Regulatory Power Bills Now In Hands Of Governor Connally

A new order of things for fish and game in San Patricio and Aransas Counties is in prospect with the passage of two bills by Rep. Leroy Wieting of Portland in the Senate Tuesday. They are HB1020 and HB1021.

Minor amendments tacked on to both bills for clarification were concurred in by the House during the day and the measures now go to Gov. Connally for action.

The bills place regulation of hunting and fishing in both counties, including regulatory authority over parts of Aransas Bay, Copano Bay and Mesquite Bay that lie within Aransas County under the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

House Bill 1021 set up the first system or regulation by the commission on salt water fisheries and with the state's laboratory at Rockport offers an advantageous pilot program for tidewater activities that will spread to other sections if it succeeds.

The bill sets out some closed areas to netting of fish in portions of Aransas and Copano Bays.

The bills were passed with record votes and will go into effect as soon as they are approved by the governor.

LEGISLATURES INCLUDE FISHING PIER FUNDS IN APPROPRIATIONS

Appropriations of $49,500 for the Port Lavaca Causeway and $10,000 for conversion of the old Copano Bay Causeway into public fishing pier when the new causeway across Copano Bay is completed are among the items in the general appropriations bill reported to the Legislature Tuesday.

A bill by Sen. William N. Patman of Ganado authorizing the construction of the Port Lavaca Causeway has passed the Senate and is expected to pass the House before the legislative session comes to an end Friday night.

SECOND TRY TO CLOSE BAYS FAILS

The second try in two days failed Tuesday to bring up for House action a bill closing Espiritu Santo Bay and other bays in Calhoun County to netting of fish.

The House gave a favorable 77-62 vote on a motion by Rep. Jerry Butler of Kenedy to suspend the rules necessary to consider the bill. But the effort failed, needing a two-thirds majority.

Sen. William Patman of Ganado is the sponsor of the bill, which has been passed by the Senate.

Butler said he was handling the bill in the House in the absence of the House sponsor, Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, whose father died Sunday in California.

Saturday, May 25 To Be Buddy Poppy Day Says Adams

Buddy Poppy Chairman Jim Adams of the local VFW post today spelled out the exact channels into which all funds collected in the annual poppy drive on May 25 will be diverted. He said he was making the statement so that all citizens of the county would know where the money was going.

"The manner in which Buddy Poppy funds may be spent," he said, is regulated by the national by-laws of the VFW. Disbursements are strictly confined to the following purposes:

"For the aid, relief and comfort of disabled and needy veterans, their dependents, and their widows and orphans.

"For the maintenance or expansion of the VFW National Home for widows and orphans of veterans and service patients and their dependents.

"For rehabilitation, welfare and service work, including liason service with the Veterans' Administration.

"For necessary expenses for military funerals of deceased veterans.

"For acquisition, improvement and maintenance of burial plots and decoration of graves of veterans and service men.

"In each VFW community," Adams said, "more than one half of the total Buddy Poppy receipts are used for local veteran welfare work. We are primarily an organization dedicated to serving our needy comrades, no matter in what war they may have fought, or whether or not they are VFW members, Requisites for VFW relief are that they must have served their country honorably, and that their claims for aid must be worthy.

"Buddy Poppy day has been set here for May 25, and it is expected that all patriotic citizens of the community will help those who helped them when they were needed by the country."

Adams will be assisted by VFW members, the VFW Auxiliary, the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts in selling the poppies."

Junior High School Moves

Aransas County Junior High School students will participate in helping move over 2500 text-books that they have been using this year into the book room of the new junior high school on Thursday, May 23, between the hours of ten and 12 o'clock.

Students will also be moving teaching supplies and teaching equipment to the individual rooms in the new building if plans go as arranged now.

Junior high students will also move books from the junior-senior library to another room in preparation of the remodeling and enlarging that will be carried out in the present library which will include taking in the additional space that is occupied by two classrooms now.

The new furniture, which includes chair desks for all students, filing cabinets, teacher desks, and other equipment will start arriving for the new building after June 1.

The area around the new junior high school is being topped with black dirt and almost all of the playground area has received its quota of black dirt. The leveling of this dirt has started.

Tentative plans have been made in regard to an irrigation supply system that will provide water for the new health and physical education playground area and the area in and around the new school in the hope that this space will be in first class shape by Sept. 3 of this year.

The office of the junior high principal will remain in it's present location for several weeks yet.

Shrimp Catch For April Fair Statistician Says

Landings of headless shrimp at Texas ports amounted to 1,200,000 pounds in April, according to Orman H. Farley, in charge of gathering fisheries statistics for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Texas.

Farley said this was 12,000 pounds above landings for the same period a year ago.

Landings for the first four months of 1963—January through April—totaled 5,200,000 pounds, which was 212,000 pounds below the same period in 1962.

Current April landings, the statistician said, included 50% brown shrimp, 44% pink, and 6% whites, with the Brownsville-Port Isabel area coming up with 67% of the grand total, followed by Aransas Pass-Rockport-Corpus Christi area, and then by Freeport.

In the Port Arthur-Sabine area in April of 1963, 24,000 pounds of shrimp tails were landed, compared with 60,000 pounds in March this year, and 16,400 pounds in April a year ago. In the same order, other area catches were:

Galveston, 22,900 pounds, 23,300 pounds, 20,400 pounds; Freeport, 77,700 pounds, 82,300 pounds, and 107,000 pounds; Matagorda-Palacios area, 8,000 pounds, 5100 pounds, and 1700 pounds;

Port Lavaca - Port O'Connor-Seadrift area, 2900 pounds, nothing, 10,800 pounds; Aransas Pass-Rockport-Corpus Christi, 264,200 pounds, 246,800 pounds, 169,500 pounds; Port Isabel, 419,700 pounds, 478,100 pounds, 441,900 pounds; Brownsville, 377,300 pounds, 383,300 pounds, and 417,700 pounds.

Farley said that trawlers from Texas ports made only fair catches of both brown and white shrimp in waters adjacent to the Texas coast, with landings per 12-hour effort averaging about 125 pounds of headless shrimp. Long range trawlers working on the high seas off Mexico, from the international boundary to the Gulf of Campeche, reported average catches of about 200 pounds per twelve hours in the brown shrimp fishery and about 300 pounds per twelve hours in the pink shrimp fishery.

Landings of blue crabs from Texas waters in April amounted to 397,000 pounds, 19% above these for March but below the record landings of the months of May and June, 1962. Processors reported a high percentage of the crabs taken were females, with low meat recovery. Fishermen working the major Texas bays reported the largest number of small crabs ever seen over the entire bay system, Farley stated. The small crabs, about ¾ inches long, will be a commercial size late in 1963 and early 1964, if nothing happens to decimate them. Fishermen were receiving from six to eight cents per pound for live crabs, depending upon quality and sex.

The shrimp trawler "Mary B.W." landed a small catch of royal red shrimp in late April, taken from beyond 200 fathoms east of the Mississisippi River area in the gulf. This vessel was the third Texas boat to land this deep water species, and the owner plans to make another trip southeast of Aransas Pass in May.

Activity in the oyster fishery was largely confined to private reefs, Farley said, as the season for taking oysters from public reefs closed on March 31.

FIREMEN LEARN CRASHED PLANE PROCEDURES

Members of the Rockport Volunteer Department recently attended a conference at Chase Field, NAAS, Beeville, to learn proper procedures for rescuing pilots from crashed and burning planes that may fall so far from their home field that only local fire and emergency departments can reach them immediately.

The conference, which was attended by Elva Mullinax and Raymond Ingersoll, was held in order to acquaint men from these various local departments with the proper method of handling such disasters.

In case of a downed plane, authorities asked that Chase Field be called at once to report the accident, the location of the crash, and to make arrangements for a meeting between the local rescue team and that from Chase Field.

Also, authorities asked that the local department report, if possible, the name of the owner of the property on which the plane had crashed, to tell if the plane was burning, and if other fires had started as a result of the accident. Information should also be given on other people injured, if any, and the number of such injured, so that Chase Field could send the appropriate number of ambulances to the crash site.

In case the person reporting the accident is not a member of the local fire department or emergency corps, whoever is making the report should give their own name, telephone number, and address, and also the name, address and telephone number of anyone else witnessing the crash, if they have this information available.

People calling either Chase Field or other naval air stations in this vicinity in regard to a crash should also, if possible, assertain whether the plane was military or civilian.

Local authorities were asked to quench the fire and remove the pilot or pilots from the plant, if this is possible. If the man in the plane is in no immediate danger, other than personal, he should not be removed from the plane until other dangers have been removed; then he can be removed and sent to a hospital.

If the man has been killed, and there is no chance of rescuing him from the burning plane without liability of personal injury to the local firemen, they were asked to leave him in the plane, unless he can be conveniently removed.

An injured pilot can be sent to a civilian hospital.

However, firemen were warned that when a military plane is down it should be considered armed at all times.

When a plane has crashed, there are certain security measures that should be followed. All onlookers are asked to please leave the wreckage as it is, so that military experts can learn what caused the accident. No pieces of the plane should be removed by anyone, as the one removed may be the one needed to piece together the cause of the crash. Only when it is hindering wreckage operations should wreckage be removed.

If a pilot is injured or dying, firemen are allowed to take a state from him if he requests it.

Witnesses giving information as to what he or she saw will be protected later from any law suit which might be filed against them for any reason pertaining to the crash.

The Sea-o-Rama Committee will hold a meeting on Monday night, May 27. Everyone is urged to attend this meet, at which final details will be discussed.

McDonald Given Eight Years In Shotgun Slaying

Thelbert McDonald, 39, plead guilty to murder, and was given eight years in the penitentiary Monday afternoon in Judge John Miller's 36th District Court, for the March 23 shotgun slaying of Robert McDonald, 48, in a drunken brawl in which the slain man dared the other to shoot him.

The two men were not related.

Robert McDonald was shot in the face with a shotgun at close range about 6 a.m. March 23, as the climax of a drinking bout in a house rented by Thelbert McDonald about four miles south of Rockport.

Chief Deputy B. L. Hierholzer, of the Aransas County Sheriff's department, said Thelbert McDonald, a welder, made a statement at the time, admitting the shooting.

District Attorney John Flinn, of the 36th District Court said the two men were arguing about Thelbert's ability to weld pot metal. The argument grew heated and wound up in the shooting.

Afterwards, Thelbert went to Aransas Pass where he contacted a friend, Sam Garcia, and asked him to help dispose of Robert McDonald's body. Garcia refused, and Thelbert McDonald returned home where another friend, Frank Miller, found him about 8:30 a.m., and, upon hearing of the shooting, persuaded him to call the sheriff's department.

Texas Ranger Frank Harger, of Corpus Christi, and Aransas County Deputy Sheriff Joe Earl Hunt assisted in the investigation.

Robert McDonald was a construction worker and a native of Green Cove Springs, Fla.

A special venire of 80 was called for the trial, and, as usual when a special venire is called, County Clerk Ed Beasley got into arguments with several people who thought they were underpaid. The law is that those people called for a special venire and who do not serve are paid only $2 per day for their time. This comes as an unpleasant surprise to many of those called, who expect to be paid at the regular rate of $4.

Members of the jury that served and assessed Thelbert McDonald's punishment included James B. Jackson, foreman, Walter H. Cassel, George Langley, Mrs. Prentice Owens, Clarence Sparks, Mrs. Jack Oualline, Mrs. R. C. Avery, Mrs. Jasper Burkett, Thomas A. Blackwell, Earle Harle, Eugene Everett, and David C. Mundine.

Revised Shrimp Act Is Passed By Legislature

Austin—Revision of the Texas Shrimp Conservation Act cleared the Legislature Wednesday and went to Gov. Connally for his signature.

Final action came with House concurrence in Senate amendments. This was done on the motion of Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville without discussion and without objection. Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg was the Senate sponsor in passing the bill last Thursday.

High points of the measure include

Increasing the legal count of shrimp that may be caught from 50 to 65 a pound.

Retaining the open season on inside waters from Aug. 15 to Dec. 15, but allowing bay boats to operate on a restricted basis in major bays from May 15 to July 15, taking up to 300 pounds a day with a single trawl of not more than 25 feet in the daytime only.

Allowing shrimping in inside waters during open season to major bays named in the bill.

Creating separate licenses for bay boats and bait boats that have operated previously under single licenses.

Permitting boats to catch bait on a year-around basis, limited to 150 pounds a day with a single net not more than 25 feet wide.

Leaving the closed season on shrimping in the Gulf of Mexico from June 1 to July 15.

EASIEST, SUREST WAY TO RECORD TAX DEDUCTIONS

The butcher, the baker, the candlestick-maker . . . pay them all by check and you'll have an accurate record of expenditures, and legal proof of payment!

At income tax time your cancelled checks are especially important. For example, you can't deduct the actual cost of your food, but you can deduct a certain portion of what you paid, because it was tax. With cancelled checks you can accurately figure that deduction — and prove it's valid!

Mrs. Bailey Observes Her 95th Birthday

Mrs. H. T. Bailey, resident of Rockport for 72 years, and the town's oldest member of the fairer sex, celebrated her 95th birthday last Thursday. A number of friends and relatives called, including her nephew, William Smith and his wife, from Monroe, La.

She was born Sallie May Hodges on the Pettus Ranch in Bee County, at the home of her grandfather, John Freeman Pettus, from whom the town of Pettus was later named.

When she was fifteen, her family moved to Goliad where she attended Brooks College and lived until she married Henry T. Bailey in 1891.

A reception was given for the young couple when they arrived in Rockport, at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bailey who operated the Bailey Hotel. This was a well-known hostelry at that time, and connected by a long wharf to Bailey's Pavilion, equally well known as a community center.

Young Bailey was working with his father on the Rockport Transcript, owned by the elder Bailey, and the first newspaper in Aransas County.

Mrs. Bailey soon entered the social, religious and civic life of the community that has been home for nearly three-quarters of a century.

The most active organization at that time was the King's Daughters, a philanthropic group devoted to helping the sick and destitute of the town and caring for underprivileged children.

Trained nurses were not available so to these women fell the task of sitting up with the sick, dividing the day and night into shifts and the making of shrouds for the dead.

Mrs. Bailey was also a member of the Mother's Club, the forerunner of the PTA later to be founded by Mrs. S. F. Jackson and others.

A great lover of music, Mrs. Bailey invited every musician who came to town to give a concert at her home, and called her music-loving friends in for an evening of entertainment, generally climaxing the affair with a round of charades, a game very popular at the time.

Another favorite past time of the Bailey's was masquerading, and soon, under their leadership, a little group of masqueraders was well known in the community. No gathering was complete without the appearance of these masked figures to create merriment. Included in the group were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bracht, A. L. Bracht, Dr. W. F. McMullen, and G. E. Hooper, all of whom have passed away.

During the school days of Mrs. Bailey's son, Travis, and her daughter Mattie, now Mrs. Byron Bushart, the Bailey home was a favorite rendezvous for a great many school functions, and many times the group assembled on very short notice. It was also headquarters for many Sunday School parties.

Mrs. Bailey was also very active in the affairs of the First Presbyterian Church, which was without a church building. In 1906 a building campaign was begun and many and various were the methods by which money was raised. Mrs. Bailey took the lead in sponsoring dinners, concerts, tacky parties, and other forms of entertainment, many of them in her own home.

Miss Katie Lee Teachers Her Last Day Friday

When school closes here Friday, May 24, it will mark the end of an era, for on that day Miss Katie Lee Clarke, fifth grade teacher at Rockport Elementary School will retire after 51 years of teaching, most of which have been spent in the schools of this area.

Miss Katie Lee, as everyone knows her, was born in Rockport, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Clarke, Jr. Her grandfather was Dr. John A. Clarke, of Rockport, a member of one of the pioneer families of this area, and a soldier in the armies of the Confederacy.

Her father, John Andrew Clarke, Jr., was born in Goliad; her mother was the former Miss Annie Wrather of Corpus Christi.

Miss Katie Lee attended Rockport schools and was graduated from the old Rockport High School on June 2, 1911. She remembers that while she was in high school the superintendent would take her out of class to substitute elsewhere when a regular teacher was absent.

The same thing happened when she attended summer school at the University of Texas. "My instructor had to be gone for three days," she said "and left the class in my charge."

She started teaching in Rockport Elementary in the fall of 1911, and taught two years. She taught another two years in the old Blackjack Community School and a year in the Estes Community school south of Rockport.

The following two years were the only ones she has taught away from Aransas County. The first she spent teaching at San Benito in Cameron County, the second at Port Aransas. Then she came back to Rockport and has spent the rest of her career teaching Aransas County younsters.

The fifth grade is her favorite, and she has taught that for 27 years.

FULTON STUDENTS TAKE FIELD TRIP TO BORDEN PLANT

The students of the third and fourth grades of Fulton Elementary School took a field trip to the Borden Company's plant in Corpus Christi recently, accompanied by Mrs. C. R. Simpson, third grade teacher, and Miss Matye Beth Gilley, teacher of the fourth grade; Mrs. L. E. Casterline, Mrs. Glen Lauer, Mrs. J. D. Gray, Mrs. Otis Rouquette and Udo Koehler, bus driver.

The children were shown through the plant, with each machine being explained to them by one of the employees of the company. They were much interested, as they had been studying these procedures in school. After the tour, everyone was given one of the popsicles that they had seen being made.

The classes then went to South Bluff Park, where they had lunch and played games until time to return.

CHARLEEN BEGNAUD HANGS UP RECORD TIME IN TRACK MEET

Charleen Begnaud, daughter of former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Begnaud, tied the 50-yard dash record of the Southern A.A.U. girl's meet in Lafayette, La., last week, as she zipped to a superb 6.6 second timing in the 50 yard dash for eighth grade girls.

Charleen's time was far better than the 6.9 seconds time that won the AAU championship at Jefferson Playground last summer.

In addition to being a runner, she showed that she was a fine jumper, as she also copped the broad jump with a leap of 12'10".

Junior-Senior Banquet Held In Corpus Christi

The Junior Class honored the Seniors with a banquet and prom in the Coral Room of the Sandy Shores Motel in Corpus Christi. Over 150 attended including faculty room mothers, juniors and seniors.

The centerpiece was a large arrangement of red and white roses.

Other decorations were glittered stars, the junior class flower, the red rose, and the senior class flower, the white rose.

Favors of white roses were given to members of the senior class and red roses to members of the junior class.

The banquet started with N. F. Jackson, Jr., president of the junior class, giving the welcoming address, and Raymond Ingersoll, president of the senior class, the response.

Main speaker for the evening was Rev. Cecil Lang of the First Presbyterian Church. He spoke on the theme "Stairway to the Stars."

MIKE'S SERVICE STATION OFFERS COMPLETE RADIATOR SERVICE

W. L. Mikeal announced this week the opening of what is believed to be the most modernly equipped radiator repair shop in this area. All testing and repair equipment was purchased from Inland Manufacturing Co., Omaha, Neb., world's largest manufacturer of radiator service equipment. The new shop is equipped to test and service radiators for all make cars, trucks and tractors.

Perhaps the most interesting piece of equipment in the new shop is a Flo-Tester, which quickly indicates whether the radiator is plugged. This machine measures exactly the gallons-per-minute flow of water through the radiator, which is then compared with manufacturer's specifications for possible plugging.

"This Flo-Tester is particularly necessary, because 83% of all radiators in use one year or more are dangerously plugged. This machine tells us quickly which of the radiators tested require servicing, and helps us process many radiators a day, said Mr. Mikeal.

Visitors are cordially invited to inspect the new shop and facilities, it was announced.

LOCAL CHURCHMEN ATTEND MEETING AT MO-RANCH

The Rev. Cecil H. Lang, Jr. and Ruling Elder Volney Cavitt of First Presbyterian Church, Rockport, were among 600 Southern Presbyterian pastors and laymen attending the 108th annual meeting of Synod of Texas, May 21-23 at Mo-Ranch, camp and conference grounds near Kerrville.

Reorganization, basically a realignment of the Synod's staff and committee structure, will again be the major item of business. Last year the Synod (regional organization of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., with 410 churches in Texas and four New Mexico counties) adopted the plan in principle. This year the delegates will consider the Standing Rules and Manual Operation.

Other significant items of business include a $20,000 budget increase, the need for a Presbyterian chaplain in the state penal system, and a plea for more racial understanding and cooperation.

Dr. John D. Moseley, president of Austin College, will retire as moderator of the Synod. The Rev. Thomas W. Currie, pastor of St. Paul Presbyterian Church, Houston, is nominated as moderator for 1963.

Mrs. Thomas Blackwell and children spent the weekend in San Antonio, where they attended the baptism of her nephew, Mark Wink.

Financial Statement Given By Library

Mrs. Everal West, at the regular meeting of the Library Board, released a financial statement for the first quarter of this year.

The library had on hand, as of Jan. 1, $399.55, mostly from memorial gifts from various people. During January, the $1500 annually allowed for this purpose by the county was placed to the library's credit. In addition, another $135 was received in memorial gifts; from the Rotary book plan, whereby each Rotarian donates $5 to the library on his birthday, another $45 was received. Gifts during the period totaled $103, and fines amounted to $13.

These things were in addition to the various gifts of books the library received during the period.

During the same period—from Jan. 1 to May 1, Mrs. West said, $374.51 worth of books was purchased; $5.95 was paid out on a magazine subscription; salaries for the period amounted to $249.23; social security benefits were $26.10; library materials came to $6.75; other supplies totaled $11.40, for a total of $673.94.

This left a balance on hand May 1, she said, of $1,521.61, out of which salaries must be met for the rest of the year, new shelves purchased to take care of books ready to go into circulation, and new books needed during the rest of the year.

She also told the Board that approximately 500 books were ready for shelving as soon as the new shelving was available. These books were gifts of various people, she said, and had been prepared for shelving by the library auxiliary, working in cooperation with her.

Tom Roper's Goose Came From Canada

A goose which Tom Roper killed a year ago was banded and he recently received word from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service that the bird had been banded on Southampton Island, North West Territories, Canada on July 28, 1961. Tom killed it on Nov. 17, 1962.

Band recoveries provide valuable information on migration routes, mortality and other subjects important in the conservation of migratory birds.

For example, banding waterfowl on the grounds where they breed provides information on the source of birds that are hunted, and the Service says that in this way it is learning many facts about the behavior and life histories of over 800 kinds of North American birds.

Many of these, including some ducks such as the blue-winged teal, migrate as far as South America. Other distant points where bands have been recovered include Siberia, Japan, Africa, Portugal, England, France, New Zealand and several Pacific islands.

One pintail banded in Canada was killed in England 18 days later.

Banding has revealed that most birds live less than two years. However, a Caspantern was recovered 26 years after banding; a Ring-billed Gull and an Osprey each lived 21 years; a Purple Martin lived 14 years; several mallards and pintails have survived more than 20 years.

Banding has indicated that albatrosses continue to breed at an age of at least 30 years.

Bird banding in North America is under the general direction of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Canadian Wildlife Service, with State and Provencial Game Departments and many licensed and qualified volunteers participating. Over 11,000,000 birds have been banded, and half a million or more are being banded every year.

About 1,000,000 of these have been recovered and are being studied.
