Farm Booklets Blasted

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government pamphlets explaining work dangers to farmers are sparking controversy because of language one congressman says must have been written "for a new Yorker about to visit a farm for the first time."

The booklets, prepared at a cost of almost $500,000 by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, are designed to help farmers and farmhands understand new federal safety rules.

One pamphlet, "Safety With Beef Cattle," declares in large, bold print that "hazards are one of the main causes of accidents" and explains, "You can make your work area safe by finding hazards and removing them."

Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., says the language is "so incredibly arrogant and insulting that it nearly leaves me speechless." He said OSHA material for other industries is not so childish and that apparently only farmers have been singled out for such treatment.

The beef cattle booklet has the American National Cattlemen's Association "laughing with tears in our eyes" with such advice as: "When floors are wet and slippery with manure, you can have a bad fall. You could also trip over junk or trash."

The pamphlets are being distributed in cooperation with the Extension Service in the Agriculture Department. New federal rules affecting farmers who hire outside labor have been announced by the agency.

One cluster of regulations affecting protective shields around machinery was to have gone into effect June 7 but was delayed until Oct. 25, partly because the informational material, including the pamphlets, were not ready.

Rep. Thomas Hagedorn, R-Minn., said, "The material in these pamphlets seems to be written for a New Yorker about to visit a farm for the first time." He said 155,000 copies of each of 28 pamphlets are being printed at a cost of $347,220 and that the government paid experts at Purdue University $119,500 for developing the material.

Among the pamphlets are: Safety with Front-End Loaders; Beware of Machine Hazards; Rules for Flagmen; Cotton Harvesting Safety; Using Anhydrous Ammonia Safely; Safety with Rotary Mowers; Working Safely with Poultry; and Using Grain Harvesting Equipment.

Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., noted that a new OSHA pamphlet advises farmers to "speak softly to cows....

Then there's one about being careful when you step in manure because it's slippery."

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, June 17th, the 169th day of 1976. There are 197 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1775, the Revolutionary War Battle of Bunker Hill was fought. The British attacked patriots manning positions across the Charles River from Boston. Twice the British were repulsed, but the outnumbered defenders finally retreated.

On this date:

In 1579, Sir Francis Drake landed on the California coast.

In 1703, the founder of Methodism, John Wesley, was born in England.

In 1940, France asked Germany for peace terms in World War II.

In 1943, Allied bombers pounded the Italian city of Naples and the island of Sicily.

In 1967, Communist China announced it had exploded its first hydrogen bomb.

In 1972, the downfall of the Nixon administration began with the discovery of the Watergate break-in in Washington.

Ten years ago: The Food and Drug Administration announced a major overhaul of regulations for special diet foods and diet supplements.

Five years ago: Japan and the United States signed an agreement restoring the once bloody battlefield of Okinawa to the Japanese.

One year ago: The Soviet Union shelved its campaign to convene a new Geneva peace conference on the Middle East.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, Congress focused on the critical battle situation in Canada. Connecticut was asked to send two additional battalions and General Gates was directed to take command of the troops, with authority to commission and dismiss officers.

Suspects Are Arrested In Killing Of US Diplomats

By EDWARD CODY
Associated Press Writer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Palestinian guerrillas and their leftist Lebanese allies announced the arrest today of a number of persons suspected of killing U.S. Ambassador Francis E. Meloy Jr., his economic counselor and their Lebanese driver.

Police sources said Al Fatah Palestinian guerrillas arrested five members of the Lebanese Socialist Revolutionary Organization, an urban guerrilla group that seized the Beirut branch of the Bank of America in 1973, took 56 hostages and killed an American and four Lebanese before police stormed the building.

Meloy, 59, Robert Waring, 58, and Zoheir Maghrabi were shot Wednesday while driving through the no-man's land between the Moslem and Christian sectors of Beirut.

The announcement by the joint Palestinian-leftist Lebanese command did not identify the suspects, say how many there were or give their nationalities. However, it implied they were Arabs and said they would be turned over to the Pan-Arab peacekeeping force which the Arab League proposes to send to Lebanon.

U.S. officials in Washington said they believed the killers were from a Moslem fringe group who hoped to unify squabbling Arab factions by provoking American intervention in the Lebanese civil war.

Yasir Arafat, the chief of the Palestine Liberation Organization, and Kamal Jumblatt, the leader of the leftist Lebanese Moslems, both condemned the assassinations. They warned the Christians not to try to use them to sabotage Arab peacemaking efforts.

Officials in Washington again reviewed the standoy plans for evacuating the 1,450 Americans still in Lebanon, but State Department officials said the United States would not "cut and run."

However, the British Embassy urged Britons to consider leaving and said it was organizing a motor convoy out of the country.

The helicopter carrier Guadalcanal and four other U.S. Navy ships were 400 miles off the coast of Lebanon. Three U.S. transport planes and four helicopters were standing by at a British air base on Cyprus to help should the evacuation order be issued.

President Ford told reporters at the White House that the "United States will not be deterred from its search for peace by these murders." He said Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger had been ordered to "continue our intensive efforts" to find a solution to the Lebanese war.

Ford told Kissinger to ask retired Ambassador L. Dean Brown to return to Beirut as a special envoy. Brown filled in for ailing Ambassador G. McMurtry Godley earlier this year and established good relations with several of the warring factions. Meloy replaced him in May.

Meloy and Waring were captured and killed while on their way from the Embassy in the Moslem sector of Beirut to meet President-elect Elias Sarkis in the Christian part of the city.

A security car accompanied them through the Moslem sector but turned back when they headed across the no-man's land, State Department spokesman Robert Funseth told reporters in Washington.

School Budget Is Discussed

Little action was taken Wednesday night during a special meeting of the Snyder Independent School District Board of Trustees meeting. Important budgetary matters were discussed but left unresolved in last night's meeting. Several other issues were settled, however.

Clark Lumber Co. was awarded a $390 carpeting contract at Central Elementary School by submitting the lower of two bids. The Parent Council was also given the board's approval to complete the carpeting begun at the library at West Elementary.

In other action last night, the Board of Trustees authorized the use of school buses to ferry persons between Snyder and Hermleigh during the July 4 celebrations. The Snyder Chamber of Commerce had earlier requested the use of the buses to furnish transportation for those persons wishing to ride the RS&P Railroad during a special observances planned for the Bicentennial.

Left unresolved in last night's meeting were vital budgetary and personnel matters. The board discussed salary adjustments for specific personnel, but reached no firm decision.

The Board of Trustees, engaged in deadlocked school budget discussions for the past several weeks, hopes to resolve the financial and personnel matters in another special session to be held later.

Houston Will Be Declared Disaster Area

HOUSTON (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe announced here today he will declare rain and flood damaged Houston a disaster area enabling the Texas city to receive special federal and state funds to repair its wounds.

The city was flogged by heavy rains, more than 13 inches, Tuesday and Wednesday and damages have been estimated at several million dollars.

Much of the damage was done to the Medical Center and the Sims Bayou area in South Houston.

"There is no question in my mind about it being a disaster area," the governor said before he prepared to make a survey of the damaged sections of town.

At least seven deaths were blamed on the rain and floods.

Most medical center hospitals had near-full power late Wednesday although some institutions were without electricity in some wings and emergency power was being utilized.

The Sims Bayou area of south and southeast Houston remained stricken Wednesday as residents evacuated their inundated homes. One home owner reported three feet of water in his house.

Harris County Commissioner Tom Bass said he will ask Briscoe to declare the Sims Bayou area a disaster area.

After inspecting the damage, Briscoe will confere with state disaster relief officials.

Top Court Approves Oil Import Fees

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today approved the oil import fees imposed by Presidents Nixon and Ford and reversed a lower court decision that had blocked such charges.

The fees, amounting to $1-$2 a barrel, have not been collected since last Jan. 3 when Ford signed the Energy Policy and Conservation Act. The ruling, therefore, will have no impact on consumer prices.

The justices unanimously reversed an Aug. 11 ruling by the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington that the presidents exceeded their authority in setting the fees.

The fees had been challenged by eight Northeastern states and their governors, 10 utility companies and Rep. Robert Drinan, D-Mass.

Justice Thurgood Marshall, who delivered the opinion, said that both the language of the statutes under which the presidents acted and their legislative history leads the court "to conclude that it authorizes the action taken by the President in this case."

In January 1975, Ford raised the price of oil imports to encourage domestic production.

He ordered that the fee for crude oil imports go immediately to 21 cents per barrel, a level that was to have been reached under a graduated system some three months later.

He also imposed a supplemental fee of $1 per barrel for oil that entered the United States after Feb. 1, 1975. The fee was to rise to $2 per barrel on March 1 and $3 a barrel on April 1.

But the governors challenged the fees. The March and April increases were deferred twice. The $2 fee finally went into effect June 1, 1975, but it was never increased to $3.

On Jan. 3, 1976, the President eliminated the $2 fee, saying the Energy Policy and Conservation Act would take care of the aim of encouraging domestic production.

Evacuation Decision Due Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today the United States will decide within 36 hours whether to evacuate Americans from Lebanon, where the bodies of two assassinated U.S. diplomats have been found at the construction site of a new U.S. chancellery.

Kissinger, calling the murders of Ambassador Francis E. Meloy Jr. and economic counselor Robert O. Waring "an act not only of brutality but extraordinary maliciousness," told Congress a further decision will be made on whether to use U.S. military forces in the evacuation.

"If Amerian military forces are used, it will be a very short operation," Kissinger declared.

Kissinger told the House International Relations Committee that reports the assassins have been captured are not confirmed. He said the killers are believed to be part of "a splinter group of the Palestinian group that is trying to prevent moderation in the area."

He said the splinter group is opposed by most parties in Lebanon, probably including the Palestine Liberation Organization. American sources had said earlier that a Moslem fringe group was believed to be responsible for the killings.

Sex Cover-Up Incident Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Louisiana congressman was apprehended by vice squad agents who said he tried to solicit a woman police decoy for sex early this year, it was reported today. The report said federal officials suppressed records of the incident.

However, another report apparently referring to the same incident, said no charge was made because members of Congress are provided by the Constitution with immunity from arrest for misdemeanors while Congress is in session except for breaches of the peace.

The New York Post said it learned from unnamed sources that the cover-up of the incident involving Rep. Joe D. Waggonner, D-La., reached to the top levels of the Washington, D.C., police department and into the U.S. attorney's office.

A written report of the incident is known to exist, the Post said. That report, it's sources said, went to top police officials and to the office of U.S. Atty. Earl Silbert. The newspaper said Silbert denied knowledge of any such incident or of a cover-up and promised to investigate. It said Washington Police Chief Maurice J. Cullinane was unavailable for comment and that an aide had no comment.

There was no immediate response from Waggonner, Silbert or Cullinane to the Post story.

However, the Washington Star said Wednesday it had learned a congressman was taken into custody last winter by police who said he solicited a policewoman disguised as a prostitute. The Star did not name the congressman.

The Star said the incident occurred last February. It said the congressman was freed with profuse apologies and that there is no record of his apprehension, "not a shred of paper bearing his name or any details of the incident.

"Apparently it was all legal," the Star said. "The congressman was released under provisions of the U.S. Constitution, Article I, Section 6 — a little-known passage that Washington police officers memorize in rookie school and are encouraged not to forget."

American Party Opens Meeting

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — With many of the trappings of a major-party conclave but considerably less public interest, the American party opens its third national nominating convention today.

"This is the first time in modern history there has been a viable third party," said Tom Anderson, national chairman, temporary convention chairman and favorite for the party's presidential nomination.

Despite Anderson's claim of viability, only about 200 of 500 expected delegates had signed in with the convention's credentials committee by Wednesday evening.

And only one television station, KSL, a Salt Lake City station owned by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon), set up equipment in the bunting-draped Exhibition Hall for live coverage of the convention's opening.

Carter Also Ahead In Campaign Indebtedness

By DICK PETTYS
Associated Press Writer

SEA ISLAND, Ga. (AP) — Jimmy Carter, who apparently has an insurmountable lead in delegates for the Democratic presidential nomination, also leads all presidential candidates in campaign indebtedness — about $1.75 million.

Many of the former Georgia governor's top aides met near this coastal resort island, where Carter is vacationing, to prepare for a major strategy session with Carter today.

During meetings on Wednesday, his top staff members decided on a series of fundraising activities to collect about $1 million which campaign treasurer Robert Lipshutz said would put the Carter campaign in the black through the Democratic National Convention next month.

Carter's advisers have agreed to conduct 12 fundraisers to replenish his war chest, but are divided over how to handle the vice presidential nomination, his press secretary says.

Carter had not previously said that the campaign was in debt for the $1.75 million. His statements this week and last were that the campaign was "several hundred thousand dollars in debt."

Lipshutz said the campaign owes about $1.75 million, and expects to receive about $1.1 million through a combination of federal campaign matching funds and reimbursement from news media and the Secret Service for their travel with the Carter campaign.

Lipshutz said that leaves the campaign with a net debt of about $600,000.

A fundraiser in Dallas earlier this week raised more than $200,000, Carter aides said.

Republican campaign officials said last week that President Ford's campaign had a surplus of more than $300,000, while GOP challenger Ronald Reagan's campaign was almost in the black after being more than $1 million in debt.

Meanwhile, Carter's press secretary, Jody Powell, said there was a fairly strong division of opinion among staff members on how to handle the selection of a vice presidential nominee after Carter wins the presidential nomination, which now appears certain.

"We want a thorough screening process but at the same time we want to preserve the privacy of people under consideration," Powell said in a briefing for newsmen after Wednesday's staff session.

President Ford has offered the use of the Federal Bureau of Investigation for background screenings of possible vice-presidential nominees. Powell said last week that the Carter staff was uncertain whether the offer should be accepted.

As he returned from a fishing expedition, Carter was asked about the slaying Wednesday of the American ambassador to Lebanon, the economic attache and their driver.

Carter said that if he were president he would work through the Lebanese government to bring the guilty to justice, but he said the incident would not prompt him to send U. S. troops to the country.

Carter, meanwhile, is within 160 declared delegate votes of a mathematical lock on the magic number of 1,505 votes needed for the nomination.

GOP Chairman Urges Changes In Government

FORT WORTH (AP) — The Texas Republican convention resolutions committee has heard a plea from State GOP Chairman Ray Hutchison calling for changes in the nation's system of government.

Although the formal convention doesn't get underway at the Tarrant County Covention Center until Saturday, the resolutions committee met early to hear Hutchison and to hash over possible party positions.

Hutchison suggested Wednesday that the party should look into "some very, very simple things that would bring about change" such as limitations on the terms of the president, senators and representatives.

Hutchison, a state representative said he once opposed such moves, but now "I'm changing my opinion."

"I think that government is not expressing the will of the people," he said.

Hutchison was highly critical of Gov. Dolph Briscoe, saying the governor "sits down there and talks about democracy and they pass an appropriation bill in 30 minutes."

"How does it come about?" he asked and, answering himself, added, "lobbysts inside government."

He said he wasn't nearly as concerned about outside influences on government units as he was about the bureaucracy.

"The bureaucracy has, in fact, gotten in bed with the Congress. They have indeed," said Hutchison. "They control the government and the people are excluded. They are locked out."

Hutchison said the Republican Party is suffering these days because "we are totally being upstaged ... on issues" by the Democrats.

As an example, he cited so-called "sunset laws" which limit the life of governmental agencies and provide for periodic review of the need to have certain agencies.

"Now it's one of the big issues of the Democratic party," he said. "They've taken over our stuff and we've let them do it."

Another area where change is needed, Hutchison said, is the use of governmental office to provide a springboard to higher office.

Referring to a number of senators who have been Democratic presidential candidates this year, he contended that "the Senate of the United States has been used for political gain."

"I think the Constitution ought to be amended to prohibit a person from becoming a candidate for president of the United States until he has resigned his position," he said.

"They have total access to the treasury of the United States to further their own political ambitions.

Along the same line, the GOP leader attacked Briscoe and Jimmy Carter, the Democrats' leading presidential hopeful.

"Jimmy Carter and Dolph Briscoe are today embracing every dollar of every special interest group in this state," he charged.

"It is an outrageous example of ... 'if the political power is there, that's where we are going to be,'" Hutchison said.

Those who hop aboard the political bandwagon in search of power, he said, "ought to be made to pay the price."

Earlier, Hutchison named attorney Jerry Smith of Houston temporary chairman of the resolutions committee, which will thread it's way through several hundred proposed resolutions before Friday afternoon.

Those finally approved by the committee will be submitted to the convention on Saturday and, if okayed there, will be handed over to the platform committee of the Republican National Convention in August for consideration as the national party platform is constructed.

5,000 Expected At Strauss Dinner

HOUSTON (AP) — A crowd of more than 5,000 is predicted by sponsors to attend a fund-raising $25 to $250 per person box lunch dinner tonight honoring National Democratic Chairman Robert S. Strauss of Dallas.

Most of the Democratic presidential hopefuls with the exception of Jimmy Carter, the presidential nomination front-runner, were to participate.

Carter had been expected to attend but Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe announced the former Georgia governor would be vacationing at Sea Isle, Ga.

U.S. Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, a presidential race dropout who threw his support to Carter, was expected to arrive about 2:35 p.m. and stay overnight.

California Gov. Jerry Brown was to arrive at 5:15 p.m. and a private plane bringing U.S. Sens. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, John Glenn of Ohio and Lloyd Bentsen of Texas was to arrive about 6:30 p.m. All except Bentsen were expected to leave town after the fundraiser.

Strauss, the first Texan to chair the national committee, was to arrive about mid afternoon.

Television stars Lorne Green and David Janssen and Peter Duchin's orchestra are among the scheduled entertainers at the Summit arena event.

Proceeds from the show are to be used to bail the Texas Democratic Party out of a $60,000 debt.

While plans were being made for the dinner, a meeting of the credentials committee Wednesday kicked off activities for a meeting here of the State Democratic Convention.

Vacant chairs outnumbered those filled as the committee heard delegate challenges for the Friday-Saturday state convention.

The Crystal Ballroom at the Rice Rittenhouse Hotel dwarfed the 14-member committee as the day-long proceedings attracted no more than 40 participants and spectators at any one time.

Observers attributed the small number of challenges to a firm grasp by Carter forces on the convention.

Carter claimed at least 92 presidential delegates in the party's May 1 primary and is expected to claim a major portion of 32 at-large delegates to be selected Saturday.

"All the challenges probably involve no more than about 60 of the 3,400 delegates, so whatever we do won't have much impact on the convention," said Robert W. Smith, the committee chairman from Dallas.

TAC Okays Two New Air Routes

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Aeronautics Commission has authorized two new intrastate airlines Wednesday to provide air passenger service from Abilene and Brownwood to seven other cities.

Chaparral Airlines, Inc., of Abilene was given permission Wednesday to provide two nonstop round-trip flights per day between Abilene and Austin, Houston (Hobby Airport), Lubbock and Midland-Odessa.

Chaparral plans to utilize a twin-engine Piper Navajo Chieftan, which carries eight passengers and a crew of two.

Eagle Commuter Airlines of Brownwood was authorized to fly three round trips daily between Brownwood and the Dallas-Fort Worth regional airport. Eagle plans to use twin-engine Cessna 402 aircraft, which also carry eight passengers and a crew of two.

An application by Trans-Regional Airlines of Big Spring to provide similar service was denied on the recommendation of examiner John Soule, who heard the applications of the three airlines.

In other action, the commission:

—Approved granting $93,000 in state funds to improve airports at Carthage, Eastland and Wharton.

—Voted to cancel a certificate authorizing Metroflight Airlines to provide air service to several points in the Dallas metropolitan area, because Metroflight had failed to begin service after obtaining a certificate to do so.

Jordan May Buy Soviet Hardware

By THOMAS KENT
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — King Hussein of Jordan arrives today to shop for antiaircraft missiles costing less than the $850-million American system Saudi Arabia won't buy for him.

Hussein confirmed Wednesday in Vienna that preliminary discussions were under way on adding Soviet air defense batteries to Jordan's Western-equipped armed forces. He said he knew nothing of American threats to cut back aid to Jordan if he buys the Soviet hardware.

"We will do what is necessary to provide ourselves with what we need to defend ourselves, from any source," the 40-year-old king told reporters.

The visit by Hussein and Queen Alia is his first to the Soviet Union since 1967. It follows the collapse of his negotiations for the purchase of 14 Hawk antiaircraft missile batteries from the United States. Saudi Arabia had agreed to finance the deal when it was first discussed but backed out because of the price.

American officials in Washington said there was still a chance of selling six or eight batteries to Jordan. They contended that Hussein's talk of buying from the Russians was an attempt to get a better deal from Washington.

Congressional sources said purchase of Soviet equipment could endanger the $252.5 million in U.S. arms aid and $3.1 million in economic assistance to Jordan proposed for the 1976-77 fiscal year. The reports from Washington said U.S. officials warned the king of this.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said Hussein and his Soviet hosts were expected to discuss "current international problems, specifically the Middle East situation and prospects for an over-all settlement of the Middle East conflict."

Tass did not mention any arms deals. Such matters are not usually publicized in the Soviet press.

Mishap Is Reported

Following a major two-car collision just after midnight today, an O'Donnell man was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Roy Dale Ward was listed in good condition by a hospital spokesman late this morning. He was taken to Cogdell by Galyean Ambulance Service.

Highway Patrolmen reported that the north bound 1964 Chevrolet Ward was driving collided with an east bound 1974 Chevrolet driven by Gregory Gafford of Snyder. The mishap occurred approximately 12:15 a.m. today at the intersection of U.S. 180 and U.S. 84, about one-tenth mile east of Snyder.

Wreckers had to be summoned to remove both of the heavily damaged vehicles, a Highway Patrolman said.

Four Die In Nursing Home Fire

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Fire that may have been caused by smoking in bed sent smoke swirling through an old folks' home early today. Authorities said four aged patients died and at least 24 others were injured.

Frank Wallace, administrator of Shenandoah Homes, said 174 persons were in the home and 49 of them were in the second-floor infirmary where the blaze broke out about 2:15 a.m.

Firemen carried some trapped residents down fire truck ladders from windows of the six-story building, but most, with the help of nurses, were able to flee on foot.

Roanoke County fire coordinator Robert Monroe said careless smoking was believed to have caused the fire, which was not brought under control for about three hours.

A night nurse who discovered the fire, Mary Garland, said the fire was started by a patient "who had been smoking in bed."

Fire officials said the home's mattresses, made of foam rubber with cotton bottoms, were highly flammable.

The injured were taken to three Roanoke-area hospitals, where spokesmen said most suffered from smoke inhalation, "one or two" from shock, and a few had had apparent heart attacks. It was not immediately known whether smoke inhalation had caused the four deaths.

The Roanoke Red Cross chapter provided shelter for more than 80 of the home's residents.

The dead and injured were not immediately identified, nor was there an immediate estimate of damage to the building.

Monroe said the blaze originated in a second-floor room that was occupied by two persons, one about 60 years old, the other about 80.

Smoke from the fire tripped an automatic alarm and provided the first sign of danger.

A state spokesman said Shenandoah Homes was not a nursing home or a convalescent home, which must be licensed by the state Health Department, but a "home for adults," or home for the aged.

Residents of such "homes for adults," which are licensed by the state Welfare Department, generally are not ill and require only minimal nursing care, the spokesman said.

A large tornado can measure a mile and half wide and 200 miles long and spawn whirling winds reaching 300 miles an hour.

Civil Rights Leaders To Fight Busing Proposal

By MARGARET GENTRY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights leaders say they will fight a Ford administration proposal that would force an end to court-ordered busing after five years in some cities.

"We are against that," said Clarence Mitchell, head of the Washington office of the NAACP.

"There is no reasonable basis for any such limitation," said Joseph Rauh, chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights.

In interviews Wednesday, they discussed their objections to the plan Atty. Gen. Edward Levi had outlined at a news conference earlier in the day.

Levi said legislation being drafted at the Justice Department "does have a provision that busing can, under certain circumstances, be ordered for a three-year period, that it can then be continued for two additional years.

"Then if the orders of the court over that period have been carried out in good faith, the assumption is that busing would not any longer be required except in extraordinary circumstances."

Both Mitchell and Rauh said they believe the plan has little if any chance of winning congressional approval.

"My reaction is that this legislation isn't going to pass. The administration knows it's not going to pass," Rauh said. "For them to send up the proposal is an incitement to people to violate court orders."

Levi said he has no doubt that legislation limiting court-orderd busing would be constitutional. "We are certainly not going to propose anything we have any feeling would be unconstitutional," he asserted.

Disputing Levi's claim, Mitchell declared, "I am absolutely sure we could make a successful challenge on the constitutionality."

Levi said the proposed legislation would treat busing as a last-resort tool of desegregation to be used only for a transitional period, rather than permanently.

He noted that desegregation orders usually include boundary changes, voluntary student transfers and other remedies in combination with busing.

Those other remedies plus progress in integrated housing over a five-year period should make it possible to end busing without returning to segregated schools, he suggested.

Riots Continue In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Rioting raged into a second day today in Africa's largest ghetto, the black township of Soweto. More deaths today raised the reported total to 35 dead, most of them black, as students stoned cars, started fires and battled police.

At least 224 persons — five of them white — were reported injured and 126 were arrested.

Air force helicopters bombarded roving mobs of black rioters with tear gas. More than 1,000 black and white policemen, some armed with automatic rifles and machine guns, toured the area in armored cars.

Legislators, churchmen, teachers and newspapers opposed to South Africa's racial policies reacted with horror to the rioting and deaths. It was the worst racial confrontation in this white-ruled nation since police killed 69 blacks in the Sharpeville massacre in 1960.

On the Johannesburg stock exchange, prices were lower across the board today. By noon, no gold shares showed gains and out of 29 stocks traded, 28 fell in price.

In Johannesburg itself, club-wielding whites broke up a march by about 1,000 blacks and whites protesting police actions in Soweto.

The Soweto rioting broke out Wednesday when police tried to stop a demonstration by about 10,000 students protesting mandatory courses in Afrikaans, the Dutch-based language of the Boers, the dominant white faction.

The language is a symbol to the students of South Africa's apartheid policy of racial segregation and repression. The students want to be educated in English.

When tear gas failed to stop the youths pelting police with rocks, the police Wednesday began shooting into the crowd. "It's no good firing over their heads," a senior police officer told reporters.

Police used tear gas to hold off a rock-throwing crowd that tried to storm the huge Baraganwath Hospital.

Minister of Police James T. Kruger said the violence covered about 21 square miles and at least 21 buildings had been gutted by fire. He said 11 of the wounded were policemen.

Kruger said he believed police used as little force as was necessary to contain the violence.

Police Report Burglary, Theft

A burglary and a theft topped police reports for Wednesday, following a one-day lull in criminal activity in Snyder on Tuesday.

An employe at the Kan-Tex Seed Co. reported a burglary that resulted in the theft of $1,320 worth of hybrid grass seeds.The burglary occurred June 14. Five 40 pound bags of the hybrid grass seed were taken. Entry, officers said, was gained through a hole in the back wall of the building.

Don Wittie told police officers that a torchhead, handle, and butane tip were taken from his residence in the 3700 block of Galveston. The theft is believed to have occurred between June 7 and June 10. Value of the stolen merchandise was estimated at $110.

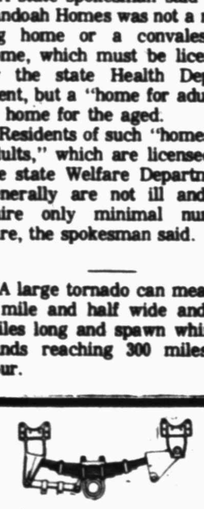

Kenner Receives Science Degree

HOUSTON—The University of Texas Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences conferred nine Ph. D. degrees and 24 M.D. degrees Saturday, June 12, in a joint ceremony with the other health professional schools at the UT Health Science Center at Houston.

Michael F. Kenner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Kenner, 3017 Thirty-eighth Street, Snyder, was awarded a M.S., master of science degree.

Timber cutting on a commercial basis began in the St. Croix Valley of Minnesota in the late 1830s.

Rehabilitation Center Doctors Rebuild Lives

NEW YORK (AP) — The Craniofacial Rehabilitation Center at the Kingsbrook Jewish Medical Center in Brooklyn is dedicated to rebuilding faces deformed by accident, disease or birth defects.

"Here," says Dr. Herbert L. Hayward, chief of the center, and Dr. Edward A. Woods, director of the center's dental department, "we offer hope, happiness, health and the reconstruction of broken lives."

"Here," adds Dr. Woods, "we repair cleft palates, harelips, oversized jaws, misshapen noses, and missing ears and eyes. We repair defects resulting from cancer surgery, facial trauma or accidental injury. We work like sculptors, rebuilding faces. We utilize skin and bone grafts where necessary. Sometimes we use synthetic "skins" made from certain polymers when a skin or bone graft is not possible."

"Whatever the cause of the craniofacial disorder, if untreated it may interfere with one or more physical or social functions," says Dr. Hayward, describing one patient, a 12-year-old boy born with protruding jaws.

Sensitive about his face, the boy had refused to do his school work and fought constantly with fellow students who made fun of him. His parents finally placed him in a home for disturbed children, where he remained until they took him to the rehabilitation center.

The operation needed to move his upper and lower jaws back. Now he is a handsome young man and lives a completely normal life with family and fellow students, Dr. Hayward relates.

Dr. Herbert Hayward head a team that includes plastic and reconstructive surgeons; oral surgeons; orthodontists; prosthodontists; and psychotherapists.

Prior to any test, the patient is interviewed, examined and a diagnostic workup is performed. Finally, there is a meeting at which all of the specialties are represented.

It is at this phase of preoperative period that the surgery is planned on the basis of the cephalometric (skull) analysis and prototypes made on the diagnostic models of the face and jaws.

The size and shape of needed grafts are measured on the model, then steel templates are made into which the surgerized bone and grafts can fit. Splints are designed to hold the jaws in position during healing. Thus, major facial surgery becomes a one-step procedure with bone grafts removed from the donor site just before implantation at the recipient site. Healing then occurs with everything in place.

In the case of another patient, a 25-year-old woman, her facial deformities had forced her to settle for menial jobs and had been the cause of her broken marriage. Her upper teeth protruded so far that she couldn't close her mouth. Following a thorough workup and discussion of the case by members of the team, a plan of treatment was agreed upon and surgery was performed. The patient is now an attractive woman with a productive business and social life, Dr. Hayward says.

Among the common deformities treated at Kingsbrook are bimaxillary (upper and lower jaws) protrusion or retrusion and cleft palate. These are congenital conditions. Surgery is also performed on oral cancer patients. Cancer surgery leaves the patient with esthetic and functional defects, including chewing, swallowing and speech disabilities due to the partial or total loss of a mandible (lower jaw) or maxilla (upper jaw).

One of the unique features of the center, according to Dr. Woods, is the regular conferences held by the members of the team involved with the patient's treatment, where each member of the team has an opportunity to evaluate the patient from the point of view of the treatment.

Previously, for example, for patients with oral cancer, the prosthodontist was not called into the case until the post-surgical phase, which limited the rehabilitative services that could be offered. Utilizing Kingsbrook's interdisciplinary approach, the prosthodontist can plan the rehabilitative phase of treatment and give a reasonable prognosis even before the patient undergoes surgery.

"The center serves a crucial need," Dr. Woods points out. "The face is the primary part of the body with which a person identifies and expresses his self-image. A facial injury, deformity or disability clearly has psychological implications. The psychologist serves a very important function. While it is not normally conceivable that an individual with a facial deformity, regardless of its cause, would not want it corrected, there are people who prefer that the defomity remain, using it as a crutch to excuse their insecurity."

The techniques of plastic surgery have been known since 800 B.C. or earlier, when Hindus in India restored missing facial features. The need had arisen because of the practice of slicing off the nose as punishment for various offenses.

While today plastic surgery is also used to beautify or to make one look younger, more important is its use for improving features of men, women and children who have been deformed by accident, disease or birth defects, say Kingsbrook specialists. While face lifts may have to be renewed periodically because of the aging process, the reconstruction of craniofacial features is permanent.

Tennessee has taken the Southeastern Conference track championship the past 13 seasons.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

There are two cures for notrumpitis. One is to quit playing bridge. The other is for the sufferer to try to find some other bid on all occasions before he bids notrump.

Neither seems to work. After South wound up one trick short at three notrump it never occurred to him that he might well have bid two hearts instead of one notrump and that he certainly should have bid three hearts instead of three notrump.

Either of those bids would have led to his partner playing a cinch four-heart contract.

South never thought of that because he was too busy telling North that he should have rebid his five-card heart suit. That is another symptom of acute notrumpitis. The sufferer is always in there blaming his unfortunate partner for his own misdeeds.

Ask the Jacobys

A New York reader wants to know what the odds are that North will hold at least five spades. North has just responded one spade to South's opening bid of one.

If North follows the recommendations of the American Bridge Teacher's Association the odds are almost 2 to 1 that he has five spades since with 4-4 in either spades and diamonds or spades and hearts he is supposed to respond in the red suit.

Rewards Paid By Crime Council Help Solve Cases

By ROB WOOD
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — The teenager, a .32 caliber pistol in his hand, ordered the convenience store employe to empty the cash register. The clerk placed $76 on the counter and then appeared to bend over. The youth fired.

There was one more murder to be investigated by Dallas police.

A few days later the telephone rang at the Dallas Metro Crime Council and a hushed voice relayed information concerning the slaying. Law enforcement officers were advised and two young men were arrested quickly and charged with the death of John Robert Bautista, 26.

The informant, whose name will never be revealed, collected a $5,000 reward posted by the council, which represents 500 stores in the metropolitan area in this eighth largest city in the nation.

Charlie Eaton, who coordinates the activities of the crime council, said in a recent interview, "Since our organization in January 1974 we have paid 13 rewards involving 19 armed robberies and shootings. Thirteen persons were arrested and 13 were convicted."

Sidney Sigel, president of the council and an official of Sigel Liquor Stores, said, "I am convinced our activity has reduced the number of armed robberies in the city and I know the statistics will prove it.

"The council was formed when a group of businessmen got together and decided something must be done. We like to think we are helping the police as citizens and assisting them in their efforts. That's what it is all about—cooperation," he said.

It was more than two years ago that a series of killings and robberies in Dallas area stores were troubling the police and frightening citizens, particularly those who worked in the drive-in groceries and the liquor stores and open-air markets.

Investigations by law enforcement officers were hitting one blank wall after another and police asked any person who had one scrap of information to come forward.

Several local businessmen met and tossed around one idea after another. The result was creation of the crime council with the rewards and the promise of anonymity.

Within 30 minutes after the announcement of the new council during a Dallas news conference, a tip was received and a man arrested and convicted of a slaying.

Eaton said the rewards are financed by the monthly membership dues of $5 per store unit.

Eaton said "many rewards are payable on convictions, which could mean a wait of two or three years. Ours is payable on indictment because we want the rewards to be related in the informants' mind with the supplying of information. We get the money to the people as soon as possible and the results show we are on the right track."

Eaton said the council has paid rewards to some informats whose names "are" not even known to us."

There have been no attempts, Eaton said, to defraud the council by someone filing a false claim for reward money.

Bob Shaw, a spokesman for the Dallas police department, said the Metro Crime Council, shortly after its creation and during that period of brutal robbery-killings of convenience store clerks, provided information that helped "clear up a half dozen or so cases.

"We needed all the help we could get at the time and the council helped us and continue to help us."

Shaw said after the tipster's information is passed along to the department, an investigation is made, and "then we outline to the council the value of the information and the handle it from there."

Recently, Shaw said, the Seattle police department had written requesting how the crime council operates and what success it has generated.

Sigel said the businessmen of the city "have become involved in assisting the police and we hope to keep the crime council going as long as there is any crime."

Kuhn Halts A's Sale, Calls Hearing

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Marvin Miller once asked of the baseball owners' individual and sometimes conflicting ways: "Who's going to protect the owners from themselves?"

It may be Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Kuhn, wondering if there might be something rotten in his kingdom, called for a hearing in New York today to discuss Charles O. Finley's sale of three of his top players from the Oakland A's, a sale that brought shrill cries of agony from fans and other club owners alike.

But Kuhn did more than just call together the principles involved. He halted the sale of pitcher Vida Blue to the New York Yankees for a reported $1.5 million and the sale of pitcher Rollie Fingers and outfielder Joe Rudi to the Boston Red Sox for $1 million apiece, and kept them on the Oakland roster.

Like it or not, Finley still owns the trio — at the moment. And, by order of the commissioner, he can't use them.

"The Blue-Fingers-Rudi assignments by the Oakland club raise questions that I feel require a hearing, Kuhn said in a teletyped notice to all 24 major league clubs. "Accordingly, I will hold a hearing ... at 2:30 p.m. in this office. The Oakland, New York and Boston clubs and Marvin Miller have been asked to attend." Miller is executive director of the players union.

And the last segment of Kuhn's teletype said: "Pending final determination of what action, if any, I should take, the three players involved will remain on the active list of the Oakland club but may not appear in uniform or participate in Oakland games."

Miller spent part of Wednesday debating issues with John Gaherin, bargaining agent for the owners. A major topic of discussion was Finley's fire sale.

The owners and Gaherin have taken the position voiced by Minnesota Twins boss Calvin Griffith, who said:

"I think it's a terrible thing when two clubs go out and start bidding to see who can buy a championship team. I think this shows that what the owners have been saying about the wealthy clubs getting the top players is true.

"It just shows how necessary a reserve system is if we are going to have fair competition."

Miller says he doesn't understand what the owners are talking about.

"I'm puzzled. What's so bad for baseball?" Miller asked. "I don't know what it means that they're concerned about balanced competition.

"The Yankees haven't won a pennant in 12 years and the Red Sox have never won the World Series."

Miller pointed out that the A's have won the American League West the past five years, Baltimore has won the AL East five of the past seven years, Cincinnati has won the National League West four of the past six years, and Pittsburgh has taken the NL East five of the last six years.

"So that's the great balance they're worried about disturbing," Miller said. "Look what's happening to the competitive balance. Apparently, Oakland will not repeat. But the A's chose to sell their players for cash."

PLAYS WELL ON TOUGH COURSES

Irwin Among Favorites To Win US Open Golf

By ED SHEARER
AP Sports Writer

DULUTH, Ga. (AP) — Hale Irwin has a history of playing well on tough golf courses, although he's not sure why.

"I don't know if I play harder because the course is tougher or if the field just doesn't play as well as it normally does," Irwin said Wednesday on the eve of the 76th U.S. Open Golf Championship.

"But I like to respond to that challenge on a tough course. I think it's a day-to-day thing, though. The trick is to eliminate the bad errors."

The former University of Colorado football star has recorded most of his seven tour victories on courses considered difficult.

Twice he has captured the Heritage at Hilton Head. He won the 1974 U.S. Open at Winged Foot. He won twice last year on tough layouts — the Western Open at Butler National and the Atlanta Classic on the rolling hills of Atlanta Country Club. Irwin won at Los Angeles this year on the tough Riviera course.

The soft-spoken Missouri native faces another challenging course today, ranking among the favorites to win the first National Open ever held in the South.

This one is at the Atlanta Athletic Club, a 7,015-yard layout that plays to par 70.

"The U.S. Open course is always tough in the tough course category," Irwin said, "and this one is no exception."

Many of the 150 players entered have tabbed Jack Nicklaus, Tom Weiskopf and Irwin as the players to beat.

"You could throw in a whole bunch of other people," Irwin said. "Why not Johnny Miller? What about Ray Floyd? It's a good course for him. There are others, too.

"There's just no way to fairly predict anybody to win," he said. "This isn't like football. There you've got two teams and one has to win. There's just too many out here who can win."

Still, the man most will be watching is Nicklaus, acclaimed the game's greatest player today even though he isn't having a good year.

Nicklaus complained about "terrible" play on the eve of the tournament, but also said, "My game's in pretty good shape. I don't see any reason why I shouldn't play well. But, again, I don't know."

Lou Graham is the defending champion, but he has been virtually ignored in pre-tourney hoopla. The same can be said for Hubert Green, the only three-time winner on this year's tour and the leading money winner.

Irwin, Miller and Ben Crenshaw are the only two-time winners competing. Floyd, the Masters champion, is ready to bid for another major title.

South African Gary Player is thirsting for another U. S. Open title which would give him two or more triumphs in each of the four major events — this one, the PGA, the Masters and the British Open.

The most prominent player not in the field is Lee Trevino, the 1971 U.S. Open winner who was forced to withdraw last week because of a back ailment. Larry Ziegler pulled out Wednesday because of a pulled shoulder muscle.

NBA Will Add Four More Teams

BY BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer

HYANNIS, Mass. (AP) — The National Basketball Association decided today to expand by four teams, adding San Antonio, Denver, New York and Indiana from the American Basketball Association.

Each of the four clubs will pay $3.2 million in cash.

Owner Abe Pollin of the Washington Bullets, chairman of the NBA's merger committee, announced other conditions of the merger at the NBA's annual meetings here today.

They included:

—The players from the Kentucky and St. Louis-Utah teams would be put into a dispersal draft which would include both NBA and ABA teams. The draft would be held on the basis of each team's 1975-76 record, with the worst team choosing first. Each team will have the opportunity to draft.

—All contracts of ABA players will be honored, according to an agreement reached with the ABA Players Association.

—The ABA will not share in any television revenue for four seasons.

—The ABA will not have a vote on a resolution regarding gate-sharing for the next two seasons. ABA teams will not vote on division alignments for the 1976-77 season.

—ABA rosters will be frozen as of May 1, 1976.

—The New York Nets of the ABA have agreed to pay an indemnity to the New York Knicks of the NBA for infringing upon their territorial rights. The amount was not revealed.

The historic agreement was hammered out after an all-night series of meetings involving representatives from both leagues, who met both separately and jointly.

ABA Commissioner Dave DeBusschere said that there still was disagreement over several issues as late as 4:30 a.m., EDT. "At that point, we got to the definite bottom line," he said, "and that was as far as we would go. We felt at that time there was nothing further that could be done on our side."

The 1976 major league baseball appears to be livelier than ever. The Los Angeles Dodgers cracked seven home runs in one Chicago game in May.

Indians Win Over Rangers

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Ho, hum.

So the Cleveland Indians roughed up Bert Blyleven again. What else is new?

It is getting alittle embarrassing, however, for the ace Rangers Texas right-hander and his teammates.

The Indians, 10-4 against Blyleven, best in the American League, shelled the former Minnesota hurler for 11 hits in a 9-4 rom Wednesday night to hold second place in the American League East.

Adding a touch of insult to injury, it was Jackie Brown, 6-2, a former Ranger, who put down his ex-colleagues on 10 hits. Unable to stifle a grin, Brown said:

"This victory was especially sweet, since I asked for the opportunity to pitch tonight. I asked Frank (Manager Frank Robinson) if I could pitch here. I wanted to beat Texas because they got rid of me."

Across the way, Blyleven looked despondent and admittedly was frustrated. He has dropped three games in as many appearances since joining the Rangers June 1.

Unfortunately, those are the only three games Texas has lost in its last 11 outings as the Rangers have battled to stay in range of Kansas City, the AL West leader by 3½ games.

"I'm in a rut," said Blyleven, 4-8. "I'm throwing strikes and I'm not getting away with it. I've got to get the ball down. They're hitting my good pitches and they're hitting my bad ones."

SOMETHING OF A RARITY

Walker Playing For West Team Without An Agent

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Skip Walker is something of a rarity at the 16th annual Coaches All-America football game—he's a man without an agent and that's almost like saying he will play in Saturday night's nationally televised game without a helmet.

The 5-foot-10, 185-pound speedster from Texas A&M will display his running back wares for the West team against the East and it's rather refreshing to see that his professional contract was negotiated by his father.

Some critics blame agents for the lack of big name talent for the East-West All-Star game this year. The word has been spread about that the agent for Dewey and Leroy Selmon of Oklahoma wouldn't allow them to play in this game for fear of injury. Both are bound for Tampa Bay's brand new National Football League franchise.

"I just didn't have an agent," said Walker, one of the leading ground gainers in Texas A&M history. "My dad helped me with my contract and I've already signed with Houston. An agent may have gotten me more money, but he would have cost me a percentage so it would have worked out either way. I just wanted to get a shot at pro football."

In Walker's case, he wasn't bowled over by the pros because he was too short by computer standards.

"A lot of people said I was too small, but it all comes down to how much you want it," he added.

Walker said he realized a lot of players had passed up the All-Star game because of fear of injury.

"The way I see it ... it's just for 60 minutes and I'll give it everything I've got," said Walker. "You only get hurt when you hold back. You play for yourself most of the time anyway."

Walker should be at home with Arizona State Coach Frank Kush, who had the audacity of all things to scrimmage the All-Stars earlier this week. All-Star football scrimmages rank right up there with snow leopard sightings.

"We didn't have enough mental intensity and I was trying to find some," said Kush, who guided Arizona State to a 12-0 record last year.

"I'm just trying to make it 13 in a row," said Kush.

Some 26,000 tickets have been sold for Saturday night's 8:15 p.m. CDT kickoff in a joust that features few big name stars.

"We have some very good all-around personnel but we were hurt by the lateness of the NFL draft," said Bill Murray, executive director of the American Football Coaches Association.

"This is probably the hardest year we have had because most players haven't signed yet," said Murray.

The West leads the series 8-7 and took last year's game 23-21. The game has played to more than 40,000 fans during all but one of the seven years it has been in Texas.

The game drew 36,000 fans in 1975.

Fish Are Biting At Lake Spence

Fishermen...,fisherwomen..., "fisherpersons", take note. Grab your line and hook, dust off your tackle box and head for Lake Spence. Lake Spence vacation service reports "they are really biting." Area anglers will probably testify to that description with several record catches being made recently.

Catches last week include: Abilene-Willie Dunn, 10 lb. yellow catfish; Lake Record-San Angelo-Robby Lohse,40 lb. yellow cat on a trotline using trotline minnows; Odessa-Ray Edwards, 66 crappie, ½ lb. to 1½ lbs., 22 lb. yellow cat, 12 channel cat 21 lbs. to 5 lbs; San Angelo-Aubrey Long, 17¾ lb. yellow cat and 6¾ lb. channel cat; Seagraves- Ro Webb, 7½ lb. striper; Lamesa-H.L. Webb, 7 lb. striper and 2 five lb. stripers; Midland-Jack and Judy Hogan, 50 whites to 2½ and 7 stripers to to 7 lbs;

Also, Texico-Scott Turner, Ken Cole and Phil Elliot, 45 whites to 3 lbs. and 3 stripers to 7 lbs; Odessa-Mr. and Mrs. Milson, 7 blacks to 1½ lbs; Robert Lee-R.L. Flanagan, 4 channel cat to 9 lbs. and 3 yellow cat to 11½ lbs; Odessa-Lois and Bill Schwazer, 12 crappie to 1½ lbs. 2 blacks to 5 lbs. and 1 striper at 5 lbs; Odessa-C.W. Freeman, 36 channel cat, total weight, 52 lbs; Odessa-Ralph Woods and Linda Harris, 28 cat to 10 lbs.8 crappie to 11 lb., 6 stripers to 7 lbs., 6 channel cat to 7½ lbs. and 5 blacks to 2 lbs

Other catches include: Jalse and Bernie Bailey, 8 crappie to 1½ lbs. 6 stripers to 8 lbs. and 12 whites to 1½ lbs; Odessa-Larry Lindley, Johnny Nichols and George Olesh, 19 blacks to 3 lbs.; Midland- H.A. Henson and C.L. Smith, 12 channel cat to 10 lbs. and 1 yellow cat to 9:4 lbs; Hobbs-John Hotz, 1 striper at 11 lbs. and 7 crappie to 1½ lbs; Garden City-Judge Parker, 5 yellow cat to 12 lbs., two cat at lbs., three channel cat at 6 lbs., 4 lbs. and 12½ lbs. and 5 yellow cat to 12 lbs; Odessa-Lewis Niblett, 7 crappie to 1½ lbs., 4 blacks to 2½ lbs. and 6 cat to 2½ lbs; Big Spring-Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Purser and party, 14 stripers to 9 lbs; Bryan-Jack Hinson, Mark Humbert, 1 yellow cat at 6¾ lbs. and 2 channel to 7¼ lbs; Odessa-Lonnie Keith, Jimmy Needham, two 8 lb. stripers and two 7 lb. stripers, 3 yellow cat to 14 lbs. and 8 channel cat to 2 lbs; Robert Lee-W.W. Morris, 6½ lb. cat and 3½ lb. cat and Slaton-E.D. Duncan, 10 cat and perch combined to 1 to 1½ lbs.

The best baits this week are top water lures. Devil's Horse and Peek-O-Pop especially tantalize the fish. The Stripers and the Whites can barely resist them. The baits are schooling in and hitting near the coves at Spence.

As for the Catfish, they are really eating up goldfish and trotline minnows, traditional line baits.

So, if you're itching to catch a really big whopper, Lake Spence is the place to get him.

Amarillo Waltzes To Victory

By The Associated Press

The Amarillo Giants shelled six San Antonio pitchers for 18 hits, including three home runs, to waltz to a 21-6 victory and first place in the Texas League West Division.

In other Texas League action Wednesday night, Midland outlasted El Paso 8-5, Lafayette shaded Arkansas 3-2 and Shreveport at Jackson was rained out.

Tucker Ashford, Gene Menees and Donnie Reynolds slugged homers for the Giants, who now lead El Paso by mere percentage points in the West Division race. Roger Coe, now 1-0, made his first start for the Giants and was the winning pitcher.

The win was the 12th in the last 13 outings for the Giants.

Midland toppled El Paso on a ninth inning grand slam by Mike Sember. Sember socked his roundtripper with two outs to give reliever Jay Temple his third win against no losses.

Pirates Pop Astros 6-3

HOUSTON (AP) — Al Oliver of the Pittsburgh Pirates says he has been hitting well the past week and the Houston Astros believe him.

Oliver, hitting safely in his 13th consecutive game, hammered a three-run homer off Houston loser Joaquin Andujar as the Pirates popped the Astros 6-3 Wednesday night.

The game matched the most recent winners of the National League player of the week award in Oliver and Andujar. Oliver won it last week and Adujar was the previous week's winner.

Don Medich, 5-5, scattered 11 hits over the first five innings to pick up the victory for the Pirates. Reliever Larry Demery finished up for Pittsburgh to record his second save of the season.

Oliver's fourth inning blast followed a walk to Medich and Frank Taveras' single off Andujar, 2-4. The Pirates had taken a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a single by Taveras and Willie Stargell's RBI hit.

"I've been hitting the ball well every day this past week," said Oliver. "Ball players like to be honored. It's something special."

Relatives Of Locklear To Seek Custody Of Tots

DALLAS (AP) — Relatives of Billy Virgil Locklear and his wife say they will seek legal custody of the two small children orphaned by the mystery murders of the Dallas couple.

Police turned the youngsters — Billy Jr., 3, and Mary Ann, 2 — over to juvenile authorities after their parents were found tied together and beaten and stabbed to death in their home Tuesday.

The tots lived for at least three days after the killings, investigators said, on bread crumbs scattered over the living room floor near the bodies of Locklear, 36, and his wife Hazel, 28. They are too small to reach food stowed away in the kitchen.

Temperatures hit 90 degrees outdoors and it was hotter inside. Although the children's clothing was dirty and blood-stained and they were hungry and scared, police found them otherwise unharmed.

Virginia Markham of Dallas, a cousin of Locklear, said Wednesday, "The babies are doing okay. Billy has started talking, and everything will be okay."

Police, summoned by a neighbor because the Locklears had not been seen for the several days, at first assumed young Billy was a deaf mute because he did not respond to questions.

Mrs. Locklear's brother, Jerry Lininger of Austin, said the little boy always has been "a very shy, real quiet kid" and ill at ease with strangers.

John Lininger and his wife, parents of the dead woman and also from Austin, planned to visit the children today.

"If anybody can get Billy to talk," Jerry Lininger said, "it's my mother. She's got a way with Billy."

He added, "Mary Ann's a sweet little girl. I wouldn't take nothing for her."

Relatives were told at the County Children's Emergency Center that it will be about 10 days before custody of the children can be settled.

"If it means a court fight and we have to fight to get them, we'll fight," Lininger said.

He said his parents feel sure they talked to Mrs. Locklear by telephone between 4 and 5 p.m. Sunday. No one in the family, he said, knows a motive for the slayings.

"It was a senseless, brutal killing," Lininger went on. "As far as we know, there's nothing missing. He (Locklear) didn't keep money in the house. If he had any on him, it might have been $2 or $3."

Police said earlier, however, that it appeared the house had been ransacked.

Although doors to their home were unlocked, the children apparently did not go outside after the murders. They were found in bedroom. Bodies of the parents, tied back to back, were in the living room.

"My brother-in-law was strict with the kids," Lininger said. "The only time they went outside was with their mother."

The killdeer bird builds its nest in a little hollow in a field. The nest is lined with grass and sometimes ringed around with small stones.

Magazine Sales Soar In 'Grocery' Outlets

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Magazines and turnips might seem to be unrelated, except in the sense that one might be food for the body, the other for the mind, but your supermarket manager will tell you differently.

If trends continue, it won't be long before sales of printed materials in these traditional outlets for household products will reach $500 million, providing both publishers and retailers with a tidy profit.

"Progressive Grocer" magazine estimates that sales of paperbacks and magazines in "grocery" outlets last year reached $455 million, "a good sized piece of a total market estimated at $2 billion."

Market managers reportedly are enthusiastic about the growth, since most of them feel they are in a profit squeeze on conventional items. And publishers, pressed by rising postal rates, are happy to have alternative outlets.

Some supermarkets now have developed what used to be a small rack near the checkout counter into an entire reading department, where shoppers can purchase the latest issues and perhaps become inspired by the food ads.

Some managers claim the publications outsell grocery [illegible] and they are appreciative because, unlike turnip distributors, magazine distributors take back unsold copies.

America's space program demonstrated that the search for perfection is a very costly endeavor and that perfection never can be achieved with certainty. Still, the quest goes on in various areas of endeavor, and the bills are rising.

Nothing demonstrates the point better than the controversy over the paper match and the matchbook. Matches are potentially dangerous, of course, nothing is likely to change that fact. But we're trying.

The Consumer Product Safety Commission has proposed a standard that would require that matches be manufactured to self-extinguish after 15 seconds and matchbooks made with devices to inhibit use by children.

While the proposals are designed to reduce accidents, the Council on Wage and Price Stability feels they could have the opposite impact.

How? By raising the cost and causing consumers to switch to wooden matches, which also are hazardous. And also by making those matchbooks even more fascinating to curious children.

If the standards become effective they could raise the cost to consumers by $68 million a year, the council said, and the essential problem will remain unsolved.

Matches burn and children are curious, and it isn't likely that any millions of dollars will change the facts.

CARD OF THANKS A-3

To all who were so kind and helpful during the illness and at the passing of our dear husband, father and grandfather, we wish to express our heartfelt thanks, our special gratitude to Drs. Wiman, Ray and Green and the wonderful hospital staff who ministered to him in such caring tenderness. The beautiful floral remembrances and the food that was prepared will always be remembered. May God bless each of you in a special way.
Lois Leech, Sandra, Vernon, Doyle and Donna Browning, Carroll, Ima, Scott and Nikki Leech, Linda, Bruce, Michele and Melissa Shatney.

The family of Jim Sullenger wish to express with grateful appreciation for the cards, flowers, food and prayers. Following the passing of our Father and Grandfather.
Bill Sullenger & Family
Jim, Billy, Richard, Fay Sullenger and Kay Valentine

Moonies Circulate On Capitol Hill

By LYNNE OLSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Well-scrubbed and smiling, young followers of the Rev. Sun Myung Moon are circulating on Capitol Hill, bearing gifts of flowers, fruit and ginseng tea and touting their messiah's ideas to congressmen.

Their spokesmen say the Moonies are there to spread the word of God. But critics say they are lobbying for the government of South Korea and mounting a public relations campaign for the Korean evangelist.

Their activities underline Moon's adeptness at blending his religion with politics.

"We cannot separate the political field from the religious world," he says. "Separation between religion and politics is what Satan likes most."

That philosophy would seem to run counter to the 1st Amendment to the U.S Constitution which separates church and state — the very statute that makes investigating Moon's activities difficult, government officials say.

Moon's followers haunt congressional offices, buttonholing members and their staffs and trying to sell them on the movement.

A Moonie named Susan Bergman made it to the Hill summit, becoming friends with House Speaker Carl Albert. She used to chat with him in his office several times a week.

Albert said through a spokesman that none of the Moon followers had ever tried to influence him "on South Korean matters or anything else."

He said through the spokesman that he considers the movement a racket and Moon "a quack minister." He said that some individual Moon followers were decent people and he did not avoid occasional contacts with them.

A spokesman for Moon's Unification Church insist that the young people are not lobbyists, but rather "spiritual witnesses" asking congressmen "to seek God's guidance in making decisions."

Neil Salonen, president of the Unification Church in the United States, has told Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., that Church members have "never approached a senator or congressman on a political issue, a single bill."

But one former Moonie told a House subcommittee staffer that a primary mission of the Moon supporters on Capitol Hill was to promote economic and military aid to South Korea.

The 56-year-old Moon has become a millionaire industrialist under the regime of South Korean President Chung Hee Park.

Several members of Congress and staff members think the Moon Capitol Hill effort has a more subtle purpose: to cultivate a favorable attitude toward Moon and South Korea among Congress and the public.

That goal is more important than ever now since Moon, his church and several related organizations are threatened with investigation by government agencies.

A House subcommittee on international organizations will hold hearings Tuesday on possible ties between Moon and his closest associate with the South Korean government, particularly the Korean CIA.

The Internal Revenue Service has indicated it might investigate the tax-exempt status of the Unification Church, which acknowledges assets of $20 million in the United States alone.

And the Immigration and Naturalization Service has been asked by Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., to investigate Moon's status as a permanent resident alien.

"If the Moonies can get members of Congress on their side, it gives them credibility with society and protection from government agencies," said a Senate staff member. "If they can say, 'This senator thinks we're great,' they think it might cause the IRS to back off."

Moon has had his picture taken with such senators as Strom Thurmond, James Buckley, Hubert H. Humphrey and Edward M. Kennedy. He then used some of the pictures in Church literature, implying he has the support of those members of Congress. That implication is totally false, spokesmen for the senators said.

A top assistant of one senator said he declined a Unification Church offer of an all-expenses trip to New York for the Moon Bicentennial Rally on June 1.

Ann Gordon, a former Moonie who worked on Capitol Hill last year, said 20 to 25 Church members were assigned a list of senators and congressmen to contact.

"PR members were to make gradual acquaintances and friendships with staff members and aides and eventually the congressmen and senators themselves, inviting them to a (hotel) suite ... where dinner and films or short lectures on Moon's ideas and accomplishments would be presented," Miss Gordon said. "All this effort is sort of an ongoing program by Moon to get political support for himself and the Chung Hee Park dictatorship in South Korea.

"We were told to be somewhat vague when dealing with Capitol Hill contacts in order to protect our presence there."

Miss Gordon said Susan Bergman was assigned to Carl Albert.

"When he toured Europe in the summer of 1975, she sent post cards ahead to each hotel on his itinerary, which she had gotten from his secretary," Miss Gordon said. "When Albert returned, he called her long distance ... to ask, 'Where is my friend Susan'?"

Miss Bergman's friendship with the speaker continued. Albert said that his friendship with the girl was innocent and that his opinions had not been swayed in any way by her.

Albert's press aide, Joe Foote, says he hasn't seen Miss Bergman recently around Albert's office, and Miss Bergman could not be reached for comment.

Moon once was quoted as telling a meeting of Unification Church directors, "Master needs many good-looking girls. He will assign three girls to one senator — that means we need 300. Let them have a good relationship with them. ... If our girls are superior to the senators in many ways, then the senators will be taken in by our members."

Asked about those remarks by Sen. Dole, Salonen said they were made "in a light vein. We have no immediate plan to do that. He simply meant that even if we have to bring three people to pray for one person, that's what we'll do. ... Those were just comments made to indicate that we want to support spiritually the leaders of this country."

None of Moon's critics on Capitol Hill have heard of any use of sex by Moon supporters to influence members of Congress or staffers.

A key element of the Moon theology is the predicted Second Coming of Christ in Korea. Moon's followers are encouraged to believe he is the new messiah, although he has not specifically said so.

According to this doctrine, a world family will be created with the Second Coming, dedicated to establishing the kingdom of heaven. Communism is the main obstacle to those goals.

Moon has made no secret of his dedication to the cause of South Korea. "According to the will of God, the United States must safeguard Korea, not for Korea's sake or for the United States' sake, but for the sake of the will of God," he said in a speech last December at the Capitol.

But the exact nature of Moon's ties with the totalitarian Park regime are unclear. Also cloudy is the question of whether the Moon groups have violated statutes regarding the political activities of tax-exempt organizations or registration as foreign agents.

The evangelist's followers have made a concerted effort to stop any investigation of the Unification Church, claiming a violation of the First Amendment's freedom of religious expression provision.

Most members of Congress are wary about taking action against Moon and his movement precisely because of the First Amendment.

"It's very darn tough to pin them down on any improper political influence," says a Senate staffer.

Richard Mauzy, a staff member of the House subcommittee investigating Moon's political acitivites, said, "We're very sensitive to the First Amendment."

The investigation is difficult because Moon has incorporated support for South Korea "as a matter of doctrine," Mauzy said. "They define politics in spiritual terms. They do political things under the cloak of religion."

Dear Abby

Mom Haunted by Death of Twin

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N Y News Synd Inc

DEAR ABBY: This problem is driving me crazy, and I've got to get to the bottom of it to have some peace of mind.

I was married at 17 and had a pair of twin girls at 18. I've been married now for 34 years, but I still have a big question nagging at me.

I gave birth to the twins in a New York City hospital, which I still live near. My doctor didn't know I was going to have twins until I was giving birth. After one baby came, thinking it was all over, I heard the doctor say, "Wait, there's another one coming!" (I was conscious the whole time.)

I said, "I don't want it!" The doctor calmed me by saying, "Don't worry, I'll take it."

Abby, I really think that doctor gave my second baby away. I saw both babies alive and crying at birth, but the next day I was told the second baby had died. We never were given a birth certificate or a death certificate, and neither my husband nor I ever saw the "dead" baby.

A few weeks ago, someone told me that my baby never died, and I can still look into the matter. I really think she's alive. The doctor is probably dead by now, but I know his name. Would the hospital still have those records? Would they let me see them? Do I need a lawyer? Don't tell me to forget it, I have to know.

I promise not to hurt anyone or sue the hospital.

J.M. IN NYC

DEAR J.M.: You say you "gave birth to twins" some 34 years ago and now you want to know what happened to the second baby? A lawyer could help you search the records and take affidavits from any person present at the event. But another question hangs in the air: Why did you wait for so long? (P.S. If you can establish the fact that you had twins, and no birth or death certificate was ever filed, the hospital is vulnerable to serious action.)

DEAR ABBY: A lady signed TEETH ON MY HANDS wrote that she had six sets of dentures from deceased relatives and didn't know what to do with them.

You should tell her to drop them off at the local undertaker's. In my home town, it was a common practice for the bums and others of lesser means to stop by the back door and "try on for size" the used choppers.

TRAVELIN' MAN

DEAR MAN: Recycled dentures? You're puttin' me on!

DEAR ABBY: I never cease to be amazed at some of the letters you get, and no less so at some of your answers.

Any woman who would stretch herself out on the couch, stark naked, to "surprise" her husband when he came home from work must be crazy.

If I ever pulled a stunt like that, my husband would have kicked me out of the door and thrown my clothes out after me, and that would have been the end of our marriage!

15 Arrested In Pot Raid

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Police said they arrested 15 persons for possession of marijuana at an Amarillo Civic Center rock concert Wednesday night in a crackdown against alleged open use of drugs at local concerts.

The crackdown was in response to verbal blasts leveled Tuesday and Wednesday at Amarillo officials by City Commissioner Jerry Hodge. Hodge, 46, accused Mayor John Drummond and the city's three other commissioners of ignoring the city's "drug problem" and allowing widespread use of pot at the Civic Center shows.

Police Chief Lee Spradlin said "six to eight" of the persons arrested were juveniles. He estimated there were 45 uniformed Amarillo officers and plainclothes Metro Intelligence Unit officers at the concert.

About 20 uniformed policemen normally work at the shows, he added.

Spradlin, Hodge and Commissioner Keith Taylor also attended the concert by the group Nazareth and rock star Henry Gross.

Hodge said Wednesday that the mayor and commissioners are taking an "ostrich-like attitude" toward "a major drug problem."

Cameron Oil, Gas Valuations Up

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Oil and gas valuations in Cameron County have increased by about $3.6 million in the past year, a report by the Thomas Y. Pickett Co. says.

The report was presented at a recent meeting of the Cameron County Board of Equalization. A representative of the firm said the valuation of oil and gas property in the county climbed from $3.7 million in 1975 to $7.3 million this year.

REVOLUTIONARIES GETTING GUNS

Hill Says Mexico Trying To Halt Drug 'Swap'

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Hundreds of millions of dollars worth of heroin is being smuggled into this country from Mexico, much of it in "guns-for-dope" swaps, says Atty. Gen. John Hill.

But Mexican officials finally are "showing some initiative" in halting the narcotics traffic because revolutionaries are getting the guns, Hill told a news conference Wednesday.

The revolutionaries recently traded heroin worth $1,200 on the street for an M16 automatic rifle, Hill said.

He said he flew to Monterrey, Mexico, Tuesday to meet with Salvador del Toro Rosales, special attorney general for the border states of Nuevo Leon, Tamaulipas and Coahuila. Hill called del Toro "almost a folk hero" and the "Elliot Ness" of Mexico.

"Plans were made for more effort on the Mexican side to capture these guns. They realize they have not made a maximum effort to get these guns," Hill said.

When officials in this country get more information on the weapons, "we believe we can identify some big sources from where these guns are being sent," he said.

And Texas officials will try to identify the larger dealers in the dope and give that information to Mexico, he said.

Asked if he would give Mexican officials the names of revolutionaries that he might learn from Texas sources, Hill said, "Yes, I would."

Would this constitute meddling in the political affairs of another country?

"Well, it would have that effect," Hill said, "but that's not my responsibility . . . I wouldn't regard it as an impediment to my doing my duty" to enforce Texas narcotics laws.

"I feel encouraged, more than ever before . . . because the Mexican government is finally showing some initiative because they are so worried about these guns. They have identified about 10 (revolutionary) groups," he said.

The majority of the swapping is taking place in Mexico, Hill said. He said Laredo, San Antonio, Houston and Corpus Christi are the centers for narcotics traffic in Texas.

Heroin funneled through Texas has been found in 20 states, he said. More goes through Texas than any of the other three border states.

Hill said del Toro is the Mexican official who recently came to Texas to complain about news media glorifying the jail breakout in Piedras Negras.

Del Toro concedes the border jails are bad, Hill said, but claims interior prisons are good.

Hill said Mexico "is no place to be found with narcotics in your possession. They operate under the Napoleonic Code. They presume you're guilty."

Businesses Ignoring Use Tax

AUSTIN--Comptroller Bob Bullock warned Tuesday that many Texas businesses are ignoring the use tax and may run into costly problems when visited by his auditors.

"It's called the sales AND use tax," said Bullock. "But too many people don't understand what the second part of that means."

The Comptroller said the biggest part of the problem is with businesses that do not sell retail goods, have no sales and use tax permit, and never think about the tax when they buy equipment from outside the state.

"A bank, television or radio station, or any business requiring specialized equipment may buy that equipment from out-of-state without paying the Texas sales tax," he said. "In all those cases, however, they owe the Texas use tax on the total cost of the purchase."

In fact, said Bullock, the use tax is due on any goods bought from out-of-state and then put to business or personal use, without being resold.

The Comptroller said his office is conducting a public information campaign in an effort to clear up misunderstanding about the use tax.

Also Tuesday, Bullock mailed checks totaling $48.9 million to 846 cities and towns as the June rebate of the one-cent city sales tax they collect.

City rebates for 1976 are running 12.5 percent ahead of 1975, he said. Rebates through June of 1975 totaled $129.2 million, he noted, while they total $145.4 million through June of this year.

Marijuana Seized

SAN FERNANDO, Mexico (AP) — Mexican soldiers and federal police seized about eight tons of marijuana and several hundred pills in a car raid carried out here this week.

Gen. Carlos Gaytan Duron of the Mexican Army at Matamrosos said the raids were carried out as part of a stepped up campaign against narcotics traffic in northern Mexico.

Dr. Lamb

Obese teen needs watching

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am a girl, 15 years old and weigh 165 pounds. I have tried every diet from Weight Watchers to Ayds candy. Nothing seems to work. I want to lose weight real badly, but whatever I try doesn't seen to work. Whenever I want a piece of candy or cake my parents try to make me feel guilty. I do want to be thin but everything just seems to fail. My mom was overweight and my dad is too, but none of my brothers or sisters are. I sometimes wonder why I have to be fat and not my brothers or sisters instead. Please, would you tell me what to do. My parents won't take me to the doctor unless it is absolutely necessary.

I also haven't menstruated for eight montrhs and I was wondering if excessive weight could be the cause.

DEAR READER—I hope your parents will take you to a doctor for a check-up. Sometimes being overweight and not having regular menstrual periods are indications of an endocrine problem. The only way to find out is to have an examination and an evaluation of your eating habits.

Any diet that restricts your calories sufficiently in relation to your activity will result in weight loss. Weight Watchers has been very helpful to many people who want to lose weight. It is important, though, to avoid those fad diets that are often proposed to lose weight rapidly. Rapid weight loss can be harmful. Most such diets are unsound and cause nutritional deficiencies.

I'm sending you a copy of The Health Letter number4-7, Weight Losing Diet which will give you a well balanced diet that you can use to lose weight. Others who want it can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Address your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

I would also like to recommend that you start an exercise program. Start with simple walking. Increase the amount of walking you do gradually until you can walk an hour a day. Add other activities if you can. Swimming is good during the summer months. The exercise will help you strengthen your muscles while helping you lose fat. Everyone on a weight-losing diet should also have an exercise program.

A tendency to obesity does seem to be inherited. We see the same thing in the animal world. Beef cattle breeds tend to be chunky and fat. A dairy cow is less muscular, less fat, and tends to produce lots of milk. So, genes are important. However, you can alter the influence of genes by your life style. You can build muscles, eliminate fat and improve your appearance.

Family habits also influence the future outcome of obesity. Overeating is sometimes learned. When a child is overfed during early development it can increase the chances of being obese. Also, there is good evidence that lack of physical activity in childhood is a significant factor in adult obesity. This may be even more important than the eating habits at that age.

It is a little late to correct factors from childhood that often determine how much of a battle with obesity you will have as an adult. Still with a good exercise program and a sensible diet you can gradually lose weight and learn how to keep from regaining it. You will lose a lot of weight the first week but an average loss of a pound a week is fine for most people.It takes longer but it lasts.

THWARTED

"PLEASE, DADDY, LET'S GO"

A little girl with shining eyes,
Her little face aglow,
Said "Daddy, it is almost time
For Sunday School. Let's go!
They teach us there of Jesus' love,
Of how He died for all
Those who on Him will call."
"Oh, no!" said Daddy, "no today,
I've worked hard all week;
I'm going to the creek,
For there I can relax and rest,
And fishing's fine they say.
So run along; don't bother me.
We'll go to church someday."

Months and years have passed away
But Daddy hears that plea no more
"Let's go to Sunday School."
Those childish days are o'er.
And now that Daddy's growing old,
When life is almost through,
He finds some time to go to Church
But what does Daughter do?

She says: "O Daddy, not today
I stayed up almost all night;
I've just got to get some sleep.
Besides, I look a fright."
Then Daddy lifts a trembling hand
To brush away the tears,
As again he hears the pleading voice
Distinctly through the years.
He see a small girl's shining face
Upturned, with eyes aglo,
As she says, "It's time for Sunday School
Please, Daddy, won't you go?"
