The Show-Down—Houston Takes Lead—Blanton's Goal—Hoover and His Job—

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON SAYS that Herbert C. Hoover is to be clothed with dictorial power as fuel director and an adequate coal supply through government control is his immediate plan. That is, he will take immediate steps for acquiring a maximum supply from non-union and strip mines, adequate distribution of the supply through government control of coal cars and preventative plans against profiteering. Thus it has come to pass in peace and not war time that Herbert C. Hoover will be the fuel dictator of America. Official Washington says that President Harding has worked out a definite method for taking care of the coal situation but absolutely no plan has been completed for terminating the railroad strike. That is, the government is to produce coal, pool it and stop profiteering. This is a queer situation of affairs.

NON-UNION MINES ARE TO BE handled by the government, non-union miners are to be directed by the government, coal cars are to be operated by the government and price fixing of coal is to be made by the government. This is a hint that the government has thrown its full weight against the strike and the striker and that the show-down promised a year ago is a show-down proper and that it will be a finish fight between the mine owners and and their miners. If necessary, federal soldiers and national guardsmen will be detailed to guard the mines and protect the workers. This should be a hint to the railroad workers who are on strike.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN ARE to be used in every to see to it that the rail channels of commerce and traffic and travel are kept free from obstructions; that all men who take the places of strikers are to be given protection and when the army of the United States and the national guardsmen are employed to enforce the government program of law and order, the end must be in sight. These are the cold facts and they should be placed before the people who read and think. There is to be a showdown, speaking of the coal strike and there is to be a show-down speaking of the rail strike, with the machine gun and the rifle on the side of the federal government and employed by that government, if necessary, "to keep things moving."

Watch Lost Eleven Years Still Runs

Special to the Record News.

PADUCAH, July 26.—Rip Van Winkle had nothing on this watch when it came to awakening. Through eleven years of Texas panhandle weather, buried several inches under the ground, the old watch slept, with no knowledge of ever being resurrected. But someone found it and shook it and it ran.

H. A. Wilson a farmer living in Cottle county owns the watch. Eleven years ago he was plowing in his field when the watch was lost from his pocket. This year as he was plowing over the field he found his watch, knocked it against the cultivator wheel and it ran. The watch was uninjured with the exception of rust corrugating on the outside. The works were in good condition.

LABOR BOARD LETS STRIKE MATTERS SLIDE

Trains Moving on Time, Say Officials

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Western railway executives, in a statement tonight asserted freight is being moved as offered without congestion and passenger traffic is being operated normally while leaders in the railway shopmens' strike still maintained the walkout was practically 100 per cent.

According to the executives statement issued tonight, car loadings exceed those of a year ago, except on roads especially affected by the coal strike. All western lines with headquarters in Chicago report increases by the number of men at work in the shops the statement said.

The United States railroad labor board maintained its hand-off policy. Chairman Ben W. Hooper was called to Newport, Tenn., by the death of relative and other members of the board gave the strike official attention. Telegrams were received from the Idaho producers union and the Idaho farm bureau federation asserting that fruit and vegetable growers face disaster unless the strike can be settled at once. Six thousand cars of early potatoes should be moved east before September 1, the message said, and added that 14,000 cars of late potatoes and 4,000 cars of head lettuce must be moved soon after that.

Grable Firm

E. F. Grable head of the maintenance of way union, scouted reports from Detroit that his organization was again talking of of striking and announced that he intended to submit to the board applications for wage hearings on interference and violence. I will be glad to join you in submitting that question to the decision of the American people.

Culberson Entered Race Only to Fight Ku Klux Klan

By B. N. TIMMONS
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Senator Charles A. Culberson will take no part in the second primary campaign in Texas, he said today in the only formal statement he has made since his elimination became certain. The statement was in the form of a telegram to Judge Barry Miller in answer to a telegram Judge Miller had sent to Senator Culberson. In his telegram Senator Culberson said "I thank you for your telegram. It is beyond my power to express the deep gratitude I feel for the very fine and unselfish work you did for me in the campaign. I appreciate it with all my heart.

"While I shall take no part in the second primary myself, I feel like my friends as a matter of course should exercise their own judgment as to whom they should support.

"(Signed) C. A. CULBERSON."

As a bit of the unwritten history of the campaign it was revealed today by friends of Culberson that he had not intended to enter the campaign this year and did so only after it became certain that the klan issue would predominate and that he was willing to take defeat if necessary to fight the klan, which he believed would destroy government in the south if not curbed.

INDIANA TO OPEN MINES

State Provides for Necessities

By Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 26.—Governor Warren T. McCreary announced tonight that the state of Indiana was arranging to take over and operate "sufficient mines to supply Indiana's necessities."

President Hessler had wired Governor McCreary that the union officials were contemplating a call for an interstate conference and urged him to use his influence with the Indiana operators. The governor promised his "unqualified support to the movement" and added that "in the meantime my preparations for coal production will proceed as rapidly as possible."

The governor, in taking the step, advised Mr. Hessler that he had received "official word from Washington this afternoon that in the present situation Indiana utilities cannot be supplied even with priorities from outside the state and coal for Indiana people is squarely up to the governor."

McCumber Explains G. O. P. Defeat

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Defeat of the republican party in 1912 was attributed today in the senate by Chairman McCumber of the finance committee to the refusal of that committee years previously to heed the demands of newspaper publishers that news print paper be placed on the free list in the Payne-Aldrich tariff act. His declaration brought demands from the democratic side for full details and was followed by recitals by Senators Watson of Indiana; Smoot of Utah and McCumber of incidents which they said had taken place behind the scenes in congress a decade ago.

Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, declared that if Senator McCumber's statements were true that the newspapers of the country, because they could not "intimidate" the finance committee into giving free news print had turned against the republican party and defeated it, it was "a terrible indictment against the press of the United States, the men who own it and the men who control its policies."

Stating that he wanted to give the senate the "facts", Senator Smoot said the late John I. Morris, representing the Newspaper Publishers' association, had appeared before the finance sub-committee of which Mr. smoot was a member had refused to compromise on the matter of a duty on newsprint and had stated that if a duty were imposed, "the republican party will be driven from power."

Dallas Judge Issues Injunction

By Associated Press

DALLAS, July 26.—Federal Judge W. L. Estes today issued a temporary order restraining striking railroad employes or their sympathizers from interfering with the Houston and Texas Central railroad in the northern district of Texas. The order prohibits strikers from trespassing on the railroad's property or attempting by threats or intimidation to force employes to quit work. The order affects only the railroad's lines in the northern district of the state, but it is said petitions will be presented shortly asking that the order be extended to cover all of the property of the road in Texas.

ENTIRE ARMY POWER CALLED ON IF NEEDED

6,000 Guardsmen Available for Emergency

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 26.—That he will use all the power at his command "to protect every citizen of the state in the enjoyment of his property and in the exercise of his constitutional rights to work unhindered and uninterrupted, at any honorable employment," was the declaration of Governor Neff today in a statement concerning the railroad shopmens' strike and the conditions resulting from it.

The governor said further that he will not only call out the six thousand national guardsmen but will invoke the "entire active and potential military power of Texas" if necessary to guarantee to Texas citizens this "inalienable right."

When he issued the statement the governor also announced that twelve special rangers were appointed here today and others had been appointed by ranger captains at various points where they are now stationed. Others will be recruited as they are needed, he said.

The statement concerning the strike situation follows in part:

Regrets Action.

"It is with profound regret that in the discharge of my official duties I found it necessary in connection with statewide and nationwide railroad strike to send state troops to Denison. This I decided to do only as a last resort. Hoping that I could avoid the sending of state troops, I mobilized at Denison, which is the largest railroad division point in Texas, all the available state rangers force, but for satisfactory and conclusive reasons I was compelled from a sense of duty to my state to declare martial law within the area containing the tracks, roundhouses and work shops of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway company of Texas at Denison, and put same in charge of the national guard.

"As to the merits of the present controversy between the railroads and their employes, I am taking no part. I am officially concerned only in preserving the rights of every individual under the constitution. This I will do to the very best of my ability. The keeping open of the channels of commerce in which all the people have an interest is a matter of great concern to all our citizens. In these official acts, I shall not for one moment permit myself mentally or otherwise to take the side of either employer or employes. I shall represent as best I can the five million citizens of Texas."

Powers Urges More Prayer

In his talk before those gathered in prayer meeting at the First Baptist church Wednesday night Dr. O. L. Powers discussed the first time the disciples were sent out as apostles and how they came back and told Jesus all that they had done and all that had happened.

Dr. Powers expressed the thought that if Christians today would take before Jesus each day all that they were planning to do that life would be made much better, that they would be blessed by better deeds and that Jesus is always ready to help those who come to him for help. Dr. Powers said that so many people fear the judgment but said that those who take their trials, their thoughts and all their actions before Jesus daily and ask for help to keep away from doing evil and to do good that they should not fear the judgment but should anticipate with pleasure that day as Christ knows their hearts and will be there to speak for them.

Illinois Mines May Resume Operations In Two Weeks Time

Union President Calls Big Meeting of Every State Local; Has Proposal From Operators Which May Lead to Speedy Peace; Leaders On Both Sides Confident of a Settlement.

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, July 26—Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners, today called a convention of delegates of every union local in the state to meet August 3 at Peoria to take action on strike peace plans presented by the mine operators. His action was considered so significant that leaders on both sides of the controversy tonight predicted the strike in Illinois would end within two weeks.

Mr. Farrington's action was taken after an all day conference with his executive board of approximately 30 members from all over the state. The announcement of it was made in a 75-word statement presenting the bare fact of the meeting only, but between the lines, union chiefs and mine owners declared they could see the brightest rays of hope since the mines were closed by the suspension of work.

Has Proposal

In his call for the convention, Mr. Farrington declared that he would submit a proposition from the operators which might lead to speedy peace. This proposition has not been made public officially, but it was frankly admitted privately that it was virtually the suggestion made recently at the white house—that the men return immediately to work in wage scale which existed when they quit work, this agreement to be effective until next spring and that in the meantime a permanent agreement be effected.

EMERGENCY FUEL ORGANIZATION STARTS

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—President Harding tonight set in motion the federal emergency fuel control organization, with the selection of a central coal distribution committee of government officials under the chairmanship of Secretary Hoover.

The commerce secretary at the request of the president immediately wired the governors of the various states asking them to set up emergency state organizations as the first step toward decentralizing the organization for equitable distribution and maintenance of fair prices for coal under the administration plan.

The federal coal distributing committee, selected by the president consists of Attorney General Daugherty, Secretaries Fall and Hoover and Commissioner Aitchison, or their representatives.

A fifth member is to be added to the committee later, Mr. Hoover said, who will undertake the administrative direction while the ultimate character of the organization "must depend upon the situation."

Mayfield" for United States senator in the run-off election for the democratic nomination for that office August 26. Mr. Mayfield who was first in the race, will be opposed by former governor James E. Ferguson, who won second place over Senator Charles A. Culberson in Saturday's primary.

SOUTHERN COAL MEN TO STRIKE

Mine Operators are Ordered Out

By Associated Press.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., July 26.—Engineers, pumpmen, electricians and repairmen employed by coal operators in Oklahoma and Arkansas to maintain and keep the mines in a safe condition were ordered out today by the board members of the United Mine Workers, District 21, meeting here. The order was passed unanimously.

The ruling does not affect Texas, it was explained, since the maintenance men of that state went out April 1. One exception was announced, the union agreeing that safety men employed at five so-called utility mines in Oklahoma and Arkansas would be permitted to remain so long as no attempt is made to produce coal.

Hit at Operators.

John Wilkinson, president of the district, said that the action was taken as a retaliation to threats of the Oklahoma operators, who had made public their intention of resuming operations on the open shop basis provided the agreement with the union could not be made. Approximately 950 safety men are affected by the decision.

Many of the most valuable coal properties in Oklahoma and Arkansas are subject to flooding within 48 hours in the event the pumps are not in constant operation.

Great Lakes Unions Vote for Strike

By Associated Press.

DETROIT, July 26.—Virtually a 100 per cent vote in favor of a strike has been cast by members of the marine firemen, oilers, water tenders and coal passers union of the Great Lakes, and the sailor's union of the Great Lakes who have deposited their ballots at the district office of the organization here, it was announced late today. Tabulation of 533 votes from both unions had been made, and of these, 530 favored the walkout, as the result of wage controversy, it was said.

Map Fliers Hop Off in California

By Associated Press.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 26.—Lieutenants Virgil Hines and Charles Webber, army aviators hopped off at Rockwell field today on the first leg of their six thousand mile air mapping flight that is scheduled to carry them as far as Denver and South to El Paso and San Antonio, Texas. Orders received from the war department just before the two airmen began their flight directed that they fly to Las Vegas, Nevada today, instead of to Sacramento as originally planned. Tomorrow the aviators plan to fly to Salt Lake City from where they will continue to Denver and then head South.

Local Troops Leave Friday

With all minute details worked out at a meeting held last night in the 78th district court room, battery D, 131st field artillery, will entrain from here Friday morning at 7 o'clock for Fort Sill to indulge in a two weeks' training curriculum. It is unlikely, according to statements made known last night, that the battery will participate in any strike duty.

Commandant John Fletcher, well-known physician of this city, who is in charge of the outfit, gave eleventh hour instructions to his men last night and at the same time accepted several others who have decided to become members of the Texas national guard.

New Men Enlist

Approximately 12 men were signed up yesterday and last night, while the opinion was expressed by Commander Fletcher that at least 20 additional privates will be enlisted before Friday.

A total of 50 men has been called out to take part in the training camp expedition, the first that the Wichita Falls contingent has participated in.

Local firms, business houses and businesses whose employes have been called through the order received Tuesday evening commanding Captain Fletcher and his men to depart for Fort Sill, have all practically agreed to release their men for the full two week's period, granting them full pay, Captain Fletcher said last night. He made it known in this connection that the employers in each instance will be requested to grant their employes leaves of absence without discontinuing their salaries.

Among those who have already agreed to do this, according to Captain Fletcher, are the Wichita Motors company and the local traction company, both of whom appear to be boosters of the national guard.

Fletcher in Charge

Captain Fletcher and Second Lieut. George W. Lee will take the battery to Fort Sill and will be in complete charge of the outfit, while Lieuts. Charles W. Nolen and W. J. Platka will be left in Wichita Falls to take charge og any equipment that may be shipped here during the absence of the commander.

Captain Fletcher issued orders touching every enlisted man of the battery. The orders declare that it is necessary for each enlisted soldier to entrain for Fort Sill, and it is made plain that those who do not appear at the station Friday morning will be considered as deserters, and handled accordingly.

The majority of the outfit was present at the meeting, and all indicated an enthusiastic desire for Friday morning to appear. It is the hope of the commandant to instill new life into his men once they land at Fort Sill, and to bring back to this city a well-disciplined and well-trained contingent, and the indications were last night that his men will be enthusiastic to that end.

Here They Are

Members of the battery who will make the trip are Rush H. Brown, Benny Brown, V. M. Baldwin, Sam L. Burke, Archie Boyd, Sam W. Crawford, Gilbert Church, Rowell

Republicans Confident They Can Defeat Mayfield in Senate Race

By B. N. TIMMONS
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Republicans in Washington, when it became certain today that the senatorial run-off would be between Mayfield and Ferguson, began pulling for Mayfield. One prominent republican said that if the klan issue were carried over until November, the republican, by nominating a strong man, could defeat Mayfield by 200,000 votes.

The republicans believe Mayfield will be easy to defeat in the fall; they figure Ferguson will be hard to defeat. Robert M. Humphreys collector of customs at Galveston, was in conference with republican leaders here today on the outlook. It is understood Humphreys expressed the opinion that Mayfield would be easy to defeat. The republican state convention is scheduled for August 8, but it is understood it will be postponed to await the outcome of the democratic primary.

Here's One Case Where Too Much Industry Brought Trouble

Several men were busy. Awfully busy. Putting tin and copper and other material together.

From a point of vantage, three members of the city plainclothes department watched and waited. They waited long enough to let the busy men complete their work.

And then they arrested the entire crew, management and all, carried them to the city hall, wrote their names on the docket and placed them behind steel bars for the evening, all to be turned over to the government authorities today, for further investigation.

The men were making a whiskey still. It was a perfect work of art, and of a capacity of approximately 100 gallons. The officers, Shook, Miller and Johnson, had watched the work for some time, and permitted the craftsmen to finish their job, then all were arrested.

"It seems hard that a man will work all his life to learn a trade and then be arrested for plying it," one of the workmen averred as he entered the steel cage last night. And so it does; but even working on a whiskey still, be it a run down one, or a new one, constitutes a violation of federal law, it seems.

The still was captured in a tin shop on Indiana street, and was in the custody of the "law" last night, where none will be able to run it.

[illegible] transportation and with production of vitally needed coal was placed upon striking railroad employes and miners today by President Harding in again suggesting that they return to work under conditions already suggested by him, while the reasonableness of their demands are being threshed out by the agencies set up for that purpose.

The president replied at length to a telegram sent him by J. Cleve Dean, chairman of the Railway Employes' Publicity association, Chattanooga, Tenn., charging that the administration was "attempting to put American labor under the gun" by its policy toward the industrial disturbance.

Denying the charge, the president declared that "if you mean to challenge the righteousness of free men to be protected in their lawful pursuits against

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 26.—Characterizing as "outrageous" the statement of John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, that the attempt to reopen the mines was a "farce," Alfred M. Ogle, president of the National Coal association, tonight asserted that the miners' president's statement was an "insolent defiance of the government and law and order."

This defiance, Mr. Ogle said "will only arouse the entire community to stamp out such leadership of trade union organizations which can only lead to anarchy."

FORT WORTH, July 26.—Five local physicians today asked to examine Ernest Vickers, Bell county youth, condemned to hang next Saturday for the murder of Special Officer J. B. Lopez. The physicians received this request from Governor Neff and are asked to report to him. The governor has been petitioned to commute the sentence to life imprisonment.

CAUSE OF OVERWEIGHT

With most stout people the old-fashioned causes—overeating and sluggish habits are to blame. Nine times out of ten obesity is not a symptom of physical disease but evidence of lack of will power.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

county cast 29,000 primary ballots for the nomination of servants of the people "from senator to constable." This is the first time since the Terrell election came in, that the voters of Harris county have put one over the voters of Dallas county. There are 48,000 qualified voters in Harris county. There are 53,000 in Dallas county. Harris county established a new high record; Dallas county dropped four thousand below the record established by Harris county. This is not all.

TWO OF THE CANDIDATES for United States senator, Charles A. Culberson and Cullen F. Thomas are citizens of Dallas county. In the balloting for senator in Dallas county, Culberson ran second and Thomas third. Politics is a funny as well as a fascinating game.

CONGRESSMAN THOMAS L. Blanton made a home run. He has a majority over all his opponents. In the seventeenth congressional district, the expected happened as usual. Blanton is the best single-footed campaigner, in his own district, and he knows the stuff to feed the mob. He has never been defeated for office. He is the most unpopular man in congress with his associates. He appears to be the best copy maker who warms a seat in congress. This is a prediction: Blanton will be a candidate for the United States senate when Morris Sheppard goes before the people for renomination. Blanton was very ambitious to be the successor of Charles A. Culberson but he did not have the money, he said, to make the race, and Lucian W. Parrish beat him to it. There are thousands of democrats who now realize that the passing of Lucin W. Parrish was a tragedy for his state as well as for the man and his family. West Texas would have backed him almost to a man. He would have been in the run-off.

THERE ARE NO BIRDS IN last year's nests. Popular idols come and go. Political factions rise and fall, but the state goes on forever. Blanton is more than an individual. He is a political institution. He narrowly escaped expulsion from his seat several times. This made him a power in his district. Oscar Calloway was the congressman from the district when he defied the Wilson administration and the Wilson policies. James C. Wilson defeated him. Woodrow Wilson made Wilson a federal judge. This is the second time that Calloway has attempted to come back. He ran as a state rights democrat; he damned the federal reserve bank; he damned the Esch-Cummins act; he damned many other acts and individuals but Blanton received two or three votes to every one handed Calloway. Charles A. Culberson has been retired by his constituents. He served 24 years. There are at least two ambitious Texans who are willing to do their best toward retiring Morris Sheppard in the near future. Blanton is one of the two and there may be others. On the morning of July 25 a leading Texas newspaper carried the following headlines: "Culberson enters senate with a smile." Maybe Morris Sheppard will smile when he reads this paragraph: He has youth and health and strength. He has been the banner carrier of prohibition and equal suffrage all the active years of his life; but Cullen F. Thomas had all these elements of strength and the eloquent orator of the Colorado and the Brazos and the Trinity went down in defeat. Public opinion is fickle. It condemns a man to the stake today and canonizes him on the morrow. If you doubt it, read the election returns. Farmer Jim ran second.

COAL QUOTATIONS IN NEW York have reached their highest point and prices asked are far above the Hoover maximum. West Virginia soft coal is quoted at $11 a ton to be delivered in New York. British shippers and operators are busy. Sixty-two British vessels having a tonnage of 500,000 are hurrying over the ocean with coal for New York consumers. New York buyers are placing foreign orders for fuel, delivered as late as October 15 for between $8.00 and $9.00 per ton. And yet the operators of non-union mines in West Virginia are asking $11 a ton for soft coal to be delivered in New York. Fuel Dictator Herbert C. Hoover has a big job but Hoover is a big man and seems to love big jobs. He fed the Belgians and half of starving Europe during war time. He has been handling big jobs ever since peace came. He has been a big man ever since he left college. Before he was 30 he was one of the great mining engineers of the world. He was a big man during all the years of the Wilson administration. He has been a big man during the two years of the Harding administration.

HE WOULD MAKE A BIG AND a great president of the United States. He should have been a nominee of one of the two great parties in 1920. He was passed up by the democrats because he declared himself a republican. He was passed up by the president makers of the republican party because politicians shy away from a man of his calibre and do not care to place or to assist in the placing of a man cast in the Hoover mold at the head of the government. Warren G. Harding made no mistake when he called Herbert C. Hoover to his cabinet. He needed Hoover more than Hoover needed him, and he has been working Hoover ever since. Now Herbert Hoover has a tough nut to crack. If he wins, the politicians will give the glory to the administration. If Hoover fails, then the politicians will hasten to place the blame on the shoulders of this man whose name is a household word the civilized and semi-civilized world over.

STRIKE DISORDERS UNDER INVESTIGATION

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, July 26.—Federal authorities here were investigating two reports of alleged violence believed to have grown out of the strike situation and the first of a serious nature in several days.

DIEPPE, France, July 26.—Mrs. Fletcher of Nassau country club, New York defeated Mlle Dulezeaux four up and three to go this afternoon in the quarter finals of the international women's golf championship.

THEY PUT PUNCH IN WHITE SOX

Manager Kid Gleason and Captain Eddie Collins, with their winning smiles.

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

The spectacular pitching of the young hurlers and Red Faber, the hitting of Collins, Hooper, Strunk and Falk; the brilliant catching of Ray Schalk and the general fielding of the club are dwelt upon at some length daily as the White Sox continue to startle the league.

But outside of a few close followers of the team few people realize that two men behind the guns of that remarkable outfit deserve a major portion of the credit for the team's showing.

These men are Manager Kid Gleason and Captain and Second Baseman Eddie Collins. True, Johnny Evers is playing an important role as coach, but to Gleason and Collins must go the credit of putting the "brains" in the team.

Working with the team at practice Gleason has developed his mixture of vets and rookie into a smooth working machine. From the bench during the game he directs the general attack and defense of the team with consummate skill. Collins is Gleason's broadcasting station on the field. Knowing Glenson's plan of battle and having at hand a wealth of knowledge concerning the opposition and a keen ability to read pitchers and batters, Collins schools the youngsters as the game goes on, steadies the vets and directs the general play of the team.

They're a wonderful pair to draw to.

LABOR LEADERS DISCUSS STRIKE

One of the most important developments in the strike situation came in Washington when three labor leaders, headed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation, met with Senators Walsh, King and Borah to discuss strike matters. The picture above shows President Gompers, Edgar Wallace, legislative representative of the A. F. of L., and Frank Morgan, secretary of the labor organization in conference before the meeting with the senators.

TEXARKANA, Texas, July 26.—Two striking shop craftsmen were arrested here today by United States deputy marshals on warrants charging violation of the injunction issued by Judge Rufus E. Foster of New Orleans restraining any person from interference with railroad operations. What specific act will be charged against the men is not stated publicly.

Southwest Mines Prepare to Open

By Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 26.—The conference between the Missouri comittee of the southwestern intercommittee of the southwestern interGovernor Hyde in connection with protection for re-opening the mines in the state, has been entirely satisfactory," Harry N. Taylor, president of the operators' association said today.

Federal co-operation in opening the mines has been assured, Mr. Taylor said, pointing out that the federal bureau of investigation has begun a survey of the Kansas and Missouri coal fields to ascertain the number of mnies in operation.

British Want to Keep 3 Mile Limit

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 26.—With reference to the note from the Washington government asking co-operation in the suppressing of liquor running into the United States through Bermuda and the Bahamas, it is understood the British government has informed the Washington government that the three mile limit rule cannot be altered. Great Britain takes the ground that she is unable to make a precedent allowing the seizure of such vessels outside the limit.

DALLAS, Texas, July 26.—J. W. L. Hall of New Boston was elected secretary of the Texas farm bureau cotton association at a called meeting of the board of directors today. Mr. Hall succeeds Jeff D. Montgomery who died recently. H. M. Campbell of New Boston was elected a director.

Panther Raids Florida Farms

(By International News Service)

MILLVILLE, Fla., July 26.—People in this section have long been in almost nightly fear of the prowling of some animal, said to be a panther, which makes nocturnal raids on pigstys, goatherds and now is attacking chicken roosts. One family reports the loss of seven head of geese recently, the remnants of the carcasses having been strewn generally over the landscape after the unidentified animal had evidently satiated his appetite. Pigs have been heard to squeal at night, and that is the last of them.

Persons who have tried to get within range of the animal have failed so far, aand some who have caught sight of the beast describe it as one of varying hues. Some say it is black, other tawny, while fishermen declare it is spotted.

Irwin Trial Still Cloaked in Mystery

By Associated Press.

LAWTON, Okla., July 26.—The Rev. Thomas J. Irwin's defense in his trial here before a presbyterian church commission on ecclesiastical charges progressed behind closed doors today with the seal of secrecy unbroken.

All parties to the trial maintained that the action was a matter concerning the church only and refused further comment.

Now That's Rather Odd

NEW YORK.—Baron James A. de Rothschild, a member of the famous Rothschild family of France, was sued for $500,000 damages in state supreme court today by Marie Perquet, a French girl, who alleged she came here last spring upon his promise to marry her and that he has since refused to fix a date for the marriage.

CHICAGO.—To check up on his wife, Sigmund Rice, marked the soles of her shoes and later, if the marks were obliterated, knew she had been out, Mrs. Rice charges in a divorce petition filed here.

TOLEDO, Ohio.—Forty women, wives and relatives of striking railway employes attacked a party of non-union railroad shopmen on their way to work in the Fearing street shops of the New York Central railroad here. Police responding to a call for help were met with a shower of bricks and stones which resulted in call for police reserves.

Two Held for Killing Officer

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 26.—A former police clerk and his young wife were under arrest here tonight in connection with the killing of Detective Sergeant Harry W. Lemkemeier, head of the police homicide squad, who was shot and instantly killed in front of a pool room in the business section of the city.

The clain police had stopped to address the driver of the machine in which the young couple were seated when he was shot, apparently from the back. Lemkemeier and another officer were investigating the recent killing of an Italian. After the shooting, the machine was driven away hurriedly pursued by the slain officers walking partner. The driver of the automobile escaped.

FIGURES DON'T LIE, BUT—

National statistics show the average auto purchaser is 34 years old, married and has a definite monthly income of $349.70. Also, that he buys a car at an average cost of $1,361, with a down payment of $698.31. According to this all the folks whmo own cars can afford it. Do you believe that?

GONZAULOS AND NITZER INDICTED

By Associated Press.

BEAUMONT, July 26.—Indictment charging William A. Nitzer, divisional chief of the general prohibition agents at Dallas, and General Agent M. T. Gonzaullos with murder in connection with the fatal shooting here on election night of Justice H. E. Showers was returned by the Jefferson county grand jury this morning in district court. Both of the men under indictment were placed in county jail late Tuesday when denied bail following a preliminary hearing in justice court.

IOWA FARMER OWNS FIVE-LEGGED DUCK

(By International News Service)

POWHATAN, Ohio, July 26.—Paul Ramsey, farmer, residing near here, has a five-legged duck. It was hatched a few days ago on Ramsey's farm. The duck is healthy and walks on the usual two legs as readily as does any normal duckling, and is not handicapped by its excess of pedal extremeties.

FUNERAL NO HIGHER— JUST YET

New York's professional pallbearers are divided on unionizing. One faction declares pallbearers are professional men, not laborers. The other faction holds the opposite view. In the meantime they assure an anxious public, dying to be served by these dignitaries, that the old rate of pay will stand.

SECOND-WIFE STREET

In one of the fashionable blocks in a middle west city, nearly every house is occupied by a family where the husband is living with his second wife. Social rivals call it "Second Avenue."

MOVING IS NOT ALWAYS SAFE

"Clay That Kills" Discovered

Persons compelled to move from one locality to another often discover to their dismay that their health, as well as that of their children often undergoo a change for the worse. The reason can in most cases be traced to the soil on which the house is built. Take the case of a family who have been accustomed to live on a gravel soil, and let them move on to clay. In nearly every case, unless the ground is extremely wel drained, their health will suffer. The elder people wil develop rheumatism, and the children colds.

Or move from sandy land to a chalk county. Chalk is not unhealthy in itself, the hard water usually suits children, but for older people a change from soft to hard water is extremely bad. The arteries are apt to harden, and just as the pipes and boilers "fur" with the chalk, so does the human circulation suffer.

Marshland is always dangerous, bringing on ague and similar complaints.

The worst of all soils is "made ground," and you will find this sort of poison land in the environs of nearly every large town—tracts where in past time all sorts of rubbish have been shot.

Much of this is decayed animal and vegetable matter dumped to fill a hollow. Injurious gases will rise through such soil for many years afterwards, and a house built on it is nothing more nor less than a death trap.

NEW TEST ADDS TO TERRITORY

Cook and Dyson Well Makes 30 Barrels

An extension of almost a mile and a half to the southwest from the Harvey-Cullum shallower producers in section 31, is effected by the No. 1 Waggoner, Block 30 of Cook and Dyson, which is completed in the 1,500-foot sand. This new well, the first producer at this depth this far west, is reported making between 30 and 40 barrels on the pump. It is just across the Wilbarger county line in Section 30.

TEXAS GETS 2 NEW PRODUCERS

Both Wells in South Electra

New production amounting to 1700 barrels is added to the Texas company's runs this week by the completion of Nos. 231 and 232 Waggoner.

The No. 231 is making 950 barrels and the No. 232 is making 750 barrels, according to run figures available Wednesday evening. Both wells are in the south part of the new South Electra 1900-foot pool, the No. 231 being the far south producer at present on the Texas company lease. The sand depth is around 1920 feet.

BLUE LAW DISCIPLES BAN EXHIBITION GAME

By Associated Press.

ANSONIA, Conn., July 26.—Prosecuting Attorney M. C. Ormond today forbade the sale of tickets for an exhibition baseball game planned here on Sunday, August 6 with the St. Louis National league team as the principal attraction. Prosecutor Ormond acted after receiving a petition protesting against the Sunday game.

A committee of members of Ansonia lodge of Elks arranged the game and planned to present a gift to Lon North, St. Louis pitcher whose home is here.

ROOSEVELT ON AIR TOUR

Theodore Roosevelt is shown here in an official navy photograph ready to start for the naval base and training station at Newport, R. I., and the submarine base at New London, Conn. The plane was equipped with wireless, so that Secretary Denby's assistant not only saved time by making the trip by air, but was able to keep in constant touch with Washington and other naval units.

IOWA PARK TO MEET SEYMOUR

The Iowa Park independent baseball team will go to Seymour today to play a two-game series with the club there. The two teams met last week and each took one contest, with the series at Iowa Park being one of the best exhibitions of amateur ball seen in this part of Texas in some time. Both clubs are strong and both carry pitchers that are above the average.

A large number of Iowa Park fans will accompany the team and back the home boys to win. Manager Clark is confident of a successful trip and hopes to return with two more victories for his lads.

Warren and Connelly will carry the heavy work for the Iowa Park team and should make it hard for the Seymour men to score.

Carter was convicted recently in the same court for vagrancy, and appealed his case.

FROM A SEAT IN THE GALLERY

By Herbert Corey

THIS much is to be said for this story. It is inspiring or not, just as you feel about it. If either proves that all is well with the world or it doesn't. It may be taken to mean that the invisible government is not only invisible but does not govern, or it may be taken to mean something else again. It is a ringing cry of optimism or a green sob.

"The New York bankers came to town a few days ago," said the wire who purveys white house news. "They came to put the president on the pan. They had a meeting with him, and oh, urchin, it was some session!"

He said that they came in a spirit of fasting and prayer. Their feeling was that up on The Hill—which means the capitol end of Pennsylvania avenue, where the congressmen brood and fester—a bunch of bolsheviki had been attacked by heat madness. It is to be understood that a bolshevik, nowadays, is merely a person with whom you do not agree. Bolshevikiing as a profession seems to have petered out.

"Why don't you assert yourself, darn it?" was the petulant query the bankers put to the president. "We do not want to be nasty about it, but you'll remember that when you were very unexpectedly slipped over on us we rallied to your support as soon as we could catch our breath and realize that there was no one else to whom we could rally. Then we supported you——"

Mr. Harding here made an uneasy motion. He is alleged to have soliloquized to the effect that he would give a red gold ring if he could find out how they got that way.

"And we want to get some action in return for our support," said the bankers, almost in tears. "Doggone it, if you can't make these Hilltop Howlers be good, who can?"

The white house wire said that Harry M. Daugherty chimed in. He told Mr. Harding that he need not take what the bankers said about supporting him too seriously. Daugherty said they couldn't do anything else, and, anyhow, Harding could not have been anything but elected in 1920.

"But I think they're right, at that," said Daugherty. "Let's go up on The Hill and kick these keywinders loose from their breeches. All you gotta do is to assert yourself."

So the president said he would, according to the wire from the white house. He would do it just as soon as he got back from the pending week-end trip. He would be harsh and bitter with 'em. But he got back and he didn't. The bankers have grown hoarse and red-eyed. When a banker sees Harry M. Daugherty he just waves his hands and walks away.

And no one understands how anyone can do anything about it. If a president won't be bitter, no one can embitter him.

PUBLISHER UNCLE SAM

THE least observing constituent of any member of congress in the United States must have felt himself impressed, at some time or another, with the tremendous printing-press output of our government, says the Los Angeles Times. There can hardly be any doubt that Uncle Sam, whose print shop and publishing offices are located in Washington, D. C., is one of the largest users of white paper, black ink and bookbinding material in the world.

Every congressional committee, all the bureaus and departments of the government, all the cabinet officers and their long list of assistants are required, it seems, to print reports of all that they do.

And, on top of all this, Uncle Sam publishes a daily newspaper known as The Congressional Record. Perhaps it is stretching things a little to call The Congressional Record a "news" paper. It is "news" only in the sense that it publishes what members of congress want. But even though it is confined to this field alone, The Congressional Record in the course of a year comes to constitute many large volumes.

Maybe it is a small matter to quibble about, but it would seem to the average mind that about nine-tenths of the matter that appears in The Congressional Record might well be spared the honor and the expense of linotype machines, printing presses and the bookbinders' establishment.

Marriages are made in heaven, but most of the preliminaries are arranged in the porch swing.

POLITICIANS AND RESERVE BANKS.

POLITICIANS and pessimists have been hammering the federal reserve board and the federal banks ever since the slump began two years ago. They have made the claims that contraction of loans by the federal reserve banks is responsible for the so-called financial depression which has existed since 1920. W. F. Ramsay is chairman of the federal reserve bank of Dallas. He has answered these politicians and pessimists who have been making wild statements or charges against the system and the banks. One of the troubles of this section of the country, according to Ramsay, was the fact that we had in 1921 a very small crop in practically the entire cotton growing area of the district.

Why should the federal reserve system be held responsible for the boll weevil pest? Or why should it be condemned because the people of the southwest were without adequate markets and fair prices for their products? There has been some bitter criticism of the large profits which it is claimed is made by the federal reserve banks. Three of the senatorial candidates in the campaign that was brought to a close Friday night, have made these charges of large profits, gross extravagance in erecting bank buildings and the high salaries paid to the officials.

Chairman Ramsay says that if the Dallas bank depended upon the loans in its district, the institution would lose money. Interest rates, he said, are necessarily based upon financial conditions and the rates charged by other banks. Chairman Ramsay is an old-fashioned democrat and an old-fashioned financier. His people were among the early pioneers of the southwest. This is his viewpoint: "Texas is all right and the country is all right. I can't forbear saying what I have many times said, that the remedy for our ills is not cheap money and the free use of the printing press. There is just one remedy. It is the old wholesome remedy that has been time tried and fire tested of economy and sobriety and industry. If we continue to practice these homely old-fashioned virtues, I venture the prediction that in less than a year the whole district, indeed the whole country, will be standing in the midst of sure comfort. West Texas is all right. There are wonderful crops in that section. Cotton is said to be in good condition all over the state, and so far the weevil has not done any great harm. Regardless of the rail strike, regardless of the coal strike, regardless of the gloomy stuff cast broadcast by politicians who are wild men, and pessimists who are dyspeptic men, imperial Texas is all right. Texas is a billion dollar agricultural state and Texas produces more of the raw materials of commerce and manufacture than any of her sister states.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S recent description of how he first came to Marion as a boy riding the family mule must have carried many of his hearers back in memory to their own early days. He was among his old neighbors and he was telling them a personal experience they could understand. Numbers of them, 40 years or more ago, might have done the same thing. It was all very real.

It was the kind of incident of his boyhood that the average American in changed surroundings delights to recall. The lad astride of his father's mule coming within sound of Marion's evening church bells was a picture to go straight to the heart of the American people. It had just the right homely touch and sentimental appeal. There was never the slightest reason for the president to fear that he might be departing from the dignity of his high office in telling the story at his own expense. It will long be preserved.

The adventure of little George Washington with his hatchet and the cherry tree must be barred as fiction, but it is a first-class anecdote with a moral, just the same. There is a far sounder basis for Andrew Johnson, because of the poverty of his parents, being apprenticed at the age of 10 to a tailor. Lincoln was the rail-splitter, Garfield the boy on the tow-path, as no end of campaign orators and biographers have told with embellishments. For Warren Harding's exploit with the mule and his introduction to Marion, posterity will have his own word. In the lives of American presidents to be read by the boys and girls of generations to come the story as told so humorously by Mr. Harding will deserve a page by itself.

Rippling Rhymes

RADIO.

From out the air around me I hear strange voices come; such miracles confound me, and I am stricken dumb. Some orator is spieling, a thousand miles away, and in my humble shelling I plainly hear him bray. Some gifted modern Dante recites an ode in Maine, and in my western stanty I hear his noble strain. Some world famed singer's yelling afar in Boston town, and in my mortgaged dwelling the stovepipes tumble down. No swaying wires are bringing these wondrous sounds to hand. Along the waves of ether Dame Science sends her breath, old legends crushed beneath her, traditions done to death. The scoffers once were tireless, they used to sigh and swear, when people talked of "wireless," of messages by air. And I with them was scoffing, and wore a jeering grin; but now my lid I'm doffing to Science and her kin. I see the airships sailing along the heavens blut, I hear strange dirges wailing from Crete to Timbuctoo; each day some thing of wonder is hatched beneath the sun; I ask you, who in thunder will say things can't be done?

The Once Over

LOOK FOR THE COAL-LESS DAYS ORDER

(Date on or about the First of November)

Proclamation

Owing to the fact that very little except letters, ultimatums and first-page newspaper stories have been produced in the coal fields of the country the past nine months, and that these were burned, in most cases, at the time, the Poor Boobs who pay the freight and vote according to instructions are hereby notified that a period of Fuel-less Days is herewith proclaimed. Strict observance of the following rules and regulations will be required:

1.—Coal will be rationed on Tuesdays and Fridays on a basis of two lumps to a person.

2—These lumps may be taken to any fuel station and exchanged for a copy of Blimenbacher's "Theory of Heat Radiation," one flannel chest protector, and a pair of woolen mittens.

3.—Any person shall be entitled to the aforesaid two lumps of coal who shall furnish the fuel commissioner with proof that he is a citizen, that he has never been convicted of crime, that he is well liked at his present place of employment, and that he can't stand chilblains. Certificates of character shall be required, together with two photos and Bertillon thumbprints.

4.—Special days shall be observed as follows:

Monday

Chairlegs, not exceeding a total of three from any one chair, shall constitute the sole fuel for this day. They should be broken off quietly so as not to annoy the neighbors. Mahogany legs off Windsor chairs are especially recommended. They burn longer and mean much more. In apartment houses it shall be the duty of each tenant to send two chairlegs to the janitor and save the third for the purpose of rapping on the pipes for more heat.

Tuesday

This will be Burn-A-Piano-Stool day.

What is a piano stool to a family that is freezing to death? When a musician is cold he plays better standing up anyhow. Be a hundred per cent piano stool burner! Stools, to give the best results, should be broken into small parts and the metal removed. The fire should be started with sheet music. The score of "Faust' is very good for this purpose. This also will be a lightless day. People are advised to go to bed early and think of Amundsen.

Wednesday

Rattan furnishings, picture frames and ironing boards may be turned between 5 and 8 in the morning and 7 and 10 at night. This is subject to change in the event of a strike by the rattan workers or ironing boards manufacturers. Co-operation will rule in apartments. Janitors will call for your quota at 4:30 a. m.

Thursday

Red-Flannel Underwear day. On this day of each week all citizens will equip themselves with red flannel underwear and trust to luck. In case the Red-Flannel underwear workers strike in sympathy with the coal miners just wrap yourself in newspapers and lie in a cool dry place until relief expeditions are sent out by Arctic Exploration service.

Friday

Floor-Lamp day. Floor-lamps may be chopped up and used as fuel between 6 and 9 a. m. and 7 and 9:30 p. m. Do not burn the shades. They will come in handy before the winter is over. The government urges that all good citizens wear fur-lined pajamas and reinforced nightgowns, and sleep beneath heavy woolen blankets.

Saturday

Community Meeting day. No fuel of any kind may be deliberately burned between the hours of 9:30 Friday and midnight Saturday. Citizens must wrap themselves in heavy garments and do Walter Camp's daily dozen, or stay in bed under heavy coverings.

Sunday

All citizens should spend the day in church. Pastors will preach on hell-fire all day.

COLDEST ABOVE EQUATOR

The world's coldest place right now is not the North Pole, but 7 miles straight up above the equator, and the equator is where the thermometer registers higher than anywhere else on earth. This is only one of many surprising things we are finding out about the bubble of air in which man lives on earth—a mere film between him and the intense cold of outer space. Like bacterial humanity lives in a test tube. Our test tube is this thin bubble of atmosphere.

BLOSSOMING TIME

YOUR EVENING STORY

He had called for her at the city apartment house where Gracella and her business chum, Bess, lived in a one-room apartment, and side by side in his little car they had ridden out into the country together.

It was a Sunday of soft blue sky, and sweet sunshine, and bird song. The grass of the fields that they passed was a sunlit spring green, with velvet shadows where the branches of new-leaved trees bent low. On either side of the road bright faces of wild flowers beamed up at them. And it was blossoming time in the orchards.

To Gracella, who lived in the cramped one-room apartment, and who worked as stenographer in an office on the twentieth floor of a dingy downtown building, it seemed as though shut doors had suddenly opened to a world of beauty and happiness and freedom undreamed of.

Then in the sweet-scented byways of a lovely country lane Tom asked her to be his wife.

"Talk of a girl marrying for money," she tremulously laughed, as radiant and excited, she took Bess into her confidence on her reutrn. "I'm not sure that I didn't say 'yes' because of the farm Tom has just bought. Oh, my dear, had you seen and felt and smelt the beautiful delicious things that I have today you'd understand. It seemed like an invitation to live in heaven that you couldn't turn down!"

"It sounds well," said Bess, "but give me one room, with a gas plate," she laughed, "in a city every time."

Gracella did not answer. A rapt expression on her face, she was gazing into space. "Tom wants the wedding to be soon," she said at last, "for later he'll be too busy to get away."

So they were married. Gracella, city born and bred, went to her new home on the farm. And her happiness was as exquisite as idyllic as the blossoming loveliness of the orchards on the Sunday that Tom proposed—life was so different from what she had romantically pictured.

The care of even their small house was far more strenuous than that of the one-roomed little apartment, vacuum-swept, window-washed once a month; and there was no Bess to do her share of the bed making and dusting. Getting three hearty meals a day for a big, hungry man proved a very different proposition from a light breakfast and a picnicky Sunday supper cooked on a gas plate. And in the country there was no delicatessen shop around the corner. But keeping the house in order and cooking the meals were not Gracella's only tasks. All summer long there was canning and pickling and preserving to be done. There were the weekly churning and the putting down of eggs for winter use. Then part of the time the colored woman who did the washing was sick and she had the laundry work on her inexperienced hands, as well as the ironing. Always her work basket was heaped high with mending and darning. It seemed incredible that any one could wear such holes in his socks as Tom contrived to do. Not only night after night did she go to bed aching from fatigue from head to foot, but morning after morning she got up tired and continued tired every minute of the weary day. And the thing that hurt most—that made her furious—was Tom's supreme indifference.

Brought up on a farm, Tom had been accustomed to see his mother and sisters do all that Gracella was doing, and more, as a matter of course, and never realized that the little city girl he had married was of a less robust constitution, and that her talents and training were along entirely different lines. When she was cross and made sharp, stinging remarks it never entered his head that the real trouble was overstrained nerves. But being only human himself, he'd answer back in kind. And by the summer's end they had fallen into a miserable habit of fault-finding.

And just when the work on the farm was easing up and they began to plan trips about the country in the little car unusually early rains set in and the road became impassable. As for the snowed-in winter days that quickly followed, Gracella thought she would die from lonesomeness and city homesickness.

When he had the spare time, with unabated enjoyment Tom could read by the hour. But Gracella had never cared for books. There were always so many other things more interesting—the theaters, the movies, the skating rinks, the dances at the Dreamland pavilion; jolly little chafing dish parties that she and Bess got up on the spur of the moment in their wee apartment. Dutch-treat suppers that a bunch of the office force would have every once and again at some downtown restaurant—a brightly lighted restaurant with all its little tables taken and an orchestra playing jazz music. Oh, thought Gracella with bitter tears, what a fool she had been to give up the glorious city life that she had once lived to bury herself alive in the country!

Again it was spring—a Sunday of soft blue sky and sweet sunshine and bird song. And as the little car with Gracella and Tom seated side by side spun along country roads, it was blossoming time in the orchards.

Gracellas face was a little thin and pale, but there was a new loveliness about it, a new beauty and depth in her shining eyes.

"Happy, little girl?" smiled Tom.

"Happier than I ever thought it possible for a person to be—and live," tremulously laughed Gracella.

Then the eyes with a new beauty and depth that had lifted to Tom's face turned eagerly to a blanket-wrapped bundle held tenderly close in her arms. "I'm so glad, Tom, we live in the country!" she said in a radiant tone. "It's the only place to bring up children."

Based on these bids, the board contemplates entering into annual contracts for the purchase of supplies at fixed prices throughout the year beginning September 1. The board has reserved the right to reject all the bids should it see fit to continue the system in effect for the past two years of buying groceries and other supplies on the open market each quarter, instead of under annual contracts.

SOMETHING NEW IN POLITICS

Life is getting harder for the politicians all the time. When the Kansas legislature meets next winter the Topeka Capital, a Capper newspaper will broadcast the speeches from its radio station, so that the folks at home may listen to just what their representatives are saying on important questions in the house and senate. That is something new in politics and in radio enterprise. The night of August 1 the capital will broadcast the results of the primary election in Kansas. Market, sport and news reports will be sent out daily within a radius of 1,000 miles.

FREIGHT BY AIR IN 5 YEARS

"Within 5 years we shall see airway freight and passenger lines transporting heavy loads at commercially satisfactory rates," says Charles Hall of Los Angeles, head of a staff of experts surveying air routes. This development of aerial navigation, Hall says, has been made possible by radio telephony, practical aerography, non-inflammable gas and aluminum alloy permitting lightness in frame work. "I believe we shall get airway rates down where business men can see and use them." Another rival for railway high rates which are farthest up in the air now.

WIVES KNOW HOW TO EARN

Dr. Hannah Hockfelder, democrat candidate for state senate in New York, says no woman should be permitted to marry unless she can convince the authorities she can earn a living for herself and children in case her husband dies. Some women have done that and taken care of an ailing husband, too. When widowed, American mothers develop amazing resourcefulness as bread-winners. Probably less than 1 in 100 has to fall back on public aid.

HOW MUCH DO YOU MAKE?

The national bureau of economic research figures out that combined wages, salaries and other incomes of all Americans in 1919 averaged $627 for every man, woman and child. Multiply $627 by the number in your family. Compare the total with your 1919 income and you'll know whether you did better than the average during the boom. The cards have been reshuffled.

SAVED MONEY FOR TAXPAYERS

A few boards of county commissioners are trying to cut down taxes. The county commissioners at Lima, O., resorting to arithmetic, found it would cost the county $1,249.50 to send Arthur States to jail to pay a fine of $1,000 on a liquor charge, so they have paroled him. But he is to pay $7 a month on the fine for the next 11 years. By so doing the county is $2,249.50 to the good instead of being a loser by the transaction.

PARIS STARTS LONG SKIRTS

After a 2 years barrage from reformers and the press the short skirt is going—maybe. If it does, it will be because Paris thinks it is time to do something different. At the recent French races where styles are launched in the greatest freak-fashion parade the world ever sees, all the fashion leaders wore long skirts coming within an inch of the floor. So the woman who is still holding out against this baggy garment will soon find herself out of date—than which there are few things more terrible according to the women folks.

Dollar Returns After 27 Years

(By International News Service)

CHEHALIS, Wash., July 26.—Mrs. Torrence Hagerman spent a dollar in Lancaster, Mo., twenty-seven years ago.

She marked her initials on it then and religiously scrutinized every dollar that came into her possession since that time.

SOUP STRAINER IS CAUSE OF TROUBLE

(By International News Service.)

DETROIT, July 26.—Mrs. Lillian (Peggy) Watson is not yet 25 years old, but she is through with men and marriage for all time.

Mrs. Watson is suing Charles E. Watson for divorce. She has been awarded $10 a week alimony pending disposition of the divorce action. She was asked if she fancied there was any possibility of a reconciliation.

"I'm afraid not. Every time we quarreled he would grow a mustache. He knew I despised these little mustaches and that was his method of spiting me. As soon as we made up he would shave the thing off. But directly I saw it sprouting. I knew we were in for another spat.

"Sometimes I feel there should be a reconciliation. You see, Charles is no older than I. He needs someone to care for him. But then I think of that mustache and I couldn't go through life with a mustache, so I guess I am through with men."

Dotted Swiss Makes a Dainty Frock and Hat to Match

Many a warm day will be experienced before the fall wardrobe for the small girl will be required, and with remnant counters rich in materials for the making of dainty little summer frocks there seems no reason why the youngest daughter of the family should not have a number of brand new summer things to freshen up her wardrobe. Dotted Swiss is an ideal fabric for the dressy type of frock, and it is to be had in such a generous color range that it is possible to have at least half a dozen dotted Swiss frocks with each totally different from the others. A hat to match is ideal, also.

The sketch offers a suggestion for making a dotted Swiss dress and hat with plain self-fabric used as the trimming for each. The dress is one of the long waisted models that has the tendency to make a small girl look very much like a doll. Clusters of tucks form the yoke. The collar, sleeves and sash are of plain color material edged all around with a loose buttonhole stitch embroidery. The dress might be of white dotted with blue and the trimming all white with blue embroidery. Colored Swiss dotted in white might be chosen, the plain fabric in any event matching the material of the frock in color, with embroidery matching the dot.

The little hat has the popular tam crown with circular brim, thelatter faced in plain color self-fabric and with plain band and bow trimming the hat.

Another dainty little dotted Swiss frock recently seen showed a waist of normal length formed by inch-wide tucks feather stitched in a color to match the dots. Collar and sleeves were finished with narrow ruffles of plain color fabric in this shade.

YOUNGSTOWN GIVES WOMEN FREE SPEECH

(By International News Service.)

NORRISTOWN, Pa., July 26.—Free speech for women has been saved by the gallant young lawyers of the Montgomery County Bar association. At a meeting of the association some of the older members offered a resolution condemning the talking of the girl clerks in the office of the recorder of deeds.

"It's impossible for lawyers to do any work with the babble of dizzy dames all around," declared the venerable omjectors.

"Give him the air," chirped the younger member of the bar and the resolution was voted down, 9 to 8.

BISHOP USES MODERN ECCLESIASTIC METHOD

(By International News Service.)

PARIS, July 26—Every year since Marseilles was a Roman colony and a refuge for fleeing Christians a bishop of the church has pronounced a benediction over the waves of the Mediterranean sea in order to assuage their cruelty to fishermen and sailors. In previous years he has journeyed a distance of more than 50 miles in a little boat, taking an entire day in order to do the task thoroughly.

This year the archbishop of Aix, who blessed the waves, used a byplane. He covered more sea than any bishop in history and was back in Aix comfortably for luncheon!

INSECTS CONTROLLED

WASHINGTON, July 26—The potato leaf hopper, an insect pest which is a serious menace to potato crops, can be controlled by using Bordeaux mixture, according to the department of agriculture.

Little Stories For Bedtime

A FIGHT FOR A HOME.

Thought fighting usually is wrong
Sometimes it may be right.
When people try to steal from you
By all means bravely fight.

That is what Skimmer the Swallow and Mrs. Skimmer were doing this bright, beautiful morning in the Old Orchard while all their neighbors looked on and encouraged them. You see, they had been getting their breakfast, leaving their home unguarded, for they had no fear that any one would harm it unless it was Chatterer the Red Squirrel, and they knew that he was paying an early morning visit to the Freen Forest. So they ate their fill, and then, twittering happily, they came skimming back home, through the Old Orchard.

Just think how they felt when they came in sight of their home and saw the nest they had worked so hard to build lying on the ground all tattered and torn and their two precious eggs broken! With wild cries of sorrow and anger they darted forward. Their first thought was that Farmer Brown's boy must have done this dreadful thing while they were away, for they could think of no one else. But at the sound of their voices a stranger appeared in the doorway of their house. It was Mrs. Bully, who that very morning had come to the Old Orchard to join Bully the English Sparrow, and had right away decided that they would live in the Skimmer house. Bully himself suddenly darted down at them from the old apple tree, and there was something very determined and warlike in the way he struck at them with his short, stout bill.

Now, Skimmer the Swallow, he of the white waistcoat, who makes his home in the old houses of Drummer the Woodpecker and sometimes in the little houses that thoughtful people who love him put up for him, is one of the gentlest of birds and not at all quarrelsome. He is beloved by all his neighbors, and lives on the happiest terms with them.

But for all his gentleness he is not a coward. Oh, my, no! Skimmer is just as brave as any one, and when he must fight will fight just as hard as he know how. To see his nest destroyed and his house taken away from him was more than he could stand, and he darted forward, meaning to pull Mrs. Bully out of his doorway. He felt that if he could once get in himself Bully and Mrs. Bully would never be able to get him out again.

But Mrs. Bully was all ready for him, and though he got her by the feathers on the top of her head and tugged with all his might he couldn't budge her. You see, she was too stout and strong for him. And he could hold on for only a second or two, for suddenly Bully struck him so hard that the blow knocked him off. And it hurt, too. You see, Bully's bill is very stout even if it is short, and Bully himself is very stout and strong and Skimmer's own bill is very small and weak. It was never meant for fighting.

In spite of this Skimmer and Mrs. Skimmer did their best, and for a few minutes the air was full of feathers, mostly their feathers, while the Old Orchard rang with angry cries. Then Skimmer and Mrs. Skimmer had to fly away to get breath. Bully didn't try to follow them. He knew better than to try to catch them in the air, for they are most wonderful fliers in the Old Orchard, while Bully is slow on the wing. So he was content to simply drive them away. But they were back again soon, and then the same thing happened all over again. Bully and Mrs. Bully actually seemed to be enjoying the fight, and it was very clear that they knew all about fighting.

So all that bright morning that dreadful fight for the house in the apple tree in the Old Orchard continued, and never once did Skimmer and Mrs. Skimmer succeed in getting Mrs. Bully out of the doorway so that they could get in. At last, with their usually neat, trim clothes all torn and with many aching wounds they gave up for the time being.

"We'll just have to wait until they leave the house unguarded," said Skimmer sorrowfully. Then we'll try to get it back."

LOCAL MEN OFF TO ARMY CAMP

Seven Leave for Fort Sill

Local members of the Citizens Reserve Corps leave Sunday morning for Fort Sill where they will receive a month's intensive training in military tactics. The organization is composed of civilians from the southwestern states who meet every year to spend thirty days in the field studying maneuvers under the direction of regular army officers. The camp offers all regular branches of army service and the men are held in the federal reserve forces, with positions as non-commissioned officers.

The corps members from here are enlisted in the Field Artillery. The seven men who will go are: Wallace Bright, Edward Kadane, Winthrop Rogers, Stephen West, Carroll Johnson, Harold Naylor and Harold Anderson.

AMARILLO GUARD TO PASS HERE TONIGHT

According to information received here yesterday, it is understood that a troop train conveying national guardsmen will pass through here some time tonight from Amarillo en route to Fort Worth.

Whether the guardsmen are en route to Panther City for the purpose of training camp activities or for the purpose of guarding railroad property is not known, but it was rumored here during Wednesday that the troops are scheduled to do guard duty at Fort Worth.

The movement will occur over the Fort Worth & Denver.

TRUCKS USED WHERE TRAINS ARE STOPPED

With many trains to local points out of Wichita Falls annulled because of strike conditions, automobile trucks are said to be in big demand and it was claimed Wednesday that all available automobile trucks doing hauling business are in use carrying supplies to nearby towns. To those towns that have good roads, the abolition of trains has made very little difference to shippers, it is said, as trucks are carrying a large tonnage of freight. Truck transportation wherever the roads are good, is said to be highly satisfactory and there are no long delays in shipment.

LOOK FOR GREEN CAR AND EARN REWARD

Have you seen a green colored automobile recently that looked as if it didn't belong in Wichita Falls?

If you have, watch out for it again—it may be an Oldsmobile.

And the chances are that if it is, it belongs to a man in San Antonio, who is offering a $50 reward for its recovery.

The car was stolen during the first of the week, according to information received here Wednesday.

DRIVER WRECKS CAR TO SAVE PEDESTRIAN

Taking her choice between running over a woman pedestrian or crashing her Ford car into the curbing at the intersection of Eighth and Ohio, Mrs. M. H. Sevine Wednesday chose the latter route and plunged into the curbing.

As a result, the woman escaped uninjured, but Mrs. Sevine's Ford suffered a broken axle. No one was injured.

BOW MIGHTIER THAN GOLF

In a freak match played at the North Jersey Country club, Warren Point, N. J., F. W. King, of New York and Daniel Singer, of Jersey City, using bows and arrows, defeated Philip O'Connor and Joseph Reiner, both of Peterson, N. J., who played with the usual golf paraphernalia, by a score of 1 up. King is the national title holder. It was on the approach to the green that the archers forged ahead. They had no bunkers or traps to contend with and instead of shooting at the hole, they shot at targets the size of the cup. King and O'Connor are seen in the photograph.

WHITEKER ON TOUR FOR FAIR EXHIBITS

Whiteker of the West Texas chamber of commerce who is getting up county exhibits for the Texas-Oklahoma fair left Wednesday for Electra, Vernon, Quanah, Wellington and Chillicothe where he hopes to secure co-operation in getting up county exhibits. LABOR COMMISSIONER SENDS IN RESIGNATION

By Associated Press.

DENISON, July 26.—Joseph S. Myers, state labor commissioner, has wired his resignation to Governor Neff, he announced today. He did not state the reason for his action, but friends of Mr. Myers said that the labor commissioner's dissatisfaction with the governor's order sending troops to Denison was responsible for his action.

FEW "GUSHER" OIL WELLS

According to the U. S. geological survey there were in the United States in 1920, 300,000 oil wells of which more than one-fifth, or 67,000, were in Pennsylvania and produced on the average but three-tenths of a barrel a day. New York's 14,000 wells average one-fifth of a barrel. The average Kansas production is 7 barrels and of Oklahoma is 8. The average production of all wells is a fraction under 5 barrels a day. Such figures indicate how exceptional are the flush productions of thousands of barrels a day and how short-lived.

SPEEDERS AND DRUNKS IN SAME CLASS HERE

Speeders and drunkards were placed in the same class in corporate court yesterday.

With the erection of a new building on Clark street, near the Katy railroad tracks, it became known Wednesday that the Maxwell Hardware company plans to conduct wholesale business at that vicinity soon on a larger basis.

The building, which is now under construction, it was learned, will be occupied about August 20. It is being erected by the Ives construction company.

It adjoins a building already owned by the Maxwell Hardware company and which is at present being used by that organization as a warehouse. When completed, it will cover a space, including that of the warehouse, of 140 by 115 feet.

LIQUOR SEIZED IN WILBARGER

Farmer Finds Booze Hidden in Field

Special to the Record News.

VERNON, July 26.—Nine quarts of fine English rum are in the safe of the Wilbarger county sheriff today and officers are looking for a man who is said to have concealed the liquor in a field of thistles two miles northwest of town. Information leading to the discovery was furnished by a man hoeing cotton, who was attracted by the strange antics of a man who drove up near the field to which he was working, and carried something heavy from his car which he deposited in a dense mass of thistles. Moved by curiosity the farm hand made his way into the adjoining premises and found the liquor.

DRY SPELL DOESN'T DAMAGE CROPS

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, July 26.—Intense heat of the past week has left its mark upon Wilbarger county fields, but a majority of the farmers are of the opinion that cotton has suffered no material damage. Plants everywhere have a wilted appearance, but each morning finds them much rejuvenated by the night's dew. It is thought that a good shower will provide the requisite moisture.

Prospects continue bright for one of the most momentous cotton crops in the history of the county. Feed and row crops are appearing to splendid advantage.

Pilsudski Slips One Over on Diplomats

By Associated Press.

WARSAW, July 26.—President Pilsudski has scored what seems to be an important advantage in his conflict with the nationalists over the cabinet question by provoking the withdrawal from the nationalist bloc of one of its groups of members in the diet, it developed today. This, it is anticipated, will prevent the passage of the proposed resolution calling upon the president to accept a cabinet headed by Adelbert Korfanty, the nationalist leader.

Up to the present defection, at least, President Pilsudski's threats to resign had little if any, effect upon the opposition which is determined to uphold the supremacy of the diet in the premiership question.

PARIS, July 26.—Arnaga, beautiful estate of Edmond Rostand, considered by many as perfect as any written poem, has been put up at public sale — and failed to find a buyer. The price asked was the equivalent of $150,000.

Arnaga is in the southwest of France, not far from Bayonne. It is now being visited by admirers of the poet-playright for the first time. Until recently the heirs of Rostand lived in the chateau and discouraged sightseers.

LOWER COTTON AVERAGE MADE

12,000,000 Bale Crop Estimated

By Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 26.—Lower prices persisted in cotton today, although there were strong recoveries at times, and the fluctuations were fairly wide. At its lowest the market was 42 to 47 points under the final prices of yesterday with October off to 20.48. On the close the list showed net losses of 26 to 33 points with October at 20.71. One of the main causes of the selling was a private condition report of 74.9 per cent of normal, indicating a crop of 12,200,000 bales.

A lower opening was due, mainly to poor cables, but the circulation of the private condition figures almost immediately increased offerings and during the course of the first hour, the market fell to its lowest. The weekly government crop reports were more favorable than expected, but werecompletely offset by private accounts from both Texas and Oklahoma, telling of great damage by heat and drouth and predicting a short crop in many sections. These reports brought about a strong rally which, around mid-session, carried the market to its highest, October standing at 20.95.

Cotton closed steady at net declines of 26 to 33 points.

NEW YORK COTTON

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 26.—There were evidences in the cotton market today that the trade is beginning to show real apprehension over crop conditions, especially in the southwest, where persistent dry hot weather has led to an increasing number of deterioration reports. These were particularly numerous in the last hour and while the market, because of the disturbing strike situation and the absence of outside business did not respond as freely as might have been expected, it displayed a good undertone. The close was 27 to 32 points net lower, alhtough the market at one time earlier in the day wase from 44 to 49 points net lower, October selling at 20.96.

EXPORTS BOOST WHEAT PRICES

Market Closes Very Unsettled

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Export purchasing in large amounts brought about a modern uptourn today in the price of wheat, but with hedging dates renewed the gains proved mostly transient. The market closed unsettled to 1-2c net lower to 1-4c advance, with September $1.07 to 1 07 1-8 and December 1.09 1-2 to 1.09 5-8. Corn finished 3-8 to 1 5-8c lower; oats 1-4 to 3-8c to 5-8@3-4c higher, and provisions down 20 to 32c.

Corn like wheat declined as a result of enlarged rural offerings. Oats developed strength because of disappointing threshing reports. Provisions were depressed by weakness in the hog market. Packers did much of the selling.

TOO MUCH LIGHT HARMFUL

On hot days, most of us are about as efficient as dull razors. The trouble may be in the sunshine—brilliant daylight—instead of the heat, according to a new theory among English meteorologists. Some of them are coming out against daylight saving, arguing that the more hours of daylight we have the less efficient we are. We are most energetic in winter, when daylight is short, with sky leaden and light dim. We are puppets of the sun.

NO TRACE OF MISSING BLACK

Fate of Sibley Still Unknown

Shortly after he had been put to work on the streets yesterday morning, Will Sibley, former negro porter, was seized by six white men driving a large touring car, and spirited away to an unknown locality. The fate of the negro is as yet unknown.

Sibley was being guarded by "Shorty" Gamble, and was being worked in heavy chains to which a large iron ball was attached. According to Gamble, the car conveying the six men drove to where the negro was at work, two of the men got out of the car, approached the Gamble and presented to him a bogus order for the negro's release.

The order was purported to have been signed by Night Chief McDonald, who, yesterday, denied any knowledge of the piece of paper.

Easily Obtained

Gamble, believing the negro was to be "turned over to the county to be worked on the county road," willingly let the men have Sibley, who was immediately carried away.

When Police Chief J. W. McCormick had learned of the affair, he dispatched several officers to the vicinity at once, where a search for the negro was made without avail. No trace of Sibley has yet been heard since, other than wild rumors current on the streets, some to the effect that the negro was beaten and painted, and then ordered to leave this community; others declaring that a worse fate had befallen him, while some reports declared that Sibley had been hanged to the highest tree on the Archer county line.

Convicted Monday

Sibley was convicted in the corporate court Monday before Judge John Marrs on his own plea of guilty to a charge of vagrancy. He had been captured in a local hostelry Sunday night at a late hour, in company with a white woman, in a room which she had registered for. The woman was also convicted and both had been fined $200.

Answering a mysterious call received over the telephone early last night, the police department dispatched Sergeant Charles Bebout in quest of the ball and chain which had been removed by the unknown men from the negro's legs. The call stated that "the ball and chain will be found 100 yards off the pavement on the Seymour road."

However, a diligent search by Sergeant Bebout and two other parties failed to reveal the missing links anywhere along the road for nearly a mile out.

The call leads to the opinion that the negro was carried out the Seymour road for a considerable distance, and there attended to.

GREATEST THIRTEENER.

J. E. Ballend, 13th child in a family of 13 and born on May 13, a good many years ago, left Washington May 13, 1913, at Pennsylvania Avenue and 13th Street at 9:13 o'clock in the morning with 13 cents in his coat, to walk around the world. He is still at it. At every good-sized town he visits Ballend opens a bank account of 13 cents. He declared he has 36,334 such bank accounts, or 2,583 more accounts than the Rockefellers, Vanderbilts, Goulds, Standard Oil company, Henry Ford and all the railways and express companies in the world combined. Curious way to spend 9 years of your life isn't it? About as worthwhile as pounding sand in a rat hole.

HUN POET

Gerhard Hauptmann

Gerhard Hauptmann, noted German poet, is being mentioned as a possible successor to Herr Ebert as president of the German republic.

THOSE SCRAPPY PERSIANS

Two hundred Persian engaged in a free-for-aall fight at Chicago, but were dispersed by two Irish policemen. And yet John Calwell, our minister to Persia keeps telling how brave and what wonderful fighters the Persians are.

NOT IN THE PRESCRIPTION

The doctor criticised a Chicago woman severely for hitting her husband with a flat iron. He had told her not to give the man any solids, and iron wasn't what he needed anyway.

120 YEARS BETWEEN SPECIAL JURIES

(By International News Service.)

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, July 26.—A special grand jury, the first special grand jury to be called in the 120 years of Belmont county's existence, has been convened here. It was called to investigate coal strike rioting which has resulted in the death of one man and the injury of three others.

30 YEARS AGO IT WAS "BABY RUTH"

Thirty years ago this summer, the democrats were wearing "Baby Ruth" campaign bandages—a silk red, white and blue four-leafed clover on which sat a tiny china doll. At that time our Babe Ruth had scarcely been born. The reference was to Grover Cleveland's Baby Ruth.

A COMPLETE NEWSPAPER — WICHITA FALLS RECORD NEWS — LEADS IN LOCAL NEWS

COTTON NAMED CITY TREASURER

Security Bank Is New Depository

It became known yesterday that Hugh Cotton of the Security National bank has been appointed city treasurer for Wichita Falls.

Announcement to that effect was made in the city clerk's department Wednesday, and at the same time it was recalled that the city depository has been changed to the Security bank.

It is the custom of the city, it is understood, for treasurers to be changed whenever depositories are, consequently, the present treasurer, A. M. Miller, has resigned and Mr. Cotton has taken his post.

When the books of the city funds are checked over, they will be turned over to Mr. Cotton, it being intimated yesterday that this will probably occur within the next week.

Rail Strike Halts Burk Road Paving

Both mixers on the Burkburnett highway project came to a halt Wednesday.

And all because there is no material on the grounds.

A sufficiency of gravel and sand arrived several days ago to carry on work for several days, it was learned at the headquarters of Potts & Prentice yesterday, however, cement shipments that have been delayed in transit because of the strike have not yet arrived and are holding up the work.

Several carloads are understood to be on their way from Dallas, but as to when they will arrive is merely a conjecture. At least two cars of cement per day, it is understood, are necessary to continue the work with any progress.

Wichita on Path of Auto Thieves

Automobile thieves driving a Chandler "bluebird" are believed to have passed through here yesterday sometime during the day from Fort Worth, where they stole the car.

Information warning the local officials to keep a close watch for the car was received here during the day however, it is believed the thieves passed through prior to receipt of the message.

Burkburnett Will Have Chautauqua

Special to the Record News.

BURKBURNETT, July 26.—The directors of the Burkburnett Cadman chautauqua in session last night announce that the chautauqua will be held in Burkburnett Aug. 1 to 14, inclusive, guaranteeing a fine program of high grade entertainment, details of which will be announced later.

OH WELL, WICHITA WON THE BALL GAME

While a representative of the Gulf Production company sat in the local baseball park and enjoyed a good game, some unscrupulous person stole his vehicle from its parking place outside and enjoyed a ride.

That occurred Tuesday, and the owner of the car has not seen it since.

Police officials believe, however, the thieves will be traced down soon.

SURE HELP TO SICK WOMEN

Mrs. Baker, so much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Anxious to Help Others

Lebanon, Indiana.—"I was completely run down from women's troubles and stomach trouble and for a long time was hardly able to do my work. I had some friends who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they told me about it. I know what it has done for me and I recommend it to others, as I am sure it will be a great help to all sick women. It is a wonderful medicine, and I give you permission to use my testimonial and my photograph." — Mrs. EMMA BAKER, 310 S. East St., Lebanon, Indiana.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine in the treatment of ailments to which they are often subject.

Mrs. Baker calls it "a wonderful medicine." If you are suffering from troubles women often have, or feel all run down, without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a natural restorative and should help you.

Six-Year-Old Aquatic Champ to Appear Here Over This Week-End

Local devotees of that most popular of all popular mid-summer diversions, aquatics, are scheduled for something out of the ordinary Saturday and Sunday of this week when 6-year-old Marcia Burke of Fort Worth displays at the Downing swimming pool some of the stunts that have made her famous on the Pacific coast and in her own home town.

Marcia, with the weight of but six summers on her small but muscular shoulders, bids fair to some day be a veritable typhoon—aquatically speaking. She already hold the babies' world record for high diving, having plunged off the 48-foot diving platform at Lake Worth last year. Later in the summer, while enjoying the Biminnie Baths at Los Angeles, she went head first from a 35-footpole into four and one-half feet of water.

She also holds a silver loving cup presented to her by the Pacific Coast association at Venice after judges had selected her as the most perfect 5-year-old out of 7,000 contestants.

And when it comes to traveling through the water, she has mastered a bewildering variety of strokes, many of which were taught her by Johnny Weismuller, the 14-year-old boy wonder professional swimmer. She will exhibit them all in her appearances at the Downing pool.

Dying Mother Will Get to See Her Boy

As a result of a suit instituted in the 30th district court yesterday by Mrs. America E. Hatcher, Judge H. R. Wilson issued a writ of habeas corpus ordering Marvin B. Hatcher of Fort Worth to release the son of Mrs. Hatcher and permit him to come to his mother's bedside, where, it is reported, she is slowly dying.

The mother, it was asserted yesterday, calls constantly for her boy. She recently underwent an operation of a serious nature, and is not expected to live. Since that time, she has called incessantly for the son, who was granted to her by the court under a divorce decree, but who since that time has been taken to Fort Worth.

Stratton, secretary of the Texas S te Fair and the two will leave Friday for Chicago where they will contract for attractions for the Texas-Oklahoma fair and the Texas state fair In many cases the attractions will be the same, coming to Wichita Falls first for the fair here and then going on to the fair in Dallas. Fair officials said Wednesday they appreciate the hearty co-operation of the Dallas fair officials.

FIGHTERS ARE CRAZY ANYWAY, SAYS JUDGE

A man charged with fighting faced Judge Marrs in corporate court.

The fight is alleged to have occurred Tuesday afternoon near a wagon yard, and evidence was brought into the trial to show that one participant was demented.

Because of the evidence, the magistrate turned the prisoner over to the county.

But, of course, it's wrong to fight—and not only that, but those who do must be crazy.

Fair Officials Plan Ticket Sales

Preparations are being made for the advance sale of tickets to the Texas-Oklahoma fair and W. E. Norton, chairman of the gates and ticket committee, with other officials, is working out plans for the ticket sales. President George Keith of the fair association has had his hands full with the work before him but is coming through with flying colors, as all committees are right up to the minute on their work, acording to reports. The various luncheon clubs will more than likely be called upon to help put on the ticket sale, it is said. The Kiwanis and Rotary clubs already have volunteered to help the fair association.

JUDGE ROGERS GIVES ONE DAY SENTENCE

Arraigned before Judge Guy Rogers in the county court-at-law, E. N. Fowler entered a plea of guilty Wednesday to a charge of having passed a bad check.

The defendant was fined $1 and sentenced to serve one day in the county prison.

NEGROES BREAK WICHITA JAIL

One Recaptured But Other Escaped

While the jailer was busy in other portions of the building, Wallace Slaughter and Willie Vaughan conducted a jail delivery of their own, both effecting an escape from the Wichita county prison about 2 o'clock Wednesday.

Slaughter was captured about a block away from the jail, but a posse was still searching for Vaughan late yesterday afternoon.

The delivery was effected through a window on the second floor which is a part of the cell where Vaughan and Slaughter were confined. The bars in the window, it appeared, had either been pried or cut away, the negroes jumping down to the top of the jail kitchen, and thence to the ground, making their escape.

Vaughan, the negro still at large, was confined in prison in connection with a swindling case, and had only three more days to serve, while Slaughter was being held on a charge of burglary, awaiting trial.

Kell Denounces Labor Agitators

Declaring that the railroad strike situation is one of the most serious emergencies with which the American public has ever been confronted, Frank Kell of this city addressed a gathering of 500 business men in Dallas Tuesday at a conference called for the purpose of trying to eliminate such situations in the future. Mr. Kell has returned to Wichita Falls.

In his speech Mr. Kell upheld the union laboring man of the better type. He said he is strongly in favor of organized labor, but he is opposed to that radical class that is eternally working to hurt the public as well as organized labor, and said that some method must be found to combat the agitator, whom he termed as the deadly enemy of organized labor. He said that the people of Texas are coming out and taking a stand for what is right

Mercury Hovers Around 107 Mark

The mercury hit 107 at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. That was the highest point of the day. The temperature was around the 103 to 105 lines during most of the day. A fairly good breeze blowing throughout most of the afternoon prevented the full effect of the heat being felt, but even at that, it was decidedly hot.

NEIGHBORHOOD ROW SETTLED IN COURT

Judge Guy Rogers busied himself Wednesday morning with accepting pleas of guilty to criminal charges brought by the state authorities.

Nora Hefner, charged with simple assault upon J. B. Kelly, which case had been tried previously in the county court-at-law, pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $-0 by the court.

The Hefner girl, it was alleged, struck Kelly with a rock some time ago, as a result of neighborhood wrangles, the latter suffering severe bruise.

Appeal has been made to commute his sentence to life imprisonment and the governor has been unable to pass on this appeal on account of the strike situation and other pressing business.

Vickers was given the 16th penalty for murder of John Loper, a railroad special agent whom he had attempted to rob.
