DARING AND COWARDLY ACT PERPETRATED BY WRETCHES.

DEED TAKES PLACE AT DALLAS

Persuaded to Enter What She Believed a Jitney, Mrs. Burgess Is Taken Some Distance, Gets Out and Arrests Made.

One of the most daring assaults occurring in Dallas in years happened when Mrs. Henrietta Burgess, twenty-six years old, was persuaded to enter an automobile by three men, believing it to be a jitney. The car was started east and when near her residence, in the vicinity of the fair grounds, she says one of the men caught her by the shouldere and began to squeeze her and another also grabbed her. She called for help, but they passed no one. The driver, she also said, helped to hold her.

Mrs. Burgess said she finally succeeded in getting out of car by kicking the door open and turning the steering wheel to one side. The car ran to the sidewalk and she jumped. The automobile sped away but she secured the number. The officers were notified and the car located and three arrests made.

Accompanied by her husband, Mrs. Burgess appeared in the county attorney's office. She stated she had never seen the men before she was treated so shamefully.

Twelve charges were filed against the men. These include carrying a pistol, disturbing the peace, using abusive language, drunk and disorderly and aggravated assault.

Three hundred and eleven felony cases, fourteen for murder, are awaiting trial in Tulsa county. As soon as funds are available to pay jurors the trials will commence. The jury fund gave out in March and the criminal courts at Tulsa have been practically idle since.

Four children of Frank Friel of Enid were drowned in the North Canadian river. Katherine, the oldest, seventeen years old, was wading and into hole stepped. A sister, Theresa, aged fifteen, and two little brothers rushed to her rescue and met a like fate.

Guarantee State bank of Watts was robbed of $2,500 in broad daylight. Just before closing time two robbers entered the bank and ordered Elmer Smith, the cashier, to hold up his hands, and while one covered Smith he other raked in all the cash visible. WOMEN, BEGGING BREAD, SHOT BY MEXICAN TROOPS.

Mexico City, July 6.—Terror and anxiety which has gripped this city acutely for the past few days reached its climax today, when a troop of soldiers seeking to quell a rising food riot, fired into a dense throng of people waiting for their allowance of cereal and killed a number of women and children.

Death was due to a complication of diseases and old age. He resigned May 25, 1911, after a peace arrangement and was succeeded by Francisco I. Madero, Jr., who was assassinated or put to death.

HOLT TAKES LIFE IN PRISON

MAN WHO ATTACKS J. P. MORGAN FOUND A CORPSE.

DIES OF A FRACTURED SKULL.

Some Hours Previous to Suicide the Professor Admitted That He Did Not Tell the Truth About Making Capitol Bomb.

Eugene Frank Holt was found dead in his cell id the Mineola, L. I., jail. Death was due to a fractured skull. Jail authorities claimed Holt climbed through the opening at the top of his cell door and plunged to court below.

Holt said he did not make the bomb to blow up the capitol with.

New York, July 6.—Frank Holt, the half crazed profesor of languages, who shot J. Pierpont Morgan twice last Saturday after setting off a bomb at the National Capital on Friday, was found dead in a pool of blood in his cell in the Mineola jail tonight at 10:35 o'clock. He had killed himself while his keeper had stepped away from his cell to go to the end of the tier.

The exact manner in which the man ended his life is a mystery, the officials of Nassau County disagreeing in their version of the tragedy. So worked up were the officials tonight that no two stories were alike, but out of the conflicting maze surrounding the affair it was generally believed that Holt dived from a balcony over his cell in the prison or the trellis work of his cell and landed on his head on the cement floor, dashing out his brains.

There were also reports of an explosion in the jail at the time Holt met his death and there was a rumor that he had made away with himself by chewing a percussion cap that he had secreted in his clothing until it exploded and blew off the top of his head.

Quite a number of Colorado people are attending the Hemi-Ramsey meeting at Sweetwater these nights. On Tuesday night we noticed in the crowd the following Coloradoans:

Rev. Williamson and wife, Ed Jones and wife, Rev. Duff and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Roirdan, Miss Frankie Roirdan, Thos. Davis, C. A. Pierce, J. H. Greene, Zack Davis, Walter Owens, Mrs. Dr. M. R. Smith, Mrs. Lee Jones.

EXCURSION ECHOES.

From what he Record has heard of the El Paso excursion from those who helped make up the crowd, the majority of the Colorado contigent have taken the "cure" for the xecursion habit. The celebration and sights of El Paso and old Juarez were all right, but the going and coming seems to have partaken largely of the exaltation of a "spiritual" feast.

Among those who attended from Colorado we noted the following: Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cooksey, Mrs. J. A. Buchanan, Miss Blanch Hooks, Miss Minnie Lawless, Miss Ruby Oliver, two of the Miss Dyrs, Jim Dobbs, L. L. Franks, L. E. Allmond, Donald Sheaf, Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Crawford, W. H. Pond and two sons, W. A. Campbell, J. H. Holland, Cliff Ethredge, Mrs. D. F. Glisson and quite a number of others whose names we failed to secure.

MARY PICKFORD ATTAINS ANOTHER ARTISTIC TRIUMPH

In the Elaborate Film Version of Cinderella, Which Will be Shown at Opera House Movies, July 13.

A photoplay attraction of genuine beauty and charm is the current Famous Players Paramount four-part feature at the Opera House Movies, Tuesday July 13, matinee and night, which presents the inimitable screen idol, Mary Pickford, in a new and wonderful motion picture version of the celebrated and universally loved story of "Cinderella."

Cinderella might have been written to order for Miss Pickford, so amazingly does the role of the ragged and beautiful little cinder-girl fit her. The story, which has been enthroned in the hearts of all children since fairy stories were first thrillingly and mysteriously whispered in the dark, to the little ones at mother's knee, and the memory of which they cherish through all their lives, however old they grow to be, is so well-known that no retelling is necessary here.

Beautiful as is the old story itself, it has been so enriched in the film version so many new features have been artistically blended with the old, in which the natural and the super-natural, the eerie and the human, mingle, and the romance of the handsome and courageous prince and the little maid of the cinders is so originally and exquisitely portrayed, that the picture promises to be as great a treat with the grown-ups as to the children. To them, the Fairy-Queen herself will appear, in order to assure them that no real harm shall come to the hapless little heroine she has taken under her royal protection.

Altogether, the photoplay promises, with its elaborate production, its unique presentation, and most of all, its famous little star, Mary Pickford, to make a rare entertainment for all amusement seekers who appreciate a really artistic and consummate film offering.

The management of the Opera House Movies have arranged to produce two of these famous Paramount special features weekly—Tuesday and Friday nights. The first to appear will be Cinderella, next Tuesday night, July 13; and on Friday night, July 16, the "Sign of the Cross" will be given. See the ad and synopsis for further information. Also on Monday nights will be the beautiful and instructive Paramount Travel Pictures of South America. A matinee will be given with each of these special features—Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday afternoons.

For the next three weeks we will make extra low cash prices on all millinery—Mrs. Mills.

WHILE SWATTING THE HOUSE FLY

We are instant and vigilant to swat the common house fly. and protect against its association and infection with screens over our windows and doors. This is as it should be; but what about the soft-buzzing gadfly of slander, the silky moth eats an honest name and upright character? Surely,we can all personally do something to protect ourselves and others against the infection of this pest. It is purely a personal matter. We can all do somethoing to this end by turning away from the buzzzing of this fly and refusing to encourage its confidences.

Always, the time for beginning this crusade against the gadfly is now. Don't wait for neighbors to begin the reformation. It is your problem as well as theirs. You may have never spoken a slanderous word, but by listening to it from others and repeating it on the authority of another, you spread the contagion as much as if infected yourself. The best, saest and wisest courses is to seek only good in others; but the next best thing is to discourage those who deal in such unwholesomeness, and the way to do this is to deprive them of an audience, for unless it is listened to, scandal dies as soon as it is born.

"THE GODDESS."

The Record has made arrangements with the publishers, to run the continued story, "The Goddess" through the paper for fifteen weeks, and at the same time the pictures will be sbown at the Shadowland theatre. The opening chapters will be published on Friday July 16, and on the following Thursday, July 22, they will appear at the Shaddowland, and so on each week for fifteen weeks. A page will be run each Friday in the paper and shown at the Shadowland the following Thursday. Read the opening chapters on July 16, and you will want to finish the story and to see the pictures. The Record and the Shadowland have gone to considerable expense to produce this feature and we want every reader to start the story.

The slump in baseball which the magnates are claiming is due to the fact that the public was sickened by the parading of the commercial side of professional baseball which had made it a veritable gold mine in some cities for the club owners.—New Orleans (La.) States.

CURED OF INDIGESTION.

Mrs. Sadie P. Clawson, Indiana, Pa., was bothered with indigestion. "My stomach pained me night and day," she writes. "I would feel bloated and have headache and belching after eating. I also suffered from constipation. My daughter had used Chamberlain's Tablets and they did her so much good that she gave me a few doses of them and insisted upon my trying them. They helped me as nothing else has done." For sale by all dealers.

Grain growers of Ballinger, Tex., a few days ago shipped a solid train of oats to Fort Worth and four cars of wheat to Galveston. Wool men the same day shipped 200,000 pounds of Runnels county wool, sold to Boston buyers at prices ranging from 20 to 22 1-2 cenas.

The excursion to El Paso for the celebration of the Fourth, was an unqualified success from the viewpoint of the Texas & Pacific railroad. The westbound train Saturday night was one of the longest and heaviest that ever passed over the road, consisting of 13 coaches, among which were two coach loads of soldiers bound for the border.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's

Old Standard Grove's Tasteless Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.

William Sulzer, former governor of New York, has entered the moving pictures as a star in the five-reel production of "The Governor's Boss," which is built around his experiences at Albany, his fight against the Tammany rulers to retain his office, and his impeachment and removal from the governership.

The constitutionality of the Harrison anti-drug law will be attacked in the case of the government vs. P. E. Duggan, sentenced to three years in the pententiary for violation of the law. Duggan was sentenced in the federal court recenaly at Dallas.

The Quinine That Does Not Affect The Head

Because of its tonic and laxative effect, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE is better than ordinary Quinine and does not cause nervousness nor ringing in head. Remember the full name and look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. 25c.

MARKET COTTON CROP GRADUALLY IS ADVISED

Reserve Bank Head Urges That Farmers and Banks Co-Operate—Will Get Fair Price.

A gradual marketing of this year's cotton crop as the only hope of obtaining a fair price therefor, the establishment of adequate warehouse facilities so cotton may be held and necessary loans and extensions made on the warehouse receipts, and the co-operation of banks and farmers to this end is urged by R. L. Van Zandt, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of the eleventh district at Dallas, in a letter addressed to banks throughout the State.

Mr. Van Zandt says that should the crop be forced upon the market as gathered, the price obtained will be below the cost of production. He urges gradual marketing, but stresses the importance of warehousing or protection, and on this point says: "Banks are not justified, however, in rendering assistance to those customers who desire to hold any part of their cotton which is exposed to weather damage or which is stored where no insurance can be obtained on it."

The letter follows:

"It is only a few weeks until that leader of all commodities, cotton, will begin to come to market, and the annual question of how the crop will be financed will be before us. Last year we had the Aldrich-Vreeland currency act and the $100,000,000 gold pool to assist us, yet, even with those supports, a very great percentage of the crop was disposed of by the producer at 6 cents and under.

"This year we have no emergency currency law, as that expires by limitation on June 30 of this year, and we have no gold pool, as that has been dissolved, and the markets of the world where the greater portion of our crop is dispised of are closed tighter than ever. Shipping is hazardous and many foreign mills are closed on account of the great European conflict now being waged. Should our immense crop of cotton be forced on the market as it is gathered, as has been the custom in the past, the price obtained by the producer would be small and far below the cost of production, if not below the actual cost of gathering and marketing.

"Our only hope of obtaining a fair price for cotton is through a gradual marketing of the crop, and the banks of the country, assisted by the Federal Reserve Banks must use their best efforts to keep the farmer from having to accept distress prices. Banks are not justified, however, in rendering assistance to those customers who desire to hold any part of their cotton which is exposed to weather damage or which is stored where insurance can not be obtained on it.

"It is the custom of many banks to advance money on the growing crop, and especially is this the case where the farmer has no property subject to execution. If the borrower will realize the value of his collateral and place it where it will not deteriorate, he can readily obtain a renewal of his paper, substituting his warehouse receipts for his chattel mortgage.

"The time is all too short between now and the gathering of the cotton in which to provide adequate facilities to care for the entire production and, therefore, much will have to be sold whatever price is offered, as soon it is ginned, but we have time to prepare for the proper warehousing of a large percentage of the crop.

"Our purpose in writing you at this time is to urge immediate action on your part toward having all cotton raisers in your section who will want to store a part of their crop to make arrangements for said storage before it is too late.

"Please keep constantly in mind the fact that among the classes of eligible paper described by the Federal Reserve Board, as being most highly desirable is that 'secured by approved warehouse receipts covering ready marketable staples.'

"We assure you that in discounting for our member banks this class of paper will be given every consideration by our executive committee. It will not be the policy of this committee to accept notes secured by cotton unless same is proporly stored and insured, and preference will be shown in favor of that stored in public or bonded warehouses.

"If the Federal Reserve Bank is to assist you to the extent of its ability it will be necessary for you to get as much of your paper as is possible in shape to meet its requirements—and do itnow."—Ft. Worth Record.

646% Increase Tells the Story of Nation-Wide Chandler Demand

Chandler History and Convincing Increases

Chandler Light-Weight Six, the first high-grade six-cylinder car weighing less than 3,000 lbs. and selling for less than $2000, introduced to the public during the Chicago Automobile Show, January, 1913.

Ground broken for Chandler factory, April 6th, 1913.

Delivery of Chandlers in quantities began July 30th, 1913. Selling price, $1785.

The year 1914 brought very general recognition to the Chandler Car. Leading dealers sought the Chandler sales-agency and sales leaped forward. Selling price, $1595. The Chandler Light-Six Idea was now thoroughly established.

Official tests by Chicago and New York Automobile Clubs proved Chandler economy beyond shadow of doubt.

Year 1915 opened with the announcement of the new Chandler price, $1295, a record-making low price for a high-grade six.

Such a car at such a price stampeded the trade toward the Chandler.

Two new factory buildings and a large addition to the main factory completed by March 1st to take care of added production.

Chandler production increased rapidly. By April 1st we were shipping 40 cars per day day, by May 5th 50 cars per day, by May 20th 60 cars per day.

April shipments showed 233% increase over April, 1914.

May shipments showed 493% increase over May, 1914.

June shipments showed 646% increase over June, 1914.

WASHINGTON MUST ADVISE FERGUSON.

Governor Ferguson announced definitely that he would take no action in regard to the requisition for the extradition of Victoriano Huerta, former president of Mexico, who is now at El Paso, until Washington officially advises him that Villa, governor of the State of Chihuahua, is the proper person to request extradition. Villa some days ago sent a request to Ferguson that he turn Huerta over to the Villistas. The Texas governor forwarded the request to Washington for action by the Federal government stating at the time he considered that the matter should be handled by the United States and not by Texas. His declaration means he must be advised as requested or the matter will be up to the Federal government for decision.

31,535,000 ACRES COTTON IN UNITED STATES.

Texas Plants 10,365,000, Acres Against 12,052,000 Planted Last Year.

Washington, July 1.—A total area of 31,535,000 acres of cotton is under cultivation in the United States, according to the preliminary estimate of the Department of Agriculture announced today. That compares with 37,406,000 acres, the revised estimate of acreage under cultivation a year ago, 36,832,000 acres picked last year, 37,089,000 in 1913 and 34,283,000 acres in 1912. Abandonment of acreage during the season last year amounted to 1.5 per cent of the planted area and for the past five years it has averaged 1.8 per cent of the area planted.

There has been much interest in cotton and textile circles concerning the area planted to cotton this year in view of the record crop last year, the curtailed foreign takings because of the European war and the low price of lint early this season, which were believed to have influenced cotton growers to reduce their acreage and put some of their land in grain and other crops. The extent of this reduction had been variously estimated unofficially at from 10 to 20 per cent.

The condition of the growing crop on June 25 was 80.3 per cent of a normal, as compared with 80.0 per cent on May 25, this year, 79.6 per cent, on June 25 last year, and 79.9 per cent the ten year average on June 25. The average change in condition from May 25 to June 25 during the past ten years has been an increase of 0.4 per cent.

Growing conditions generally were favorable throughout the month since the last condition report was canvassed. Precipitation during the first week in practically all pirtions of the belt furnished sufficient moisture for the time being, and the crop made satisfactory growth. Late planted in Texas was coming up and a good stand was reported. Excepting in portions of Oklahoma, Arkansas ad some of the more eastern sections of the belt where the soil was too wet, cultivation proceeded satisfactorily.

Cultivation and satisfactory growth in all excepting a few districts was favored during the second week by the moderately warm weather, with general absence of continued rain. Wet weather delayed cultivation and caused some damage by flooding in northern Texas, Oklahoma and the Carolinas, where fields were becoming grassy. In most other sections, however, the crop was well cultivated and the fields were clean.

Rapid growth was forced during the final week of the month by continued warm weather, with sufficient moisture and the crop was in good condition and well cultivated in nearly all districts.

WILLIAM FARNUM IN "THE SIGN OF THE CROSS"

Will be Shown for the First Time in This Part of the State at Opera House Movies, July 16.

One of the greatest spectacular subjects ever produced on the screen is offered in the latest Paramount release, William Farnum in Wilson Barrett's world famous drama, "The Sign of the Cross.' This dignified and beautiful production of the soul-stirring play that has been produced with universal success throughout the world is in five parts, and is undoubtedly the foremost film classic ever produced in America.

For many years the original play has fascinated the imagination and swayed the emotions of audiences throughout the civilized world as has no other drama of its type, and it can be conservatively stated that with the added scope of the motion picture and the thrilling camera effects impossible in a stage version the subject attaches renewed and increased appeal.

For the most part it glows with Titanesque luxury of coloring, as befits a fearless picture of life in the Rome of Nero. But this exciting world of intrigue and unbridled luxury covers but a portion of the canvas, and the play also reveals, through its christian characters, the exquisite reverence and saintliness and the serenity of unquestioning faith; and it is through a gallary of startling scenes, now splendid with throned sensualities and stately luxury, now beautiful with piteous suffering, and illumined with holy hope and love, that Mercia and Marcus, the unfaltering Christian and doubting Pagan, march to their decreed doom.

The mechanical effects of the production, the large camera stretches and marvelous settings, reflecting in faithful manner the artistry and physical beauty of ancient Roman palaces, are unsurpassed and measurably aid the intense dramatic story. The subject as a whole is one of the most pretentious spectacular photoplays ever released, and is comparable in every respect with the foremost gigantic motion picture productions that have been presented to the American public by European producers.

This five-part attraction will be shown at the Opera House Movies, next Friday, July 16, matinee and night.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK.

Acts Like dynamite on a sluggish liver and you Lose a Day's Work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel with 50 cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

HAVE A NAME FOR YOUR FARM.

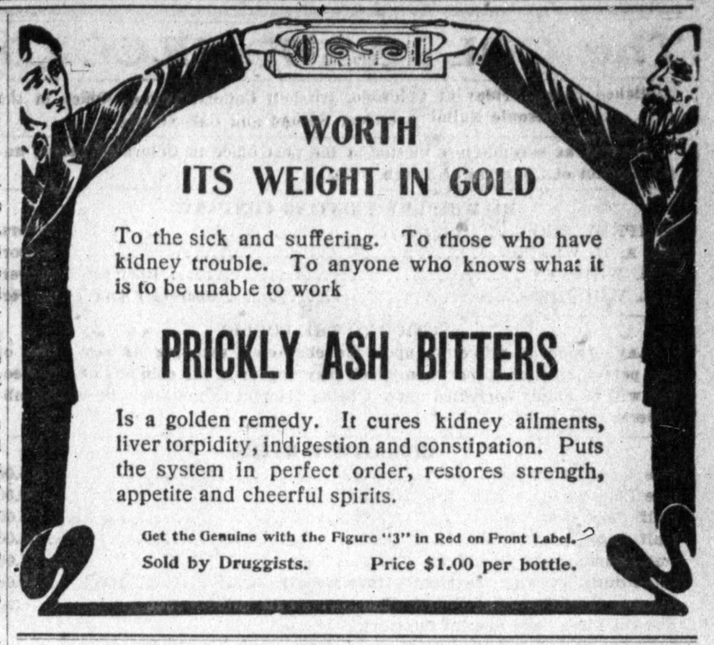

A little improvement, but at the same time an improvement very much worth while, would be the naming of our country homes. "What's in a name?" you ask. There is much in names. They would be convenient to the postman on the rural routes. They would attract the attention of the passerby. They would be of financial value, when farm products, apples, vegetables, etc., that are first class, leave the farm under the farm name. What an excellent basis for future business, especially if an inferior article never goes out under the farm name. Beautiful and appropriate names would tend to make the owners have their farms look the part.—Home and Farm.

NO TENTS IN GERMAN ARMIES.

It may or may not have been noticed by our readers that in the photographs of the theatre of war, at least on the German side no tents appear. That is one of the innovations which modern warfare has brought in the German army. Tentage used to form a not inconsiderable part of the impedimenta of armies, and this elimination lightens not a little the task of the quartermaster's department. The German plans contemplate always an offensive presumably to be carried out in the enemy's country, and involve the billeting of the troops in the homes of the inhabitants of the conquered country.—Scientific American.

REV. BROOME PREACHES LAST SERMON.

Rev. Bartow Broome, who recently resigned the pastorate of the Baptist church here, delivered his final sermon at the Methodist tabernacle Sunday night before a large audience. It was composed largely of all denominations, and all gave the speaker good attention throughout the discourse. Rev. Broome's remarks were strictly doctrinal, and there was much to be learned. In fact, every sermon he preaches is such as to merit the approval of all who delight in hearing the gospel of Jesus Christ.—Granger News.

THERE'S MANY LIKE HIM.

J. E. Garrett of the Daniels community, dropped in last Saturday as he was, in his own vernacular, "just bruising 'round" and gave us a few points on the condition of his present crop. It is the best by far he has raised since coming to Mitheell county about seven years ago. He averred that if the traditional good fairy should come to him in his field and say: "Friend Garrett, what can I do for you in the betterment of your crop prospects and conditions," he would be compelled to answer, though mightly against the average farmer's grain: "Nothing at all, thank you, sir. I can't suggest any improvement; only pray the good Lord to keep it up."

COLORADO, TEXAS, JULY 9, 1915.

The country that is too economical in building school houses, is usually compelled to be liberal when it comes to erecting county jails, is the sage conclusion of the McAlester, (Okla) News-Capital.

It is estimated from compiled press reports that eight persons were killed, one hundred and seventy-seven injured and a property loss of $66,550.00 from fires Sunday as a result of the Fourth of July celebrations throughout the United States.

If you ever expect to own any land in Mitchell county, now is the time to acquire it. There will never be another foot of land made and the supply goes steadily upward in price. It will never be as easy for a poor and homeless man to secure a home and a few acres as just now.

West Texas has a number of first rate weeklies. Among them the Stephenville Empire, The Colorado Record The Stamford Leader, The Western Enterprise, Hamlin Herald and many others, hold high place. They are newsy and speak out with some conviction through their editorial pages.—Western Evangel.

The attorney for a man indicted for violation of the Harrison anti-drug law in Chicago, pleaded that the law was unconstitutional in that it abridged his unalienable right of "life, liberty and pursuit of happiness." But Judge Landiss didn't see it that way. He failed to appreciate that drug addiction was essential to any one or all of the above ascribed rights, and sent the violator to Leavenworth for sober reflection.

The Washington government announced on July 1st, the greatest favorable trade balance in the history of the country, amounting to nearly one billion dollars and beating all records by fully half a million. But at the same time it announces a deficit of more than thirty-five millions in its revenue. The Record is no financial expert, and doesn't know whether this means the country is getting ahead or falling behind; but at the first blush, inclines to the later conclusion. We appeal to the Austin American for further and more reliable light.

The spread of Pellagra is assuming alarming rate and extent. The recent outbreak of the disease in an Arkansas orphan asylum where 200 children were stricken, proves its contagious character and development under given conditions. In Texas also, the disease is greatly on the increase, and the grimest feature of the disease is that physicians and bacteriologists are as yet wholly at sea as to the cause of the malady. Infected cereals are held responsible by many eminent physicians, in connection with squalid and insanitary conditions of living, while others claim that the disease is transmitted by the bite of a fly as in the transmission and infection of yellow fever. Whatever the cause, science will find it out, and the pool of healing will be again stirred for the health and happiness of the nations.

It is gratifying to note the agitation in regard to the betterment of our rural schools. It is significant of an awakening conscience which has long slept upon the rights of the children in the country districts. In many localities, the physical equipments are a half century behind the times, and there still remain human anachorisms, who stoically maintain that what was good enough for them is good enough for their children, but luckily such handicaps to porgress and education are in the minority. The non-progressive rural man has now a new and potent element to reckon with—the country mother. For years she has known the condition and needs of her community and she is waking up with a new impetus toward the betterment of things. And there is in no community a more powerful and persistent factor in stimulating public action and bringing about needed improvements, than its mothers and other good women.

But why remark on the rains at all? They have become of such fact and regular recurrence, that we take the blessed showers as a matter of course—as something due us, simply because we imagine we have done our part and expect Providence to meet our efforts half way. And just here is where humanity has ever stumped its toe and fallen flat. Prosperity has always been the acid test of man's faithfulness to his creator. All men bear adversity much alike; its cramping limitations force to a common line of conduct, but prosperity opens many channels for individual action. It might be well to keep in remembrance the example of the man in bible, who congratulated himself upon the abundance of his crop and planned to enjoy for many years, the ease he imagined his own efforts had secured. But God said unto him. "Thou fool; this night shall they soul be demanded of thee."

WILL SUPPORT WILSON.

We attach very little importance to the story that Mr. Bryan will attempt to prevent President Wilson's renomination by shaking the one-term plank at the next convention. So far as the public is informed, Mr. Bryan and the President are on good terms, at least, they invoked the blessing of God upon each other a few days ago. The one-term plank was well enough as an expression of opinion by the convention of 1912, but it has no binding effect upon any subsequent convention, and it assuredly does not tie the hands of the democratic party. Mr. Wilson will be renominated, and we expect it to be done with the hearty assistance of the ex-Secretary of State, who knows perfectly well how futile it would be to oppose it.—Phil. Record.

HIC JACET—

We realize that nothing but good should be printed concerning the dead, but there are instances in which ou depravity gets the upper hand of convention and we can't resist the impulse to throw a spitball, at least, at the eulogies some mock hero worshipers pin to the tomb of their demi-god. The following estimate of the late Elbert Hubbard, comes so nearly allign-ing with our own opinion of him while living and grafting, that we can not repress its reproduction:

"He had the mind of a genius and the heart of a fakir, the soul of a poet and the cunning of a patent medicine vender. He kept his head ostensibly in the clouds but his feet splattered in the mire."

If Mr. Bryan is out o' a job of peace promoting, he might try his hand within the democratic party, with good results.

The Austin Statesman has abandoned the morning field to the Austin American and assumed that of an afternoon paper.

Last Sunday was evidently that "cold day in July" on which we have predicated so many unlikely things would happen.

Indeed there isnothing so evident in life as that there are two sides to a question. Age may have one side, but assuredly Youth has the other. There is nothing more certain than that both are right—except perhaps, that both are wrong.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

The thirst for excitement is as dangerous as the craving for strong drink or drugs. The longing for gayity, amusement, for the stimulation of bright lights and thoughtless throngs, is the direct cause of the downfall of a distressingly large number of both boys and girls.

Then Ramsey flared up and continued with: "A young man who will prevent a girl from coming to Christ is so low down that he'll have to fly up to reach the bottom of hell, and when he gets to hell the devil won't want him. the devil will kick him out after he has been there five minutes."—Newspaper report of the Ham-Ramsey Sweetwater revival.

Compared with conditions at this date last year, the crops of Mitchell county are from two to thre weeks late but since the late rains crops of all kinds have made wonderful growth, and with continued favorable conditions, may by the first of September be fully up to what they were last year. The first bale of cotton has usually been brought to this market about the 12th of August but it is hardly probable that the date will witness the margeting of the first bale of the present crop.

WISDOM OF EXPERIENCE

It is no discredit to the very able men who framed our present constitution that they did not make the wisest provision for the A. & M. College. With the lights before them they did well. But time and experience have proven beyond any sort of doubt that they made a mistake in making the College a branch of the University. They also made a mistake in not providing for a railroad commission and other important measures, for which the people have from time to time provided a remedy.

The people of Texas have persistently demanded a change in the constitution providing for the complete separation of their two greatest State schools. Not that they love one and dislike the other—bury the thought! But because they love them both. The only change they propose to make will benefit both institutions.

The spectacle of old Huerta breaking down and blubbering in jail, railing like a child at the injustice of his incarceration, is an inspiring one, and brings to mind the the assurance of the scripture, that "God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth THAT shall he also reap." The old renegade is now reaping the tears, suffering and humiliation, that as dictator of Mexico, he visited upon thousands of innocent people, with devilish glee. Retributive justice may march with laden feet, but it is sure as fate ao cvertake the transgresor at last.

Y. D. McMurry received his canning plant this week together with 2,000 cans, the former being installed out at his orchard two miles northeast of town. When this plant gets to running, Mr. McMurry will be glad to have anyone who is interested in canning to come out and see the modus operandi. Home preserving of the farm, garden and orchard products, not only will give the high cost of living a solar plexus blow, but lay the foundation for an unwonted profit on the farm instead of a deficit.

Henry Seigal, the New York merchant who defrauded 14,000 depositors in his bank of $2,224,000, is now serving a sentence of ten months in the penitentiary. Perhaps if he had stolen another million he would have been given his fredom.

The fact that Colorado parties are interested enough in the rebuilding of the old St. James site to make an offer of purchase, although rejected by the owners, is a grain of comfort, at least, and a ray of hope that rebuilding may ere long materialize. "'Tis a consummation devoutly to be wished."

CUI BONO?

The Record is neither censorious nor reactionary, but feels that it is well within the bounds of its public rights and patent conditions, when it announces the general principle that a commercial organization that does not give all the publicity it can to its home and keep its activities before those whom its function is to reach and influence, is as much of an anomoly as a cow that does not give milk.

If Colorado and Mitchell county are to participate in the general prosperity of the state this fall and secure their quota of the immigration, new capital, new blood and enterprise that will almost inevitably follow the harvesting of the bumper crop in Texas as well as in other states,some aggressive and persistent method of publicity must be employed to attract the attention of prospective immigration to the town and country.

The day has long past when good things are to be had for the accepting. The spirit and method that compass desirable ends and bring things to pass, dwells in going after them and taking no denial. This can not be done without a spirit of co-operation on behalf of the citizenship of the entire community. There is nothing of a material advantage to a community that close, persistent and continuous team work will not accomplish. We realize the handicap that all organizations whose object is the advancement and conservation of community interests, must contend with. There are business cockoos in all towns—in all communities. The habit of the cockoo bird is to build no nest of its own, but lay its eggs in the nests of other birds for them to hatch and rear; sharing none of the time and labor, but enjoying all the advantages of another's efforts. Our own community is no exception to this rule.

The condition of the crops in Mitchell county, the prevalence of splendid rains, the spirit of optimism that pervades all clases, the change that is surely but silently working for a more general diversification of farm products, are all items of commercial and industrial potentiality, and would be of no small interest to hundreds of people who have had their eyes upon this section for some time and only await an auspicious combination of these conditions to cast in their lot with us.

To get this information before them nothing can wholly take the place of newspaper publicity. This statement has no reference to the Colorado Record in this instance, but refers to papers of more general and wider circulation. All these conditions above mentioned, should appear in some paper at regular intervals. The towns around us—our business rivals never let any of these things pass unnoticed in the daily press. If Colorado does not expect to sit on the wire fence of repentance and watch the band wagon of prosperity go by, she had best gird her loins, moisten her hands and take a firmer grip on its campaign of publicity.

MILITARY ASS VS. A MAN.

The National Anti-Saloon League met at Atlantic City Tuesday of this week, and among the speakers on the program, were Major General Nelson A. Miles, former commander of the U. S. army, and John L. Sullivan. General Miles refused to appear on the same platform with the former champion, and now reformed prize fighter. General Miles put it up to the committee on program that it must be he or Sullivan, and to thecredit of the committee, they chose Sullivan.

The Record holds no brief for John L. Sullivan nor is it an apologist for the prize ring, but when a man comes back and makes good after being knocked into oblivion by physical opponents as well as by old John Barleycorn, in the face of all and every rule of prize ring tradition, acquires a college education and commands a handsome salary for his literary work, the Record feels such a man has in him the genuine stuff of a man and what he has to say upon the influence of the saloon, is better worth hearing than all the second-hand testimony that a dude general of the U. S. army might acquire in a life time. While as to a bandbox military fop objecting to a platform association with a "down-and outer" who has come back—Why, "A man's a man fo' 'a that."

Through inadveretnce, the date line on the first page of the Record was not changed last week. It read "June 25th" when it should have been July 2nd. No office is exempt from the creeping in of such errors. We recall on the occasion of the battle of the sea of Japan in 1905, that the Dallas News ran the same date for two consecutive days. So it is, the country paper has ample precedent in its big urban brother.

A BIT OF PHILOSOPHY
FROM NEVER TALK BACK
BY
JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY

Never talk back to a feller
that's abusin' you—
Jes' let him carry on, and rip
and snort, and swear;
And when he finds his blamin' and defamin'
's jes' amusin' you,
You've got him clean kaflummixed;
and you want to hold him there!

Never talk back, and wake up the whole community
And call a man a liar over Law, er Politics.—
You can lift and land him further and with grace fuller impunity
With one good Jolt of silence than a half a dozen kicks!

HONORED HER HOUSE PARTY.

Last Thursday afternoon little Miss Dorothy Burns entertained a number of her friends honoring her house party which closed that evening. Besides other games a wedding was given. They did just like grown ups, had a song. flower girls, best man, train bearer and all that goes to make a swell wedding. Ice cream and cake were served at the reception following.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks for kindness and sympathy of our friends and neighbors in the sickness and death of our dear baby. May you be so rewarded in such times. The bond of sympathy means much to us.

MR. AND MRS. CHAS. MANN AND FAMILY.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

DIED.

On last Thursday, Carrie Louise, the little sixteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mann died after an illness of six weeks. The little one had whooping cough but they were not alarmed until complications set in and then all was done that human skill could do to ward off the disease and alleviate the sufferings, but all was in vain, and she went to be with Him who said "Suffer little children to come unao me, and forbid them not."

The funeral services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. L. Williamson, and the little body was tenderly laid at rest in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. Many were the floral offerings from loving friends—silent messages of love.

The Record joins the many friends in extending sympathy in this dark hour.

"There is a reaper whose name is death
And with his sickle keen
He reaps the bearded grain at a breath
And the flowers that grow between."

HONORING MRS. SMITH

The ladies of the Christian church gave a picnic on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crowder Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Willis R. Smith, a former Coloradoian, and one of the most faithful workers in all departments of that church—in fact her bright, sunny disposition was an inspiration in all walks of life for her husband, Dr. Smith, enjoyed the friendship of almost everybody here and she is indeed his helpmeet.

The husbands and a few other friends had the honor of attending this function and the pleasure and satisfied feeling that comes after partaking of the many good things to eat prepared by these competent cooks and housewives.

The gentlemen also enjoyed playing "42" while the ladies chatted together and thus a very pleasant evening was spent.

B. Y. P. U. PARTY.

On Monday evening Mr. ad Mrs. Pierce entertained the junior B. Y. P. U. on their lawn. Mr. Pierce the faithful leader of this band of boys and girls spares nothing to keep them interested, neither in their studies nor play. Fun began just as soon as they arrived and lasted till they parted.

Many games were played and kept up till they wearied of that one and immediately some one suggested another one. There were no stops till refreshments were announced and the punch and cakes were the absorbing game for awhile. Each guest on departing assured the host and hostess they "had a nice time." The pastor and a few more young hearted grown-ups also enjoyed the evening.

Housekeeping is hard work, but by using brains as well as feet and hands it may be made lighter. One saving the woman of brains practices is having the laundry done away from home where it is perfectly clean and sanitary, at the same time cheaper than when done at home. Ours is the only place in Colorado that fills these requirements.—The Laundry.

MEMBERS BAPTIST CHURCH PLEASE READ.

Having had no services at the church during the meeting at the tabernacle, our finances have fallen short. Those who use the envelopes are urged to make a special effort to bring or send all envelopes to and including July 11th to the church next Sunday. HONORING MRS. JEROLD RIORDAN.

On Wednesday afternoon from 5 to 7, Mrs. Bert Wulfjen, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. F. B. Whipkey and Miss Wulfjen were at home at Mrs. Wulfje's honoring Mrs. Jerold Riordan, the popular bride of a few weeks.

Mrs. Bert Wulfjen and the honoree were girls in Georgetown and the others had known her there and she had been in Mrs. Pierce's home for three years here, so they who know her best are those who love her best. But it was indeed a pleasure for the town to have the privilege of showing their love in some way for "Miss Hutton" for all mothers who have had the distinction of having children in the primary department of the public school under her feel indebted to her for the sure foundation that was there laid for future work, besides loving her for her own sunny, sweet disposition, so it was a privilege for almost the entire town to thus spend a delightful hour in her company.

The house was made cheery and attractive looking by the large baskets of bright sunflowers in evidence everywhere, and a particularly pretty one was on the beautiful lunch cloth in the dining room.

The guests were greted at the door by Mrs. Duff and Mrs. Thomas and escorted in the parlor by Mrs. Pierce and thre met Mrs. Wulfjen, and the honoree, Mrs. Riordan. Mrs. Whipkey and Miss Wulfjen were assisted in entertaining the other parts of the house by Misses Mamie and Frankie Riordan. Mesdames Y. D. McMurry, J. L. Doss, Sam Wulfjen, Evert Winn and Mrs. A. L. Whipkey.

Delicious peach ice and cake were served to over a hundred guests by Misses Mabel Smith, Sallie Herrington, Irene Whipkey, Lucile Henthorne and Mildred Coleman.

H. L. HUTCHINSON & CO.

We realize the Record is hardly up to its usual standard this issue in local matters, but a combination of holidays and shortness of linotype help have combined to make it shy.

Mr. Brooks Bell is confined to his home as the result of a fall.

The "Glorious Fourth" was spent as seemed best to the individual or crowd. Some went to El Paso, some went fishing, some went picnicing, some went joy riding and some stayed at home, while a few we heard of insisted it was "Father's Day" and just spent the time sleeping and resting.

Dr. Ruth, of Dallas, is visiting his college chum, Milburn Dross, in the latter's home. Dr. Ruth is northern reared and is greatly enjoying his first experience in the "wild and wooly West." He is a gentlemen of refinement, education and genial manners, assets that bid fair to carry him to eminence in his profession.

We will furnish everything but the baby and for the cold cash we can certainly interest you if you will give us a chance.—H. L. Hutchinson & Co.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clements, of Lampasas, visited their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Stokes, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Beall are home from their visit on the pdains.

Mrs. Tolar of Loraine visited her daughterr, Mrs. Henthorne, this week.

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die.

I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good.

I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

The Three Blind Men and the Elephant

They were taken to "see" the elephant. The first one touched the trunk and said that the elephant was like a snake. The second one grasped a leg and said, "How like a tree!" The third passed his hand along the side of the huge beast and said, "Just like a wall." As is frequently the case, they didn't combine their knowledge.

Take three engineers and their lubricating problems. One has achieved perfect valve lubrication. Another has reduced wear and trouble on his guides. The third knows how to make gears last longer.

The combined knowledge of the three would increase the value of each one to himself, and to his employer. How can they exchange experiences?

By getting in touch with an organization which has worked out thousands of these lubricating problems. Such an organization is back of Texaco Lubricants. Unlimited experience in all parts of the country, plus the means for giving you the benefit of that experience, enables us to solve your particular lubricating problems.

On this basis we have built up an extensive, growing business in all classes of lubricants. The engineers who have benefited by our service cover the country, and embrace every industry—yours included.

THE VERY BEST TIME to take Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is now, if you feel that your blood is out of order. Don't wait until you have to cure disease; it's easier and better to prevent it.

With the first blotches or eruption, or the dullness, weariness, and depression that are some of the symptoms, you need this medicine. It will rouse every organ into healthy action, thoroughly cleanse and repair your system, and build up needed flesh, health, and strength. It's the only reliable blood remedy. In the most stubborn Skin or Scalp affections; in the worst forms of Scrofula; in every disease caused by a torpid liver or impure blood—it never fails to benefit or cure.

Mrs. JENNIE WELLS, 610 North Broughton St., Sherman, Texas, says:

"I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and found it to be the best. I found it all right, and can recommend it highly."

Constipation causes many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for liver ills.

The Mustard Seed Is a Tiny Nut

The meat or kernel of this tiny nut is what has the real, rich mustard flavor—the shell is almost as flavorless as the hull of a walnut.

Then when the whole mustard seeds are ground up into mustard you get bulk to be sure, but the strength is weakened by a part of it being shell or the tasteless part of the seed. It is pure mustard, but it is not the best flavored mustard, nor the most economical to use.

White Swan Mustard is made by discarding the shells and grinding up into mustard only the kernels of the mustard seed—these little kernels look like rolled oats when ready for grinding. Mustard made so is all strength and flavor. You can very readily satisfy yourself as to whether or not a mustard is ground from kernels only or from whole seed. The former, poured dry into a glass tube shows a powder of a solid, pure canary yellow. The other kind will look speckly—the mass is full of little dark particles; these are the shells, the almost tasteless part of the mustard seed.

The purchase of White Swan Mustard is an assurance not only of getting pure mustard, but of getting mustard ground from the shell-less kernels of imported mustard seed—full strength and fine flavor.

Your grocer sells White Swan Mustard—ask for it. 11-e

TEXAS AND GOOD ROADS.

The Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas now has the largest highway engineering division of any college in the south and in the United States excepting only Columbia. Three men all of whom are highway engineering graduates and have had actual experience in supervising road construction direct the operations of this department of the state A. & M. College of Texas.

R. L. Morrison, a graduate of Columbia and a road builder of much practical experience is professor of highway engineering and in charge of the department. Associated with him as associate professor of highway engineering is B. K. Coghlan, of the University of Illinois. Mr. Coglan previous to coming to A. & M. was with the New Mexico State College of Mining Engineering and in addition had charge of road construction in several counties of New Mexico.

G. D. Marshall who has been with the office of public roads, United States department of agriculture, recently was assigned to the A. & M. as extension worker in good roads. Mr. Marshall has worked through every state in the south and in addition to his experience in advocating good roads construction has had active work in road building with this department.

Work in highway engineering is given students in the engineering school. Inaddition the road men at A. & M. engage in extension work. Texas has gone 'wild' over road construction within the last few years and much of this enthusiasm for better highways is the result of the consistent and efficient efforts of the good roads men at A. & M.

A road material testing laboratory thoroughly equipped for all kinds of tests has been in operation at the College for the past three years and distinctive service has been rendered the state along these lines.

What is geenrally expected to prove the biggest roads meeting ever held in Texas will be held at the A. & M. College of Texas, College Station, this next August, the dates being August 4-5. At that time the Texas Good Roads Association together with the county judges and county commissioners association will meet at the college, guests of the highway engineering department.

R. L. Morrison, professor of highway engineering at the college is bringing together an enormous display of road materials and road building machinery. A program of instructive addresses together with round table discussions of much practical value is being planned also.—Southern Good Roads.

NO LAW STRONGER THAN SENTIMENT BEHIND IT.

If we were to detect a man in swearing a lie about a poker game, carrying a gun, pestering a meetin', or about his possession of a bottle of booze, we would send him to the penitentiary in a holy minute; but if we catch him swearing the truth about the taxable values of his property, we punish him by making him pay more taxes than his less truthful neighbor. If the members of a Commissioners' Court were to report the true values of our property to the Comptroller, he would punish us by forcing us to pay more taxes; and in turn we would elect a Court which could be depended on to carry out our sentiments. Thus, sentiment, makes us punish men for lying about one thing and reward them for lying about another. A law, no matter how salient it may be, if there is no sentiment backof it, it is worthless.—Sterling City News-Record.

Governor Hays of Arkansas, the mayor and leading citizens of Little Rock met Vice-President Marshall's train at that place where it stopped for ten minutes, intending to give him a reception. BUY IT BECAUSE IT'S A Studebaker

ONCE more Studebaker has proved that quantity production, scientific manufacturing methods, and a wealth of manufacturing experience can maintain high standards of quality.

That these are high-grade cars in every essential will be evident from the most superficial examination, and the specifications as given by the engineering department at the Detroit factory indicate that the quality is even higher than with last year's cars. They show that finer steels have been used, that the upholstery is of the highest grade of leather the market affords; that the finishing operations have been increased to 25 in number, while numerous other details of manufacture are still further indicative of quality.

SAVE—SERVE—SUBSIST.

Farmers of the Southwest will be impressed more with the importance of conservation this year than ever before. Crops are producing, it seems, bountifully and since diversification has been the rule generally, there will be a great variety of food and feed crops to say nothing of the cotton, peanuts, truckand fruits to be marketed.

This gives us an opportunity to save, serve and subsist, provided we are wise enough to make use of such favorable opportunities. Why be in a hurry to market crops, truck, fruits and livestock? If prices justify selling them there are no good reasons for holding. But certainly it would be very foolish to rush the surplus upon a poor market and suffer the consequences.—Farm and Ranch.

NEW PRINCIPLE COTTON GIN.

In a new fireproof cotton gin, developed by an Oklahoma inventor, the disk saws that strip the lint from the seed rotate horizontally in a vertical cone-shaped cylinder, and with this arrangement only about one-fourth as much floor space is required as with the ordinary cotton gin. The cotton is fed into the hopper at the top, and as it passes through the cylinder, but the lint and seed are separated and deposited in separate heaps at the bottom of the machine. Compressed air is used for cleaning the lint from the saws in place of rotary brushes.

JULY.

July gets its name from Julius Caesar, whose name is called the greatest in history. He first attracted attention by refusing to marry an heiress. After that his sise was rapid. He is described as a redheaded man looking about as Mr. Redfield, our Secretary of Commerce and Labor, would look after a fire. He was of noble birth, but had democratic streaks in him like Mr. Roosevelt. He was always a member of what the Romans called the popular or as we would say, the democratic, party. He first tried politics, but when he saw how much easier a successful general went to the top, he took up war.

But happy in war though he was, Caesar was never quite happy in office. He always had trouble in his cabinet, and along toward the last the situation became a political scandal. Brutus, who was his Secretary of State, complained that Caesar, who was literary and left his own commentaries upon his wars, was writing all the diplomatic notes and compelling Brutus to sign them. Brutus was himself an orator, editor and chautauqua lecturer. He had no mean command of letters himself, and felt fully capable of writing anything to which he ought to sig his name. While admitting the purity of Caesar's Latin, he still esteemed his own, and when it came to expressing the finer shades of meaning and emphasis he liked his own a little better. Brutus moreov r held it to be beneath his dignity as a great man and the virtual head of his party to subscribe his name to anything but his own stuff, and such eminent men of letters as Casca upheld him in that assertion of his professional right. Caesar refused to take these representations seriously. He went on writing notes and requiring Brutus to sign them. Brutus tried to restrain himself, but when he considered that the particular phrases and forms in which he always expressed himself were probably losing their vogue and could not be revived, he became desperate. Finally Caesar brought in a particularly important note to the Aquitanians which Brutus thought he should have written himself, and he resigned. Caesar accepted the resignation, and about an hour later, when he went out for lunch, Brutus and Casca jumped from behind the Pillar of Pompey and assassinated him. Thus died Caesar, whose name is perpetuated in the calendar, and whose month gives us some notion of the hot time he had in the short while he lived.

The festive calf will show us how
The Russians crossed the River Bug,
And ice-cold grape juice will endow
The system with its potent drug.
The mailman will load up his Ford
With picture postals twice a day,
The city people out to board
Will do a handspring in the hay,
The camper will forsake his home
To take a few mosquito scalps,
The modern soldiery of Rome
Will learn to yodel in the Alps,
The none too firmly anchored cook
Will blithely sail beyond our reach,
The summer girl will bait her hook
For Prince Charming at the beach.

The Turks will hold the Dardanelles till we can sell our dollar wheat, and what with plauditory yells the season will be hard to beat. The glad wheat growers will agree that Allah certainly is good, the water jug beneath the tree will tone the beverage with wood, the farmhands rolling from their bunks will rouse the swallows in the eaves, the college sprinter in his trunks will push the binder stacking sheaves, the farmer in his gratitude will toast the Turks from twenty gourds, the hired men by dreams imbued will all aspire to having Fords, the waterboy will rush the jug to fainting hearts beneath the trees, the country girl will vow to hug the first good Musselsman she sees the threshing engine's thrilling toot will bid the miller plug his bin, the eager harvesting recruit will wring the water from his chin, prosperity will be complete for those who diligently delve, and the farmer, driving in with wheat, will drive out in a Packard twelve.

It isn't often war can serve unselfish purpose at best, but if the Turk can still reserve his post we'll have to call him blest. With dollar wheat our cares disperse, the very skies above us smile; though wishing no one else the worse, we hope the Turks hold out awhile. So many years have intervened since farmers truly had their day, since money had not to be gleaned in some more questionable way. There are no Dardanelles of fact like those the farmer has to run, whose very soul at times has cracked beneath the fury of the sun; whose heart has still withstood the fire of Forts Chinchbug and Army Worm, whom old Fort Drouth has thought to tire, and old Fort Flood has made to squirm. The narrows where the farmhand quits the cut worms storming at the rear, the stronghold where disaster sits and views the field year after year. The farmer has endured it all, and if his fortune should submit a year of plenty by the Fall, he wouldn't mind the change a bit.

At any rate the war will rage
In good old civilized style,
And all the powers will engage
From Greenland to the river Nile.
The German will pursue the Russ
Until the Russ pursues him back,
The Moslem with his blunderbuss
Will pot the Christian in the back,
The submarines will slip around
Beneath the dark and brooding wave,
The doughty battleship will pound
The late Mohammed from his grave,
Troops in France will live like moles
Beneath the level of the seas,
The Romans will shoot bigger holes
In all the brands of good Swiss cheese.

July will be a quiet month politically. Mr. Bryan will be busy on the chautauqua platform, and Mr. Wilson and the Kaiser will continue pleasantly to exchange notes. The real event of the month will be Mr. Rockefeller's birthday. He will be 77 on July 8, when gasoline will go up a cent. St. Swithin's Day will come on the 15th. If it rains on St. Swithin's Day it will rain the rest of the summer. If we do not have rain that day, it will be safe to go some place for a while on Sunday The first twenty days of the month will be under the influence of Cancer the Crab, the fourth sign of the zodiac. People born under this influence are the most grasping we have. Mr. Rockefeller is a fair example. The last ten days of the month will be under the influence of Leo the Lion, the fifth sig of the zodiac. People born under this influence are very brave, and want to wait until the war in Europe is over and fight Germany by ourselves. The moon will be full on the 26th.

Then August will resume its sway,
With each day bright and burning,
And what provoked this mad affray
A little space returning.

"CINDERELLA"

SCENE FROM "SIGN OF THE CROSS"

In the exquisitely fanciful fairy-tale, arranged from the beautiful symbolic story, Mary Pickford portrays the pathetic but bewitcing little cinder-girl, the heroine of the world-renowned and universally loved tale of the abused stepsister who was at last rewarded for her virtue and patience by a splendid triumph over the haughty sisters and unkind stepmother, and crowned princess and sovereign of her true loves-heart.

Mary Pickford as "Cinderella" is charm, grace and tendernees personified, and immortalized in a screen production of rare art and appeal. In the film version there is more than the impersonal value of the character of the original and world-famous story. "Cinderella" walks and breaths upon the screen as though it were a bewitching, dazzling being incarnated by memory and idealized by the tender recollection of childhood

SIGN OF THE CROSS

Don't Miss This Good Feature

"The Sign of the Cross"

One of the greatest spectacular subjects ever produced on the screen is offered in the latest Famous Players-Paramount release, William Farnum in Wilson Barrett's world-famous drama, "The Sign of the Cross." This dignified and beautiful production of the soul-stirring play that has been produced with universal success throughout the world is in five parts, and is undoubtedly the foremost film classic ever produced in America.

The play is, foremost, a work of the imagination, yet strengthened and emphasized by the grim realities that inspired it. The play brings out the gorgeous pageantry of Paganism into sharp and clear relief against the towering dignity and primitive simplicity of the early Christian faith, and even discloses the riot and license of self indulgent Rome, as it were, at the very foot of the assent to Calvary.

The noble theme, the masterly handling the reverence for sacred things, the solemn pathos, the tender symbolism, the classic reserve of the concluding scenes, have all been dwelt upon with generous eulogy by writers of every school and divines of every Church. It is felt that as a work of art, the true universality of Christian worship has been expressed with unimagined power.

PONDER

Did you ever stop to ponder what the Picture Show has done;
How it's changed the thoughts of Nations, of the triumphs it has won?
Do you know it is engaging the best Dramatic Art,
And is of our Society a well-established part?

It has given us an insight into lives of other climes;
Instructive and amusing—this Art of Modern Times.
We no longer need to travel and through distant lands to roam,
For we can see them every day and stay right here at home.
