Empire Troops Making Stand At Hongkong

Chinese Give Aid By Making Drive In Canton Area

(By The United Press)

SINGAPORE, Dec. 15.—British empire troops from three continents, including Canadians, Scots and Indians, are fighting in trenches at Hongkong against overwhelming numbers of Japanese land, air and sea fighters after a defiant refusal by their commander to surrender, official dispatches said today.

Mile by mile, the imperial forces had retreated through the mainland sector of Kowloon under plans formulated in 1938 by which the great stand was to be made in strong trenches on Hongkong island.

Are In Trenches

Now the British forces are in these trenches, backed by 2,000 civilian volunteers.

The front extended along the world famous Hongkong waterfront, facing the mainland across the half mile strip of heavily lined harbor.

It was believed here that the empire troops were ready for a long and bitter stand and would be able to make one. Their positions had long been prepared for speedy erection of defenses. Strong units of mobile artillery and machine gun batteries had been drilled in repelling such advances as those the Japs were essaying now.

Are Less Vulnerable

In their present positions, the empire troops were less vulnerable to flanking attacks and they have better protection from their artillery.

Chinese troops were reported doing all they could to aid the defenders by new offensive activities in the Canton area. Chinese dispatches reported them to be mopping up some Japanese units within between 13 and 25 miles of the Hongkong border, destroying communications as they went.

It was reported that all useable materials and products on the mainland part of the colony had been destroyed and that Chinese peasants, though facing ruin, had even destroyed their noted Shatin valley rice fields before they fled.

Message From Churchill

Prime Minister Winston Churchill radioed the Hongkong garrison:

"We are all watching day by day and hour by hour your stub-

AMERICAN HEROES—These three U. S. fliers already have covered themselves with glory in the war against Japan. Top, Second Lieutenant Harry W. Brown, of Amarillo, was cited for heroism by the War department for bringing down a Japanese plane in the battle over Hawaii. It was noted he found himself in a bunch of enemy planes and proceeded to give battle. Second Lieutenants Kenneth M. Taylor, middle, of Hominy, Okla., and George S. Welch, bottom, of Wilmington, Del., were cited also for shooting down enemy planes over Hawaii—Taylor getting two and Welch four.

Reds Set Nazi Losses At 6,000,000 Men

DEATH CLAIMS TWO HERE

Bodies Found In A Tourist Cabin Sunday

A 30-year-old man and his 28-year-old wife are dead, presumably from carbon monoxide poisoning, said officials who removed them late Sunday afternoon from a cabin at a tourist camp across the canyon on East Broadway.

From hunting licenses and other papers, officials identified them as Buster and Mabel Baker, formerly of Hobbs, N. M.

Looked Through Window

Officials, acting when they were informed by a woman at East Broadway Tourist courts that "something must be wrong," hurried to the camp and looked through a window.

"They're dead," said Sheriff Tom Abel.

Cap Moore, deputy sheriff, and Sheriff Abel beat out glass panes from a window and hammered in the door. Inside a light glowed and the cabin was stifling hot from a gas stove that burned.

Registered On Saturday

The account of what happened was clear, particularly when it was learned the Bakers had registered at the cabin at 8 o'clock Saturday night, gone to the cabin immediately, lighted the gas stove, locked their door from the inside and gone to bed.

"The oxygen content of the air in the room was exhausted and they breathed carbon monoxide many hours," the sheriff said.

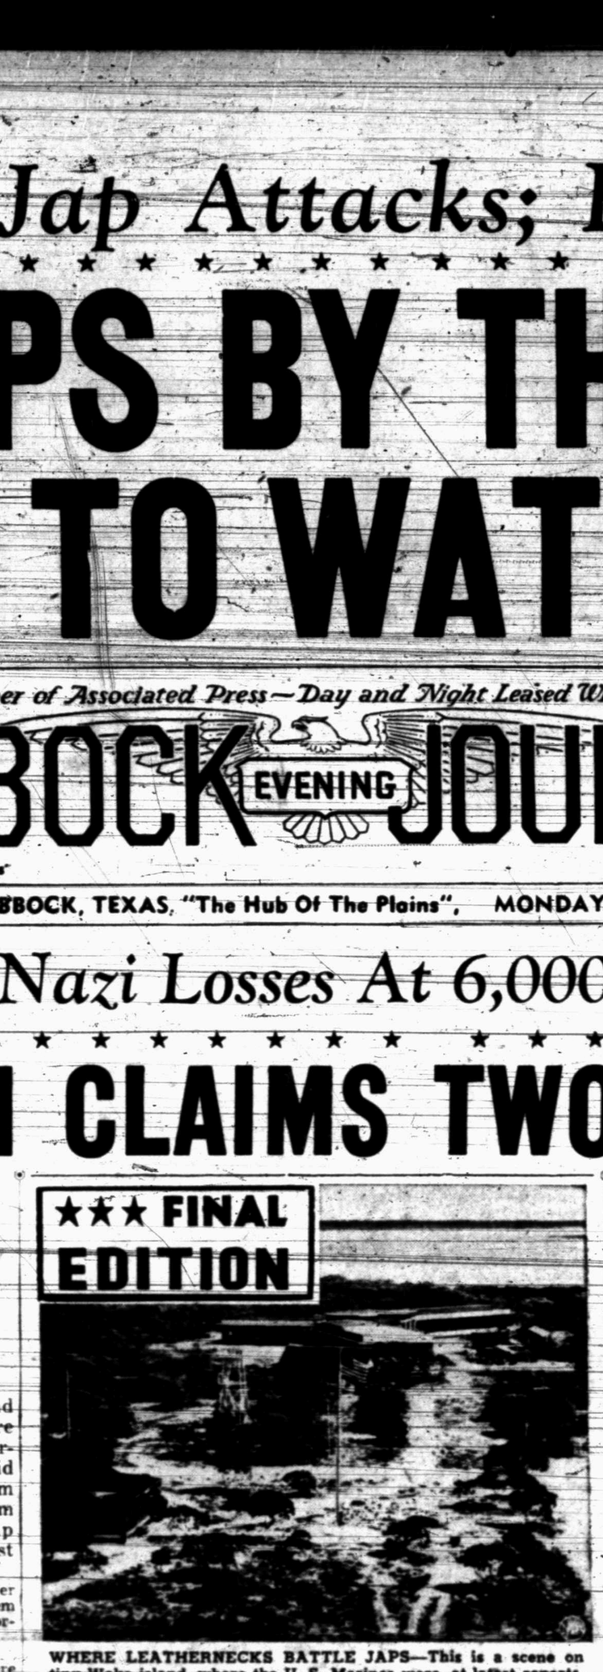

Baker had been dead for hours, medical men estimated, but the woman lived until 5:35 o'clock this morning, 12 hours after she had been taken from the cabin.

Both Had Been Ill

Both victims had been ill from the gas, evidence showed. The woman had gone to the bathroom and taken a towel, wetted it and placed it over her face.

"She is presumed to have been so ill she did not think clearly enough to turn off the gas in the stove," the sheriff said. "Instead,

WHERE LEATHERNECKS BATTLE JAPS—This is a scene on tiny Wake island, where the U. S. Marines were, at latest reports, writing a heroic chapter in American defense by holding off repeated Japanese bombing and sea-borne assaults. Already the defenders of this Pacific outpost are credited with sinking a cruiser and destroyer and downing two enemy bombers. Buy defense bonds and help those leathernecks continue the fight.

Extermination Of All German Armies Sought

(By The Associated Press)

The Russian Army was reported today pressing an offensive for the extermination of all German armies on Russian soil. Pravda, Communist party organ in Moscow, said the Soviet troops already had destroyed "an entire generation of Nazis."

As the Russians took the offensive after reporting the successful defense of Moscow, Leningrad and the Caucasus, they claimed Adolf Hitler had lost, since the invasion began June 22, 6,000,000 men, more than 15,000 tanks, 13,000 planes and 19,000 cannon.

Germans Said Surrounded

German forces in the southern Russian port of Taganrog, 40 miles west of Rostov, now are surrounded, the Russians declared.

The latest Russian claims said the railway station of Uzlovaya, 40 miles southeast of Tula, Dubna, west of Tula and Verkhove, northeast of Livny, were recaptured af-

U. S. Air Force, Dutch Subs Sink 10 Enemy Ships

TOKYO TAKES NOTE OF NEW PERIL; PHILIPPINES, WAKE, MIDWAY HOLD

BULLETIN!

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Knox reported today the battleship Arizona and five other warships were lost in Sunday's Japanese air raid on the Pearl Harbor naval base in Hawaii.

He said 91 officers and 2,638 enlisted men were known dead. Known Japanese losses, Knox said, included 3 submarines and 41 air craft.

After reporting to President Roosevelt on his return from a hurried five-day round trip to survey the effect of the raid at first hand, the naval secretary told a press conference that aside from the Arizona, ships destroyed included the old target ship Utah, 3 destroyers—the Cassin, Downes, and Shaw—and also the mine layer Oglala.

(By The Associated Press)

Japanese officials took worried cognizance today of an Allied aerial and submarine counter-offensive which has taken a toll of uncounted thousands of Japanese troops en route to Oriental battlegrounds.

A joint Army-Navy communique warned the Japanese people today "against the lurking danger of enemy submarines" off Japan's island coasts and urged them to "prepare for a protracted war wherein hostile submarines and aircraft bombing will play a role."

Thus far, between them, the United States air force and the Dutch submarine fleet, operating over and under the China sea have sunk eight troop-laden vessels headed for Philippine and Malayan landings, along with two supply ships, while the air force is credited with damaging five additional transports.

Formosa, Japanese island off the southeast China coast, was alarmed Saturday night when 12 planes, apparently on reconnaissance, were sighted off Takao.

The Japanese statement indicated that the war on the sea and in the air was drawing closer to the island empire.

The struggle in the Philippines was resolved today into a contest for air supremacy while the British acknowledged that the Japanese had gained ground in the Kedah area of northern Malaya where "confused" warfare has taken root in the jungle fastnesses.

The mid-day communique of the War department in Washington said that air action continued over Luzon, the principal Philippine island, and that ground operations were continuing in the northern and northwestern sections of the island as well as in the vicinity of Legaspi in the southeast.

Deadly Teamwork Pays Off

The northern area referred to apparently is the Aparri region and the northwestern section, the Vigan area.

U. S. bombers and Dutch submarines received most of the credit for scoring the latest sea triumphs and making the strategic south China sea a zone of deadly peril for Japan.

The havoc this underwater-overwater team has been playing with Japanese communications was the source of much satisfaction as Washington surveyed the Pacific war theatre at the start of the conflict's second week.

Philippines Still Holding Firm

The Philippines were holding firm, with the situation on the ground and in the air "well in hand" after decisively smashing a series of heavy Japanese invasion assaults.

Old glory still flew over the tiny outposts on Wake and Midway islands, where a handful of marines kept up the amazing resistance which has covered them with glory.

Guam's Fate Unknown

Guam's fate was not officially known, but the presumption was that the island, girdled by fortified enemy bases, had been captured. Japanese submarines were reported active in Hawaiian waters, but the navy announced "vigorous attacks are being made against them."

An all-out Japanese offensive was hammering at the gates of Hongkong—which, like the Philippines and Singapore, constitutes an ever-present threat to Japanese communications in Nippon's drive southward to the ultimate goal—the treasure chest of the Netherlands East Indies. The Japanese also were striking down the Malay peninsula toward Singapore, and a major battle appeared in progress in the jungle north of the great British base.

Dutch Taking Toll

In the Far East, the Dutch submarines started the week two-up on the American bombers in sinkings. The Dutch, a Singapore com-

Swift Expansion For U. S. Navy Indicated

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Authorization for an expansion of the United States two-ocean Navy was approved quickly today by the House naval affairs committee after the size of the contemplated increase was reduced from 900,000 tons to 150,000 tons at the request of the Navy.

The measure left the type of ships to be constructed to the discretion of the president and the Navy department, but Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) said that it would include no battleships.

Take Longer To Build

He hastened to add, however, that "this does not mean that we are abandoning the idea of battleships, but it takes longer to build them."

He said that the committee was willing to authorize the full 900,000-ton expansion proposed in a bill he introduced but that the Navy had decided upon the smaller amount after a re-examination of its needs.

Vinson declared that the 150,000 tons would not necessitate expansion of present shipbuilding facilities now working on a top speed around the clock schedule on both coasts. He said that all the ships to be built under the authorization would be laid down in the calendar year 1942.

Swift Action Near

The committee, working under a recently inaugurated policy of holding all its sessions in private, took its action following a confer-

Minor Thefts Are Reported

Only 17 persons were arrested over the week end, but there were several incompleted investigations growing out of some of them.

Three persons were held for possible charges growing out of the theft of a pair of boots from Turner's boot shop at 1209 Avenue H. A negro, 19, had been in to look at them earlier. The shop was entered after a window had been smashed.

Three Negroes Held

Three negroes also were held for investigation into the alleged hijacking of another negro.

Beard Rubber company, at 1306 Avenue H, reported a break-in, but there was no report of property losses at mid-morning.

In a break-in of a cafe at 1711 Avenue H three packages of cigarets, three bars of candy and several bottles of a carbonated beverage were taken.

Police said they sought a man who allegedly went to 2000-block Eighth street, into the residence of a woman he had not been divorced from or lived with in 12 years, abused her, and threatened her life.

Juveniles attempted to break into a vacant house near Fifteenth street and Avenue W.

President To Speak To Nation Tonight

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (U.P.)—President Roosevelt is expected to caution civilians tonight against "inflamed or hysterical action" during the war.

He will speak to the nation by radio at 9 p. m., CST, over all major networks in a program celebrating the 150th anniversary of the Bill of Rights—the first 10 amendments to the constitution.

Other speakers began the celebration yesterday by advising civilians to exercise caution against intolerance that might bring hardship to innocent persons.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—President Roosevelt told Congress today how Japan's course of aggression in the Pacific was climaxed by an attack on the United States at the very time she was voicing a desire for peace, and declared that "there is the record, for all history to read in amazement, in sorrow, in horror and in disgust!"

"We are now at war," the president said. "We are fighting in self defense. We are fighting in defense of our national existence, of our right to be secure, of our right to enjoy the blessings of peace.

Negotiations Reviewed

"We are fighting in defense of principles of law and order, and justice, against an effort of unprecedented ferocity to overthrow those principles and to impose upon humanity a regime of ruthless domination by unrestricted and arbitrary force."

The chief executive's message was a chronology of American and Japanese negotiations and of history prior to Japan's onslaught in the Pacific eight days ago.

Supporting his summary with documents and correspondence, Mr. Roosevelt asserted that the "barbaric aggression of Japan in Manchuria" ten years ago set the example and pattern for the course of conquest pursued by the Axis powers.

First Baptist Church May Use Building Funds To Buy Bonds

Members of the First Baptist church will vote next Sunday on the suggestion of the church's finance committee to place in defense bonds monies already collected, and to be collected in the future, for the construction of a new building, Rev. Dr. Carl Hereford, pastor, announced Sunday.

Dr. Hereford's announcement came in the regular Sunday morning services.

The First Baptist church now has $21,000 in its building fund and expects the $25,000 mark to be reached between now and January 1, it was said today.

If the membership of the church votes to buy defense bonds with the money, the building drive will continue as time goes on, Dr. Hereford said, and thus "First Baptists will kill two birds with one stone. We'll be piling up a building fund to be used in a happier day, and, at the same time, we'll be contributing to our government at a time of

Moscow Changes Battledress, Celebrates Germans' Retreat

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Dec. 14 (Delayed)—This glistening white capital exchanged battledress for its Sunday best today as its war-proven inhabitants celebrated the retreat of Adolf Hitler's legions from their near-siege positions.

With a group of American and British correspondents flown in from Kuibishev yesterday I viewed the city's scars and heard from men and women who stayed grimly by their posts through two bitter months of German air and land onslaughts the epic story of their struggle for existence.

Residents who underwent as many as seven air raids in a single day, and on several days four, told of hearing the heavy thud of artillery during one bad night when the Germans came closest. Nightly they saw on the horizon the flashes from the big guns reaching for their city.

There never was any serious food shortage, residents said.

All-American Tag Is Placed On Most Of Santa's Toys For Christmas 1941

Patriotism Is Keynote

BY MARGARET KERNODLE
Associated Press Feature Writer

SANTA CLAUS' pack puts an all-American tag on almost every toy for the boys and girls of the United States for Christmas 1941.

Playthings this season point more to miniature reproduction than to out-right make-believe. And children go to town with these toys with which they can copy the grown-ups.

That is why there is a building boom in toys for this Christmas. Pre-fabricated houses come prepared for ages from toddler to teens. Interlocking blocks and timbers are trimmed for tiny fingers. Some housing sets can be changed into automobiles, wagons and boats by bigger boys who want them that way.

For Young Carpenter

Log sets include a covered wagon, but also come adaptable to forts, tourist camps and ranches. Lumber yards come complete with lumber and tools. And the combination of tubular woods, nuts and bolts can bring about a young invasion of the industrial area, too, with miniature oil derricks, putty chasers, hack-saws included:

With some steel sets you can make plane beacons, pile drivers, derricks, walking-beam engines, trip hammers and oil drilling rigs—if you can get the sets away from Junior.

Wheel toys have extension features that fit fast-growing legs and arms. Doll carriages copy safety devices found in baby's own buggy.

Include Parlor Sports

Games go in for parlor sports in the form of miniature bowling alley, badminton, croquet and skeet shooting, often easy to pack away. A bumper crop of military games call for marksmanship and utilize airplanes, warships and other war equipment or strategy.

Patriotic color combinations and emblems are popular even for balloons, for miniatures of U. S. Army and Navy equipment, books, games and costumes.

There is for instance a printer's outfit with rubber stamps to show U. S. coast defense and Army activity. There is a magnetic minesweeper, and a parachute jump.

Dolls have heartbeats which you can hear with a stethoscope. Some dolls drink from a bottle, eat from a spoon and even blow soap bubbles. Others cry if you squeeze their legs.

Bridge Club Has Dinner

Amuz-U Bridge club members gave a dinner at Hotel Lubbock Sunday night. Husbands were guests.

Cotton Quota Program Given Big Majority

Returns of Saturday's cotton marketing quota election in Lubbock county were to be checked today by the county Agricultural Adjustment administration committee, at a special session, said C. E. Lilley, Slaton, chairman.

Corrected return for the Monroe box showed 91 votes for the quota to five against, instead of 75 for to six against, it was said. This gave a preliminary total of 1,313 votes for the quota to 75 against, or a majority of approximately 94 per cent.

Total vote was slightly more than 50 per cent of the eligible voters in the county.

Mead's Bakery Is Opened At 1956 Texas Avenue; Ed Corcorran Is Sales Manager

Announcement of the opening of Mead's bakery at 1956 Texas avenue was made today by Bill Mead, manager, who recently moved here from Wichita Falls.

Ed Corcorran, who has had 13 years of experience in the bakery business in Lubbock, is sales manager for the new firm. Although comparatively new in Lubbock, Mead's fine breads have been well known over West Texas for the past ten years. Plants have been operated at Wichita Falls, Abilene, San Angelo and Big Spring.

The new bakery has a total of 8,800 square feet of floor space and is equipped with the latest and finest of automatic bread-making machinery. Only bread is manufactured by the company. The bakery has a total of 15 employes and will operate eight trucks in Lubbock and over the South Plains area.

A formal open house is planned at the bakery sometime during the latter part of January or early February.

Typhus Outbreak Now Raging Over Europe

(By The United Press)

Stockholm newspaper dispatches from Berlin reported today that a severe epidemic of typhus had broken out in German-occupied Poland, White Russia and Baltic republic areas and that all schools in the German-occupied Ukraine had been closed because of epidemics.

The British radio quoted Finnish newspapers as reporting typhoid among German soldiers in the Vilna, Bialystok and Brest-Litovsk areas and as expressing fear that the Russians at Leningrad might force a general German retreat. The Germans were described as insufficiently equipped for winter warfare.

Return To Spain

The official German news agency, heard by the British radio, reported that several leading members of the Spanish Falangist (Fascist) party who had been serving with the Falangist "volunteers" against the Russians had returned to Spain "in order to fulfill their duty within the party during the winter."

An official Italian news agency dispatch from Budapest reported that "a motorized Hungarian brigade" had returned from the eastern front and had been received enthusiastically at Budapest. The dispatch asserted that the brigade "has been replaced by other forces."

General Is Killed

Both the German and Italian agencies reported the death in action on the Russian front of Italian General Ugo del Carolis.

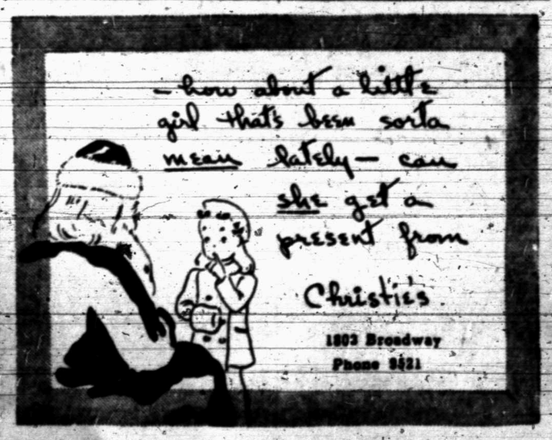

Radio Berlin reported anti-American demonstrations in Sobranje square at Sofia, Bulgaria, yesterday. It said a crowd stormed the United States legation until troops intervened, and then the crowd tried to demonstrate before the Russian legation but was again dispersed.

The Italian agency reported from Athens that at the demand of Axis occupation authorities the Swiss legation, which has taken charge of American and British interests in Greece, had "invited" all American and British citizens to report at once to the police station nearest their homes.

Axis sources announced yesterday that "the state of Croatia," formed in a corner of Jugoslavia, had "declared war" on the United States.

As Usual—Service The Friendly Way

Long War Seen By Both Sides

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

For a man with a dagger in his back our Uncle Sam has done right well to arrive at the second week of combat with the sons of the Shoguns without suffering further serious hurts.

The fact that we are holding our own — and better — under extremely trying conditions, pending the arrival of reinforcements in the Far East, is a matter of satisfaction from the military standpoint.

Troops Necessary For Conquest

The enemy today continued to blast at Manila, heart of the Philippines, from the air, but bombing in itself won't give the Japanese possession of our great naval base in these strategic islands. they must land troops in sufficient numbers to overcome our defense, and the heavy toll of transports we have taken during the first week — at least four sunk and five badly damaged — is far from encouraging to the Nipponese. Much depends, of course, on our air strength in the Philippines in these early days.

It really is surprising that the Japs haven't been able to capitalize on the great advantage they gained by back-alley tactics at Hawaii. They started out as though they were going places, and it is a reproach to their efficiency that they haven't been able to do so thus far. It's perhaps their bad luck that while the Germans could block out the strategy for the opening blitzkrieg, they couldn't execute the plans for Tokyo.

All See Long War

However, the war is young and my comment is on what has happened and isn't meant to suggest that we haven't a big job on our hands, for we have. A great deal must hinge on whether we are able to save the Philippines and the British can protect Singapore.

On at least one point the United States and Japan appear to be in accord — that this new conflict is likely to be a long one. President Roosevelt has said that "it will not only be a long war, it will be a hard war." A Japanese spokesman has warned his people that they must be prepared to carry on the conflict for ten years. Japanese Premier Tojo has capped that with a further warning of a long war. And the Russians, who know their Japs, think it will be protracted.

War Of Supplies

Whatever may be the length of time required to reach a decision of the world conflict, of which the battle of the Pacific is only a phase, all previous calculations have to be reviewed in the light of Japan's entrance. The nature of the general upheaval hasn't been altered by Japanese participation — it remains a war of supplies and production.

The Axis powers have only a fraction of the resources possessed by the Allies. The length of the struggle must depend on whether the Allies can keep the enemy from breaking through to fresh resources and on how fast we can develop military production.

The way things stand, the main burden of production must fall on the United States. The faster our factories work, the shorter the war.

Developments in the European theater generally have been favorable to the Allies. As you will see from the dispatches in your newspapers, the Russians have continued to pour disaster into the Nazis in one of the most amazing operations of this madhatter war. If the Hitlerites can't check the avalanche which is sweeping over them, the Bolshevists may succeed in their avowed determination to exterminate every German soldier on Red soil.

RANGES ARE GOOD

AUSTIN, Dec. 15 (U.P.) — Although Texas ranges deteriorated during the past month, a December condition report from the federal agricultural marketing service here today announced that ranges in most areas are in good condition for winter grazing. There are spotted exceptions where excessive fall rains have rotted grass. Winter weeds are starting and winter wheat pastures are supplying excellent grazing

Texas cattle are going into the winter in good flesh and winter losses are expected to be small.

AGGIES RESUME SESSIONS

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 15 (U.P.) — Coach Homer Norton called his Texas A. and M. team back to practice sessions today in preparation for the Cotton bowl game against Alabama New Year's day. The squad, which enjoyed a week's lay-off after completing the regular season, is in "reasonably good shape," Norton said.

Japs Sent To Watery Graves

munique announced yesterday, sank a Japanese supply ship and an oil tanker off Malaya. This followed their exploit of sending four Japanese troop ships to the bottom in the same waters Friday, with the loss of an estimated 4,000 enemy troops.

In the Philippines, army headquarters indicated that the Japanese landing forces, which still hold beachheads at Legaspi, Vigan and Aparri, were being held in tight check far from vital areas. The enemy units around Vigan, 200 miles north of Manila, were sending out patrols in an effort to strengthen their hold, but army bombers harried them savagely.

Fighter Planes Downed

Four Japanese fighter planes were shot down during yesterday's action off Legaspi, a communique declared.

The picture evoked by these succeeding announcements, coupled with reports of successes achieved by Netherlands submarines off Malaya, was one of heavy Japanese losses.

Situation Is Unchanged

The situation in general in the Philippines, which Lieut. General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said Sunday was "well in hand both on the ground and in the air," was described officially this morning as unchanged.

Unofficial reports said that Japanese forces established around Vigan, on the Luzon west coast 200 miles north of Manila, had sent out patrols during the week end in an attempt to widen their foothold.

There was no mention, however, of further fighting at Lingayen, 100 miles northwest of Manila, where General MacArthur said yesterday that a Philippine army division had smashed a Japanese landing force, nor at Aparri in northernmost Luzon, where the Japanese also have landed troops.

Make Several Attacks

American warplanes, however, were said to have made several attacks on the Aparri area to thwart Japanese attempts to establish an air base there.

There was no indication that the Japanese actually had been able to land more troops at Legaspi. Up to yesterday, Army headquarters said, only a limited number of men had been put ashore there and these were reported under sharp attack from the air.

Japanese aerial activities over Luzon this morning was said to have been limited to a few sporadic raids.

At least 40 Japanese planes were officially reported shot down over the Philippines last week, during which the islands were the target of 14 major attacks.

Army quarters firmly reiterated that thus far the Japanese had not landed any parachute troops in the Philippines.

sioned officers, the notice said.

The movement is by truck convoy but the exact schedule was not reported except that the unit is expected to be here Tuesday.

Members are to be quartered in barracks buildings at the base 10 miles west of the city. The nature of the duties to which they will be assigned was not announced.

Although building construction at the base was said by the contractors this morning to be well in excess of 90 per cent complete, this will be the first actual occupancy of any of the structures by units scheduled for permanent assignment at the school.

the general solicitations division.

The big gifts division is to consist of 15 sub-committee chairmen, each of whom is to select five assistants. The sub-committee chairmen are to be named in time to attend a meeting in the chamber of commerce at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

To Assemble Tuesday

They and their assistants are to meet in Hilton hotel Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock for final instructions, to receive prospect cards and to begin a drive expected to be completed by noon.

The general solicitations committee is headed by DeWitt Landis with the following assistants: Hugh Dunlap, Chas. H. Read, H. B. Bryan, O. J. Sexton, Luther Godwin, O. W. Ribble, Clark Wood and Paul Hardwick.

Plans for a woman's committee also were made, but details of that phase of the campaign also are to be worked out.

Navy Expansion

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 15 (AP) — Another 6-cent break in soybean futures prices today unsettled the entire grain market and thwarted an attempted rally of cereal quotations.

Wheat rose almost a cent, rye more than a cent and other grains fractionally early in the session, but later turned lower largely in sympathy with the collapse of bean prices. Some hedging sales were reported in the wheat pit.

Wheat closed unchanged to ¼ lower compared with Saturday, December 81.25⅛, May 81.27½; corn unchanged to ⅛ down, December 78⅝, May 83⅝; oats ⅛ off to ⅛ up; rye ½ lower to ⅛ higher; soybeans 6 lower; lard 3 lower to 7 higher.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Dec. 15 (AP) — Demand for grain was fair on the Fort Worth market as the new week got under way.

Wheat No. 1 soft red winter 1.35-36; No. 1 hard 1.30-32.

Barley No. 2 nom 62-63; No. 3 nom 61-62.

Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. nom 1.12-17; No. 3 nom 1.00-14; No. 2 white kafir nom 1.10-15, No. 3 kafir nom 1.07-13.

Corn shelled, No. 2 white 89¼-91¼; No. 3 yellow 89¾-91¾.

Oats No. 2 red 60-61; No. 3 red 59-60.

Stock Market

MARKET SHOWS GAINS

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP) — Steels, aircrafts, rails and armament specialties carried the ball for the recovery team in today's stock market and scored gains of fractions to as much as 2 points or so at the best.

Many leaders, however, sat on the losers' bench throughout the greater part of the session. Among these were motors, rubbers and mail orders. Closing results, consequently, were about as mixed as the war bulletins with advances in the majority.

Dealings were fast and slow at intervals and transfers for the full stretch were around 1,100,000 shares.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP) — An active trade and Wall Street demand moved cotton futures sharply higher today before local selling and hedging cut into the advance.

Futures closed 85 cents to $1.30 a bale higher.

born defense of the port and fortress of Hongkong . . .

"We are sure that the defense of Hongkong against a barbarous and unprovoked attack will add a glorious page to British annals.

"All our hearts are with you in your ordeal. Every day of your resistance brings nearer our certain victory."

To Hammer At Morale

It was believed here that the Japanese, if their costly storming attempts were stopped, would try to break down the morale of Hongkong by massed aerial bombings.

The colony hasn't enough anti-aircraft guns to put up an effective shell-umbrella over the 32 square miles of the island which are being defended.

Bombs already have left big scars on the island, including the Navy yard, the Taikoo docks and other targets but dispatches report little destruction to vital military objectives.

The famous "peak" of Hongkong is honeycombed with shelters like those of Chungking.

Big Shock Promised

Further, it is asserted here the Japanese do not know where the colony's real strength lies and that this knowledge will come to them as a big shock if they succeed in putting foot on the island.

All able bodied Britons are in war service, women are being conscripted for nursing services and an unending stream of Chinese volunteer for any service allotted to them.

The colony has three months' food supplies. Strict rationing systems have been inaugurated for water as well as food. It is assumed here that the Japanese already have put the Singmun reservoir out of commission.

Artillery Battle Rages

A communique issued as this dispatch is sent reported that a heavy exchange of artillery fire was in progress.

Dispatches said the crescent beach of Repulse bay was bristling with guns in the expectation that the Japs would make their main landing attempt there.

Stanley prison had been made a powerful citadel to defend the southwestern approaches and the biggest guns were concentrated on Mt. Davis, 1,200 feet high.

Japan's Record

lowed," he said, "Germany, Italy and Japan reached an understanding to time their acts of aggression to their common advantage — and to bring about the ultimate enslavement of the rest of the world."

He disclosed that several formulas were offered and discussed in negotiations by which the United States hoped to achieve an understanding with Japan for achieving permanent peace in the Pacific. But the Japanese government, he said, continued upon its course of war and conquest.

Japan's real reply to the ultimate effort to preserve peace, made by the war lords and evidently formulated many days before, the president said, "took the form of the attack which had already been made without warning upon our territories at various points in the Pacific."

Subs Also In Attack

For the record of history, he noted that the actual air and submarine attack in the Hawaiian islands — this was the first disclosure that undersea craft had attacked the islands along with planes — began at 1:20 p. m., Washington time, on Sunday December 7.

At 2:20 p. m., the Japanese ambassador here delivered to Secretary of State Hull, he said, a message which said that establishment of peace in the Pacific and the world had been "the cherished desire" of the Japanese emperor.

Listing the countries which have declared war on Japan, Mr. Roosevelt asserted:

"These and other peace-loving countries will be fighting as are we, first, to put an end to Japan's program of aggression, and, second, to make good the right of nations and mankind to live in peace under conditions of security and justice.

"The people of this country are totally united in their determination to consecrate our national strength and manpower to bring conclusively to an end, the pestilence of aggression and force which has long menaced the world and which now has struck deliberately and directly at the safety of the United States."

News Briefs

Commandery To Meet—Knights Templar commandery No. 60 is to meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Masonic temple, third floor of Citizens National bank building, to confer degrees, H. B. Bryan, commander, said this morning. The Red Cross and Malta degrees are to be conferred on several candidates, he added.

Parris Leaves Sanitarium—Collier Parris is recovering satisfactorily from pneumonia and was removed to Hilton hotel, where he lives, from Lubbock sanitarium this morning. Parris will be confined to bed several days more. He is sports editor of Avalanche-Journal publications.

Calloway To Slaton—J. E. Calloway, chief quartermaster and navy recruiting officer, will speak at a meeting of the American Legion post at Slaton tonight. He will talk on Navy recruiting.

Many Seek Service—A rush of applicants at the district Army recruiting service this morning indicated a large number of enlistments before the day was over, said Major R. Peller, district recruiting officer, who said a Texas-New Mexico & Oklahoma coach was being charteded to take a party of 25 or more to Fort Sill. The bus will leave some time early tonight, he said.

Two Men Enlist—Two men were enlisted for naval service through the Lubbock recruiting office and will leave tonight for Dallas to take a physical examination Tuesday, said J. E. Calloway, recruiting officer. Enlisting were: Earnest H. Harrison, who gave his temporary address as Lubbock, and Jack Catlin of Matador, both of whom are going for the regular Navy.

Court Is Adjourned—United States district court for the November term was adjourned by Judge T. Whitfield Davidson Saturday and the next term will open June 19 Mrs. Olive Fluke, deputy court clerk, said this morning. Before returning to Dallas Judge Davidson heard a number of motions Saturday. He had been taken ill and was much improved before leaving.

Many Men Report—Forty-eight men who had been ordered here for a physical examination before being called into army selective service, had reported at the district Army recruiting service up to noon, Major Everett W. Bright, an induction officer, said. Orders had been for 60 men to report but owing to changes in the status of some men, said Major Bright, only 48 had reported. Additional men will report Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Jaycees Hear Winslow — Rev. John A. Winslow, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church, gave an inspirational talk on 'Victory' to members of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce in their luncheon today noon at the Hilton hotel. W. S. Moss, jr., and John Caraway were program chairmen, Moss introducing Rev. Winslow. Next Monday the Jaycees will meet with the Kiwanis and Optimist club at Lubbock hotel in a joint luncheon.

Condition Improving — Jimmy Witt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Witt of 2517 Twenty-second street, is improving steadily in condition, it was said this morning at the residence. The youth, who suffered back fracture Oct. 21 when struck by an automobile on west Nineteenth street, was removed home from Lubbock sanitarium several days ago. He still is wearing a cast and will be confined to bed about six weeks longer, but is expected to recover completely.

questioning regarding his having operated a car without a drivers license. He figured in an automotive mishap, but none was reported injured.

Hit-And-Run Case

A hit-and-run case was reported in 2500-block Nineteenth street. License numbers of an automobile blamed were supplied to police. No one was injured.

D. W. Pounds of 1117 Sixteenth street said fender skirts were stolen from his automobile.

A man found in an automobile, not his, explained to police he merely was there in 1700-block Avenue X, to sleep, that he had been involved in a family row and was chased from his residence. In 1500-block Main street someone tried to climb to the top of a residence, but was chased away before arrival of police.

C. P. Hilsted of 3217 Twenty-second street reported theft of a child's tricycle.

An automobile was stolen from Post Saturday night. It was a 1936 Chevrolet coupe, license 478-988.

Japs Given Warning Against Enemy Subs

TOKYO, Dec. 15. (Official Radio Received By (AP))—A joint communique of the Army and Navy sections of imperial headquarters warned Japanese today "against the lurking danger of enemy submarines" off Japan's island coasts and urged them to "prepare for a protracted war wherein hostile submarines and aircraft bombing will play a role."

It said land and sea defenses were prepared to meet any sudden attacks or enemy attempts to harass Japan by raiding her seaborne commerce.

ter day-long battling.

The Russians also said a 25,000-ton German troop transport was sunk by a Red naval unit in the Black sea.

Coming out openly against an order of the German occupation authorities for the first time since the armistice, France last night condemned a German order for the execution of 100 alleged Jewish Communists and anarchists in occupied France.

The French acknowledged the 100 were "delinquents" instead of hostages such as the Germans have executed in groups this fall but said the very high number provoked "profound uneasiness among Frenchmen."

Jews Fined Huge Sum

The Germans said Saturday the 100 would be shot in reprisal for "recent attacks against the occupation troops." They also fined the Jews in the occupied zone 1,000,000,000 francs ($20,000,000).

In partitioned Yugoslavia and Greece, several hundred thousand Axis soldiers were reported tied up with steady and strong resistance by Serbs and Greeks in a small-scale war.

Draja Mihailovic, a colonel in the Yugoslav army before the Germans over-ran his country last spring, has been promoted to the rank of a full general for his "magificent work" in organizing the Serb resistance, the Yugoslav government in exile said yesterday.

Revolt Threatens Axis

In Greece, the British radio said, 18 German and Italian divisions are busy trying to choke off revolt.

The Libyan campaign seemed to have resolved itself into a British race to force a decisive fight with General Erwin Rommel before he can establish his retreating Axis remnants in new and favorable positions.

En Route To Oklahoma

This morning the sheriff learned the Bakers had sold their home in Hobbs and were en route to Okmulgee, Okla., where his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Stevens, 88, died this morning.

Baker had $18.50 cash in his billfold and the woman had a cashier's check on a Hobbs bank for $251.28.

Other papers indicated the two had been married only a year and that they had lived or worked at Hobbs, Crane, Kermit and Artesia, N. M.

No Arrangements Made

The funeral home said no funeral arrangements had been made, pending communication with relatives. An uncle of Baker, Bill Baker of Traquility, Calif., had not been reached by telegraph at mid-morning, and attempts to learn the address of Mrs. Baker's mother met with vague results. Some said the mother lived in Waco, some said Fort Worth.

J. T. Inmon, justice of peace, will be told by witnesses Mr. and Mrs. Baker "undoubtedly died of carbon monoxide poisoning accidentally caused."

the goal will be sufficient to provide a couple of nickels for each package distributed. Increased prices of everything make it impossible to allow 10 cents for each child out of the $1,500 budget. But it now looks as if the nickels can be provided out of the surplus, just as has been done during past years.

If you will help, please send your contribution to the Chief Goodfellow, P. O. Box 561, or send or bring it to the Avalanche-Journal, 1211 Texas avenue.

It is becoming increasingly important, too, to remember the coupon appearing in each issue of Avalanche-Journal newspapers. It is the best protection the Goodfellows have that the list of names of children to be remembered will be complete. If you know any child under the age of 15 years living in Lubbock who should be on the list, please use the coupon as directed. Mail it to the Chief Goodfellow.

Wildcat Test Is Being Planned

South Plains oil operators' attention today was focused on a new 5,500 foot wildcat test soon to be started four miles northwest of Plains in central Yoakum county.

The well is the Dunigan Bros. & Brahaney, Fort Worth, No. 1 Alice Henard. It has been staked 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 367, block D, John H. Gibson survey. Spudding is slated by Dec. 20.

Location of the new test falls seven-eighths of a mile northeast of the old Baham & Rhodes No. 1 Henard, in the center of the southwest quarter of the same section, which was abandoned a failure in August, 1936. The Baham & Rhodes well showed a promising amount of oil, estimated at five to 20 barrels a day, from lime zones at 5,228-49 feet.

Hits Sulphur Water

However it ran into sulphur water from 5,327-28 feet, total depth, which rose 600 feet in two hours and was plugged. A majority of oil men believe that if the original test had been completed in the same manner as wells now being brought in in the Wasson field, farther south, it would have attained commercial production.

Likins & Hall, Midland, No. 1 Jones, scheduled 7,200 foot test of lower Permian zones in extreme northwestern Gaines county, is drilling in hard lime at 6,270 feet.

More Completions

A northwestern Gaines prospect three miles west of the south end of the Wasson field, Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 1 Hudson, swabbed 15 barrels of oil and 14 barrels of drilling water on 12-hour gauge and continued testing. It is bottomed at 5,016 feet in lime and 2½ inch tubing is set at 5,010 feet, with packer at 4,887, water dilution was 75 per cent at the start of the 12-hour test and only 13 per cent at the close in the Seminole pool, central Gaines. Amerada has completed No. 2-B Riley for daily potential flow of 310.80 barrels of oil. The well is bottomed at 5,295 feet in lime and was shot with 111 quarts.

Surge in Slaughter field activity was seen Saturday as six new wells were completed. Two are in the Cochran and four in the Hockley county portion of the field.

In Cochran, Honolulu Oil corporation No. 23-4 Igoe-Smith "AX" made 883.72 barrels of oil a day, plus 1.66 per cent water the same firm's No. 12-4 Igoe-Smith "A" flowed 617.24 barrels of oil, plus 6.6 per cent water, on daily potential test.

Texaco added three more oilers in the Hockley sector of the Slaughter. Its No. 64 Bob Slaughter rated 1,473.84 barrels per day. No. 3-C Mallet, Land and Cattle company 1,358.32 a day, and No. 4 Cattle Raisers-Neal unit 527.48 a day, plus two per cent water.

The fourth new Hockley completion is Falcon company No. 1 T. E. Grant, good for 558.52 barrels a day.

In northeastern Hockley wildcat territory, Anderson-Phichard and American Drilling corporation No. 1 W. L. Ellwood estate is drilling at 5,586 feet in lime. Original contract depth was 5,500 feet and it is being deepened in search of lower Permian pay.

Placid Oil company, Shreveport, No. 1 Higginbotham, southwestern Dawson county 5,000-foot test and one of the most closely watched wildcats in the South Plains, had logged no shows in the drilling to 4,670 feet in lime.

More Rules To Follow In Case Of An Air Raid Given; Dangers Again Are Stressed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—Following is another in the series of air raid instructions issued by the Office for Civilian Defense:

Stay away from windows.

Glass shatters easily, so stay away from windows.

Don't go to windows and look out, in an air raid. It is a dangerous thing, and helps the enemy. The air raid warden is out there watching for you. Again we say, get off the streets if planes come over.

At night, there is danger of being caught in blast from explosives.

Anti-aircraft fire means falling shrapnel. You are safe from it indoors, away from windows. It's more important to shell a plane than it is to see it from a window.

Stay in your refuge room, away from windows. That is the safest place. Go there at the first alarm, stay there until the all-clear.

Above all, keep calm. Stay home. Put out lights. Lie down. Stay away from windows. Do not say we are repeating; we would rather repeat until we bore you than have you forget.

You can do all those things without any special equipment, other than what you have now in your homes.

You can help lick the Japs, with your bare hands, if you will do just those few, simple things.

Be a good fellow and follow instructions and keep well.

Do not be a wise guy and get hurt.

The English sparrow is not a true sparrow.

Schoolboy Roundup
Sunset Boomed But Must Halt Coyote Passes

BY TOM W. MILLER
United Press Sports Writer

Four fighting football teams that have yet to win a state schoolboy championship slammed on toward their goal today in a semi-final round that posed two questions:

"Can Dallas Sunset's all-around attack handle Texas' top passing offense, that of the Wichita Falls Coyotes?"

"Can Temple's 'just enough' Wildcats stop the best one-man gang the state has seen in a decade, rampant Ray Borneman of Houston Lamar?"

SEMI-FINALISTS RECORDS

Team—	W.	L.	Pts.	Op.
Dallas Sunset	11	0	268	82
Temple	11	0	214	40
Wichita Falls	11	1	281	32
Houston Lamar	10	0	220	64

The schedule:
Wichita Falls at Dallas Sunset, 2:30 p. m. Saturday.
Temple at Houston Lamar, 8 p. m. Saturday.

Sunset Speed Favored

Texas this year crowns a new champion, adding to a list of 11 outright winners in the 21-year history of the Interscholastic league. All the "old reliables" have been washed away in a flood of upsets and normal ebbtides of power.

But today, with just two rounds of play left, there still is plenty of argument as to what team of the four will be that new champion.

Sunset's Bisons have the most backers. The lightning fast little team from Dallas' Oak Cliff area, shooting for the first statewide supremacy the big town has enjoyed in 17 years, may not be a standout favorite, but until proven otherwise its versatile attack — a fine ground game, fair to good passing and superb punting—seem to have the best chance of winning through to the title.

Coyotes To Get Test

Sunset, like Temple, unbeaten and untied in 11 games, stopped Highland Park's dazzling passing attack last Saturday, but will face an even more potent one this week end. Little Gene Hill, whose rifle throws have connected 111 times in 190 attempts, will be firing once more for the Coyotes. Against Ysleta last Saturday he tossed for all three Wichita Falls scores.

Something should be said also of Wichita Falls' stingy line, a green bunch of boys who have been molded into the staunchest forward wall in the state. Wichita Falls' defensive record — 32 points in 12 games or 3⅓ points a game —is the best among the semi-finalists. That line's problem will be to repel the trigger-quick thrusts of Sunset's pony backfield, especially 150-pound Bill Blackburn, a speedster and line whammer combined.

Large Crowds Expected

Tall and well-built, Ray Borneman is putting on a one-man show seldom equalled. This big boy runs fast but deceptively, and only twice this year has been held in check. Temple hopes to make it a third time. Houston Lamar has totaled 229 points this year, and of them Borneman has counted 178. Not only that but he has passed for others, and is rated the keyman in the Redskins' defense.

They call Temple the "just enough" team because the boys from the blackland belt have had just enough to win so many, many times. Such was the case in the bi-district victory over Breckenridge and the quarter-final triumph over Tyler. But the Wildcats have six shutouts in their record and have given up only 40 points in all in their 11 straight victories. And Temple has a backfield performer who may outshine Borneman, Wayland Hill is less flashy but the 175-pounder, a great punter, a fast, hard-to-stop ball carrier and an inspirational leader, is hardly less valuable to his team.

There is a direct comparison between Temple and Lamar. Each defeated Austin—Temple 19 to 13 and Lamar 26 to 6.

For that matter, there is a basis of comparison between Lamar, Sunset and Wichita Falls. All whipped Fort Worth Riverside, Lamar 7 to 0, Sunset 14 to 0 and Wichita Falls 6 to 0.

The semi-final games, at Dallas and Houston Saturday afternoon, are expected to draw some 35,000 or 40,000 fans.

Raiders Meet SWC Squads

Techsans To Play Rice, Ags, Texas

The Border conference basketball campaign this week sends the West Texas State Teachers Buffaloes—the world's tallest basketball team and favorites to win the loop crown in their first season of competition—to the Arizona cactus land for three conference games.

Otherwise, the league basketball front is pretty quiet, except for a Monday night outburst at Abilene where the defending champion Texas Mines team, already jarred loose from the crown by consecutive defeats at the hands of the Teachers and Texas Tech, test the Hardin-Simmons five in that team's season opener.

Tech Meets Fast Competition

Texas Tech's five, rated up near the top of the league, gets a chance to boost its own prestige and that of the Border conference in four games with Southwest conference foes. The first is at Houston Tuesday night against the tall Rice Owls. Wednesday night the Raiders play the Texas Aggies, also at Houston. After a day's rest Thursday, the Crimsons move to Austin for Friday and Saturday games with the University of Texas.

The Buffalo invasion of Arizona begins tonight at Flagstaff, where the Teachers engage the Arizona State Lumberjacks. Tuesday night they move to Tempe to test the Bulldogs of Arizona State. Then Wednesday night it's the University of Arizona at Tucson.

After that the Buffaloes declare a holiday until December 26, when they go to Oklahoma City for the All-College tournament there. Texas Tech also is entered in that tournament.

Fans Are In For Promising Season--
Border League's Championship Campaign Finds Red Raiders, Buffs Among Early Leaders

BY JOE PIERCE
Journal Sports Writer

The Border conference basketball campaign, a rough-and-ready affair that this season promises to be a tight race between West Texas State Teachers' too-tall Buffaloes and the speedy Raiders of Texas Tech, is already under way, and gathers steam with a couple of games scheduled tonight.

The Buffaloes play the Arizona State Lumberjacks at Flagstaff, and the Texas Mines five, already shaken loose from the title it won last season, tackles Hardin-Simmons at Abilene.

This much is certain about the team that wins the title: The Border conference champion is sure to play either in the National Invitational tournament at Madison Square Garden or the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament at Kansas City.

The Border conference is recognized throughout the land as one of the toughest basketball circuits in the nation. Its football prestige is non-existent, but when December rolls around, the Cactus loop comes into its own.

The fame of the West Texas State Teachers five is national. They're known the length and breadth of the land as the "tallest basketball team in the world" — a claim that hasn't been disputed in the last five years.

And Texas Tech's own Red Raiders are beginning to acquire a national reputation for their ability on the court, too. The fine showing they've made the last five seasons in the Oklahoma City tournament hasn't hurt them a bit. Neither has the sensational, crowd-pleasing way they make the rotating offense work.

The Red Raiders have been exceedingly popular with the fans wherever they have played in the last five years.

The New Mexico Aggies are no longer the toughies they were a few seasons ago, when they went to the Garden tournament a couple of times, but the Texas Mines quintet did all right for itself last year, and despite defeats in its first two conference games this season, will make trouble again.

Hal Sayles, sports editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, opines there isn't a team in the conference that can match shots with the Buffaloes. There we'll differ with him. We say that the Red Raiders will beat the Canyon lads in one of the two games they play this year — and maybe both.

We base our prediction on two years of watching the Red Raider style of play, and on the few games we've seen the Buffaloes play.

The Buffs are tall, we know that. It's also a well known fact that they are uncanny in their shooting, and that their defense is tough, especially when six-foot-ten-inch Charles Halbert parks himself under the basket and bats out the opposition's goal tries.

But we think that the Red Raiders own enough speed to wear the Buffs down to size, and that the Buff defense will find the Crimson rotating attack more than it can handle.

In making our rather reckless forecast, we are fully aware, and counting on, the fact that there's no coach better than Berl Huffman at keying his athletes up for a single game.

We're indebted to Mr. Sayles for the following thumb-nail review of the conference teams as he saw them in the Reporter-News:

WEST TEXAS STATE TEACHERS — An overwhelming favorite. With four of last year's starters back, the Buffs should rank as one of the nation's best teams this winter.

TEXAS MINES — Defending champion. Six lettermen, including All-Conference Donald Lance and Bud Lassiter, give the Muckers a balanced aggregation which should win most of its games.

TEXAS TECH — Not quite as strong as last year's fine team. Two returning regulars and a good crop of sophs and squadmen will make the Red Raiders dangerous.

NEW MEXICO AGGIES — A good first team, weak in reserves. Look for a slow start with considerable improvement along toward the middle of the season.

HARDIN-SIMMONS — Handicapped by a late start, the Cowboys are due for a rocky getaway. They're not first division caliber at this writing.

ARIZONA U. — Another late starter. The Wildcats, with a good nucleus from last year's team, should get tougher as the season wears on.

NEW MEXICO U.—Last year's team was one of weakest in school's history. The Lobos are counting on some outstanding sophomores this season.

FLAGSTAFF — Outlook is not too promising. Nine lettermen were lost either by graduation or through employment in defense industries.

TEMPE—A darkhorse. But the team shouldn't give West Texas, Texas Mines or Texas Tech much to worry about.

Miami Open Is Won By Nelson

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 15—Big-time golf's great stretch-runner, Byron Nelson of Toledo, Ohio, sprinted ahead of Ben Hogan to win first money in the $10,000 Miami open, but the little Hershey, Pa., star's second place sewed up for him two of the year's most coveted honors.

Even though he took a 72 and blew his three-day lead, Hogan gathered in a $1,250 check that sent his year's tournament winnings to $17,333—more money than any other pro can win this year.

Nelson Burns Up Course

He also received 30 points toward the Vardon trophy—the pro's emblem of year-around tournament excellence—to run his total to a new record of 524. With only two P. G. A.-sponsored tournaments left, the second place golfer, Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va., did not retain even a mathematical chance of overtaking Hogan.

Nelson burned up the fairways on the last nine and wound up with a brilliant 66 for a 72-hole total of 269, five strokes better than Hogan and six ahead of Slamin' Sammy.

Elated by his second consecutive victory in this tournament, Nelson confessed that he preferred to go into the last round one stroke behind rather than slightly ahead.

Pressure On Leader

"The pressure is on the fellow that's out in front," he remarked. "And after all, one stroke is nothing to make up in 18 holes.

"It works this way with me—if I'm a little in front I start playing defensively to hold the lead. And when I start trying to play everything safe I can't do anything. But if I'm a little behind, I start to gamble a little and things start going right."

Snead has 444 points toward the Vardon trophy, Nelson 407, Craig Wood of Miami Beach 363, and Lloyd Mangrum of Monterey Park, Calif., 234.

Snead has won $12,848, Nelson $11,350, and Wood $9,364.

Veterans Will Spark Lubbock

"Big Five" Winner In State Playoffs

The Lubbock High school basketballers open workouts today for what looms as their brightest season in history.

Four regulars from the team that won the District Three championship a year ago will be among the group that reports to Coach Goober Keyes today for the first practice session of the new season.

The campaign will not open until after the holidays for the Westerners. First conference game is scheduled January 16.

Football Stars On Team

The regulars due to report are Max Walthall, 6'a 11-hawking, sharp-shooting guard; Roland "Tuffy" Nabors, whose ambidextrous ability from the pivot post position is due to make him the outstanding center in District One; Milner Thorne, lanky guard; and J. A. Blackwell, elusive little forward.

Nabors was all-district a year ago, along with Bob McKinnon, only regular missing from the 1940-41 five.

There's a wealth of reserve strength coming up, too, but the newcomers will have to show extraordinary ability to break into the starting lineup.

Hope To Make Finals

The new setup for Interscholastic league basketball seems to increase the Westerners' chances of landing in the state playoff—an honor they haven't attained since 1927.

This year the same teams that compete in District One in football will battle for the basketball crown. That means that the "Big Five" which has operated unofficially for the last several seasons this year becomes a championship race.

Pampa, Lubbock, Plainview, Amarillo and Borger will battle for the title, and even this early Lubbock and Amarillo are being boomed as favorites for the championship.

The winner of the district will meet the winner of District Two—Wichita Falls, Childress, Olney, Graham, Quanah, Vernon and Electra—for bi-district honors and the right to advance to the state meet.

Amarillo, Pampa and Borger already have opened practice play. Plainview and Lubbock do not play opening games until after the holidays.

Here is the conference schedule for the district:

Stanford's "T" Men Now Back Chicago's Bears In Another Bid For Pro Gridiron Honors

BY STEVE SNIDER
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Until yesterday I never realized what a great team Stanford fielded in the last Rose bowl football game.

Flashing over the frozen turf at Wrigley field was a shaft of light—Hugh Gallarenau. Then came Norm Standlee, a swashbuckling Giant whom no one tackler could master.

A year ago they ran from Stanford's version of the T formation and today they are stars on a team of perfectionists, clutch players who brought the Chicago Bears their fifth western division championship in the National football league.

In a far corner of the Cubs' pink poodle room, where baseball and football post-mortems extend far into the night, Paddy Driscoll of the Bears' coaching staff singled out Clark Shaughnessy of Stanford.

Both Scored Early

"I'm sorry you lost those boys, Clark, but I'm sure glad we got 'em," grinned Paddy. "They brought us home today."

Between them Gallarneau and Standlee scored three of the four Bears' touchdowns in a 33 to 14 rout of Green Bay's explosive Packers in a sudden death playoff for the right to meet the New York Giants at Chicago next Sunday.

"Gallarneau proved his greatness in the first period," Driscoll said. "His 81 yard punt return put us back in the ball game at a time when we were so tight we couldn't do anything right. He made the mistake that cost us the first touchdown but he loosened us up so much with his run that we were sailing in the clear even though the Packers had us, 7 to 6.

Rated Among Best

"And that Standlee! He's another Bronko Nagurski."

When they talk about the Bronk in Wrigley field they're talking about the best. In his heyday, he'd rather run over a tackler than run around. Standlee works the other way. If he can't get around, he bowls over the top.

Like George McAfee, probably the best runner in football today, Gallarneau's ability to start swiftly is suited ideally for the Halan T formation. He runs the same plays that McAfee does, perhaps not quite as well as the golden boy from Duke even in yesterday's game but enough to give the Bears the two best scat-backs in the league.

And just as a passing thought how much actual football do you think the crowd saw in sitting there for three hours watching the clock tick off an hour of playing time?

The ball was in play 12 minutes, 48 seconds. For every eight seconds the ball was moving in the second period the Bears scored a point and since each team controlled the ball for 20 plays that makes it a point for the Bears every four seconds.

Or does it?

Bears To Play Giants For Pro Grid Crown

CHICAGO, Dec. 15 (AP)—The schedule makers of the National football league disappointed followers of the New York Giants in not pitting their favorite team against the champion Chicago Bears, but everything is all right now.

The league's representatives in the nation's two largest cities finished the season's play by winning their respective division titles, automatically placing them as finalists for the championship encounter. The title game will be played next Sunday in Chicago's Wrigley field.

The Giants know they were one of the finalists a couple of weeks ago but the Bears only yesterday captured the western section honors by humbling the Green Bay Packers, 33 to 14, in a playoff.

For the second straight year the Bears are the western entry in the league's championship game, and will seek their second consecutive title in the game against the well-groomed Giants.

OPERATION FOR FRISCH

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 15 (U.P.) — Pittsburgh Pirates' Manager Frankie Frisch, was scheduled to undergo his second operation in two months today—this time for removal of a bone growth resulting from an old injury to his left foot. Shortly after the close of the National league season, Frisch had his tonsils removed.

TCU STARTS DRILLS

FORT WORTH, Dec. 15 (U.P.) — Texas Christian university's squad today begins practice sessions for its Orange bowl date with Georgia university. Coach Dutch Meyer said he had "a pretty good line" on Georgia and may issue some new plays to the Horned Frogs designed specifically for the Miami game. Practice sessions will follow "regular season routine" with punting, passing, signal running and skull practice but few scrimmages to prevent injuries.

Games Called Off On Coast

Several Bids For Contests Received

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15 — The west's famous New Year's football classics — the Rose bowl and the East-West games — hunted temporary new homes today as war refugees.

Military expediency demanded blackout of the games. The army was firm. Sponsors agreed to cooperate fully and cancelled all local arrangements.

Then, as Pasadena and San Francisco kissed dreams of thousands of tourist dollars goodbye, officials went to work to find other quarters for the orphaned sports spectacles.

Where the games might be taken was anybody's guess. Percy Locey, director of athletics at Oregon State college, the west's Rose bowl representative, said he was "receptive to offers" of a place to hold the game, a feature of the annual Pasadena Tournament of Roses.

And he got them. Officials of Duke university, Oregon State's choice to represent the east, suggested that the game be played in Duke stadium, at Durham, N. C., "with Rose Bowl sanction or otherwise." Chicago, New York and Kansas City were mentioned as other possible sites.

Oklahoma Seeks Classic

There appeared to be plenty of takers for the East-West game, too. Atlanta, Chicago, Spokane, and Norman, Okla., home of the University of Oklahoma, all were reported to have been in touch with East-West representatives. A decision on the East-West encounter, an annual benefit for the Shriners' crippled children's hospital here, was expected today.

Oregon State college officials said the game with Duke might be played elsewhere, but it would be two or three days before a decision is reached.

The financial loss incurred could only be estimated. Based on last year's figure, Duke would have received about $100,000 from the Tournament of Roses association. Oregon State would have taken $57,000 and nine other Pacific coast conference members would have received $7,500 each. The association, owner of the Rose bowl, would have netted $71,000. The association still owes $40,000 on the bowl.

Sixty thousand tickets have been sold to the Rose bowl game for approximately $264,000. The money will be refunded by individual check. Oregon State, which already has spent about $20,000 for promotion and other preliminary work, will foot the stamp bill.

There was no one to say what division of revenue will be made should the game be played elsewhere.

Tickets to 90 per cent of the 60,000 seats in Kezar stadium, site of the East-West game, have been sold. Purchasers will be reimbursed in full. A reserve fund built up over the 16 years the game has been played will assure the crippled children's hospital against curtailment of service for lack of finances.

Shriners' officials said approximately $20,000 already had been spent for promotion and equipment. This, too, will be paid out of reserves.

BUT NOW, and most seriously, speaking of prayers, Bill Powell handed us a clipping the other day which contained a very fine bit of supplication—and one which we believe will interest many men, whether or not they appear, on the surface, to be religiously inclined.

This prayer—called "The Prayer of a Real Sport"—seems to us to be worth passing on, especially in times like these when more and more people are realizing all over again that man, alone, is not self-sufficient.

We're sorry we cannot give you the name of the prayer's author. The clipping we had was signed, merely, author unknown.

But, anyway, it follows:

"Dear God: Help me to be a sport in this little game of life. I don't ask for any easy place in the line-up; play me anywhere You need me. I only ask for the stuff to give You 100 per cent of what I've got. If all the hard drives seem to come my way, I thank You for the compliment. Help me to remember that You won't ever let anything come my way that You and I, together, can't handle. And help me to take the bad breaks as part of the game. Help me to understand that the game is full of knots and knocks and trouble and make me thankful for them. Help me to get so that the harder they come, the better I like it.

"And, O God, help me always to play on the square. No matter what the other players do, help me to come clean. Help me to study the Book that I'll know the rules, and to study and think a lot about the Greatest Player that ever lived, and other great players that are told about in the Book. If they found that the best part of the game was helping other guys who were out of luck, help me to find it out too.

"Finally, O God, if fate seems to uppercut me with both hands and I'm laid on the shelf in sickness or old age, or something, help me to take that as part of the game, too. Help me not to whimper or squeal that the game was a frame-up, or that I had a raw deal.

"When in the falling dusk I get the final bell, I ask for no lying complimentary stones. I'd only like to know that You feel that I've been a good, game guy."

FOR SOME WEEKS, now, we have been intending to call to the attention of the proper authorities (assuming they MIGHT POSSIBLY be interested) and to a sizeable group of local parents, a "game" which some of our merry adolescents have been "playing" on Lubbock streets.

But first one thing and then another came up; and then the thunder of war broke over the Pacific, and we kept putting it off. But the other day a letter from a sensible, and irate, parent called the situation again to mind and brings us up short to the point of breaking loose.

It has to do with a "game" referred to by numbers of our youth as "Ditching," or "Ditch 'em"; and to "play" it there must be two or more automobiles, well loaded with carefree, thoughtless, giggling kids.

Rules of the "game," we understand, are very flexible. But by and large, here's the way it is "played":

One carload of kids starts out, is given a "lead" of all the way from one to three or four blocks.

Then the other carload—or the other several carloads—as the case may be, dashes off in wild pursuit.

Up and down the streets and avenues of the residential sections of Lubbock—although some of the "players" have been known to cut straight through the downtown areas—dash the cars, the occupants of the first car attempting to "ditch," i. e., "lose," the occupants of the other car.

It is great sport, of course, careening around corners on two wheels and breaking the speed laws and the statutes aimed at reckless driving, "all to smithereens."

That, in a nutshell, is a description of "ditching," as it is being "played" in our fair city.

OF COURSE, sooner or later someone is going to get killed, or, at the best, badly hurt, as the result of the jolly pastime.

But there's no denying that Lubbock is the best and safest—from the standpoint of the "players"—town in the whole country in which to cut dangerous didoes in an automobile.

Our city, as everyone save those in the general vicinity of Texas avenue and Tenth street knows, hasn't even a first class imitation of traffic control, although the city administration must be commended for the very splendid watch kept over luckless oafs who, busily patronizing our merchants, overpark in front of those armless bandits known here as parking meters.

On second thought, we are quite certain that the proper authorities will not be interested in any details concerning the violation of traffic ordinances via the "ditching game." Why should they be? They're not interested — at least not enough to start some action — against other infractions of laws aimed at protecting life, limb and property.

But we are sure some parents will be interested enough in learning about the new "game," so they can find out if their Johnny or Lizzie is playing it.

To parents—and we're one whose eldest offspring is rapidly approaching the inescapable jackass age—let us offer this tip:

If you let Johnny or Lizzie use the family buggy frequently to ride aimless about town; or if your offspring frequently rides around in a car driven by someone else's Johnny or Lizzie, and said kids are between the ages of 13 and 19, the chances are your kids are playing "Ditching," or "Ditch 'em," as the case may be.

Better check up before you have serious trouble — or sorrow!

For The Love Of Pete

BY BURTON BENJAMIN
Copyright, 1941, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: No longer popular with teammates, classmates is star State footballer Pete Laird, pursued by movie actress Stephanie Stevens, who is slyly using him for his publicity value. His head turned by her attentions, he estranges his college sweetheart, and captain, George Landers. Coach Dinty Dugan is already worried about team morale when Pete and George have a fight over Anne, who has turned to George in her unhappiness, and George's shoulder is injured, forcing him out of play. George soothes the anger of teammates against Pete, now a lone wolf and interested only in Stephanie, and State, through Pete's brilliant play, chugs along fairly well without George until the game with Minnesota. Landers, back with the team, is injured again. "Let's see what you can do now, big shot," a player growls at Pete.

A DOUBLE UPSET
CHAPTER XI

Two resounding whacks at the line and Minnesota was over for a touchdown. Ed Walczak, battering 220-pound fullback, plowed across on a straight center plunge. Disconsolately Pete Laird saw State's line sag and realized the crew was being outcharged for the first time that year.

The Gophers kicked goal and after less than one minute of play, State—those vaunted bone-crushers of football—trailed by seven points. Laird's throat was dry. His head still spun dizzily but he dug his nails into his palms and moved back to position.

Diehards exhorted and screeched in the stands, but 11 spiritless robots in State uniforms moved lifelessly. There was no aggressive dash, no chatter, no visible enthusiasm.

The ball catapulted down field, and Pete Laird speared it on the five. State players moved ahead but there was none of the scythe-like blocking to shake Laird loose. A golden wave buried him on the 20 and buried him hard. He felt as if a tank had hit him broadside. Ponderous Heinie Dober of Minnesota got up from the bottom of the pile and chortled:

"Well, if it ain't the Hollywood lover! Take it easy on pretty-boy, fellows. You're liable to spoil his makeup." The others snorted. His cheeks burning, Laird picked himself up and walked back into the huddle.

"Give me that ball," he whispered out of the corner of his mouth to young Roskauer, the quarterback. The kid nodded and called a reverse.

The ball was snapped to Tullio who started right and handed it to Pete. Pete lowered his head and tried to butt a brick wall. Three Gopher huskies piled him up for a three-yard loss.

"Ain't he cute!" grinned the ever-present Dober. "Pretty, too."

It was that way throughout the quarter. Laird called on every trick at his command. He butted, spun, dodged, twisted — but he couldn't shake loose the Gophers. State's attack was nil and Minnesota was ripping the line to shreds, smashing huge holes and sending fleet backs piling into the State secondary. Only two brave goal line stands prevented their scoring again.

Besides the physical pounding, Laird was taking an incessant tongue-lashing from Heinie Dober. A mounting rage was kindling within him.

In the middle of the second quarted, State had to punt from deep in its own territory. Pete dropped back, was rushed badly when Roskauer missed his block and got off a flimsy boot which sailed askew out of bounds 15 yards up field.

"Pretty lousy, Hollywood," sneered Dober as he passed.

Viciously Minnesota struck. A Gopher halfback faded and tossed a pass in Pete's territory. Foggily he faded back, saw big Ox Anderson, Gopher end, cutting behind him, and leaped. The ball sailed over his head, Anderson snared it and went over standing up.

A deadly quiet filled the stands. This was inconceivable! Mighty State was being cut to ribbons and the magnificent Laird had suddenly become the All-American bust. The Gophers converted. It was 14 to 0.

All eyes rested on Dinty Dugan as he stepped into the locker room at half time. Fingering an unlighted cigaret, haggard, he stared at them silently.

"Men," he said suddenly, "you're the first State team I've ever been ashamed of. You're the first one that ever quit on me. You're the first one that ever put personal issues ahead of the bunch.

"O. K.," he snapped. "If that's the way you want it, O. K. You're the better team. They've got the guts. I hope they whip your tail off this half."

With that he pulled his hat over his eyes and walked out of the room.

Raging mad, State stormed out of the locker room for the second half, took the kickoff and began to move. Forty-three yards they marched — tough, brutal yards against that Gopher line. They were on the Minnesota 30. Pete tried to run the ball twice and was smeared. On third down he faded back. Wonsocki was racing down the sidelines—wide open, waving frantically. Carefully he gripped the ball and threw, and instantly he knew the pass was poor.

It was. It wobbled high in the air toward the sidelines. A Gopher back intercepted it on the 15 and set sail. Minnesota's famed interference formed beautifully. State men were downed like bowling pins. Laird back-pedaled furiously, trying to get a position to force the runner out of bounds. A yellow jersey bore down on him at midfield and lifted him off his feet. He saw the Minnesota ball carrier streak past into the clear.

Agonizingly, he pulled himself off the ground and looked into the face of the Gopher who had cut him down. It was Heinie Dober.

"Do you smell something around here?" he asked innocently. "I do. How can that doll of yours up there stand it?"

Something snapped inside Pete. He threw off his helmet and tore at Dober, fists flying. Players and officials rushed to pry them apart and the crowd rose. Both men were ejected from the game.

As Pete slumped off the field a new sound greeted his ears. "Boo!" "Throw 'em out!" "Whatsa matter, cutie, cancha take it?" "Sorehead!" The great Laird was getting the bird.

State was finished — mentally and physically. Massive Minnesota crunched up and down the field leaving prostrate State jerseys in its wake. The score was 35 to 0 at the finish—the upsetting score of the season, the most humiliating.

Laird dressed hurriedly after the game. A few writers drifted in. None of them bothered to see him.

"What happened?" they asked Dugan.

"Too tough." That's all he would say.

"How about Notre Dame next week?" came the parting shot.

"They're tough, too." Dugan shuddered involuntarily.

Laird hailed a taxi and ordered the driver to take him to Stephanie's hotel. A myriad of jumbled thoughts raced through his head.

The hotel lobby was mobbed. Laird pushed his way to the desk. "Miss Stevens' room," he said to the clerk.

"Sorry, sir, she's checked out."

"She's what?" His face was white. "Are you sure?"

"Yes, sir, quite sure. Just 10 minutes ago. Are you Mr. Laird?" Pete nodded vacantly. "She left this note for you."

Pete walked out of the lobby in a daze. He sat down on a park bench across from the hotel and tore open the note.

Dear Mr. Laird:

Once I told you how I loved people who excel. I'm afraid I neglected to add I abhor mediocrity. You were very dull this afternoon—very dull. It made me quite ill.

I think this little skit is about over. Too bad it had to end unhappily, Mr. Winship, who is a great one for such brainstorms, cooked up our cozy meeting and fathered it along. As my agent, he thought it was good publicity. As my fiancee, he knew it was quite harmless.

And so, Mr. Laird, I must say adieu. You were sweet—awfully sweet. But after today I'm afraid you're just another second rater. And we had such hopes Stephanie Stevens.

He buried his face in his hands. Slowly, painfully the haze began to clear. There were trees now—not just a jumbled forest. He sat there for almost an hour, putting the pieces together, unraveling all his vain stupidities.

Start from the beginning. The

NOT TIME FOR 'ALL-OUT REGISTRATION'

The last several days have produced numerous suggestions and a lot of guessing as to who should be required to register for what in this nation in the present war emergency.

The wide diversity of opinion as to what should be done is about the best evidence that a good while may elapse before the best course can be chartered fully and intelligently. Certainly it would be foolish to start anything like a wholesale registration until someone knows what people are being registered for. The common sense method would seem to be to solve the problem and do the job by degrees by registering those who may be needed as they are needed.

Before the war is over, it is not at all improbable that every person in this nation capable of any service whatsoever will be registered and subject to call. If that is necessary, complaints will be few and they will be silenced speedily and effectively by those who are patriotic Americans and who are eager to serve.

But, for the present, it would seem that an attempted wholesale registration could do nothing more than create confusion without serving any constructive purpose. We have enough confusion already without doing anything to add to it.

Example Of Cock-Eyed Lawmaking By Congress--

U. S. Pays Self Duty On Defense Imports

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 — Oddity upon oddities—thanks to cock-eyed lawmaking by Congress, the Navy Department can import almost anything it darn pleases without paying import duties thereon, but the War Department, and the Metals Reserve Company and Defense Supplies Corporation have to pay on the nail.

In the last war the War Department was given the privilege of importing things duty-free that it needed for war purposes, but the privilege expired with the end of the conflict. The Navy Department was given the same privileges, but no time limit was written into the law. Hence the privilege still holds good. It was only recently that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation set up the Metals Reserve Company defense and the Defense Supplies Corporation to do a similar job for drugs of various kinds, cork, jute, etc.

Relief Is Sought

TWO attempts have been made to relieve these various agencies of the tariff tax burden. The first came in September when the RFC asked Congress for permission to issue notes that would increase its funds by $1,500,000,000. The bill also proposed that its subsidiary companies should be able to import defense materials without paying duty thereon. It was claimed this would cut the cost of the national defense program by the amount of tariff duty that would be eliminated.

Jesse Jones, head of the RFC, put in a statement showing that the Metals Reserve Company had made commitments totaling $880,040,000 for imports of bauxite, antimony, asbestos, cadmium, chrome, copper, graphite, iridium, lead, manganese ore, mercury, mica, nickel, tin, tungsten and zinc.

Of these asbestos, chrome, nickel, tin and a few others come in free under the various tariff laws. But metal antimony is taxed 2 cents per pound; bauxite, from which aluminum is obtained, $1 per ton; cadmium, 15 cents per pound; copper, 4 cents per pound; lead, 1½ cents per pound of ore; manganese ore, 1 cent per pound; tungsten ore, 50 cents per pound; mercury, 25 cents per pound, and zinc ore 1½ cents per pound.

Jones also testified that the Defense supplies corporation had commitments for $67,790,590 for imports of various defense articles. Some of these like cork, manila fiber, kapok and quinine come in free of duty under the tariff laws. But jute pays 1 cent per pound, plus 10 per cent ad valorem.

Matters Of Bookkeeping

JONES stated that up to date the two companies had not paid any tariff duty on any of their imports. He said the companies imported them for the Navy and under the present statutory authority of the Navy. Asked whether all this stuff was being used for the Navy, he replied it was all used in the defense program. Senator Adams asked whether this procedure was not an evasion of the law, as all was not used for the Navy itself. Jones replied:

"Not necessarily. We may have to pay the import duty, but if we are allowed to bring these articles in under this statute, a considerable saving will result to the government. There is no evasion of the law. If we pay the duty, it will go into the treasury in one pocket and come out in the other. This is essentially a matter of bookkeeping."

Army men made their desire for tariff duty exemption clearer by this explanation:

If Congress appropriates $1,000,000 for the Army for certain defense instruments, duties on materials imported may absorb as much as $170,000. The result is the Army gets only $830,000 worth of these defense instruments, while the U. S. Treasury gets the other $170,000. In money the government loses nothing. But the Army loses in the amount of defense instruments it obtains.

However, Congress killed the section of the bill that would have given the RFC the right to import defense materials free of duty.

Navy's Position Unique

IN THE MEANTIME, Congressman Robert Doughton, chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, introduced a bill aimed at helping the Army and the other defense agencies. It provided that no tax or duty should be levied on any imported article confided by a government department or agency to be a defense article. It included in this category weapons, munitions, aircraft, ships, machinery for making war materials, any strategic or critical materials needed in the defense program and "any other commodity or article for defense."

The U. S. Tariff Commission immediately objected to this last clause as opening the way for import of all kinds of things, utterly knocking down the tariff walls. Some congressmen also took exception to this as being too broad. Up to date Doughton has not even called up his bill for a committee hearing.

So the Navy still is the only department that can import stuff duty-free.

Suddenly a strange light flickered in his eyes. He stood up and hailed a cab. "The hospital," he ordered. He had to see Landers. That would be first.
