Political Chatter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here's what some of the nation's political figures are talking about:

"The fundamental difference between myself and Sen. McCarthy is on the imposition of a coalition government . . . I cannot agree with that." — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey on the fight over a Vietnam plank in the Democrartic party platform on a South Vietnamese coalition government.

"He is rejecting . . . the heart of the proposal I have been askeding . . . . I don't see any evidence of compromise." — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy on Vice President Humphrey's stand on the Vietnam plank.

"I am not going to barricade myself in a television studio and make this an antiseptic campaign." — Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon on reports that he will forego traditional campaign methods for television appearances.

"You can't solve any problems unless you first have order." — George Wallace in discussing the problems of Negroes and cities.

"After all, I'm the only serious candidate for the presidency Georgia has ever had." — Gov. Lester Maddox on why he thinks Georgia will support him at the Democratic National Convention with both votes and money.

AFTER SERIES OF BATTLES

Reds Abandon Tay Ninh

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops slipped out of embattled Tay Ninh today after losing more than 200 dead in a series of blazing fights with allied troops, tanks and artillery in and around the key provincial capital Sunday.

An American armored column and South Vietnamese soldiers swept through the city today and reported encountering no resistence.

The battle for Tay Ninh brought to a pitch four days of hard fighting from the Mekong Delta north to Da Nang, that shattered a two-month lull in the ground war.

U.S. officers in Tay Ninh said some 500 North Vietnamese regulars—mainstays of the attacking force—slipped out under the cover of darkness through an armored trap set up outside the city.

The fighting in and around Tay Ninh—a city of 200,000 population, 45 miles northwest of Saigon—was considered serious by the allies, but military sources said it was too early to say whether it signaled the start of the third major offensive of the year threatened by the enemy high command.

North Vietnam's official newspaper, Nhan Dan, called today for "a new and more violent offensive to wrest military victories from the enemy."

The plea was keyed to the 23rd anniversary of the Aug. 19, 1945, start of the rebellion which climaxed in the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu in 1954.

The new fighting likely will prompt an exchange of accusations between North Vietnamese and American negotiators when the Paris peace talks reconvene Wednesday.

Some observers had interpreted the two-month lull in the war as a sign of de-escalation on Hanoi's part. But U.S. officials had insisted all along that the enemy command was deliberately avoiding contact with allied forces to prepare for a country-wide offensive.

As the fighting eased in Tay Ninh, there were fresh reports of enemy attacks to the far north below Da Nang and south of Saigon in the Mekong Delta.

U.S. Marines suffered 13 dead and 35 wounded in what appeared to be two separate ambushes south of Da Nang. Thirty-six enemy troops were reported killed.

Forty-five miles south of Saigon in the Mekong Delta, Viet Cong troops ambushed an American riverine force with rockets and machine-gun fire, killing four Americans and wounded 82. Infantrymen from the U.S. 9th Infantry Division, riding the Navy attack boats, charged ashore and engaged the Viet Cong soldiers. The U.S. Command said nine Viet Cong were killed and four prisoners seized.

U.S. officers in Tay Ninh said the enemy forces failed to achieve most of their objectives in coordinated attacks on a dozen allied positions within a six-mile radius of the city. The U.S. military compound and the government provincial headquarters were never seriously threatened.

Nonetheless, the enemy did capture a wedge in the eastern part of the city before withdrawing and military sources said this would likely have psychological repercussions throughout the country.

Enemy casualties were estimated at more than 200 dead. American casualties were reported as approximately 100—mostly wounded. South Vietnamese casualties were expected to be higher than those for American forces, but reports were sketchy.

Violence In Holy City

JERUSALEM (AP) — Defense Minister Moshe Dayan toured the Arab quarter of Jerusalem today and said that Jews who rioted against Arabs in the Old City Sunday night "were collaborating with the enemy."

The Holy City was wracked by a wave of violence Sunday night touched off by three grenade explosions that wounded nine Israelis, two seriously.

Gangs of Israelis, mainly teen-agers, swept into the Arab quarter seeking revenge. They smashed store and car windows and set one car ablaze, and attacked Arabs. Several Arabs were injured one seriously, informed sources said. Riot police dispersed the Israelis after an hour's rampage.

Mayor Teddy Kollek and the minister of police, Eliahu Sasson, condemned the Israeli violence.

Dayan's tour of the Old City was described as a demonstration to both sides that Jerusalem "still remains united." He called on both Arab and Jew to "remain friends."

He told newsmen "criminal elements" were responsible for the grenade blasts and not the Arab population as a whole. He said the culprits will be "dealt with as criminals."

Sasson told newsmen: "We will not defeat the saboteurs by permitting innocent persons (Arabs) to be harmed."

Police equipped with night sticks, shields and steel helmets closed all seven gates to the Old City and allowed nobody through.

Informed sources said some 30 Arabs and 20 Israelis—mostly young people—were arrested during the disturbances.

Explosions occurred in the city bus station, in a gas station near the railroad station and at the intersection of King George and Allenby roads after police found two unexploded grenades outside a movie theater and in a public toilet.

McFarland Service Set Here Tuesday

Miss Mary Desie McFarland, 87, who had lived in Scurry County for over three quarters of a century, died at 11 p.m. Sunday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Miss McFarland's home was at 1900 Avenue S. She was a native of Fannin County.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Goldie Winter and Miss Clare McFarland, both of Snyder. Two brothers preceded her in death.

The funeral service will be held at 4 p.m. Tuesday at the Bolger Funeral Home Chapel. Dr. John A. English, pastor of the First Methodist Church where Miss McFarland was a member, will officiate. Burial will be in the Dunn Cemetery, under direction of Bolger.

Pallbearers will be F. M., Milton and Ted Winter, Jim McFarland, O. B. Sturgeon and Charlie White, all nephews of Miss McFarland.

Youth Dies Of Gunshot

Pedro Martinez, 17, 805 Twenty - seventh Street, died at 9:45 a.m. today in Cogdell Memorial Hospital of gunshot wounds he sustained about 1 o'clock this morning in an accident at 1310 Twenty-ninth Street.

Investigating Police Sergeants Ruben Gonzales and Bobby Goodwin said Martinez reached into the back seat of his mother's car to pull out a .20 gauge shotgun. The weapon accidentally discharged, striking him in the right side of the stomach. He was taken to the hospital by his mother. The incident occurred on the east side of the house where a brother resides.

Officers said they believe Martinez fired the weapon through the west window of a Gulf Service station located at Avenue K and Twenty - fifth Street prior to the accident.

The body was taken to Bell-Seale Funeral Home where rites are pending.

General Still In Critical Condition

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower remains in "extremely critical" condition and has suffered numerous episodes of irregular heart action since Sunday night, Army doctors reported today.

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital said an electrical pacemaker, inserted earlier into the heart of the five-star general, had been removed after it failed to stop the spasms.

The recurring irregularities, doctors said earlier, constitute a "constant and critical hazard" to Eisenhower's survival.

The text of a morning medical bulletin:

"General Eisenhower's condition remains extremely critical. The electrical pacemaker was removed late yesterday because of its demonstrated ineffectiveness after the initial few hours.

"Since last night's bulletin numerous episodes of ventricular irregularity have occurred, most of only a few seconds duration but two requiring electrical conversion.

"Despite this, the general remains alert, converses briefly, and enjoyed a small breakfast. He is visited briefly from time to time by members of the immediate family, at his request.

"Mrs. Eisenhower has remained calm during these past trying days, and has received comfort and support from her sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore, who together with Col. John Eisenhower and his family have been constantly with her."

Old-Timer Tires Of Subtle Approach

PALERMO, Sicily, (AP) — Giacomo Leone 80, has been charged by police with being too forceful in pursuing his 70-year-old girl friend, Providenza Caltagirone.

Police told the story like this:

Leone, a widower, failed to win over Miss Caltagirone with tenderness and gallant phrases. He decided on a more direct approach and broke down her door.

Neighbors came to Miss Caltagirone's rescue and pried her from Leone's grip. Police arrived next and arrested him. He remained in jail today.

Lindsay Believes Everything Relative

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay was asked during his weekly television show Sunday if he didn't think many liberals were disappointed by the Republican presidential ticket.

Lindsay, with a chuckle, replied: "Everything is relative . . . What happens in Chicago may not be the most inspiring result for liberals."

The Democratic convention opens in Chicago next week.

72 Persons Feared Lost

GIFU, Japan (AP) — Rescuers saw no hope today that 72 persons missing after two buses were swept into a rain swollen riber by a landslide would be found alive.

Officials feared the tragedy would become the worst of its kind in history, with 104 deaths. Thus far 32 bodies have been recovered. Three persons, including the driver of one of the buses, swam to safety before the buses sank in 65 feet of water Sunday.

Prime Minister Eisaku Sato today ordered government investigators to help pinpoint responsibility for the accident.

Initial reports said most of the passengers were women and children who were on a weekend outing to the Japan Alps.

The worst bus accident recorded to date occurred in Manila, the Philippines on Jan. 6, 1967, when two buses collided killing 83 persons.

Florida City Wracked By Gun Blasts

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Shotgun and pistol fire rang out through St. Petersburg's Southside Sunday night as the Gulf Coast city went through a third successive night of racial violence.

Police said there were no reports of injury from gunfire during the night, but at least one blast from shotguns fired from ambush struck the Florida Highway Patrol's specially designed riot-control armored truck.

Backed up by the armored vehicle, law enforcement officers employed tear gas to break up three large gatherings of Negroes in the troubled area. On each occasion, officers on foot swept through the area to drive out stragglers.

Lt. M. G. Colman, who has led the city's riot-trained officers on the street, said 25 persons were arrested on charges ranging from disorderly conduct to carrying concealed weapons.

Colman said the patrol's armored vehicle, which can send out clouds of tear gas to either side, proved a major factor in dispersing the crowds.

The violence began about 1 a.m. Saturday after a street fight outside a dance hall patronized by Negroes. Looting, rock-throwing and some window-smashing was widespread the first night, but police have attempted to break up any crowd formation since then.

Neither authorities nor Negro spokesmen have given any reason publicly for the disturbance.

The ministry estimated property damage at $7 million.

TOT AWAKE AND ALERT

Little Maria Has New Heart

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Within hours after her heart transplant, Maria Giannaris, 5, was awake, alert and able to visit with her parents.

The Hagerstown, Md., girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick A. Giannaris, was reported in satisfactory condition at Texas Children's Hospital today.

She became the second child recipient in history Sunday when surgeons transferred the heart of another youngster who had suffered brain hemorrhage. The girl was the world's 31st heart recipient.

The donor was James Dudley Herron II, 11-year-old son of James Dudley Herron, a chemistry professor at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Young Herron suffered a brain hemorrhage Friday and lapsed into a coma. When Dr. Robert Carpenter, the family physician, told the parents the boy was a potential heart donor, they agreed to his transfer to Houston.

The boy was flown here early Sunday and died several hours later without regaining consciousness.

Maria was referred to the Texas Heart Institute by the cardiac clinic at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, where her case was diagnosed as severe heart failure.

The girl had been in Texas Children's Hospital three weeks before the operation.

Her father, who owns a restaurant at the Hagerstown Airport, said Maria was 5½ months old when doctors discovered she had heart disease.

Dr. Alex Haller of Johns Hopkins "told me the heart transplant was our only hope," Giannaris said.

"He told me his hospital wouldn't be prepared for transplant operations for at least another six months and he couldn't answer whether my daughter could live another six months."

Giannaris said a young patient dying last Wednesday at

Democrats Tackle Credentials Rifts

CHICAGO (AP) — Settlement of one civil rights dispute appeared near today as the Democratic National Convention's Credentials Committee tackles challenges involving nearly one-fifth of the convention's delegates and alternates.

The 110-member committee, after a closed morning meeting, planned to hear in public session—and perhaps dispose of a contest over the Missiippi delegation. Indication mounted that the panel headed by Gov. Richard Hughes of New Jersey would recommend seating a biracial group rather than the regular Mississippi party delegation.

But there seemed to be little movement toward solving any of the 18 other contests involving all or part of delegations from 15 states—the largest number of challenges in modern times.

The committee provided a forum for sparring between supporters of Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

But beyond the propaganda battle lies the possibility that the seating contests could spill over onto the floor after the convention. Challenges to be heard by the Credentials Committee before Saturday involve, besides Mississippi, delegates from Texas, Tennessee, Washington, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Connecticut, Oklahoma, Georgia, Alabama, Wisconsin, Louisiana, North Carolina, New York, Michigan and Indiana.

In most Southern states, challenges center on charges of racial discrimination in selection of delegates. In several other states McCarthy's backers complain they weren't given a fair share of the convention seats. Still other challenges involve party loyalty. All three points have been raised in some state challenges.

DEAR ABBY: I live in an apartment house which caters mostly to elderly ladies. One is an old maid about 60 who teaches school. She and her friend, who is nearly 80, are prim and proper as lavender and old lace but they entertain men until all hours of the night and well into the morning. Some even stay for the week-end. The teacher has two week-end guests who alternate.

The landlady does not seem to mind but I think it looks terrible. It gives the whole building a bad name. Am I being too old-fashioned?

MISS G, AGE 70

DEAR MISS G: I don't know who the men are and what they are doing there but there is a lot to be said for minding one's own business.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My little daughter-in-law is the sweetest child and I love her dearly, but I wish I could tell her NOT to TRY SO HARD when she invites Dad and me to dinner. She wants everything to be "just so," which I think is commendable, but the poor little thing knocks herself out; and I feel guilty for having made her work so hard.

I wouldn't embarrass her for the world by going into her kitchen to "help" her, but believe me, she could use some help. When we arrive, she's in the kitchen struggling with five or six different kinds of hot hors d'oeuvres, and during dinner she's either in the kitchen or jumping around "serving" us. I wish I could tell her if she's just throw some hamburgers on the grill, slice a few tomatoes and open up a quart of ice cream for dessert, we'd love it. But no, she insists on making the most complicated dishes which require hours of time and tremendous effort.

How can a mother-in-law tell her sweet new daughter-in-law that she'd rather have her company and simple food than the most elaborate meal in the world. She reads your column.

NO NAME, PLS.

DEAR NO NAME: She can't. But since you brought it up, many older, experienced women can also learn this lesson. When a guest accepts an invitation to dinner, he wants to find a HOSTESS — not a "GHOSTESS." Simple food served in a relaxed atmosphere is enjoyed far more than the most elegant gourmet fare offered by a worn out, fretful, nervous wreck who has obviously slaved for hours.

If she reads my column, I hope she doesn't miss this one.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have heard that it is perfectly proper for a gentleman to visit his fiance in her apartment for dinner, watching TV, or listening to stereo. But a lady may not visit her fiance in HIS apartment for the same reasons.

We are a widow and widower in our late fifties (if age is any yardstick.). We have no parents or children to chaperon us. What do you think?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Since there is nothing you can do in your apartment that you can't do in hers, I think you should go on doing what your're doing.

Wallace Cancels Trip To Arkansas

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)— George Wallace cancelled today a presidential campaign trip to Little Rock scheduled for Tuesday. No reason was given.

The third-party candidate will be at Oklahoma City for a fund-raising dinner and rally Wednesday night; a Veterans of Foreign Wars convention at Detroit Thursday; Portland, Ore., Friday, and Santa Monica and Long Beach, Calif., Saturday through next Monday. He goes to Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 27.

In a televised interview in Chicago Sunday, Wallace said he would solve crowding of urban centers by urging industry, "by suggestion and tax incentives," to build plants in rural areas.

Wallace also proposed retraining programs for school dropouts "worked through the vocational and technical" facilities of the states.

Wallace campaigned Friday and Saturday in Indiana.

He said critics should "stop talking about how good it is outside" the South.

"False promises have lured many people away from where they have lived for many years to the urban centers of our country without training for urban life," he said.

Wallace said the most important step in governing cities is maintaining order.

"You can't solve any problems unless you first have order," he declared.

Texas Children's Hospital could have provided the heart, but the parents would not allow the operation.

"On Thursday my baby got so sick the doctors didn't think she would live," he said. "And on Saturday they told us just to pray."

Giannaris said he met the donor's father, James Dudley Herron, at the hospital Sunday.

"When I saw the boy's father at the door, it seemed like I had known him all my life," Giannaris said. "He said we have three boys and we've always wanted a little girl, so now we are going to have one and we can share her with you."

Mr. and Mrs. Giannaris have another daughter, Tessie.

A surgical team led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley performed the operation in 105 minutes, a spokesman said. The implanted heart started without electrical stimulation.

"The hearts were the same size," the spokesman said. "The little girl's heart was overworked because it was diseased. Like any overwork muscle it was enlarged."

The first child to receive a transplanted heart died 6½ hours after the operation at Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn, N.Y., last December. The recipient was a 2½-week-old boy who received the heart of a 2-day-old infant.

Cooley, who was vacationing in Mexico with his family, flew back to Houston for the latest transplant.

Four other heart transplant recipients are recuperating in St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, which adjoins the children's hospital. Two other persons with new hearts have been released and are working in Houston. Two recipients here died.

Cold Front To Remain To The North

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some scattered showers are expected over Texas today but the long range forecast calls for the rest of the week to be dry.

The Weather Bureau said a broad trough of low pressure is now over West Texas but a new cold front which rolled off the Central Rockies is expected to remain north of the state.

Thundershower activity is expected to be at a minimum over North and Northwest Texas today, due to dry air aloft over the area.

However, some increase in cloudiness and showers forecast for Southwest Texas by tonight as moisture from Tropical Storm Hyacinth spreads northward into the western part of the state.

Widely scattered thundershowers are also expected over South Texas this afternoon.

Skies were mostly clear to partly cloudy over the state early this morning as thundershower activity in Central and Southwest Texas dissipated.

Early morning temperatures were in the 60s and 70s but afternoon temperatures in Southwest Texas were expected to rise to the century mark.

The five day forecast for Texas from Tuesday to Saturday calls for temperatures, slightly above normals, the Weather Bureau said.

Light rains Sunday formed during the afternoon and continued to the early morning hours of today.

Afternoon temperatures Sunday ranged from a searing 105 degrees at Cotulla to 100 at Laredo and Presidio, down to 89s at Corpus Christi, Galveston and San Angelo.

Minor damage resulted from a two-car mishap on Thirty-third Street at Avenue C at 4:28 p.m. Sunday.

Involved were the 1961 Model Oldsmobile of Steven Blaine Burney, 311 Thirty-sixth Street, and the 1964 Model Buick of John F. McMinn, Chicago, Ill. Damage to the Buick was estimated at $100, and damage to the other vehicle was placed at $30.

Thieves Ignorant About Valuable Coins

INDEPENDENCE, Ore. (AP) —Burglars took $200,000 in rare coins from the safe of Francis Holt. But they left some of the rarest coins and dropped about half the coins they took, Holt said.

Holt said he fired at the burglars when he saw them as he returned home. He said they were not knowledgeable coin thieves, because "they didn't take some of the rarest coins."

Police on the West Coast were alerted and given a list of the missing coins.

Walkout Slows Chicago Travel

CHICAGO (AP) — Only one-fourth of Chicago's 4,434 taxis were in operation today as the Democratic National Convention's Credentials Committee opened its first day of hearings.

More than 5,400 drivers and 600 mechanic have struck the city's two largest cab companies and prospects for a settlement before the convention opens next Monday appear dim.

A union attorney said the two sides were so far apart that to accept Mayor Richard J. Daley's offer to mediate "would be wasting his time."

Members of Local 777, Democratic Union Organizing Committee of the Seafarers International Union, walked out Saturday. They demanded higher wages and increased fringe benefits.

Negotiations between Yellow and Checker Cab compannies, which operate 3,600 cabs, and the union broke down Friday.

Sam P. Mazza, commissioner of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said union officials have accepted his invitation for a meeting today. Robert Haythorne, attorney for the cab companies, said he was confident the companies would attend.

With only cabs from independent companies operating Sunday, traffic jams formed around O'Hare International Airport as hundreds of travelers arranged for their own transportation.

Continental Air Transport Co. doubled its bus service from the airport to the city and suburbs to help alleviate the cab scarcity.

A spokesman for the Chicago Transit Authority said the authority does not plan to add extra buses and transit cars during rush hours because existing vehicles should be able to handle any extra business.

The authority is faced with a strike threat by dissident drivers, a majority of whom are Negroes. They are demanding increased voice in their union. That walkout is set for Sunday, the day before the Democratic Convention convenes at the International Amphitheatre.

Program On Shoplifting Planned Here

Chief of Police Steve Clark and Detective Sergeant Bobby Goodwin will present a program on shoplifting at the various civic clubs in Snyder this week during their regular meetings.

They will show a film on the techniques and methods employed by shoplifters and discuss laws pertaining to the crime. The programs are being coordinated by the Snyder Chamber of Commerce and the Trade and Professional Committee of the Snyder Rotary Club.

The officers also will distribute pamphlets titled, "Teenagers Beware — Shoplifting Is A Crime," which was prepared in the interest of Snyder youth by the business firms of the Snyder - Scurry County area and the Snyder Police Department.

The law provides for a fine of up to $1,000 and not less than 30 days in jail upon conviction of shoplifting where the property taken is less than $50 in value. The fine can be raised to $2,000 on second convictions, and for third convictions or where property is valued at more than $50 the penalty is confinement in the State Penitentiary for not less than two nor more than 10 years.

Sees Danger To Stock Exchange

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the New York Stock Exchange testified today that if the practice of charging minimum commissions on stock trading was abandoned, as suggested by a Justice Department brief, it could destroy the present securities markets.

"While no one can predict with precision the consequences of abolishing minimum commission rates," Robert W. Haack said, "I have no doubt that the securities markets as we know them today would cease to exist."

Haack's remarks were prepared for a Securities and Exchange Commission hearing, part of an investigation to gather data on fee schedules and fee splitting in the securities industry.

The Justice Department's antitrust division said last April 1 that, on the basis of its knowledge of the operations of the New York Stock Exchange, it saw no justification for setting minimum commission charges.

In 1967, volume on the Big Board came to about 2.5 billion shares valued at about $125 billion. This netted the 650 member firms a commission income of about $1.5 billion, with 1 per cent of this, about $15.5 million, paid to the exchange.

The antitrust division said it foresaw no significant risk of "destructive" price levels or adverse affects on the operation of the exchange from competition in rates.

Haack replied that the position is based on a false assumption—"that standard competitive concepts applicable to a typical manufacturing business can be applied without modification to the securities industry."

Negotiated rates, Haack said, would result in "destructive competition" in periods of declining market volume. The concept, he said, "is a valid, recognized economic exception to free competition . . ."

Because of the unique characteristics of the securities industry, Haack said, "destructive competition" would mean that the customer would suffer as well as the entire nation's allocation of resources."

Unregulated commission rates, he said, would "seriously weaken the exchange, undermine the stability of the securities industry and greatly reduce established safeguards for the protection of investors."

Haack said unregulated commissions would have these effects:

—Firms would have little incentive to retain exchange membership. The exchange would shrink to a mere association of floor brokers and specialists.

—Over-the-counter markets in listed stocks would proliferate.

—Smaller brokerage firms, regardless of effeciency, would be eliminated.

—Firms would be discouraged from taking on additional fixed costs need to meet peak demands of heavy volume.

—Services such as financial informaton and research probably would be eliminated.

—Overhead costs would be shifted to small, less powerful investors.

—Chances for consumer exploitation would increase.

—What the investor might save on commissions might be lost in poor execution of the stock transaction.

Service For Victim Of Gunshot Held

Graveside rites for Betty Jewel Legg, 34, Odessa, were to be held at 3 p.m. today in McCamey with the Rev. Bernie Ayres of Iraan officiating. Arrangements were under the direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Mrs. Legg died of gunshot wounds about 3:30 a.m. last Friday. Her body was discovered in a car near the residence of Elizabeth Jane Featherston about six miles east of Snyder on the Ennis Creek Road.

Sheriff's authorities said their investigation indicated the woman was shot while attempting to force her way into the Featherston farmhouse.

A charge of murder was filed against Mrs. Featherston in Justice of the Peace Jimmie Billingsley's Court here and she was released on $2,500 bond.

Surviving are two daughters, Susan and Janice, and one son, James Cecil Legg, Jr., all of Odessa; and three brothers, Robert McClure of Miami, Fla., Louis McClure of Torrance, Calif. and Charles McClure of Birmingham, Ala.

Money Is Stolen

Thieves took $15 from a Snyder National Bank money bag at the Jones Cafe, 3611 Avenue M, between 2:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. Saturday, according to a City Police report. They said the bag was placed on a table in the kitchen of the cafe.

Soap Opera On Downs

THE OLD MAN AND THE GIRL. By Ernest Gebler.

There is a rather oddly assorted clutch of characters in this English novel and that includes the central figure and narrator Thomas Downs.

Thomas is the old man of the book's title a 48-year-old lecturer in economics. Well perhaps he is old in comparison with his wife Anne age 32 a somewhat faceless creature who does not figure much in the story.

The plot brings Thomas and his wife on holiday into an acquaintanceship with John and Paula a strange pair and Thomas gets a middle-aged crush on Paula who is about Anne's age.

What Thomas with remarkable stupidity does not comprehend is why John and Paula's household includes their friend Dicky professional racing driver Paula once had been in love with him and now John has a homosexual attachment for him. The key fact is that Paula has dabbled in an affair with Thomas without really caring for him.

The story contains great swatches of dialogue that sound very much like soap opera and the reader may well conclude that poor dithering Thomas deserves to have his life fall apart. Providing that is the reader has managed to finish the book.

For almost two centuries, the Supreme Court has stood amid winds of controversy.

Did They Learn From War?

TO THE WAR. By Robert Edson Lee.

Lee makes a journey to his youth and to the time of his Navy service in World War II in this memoir living over again the only period of his life when he felt any meaningful relationship with the world.

After a long period of training and after being shuttled back and forth in various Atlantic Coast ports he served as a junior officer in the Pacific first on a repair ship and then on a drydock at such places as Saipan Ulithi and Hollandia. He did not reach actual combat though his life was endangered several times — he could have been blown up or electrocuted while he was helping repair ships preparing to invade Iwo Jima.

He counts himself one of the millions who served "with no physical and little mental contact with the enemy. The truth is that we enjoyed the war and would go again. I is necessary now to go back to the war not out of guilt of survival but out of the need to know if we learned anything — and with the uneasy leering fear tha in fact we learned nothing." Did he learn? It isn't certain.

There must be a good many middle-aged veterans who will find Lee's recital typical of their own experiences. He covers the whole gamut from the outraged gripes of the training period through the disorientation of actual service to the final days oexasperated sweat about geing out of uniform. His narrative is strikingly realistic and vivid and well-written.

Kidding Penchant For Discussion

THE PATCH COMMISSION. By Frederick Crews.

Here we have something from Spoofsville.

It seems there has been some sort of civil crisis brought about by the young. So the President has appointed a three-man Presidential Emergency Commission on Child Governance Priorities. The book purports to be an unedited transcript of PECCGP's proceedings on the first day of its meetings.

Chief Commissioner Patch is a former pediatrician and now a bureaucrat who thinks he is a liberal and is full of the jargon of psychologists and social workers. Commissioner Rubble also a bureaucrat is suppoed to be an expert on nuclear deterrence but all he ever talks about is systems analysis in a gibberish which no one can even translate let alone understand. Commissioner Margin a political commentator is a mossback conservatice who who sees everyting as a Communist plot.

These clowns supposedly are discussing what to do about young people but they get a mile off the track. In the midst of much bombast backbiting and obfuscation they argue about everything from atomic bombs to guitars.

They concur on very little though they more or less agree that the source of society's ailments is the subversive influence of Dr. Benjamin Spock's book on baby and child care — in which they discover many quotations.

Crews' "The Pooh Perplex" (1963) was a very witty and very funny parody on the wacky styles of literary criticism. He isn't quite as hilarious this time.

The Spock argument runs on a bit too long and the endless jabberwocky about systems analysis gets a little tiresome. Yet the author manages to get in a lot of satire — political ideological economic social — while at the same time lampooning the American weakness for meaningless double-talk instead of action. The free - swinging humor hits a lot of random targets.

BOGOTA EUCHARIST COUNCIL

Pope Prepares For Journey

By PATRICK O'KEEFE
Associated Press Writer

VATICAN CITY (AP) — With doctors certifying his good health, 70-year-old Pope Paul VI prepared today for his longest journey since he became pontiff in June 1963.

At dawn Thursday, the Pope will board a plane for a 12-hour flight to Bogota, the Colombian capital situated 8,880 feet high in the Eastern Andes Mountains.

The pontiff will attend the 38th international Eucharistic Congress being held in Bogota, ablaze with decorations for the historic event. He journey to the last congress in Bombay, India in December 1964.

Pope Paul expressed hope, Sunday that the Congress would help alleviate the misery of Latin America's poor and oppressed.

The pontiff said he was hopeful that it would generate an intensive effort "that would invite the well-off, the developed peoples and economic and political authorities to resolve the two grave situations, of fixed authorities on one side, and intense misery on the other."

Speaking at his summer residence, Castel Gandolfo, south of Rome, the pontiff expressed his concern for poverty one week after a group of young Roman Catholic priests and laymen barricaded themselves in the main cathedral of Santiago, Chile, to protest what they called the Church's alliance with the rich against the poor.

The demonstrators said that elaborate plans for the papal visit to Bogota exemplified wasteful spending of funds that would better have gone to the poor.

The Pope said he looked forward to meeting the Colombian poor. He is expected to talk with the country's peasants Friday morning, the day after he arrives in Bogota for the sixth trip outside Italy during his reign.

It has been one year since the pontiff fell ill because of a prostate condition. He underwent surgery last Nov. 8 for removal of an inflamed prostate and did not resume his normal activities until Dec. 8. As recently as Easter, he still looked tired, but es-in the past few weeks he has seemed fit and vigorous.

In Chile, leftist newspapers hinted that the pontiff was still not well enough to endure the trip to Bogota. Papal docors denied the stories, saying the Pope's health was fine.

Pope Paul, his aides and many journalists accompanying him on the three-day trip, have undergone a special physical examination, with emphasis on the heart, because of Bogota's high altitude.

As far as is known, however, the Pope has never had trouble with his heart.

In Bogota, a special envoy of the Pope opened the congress Sunday with a plea for world social and economic justice.

Giacomo Cardinal Lercaro told an open-air audience of nearly 100,000 persons that those who shoulder "civilian responsibilities" must work toward "an equitable distribution of rich-

Custody Fight Over Mark Finally Ends

BROOKDALE, Calif. (AP) — The Harold Painter household was filled with joy today because 10-year-old Mark Painter's grandmother in Iowa has said he can stay here with his father and new mother.

"There's no way to tell you how happy this makes us all," said Harold Painter, Mark's father, foreseeing the peaceful end to a long custody battle over the boy.

Painter, a writer-photographer who lives in this Santa Cruz Mountain village 30 miles south of San Francisco, said he had heard Sunday from the Rev. Clay Lumpkins of Gilbert, Iowa, pastor to Mark's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Bannister of Ames.

The Rev. Mr. Lumpkins visited the Painters here last week to ask the boy whether he wanted to stay on with his father or return to his grandparents in Iowa.

The custody struggle began after the death in 1962 of Mark's mother, the daughter of the Bannisters. Painter sent the baby to them, then remarried and sought to get the boy back. The case went to the Iowa Supreme Court, which ruled the boy would be better off in the "stable, dependable, conventional middle-class Middle West home" of the Bannisters than in Painter's "romantic, impractical, unstable and arty" environment which it described as "Bohemian and probably intellectually stimulating."

This summer Mark came west to spend his usual vacation with his father. He said he liked it here, wanted to stay and didn't want to go back to Iowa.

Painter meanwhile got a Santa Cruz court to issue a temporary order assigning him custody, with a hearing set for Aug. 28 to determine whether it should be permanent. He argued that the Bannisters, both now 63, have undergone "changes in the mental and physical condition . . . which would endanger Mark's welfare if he were to return to live with them."

In Ames, the Rev. Mr. Lumpkins said Mrs. Bannister has accepted Mark's decision and will make no further efforts to get him back. "She has been concerned for the boy's welfare from the start, but she wants what he wants" he said.

Dies In Crash Of Selfmade Gyrocopter

GEORGETOWN, Tex. (AP)— The crash of a homemade gyrocopter Sunday at the Georgetown Municipal Airport killed Everett H. Hendricks, 45, of Belton.

Witnesses said Hendricks had made several passes over the runway in the craft, which resembles a helicopter, when a gust of wind caught him and the gyrocopter fell from 65 feet.

Hendricks was dead on arrival at a Georgetown hospital.

Fires Into Train Just For Whim

NEW YORK AP) — A sniper fired into a moving Long Island Rail Road train early Sunday, killing one passenger and wounding another with a single shot.

Within a half-hour after the predawn shooting police picked up 16-year-old John Whitmore, of Long Island City, Queens. The youth was quoted as saying he had fired at three LIRR trains "just for the whim of it." He was charged with homicide.

Police said the fatal shot, from a 30-02-caliber sawed-off rifle, was fired from a sandy embankment near a railroad trestle. The bullet hit Vincent Maher in the neck and Gabriel Jansen in the elbow.

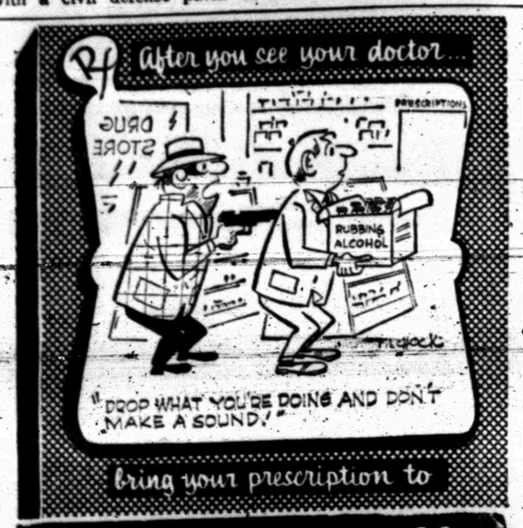

After the shooting the train sped on to Pennsylvania Station in Manhattan. Maher, 31, an elevator operator and father of three children, was dead when the train pulled in.

Jansen, 48, who had worked overtime at a dredging job at Jones Beach the night before, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

He said he was dozing when the shot was fired. "I woke up to a big bang," he said. "I thought it was someone playing a joke." Jansen lives in Point Pleasant, N.J.

Whitmore, a vocational school student, wore a light blue shirt with a civil defense patch on one shoulder and dark blue trousers when arrested. Friends said he was interested in firemen and liked to dress up like a fireman.

Brawny Cowboys Can Win Again In NFL

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys still have the physical equipment to win a National Football League championship. But the question is: Can the Eastern Division kings overcome the trauma of twice being snakebite victims?

Coach Tom Landry puts it this way:

"We can build up an artificial outside crust, but you wonder just how we'll react if and when we get down to those last crucial seconds again."

The stoic Landry was of course referring to the dramatic NFL playoffs the last two seasons with the Green Bay Packers.

The nerve-wrenching battles went to the Paul Bunyans from the North 34-27 in 1966 when Dallas failed to score from the Green Bay two in the closing seconds and again last season 21-17.

The Cowboys will enter the NFL season, opening with the Detroit Lions Sept. 15 in the Cotton Bowl, with virtually a set team.

Veteran quarterback Don Meredith, with a new three-year contract, returns hale and hearty from an up-and-down 1967 in which he suffered rib injuries, pneumonia and a broken nose. He was brilliant in the Eastern Division title game against the Cleveland Browns and only so-so against the Packers in minus 13-degree cold at Green Bay. He's had an excellent preseason.

In the backfield with Meredith will be four-year man Dan Reeves, a deceptively shifty runner who picked up 603 yards rushing last season and frightened most of the NFL's cornerbacks with his halfback pass.

Eight-year fullback Don Perkin, a great blocker and a small but explosive runner who has fumbled but once in two years, again returns. He is seventh on the all-time NFL rushing charts. The flanker is impala-like Lance Rentzel, a jumping jack who sped 996 yards with 58 catches last season — a goodly number on the running pass from Reeves.

At end is the bullet — Bob Hayes — whom Landry calls "our game breaker." Hayes has scored 35 touchdowns on pass receptions in his three season in the NFL and now has former Baltimore great Ray Berry to teach him some moves to go along with his speed.

Other vets on offense include rugged tight end Pettis Norman, All-Pro tackle Ralph Neely, tackle Tony Liscio, center Dave Manders, who was out with a bad knee last season, and guards Leon Donohue, who comes off knee surgery, and John Niland.

The only rookie likely to see much offensive duty is first round draft choice Dennis Homan of Alabama, a sticky-fingered flanker.

The doomsday Dallas defense is another pressure-hardened group, but dangerously thin at linebacker and possibly porous in the secondary despite the presence of All-Pro cornerback Cornell Green. Few rookies, if any, will see action here.

Other All-Pros include catquick tackle Bob Lilly, a 260-pound half-back-mashing monster, and Chuck Howley, probably the fastest linebacker in the NFL. Steady Leroy Jordan and Dave Edwards are the other linebackers.

Huge defensive tackle Jethro Pugh and veteran ends George Andrie and Willie Townes make up the front four again with Lilly. The Cowboys were No. 1 in the NFL against the rush last year.

Landry himself will take over the chore of shoring up the leaky secondary now that defensive back coach Dick Nolan moved to San Francisco as head coach.

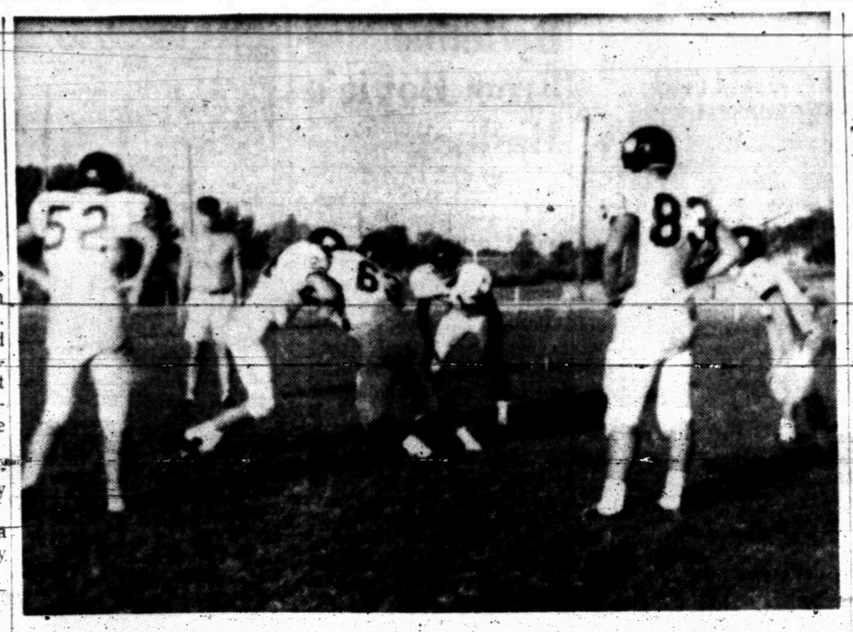

"We must improve our pass defense ... we've got to have the best," said Landry.

Besides Green, safeties Mike Gechter, and Mel Renfro and young cornerback Mike Johnson complete the secondary.

The field goal man will be Mike Clarke, obtained from Pittsburgh in the off season. Clarke has already impressed the Cowboys, kicking a 54-yarder in a preseason game against Chicago. The punting is a question mark with Ron Widby the best prospect.

When asked whether the Cowboys can go all the way, Landry puts it this way:

"We're either going to be a better team or we are really going ot slip."

FIRST DRILL — A sizeable delegation of huffing, puffing varsity grid candidates were on hand this morning as the Snyder Tigers began two-a-day drills. The practice sessions will continue daily at 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. until the beginning of school. Coach Wayne Tyrone's crew will host Stamford in a scrimmage session here Friday, Aug. 30, then go to Midland the following week.

Braves Win Doubleheader

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Everytime the Shreveport Braves look like they are dead ducks in the Eastern Division something happens to give them fresh life.

Sunday night the Braves moved to within two and one-half games of king-of-the-hill Arkansas with doubleheader victories over San Antonio 7-6 and 5-4.

Meanwhile, Western Division leader El Paso nicked Arkansas 4-3 and jumped two games ahead of Albuquerque which lost to Memphis 7-1. Dallas-Fort Worth clubbed Amarillo 13-4 in the other encounter.

After taking the seven-inning opener, Shreveport grabbed the nightcap in 11 innings on Wayne Garrett's single with two out.

Strong relief pitching by Bill Boehlert keyed the El Paso victory, putting down an Arkansas rally in the ninth. Jarvis Tatum hit a solo homer for the winners.

Barry Raziano set down Albuquerque to win his sixth game of the year against eight losses. The Dodgers got their only run on a 360-foot homer by Jim Williams.

The Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs ripped five Amarillo pitchers for 19 hits to give Tom Fullen an easy victory. John Marsden hit two homers off of Fullen.

Oilers Whip Saints, 23-17; Browns Batter 49ers, 31-17

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was a snag in the New Orleans Saints' defensive blanket. Houston quarterback Pete Beathard found it and unraveled the cover with his feet.

With Houston trailing 23-17 and only 56 seconds remaining in the game at the Astrodome, Beathard went back to pass. But his receivers were given blanket coverage.

So, Beathard forgot about his arm and concentrated on his footwork to ramble through a hole for six yards and the tying touchdown. Sid Blanks then ran around right end for the extra point, giving the Oilers of the American Football League a 24-23 victory over the National Football League Saints.

In Sunday's only other exhibition, the Cleveland Browns battered the San Francisco 49ers 31-17 in a meeting of NFL clubs.

The results of a busy Saturday night schedule:

Dallas, NFL, trounced Los Angeles, NFL, 42-10; Miami, AFL, pounded Philadelphia, NFL, 23-7; Pittsburgh NFL, edged San Diego, AFL, 36-33; New York, NFL, nipped Atlanta, NFL, 17-13; Kansas City, AFL outlasted St. Louis, NFL, 13-10; Minnesota NFL, walloped Denver, AFL, 39-16; Buffalo, AFL, topped Cincinnati, AFL, 10-6, and New York AFL thrashed Boston AFL, 25-6.

The weekends activity ends Monday night with an NFL game between the Green Bay Packers and the Chicago Bears in Milwaukee, Wis.

The nationally televised game CBS at 9:30 p.m., (EDT) will be the first meeting of the old rivals under their new coaches—Jim Dooley for the Bears and Phil Bengston for the Packers.

Once again the Packers will have to worry about stopping the running of Chicago's brilliant Gale Sayers, while the Bears will have to contain the machine-like Packer offense directed by Bart Starr.

New Orleans built up a 23-7 lead on Bill Kilmer's two touchdown passes, Don McCall's touchdown run and Charlie Durkee's field goal. Kilmer's attempted pass for a conversion after his second touchdown toss failed.

Beathard ran three yards for a Houston touchdown in the second period. The Oiler's first touchdown n the final period came on a 39-yard run by Ken Houston with a pass interception, and it was followed by John Wittenborn's 47-yard field goal.

Frank Ryan threw a first period scoring pass and Bill Nelson, obtained from Pittsburgh, hit on two in the second half in leading Cleveland to victory. George Mira, who had two passes intercepted to set up Cleveland touchdowns, threw for one of San Francisco's scores.

Don Meredith threw two 58-yard touchdown passes in the first quarter for Dallas, and Los Angeles never recovered as the Rams suffered their first exhibition loss after 11 straight preseason victories.

Philadelphia not only lost its game to Miami, it also lost seven players to injuries. Running back Harry Jones dislocated and fractured his left collarbone and will be out from eight to 12 weeks, and middle linebacker Dave Lloyd cracked two ribs and is expected to be out for three weeks. The other injuries were less serious.

Minnesota also lost Gary Cuozzo for at least next Saturday's game against Philadelphia. The quarterback jammed his left shoulder late in the first half in the Vikings' victory over Denver.

Pokes Trade Mike Connelly

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Nine-year veteran Mike Connelly, a regular center for the Dallas Cowboys last season, has gone to the Pittsburgh Steelers as part of a deal that brought kicker Mike Clarke to the 'Pokes.

Connelly's departure leaves only quarterback Don Meredith as an original member of the Cowboy team which entered the National Football League in 1960.

Connelly helped the Cowboys repeat as Eastern Division champions last year when Dave Manders was injured and out for the season.

Final Round 68 Wins For Boros

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Watching him play, all loose and relaxed and smooth-swinging, you'd think there wasn't a nerve, not a one, in Julius Boros' middle-aged, overweight body.

Not so, admitted Big Julie after surviving a five-man scramble Sunday and nailing down the $50,000 first prize in the $250,000 Westchester Classic Golf Tournament, the richest on the pro tour.

"I know what it looks like," the 48-year-old Boros said. "But I get the flutters sometimes, just like anybody else. There are times out there when I get excited."

Boros, who became the oldest man to win the Professional Golfers' Association championship earlier this year, came from three strokes off the pace with a final round 68, four-under-par for the tight, 6,648-yard Westchester Country Club course, and finished with a 72-hole total of 272.

Jack Nicklaus, defending champion and seeking his third consecutive tour victory, veteran Dan Sikes and red-headed Bob Murphy, the rookie who led all of the first three rounds, finished in a tie for second, at 273. Nicklaus had a closing 66, Sikes a 68 and the obviously nervous Murphy a par 72. They picked up $20,416.66 apiece.

Billy Casper, who was in the thick of it all before fading, was alone in fifth place with a 67 for 275.

Boros, 20 pounds overweight and at times bothered by an ailing back, increased his yearly earnings to $144,357, and started thinking about the tax man.

"I've got to pay my third quarter estimate in September," he mused after noting that it wasn't his biggest payday.

"I won a $50,000 first prize in a world championship they used to have, back in 1955. And I played 56 exhibitions at $1,000 a shot. So that brought me $106,000.

"I was telling my wife the other day that things seemed to be getting flat, that everything tastes the same. But something like this can change it."

Reds Get Diamond, 'Court' Decision 2-1

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Label this file The Case of the Sticky Fingered Vulture or Where Did This Bird Get All That Gooey Stuff?

Chief sleuth in the caper is umpire Chris Pelekoudas, who claims he found the incriminating evidence. . .vaseline. . .on the cap of the suspect, Slippery Phil Regan—alias the vulture—who works with that gang from Chicago.

The main defense attorney is Leo Durocher, an eloquent speakers. His able assistants are Randy Hundley and Al Spangler, two other members of the Chicago gang, who call themselves the Cubs.

All three lawyers were ejected protesting Regan's innocence, and the Cubs lost the ball game, 2-1 to Cincinnati Sunday. The Reds also took the second game of the doubleheader, 6-3, extending their winning streak to six games.

In other National League games, St. Louis pounded Atlanta 10-1, Philadelphia tripped San Francisco 5-3, Pittsburgh dropped Los Angeles 5-1 and New York split a doubleheader with Houston, winning 8-1 before losing 5-2.

In the American League, Boston dropped Detroit 4-1, Baltimore rapped Minnesota 7-1, California downed Washington 6-4, New York defeated Oakland 7-5 in 10 innings and Chicago swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 4-2 and 8-1.

The Regan fuss erupted in the seventh inning of the first game against the Reds when the veteran reliever came in to face pinch hitter Mack Jones. With the count 1-2 on Jones, Pelekoudas went to the mound to warn Regan about illegal pitches and changed the count to 3-1.

Durocher rushed to his pitcher's defense and the umpire and manager compromised on a 2-2 count. Then Jones apparently flied out but Pelekoudas nullified the play, ruling another illegal pitch and giving Jones another swing.

Now Durocher argued again and the umpires demanded a towel to wipe off the inside of Regan's cap. Durocher and Spangler, who interjected his thoughts from the bench, were both thumbed out and Jones finally grounded out.

In the ninth inning Pete Rose apparently struck out against Regan but again Pelekoudas nullifed the out and gave the batter another swing. This time Rose singled and Hundley, the Cubs' catcher, was ejected.

"We found vaseline on his cap," charged Pelekoudas. "His ball was sinking without spinning. A sinker spins. An illegal pitch breaks down without any spin."

Regan was indignant at the charge. "The umpires are taking my livelihood away from me," he said. "I'm going to court about this."

Cincinnati power made the difference in both games. Tony Perez' fourth-inning homer won the first game with brilliant ninth inning relief by Clay Carroll saving it for George Culver. Perez, Rose, Fred Whitfield and Alex Johnson all homered in the nightcap.

Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda tagged two hits apiece in a nine-run first inning explosion that carried the Cardinals past Atlanta. Mike Shannon had four straight hits for St. Louis and Ray Washburn breezed to his 11th victory.

Cepeda and Phil Gagliano drove in two runs each in the big first inning after an error by shortstop Marty Martinez opened the gates.

Bob Veale pitched a four-hitter and the Pirates trimmed the Dodgers, scoring two runs on an eror by Bob Bailey.

Fred Patek's run-scoring single in the seventh snapped a scoreless duel between Veale and Don Sutton. Then Bailey's error gave the Pirates two more.

Successive eighth inning homers by Rich Allen and Bill White carried the Phillies past the Giants. Allen's 25th homer snapped a 3-3 tie and then White's No. 9 and second of the game wrapped it up for Philadelphia.

Don Cardwell scattered six hits and singled in the first two New York runs as the Mets ripped Houston in the first game. Four Astro errors led to three unearned runs for New York.

Jim Ray allowed just four hits and struck out 10, nailing down the nightcap and gaining the split for Houston. Jim Wynn hit his 19th homer of the year and third in as many days against the Mets.

Lays Plans To Unionize Brokerage House Clerks

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In a drab office on Liberty Street in the financial district, a young man who works as a pneumatic tubeman on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange, plans the unionization of brokerage houses.

John Kret, 29, who makes $150 plus bonuses for sending order slips to the proper people on the exchange floor, believes that brokerage house pay is poor, that the stress of long hours is outrageous, that seniority must be better rewarded and, that pensions need to be established.

Sitting before charts that showed a rising volume of stock trading, Kret, a cleancut, crewcut young man picked up a ringing telephone. "No, not as many returns this time," he told the caller. "But they're sincere. Not so many pranks, you know."

Twice this summer Kret and his crew have stood at subways and restaurants and street corners passing out enrollment forms for the United Financial Employes Local 205, AFL-CIO.

On August 1 they handed out 8,000 applications. On August 8 they passed out another 7,000 to 8,000. By August 13 they had 600 to 700 returns and expected more to come in. In addition, a dozen letters were mailed in.

Kret and his union brothers feel they are in a strong position because of the huge volume of trading in recent months, trading that has caused lower level employes to work long hours under pressure in a generally unpleasant environment.

This overtime has meant big checks and large bonuses, but Kret would like to see the salaries rise without so much overtime. "A lot of the overtime is mandatory; try not to accept it," he said. "And the bonuses aren't that great."

Although some clerks double their weekly pay these days, Kret maintains that most of the clerks are getting a base pay of $70 or $75, an estimate that brokerage house officials generally feel is a bit low.

The Office and Professional Employes International Union is backing Kret financially and morally. "If the international feels the response is good it will come down with something more," Kret says.

What would a good response be? "If we can get 1,000 or 1,500 signed up. I think if we could get one house—even with 50 or 60 people—the international would jump for joy. It would be a foot in the door."

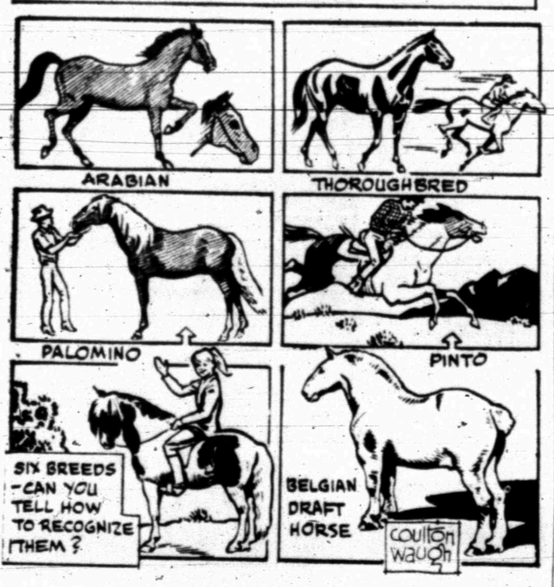

A representative of the investment community, a man whose job it is to be aware of attitudes on Wall Street, said he sympathized with the clerks but wondered if they'd get very far with their campaign.

He commented on the upward mobility of young men in Wall Street, how a lot of partners once started as clerks and messengers: He reminded his listener that some houses help pay their clerks' night school tuitions.

"There's a certain knack that can only be learned by working at it," he said. It means, he indicated, learning to be quick, alert, enthusiastic. "The brokerage houses need these fellows," he said.

Said Kret: "It's not what you know but who you know." A lot of the young clerks, he indicated, aren't likely to catch the eye of a senior partner, aren't likely to get those breaks that Wall Street oldtimers love to tell about.

Junior Editors Quiz on HORSES

QUESTION: How do you tell the difference between kinds of horses?

* * *

ANSWER: We can't tell you about all of them, but we have pictured six which you should be able to recognize. The Arabian is a beautiful and important type, being the ancestor of many other breeds. The small, delicate Arabian has a head different from other horses. The eyes are larger and set lower down. There is a bulge above the eye, giving the profile a "dished" or concave look. The Thoroughbred is the true racehorse; see how long and light his legs are, how long and slender his neck. The Palomino is easily recognized. While his body is cream or gold colored, his mane and tail are "flax," meaning almost pure white. The Pinto, often used by cowboys, is boldly blotched in black and white. You can recognize a pony by his small size. The American Shetland Pony is particularly small and often has a forelock hanging over his head, with a fine, long mane and tail. This is an ideal mount for young riders. An enormous contrast is the Belgian, a huge draft horse used for heavy work. His coat is rich chestnut or bay.

Marine Prison Agitators Moved

By ROBERT OHMAN
Associated Press Writer

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — A U.S. spokesman said today that 40 "agitators" had been moved from the riot-torn Marine brig in an attempt to restore order.

The 40 men were guarded by 120 military police, after being cut off from the other prisoners with a teargas barrage Sunday, then marched to a smaller barbedwire compound nearby.

Lt. Col. Joseph M. Gambardella, commander of the 300-prisoner brig just northwest of Da Nang, said there were no injuries in an outburst Sunday. It erupted when about 70 parolees and trusties began packing their gear to be moved to another area.

Resentment built up among the other prisoners, a spokesman said, and about 40 began rampaging through the compound.

He said Gambardella sent in his riot force of MPs, and they fired some 20 canisters of tear gas to suppress the riot.

Trouble first broke out in the brig Friday night when many prisoners began a noisy protest against cold food, long delays awaiting trial and prison regulations.

Eight prisoners and one guard were injured, none seriously, Gambardella said.

The prisoners held the compound for nearly 20 hours, freeing 17 inmates in the maximum security cellblock and burning the block down before order was temporarily restored Saturday night.

The Sunday afternoon flareup was over in less than two hours.

An investigation is under way to consider the prisoners' grievances and possible disciplinary action against suspected ringleaders.

The Marine command has refused to grant newsmen permission to interview any of the inmates or guards or to take photographs inside or near the brig.

Airline Says Long Hair Must Go

NEW YORK (AP) — John Quincy Adams had them. So did Martin Van Buren. But what was okay for 19th century presidents isn't okay for employes of Northwest Orient Airlines today.

The airline has suspended 14 cargo handlers at Kennedy Airport because, like Adams, Van Buren and a number of more modern males, they wore their sideburns long.

George Parker, the airline's cargo manager, posted a directive last Wednesday, reading, "Sideburns should not be below the middle of the ear."

Parker, who waged a successful campaign against employes' beards last May, gave the men until midnight Saturday to get rid of the extra cheek hair.

Then he called all the men on the four to midnight and midnight to eight shifts into his office. Only four passed inspection.

The 14 with sideburns were sent home, but appealed to their union, the International Association of Machinists, which set up a meeting with company representatives today to discuss the situation.

"Were not even seen by the public," said one of the cargo handlers. "Our haircuts are in style right now and we're presentable. That's enough."

The cargo handlers might be encouraged to learn that a California man who works for the U.S. Navy as a technical illustrator at Point Mugu Pacific Missile Range has won his fight to keep both his job and his long hair.

Richard Beckley was fired seven months ago for what the Navy called "poor taste in appearance evidenced by hair of an undue length, a beard and boots."

Beckley appealed. The U.S. Civil Service Commission's Washington office ordered the Navy to reinstate him.

Beckley now is back at work.

Six Perish In Goliad Collision

GOLIAD, Tex. (AP) — Six persons died Sunday when two cars, one loaded with seven guests from an El Campo wedding, collided at high speed near Berclair, about 16 miles southwest of Goliad.

Investigators could give no reason for the almost humper-to-bumper, headon crash which happened in perfect driving weather.

Both drivers — Staffen Lundgren, 22, of Djursholm, Sweden, and Herberto Lozano Jr., 54, of Houston—died in the collision.

Others killed in the car with Lundgren included: Peter Lundgren, Djursholm; Ola Bergstrom, 32, Stockholm, Sweden; Leif Cedquist, 28, Stockholm, and Charles K. Earl, 17, of El Campo Tex.

Lozano was driving alone at the time of the accident, about midafternoon.

Injured and listed in serious condition at Beeville Memorial Hospital were Eric Bergstrom, 29, and Ingman Lindblad, 32, both of Stockholm.

Highway Patrolmen who investigated the crash said the Lundgren car, loaded with wedding guests, was headed west and that Lozano was traveling east when the crash occurred.

The site of the accident, one of the worst automobile mishaps in Texas this year, was a mile east of Berclair.

FARM PICTURE BRIGHT, BUT—

Some Areas Still Need Rain

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Showers to heavy rains have supplied needed moisture in widespread Texas areas but sections missed could use a downpour. The overall farm situation still is good, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The cotton harvest in South Texas is in full swing and first bales have been ginned in some Blackland counties, he noted. The grain sorghum harvest is making real progress and some counties as far north as the Rolling Pains (Vernon) reports a near complete harvest, Hutchison said.

Ranges furnish adequate to plentiful grazing but rains are needed in many areas, he said. Livestock in all Texas areas are in good condition. Markets are good.

District agents summed up their situations on Wednesday this way:

Rains covered much of the Panhandle and most crops are making good growth. Irrigated sorghum is doing well but green bugs are hurting. Soybeans are blooming and some are in the early fruiting stage; cotton and corn growth is good; some alfalfa is being saved for seed production; and wheat land is being fertilized and pre-watered for planting. The condition of livestock was good.

Rains boosted yield prospects for early dryland cotton and dryland sorghum on the South Plains (Lubbock.) Overall cotton progress was good with irrigated fields heavily fruited. Green bugs are causing problems in some sorghum field. More rain is needed to maintain ranges but livestock are in good condition.

Moisture over the Rolling Plains is a bit more spotted and 15 counties need more rain. Some cotton has reached the boll stage and insect damage generally is light. The sorghum harvest ranges from just starting to complete in five counties. Green bugs are still around. Cantaloupes, watermelons, peas, tomatoes and peaches are being harvested.

Heavy rains hit parts of North Central Texas Tuesday where seven counties had reported a shortage of moisture. All crops progressed and good yields are being reported for grain. Some pastures show the need for rain but most are still in good condition and livestock are fat.

Moisture in Northeast Texas is adequate and crops and pastures are good. Hay yields are good; cotton farmers are busy fighting insects; and late corn looks good. Early corn is maturing and sweet potatoes are making excellent growth. The peach and vegetable harvests are about over. Harvesting of a good pea crop is on. The pecan crop will be light. Labor for hauling hay is short.

General rains are needed in all counties in Far West Texas east of the Pecos. Ranges west of the river were very good. Livestock are in good condition all through the district. Irrigated crops made excellent growth with insect infestations light. Dryland sorghum is ripening and cantaloupes and watermelons are being harvested. The onion harvest is near completion.

Rain is needed all through West Central Texas. Crops look good and cotton insects are mostly light. The sorghum harvest will soon start. Harvesting of an excellent hay crop is about over. Rain is needed for regrowth on hay. Ranges are very dry but grazing is good and livestock are in good shape. Range fires are a definite threat. The lamb and calf markets are strong. Goat shearing has started.

Rains early this week helped Central Texas. Cotton is beginning to open and the first bale was ginned in Bell County (Temple) Aug. 7. Boll weevils increased in Coryell, Falls, Hamilton, Hill and McLennan counties. The sorghum harvest was in full swing. Dry, hot weather has caused pastures to decline rapidly but grazing s still plentiful.

Moisture in East Texas, except for spots, is adequate and hay baling is very active. Corn is maturing fast and the favorable weather is drying it out fast. The vegetable, peach and melon harvests are about over. Land is being prepared for fall vegetables. Pecan prospects are good; cattle are fat; grazing is good and marketings are normal. Labor is short, especially for hay baling.

Southeast Texas, except for Brazos, Colorado and Grimes counties, has adequate moisture. Matagorda County reports a surplus, with cotton rotting. Cotton is fruiting well and insects are under control. Soybeans were making good growth. The corn harvest is complete in two counties and yields are very good. The sorghum harvest is near completion with yields good. The first cutting of rice is on and yields are about average. Some peanuts are being harvested and prospects are good. Hay baling is on; pastures are good but rain would help in the three counties. Grazing and cattle are good and markets are steady. Labor is short in several counties.

Moisture over South Central Texas is spotted. The sorghum harvest in the south is about over and in full swing in the north. The rice harvest is making real progress. Most hay and broomcorn has now been harvested and fall vegetables planted. Some shedding of pecans is observed. Grazing is good and livestock are fat.

Moisture in South Texas ranged from very short to adequate. The cotton harvest in the Rio Grande Valley and Coastal Bend counties is now in full swing. The sorghum harvest is almost complete. Vegetable planting is on with cabbage, carrots and peppers up and growing. Pastures are dry but grazing is generally plentiful. Livestock are in good condition but screwworms increase.

Laser May Aid In Underwater Efforts

AUSTIN (AP) — Laser light may help the Navy find sunken submarines and aid oilmen in drilling offshore, two University of Texas graduate electrical engineering students believe.

Kenneth Hessel of West, Tex., and Sam Varnado of Wesson, Miss., are conducting laboratory studies "in an effort to determine the propagation characteristics of laser light beamed under water."

They hope their findings can be used in improving the search, detection, rescue and communications capabilities of the Navy and in the science of oceanography or even offshore drilling for oil.

Fort Worth Passes Glue Ordinance

FORT WORTH (AP) — City councilmen have passed an ordinance designed to prevent the sale of certain types of glue to persons under 18 years of age without written consent from parents.

The ordinance also requires retail sellers of glue to keep records of "glue transactions" and provide records to the police when requested.

Mayor Pro Tem Bill Sarsgard proposed the ordinance in an effort to curtail "glue sniffing" by teen-agers and children. Violation calls for a fine not to exceed $200.

Waste Product Useful

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Dr. Wayne F. Echelberger Jr. and Dr. Mark W. Tenney of Notre Dame say they have found the waste product of coal and oil fires, trapped in smokestacks by air pollution control devices, can be used to eliminate up to 90 per cent of the typical pollutants in fresh water lakes. They said the ash has amazing absorption qualities and releases lime that further purifies water but that the treatment is not suitable for large lakes and the effect on fish is undetermined.

BACK TO SCHOOL — From left, Donna Ramsey and Sharon Roach shop for "back to school" supplies at Snyder Drug on the Big Spring Highway—where students can get quality supplies at reasonable prices. Displaying the Mod binders and other school equipment are Ora Denson and Velma Smith (right).

Snyder Drug Loaded With Quality School Supplies

Snyder Drug, located on the Big Spring Highway, is loaded for school students. Yes — loaded with fine quality school supplies — famous brands you know and trust like Masterpiece, Hy Tone, Venus, Sheaffer, Parker and Papermate.

R. E. Patterson, the owner, says, "There are as many grades of paper as there is cotton, but Snyder Drug always buys the best. Masterpiece filler paper doesn't act like a blotter when touched with a pen and Snyder Drug always tries to keep prices down. Compare Snyder Drug school supply prices and quality before you buy."

This year inflation has caused a small rise in school supply prices, but Snyder Drug will still have bargains. For instance, Masterpiece note book filler, the 500 count, 3½ pounds of paper for only 69 cents, and the 300 count for only 43 cents. Another big school opening special will be the Sheaffer cartridge pens a $1.49 value for only 39 cents. You get a fountain pen and two cartridges free. The Sheaffer ball pens — $1.49 value pen and one refill for only 67 cents.

"At Snyder Drug we always strive to have what the student wants and needs," said Patterson. See the Mod binders and books advertised in Seventeen. Shop early at Snyder Drugs for your school supplies, but shop wisely.

Catch Rare Porpoise

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Another rare white porpoise captured off the coast of South Carolina arrived Sunday at the Miami Seaquarium.

The porpoise, known as the white porpoise of St. Helena, S.C. Sound, was netted by William Baldwin, a Colleton County, S.C., shrimper, and Capt. Emil Hanson of the Seaquarium, on the ocean side of Otto Island.

Two rival hunting parties had pursued the porpoise, thought to be a rare albino, in the sound where the seaquarium's first porpoise, Carolina Snowball, was captured on Aug. 4, 1962. Carolina Snowball died in 1965.

Hanson described the new porpoise as "a beautiful specimen, two years old." It was flown to Miami aboard a chartered plane and Hanson said it will be used for genetic studies.

Hands Tell Agony Of Vietnamese

By EDDIE ADAMS
AP Staff Photographer

SAIGON (AP) — The agony of Vietnam is expressed in the hands of her people.

The gnarled fingers of an old man hold the outstretched palms of his blind wife, begging from passing Americans on a Saigon street.

The strong brown forefingers of a refugee, in one of the hundreds of camps scattered throughout the country grasp at the barbed wire entanglements that keep the curious out and him in his temporary home.

The bunched fist of a dead North Vietnamese soldier drags in the dirt, the once neatly trimmed fingernails now split and coated with mud.

Parachute cord ties the wrists of one Viet Cong prisoner, his hands crossed over his leg.

The thin, sensitive fingers of a Vietnamese medic press a bandage over the lacerated knuckles of one of his buddies. Blood drips unoticed over the medic's fingers.

The hands of Vietnam denote the country's pain and agony. But they show too some other aspects of this troubled land and its people, the laughter, grace, promise and skill of the country.

There is hope.

The tiny yet strong fingers of a Chinese housewife in the Cholon suburb of Saigon lay a crude brick in mortar as she rebuilds her home for the third time with the confidence that this will be the last.

An old woman who has lost her son in the war entwines her fingers around four lighted joss sticks and presses her forehead into her palms as she prays for the soul of her departed one.

There is, sometimes, a touch of the sweet life. Eager fingers grasp the stem of a champagne glass in a Saigon nightclub. The gleaming saphire on the ring finger gleams in the neon lights.

Then there are the hands that show the continuing cycle of life itself, despite war and turmoil.

Grasping the young shoots carefully between finger and thumb, his wrist tensed, the young farmer thrusts rice into the watery mud at the beginning of the planting season, using his hands and fingers in a technique that has not changed over the ages.

And there are the chubby, trusting fingers of the newborn child clutching at the outstretched forefinger of its loving mother, an international gesture that even in the midst of the bloody turmoil of Vietnam gives hope for a peaceful, less troubled future.

Experts Say Go Ahead— Be Nasty!

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Being nasty to your enemies may be good for you, temporarily, an international mental health conference was told Friday.

Two thousand delegates from 73 countries spent the final day of the 7th International Congress on Mental Health hearing that: Mankind may be basically committed to conflict, war is now considered one of the few manly arts in the United States, and campus demonstrations may relieve student hangups.

Group conflicts, Prof. Ronald Taft of Australia's Monash University contended, "may lead to a temporary improvement in some aspects of mental health."

Taft said that during student unrest on the University of California's Berkeley campus fewer students sought help from the university's counseling service, indicating heightened tension helped them forget personal problems. But after the demonstrations died down, he said, calls on counseling services reached new heights.

Prof. Anatol Rapoport of the University of Michigan said men may commit aggression through instinct, the way birds build nests. But he added, that very built-in characteristic may destroy mankind the way dinosaurs became extinc through their sheer size.

"In the United States," Rapoport said, "business, sports and now war are considered to be almost the only manly arts."

Yet war has become so mechanized and depersonalized that "it is difficult to imagine the modern instrumented war as an outburst of rage," he said.

The biggest danger, the Michigan professor said, is that large-scale conflict has become so impersonal it is now "indistinguishable from any other activity in a technologically oriented society."

Close Call For 10 Aboard Boat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Like many a sailing ship before her, a 38-foot cruiser with 10 people aboard rammed into Duxbury Reef 15 miles north of here Sunday in a fog.

The Sportsfisherman sank within minutes. Her 10 occupants scrambled on to rocks. But a Coast Guard cutter and helicopter couldn't find them in the fog.

The tide ebbed, and the 10 stranded persons picked their way to shore—only to find themselves on a narrow, cliff-rimmed beach.

Finally the Bolinas Bay Fire Department lowered ropes over the cliff, and hauled the 10 to safety.

Hardy Old-Timers Rely On Bible

LONE PINE, Calif. (AP) — What enables three septuagenarians to tramp to the summit of Mt. Whitney, the nation's second-highest mountain, passing scores of puffing hikers as they go?

"We try to follow the Bible's examples of good living habits," explained Hulda Crooks, 72, Loma Linda, Calif., after finishing her seventh climb up the 14,495-foot mountain in seven years.

She made the 11½-mile trek in 7½ hours Sunday with her brothers, Dr. Edward Hoehn, 75, Angwin, Calif., and Chris Haines, 77, Issaquah, Wash. All are vegetarians, nondrinkers, nonsmokers and Seventh Day Adventists.

Accepting Bids For 80 Head Of Buffalo

MOIESE, Mont. (AP) — Officials of the National Bison Range says they are going to sell 80 head of buffalo to anyone interested. The minimum bid is $235.

Sealed bids for the animals, being sold to maintain herd balance, will be accepted until Sept. 5.

OUR WOMEN VOLUNTEERS

Nation's Giant Works Force

By F. RICHARD CICCONE
Associated Press Writer

They push book carts through hospitals; help clean up slums; teach underprivileged children; ring doorbells for political candidates; iron clothes for orphans; feed foundlings; help in the fight against air pollution; collect money to fight diseases.

"They" are America's women volunteers, not rich and not paid; often joked about and virtually unheralded. They are so numerous it is almost impossible to count them, but they fill an estimated 80 million jobs.

There are 28 major health fund organizations alone which derive millions of volunteer hours from women each year. The Mother's March each year involves some two million women. In the peak years of the March of Dimes, women volunteers collected $15 million annually for polio research.

Women volunteer groups first budded in the waning days of the 19th century.

The early volunteers formed such groups as the Anti-Saloon League and the National Child Labor Committee. In 1890, many groups joined to organize the General Federation of Women's Clubs which today is the single, largest women's service organization with more than 11 million members in 54 countries. There are 15,700 clubs in the organization.

By the dawn of the 20th century, women were firmly entrenched in the club habit. They brushed off snide suggestions that volunteers were unwanted spinsters or unhappy wives and continued exploring social injustices and forming organizations to fight them.

Who is the volunteer woman?

Evelyn Byron, director of the Chicago Volunteer Service Bureau, has placed volunteers for more than 20 years.

"We have every category of woman," she said. "The teacher, the school girl, the career woman, the housewife. We get them all."

Elaine Whitelaw of the National Foundation in New York City said, "More and more young women of child-bearing age want to contribute to the social needs of their country."

"In the early years of this century," Miss Whitelaw said, "a part of our philanthropy was 'Lady Bountiful'—the well-to-do matron carrying a basket of food to the needy on Christmas. It was right for that time."

"World War II played an important part in shifting the emphasis of volunteer work. Millions of Americans representing the great middle class were in volunteer war work and they got involved," she said.

Mrs. Murray Mellicker of the Women's Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Kansas City has made some surveys of woman volunteers.

"There is a decline in the lodge type of activity as a source of self-expression for women. Women volunteers are growing increasingly professional. And competition is stiffer for volunteer offices. Once you had to browbeat a woman into taking a local PTA presidency."

Mrs. Mellicker said that "more affluence and leisure has also contributed to the increase of women volunteers. I also think there are more specific concerns. It doesn't make much sense to inoculate your children against diseases only to let them breathe bad air or eat vegetables loaded with insecticides. The only way a woman can try to protect her family against such hazards as radioactivity is to join a volunteer effort."

There are basically two types of volunteer work. One is direct service involving people-to-people contact. The other includes fund raising, office and clerical duties.

"Many persons think volunteer work is glamorous but we tell them it's serious. If a volunteer promises to go to a nursery and read to a child at a certain time, she must be there. But we can't hold a stick over their heads," Mrs. Byron said.

The woman hospital worker is probably the most familiar form of volunteer.

The American Hospital Association reported that in 1964—the last year for which it has figure — nearly 3,000 of 5,545 hospitals surveyed had auxiliaries comprised of volunteers. The membership totaled more than a million persons and 95 per cent were women. Adult volunteers alone contributed 33 million volunteer hours to hospitals in 1964.

Lucille Crawford, the director of volunteers of Chicago's Children's Memorial Hospital, which has 240 day volunteers and 60 night workers, said "Hospitals need to concern themselves with the dignity of a patient. The more automation in a hospital, the more it tends to be less humanized. Voluneers can fill this void."

Mrs. Meyer Mieselman of Highland Park drives 30 miles twice a week to work in the emergency ward at the Memorial hospital.

"What you see here you could never see anywhere else," she said. "Many people can't take this kind of involvement but I love children."

Mrs. Mieselman reared two daughters but she has been doing volunteer work 14 years.

"I never had any problems, even when the children were small. I always found a sitter. My husband thinks my volunteer work is wonderful."

Almost all of the women interviewed agreed with Mrs. Mieselman that their husbands have no objections to volunteer work.

"It makes me more interesting and more interested, less confined and not so dull," one woman said.

In 1968 many women skipped their routine volunteer duties to work for political candidates. More women than ever rang door bells, passed out petitions and held coffee klatches.

Irene Anderson, the wife of a Chicago advertising executive, stumped for the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy as well as keeping up her duties in other areas.

"I started volunteer work in a hospital several years ago. They put me on a gift cart. That was absolutely going nowhere. I wasn't stretching, broadening. For me, volunteer work has to be something educational," she said.

Mrs. Anderson is a member of the League of Women Voters; she also worked wieh the American Cancer Society and does work at home for the Metropolitan Housing and Planning Council.

"I'm an outgoing person and hospital work just didn't do anything for me. The planning council was something my husband was interested in, so I joined to have something to talk to him about at the end of the day."

Mary Jo Finch is a secretary for a public relations firm. She lives on Chicago's Near North Side where the city's night life thrives. She is young and single and not bored.

"I teach reading two hours a week to Puerto Rican children. It's part of CALM, the Chicago Area Lay Movement. It's doing something that gives you the satisfaction that office work doesn't. It commits you to something."

One of the most selfless kinds of personal service is the work of a friendly visitor.

Frances Carter, a retired widow, said, "I got started about 20 years ago when I saw an ad in the newspaper asking for people to read to elderly persons. My first work was in a nursing home. I used to visit a blind and deaf woman. We'd go for a walk and maybe I'd buy her a sandwich."

"She died," Mrs Carter said, "but I kept going back to the nursing home because I had made friends with other elderly persons."

Robert Louis Stevenson spent his honeymoon in Napa Valley, Calif. in 1880.
