation Army where they were cared for under the direction of Captain J. L. Cardiff.

An uncle of the two was located, and he offered the children a permanent home and an education if they would come to him. Arrangements were made, and the boy and girl are now with him. The erring father's whereabouts have not been ascertained.

Revival Going Well On Holiday

The Inter-denominational revival is now on at high tide on the corner of 18th and Holliday streets, it was said yesterday. A large tent that will seat nearly a thousand people has been erected and much interest has already been manifest in the meeting. The ministers and laymen of the various churches of the town are invited and urged to co-operate in this revival for the salvation of souls and the healing of bodies, Evangelist Davis stated.

Rev. A. C. Lane, pastor of the First Evangelical Church at Temple, Texas, gave an interesting report of the meeting Evangelist Davis conducted there this summer. It was announced that the subject for Thursday night will be "Why I Believe in Divine Healing."

Services are conducted twice daily, 9:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Don't Squeeze Blackheads —Dissolve Them

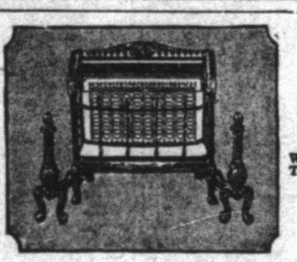

Squeezing out blackheads make large, ugly pores. The safe and sane way to get rid of these blemishes is to dissolve them. Get two ounces of Calonite powder from your drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth, rub over the blackheads, and every one, big or little, will disappear at once.—Adv.
