Serving McLean and the Area Since 1903

Volume 79 McLean, Gray County, Texas 79057 Thursday, June 24, 1982 Price 25¢ Number 25

As soon as I walked in the door at my 25th high school reunion, I knew that I had allowed my mind to play tricks on me over the years. When the first former classmate walked up, I was shocked that she looked like a 40-year-old woman, and I realized that the faces of my classmates had been frozen in my mind as forever-young 18 year olds.

Over the years, I have grown used to my own wrinkles and changes in my face, but it was almost surrealistic to see all those "kids" looking like middle-aged people. I recognized most of the girls without too much problem, but the boys of the class were a different matter. Most of them seem larger...taller, broader, not fatter! Some had lost their hair, a few had added mustaches and beards, but they looked different.

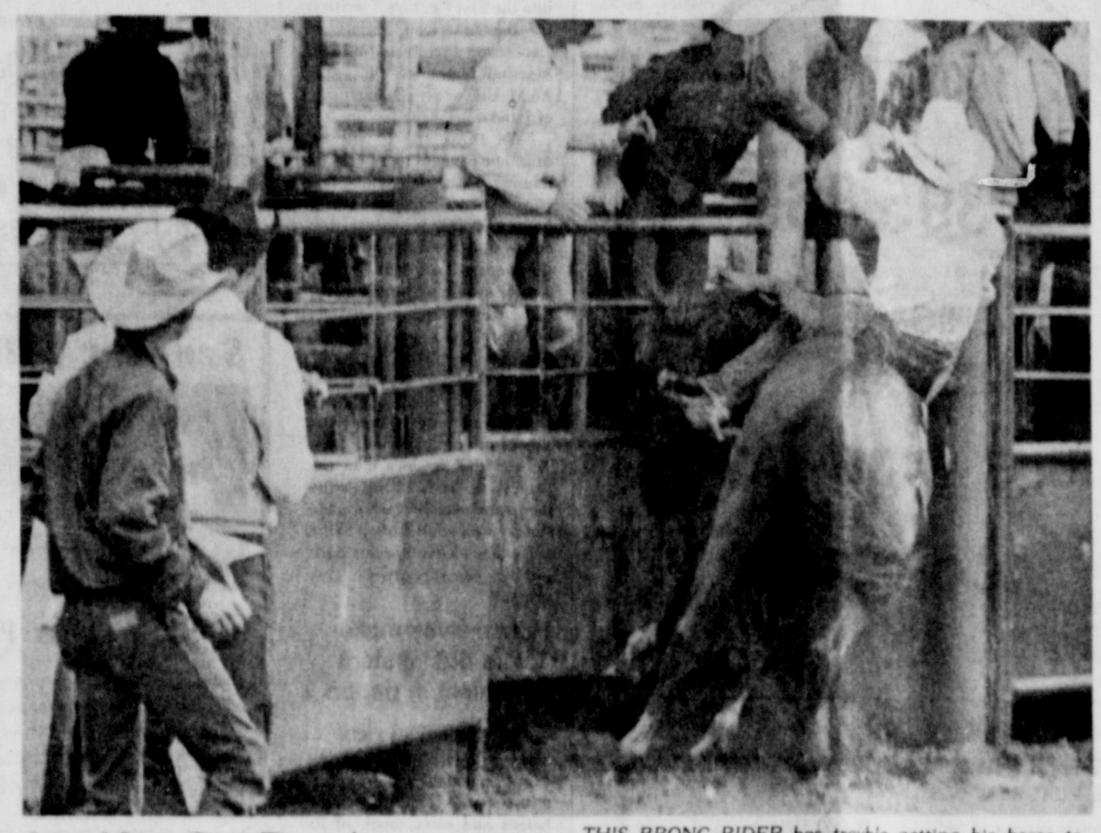

My old girl friend and I decided that we looked about the same because back in the Fifties when we graduated, none of us wore make-up, and we looked 40 years old anyway. With the use of some clever make-up tricks, we have maintained our looks fairly well.

The most interesting thng about meeting old friends after an absence of 25 years was to observe how much, and yet how little, we had changed. Our life styles have changed, we live in far-flung places, some are in exteremely powerful jobs, most have lived through the tragedies of losing parents, or spouses, or children or suffering through divorces. But, in spite of the radical changes on the surface of our lives, the basic personalities that had developed by our senior year in high school are still the same.

Most Beautiful of our class is still beautiful and charming and kind as I remember her. She has no anger lines or complaining lines to mar her lovely face. But the class nag now wears the scars of her discontentment in deep lines around her pursed mouth, as a badge of her unhappy life. Most Likely to Succeed certainly has, as he moves around the world making important decisions which can affect the lives of thousands...and yet he retains the little-boy ingenuousness and deep curiosity about life that I remember from high school.

Most of the class members seem more affluent than our parents were. Even those youngsters who were from relatively wealthy homes, seem to have improved on their parents' life styles. Of course, a reunion is certainly a time when one puts ones best foot forward.

Rodeo Draws Good Crowds

Although storm clouds threatened both performances, the McLean 66 Rodeo Roundup drew good crowds Friday night and Saturday night to watch contestants from three states perform. Heavy rains all week before the rodeo left a quagmire in the arena for contestants to contend with, but the skies stayed dry during the performances.

Officials of the McLean Lions Club and the McLean Roping Club report that they made enough money to pay the stock contractor, which is an indication of a successful rodeo.

Buckles were given to first place winners in each event, with prize money distributed to the top three contestants in each event.

Winners included the following:

BAREBACKS - Bobby Adcock of Canadian, first; Ernie Messer of Amarillo, second; and Wesley Durr of Canadian, third.

BULLS - Ernie Messer of Amarillo, first; Lonnie Clemmons of Spearman, second; and Kelly Rollins of Lubbock, third SADDLE BRONCS - Donald Hill of Canadian, first; Tim Cuttrell of Amarillo, second; and Jay Newsom, third.

CALF ROPING - Buster Record of Ft. Supply, first; J.T. Knuckles of Canyon, second; Monty Kramer of Vinson, Okla., third; and Ab Hendley of Elizabeth, Colo., fourth

BARRELS - Susan Hart of Gruver, first; Lisa Wilson of Harmon, second; Janie Reimer of Stinnett, third

DOGGING - Greg Gabel of McLean, first; Jim Newson of McLean, second; and Rob Lauer of Texhoma, third

STEER RIDING - Dean Crockett of McLean, first; and Cody Gabel of McLean, second TEAM ROPING - Bill Walker and Frank Bridwell, first; Skeet Johnson and Waley Hicks, second; Jackie Breeze and John Corthorpe, third; Cliff Bradstreet and Wiley Hicks, fourth; Jerry Webb and Mark Freeman, fifth; J.C. Dickens and Buster Record sixth.

Tim Smith Injured In Accident Friday

Timmy Doyle Smith, 19, of McLean was injured Friday night when he stepped into the path of a 1982 pickup driven by Terry Joe Glass. The accident occured .4 miles north of McLean near the dance slab at the Felton Webb Rodeo Arena about 11:58 p.m. Smith was taken to Shamrock Hospital where he was treated and released. No charges were filed against the driver.

Winners Named In Annual Parade

Quality, not quantity, was the hallmark of the annual McLean 66 Rodeo Roundup parade Saturday afternoon, as a few good entries made up the parade. Winners in the riding category were Art Britten's Lucky 13 (a wagon pulled by a pair of longhorn steers), first; McLean High School Tri-State Rodeo Club, second; and McLean Roping Club, third.

In the individual category, Billy Jack Bailey's Welding Service was first, David and Darren Johnson and Elson Rice on two-wheel, two-seater cart pulled by a Shetland mule were second, and Randy Stalls in a 1950 Ford car was third.

DPS Head Warns Of Holiday Traffic

Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety said, "The two most dangerous things the driver of a motor vehicle can do is to speed or drink and drive. Those two violations will account for most of the traffic deaths during this July 4th holiday."

The population in Texas is increasing, so is traffic on the highways. More people are expected to be on our highways this 4th of July weekend than ever before.

The Department will be conducting "Operation Motorcide" during the weekend, trying to make everyone aware of the traffic problem. Every available trooper will be working, trying to help cut down on the needless traffic death but will need the help and cooperation of the entire motoring public to be effective in reducing accidents.

"We don't have enough people to stop all traffic violations. We need the voluntary compliance by the motoring public, in obeying the traffic laws, in order to be successful in reducing accidents," Major Bell stated.

"If people will just slow down and not drive if they have been drinking, many of the deaths that occur on our highways can be prevented," Major Bell concluded.

Jake Hess II Wins Ranch Horse Race

Eager racing fans gathered Saturday afternoon across from the Felton Webb Rodeo Arena to watch the annual Ranch Horse Race. Jake Hess II, riding a stocking-legged sorrel, won the race this year, with Joe DeLeon, riding a Haynes Triangle Ranch black horse, coming in second. Last year's winner, Cindy Sherrod Bichsel, riding a bay horse, was third in the quarter-mile race.

According to rules of the race, the horses must not be trained for racing.

The race was started by horse trainer Cecil Gillispie. Judges were Joe Magee, Chuck Brass, Wayne Carter, Steve Carter, and Tommy Eck.

Buckles were given for first and second places.

Cowboys Compete In Cutting Contest

Twenty cowboys competed Friday afternoon in the annual McLean Cutting Horse contest at the Felton Webb rodeo arena. Butch Turpen of McLean won first place, with Don Stuckey of Canadian winning second, and Kenneth Morris of McLean winning third.

Buckles were awarded to the three winners.

Judge for the event was George Brown of Channing, and F. Jake Hess of McLean furnished the stock for the event.

McLean's Share Of Sales Tax Is Down 7% From Last Year

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Monday sent checks totaling $35.5 million to 966 Texas cities as their share of the one-percent city sales tax for June. McLean received $1,042.77, down from $1,150 paid during the same period last year. McLean's check was down seven percent from last year.

"These monthly rebates are keeping ahead of last year's payments," Bullock said. "With 1982 half over, they are nearly 14 percent higher than the amount we had paid by this time last years."

The City of Amarillo received a check for $406,000 up almost 13 percent from last year.

The city taxes are collected along with the state sales tax by merchants and rebated monthly to the cities in which they are collected by the Comptroller.

TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY—STATISTICAL SERVICES

If the statistics on the graphic above this editorial do not sufficiently chill you, then consider the cost in dollars to Texas of traffic accidents.

According to figures released by the Texas Department of Public Safety, traffic accidents in Texas in 1981 alone cost $3,430,000,000. Unless you are a politician, you probably can't visualize what three billion dollars is, but think of it this way.

Three billion dollars would buy 10,000 homes at $80,000 each, 10,000 refrigerators at $700 each, 10,000 electric ranges at $600 each, 10,000 TV sets at $700 each, 10,000 dishwashers at $500 each, 10,000 automobiles at $10,000 each, and 10,000 central air conditioning units at $2,500 each, and furnish the head of each of the 10,000 households with a bank accounts of $248,000.

Is traffic safety vital? If these numbers don't impress you nothing will. Remember the cost, in both dollars and lives, the next time you get behind the wheel of a car.

and all those Lincoln Continentals that I saw parked in front of the meeting place may have been rented! But it seems to me that most of the class members are earning livable salaries.

One classmate, always the nicest boy in the class (at least I thought so) commented that he was surprised at how many of the women in our class were aggressive career women. Some of us reminded him that the boys in our class preferred to date the younger girls in school, and considered the girls in the class as good buddies... which left us girls to develop our minds and think about careers, as romance had to wait until after high school!

While all my fellow classmates looked in pretty good shape, we decided after observing the sagging jawlines, bald heads, and toothless gums of the members of the class of '55 that the next two years must be real killers, and perhaps we should meet again after that period to see how much deterioration has set in.

But whenever we meet again, I hope to go back. It was nice to remember good friends and good times. It was also encouraging to see how far we've come, and yet how much we've retained of our small town values. Remember the Statler Brothers' song "The Class of '57"? The song says that the class of '57 had its dreams...and we did.

It's nice to know that most of them has been fulfilled.

In case you haven't noticed, The Pampa News has a new look since editor Slim Randles has taken over. One of the projects of the new group in the newsroom is to make the News more of a regional paper. The Pampa News needs a stringer in McLean to provide news from the southern part of the county, and we hope some of you will volunteer. A stringer would call in news from McLean and receive a little money for the service.

Please don't consider this as competition for the McLean News. We would be happy for someone in McLean to provide this service for Pampa, because we're delighted that they have taken interest in local news. Some of you may have noticed that the McLean Rodeo got front page coverage last week.

Our town will benefit from the coverage, so we hope someone here will volunteer. Call 669-2525 and ask for Tom.

The McLean News Office will be closed Thursday and Friday this week so that the staff may attend the Texas Press Association convention in San Antonio. We received a notice that The McLean News has won an award in the state-wide contest for weekly papers, and we're excited to learn what it is. This is the fourth consecutive year in which the News has won something on the state level, and we're proud!

Watching Washington

The American farmer is walking a tightrope, and no doubt would feel a little more secure with a safety net. But what good is a safety net with gaping holes in it?

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has touted its expanded Federal Crop Insurance program as the farmers' "safety net," but farmers have lost confidence in the program because so many problems have surfaced.

The program was expanded hastily and was used to replace other proven federal farm disaster programs.

I recently testified about some of the Federal Crop Insurance problems before the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Magazine advertisements for the new All-Risk Federal Crop Insurance tell farmers to "Go ahead, borrow more money. With All-Risk Crop Insurance you have a sure source of repayment in bad years as well as good."

In a time when recession is pushing real net farm income to an all-time low, most Texas farmers are just barely hanging on and making existing loan payments. Too often they aren't succeeding. No knowledgeable adviser is telling farmers to borrow more money and expand at a time like this.

Is it any wonder farmers lack faith in Federal Crop Insurance when the program's managers spend good money on advertising that offers unrealistic advice like this?

As if farmers' cash flow problems aren't bad enough, the Federal Crop Insurance program is making matters worse by collecting premiums early in the year instead of at harvest, as has been customary. When premiums are overdue, the program charges 18 percent interest.

Low crop insurance loss estimates also are a problem. One farmer in Hereford was told by crop insurance appraisers that a drought had caused him a loss of only one bushel of wheat per acre. The farmer, advised by an agronomist, estimated the loss at 13 bushels. The appraisers then changed their estimate to four bushels, and later to seven bushels.

Federal Crop Insurance also sets its own yield estimates, refusing to use the figures of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service on which other farm programs are based. One farmer was told by ASCS that his yield would be 30 bushels of wheat an acre but the FCIC would insure him for only 17 bushels. Which of these two Department of Agriculture agencies is that farmer to believe?

Perhaps these problems can be blamed on Federal Crop Insurance having suffered from a "management nightmare." In the past two years, the program has had six managers.

But good intentions and excuses can't help our farmers now. They need results, and I am going to insist that they get them.

The tightrope our farmers are walking is getting harder and harder to stay on. They need to have a safety net, and they need one that's stout and dependable.

Architect predicts dramatic changes in housing designs

COLLEGE STATION — Like 25-cents-a-gallon gas and a balanced national budget, the sprawling three-bedroom, two-bath home in the suburbs may soon be added to the list of things Americans used to have in the good old days.

That is among the predictions in a special report entitled, "Landscape Architecture into the 21st Century," written for the American Society of Landscape Architects by Lane Marshall, head of the Texas A&M University Department of Landscape Architecture.

"We think there will be dramatic changes in the look of housing," Marshall said. "The conventional single-family home has already increased in cost well beyond the means of the average American family."

New household formations caused by changing lifestyles, however, will generate the need for 20 million new units during this decade, Marshall said.

Marshall recently received the President's Medal, considered the top award in the profession. It is given to the landscape architect who made the greatest contribution to the profession on a continuing basis during the preceding five years.

Housewives make Texas bus system healthiest in nation

COLLEGE STATION — The city-to-city bus system that carries passengers across Texas is one of the healthiest in the nation and owes much of its success to young housewives, according to a study by transportation researchers at Texas A&M University.

Thomas Urbanik II, an assistant research engineer with the Texas Transportation Institute, headed a survey performed for the Texas Department of Highways and Public transportation to gain an insight into the characteristics of intercity bus riders in Texas.

The study indicates that the typical bus rider in Texas is a housewife under the age of 30 with a high school degree and an annual household income of less than $10,000.

The typical rider is a licensed driver and owns a car although the vehicle was not available for making the trip.

Children with 'high I.Q.' emotionally stable

COLLEGE STATION — If Johnny reads at the age of 2, speaks three foreign languages by the time he is 6 and masters calculus at the age of 12, most people would classify him a genius.

Many of those same people would also theorize that, because of his high intelligence, Johnny is paranoid or schizophrenic — a common conception that a Texas A&M University psychologist says is incorrect.

"It has been a belief for a long, long time that there is a thin line between genius and crazy," said Dr. Cecil Reynolds, an associate professor of educational psychology who recently completed a study on the emotional stability of high IQ children. "But as it turns out the percentage of these kids who have emotional problems is much lower than intellectually average children."

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

A FISHY PROBLEM

AUSTIN – There aren't enough fish in Mackenzie Resevoir. Despite all the clean, blue water in that lake, the fishing could be better.

Some biologists from the Parks and Wildlife Department say the lake isn't fertile. That may be so, but it seems strange that there are plenty of shad (baitfish) in the lake.

The problem, according to the Parks and Wildlife Department, is that the lake is so clear and deep. The best habitat for most game fish is 15 feet deep or less, with lots of vegetation. Mackenzie is short on both these properties.

Even so, the state should not give up on this lake. The people who fish this lake buy the same fishing license all other Texans buy, and they are entitled to all the state services the other fishermen get.

Parks and Wildlife seems to agree. Since 1975, the department has put about 6 million fish into the lake, including smallmouth bass, rainbow trout, brown trout, channel catfish, walleyes, blue catfish, flathead catfish, hybrid stripers (bass) and Florida bass.

The agency has used a standard formula to stock the lake, stocking a certain number of fish per acre.

Even if Mackenzie cannot support large quantities of gamefish right now, there are other ways to keep fish in the lake. One is the "put and take" method that works like inventory in a store. The department puts in about as many fish as the fishermen take out. Parks and Wildlife has been using this method with hybrid stripers. The next stocking of the fish should be next year.

One of the unfortunate things about stocking fish is the time it takes for the fish to grow up after they are introduced into the lake. This long lead time makes it difficult to judge how well the new fish are doing in the lake. Despite the lead time required, Parks and Wildlife biologists are hopeful the hybid stripers will flourish.

Long-term plans for the lake include some floating structures in the middle of of the lake to give the fish some shade and protection. These structures will encourage the fish population.

Parks and Wildlife's position on Mackenzie Reservoir seems to be that it will not be easy to improve the fishing there, but it's worth a try. We will be encouraging Parks and Wildlife to try whatever it takes to give people who live near and visit Mackenzie Reservoir a good fishing lake. They deserve it.

We have many sportsmen in our district. Many of you probably have some ideas about how the Parks and Wildlife Department could improve hunting or fishing in your area. We would like to hear from you. Please write to Senator Bill Sarpalius, P. O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711, and we will pass your suggestions along to the proper people.

Jana Moore, Rex Morris Marry June 4 In Shamrock

MRS. REX MORRIS

Jana Denise Moore and Kenneth Rex Morris, both of Shamrock, exchanged wedding vows June 4 in the First United Methodist Church in Shamrock. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Moore of Dumas, formerly of Shamrock, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Morris of McLean.

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was the Rev. Virgil Cornwell, pastor of United Pentecostal Church in DeLeon.

The church was decorated with apricot-colored candles and ribbons on brass candelabras, with brass pew markers, and a unity candle. Votive candles were used on the altar.

Tracey Wilson sang "The Rose", "Theme from Ice Castles", and "Always and Forever." Joyce Houlette, aunt of the bride, sang "Sunrise, Sunset." Becky Baxter, pianist, played bridal selections before the service and accompanied the singers. Mrs. Cabot Brannon, organist, played the processional and recessional.

The bride wore a formal gown of white organza over bridal taffeta with Chantilly lace trim. The Queen Anne neckline rose high in the back. An empire waist was accented with a pleated front and a cathedral train with pleated scallops on the side. Full sleeves were trimmed in Chantilly lace. Her chantilly lace hat featured bridal illusion. She carried a crescent cascade of apricot roses with white orchids in the center, set on a white Bible given to her by her parents on her first birthday.

The bride's attendants were Tami Walker of Shamrock, maid of honor; and bridesmaid Debbie Wells, also of Shamrock. Flower girl was Desha Russell of Shamrock and ring bearer was Charley Russell of Shamrock.

Best man was Craig Lee Morris, brother of the groom, of Alanreed, and groomsman was Mark Morris of McLean, brother of the groom. Ushers were Jeffrey Moore, brother of the bride, of Houston, and Doug Seymour of Shamrock.

Candlelighters were Dalea Houlette and Rex Houlette, both of Dumas, cousins of the bride.

The bridesmaids wore a floor-length quiana knit dresses in apricot with bodice and sleeves of white lace. Each carried a lace fan with apricot silk roses and apricot ribbon trim. Their hair pieces were small apricot silk flowers with baby's breath. The candle lighter and flower girls wore apricot organza floor-length dresses.

The bride's mother wore a blue floor length dress with pleated skirt with lace bodice and sheer sleeves. The ensemble was completed with a lace sleeveless jacket. The groom's mother wore a yellow linen street-length two-piece suit with short sleeves.

Grandparents of the couple attending were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Houlette of Dumas, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Thacker of Dumas, and Mr. and Mrs. Craig Morris of McLean.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given at the Fellowship Hall in the church. The table was laid with a lace cloth with an apricot underlay. The centerpiece was the bride's boquet with crystal candle holders with apricot candles and crystal appointments.

Included in the house party were Deedra Houlette, Dusty Holland, Tami Thomas, Judy Macina, and Natalie Holland.

After a short wedding trip to Amarillo, the couple is at home in Shamrock.

Loose Marbles

by Lisa Patman

Recently I read an article about a nice yankee lady who specializes in teaching children table etiquette. She explained the trials and tribulations of getting the little darlings to use the right fork, handle the maitre de, and order the proper wine.

Now while it sounds like she is doing a keen job of straightening up those tiny table-elbowers, I think she would be a total flop down here where the West is West.

I'm not saying, mind you, that just because we're a bit wild and woolly we don't need to mind our manners at the trough. The rules are a bit modified is all. So I've compiled a list for us down home folks to teach our own little cowpokes the facts of eating. You can clip these and carry them with you if you wish; they make great napkins.

1. When ordering at a big, fancy restaurant, always be nice to the waitress, saying things like, "Gimme a cheeseburger 'n fries, please Ma'am."

2. When applying catsup (ketchup) to your eggs, steak, potatoes, corn or watermelon, always point the open end of the bottle toward whatever you are catsuping (ketchuping). It is not polite to squirt your neighbor with great blobs of catsup (ketchup), no matter how much he likes it on his apple pie.

3. Always remove your cowboy hat or baseball cap whenever you enter a fancy eating establishment. However, do not mess with your hair. It is considered very chic to have your hair all smashed to your head on top while it bushes out at the bottom. Up north this is known as the pointy-head look, and it is quite an attention-getter.

4. If some ill-mannered brute should point out that you have both elbows on the table, grin and say, "Ah'm jest holdin' it down. Haw, Haw, Haw!"

5. Should you find yourself ready to eat your double cheeseburger (hold the sissy lettuce), and you still have a chaw twixt your cheek and gum, get out your special receptacle--the empty beer can which every well-bred southerner carries--and spit in it. It is not considered good manners to spit directly on the floor, no matter if it does have sawdust all over it.

6. Should your handy receptacle accidently tip over onto the floor, thereby spilling its contents, blame it on the guy next to you, who probably combed his hair and washed his hands before he sat down. What a turkey.

7. When throwing mashed potatoes at somebody across the room, be sure that they are instant mashed potatoes. It is considered a real breach of etiquette to throw real homemade smashed potatoes anywhere but down the hatch.

8. And finally--When ordering wine, Thunderbird goes great with pork and beans. Tuesday was a good year.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective July 27, 1982, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

It is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 13.4 percent increase in the company's intrastate revenues.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell's rate application.

Notice to El Paso Area Customers

Effective January 1, 1982, Southwestern Bell adopted the Mountain States tariffs in effect for El Paso County. Southwestern Bell proposes to merge the separate El Paso tariffs with its tariffs applicable to the rest of Texas. The resulting new rate schedule is on file with the PUC and the El Paso area municipalities served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection at our El Paso business office.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

The filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for interexchange private line and foreign exchange (FX) service. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide interexchange private line and foreign exchange service in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell's tariffs. While Southwestern Bell has proposed no increase in long distance rates, any change in those rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies.

Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell, en conformidad a las reglas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel para servicio de teléfono en Texas con vigencia a partir del 27 de julio, 1982, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Se espera que el nuevo arancel que se ha solicitado rendirá un aumento de 13.4 por ciento en los ingresos intraestatales de la compañía.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y servida por Southwestern Bell, y cada una de las oficinas de la compañía para negocios con el público en Texas tiene una copia para lectura pública. En el pasado, la Comisión ha sostenido que toda tarifa está sujeta a cambios que resulten de la manera en la cual Southwestern Bell aplique sus tarifas.

Aviso a Clientes en la Región de El Paso

Con vigencia a partir del 1o de enero de 1982, Southwestern Bell ha adoptado las tarifas de Mountain States efectivas en el condado de El Paso. Southwestern Bell propone unir las tarifas de El Paso con sus otras tarifas que se aplican al resto de Texas. El nuevo arancel que resulta de ésta union se ha archivado en la Comisión de Servicios Públicos (Public Utility Commission), al igual que en las municipalidades de la región de El Paso servidas por Southwestern Bell, y está disponible para inspección pública en nuestras oficinas de El Paso.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono

El registro incluye, pero no se limita a, propuestas para aumentar las tarifas para servicio de línea privada entre centrales telefónicas (interexchange private line) y servicio de central telefónica extranjera (foreign exchange FX). Cambios en dichas tarifas de servicio tambien afectarían a clientes de otras compañías de teléfono porque dichas compañías proveen los servicios ya mencionados en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell. Aunque Southwestern Bell no ha propuesto un aumento en las tarifas para larga distancia, cualquier cambio en las mismas tambien afectaría a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono.

State Planner Says Texas' Future Tied To Mexico's Future

COLLEGE STATION — The director of the Texas 2000 project told transportation experts at a Texas A&M University conference recently that the state must develop more transportation networks across the border to Mexico.

"More transportation will be needed to capitalize on the potential between the United States and Mexico," Vic Arnold said in a speech at Texas A&M.

"Whether we like it or not, the future of Texas is inextricably tied to the future of Mexico," he added. "In the long haul, the issue with Mexico will be more critical than any other issue facing the state."

Arnold pointed out that half of the people in Mexico are under 16 and there are nearly three people for every available job.

"You and I know the surplus of labor isn't going to go to Nicaragua — and it ain't going to Guatamala," he said. "It's going up north and will look to the economic flagship of this nation and this state. If you think we have problems with guest workers today, you haven't seen anything yet."

Homemaker News

Gray County residents can get more from their "beat-the-summer" dollar. Some simple, no-cost steps can be taken immediately to maximize cooling while minimizing energy use and costs.

RAISE THERMOSTAT

Raise the air-conditioner thermostat to the highest comfort level possible. This will reduce energy consumption from three to ten percent for each degree the thermostat is raised. When it's excessively hot outdoors, turn the thermostat up even higher to keep from overworking the air conditioner. Greatest efficiency results when a difference of no more than 15 to 20 degrees is maintained between inside and outside temperature.

USE FANS

Fans, used either by themselves or with air conditioning, can enhance summer comfort while saving energy. For every dime it costs to operate a one-ton air conditioner, a fan costs less than a nickel. Fans won't make any change in the room's actual temperature, but the constant breeze they provide will make a person "feel" much cooler. In fact, set the air conditioner at 82 degrees F., use a fan to circulate the air, and experience the same comfort as if the air conditioner were set at 74 degrees F.

DRAW SHADES

Windows and glass areas transmit most of the radiant heat they are exposed to. Therefore, block out heat on those sides of the house that get direct sun exposure. Draw shades or draperies on the east side in the morning and on the west side in the afternoon to reduce the heat load the air conditioner must remove.

AIR CONDITONER MAINTENANCE

Since a dust-clogged air conditioner filter restricts air flow and makes the machine work harder, change it frequently. Overgrown shrubs, weeds, and grass growing close to the air conditioner's condensing unit can restrict the flow of air and seriously impair the unit's efficiency. However, shrubs and trees that shade the unit from direct sunlight help keep it from getting too hot.

ENERGY SAVING INVESTMENTS

There are energy saving features that can be added which do cost money. The energy-conscious consumer can view these steps as "investments," because they will result in sizable long-term energy benefits:

(1) Adequately insulated floors, walls, and attic space;

(2) Weatherstrip doors and windows and caulked cracks to reduce air infiltration;

(3) Exterior sun-control devices, such as awnings, shutters, and reflective film, to protect windows and glass areas;

(4) Properly sized air-conditioning equipment with a high efficiency rating; and

HOME ENERGY DOLLARS AND SENSE

A special program has been planned for Tuesday evening, June 29, beginning at 7 p.m. in the Courthouse Annex. Titled "Home Energy Dollars and Sense", the program will focus on ways Gray County residents can reduce their elective, gas, and water bills. The program will include:

-Selection and Installation of Ceiling Fans

-Energy Labels-Your Guide to Savings

-Reducing Your Utility Bills-panel discussion with representatives of local utility companies

"BAGGIETHERAPY"

The mention of arthritis brings the thought of heating pads and "heat rubs" into the minds of many individuals.

A recent report in the Journal of the American Medical Associations provides evidence that cold may also be of value in the care of the type of arthritis known as rheumatoid. [Rheumatoid arthritis is the sytemic type that produces swollen joints and also affects the muscles. The more common degenerative or osteoarthritis is what most of us experience as we grow older.)

Clinicians in Philadelphia placed six ice cubes in plastic bags and positioned them above and below the knees of 24 of their rheumatoid patients. During the four week study, this was performed three times a day for 20 minutes per setting.

Was this form of care effective? Most of the patients experienced improved sleep and decreased usage of pain medicines. Following the conclusion of the study, it was noted that several of these patients continued to use ice packs to help relieve pain.

Persons having rheumatoid arthritis often use aspirin or a prescription anti-inflammatory drug to control pain and stiffness. Application of heat is ineffective in some patients. "Baggietherapy" appears to be simple, effective, free of obvious side effects, and low in cost.

Dr. Harold Fabian Marks Twenty Five Years Of Service In McLean

Twenty five years ago this month, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Fabian moved to McLean with two small children, an old broken-down car, and a few dollars in cash, planning to make this their home for five years. But Dr. Fabian never returned to medical school to become a specialist in radiology, as he had planned. He and Bonnie found that they liked McLean, liked the slower pace of the small town, liked the people, and realized it was a good place to raise their two sons.

Deciding to make a home in McLean, ended a trek which began for Harold Fabian when he was born Dec. 7, 1924 in Halletsville, about 50 miles from San Antonio. His father was a printer in the small town, and for a time published his own newspaper, which was destroyed in a flood. After losing his business, the elder Mr. Fabian moved his family to Raymondsville, where Harold spent his adolscent years.

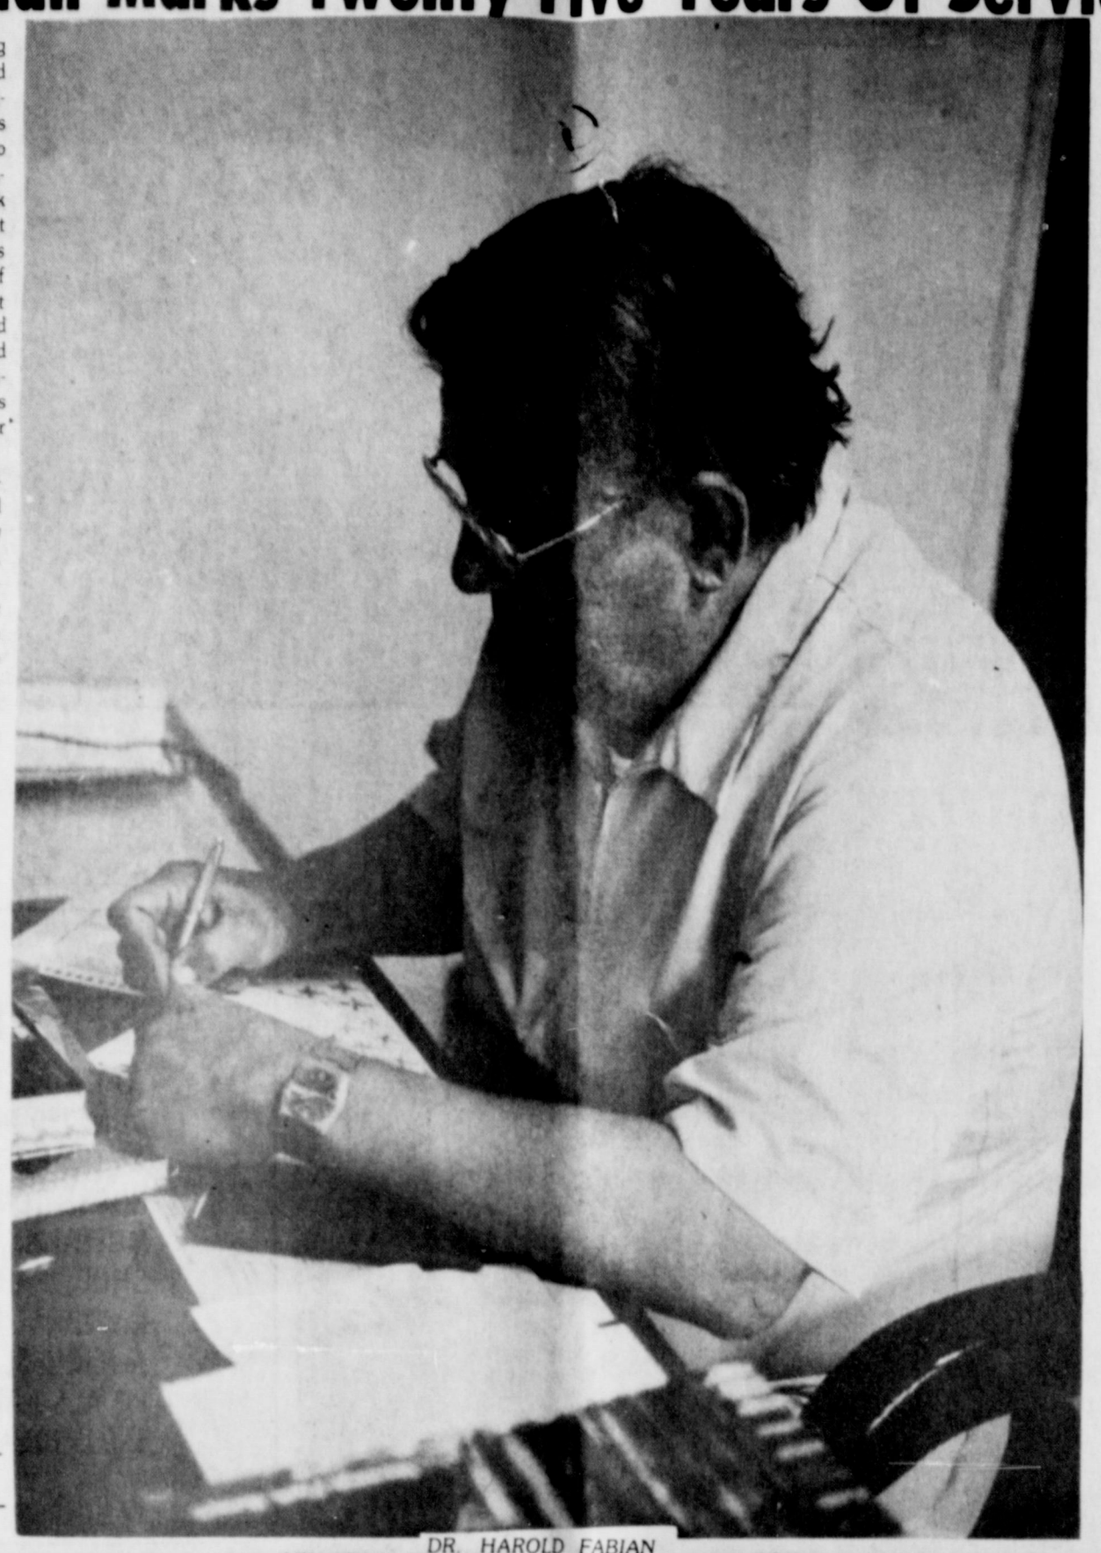

After graduating from Raymondsville High School in 1942, Harold joined the National Youth Training Administration, working at the Naval Base in Corpus Christi, learning to repair airplanes. When he received his draft notice in 1943, he opted for the Navy, and spent the next three years helping repair war-damaged airplanes, and later serving as an instructor in link training (training pilots to fly in a mock-up of an airplane.)

It was in the Navy where Harold became close friends with a doctor who saved his hands which were being ruined by chemicals he used in his job. It was his friendship and admiration for this man which inspired him to enter college at the relatively late age of 22. He took his pre-med courses at Southwestern in Dallas (now the University of Texas Medical branch at Dallas). He completed medical school in 1953, and did research in pharmacology with Dr. Andreas Goth at the Unibersity for six months.

During his medical training he met Bonnie Nell McBee of Pampa, and they married June 16, 1951. Following his work in research, he and Bonnie moved to Ogden, Utah where he took his internship at the Thomas D. Dee Hospital. In 1954, the couple moved to Pampa so that Bonnie could be near her mother who was ill. Harold worked in the Overton Clinic for three years until they moved to McLean.

The Fabians have two sons, Roderick Harold Fabian, born Aug. 1, 1954, and Gregory McBee Fabian born Aug. 26, 1955. Both younger Fabians have followed in their father's footsteps. Dr. Roderick graduated from the University of Texas medical branch at Galveston, and is taking his residency in neurology at John Sealey Hospital in Galveston. He will complete that in 1984.

Dr. Gregory graduated from the University of Texas medical branch at Houston, and is now in his internship at St. Joseph's Hospital in Houston. He plans to spend a year working in an emergency room in the area, and then begin a residency in surgery.

When Harold came to McLean in 1957, the town had a small clinic, but in 1965, a 12 bed hospital was opened and for four years, Dr. Fabian was on call seven days a week, 24 hours a day, a period in his life which he says was one of the most physically grueling episodes. In 1969, Dr. A.C. Woods joined Dr. Fabian in practice, and shared the patient load until his death in October, 1980. Dr. Fabian said that he knew he would be unable to handle the intense demands of the hospital alone again. When all efforts failed to find another doctor for McLean, the hospital closed Nov. 14, 1980.

Dr. Fabian said that he felt the difficulty with locating doctors for small towns was because most doctor's wives don't want to live in small towns. "I've been lucky, because Bonnie has had her own interests-the church, the church choir, the music lessons she teaches. She likes living here, but most doctor's wives think they want to live in big towns," Dr. Fabian said.

Doc said that his practice has not changed much since he came to McLean 25 years ago. "McLean is very stable; there's not much change in the population, the types of illnesses," he said. When the hospital was open, he treated more people traveling through McLean, but that has almost stopped since the hospital closed.

He said that government regulations and the advent of Medicare in the last 25 years have caused him a greatly increased amount of paper work. "When Medicare first began, it was abused. But I don't think that's true now. About 50 percent of our patients are on Medicare," he said.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Fabian will be guests of honor at a reception honoring them for his 25 years of service to McLean. The McLean Lions Club is hosting the reception Sunday afternoon at the Lions Building, from 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. "We hope all Doc's friends and patients will come out to show him how much we appreciate his service," said Lion Boss Ted Simmons.

Serve with the following dip for a delicious party snack.

Larry Gatlin Is Named Texan Of The Year By Texas Press Association

Grammy Award winning singer-songwriter Larry Gatlin has been named "Texan of the Year" by the Texas Press Association and will be present at the group's annual summer convention in San Antonio this week to accept his award.

Gatlin is only the thirteenth Texas native to be given the award, a unique plaque designed and painted by noted Austin artist Randolph Moerke. The presentation will be made by TPA President O.G. (Speedy) Nieman of Hereford at a luncheon Saturday, June 26, at The Inn at Turtle Creek.

Born in 1948 in Seminole, Texas, Larry is the oldest of the three Gatlin Brothers and the son of an oil driller. By the age of seven, he was already accompanying younger brothers, Steve and Rudy, in songs at family and church events. Larry even began writing his own religious lyrics to pop songs as a youngster.

The Gatlin Brothers continued to sing together throughout their school years, winning numerous talent contests and eventually performing on a weekly television show in Abilene for two years.

By going off to the University of Houston on a football scholarship, Larry was, for the first time, separated from his brothers. After graduating with a degree in English, Gatlin began studying toward a law degree until his love for music interceded.

He toured with a gospel group, the Imperials, who once worked for Elvis Presley. On the tour, Gatlin met singer Dottie West in Las Vegas; and upon his return to Houston, he sent her a tape of eight of his original songs.

Dottie recorded several of the tunes and sent plane fare for Larry to travel to Nashville and continue with his song-writing.

"If it weren't for Dottie West, I'd probably be a lawyer in Houston right now," he confesses.

Gatlin's original songs have, over the years since then, been recorded by such performers as Elvis Presley, Kris Kristofferson, Johnny Cash, Tom Jones, Tammy Wynette, Ray Price, Roy Orbison and the Oak Ridge Boys.

Having established himself as songwriter, Larry helped pave the way for his brothers to join him. "The truth is, we never really got back together because we were never really gone," Larry explains. "They were still in college, and I was the oldest one. Somebody had to take the lead, so I did."

In recent years, the Gatlins have earned numerous industry honors, including a Grammy for "Broken Lady" in 1976 and three Academy of Country Music awards in 1980.

Since the mid-seventies, the brothers have remained consistently at the top of the music charts with hits like: "Broken Lady," "I Just Wish You Were Someone I Love," "All The Gold In California," "We're Number One" and "Take Me To Your Lovin' Place."

The Gatlins' unique vocal talents and widespread popularity have led to numerous appearances on various network television programs, such as "The Tonight Show," "Merv Griffin," "Mike Douglas," "The Country Music Association Awards Show," "The Grammy Awards Show" and their own 1981 ABC-TV special.

The Gatlins have kept busy with charity work, as well as with their music. They hosted an MDA benefit golf tournament in Dallas last month and served as honorary hosts for Texas Nursing Home Week. The brothers appeared on television spots promoting the special week and urged Texans to visit nursing home residents.

A family man, Larry and his wife Janis have two children, Josh and Kristen.

Previous TPA honorees include Paul Richards, former baseball executive and field manager; Van Cliburn, noted pianist; Dan Blocker (deceased), co-star of the Bonanza TV series; C.B. (Tex) Thornton, Litton Corporation executive; Phyllis George Brown and Shirley Cothran, both former Miss Americas.

Also Dale Evans, singer and actress; Allen Ludden (deceased), former host of TV's Password; Raymond Berry, Baltimore Colts all-time great pass receiver; Alan Bean, first Texan to walk on the moon; Earl Campbell, Heisman Trophy winner from the University of Texas and now an all-pro running back with the Houston Oilers; and Roy Benavidez, Vietnam war hero and Medal of Honor recipient.

At Southwestern Public Service Company, we keep our customers in mind when selecting the type of fuel to use in our electric generating stations. That is why we chose coal as the fuel for our newest power plants. Coal meets the tests of availability, technical and economical feasibility, reliability, environmental standards, and is in line with national energy policies.

Morris Rantz, Fuel Administration Manager, Amarillo.

The economy affects utility companies just as it does all of us. Despite their regulated status, utilities still face the problems of inflation, high interest rates, and soaring fuel costs. And regulation does not guarantee that a company will make a profit. Instead, regulators establish a "ceiling" or maximum amount of profit which a utility may make, a profit level which few utilities are able to reach because of the expenses involved in providing reliable electric service.

Jo Barnes, Chief Clerk, Levelland.

Using major electric appliances during "off-peak" hours can help keep down the cost of electric service. Certain times of day, usually between 5 p.m. and 7 p.m., are "peak" hours, when SPS' full generating capacity must be used to meet customer demands. Using your appliances during "off-peak" hours can help balance the load on these facilities and allow SPS to deliver your electricity in the most economical way.

Gray County Gardening

A clinic to diagnose sick plants, soil or insect problems will be held Thursday, July 1, in the Pampa Mall, Pampa. The hours for the free clinic are from 2 to 6:30 p.m.

This is a come-and-go affair for anyone with problems or questions about sick plants or insects. Homeowners, farmers, or anyone with problems relating to diseases, insects, soil fertility, gardening, and general landscape plants are invited to bring sick or troublesome specimens to the informal clinic. Vegetable gardeners can also bring pressure canner lids or weighted gauges to be tested free of charge by Donna Brauchi, County Extension Agent-Home Economics.

There will be four Texas Agricultural Extension Service Specialists on hand to assist and counsel with you. These specialists include: Dr. Bob Perry, Plant Pathologist; Dr. Carl Patrick, Entomologist; Dr. Dale Pennington, Soil Chemist; and Dr. Roland Roberts, Vegetable Specialist.

This informal clinic is sponsored by the Gray County Horticulture and Crops Extension Committee in cooperation with the Gray County Extension Service.

Tell your friends and neighbors about the clinic as this will be the best opportunity to get some answers on sick plants during the entire summer growing season.

Bring your sick plants specimens or insects to this clinic and one or more of the specialists will assist in advising you on your plant problems. Also, you can get your pressure canner gauges tested at the clinic.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio economic level, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

PROPER FERTILIZING KEY TO GROWING VEGETABLES

Applying proper amounts of fertilizer at the right time is vital to producing a garden full of fresh, tasty vegetables.

This makes the right amount of nutrients available to plants throughout the growing season.

One heavy application of fertilizers is not enough. It's better to apply moderate amounts prior to planting, then supplemental amounts (called side dressing), during the growing season.

Side dressing usually means applying fertilizer, generally containing nitrogen only, beside the rows or in a circle around growing plants.

The rate and timing of side-dress applications is important. Unless otherwise specified, ¼-½ cup of ammonia sulfate (21-0-0) per 10 ft. of row is adequate for most crops.

Information concerning the best time to side dress specific vegetable crops is outlined below:

Asparagus--immediately after the end of harvest.

Beans(wax, snap, lima)--after plants flower and set first fruit.

Beets--when 4-6 in. tall, with 1 tablespoon of fertilizer per 10 ft. of row.

Carrots--when 4 in. tall, with 2 tablespoons of fertilizer per 10 ft. of row.

Repeat when 8 in. tall if tops pale.

Crucifers (cabbage, broccoli, cauliflowers)--every three weeks after planting.

Leafy greens (lettuce, endive, mustard, spinach, collard, kale)--after several sets of true leaves are formed.

Okra--three weeks after harvesting begins.

Onions--when five to six leaves have formed.

Potatoes--when 6 to 8 in. tall.

Sweet potatoes--in June.

Sweet corn--when 8-12 in. tall, with 1 cup fertilizer per 10 ft. of row.

Tomatoes, peppers, eggplants--when first fruits are small, with 1 level tablespoon per plant. Repeat every four weeks.

Vine crops (cantaloupe, cucumber, watermelon, squash, pumpkin)--when vines are 1 ft. long, with 1 level tablespoon per plant.

Whenever side dressing, avoid getting fertilizer on plant foliage, and always water thoroughly after each application.

There are three important advantages to side dressing when done properly. It helps prevent delayed fruit set caused by excessive nitrogen too early in the season, it significantly increases yields, and it results in healthier, stronger plants with fewer pests problems.

As an aid in growing vegetables, remember that a fertilizer usually contains three materials as listed on the bag in the following order--percentages by weight of nitrogen (N), phosphorus (P) and Potassium (K). Since most Texas soils are low in nitrogen, medium to high phosporus and high in potassium, it's best to use fertilizers high in nitrogen with little or no phosphorus and potassium.

Of course, it's also a good idea to get your garden soil tested.

To reconcile these facts into an effective fertilization program. I suggest the following:

--Apply 1-2 lbs. of complete fertilizer with a high nitrogen content per 100 sq. ft. prior to planting.

--Side dress with a nitrogen-only fertilizer, such as ammonium sulfate (21-0-0), at the proper time during the growing season.

Sports Firsts
A Fun and Fascinating Look at "Firsts" in Sports and the People Who Made Them Happen
By Patrick Clark

Sports fans all over this country, which includes a large portion of the population, which will have a gem in this new publication by Patrick Clark, which is chock-full of very fascinating facts and information about the famous and not-so-famous "firsts" in sports history.

Of course, records and firsts set by such luminaries as "Babe" Ruth, Wilt Chamberlain, O.J. Simpson, and Billie Jean King, are included, but not so well known firsts, such as the no-hitter pitched by Bobo Holloman in his first major league game, who won only two more games in his entire major league career; Belle Martell, who was the first female boxing referee, and John Brallier, who was the first professional football player, are also included.

Other little-known facts, such as Queen Anne of England being the person who originated awarding money to the winners of horse races, and Benjamin Franklin in theory being the man who invented water skiing, will keep your interest at a high pitch as you peruse the pages of this amazing compendium of sports history.

You may be dying to know about the first man to walk across the United States; but more probably you will thrill as you read of the heroics of the "Babe", Gary Player, Ernie Nevers, Helen Wills Moody, "Big Bill" Tilden, and many many others too numerous to mention.

This book is not only running over with valuable information but is actually a lot of fun to read. It is replete with exciting photographs and is excellently assembled by Patrick Clark, who has had a wide ranging career as a journalist, and certainly has a thorough knowledge of the subject presented.

"Sports Firsts" is now available at Lovett Memorial Library.
