Q-Has Borden County had their election on School Finance Bill 7 and if so, how did they vote to "share their wealth"?

A-They voted to send money or purchase credits from the state. However, the district is working on another election for Option 4, which would allow the school to contract with Snyder, Lamesa and other schools.

Dominate Hawley...

Wolves cruise to 32-0 victory

By: Cliff Vlasin

The Colorado City Wolves showed up in the red Friday night in their 32-0 season-opening victory over the Hawley Bearcats.

Sporting shiny-new red uniforms, the Wolves rode a red-hot rushing attack that piled up 313 yards as the home team dominated from the opening kickoff.

Ashley Walthall and Frank Perez accounted for 285 yards of those yards as they took turns following excellent blocking.

Walthall scored all but one of the Wolves five touchdowns on the night, piling up 135 yards in 11 carries while Perez pounded out 150 yards on 14 carries.

Wolf Coach Mark Howeth felt much of the credit for the strong showing should go to the offensive line. Senior Ron West and Joseph Lucra anchored a line that featured four players, freshman Mark Sanchez and sophomores Jeff Hill, Lynn Boyd, and Phillip Garcia, in their first-ever varsity competition.

"I think if you had to give credit, that's the place I'd start," Howeth said. "Now, Frank and Ashley had some excellent runs, but we had holes up on the line of scrimmage all night long. The kids up front did a good job."

The Wolves began their dominance on their first possession. After stopping Hawley cold, they took possession at midfield and drove 50 yards in 10 plays with Walthall punching it over from the two-yard line at the 5:56 mark of the first quarter. The center snap was bobbled on the extra point, leaving the Wolves up 6-0.

Colorado City extended that lead to 14-0 just four plays later when a Bearcat pitchout went awry and sophomore defensive end Josh Holstine, also in his first varsity contest, pounced on it in the end zone for the score. Quarterback Jason Castillo then found Daniel Silva in the end zone for the two-point conversion.

Stanton to be tough match for Wolves

The Stanton Buffaloes come to town Friday night and they'll be looking for revenge against the Colorado City Wolves who dealt them a 14-13 loss on their home turf last year.

The game in Stanton was one of the most exciting of the season for the red and black as they put on two goal line stands in the final minutes of the game and blocked a field goal to preserve the one-point victory.

Head coach Mark Howeth said this year may be just as tough since Stanton returns two outstanding running backs who dealt all their opponents misery last season and still are as they led the Buffaloes to a season-opening win over O'Donnell, 47-0.

Ricky Lucas rushed for 164 yards on 17 carries Friday and their full back, Jerele Lee rushed for 117 on 12 carries in their win.

Third-year coach Bill Grisson said his team would be basically a running offense and would throw a pass only occasionally. Against O'Donnell, the Buffaloes completed 5 of 9 pass attempts with one touchdown for the night.

Although the Wolves completely dominated Hawley, Howeth said there were some rough areas they were hoping to smooth out before the 8 p.m. kickoff Friday night.

"I think it will be another dog fight like last year," said Howeth.

Police Chief listed as defendent in case

Colorado City Police Chief David Montgomery was recently served legal papers saying he was a defendant in a lawsuit concerning a bill that was passed by the Texas Legislature in their last session.

"Me and probably every other Police Chief and District Attorney in the state received notice as being defendants in the suit," said Montgomery. "It was filed in reference to House Bill 272-Section 47.

Montgomery was included in this suit because he would be the one to enforce the law. This new law restricts the access to accident reports used by data services to obtain information. It also says the reports are to be kept confidential for 180 days to all except insurance companies and the news media.

"The purpose of the law is to prevent victims from being harassed by persons in some fashion," said the Police Chief. "This is a big problem in larger towns and a real disservice to the families involved."

However, a federal judge in Houston has blocked enforcement of the law for the present time and a hearing on it has been set for September 13. The law is being challenged for equal protection violations because it allows some people immediate access to information, while denying others that right.

Whether or not Montgomery and other police chiefs are liable would also be up to the judge and if he rules they are, then the city must ante up the judge rules for the plaintiffs.

The suit also challenges the constitutionality of the state's new barratry statute that a provision requiring lawyers and others to wait 31 days before writing letters offering their services to accident victims or persons arrested for a crime.

Police Committee to "fine-tune" policy

The Police Committee of the Colorado City city council met in an executive session for an hour-and-a-half Tuesday evening and after convening in open session, the chairman of the committee - Jim Baum - said no action was taken in the closed session. No votes were taken after the meeting was open to the public but Baum said the committee intended to "fine tune" the policy on police officers working at other jobs when they are not on duty.

Immediately following the conclusion of the committee meeting, the entire council convened for a public hearing on the new tax rate for the coming year.

No citizens were present at the meeting and the council will formally vote on the tax rate at their next council meeting this coming Tuesday. The proposed rate is $0.3763 - up from the rate last year of $0.3438.

Congressmen Lamar Smith, Henry Bonilla, and Charles Stenholm are pleased to announce they will sponsor an Academy Day orientation for all high school students interested in learning about their opportunities to acquire an education at one of the U.S. Service Academies. The event will be held September 26 on the Angelo State University Campus in San Angelo.

A nomination is mandatory for any young person before he or she can be appointed to any of the Department of Defense academies. The four academies which require a nomination are the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs and the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point.

To be eligible, a young person must be between 17 and 21 years of age, unmarried and have no legal obligations for children or other dependents, and be a citizen of the United States. CHIEF LONE WOLF

BY JIM BAUM

The year was 1908. John Mahon was ten years old and he moved with his family from Mahon, Louisiana, to Loraine, Texas. In time, he would own J.B. Mahon's Grocery, Market and GMC. Well, maybe that wasn't the official name, but J.B. is remembered for selling unbelievably good sausage and GMC trucks.

Mahon's Grocery was located where Green's Grocery is now; smack dab downtown in Loraine. Ol' J.B. made his sausage in his market and he even had a sort of mail order business as folks wrote asking him to ship them several pounds of his delicacy.

"My mother made the sacks to put the sausage in," Royce Mahon, now 70 years old, remembers. And, when trucks were hard to get, back in the 1930's, J.B. always seemed to have a source for getting them.

"People accused him of bribing GMC representatives with his sausage," Mahon laughingly told us. "Salesmen would come through and they would hurrah him because he could pretty well always get pickups when other dealers couldn't."

That held true during World War II, also. "During the war he had three GMC's and the government froze sales on them," Mahon remembers. So, his father stored the pickup trucks in the rear of a building near his grocery store.

"He jacked them up and put blocks under the trucks so the tires and wheels wouldn't be on the ground. Then he made some tarps out of children feed sacks, sewed them together and spread them over the trucks to protect them."

And there they set until after the war when Uncle Sam allowed dealers to resume selling vehicles. That's when J.B. Mahon decided to move his dealership to Colorado City and add Plymouth and Chryslers to his GMC line.

After the war, cars could be sold for a bonus as waiting lists quickly developed. However, Mahon refused to ask or accept any more money than the fair market value of his cars. The first car Mahon Motor Company delivered in Colorado City after the war went to Lt. Duff Chesney. It was a 1946 four door Plymouth Special Deluxe.

"Duff and I went into the service at the same time," Royce Mahon recalls. "We left the same day and there was a whole bus load of us. George Witten was also in that group, but when we got to Mineral Wells we were all seperated."

The first car bought in Loraine following the war was purchased by Ray Preston. Royce remembers that one too. It was a one seat coupe. But, there was one sale Mahon remembers more than any other. The episode also resulted in his learning a valuable lesson from his father.

"I sold a lady a real clean used Plymouth and I got $300 or $400 more than what the regular price would have been. My dad made me give her the $300 back because it was more than the price it was supposed to sell for. He didn't think it was right. I learned a little after I had to give that money back."

Running Mahon's Grocery and motor company was pretty much a family operation. Brothers Eldon, Royce, Bryan and Gordon, along with sister Melba, were all expected to pitch in and help.

Royce remembers one time his dad had ordered two new pickups and the entire Mahon family went to Pontiac, Michigan, to get the vehicles. Coming back to Texas, Eldon drove one GMC (he was 19 years old) and Royce rode with him as they towed the second pickup. Mom and dad Mahon followed with the rest of the brood in the family car.

"We got to the Oklahoma border and they were going to charge us quite a bit (in toll fees) to pull the second truck, so we unhooked that pickup and I drove it back to Texas. And I was 14 years old!!

Actually, it wasn't quite that easy. Royce had his five year old brother Gordon with him and somehow they ended up in Chickasha, Oklahoma, which wasn't the planned route.

"I knew I was lost so I noticed a police station and I told them what had happened. They called back to another town in Oklahoma and told the police I was in Chicasha."

The authorities managed to find the rest of the Mahon entourage and told them where Royce and Bryan were. A couple of years later J.B. Mahon sold the Loraine school district two new bus chassis'. Royce and Plez Beaty, meatcutters at Mahon Grocery, went to Michigan to get the vehicles.

"We drove those things back to Dallas and they didn't have windshields nor seats. There wasn't anything on there for comfort."

After driving a short distance sitting on the chassis gas tank, the two Texans had just about all they could handle.

"The bugs were just eating us up," Mahon recalls. "We stopped and spent the night in a motel and the next morning we got up and picked up some town sacks."

Mahon says farmers in that area were cutting hay, "so we filled four sacks and made a cushion (to sit on). Then we bought some goggles. We couldn't see or talk because of the bugs."

The end of Mahon Motors came in the early 1950's. By then pop Mahon had built a new building at third and chestnut, but Royce says, "Dad was wanting to retire and I kinda wanted to farm." They sold the dealership to Frank Deregibus. Now retired, Royce still has a warm spot in his heart for GMC trucks. "In fact," he adds, "that's what I'm still driving. A 1985 model."

Mr. Mahon died in 1970 at the age of 72. "He was just as honest as he could be and he didn't want to get to anybody in any kind of way. And that's what he taught us," Royce states.

J.B. would be proud to hear his son say that.

Berman to speak at Old Timer's Reunion

Harold Berman, native Colorado Citian, will be the speaker at this year's Old Timer's Reunion, set September 18 at the C.C. Thompson Room.

Berman is a native of Colorado City. He would like to be able to say he was born and raised here, but, unfortunately, his birth is registered in Sweetwater.

He is the son of Alice and H.I. Berman, who married and settled here in 1924. He has two younger brothers, the Berman twins, who were born at home in Colorado City in 1929.

Harold attended public school and graduated as valedictorian of the 1942 class of Colorado High School. He immediately went to the University of Texas in Austin at the age of 15, and eventually graduated with a BA in government and economics in 1947. His undergraduate education was interrupted when the Colorado City draft board called his number in 1944, shortly after he reached the age of 18. After taking basic training at Camp Hood, he was sent to the University of Chicago where the Army instructed him in the Japanese language. He eventually was sent to Japan as a censor in General MacArthur's headquarters. After being discharged in late 1946, Harold returned to Austin and completed his undergraduate work for his degree.

After graduation, Harold went to Harvard Law School where he received his law degree in 1950. He was licensed to practice law in Texas immediately after graduation and has continued in the practice of law in Dallas from that date until now. He is a member of the firm of Berman & Mitchell and has a practice of general civil work. He has been certified in the field of estate planning and probate.

Harold has devoted a great part of his life to his college fraternity, Alpha Epsilon Pi, and served as its national president in 1968 and 1969. He has received that fraternity's highest awards, and is presently acting as its general counsel. He has also had great interest in both the National Club Association and the Texas Club Association. He has served as the president of both organizations and continues on their respective Boards of Directors.

Harold began playing golf at the Colorado Country Club when he was 12 years old. He is still an avid golfer and can boast playing golf courses all over the world.

Harold is married to Lyn and they have, between them, three children. They have no grandchildren yet, but they do have three grandpuppies.

This notice is required by the Texas Legislature

* The percentage increase shown in the first paragraph below may appear unusually high because it does not reflect 1992 taxes levied by the now-abolished county education district (CED). In 1992, the CED levied a portion of the taxes used for school purposes, and the school district levied the remainder of school taxes. In 1993, school districts will levy all school taxes. For an explanation of the increase, attend the public hearing scheduled below or call your school district

Notice of Public Hearing on Tax Increase

The Westbrook ISD will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1993 by 121.3* percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property. The public hearing will be held on September 16, 1993 at 7:30 p.m.

FOR the proposal: Bruce Rich, Cleburne Rich, Warren Zant and Elton Carlile
AGAINST the proposal: None
PRESENT and not voting: None
ABSENT: Clyde Gregory, Steve Rollins and W.E. Smith, Jr.

The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

(Optional)

	Last Year County Education District	Last Year School District	This Year School District
Average home value	$12,666.00	$12,666.00	$12,883.00
General exemptions available (Amount available on the average home, not including senior citizens' or disabled persons' exemptions)	$10,000.00	$10,000.00	$10,000.00
Average taxable value	$ 2,666.00	$ 2,666.00	$ 2,883.00
Tax rate	$ .9420	$ .6732/$100	$ 1.4899/$100
Tax rate	$ 25.11	$ 17.95	$ 42.95
(Optional) Total 1992 School Taxes	$ 43.06	(Optional) Total 1992 School Taxes	$ 42.95

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would decrease by $.11 or .2% percent compared with last year's total school taxes. Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would decrease by $12.53 per $100 of taxable value or 8.13 percent compared to last year's total school tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

(All school districts must publish the following):
This paragraph compares last year's school district tax with this year's proposed school district taxes:

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by $25.00 or 139.270 percent compared with last year's school district taxes. Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the school district tax rate would increase by $.8167 per $100 of taxable value or 121.3 percent compared to last year's school district tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Westbrook Independent School District Explanation of Conversion from County Education District Taxes

County Education Districts (CED) have been abolished. In order to compare school tax rates from last year to this year, it is necessary to compare the combined school tax rate below to the school district's proposed tax rate for this year.

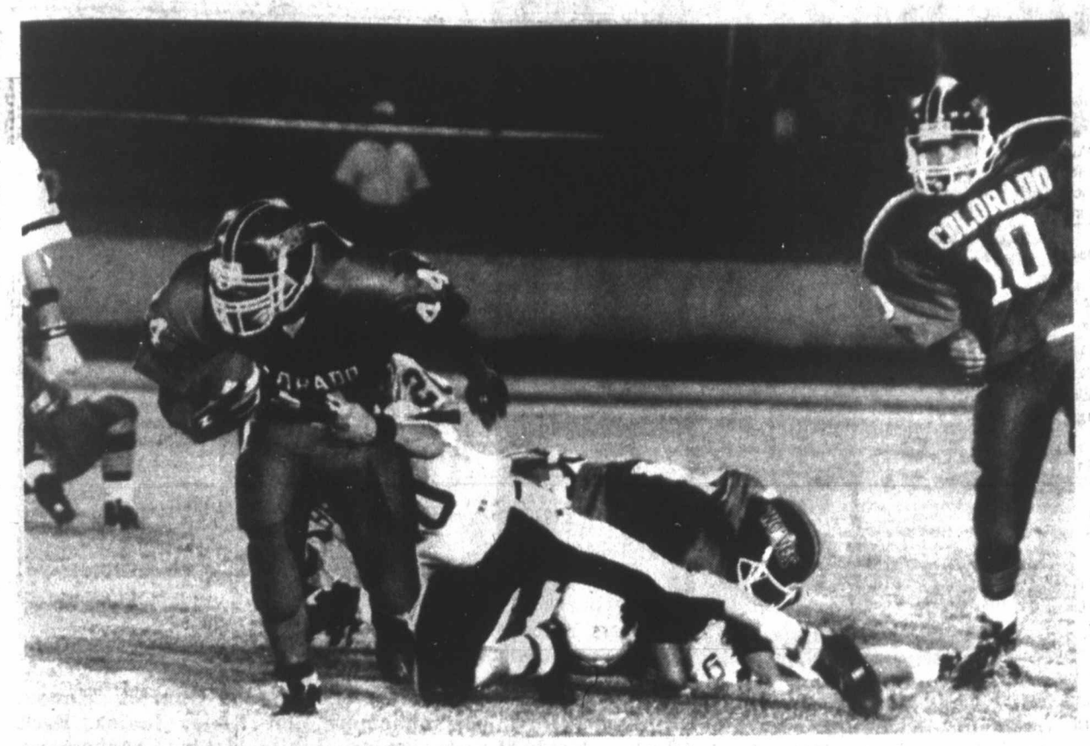
Last year the Westbrook Independent School District's tax rate was $.6732.

Last year the Mitchell County Education District's (CED) tax rate was $.9420.

The combined School District and County Education District tax rate was $1.6152.

The proposed tax rate for the Westbrook Independent School District for this year is $1.4899.

THIS REPRESENTS A DECREASE IN WESTBROOK INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT'S TAX RATE THIS YEAR OF $.125.



HE'S LOOSE. Senior fullback Frank Perez (44) takes a handoff from Jason Castillo (10), gets a block from Gary Whisenhunt (74), and breaks a Hawley Bearcat arm tackle for part of his 150 yards rushing in the Wolves 32-0 win.

WOLVES

The first quarter ended with the Wolves up 14-0, but the first play of the second period padded the lead even more when Walthall, after bobbling a Bearcat punt, found the handle, cut to the left sideline and streaked 75 yards for his second tally of the night. Again, the kick failed and with 11:41 left in the first half, the men in red were up 20-0.

The Wolves scored once more in the second quarter, again on a long run by Walthall, this time a 75-yard scamper on a second-and eight play from the Colorado City 25. A two-point attempt was unsuccessful.

Walthall added his fourth TD at the 1:59 mark of the third quarter on a 5-yard run that capped a 10-play Wolf drive highlighted by a 17-yard run by sophomore Frank Espinoza.

Howeth was also pleased with the defensie effort, especially that of 240-pound senior Ron West "If you looked at Ron on film, he'd look like a highlight film," he said "He was just whipping folks, throwing them around and making plays. I was really pleased with that."

The Wolf coach felt that the return of junior Frank Casares to the team set off a chain reaction that made a major difference as well. "That was a big part of it," he said.

"Frank came back and played some at the linebacker spot, and when we did that we were able to move Joseph Luera back to a tackle, which shored us up. We had Perez and West and Luera up front.

"Those three guys have got to hold the line of scrimmage for us, and if they can do that, then our linebacker can run and that makes a world of difference," he added.

The end result for Colorado City was some much-needed experience for some very young players. Howeth admitted that even he didn't realize just how inexperienced this squad was until just before gametime.

"I kind of made a little survey of how many were in their first Friday night contest, and it was a big number of kids," he remembered. "So, it was a good experience for them. They had fun and they saw what it was all about."

"You talk to them about the band playing before the ball game, the cheerleaders and the fans in the stands, and the newspapers and the video cameras rolling on them, and some of them get a little intense and excited about that and don't know how to respond to it exactly. But, they fell in there and did a pretty good job," he said.

Hunter education course scheduled for Sept. 11 and 12

A course in hunter education has been scheduled for September 11 and 12, 1993, from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on the 12th, according to Gene and Nancy Bowlin, volunteer Hunter Education Instructors.

"According to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's mandatory requirements, every Texas hunter born on or after September 2, 1971, must successfully complete a Hunter Education Training Course. However, any individual may take the course on a voluntary basis and is encouraged to attend regardless of requirements," according to Gene Bowlin.

"The course is open to adults and youngsters and will include instructions in firearms and archery handling and safety; outdoor responsibility and ethics; laws and regulations; conservation; hunting traditions; wildlife identification; field care of game; wilderness first aid and survival," Bowlin added.

Students 12 years of age or older successfully completing the course will be issued a hunter education certificate from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Those less than 12 years of age will receive a certificate of attendance, but must take the course again for proper certification. Cost of the course is $5.00, which covers the cost of the classroom materials and the certificate.

Class size is limited and those who pre-register will be given preference over walk-ins. For information about the location of the class and pre-registration, contact Gene or Nancy Bowlin at 573-2323.

Bass Club to hold Tourney

The Colorado City Bass Club has scheduled its annual tournament for Saturday, September 11 and both area lakes - Champion and Lake Colorado City - can be fished during the tournament.

They will have a guaranteed $2000 first place prize and up to $6000 in cash prizes could be awarded.

LORAINE PERSONALS

...BY LOIS PHILLIPS

"They said it couldn't be done, but he did it."

I am sure when Mrs. Abbott gave birth to a son twenty five years ago, whom she named Jim, she never even ever dreamed he would be a great baseball pitcher. You see her young son was born without a right hand. But then you know that he pitched a no hitter. His parents must have been very supportive since he accomplished what guys with both hands and could never do. You would think that it could never be done but it was. The nice thing is all who know him say he is always the perfect gentleman or the class act in every way. We wish him all the luck in the world. I am sure every little boy from T-Ball on up really have a great admiration for him and wish him well.

***

Monday about lunch time we went out to Scott's to eat lunch. There we met a bunch of boys leaving. They had been to get something to drink. We complimented them on our Friday night game. I am sure everyone who saw them thought they did well. The ball team sends you an invitation to our Homecoming game Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. up on the hill. They are going to do there best to win for the home folks, also the homecoming crowd so come on out I know they are going to give their best. Let's give ours!

***

Don't forget to be at the city park at 9:00 Saturday morning if you plan to be a part of the parade. If you have something to enter call Mary Helen Gomez at 737-2726 she will appreciate it. Also if you can work on a float anytime, then also call Mary Helen. She needs help in this project. I appreciate this group who are trying to have something extra this year. They say "we are not dead on the vine just yet."

***

After the parade you will go to the high school for registration and visiting. At 12:00 noon lunch will be served at $6.00 a plate. A class party is scheduled at Mike Givens starting at 5 p.m. If you graduated in the 1973 class with Mike Givens you need to go and enjoy this.

***

Danny Butler ,and his wife, Pam want to remind you they want the class of 1968 to go home with them after the game for your 25th reunion and I am sure they have prepared something with your hunger in mind and I have been told of a few things that they have in mind so be sure you go and visit with a lot of these people who are coming. Louis Rose called from wherever he lives to say he would sure be here.

***

Westbrook came over on Thursday night and gave our Junior Varsity a good thrashing, we won't make any excuse but we have a lot of injuries.

We have a new coach this year. He is Rick Cooper and is in his first year as a coach. He has lived in our town several years. He and his wife have two children. His son Richard Cooper is a member of our ball team. Their daughter is Amanda and mom is Isabel.

Also Karen Hackfeld is sponsor of our cheerleaders. They do a good job also. Girls you sure did look cute in your uniforms, especially "old Troubles". I am sure she did not get cold Friday night. The other girls are Amber Blair, Amber Chavez, Kamie Lamb, Kahla Lamb and Angie Martinez with Natasha Atkins. The bulldog's name is "Troubles".

Graveside rights were held for Otho Scarbrough last week following a long illness. He is survived by his wife Opal of Colorado City, two sons Albert of Abilene, Troy of Castorville, one brother Parvin Scarbrough of Artesia, one sister Gladys Payne of Loraine and four grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

I watched a good bit of the telethon Monday and I always come away with a lot of thankfulness in my heart for a healthy family and pray that someday very soon there will be a breakthrough to Muscular diseases. My sister has a muscular disease and there is no cure for it so far. Right now she is loosing a little ground but since she now knows about her disease she knows when a set back is coming on so she consults with her doctors and they can most of the time keep her from loosing as much as she might have. We are very thankful for that but pray everyday for a breakthrough, also thankful that she is as well as she is.

Visiting Roy and Mary Helen Price on the week-end was Lavada Brooks of Abilene. She is Mary Helens sister.

M.D. and Doris Hall of Stanton came to visit the Price's on Sunday. She is Roy's sister.

***

Dinner guests in Iris Preston's home Thursday evening were Ben and Matt Preston and a friend Amy McShan. All three are students at H.S.U.

***

Chris Hall of Scottsboro, Alabama and his father-in-law Orville Mow of Lubbock were guests of Chrsytene Hall this week-end.

Doug and Clara Foshie were in town on the week-end to visit their friends. They stayed with the Phillips. Doug was looking for a bird lease, don't know if he found a place or not. Clara brought along her birddog. I think it is still a puppy.

THIS NOTICE CONCERNS 1993 PROPERTY TAX RATES FOR LORAINE ISD. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the school district used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the school district can set before it must hold a rollback election. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes and state funds by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

	Last year's operating taxes	$ 84,010.00
	Last year's debt taxes	$ 69,990.00

=	This year's effective tax rate	$.6730/$100
x	1.03 = maximum rate unless the school district publishes notices and holds hearing	$.6931/$100

1,000 bills passed during last legislature

Some work of Texas lawmakers took effect the last week of August from more than 1,000 bills passed during the 1993 regular session of the State Legislature.

The legislative session ran from January 12 through May 31, in which time bills concerning tattooists, criminal justice, health services, business and much more were passed. More than 100 of these bills were enacted September 1.

Many laws passed by the state are designed to protect the welfare of children, including increased fines for passing a school bus while the warning lights are flashing. Previously, the fine levied between $50 and $200, but now violators can expect to pay $200 to $1,000 and a possibility of a six-month suspension of their driver's license.

Other laws concerning child safety include making the murder of a child under the age of six a capital offense, making childhood immunizations more available and suspending the driver's license of a minor caught driving while intoxicated.

Tattooist are now required to obtain a state license and comply with safety standards.

Renters should begin to feel safer in their apartments due to the new law stating all rental property must have security devices. These devices include keyless deadbolts, peepholes and a locking device on sliding glass doors, in addition to the locks already on these doors.

More new laws becoming effective this week include:

Criminal justice laws:

*An increase from 35 years to 40 years for minimum number of years an inmate must serve on a life sentence for capital murder.

*An increase in the minimum number of years an inmate convicted of a violent crime using a weapon, before consideration of parole, from 15 years to 20 years.

*An increased punishment for drug or weapon violations near schools and other child-related areas.

*An increased punishment for all crimes motivated by bias or prejudice to the next highest offense. In the case of first-degree felonies, convictions are no longer considered for probation.

*The allowance of tents to house inmates for work wilderness, forestry or bootcamps.

Health services laws:

*The establishment of reforms on private psychiatric hospital industries.

Business laws:

*To set a program to help make medical insurance more available to small employers.

*A decrease in trucking regulations.

*Replacing a three-member board in charge of the Texas Department of Insurance with a single commissioner.

*Allowing a court to dismiss a case that would be heard more properly in a court outside the state.

Environmental laws:

*A requirement that the Railroad Commission adopt and enforce safety standards for the storage of hazardous liquids in salt domes, and underground storage of natural gas.

*The provision of $120 million to clean up leaking underground storage tanks.

Miscellaneous laws:

*Prohibiting school districts from sponsoring extracurricular activities at athletic clubs which deny people the use of equipment on the basis of race, color, religion, creed, national origin or sex.

*The requirement of the Texas Department of Agriculture to certify producers, distibutors and processors of organic food and fiber.

*Allowing students who return to college after a 10-year period a "fresh start" by giving them an opportunity to omit their previous grade point average.

*Putting notices on driver's licenses that indicate a directive has been filed with a physician on whether life-sustaining systems should be held.

Administration law:

*Merging the Texas Water Commission and the Texas Air Control Board into the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission.

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS
OF PROPOSED
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
SPECIAL ELECTION
NOVEMBER 2, 1993

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 9 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Texas Legislature to provide for the issuance of bonds for the state financing of start-up costs for historically underutilized businesses. The amendment provides that the legislature by law may establish a Texas historically underutilized business capital growth and start-up fund. The money in the fund may be used without further appropriation and only for a program established by the legislature to aid in the start-up costs of a historically underutilized business, as defined by the legislature. To carry out the program, the legislature may issue up to $50 million of general obligation bonds to provide funding. The legislature may require review and approval of the issuance of bonds, the use of the bond proceeds, or of the rules adopted by an agency to govern use of the bond proceeds. Bonds authorized by the amendment constitute a general obligation of the state.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for the issuance of $50 million of general obligation bonds for the recovery and further development of the state's economy and for increasing job opportunities and other benefits for Texas residents through state financing of the start-up costs of historically underutilized businesses."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 86 proposes a constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature, by general law, to exempt from ad valorem taxation all or part of real and personal property used, constructed, acquired, or installed wholly or partly to meet or exceed rules or regulations adopted by any environmental protection agency of the United States, Texas, or a political subdivision of this state for the prevention, monitoring, control, or reduction of air, water, or land pollution. The amendment applies to real and personal property used as a facility, device, or method for the control of air, water, or land pollution that would otherwise be taxable for the first time on or after January 1, 1994. The amendment does not authorize the exemption from ad valorem taxation of real or personal property that was subject to a tax abatement agreement executed before January 1, 1994.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to promote the reduction of pollution and to encourage the preservation of jobs by authorizing the exemption from ad valorem taxation of real and personal property used for the control of air, water, or land pollution."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 3 proposes a constitutional amendment to clear land titles in which the State of Texas relinquishes and releases any claim of sovereign ownership or title to an undivided one-third interest in and to the lands and minerals within the Shelby, Frazier, and McCormick League (now located in Fort Bend and Austin counties) arising out of the interest in that league originally granted under the Mexican Colonization Law of 1823 to John McCormick on or about July 24, 1824, and subsequently voided by the governing body of Austin's Original Colony on or about December 15, 1830. Title to such interest in the lands and minerals is confirmed to the owners of the remaining interests in such lands and minerals.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the clearing of land titles by the release of a state claim in a fractional interest, arising out of the voiding of an interest under a Mexican land grant, to the owners of certain property in Fort Bend and Austin counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 49 proposes a constitutional amendment that would prohibit a state personal income tax without voter approval and would dedicate the proceeds of any income tax, if enacted, to property tax relief and education. The amendment provides that a general law enacted by the legislature that imposes a tax on the net incomes of natural persons, including a person's share of partnership and unincorporated association income, must provide that the portion of the law imposing the tax not take effect until approved by a majority of the registered voters voting in a statewide referendum held on the question of imposing the tax. The referendum must specify the rate of the tax that will apply to taxable income.

The amendment also provides that a general law enacted by the legislature that increases the rate of the tax, or changes the tax in a manner that results in an increase in the combined income tax liability of all persons subject to the tax, may not take effect until approved by a majority of the registered voters voting in a statewide referendum held on the question of increasing the income tax. The referendum must specify the manner in which the proposed law would increase the combined tax liability of all persons subject to the tax. The legislature may repeal, or amend without increasing, a tax approved by the voters without submitting the amendment or the repeal to the voters. If the legislature repeals a tax approved by the voters, the legislature may only reenact the tax without voter approval if the effective date of the reenactment of the tax is within one year of the effective date of the repeal of the tax.

The amendment also provides that, in the first year in which an income tax is imposed, and during the first year of any increase in the tax, not less than two-thirds of all net revenues from the tax shall be used to reduce the rate of ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes levied for the support of primary and secondary education. In subsequent years, not less than two-thirds of all net revenues of the tax shall be used to continue such ad valorem tax relief. The net revenues of the tax remaining after the dedication of money for reduction of ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes shall be used for support of education. The maximum rate at which a school district may impose ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes is reduced by an amount equal to one cent per $100 valuation for each one cent per $100 valuation that the school district's ad valorem maintenance and operation tax is reduced by the minimum amount of money dedicated under the amendment, provided that a school district may subsequently increase the maximum ad valorem maintenance and operation tax rate if the increased maximum rate is approved by a majority of the voters of the school district voting at an election called and held for that purpose. The portions of the amendment relating to dedicating tax revenues to reduce the rate of ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes apply on or after the first January 1 after the date on which an income tax takes effect, except that if the income tax begins to apply on a January 1, the amendment applies to ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes levied on or after that date.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment prohibiting a personal income tax without voter approval and, if an income tax is enacted, dedicating the revenue to education and limiting the rate of local school taxes."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 18 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to prescribe the qualifications of sheriffs. Currently, the constitution authorizes the legislature to prescribe the duties, perquisites, and fees of office, but not the qualifications for the office of sheriff.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to prescribe the qualifications of sheriffs."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 21 proposes a constitutional amendment that would abolish the office of county surveyor in Jackson County. The amendment also provides for the powers, duties, and functions of the county surveyor to be transferred to the county officer designated by the commissioners court.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment abolishing the office of county surveyor in Jackson County."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 57 proposes a constitutional amendment that repeals article XII, section 6, of the Texas Constitution, which currently provides that no corporation shall issue stock or bonds except for money paid, labor done, or property actually received, and that all fictitious increase of stock or indebtedness shall be void.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment repealing certain restrictions on the ability of corporations to raise capital."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 22 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the commissioners court of McLennan County to call an election to abolish the office of county surveyor. The office of county surveyor will be abolished if a majority of the qualified voters of McLennan County voting on the question favor the abolition. If the office of county surveyor is abolished, the amendment requires the maps, field notes, and other records in the custody of the county surveyor to be transferred to the county clerk of McLennan County. After abolition, the amendment also grants the commissioners court of McLennan County the authority to employ or contract with a qualified person to perform any of the functions that would have been performed by the county surveyor if the office had not been abolished.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to abolish the office of county surveyor in McLennan County."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 19 proposes an amendment to article VIII, section 13 of the Texas Constitution that would modify the provisions for the redemption of real property sold at a tax sale. The amendment deletes current language in article VIII, section 13 that allows the legislature to provide for the sale of property without trial to pay for delinquent taxes. It also states that the deed to the new owner vests a good and perfect title subject only to redemption as set out in this amendment or impeachment for fraud. Language is added limiting application of the current two-year redemption period to former owners of residence homesteads and land designated for agricultural use sold for unpaid taxes. When property is sold as the result of a suit to enforce collection of unpaid taxes, the amendment would allow the legislature to limit redemption to property used as a residence homestead or designated for agricultural use at the time the suit was filed. The amendment creates a second type of redemption for former owners of real property when property is neither a residence homestead, nor designated for agricultural use. These owners would have a six-month period in which to redeem their property by paying the amount of money paid for the property, including the Tax Deed Recording Fee, all taxes, penalties, interest, and costs paid plus an amount not exceeding 25 percent of the aggregate total. The amendment applies to redemption of properties sold at a tax sale for which the purchaser's deed is filed on or after January 1, 1994. For redemption of properties sold at a tax sale for which the purchaser's deed was filed before January 1, 1994, the former law is applicable and remains in effect.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to modify the provisions for the redemption of real property sold at a tax sale."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 34 proposes a constitutional amendment that adds a new section 49-b-2 to article III of the Texas Constitution. This new section provides that, in addition to the general obligation bonds authorized to be issued and sold by the Veterans' Land Board (the "Board") by sections 49-b ($950 million) and 49-b-1 ($1.3 billion) of article III, the board may provide for, issue, and sell general obligation bonds of the state in an amount not to exceed $750 million to provide financing to Texas veterans. $250 million of the bonds authorized by this new section shall be used to augment the Veterans' Land Fund (the "Land Fund"). The Land Fund shall be used by the Board to purchase lands situated in Texas owned by the United States government, an agency of the United States government, the State of Texas, a political subdivision or agency of the State of Texas, or a person, firm, or corporation. The lands shall be sold to veterans in quantities, on terms, at prices, and at fixed, variable, floating, or other rates of interest determined by the Board. Lands in the Land Fund that are offered for sale to veterans and that are not sold may be sold or resold to the purchasers in quantities, terms, prices, and rates of interest determined by the Board.

New section 49-b-2 creates the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund II (the "Housing Fund II"), and $500 million of the general obligation bonds authorized by the section shall be used for the Housing Fund II. The Housing Fund II is a separate and distinct fund from the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund (the "Housing Fund") established under section 49-b-1 of article III. Money in the Housing Fund II shall be administered by the Board and shall be used to make home mortgage loans to veterans for housing within this state in quantities, on terms, and at fixed, variable, floating, or other rates of interest determined by the Board. The principal of, and interest on, the general obligation bonds authorized by this section for the benefit of the Housing Fund II shall be paid out of the money of the Housing Fund II. The principal of, and interest on, the general obligation bonds authorized by section 49-b-1 of article III for the benefit of the Housing Fund shall be paid out of money in the Housing Fund. If there is not enough money in the Land Fund, the Housing Fund, or the Housing Fund II, as the case may be, available to pay the principal of, and interest on, the general obligation bonds authorized by this section or by sections 49-b or 49-b-1 of article III, there is appropriated out of the first money coming into the treasury in each fiscal year an amount that is sufficient to pay the principal of, and interest on, the general obligation bonds that mature or become due during that fiscal year.

If the Board determines that assets from the Land Fund, the Housing Fund, or the Housing Fund II are not required for purposes of the fund, the Board may transfer the assets to another of those funds or use the assets to secure revenue bonds issued by the Board. The revenue bonds shall be special obligations of the Board and payable only from and secured by receipts of the funds, assets transferred from the funds, and other revenues as determined by the Board and shall not constitute indebtedness of the State of Texas or the Board. The Board may issue revenue bonds from time to time, which bonds may not exceed an aggregate principal amount that the Board determines can be fully retired from the receipts of the funds. The revenue bonds shall be sold in forms, denominations, and in installments, and bear a rate or rates of interest as the Board determines.

The general obligation bonds authorized to be issued by the Board by this section or be sections 49-b and 49-b-1 of article III shall be issued and sold in forms and denominations, on terms, at times, in the manner, at places, in installments, and shall bear a rate or rates of interest the Board determines. The bonds shall be incontestable after execution by the Board, approval by the Attorney General of Texas, and delivery to the purchaser.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing issuance of $750 million in general obligation bonds to augment the Veterans' Land Fund and the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund and to fund the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund II."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 31 proposes a constitutional amendment relating to the duties of trustees of local retirement systems which provide retirement and related disability and death benefits for public officers and employees and that do not belong to a statewide retirement system. The amendment provides that the board of trustees of such a system shall (1) administer the system of benefits; (2) hold the assets of the system for the exclusive purposes of providing benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and defraying reasonable expenses of administering the system; and (3) select legal counsel and an actuary and adopt sound actuarial assumptions to be used by the system.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing that the trustees of a local public pension system must administer the system for the benefit of the system's participants and beneficiaries."

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 23 proposes a constitutional amendment providing that any person accused of a violent or sexual offense committed while under the supervision of a criminal justice agency of this state or a political subdivision of this state for a prior felony may, after a hearing and evidence substantially showing the guilt of the accused, be denied bail pending trial. If the accused is not, however, accorded a trial within 60 days from the time of his incarceration upon the accusation or indictment, the order denying bail shall be set aside unless a continuance is obtained upon the request of the accused. In the amendment, the term "violent offense" means murder, aggravated assault (if a deadly weapon was used or exhibited during the commission of the assault), aggravated kidnapping, or aggravated robbery. The term "sexual offense" means aggravated sexual assault, sexual assault, or indecency with a child.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment permitting the denial of bail to certain persons charged with certain violent or sexual offenses committed while under the supervision of a criminal justice agency of the state or a political subdivision of the state."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 13 proposes a constitutional amendment that amends article VII, section 17(a), of the Texas Constitution to provide that, of the $100 million currently appropriated by that section for the use of public institutions of higher education during each fiscal year, those institutions may also utilize this money to pay for acquiring, constructing, or equipping or for major repair or rehabilitation of buildings, facilities, other permanent improvements, or capital equipment used jointly for educational and general activities and for auxiliary enterprises to the extent of their use for educational and general activities. For the five-year period beginning on September 1, 2000, and for each five-year period thereafter, the legislature, during a regular session that is nearest, but preceding, a five-year period may, by a two-thirds vote of the membership of each house, increase the amount of the $100 million constitutional appropriation for the five-year period. The amendment also reflects name changes that have been made to some of the institutions of higher education for which such funding is available. The amendment adds the Texas State Technical College System to those institutions eligible to receive such funding, but limits its allocation of the annual appropriation to 2.2 percent of the total appropriation each fiscal year. The amendment also provides that each governing board authorized to participate in the distribution of money under article III, section 17, may also issue bonds and notes for the purposes of refunding bonds or notes issued under that section or prior law for the purposes of acquiring capital equipment, library books and library materials, paying for acquiring, constructing, or equipping or for major repair or rehabilitation of buildings, facilities, other permanent improvements, or capital equipment used jointly for educational and general activities and for auxiliary enterprises to the extent of their use for educational and general activities. The amendment deletes language in article III, section 17, which authorizes the legislature to designate a single agency to issue such bonds or notes in lieu of the governing bodies, and to transfer to that agency the authority to collect and pledge money to the payment of such bonds and notes as directed by the governing body of each eligible institution. Funds appropriated under article III, section 17, may not be used for the purpose of constructing, equipping, repairing, or rehabilitating buildings or other permanent improvements that are to be used only for student housing, intercollegiate athletics, or auxiliary enterprises.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment relating to the amount and expenditure of certain constitutionally dedicated funding for public institutions of higher education."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 45 proposes a constitutional amendment that adds a new subsection (e) to article III, section 49-h, of the Texas Constitution. The new subsection provides that, in addition to the amounts authorized by subsections (a) ($500 million), (c) ($400 million), and (d) ($1.1 billion) of section 49-h, the legislature may authorize the issuance of up to $1 billion in general obligation bonds and may use the proceeds of the bonds for acquiring, constructing, or equipping new corrections institutions, including youth corrections institutions, and mental health and mental retardation institutions and for major repair or renovation of existing facilities of those corrections and mental health and mental retardation facilities. The amendment also provides that the provisions of subsection (a) of section 49-h, relating to the review and approval of bonds, and the provisions of subsection (b) of section 49-h, relating to the status of the bonds as a general obligation of the state and to the manner in which the principal and interest on the bonds are paid, apply to bonds authorized by this amendment.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of up to $1 billion in general obligation bonds payable from the general revenues of the state for projects relating to facilities of corrections and mental health and mental retardation institutions."

PROPOSITION NO. 15 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 37 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the county commissioners court of a county to call an election to abolish the office of county surveyor. The office of county surveyor is abolished if a majority of voters of the county voting in the election approve the measure. If the office of county surveyor is abolished, the maps, field notes, and other records of the county surveyor are transferred to the county officer or employee designated by the commissioners court.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to permit the voters of a county to decide, at an election called by the commissioners court, whether to abolish the office of county surveyor in the county."

PROPOSITION NO. 16 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 44 proposes an amendment to article III, section 49-i(b) of the Texas Constitution, which currently limits the principal amount of bonds outstanding at one time for the Texas agricultural fund to $25 million and for the rural microenterprise development fund to $5 million. The amendment would raise the principal amount limit for the Texas agricultural fund to $100 million. The amendment would also make the principal amount limit for each fund apply to the total principal amounts of both bonds and notes issued or sold rather than just the principal amounts of bonds outstanding at one time.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing up to a total of $100 million in bonds and notes to be issued or sold to finance the Texas agricultural fund for providing financial assistance to develop, increase, improve, or expand the production, processing, marketing, or export of crops or products grown or produced primarily in this state by agricultural businesses domiciled in the state."

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (SWBT) is asking the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) for approval to offer Caller ID service in Texas. This service includes Calling Number Delivery, Calling Name Delivery and Anonymous Call Rejection (ACR). This service will be deployed statewide on a staggered, city-by-city basis, over a period of years in Texas in association with residence, business single and multiline services, but not PBX, Centrex or Plexar services, where facilities are available. Anonymous Call Rejection is a Caller ID service which permits a subscriber to automatically reject calls from callers who have blocked their number/name. Per-call and per-line blocking will be available when the service is deployed. Detailed information on Caller ID service and how to block will be sent to each customer in their telephone bill during the next few weeks.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in this proceeding should notify the PUC before October 6, 1993. Other parties may seek to also obtain Caller ID service in association with PBX, Centrex and Plexar service. Assistance available for small businesses

A "Business ADA Education Campaign," a targeted information and assistance initiative for American businesses, was announced today by the President's Committee on Employment of People with Disabilities.

"The President's Committee, a federal agency responsible for assisting businesses with the employment of people with disabilities, is placing priority in this educational effort on reaching businesses-especially small businesses-in America," said Rick Douglas, Executive Director. "We want to assure that businesses are aware of the resources available to help them better understand the provisions and intent of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and to help them prepare for the final and very important implementation stage of the employment provisions of ADA."

Businesses with 25 or more employees are now covered by the law. On July 26, 1994, the final phase of implementation of the employment provisions (Title 1) goes into effect and will affect employers with 15 or more employees. Enacted three years ago on July 26, 1990, the ADA prohibits discrimination in employment, communications, access, public accommodations and transportation.

The President's Committee's Business ADA Education initiative follows meetings with business leaders in all 50 states, and with representatives of Chambers of Commerce and national associations representing business owners. Many businesses have reported receiving inaccurate information from a variety of consultants.

The education campaign will include:

*An ADA Business Conference of national business leaders.

*A Small Business Information dissemination Network.

*A small business ADA marketing campaign.

The ADA Business Conference, currently in the planning stages, is tentatively scheduled to be held in Washington in December. Representatives of various businesses who serve on the Employer Committee have developed an ADA checklist that will be disseminated through the small business information network. The President's Committee will also be developing public service announcements that will be targeted to small business.

JAN is a toll-free service operated by the President's Committee to assist American businesses with their questions about ADA and, in particular, about accommodations in the workplace. As part of the Business ADA Education Campaign, an expanded data base will be developed specifically to address questions and needs of small business.

"Our message is simply this," said Douglas, "we can make ADA work for American business, particularly small businesses. Employment of Americans with disabilities makes good business sense. Our findings prove the cost of job accommodations for most businesses is reasonable. Business needs to know where to go for reliable information and assistance."

According to JAN records, the average cost of accommodations in the workplace is under $500, and approximately 30 percent cost nothing. The President's Committee's JAN works with businesses on a variety of accommodation issues, including access, accommodating an employee returning to the workplace, compliance questions, and identification of state and local resources. the toll-free phone number is 1-800-ADA-WORK (Voice/TDD).

HEALTH NEWS

As America faces the complex dilemma of revising its health care system, many people are taking greater responsibility for their own health. They are seeking care that is cost-effective, doesn't rely primarily on prescriptions and is less invasive to the body.

"The premise of alternative medicine is that the mind and body are so closely related, that the mind can help overcome many physical ailments." said Matthew Lambert, Ph.D., licensed psychologist on staff at Methodist Hospital. Most doctors wouldn't advise using mind/body techniques to the exclusion of conventional medicine. But a number of scientific studies show that a person's attitude and emotional condition can affect prevention and recovery from illness.

Some of these "new" techniques are actually very old, For example, the Chinese have used acupuncture to lessen pain for more than 3,000 years. Now it's used as an alternative treatment for allergies and asthma. Here are a few other techniques that may be used as an alternative to medicine:

*Relaxation techniques- Use the power of mental concentration to influence a physical response within the body. For example, yoga relieves chronic pain by using deep breathing exercises to release more endorphins, the body's natural painkiller.

*Biofeedback- A technique where patients are actually hooked to machines that register when their muscles are tightening.

*Homeopathy- Uses small doses of natural substances to fight disease. Larger doses of these ingredients would cause the same symptoms of the disease in a patient.

*Positive Emotions and Support Groups- Patients have close relationships with friends and family tend to cope with pain and live longer.

"Alternative medicine focuses largely on prevention of illness. By practicing good lifestyle habits, you can take control of your health" said Lambert.

*Eating Right.

*Exercising.

*Managing Stress.
