War Clouds Grow Darker Over Europe

Two Miners Rescued Alive, Companions Killed By Gas

Three Days In Dark Chamber End On Friday

Rescuers Bring 50-Year-Old Man And Living Companion To Surface After Battling Debris In Rescue Fight

One Unconscious

Two Others Are Victims Of Deadly White Damp In 200-Foot Tunnel; Survivor Tells Of Life While Entombed

BY AL DOPKING
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOBERLY, Mo., Aug. 21 — Two coal miners—one of them apparently little the worse for his three-day ordeal—were rescued alive late today from a gas-filled tunnel in which four were imprisoned by a mine collapse Tuesday afternoon, but death had taken their companions.

"Here I am boys! I can take it," cried 50-year-old A. W. McCann, oldest of the entombed miners, as weary rescue workers wormed their way through a debris-packed mine shaft into the tunnel prison of the quartet.

Other Unconscious

His living companion, Demmer Sexton, co-owner of the mine, was sprawled unconscious at his feet.

The others, Edward Stoner, jr., 28, and George T. Dameron, 27-year-old negro, were huddled in death at the rear of the 200-foot tunnel—victims of deadly white damp.

The rescue was completed this afternoon as weary miners picked their way through the last of the tumbled mass and cleared a small opening into the tunnel.

Smiled Wanly

McCann, weak but apparently free of any serious complications, smiled wanly as stretcher-bearers carried him from the shaft and rushed him to an ambulance.

"I had only one worry," he told relieved relatives who accompanied the ambulance to the hospital.

"Every day I was afraid the rescue workers would become discouraged and give up their task."

The weak and unconscious Sexton was brought to the surface after

Texan Found Fatally Shot

University Of Texas Student From Beaumont Is Found In Phoenix Hotel; Had Talked To Professor Friend

(By The Associated Press)

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 21—James A. Walker, Beaumont, Tex., shot and fatally wounded himself, police reported, today in his room in a downtown hotel. He died from a wound in his temple before he could be removed to a hospital.

Police said they found the door to the room locked and a pistol at Walker's side.

Walker was talking over long distance telephone to a professor at the University of Texas in Austin, when the shot was fired, the hotel room clerk said. A telephone operator heard the shot and notified a bell hop.

Walker was said to have arrived here today by plane.

Shot Terminates Long Distance Conversation

AUSTIN, Aug. 21 (AP)—The shot which killed James A. Walker of Beaumont today at Phoenix, Ariz., terminated a long distance telephone conversation between the youth and Ed Barlow of Austin.

Walker, 22, had been staying with Barlow while attending the University of Texas law school. He left here suddenly last Monday.

"Jimmie called me from Phoenix and I asked him why he didn't come on home," Barlow said. "He told me he would when he got through wandering around. He said he wanted

Rains Reported In Area Friday Night

Amherst And Sudan Report Inch Of Water While Showers Fall In Other Sections

SCATTERED showers with here and there a downpour late Friday fell on some sections of the South Plains.

Moisture had a tendency more to loosen the heat grip than to give relief from extreme dryness.

Promising clouds over most areas drifted back to the horizons from where they had come, without releasing rain.

Several areas, however, reported the sky remained overcast at midnight.

Fort Worth and Denver City railway said rain was falling from Texline to Tascosa and would gauge an inch. Good showers at Dimmitt, were reported.

Baseball Game Stopped

Santa Fe dispatchers said there was an inch fall at Sudan and at Amherst, where a baseball game was stopped that afternoon, a quarter-inch at Muleshoe and at Littlefield, a good shower at Kress, and an eighth of an inch at Plainview.

Brownfield reported a light shower at 7:30, electrical displays and threatening skies.

Light Sprinkle Reported

A light sprinkle intermittently fell during the day at Levelland and a sand storm was reported. Skies remained cloudy at midnight.

High wind at Crosbyton was reported part of the day. Clouds were racked in the northwest.

What few clouds were seen at Spur moved into the southwest in the early night.

No rain fell at Lamesa. Some lightning was reported.

Union Terminal station said its Amarillo bus had mud on it when it arrived here.

Good Showers Reported

Good showers were reported at Bovina and Friona, an inch at Texico and Farwell, an hour of steady fall at Sanford, an eighth of an inch at Pampa, showers at Texline, Dalhart, Fritch, and Morse.

A hard quarter-inch rain fell at Claude as the last event of an annual rodeo was being held, and Goodnight reported a sprinkle.

Only a trace fell at Amarillo, but wind velocity reached 40 miles.

Only a few small drops fell at Lubbock, but temperature fell six degrees in an hour after 7 o'clock. High for the day was 99 degrees, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, low 58 at 6 that morning. At midnight the reading was 76 degrees, said main

Texas Output Of Minerals Valued High

Production During 1935 Said Well Above $500,000,000 By Bureau Of Mines Report; Oil, Sulphur Leading Product

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 — The 1935 value of Texas minerals was estimated at well above $500,000,000 today by the bureau of mines.

Crude petroleum constituted about 80 per cent of the total, the state's production of 391,097,000 being figured at an average price of $1 a barrel. Texas' oil production was about 40 per cent of the national total and larger than any other state.

The Texas natural gas resources yielded an estimated 675,000,000,000 marketable cubic feet—36 per cent of the nations production—valued at more than $152,000,000.

Produces More Sulphur

A valuation of about $28,500,000 was placed on Texas sulphur last year. The state produced 1,253,814 tons, or 77 per cent of the country's total.

Texas' 30 per cent of the nation's natural gasoline was valued at $22,687,000 and the bureau said products from Lone Star carbon black plants were worth $8,803,600.

In sharp contrats, however, was the value of the state's metals. The bureau said mines produced, 72,222 tons of ore yielding, in terms of recovered metals, 528 fine ounces of gold, 1,000,960 fine ounces of silver 28,000 pounds of copper and 1,043,000 pounds of lead, valued, in all at $781,614. The 1934 valuation of recoverable metals was $593,828.

Bureau statisticians estimated the 1935 crude production in Texas was 10,000,000 barrels higher than 1934, all the increase coming from outside the East Texas pool.

"Mr. And Mrs. Dick Powell" On Liner's List But Blonde Joan Blondell Denies Role

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 21 (AP) The names "Mr. and Mrs. Dick Powell" were placed on the reservation list for the Grace liner, Santa Paula, today.

But Joan Blondell, blonde movie actress, whom the film colony believes will soon be the bride of Actor Dick Powell, said:

"It must be two other people. I'm going to New York next month, and I don't know anything about a boat trip."

The Santa Paula sails Sept. 19. Miss Blondell's divorce from George Barnes' cameraman, becomes final Sept. 4.

Weatherford Man Is Fatally Injured In Truck Collision

OLSON REPORTED WORSE

ROCHESTER, Minn., Aug. 21 (AP)—After apparently getting along nicely earlier in the evening, Gov. Floyd B. Olson, took a turn for the worse tonight, it was learned from Mayo clinic physicians.

It was emphasized the governor was in no immediate danger, but that he was steadily growing weaker.

Wife Says Hubby Tried To Lead Her A Dog's Life

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21. (AP)—After testifying that her husband insisted his two dogs share their bed, Mrs. Sally Ethel Bair collapsed today in superior court.

Mrs. Bair said the man she seeks to divorce, George Bair, oil salesman, insisted that the dogs "sleep between us at night."

"He called the dogs 'Sugar' and 'Darling,' but used nothing but abusive names in addressing me," she added.

Once she telephoned him to bring home some groceries for dinner.

"I told him I was hungry," Mrs. Bair testified, "and his answer was that if I wanted something to eat I ought to open a can of dog food."

Bair denied his wife's allegations.

Thousands At Terry County Birthday Fete

Estimated 10,000 Or More Are Fed At Barbecue Given At Noon; Program Is To Be Continued Today

By J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

BROWNFIELD, Aug. 21. — Today was a red letter day for Terry county's capital with a record crowd of visitors from within a radius of 100 to 150 miles, estimated conservatively at around 15,000 or more. Some old timers claimed a former celebration drew a slightly larger crowd eight or ten years ago, but it was the largest gathering here in six or eight years.

The program began with a street parade at 10 o'clock this morning and was closing with a street dance down town and a platform dance at the scene of the afternoon rodeo.

Mahon Scheduled To Talk

Saturday's program will be similar to the one today. There will be a band concert, some speaking including a talk by Congressman George Mahon of Colorado, who will come if he can, a carnival all day and the rodeo in the afternoon, with a street dance and a platform dance at night.

An estimated 10,000 or more persons were fed at the free barbecue, with possibly a number unable to be served. Leo Allen, chairman of the finance committee, said 6,280 pounds of barbecued beef was on hand for the meal, with about 400 pounds being left over, and 2,100 loaves of bread with 400 loaves unused. The committee raised $1,349.75 for its expenses.

Fed At School Grounds

Feeding was at the school grounds, where barbecue pits had been dug, tables for serving erected and other arrangements made. The crowd began arriving before noon and continued until after 1 o'clock.

An estimated attendance of 8,000 to 10,000 was reported for the rodeo, held west of town. Chick Copeland,

Improvements Planned Here

More Than $110,000 Will Be Spent In Lubbock On Expansion Of Phone System To Meet Needs Of City

More than $110,000 is to be spent in the immediate future by the Southwestern Bell Telephone company to erect an addition to its present building, install more switchboard equipment, and construct additional underground and aerial lines to meet the growing telephone needs of Lubbock, J. A. Williams, manager of the company, announced Friday afternoon.

Plans and specifications for a 35-foot extension to the rear of the two-story brick structure at 1408 Broadway and for a four-car brick garage are being furnished contractors this week. Construction will begin as soon as the contract is let.

Will Add 1,100 New Lines

The additional space will be used for new switchboard and other central office equipment costing about $38,500, Williams said, providing facilities for approximately 1,100 new subscriber lines.

Conduit for a 900-pair cable is now being placed on Avenue U from Broadway to Nineteenth street and on Avenue V from Nineteenth to Twentieth streets. The cable will serve either 900 private lines or 1,800 party lines.

To String Aerial Cable

An aerial cable is also to be added in the southwest section of the city, Williams said, to meet the increased

Landon Is To Attend FDR's Drouth Meet

Republican Candidate For U. S. Presidency Is To Attend As Governor Of Kansas; Has Busy Day Campaigning

Iowa Greets Him

State Party Leader Declares Reception Indicates Iowa Is To Go Republican This Fall In Balloting

BY WILLIAM L. BEALE
Associated Press Staff Writer

ABOARD LANDON TRAIN, Aug. 21.—Gov. Alf M. Landon accepted President Roosevelt's invitation to a drouth conference in Des Moines, Ia., today as his campaign special train rolled slowly eastward through Iowa.

The Kansas governor received his bid at Carroll, Ia., after a relay from Topeka, Kas.

"As I said before, I will accept," Landon said.

Governors Invited

President Roosevelt had invited the governors of Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma to meet with him in Des Moines to confer on drouth problems.

Landon spent the day campaigning from the rear platform of his special train. The train left Council Bluffs a little ahead of schedule this morning, but lost time steadily thereafter as new stops were added and others stretched out longer than scheduled.

Loses Masonic Ring

Landon contended that recovery and jobs are the fundamental issues of the campaign, talking about crops and rain and shaking hands so hard he lost his Masonic ring.

A hot sun shone down throughout most of the day but Governor Landon left his air conditioned car promptly as his train whistled into every stop.

He left orders that he was to be called so he could at least wave his hat should a crowd of any size form.

"Governor Landon," said Harrison Spangler of Cedar Rapids, assistant to the national Republican chairman, "received a mighty fine reception in Iowa. It convinces me even more that Iowa will go Landon and Republican this fall."

Loan Amount Is Increased

President Roosevelt Raises Loan From $200 To $400 For Distressed Farmers To Buy Winter Wheat Seed

(By The Associated Press)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 21. — President Roosevelt signed an executive order today to help distressed farmers by increasing from $200 to $400 the maximum amount the Farm Credit administration may loan to individuals for winter wheat seed.

Acting under the emergency relief act of 1935 the president levied the following order:

"The amount which may be lent to any one borrower (inclusive of any loan or loans heretofore granted to such borrower under the provisions of the above act and this executive order) shall not exceed the sum of $200, except that the amount which may be lent to any one borrower for the production of winter wheat (inclusive of any loan or loans as aforesaid) shall not exceed the sum of $400, and each applicant for a loan shall establish to the satisfaction of the proper officer or employe of the farm credit administration, under such conditions as the governor may prescribe, that the applicant is unable to procure such loan from any other source:

"Provided, that preference shall be given to the applications of farmers whose cash requirements are small."

Alleged Black Legionnaires Indicted For Syndicalism

DETROIT, Aug. 21 (AP)—Twenty-two men described as officers of the Black Legion were indicted today on criminal syndicalism charges based on allegations they plotted an armed uprising to take over the federal government.

Among those named in warrants signed by Circuit Judge James E. Chenot, who presided over the states Black Legion grand jury was Virgil P. (Bert) Effinger, of Lima, O., said by Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea to be national commander of the organization of terrorists.

Texans Will Cast Votes Again Today

Election Party To Be Held By Newspapers

Avalanche-Journal papers will be hosts in a regular election party tonight, starting at 8 o'clock and continuing until 11 o'clock. District, county, and state returns will be reported over a public address system.

In spite of the short ballot and the apparent light vote, boards will be erected in front of the newspaper offices, 1211-13 Texas avenue and information will be given the public along the usual lines.

County Chairman L. C. Ellis will have his office in the Avalanche-Journal building and asks precinct officials to report to him there as quickly as it is possible for them to strike their totals.

You're invited—and, of course, it's all free.

Urgent Plea To Vote Made By Candidates

Light Balloting Is Expected For Lubbock County Due To Lack Of Interest In Races; Candidates Make Pleas

Vote!

That was the urgent plea last night of candidates and their friends on the eve of today's second Democratic primary election.

Whether the appeal will arouse more than 5,000 of Lubbock county's 11,000 eligible voters was doubtful. Citizens who have paid their poll taxes and others who are exempt have appeared politically lethargic since the first primary.

Balloting Starts At 8

Balloting will be started in the county's 33 precincts at 8 o'clock this morning and will be continued until 7 p. m.

Persons who have lived in the county six months and in the state one year are eligible to vote if they are qualified by payment of poll tax or by exemption certificate issued where it is required.

County Chairman L. C. Ellis also urged voters to go to the polls today to give a representative total.

Urged To Show Receipts

Citizens were urged to carry poll tax receipts or exemption certificates with them. If receipts have been lost, voters may sign individual affidavits that they are qualified to participate in the election.

Election supplies for all precincts except Hardy and Slide had been procured by election judges or their representatives at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, said County Clerk Ed. D. Allen. He said he expected Slide and Hardy equipment to be called

Landon, Pipe Smoker, Given Peace Pipe By Mesquakies

TAMA, Ia., Aug. 21 (AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon, who's a pipe smoker, got a gift today a pipe smoker could appreciate—an Indian peace pipe three and a half feet long, made of pipestone and wood and decorated with horsehair.

A band of Mesquakie Indians from the Tama reservation, dressed in full regalia, presented it to him while his campaign train stopped here.

The Indians had broken it in too, and it still was warm from smoking.

Thompson, Morris Hold Interest In State Balloting

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Aug. 21. — In the second Democratic primary of the summer, Texas will write a verdict tomorrow on the record of Ernest O. Thompson, who for four years has dominated state oil and gas regulation policies.

Failing by a small margin to obtain a majority over four opponents in the primary July 25, the former army colonel, widely known for his championship of state's rights in oil and gas regulation, was bracketed in the run-off with Frank S. Morris, attorney of Dallas.

First Bale Of Cotton Arrives

Farmer Living In Lynn County Brings In First Bale Here This Season; Is To Be Sold At Auction Today

What is believed to be the first bale of cotton ginned this season on the Plains will be sold at auction at 10 o'clock this morning here in front of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange building, Texas avenue and Thirteenth street.

E. E. Sumrow, farmer living on the J. W. Smith place east of O'Donnell in Lynn county, brought the bale into Lubbock yesterday. Weighing 450 pounds, the bale was ginned by the L. E. Robertson gin at O'Donnell.

The auction will be conducted by A. J. Humphreys.

Lone Ray Of Hope Lies In Italian Move

Rebel Forces In Spain's Civil War Launch "Big Push" To Capture Madrid; Fierce Attacks Are Indicated

Situation Is Tense

War "Games" In Italy, France Gain Attention As Soviet's Loan To Loyalists Draws A Protest From Nazis

(By The Associated Press)

WAR CLOUDS blackened over Europe last night with a lone ray of peace emanating from Rome where the Italian government said it would not aid either Spanish belligerent—if all other European powers would promise to do the same.

Rebel forces at dawn launched their long-awaited "big push" on the loyalist capital, Madrid, from the Guadarrama mountains. Leaders said the attack would be delayed after a few miles to consolidate the rebel positions, and then would be resumed in a fierce attempt to capture the city "in a short time."

Strike At San Sebastian

Simultaneously rebel forces struck again at the besieged city of San Sebastian on the northern sector. Loyalist forces loosed a terrific barrage on Huesca near Zaragoza.

Italy's acceptance—with reservations—of the proposed French neutrality pact gave an official stamp to what have been presented all along as the views of Premier Mussolini.

Il Duce would bind himself to non-interfrence only if other powers sympathetic to the socialist-loyalist cause—such as France—would promise themselves to keep hands-off, it was said by well-informed persons. French diplomats strove frantically to smother the thunder of Spanish guns with a blanket of united neutrality.

Diplomatic Effort Fails

At Hendaye, on the French border, diplomats of foreign governments failed, it was reported, in an effort to mediate Spain's fratricidal civil war.

In Paris, diplomatic quarters seethed with a report that the German ambassador to Moscow had delivered a "threatening protest" to Russia's Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff, charging Russian interference in the Spanish civil war.

A second warning to the socialist Spanish government was sent to Madrid from Berlin against any interference with German shipping.

"Meet Force With Force"

Seven Nazi warships were driving toward Spain, under orders of the national-socialist, Fascist-inclined regime of Chancellor Adolf Hitler to "meet force with force."

Anxiously diplomatic observers watched Spain's neighbor nation

U.S. Neutrality Is Shown In Answers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP) — Munitions firms, asking the state department's attitude toward sales of their products in Spain, have been given to understand that such sales would not be in accord with this government's strict neutrality policy.

This was disclosed authoritatively today but neither the identity of the companies nor the number which have approached the state department was revealed. It was said, however, they were not very numerous."

All were understood to have been given the same answer as that submitted to two airplane manufacturers which had sought the same information earlier.

That answer consisted of a repetition to the inquirers of instructions sent by the state department on August 7 to all of its diplomatic and consular agents in Spain announcing this government's intention to maintain a policy of "scrupulous" non-interference in the Spanish revolution.

This pronouncement said:

"We believe that American citizens, both at home and abroad, are patriotically observing this well-recognized American policy."

Taos Indians Protest White Woman's Rule Over Them; "Canes Are Broken"

(By The Associated Press)

SANTA FE, N. M., Aug. 21.—Indians of Taos pueblo protested to a special senate subcommittee here today that the authority of their masculine tribal government had been challenged by a white woman superintendent.

Tony Mirabal, former governor of the multi-storied pueblo and still an influential leader among its colorful inhabitants, asserted in primitive idiom Dr. Sophie Aberle, feminine head of the United Pueblo agency, had over-ruled the Pueblo council.

"Before Americans came here," he declared dramatically, "the Spaniards recognized our authority. For many years the Americans did likewise. But now our canes have been broken."

The cane is the badge of authority at Taos, best known of all the pueblos.

Mirabal said the pueblos have never recognized the right of a woman to take a part in tribal government. Now they will not recognize the authority of Dr. Aberle, he declared.

Mirabal said his protest was based principally on efforts of the Indian service to restore land and wheat taken from some members of the tribe as a fine for using the drug-like plant "peyote" during a "wild party."

Greatest Rush For Gold In U.S. History Reported Underway Throughout West

(By The Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 21.—The greatest gold rush in history, minus its covered wagons but fired by the same dreams of wealth, was reported underway tonight in the west.

Dr. George Hanson, Utah geologist, just returned from a government-sponsored mining study, exclaimed:

"The pioneer gold rush was more spectacular—but the one going on now is the greatest of all time."

Into thinly-settled Nevada, scene of the "big strike" of 1936; to the historic fields of California; to Utah, Colorado, New Mexico—to all of the "mining states" in varying degree are moving by modern means wealth-seekers whose early-day predecessors braved Indians across the plains or sailed "around the Horn."

Present-day mining machinery recovers more of the precious metal, thus making possible the reworking of old, low-producing claims.

Since the price was hiked to $35 an ounce, the government has improved mine roads.

Spotlighted now is Nevada's newly-famous Jumbo mine, bought by Happy George Austin for $10,000 and now valued at upwards of $1,000,000.

W. D. Crump Is Honored At Home In Shallowater On Ninety-Second Birthday

The Woman's Angle

BY MARGARET TURNER
Woman's Editor

MANY candidates "itching" for office may be "scratched" by accomodating voters today.

We'd like to remind you that it is another election day and voting takes only a few minutes. Go to the polls, vote the way of your convictions and feel good tonight when you learn the returns and find your man wins.

A BRIDGE PROBLEM

A FRIEND who moved here recently from Amarillo complained to us Friday of the way in which contract bridge is played in Lubbock. They still count honors, he said, although that rule was changed last fall. We did not have the heart to tell him that we know nothing of contract, having played less than half a dozen times. But what about that? It appeared to be very annoying to the young man, who with his wife has been invited out for any number of games, always to find that they "count honors." Won't you please stop that?

TOO SYMPATHETIC

WE like the yarn about the four Marx brothers, to-wit: While the mad Marxes were playing in a stock company the economizing manager cancelled a tenor's part.

Feeling sorry for the young man, the Marxes pleaded with the manager, pointing out that he had a family to support, etc.

All of which resulted in the manager replacing the German on the program. And cancelling the Marxes!

LUBBOCK'S first air-conditioned beauty parlor, The Beauty Aire Salon, is holding open house today and Lubbock women are invited to inspect the modern equipment and meet the personnel. Favors will be given. No beauty work will be done during the day, as the time is given over to inspection.

ON SEEKING JOBS

THE charge is made against young people of today that they lack initiative in trying to get a job. This is stupid, cruel and shows a great ignorance of current industrial needs, according to Gertrude Stein, director of a vocational service agency in New York.

In 1929 the girl who kept going back and back, determined to get a job, usually did get one. The same tactics would not work today. There isn't a job to get. Yet many people would tell you to keep calling as in the old days. That is sheer nonsense.

Miss Stein advises girls to study job trends. "Read the want ads in the newspapers. Study them carefully and you will find trends in employment. Right now I think there is a definite trend in demonstrating. Girls are wanted by department stores to demonstrate new merchandise."

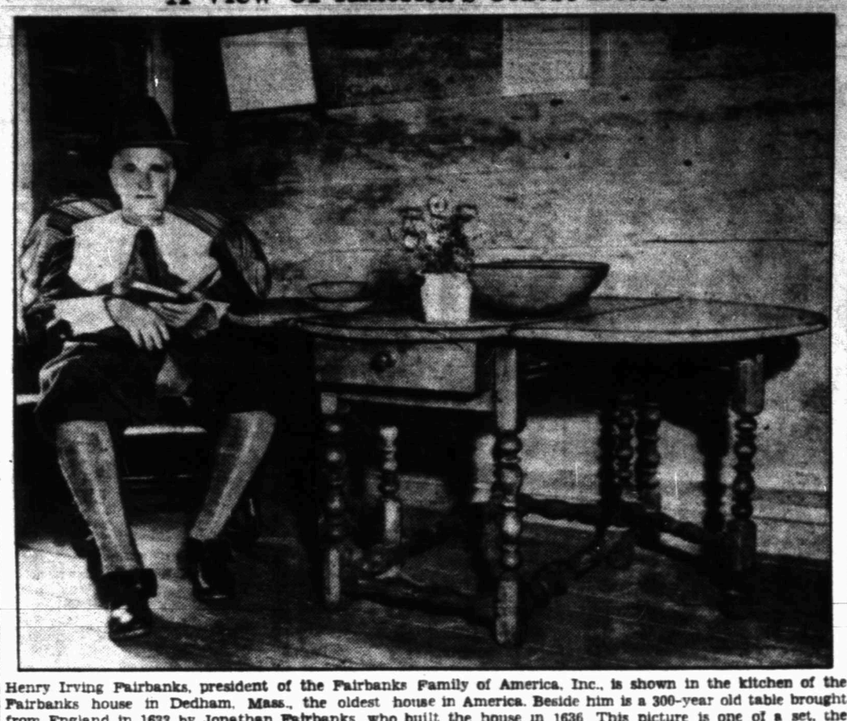

Of course getting experience in that line is another thing, but the girl with initiative will find a way; perhaps working without pay in order to obtain it and apply for a bigger job. In other words: The opportunity is there; if you get yourself in shape to take advantage of it, you won't need to worry.

The Gospel For All Men

Text: Acts 11: 5-18; Romans 1: 15-17

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson For Aug. 23
By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D., Editor Of Advance

NO lesson could be more appropriate or more needed, for our own times, than this one, based on Peter's vision on the housetop. After 19 centuries, the Gospel of Jesus Christ faces the same barriers of racial and sectional prejudice that were present in the early days of Christianity.

Here was Peter, a devout and earnest man, so open-minded that he had become an apostle of the new faith; a man of fine emotions and of splendid courage, yet so bound by racial and religious prejudice that it was only by means of a remarkable vision that God could break down his narrowness and make him see that salvation was as much for the Gentile as for the Jew.

The vision was so decided in its details, and so plain in its implications, that Peter could hardly miss its meaning, especially as his dream had scarcely ended when three men who had been sent from Caesarea by Cornelius, a Roman officer, came on their mission.

It is to Peter's credit that he rose to the vision, that he set aside his narrow prejudices, and welcomed Cornelius to the Christian faith as a brother.

OUR prejudice may not be of the same sort as Peter's, but rare is the man, even though his profession of faith be deep, who has not somewhere in him the traces of some bias and prejudice that limits the fullness and the expression of his brotherly feeling toward his fellow men.

When such prejudice becomes a barrier to the giving to men of the salvation that God intends for them, it is something more than a small and personal thing; it is an interference with divine plans and with divine grace.

Paul, who had the same background of early training and prejudice that Peter had, overcame his prejudices more easily. Perhaps this was because Paul's prejudice had made him a great persecutor, and the conversion that changed him was so sudden and so extreme that his old prejudices were more swiftly and completely swept away.

BOTH Paul and Peter were forced by the plain facts of grace to recognize that God is no respecter of persons, and that the Gospel of Christ is the power of God unto salvation to every one who believes, regardless of the human limitations of creed, race, and other dividing factors.

Man is never so godly as when he sees his fellow men with the love that takes in the whole human family. The world would justify according to its own interests and philosophy the narrow prejudices of race, creed, class, and nationalism which thrive so abundantly in its soil that they would choke out the flowers of grace and humanity. But, in the light of the New Testament and the true experience of God in the soul, human prejudices and hates have a base and mean aspect.

Conference Is To Be Closed Today

Vocational agriculture teachers of state area 1 at noon will complete a conference at Texas Technological college.

At 8 o'clock, M. S. McMurtry of the Amarillo office will be in charge of a motion picture showing on wildlife conservation; at 9:30 C. W. Humble of the same office will discuss "County Wind Erosion Conservation Districts", and C. Luker, at 10:30, will speak on "Functions of Soil Conservation Service and Cooperative Relations with other Agencies."

All 58 teachers who have been in attendance are expected to be at todays program, said sponsors.

A field trip to farms three miles and a half south of Lubbock was undertaken Friday.

A stalk with five cabbage heads was grown by R. E. L. Youngblood of Bradenton, Fla.

Denver Police Arrest Couple

Lubbock Man And His Seventeen - Year - Old Companion Are Held After Arrest Friday In Bridgeport, Neb.

Flight from Lubbock of two persons in an automobile taken here Monday morning from Ragland Motors abruptly was ended Wednesday when a Lubbock man and a 17-year-old girl companion were arrested at Bridgeport, Neb. Sheriff Tom Abel of Lubbock was informed Friday afternoon by Denver, Colo., police.

The Associated Press at Denver said that night the man and his companion were being held there, but that no charges had been filed. It had not been decided whether a complaint would be lodged against the man, who, it was said, was driving an automobile obtained from a Denver auto agency under pretext of wanting to make a test run.

Man Charged Here

The man was charged here this week with theft over $50 after an official of Ragland Motors said he had taken a 1935 V-8 sedan with New Mexico license plates and had said he wanted to demonstrate the machine to his "wife." He promised to return it.

The sheriff's department was informed the Ragland machine was left in Denver before the two left for Nebraska.

A member of the Denver police said he had not talked with the district attorney's department there, but indicated there was a probability Colorado authorities might allow Lubbock to claim the man.

Girl's Mother To Leave

Deputy Sheriff Grady Harrist and Don Reeder, assistant police chief, said the mother of the girl was to leave Friday night for Denver. They went to her home after receiving the Denver message.

The girl last year was object of a several-days hunt of officials when she left Lubbock without parental permission for a visit on the west coast.

Before the couple was arrested in Nebraska, the sheriff's office here had warned all ports of entry in various states between here and the west coast, to watch. It determined immediately after the disappearance the man and the girl had gone in that direction.

Local Pioneer Complimented

Former County Judge Greets Many Friends Friday When Open House Is Held; About Fifty Persons Call

Celebrating the 92nd birthday of W. D. Crump, pioneer Lubbock county citizen and former county judge, approximately 50 friends called at his home in Shallowater Friday between 2 p. m. and midnight. Preceding the open house was a quiet dinner attended by Mr. Crump, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Crump and children, Misses Katie Belle and Mamie Crump, Miss Lalla Boone of Lubbock and some employes of the farm home.

The dinner table was set with a yellow, natural straw luncheon cloth which had been embroidered and made in Juarez.

Afterward, Mr. Crump and his grandchildren played games.

Many of the afternoon callers brought gifts. A home concert was given by a group of the guests. A birthday cake was cut and served with green grape punch.

Mr. Crump was described as having "kept up his Kentucky spirit and getting around as well as last year." He came to this county from Kentucky in 1890. He is one of Lubbock's founders and a Confederate Veteran.

Monster Fish Is Caught Thursday

HALF ISLAND COVE, N. S. Aug. 21 (AP)—A 22-foot fish, believed to be the "monster sea serpent" reported off the Nova Scotia coast several times this month, was the prize of fishermen here today.

Caught in a trap yesterday, the fish was towed in by R. Hendsbee, who estimated it weighed more than four tons. The liver alone weighed about half a ton.

A veteran seaman said the fish looked like the basking sharks he had seen in foreign waters. It had white flesh and a large mouth, but no teeth.

Funeral To Be Read Today For Ambros Colwell Wright

Funeral for Ambros Colwell Wright, 86, who died Friday about noon at the home of a son, Garland, of 1946 Texas avenue, will be held at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the residence. Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, is to officiate, and burial in a local cemetery will be directed by Sanders Funeral home.

Mr. Wright had lived here for the past eight years after removal from Seminole. Death followed an illness of the past year.

He was born in Albany, Ky., Feb. 4, 1850, and had lived in Texas more than 50 years, having first settled in Bell county. He was a member of Masonic lodges for 63 years, and of the Baptist church for 69 years.

Survivors are his wife; four other sons, J. E. Wright of Lubbock, Bob Wright of Seminole, Frank Wright of Dimmitt, and D. M. Wright of Palm Springs, Calif.; one daughter, Mrs. Amy Wright Follis of Lubbock; 32 grandchildren, 36 great grandchildren and 1 great great grandchild.

Banker Fails To Heed Warning

(By Staff Correspondent)

BROWNFIELD, Aug. 21. — Clovis Kendrick, son of President R. M. Kendrick of the First National bank, called by telephone this morning all of the bank's customers to advise them of a closing at 1 p. m. today and a closing Saturday because of election day. He told them to get their cash needs into the bank before noon.

An hour after closing Clovis strolled into the Alexander Drug store and bought a coke. Reaching in his pocket he was unable to find any change, so had to get a check cashed. He paid for the drinks.

Senate Group Plans Action

Threat Of Legal Action To Prevent "Flaunting" Of U. S. Senate Is Made By Senator LaFollete Friday

By JERRY GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Threatening legal action to "punish this flaunting" of the senate, Chairman LaFollette (Pro-Wis) of the special senate labor investigating committee today ordered six Railway Audit and Inspection company officials who failed to appear this morning to be present and testify on Aug. 27.

He issued his order after an attorney for the six men had announced that an application for an injunction restraining them from testifying had been made in federal district court here. A hearing will be held next Tuesday on a rule to show cause why the injunction should not be granted.

Records Destroyed

After hearing evidence from several committee investigators that records had been destroyed after subpoenas had been issued, LaFollette said:

"The subpoenas are in full force and effect and the witnesses are ordered to appear in this room at 10 a. m., August 27.

"The chair believes the record this morning discloses the grossest kind of contumacy on the part of the witnesses subpoenaed. The evidence shows the grossest and most flagrant contempt for this committee.

To Punish Flaunting

"Every legal remedy that can be taken to punish this flaunting of the processes of the United States senate will be taken."

The committee which is investigating alleged violations of civil liberties in labor disputes, had directed W. W. Groves, president of the Railway Audit and Inspection company and five other officials to appear this morning.

Their attorney, Leonard Weinberg, first announced that Groves was ill but would appear later in the day. Then after LaFollette had called the witnesses name three times, Weinberg interrupted the chairman to say that the application for the injunction had been made and that his clients would not appear to testify for at least five days.

Calls Investigators

LaFollette nevertheless went ahead with the hearing and called several committee investigators, among them Robert M. Gates and Daniel P. Margolies.

Gates testified that he served subpoenas on Railway Audit and Inspection officials at Pittsburgh August 3 and was denied access to company records.

He exhibited a large pile of torn paper which he said consisted of the company's records and correspondence. About half of a waste basket full of letters had been torn into bits ranging from one quarter to one inch in diameter, Gates said.

The Pittsburgh records, Gates testified, dealt with reports of labor activities and the state of mind of workers.

New Type Stamp Has Aided State

AUSTIN, Aug. 21. (AP)—A new type of cigaret tax stamp apparently has stopped counterfeiting and resulted in the recovery of large quantities of stolen cigarets, the comptroller's department reported today.

Adopted last March, the stamp bears serial numbers, such as "000196" or "A000014," which enable inspectors readily to trace the source of cigarets.

"While counterfeiting apparently has been eliminated, many thousands of cigarets are being stolen," said Herbert Prenbley, assistant director of the cigaret tax division of the department. "The stamps, however, are leadnig to frequent recoveries."

Last Sunday 170,000 stamps were reported stolen at Cuero and about the same quantity at Austin. Prenley said the thieves usually have established outlets to dispose of their goods.

Stamp sales set a record of $966,940.04 in July, comparing with $628,613.64 in the same month a year ago. The previous high had been $540,766.92 in June of this year.

For the first 20 days of August, sales totalled $389,894, which compared with $302,356 for the first 20 days in July.

On this "velocity dollar," or prosperity certificate, Premier William Aberhart of Alberta bases his hope of bringing recovery to his Canadian province, fulfilling without delay the aims of the Social Credit scheme on which he was elected. However, the government was "caught" with $75,000 of its script the first week, paying a $750 impost. The front of the certificate is shown above. The back of the certificate, as shown below, is dated for Wednesday of each week after issue, each space to carry a one-cent stamp, to be affixed by the holder of the dollar on that date. When 104 stamps have been attached, the government will redeem the certificate for $1 in cash.

All The Intrigue And Devices Of Dime Thriller Injected Into Probe Of Plot

By CHARLES P. NUTTER
Copyright, 1936 by Associated Press

MOSCOW, Aug. 22.—All the intrigue and devices—even the comic relief—of a dime thriller were injected today into the trial of 16 confessed counter-revolutionary plotters.

A secret code to smuggle information to conspirators across Russia's borders, mysteriously based on "The Arabian Nights," added a dramatic touch to the freely-given admissions of the schemers against the life of Dictator Josef Stalin and the Soviet state.

Trial Moves Swiftly

There were secret compartments in trunks, invisible ink, shadowy foreign secret agents, disguised bombs wrapped in "diplomas," as the trial moved swiftly to its end.

Testimony linked Leon Trotzky, former Bolshevik leader and now an exile in Norway, as an arch-conspirator in the terrorist ring. Both the government and the defendants accuse him of plotting and shaping the scheme for a dramatic coup to plunge the Soviet union into chaos and to erect a Fascist state on the ruins of Communism.

Took Coded Messages

Edward Solomonovich Holzmann told how as liaison man he took coded messages from T. Smirnoff, head of the Trotzkyites in Moscow, to Trotzky's son, Syedoff, in Berlin.

"Smirnoff gave me a copy of the Arabian Nights," Holzmann related. "In some way which I do not remember it served as a secret code.

"Upon meeting Syedoff in Berlin I handed him Smirnoff's report on economic and political affairs in the U.S.S.R. and the Arabian Nights code."

Told Of Meeting Trotzky

He told of meeting Trotzky in Copenhagen, and quoted the alleged ringleader as saying:

"The only way to remove Stalin is through terror."

When the uncomfortable Holzmann became confused and gave contradictory answers to Prosecutor Andrey Vishinsky's questions the whole courtroom broke into laughter.

Holzmann said he disagreed with Trotzky and did not pass on to Smirnoff orders given him at the Copenhagen meeting to start the terror.

Dr. Nathan Lazarevich Lourier, another defendant, declared a German engineer and agent, Franz Veis, abetted the terrorist plans in Moscow in 1932. Lourier said he learned later Veis was sent to Russia by Heinrich Himmler, chief of the Nazi secret police.

He said Stalin was to have been the chief victim, but the plotters wanted also the lives of Klementi Voroshiloff, the war commissar; Lazarus M. Kaganovich, commissar of transport, and G. K. Ordzhonikidze, commissar of heavy industry.

He's Bigger'n Two

Gov. Henry Horner of Illinois, left, and Gov. James V. Allred of Texas are rated big men in politics, but when they met at the Texas Centennial, they were dwarfed by Governor Horner's "bodyguard," Robert Wadlow, of Alton, Ill. The ceiling is low, so a clear view can be obtained of "Big Boy" Wadlow, who at 17 is 8 feet 5 inches tall.

Bobby Riggs To Meet Parker In Finals Of Casino Event

NEW PORT, R. I., Aug. 21. (AP)—Bobby Riggs of Los Angeles, national clay court champion and ace of the country's younger tennis set, and the youthful but experienced Frankie Parker of Spring Lake, N. J., became finalists for the fourth time this season today in the historic Newport Casino competition.

Riggs, who gained his title at Parker's expense and then bowed to him in the Spring Lake and Longwood bowl tourneys, registered an impressive victory over Joe Hunt, his young townsman, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3.

Helen Jacobs, Alice Marble Meet In Essex Net Finals

MANCHESTER Mass. Aug. 21 (AP) Miss Helen Jacobs, Berkeley, and Miss Alice Marble, San Francisco, tossed aside bay state foes to provide an all-Pacific Coast final tomorrow in the Essex County club's invitation tournament.

The chopstroking Wimbledon and national champion turned back unseeded Kay Winthrop, of nearby Ipswich, 8-6, 6-3, while Miss Marble eliminated Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, of Brookline third ranking player nationally, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Cowmen Only Want Rainfall

And Halt Of Foreign Imports Of Cattle From Government, Fred A. Hobart Of Canadian Declares In Denver

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Aug. 21.—The only favors United States cattlemen wish from the government is to "make it rain, if it can, and stop foreign imports of cattle."

Fred A. Hobart, of Canadian, Tex., a member of the executive committee of the American National Livestock association, thus outlined the wants of cattlemen at a meeting of the committee here today.

The committee mapped a campaign against cattle importations and instructed its legislative branch to fight passage of further stock importing treaties, such as the Argentine sanitary convention, which, cattlemen said, has been negotiated by Secretary Hull and will be presented to congress at the next session.

F. E. Mollin, of Denver, secretary of the association, in voicing opposition to the proposed inclusion of the livestock industry under the soil conservation program, declared that in only one of the several recent state meetings were stockmen permitted to vote on the program.

"That was in Wyoming," he said. "The vote was against the program."

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Published every morning, except Sunday and Monday and consolidated on Sunday morning only in the Sunday Avalanche-Journal by the Avalanche-Journal Publishing Company, Inc., 1311 Texas Avenue.

Let's Go Do The Job!

IN spite of the fact that only two statewide races remain to be decided in today's election and that local ballots the South Plains over are "short," it is important that the electorate goes to the polls today and makes a choice.

Aside from the various county and district races which dot this section's ballots today, the two state offices still in contest are important to us all. Certainly this great agricultural area is interested in whom shall administer for the next two years to the office of commissioner of agriculture. Surely the prospects for oil and the fact that we in this section are interested in utility and freight rates make the race for railroad commissioner important to us.

The Morning Avalanche can make no choice in the candidates seeking the agriculture commissionership. Frankly, neither candidate appeals to us as being anything more than mediocre. But as we remarked yesterday, there is a choice—a West Texas choice—in the other race, that being the red haired, fighting ex-Colonel of the American Expeditionary forces, Ernest O. Thompson of Potter county, who asks for a second term on the railroad commission backed by a record of outstanding service during his first term.

But regardless of your choice for any office, go to the polls and vote today.

Because there has been little "election fireworks" in this country, too many of us have fallen into the slough of "I don't care." Too many of us, not keyed up as we usually are over elections, have decided to "go fishing," or keep working and let the election take care of itself. That is not good.

We owe it to our individual counties and our state to render a decision at the ballot box.

Even if you're one who doesn't "give a whoop" who is elected, make up your mind to support one or the other of each contesting candidate and perform the service you owe to your government.

It doesn't take much time to vote.

Go do the job!

Fighting Forest Fires Is He-Man's Job; CCC Boys Praised For Action

BY WILBUR E. BADE
NEA Service Correspondent

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 21. — CCC youths recruited from city slums, small communities, and colonies of unemployed have played a great part in saving from utter devastation the North Woods country in Minnesota and Wisconsin, where forest fires have ravaged more than 75,000 acres of timber, farm lands, and second growth woods.

So say the forest rangers.

"Without the men from the efficient, well-disciplined CCC camps dotting the woods countries in these two states, we would have been helpless," R. U. Harmon, supervisor of the Superior National forest in Minnesota, declares.

C. C. Carlton, state ranger in charge of the Cloquet, Minn., station, credited the CCC youths with saving some of the finest remaining stands of timber in Minnesota.

Del Isch, federal ranger in the Moquah forest in Wisconsin, echoed Carlton's praise, as did settlers in fire-swept areas.

• • •

Move Swiftly Into Action

WHEN the call comes to a CCC camp, the men snap into action like an infantry company bound for the trenches. Trucks are loaded with shovels, axes, brush hooks, water tanks, burlap bags, pails, food, oil, and gasoline. Trucks rumble out, loaded with men.

Reporting to the ranger on the fire line, men are quickly stationed. Blanketed by acrid smoke, they beat out flame that has licked across the fire line. They rush in to brush out a territory, cut down trees and pile them in the unprotected area, and dig a trench before the path of flame.

A backfire is set. Men patrol the area with wet burlap and with water tanks on their backs to extinguish embers driven over the line.

They work without protest and without shirking, amid stifling heat, with acrid smoke biting at their lungs, almost blinding them. But they check the fire.

Sometimes the wind shifts suddenly and men are rushed to a new front—men who are due for rest, but the fire doesn't wait. There is no loafing.

• • •

Rain Is Best Bet

"WHEN it comes to fighting fires, the best way is to get yourself a damned good rain," declares P. W. Swedberg, Moose Lake Station (Minn.) ranger.

But his district has had about .54 inch of rain since July 1, and the woods are drier than matchsticks.

He has 20 fires in his district. More are being reported hourly as the smoke lifts occasionally and rangers in observation towers spot fresh blazes.

He has had little sleep for a week. He is fagged and is going to rest.

In comes a call for 300 men and tractors in the St. Croix forest. The fire is out of control.

He is on the phone, first arranging for some CCC men, then for 100 volunteers from nearby towns. He gets a caterpillar tractor and a road scraper started from a point 90 miles away. The others are in use. No rest for another day.

But he called on the CCC first.

• • •

Fire Pops Like Corn

THE cameraman and I follow a ranger to the head of the fight. The smoke is billowing and rolling. There is little flame.

Around us the fire sounds like corn poppping in a giant tin popper.

The fierce crackling, says Ranger Carlton, is the fire moving on the ground. It consumes the dry wood, the shrubs and brush, and roots. The heat kills the trees. White ashes look dead, but they conceal live coals that almost scorch off the soles of our boots.

A mile back are blackened stumps. There was a good wind there. Rocks stand out, bare in the flame-swept area.

The intense heat of the ground fire, like a furnace, generates its own wind. The black smoke, fed by pitch from the pines, billows and breaks into flame that licks out 50 feet to crisp the leaves of birch and poplar. The ground fire flares as the wind rises.

Fanned on, the flame sweeps over a dried muskeg swamp as if it were excelsior.

• • •

Trees Burn In Instant

CARLTON warns us to look out for a wind shift. He is trying to estimate the progress of the fire and how far back it stretches; he has 400 men and tractors coming in shortly.

"She'll hit the river in an hour," he says. Back goes a message to get a crew to strengthen two bridges so trucks can move in.

The flames lick on. A birch becomes a pillar of flame, the dried bark and crisp leaves burning like paper. Fifty years of growth gone in a puff.

Two hours later the men start to work. The tractor breaks the ground after men have taken out the big trees and hauled them toward the fire. Brush is taken out on both sides of the line. A backfire sweeps toward the flames.

The CCC starts to patrol for spot fires. The heat is fierce. Perspiration dries in an instant as the hot wind beats down. Breathing is hard; our lungs ache.

Farther back is a crown fire—the flames leaping through the tops of trees as the smoke bursts into flame. In one minute by our watch, the fire has spread over 150 yards.

To check a crown fire, trees are chopped down for many yards in the path of the blaze. The brush is piled with the trees, or if there is time and room to work, it is hauled to one side.

If the wind is right, the backfiring method comes in again.

• • •

Two Dreaded Foes

THE two fire menaces in the North Woods are cigaret and cigar stubs and dry lightning.

Stubs thrown from cars or discarded by berry pickers smolder and soon have a wide area glowing like a furnace. A wind whips it into flame, and the fire is on. In a few minutes it is out of control unless a crew is on hand.

Dry lightning in the woods is like the spark that sets off a cigar lighter. Dry lightning comes with a storm that has no rain. Lightning strikes in a score of places, setting small fires which in an hour make a forest an inferno.

Because of heavy smoke blanketing the woods, rangers are unable to spot new blazes in the woods until they are far out of control.

Along the Miller trunk highway, between Duluth and the Iron Range, this patrol, with a pressure tank, blots out "spot" fires before they can jump the road and rage through brush country.

Possibility Of Continuance In Stevens Case Threatened

FORT WORTH, Aug. 21. (AP) — The possibility of a continuance in the O. D. Stevens murder case threatened today as Arthur Lee Moore, his attorney, continued efforts to confer with the prisoner.

Stevens, a federal prisoner is held incommunicado in a death cell of the county jail and federal regulations have prevented Moore from seeing him.

"If I am not allowed to see Stevens within a short time I believe I will have grounds for continuance," said Moore. "I have other matters to take care of and I wont sit around all week waiting to see my client."

A continuance in the Handley triple murder case would further complicate the situation, authorities say, because Stevens was released from Alcazar island prison with the understanding on the part of federal officials he would go to trial September 14.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

NEW DEAL politicos have taken swift steps to check disaffection among southern negro share croppers and tenant farmers. It marks another smart move to tie the influential colored vote in the North to FDR.

For three years southern negroes' complaints that they were being gypped in the handling of AAA checks were neglected at Washington. Recently northern negroes began to grow suspicious. Their leaders asked whether their people received benefits only in sections where they could vote, insinuating that the negro's lack of suffrage in many southern states was responsible for his plight. They hinted that failure to act was due to a desire to aid primary campaigns of influential Democratic Senators like Majority Leader Robinson of Arkansas and Finance Chairman Harrison of Mississippi.

First to respond was the attorney-general. He sent in an able and fearless investigator to supplant an inquisitor best known for having quashed seed loan indictments against important Democrats several years ago. Mr. Cummings has promised a thorough investigation.

• • •

OKAY: AAA officials also showed an interest about the time it appeared that resentment might spread to states where the negroes swing a mighty fist at the polls—New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana.

AAA investigators were dispatched to the cotton belt almost overnight. They buttonholed complainants, issued interviews on future plans and attended rallies where problems of the negro farmer were discussed. Preliminary reports indicate that the political insurrection has been squelched. At a meeting in Texas President F. D. Patterson of Tuskegee Institute declared to a gathering of his people: "No administration could have set itself more sincerely or energetically to get for the farmer a square deal amid circumstances more difficult to master than has the present administration."

That remark was flashed to influential negro leaders and newspapers in the North. Democratic negro leaders interpret it as a personal endorsement of the administration by one of their most respected educators. He has not repudiated this interpretation and the New Dealers are jubilant.

• • •

BREAKS?: Several New Deal agencies have exhibited amazing frankness in recent reports touching on explosive 1936 issues. Some of the "master minds" are wondering how it happened at this particular moment.

Secretary Roper's economic experts unloosed a statement setting forth that industry could not recover unless the budget were balanced. That's a platitude which FDR's enemies have been uttering for three years, but one which the politically-minded Mr. Roper would never allow to cross his lips even while talking in his sleep. Explanation may be that he was absent from Washington.

Then the CCC-ers broadcast that food costs for the boys in the woods have jumped more than a cent per man per day because of a rise in prices. There was no special reason for making public this report and certain higherup New Dealers lifted their eyebrows. Spending, the budget and the "scarcity" policy are rapidly becoming the most alive questions in the Landon-Roosevelt fight.

• • •

CLOVER: Surest undercover evidence that business and industry are coming back in a fast and big way is the rapid reemployment of industrial lobbyists, publicists and "front men" at Washington. They're back on the payroll.

It was during the Coolidge-Hoover boom that banks, business houses and corporations felt the need for hiring representatives at the capital. They needed men who were a combination of lawyer-lobbyist-publicist-salesman. Salaries ranged from $10,000 to $50,000 a year. Ex-newspapermen, ex-Congressmen and ex-bureaucrats grew rich on these jobs.

During the depression they lost out. They were the first to be fired, in fact. For six years they existed off their savings, life insurance borrowings and the bounty of friends. But now they're in the "big money" again, with more retainers than they can handle. Their employers may be for Alf Landon but they're for Roosevelt as long as it—and he—lasts.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NEW YORK Republican insiders are greatly cheered by the designation of ex-governor Myers Y. Cooper of Ohio as "general in charge" of G.O.P. national headquarters in Chicago during the absences of chairman John D. M. Hamilton.

Already reports are being circulated about the possibility of a cabinet post for Cooper, who has had an active background in agriculture, business and government. The best posted sources say such talk is premature and that Cooper's "availability" for the cabinet will depend chiefly on the services he renders between now and November.

The important angle—as astute New Yorkers see it—is that Cooper as executive officer has the political experience to give Jim Farley keen competition on his own battleground. It has been a common complaint among G.O.P. backstagers since Hamilton took office that the new chairman was botching his job because he didn't know what it was all about. Cooper is well qualified to remedy shortcomings in that direction.

• • •

DISSATISFIED: An outstanding mid-western editor, noted for his sound judgment in G.O.P. councils, offers the following election prognosis:

"At present it looks as if the only thing that can beat Roosevelt is the dissatisfied organizations, such as the Townsendites, Lemkeites, etc. Apart from that he can make a lot of mistakes and still win.

"No doubt the opposition knows this and will give F.D.R. a fight on this basis. I therefore look for a battle right up to the closing of the polls. All other maneuvers are either standardized or discounted or both."

• • •

STIMULANT: On the other side of the picture, a noted conservative Democratic editor in New England predicts that Maine will show a heavy plurality against Roosevelt next month, and maintains that a similar trend is well established throughout the rest of New England.

He further contends that the New England verdict—represented by Maine—will afford an accurate clue as to the way the middle west in general will vote.

His belief is that the numerous midwestern descendants of New England stock are sure to demonstrate their ancestral soundness of judgment. He is confident that the final November outcome will not be close and that Maine's exampl ewill encourage Republican workers all over the country to clinch the victory.

• • •

EDGE: Tammany's private primary fight in New York City is working out exactly as planned by the anti-Roosevelt forces inside the Tiger organization which did not deem it wise to go on record openly as opposing the President.

Jim Farley evidently underestimated Tammany's capacity to cherish resentment when he had Sheriff William Brunner selected as official Democratic candidate for the key New York City post of president of the Board of Aldermen. Brunner, who belonged to Farley's McKee-Recovery party faction in 1933, is an ideal target for dissension sowers. It looks as if Frank Prial, Brunner's primary rival who cordially dislikes Farley, will sweep every borough by an impressive margin—thus knocking Big Jim's prestige on the head.

It is significant that bosses Ed Flynn of the Bronx (Farley's most important protege in New York City) and James J. Dooling of Tammany each declined the other's invitation to name this year's candidate without opposition. Both are gunning for bigger game—the mayoralty next year. Tammany already has a long edge in this contest.

Strike Of Cotton Pickers Is Reported In Mexican Territory

LAREDO, Aug. 21. (AP)—The Laredo Times said today 10,000 cotton pickers in the rich Laguna agricultural region of Coahuila, had struck and were tying up the production of 100 haciendas.

The paper said various labor organizations were holding sympathy meetings and threatening the state with a general strike of all laborers. Pickers, the Times said, were demanding higher salaries. Haciendo owners had not met the demands.

GOOD PRODUCER STRUCK

BENAVIDES, Aug. 21. (AP)—A drill stem test shot oil high in the derrick at the Gravis No. 1, about 15 miles from here last night.

Operators estimated the discovery well would produce 5,000 barrels daily. The well is located near Realitos in Duval county.

TARZAN AND THE LEOPARD MEN, No. 24

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan paid no heed to Orando's panicky warning against the Taloned Death. Instead he continued to trail the dim leopard scent which clung to the ground. Behind him, in fascinated horror, crept the people of the village of Tumbai. And in the vanguard was Bobito.

The scent of the leopard grew stronger as the Jungle Lord followed a circuitous route in the rear of the huts. Evidently the phantom beast-thing had been cautious. Was it possible, he wondered, that there was a leopard trained by a fiendish master mind to murder men?

Suddenly the trail swerved and led straight to the door of a hut. Tarzan halted. He had the wild beast's reluctance to enter an unfamiliar enclosure. His keen nostrils quivered. He sniffed in short quick intakes of air. He knew he was at the end of the trail!

Within that dark, forbidding interior lay some terrible secret which he was resolved to uncover. A low, ominous growl rumbled in the beastman's throat. His right hand leaped to his knife, and the blade glinted in the eerie light of the torches. Tarzan was ready!

Ray Terrill Is To Go Free Sept. 24

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 21. (AP)—Roy W. Kenny, warden of the state penitentiary at McAlester, said today that Ray Terrill, 37, bank robber, will be released from prison September 24.

Three hold orders placed for Terrill by Texas authorities when he entered prison in 1925 have been withdrawn, Kenny notified Fred Cunningham, state pardon and parole officer.

Terrill was serving a 20-year term for burglarizing a bank with the use of explosives. He will complete his sentence in slightly more than 11 years with time off for credits.

Kenny said that when Terrill entered prison he was wanted in Texas in connection with bank robberies there blamed on the Matt Kimes gang. Kenny said Terrill was linked with the Kimes gang at one time.

Evidence that man lived in America before the ice age has been recently uncovered.

Museum Bids To Be Taken

Board Of Control At Austin, To Receive Bids For Tech's Museum Unit On Sept. 9; To Award Contract

Bids for construction of a museum on the campus of Texas Technological college will be received in the office of the board of control, Austin, until 10 a. m. on Wednesday, Sept. 9, the centennial division of the board has announced.

Centennial funds amounting to $25,000 have been allocated for construction of the museum, which is to serve as a West Texas memorial.

Bids are to be submitted in accordance with plans on file with the board and in the office of F. A. Kleinschmidt, head of the department of architecture and allied arts at the college.

Plans provide for an L-shaped structure, only the ground floor unit of which will be constructed now. A memorial hall is included in plans.

Separate and combined bids will be received on plumbing, heating, air conditioning and wiring.

A new floor wax containing 10 per cent rubber prevents slipping on polished floors.

Tomatoes And Peaches Injected Into Controversy Regarding Dance Costume

PALESTINE, Aug. 21. (AP) — The East Texas Tired Business Men's club today injected tomatoes and peaches into the controversy regarding Mlle. Corrine's costume for dancing at the Texas Centennial.

Grapefruit growers of the Rio Grand. valley want their product represented. The Temple Chamber of Commerce insists upon a cotton boll.

The T. B. M. C. spokesmen said today tomatoes and peaches were more emblematic of Texas' prosperity.

Mlle. Corrine now uses an oversized apple.

Answer Is Awaited On Costume; Corrine May Pick

DALLAS, Aug. 21. (AP)—The Rio Grande valley, where they're grapefruit conscious, and the Temple Chamber of Commerce, King Cotton's champion, awaited an answer today in their dispute about Mlle. Corrine's costume.

Mlle. Corrine is a Texas girl who nightly offers Centennial exposition patrons what she calls an "apple dance." The "apple" she uses constitutes most of her costume.

The valley protaganists of the grapefruit vehemently protested the apple costume and suggested the citrus should be used in recognition of the Texas product.

The temple Chamber of Commerce came back with an assertion "cotton, not grapefruit, is Texas' greatest crop. "If any change is made in the costume of Corrine, the people . . . should demand that she use a cotton boll."

The Centennial publicity office promised it would find out what Mlle Corrine herself thinks about the argument.

Here's Tale Which Is Giving G-Men Quite A Bit Of Laughs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—The G-men are chuckling over this one.

A man escaped from a small town jail recently, and the police chief whom justice department agents do not name, sent six pictures of the fugitive, each with a different pose, to the police chief of a nearby city. A few hours later he received this telegram:

"Have arrested five of the men; expect to have the sixth within a few hours."

TREASURY REPORT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—The position of the treasury Aug. 19:

Receipts $59,865,095.55; expenditures $73,296,445.43; balance $2,020,339,747.11; customs receipts for the month $21,181,553.34.

Receipts for the fiscal year to date (since July 1) $549,642,058.65; expenditures, excess of expenditures $255,016,842.40. Gross debt $33,406,351,213.23; a decrease of $1,134,395.25 from the previous day. Gold assets $10,678,424,127.69.

Preaching Holiday

Th Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming (above), rector of Trinity parish in New York, has called for a two-year moratorium on preaching. He said there is practically "no preaching worth the name to be found" and that sermons today "are a poor edition of topical homelitics, a brand of religious pep talks."—(Associated Press Photo.)

Roosevelt Not To Speak In Campaign Until In October

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 21. (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he would not make any political speeches before October in his campaign for re-election.

The president told a press conference he had no campaign trips scheduled as yet and did not consider any speeches he would make before October would be political in nature.

He already had said his drouth tour beginning next week would be non-political.

"Hit And Run" Steamship Hits Troller Off Pacific Coast

SEATTLE, Aug. 21. (AP) — The trolling boat Royal wirelessed the coast guard here today that a "hit-and-run" steamship wrecked the Tacoma troller Blanco at 4:30 a. m., today off Umatilla light ship, killing one man.

The Royal took the only known survivor, Ed Pedersen to the light ship.

Coast guard division headquarters said the cutter Redwing and a plane had been dispatched from the Port Angeles base and a life boat from the Neah Ba station to pick up the wreckage and rescue the body of Engvald Pedersen, which the Royal reported was imprisoned in the debris.

MANUFACTURER IS KILLED

HOPEWELL, N. J., Aug. 21. (AP)—Charles Ward Hall, 59, of Morrisville, Pa., owner of the All-Aluminum Aircraft, inc., of Bristol, Pa., was killed today when his plane crashed in a dense fog near here.

Flying a metal monoplane of his own design, which officials of the Trenton-Princeton airport said was built in 1927 for an airplane safety competition, Hall apparently lost his way on a flight from the airport to Washington, D. C.

Houston Merchant Robbed Of $3,075

HOUSTON, Aug. 21. (AP) — J. K. Foster, owner of a suburban food shop, reported to police that two men robbed him of $3,075 today.

Foster said one man drew a .45 caliber pistol and robbed him and that the other man waited at the curb in a black sedan. He said the pair drove away at high speed toward the downtown business district.

Foster said that about 10 minutes before the holdup a bag containing $2,875 had been delivered to his store in an armored car and that he believed the robbers had been in the store at the time.

"Shooter Bill" Swartz, Dean Of Oil Well Shooters, Dies

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 21. (AP)—W. H. "Shooter Bill" Swartz, 63, of Tulsa, known as the dean of oil well shooters, died today at a Clearfield, Pa., hospital following an operation.

Swarts became an oil well shooter when the practice was started in 1896. He shot between four and five thousand wells and never had a serious accident despite years of riding in spring wagons with a supply of nitroglycerine under the seat.

U. S. Business Is Holding Up

General Activity Gives Only Slight Indication Of Tapering Off During August In Dun & Bradstreet Report

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—General business activity during this week gave only slight indication of tapering off to the usual August dullness, Dun & Bradstreet said today in its trade review of the week.

Consumer buying assumed a more leisurely pace, the agency said, the hot weather making for less interest in fall merchandise, but remaining stocks of summer items moved out rapidly.

Volume About Same

Wholesale volume was about the same as in the preceding week with more attention devoted to higher priced items. With the unexpected rebound of industrial operations, some of the heavy goods divisions were near the high rate for the year, the review said.

"Uneven consumer demand extended the mild curtailment of retail distribution recorded for the week preceding," the agency reported. "Sales of vacation necessities and sporting goods were sustained, but the belated calls for beachwear and luggage found assortments incomplete.

Merchandise Held Up

"Soaring temperatures revived interest in electric fans, electric refrigerators, and air-conditioning units, but prevented fall merchandise from contributing to the week's volume special sales practically cleared the stocks of summer goods.

"Record high temperatures in some districts, as the heat wave worked its way across the country, reduced distribution at most cities by 3 to 8 per cent for the week. This shortened the estimated increase of retail sales to 10 to 12 per cent over the corresponding 1935 volume, taking the country as a whole."

The rise from last year's total in the New England states was 8 to 12 per cent; in the east sales averaged 12 to 15 per cent above a year ago; retail volume in the Mid-West ranged from 10 to 20 per cent higher than in 1935, while the increase in the South and Southwest was 20 to 25 per cent. On the Pacific coast it was 15 to 18 per cent higher.

Constable Faces Extortion Charge

DALLAS, Aug. 21. (AP)—Officials charged Frank Ragsdale, Mesquite constable, with extortion today, after he testified before the grand jury in the case of F. H. McCommas, his deputy, similarly accused.

The complaints were entered on testimony of Bill Mackey, Centennial consession employe, who said McCommas demanded "hush money" when he found Mackey sitting with a young woman in an automobile on a rural road.

Guy Berry, Mesquite justice of the peace, also appeared before the grand jury today.

The probing body recommended Ragsdale's bond be set at $2,500. McCommas was released after posting a $2,000 surety.

Mackey said he paid McCommas part of the money allegedly demanded and promised the balance the following day. When he returned he had Chief Deputy Sheriff Bill Decker hidden in the car to witness the transaction. Decker made the arrest.

Delinquent Taxes Collected To Reduce City's Total Sum

Collection of delinquent taxes for 1935 and other years has totalled $8,238.38 for the four months since March 31, the close of the 1935-36 fiscal year, according to a report yesterday from City Auditor D. D. Martin. Interest and penalty payments are not included in the amount.

The total reduces the city delinquent roll from $134,407.09 to $116,168.71, exclusive of interest and penalty charges.

The amount of collections daily since a campaign was started to reduce delinquencies has averaged about $100, said E. C. Young, tax assessor-collector.

Two Of Eight Prisoners Still At Large After Jail Escape

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 21. (AP)—Two of eight prisoners who escaped from the Wichita county jail shortly after midnight were still at large this afternoon.

Jailer Frank Watkins suffered severe lacerations and bruises when overpowered by two prisoners who had in some manner unknown to officials opened a cell door. The officer was forced to open other doors to release the remaining prisoners in two tanks. Fourteen prisoners refused to take advantage of the opportunity and remained in jail.

The police radio system resulted in the arrest of six of the fugitives, including three convicted hijackers, eight minutes after the alarm was broadcast. The two still at large face charges in small burglary cases.

Proposal To End Receivership Is Given Approval

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21. (AP) — A proposal for ending the six-year-old receivership of the Richfield Oil company of California, reorganizing it with nearly $20,000,000 of new capital, had the approval today of a federal court here.

A plan of reorganization of the Pan American Petroleum company, in receivership since March, 1932, was included in and made a part of the Richfield proposal.

Kuhn, Loeb and company, New York bankers, and a reorganization committee prepared and approved the plan before it was filed in court yesterday.

Would Form New Firm

The proposal is for the formation of a new, enlarged concern in which present holders of $60,000,000 of bonds and claims would join with the Rio Grande Oil company, Consolidated Oil, Cities Service company and others.

Properties of the Rio Grande firm, a Texas corporation, would be included as component parts of the projected new Richfield concern.

Investment bankers, oil companies and others already have underwritten more than $15,000,000 of the proposed new capital and present bondholders and unsecured creditors will be offered the first opportunity of subscribing to new securities by which the initial net working capital would total $26,500,000.

Cotton Spinning Shows Increases

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—The cotton spinning industry was reported today by the census bureau to have operated during July at 119.8 per cent of capacity, on a single shift basis, compared with 111.0 per cent during June this year, and 73.5 during July last year.

Spinning spindles in place July 31 totaled 26,157,094 of which 22,249,572 were active at some time during the month, compared with 26,311,594 and 22,997,322 for June this year and 30,110,078 and 22,312,384 for July last year.

Active spindle hours for July totaled 7,859,348,920 or an average of 279 hours per spindle in place, compared with 7,319,892,480 and 289 for June this year, and 5,197,827,965 and 171 for July last year.

Texas Farmer Income Higher

First Six Months Of This Year Show 14 Per Cent Increase In Normal Income; Payments Are Lower This Year

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. — Government statistics showed today the normal income of the average Texas farmer for the first six months of this year was 14 per cent larger than the same period last year.

The inclusion of government benefit payments, however, resulted in a three per cent decrease.

Total receipts from the sale of principal farm products netted Texans $127,976,000 the first half of this year, compared with $112,000,000 from January to July in 1935, but, with government payments the totals were $143,300,000 and $148,311,000 for this year and last.

The 1936 normal income was divided as follows: crops, $55,447,000, and livestock, $72,228,000. The 1935 comparative totals were $51,922,000 and $60,078,000.

Benefit payments to mid-year in 1936 were $15,624,000, compared with $36,311,000 in 1935 and $26,052,000 in 1934.

Florida Mayor Holds His Post Despite Efforts To Oust Him For His Support Of Landon

PENSACOLA, Fla., Aug. 21. (AP)—Mayor H. Clay Armstrong held his post today despite efforts of Democrats to oust him because of his support of Governor Alf M. Landon, Republican presidential nominee.

The city council could not agree last night upon a successor—four member voting for Armstrong, four for Will C. Moyer and one for William Tyler. Armstrongs' term as mayor expired several months ago but he has been serving pending selection of a successor. A life-long Democrat, he declared recently he did not approve of the New Deal and wrote to Governor Landon offering his backing.

Several Democratic organizations urged the council to ask for the mayor's resignation.

Movement Of Peaches, Trees From Area May Be Prohibited

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP) — Advisability of prohibiting movement of peaches and peach and nectarine trees from California, Colorado, New Mexico, Texas and Utah because of an outbreak of the peach mosaic disease in those states will be discussed at a public hearing in the department of agriculture here September 14.

The bureau of entomology and plant quarantine announced the hearing and reported federal inspectors had identified the disease in those states after first observing it in Texas in 1931.
