City To Name Mayor, Two Commissioners

Five Amendments To Charter To Be Voted Upon; Small Turnout Is Seen

WITH little surface interest apparent, citizens of Lubbock today will elect a mayor for the next two years, name two city commissioners to four-year terms and vote on five amendments to the city charter.

The only contest is that between Mayor C. A. Bestwick, who is seeking a second term, and W. H. Rodgers, former city manager.

Clarence Whiteside, laundry operator, and E. K. Hufstedler, jr., farm implement dealer, are unopposed for the commission places now held by Fred Childress and J. Ray Dickey.

Opposition Is Indicated

A good deal of opposition apparently has developed to charter amendments Nos. 1, 2 and 5, with little to Nos. 3 and 4.

The race between Mayor Bestwick and Rodgers has been wholly without spectacular features. Neither candidate campaigned. Considerable telephoning was done for both Monday afternoon. Radio time was used on Bestwick's behalf Monday night over KFYO and KCBD.

Guesses of most experienced observers were that the total vote will be short of 2,500, individual estimates ranging from 1,500 to 4,000. The total possible vote approximates 15,000, while the most ever cast in a city election was the 5,307 polled two years ago when Bestwick was elected to his first term as mayor.

Large Vote Possible

Some observers predicted, however, that the poll today may be surprisingly large, due to interest not apparent on the surface.

Here are the essential election facts:

Polls will be open from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m.

Polling places and the presiding judge of each are: No. 1, Central Fire station, Tenth and Avenue J, Glen Hess; No. 2, Senior High school, Knox Thomas; and No. 3, K. Carter school, Sixth and Avenue Q, R. Rush Smith.

Ballots may be cast at the place most convenient to the voter.

Qualified voters are those who hold a this year's poll tax receipt or exemption certificate and former service men discharged within the past 18 months, provided they have lived in Texas a year and the city six months.

Area Towns To Name Officials

Voters in at least 16 South Plains towns go to the polls today to select municipal officers to serve for the next two years, but in only two cities, Crosbyton and Brownfield, has there been any political excitement. Three towns, Littlefield, Levelland and Seagraves, have no elections slated.

Last minute political fireworks popped at Lamesa when 50 residents of East Lamesa held a mass meeting at a church Friday and aired grievances against city and school board officials. Speakers at the meeting, presided over by H. W. Gray, complained that expansion programs planned by the city and school did not include a sewer system and school for the eastern secion of town. An unnamed man attending the meeting was selected as a writein candidate by the group.

To Attend Meeting

In connection with the protest session, several persons planned to attend a city council meeting tonight and point out to city officials that a part of the funds voted in a recent bond issue election were to have been used to lay sewer lines in the east portion of the city.

Up for reelection are Mayor Sam Richardson and council mem-

U. S. Supreme Court To Review Murder Trial Of Texas Negro

WASHINGTON, April 5. (AP)—The Supreme court today agreed to review the murder trial of a Texas negro upon his plea that negroes were excluded from the grand jury.

Gaither (Red) Lovelady was sentenced to death for the fatal shooting of City Marshal John Brewer of Lexington, Texas.

He appealed from a ruling by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals which denied him a writ of habeas corpus. Lovelady said he was denied the right to testify at his trial and that negroes were excluded from the grand jury.

GOP Hopefuls Face Major Test Today

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

MILWAUKEE, April 5—Harold E. Stassen's backers aimed final blasts at Gen Douglas MacArthur today in the outspoken belief that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will be low man in Wisconsin's GOP primary tomorrow.

Senator Joseph McCarthy called the voting on 27 delegates tomorrow "a clear-cut contest between the old defeated LaFollette machine working with the America-Firsters, and the Republicans of Wisconsin."

Philip LaFollette, former Progressive Wisconsin governor, and Lansing Hoyt, former America-First official, are on MacArthur's delegate slate.

Dewey May Lose

McCarthy, running as a Stassen delegate, added in a statement that "one of the opposing candidates has conceded defeat in Wisconsin."

He backed up this direct reference to Dewey with the prediction to a reporter that Stassen will get 15 delegates and MacArthur most of the rest.

There were some indications that Dewey's backers also thought he might be low man on the Wisconsin totem pole.

In New York, Herbert Brownell, Dewey manager, said he did not count Wisconsin in when he said the New York governor will have more than half of the 305 Republican delegates who will have been chosen by Tuesday night.

MacArthur Win Predicted

He predicted Dewey's nomination, without a paralyzing deadlock at the June Philadelphia convention. The nominee must collect 548 votes for a majority.

The McCarthy attack was shrugged off by Hoyt, who also is chairman of the National MacArthur for President clubs. He told a reporter he thinks the senator "has lost a great many adherents not only for himself but for Stassen" with his campaigning.

Hoyt predicted that MacArthur will get "a clear majority of the popular vote" in the state. He said that if the general gets 45 or 50 per cent of that vote he will sweep the 27 delegates into his camp.

He indicated, however, that 16 delegates or more will be regarded as a victory for the general.

Democrats will pick 24 delegates to their July national con-

Soviet Atom Plan Dropped

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, April 5 — A United Nations committee today discarded Russia's atomic plan as inadequate and abandoned, in failure, its effort to agree on world-wide atomic control.

By a vote of 9 to 2, the working committee of the UN Atomic Energy commission decided formally to throw out Russia's proposals.

The commission is expected to meet later this month. Its two main committees, the working committee and the control group, have reached what several delegates called a dead end. The commission, and eventually the UN Assembly in Paris next fall, must decide what comes next.

Russians Oppose New Move

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, and Vassily A. Tarasenko, of the Soviet Ukraine, voted against dropping the Russian plan.

Tarasenko charged that what he called militaristic and reactionary circles in the United States are trying to break up attempts to control atomic energy.

Delegates of the United States, France, Britain, China, Belgium, Argentina, Syria, Colombia and Canada voted that there is no longer any use talking about the Russian plan.

Statement Approved

The majority also approved a statement that Russian proposals ignore the existing technical knowledge of the problem of atomic energy control; do not provide an adequate basis for the effective international control of atomic energy and the elimination from national armaments of atomic weapons; and therefore do not conform to the assignment laid down by the first UN Assembly.

The Atomic Energy commission was created by a unanimous vote in London in January, 1946. It was told to seek a world control scheme. The commission met on June 14, 1946.

Bernard M. Baruch, for the United States, proposed a world atomic development authority

Nations Urged To Outlaw Communists

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 5. (AP)—Paraguay asked today that other American republics follow its lead in outlawing Communism.

Foreign Minister Cesar Vasconelles, in an address before the Pan-American conference, said Communists operate through the tolerance of democracies and "democracy shelters all political liberties, including those which are a negation of that same democracy."

The governing board of the Pan-American union presented the draft of a charter for modernizing and strengthening the inter-American system within the framework of the United Nations. The governing board said the collective action provided by the charter draft does not constitute intervention.

Egyptian Riots Leave 20 Dead

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, April 5 (AP)—A strike by 3,000 policemen in this great port city today unleashed a reign of terror by the underworld in which 20 persons were killed and more than 100 buildings looted and set on fire.

Unofficial estimates said property damage would amount to millions of dollars. No official figure was available.

Order was restored by nightfall A 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. curfew was imposed on the city and hundreds of troops patrolled the streets.

Ultimatum Given Strikers

In Cairo tonight the government issued an ultimatum for striking police to return to work tomorrow or be dismissed. It applied to police in Alexandria, Cairo and in the Suez canal region, which were also affected by the strike.

Strikers' spokesmen in the capital said they would not meet demands of the ultimatum. Army riflemen surrounded strikers' headquarters. Nearly 1,000 police officers, men and cadets remained inside. Troops refused to let anyone enter or leave.

Fears were expressed that the opposition Wafdist party and Communists might sponsor pro-police demonstrations in the

Big Four Deputies Take Major Step Toward Austrian Peace

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 5 — The Big Four foreign ministers' deputies suddenly agreed today on how much oil Russia should get from Austria.

It was the deputies first major stride toward an Austrian peace treaty. However, significance of the agreement must await the test of delicate and difficult issues still unsettled.

Official British observers said both Russia and the western powers had made concessions. These appeared to represent "a desire on the part of all the delegations to reach a settlement," the informants added.

The United States, Britain and France have served notice that any agreements reached in the course of negotiations must be regarded as tentative and dependent upon a final accord on all the terms of a treaty.

Still to be settled are the problems of Austria's future frontiers, the size of her armed forces, the withdrawal of occupation forces and Russia's demand for an unspecified amount of reparations.

The progress made today was the greatest since the deputies be-

U. S. Warship To Visit Norway

$1 Billion Advance Starts Global Aid

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 5.—President Truman started the $6,098,000,000 global aid program rolling today by ordering the Reconstruction Finance corporation to advance $1,105,000,000 at once.

This will release U. S. dollars, reconstruction supplies, in some cases arms to 15 European countries, Turkey, western Germany, Trieste and China—all areas where the administration is determined to keep Communism out.

At the same time it was announced that a U. S. carrier task force will be sent late this month to Norway, in the strategically important Scandinavian area of reported new Russian pressure.

Both developments came as high government officials gave increased attention to the question of military backing for the $5,300,000,000 European recovery program—hub of the entire foreign aid system.

Mr. Truman signed an order telling RFC to make these sums available:

$1,000,000,000 for the European recovery program (ERP). Additional funds, up to the authorized $4,300,000,000 limit, must be voted separately by Congress.

Supplies Collected

$50,000,000 for military assistance to Greece and Turkey. Congress has authorized a total of $275,000,000 for these countries.

$50,000,000 for China. Congress has sanctioned up to $463,000,000 to help the Chinese government, including $125,000,000 for direct military aid in the war against Chinese Communists.

$5,000,000 for Trieste — one-fourth of the total approved by Congress for the strife-riddled "free territory" between Italy and Yugoslavia.

The State department said ERP supplies for western Europe are being collected at many ports for shipment as soon as possible.

Correction Made

It corrected, however, an earlier announcement saying the first such supplies already are on their way in three ships to France and Italy.

These cargoes, Press Officer Roger Tubby said, were purchased from the $522,000,000 stop-gap fund voted last December for France, Italy and Austria.

The warcraft going to Scandinavia are the 27,000-ton Essex class carrier, Valley Forge; the 6,000-ton aircraft cruiser Fresno; and four destroyers. They will visit Bergen, Norway, from April 29 to May 2, after three of them pay a visit to southern England

U. S. Suggests Use Of Troops To Keep Order In Holy Land

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 5 — The United States suggested today that foreign troops be assigned to Palestine if necessary to maintain order under a United Nations temporary trusteeship.

U. S. Chief Delegate Warren R. Austin did not commit his government to participate in the international force or declare which countries should send soldiers. He said only that "such states as would be specified" should agree to keep the peace in the embattled Holy Land.

Soviets Boycott Session

The American suggestions were laid before a meeting of UN Security Council delegates in Austin's office on lower Park avenue. Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko and the Soviet Ukraine's Vassily A. Tarasenko boycotted the session. Russia insists the UN should stick to partition.

Delegates adjourned after two hours. Austin called another meeting for Wednesday morning. A spokesman said special invitations would be sent to Gromyko and Tarasenko.

While the delegates were in session Jamal El Husseini, vice chairman of the Arab higher committee, arrived in New York from Damascus. He said the Arabs of Palestine would not accept trusteeship. He added that Arab acceptance of a truce in the Holy Land depended on conditions attached to the cease-fire appeal.

In a statement issued by a spokesman the Jewish agency rejected the trusteeship plan.

Arabs Turn Heavy Artillery On Jews

JERUSALEM, April 5 (AP)—The Arab army turned its artillery today on embattled Jewish Mishmar Haemek colony in northern Palestine, where 40 Arabs and six Jews were reported killed in fierce fighting. Other incidents in the Holy Land brought the day's fatalities to 67.

Outcome of the battle on the historic plains of Armageddon remained in doubt, with both sides issuing conflicting statements of success.

In another military development of the day, commando units of Haganah, the Jewish army, blasted the headquarters of Hassan Bey Salameh, commander of the Mediterranean Arab army, at Sarafand college near Ramle on the central coastal plain.

An official statement said 16 Arabs were killed and 12 wounded in that attack. Today's casualties boosted to 2,375 the unofficial toll since the Nov. 29 UN decision to partition Palestine.

Russian Reply Eases Tension

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Tuesday, April 6.—The British accepted early today a Russian answer to a protest over a plane disaster yesterday in which a Soviet fighter rammed a British transport in the air over Berlin.

Fourteen persons aboard the transport, including two Americans, were killed. The Soviet pilot also died.

An official British spokesman said his command immediately rescinded an order for Royal Air Force fighter planes to protect British transport flights to Berlin. The order was issued at RAF headquarters in Luebeck at midnight and apparently was cancelled within a few minutes.

Escort Planes Withdrawn

The United States also withdrew similar protective plans.

Last night an official British spokesman blamed a "frolicking" Soviet Yak fighter flying illegally in the British Gatow airfield area for the collision. The informat said Russian fighters had buzzed British transports before.

Early today a British officer said Soviet Marshall Vassily Sokolovsky's answer to the protest of Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, the British commander in Germany, was satisfactory.

Russia Sends Regrets

The Soviet commander assured Robertson, the spokesman said, that no Russian intention of interfering with British aircraft using the international corridor, "in accordance with our mutual agreement, was or is intended."

"Sokolovsky regretted as much as Gen. Robertson the catastrophe which caused the death of the victims," the spokesman said. "Sokolovsky added that he would issue immediate orders to give the British access to the bodies and baggage in the Viking (transport) aircraft."

Previously Russian soldiers had refused to let the British remove the bodies from the scene of the crash in the Soviet zone of Berlin.

Sokolovsky's statement to Robertson eased the new tension which

Youth Important, Post Group Told

By C. W. RATLIFF

POST, April 5—A community must look to its youth and provide a place for them in community life of the future if it expects to continue to progress, Delbert Downing, secretary of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, declared in a talk at the annual Post Chamber of Commerce here tonight.

"A town has to have something, and I don't say it has to be a chamber of commerce, but some place where ideas must click in the job of building a community," Downing said.

"You don't buy a membership in a chamber of commerce; you buy an opportunity to pool your resources for those of future generations. The strongest force in America today is that force created by Mom and Dad for Bud and Sissie to have a better start in life than they had.

"Every once in a while you find somebody who doesn't want a community like Post to be any bigger; all it has to do is just stop and it is on the downhill path."

Downing then referred to his former home town, which "apparently didn't give much thought to what it should do for those coming up."

"Somebody down the line didn't

Stolen Car Is Wrecked After 75 MPH Chase By City Police

A lone city patrolman rammed a car commandeered by three thieves about 10:30 o'clock Monday night and then fired six shots in a 75-mile-an-hour chase before the stolen auto was wrecked in a field off Thirty-sixth street. The thieves escaped in a cloud of dust.

Patrolman N. H. Lassiter, jr., sighted the stolen 1947 Studebaker in the 1500 block of College Ave. 15 minutes after the police call came over his radio. In the thieves' mad flight which followed, a barricade was smashed on Ave. X, two barbed-wire fences were crashed, and two fields were plowed to take the dead-end out of Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth streets on Ave. X.

The Studebaker, which belonged to Joe Powers, of 2414 Fourteenth, was halted in the second field, the motor knocked out completely, the front smashed and a windshield broken.

Blood was found on the steering wheel in the wrecked car, and immediately an alarm was given for anyone seeking emergency treatment at hospitals.

Lassiter said that he hit the rear end of the fleeing car when it turned off Nineteenth to Ave. X. When it appeared the Stude-

Plans Revealed For Largest Liner Ever Built In America

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 5—Plans for the largest passenger ship ever built in America —a $65,000,000 giant that would carry more than 2,000 passengers — were disclosed today.

The ship would be a 48,000-ton superliner designed to ply the Atlantic at a cruising speed of 28.5 knots, as fast as Britain's Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary.

Officials of the U. S. Maritime commission and the United States lines announced the plans. Congress will be asked for funds to build it.

The size of the projected liner would be only a little more than half that of the 86,673-ton Queen Elizabeth, world's largest vessel, but her peacetime passenger capacity would be only about 200 less than the British ship's 2,400 and about equal that of the 81,235-ton Queen Mary.

Military Asks Alaskan Land

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 5.—America's armed forces want to set up a cast military reservation on the U. S. lands in shortest range of Soviet Russia.

The area is in the Aleutian island chain stretching westward from Alaska.

While the services only said "routine" when asked for explanation of their moves to get control of the area, the islands' dual role in World War II makes the aim obvious. They were:

Public Hearing Set

(A) The scene of the one Japanese thrust at the American mainland.

(B) The base from which retaliatory strikes were launched at the Japanese Kuriles, now under Russian control.

In early stages of the war there were Japanese on most of the islands the armed services want.

The plan was disclosed in official notice of a hearing in Juneau, Alaska, May 4 on Army, Air Force and Navy petitions to withdraw the affected areas from public lands status. That notice appeared in the Federal Register which reports orders and other actions of public agencies.

Matter Called "Routine"

A spokesman for Defense Secretary Forrestal's office said the whole matter is "routine" aimed at regularizing what's already going on. The area involved, he said, is what the armed forces used during the war and have kept installations on since then. He explained that the services want official control around permanent bases. He said the Navy's application is 18 months old.

It looked less like routine, however, to Delegate Bartlett, Alaska's non-voting representative in Congress.

He protested to the Interior department which now has control of the lands, arguing that they "are surely of not more than secondary importance militarily."

HOUSING PLAN GIVEN

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 5 (AP) — Fourteen-year-old "Mayor" Nathan Bloom, the city's chief executive for a day, has a solution for the housing problem. Nathan, elected "mayor" in a boys' club contest, suggested today that schools be turned into apartments. "There are too many schools, anyway," he said.

Pickets Clash With Miners

(By The Associated Press)

FIST FIGHTS and pistol shots, with one man wounded, Monday marked the nation's two major strikes—involving over half a million persons.

The strike of 400,000 United Mine Workers and the strike of 100,000 CIO United Packinghouse workers are in their fourth week.

In the coal strike, the federal court order issued Saturday against Union President John L. Lewis and the mine operators showed no apparent result by Monday.

Diggers Go Home

A free-for-all fight between pickets and non-union strip mine workers at Bear mountain, West Virginia, also involved pistol shots as the pickets stormed the mine tipple. Sixty truckloads of coal were dumped.

Elsewhere, a few curious coal diggers appeared at scattered pit heads for a look-see, but they went home. At most mines, no UMW members showed up. Union officials were guarded in discussing the situation or refused to comment.

The Justice department was giving the United Mine Workers union time to decide its course—whether to comply with the court edict or fight it.

Federal Action Mapped

But Justice department attorneys made it clear they will not wait longer than a day or two.

They said they will seek contempt penalties—either fines or jail terms or both—against the union and perhaps its officers, including UMW President Lewis, unless the coal pits are remanned quickly.

In the coal fields the miners continued their idleness. Lewis told them Saturday in a public message they could do as they pleased about returning to work.

In view of Lewis' advance notice to men that the back-to-work decision was for them to make, there was some doubt that the men would obey a Lewis return advisory, if he made one to satisfy the court order.

Nazi Munition Men Acquitted

NUERNBERG, Germany, April 5 (AP)—A United States tribunal today acquitted Germany's gun maker, Alfried Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach, and 11 other directors of the Krupp munitions combine of plotting aggressive war.

The defendants still face two other war crimes charges—plunder and spoilation of conquered nations, and deportation, exploitation and abuse of slave labor.

May Establish Precedent

Originally they were indicted on four counts. The two on which they were acquitted charged them with committing crimes against peace and participating in a conspiracy against peace. The court did not announce its reasons for dismissing the two charges.

It was the first ruling on whether a German industrialist can be held criminally guilty for helping Adolf Hitler build his powerful war machine. The directors of the giant I. G. Farben chemical combine also were accused, like the Krupp directors, with plotting aggressive war. No verdict has been reached yet in the Farben trial.

Fredrich Flick and Bernhard Weiss, the only German industrialists thus far convicted in war crimes proceedings, were not charged with crimes against peace.

Thus today's ruling in the Krupp case may establish a major precedent for dealing with industrialists who helped arm Germany.

Wallace Followers Do Not Always Agree With Policies, Poll Shows

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., April 5—The followers of Henry A. Wallace are not a group with homogenous ideas on public issues. Although it might be expected that the supporters of a new disciple in politics would be of like mind, many of the people who say they plan to vote for Wallace do not agree with the views he has expressed on leading subjects

They might best be described as a "conglomeration of protesters," who support Wallace more because they are against other parties than because they are drawn to his particular ideas and pronouncements. For example:

Although Wallace has made a big point of opposing the European Recovery Plan, polls among the Wallace supporters find that approximately one-half of them favor the E.R.P., while about one-fourth oppose it and the rest express no opinion. While it is true that E.R.P. has less support from Wallace followers than from Democrats or Republicans, there is certainly no clear agreement among Wallacites backing up Wallace's own position.

The following table gives a comparison of the vote on E.R.P. by people who favor President Truman, Governor Thomas E. Dewey or Wallace for president.

	Truman	Dewey	Wallace
Approve	62%	55%	47%
Disapprove	12	22	28
No opinion	26	23	25

Polls also find that a majority of Wallace followers agree with the general American public in thinking Russia would start a war to get what she wants, although Wallace has tended to belittle the so-called Russian menace.

Whereas Wallace has often decried the large sums of money being spent today for the army and navy, a majority of Wallace followers polled by the Institute say they favor increasing the size of the airforce, and as many favor increasing the navy as oppose it. Only with respect to the size of the army is the weight of opinion among Wallace followers in favor of his position against a large army.

In short, the big fact is that while the majority of Truman followers support his position on the Marshall Plan, Russia, and the armed forces, the men and women who plan to vote for Wallace do not show a similar degree of agreement with their leaders on such issues. The main thing which the members of Wallace's "Gideon's Army" have in common is being against all other candidates.

Faces Numerous Tests

Nationally the Wallace vote today runs between 6 and 8 per cent in polls by the Institute. Translating this national percentage into votes, depends, however, on whether the Wallace party can get on the official election ballot in all states, which is not likely.

If the voting turnout in November is at the same rate as it was before the war, the total vote would be approximately 58,000,000. The Wallace vote based on polls at the present time would theoretically run to between 3,500,000 and 4,600,000—if the party were able to get a place on the ballot in all 48 states.

The Wallace percentage today lags far behind the record of the elder Robert LaFollette and his Progressive Party in 1924, which polled 16½ per cent in the election, and the Bull Moose Party in 1912, which polled 28 per cent. It compares roughly with the vote polled by Eugene Debs on the Socialist ticket in 1912, 6 per cent.

Wallace's real threat to the Democratic Party lies in his ability to cut into the Democratic vote in key states. In New York, for example, Wallace polls some 15 per cent and that is enough to rob the Democrats of their lead in the state and put New York over into the Republican column. The situation in Pennsylvania is similar.

School expenditures in the United States totalled $3.3 billion in 1940.

George Jessel Is Honored At Dinner By Hollywood Stars

HOLLYWOOD, April 5 (AP) — George Jessel's comedian pals ribbed him at a "roastmaster" dinner last night honoring his 40 years in show business.

"Georgie is a 20th Century Fox producer and a 19th century vaudevillian," cracked Bob Hope.

Jack Benny was "flattered to be toastmaster at a dinner for the greatest toastmaster in America."

Jessel, clowning, led the applause.

About 900 members and guests of the Friars club, showmen's organization, dined on crab legs supreme and roast beef at $15 a plate in the Biltmore hotel bowl.

California's lieutenant governor, Goodwin Knight, congratulated 50-year-old Georgie on his career as comedian, after-dinner speaker and now movie producer. Al Jolson sang.

Benny said that Jessel is "as witty as Groucho Marx, as colorful a Orson Welles . . . and as versatile as Governor Folsom of Alabama."

Georgie cracked right back at his ribbers.

He said Cantor would be remembered as "the favorite radio star of the crystal set day."

Farmers Urged To Pay Back Cotton Price Support Loans

WASHINGTON, April 5 (U.P.)—The Agriculture department today urged farmers who placed 1947 cotton under government price support loans to pay back the loans.

At present market prices, the department said, farmers should be able to sell most of the cotton at prices setting "substantial profits" above the loan rate. Officials warned that July 31 is the deadline for redeeming the loans. A total of 160,196 bales now is under government loan.

"I SHALL ALWAYS KEEP RETONGA IN MY HOME" STATES INSPECTOR

Widely-Known Lumber Inspector Says Famed Medicine Brought Him Wonderful Relief After Years Of Suffering From Acid Indigestion.

J. D. RIVERS

Another outstanding citizen has given Retonga a strong public endorsement. He is Mr. J. D. Rivers, 2204 McGavock Rd., Nashville, Tenn., who is widely-known as a lumber inspector throughout Kentucky, Alabama, and Tennessee. Here he tells of his own case and how Retonga has brought him wonderful relief:

"A few years ago I began to suffer from nervous indigestoin, but I paid little attention to it then because I had always enjoyed good health. When the gas pains in my stomach began to get worse, I could not get the proper amount of sleep, and my appetite fell off alarmingly. I had to use strong laxatives for constipation. My strength was running low. I got little relief from different medicines. To tell the plain truth, I was badly worried over my condition.

"The relief Retonga brought me was a tremendous surprise. Within a week the acid indigestion had let up and I didn't have to worry about what I ate. I sleep good and feel refreshed in the mornings. I'm up and on the go every day and feel better than in years. I shall always keep Retonga in my home, as it has been for the past seven years."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, los of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. You can get Retonga at Mark Ialsey Drug Stores and all other good drug stores. Adv.

$20,415,823.83 RETURNED TO POLICYHOLDERS SINCE ORGANIZATION—$1,879,158.73 RETURNED IN 1947

During 1947 the Association distributed $1,879,158.73 to policyholders in the form of dividends and guaranteed cost discounts. This makes a total of $20,415,823.83 returned to policyholders since organization.

We are proud of this record, but this is not our company. It belongs to those employers of labor who insure through it. It is yours if you want to participate in it. You can share in these savings to policyholders without any charge for participation. When you insure through the Texas Employers' Insurance Association, you pay no more than you are now paying for your Workmen's Compensation Insurance, yet through the Association's plan of operation you have the opportunity to get back a substantial part of what you pay.

When you insure through this company, you are not subject to assessment. The company not only maintaines adequate surplus and reserves for the protection of policyholders, but also carries reinsurance to protect itself against catastrophies like the recent one in Texas City. This Company weathered that catastrophe, the greatest in the history of Workmen's Compensation Insurance, without interrupting dividend payments or affecting surplus. Yes, the Texas Employers' Insurance Association has stood the tests of time, two of the severest depressions of all time, plus the Texas City disaster.

If you think your Workmen's Compensation Insurance premiums are too high, if you are looking for a way to reduce rising costs of doing business, insure with this Texas company. You'll not only save on your insurance, but you'll be helping turn another twenty million dollars back to Texas Industry at no sacrifice of safety or service.

FASCIST PLOT CHARGED BY REDS

Italian Troops Parade After Free Election Pledge Given

By PARKER LA MOORE
Special Correspondent

ROME, April 5— Twenty-five thousand Italian troops in smart new uniforms and armed with new equipment marched through the streets of Rome Sunday. It gave emphasis to Premier De Gasperi's pre-election declaration "if it comes to force, that force is in the hands of the government."

The parade followed a government radio announcement that freedom to vote would be guaranteed at the April 18 election by the full strength of the state. Christian Democratic forces are confident now that the tide is running in their favor, and say their only danger is that Communist intimidation may result in widespread absenteeism.

Fascist Plot Charged

This fear has been heightened by physical clashes among opposing political groups in various parts of Italy. Moreover, the Communist announcement of "discovery" of an alleged Fascist plot to take over the government was regarded in some quarters as designed to lay the groundwork for a Communist coup if the election went against them.

Communist leaders of the General Confederation of Labor have called a one-hour strike throughout Italy on Thursday unless a missing Sicilian labor leader is located by that time. It is planned to extend the strike daily for a longer period until he is found.

The success of this maneuver will be watched to determine the extent to which the Communist leadership continues to hold the whiphand over Italy's labor movement. This control over the trade unions will be challenged by a counter organization to be formed immediately after the election if a government is returned.

Hidden Arms Found

Meanwhile, the government search for hidden arms has turned up enough military equipment in the Rome area alone to arm several companies. And in Cantania large quantities of Russian-type helmets, uniforms and red flags were found.

Few red flags have been used in recent Communist demonstrations here since the Italian patriot Garbaldi's pictures have displaced those of Lenin and Stalin as the symbol of the Italian Communists.

In turning the heat on the Soviet Union, the Christian Democrats are making effective use of Italian prisoners of war who have recently returned from Russia.

Communist Booed

Aldo Councillo of Bari, just back from captivity in Russia, told an audience at Milan that thousands of Italians still were held in barracks at Omsk, Siberia, and forced to work.

At Lecce, in southern Italy, an Italian youth after describing his experiences in a Russian concentration camp took off his shirt to show shipyard workers the wounds he received from floggings.

It was at Lecce that Palmiro Togliatti, Italy's No. 1 Communist, was booed for the first time in the campaign when he said Italy did not need United States grain because the Soviet Union had a good harvest and could supply it. An estimated half of his audience walked away at this juncture singing "God Bless America."

First labor organization was formed in England about 1750.

ITALIAN ARMED POWER ON DISPLAY—Nearly half a million spectators line Rome's Via Dei Fori Imperiali, built by Mussolini for his legions, to view units of Italy's Allied-equipped army parade in an answer to Communist threats of force. It was the country's biggest show of power since Il Duce's empire. The parade coming two weeks before the elections, officially was called to mark reactivation of the historic Sardinia Grenadier Division. In the right background is the Coliseum. Barber Leaves $45,000 Estate To State Of Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, April 5 (AP) — The major portion of a $45,000 estate will go to the commonwealth of Pennsylvania because barber John Gellert felt the state "could use the money."

Attorney J. Channing Ellery said yesterday the will, filed for probate Saturday, stipulated that $75 be set aside for care of the 60-year-old bachelor's grave and $250 for a granite tombstone.

"The residue of my estate," said Gellert directed him to write, "I leave to the commonwealth of Pennsylvania for general purpurposes."

Ellery said Gellert, who lived alone and had as his chief interest a flock of chickens, killed himself. The attorney, who drew up the will in October, 1943, said that as far as he knows Gellert never worked for the state or benefitted in any unusual manner from any state service.

Gelert only close relative, a bachelor brother, died shortly before Gellert had his will prepared, Ellery said.

It is estimated that a polyphemus caterpillar must swing its head back and forth 250,000 times in spinning its cocoon.

Neil Sikes, 15, Is Named Southwest 'Boy Of The Year'

Announcement that Neil Sikes, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Sikes of 2410 Ave. K, has been selected as the Southwest "Boy of the Year" has been received here from Boys' Clubs of America, in connection with Boys' Club week, April 5-11.

The national winner in the contest was Frank Harrison, 14, of Valdosta, Ga.

The Lubbock boy was one of seven regional winners chosen by a committee of judges consisting of Joe DiMaggio, Perry Como, Roy Rogers, Paul Whiteman, and Bert Rubin, president of the Tootsie Roll company which paid all expenses in connection with the contest. Sikes will receive a bicycle and a citation from the judges.

Sikes has been a member of Lubbock Boys' club almost four years and he was singled out as the "Boy of the Year" and outstanding junior citizen in the Southwest area because of his accomplishments and service to the community as well as personal characteristics of leadership.

He is now a junior at Lubbock High school and a member of the Student council and maintains a "B" average scholastically. He was a vice president of the sophomore class. Also prominent in athletics, young Sikes played quarterback on the Westerner squad last season.

A WONDERFUL FLAVOR all its own! Mountain Grown

So Extra Rich in Flavor It Is Economical Too!

Folger's is the coffee that makes a person want to purr . . . it's that good! Of course, it's a special kind of coffee . . . Mountain Grown coffee . . . with a rare winey tang and a truly vigorous flavor that really does something for you. If you tried to describe the Folger Flavor you would probably remark about its completeness—it is so thoroughly satisfying.

Certainly Folger's is "different"—no other coffee is quite like it—and the best proof that this difference is appreciated and desired is shown in the overwhelming public preference for Folger's. For sales records show that Folger's is the flavor favorite—by far the largest selling brand of coffee in the great-over-all-area where it is sold.

Won't you try Folger's for coffee enjoyment with extra dividends in economy, too!

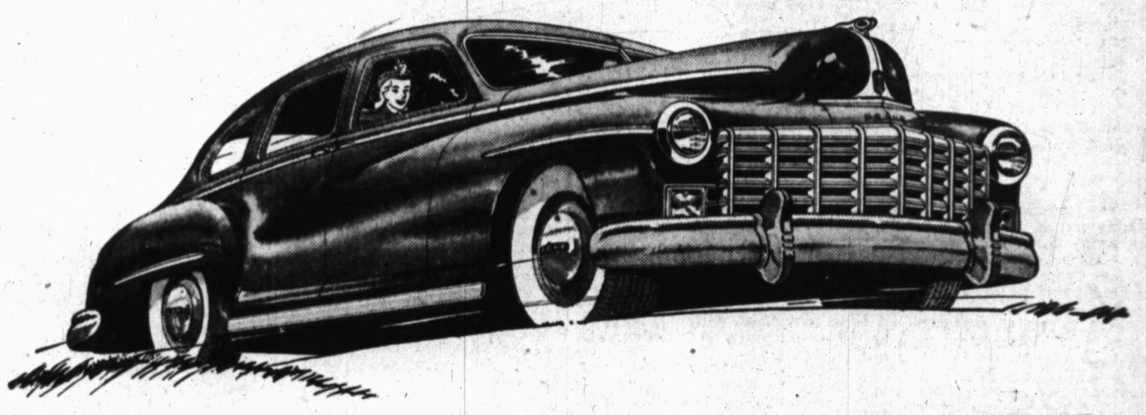

TRY USING ¼ LESS

A good way to prove the Extra Flavor and Extra Economy of Folger's is to try making your coffee with ¼ less of Folger's than you used with lesser flavored brands—the extra flavor is provided—for both enjoyment and economy.

ATTRACTIVE in appearance, accurately compiled and full of informative material for those interested in gardens is "Secret of The Green Thumb," a 100-page book published by Lubbock Garden club for South Plains residents.

The foreword sets out that the collection of flower studies is presented in the hope that more interest will be aroused in plant life and the desire intensified for beautiful surroundings. The information was compiled by a group of gardeners and is based on their individual experiences in combating heat, cold, drought and dust-laden winds.

"GROWING flowers offers many benefits. Years of comparatively good health have been added for people who might have been invalids but for this turning to nature. Unhappiness has been put in the background and unavoidable cares greatly lessened when tiny seeds were planted and their marvelous development into colorful, blossoming plants observed from day to day."

There are charts listing names, types, color and time of bloom for every plant that will grow in this region and articles on basic landscaping, evergreens, shrubs, bulbs, annuals, borders, lilies, roses, dahlias, chrysanthemums, fall gardening, pruning, reconditioning the soil and flower arranging. Adding interest are chapters on garden materials for Christmas packages, festive Christmas decorations, winter face lifting, a garden calendar and miscellaneous garden hints.

Pleasing poems on the subject of flowers and gardens are interspersed throughout the pages.

Dedication is to Mrs. H. G. Knight, "whose unswerving devotion to the materialization of a vision made possible this publication."

Garden club members are selling the volume for one dollar. Proceeds will be used to landscape the grounds of the Lubbock Women's clubhouse, now a dream but which is expected to become a reality before too many more months.

1948 SILHOUETTE

DESIGNERS who are visiting Parisian fashion establishments say the new silhouette which caused so much excitement last year remains, in general, the same, with a few definite changes. There are no more false hips through padding, although roundness of line continues. There is no emphasis on the stomach and the fullness that was seen last season looks passe.

Other fashion trends from Paris include waistlines which will be more natural; coats that are belted; continuation of the three-quarter length coat; skirt lengths have not changed.

As for suits, this is the time for a woman to choose any length of jacket that is becoming to her, although the tendency is very strongly and surely toward shorter jackets.

Much cafe-au-lait is in evidence and gray continues a favorite. Hats are small, either off the face as we have been wearing them or with a forward movement.

Man Who Lost Foot In Chase With Prowler To Get New One

PITTEBURGH, April 5. (AP) — Preston Terry, who lost his left foot two weeks ago in an attempt to catch a prowler, is going to receive an artificial foot from neighbors in neary Sheraden.

Terry, 31-year-old World War II veteran, lost his foot when it became entangled in a wire trailing from the car of the fleeing prowler. He was dragged three city blocks before the loop tightened, severing the foot above the ankle.

Terry's neighbors began collecting funds for the negro steelworker and his family and yesterday two Sheraden business men visited Terry in Allegheny hospital to tell him they had raised more than enough for an artificial foot. The remainder of the fund will go to Terry's wife, Rebecca, and their six-year-old daughter, Constance.

STATE ENTERS BREAD ROW

Four Bakeries, Two Grocers At Gainesville Face Anti-Trust Suit

AUSTIN, April 5 (AP) — Four bakeries and two grocers in Gainesville today faced anti-trust charges brought by the state in 126th District court.

They were also under temporary injunction restraining them from the alleged "price-fixing" violations pending hearing at 9 a. m. April 14. The court issued the order on the state's petition, which also seeks penalties.

Prices Claimed Set

The suit, filed by Attorney General Price Daniel, alleges that the bakeries and grocers entered into a fixed price ceiling agreement to maintain the retail price of bread in Gainesville at a minimum of 20 cents per loaf, and to boycott a grocery store which had reduced the price to 18 cents.

Defendant bakeries named were Mrs .Baird's Bakery, Inc., home town bakery, Finney's bakery, and Purity bakery. Defendant grocery stores are Helpy-Selfy Food store and Thomas Food store.

Henry Brumley, a Gainesville grocer, is alleged in the state's petition to have advertised the reduction in his retail bread price in the local daily newspaper. Subsequently, the named bread wholesalers were said to have refused to supply him with bread.

Concerted action was alleged between the bakeries and other retail grocers to boycott any baker which supplied bread to a grocer who sold for less than the 20 cents retail price.

Daniel said the state's suit was based upon evidence obtained by Assistant Attorneys General Willis E. Gresham and Pat T. Peyton Jr., during an investigation and court of inquiry at Gainesville about a week ago.

Plains To Have Say On Water Law Setup

AUSTIN, April 5 (AP) — High Plains water users were assured today that they will be consulted by the Texas Water Conservation association in proposed revisions of the state's water laws.

A request from the High Plains Water Use and Conservation association that its views be considered in drafting such legislation was presented the state association's directors by W. W. Holbrook of Plainview.

"If a bill is drafted that they consider unfavorable, then you can count on having two bills," Holbrook said.

Rocky Graziano Decisions Horne

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Middleweight Champion Rocky Graziano, the Bad Boy of Boxing, returned to the ring tonight to pound out a narrow-squeak, ten round decision over Sonny Horne. Rockey's title wasn't involved.

Graziano weighed 160, Horne 161.

Fans Boo Decision

The decision of the judges was unanimous, but many in the crowd of 6,000 thought Horne had won, and therefore booed mightily.

Graziano, a back alley type fighter who usually depends on one punch to win, stalked Horne throughout the fight, but he never connected.

Horne, from Valley Stream, Long Island, kept his left parked in Graziano's face most of the fight. But Graziano isn't the type to fret over a little thing like that.

He kept wading in and in and in. The Rock opened a cut over Horne's left eye, and then evened things up by opening a cut over Horne's right eye in the eighth.

Horne Is Hit Hard

At the finish blood was streaming down Hornes face. And Grazianos pretty white pants were covered with blood—Hornes.

Yet it wasnt a one-sided fight. It was just that when Graziano did hit he hit hard. When Horne landed, Graziano didnt even act as if he noticed it.

Tonights bout climaxed a weird rigamarole involving the middleweight champion.

First he was barred in New York for failing to report a bribe. Then Illinois and 13 other states turned thumbs down on him because the boy from New York's East Side once went leisurely A.W.O.L. from the Army.

Meets Zale June 9

Tonights bout is supposed to have helped clear the slate.

Graziano gave his entire purse which probably will be in excess of $10,000, to charity, and the stage is all set for a return match with Tony Zale, the former champion, on June 9, in Newark.

Judging from the way Graziano was missing potential haymakers tonight he'll need a lot of luck, and considerably better timing on his punches, in that one.

Plains Fighters Get Tourney Invitations

Boxers from Portales, N. M., appreciated the courteous attention shown them during the recent Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce bouts and would like to have fighters from this area enter their own tournament being staged Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Portales.

Dr. William LeMaster, tourney director, last night wired the Avalanche-Journal sports department and said that Lubbock and area boxers could be used Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

In his telegram, Dr. LeMaster said: "Thanks for courteous attention given our boys. Can use your boys Thursday, Friday, Saturday. Will take them Friday and Saturday, if they can't come before."

All boxers interested in entering the Portales tourney should communicate with the Portales Junior Chamber of Commerce immediately.

Pitts Silences Odessa Bats; Teams Will Meet Again Today

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

Manager Jackie Sullivan's Lubbock Hubber baseball team ought to be tired this afternoon. They nearly ran themselves into exhaustion yesterday in beating the Odessa Oilers 15-4, rapping out 11 hits good for 24 bases behind the steady hurling of Herby Pitts.

The rookie southpaw from Tulsa, Okla., throttled the Oiler batsmen on five hits during his six-inning stint, pacing himself nicely and showing good control. Only Red Henneck reached him consistently, nicking his offerings for two doubles and a single. Otherwise Pitts showed considerable promise.

Four Runs In Fourth

Meanwhile, the Hubbers found Lloyd Nelson's slants just what they had been looking for and proceeded to hit themselves happy. Nelson handed the Hub City crew a run in the second frame, when he couldn't find the rubber and walked four of the seven men to face him. After that the dike broke.

Frank Boothe started it with a double in the third, followed by Kermit Altizer's triple off the left field fence.

Four more runs trickled across in the fourth. Frank McAlexander led off with a triple to deep centerfield and Chick Fowler brought him in with a homer over the left field barrier. Sullivan doubled and Kermit Altzier followed two out with a walk. Sullivan scored and Altzier advanced on a passed ball Ken Pierce drove him home with a clean single to left field.

That, as it proved, was the ball game, even though the Hubbers kept scoring. They picked up one counter without a hit in the fifth, scored four times on two hits in the sixth and counted another tally on Richardson's slam over the right field picket in the seventh.

Tumelson To Pitch

Royce Mills led off the eighth with a single and came in on Smith's second triple of the game. The latter counted seconds later on McAlexander's ground out to the first baseman.

The Hubbers continue their home stand with another tilt against Odessa this afternoon at 3 at Rosenthal Field. Manager Sullivan indicated that he would start Eugene Tumelson, a hurler for the Hubbers in 1946, with Floyd Walker the probable catcher.

DIAMOND DUST: Yesterday's game was better than Sunday's contest, but watched by fewer persons. Only a slim handful in the stands. . . . Al Smith is covering shortstop as if he owned it. . . . Mills worked three innings and said he felt loose and in good shape. . . . The netting over the left field fence fooled the Odessa outfielder, who caught Fowler's blow on the rebound. It was a clean homerun. . . . Curtis Barrett and Red Norman called a good game. . . . Four Austin option men are scheduled to report today, possibly by game time. . . . Smith and McAlexander were the only Hubber batters to collect two hits apiece. And they were good for 10 bases.

This Is No. 2 . . .

Westerners Prep For District 2-AA Meet

Preparation for the District 2-AA track and field meet here Saturday at the Texas Tech oval featured the Monday afternoon practice session of the Lubbock High cinder path squad, with the Westerner sprinters racing through a full slate of practice dash events.

Earl Hutcherson, dependable century and low hurdle specialist, turned in a time of 10.6 seconds in winning the 100-yard dash, while sturdy Don Decker captured the 220-yard event with a creditable time. The distance hopefuls concentrated on conditioning and the weight candidates drilled on form.

The District 2-AA meet will include Lubbock High, Plainview, Lamesa and Brownfield, with the four top places in each event eligible to compete in the Region 1-AA meet here April 24.

Amarillo, Tech Net Matches Scheduled

Amarillo Junior college's talent-packed tennis team, sparked by nationally ranked James Saunders and Dick Hardin, will invade the Texas Tech courts Wednesday afternoon for a nine-match tussle with the Red Raider netters, officials announced last night.

The program, tentatively slated to start at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, will include six singles and three doubles matches.

Saunders, former Amarillo schoolboy ace, won fourth place in the National Indoor tournament at New York recently and is rated as one of the top netters of the entire Southwest.

The Tech squad is paced by Jake Broyles, runner-up in Border conference singles competition last year, and veteran Glenn Ivy. Broyles and Ivy also gained the second place spot in loop doubles play in 1947.

LAMESA HITS FAIL TO WIN

Oilers Beat Lamesa, 6-5; Lobo-Colt Tussle Tonight

LAMESA, April 5 (Special)—Lamesa's Loboes of the West Texas-New Mexico league dropped an exhibition opener here Sunday to the Odessa Oilers of the Longhorn league, 6 to 5, before a crowd of 1,000 fans.

The Oilers grabbed the lead with a two-run spree in the fourth frame. The Loboes knotted the count at two-all with one tally each in the fifth and sixth innings. Odessa moved ahead, 4-2 in the seventh, but a three-run Lobo rally in that inning put Lamesa in the lead. Two Oiler tallies in the eighth iced the game for the visitors.

Play San Angelo

The Loboes will meet the San Angelo Colts of the Longhorn league in an exhibition tilt here at Lobo field tonight.

Lobo lefthander Chet Zara, who won 12 games and lost nine for Ballinger last season, will be on the mound for the Loboes, Manager George Sturdivant said. Colt Manager Robert "Pepper" Martin has not announced his starting pitcher.

Poor support afield was blamed for the Loboes' loss Sunday. Errors led to a pair of Odessa tallies off Righthander J. B. Garland and Southpaw Leon Hayes, starting Lobo chunkers. Righthander Cliff Haskins, last of three Lobo pitchers to see duty in Sunday's tussle, was charged with the loss. Oiler Righthander Faccio, who worked the first five frames, got credit for the win.

Lamesa's batting attack was led by Catcher Jack Wilcox with three singles. Oiler First Baseman Pardue paced the winners with a double and single.

The line score:

Odessa	000 200 220—6 7 1
Lamesa	000 011 300—5 11 3

Faccio, Epperson and Yeagle; Garland, Hayes, Haskins and Wilcox.

Byron (Santone) Townsend of Odessa turned in his usual great performances to cop high individual scoring honors in the Big Spring Relays last weekend, but rangy Bill Howton of Plainview proved the surprise of the West Texas track feature by winning the 120-yard high and 200-yard low hurdle events. Howton even established a new record of 15 seconds in the high hurdle race and defeated such stellar trackmen as "Legs" Edington of Abilene and Jimmy (The Bull) Patterson of Odessa.

The feat was especially notable since the Plainview athlete has been working out only a few weeks, with sandstorms, high winds and cold weather hampering most drill sessions. Howton's natural ability carried him through, however, and with five weeks remaining until the state meet he will have time to get into top condition before the all-important races for the schoolboy hurdle championships. Once in top condition, Howton should be one of the best high hurdlers in the state.

Jim Wilson, the Westerners' rangy sophomore, showed marked improvement at Big Spring as he copped fourth place in the high hurdle finals. Jim had never hurdled before this season, but he is fast developing into one of Lubbock High's best prospects. Jim's only trouble is in attempting to work out with both the baseball and cinder path squads.

The Springlake, nine is making a fine start this season, with victories over several area teams already on the win side of the ledger. Sparking the Springlake team are Kenneth Burgess. Cletis Clayon, Jack Angeley, Dwane Barret, Loyd Lowery, Junior Smith. Frances Maze, J. J. Barlow and Thurman Farris.

Cinder path squads from Kress, Happy, Nazarath, Cotton Center, Petersburg, Hart and Hale Center will vie for top honors in the district track and field meet scheduled at Hale Center Friday and Saturday. Officials report a near-record entry list for the meet, with half a dozen new records expected to be chalked up in the events. The host Hale Center squad is coached by Willard Hedges.

A giant school expansion program is underway at Odessa and the Bronco officials are boasting that the Odessa schoolboys will have the only cinder track in West Texas. Plans for a new football stadium with a seating capacity of 17,000 are being rushed, it is reported, and construction of a new gymnasium is underway. It looks like the Broncos' two trips to the state AA grid playoffs, (and the high income from the oil district), have been quite profitable for the Odessans.

TOMATO BOWL MEET SET

JACKSONVILLE, April 5 (AP)—Leading Texas schoolboy track and field performers will meet here Saturday in the Third Annual Tomato Bowl track and field meet. More than 30 schools from the East Texas, Dallas, Fort Worth and Beaumont areas are entered. Woodrow Wilson of Dallas is defending champion. Longview, winner of the Palestine Dogwood Relays last week, will be entered.

Bill Henderson And Kirkpatrick In Pro Fights On April 13

J. D. Kirkpatrick and Bill Henderson, Plains boxers who left here recently for New York City and professional boxing careers will engage in their first professional bout in Gotham on April 13, it was learned today.

The name of Kirkpatrick's and Henderson's opponents have not been revealed. Both fighters now reside at 698 Palisade avenue, Cliffside, N. J.

Local Softball Game Ends 0-0

Jackie Neel, ace hurler for the Bluebonnet-Sunbeam softball team, hurled a five-inning no-hit, no-run exhibition game yesterday afternoon at Jumbo Webster Field, but his efforts were nullified by no-run hurling on the part of Bobby Young of the Golden Light Coffee nine.

The two teams, evenly matched, had their scoring efforts halted both by Neel and Young and the weather. Floyd Lawhorn, Willis James and Roland Drake picked up scratchy singles, but Young kept the blows apart and they did no damage.

Thirteen Strikeouts

Only two batters reached base off Neel, one making it on an error and the other on a passed ball. The Sunbeam hurler had a total of 13 strikeouts, while Young put the K-mark against eight.

The line score:

Golden Light Coffee	0 0 0 0 0—0 0 0

Batteries — Neel and James; Young and Gilkerson.

State Department Rejects Application Of Max Schmeling For U. S. Exhibition Tour

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Rep. McDowell (R-Pa) said today the State department has turned thumbs down—for now, at least—on plans of Max Schmeling to return to the United States this summer for exhibition bouts.

McDowell, a member of the House un-American Activities committee, told reporters the former heavyweight champion's application for a visa has been turned down. McDowell protested against the application when Schmeling announced his plans in Germany several weeks ago.

A letter from H. J. L'Heureux, chief of the State department visa division, was made public by McDowell. It said U. S. consular officials in Germany can approve visas for only a limited group of select persons.

"As Mr. Schmeling does not appear to come within any of the categories," L'Heureux wrote, "there apparently is no action which may be taken at this time with a view to providing him with a visa for admission to the United States.

Schmeling, a Nazi paratrooper during the war, won the heavyweight title from Jack Sharkey on a foul, and lost it back to him by decision. He fought Joe Louis twice, knocking him out in 12 rounds the first time, and losing by a knockout in the first round of their second fight.

Davis And Blair Cop Skeet Shoot Honors

While most of the Lubbock Gun club members were out of town Sunday taking part in a registered shoot in New Mexico, the remaining members staged their own skeet and trap shoot at the gun club range here.

H. B. Davis and C. D. Blair each picked off 25-25 for 50 birds out of 50 shots for top scoring marks of the day, while Si Gooden hit 24-24 for 48 out of 50. Blair also compiled a 95 out of 100 mark on 22-25-25-23.

In trap shooting doubles only at 50 targets, Gooden topped other marksmen with 42 out of 25 pair.

Both Davis and Blair will receive brassards for their feat of hitting 50 straight birds in the skeet shooting.

Men taking part in the shoot Sunday, in addition to those named, were Dr. C. C. Mansell, Kirk Fulton, Joe D. Slaughter, R. J. Cramer, Zed Marcy, Pat Paterson, Hale Eubanks and W. H. George.

LONGHORN NETTERS WIN

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., April 5 (AP)—A sharpshooting University of Texas tennis team walloped the Arkansas Razorbacks, 6 to 0, in a Southwest conference meet here today. None of the matches was even close as the Longhorns' smashing drives kept the Porkers chasing all over the cement courts.

YANK HURLER WAIVED

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 5 (AP)—The New York Yankees today asked waivers on Spurgeon (Spud) Chandler, 39-year-old pitcher, for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release. The announcement was made by co-owner Dan Topping of the Yankees, while the club was in Haines City, Fla., for a game with its Newark, N. J. farm.

88 Candidates Report For Tech Grid Drills

Training Grind Will End May 3

The first call for spring football practice at Texas Tech yesterday afternoon was answered by 88 players, who donned football uniforms and spent a busy afternoon on calisthenics and fundamentals.

The squad, just about the same size as the one that reported to Coach Dell Morgan last spring, was filled with 21 lettermen, reserves from the 1947 varsity and freshman players, who this fall will be fighting for starting berths.

Conditioning Stressed

Nothing spectacular marked the opening drill, with emphasis on conditioning. A long period of calisthenics, designed to loosen stiff muscles, many of which have not been used since last fall, opened the program.

After some running, linemen and backs went into kicking and passing drills. Ike Stuver, Earl Jackson, Bill White, Garland Chessir, Bill Lyman and other backs particularly were used for kicking.

Most of the backs mentioned along with other candidates, also took turns in forward passing, with linemen serving as receivers. The initial passing was designed not so much for accuracy as for exercise.

Heavy Work Later

Later, to top off the first session, Ernest Hawkins and other backs ran a few plays with various teams working in rotation.

More conditioning is on tap for this afternoon, with no heavy work expected for several days. The drills will continue through May 3, probably ending with a practice encounter.

On hand to assist Coach Morgan were assistant coaches Polk Robison, Tipp Mooney, G. B. Morris and Billy Brown.

Eight Teams In Junior League

The South Plains Junior League was organized in a meeting of junior high school representatives at Lubbock High school Sunday afternoon.

The league will be composed of football, basketball and track teams from junior high schools in Levelland, Littlefield, Plainview, Lamesa, Brownfield, and three local schools, O. L. Slaton, Central and Hutchinson.

E. J. (Pinky) Lowrey, business manager for Lubbock schools, was elected league chairman. Carl M. Bailey, principal of Central school, was elected league secretary.

The league adopted a seven-game football schedule for 1948. Play will get underway Sept. 23 and continue through Nov. 4. A schedule for basketball and track will be arranged at a later date.

Representatives from all member schools attended the meeting with the exception of Lamesa and Brownfield. Both schools previously had indicated they would join the league. Bailey said Monday that possibly league activities would be expanded to include other sports, but arrangements for that have been deferred.

$5,000 Guarantee Posted For Rav Robinson Bout March 31

CHICAGO, April 5 (AP)—A certified check for $5,000 guaranteeing the April 21 boxing appearance here of Sugar Ray Robinson was posted today with the Illinois Athletic commission.

Robinson is scheduled to meet Georgia Abrams on that date at the International amphitheater. The welterweight champion previously was booked to face Abrams on March 31, but asked a postponement because of a hand injury and an Illinois boxing holiday.

Masters Links Record Is Safe

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5. (AP)—Speculation on the winning total in the 12th annual Masters Golf tournament starting here Thursday indicates that Ralph Guldahl's record 279 in 1939 is safe for at least another year.

A poll of most of the 50-odd expected to tee off in the $10,000 event ranged from 281 to 285 in most cases but Jimmie Demaret, the defending champion who won in 1940, guesses 280. He won with 280 the first time and had 281 last year.

Course Is Tough

With few exceptions, entrants have found the course tough thus far in practice rounds. Today's best recorded score was a five-under par 67 by Ben Hogan, who twice has been the runnerup here.

Skee Riegel, the national amateur champion, played 27 holes, doing the last 18 in 68. Bobby Locke, the South African star, posted a 69 and Henry Cotton, the British ace, said he has averaged "about 70 for the five or six rounds I've played."

An incident involving the participation of Frank Stranahan, who set a record low for amateurs of 283 in tying for second place last year, came to a head today.

Clifford Roberts, tournament chairman, handed out a written statement which said that Stranahan's invitation to play had been withdrawn because of "disregard of regulations made for the protection of the golf course and for the benefit of all players in the tournament."

4,800 Tickets Sold For Exhibition Tilt

The ticket sale for the New York Giants-Cleveland Indians game here Friday afternoon increased over the week end, with 4,800 tickets gone already.

Tickets, which can be obtained at the Hub Clothiers, will remain on sale through the morning of the game. If any are left at that time, they will be placed on sale at Sam Rosenthal Field. Meanwhile the Hubber management looked for a marked rise in ticket sales following announcement by R. J. Matthews, superintendent of schools, that school children would be allowed time off to go to the game.

Holders of box and season reserved seats will be given first choice at their seats after payment of the general admission fee of $1, while other fans will be seated in the grandstand and bleachers on a first come, first served basis. The overflow crowd will line the fences and the outfield.

Westerners Will Play Wednesday

Uniforms were issued Monday afternoon to 21 candidates for the Lubbock High school baseball team and Coach Fred Taylor announced that the Westerner nine will play a series of exhibition games, starting Wednesday, in preparation for the opening tussle of the District 1-AA title chase April 23.

The Westerner squad has been conducting workouts for about two weeks, but the drills have been hampered by unfavorable weather and conflicts with other school activities.

To Play Wednesday

The Lubbock High schoolboys will tangle with an independent Texas Tech nine Wednesday at the Chapman field diamond in the initial practice game, Taylor said, and another tilt may be carded Friday with an area team. Other games are being scheduled as rapidly as possible, it was reported.

Boys receiving uniforms Monday included Catchers Merle Burchett and Bill Wylie; Pitchers Denny Davidson, Jackie Martin, James Wilson and Morris Turner; First Basemen Dorrance Guy and Jesse Fullerton; Second Basemen Charles Galey and Jack Whitehead; Shortstops Billy Tatum and Jackie Cook; Third-sackers Bobby Griffin and Bob Brown; and Outfielders Jack Alderson, Bob Rooker, Jim Wilson, Royce Jones, Dwight Moore, Hubert Burgess and Jimmy Richards.

Westerner Schedule

The tentative Westerner District 1-AA schedule:

April 23—Lubbock at Borger
April 24—Lubbock at Amarillo
April 30—Borger at Lubbock
May 7—Lubbock at Pampa
May 15—Brownfield at Lubbock (night)
May 22—Plainview at Lubbock (night)
May 26—Lubbock at Brownfield
May 27—Lubbock at Plainview
May 29—Amarillo at Lubbock (night)
June 2—Pampa at Lubbock (night)

It is possible that several changes will be made in the schedule since the May 15 date conflicts with the 6-B regional tilt and the May 22 setto conflicts with a Hubber home tussle. All district games will be played in parks of West Texas-New Mexico league clubs where possible, officials have announced.

Plans Made For Plains Relays

Final plans for the first annual South Plains Relays, scheduled April 17 at the Texas Tech oval, were completed by officials of sponsoring organizations at a Monday night meeting in the offices of the City Recreation department.

First preliminary event is scheduled at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, April 17, with the finals at 1:30 o'clock that afternoon.

Large Field Expected

A full slate of events, except the 200-yard low hurdles and mile run, will be unreeled, with the 880-yard relay and medley relay taking the places of the two races to be dropped from the program.

A huge field of cinder path specialists from the entire West Texas and Eastern New Mexico areas is expected to enter the relays, with Odessa's Byron (Santone) Townsend, Pampa's Carl (Red) Mayes, Big Spring's Leon Lepard and Lubbock's Jim Johnson heading the list of probable individual performers.

Entries from Amarillo, White Deer and Hobbs, N.M., have been received and numerous other schools have indicated that they plan to send teams.

The South Plains Relays are sponsored by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, City Recreation Department, Texas Technological college and the Lubbock public schools.

Descendants of Negro slaves and American Indians live along the rivers of Dutch Guiana, primarily engaged in logging and collecting balata, a base for chewing gum.

Giants' Mound Staff Vexes Ott

If local fans detect a furrowed brow on the countenance of one Mr. Mel Ott, the New York Giants' manager, when he and his club arrive here Friday for an exhibition game with the Cleveland Indians, it might be due to the fact that Mel is not a little worried over his club's lack of pitching strength.

The Giants have hitters galore, as the above photograph illustrates. Competent observers say the Giants could take the NL pennant if they had a capable mound staff.

STUDENTS MAY ATTEND

Supt. R. W. Matthews announced Monday that any student who brings a written excuse from his parents to his teacher by Thursday will be excused to attend the New York Giants-Cleveland Indians baseball exhibition at Rosenthal Field Friday afternoon. The written excuses must be in the hands of the teachers by Thursday, it was emphasized.

Last year the Giants virtually rewrote the major league slugging records, and Buddy Kerr set a new defensive mark at shortstop. Yet, the club finished fourth and never was a factor after Aug. 1. In fact, the Giants in 1947 put on a display of power that hasn't been seen since the old Yankees of the Babe Ruth-Lou Gehrig era.

Patently, something was wrong somewhere. Mel Ott will tell you it was the lack of pitching strength.

Unless Master Melvin, who no longer is the Boy Wonder but instead sees himself approaching 40 through heavy, horn-rimmed spectacles, can buttress his pitching, the Giants might go on slapping their way to nowhere.

Local fans can judge the situation for themselves come 3 o'clock Friday afternoon at Rosenthal field. There, the Giants swing into a full-fledged tussle with the Cleveland Indians. And, the Indians might put Bob Feller on the mound, which ought to furnish fans their money's worth.

It has not been announced who will take the mound for the Giants in Friday's tussle. It's probable that the Giants as well as the Indiams will use more than one hurler as is the practice in exhibition games.

Ott has the beginnings of what he needs in Larry Jansen, who came up from San Francisco last year to become a 21-game winner.

Dave Koslo was the only other Giant pitcher whose victories were posted in double figures. The lefthander won 15, lost 10. Koslo, like the Giants hurling staff, is as full of question marks as a quiz show. Poor Koslo last year fell heir to chips in his elbow which necessitated an operation, and it is yet to be learned whether or not he will perform well this year.

Monty Kennedy is another starter upon whom Ott undoubtedly will heavily rely. This southpaw had a 9-12 finish last year. He was hurt last year by a dine drive. He keeps getting hurt. That's another reason for Ott's furrowed brow.

Man Faces New Liquor Charges

V. L. Haley, 38, of a mile south of Abernathy, was charged in four liquor law cases Monday, but had entered no plea in any of them late in the day, officials said.

He was charged in two cases Saturday, and County Judge Walter Davies assessed a fine of $100 and 30 days in county jail in one case in which a plea of guilty was entered.

Numerous other charges had been filed, but only seven pleas of guilty had been entered.

Two Drivers Fined

Clifton Melvin Holland, 32, of Lubbock, J. Ted Williams, about 37, of Slaton, and Doyle William Carton, 24, of Lubbock, each was fined $25 and costs on charges of driving while license was suspended. Their suspension time was increased by six months each.

Williams, in addition, was fined $1 and costs on a charge of violation of the uniform act regulating traffic on highways. Specifically, he was accused of having failed to stop before passing a school bus that had halted to discharge passengers.

There were two persons fined $50 and costs each on drunk driving charges. They were Hipolito T. Dominguez, 34, a Dallas Mexican who drove his car into the North Ave. H underpass and struck a center pier, and David Ellis Brewer, 24, of Lubbock route 6.

James Brown, 27, a negro, was fined $200 and court costs for liquor law violation. Officials said he had almost 50 cases of beer in his car when arrested.

Others charged had not entered pleas, Tom Gordon said.

Three Bicycles Stolen

Theft of three bicycles was reported to city police Monday.

A maroon bike valued at $50 was stolen from Bobby Ray, of 3011 Thirty-first. The property was taken from 1011 Main street.

Mrs. Earl Davenport, of 1721 Twenty-sixth, reported theft of a red Admiral bike valued at $40. Another bicycle was stolen from David Sarton, of 708 Third, records showed.

Additional thefts of valuable property from the B. B. Christie farm on Lubbock route 3—perhaps by persons who appropriated it for sale as junk—was reported over the weekend to the sheriff's department.

Christie said an iron-wheel wagon, a mattress, a single row lister and cultivator were taken there last week. He listed other property taken in the "last 10 days": A day bed, a big wood kitchen range, and a big load of two-inch pipe that had been driven in the ground with a sledge hammer.

Caught Three Boys

Christie said he had "caught" three boys at his farm last Monday in a "practically new truck that was loaded with scrap iron." He questioned them and told officers the name one gave him.

Sheriff Grady Harrist and Dep. Sheriff Frank Mitchell returned Walter Rudolph Thomas, 24 of Ore City, Texas, from north of Lockney over the weekend, to confront him with a felony swindling complaint. The arrest was by a Petersburg deputy sheriff, north of Lockeny, Lubbock officers said. A check for approximately $94 was basis for the complaint. It had bene made payable to Dunlap's, officials said.

J. E. Orr of 1509 Twenty-seventh asked police to investigate a hit-run incident. He gave description of a car that struck his automobile on South Ave. H and failed to stop.

Theft of two hub caps from his car was reported by Douglas Reeves of 1520 Ave. K.

baker was going to get away, he said that he shot at the men six times between Twenty-seventh and Thirtieth on Ave. X, with three heads ducking each time. One bullet hole was found just below the left tail light at the scene of the wreck, indicating the men were apparently not wounded.

A barricade on a road under construction in the 2100 block of Ave. X was knocked to smithereens, Lassiter said.

The men came to a dead end at Thirty-fourth, but this didn't stop them. They plowed through the fence and the field onto Thirty-fifth. There they took on a second barbed-wire fence and a second field.

The men had turned off their lights when the shooting began, and Lassiter said that he was just following the dust clouds.

Lassiter said that "it was the wildest ride I've ever been on." It was so wild in fact that Lassiter retraced the chase route to see where he had been.

There was a ditch-digging machine as big as a caterpillar straddle a ditch in the middle of Ave. X, and Lassiter didn't recall seeing that. Also there were several flare lights along the road which made the obstacle course complete, but the patrolman said that he didn't remember passing any of them. He did recall, however, crashing some kind of a barricade and at least two fences.

Two Persons Die, Four Injured In Texas Automobile Accident

STEPHENVILLE, Tex., April 5 (AP)—Two persons were fatally injured Sunday in a collision on U. S. highway 281, about seven miles northwest of Hico, Texas. Four others were hurt.

The dead were: Pvt. Donald M. Driver of Carswell Air base, Fort Worth, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Johnny Driver of Hico, Tex.

Injured were Mrs. Donald Driver and Johnny Driver, who were taken to a Hico hospital, and John Engler and Glen Mefford, both of Stephenville, who were given emergency treatment at a Stephenville hospital.

Strike Violence

Guire's temporary restraining order also requires both the union and the mine owners to get together on a solution of their dispute.

This is the agreement that led to the walkout on March 15. It is their argument over a way to pay miners' pensions from a $32,000,000 welfare fund raised by 10-cent tonnage royalty payments on coal production.

To satisfy Judge McGuire's order, either Lewis or the mine operators must take the first step to get negotiations started.

Deputy U. S. marshals spent a busy morning serving official copies of the court order on Lewis and mine owner representatives. They gave Lewis his copy at 10:22 a. m. (CST) at UMW headquarters.

Pilots Picket

Lewis had arrived a few minutes earlier. When reporters asked about the court's directive, Lewis replied: "No comment."

Lewis was busy with his attorneys most of the day. The coal operators went into a huddle of their own to determine their response to the court's instructions.

Other labor developments included:

Washington—Striking pilots of National Airlines brought their "aerial picketing" to Washington with smoke-writing and banner-towing planes. Such demonstrations have been hitherto confined to Miami, Fla., National's headquarters. The pilots struck Feb. 3 over a two-year-old dispute between the company and the AFL Air Line Pilots association.

Picket Is Shot

Omaha, Neb.—The first violence of the three-week strike of 100,000 CIO United Packinghouse Workers against major meat packers left one picket wounded by a pistol bullet. Picket Captain Jesse Foster was wounded in the thigh when he attempted to prevent a woman employe from entering Armour's plant. Witnesses said the woman's husband, himself a striking employe of the Swift plant, fired the shot.

In New York City the strike of AFL Financial employes entered its second week. About 500 workers were involved in the strike for higher wages against the stock and curb exchanges.

Also in New York, some 4,200 AFL International Typographical union workers were to return to work Tuesday. The printers, employed by about 250 magazines and job shops, struck over wage increases. They return under an agreement that the issue is to be negotiated.

plan and they let it get away," he declared. Then he asked:

"What have you done for your community lately? What have you done or are doing for the lads who are born today? Will there be a place for them in Post when they grow up?

"Geographically, Texas is on the road to Latin-America and it is growing rapidly," he declared. "Why there are towns in West Texas which have doubled in population in the past few years.

"A community has the choice of being a part of that growth or it can stand still, and when it does, it starts going backwards.

"Changes come by men who progress a little at a time and a community is built by men and women who lose a little bit of their selfishness and start thinking about those of the future."

Energy Makes Community

He declared that foresight, courage and energy were the forces which went into the building of a community and that faith must be matched with funds if much progress is made.

Prior to his talk, Sherrill Boyd, secretary of the chamber of commerce, outlined briefly projects the organization would lend its efforts to within the coming year. They included farm-to-market roads, boys and girls club work, a hospital project, more sewers, water system, lights, revival of Two-Draw lake and the staging of boys' camp.

James Minor, retiring president, was master of ceremonies at the banquet, held on the second floor of the City hall and attended by approximately 100 persons, including visitors from over the area.

Invocation was given by Dr. David H. Templeton. Miss Sue Brister sang two songs, accompanied at the piano by Merle Jenkins, Post High school band director, who played several piano selections.

In an annual election, W. S. Land, Alton Carr, Lowell Short and Dowe Mayfield were elected new directors. Holdover directors are: Minor, Dr. Glenn Kahler and Clint Herring.

Visitors at the banquet included Mrs. Downing, also of Midland; Bill Teal and Bill McKinney, Brownfield; Mr. and Mrs. Wynne Collier, Clint Walker and Winston Whorton, Tahoka; Verne Childress, Abilene; Kilmer Corbin, Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. John Sims and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Strickland, jr., Slaton and Mrs. C. W. Ratliff, Lubbock.

Legion Auxiliary Votes To Contribute $250 To Funds

The American Legion Auxiliary, in a regular business session last night at the Legion hall, heard a discussion of Pan American Relations and Child Welfare work, then voted to contribute funds to two projects under direction of the state department at Austin.

Mitchell of 2115 Twenty-third street, sustained a fractured knee as a result of a collision with an automobile at Twenty-fifth and Ave. V about 5:30 p. m. Monday. Miss Mitchell was riding on a motor scooter driven by Bill Ingin, of 2411 Twenty-fifth, when the accident occurred.

Ingin was going south on Ave. V and attempting to make a right turn onto Twenty-fifth when he lost control of the scooter, police reported. As a result the vehicle slid under the left side of a car driven by Mrs. Wanda R. Taylor, of 2304 Ave. V, who had slowed at the intersection before making a turn onto Ave. V.

Mrs. Patterson was taken to West Texas hospital by Plains Funeral home ambulance. She was treated for shock and dismissed.

Texan May Get Cabinet Post

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 5 — A Texan from El Paso is among those mentioned as a possible successor to Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson.

He is Jess Gilmer, present head of the Agricultur department's production and marketing administration.

Anderson has said he will quit the cabinet and return to New Mexico to run for the U. S. Senate. Senator Carl Hatch (D-NM), whose 6-year term expires next Jan. 3, expects to be named a federal judge and is not seeking reelection.

Texas Shipments Stopped

Gilmer was born and reared in Rock Springs and, after attending New Mexico A. and M. college, settled on a ranch near Alpine. Later he moved to El Paso. Four years ago he came to Washington as assistant administrator of the Farm Security administration and later went with the Commodity Credit corporation.

He is married and lives with his wife and two daughters, Adele, 7, and Terese, 10, in Farlington, the big apartment development in Arlington county, Va., recently purchased by Dallas interests.

Around the capital:

Shipment of fresh fruits and vegetables from Texas to Canada have been stopped by the Canadian government's new ban on imports, a move to save their dollar exchange.

Austin Anson of Harlingen, manager of the Fresh Fruits and Vegetable Growers Association of Texas, has been here conferring with Canadian officials. He hopes that within the next few days there will be a relaxing of the embargo.

Love Cost High

What is happening, says Anson, is that Canadian buyers are turning to Italy for lemons, Egypt and Chile for onions, Mexico for citrus fruits and tomatoes, and he adds, they're spending dollars in the transaction.

Thousands of carloads of Texas citrus fruits may rot on the trees for the lack of a market, he says, and adds that the value of tomatoes shipped from Texas to Canada last May had a value of almost $1,000,000.

Telegrams pour into Washington by the thousands daily, so typographical errors can be expected.

From San Benito, Senator Tom Connally received this wire, signed by postal employes who asked his support for the postal pay raise bill:

"Please assert the prestige of your office in behalf of these men and enable us to cope with the high cost of living."

vention in the same voting. There is no fight on President Truman as the nominee.

Elsewhere, President Truman got welcome support from Jersey City's former Mayor Frank Hague.

Hague, vice chairman of the Democratic national committee, sent letters to 4,000 New Jersey committeemen saying:

"We are fortunate in having an outstanding candidate for the presidency, Harry S. Truman."

Taylor Heckled

Hague's action, seemed to reflect the New Jersey organization view. It may have widespread effect elsewhere in offsetting the trend of big city groups away from Mr. Truman's candidacy.

It probably will claim some attention at a 11-state meeting of Democratic officials at Des Moines April 11. Jake Moore, Iowa state chairman, said the meeting will try to mobilize strength behind Mr. Truman.

An attack on the President's foreign policies by Senator Glen H. Taylor of Idaho, Henry Wallace's third party running mate, drew heckling at Logan, W. Va.

Big Four Deputies

gan negotiations nearly eight weeks ago. The oil claims are part of the Soviet Union's demands for compensation from Austria in return for surrendering former German property on Austrian soil which the Russians claim under the Postdam agreement.

Subject to a final accord, the deputies decided that Russia should receive:

1—Control for 30 years over Austrian oil wells capable of producing between 58 and 60 percent of Austria's present output. The Russians had sought two-thirds of Austria's oil production for 50 years.

2—The right to explore undeveloped Austrian fields for eight years with authority to exploit for 25 years such new wells as are discovered. Russia had asked for a 50-year grant.

3—Outright ownership of refineries capable of producing 420,000 tons of oil a year. This was a United States proposal. Russia had sought a capacity of 450,000 tons.

4—Retention of oil distribution facilities now under Soviet control in eastern Austria.

Baruch opposed any veto on atomic punishments. He said the U. S. would dispose of its atomic bombs whenever adequate controls were established.

The deadlock has continued along those fundamental lines in the months since those first two meetings.

Water Session Set At Abilene

ABILENE, April 5 (Special)—Technical discussion of the West Texas domestic water supply by a group of engineers will get under way today in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce office here.

The meeting was called by Homer A. Hunter, consulting engineer for the West Texas organization. Attending the meeting will be representatives of public utilities companies serving towns of the West Texas area. Also to be present will be Judge C. E. Coombes of Stamford who has been engaged as legal councellor to assist municipalties to make preliminary plans and surveys for a suggested municipal water supply to meet present and growing needs.

This meeting follows the acceptance of a program outlined last week by the officers' committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce as proposed by General Manager D. A. Bandeen. The meeting will develop the formula that West Texas towns should provide a water supply equal to 1,000 acre feet per 1,000 population.

Following the meeting Tuesday, notices will be sent to all city and Chamber of Commerce officials offering the services of this engineering board to assist in preliminary surveys.

Painting, Decorating Group Hears Talk By Arizona Man

Fred Ingram, Tucson, Ariz., paint company representative, was principal speaker at the monthly dinner meeting of the Lubbock chapter of the Painting and Decorating Contractors of America and its associates last night.

Doyle Jordan, Lubbock paint company employe, was in charge of the program in which Ingram spoke on an illustrated wood graining, which he described as nearly a "lost art" in many sections of the country. Members of the organization made sample panels following his illustrated talk. Journeymen painters were special guests for the session.

Paul Graham, paint dealer, will be in charge of the next meeting of the organization to be held the first Monday in May. Ray McDaniel is president of the local chapter.

LUBBOCK MAN NAMED

FORT WORTH, April 5 (AP)—The nine districts of the Southwestern Photographers association elected directors in an annual convention meeting here today. Named were: Jack Rodden, Roswell, N. M. Harold Woolwine, Enid, Okla.; Sam Fausett, Conway, Ark.; Lee Webb, Houma, La.; Winston Reeves, Lubbock; Bob Abey, Fort Worth; Melvin T. Howse, Commerce; Lloyd Baker, Beaumont; and Charles F. Holbrook, Harlingen.

Area Elections

bers Don Emory and F. T. McCollum. No other candidates formally filed for the positions.

At Crosbyton, one of the "hot spots" in the election picture, Mayor J. D. Tussy, present incumbent, is opposed by Jack Arthur. Four new candidates for the two open city commission posts has added to the warmth of the campaign. Commission candidates are R. C. Ellison, A. F. Stephens, W. E. (Ed) Wren, and J. W. Carter. The major issue in the city campaign has been over whether the city should own the light and power plant.

Record Vote Expected

An upheaval in city politics a few weeks ago increased the intensity of the political campaigning at Brownfield where Mayor Frank Jordan, seeking a second term, is opposed by Tom May. Three men are opposing incumbent councilmen for places in the city government. C. C. Primm and Henry Chisolm are seeking re-election to the council with Wayland (Monk) Parker, Thomas D. Zorns and Henry Cargill also in the race. A. R. (Andy) Brock is unopposed for city marshal, and no one filed for the city secretary's post. A record vote is expected.

Other towns where city slates will be selected are Lorenzo, Abernathy, Plainview, Seminole, Slaton, Morton, Tahoka, Ralls, Hale Center, Petersburg, Sudan, Lockney and Muleshoe.

Egyptian Riots

capital tomorrow.

The strike resulted in demands from opposition quarters that Prime Minister Nokrashy Pasha resign. The police asked higher pay and better working conditions.

Nokrashy Pasha supplemented the government ultimatum with a special warning to non-commissioned police in Alexandria. He said military tribunals would try those who urged participation in the rioting.

Troops were called out when the police struck. Seven police strikers and 13 civilians died as the soldiers' guns blazed during the day. Official tabulations showed 40 persons seriously wounded.

Silence Grips City

Nokrashy Pasha hurried here by plane from Cairo, but was unable to persuade police representatives to meet with him to discuss mediation.

He returned to Cairo and called a special night meeting of his cabinet. The ultimatum resulted.

Tonight an eerie silence envoloped this city of approximately 700,000 population, second largest in Egypt. Telephone service was disrupted. Road and railway communications were at a standstill and the busy seaport area was virtually paralyzed.

Truman's Connections With Old Pendergast Machine Criticised

WASHINGTON, April 5 (U.P.)—President Truman's connections with the Pendergast political organization in Kansas City came under new criticism today by the federal prosecutor who once crippled the machine.

Maurice M. Milligan, former U. S. district attorney at Kansas City, described the Truman-Pendergast alliance as "one of the most bizarre on record."

Writing in a newly-published book "Missouri Waltz" Milligan said:

"The saga of the saloon keeper who rose to wealth and power, and the farm boy who became President, is stranger than fiction.

Matter Of Luck

"Looking back on the careers of the two men, one cannot escape the conviction that Tom had most of the genius and Harry most of the luck."

Milligan served as U. S. attorney for the western district of Missouri from 1934 until 1945. During that period he sent 259 persons to jail on vote fraud charges and obtained an income tax conviction against Pendergast.

The Truman-Pendergast relationship began in 1922 when Mr. Truman was elected a county judge. It continued until Pendergast died, after completing his income tax prison term, in January, 1945. Mr. Truman, then vice president, attended the funeral.

Milligan described Pendergast as "a tough, hard-fisted boss in Kansas City with a huge income from shady as well as legitimate sources, an invincible political organization under his thumb, and a trusted gang of henchmen ready to do his bidding."

Tie-Up Is Puzzle

He described Mr. Truman as a farmer and road overseer who "seated on a road grader behind Missouri mules—could skin a culvert with the best of them."

"The question arises why a man like Pendergast would choose an honest farmer like Truman to run for office on the Pendergast ticket," Milligan said.

"Knowing Truman and knowing Pendergast, it is difficult to understand why they joined forces. Some are of the opinion that the boss wanted an honest facade on his political edifice in order to cover up what went on behind it. He often boasted of putting good men in office.

"Harry Truman was impressed with Tom Pendergast's personality. He stood in awe of him . . . Tom Pendergast was one of the first political 'big shots' Truman had met . . ."

New Charges Made

When the elder Pendergast died, Milligan wrote, Mr. Truman "simply transferred his devotion and allegiance to James M. Pendergast, a nephew of the boss and heir to the Pendergast political dynasty."

Milligan said some readers probably will think he is working off a grudge because President Truman beat him for the Democratic senatorial nomination in 1940. He said the book was written because the Pendergast machine is making a new bid for power, with Mr. Truman's blessings, amid new charges of vote frauds.

Milligan referred to the 1946 election contest in which Mr. Truman and James Pendergast successfully opposed the bid of Rep. Roger Slaughter of Kansas City. Out of the election grew charges of wholesale vote frauds and the theft of some impounded ballots from the Kansas City courthouse.

"When you have put your best into a fight against a corrupt machine like Tom Pendergast's, you cannot fold your hands and sit idly by when you see the blatant beast raising its head again," Milligan wrote. "This book is my small contribution to the new fight."

Milligan recalled that in 1944, in response to an inquiry, he said that through all of his Kansas City investigations "at no time did the finger of suspicion ever point in the direction of Senator Truman."

Subsequent events, he said, "make me wonder whether I was right in issuing a clean bill of health . . . Because of what has been permitted to happen in Missouri between 1944 and 1947, neither I nor any citizen has the right to extend the benefit of a doubt."

Attendance At Baptist Churches In Area Sunday Is Reported

Lubbock Baptist Pastors conference attended a weekly luncheon Monday in Hotel Lubbock, with members reporting Sunday attendance in eight churches of 3,728 in Sunday school and 1,433 in Training union. Forty-one additions to membership were reported.

Of the additions, 23 were by letter and 18 by baptism. Churches reporting figures were Calvary, Thirty-fourth Street, College avenue, Arnett-Benson, Southside, Parkdale, First and Myrtle Drive Baptist churches. Dr. J. Ralph Grant, president of the organization, presided at the luncheon.

Attorney Speaks For UMT At Junior Chamber Luncheon

An address in support of universal military training, in connection with local observance of Army week, was given by Robert Howard, Lubbock attorney, at the luncheon of Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday at Hilton hotel.

Asher Thompson was presented the "Man of the Month" award for March.

Howard reviewed briefly the proposed military training legislation and various phases of the program. At the close of his talk, he urged Jaycees to express their opinions on the program, regardless of how they felt, in letters to their congressman. James Morris was program chairman and introduced Howard.

Haskell Taylor, member of the Texas Tech faculty, made the presentation of the award to Thompson for his activities as chairman of the Jaycees inter-club relations committee.

Noel Johnson and Harold Hodges of Abernathy, and Bob Brown of Phoenix, Ariz., were out-of-town visitors at the luncheon.

Textile Mills Report Trend Toward Output Of Cheaper Goods, But Prices Still High

By SAM DAWSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 5—The cotton textile men report a decided shift toward the output of cheaper goods. But they say that old-time favorite, the $2.98 house dress, has gone the way of all inflation.

The mills hope for a revival of cotton finished goods sales soon. They base this on last week's spurt in sale of cotton gray cloth, rough, unfinished fabric. And they see some hope for more exports later in the year when ERP funds are available.

Outlook Is Dark

However, many mills are expecting within a month to cut output. They say the current lull in export orders and growing foreign competition, particularly from Japanese and German looms, make the world outlook gloomy for American mill..

Textile looms now being operated on average of two and one-half shifts a day will be cut down to less than two shifts by May 15, these mills say.

Total exports last year amounted to one and a half billion yards. Mill men say this may be cut by 50 percent this year. They point to congressional action in approving funds to finance the revival of the Japanese textile industry, and say they are already losing orders abroad to German mills.

Higher priced cotton goods are beginning to back up on the market, the trade reports. More and more mills are turning looms to lower end goods. Production of bed sheets with lower-fiber count, and denims and corduroys is being increased at the expense of finer cloths.

In spite of this shift at the mills, the $2.98 house dress is an impossibility at the present time, the house dress institute reports after a study of this specific problem.

Reasons: Piece goods costs are higher than a year ago; a labor pay hike last fall is to be followed by another shortly; and the demand for longer skirts means the use of more cloth in a dress.

The institute reports that last year only 7 percent of house dresses were made to sell under $23 a dozen wholesale. This will shrivel to zero soon, the institute says.

Three Persons Killed In Plane Collision

CIRCLEVILLE, O., April 5 (AP)—Three persons perished yesterday when two private planes collided over downtown Circleville. Two victims were partners in an auto agency, while the third was the wife of the town's airport manager.

The victims: Mrs. Robert Swift, 30; Jack Moats, 21, and Virgil Newman, 40.

Witnesses said the planes met head-on about 1,400 feet above ground. Newman piloted one plane, with Moats as passenger. It fell in flames on railroad tracks at the south edge of town.

Mrs. Swift's plane crashed without burning in the backyard of a residence. She was described as a veteran flier.

Crow Is Substitute For Mary's Lamb In School Antics

VANCOUVER, Wash., April 5 (AP)—Mary's little lamb could be tied at home, but black Billy Crow is so persistent he should get a report card from Washington grade school.

He comes to class every school day.

Principal Elsie Johnson wishes Billy would play hookey. He clowns on the window sills, heckles any chasers from a rooftop refuge and usually manages to get inside once, twice, or many times a day.

His home room is the fourth grade class. There he is near Patsy Rancore, his owner. But he wanders around the building when shut out of there.

"Imagine trying to get class attention on arithmetic," says Miss Louise Barter, the teacher, "when a crow is a visitor."

If a ventilating window is open slightly, Billy's ebony head goes inside—and his cawing is a recital of his scorn.

If a window is open wide, he walks in. Small bits of chalk, crayon and bright paper are rare items inside the building. But Miss Johnson figures Billy could supply a class for a year with loot cached in the rain gutters.

His second favorite class is music. If the pupils are playing instruments or singing, his antics are critical. The teacher there now stacks the music when class is dismissed.

After one of the crow's visits, an orchestration was minus all black notes. Billy had pecked holes in the scores, presumably mistaking each black note for an edible bug.

LAND BRINGS $70,000 HERE

Sale Of School Land Emphasizes Increase In Property Values

Final papers were signed here yesterday in the sale of the Avenue Q end of the old Central Ward school property and thereby hangs a tale of skyrocketing real estate values in Lubbock.

In selling the property at Avenue Q and Fourteenth street to the American State bank and the MJM corporation for $70,000, Lubbock Independent School district got seven times as much as it would have gotten had a previous sale gone through—and an extra $1,000 to boot!

Had Been Sold

Here's what happened:

In 1929, the school district agreed to sell the Fourteenth and Avenue Q end of Central ward's grounds—a lot fronting 138 feet on Q and extending eastward 180 feet—to the First Christian church for a total consideration of $10,000. A down payment of $1,000 was accepted, the balance being due in later maturing notes.

When the first note became due, the church decided it didn't want the property and agreed to forget the $1,000 down payment if released from the notes. This the board of trustees of the school district agreed to and the property was held until the $70,000 sale was completed yesterday.

Land Sold To Store

Completion of the sale of the Avenue Q frontage gave the school district a sum in excess of a quarter million dollars for the old Central ward property, which became inadvisable for school uses as the city's growth pushed residential areas away and business concerns moved in.

Major part of the property, facing on Thirteenth street, was sold to Sears, Roebuck & Co., for the latter concern's new store, for $176,000.

In the deal the school district was permitted also to receive money from salvage from the ancient building, which totaled $3,500.

In addition, the school district kept all plumbing and heating fixtures; all doors and window frames and some electrical units which it used in other buildings.

'Payment' Is Made On Courthouse Bonds

A $5,000 cashier's check of the Dallas National bank was delivered Monday to County Judge Walter Davies "as evidence of good faith" in purchase of $250,000 in Lubbock county courthouse and jail bonds.

There was a notation in an accompanying letter that "this check may be used as part payment for the bonds."

The bank earlier had written that it would be released to make payment to the county in acceptable funds "when delivery of the bonds is made to us, with proper approving legal opinion accompanying."

Further discussion of the problem of whether now is the time to construct a new courthouse with $1,250,000 — $1,000,000 in bonds having been previously marketed —is expected to come up at next Monday's regular business meeting of the county commissioners court.

Commissioners held a routine special business meeting Monday in connection with the presentation of the check from the Dallas bank.

Cross Plains Woman Drowns In Lake Brownwood Sunday

BROWNWOOD, April 5 (U.P.)—The body of Mrs. Lois Bush, 36, of Cross Plains, Tex., was pulled from Lake Brownwood last night.

Mrs. Bush had fallen into the water when the boat in which she, her husband and a nephew were riding overturned and sank. Mrs. Bush could not swim. The boat capsized 30 feet from shore.

"ARMY DAY" COMES AROUND AGAIN—Celebration of "Army Day" takes on a new significance today with war clouds making their appearance in a troubled world and the United States again making preparations for defense. An Avalanche staff photographer went over to the Lubbock Army Recruiting office Monday and came back with the above Army Day pictures. The young man in the series is Edwin Farmer of Borger, who served four years in the Field Artillery in World war II, eight months of which were in the Aleutian Islands. A second lieutenant before his resignation from a commission, Farmer is going back into the Army as a technical sergeant. He is married and has one son and has been working as a shoe salesman at Borger the past six months. In the first picture, left, Farmer is shown in his initial interview with Sgt. L. D. Green, right, of the recruiting staff. In the second picture Lt. G. K. Patton, center, medical examiner, is giving Farmer a physical check-up while M-Sgt. H. Ehardt, left, himself a 28-year man in the Army, takes down notes. In the third picture, Sgt. Ross Dockray, left, is taking Farmer's fingerprints for his Army records. In the final picture to the right, Farmer is sworn into the Army again by Maj. Harold Fulghum, commanding officer of the recruiting office, as Mrs. Blanche Lanier, clerk in the office, looks on. Hale Well Continues To Show Promise

General American Oil Co., No. 1 A. F. Byrd, southeast Hale county re-worked abandoned wildcat, about three miles north of Petersburg, was credited by unofficial sources Monday to be swabbing at an estimated rate of between 25 and 30 barrels of oil per hour, after the third stage acid treatment of 6,000 gallons.

The well is operating over a plugged - back total depth of 5,906 feet. It washed the perforations at 5,935-95 feet with 500 gallons of acid, and then treated that section with 1,000 gallons of acid.

After the load and residue from that injection had been swabbed out the venture is reported to have swabbed at the rate of 16½ barrels of 40 gravity oil, and no water, for several hours.

The 6,000-gallon shot was then pumped in and after the residue had been swabbed out, it was reported to have been making 25 and 30 barrels of oil per hour. It was said that no water has yet been developed, and that most of the fluid recovered as pipeline oil.

The project is reported to have made a ten-minute head after the first acid treatment. Informed sources said that the well will not yet flow, but that the oil is following the swab out each time the instrument is pulled.

Water Group Joins In Demo 'Revolt'

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 5.—Texas opposition to President Truman took a new tack today at a meeting of directors of the State Water Conservation association.

General Manager J. E. Sturrock told the board he was voting Republican in November for the sole purpose of getting rid of Interior Secretary Julius Krug.

President Guy C. Jackson of Anahuac said that all Texas has been able to get from the Interior department's bureau of reclamation is "double talk and tricky actions."

Change Is Talked

While the big and powerful water conservation association's directors took no formal cognizance of Sturrock's statement, no objections were voiced. Several board members indicated their approval of Sturrock's and Jackson's sharply-worded criticism of reclamation policies affecting Texas.

The water conservation association and the Interior department have long been at odds on a number of issues, principally on the association's demand that the 160-acre farm size limitation on reclamation projects not apply to Texas rice-growing areas. This was the first openly-political turn the fight has taken.

Sturrock said he had been told by a number of western leaders in Washington that there was lots of talk of a change in the White House and that was the only way changes could be brought about in Interior department personnel.

PROVISIONS OF LAW GIVEN

No Outstanding Basic Changes Noted In New Rent Control Law

There are very few basic changes, and no automatic revisions in rent ceilings under the new rent control regulations which went into effect on April 1 for a period of one year, according to Roy B. Carnes, area rent director here, who yesterday received interpetation of new phases of the law fom the Washington office of Tighe E. Woods, national housing expediter.

For most tenants maximum rents under the new law are the same as those in effect on June 30, 1947. Only exceptions are properties affected by a lease agreement which allows an increase of 15 per cent, and properties where the local rent office has issued an individual adjustment order or where the housing expediter has approved a general increase in rent levels in a rent area or portion of an area on recommendation of a local rent advisory board.

Protection Is Assured

About ten per cent of residential rent properties over the nation are involved in the 15 per cent lease agreement plan, Woods has said.

Tenants who signed leases on or before last Dec. 31 agreeing to the 15 per cent increase are protected by those leases which must run at least through next December 31, and if they expire before March 31, 1949, the new law protects them through that date, now set under the law as termination date for controls, Carnes said.

Tenants who have not signed voluntary lease increases are protected for the life of the Housing and Rent act, through March 31 of next year.

The new law permits lease agreements if they are entered into voluntarily and in good faith on or before Dec. 31 of this year, and expire on or after Dec. 31, 1949, at a maximum rent not more than 15 per cent above what the ceiling would have been on last March 30. Copy of lease must be filed with the local rent office within 15 days after execution.

Controls In Effect

Signing of such a lease removes the property from further controls, but in the case of older leases, if the contract expires before March 31, 1949, the property reverts to rent control.

One of the principal changes in the law is the broadening of enforcement power. The control office now is authorized to seek injunctive relief against all violations and evasions, whereas previously this was limited to action against overcharges.

The tenant still has the right to sue for up to three times the amount of overcharges, plus costs and reasonable attorney's fees.

Decontrol provisions are slightly liberalized. Changes provide for exemption from controls of new construction between Feb. 1, 1945 and Feb. 1, 1947, if the property remained unrented prior to June 30, 1947. Also exempted are non-housekeeping furnished rooms in private homes where there are no more than two paying guests.

Exceptions Are Noted

Other properties not subject to controls are: accomodations in hotels, motor courts and tourist homes serving transient guests exclusively, trailers or trailer spaces, housing which had not been rented for any successive 24 - month period from Feb. 1, 1945 to April 1, 1948, and new houses or conversions completed after Feb. 1, 1947.

In the matter of evictions, the new law requires that no tenant need surrender a living unit until at least 60 days after receiving written eviction notice, except for non-payment of rent, violation of tenancy obligation, or creating a nuisance. In the exceptions, the time is governed by local law.

Stipulated causes for evictions are set out. A landlord can obtain possession in the stipulated 60 days if he or a member of his immediate family wishes to occupy

Texas Political Fireworks To Start Exploding On April 25

(By The United Press)

Texas politics will become a three-ring circus April 25, with plenty of fireworks assured.

Three political factions are scheduled today to meet that day, one of them to select a candidate for governor.

The factions include:

1. Supporters of Gov. Beauford H. Jester, so-called anti-Truman democrats.
2. Truman Democrats.
3. Supporters of Henry A. Wallace.

Last week, Governor Jester and other high-ranking Texas Democrats invited all party members to forgive and forget at a barbecue, to be held in Fort Worth April 25.

The price of $5 per plate was to be put into the treasury of the Texas Democratic party.

Pro-Truman Democrats indicated they would attend—but on the condition that the money go instead to the national party.

When the administration backers failed to get a favorable word from Jester followers, they announced plans for their own barbecue, to be held the same night.

The Pro-Truman group invited all Texas Democrats to eat all the barbecue they want—for free.

Wallace Group To Meet

The way was left open for any donations anyone would care to give, with the money to go to the national party coffers.

Site of the pro-Truman barbecue has not been announced. It was learned that a central Texas location—possibly Waco—is favored.

Also on April 25, third party supporters of Wallace will hold a founding convention in Houston.

It was disclosed yesterday that they intend to select their own candidate for governor at that time.

The announcement assured Texans of a top-y-turvy gubernatorial campaign this summer. At least three parties—Democrats, Republicans and Third Party—intend to select candidates for Governor apparently. In 1946, fourteen men were candidates for the Democratic nomination.

Not only did it seem certain that the Democrats would have a host of nominees again, but feuds between supporters of New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Ohio Senator Robert A. Taft held promise of plenty of action within Republican ranks, too.

Synthetic Burgers Prepared From Milk Powder By Chemist

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 5 (U.P.) — Americans some day may be eating hamburgers made from milk, according to Dr. Barnett Sure, professor of chemistry at Arkansas university.

It can be done now, Dr. Sure discloses in a report to the American Chemical society.

These synthetic hamburgers are made from a powder, composed almost entirely from milk solids, he said. The powder is mixed with water and cooked. The taste is said to be the same as ground beef.

Meat Dishes Prepared

Furthermore, according to Dr. Sure the powder can be used for meat loaf, meat balls, and mince meat. He reports also that the powder has more protein than beef, and that it is rich in calcium.

At a recent demonstration, Dr. Sure donned a laboratory smock, mixed the powder into a batter, and then cooks prepared croquettes, meat balls, hamburgers and mince meat.

Dr. Sure's "synthetic beef" has been served to Little Rock, Ark., school officials, he reported, and now authorities of that state are considering the possibility of adding the prepared powder to school lunches.

He also said that representatives of the Arkansas research foundation are trying to interest the federal government, pointing out that the powder might be used to relieve food shortages in Europe and other countries.

Dr. Sure said that powder, used as a food, might well help the housewife meet her budget. It costs much less than even the cheap cuts of meat, he said.

As of now, he disclosed, no American concern is making the new food, but it is being processed in Canada.

Dr. Sure, 57, was born in Lithuania. His family emigrated to South Africa when he was a boy, and some years later they came to America. They settled in Milwaukee, and Dr. Sure learned his chemistry at the University of Wisconsin.

Three Persons Drown On Trips While Fishing Near Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La., April 5. (AP) —Three persons lost their lives by drowning while on fishing trips near Shreveport during the past week end.

Victims of the drownings were William Hoyt Francis, 27, of Longview, Texas; James F. Hill, 33, of near Rodessa, and Johnnie Reed, 45, of Sibley.

Francis was drowned in Cross lake about 7 a. m. Sunday. He and three brothers-in-law were thrown from a boat in which they were fishing when a large wave swept over the craft.

Dr. T. R. Simpson, deputy Caddo parish coroner, pronounced Francis' death accidental.

The three brothers-in-law of Francis, Travis, Percy and James Jones, all of Longview, were rescued from the water by fishermen who answered their calls for help.

Francis' body was recovered a short time later.

MOUNTAIN HUNT IS ENDED

Reynolds Makes Fast Takeoff From Tokyo To Outrace Chinese

By FRANK L. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, April 5—Outracing a demand that he be returned to China for illegal departure, millionaire Milton Reynolds made a fast takeoff from Tokyo for the United States tonight.

"I'll be so happy to get back to the United States that I'll never leave there again," exclaimed the grinning Chicagoan whose hunt for the world's highest mountain ended in recriminations and melodrama.

Clutching a package of bread, cheese and wieners with one hand, he cheerily distributed some of his ballpoint pens to customs men with the other.

Had Impounded Plane

Chinese officials had impounded his plane at Shanghai Saturday, angry because he cancelled the expedition to survey the Anne Machin range of Western China. They were irked because he made an unscheduled flight, minus the scientists in the expedition.

Reynolds and his crew of three made a sensational getaway from Shanghai Sunday. Reynolds said it was accomplished by strewing 50 of his pens among Chinese guards and officials at the field. He charged that the Chinese had hinted intention to hold him until he bought his way out.

About the time Reynolds took off from Tokyo's Haneda field, Nanking reported the Chinese government had asked its Tokyo mission to demand he be sent back to China. He already had obtained clearance for home from occupation headquarters and took off before the Chinese request could come through channels.

Refuel At Midway

Pilot Bill Odom said they would refuel at Midway island and pick up Reynolds' wife and two children at Honolulu before heading on towards Chicago.

Reynolds estimated the Honolulu arrival time at 10 p. m. tonight (2 a. m. Tuesday, CST), gaining a day by crossing the international dateline.

China and the United States have not concluded an extradition treaty, and, in any event, the Chinese charges of leaving without proper papers are of a domestic nature.

Scientists Urge UN To Halt All Atomic Bomb Production

NEW YORK, April 5 (U.P.)—The Association of Scientists for Atomic education, a group of scientists who worked on the atomic bomb, urged the United Nations today to stop all atomic production for 19 years.

In letters to Frederick Osborne, U. S. delegate on the UN Atomic Energy commission, and to Sir Alexander Cadogan, chairman of the commission, the scientists suggested the moratorium as a compromise between Russian and U. S. view of atomic control.

Man Without Flight Training Takes Off In Army B-25 Plane

MINNEAPOLIS, April 5 (U.P.)—Sgt. Malcolm H. McGrady said today that he "just decided to fly a plane and that's all there was to it."

That's why the 30-year-old flight engineer climbed into an Air Forces B-25 bomber at Dayton, O., yesterday and flew it single-handed to Owatonna, Minn., 52 miles south of here.

All this without permission and without flight training. He never flew a plane before.

Act Is Unexplained

McGrady tried to explain his act as he sat in the public relations office at Wold-Chamberlain field here, waiting nervously for an Air Forces plane that will return him to Wright Field, near Dayton.

"I can't explain it," he said. "The plane was sitting there and I just decided to fly it. I decided to visit my parents in Owatonna.

"Honestly, thinking back on it now I don't know what got into me."

Capt. Robert J. Van Warmer, Wold-Chamberlain public relations officer, said McGrady will face "more or less serious charges" on his return to Wright field.

Flight Was Frightening

McGrady said he climbed into the plane yesterday, took off and "the first thing I knew I was over Chicago."

"I figured it was too late to turn back then," he said, "so I went on. I had to go somewhere."

McGrady said he followed a compass all the way, and he was "plenty scared" during the flight.

"But I'd watched the pilots hundreds and hundreds of times," he said. "I'd watched them land and take off and felt I knew all the things I was supposed to do."

Americans Sending Letters To Italians On April 18 Election

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—Millions of Italian-Americans have sent letters and cables to relatives and friends in Italy urging them to vote anti-Communist.

A coast-to-coast spot check indicates the flood of pleas is increasing as the April 18 elections draw closer.

Among forces spearheading the campaign are the press, both foreign-language and American; Roman Catholic prelates and church groups; Italian-American organizations, including the Order Sons of Italy, and leading American public figures, many of whom are not of Italian extraction.

Last Rites Are Conducted For Pioneer Post Woman

POST, April 5 (Special)—Last rites for Mrs. Dovie Davies, 68, who died at her hom early Saturday night, were conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Church of Chris here.

She had been a resident of this city and vicinity for 38 years, and had been a member of the Church of Christ more than 40 years.

Elder Liff Sanders of Lubbock was to conduct the funeral, assisted by Paul Mayr, local minister. Burial was to be in Terrace cemetery here, under direction of Mason and Company Funeral home.

Survivors include five sons, Curtis, Elbert and Garland Davies of Post, Harold Davies of Cisco, and Clarence Davies of Lakeside, Calif., one sister, Mrs. Fannie L. Leuch of San Angelo; and eight grandchildren.

VOTES OF THE PEOPLE

RYE, N. H. (U.P.)—Blake H. Rand, 84, the oldest town clerk in New Hampshire, was re-elected this year despite the failure of the Republican caucus to re-nominate him. The octogenarian sticker candidate won by a landslide.

THIS ARMY DAY

Strength For Peace

THE many dangers which threaten our nation and free men everywhere should inspire an added appreciation of our reliance upon the U. S. Army for national safety during today's observance of Army Day.

Despite natural rivalries among various branches of the armed services, most military authorities readily acknowledge the Army as the backbone of the national defense structure. If we engage in an offensive war, it is the Army which nails down and holds any positions seized. If we should be forced upon the defensive, Johnny Doughboy would be our reliance to keep our land free of invaders.

In its efforts to measure up to its responsibilities, the Army is attempting to maintain an authorized strength of 670,000 officers and men by enlisting 21,000 recruits each month. Today's observance, the Army hopes, will focus added attention upon that recruiting need. It is an effort which deserves all the support all Americans can give it, not for the sake of the Army, but for the sake of their own security.

The theme of today's observance is, "A strong America is a peaceful America." To that might be added the words, "A strong Army is a strong America." No better guarantee of security and peace is possible.

Quarantined!

THE aversion in which most Americans hold the Spanish dictator, Francisco Franco, has been emphasized anew by recent unsuccessful attempts to include Spain among the nations eligible for American relief.

The relief bill as passed by the House last week would have made Spain eligible. The Senate refused to concur, so Spain was knocked off the list in the bill finally approved. Critics now ask why the House proposed help for Spain in the first place. Much of the criticism clearly has arisen from misunderstanding of the House motives for its action.

The motive assuredly was not fondness for Franco. Most House members abhor him. But, they explained, they thought it "expedient" to include Spain, thus trying to line Franco up with the democracies as against Russia. Many diplomats and internationalists urged this course, arguing it would be better to have even Franco as a friend than an enemy. They point to Spain's position at the entrance to the Mediterranean and its virtual world monopoly as a producer of mercury, a most essential war material.

So the House put Spain on the list of eligibles. The public reaction was unfavorable, although there probably would have been no popular outcry if the bill had been passed as approved in the House. But the reaction was sufficient to demonstrate that most Americans have not forgotten that Franco was the protege of Mussolini and Hitler, and has been just as vicious, to the limit of his capacity, as they ever were.

They have made clear again they want to have nothing to do with him now, and their hope that reasons never will arise which will make it "expedient" to accept him on terms of pretended fellowship and equality.

Mrs. R. I. Tubbs was reelected president of the Daleth Delphian club in a meeting at First Baptist church, then members went to Texas Tech to hear Sherwood Eddy speak. Other club officers elected were Mrs. James S. Garrett, vice president; Mrs. Ed Vaughn, secretary; Mrs. Harry Hall, treasurer. Mrs. F. V. Brown was named chairman of the advisory board, and other members were Mrs. Clementine Vaughn and Mrs. Lee Ragland.

As Long As I Live

by Ione Sandberg Shriber
Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Ann Bancroft is in bed with a sick headache. After Rush, her husband, brings up her supper and pampers her a bit, Ann decides she must have been crazy earlier that day to have convinced herself someone in her own household wanted to murder her. Because she had discovered wax on the soles of her new shoes, and the staircase at Tophill was steep and slippery . . . because the swinging bridge over the ravine in the garden had collapsed, killing Luke the gardener . . . because her typewriter had crashed from a closet shelf, narrowly missing her . . . Ann had spent the afternoon adding it all up in mounting terror. Now, secure again, she reflects that she had dismissed Rush and Laurie, her 19-year-old sister, from the suspect list simply because she wouldn't let herself believe either of them wanted her out of the way; Gay, Rush's attractive lab assistant, and Tommy, Laurie's fiance, because she could find no motive. And she had idiotically figured that Rinda, her old friend and house guest, had wanted to kill her merely because she (Ann) was the only person who knew about an old college scandal Rinda had been involved in. Now she recalls someone else who also knew about it—Kelly Winton. Rush comes up to say goodnight to Ann, says he'll sleep in the next room so his snoring won't keep her awake.)

HER head was the size of seven heads and she was whirling, whirling through a horrid grayness that was shot with piercing lights. She could hear voices, but only vaguely; they faded away into the grayness and then came back again. She couldn't breathe . . . she began to sink back into the grayness that was bottomless and awful.

"That's better."

She heard the words distinctly. It was Rush.

What did he mean—better?

Then he spoke again and she heard the words. He said: "She's coming out of it. Thank God. That was a close one."

That's better that was a close one that's better that was a close one.

She wasn't in her bed. She didn't remember getting up but she wasn't in her bed. She didn't think she was even in her own room but she couldn't get her eyes open to see, she simply could not raise her dragging eyelids.

She moaned.

"Oh Ann!" It was Laurie. She was weeping. Why should Laurie be weeping? "Oh Rush, can't you do something?"

"It's all right, Laurie, I tell you." There was a note in Rush's voice Ann had never heard before. "She's regaining consciousness. Now don't you go to pieces. Go walk around with Tommy—"

"Walk!" Laurie was outraged. "My own sister lying there dying and you tell me to—"

"She isn't dying, Laurie," Rush said. "She's going to be all right. Where in the heck is that coffee? You'd think—" and Rinda said smoothly, "Here it is, Rush. Gay's bringing it. She made a big potful. We'll all have some. It will be good for us."

* * *

ANN heard the rattle of cups on saucers and, with an enormous effort, she opened her eyes. She was on the porch. She was flat on her back on the porch couch. There was a blanket tucked all around her and she had the queerest taste in her mouth, muffled, as though her mouth were stuffed with cotton batting.

"If we can get some of this coffee into her—" Rush said.

Gay held a cup of hot black coffee to Ann's lips. She swallowed obediently because she knew that was what they wanted her to do. It burned the roof of her mouth and brought tears to her eyes but she drank it. She closed her eyes again but only for a moment this time; then she opened them, looked up into Rush's haggard face.

"The gods be praised," Rush said. His voice was a mixture of so many things. Relief and anger and love and outrage. "Ann, if you ever scare me like that again! I'm going to have that fireplace ripped out the first thing in the morning, I swear I am!"

"There, there," Rinda's voice was a croon, soft and gentle and infinitely soothing. "Don't frighten her."

"She needs to be frightened," Rush said bluntly and it was obvious that righteous anger was taking the place of whatever emotion he had just been through. "Telling me she'd call me if she needed anything and then closing all the windows and turning on that blasted fireplace."

"RUSH, go get some whisky!" Rinda's voice was crisp. Crisp and authoritative and brooking no argument. "Go on, get some whisky. Have some yourself but if you don't want any get m some. I could use it."

Ann frowned up at Rinda. Somewhere, sometime, this had happened before. She'd got awake and Rinda had been bending over her and something terrible had happened. Her mind refused to remember. But Rush had said—what had he said? That she had done—what? Closed the windows and turned on the fireplace? But it was this afternoon she'd done that—didn't he remember?

This afternoon when . . .

Suddenly her mind seized on a notion.

"Rinda—" could that hoarse whisper be her own voice? "Rinda, what ever became of Kelly Winton?"

"She's delirious," Laurie said flatly from somewhere.

But Rinda knew she wasn't delirious. Rinda looked at her and said steadily, "He was in the Navy during the war, Ann." She paused and Ann's eyes remained fixed on Rinda's face. Rinda wet her lips and said, "He was killed at Okinawa."

An.. closed her eyes. By no effort could she have held them open. By no effort could she have continued looking at Rinda's face. She hadn't been wrong this afternoon, she had been right. She knew there was danger all around here . . . all around her . . .

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

"SPAIN is beautiful and different. Visit Spain."

"This year come to France, the land of 4 seasons".

"North Africa now makes bid for American Tourists".

"Venice ready to welcome you".

"Seeking for health at a Czechoslovak Spa".

"Peru invites you."

"Now's the time to fly to South America".

BRANDEIS

These are a few headlines in the "World Travel and Trade Guide" which is a supplement of one of New York's Sunday newspapers.

The supplement is full of beautiful ads and interesting articles describing all the glories of foreign travel, all the color, all the exotic beauty of all the different countries.

So naturally thousands and thousands of people are now thinking of going to all these earthly paradises and spending their good American dollars.

Come, say the ads, it's easy, it's cheap, it's wonderful.

Now let us look at one of the articles headed "What's Needed for Traveling Abroad —and How to Get It."

You must have a passport, of course. That's comparatively easy.

"Applicants must submit either a previous passport or must come with an identifying witness and a birth certificate", the article tells you. "If a certified copy of the birth certificate is presented, it must show the date on which the copy was made. The identifying witness must have known the applicant for at least two years.

"Two recent photographs, not more than three by three inches, must accompany the application, and it is usually a good idea to have available ten or fifteen more for visa purposes.

"Different application forms are used for native citizens and naturalized citizens. The passport fee is $10.

NOW about those visas.

That is something, believe me. Let us say you want to go to beautiful Brazil.

You go to the nearest Brazilian consulate in person. You take four photographs with you. You also bring vaccination and health certificates, a letter of recommendation from your bank or employer, as to financial status. You may then get your visa within 24 hours or you may wait until it comes. Most South American countries also require certificates from your police department stating that you are no criminal.

Here is what it says about Poland: "Visa costs $10, issued in three to six months. Three photographs, three application blanks, letter in duplicate stating purpose of trip required. Money must be declared."

It isn't that bad in all countries, of course. France, England, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland and the Scandinavian countries make it comparatively easy for tourists.

But there are some restrictions everywhere and it costs like the dickens to travel in foreign countries nowadays.

By the way, if you have the travel fever, do you remember that old slogan: "See America First"?

GOPs PLAY POLITICS

No Recess For Solons

BY RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The Republican leaders on Capitol Hill have virtually agreed to hold Congress in session without any summer recess because of the strained relations with Russia. Only a permanent and satisfactory agreement with Moscow will change that schedule, and such a miracle is not expected within the next few months, if ever.

Speaker Martin, who is determined the United States shall be prepared for any worsening of the present situation, is largely responsible for this decision, which is extremely unusual in time of peace. He has outlined a program for rebuilding the national defense establishment so elaborate that it may not be completed during the current session.

TUCKER

He met less grumbling from the membership than anticipated. A majority of the Republican members from faraway states would probably remain around Washington in any event to attend the June 12-19 convention at Philadelphia. Most of the Democrats will have to return to that city for their affair, which will probably last from July 21 to the 26th or beyond.

Moreover, it will not be necessary for the full membership to be on hand during the summer assemblage. No legislation will be enacted unless it is strictly necessary.

But committees charged with handling questions involving foreign affairs and military matters will sit almost continuously under the plan that contemplates greater expansion and modernization of the armed services than any yet announced.

POLITICAL: G.O.P. strategists admit privately that political considerations involving the presidential campaign partially motivate their strategy for a continuous session.

For one thing, it is axiomatic that the man in the White House usually grows in stature when the M.C.' are scattered throughout the country. He has the spotlight to himself, and his words attract more attention when he does not have to compete with Capitol Hill oratory or activity.

WORRIED: The Republicans will also keep several of their star investigation committees in action, with the obvious intention of obtaining favorable notice for themselves and adverse publicity for the political foe. And, inasmuch as the G.O.P.-ers believe they have a stronger machine in the counties, states and cities than the Democrats, they think they may gain rather than lose from an absentee system of campaigning.

Even allowing for this Machiavellian motive, however, the decision to carry on under war-time procedure reveals how worried the legislative leaders have become over the struggle between the communistic and democratic forces throughout the world.

STOCKPILING: Despite this country's terrific shortages of a score of strategic materials essential for the manufacture of war materials, President Truman has cut in half the armed services' request of $650,000,000 for stockpiling these commoditites. His economy in this field has amazed Congressmen versed in this subject, and damaged Defense morale.

The surprising feature of the White House reduction is that it was promulgated in the midst of the anti-Communist campaign which Secretary Marshall launched last June in his Harvard address.

In late January, at the very moment Mr. Truman was asking for prompt action in the actual E.R.P. program, as well as additional aid to Greece and Turkey, he insisted that the Budget Bureau make a 50 per cent reduction in the military experts' estimates.

The commodities involved do not consist only of such well-known but scarce materials as rubber, diamonds, tin, bauxite (aluminum ore), hemp etc. They include rare minerals of which most people have never heard, but which are required in the fabrication of everything from airplanes to electrical equipment.

SIGNIFICANCE: The House Appropriations Subcommittee handling this problem was so astounded by the President's action that it immediately moved to remedy it. So far, however, Mr. Truman has not asked for additional funds for this account.

Subcommittee Chairman Gordon Canfield of New Jersey promptly caught the significance of Mr. Truman's cut, and deferred all consideration of this section of the apropriations allocations handled by his group. He provided routine funds for the Post Office and Treasury, but he held up any action on questions involving the stockpiling of strategic goods.

He will begin hearings on this problem within a few weeks. Then, if the White House has not submitted a deficiency estimate, he will move himself to grant the original amount wanted by the military.

CAMPAIGN: House Republicans have begun a deliberate campaign to discredit the two Cabinet members who have frequently been advanced as possible running-mates for President Truman. They are Secretary of State Marshall and Secretary of Commerce Harriman.

House Ways and Means committee Chairman Knutson's recent outburst against Mr. Marshall was an individual effort. But it represents a growing sentiment that the Virginian was a far more effective Chief of Staff than a foreign minister. Moreover, it is rare that such an important member of the leadership group speaks so forthrightly on a major issue or personality without first consulting his associates.

G.O.P. members have sideswiped Mr. Harriman because of his inclusion of alleged radicals in committees which helped to prepare data for formulation of E.R.P. They make the further charge that some of these men, who were named to their present posts by Henry A. Wallace, will show up in the federal agency that will handle the distribution of Marshall Plan funds to European nations. They hint that a portion of the money may even find its way to satellite countries, or even to Moscow itself.

Fundamentally, however, these potshots at two of the more distinguished members of the presidential family are designed to strip them of political glamour and their vote-getting appeal.

An old-timer can remember when a man wore gaily colored elastic bands to hold up his shirt sleeves.

In the old days a young man didn't continue his education after marriage. Marriage was enough to educate him.

A bobby-soxer is a young girl who spends much time in preparation to secure that sloppy look.

All the world is a stage and no wonder so many people suffer from stage fright.

Judging from the way he brags about himself, the average man has plenty of self-respect.

Didn't as many people go crazy in Old Dobbin's day, or, at least, the horse displayed sense if the driver didn't.

Believe It Or Not-By Robert Ripley

IN MOVE TO DROP TRUMAN

Demos Attempting To Use 'Ike'

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—As strange as is the escapist complex of Southern Democrats and some big city Democrat bosses away from Harry Truman to the glamorous mirage of General Dwight D. Eisenhower, discussed here recently, it is not quite as strange as that of another group in the same fanciful direction.

This is the group of Democratic "liberals," so called, ex-New Dealers, now out of public office, who are consorting with themselves and convincing themselves that the General may offer one among several alternatives in their ditch-Truman dilemma.

STOKES

The Eisenhower escapism among the southerners and city bosses is understandable to some degree. They are, after all, politicians, and it is the habit of politicians, as a practical matter, to reach out and clutch at anything that will save their skins or salves their consciences. They are not overly concerned about issues or, shall we say, ideology, as it is termed.

Caught In Jam

But the escape to Eisenhower by the "liberals" almost passes understanding except that they are at this time, indeed, quite a frustrated group, caught between Harry Truman on one side and Henry Wallace on the other.

One of their chief complaints about President Truman, on the matter of foreign policy, is the predominance of military men in foreign policy councils, a justified complaint and a regrettable practice. As has been pointed out by others, including Henry Wallace, and also here in this place.

So, instead, they would put a military man in the White House itself, where direction of foreign policy centers. As chief of staff, General Eisenhower was among consultants on foreign policy and had some influence in such foreign policy as we have now.

That's one paradox in this "liberal" solution.

Another, and stranger still, is the fact that these liberals also do not know what are the General's views and beliefs on any issues of the day, either domestic or foreign, as Chester Bowles, former OPA administrator frankly confessed in his speech recently in which he advocated the dropping of President Truman and the selection of someone else. He put General Eisenhower at the top of the list of somebody elses.

Very blithely Mr. Bowles said the General's views must be ascertained and if it turns out that they are "progressive" then the people of the country must demand that he accept the Democratic presidential nomination—just like that.

* * *

Catch In Plans

But here comes the catch in this funny business.

How are they going to learn the General's views? Knowing that the General has said most positively that he will not accept any nomination, the strategy of the "draft Eisenhower" movement is to proceed independently and nominate him on the theory that, once the deed is done, he would accept. Nowhere in this strategy is there any provision for the General to do or say anything, in fact the assumption is that he won't. The very strategy is of the pig in the poke variety.

Could these "liberals" with such positive views of their own take a candidate merely on faith, and a military man at that? Some seem so inclined. But there are some among them who have something else in mind.

This is to use General Eisenhower as a screen and a device to beat down and eliminate President Truman, whooping it up for the General as long as necessary or possible and then, accepting the inevitable with gracious gestures, to push forward Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court as the man of the hour. The Douglas nomination is a scheme long cherished by Tommy Corcoran, one-time New Deal official, subsequently a successful lawyer-lobbyist, who has brain trusted the recurrent Douglas boom for some years now. He failed at the 1944 convention, though he was able to get favorable mention for Justice Douglas in one of the letters that the late President Roosevelt sent to the convention. But Harry Truman, who also was mentioned, got the prize. The Douglas boom never came off.

It will be unveiled again in due time. Meanwhile, General Eisenhower will be paraded out in front, like a benficient Roman god, to whip up the ditch-Truman movement and prepare the way for a coup. Retired generals can be useful often.

Because food prices declined more sharply in price than other items in the 1930-33 period, the proportion of American consumption expenditure used for food declined.

RAIL STOCKS GAIN

NEW YORK, April 5. (AP)—While expectations were plentiful the stock market generally swung forward today with the rail average touching a peak since September, 1946.

Selective strength among oils was a feature from the start, gains of 1 to 3 points or so recorded for favorites. Small minus signs were well distributed at the close but advances held the majority.

The million-mark was exceeded for the eleventh session since mid-March. Transfers of 1,040,000 shares compared with 1,080,000 Friday.

Demand again was based partly on rearmament prospects, European relief, government stock piling and tax cuts. The outlook for fuel shortages spurred the petroleum group.

Numerous skeptics trimmed accounts or stood aside because of labor disputes, particularly the coal mining walkout which a federal injunction failed to remedy. Bearishness over international situations also was a restraining influence.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .2 of a point at 65.5 where it was only .5 under the 1948 top. The rails made a new high by .1 of a point. Of 996 issues registering, 451 rose and 311 fell. Bonds steadied.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP) — Cotton futures were strong in active dealings today, supported by considerable trade buying in the old crop deliveries. Commission houses bought the deferred positions, influenced by the passage of the foreign aid legislation and expectations of a tight situation in spot cotton well into the fall.

A leading spot firm, who was a prominent buyers last week, turned to the selling side. However, another spot house turned a strong buyer of nearby May and accumulated upwards of 15,000 bales.

New export inquiry from European countries was anticipated soon by shippers. Traders also noted a substantial improvement in demand for print cloths for the second half of the year, attributed partly to fears that priorities on goods may be re-imposed under an expanded military program.

The July, 1948, delivery made a new season's high.

All Expense Trips To Colorado Offered On Railway History

An essay contest, with a ten-day all-expense escorted Colorado vacation trip as the prize to each of five winners, was announced Monday by the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway and its subsidiary, the Wichita Valley Railway, as a part of the observance of the 75th anniversary of the chartering of the Fort Worth and Denver by the Texas Legislature, May 26, 1873.

The subject of the essays submitted in the contest is to be: "The History of Fort Worth and Denver City Railway (or the Wichita Valley Railway) in My Home County."

Districts Are Named

Five contest districts have been designated, and the counties through which these railroads operate have been allocated to each district.

The Fort Worth district embraces Tarrant and Dallas counties, and the town of Rhome. The Wichita Falls district embraces Wise county, except Rhome, and the counties of Montague, Clay, Wichita, Wilbarger, Hardeman, Archer and Baylor. Amarillo's district consists of Childress, Hall, Donley, Armstrong, Carson, Potter, Oldham, Dallas, Collingsworth, Wheeler and Gray counties. The Lubbock district includes Briscoe, Floyd, Hale, Swisher, Castro and Lubbock. Abilene's district comprises Knox, Haskell, Jones, Taylor, Stonewall, Kent and Dickens counties.

The winning essay in each district is to be judged by a competent, impartial team of three local judges in each of the counties named; the names of these judges to be announced later.

Each district winner will be brought to Fort Worth by the railroad to participate in a 30-minute radio show to be presented over Station WBAP-820, from 10:30 p. m. to 11 p. m., Wednesday, May 26, the date of the 75th anniversary of the Fort Worth and Denver City's charter.

The essay contest rules are simple:

1. Any resident of a county in which these railways operate is eligible to participate, except employes of Burlington System lines, comprised in Texas of Fort Worth and Denver City Railway, and the Wichita Valley Railway, and members of their families.

2. The subject of the essay must be, "The History of Fort Worth and Denver City Railway Company in My Home County"; in counties through which the Wichita Valley Railway operates, the subject is to be, "The History of The Wichita Valley Railway in My Home County". In Wichita county where both railroads operate, a contestant may write about either or both.

3. All essays submitted must be delivered to a ticket agent for Fort Worth and Denver City Railway, or the Wichita Valley Railway, or sent in by mail, addressed as follows, according to the district in which the contestant lives: Fort Worth district—Burlington Lines Ticket Office, 806-B Houston Street, Fort Worth 2, Texas; Wichita Falls district—Burlington Lines General Agent, 506 Seventh, Wichita Falls, Texas; Amarillo district—Burlington Lines General Agent, 239-40-41 Amarillo Building, Amarillo, Texas; Lubbock District—Burlington Lines General Agent, 1805 Avenue G, Lubbock, Texas, and, Abilene district—Burlington Lines General Agent, 719 Mims Building, Abilene, Texas.

4. All essays must reach a Fort Worth and Denver City Railway or a Wichita Valley Railway ticket agent, or the proper address by, or be postmarked to show that they were in the mail by, Monday, May 10, 1948.

"This contest should be particularly appealing to high school, college and university students, and any others interested in winning a 10-day vacation trip to Colorado's mountains," said Robert L. Hoyt, general passenger agent.

"All agents and representatives of these railroads will be in position to answer questions. Anyone interested in the contest who lives at an outlying point may address inquries to me at 701 Fort Worth Club Building, Fort Worth 2, Texas," Hoyt said.

the quarters, if he has contracted to sell the place to purchaser for immediate personal occupancy, if he wishes to demolish the structure or alter it substantially under specified conditions, if he seeks to withdraw the place permanently from the rental market, or designate the property for certain public or charity uses.

The new law places much stress on local rent advisory boards, which can make recommendations to the housing expediter. These boards must as a group be "representative of the affected interests in the area."

Boards are to hold hearings in individual adjustment cases at request of either the landlord or tenant. On board recommendation concerning decontrol or general rent level in an area, the board is required to hold a public hearing and observe other procedures as well as "present adequate and substantial evidence" to support its findings.

In event of disapproval of the board's recommendation by the housing expediter, the matter may be referred to the emergency court of appeals for final decision.

Negro Elected To Board Of San Antonio College Area

SAN ANTONIO, April 5 (AP)—A negro funeral director, G. J. Dutton, today apparently had been elected to the board of trustees of the San Antonio junior college district, which has jurisdiction over a negro and a white junior colleges.

In an election Saturday, he defeated E. H. Keator, incumbent, by 79 votes, unofficial counts show. The board has jurisdiction over the San Antonio junior college for white students and St. Phillip's junior college for negroes. The institutions are supported by Bexas county.

Texas Officials

civil rights," Sturrock said. "He is keeping Krug and his men because they are like Henry Wallace and the administration might hold some votes.

"The people of Texas are losing confidence in the bureau of reclamation because all we can get is double talk."

Sturrock named Krug and Michael Strauss, commissioner of the bureau of reclamation. He said reclamation officials would "tell you one thing in Texas, and another in Washington."

"There is not much hope for Texas to get consistent treatment until there are major changes in the Department of Interior," Sturrock said.

Charles H. Miller of Barstow told the directors that Texas and New Mexico are no closer to an understanding over division of the Pecos river waters than they were three years ago. He is the Texas member of the Pecos Compact commission.

Jackson said he can not figure out what New Mexico wants in regard to the Pecos.

A representative of high plains water users was assured that his group would be consulted by the association in proposed revisions of the state's water laws. They are especially interested in legislation affecting underground supplies.

W. W. Holbrook of Plainview brought the request of the High Plains Water Use and Conservation association that its views be given weight when the statewide association begins drafting its proposed legislation. Jackson told him they would.

RENT OFFICE EVICTED

SANTA FE, N. M. (UP)—The rent control office here was evicted from its quarters when the general land office, whose room it has occupied in the federal building here, said it needed the space.

Russian Position Weakened By Act Of Soviet Fighter Pilot

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Although the destruction of a British transport by an over-enthusiastic Russian fighter pilot may increase the tension for the moment, there is a good chance that Berlin will soon regain its former atmosphere of watchful and hostile but less provocative waiting.

The plane crash, as a matter of fact, weakens the Russian position. The Russian pilot obviously was carrying out the spirit if not the orders of his masters in harassing the British plane. He wasn't as good as he thought he was, something slipped, and he and a lot of other people are dead.

Plane Escorts Planned

(The world's greatest fear today is that some of his compatriots in high places will also overestimate their ability, taking chances on inestimably greater tragedy.)

This leaves the Russians facing valid British reparations claims and puts them in a psychological hole regarding their whole Berlin policy. British and American orders for fighter planes to accompany their flights hereafter constitute further notice to the Russians that what they have started is not just a game.

It heightens the feeling, prevalent before the crash, that they are going to have to back at least part way down in their attempt to isolate the Allies and force them to withdraw from the city.

One official train already had gone through the inspection zone without trouble, and the Russians have agreed to a conference over interpretation of their new regulations.

These hurriedly drawn rules by which the Reds sought to embarrass the Allies, by boarding trains and inspecting passengers, are subject to either narrow or broad interpretation. Their very vagueness gives the Russians an out, which they may be glad to take after a taste of the firmness with which the Allies have held their ground. In Iran, Greece, Turkey, Trieste and Austria, whenever their postwar expansionism has met really firm resistance, the Russians have indicated clearly that they are not ready for an all-out attempt to grab anything except what they can get for nothing.

They would have liked very much to have pushed us out of Berlin so they could use it as the seat of a so-called general German government. Allied loss of prestige through withdrawal would have benefitted the Reds in numerous ways.

The timing of the flare-up over communications with western Germany indicates the Bolshevists may have had one other purpose in which they were more successful. U. S. Authorities expected final ongressional action on the Marshall plan to produce quite a fanfare in western Europe but it passed with small attention, being over-shadowed at least for the moment, by the Berlin crisis.

Three Dead, Three Hurt In Borger Wreck

BORGER, April 5. (AP)—Donald Brown, 17, died here this afternoon to bring to three the death toll of an automobile-train collision here last night.

Earlier Dean Burleson, 17, and Diane Foster, 15, died as the result of injuries. Three other students, Richard Manning, 18, Lonnie Tilson, 17, and Barbara Newcomb, 15, were injured. All the victims were riding in the automobile.

The collision occurred at a city street crossing. The automobile came to rest against a steel post which prevented it from falling down a small hill.

ELECTION POSTPONED

SEOUL, Korea, April 5 (AP) — Because it would coincide with an eclipse of the sun, the south Korean election was postponed today from May 9 to May 10.

Mrs. Rockefeller, Jr. Is Claimed By Death

NEW YORK, April 5. (AP)—Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., whose marriage to the son of the oil billionaire in 1901 united two of the world's great fortunes, died of a heart attack today in her duplex apartment on Park Avenue.

She was 73.

The daughter of probably the richest man ever to enter the U. S. Senate, Mrs. Rockefeller, was one of the outstanding individual patrons of living artists in the United States—a fact not widely known because all her life the former Abby Greene Aldrich of Providence, R. I., was as self-effacing as her husband.

Her aversion to publicity was equalled by her distaste for ostentation. In an era of gilded display she never owned a diamond tiara or a box at the opera. She did her own shopping, mostly on foot, and neighbors were accustomed to seeing the grey and gracious lady walking away from the nine story mansion John D. Rockefeller, Sr., built as his New York capital.

After the Rockefeller children —Abby, John D., Nelson, Laurance, Winthrop and David—grew up the parents moved in 1938 out of the fabulous old landmark into a modern apartment no more elaborate than many in the same wealthy district.
