O.P.A. Cracks Down On Tire Violators

A temporary order restraining the unauthorized delivery of passenger car and truck tires by a dealer was issued February 15, 1942, by Federal District Judge Luther B. Way in Norfolk, Va., in the first civil action brought by the Office of Price Administration under its tire rationing regulations, Leon Henderson, Administrator, announced.

The Norfolk order followed by less than 24 hours the indictment of Friday of an Indiana tire dealer by a Federal grand jury in Indianapolis in the first criminal action charging violation of OPA's rationing regulations.

Today's case arose when Smith-Douglass Company, Incorporated, filed a suit in the Norfolk Court of Law and Chancery to compel the Joyes Tire Company, a tire dealer, to deliver $1,427 worth of passenger car and truck tires alleged to have been purchased last August. All tire deliveries were "frozen" by the government on December 11, and, subsequently rationing regulations were put into effect prohibiting transfers of tires without eligibility certificates issued by local rationing boards.

The Indianapolis criminal indictment was returned on Friday by a special Federal Grand Jury less than a month after investigation of the case began by inspectors of the Office of Price Administration. The indictment contained eight counts and charged the LaSalle Motor Sales Corporation, Boonville, Ind., its president, Charles L. Hart; and its secretary-treasurer, Russell W. Baker, with violation of OPA's tire rationing regulations under Sections 35A and 37 of the U. S. Criminal Code. These sections deal with making false statements to the government and conspiracy to violate a Federal law. Conviction carries a penalty of not more than 10 years imprisonment and a maximum fine of $10,000, or both, for each violation.

Commenting on the Norfolk case, Price Administrator Leon Henderson stressed the importance of the country's tire reserves and his firm policy to prevent their dissipation. "In time of war, private rights in many cases must yield to public need," Mr. Henderson stated. "The Norfolk case involved pas-

Grand Jury Returns Thirty-Seven Bills

Warns Parents To Keep Children Out
Of Honky-Tonks

Lengthy deliberations of the Wichita County grand jury during the past three days on the subject of more effective law enforcement in the county resulted in the voting of 18 indictments Wednesday and the issuance of several succinct recommendations calling upon public and police alike to aid in protecting youth against the hazards of night life in the Wichita Falls area.

Signed by T. E. Shaw, foreman, the inquisitors' report tendered Judge Ernest M. Robertson in 89th district court asks that "young girls be kept off the streets at night unless they are there on legitimate business or are accompanied by their parents."

The inquisitors also recommended that the justices of the peace for precincts 2, 3 and 4, keep complete record of all fines collected and of all cases handled, and file such report with the county auditor regularly as required by law.

37 Bills Voted
During their three-month term, the grand jury heard 144 witnesses and voted 37 true bills of indictment.

Indictments returned Wednesday were as follows: Joe Cheatham, forgery, four cases; Jessie James Sessions, forgery and passing, two cases; Henry Bagley, assault to kill; Elvin Davis, robbery; Henry Branch Everett, robbery; Ray Kinder, accomplice to rape; Claude Shaw, burglary; Ned Releford, burglary; Floyd Holmes, burglary and theft, two cases; Buddy Mitchell, assault to kill; Willie Johnson, forgery and passing; and Raymond Chambers, burglary and repetition of offenses.

One defendant, indicted for child desertion, had not yet been arrested. W. R. Hill was the only Burk Burnett man on the jury.

Sims-Bloom Remove To Old Location

The Sims-Bloom Motor Co., local Ford dealers, have removed to their former location in the building with the Logan Electric located on Ave. C, one door south of the postoffice.

They will share offices in the front with the Logan Electric and the back will be utilized for their repair department. They also are installing a modern wash and grease rack and equipment which will enable them to give you a first-class wash and grease job, using only the proper grades and weights of grease for the lubrication of your car.

Jack Sims, local manager, extends an invitation to his friends, and customers to visit him at his new location.

Perhaps it has been years since you put all your gardening space and equipment to use! Now is the time to rescue it from the attic or garage—or if you do not have the proper equipment now is the time to get it. See the ads of the stores in town who have all kinds of garden tools and equipment for sale—inside these pages. Revival of interest in home vegetable growing for family consumption offers the garden maker another opportunity to serve his country. Mrs. A. A. Evert, Victor Van Loh and Miss Clara Kiesling are in charge of the "Victory Garden for Precinct 2, and they urge that every vacant lot and all available space to be planted in a garden this spring. The city has agreed to burn off the weeds of any vacant lot that will be planted in a garden, and Victor Van Loh has agreed to furnish a team for the plowing of same.

The City of Burk Burnett, the Chamber of Commerce and the United Gas Corporation are giving active support to this Victory Garden campaign. Mayor Frank Kelley has issued a proclamation declaring the month of March as "Victory Garden Planting Time," and urges all vacant lots be planted in vegetables this year.

It has been said that the man in the armed forces requires four times as much food as the average civilian. This being true, it will take a tremendous amount of food to keep our armed forces fighting. In view of this, the health of both civilian and fighter is a necessary factor in winning this war.

Our government is going to use every power at its command to see that there is no food shortage in this country and it has set up a department and a program to safeguard against it. The United States Department of Agriculture has outlined a comprehensive program to encourage the growing of food in this classification. This program, sponsored through various governmental agencies and organizations of city, county and state, stresses the planting of gardens and the canning of excess fruits and vegetables for later consumption.

The merchants whose ads appear in this week's Star are co-operating whole-heartedly in this garden-planting campaign and they urge that you purchase the highest quality of seeds obtainable. No garden seed should be wasted, so only enough should be planted to insure a perfect stand.

An army may march upon its stomach but when a young lady picks the stage for her life work she must depend upon her legs to carry her along.

AN OLD HOT DOG STORY

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs. He was hard of hearing so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers.

But he sold good hot dogs. He was a firm believer in advertising, so he put up signs along the highway advertising the merits of his hot dogs and he stood by the side of the road and cried:

"BUY A HOT DOG MISTER" (And people bought).

He increased his meat and bun order. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade. Finally business became so good that he brought his son home from the city to help him.

Then something happened. His son said:

"Father, haven't you been listening to the radio? Haven't you been reading the newspapers? There is a big depression on. The European situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse. Everything is going to pot."

Whereupon the father thought:

"Well, my son has been to college. He has lived in the city with big business men. He reads the papers and listens to the radio. He ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, curtailed his advertising and no longer bothered to stand by the roadside and call out his wares.

His sales fell off almost over night. He said to his boy:

"You were right, son, we certainly are in the middle of a great depression."

The success YOU have in your business depends largely on the enthusiasm and initiative with which YOU go after it!

MacArthur's Praise

There has been no lack of merited praise of General MacArthur by fellow Americans who are safe and comfortable at home, but recently the novelty of commendation originating with the commander on Bataan was contained in two news dispatches.

In one of them General MacArthur lauded the fearlessness of the Igorot tribesmen who rode atop American tanks in a battle of annihilation against the Japanese. The Igorots avenged the slaughter of 125 of their own men by wiping out a Japanese regiment of over 1,200 men, and for the seasoned soldier MacArthur, the spectacle was "sheer breath-taking and heart-stopping desperation."

In the other message, extending anniversary greetings to the Red Army, General MacArthur described the Russian counter-offensive, which was launched after the Nazi war machine had driven deeply into Russia, "as the greatest military achievement in all history."

These tributes to the courage of others came from the American soldier to whom valor unmindful of personal safety and selfish gain appears a cardinal virtue in a war of survival. Our vaunted civilization, which puts too great a premium upon personal advantage, will not bear comparison at this time with the primitive ways of Filipino tribesmen and backward Russian peasants who, despite their lack of material progress, are yet of the fibre demanded by modern war.

Partisanship leads politicians and newspaper editors into many absurd conclusions.

Congress has a few hard jobs ahead but seems unable to get expert advice in unison.

Educational experts make a mistake when they fit a school to the opinions of their students.

The war in Europe may not be our affair, as some people assert, but if Hitler ever manages to control Europe we will know the difference.

The cost of national defense indicates that, unless the world becomes stabilized, the chief burden of governments will be armaments.

Burkburnett History

As revealed by the files of The Star, 16 Years Ago.

The Burkburnett Board of Education at a recent meeting re-elected school officials for the coming year. Butler Westerfield was named superintendent of the school. Mr. Westerfield, who has been in the Burkburnett schools for the past 11 years has been superintendent for the last four years.

C. J. Duncan was re-elected principal of the High School. He has served in that capacity for four years, and has been in the Burkburnett schools for nine years.

H. Lee Clifton, head of the elementary grade schools, has been principal for four years and was re-elected. He has been connected with Burkburnett schools for 7 years.

E. Jeffers traded for a Ford coupe late Saturday afternoon, drove it to town Saturday night and parked it in front of Thaxton Brothers store about 8:00 o'clock. And at nine o'clock, when he started to drive home he found that he was minus a car.

Two nice gifts were received by the United Charities during the past week. Dudley Ellis contributed 1,100 pounds of flour and Wid Phillips two quarters of beef. These gifts were greatly appreciated and of much benefit to those in need.

Mammett Vance of Burkburnett reported yesterday for spring practice with the Shreveport base ball club, according to Postmaster Vaught, who received the contract for Vance.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Garland entertained a group of friends with a luncheon at their home Wednesday. Those who were present were: Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Reagan, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Fulks, Mrs. Willie Underwood, Ben Taylor and J. M. Chism.

Mrs. O. T. Kimbrough and her negro maid were overcome by carbon monoxide gas from stoves in the Kimbrough home at 2009 Victory Monday afternoon and narrowly escaped death.

Dr. I. D. Russell accompanied by Mrs. Russell, attended the semi-annual meeting Tuesday of the Northwest Texas District Medical Association holding its one-day session at the Wichita Club, Wichita Falls. Physicians and surgeons from 19 counties registered.

The cold weather failed to dampen the ardor of the rodeo visitors and participants at Burkburnett last Saturday, but it did curtail the attendance. However, between seven and eight hundred defied the weather and stood in the cold for two hours and watched the performance.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

Vigorous writing that carries one back to the days of old-time journalism was dashed off by "Whitey" Hicks, editor of the Glen Rose Reporter, recently:

We got bureaus to tell you how old a man is before he will quit looking. We got bureaus to tell you when an old maid will refuse to marry the first pair of breeches that proposes. We got bureaus to tell you when it is time to get up and go to bed. We got bureaus to tell you what you are thinking about and what you will be doing day after tomorrow.

We got bureaus to tell you when a June bug will June. They can tell you the size of an ant's naval. But not one committee, bureau, drawer or any other of the many knowledge hounds knew a thing about the facts of the size of the Jap navy; how many tanks they have; the size of their army, the number of airplanes, bombers, etc. They knew everything except what is worth a d—.

We are not criticizing our great leader and a few men who really know what it is all about. The President has been trying for years to get something done. Us common people are backing him 100 per cent.

Don't you shudder to think what Mr. Hicks will write—when he gets around to it—about this matter of granting exemption from military service to labor leaders simply because they are labor leaders? And similar exemption to the movie stars?

At last count, there were only 250 livery stables in the United States, doing a business of $1,372,000 annually. But they're due for an upswing. Incidentally, Governor Coke Stevenson says if the tire shortage means a horse-back campaign, he can "take it." In his youth, he operated a wagon freight line and he still rides a horse. (Of course, he probably would rather not have any campaign at all.)

Said the junior partner in a Beaumont law firm to his pretty stenographer, "Are you doing anything Sunday evening?" She replied, hopefully, "No, not a thing." He said, "Then try to be at the office earlier Monday morning, will you?"

You are one of more than a million persons who read this "column," which appears in over 200 Texas newspapers—nearly all of them weeklies in the small cities and towns. "I Give You Texas" started four years ago and, as the average length is 800 words, that means a total of around 166,000 words, the equivalent of two long novels. Not a week has been missed though the columnist might have been in Hollywood or New Orleans or Mexico City.

Actual writing of these "columns" takes about half an hour—plus 45 years of having lived. It's pounded out with two fingers on an ancient typewriter bought, appropriately enough, from a man who was a member of the crew that drilled the discovery well in the Ranger field, a subject on which this chronicler has written one whole book and part of another. The clatter of the old typewriter is inspiring and the resistance that the machine puts up is good physical exercise. I want no typewriter that is a pushover.

Nearly all the editors publishing the column send a copy of their papers and so 200 are scanned each week—(try that some Above you see a torpedo fired by an Axis sub off the island of Aruba. It missed its target and ran aground. Later the 18-foot missile exploded, killing four Dutchmen who were attempting to dismantle it. Inset: Lieut. Col. William Ratten, of the U. S. army, climbs a ladder to inspect a 4 by 6-inch dent in an oil tank on the island of Aruba following the torpedo and shelling attack of Axis subs.

Cavalry Still Potent Military Factor

It was thought for awhile the horse in war was a back number. The U. S. army never acknowledged that theory, and events in Russia, where Cossack cavalry continued to counter-attack when snow and intense cold immobilized tanks, seem to indicate that cavalry is still to be reckoned with. Above you see part of a cavalryman's training at Fort Riley, Kan., "West Point" of the cavalry area. Lieut. Col. George Caldwell is instructing student officers in the external regions of the horse.

Bomber Crew Commended for Sinking Sub

Letters of commendation were given the crew, the oldest of whom is 26. Officers are, l. to r., Brig. Gen. A. Krogstad, Rear Adm. A. Andress, and Lieut. Gen. Hugh Drum.

Household Hints

When using a double boiler, the food will cook more quickly if the water in the outer vessel is salted in the proportion of a fourth of a cup of salt to one quart of water.

A tablespoon of granulated sugar mixed with the fat or meat drippings of a pot roast gives the roast a brown color and adds flavor to the stock and gravy.

Leftover stock from cooked vegetables contains valuable minerals and vitamins. Save it to use in soups, stews, and sauces.

Always keep perfume in a dark place. Daylight will affect every odor differently, according to its formula. In extreme cases perfume turns bright red as soon as it has been exposed to the sun.

A siphon of charged water is an excellent fire extinguisher as the carbonic acid gas in the water helps to stifle the flames. The siphon can be tilted, and the fluid will carry to a considerable height such as the top of a blazing curtain.

Mike Begun Honored On 79th Birthday

Mike Begun was pleasantly surprised Monday night after the I.O.O.F. and Rebekah lodges were dismissed from their regular weekly meeting at the hall to find a large group of his friends and lodge members gathered in the reception rooms of the lodge hall to celebrate with him his 79th birthday. Mr. Begun has been a member of the I.O.O.F. lodge here in Burkburnett for the past 18 or 20 years and has been among one of their most faithful members and has helped in many ways to build the lodge to one of the best in this part of the country.

He was greeted to the reception by the group singing "Happy Birthday to Mike." Several ladies of the Rebekahs brought attractively decorated birthday cakes and he cut the cakes and was also presented with a beautiful smoking stand and a twelve-inch cigar. After the task of smoking the cigar Mike expressed his thanks to the group for having one of the most enjoyable times, and also for the gifts and thoughtfulness of his friends.

Mr. Starnes gave the invocation, and coffee and cake were served to those present.

Juniors To Present Three-Act Play

The Juniors will present "Lady Spitfire," a three-act comedy, in the High School auditorium, March 20, 1942, at 8:30 p. m.

Kay Sutton is the bone of her father's existence. He sent her to the Rutherford School for girls for the summer. Enroute to the school, Kay sends the dean a telegram saying that her father has changed his mind and is taking her to Europe; then she plans to elope with Henri. She loses her purse and stops at the school to try to get a lift. The school is in a deplorable state—some snobbish girls are planning to leave and without the well-known Kay Sutton's presence to bolster it up, Miss Prudence will have to close her school. Tom and Bud, a couple of college chaps doing odd jobs about the school, persuade Kay, whom they don't know, to pose as Kay Sutton. There are a near elopement, a grand party scene, and several hilariously funny incidents before everything is finally cleared up.

The cast include Miss Prudence, who owns the school, played by

Guns and Vitamins

...it takes both to win a war!

"AN ARMY TRAVELS ON ITS STOMACH"—this is one fundamental that has not been changed in the technique of war. Likewise our civilian defense cooperation can be no better than our physical ability to meet our wartime responsibilities. But all the food planning and careful marketing in the world cannot preserve healthful vitamins unless care is exercised in the preparation of the food for the table.

THE RIGHT KIND OF FOOD is especially important these days. It can mean the difference between giving your family foods rich in healthful vitamins—and serving meals that have very few vital elements. Vitamin saving is easier with modern gas cooking methods.

CLEAN FIXTURES GIVE MORE LIGHT!

HERE'S 3 TIMELY TIPS

- 1 Keep Bulbs and Shades Clean. Lamp bulbs, glass diffusing bowls and lamp shades collect a film of dust that greatly decreases the amount of light you receive. Use a damp cloth to keep bulbs and glass shades clean, and dust cloth and parchment shades frequently. You'll get as much as 20 per cent more light!
- 2 Use Light-Colored Shades. Lamp shades that are dark on the under side absorb light, while light-colored and white shade linings reflect light. Use shades on all lights, for they help direct more light on the book or newspaper you are reading.
- 3 Place the Light Near the Place it is Needed. The intensity of illumination decreases rapidly with the distance between the light and the object it creates. Keep your lamp as close as practical to maximum illumination.

Here are three easy and economical ways to get more light from your present electric lighting fixtures without any more electric current. They apply in the home, store, office or factory.

Belled the Amazons

The most ferocious female warriors in history were the 5,000 Amazons who formed a part of the army of Behanzin, the Negro king of Dahomey, West Africa, in the 1880s, says Collier's. Eventually, they grew to be so tough and quarrelsome that the king had to make them wear bells so that civilians would be warned of their approach.

That if you want to get the maximum taste from food, remember these tips: Bitter things taste more strongly on the rear of the tongue, sweet things on the tip, sour things on the sides, and salty things on both the tip and sides... That bad tempers are now blamed on a shortage of vitamin B1 in the diet... Whether you've heard the one about Count Ciano describing his Berlin visit to his father-in-law, Mussolini. "Hitler gave me a wonderful dinner," Ciano related. "Everything was solid gold—the plates, the knives, forks, spoons—all solid gold"... "That's nice," commented I Duce, holding out his hand. "Let me see!"

—Buy Defense Bonds— A French underground paper recently related this grand fable. The bishop of Bordeaux handed 50 francs to his secretary to give to a poor woman who had requested alms. The secretary protested, "Monsieur is perhaps unaware of the fact that the woman is a Jewess..." "A Jewess!" exclaimed the bishop. "Goodness me, that's altogether different. Give her one hundred francs and thank her for her confidence in Christian charity!"

—Buy Defense Bonds— Highbrows complain about the way swing music hurts the classics. But it's a matter of record that, because popular bands started to swing Tchaikovsky, the sale of that composer's records in the classic manner hit an all-time high... We'd like to see a celeb enter a joint some time without acting as if he were playing the star role at a coronation... Our idea of paradise is where everybody feels as good as a headwaiter looks... What's become of Technocracy?... The ditty, "I Don't Want to Walk Without You, Baby," is a friend of the ears when played in a slow tempo decorated with strings. When it comes dressed in brass it's an enemy.

—Buy Defense Bonds— The bad news the wireless has been pouring out all week from the South Pacific must put a pain in Goebbels' neck. How can he frighten us with threats of disaster, he must wonder, when our own commentators tell us the raw truth? The more we know the tougher it gets for the Axis liars and scaremongers... The Berlin radio soaped the Yellow Aryans by announcing that Wotan, the Heine god, and the Jap god are practically first cousins. That kind of slights the Italians, who must have become de-Aryanized when the Greeks shot the spots off them... The best of Jack Benny's stinginess gags was his denial that he forced Dennis Day to donate blood for a transfusion. Claimed Benny: "I paid him $5 a gallon for it"... Almost every time you flip on the radio, you're bound to hear some member of the theatrical profession siding some worthy war cause.

—Buy Defense Bonds— It actually happened not very long ago in Lindy's when pretty persons invaded the place and peddled defense stamps to the public... Seated at a table in the corner, alone, was a fellow the stamp sellers seemed to avoid... The customers stole furtive glances at him, but tried not to embarrass him. He was not in the least disturbed... Finishing his dinner, he went over to the cashier and paid his $2 check with a new $50 bill... Sweeping up the $48 change, he handed it to one of the stamp-selling ladies, tipped his hat and went out... Apparently an American-born Japanese.

—Buy Defense Bonds— Harvard boys say they don't like Betty Grable, Veronica Lake or Ann Sheridan. Playing hard to get, huh? Talk about bad timing. One radio show plays Hawaiian melodies accompanied by an announcer who drools about the peace and beauty of Hawaii... Here's a good typewriter ribbon from Olin Miller: "If this weren't such a crazy world, it wouldn't be such an interesting one..." Ben Bernie is doing his bit toward boosting the morale of the country. He isn't on the radio.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

BY HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for March 8 Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission. DISCOVERING WHY PEOPLE DRINK BEVERAGE ALCOHOL

Lesson Text—Genesis 43:34; Psalm 104:14, 15; Proverbs 31:4-7; Ecclesiastes 1:1-3, 10, 11; Isaiah 56:12; I Corinthians 10:6, 7. GOLDEN TEXT—Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.—Proverbs 30:1.

The alcohol problem receives attention in four lessons of each year. This is the first one for 1942 and brings before us a number of scriptures not often used, in order to suggest the drinker's reasons for drinking. Other matters appear, but we shall limit ourselves to presenting these reasons, together with the Christian answer to each one.

Why do men drink? I. To Be Sociable (Gen. 43:34). At the banquet prepared by Joseph the allowance for Benjamin was greatly increased, and they "drank and were merry." How often that has been the plea which has led into drinking and into drunkenness. The "social glass" has often led to the drunkard's grave.

Well, surely God wants us to be sociable. Yes, He does, and the perfect provision for man's social nature is found in Christian fellowship. II. To Be Happy (Ps. 104:14, 15). Wine is supposed to bring happiness, and we may admit that it does bring a temporary lift which some call happiness. But who is satisfied with happiness? It depends entirely on what "happens." If the wrong thing happens we are unhappy. We need a deep abiding joy, and only a right relationship to God can give that.

III. To Evade Responsibility (Prov. 31:4, 5). When life's burdens become too much for him the weakling seeks relief and evades his responsibilities in the deadening power of alcohol. But that doesn't solve the problem. It is still there when sobriety returns, and usually more serious than ever. What can a man do? The answer is, turn to God. He gives wisdom, grace and strength.

IV. To Forget Sorrow (Prov. 31:6). "Drown your sorrows" is the deceptive promise of liquor; but they stand right there beside man, and when his poor befuddled head begins to clear they present themselves more persistently than ever. What's the answer? The God of all comfort is ready to bear man's sorrows or to give him grace to bear them and to lead him out into a place of peace and victory.

V. To Forget Poverty (Prov. 31:7). Heavy is the affliction of poverty in a world of plenty. Sometimes it is the result of carelessness or of sin, but often it is the lot of those who are innocently caught in its grip. Men have tried to forget, to "drown" even this problem in drink, and have only made their poverty worse and more unbearable.

VI. To Find Satisfaction (Ecc. 2:1-3, 10, 11). The book of Ecclesiastes gives the account of a man "under the sun," that is, apart from God's guidance and blessing, seeking to satisfy the cravings of his heart in many ways. All of them prove vain, including the effort to find it in wine and in pleasure.

Frustrated souls often seek release through intoxicants. They gain a measure of liberty and a sense of mastery over power, but it is all as delusive as the dreams of grandeur of the insane. It is even worse, for it is a false condition, deliberately created and soon lost, together with lost character and decency of life. The morning after brings only the deepened despair of greater dissatisfaction.

VII. To Stimulate Hope (Isa. 56:12). A certain fearful looking forward to the time of judgment tends to dampen the drinker's enthusiasm. So he drinks more to reawaken in his heart the "hope" that tomorrow will not bring reckoning, but will be another "good" day. The world has no real hope, in fact, the word itself has lost its true meaning and indicates only a sort of wishful thinking. Is there any real hope? Oh, yes, and the Christian has it, hope that is a confident expectation of the fulfillment of God's every promise. That kind of hope takes care of tomorrow—and all the tomorrows.

VIII. To Encourage Play (I Cor. 10:6, 7). Paul warns against the folly of the "eat, drink, and be merry" philosophy. That road ends in disaster. Does not God want us to play? Indeed He does. He gave us the instinct for recreation. We need pleasant relaxation, and He has provided for us all the beauties of nature, all the pleasures of wholesome play, and all in the finest of fellowship with His people and with Himself. Thus we find real recreation—not just fun that leaves us empty and dissatisfied.

TWO CAN SING by JAMES M. CAIN

CHAPTER IX SYNOPSIS

Despite Leonard Borland's protests that his bank account is ample, though the contracting business in New York is dead, his pretty, opera-struck wife Doris resumes her "career."

"Wound, my eye! Leonard, nothing has happened! It's just something that can happen to anybody."

lowdown, so I just nodded, and we started out.

It was only four or five blocks away, so we walked. On the way, Doris kept damning Gwenny and all of Gwenny's friends under her breath.

So they were all crowding around her and wanted to know what it felt like to be a big headline.

"I flopped. I'm out. They gave me my notice."

"How could you flop?" "Oh please, please, don't ask me—it just breaks my heart. And now I can't go to Bermuda! Honestly, it's not the principle of the thing, it's the money."

She didn't lie about it, or pretend that she had done better than she had done or pretty it up in any way.

"I flopped. I'm out. They gave me my notice."

"Well, that's over. Was it all right?" "Perfect."

"Damn them."

"Just a few minutes, and we'll blow—We've still got my bag to unpack."

She nodded, and looked at me, and let her lashes drop over her eyes.

Lorentz came in. He didn't come over. He waved and smiled, and Doris waved back, but looked away quick.

"You glad to be back, Leonard? From Chicago—and the nursery?" "Yes. Are you?"

"So glad, Leonard, I could—cry." "I kept letting her hair fall over my face, and she was looking at me, and then all of a sudden she jumped up."

"Oh, hell! The cocktail party!" "What cocktail party?"

"Gwenny Blair's cocktail party. I said I'd drop in before the supper show, and I had completely forgotten it. The supper show—think of that! Wasn't I the darling little trouper then? My, that seems a long time ago. And it was only this morning."

"What! And have them think I'm dying of grief? I should say not! We're going, and we're going quick, so we can leave before the whole mob gets there. Hurry up! Get dressed!"

The last thing I wanted to do was to go to Gwenny Blair's cocktail party. I wanted to stay where I was, and inhale hair. There was nothing to it, though, but to get dressed. I began changing my clothes, and she began pulling things out and muttering, "No, not that. It's black, and looks like mourning..."

"Well, why not?" "A suit—that is, Casual; been out all day; just dropped in; got to run in a few minutes; lovely party—it will be, in the pig's eye. That's it—a suit."

I always loved Doris when she dropped the act and came out as the calculating little wretch that she really was. She heard me laugh, and laughed too. "Right."

"Quite right."

"How do I look?" "Now she looked like some nineteen-year-old flapper who had spent her first day at the races, cashed $27.50 on a $2 ticket, and was feeling just swell. But she didn't want hokey, she wanted the "Back there somewhere, in one of the bedrooms, probably! Hiding."

"From what?" "You, I think."

"Leonard, what is this? She wants to meet me, she's hiding from me—what are you getting at?"

"Gwenny asked you, as a big favor to her. But Gwenny hadn't heard about the flop, and, on account of the flop, she'd rather not. Just—prefers some other time."

"And that's all?" "Yeah, but it was an awful flop."

"You're sure you haven't told her about me? Gone and got all full of contrition, and made a clean breast of it and wiped the slate clean—have you? Have you?"

"No, not a word."

Skylarkers Looking for the Moon

Brian Aherne's cheek as the smooth, nery interloper between Ray Milland and his wife, Claudette Colbert, in Paramount's raciest comedy romance of the year, "Skylark," which opens Friday at the Palace Theatre, is the result of spending several romantic nights showing lovely Claudette the moon.

class in buying defense stamps. Martin had one bond bought before we started the stamp campaign and has finished another album. (McGinnis H7-3).

Gordon Jeffers, Richard Hall, and Joyce Mills have bought more defense stamps than any other pupils in our room. We have finished studying about the War of 1812, which we fought with England. We think that Oliver Perry and James Lawrence were very brave. We also admire Gen. Andrew Jackson and enjoyed reading about his way in which he acquired the name of "Old Hickory." (Gibson H6-2).

This week the seventh graders are going to make fire prevention posters. The best posters from each class will be kept for the exhibit in the spring. This past week the 8th grade and 5th grade wrote fire prevention themes. Each class discussed the many ways of preventing fires. Robert Darland, Lonnie Freeman and Betty Low Savage were absent most of last week. The only person who bought defense stamps last week was Denorthe Bradshaw. (Goodwin L8-3).

Our program had to be postponed on account of the illness of several children. We hope to give it Friday, March 6. Our class bought five dollars worth of defense stamps last week. Douglas Shaffer's name was added to our chart. Irven DeVore is leading in the number of defense stamps purchased at school. Shirley Stradley has bought the next largest amount. (Lasseter.) Our room made P.T.A. invitations in art class last week. The invitations were made to represent umbrellas. This week, we are going to draw story illustrations. We are going to write letters, this week to Mary Joyce Butts, who has been absent from school more than a month, due to a serious illness. (Isbell).

Boys from the intramural softball teams are being selected to represent Hardin Grade school in the county tournament. (Short).

A quartet composed of Sadie Beth Tevis, Peggy Dot Busby, Peggy Kemp, and Clara Mae Parker, accompanied by Dorothy Browning sang several numbers at the County Federation of Women's clubs. Forty students were selected from the Hardin Grade school to represent this school in the county meet. (Allen H7-1).

In the contest between the three seventh grade sections the H7-2 section is in second place with a total of $21.35 defense stamps. Our section lost two very good students this week, Delores Mallette and Norma Jean Lloyd. However, we gained another student, Joline Wellington. The 7th grade has been having penmanship every day for the last few days in order to practice more for their penmanship certificates. A paper from each student will be sent to experts next week to be judged. (McSween H7-2).

The absences have continued in this section this week due to chicken pox and flu. We have taken up a new primer this week, "Good Companions." The students are enjoying it immensely as it is about pets. Those that have bought defense stamps this week are Billy Roy Shirley, George Powell, Wynona Reed, and Paul Jennings. (Mrs. Walling H1-2).

We are glad to have Shirley June Berringer, Norman Dodson, Billy Lundberg, Melvin Ramos, Kenneth Riley, Wanda Lue Peters, and Patsy Ann Stradley back in school after being absent several days with chickenpox. Don-aid Wills was confined to his home last week with a cold. Kay Harris, who has been ill for three weeks, is up and will soon be back in school. The first grade sections are enjoying a new primer, "Good Companions," which is about a monkey named Jacko. (Billingslea H1-1).

Wayne Lick has withdrawn from school. He is moving to California. Eva Joe Dickson and M. H. Simmons were absent last week due to illness. We have two new library books, they are: "Wag, A Friendly Dog" and "Playing With Pets." (Robertson H1-3).

We are sorry several members of our class have the chickenpox. We hope they will soon be back in school. We are writing paragraph stories in our language class this week. Two interesting paragraphs written are:

"GATHERING NUTS"
"One Saturday last fall I went with my uncle and aunt to gather nuts. We saw other people gathering nuts. There were little squirrels and big squirrels. They were gathering nuts for winter use. We saw some squirrels eating nuts. We gathered a big sack full of pecans. I had a nice time. We hope to gather nuts again sometime.—By Virginia Millar."
"THE BABY AT OUR HOUSE"
"At our house we have a baby. His name is John. He was two years old last Friday. He got a hammer for his birthday. He likes to hit us with it. He likes to ride horses. Last summer he rode Billy, our pony, by himself. He plays with our dog, Napoleon. He kisses and hugs our dog sometimes. He likes to ride on my back. We often say he was born in the saddle. I like our baby very much.—Joe Dale Sampson. (Solomon)."

Our section had charge of the assembly program last Friday.

Wanda Jo Ludington played a piano solo, after which everyone pledged allegiance to the flag and sang several patriotic songs. A group of cadets from Sheppard Field furnished entertainment for the balance of the program. (Ashton).

Our section has bought $40.75 worth of defense stamps. We have made a poster for our bulletin board to bear the names of those who buy stamps and a star for each stamp bought. We received three new books for our library this week making a total of seven new books in the last two weeks. (Doty).

We have worked out a new way of buying stamps here at high school. We are taking orders for them on Thursday through a stamp clerk elected by the room and then on Tuesday we send our room clerk down to get the stamps. We elected Betty Steinert as our room clerk, and we feel that this will help us to sell more stamps than before. (Abbott).

The air raid drill this week was a great success. Our position is the south end of the auditorium under the balcony. One reason our drill was carried out so marvelously was, we realize how vital it is for us to protect ourselves and others. Therefore each one tries to do his part during this vital time of our life. (Beck).
